GOLDEN WEDDING

A large number of friends from all parts of Leeds Co. attended the golden wedding anniversary of Senator and Mrs Geo. Taylor at Gananoque on Wednesday last. Following is a brief sketch of Senator Taylor's public career:—

Elected reeve of Gananoque in 1873 he was re-elected six times and was then elected county warden. His political affiliation dates back to the election of 1864, when Hon. A. N. Richards accepted a portfolio in the Sanfield Macdonald government. In this campaign Mr Taylor drove Sir John Macdonald and Hon. D'Arcy McGee through the constituency. In 1882 he was himself elected to parliament and was re-elected eight times by large majorities, acting as chief whip for the party at Ottawa for many years. After 29 years in parliament Mr Taylor retired to provide a parliamentary seat for Hon. W. T. White and was afterwards appointed to the senate.

The formation of a minstrel troupe by young Athenians is among the possibilities. Just now the village contains material for a first-class orchestra, and as for vocalists—well—the woods are full of them.

HUNTER—WILTSE

A very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized on September 10th at Yonge Church, Winnipeg, Man., before Rev. Robert Whiting, when Miss Genevieve May Wiltse, of Athens, became the wife of Mr. Ebert D. Hunter of Riverside, Cal. The bride, who was unattended, as was also the groom, was given away by her cousin, Mr. J. H. Wiltse, and carried a bouquet of white bridal roses and lilies of the valley. During the signing of the register Mr. T. R. Griffith sang "Because" in good voice. After the ceremony a luncheon was served and reception given by the bride's sister, Mrs. W. W. Kennedy, at her home at 503 Basswood Place.

The bride looked charming in a pretty suit of navigator blue with blouse of white crepe de chene trimmed with seed pearls and a tam shaped hat of tangled blue silk velvet with a mount of orange and blue and wore the gift of the groom, a handsome pearl pendant necklace.

Among the guests from out of town were the mother of the bride, and Mr. Milford Hunter, of Regina, brother of the groom. The happy couple left on the Soo flyer for their future home at Riverside, where they will reside at 371 12th Street, visiting several places en route, including Minneapolis, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday evening last the congregations of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches joined their Baptist friends in their evening anniversary service, not only augmenting their numbers but materially assisting in liquidating the small debt upon their church. Never was the spirit of union and good-will more manifest, showing that (while holding slightly different views) all were embracing the same faith and all looked forward to the pleasant and more lasting associations in the on-coming age.

The pastor, Rev. Wm. Westell, being absent, the services were in charge of Rev. C. F. Fields of Ogdensburg, who delivered very able discourses both morning and evening.

The scripture lesson for the evening service was taken from the Psalms of Israel's greatest King (Psalm 101) on which a very instructive comment was made by Rev. Mr. Fields, showing clearly the high ideal, the manliness, the keen sense of his responsibilities of the great broad-minded, tender-hearted David—a character worthy our consideration and imitation.

Rev. Geo. Edwards led in the opening prayer, not only voicing the sentiments above expressed, but asking Heaven's richest blessings upon the speaker, pastor and congregation of this little church.

The text for the evening was taken from John 16: 8-11, which the speaker expounded in a way which was instructive, convincing and intensely interesting, proving conclusively that the Holy Spirit would only through the righteous lives of His professed followers convict the world in respect of sin, righteousness and judgment, and that only as they remained sincere and faithful in the discharge of their duties would they be a means of uplift to the fallen, or themselves attain to that high and nobler sphere.

The music by the choir was very appropriate, and well rendered. The solo, "Teach me to Pray," by Miss Edith Davidson, of Delta, was much enjoyed, reminding one of the fact that a well-trained, consecrated voice could be made a power for good.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON XII.

September 21, 1913—The Golden Calf—Temperance Lesson—Exod. 32: 1-35

Commentary.—I. Worshipping the golden calf (vs. 1-14). 1. A test was made of the patience of the Israelites by Moses' long stay in the mount with the Lord. The marvelous displays of divine power in the behalf had not brought them to a state of mind and heart where they would be steady and trustful. They demanded some visible representation of God. They spoke slightly of Moses, and it would appear that they wanted a leader to conduct them back to Egypt. Their noisy demand to Aaron to make them gods was met by the request that the people give up their golden ornaments. Aaron may have thought they would rather do without gods than give up their ornaments, but they were too eager to rush into idolatry to withhold their gold. After the golden calf was completed, and people joined in worshipping it and engaged in riotous and degrading dances that accompanied such worship among the Egyptians, whence they had borrowed the idea of the calf as an idol. 7-14. While the idolatry was being practiced below, God told Moses what was being done, and threatened to destroy the idolaters, and suggested that he would make of Moses a great nation. At once Moses began to intercede for Israel, and made a fourth plea. Israel was Jehovah's people. 2. God had performed wonders in delivering the nation. 3. The Egyptians would exult in their destruction. 4. God had promised their fathers the land of Canaan for an inheritance. The Lord heard Moses' prayer and spared the nation.

II. The broken law (vs. 15-29). 15. Went down from the mount. He came from communion with God to face a nation plunging into idolatry. He knew what was transpiring below, but he was to see with his own eyes the corrupted nation. This was a severe trial of Moses' faith, yet he endured. Two tables—the tables upon which the Ten Commandments were written. Both their sides. The tables were not necessarily large, as they had writing on both sides. 16. The writing of God—God himself made the record of his law upon the tables of stone. 17. When Joshua heard the noise—Moses had left Joshua at a lower place on the mountain and had joined him there. The two could not yet see the plain where the people were lamenting. They were engaged in their idolatrous exercises. Noise of war—Joshua thought an enemy had engaged Israel in battle. 18. Noise of them that sing—Moses' more experienced ear and his knowledge, divinely imparted, discerned that the sound was neither that of those who exult in victory nor of those who lament defeat. 19. The calf—Of which God had told Moses. Dancing—Probably indecent dancing, such as was practiced among the heathen in their idolatrous worship. Moses' anger waxed hot—His indignation at the wickedness of his people became great and burned in his very soul. Cast the tables—And brake them. This act was in token of the lamentable fact that Israel had thus quickly broken God's holy law. 20. Took the calf—Moses took his place as the divinely appointed leader of his people, and assumed the authority justly belonging to him. Burnt it in the fire—Melted it and destroyed its resemblance to a calf. Ground it to powder—Reduced it to fine dust. Strawed it—Made it. Made the children of Israel drink of it. This punishment was general. They had become guilty, and they were compelled to drink of the cup of punishment.

21-24. Aaron's excuse to Moses for his part in the idolatrous worship is weak and puerile. It was the effort of one consciously wrong, but impotent, to explain his unlovely acts. "There came out this calf," he said, "because many a sinner can give for his godless life, but it is a poor way to meet responsibility. Aaron was effective as a spokesman, but he lacked the qualities of a leader. If he had taken a decided stand for the right, it is likely the nation would have escaped the punishment that came to them. 25-29. It was a most happy thing for the tribe of Levi that they could respond to Moses' call. "Who is on the Lord's side?" let him come unto me," and take their stand with Moses. The death of three thousand persons was a mark of God's displeasure at the sin of which his people were guilty.

III. The intercession of Moses (vs. 30-35). 30. On the morrow. The day after the death of the three thousand in the camp. I will go up unto the Lord—Moses knew the Lord and understood that he was the only source of help to his people. An atonement for your sin—By intercession Moses hoped to appease the divine displeasure, and restore God's favor to his people. 31. This people have sinned a great sin—Moses' plea begins with a full confession of the nation's sin. God's anger against them had broken the second commandment. 32. If thou wilt forgive their sin—This is an unselfish sentence, as if the request that Moses had in mind was too great to be granted. Blot me out of thy book—Moses took his place between his people and God. More than that, he was ready to give up his life that they might be preserved as enrolled people of God as regarded as enrolled or written in a book before God. Whom? 33. Him will I blot out—The responsibility for sin is upon the sinner, and he must suffer the consequences of his wrong. "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezek. 18:4). 34. Lead the people—At the burning bush God had told Moses what he should do. Mine angel shall go before thee. The promise to Moses was that heavenly guidance would be afforded, yet Jehovah would not directly be present. Moses' plea, as recorded in the next chapter, obtained the promise from the Lord that his presence should go with him. 35. The Lord plagued the people—Israel experienced man's share of the wilderness. The Jews have a tradition that at least one ounce of the powdered gold of the calf was mingled in each great calamity that befell the nation. Punishment comes upon those who serve the god of appetite, the god of sensuality and the god of greed. Because they made the calf—The responsibility was placed upon the people. They had seen the miracles which God had wrought; they had witnessed signal display of God's power at Sinai; they knew that they should have reverence for God; yet they insisted upon having the golden calf made. Which Aaron made—Aaron was equally guilty with the people who demanded gods of gold. He was in a position to turn the minds of the people from their purpose to have a visible representation of Deity, and he could have done it; but he weakly yielded to their demands, and let them plunge into idolatry and incur God's displeasure. QUESTIONS.—1. How did Moses remain in the Mount? What special direction did the Lord give him for Israel? What request did the people make of Aaron? What sin did the Israelites commit? Which commandment was broken? How did Moses first learn about Israel's sin? Describe Moses' dealings with his people regarding the golden calf. Describe Moses' intercession for Israel. What promise did the Lord give to Moses? What was to come upon the people in consequence of their sin?

Practical Survey

Topic—Idolatry in Israel. I. Revealed general instability. II. Demanded general chastisement. III. Induced strong intercession.

I. Revealed general instability. From the time of their leaving Egypt under Moses' leadership the Israelites had been depending upon an unseen God and trusting in Moses. The strain of Moses' absence while upon the Mount was severe. They wanted a god they could see. All unconsciously they were demonstrating how needful were the patterns which God was giving Moses in the mount. What was needed was quiet waiting on the part of the Israelites, for God was providing for the worship of His people. God was engaged in giving them a law which would place them far in advance of other nations. When Israel cherished no further hope of seeing Moses again, the reaction set in. Due provision had been made for the welfare of the people. Aaron had been appointed as their counselor, yet the most disastrous effects followed in the camp of Israel on the withdrawal of Moses to the mount. Israel could not plead ignorance. Knowledge and willingly they transgressed. The whole incident strikingly illustrated the commanding place which Moses held, and shows what turbulent and refractory dispositions he had to deal with. It further shows the greatness of Moses' character in contrast with Aaron's. The sacredness of his office did not keep Aaron from sin, though he yielded to it in opposition to his conscience. Israel's feast was the most reckless and degrading self-indulgence. Their sin was a dreadful mingling of ingratitude, folly and impiety.

II.—Demanded severe chastisement. The delay in the return of Moses was a trial of faith and patience. It put to test the character of the people. While spreading before Moses the patterns in the mount, God's eye was on the doing of the people below. The people had heard God's voice speaking to them from Sinai. They had acknowledged the solemnity of the situation. They had pledged themselves to living obedience, and yet within a brief space of time they violated one of the main stipulations of their agreement. Wrath against sin is a necessary part of God's character. Aaron's policy was wrong. His love for the honor of Jehovah and the salvation of the people compared with Moses' attitude, he would have consented to be stoned rather than suggest a compromise. His first excuse to Moses was bad, and the second was worse. It brought unutterable grief to Moses that his brother and co-worker had yielded to Israel to break a plain command of God. Stern as the duty was, Moses did not shrink from the responsibility of judgment. His first duty, after descending the mount, was to destroy the golden calf. The broken tables of stone indicated to Israel their broken covenant with Jehovah. Their place of feasting became the scene of death. In the work of executing Jehovah's vengeance, the Levites were to "consecrate" themselves, were sternly to repress all natural impulses, not permitting earthly ties to hinder pure zeal for God's glory.

III. Induced strong intercession. It was a blessing to Israel that they had an intercessor. Moses' displeasure at Israel's sin was mingled with his love for his people. He was willing to do whatever was necessary on his part for their salvation. He bore in his heart that sublime purpose of sacrificing himself for the salvation of the nation. It was his intercessory prayer that made an extraordinary act of self-devotion. It expressed the grandeur of his character. Moses did not exercise the sin of Israel. In his first intercession, the thought that chiefly filled his mind was the people's danger of utter destruction. His second intercession was pervaded with a much deeper realization of the enormity of the sin for which forgiveness was sought. He was convinced that if the intercessory judgments were averted, it must be in consequence of an atonement. Jehovah accepted the spirit of his sacrifice, though he rejected the letter of it. Moses' heart was laid bare in its intense and yearning love. Divine wrath was restrained and gave place to divine love and mercy. T. R. A.

DE FREYNE NOT DEAD.

London, Sept. 15.—Baron De Freyne, ex-colonel of the 5th battalion of Connaught Rangers, has been added to the group of persons privileged to read their obituary notices. The announcement of his death, which was given much space in all the morning newspapers in London to-day, has proved untrue. Baron De Freyne is seriously ill, but his condition is no worse to-day than it has been for some time past, and the members of his family are unable to account for the premature announcement of his demise.

THE DOMINICAN SQUABBLE.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Sept. 15.—Samona Bay and the seaport of Puerto Plata, on the north coast of this island, where the inhabitants are up in arms against the provisional Administration of Jose Bordas Valdez, has been officially declared closed to commerce and navigation. In other departments of the Dominican Republic quiet prevails.

FARM GARDEN

SPINACH AND ITS CULTIVATION.

Spinach has been termed the "broom of the stomach." It is claimed to have great aperient qualities and is far better than medicine for sufferers from constipation. If the body needed an excess of iron the rule in the past was to supply it by liniments taken through glass tubes. The idea of the present day is to supply this want by such vegetables as medicated spinach.

With folks in the city spinach has become a favorite and it can generally be found the year around in the markets.

It is an animal plant, of a very hardy nature. The red stalk attains a height of two feet. The leaves are rather large and succulent. Spinach is of very easy culture, growing best in cool weather. It is important to have a rapid growth, that the leaves and stalks may be tender. This can be secured by planting in a soil rich in humus and fine in tith.

The seed can be sown in the latter part of August, or the forepart of September, for a very early spring crop. Sow the seed in drills, a foot apart. An ounce of seed will sow 100 feet of drill. It will require about 10 pounds of seed to the acre. Sow about 10 seeds to each foot of row, covering about an inch deep.

As cold weather approaches the bed should be covered with several inches of straw, hay, leaves or other clean litter. This will give protection to the crop over winter.

Spinach requires a light, warm loam soil, but generally it will grow a crop on any level general production of good crop of corn. The land cannot be made too rich for it. Some farmers apply about 10 good loads of stable manure to the acre, and when the leaves are small they top dress with from 100 to 125 pounds of sulphate of ammonia per acre. This latter gives the plants a dark green color, besides considerably increasing the crop.

Other farmers find it especially desirable to apply nitrate of soda to the crop in spring, using it as a top dressing at the rate of 150 pounds per acre. The soda is applied broadcast in two applications, about two weeks apart, soon after the plants get nicely started.

Still other farmers believe in giving the ground a dressing of hen manure, or well-rotted barn manure, to the crop in April or May, and the crop off the ground in early June. Mildew is one of the enemies of spinach. It appears as gray, velvety patches on the under side of the leaves, with corresponding yellow spots on the upper side.

Anthraxose appears as gray spots on the leaves, containing brown pustules. These spots may be found on either the upper or under side of the leaves.

Leaf blight may be known by the formation of numerous minute pimples on the lower part of the leaf.

In white smut the spores are colorless and give the leaves a frosted appearance. Any of these diseases can be successfully treated by rotation of crops and destruction of all plants that are affected. It is a good plan, before planting, to rake into the bed a mixture of equal parts of sulphur and air-slaked lime.

As a rule, spinach is free from insect pests, but the leaf maggot it apt to attack it. In this case the eggs are deposited on the under side of the leaves, and the larva mines in the tissue of the leaf. The mine soon has the appearance of a blister. As the leaf maggot feeds also on the beets and weeds, such as lamb's quarters, the latter growth in the neighborhood of the spinach and beet fields should be destroyed. It is a good plan to plow deep either early in spring or late in fall, and then follow by rye.

Rye sown about Sept. 10 makes one of the best spring pastures. It starts early, a week or 10 days ahead of the grasses, ordinarily, and makes vigorous growth. Sheep and small pigs may be turned on it when it is four or five inches high; and, if the land is not overstocked, it will provide good pasture for three or four weeks. When sown for the purpose of pasture seed should be sown at the rate of one to two and a half bushels per acre. Fall sown in the spring will not make satisfactory growth, and it rusts badly in the warm weather. Following the use of the land for rye pasture there is ample time for the growth of a crop of rye for grain, or a crop of fodder or ensilage corn. If desired, the land may be plowed and additional small grain crops sown for pasture purposes.

Fruit trees respond as definitely to cultivation as do garden and farm crops, and while young they should be cultivated with as much care as any other crop.

Thin sorrel grows most abundantly in sheep or wormen meadows. Breaking the meadow and raising corn or some other cultivated crop will usually subdue the weed. The land should be enriched with grass, and an effort should be made to secure a thick stand. On meadows or pastures that cannot be plowed, top-dressing with manure and sowing additional grass seed will be beneficial. The addition of lime to the soil is said to aid in thickening the grass and crowding out the sorrel.

Cherry trees need little pruning. An experienced grower told a farmers' in situ audience that when set out the surplus branches of the cherry tree should be removed, leaving the central leader and four or five main branches. Do not cut these back. In subsequent pruning only crossed and injured branches need be removed, and there need be no cutting back.

Provide fresh water in a shallow dish near the beehive. Put chips in the water and see that it does not dry up. Have salt where the bees can easily find it and help themselves. This salt should be protected from the rain.

Let the bees form your acquaintance. Let them alight on you at will. Never attempt to brush them off. They will do you no harm as long as you are gentle, slow in movement and keep out of the line of flight. Never use perfume or the clothing that you wear near the hive.

Among hogs in general the range in number of pigs per litter is wide, running from three to eighteen. Averages are from six to ten, depending on breed, family or strain within the breed, age, feeding and handling of the sow and on the vigor of the service boar.

Honey is not properly appreciated as a human food. It should not be regarded as a luxury, as it is so often done, but should be on the family table almost daily as a delicious, nutritious, palatable and healthful food. There are very few homes where a few stands of honey cannot be profitably kept and the honey simply for the purpose of turning corn into fat. Honey is a concentrated sweet, often cheaper when bought than cane or sorghum syrup, and even the poor at prevailing prices can afford to use it.

It is better to have a strong hog, capable of resisting disease, than it is to have a hog that merely answers to the requirements of the scorecard. In other words, it is time to begin to breed hogs to resist disease, instead of breeding simply for the purpose of turning corn into fat. When this plan of breeding is adopted, half the trouble of hog disease will have been solved.

DUCHESS TO COME

Will Return to Canada With Governor-General.

Her Health Is Reported As Much Improved.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—It is stated here that her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, notwithstanding reports to the contrary, will accompany H.R.H. the Governor-General to Canada on his return next month after the marriage of his son, Prince Arthur, to the Duchess of Albany. Cheering reports have been received here of the health of her Royal Highness, but it is understood that she will not take an active part in the social life of the capital as formerly. Great care will have to be taken in guarding against any over-exertion on the part of the Duchess, whose continued good health depends upon rest and freedom from strain.

It is understood that Princess Patricia will necessarily take a more prominent part in the social side of viceregal functions.

Your correspondent is authorized officially to deny the report that the title of Duke of Canada will be assumed by Prince Arthur of Connaught. It is stated that in responsible quarters the idea was never entertained. No decision has yet been made as to the successor of his Royal Highness but the name of Lord Methuen is mentioned.

Col. Lowther, military secretary to the Duke of Devonshire, will leave Canada early next month, and will immediately take command of the first battalion of the Scots Guards at Aldershot. His successor, Major Farquhar, of the oldstream Guards, will arrive here early next week.

HAVE NEW FAITH

And Indian Proselytes Abandon Industry.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—A serious condition of affairs among the Indians at Fairford, Man., is reported by Rev. S. P. Lough, who represents the Baptist Union of Western Canada in that district, and who arrived in the city yesterday.

Mr. Lough says that owing to the extent of the Apostolic faith have obtained among the Indians they have practically abandoned all industry, and are neglecting their duties and allowing them to die. In one case a man had ten head of cattle from this cause and Dr. Clark, who preceded Mr. Lough, had twenty and two head of cattle, has lost them, as the men they were left with neglected to look after them. Mr. Lough says:—

"This Indian reservation is situated on Lake Manitoba, about 100 miles north of Winnipeg. It is a very fertile land, and the Indians are not wholehearted, as they readily give up their habits of industry, when told that they must live by faith. The result is that the cattle are allowed to die from neglect.

About a year ago some of the members of the local Apostolic faith mission went among the Indians and spread their tenets. The result of this was a demonstration and excitement seems to have responded to the appeals made by the followers of the Apostolic faith.

Mr. Lough states that there is, however, little sense of complaint so far as the moral and business of these Indians are concerned, the objectionable features being those already stated.

CARSON WARNED

Must Include Female Vote in Constitution.

London, Sept. 15.—The Women's Social and Political Union is planning to make things uncomfortable for Sir Edward Carson and his colleagues if they fail to make provision for votes for women in the new constitution they are drafting for Ulster.

In a letter to the Ulster leader the women put themselves on record as follows:—"You and your colleagues and supporters are forming an Ulster Government, and preparing an armed rebellion as a protest to being brought under a system of government to which you do not give your consent. It is precisely on the same principle that the militant Suffragist organization refuses to submit to a Government without the consent of women, either in Ulster or in any other part of the Kingdom."

THE POULTRY WORLD

BE KIND TO THE HENS.

W. W. Cox, in a recent issue of the Poultry Review, wrote:—"Observant people who have charge of horses and cattle know that kindness shown to animals always pays. It is possible that some horses that have been badly used may not do their best under a new driver who is gentle in his language and does not use the whip to urge them to their work, but it is delightful to see a well-trained pair of horses in the hands of a sensible driver, who has made the team his friends by his gentle and friendly manner, straighten themselves for a steady pull and an unusually heavy load when the driver speaks encouragingly to them. You can almost see they are expecting of them by the flash of their eyes as they settle themselves down for an extra show of their strength in answer to a call of a friendly and encouraging voice.

"It is a well-known fact that a cow will almost immediately show the effects of harsh and brutal treatment by a lessening of the milk supply, and cows that have been roughly handled in the milking stable will gradually increase the flow of milk after being put under the care of a kindly attendant.

"A hen's brains are not as large as those of a horse or a cow, but they are just as sensitive to the sort of treatment they receive. No hen or flock of hens will do their best if kept in a state of constant fright by rough and noisy treatment. They are peculiarly susceptible to quick and unexpected motions and will be panic-stricken in an instant by a sudden noise or movement. On the other hand a hen will respond to gentle and kindly treatment and son will become tame enough to be handled without being afraid.

"To make one's way into the good grace of a flock of hens it is necessary to move quietly when in the coop or yard with them and to keep up a running talk with them. It does not matter what you say—only let it be in a gentle and reassuring tone, being careful not to frighten them by any sudden movement, especially above their heads. If you will frequently take them some dainty morsel from the house or a few worms or bugs they will soon be ready to come to you without fear. By keeping a flock of hens thus happy and contented they will lay more eggs for you and you will enjoy your work among them."

ANOTHER EGG-LAYING CONTEST.

At least three American hens and three British hens are in a close race to be the first to reach the 200 egg mark in the first eight months of the National egg laying contest at Mountain Grove, Mo. An American hen has only ten eggs to lay in fifteen days to make a record of 200 eggs in eight months. All these hens have made a better record so far than they have ever had made at this time last year. The leading pen record so far this year is twenty eggs ahead of the leading pen record at this time last year. The English pen of single comb White Leghorns is 259 eggs in the lead of its nearest competitor. Two of the hens in this pen did not lay an egg in June, and if this contest were over the other pens may very easily overtake them, but there is a scorcher in Missouri. Several deaths were reported in different sections of the State as a result of the heat. It was, of course, also hard on the hens. There were 133 broody contest hens in broody coops at one time this month. Thirty eight were put up one day and twenty five another, and such a large percentage being broody at once cut down the egg yield for June. Other contests which had nearly 50 per cent. of their pens composed of Leghorns had less broody hens, of course, and made a little higher average for June. The total yield for June was 10,411 eggs, and the grand total to date is 70,386 eggs. The Leghorns in the North American contest at Storms, Conn., had made about the same average up to June 1 as had the Leghorns in the Missouri contest. The larger breeds in Missouri had made averages a little higher than the same breeds in Connecticut as a rule. At the present time the records are very nearly the same on the average.

NOTES.

When Leghorns, or any of the lighter and more active breeds, are kept in an orchard some provision must be made to keep them from flying into and roosting in the trees, or considerable difficulty may be had in getting them to winter quarters. Clipping one wing as soon as they show signs of flying is one means and is very effective.

Fowls to produce well must be kept tame. At feeding time, when the birds are hungry, and you have from one to five minutes time that can be spared, sit or kneel down at the usual feeding place with the bucket near you, gradually shortening the distance from day to day. In this way the birds may be able to approach rather close, and after a few trials they will usually eat from one's hand.—Ray H. White, Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station, in the Poultry Review.

Hens for hatching and brooding are to be recommended where it is convenient to use them, for as a rule naturally raised chicks are much more vigorous than artificially raised ones. Of course, where large numbers are being raised, or when hatching is being done out of the natural season, artificial means are necessary.

What is known as the polar regions cover 4,570,065 square miles and have 200,000 inhabitants.

A 'CROSS COUNTER TALK

Customer: "What constitutes good paint?"
Dealer: "Good paint depends on the materials used, the processes of manufacture, and the skill of the paint maker—no more, no less."
"Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared, is good paint—the best paint, in fact, that can be made. No care or detail is lacking in its manufacture. The materials employed are of the highest quality and are properly put together by experienced paint makers. The linseed oil—the vital part of paint—used in S.W.P. is made especially by The S.W. Co. in their own mill. The pigments are selected with greatest care and scrupulously tested. The tinting colors are products of the Company's own dry color works. And the mills used for grinding and mixing are designed and made in the machine shops of the Company. They embody the most advanced ideas in paint making. With such high quality materials, such care and attention, S.W.P. must be and is good paint all the way through."

Editor Reporter,
Dear Sir,—After taking a few days holiday and a trip through some of the Wheat Belt of the West, I am pleased to report that this is the greatest crop that has ever been known in this section. Cutting is about all done and threshing is well started. Some have reported as high as 40 bushels of wheat to the acre. Farm labor is very scarce—$4.00 per day has been offered for threshing hands. The material is being laid on the spot for two new elevators here.

The C. P. R. operating department has taken over the road division from Viceroy to Assiniboia and is making some changes. The Landscape pumpman has been assured of his position; his house is nearly finished, and he expects his wife out in a few days.

A WESTERN VIEW

In Ontario Sunday is a day for worship, rest, quiet recreation, but a feeling of variance with the views of the Lord's Day Alliance is growing in our Western Provinces, and this is how the Calgary Albertan expresses it:—

Calgary, says the Albertan, "has one long, large, lonesome Sunday in every week." On that day, it says, the friendless man is in peculiarly bad plight. He can go to church, but "some people do not care to go church all the time, and some do not care to go to church any of the time." What then, is the "friendless man," so disposed, to do? The Albertan thinks he might better join in or view a football game than sit in his cheerless room during the whole afternoon or evening. The Albertan would not allow Sunday labor, but it would permit of Sunday sport.

OBITUARY

MRS. J. A. SHERMAN

The death occurred on Thursday morning last at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville, of Mrs. J. A. Sherman, one of the most highly respected residents of Plum Hollow after an illness of six weeks. Despite the fact that she suffered greatly, she bore the same with great resignation and christian fortitude, never complaining, and being at all times resigned to the will of providence. She has gone to the reward of a well spent life, and one that this world is the loser because of her translation. She spent all her life in the township of Bastard, and to know her was to esteem a woman whose virtues, kindness, and charitable disposition made her endeared by all. She was 64 years of age. By her death her husband, one son, Glen, of Plum Hollow, and two daughters, Mrs. Fred Bullis, Brockville, and Mrs. Bert Hayes, Athens, are called upon to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and kind and affectionate mother. She was a Baptist in religion and an active member of the church at Plum Hollow.

Interment was made at Plum Hollow on Saturday, following an impressive service by the Rev. W. S. McAlpine, of Delta.

THE EGG TRADE

Every housewife will have a kindly feeling for the Canadian Produce Association, a strong provincial organization, in its demand for cheaper eggs. The lower rating would follow the adoption of the "loss-off system" by which the buyer would be indemnified against the sale of tainted eggs.

The egg trade is becoming colossal and it has been attended by such disasters on goods that an agreement was decided upon. This agreement involved the utmost care in the selection and marketing of eggs, guaranteed the buyer against imposition, and secured him against losses of any kind. It was charged at the meeting of the Produce Association that the agreement had been violated or ignored, and it was decided to be more persistent in its enforcement.

During this year the Agricultural Department at Ottawa issued bulletin with regard to eggs. One bulletin explained why so many are rotten, and gives such direction that farmer and purchaser who read it should be greatly benefited. The Produce Association will petition the federal government to be more aggressive and formal in its educational campaigns, and there is sound reason in this. The object teaching is the most effective.

For years the Ontario Government has been issuing its literature upon every agricultural subject, but with doubtful results. The expert who is now at work in the county has done more practical good in one season than all the literature that has been issued.

Eggs, in these days of expensive living, should be fresh and they will be if those in the trade, and for the large money they can get, put themselves as they can do very easily. Every man with poultry should get the pamphlet of the Ottawa Agricultural Department and read it for the exceedingly valuable information which it contains. He will sleep sounder when he feels he is selling the consumer something that is worth all that is paid for it.

Perth town council voted $12000 for improvements to the Collegiate Institute.

ROD AND GUN

September Rod and Gun contains a list of contests appropriate to the month and to the character of this magazine of out-door life. The American Scout on the Pacific Coast is Bonnaventure Dale's contribution. "Canuck" gives some practical advice to duck shooters and reminiscences of duck hunting expeditions in days gone by. Shooting over a Dog by "Senex" will be of interest to those sportsmen who find big game hunting too strenuous but enjoy the milder form of sport involved in the pursuit of small winged game. A Day among the Ducks by a Saskatchewan writer is a very amusing account of the duck hunting experiences of an amateur shot. Amongst the Manitoba Prairie Chickens, The Cub Across the Midway, Hunting the Loon, the Sport of the Red Men, and other illustrated articles make up an entertaining number of this publication which is issued by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

The man who never asks for trade By local line or ad displayed, Cares more for rest than worldly gain And patronage but gives him pain. Tread lightly, friends; let no rude sound Disturb his solitude profound; Here let him live in calm repose Unsought except by men he owes, And when he dies, go, plant him deep, That quietude may break his dreamless sleep— Where no rude clamor may dispel The quiet that he loved so well. And that the world may know its loss, Place on his grave a wreath of moss, And on the stone above, "Here lies A chump who wouldn't advertise."

TOO PRETTY BY HALF.

Real Life Tragedies Show Good Looks Are Dangerous.

Ask a girl what fairy's gift she would prefer—health, wealth, long life, goodness or beauty; in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred she will unhesitatingly plump for beauty. Looks mean so much to a woman that to most people it seems absurd to talk of the possibility of being too beautiful.

Yet only the other day, in a case in court, a well-known barrister mentioned an instance in which beauty brought trouble to its possessor and to her people. This was that of a London restaurant keeper, whose daughter was so exceedingly lovely that great crowds collected to see her completely upsetting the business of the restaurant and deeply embarrassing both the girl and her father. The end of it was that the young lady had to be packed off into the country.

About two years ago a firm of dressmakers in the West End tried the experiment of collecting a number of pretty girls and putting them in the new dresses in their window, in place of the usual wax models. In less than an hour the street was blocked, the police had to interfere and the proprietors were obliged to disperse with their charming dummies.

There is at least one case on record of beauty being the means of losing a husband instead of winning one. The story comes from Genoa. Signorine de Frate of that city was so exquisitely lovely that crowds followed her in the streets. A wealthy and altogether desirable young man fell in love with her, and they became engaged.

One day, a photographer named Ricci came to Miss de Frate, and begged to be allowed to take her photograph. He offered a considerable sum if he might be allowed to sell her likeness on picture postcards. The lady consented, and when her lover, who had been away in Rome on business, returned, he found the pictures in every window. He was so disgusted that he at once broke off the engagement. She sued for breach of promise, and lost her case, and had to pay costs.

Extreme beauty is naturally the cause of jealousy, and jealousy has unpleasant ways of manifesting itself. The tragedy of Mrs. Helen Taylor is a case in point. She was a widow famous for her beauty, and was rumored to be engaged to be married to a very wealthy man who had jilted a girl for her sake.

One afternoon a messenger delivered a parcel at Mrs. Taylor's house. As she opened it, there was a terrific explosion and the fall dying, dreadfully mutilated. The perpetrator of the crime, a harmless-looking draughtsman, has just confessed on his deathbed to sending the bomb because Mrs. Taylor rejected his advances.

Jealousy is not confined to the weaker sex. In the commonplace surroundings of a suburban chemist's shop the Paganon police recently unearthed a drama of jealousy on the part of a husband which has no rival even in France.

Parab, the chemist, had married an extremely pretty girl. He was jealous to begin with, but as time went on he grew worse. He could not bear that his wife should speak to, or even look at another man. First he forbade her to leave the house, and finally he resorted to strait waistcoats and chains in order to keep her a prisoner.

At last the unfortunate woman managed to get word to her sister, and the police broke in. They found her in the bedroom chained with strong steel chains to the wall.

Business firms have often cause to complain of the fair employees being too pretty. It is not only that a pretty girl distracts the attention of men in the shop or the works. The worst trouble, so far as the firm is concerned, arises when one of these pretty girls is injured in the course of her work and claims compensation. They declare that beauty in distress causes juries to be far too generous.

Pin Points of Life.

In sour paste, vinegar, the melt of a codfish or even in water in which decayed vegetables have been infused the microscope reveals animalcules (little animals) so small that millions of them would not equal a common grain of wheat in bulk. And yet nature with singular prodigality has supplied many of these minute creatures with organs as complete and perfect as those of a whale. In a single ounce of such matter there are more living creatures than there are human beings on the face of the globe!

Dislikes Mourning.

A certain fashionable dressmaker, according to Good Housekeeping, refuses to make black dresses because of their depressing effect on her employees. She would not even make a mourning gown for one of her best customers whose little girl had died, arguing that a black costume in itself saddens not only those who make it, but the wearer and all her associates.

In view of the fact that Canada is being flooded with people from foreign lands not given to temperate habits, and realizing the importance of cultivating the highest form of society, if a great democracy is to be built up, the Dominion Alliance believe it is necessary to inaugurate a Dominion-wide campaign for the total prohibition of the liquor traffic. At a recent meeting at the council of the Alliance, it was decided to make war on the business in every quarter of Canada, but just what form the campaign will take has not yet been disclosed.

MAPLE TAPIOCA PUDDING

(Tested Recipe by Caroline Coe) Put one quart of milk in double boiler. When warm slowly add the oatmeal and tapioca, stirring all the time to avoid lumps, add salt, allow to boil until tender and clear. Remove from fire and add one cup of maple syrup, turn into buttered pan and allow to stand ten minutes. Turn over one-half cup of top milk or the contents of one small can of evaporated cream. Bake slowly one and one-half hours, serve with cream or top milk. Any good syrup may be substituted. One quart of milk. Three teaspoons cornmeal. Three tablespoons minute tapioca. One-half teaspoon of salt. One cup of maple syrup. Butter the size of a walnut. This is the famous pudding that "Aunt Della" makes for ex-President Taft, and is most delicious.

PERRY'S VICTORY.

To arms, to arms, it is the martial cry; Man now the ships, it is to do or die. Out must be bound for miles along the shore, Who now must fight to make an open door. Two dreadful hours his flag ship stood alone And braved the trail within the fiery zone. And now were now raising fast on every side. And flag ship shattered on the changing tide. But see, brave Perry man a fragile boat, And with a few now left away the float. The foe now turns their guns on this frail bark, But nothing flinches of fire have missed their mark. Our hero joins his men 'mid wild hurra, And now he heads his fleet for Put-in-Bay. The freshening breeze comes timely to his aid, And plans to meet the foe were quickly said. The fight was fierce, but soon the strife was o'er, And plaudits ring along Lake Erie shore. North, south and east the welcome news had spread, And some were sad and weeping for their dead. We sang to-day, but not of fallen foes; But that our share is spann'd by freedom's blow. We're bells of joy shall chime from dome and tower, To tell the news in whispering grove and bower.

Powerful Insects.

If you were as strong, proportionately as the beetle is, and were a man weighing a couple of hundred pounds, you would be able to lift with ease 400,000 pounds. For a beetle can lift a weight that is just 200 times its own weight. Or if you could jump about with the same ease as the grasshopper you could spring over the tallest building in the Chicago loop district without much effort. Or, again, if you wanted to be nearly as strong as the bee you would have to drag after you a load weighing 4,000 pounds.

School Dresses.

They're in season. Mothers are buying them. And mothers are buying them. Remnants are doing splendid service. Made-over serge is strong as very good also. Tartans are revived and many are altogether clever. For school dresses much worn materials are not worth while making up. At some schools only the snowiest of white linen is worn all of the time. But for ordinary school wear, fine, strong serge is the ideal material. Leather ties are good, too, as are fastened linen collars and cuffs.

WHY LIVING IS HIGH.

(Philadelphia Record) There was a steady fall in the wholesale and retail prices of food throughout the greater part of the world from 1872 to 1900. After 1900 there was a gradual rise. It is now probable the top notch has been reached. A sug may be expected. Big prices tend to increase production and to limit consumption. A great deal of what passes for increased cost of living is closely analyzed would be set down as more extravagant living.

Plain. Frills. Ruffles. Finish necks. Pointed, square and round.

GAMBLING. (Chicago Tribune) Gambling is an insidious evil, which, beginning with the insignificant betting of pennies, grows in many natures to a passion as devouring and destroying as an incurable disease. The gambling den is the school of the pocket thief, the burglar, the rascal. It is the starting point of the wide deserter. Neither the restraint of the parental home nor the influence of marriage can control the boy or man who has acquired the gambling habit. Gambling is the nucleus of murder. The victim of the fair game or roulette wheel, face to face with starvation, turns to the way robbery and its inevitable consequence.

FREE MINDS, FREE ANKLES. (London Opinion) The truth is that the free mind has made inevitable the free ankle. Our girls are no longer content to be tied up like babies of cotton. They have learned the use of their legs on the bicycle, on horseback and in the hockey field. The masculine leg is not a veiled mystery. Why should the feminine leg be regarded as a dreadful secret dedicated to the allurements of the ballet? After all, our girls may not be quite so bold and quite so bold as we, in our flaming innocence, imagine. Perhaps they are right in assailing the stupid tyranny of sex. Perhaps they are wise in forcing us to hear the shattering revelation that the end justifies the means. Perhaps they are doing a great and noble deed in delivering us from the delusion that the less we see of them the better. There is no doubt that they are rapidly emerging from the chrysalis of convention. They are asserting their right to be human beings and not bundles of obedient dupes. They are staking their self-consciousness as well as their clothes. The sooner we shed our self-consciousness the better.

Chest Colds, Bronchitis Can't Be Cured By Cough Syrups

For the Simple Reason that Cough Syrups go straight to the Stomach which isn't affected.

The Direct-breathing cure "Catarrhose" which instantly reaches all affected parts is best remedy. Just note the following chart—it clearly shows how the vapor of Catarrhose when inhaled covers all the breathing organs in the nose, throat and lungs—that is why Catarrhose always cures—it gets where the trouble really is.

"I can speak of the wonders Catarrhose did for me," writes J. P. Fernandez, an important figure in mercantile life in Georgetown. "I had all the distressing symptoms of catarrh—head was stuffed up—had a profuse discharge from the nose—I hawked and gagged and had a weak throat. My eyes buzzed and I had a constant pain over the eyes. Catarrhose cleared my head, strengthened my throat, took away that rank breath and soreness in the nose." If you have any form of catarrh or throat trouble, cut out all experiments—use Catarrhose—it's reputation is world-wide. A complete outfit with sufficient medication to last two months and an indestructible hard rubber inhaler costs $1.00, smaller sizes with glass inhaler 25c and 50c. All druggists and storekeepers, or post paid from the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

CANNING CORN ON THE COB.

Last winter I was invited to a friend's house and, much to my surprise, at dinner, there was brought on steaming hot corn on the cob. It was delicious. I immediately asked how it was prepared, and my friend, who is one of the best of cooks, said: "I canned it after a recipe I saw," and added, "I would not advise much corn to be put up in this way, for the work is long and great care must be taken." In the first place, you must have the wide top, half-gallon cans. In these you put as many short ears of corn as they will comfortably hold. The ears should be freshly picked and that there are no decaying kernels on the cob. Have some hot water, to which has been added granulated sugar in the proportion of a heaping teaspoonful to one quart of water. Put your ears in boiler on some hay or cloth to keep them into the metal bottom. Fill the cans with the hot sugar water and put on covers lightly. Fill the boiler with water to about two-thirds up the can. Boil four hours. Let cool and screw on can tops carefully and stand bottom side up for three days. "I had splendid luck with this recipe, and my corn on the cob at Christmas was hailed with delight," said my friend. "I have already put up a couple of dozen cans."

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Dear Sirs, I had a Bleeding Tumor on my face for a long time and tried a number of remedies without good results. I was advised to try MINARD'S LINIMENT, and after using several bottles it made a complete cure, and it healed all up and disappeared altogether. DAVID HENDERSON, Belleisle Station, Kings Co., N. Y., Sept. 17, 1904.

The Hottest Gridiron.

And the fires are all cold in their bed, When the richest of textiles have revealed. And the poorest of workers is dead—We shall rest from the strikes and the riots. Lie down underneath a white stone, Till the Judge of the Workmen and Bosses Shall summon us all to His throne. And those who were Bosses shall tremble, They'll long for an alibi then, And wish they'd divided their profits, And treated the Workers like Men. For, somehow, it will sound a bit queer, The "divided" plea on an exercise, For that Judge will not bear to offend them, But will call an Abuse an Abuse.

They are never driven, but take their bath entirely of their own free will. If the wind is against them on the return journey and the sea rough, it is sometimes necessary for a man to put out in a boat and help the mover in turn by holding his hand under each cow's chin, as they get dazed by the sea dashes in their faces and swim in circles instead of going straight ahead.

POPCORN. Here Are Some Novel Ways It May Be Used.

Try popcorn some morning instead of the ordinary breakfast cereal. The chances are you will like it. The corn should be popped the night before and left in the oven or some other warm, dry place until morning. Before serving, set the food grinder at the notch where it grinds its coarsest and run the popcorn through. Place in a warm oven until the chopped popcorn is heated. Then serve with sugar and cream, like any other breakfast food. Try adding half a dozen fluffy white kernels of popcorn to each portion of soup served. These are a pretty substitute for the usual croutons, and, especially in tomato or pea soup, the color effect is attractive. Where the soup is served at table a small dish of perfect kernels of popcorn can be placed near the tureen and a few served with each portion of soup. They float lightly on the surface and are a pretty novelty. For the nursery table this is a feature sure to be hailed with delight.

Try "kornettes" as a novel form of wafer to serve with afternoon tea. Little cookies are made from one cup of chopped popcorn, a tablespoonful of softened butter, white of one egg, one third of a cup of butter and a little salt. Flavor with a half teaspoonful of vanilla. The butter is first added to the chopped popcorn, then the egg is stiffly beaten and added, then the sugar and other ingredients. Beat all together thoroughly and drop from tip of teaspoon on to a buttered baking sheet. Spread with a knife dipped in cold water and bake in a slow oven until a delicate brown.

Where a coal range is not available there are several ways of attempting to do corn-popping over a gas stove, but the process is never as satisfactory as when done over a bed of live coals. An iron stove lid placed over a burner of a gas range and allowed to become red hot will give sufficient heat to make the kernels burst into bloom, provided one has a little patience. Where gas is used in the kitchen the furnace fire offers a splendid place for the popping of corn. With the large area of coals, the work can be done quickly and well.

THE STAGE IN DANGER. (New York Herald) Despite all that has been said against the stage of to-day it cannot be denied that of late years it has enjoyed the confidence and good will of such elements of authority and influence as the Church, the educational classes and society. It is no longer necessary for a manager to call his playhouse a "lecture room" or "museum" in order to attract respectable audiences. Young girls are permitted to visit places of amusement because their parents take it for granted that at least they will not be offended by presentations of vice in its most loathsome phrase. A few more bottled dramas and the stage parents will awaken to the danger, and the whole business of theatricals will suffer as it has long suffered in European cities for the same reason.

Woman in Pain For Three Years

With an Aching Shoulder and Lame Back That Seemed Incurable. Tells of Her Remarkable Cure.

"Very few people could so patiently suffer for three years as I did," writes Mrs. M. D. Durand, from her home in Augusta. "Sometimes I did feel very discouraged, but knew that a remedy would some day turn up with the power to relieve my sufferings. Nervine was the one thing that ever did me real good. It had the power to sink into my stiff, sore muscles, and it drew out the pain and gave me release from such distress as few people know. My condition was largely Rheumatic, and on this account I do urge every person with Rheumatic tendencies to use Nervine—rub it in frequently and bind a hot flannel cloth over the aching parts. This is very soothing and will surely cure."

It is just such cases as this that have made Nervine famous in many lands. No liniment is so penetrating, so strong, so pain-subduing. Its influence over Neuralgia, Lumbago, Sciatica, and Rheumatism is simply a marvel. Thousands of actual, permanent cures prove this. In the home Nervine is so useful because it can be taken internally with sure results, for cramps, stomach pains, and diarrhoea. It stops vomiting, cures nausea and sick headache. No home complete without Nervine. Family size bottles, 60c.; trial size 25c. at all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was He Excused? With an uncomfortable feeling in their heads the juvenile classes awaited the advent of the school inspector. They had had it well drummed into them that this was to be a new departure in examinations. Bland and expansive, the inspector sauntered into the school room, and, walking past the school teacher, addressed the class. "Observation of little things," he said, "has made some of our greatest men of to-day."

Not a soul moved; everyone just looked. With his coat thrown back, Mr. Inspector displayed, stretched across his ample dimensions, a heavy gold watch-chain and a gold-topped fountain-pen peeping from his watch-pocket. "Now," he went on, "I will test your powers, and will re-enter the room, and you shall tell me what I have forgotten."

Leaving the room, he abstracted his fountain-pen from his pocket, and returned, standing before the class in the same attitude. "Now, what have I forgotten?" he beamed. All the kiddies sat dumb; they didn't quite understand his rignarole. Suddenly a little chap in the front piped: "Please, sir, you forgot to say 'Excuse me' when you walked in front of the teacher!"

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. S. Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your child troubles you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

FIND THE REMEDY.

(Guelph Mercury) While an army of single men are lavishing their earnings and their affections upon themselves and many are developing extravagant and often vicious habits—extending which they prey to an orderly, economical married life—another great army of young women are forced to toil in our factories and business houses for the necessities of life. This is an unfortunate and unnatural state of affairs. Moreover, from the ranks of the unmarried comes humanity's heaviest contribution of immorality and crime.

When making a steamed or boiled pudding, plait the cloth in at the top to allow the pudding to swell.

SOME QUEER THEFTS. Burglars Are Not Particular as to the Spoils.

Burglars can't be choosers. All they can do is to take things as they find them. The nature of their indiscreet calling prevents their being fussy in their selection of articles to be carried away. Anything convertible into cash will do, and sometimes even that point is not essential, as in the case of the purloiners of the "Mona Lisa," where mercenary notions probably for once yielded to the burglar's love of beauty. Just at present we seem to be passing through an era of freak burglaries. Only the other day ingenious thieves attempted to steal $10,000 worth of Panama hats from a down town loft by tying away, literally by the thousand, in the still hours of early morning. In Paris recently a burglar, disgruntled because he could not lay his hands on anything worth taking, softened his disappointment by going to the pantry and resoling himself with a bite at the butter. It proved his undoing, because he was traced by his tooth marks on the butter jar.

A short time ago several burglars established a precedent by carrying away a hot stove, fire and all, from a boatman's shanty. The intrepid thieves performed this feat by wrapping the stove in wet cloths. A thief lately depleted the poor box of a church by extracting the coins through the slot at the top with the aid of a wire to which a piece of adhesive plaster was attached. Another villain of the deepest dye robbed a fruit stand and stuffed his pockets with cigarettes, candy and fruits.

Several weeks ago a couple of enterprising crooks cut the Western Union cables near New Brunswick and got away with 100 feet of copper wire. Stealing brass and lead pipe does not sound like high-class work, but that sort of theft, far from being unusual, provides a regular living for many thieves. Recently some of the fraternity varied the old-fashioned game of passing by plumbing establishments to an adjoining tea store and mixed their heavy swag with a few light and portable bags of tea and coffee. —New York Evening Sun.

LUMBAGO NOW ONLY A NAME

After taking a treatment of SANOL for lumbago and got cured, I recommended it to an old friend of mine who is about 70 years old. After taking four bottles, the excruciating pains left him, and now feels better than he has done for the past 20 years. Please use this letter anyway you think fit, as it is a duty we all owe who have been cured, to let the sceptic public know there is a real cure for Kidney trouble. Yours truly, Augusta Dureau, Altona, Man.

SANOL is the remedy which does cure all Kidney troubles such as Lumbago, Gravel, or any trouble arising from excess of uric acid, as the above letter proves. Price $1.50. Sold by all leading druggists. Literature free from The Sanol Manufacturing Co., Ltd., 95 Main Street, Winnipeg, Man.

GIVE THE FOREIGNERS A CHANCE

(Toronto Star) Some of us are inclined to claim superiority for Anglo-Saxons over the rest of the human family. Whatever advantage Anglo-Saxons may possess is due to their faculty for kicking against authority. When the American Anglo-Saxons revolted against George the Third, they were doing exactly the same as their ancestors who revolted against Charles W. S. A Strenuous Statesman.

Charles James Fox, the English statesman and sport, had wagered something about a waistcoat which could only be obtained in Paris; went over to Dover by night, caught the mail packet, posted to Paris and back to Calais, and remembered he had a horse racing at Newmarket. He chartered a fishing boat bound for the eastern counties, just got to Newmarket in time for the race, took the post back to London and stopped on the way to dine. In the middle of the dinner he was caught by a special messenger, who had been tearing over half of England in search of him, and reminded that he had to move to bring in a marriage bill in the House of Commons. He rushed to the stables, reached the House in time to make a brilliant speech in reply to North and Burke, and defeated North on a division by a single vote.

Musical Plagiarist.

Victor Herbert, the composer, said of a musician whose work he disliked: "The prophecy that was made about this chap in his boyhood has come true. "In his boyhood, you know, his mother said of him: "Oh, he's such a remarkable child. A perfect prodigy, in fact. He remembers every tune he hears." "Well, well!" said a pianist who was present. "Isn't that a very rare and valuable faculty?" his mother asked. "It isn't rare," said the pianist, "but it's certainly valuable. It will probably enable him to become in after years a successful composer." —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE COMPLETE IDIOM.

80-Word English Translation of "Is It You?" Explanations with amplifications are a feature of "Social Conversations in English and Japanese," a volume by Gentaro Tomita, published in Tokio. The author's aim is to supply a guide to social conversation in English, thus: Look me up.—Come to my house to see if I am at home. Only too delighted—I am very much pleased to accept your kind invitation to take tea with you, and to make hay while the sun shines. He'll buttonhole you.—He will catch hold of the front part of your coat on the chest, where the buttonholes are situated, and so hold you captive, that you may not escape till he has finished his conversation. Is it you?—Surely it cannot be you, who stands waiting in the hall, and refuses to send in his name by the servant, because he thinks he may disturb me while I am entertaining other friends? Surely you know very well that you are always welcome to come in, unless I have some very special business on hand? So I was surprised when I came into the hall to find it was you and not a stranger or a business visitor.

SEVEN AGES OF WOMEN.

Each woman in her time plays many parts; The infant, first, who rules while yet in arms; And practices on all resistless arts; Subduing sages with her potent charms. The schoolgirl next, a roguish, wee coquette, Each fool boy taming with a tender glance; His hard coned lessons he doth then forget; And he is thrashed for dabbling in romance. Then the young miss, with skirts of ankle length, Dreaming most foolish dreams of clothes and boys, Dolls' cast aside, all her ambition's strength Is aimed at parties and such social joys. Fourth, as the belle, with powder and with paint, Bedizened, in magnificent array, Besieged by suitors, she will make complaint; Unless suit breaks at least one heart a day. At last, surrendered, she becomes a bride Her triumph's zenith; her decline's begun. But most inexplicable is now her pride This queen of many, to be queen of one! Then comes the matron, family and home, Absorb her energies and loving care From her own hearthstone caring not to roam She still finds life replete with treasures rare. Finis, the grandam. Shall one tell the truth? Cans—nothing that can purchased be of men, Now granny dear renews her frisky youth And thinks she will get married once again! Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia. ## Northwest Mounted Police Patrol Goes North.

A WARLIKE TRIBE Other Fights Have Been Numerous Recently.

Ottawa despatch: To investigate the facts in connection with the murder at Bathurst Inlet by Eskimos of H. V. Radford, explorer, and his companion, George Street, of Ottawa, a special patrol of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, under the direction of F. J. A. Demers, Superintendent commanding the Hudson Bay District, has been despatched to the scene of the tragedy under the command of Sgt. Edgerton. The patrol will make the journey via Chesterfield Inlet, Baker Lake, Schultze Lake, Beverly Lake, and thence across country to Bathurst Inlet, Kahmuk, and an Eskimo trader will go as guide.

The patrol which has been sent will be strong enough to make any necessary arrests, which it is expected will be numerous if reports are correct. It is expected that the natives may resist arrest, and it is considered impossible to depend upon local help. It is thought likely that the patrol will remain in the country at least a year, if not two.

Though the primary object of the patrol will be to investigate in connection with the murder of Radford and Street and to make arrests of the guilty persons, it will have other work to do in addition. The tribe which is involved in the murder is known as the Killimnuita, and its members live in the country south of Coronation Gulf and along the Thelon River. According to reports received at Mounted Police headquarters here they are decidedly uncivilized, and somewhat more warlike than is usual with the Eskimos. Few possess rifles, the spear, the bow and arrow and the seal knife being the chief weapons with which they hunt and fight. They live on the musk ox, from whose hide they make their clothing. The Hudson Bay Eskimo traders do business with them, prominent among the traders being three men, Kakame, Kahmuk and Partridge.

REPORT OF BLOODY BATTLE.

Reports have just been received by Comptroller Forsythe of a sanguinary and murderous battle which is said to have taken place among the Eskimos of the district two winters ago. A statement from H. H. Hall, in charge of the Hudson Bay Post at Fort Hall, two hundred miles north of Brochet, contains an account of the fight obtained from travelling Eskimos. At a place northwest of the Dubaut River country every male member of a band of inhabitants of that region engaged in a battle with bows and arrows, spears and knives, during which twenty-eight men fell. The fight, according to reports, was engaged in with the utmost ferocity. According to advice received, one man had procured possession of a rifle, to gain which another member of the tribe killed him. Others took the matter up, and a feud ensued, by which the tribe was divided into two warring factions.

In a further statement describing the tribes Mr. Hall says: "All quarrels and disputes among the northern Eskimos are settled by a fight which must result in the death of one of the combatants. This is looked upon as the only way to settle disputes. All second-born children are put to death immediately after birth. This is due to a superstitious belief among the natives."

In December of 1910, Mr. Hall states, Hudson Bay hunters and traders to the number of five men and their families, left Fort Hall to go and trade with the northern Eskimos. They were to have returned in February of this year, but have not yet been heard from, and it is believed that something serious has befallen them at the hands of the hostile tribe.

STORY OF LATEST MURDER.

From the information received in connection with the killing of Radford and Street, the principal murderers are said to be two men named Hultlak and Amusekernik. The circumstances of the murder were particularly atrocious, and bear out all reports concerning the warlike character of these natives. According to the report of an eye-witness, Novelle, Radford put up a gallant fight before he succumbed. Time and again were the spears driven into his back before he fell. As life still lingered while he lay on the ground his murderer pounced upon him and administered the coup de grace by cutting the fallen man's throat with his knife. Street was similarly dealt with. "If the report is true," says Mr. Hall in his statement of the affair, "then Mr. Radford showed very poor judgment in having struck an Eskimo so far from civilization."

Later on Radford's rifle and some parts of his effects were seen by trading Eskimos among the tribe.

A report to the effect that Radford and Street had arrived safely at Herschel Island has been denied by Inspector Beys of that district. The latter states that no word of them had been received there.

It is intended that the special patrol will make a thorough investigation of the "unlawful killing of Eskimos" throughout the district, and it is more than probable that several prisoners will be brought back with them. Through the possession of firearms and other modern weapons will give the police a considerable advantage over the hostile natives, it is not expected that the expedition will be lacking in danger.

LIGHT APPLE CROP

Western Ontario Dealers Reports Are Bad.

Guelph despatch: From reports which have reached the city during the past few days there will be a scarcity of good apples during the coming winter. Dealers paid a visit to the farms in the Township of Puslinch and Nassagaweya during the week, and report the apples a poor crop. There are very few number one apples at all, and the number three grades will be light. This applies both to fall and winter apples. The cause of this is attributed to a backward spring and exceptionally dry weather.

The Colvert apple, which is usually large, will be small this year, with but very little color in it, while the same thing may be said of the Spy, the Snow and others. The Greenings will be the best crop of any, and they will hardly be up to the usual standard.

WELFARE WORK

In Industries, Must Soon Become General.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Welfare work will be a requirement in the near future, in the opinion of Elizabeth Lewis Otey, Ph.D., who, at the instance of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, personally visited upwards of fifty establishments of the country, noted for welfare work. The results of her investigations are contained in a bulletin issued to-day by the Department of Labor.

Miss Otey found that sentiment throughout the country generally favored welfare work, but that it was not so kindly received in certain labor circles. "The sphere of welfare work," she declared, "must not be confounded with that of legislation, nor should it be used as a means of retarding wage labor laws. If it should have this effect, and make workroom conditions, the safeguarding of machinery, or the prevention of child labor and night work for women, dependent on the employers' kindness or sympathy, its effect becomes at once deleterious instead of beneficial. Sanitary conditions within the factory should be a legal obligation."

The representative asserts that the beginning of all welfare work must be directed toward bettering the physical well-being of employees in their places of work, and adds:

"These are clearly not matters which should be left to the humanity or altruism of the employer. They are the things which concern the welfare of society as a whole, and should be under the direct supervision of the State."

BUSH FIRES

Are Menacing Guelph and Puslinch Townships.

Guelph despatch: A menace which threatens to destroy considerable property in Guelph and Puslinch Townships is the spread of large bush fires, several of which are now raging. A fire was started a few days ago on the Armishaw farm, in Guelph Township, and has spread rapidly, due to everything being very dry. It is also reported that bush fires exist in the vicinity of Gourock, and that they are spreading rapidly. The fire which has been burning for some days in Guelph Township, near Mr. J. Bohn's, was last night burning fiercely. It appears to have got right into the ground, which lends support to the theory that there is peat in that neighborhood.

ARE ALL AT SEA

Mistaken Identity Baffles in N. Y. Murder Mystery.

New York, Sept. 15.—The finding in Havana of Mrs. Janin disposes of what the local detective bureau regarded as a promising clue in the solution of the river murder mystery. Her presence there invalidates the identification made yesterday by Cashier Janin, who said he knew the torso was that of his wife from birthmarks on the back. Other clues have led detectives against a wall of mystery. H. Bolian, the Armenian carpenter, and his daughter, sought yesterday, also have been found, and have accounted satisfactorily for their movements since leaving their apartments a few days ago. They had lived near the stores where the pillow and tar paper were purchased, and were sought by the police because Bolian had sent a much stained and discolored shirt to a nearby laundry. The stains on the garment were found later to be those of varnish used in his work. The clearing of these clues leaves detectives where they were four days ago, when they located the shops where were sold the pillow and tar paper. The purchasers of these articles were sought with redoubled persistence to-day. A vigilant watch was enforced along the river front and the bay for other members of the body. One leg, both arms and the head were still untraced this morning. Two persons have seen a woman's head floating in the bay within the past eight days. It was last seen on an outgoing tug, by Miss Grace Cure, of Bayonne, on Tuesday, while she was rowing near Constable Hook, and is believed to be that of the victim. The finding of this head would make possible identification, which now seems remote and strip the mystery of its most baffling feature.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Another San Francisco minister is to become an undertaker. Rev. "The undertaking field," he said, "will give me an even greater opportunity for social service than the ministry. Solacing those in sorrow and caring for the dead has been so much a part of my pastoral work that I do not look upon the change as altering materially the purpose of my life."

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Falcon and Hope Islands, of the friendly or Tonga group in the South Pacific, have disappeared from view.

With them several hundred natives and a few white men also have disappeared.

News to this effect was brought to San Francisco yesterday by Captain J. H. Trask, of the steamer Sonoma, which arrived from Sydney, via Pago Pago and Honolulu, Captain Trask said:

"One of the regular trading steamers, between Sydney and the Tonga group, reported the sinking of the islands. The vessel steamed to where Falcon Island should have been, but it was no where in sight."

Just prior to this the instruments at the Sydney Naval Station showed that several violent earthquake shocks had taken place about 2,000 miles northeast of Sydney.

EXPLORERS SLAIN

Natives Murdered Chicago- ans on the Amazon.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Wm. L. Page and Wilber F. Cromer, of Chicago, who were commissioned to explore the headwaters of the Amazon, are believed by relatives to have been slain by natives. Advice received today from the Peruvian Government stated that a search expedition found a group of Indians in possession of the guns, baggage and other property.

The head of the relief expedition reported to the Peruvian Government: "I believe that the Americans have been victims of foul play, as it seems impossible that they should have given up their arms and baggage while on a trip of this kind."

The last direct word received from the pair reached Chicago February 3. The letter was dated from Cajabamba. They attempted to lay out a trail between the old Inca cities of Chiquita and Pajalan.

RUBENSTEIN CASE

Two Arrests in Connection With Ottawa Murder.

Montreal despatch: Lottie Brangman, colored, 21 years old, giving her address as 43 West 137th street, New York city, and Bessie Sims, 25, also colored, who said her home was at 60 West 142nd street, New York city, were arrested here to-night in connection with the murder of bookmaker's clerk Abe Rubenstein at Ottawa. They were locked up at police headquarters, and while the police declare they made no statement further than to admit that they were in Ottawa during the recent race meeting and knew Rubenstein, it is believed they have made further admissions. Two colored men were also locked up here to-night, both followers of race meets, but the police would give out no information as to who they were or what connection they had with the case.

Late to-night the police were searching for Nathan Shapiro, bookmaker, for whom they have a warrant, sworn out in Ottawa. His arrest in connection with the murder is expected momentarily.

The Brangman woman was found at a hotel in Turcot, the scene of a sensational murder a few years ago.

The rumor is declared to be entirely without foundation. Lord Strathcona's return hurried trip across the Atlantic shows him to be still active and energetic despite his advanced years. It is pointed out that his long experience in the position which he has filled so admirably and with such marked devotion to duty, his wide knowledge of public affairs both in Canada and Great Britain, together with his well known ability, render his service to Canada of the greatest value.

THE THAW CASE

Prisoner Under Guard at Colebrook, N. H.

Issues Statement of His Demand For Freedom.

Colebrook, N.H., despatch.—The next legal battle in the case of Harry K. Thaw will likely be at Concord, N.H., before Governor Felker. The fugitive's lawyers, learning to-day that an extradition warrant from Acting Governor Glynn, of New York, was on the way to the New Hampshire capital, decided to defer arraigning Thaw in Police Court here, and to demand a hearing of the Governor before he acts on the matter of extradition. They sent a representative to Concord to confer with Felker, and reinforced their appeal by telegraph.

Thaw, in the meantime, is here in the custody of Sheriff Drew, of Coos county, in a Colebrook hotel. He was to have been arraigned at 10 o'clock this morning, but his counsel, after trying vainly to persuade Wm. Travers Jerome not to seize Thaw instantly, should the warrant from New York be honored at once, deferred bringing him into court on the ground that a preliminary hearing would bring no good results. In fact, it might mean his liberation, with incident possibilities of his seizure. Counsel for both sides were in conference at noon, after which it was announced that by mutual consent of counsel the hearing had been put over till to-morrow morning.

THE COLEBROOK HEARING.

Colebrook, N.H., despatch.—Surrounded by ten of the twenty special guards sworn in by Chief of Police Kelley, Harry K. Thaw was to be arraigned to-day before Police Judge James T. Carr on a complaint setting forth that he was wanted in the State of New York, on a charge of conspiring to defeat Justice by escaping from the Matteawan Asylum for the criminal insane.

The scene of the hearing was a lawyer's office; the time, as set yesterday, 10 a.m. Thaw slept well during the second night of his detention in the Montross House. Four armed guards sat just outside his door throughout the night; others paced about the corridors and around the building. Talk of plots and counter-plots to kidnap him were still in the air to-day, and every time an automobile whizzed down the street with muffler open the guards tightened their grip on their automatic pistols.

The pro-Thaw Canadian contingent, which followed him over the border, after his sudden deportation via Norton Mills, Vermont, was somewhat depleted to-day, although more than a dozen were waiting the outcome of the court procedure. While residents of Colebrook are evincing great interest in the case, they have taken no open stand either for or against the fugitive. Shortly after rising this morning, and before going to the barber shop to be shaved, Thaw issued a formal statement summarizing his case, and lamenting the fact that New York State was spending so much money on him. The statement follows:

THAW'S STATEMENT.
"I think the people of my own State would like to know by what warrant of law or common sense the money of the people of the State of New York is being squandered like water by many more thousands of dollars than are available to me in these persistent and unscrupulous efforts to return me to Matteawan.

"If I am sane then certainly I don't belong to Matteawan, if I were insane then the laws of New York State itself make it compulsory that I be deported from New York to my home State, Pennsylvania.

"The statutes of New York require that insane persons from another State, who are sent to Matteawan or to any other New York public asylum not charged with crime, (and I, as an acquitted man, stand exactly in this class), shall be reported to the State Board of Deportation and promptly sent out of the State, back to the State of their residence.

"The New York law is so anxious to get rid of alleged insane persons from another State that it provides that doctors and nurses, if needed, be supplied to get rid of them.

"The United States courts have adjudicated me a resident of Pittsburgh, and reaffirmed this fact within three months. Now, why does any New York official squander New York money to return me?"

(Signed) "H. K. Thaw."

ATTORNEYS IN CONFERENCE.

Colebrook, N.H., despatch.—The hearing was delayed by conference between counsel for both sides. Each feared to make a move, on the theory that if the fugitive were released, the situation would resolve itself into a physical struggle of who got Thaw first.

Counsel for the fugitive agreed to waive the hearing here, provided counsel for New York would consent to a hearing before Governor Felker on the matter of his signing the extradition warrant, with five days' respite, in order to give time for suing out a habeas corpus writ should the Governor decide that the prisoner must be surrendered to New York. Lawyers were thrashing this out at 10 o'clock, and Thaw was still in his room at the hotel.

NEW YORK'S REQUISITION.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., despatch.—District Attorney Conger, of Dutchess county, left for Albany this morning, carrying extradition papers, asking for the return of Harry K. Thaw from Colebrook, N. H. As soon as Acting Governor Glynn signs the papers, Mr. Conger will take them to New Hampshire.

The millennium is a time when family jars may be used for preserving peace.

$71,800 GONE

Train Theft Was Worse Than Reported.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 15.—A steel safe, containing $71,800 in cash, en route from New York to banks at Savannah, Brunswick, Albany and Valdosta, Ga., was entered somewhere between Jersey City and Savannah and the cash extracted. The safe arrived in Savannah with seals unbroken, but the money was missing.

The consignment was in the care of the Southern Express Company and the Adams Express Company. The safe was delivered by the Adams Express Company to the Southern at Jersey City. The transfer was made Monday night. It is claimed by the Adams Express Company that the safe and its contents were intact at that time. Fifty thousand dollars of the total was destined for the Savannah Bank & Trust Co. Harry Scott, superintendent of the Pinkerton Detective Agency in Atlanta, reached Savannah this morning, and is conducting an exhaustive investigation of the robbery. So far there has not been developed a single clue to the identity of the robbers.

The trunk arrived in Savannah yesterday morning over the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, and was transferred at once to the offices of the Southern Express. There the receptacle was opened, but instead of bulky packages of currency the officials were greeted by an empty void. Only a few loose packages of money were in the strong box.

CREW STRUCK

And Cunarder Ansonia Was Held Up.

London, Sept. 15.—The Cunard liner Ansonia, with 500 passengers aboard, bound for Canada was held up for several hours at Southampton last night, owing to a number of men striking. The men complained of the food among other matters and demanded the removal of the chief steward. This was refused, and thereupon the sailors refused to touch the ropes and shortly afterwards when the stewards were told off to serve tea to the passengers they refused to obey. Police were sent for and a detachment guarded the gangways to prevent the men coming ashore. A delegate of the National Sailors' Union who was called in by the men stated that on several voyages the crew had complained of the food. They had seen Cunard officials, who had promised to remedy the grievance. The company finally agreed to appoint a new chief steward, upon which the men consented to return.

A BRITISH WIN

Her Steel Men Outbid U. S. Naval Contractors.

Washington, Sept. 15.—A British bidder to-day was awarded the contract for turbine drums for the newest American battleship, No. 39, at a little more than one-third the price offered by the lowest American bidder.

The proposed bid, $57,436, was submitted by New York agents of the Cypelos Steel & Iron Works, Sheffield, England.

It is exceptional for the Navy Department to send a contract abroad, but Acting Secretary Roosevelt held that the action to-day was justified by the tremendous difference between the British and American prices. The Sheffield bid includes the payment of duty, and by giving the work to the foreign builder the United States saves more than $100,000.

There were two American bidders, the Bethlehem Steel Company, $179,568, and the Midvale Steel Company, $169,272. The Carnegie Company, the only other domestic bidder, equipped to build the drums, did not seek the contract.

HORSEMAN FOUND DEAD.

London, Ont., despatch: Thomas Atkinson, of Delhi, a horseman employed by J. H. Smith, of the same place, to care for horses being exhibited here, was found dead in a stable on the premises of Thomas Patterson, at the corner of York and Adelaide streets, this morning. While in Toronto Atkinson complained of feeling unwell, and since coming to London he had been treated by a physician. Coroner Ferguson concluded that an inquest was unnecessary, as death was due to heart disease.

ISLANDS ARE GONE

And With Them Several Hundred Inhabitants.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Falcon and Hope Islands, of the friendly or Tonga group in the South Pacific, have disappeared from view.

With them several hundred natives and a few white men also have disappeared.

News to this effect was brought to San Francisco yesterday by Captain J. H. Trask, of the steamer Sonoma, which arrived from Sydney, via Pago Pago and Honolulu, Captain Trask said:

"One of the regular trading steamers, between Sydney and the Tonga group, reported the sinking of the islands. The vessel steamed to where Falcon Island should have been, but it was no where in sight."

EXPLORERS SLAIN

Natives Murdered Chicagoans on the Amazon.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Wm. L. Page and Wilber F. Cromer, of Chicago, who were commissioned to explore the headwaters of the Amazon, are believed by relatives to have been slain by natives. Advices received to-day from the Peruvian Government stated that a search expedition found a group of Indians in possession of the guns, baggage and other property.

The head of the relief expedition reported to the Peruvian Government: "I believe that the Americans have been victims of foul play, as it seems impossible that they should have given up their arms and baggage while on a trip of this kind."

The last direct word received from the pair reached Chicago February 3. The letter was dated from Cajabamba. They attempted to lay out a trail between the old Inca cities of Chiquita and Pajpaj.

Mistaken Identity Baffles in N. Y. Murder Mystery.

New York, Sept. 15.—The finding in Havana of Mrs. Janin disposes of what the local detective bureau regarded as a promising clue in the solution of the river murder mystery. Her presence there invalidates the identification made yesterday by Cashier Janin, who said he knew the torso was that of his wife from birthmarks on the back. Other clues have led detectives against a wall of mystery. H. Bolian, the Armenian carpenter, and his daughter, sought yesterday, also have been found, and have accounted satisfactorily for their movements since leaving their apartments a few days ago. They had lived near the stores where the pillow and tar paper were purchased, and were sought by the police because Bolian had sent a much stained and discolored shirt to a nearby laundry. The stains on the garment were found later to be those of varnish used in his work. The clearing of these clues leaves detectives where they were four days ago, when they located the shops where were sold the pillow and tar paper. The purchasers of these articles were sought with redoubled persistence to-day. A vigilant watch was enforced along the river front and the lay for other members of the body. One leg, both arms and the head were still unaccounted for.

Two persons have been seen a woman's head floating in the bay within the past eight days. It was last seen on an outgoing tide by Miss Grace Cure, of Bayonne, on Tuesday, while she was rowing near Constance Hook, and is believed to be that of the victim. The finding of this head would make possible identification, which now seems remote and strip the mystery of its most baffling feature.

URNS UNDERTAKER

Minister Says Opportunities for Good Are Better.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Another San Francisco minister is to become an undertaker. Rev. Nat Friend, pastor of the Howard Presbyterian Church, announced to-day that he would resign his pastorate next Sunday in order to take up the new work.

"The undertaking field," he said, "will give me an even greater opportunity for social service than the ministry. Solacing those in sorrow and caring for the dead has been so much a part of my pastoral work that I do not look upon the change as altering materially the purpose of my life."

Several months ago Rev. Dr. Bradford Leavitt resigned the pulpit of the Unitarian Church to become an undertaker.

Issues Statement of His Demand For Freedom.

Colebrook, N.H., despatch.—The next legal battle in the case of Harry K. Thaw will likely be at Concord, N.H., before Governor Felker. The fugitive's lawyers, learning to-day that an extradition warrant from Acting Governor Glynn, of New York, was on the way to the New Hampshire capital, decided to defer arraignment Thaw in Police Court here, and to demand a hearing of the Governor before he acts on the matter of extradition. They sent a representative to Concord to confer with Felker, and reinforced their appeal by telegraph.

Thaw, in the meantime, is here in the custody of Sheriff Drew, of Coos county, in a Colebrook hotel. He was to have been arraigned at 10 o'clock this morning, but his counsel, after trying vainly to persuade Wm. Travers Jerome not to seize Thaw instantly, should the warrant from New York be honored at once, deferred bringing him into court on the ground that a preliminary hearing would bring no good results. In fact, it might mean his liberation, with incident possibilities of his seizure. Counsel for both sides were in conference at noon after which it was announced that by mutual consent of counsel the hearing had been put over till to-morrow morning.

THE COLEBROOK HEARING.

Colebrook, N.H., despatch.—Surrounded by ten of the twenty special guards sworn in by Chief of Police Kelley, Harry K. Thaw was to be arraigned to-day before Police Judge James T. Carr on a complaint setting forth that he was wanted in the State of New York, on a charge of conspiring to defeat Justice by escaping from the Matteawan Asylum for the criminal insane.

The scene of the hearing was a lawyer's office; the time, as set yesterday, 10 a.m. Thaw slept well during the second night of his detention in the Monahan House. Four armed guards sat just outside his door throughout the night; others paced about the corridors and around the building. Talk of plots and counter-plots to kidnap him were still in the air to-day, and every time an automobile whizzed down the street with muffler open the guards tightened their grip on their automatic pistols.

The pro-Thaw Canadian contingent, which followed him over the border, after his sudden deportation via Norton Mills, Vermont, was somewhat depleted to-day, although more than a dozen were waiting the outcome of the court procedure. While residents of Colebrook are evincing great interest in the case, they have taken no open stand either for or against the fugitive. Shortly after rising this morning, and before going to the barber shop to be shaved, Thaw issued a formal statement summing up his case, and lamenting the fact that New York State was spending so much money on him. The statement follows:

THAW'S STATEMENT.

"I think the people of my own State would like to know by what warrant of law or common sense the money of the people of the State of New York is being squandered like water by many more thousands of dollars than are available to me in these persistent and unscrupulous efforts to return me to Matteawan.

"If I am sane then certainly I don't belong to Matteawan, if I were insane then the laws of New York State itself make it compulsory that I be deported from New York to my home State, Pennsylvania.

"The statutes of New York require that insane persons from another State, who are sent to Matteawan or to any other New York public asylum, not be charged with crime, and I as an acquitted man, sane and exactly in this class, shall be reported to the State Board of Deportation and promptly sent out of the State, back to the State of their residence.

"The New York law is so anxious to get rid of alleged insane persons from another State that it provides, that doctors and nurses, if needed, be supplied to get rid of them.

"The United States courts have adjudicated me a resident of Pittsburgh, and reaffirmed this fact within three months. Now, why does any New York official squander New York money to return me?"

ATTORNEYS IN CONFERENCE.

Colebrook, N.H., despatch.—The hearing was delayed by conference between counsel for both sides. Each feared to make a move, on the theory that if the fugitive were released, the situation would resolve itself into a physical struggle of who got Thaw first.

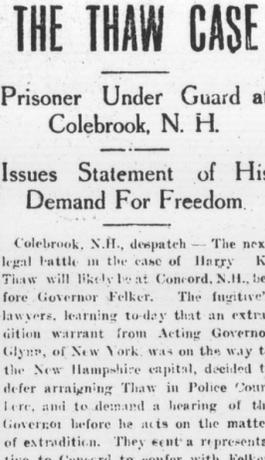

Counsel for the fugitive agreed to waive the hearing here, provided counsel for New York would consent to a hearing before Governor Felker on the matter of his signing the extradition warrant, with five days' respite, in order to give time for suing out a habeas corpus writ should the Governor decide that the prisoner must be surrendered to New York. Lawyers were thrashing this out at 10 o'clock, and Thaw was still in his room at the hotel.

NEW YORK'S REQUESTION.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., despatch.—District Attorney Conger, of Dutchess county, left for Albany this morning, carrying extradition papers asking for the return of Harry K. Thaw from Colebrook, N. H. As soon as Acting Governor Glynn signs the papers, Mr. Conger will take them to New Hampshire.

The millennium is a time when family jars may be used for preserving peace.

$71,800 GONE

Train Theft Was Worse Than Reported.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 15.—A steel safe, containing $71,800 in cash, en route from New York to banks at Savannah, Brunswick, Albany and Valdosta, Ga., was entered somewhere between Jersey City and Savannah and the cash extracted. The safe arrived in Savannah with seals unbroken, but the money was missing. The consignment was in the care of the Southern Express Company and the Adams Express Company. The safe was delivered by the Adams Express Company to the Southern at Jersey City. The transfer was made Monday night. It is claimed by the Adams Express Company that the safe and its contents were intact at that time. Fifty thousand dollars of the total was destined for the Savannah Bank & Trust Co. Harry Scott, superintendent of the Pinkerton Detective Agency in Atlanta, reached Savannah this morning, and is conducting an exhaustive investigation of the robbery. So far there has not been developed a single clue to the identity of the robbers.

The trunk arrived in Savannah yesterday morning over the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, and was transferred at once to the offices of the Southern Express. There the receptacle was opened, but instead of bulky packages of currency the officials were greeted by an empty void. Only a few loose packages of money were in the strong box.

CREW STRUCK

And Cunarder Ansonia Was Held Up.

London, Sept. 15.—The Cunard liner Ansonia, with 500 passengers aboard, bound for Canada was held up for several hours at Southampton last night, owing to a number of men striking. The men complained of the food among other matters and demanded the removal of the chief steward. This was refused, and thereupon the sailors refused to touch the ropes and shortly afterwards when the stewards were told off to serve tea to the passengers they refused to obey. Police were sent for and a detachment guarded the gangways to prevent the men coming ashore. A delegate of the National Sailors' Union who was called in by the men stated that on several voyages the crew had complained of the food. They had seen Cunard officials, who had promised to remedy the grievance. The company finally agreed to appoint a new chief steward upon which the men consented to return.

Her Steel Men Outbid U. S. Naval Contractors.

Washington, Sept. 15.—A British builder to-day was awarded the contract for turbine drums for the newest American battleship, No. 39, at a little more than one-third the price offered by the lowest American bidder.

The proposed bid, $57,436, was submitted by New York agents of the Cyclops Steel & Iron Works, Sheffield, England.

It is exceptional for the Navy Department to send a contract abroad, but Acting Secretary Roosevelt held that the action to-day was justified by the tremendous difference between the British and American prices. The Sheffield bid includes the payment of duty, and by giving the work to the foreign builder the United States saves more than $100,000.

There were two American bidders, the Bethlehem Steel Company, $179,568, and the Midvale Steel Company, $179,252. The Carnegie Company, the only other domestic concern equipped to build the drums, did not seek the contract.

HORSEMAN FOUND DEAD.

London, Ont., despatch: Thomas Atkinson, of Delhi, a horseman employed by J. H. Smith, of the same place, to care for horses being exhibited here, was found dead in a stable on the premises of Thomas Patterson, at the corner of York and Adelaide streets, this morning. While in Toronto Atkinson complained of feeling unwell, and since coming to London he had been treated by a physician. Coroner Ferguson concluded that an inquest was unnecessary, as death was due to heart disease.

In attempting to put the I. O. F. insurance on a sound actuarial basis, the Supreme Court has found it necessary to discount policies of old members about 25 per cent. and to impose a charge of 4 per cent. compound interest on the amount discounted. This will probably result in a large number of policies being allowed to lapse and, of course, those staying with the order will ultimately reap the benefit.
