This pin marks the lowest point to which the Ganan oque Water Power to has the privilege of drawing the waters in the lake. We understand they have the right to raise the water four feet above this pin and no higher. There is no mark indicating when the four feet has been reached. For the benefit of the property holders who have suffered for years from the flooding of their properties, we believe now when this survey is being made, a high water pin should be placed at high the Outlet and at Charleston village.

Better Mail Service Wanted

At a public meeting of the citizens of Athens, held recently, the follow ing resolution was adopted:-

That whereas the village of Athen and other post offices along the line of the B.W. & N.W. branch of the C.N.R. are served only once a day each way by a mail clerk service. which is the only service giving a re-gistered service and a service be-tween stations along the line, and whereas the train from the west does not arrive in Brockville until after the C.N.R. has left, thus leaving reg istered mail undelivered until next afternoon, therefore be it moved that the council of the village of Athens be requested to petition the post office department that they take steps to put on a mail clerk service on the morning train from Brockville to Ottawa and return, thus giving us direct mail service with other post offices along the C.N.R. between here and Ottawa along with registered service. And it is requested that the council ask the co-operation of other post offices interested.

Re School Fairs

Believing that a school fair is helpful to boys and girls, arousing an interest in the various lines of work made necessary in the preparation of exhibits, but also by acquiring a practical knowledge which often prove the beginning of great things for the child, the Wo-men's Institute and teachers of the Athens Public School are planning to make the 1919 village school fair one worthy of special notice.

The "School Fair" teaches the child business methods. It also proves to the child what he can really do and directs his atention to the great capabilities wrapped up in his brain, just waiting to be found and developed. The concentration of the mind neccessary in the successful doing of the work, the overcoming of obstacles always met with in the work, the fair and honest preparation of exhibits made by the child's own efforts all tend to develop character. The hearty co-operation of parents is solicited. Give the child a little plot of ground all his own for his seeds, also a corner somewhere for a workshop. Help the little girl to make a choice of sewing, cooking, etc., for the exhibition. A little oncouragement and sympathy from the parents means so much to the child. Kindly encourage honesty in the preparation of exhibits or one great aims of the fair will be de-

April 27, 1919. The Holy Spirit Our Helper .- John 16: 7-15; Acts 2: 1-18.

Commentary.—I. The promised Com-forter (John 16: 7-15). In the course of the last extended conversation Jesus had with his disciples before his betrayal, in speaking to them of his departure from them, he declared that it was to their advantage that he should go away, for by his leaving them he would send to them the Comthem he would send to them the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, who would abide with them. He would reprove the world of sin, of righteousness and of judgment. He would be faithful in his work of showing men their true condition and their needs. The Holy Spirit would also be a faithful guide and would lead the disciples and all who would follow him into all truth. Christ in his bodily presence was with who would follow him into all truth.
Christ in his bodily presence was with his disciples only as they were all in one place, but the Holy Spirit would be with all who received him in all places, at all times. He would glorify the Father and would call to the remembrance of the disciples all that Jesus had said to them.

II. The coming of the Holp Spirit (Acts 2: 1-11). 1. Day of Pentecost-The three principal feasts among the Jews were the Passover, Pentecost and the feast of the Tabernacles. At each of these feasts all Jewish males be-tween the ages of twelve and sixty were expected to present themselves at Jerusalem. The women were per-mitted, but not required, to attend them. The Passover was celebrated at the time of the early barley harvest and commemorated the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian oppres-It also pointed forward to the sacrifice of Christ, the Lamb of God. Pentecost means fifty days. The feast of Pentecost was held fifty days after the second day of the feast of the Passover. It was held in celebration of the first fruits of wheat harvest. The Jews considered that it commemorated the giving of the law on Sinai Fully come—According to Jewish reckoning, the day began at sunset. It early on the following morning that the day "was fully come." All with one accord in one place—"All to-gether in one place."—R. V. There were about one hundred twenty (Acts 1: 15) gathered in an upper room praying for and expecting the coming of the Holy Ghost.

2. Suddenly—It was not unexpected ly. This company of believers expected the coming of the Spirit, but they did not know when he would come. A sound from heaven—The sound came from heaven. This was one of the manifestations of the Spirit. It was heard by the company of expectant believers. It appealed to them as of heavenly origin. As of a rushing mighty wind—"As of the rushing of a mighty wind."—R. V. The sound heard was like that of a strong wind, the rushing wind, was not custom-strong wind, the scriptures and the scriptures and the scriptures and the scriptures are the words he should speak. but it was not wind that made the neise. The symbol of the Spirit is wind or breath. It—The sound filled there was also a visible sign of Spirit's presence. Cioven tongues

the Spirit's presence. Cloven tongues

There were seen what appeared like tongues of fire upon the worshippers. Fire is the symbol of the Holy Ghost, and spiritual power was well repre-sented by the partial flames.

They were all filled with the Holy Ghost—They had all met the conditions and all were filled. They had different capacities, different natural dispositions and different tastes,

Nova Scoiia Man Is Enthusiastic

For Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Made Him Well.

A Year of Growing Kidney Trouble Brought Bright's Disease, but He Found a Help in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Believille, Yarmouth Co., N. Believille, Yarmouth Co., N. S., April 21.— (Special):— "You can tell everyone that it was Dodd's Kidney Pills that made me weil." This is the Joyful remark of Mr Alcide Meuse, a well-known and highly-respected resident of this place. Mr. Meuse, who suffered for a year from kidney trouble, is enthusiastic in his praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills. "I think everybody ought to use them all the time," he says. Then he gives the reasons for his enthusiasm: them all the time," he says. Then he gives the reasons for his enthusiasm:

"I first caught a cold," Mr. Meuse states, "and kidney trouble followed. My sleep was broken, my eyes were puffed and swollen and I had dark circies around them. I was often dizzy and always thirsty. My skin itched and burned at night. I was troubled with nervousers and my troubled with nervousness and my limbs were swollen.

"I had cramps in my muscles, back-ache and headache. Then Bright's Disdeveloped. A doctor attended me but the first real relief I got was from Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took eight boxes of them and they cured me."

All of Mr. Meuse's troubles came from sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured his kidneys and be felt well all over. That's why he's enthusiastic. For sound kidneys make nure blood and oure blood is the dation of health.

but they were all filled with the Holy Ghost. Peter, the impulsive disciple, was there and he was filled. Thomas, who had been doubtful about Christ's resurrection, was in the company and he was filled. Not one falled of re-ceiving the fulfilment of the promise of the Father. They had been converted and their names were written in heaven before this. The coming of the Holy Ghost to them brought clearer spiritual vision. It brought to them the full sanctification of their souls. It brought to them a nower to them the full sanctification of their souls. It brought to them a power for their work which they had never had before and which they could have obtained in no other way. Began to speak with other tongues—As there were persons of many different tongues present, the Spirit gave the baptized followers of Jesus the ability to give them the gospel message in their own language. their own language.

. Dwelling at Jerusalem-Jerusalem was the centre of the world then, as well as it is now, to Jews, and they had come from every nation to live there and to be buried near that sacred place. Devout men-Simeon is spoken of as devout (Luke 2:25), as also were those who carried Stephen to his burial (Acts 8:2). They were truly religious men. Out of every nation— The Jews were widely dispersed, and from near and distant nations many had come to Jerusalem for a perman ent abode. 6. When this was was noised abroad—"When this sound was heard."—R. V. The thought is not that the report of the marvelous manifestations which attended the coming of the Holy Ghost spread through the city, but the sound like the rushing of a mighty wind was heard outside the house. The multi-tude came together—They were attracted to the place by the extraordinary occurrence. Confounded—They were perplexed. They came to discover the source and purpose of the strange sound and they heard the fol lowers of Jesus speaking in the var-ious languages used by the multitudes Galilaeans-Most of those who became followers of Jesus were from Galilee, and the multitudes supported would speak the dialect peculiar that region. They were greatly to that region. They were greatly amazed to hear them speaking in other tongues. 8. Wherein we were born—It is probable that all the Jews present understood the Hebrew lan-guage of their respective in addition to the language of their respective countries, and they wondered at the abil-ity of the disciples to speak these various languages.

III. The prophecy fulfilled (Acts 2: 12-18). 12, 13. What the people who were there assembled heard and saw caused them to be amazed, and their immediate conclusion was that the disciples and others upon whom the Holy Spirit had come were intoxicated. 14. PRACTICAL SURVEY. Topic.-What the Holy Spirit does for us.

I. Who he is II. What he does.

I. Who He is. The doctrine of the

1. Who he is, The doctrine of the Trinity is a distinctively Christian possession. It is not a discovery, but a disclosure; and originates not in reason, but revelation. In the Christian conception of Delivithers original a disciosure, and originates not in reason, but revelation. In the Christian conception of Delty there exist in mysterious unity three complete and inseparable, but distinct Persons: the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. All were immanent and active in the work of creation, and all were engaged and their resources enlisted in the greater work of human redemption. Each occupies his own peculiar and efficient ephere in relation thereto. In its progress, the moral administration of the world has been divided into three great periods called dispensations, the full, final and crownpensations, the full, final and crown-ing one of which, that of the Holy Spirit, is now in progress. It com-menced at Pentecost and continues until the end of the age. The distinct personality of the Holy Spirit is re-cognized in the scriptures and is made cognized in the scripters and is made especially and appropriately prominent in the teachings of the new Testament, in which a definite office is assigned Him. He was the author of the light which shone upon the Old Testament prophets concerning Christ and inspired them to write (1 Peter 1. 11). The Holy Spirit was active in Christ's cwn life, descending upon Him with an anointing of power at ter recurrence period as the thirteen-His baptism (Acts 10. 38). In his year locust." The scientifically ac-later assources Jesus repeateury re-terred to Him, and gave promise of His coming to His disciples, for which they were commanded to "tarry." This received its fulfilment on the day of Pentecost. He is declared to be the representative of Christ after His derepresentative of Christ after His departure. He is to abide with God's people forever, and His peculiar office is as a Dispenser of the benefits of the atonement. He is sent by the Father and the Son (John 14, 16; 16, 7). In the baptismal formula, and the appetical benefities He occupies apostolic benediction He occupies a place beside the Father and the Son, while distinguished from both. As the Son reveals the Father, so the Spirit reveals Christ.

II. What He does, it is the prero ative of the Holy Spirit to unfold and apply the provisions of redeeming grace. He is the Executive of the atonement and has a permanent and world-wide mission. In some manner and measure he visits every responsible member of the race (1. Cor. 12.) Apart from his agency human nature is hopelessly incapable of either desire or movement toward God. He convinces "of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment. He only can reveal the heart to its possessor (Jer. 17. 9), and He alone can disclose the activity cufficiency of Christ. In extension cufficiency of Christ. In exatoning sufficiency of Christ. In every stage of the Christ process the im-mediate agency of the Spirit is in-dispensable. Personal Christian tv can neither commence nor continue apart from His ministry. He regenerates, sanctifies, witnesses, instructs, reproves, comforts, empowers and ceals; and imparts "severally as He will" the gifts necessary for the work, of the kingdom. All spiritual bleesings come to the believer by reason of his conception of the Holy Spirit. We and conception of the Holy Spirit. We are warned against grieving, quenching or doing despite to the Holy Ghost. The only unpardonable sin is against Him. H's abiding fulness is the privilege and obligation of every believer (Eph. 5. 18).

17-YEAR LOCUST DUE TO ARRIVE DURING SUMMER

One of Largest Invasions of the Pest Yet, is the Prophecy.

WRONGLY NAMED

Young Fruit Trees May Be in Danger From Them.

The most interesting insect in the world, the periodical cicada, is going to be seen, perhaps in very large numbers, during, the coming spring and early summer over large regions of North America, where this brood has not appeared before for seventeen years, and over other regions years, and over other regions where another brood appeared thirteen where another brood appears and threem years ago. This is the insect comcomly referred to as the "seventeenyear locust," a name that is incorrect in at least two particulars. It is not the locust at all, that name being properly applied only to members of the grass-hopper ramily, and while it has a seven-year period, it also has a thirteen-year period. It has been so long miscalled by the name of locust, however, that there is no hope of divesting it of that incorrect appellation, and in the regions where there is the longer period of recurrence it will con-tinue to be known as the "seven-year locust," and in the areas of the shor-

It has been said that the sounds were produced by the insect rubbing its hind legs against its wings, but this is hardly well dem-onstrated, as he seldom produces sound when near enough for observa-

MOST INTERESTING INSECT. The statement that this is the mos interesting insect in the world hardly be questioned, and it is nost interesting because it is most anomalous, or possibly because it has always appeared to be so mysterious. The fact that it appears in countless numbers one year, then is not seen again for half the average lifetime of human beings, and then suddenly appears again in countless numbers has kept the ropular mind mystified and has woven many superstitions about the cicada. When it is known that the insect spends the thirteen or seventeen years in slow development beneath the ground and emerges at almost exactly the same spot where it entered thirteen or seventeen years be-fore, then the mystery disappears, but the interest, if anything, is intensified. One of the queerest things in nature is that in spite of such extremely slow growth in their subterranean habitat all the millions of individuals attain maturity and burst from the ground at almost the same moment.

The eggs are deposited in the limbs of trees or shrubs. The young hatch out in a few weeks, drep to the ground, and begin their long subteranean existence. They are supposed to feed on the sap in the roots of trees, but as they penetrate to as great a depth as twenty feet below the surface, little is known of that part of their life history and nothing of the manner of transformation of the Romans. They are a simple, of the manner of transformation of postoral neople, not given to rebbore. part of their life history and nothing of the manner of transformation of the larva to the pupa. The pupa is incased in a hard shell, and when about ready to emerge from the ground constructs a chimney of earth several inches in height. The pupa crawls out of the ground, fastens itself to some firm object as a fence or tree trunk, the skin solits down the back, and through this the ladult winged insect emerges. The pupa winged insect emerges. The pupa skin, when dried, still retains the shape of the pupa and may be found attached to the support days after the dult has flown away.

Every "locust year" is, in some sort, a year of fear and dread. It ap-pears to have been so with the sav-ages and has remained so with their civilized successors, notwithstanding the fact that the cicada has been under investigation for weil over years, and the appearances of the swarms are foretold by entomolo-gists as accurately as eclipses of the moon are foretold by astronomers. People have fancied that they could detect in the cry of the cicada a re-semblance to the name of the monarch Pharaoh, who persecuted the Jews, and that occult belief or fear added to the somewhat dolorous sound has served to make the cry of the cleada generally unwelcome. Very long ago some superstition attached to the dark bars of the filmy wings. These bars are always the shape of the letter W, but few people remem-ber that through a period of thirteen or seventeen years, and great significance is attached to it at each recur rence. Some prophet has arisen al-ways to announce that the W on the locust's wing means "war." Since this outbreak will come just at the conclusion of the greatest war, and when even the imagination of the rur-al prophet could hardly conjure up the likelihood of another one, some the likelihood of another one, some new explanation will have to be found this time. But no doubt the cicada will, as usual, be greeted as a harbinger of disaster, and as usual, there will be reports of deaths caused by stings of the cicada, a belief that has persisted in spite of positive proof that the cicada has no sting, and only by the extremest accident could it inflict a wound either with bill or ovipositor, and that it could not, in any case, inject poison.

YOUNG TREES IN DANGER.

Upon every appearance of large broods of the cicaue, fear is aroused that trees will be destroyed, particular-ty young trees of the fruiting and ornamental sorts. There would seem to be some ground for such a fear. The number or the insects is so tremendous tnat one can hardly understand how they can deposit their eggs in the young and tender branches of the trees without killing them. Yet the fact re-mains that there have been outbreaks of cicades in some of the years since of cicaces in some of the years since this country was discovered and that no very grave damage ever has been done. Very young fruit trees some-times are killed or seriously injured, but little or no permanent injury is done to forest trees or mature trees of any kind, and measures of protecof any kind, and measures of protection can be employed that will save the young and tender stock from serious injury.
Inasmuch as the coming 1919 brood of locusts may be one of the largest on record, it is particularly important to allay excessive fear or destruction to timber as well as to have people on their guard, so that the few preventive measures possible may be plied. The belief that the 1919 brood will be exceptionally large is based on the fact that the seventeen-year brood, coming on this year, is brood No. 10, perhaps the largest of the seventeen-year broods, and that brood No. 18 of the thirteen-year family comes out at the same time. The year 1868 was the greatest locust year in history. In that year brood No. 1, the largest of the thirteen-year broods, appeared in conjunction with brood No peared in conjunction with brood No. 10, the two combining to make an unprecedented infestation. The coincidence of the largest seventeen-year brood this year will not bring about conditions approaching those of 1868. The two broods due this year are cood 10, which belongs to the seventeen-year family, and brood 18, which belongs to the thirteen-year family. The former will appear mostly in northern territory and the latter in southern territory.

The Strange Rumani.

RAISED PORK PIE.

If You Eat Pork It is Well Worth Trying.

To make a raised pork pie take a pound of six ounces of lard, one gill of water, one pound of pork, one-half of stock on water, one teaspoonful of pepper, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of pepper, one and one-half teaspoonfuls of sait, one-half cunce of gelatine, one egg. Sieve the flour and a pinch of sait into a basin; make a well in the centre. Put the lard and water into a pan, bring to the boil, and pour into the flour; stir in with a wooden spoon; flour a board, turn the mixture on to it, and knoad well.

in with a wooden spoon; flour a board, turn the mixture on to it, and knead well.

Keep back a piece for the lid, keeping it in a warm place. Roll out and line a pork pie mould with it. Fill with the pork cut into a neat dice, and mixed with the seasoning and a tablespoonful of wager. Roll out the remaining pastry, brush the edges of the pie with egg or milk, cover with the lid, press the edges well together, gash and scaliop them, brush the top with egg, make a bole in the ceatre, decorate with leaves of pastry, brushed with egg or milk. Bake in a hot oven the first twenty minutes, then lower the heat and bake about two and a half hours longer. Dissolve the gelatine in the stock, and when the pie is cold pour it through the holes gradually. It is best to use a funnel to pour the stock through, or it may spill on the pastry.

Java Rich in Oil and Iron.

Oil and iron have been found on the Island of Java. Advices from Sourabaye, Java, state that powerful oil gushers have been tapped at a depth of 900 yards in the Tremboel fields. Another message says that an iron vein four feet thick has been located near Milili and the chief of the geological survey estimates the quantity of ore available at 10,000,000 tons.

An application of heavy oil to the joints of a fountain pen will effectively over-come the oozing out of ink at these come the oozing out of ink at these places, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The types of fountain pens, having points which a disappear by turning a section of the barrel, sometimes leak because of wear. To remedy this, soak the pen in warm water and permit to dry particularly inside. Then apply oil to the spindle that is revolved. Heavy cylinder oil is the best for the purpose. The lubricant should be worked through the bearing from end to end. The pen is then refilled and excess oist wiped off.

SPRING IMPURITIES CLOG THE BLOOD

A TONIC MEDICINE IS A NECES-SITY AT THIS SEASON. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale

People are an all-year-round tonic, blood-builder and nerve restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as the result of the indoor of the winter months. There is no other season of the year when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to make new, red blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired— Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give new strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin be-Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, erysipelas and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time, when all nature, takes on new life, that the blood most seriously needs attention.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually renew and enrich the blood, and this new blood reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, bringing new and new strength to weak heaith and new strength to weak, easily-tired men, women and children. Here is a bit of proof: Miss Anna Patterson, R.F.D. No. 1, Thorold, Ont., says: "My trouble was one of gen-eral weakness, which thinned my blood and gave me at times unbearable headaches, loss of appetite and also loss in weight. I tried several medicines, but without success. Then I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give them a fair trial. The result is that I feel like a new person. My appetite improved, I gained in weight my blood is thoroughly purified, and my face cleared of some unsightly pimples, which had troubled me. If one good turn deserves another, then I have much pleasure in recommend-in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you need a media. If you need a medicine this spring try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—they will not disappoint you. These pills are cold by all medicine dealers, or you can get them by mail at 50c, a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Officials of every country in the world have innocently supplied it with information about promi-nent people, family trees, armies,, na vies, and what not. Some of this in formation was ostentatiously paraded on the pages of the Almanach, but one would like to know how much of it went privately into the files of the German intelligence department.

Dangerous Cargoes.

At first thought it would seem that dynamite was a cargo to be carefully avoided. But from a sailor's point of view there are far more dangerous cargoes. He dreads, for instance, a cargo of sugar! Put hundreds of tons of cane sugar in casks in the hold of a vessel and let the ship steam through a spell of hot weather. The odor is sickening. The sailors cannot get the sweet taste out of their mouths and crave vinegar or lemon juice—any-thing sour. They lose their appetites and are always glad when a voyage on which the cargo was sugar is over Coffee is as diragreeable as sugar, in Shipmasters dislike to carry drums of acid where they can be reached easor acid where they can be reacted easily. A Chilean ship recently put in at the Falkland Islands leaking badly. Her cargo was made up of drums of acid and chalk. The acid had leaked from the drums and mixed with the chalk, forming carbonic acid gas in the hold. This can is deadly and the the hold. This gas is deadly and the crew could not make repairs. Meanwhile, the acid had gathered in the bottom of the hold and eaten away the iron frames of the ship.

AGRICULTURE NOT LANGUISHING, SAYS THE LOCAL MEMBER

A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., Speaks on the Condition of Farming.

THE POLICY OF THE GOVT.

Efforts of Hearst Administration in Behalf of Rural Population Reviewed at Length.

Toronto, April —Of recent years there has grewn up a practice in the Legislature of Ontario of introducing a motion directing attention to what is called, "coatineed rural depopulation," and asking for the appointment of a commission to investigate the causes and suggest a remedy. On its face the proposition looks well, and while it may have received perfunctory attention in the past, this reason the Government invited the House to discuss in detail every phase of agricultural development, and see whether or at there was any real problem such as was claimed in the resolution of the rural development, and see whether or at there was any real problem such as was claimed in the resolution of the was claimed in the resolution of the rural development, and see whether or at there was any real problem and the statement that the population of the process of the claims with regard to desire in the unabor of large families.

The Condition into the statement in the population of the process that were being received for farm products. He said that a few years repothed to fill the centre of the process of the claim with regard to desire in the statement that the population of the process of the claim with the population of the statement that the population of the process of the claim wit

This debate brought out one of the most informing speeches of the session when the discussion was closed by A. E. Donovan, member for Brockville, who took as his text the condition of the farming industry in the county of Leeds.

Mr. Donovan's Speech.

"I represent a constituency where there is a great deal of mixed farming carried on. I know of no other constit-uency in the whole of Canada—and I may be safe in saying the British Empire and pethaps the world—where the farmers are more intelligent, more industrious, more progressive and more responsive to the great impulses of civilization than are the farmers of Leeds county. I can recall the appeal that was made to the people of Canada last fall on behalf of the Victory Loan. What happened then in Leeds county? The farmers of Leeds county purchased Victory bonds, by tens and hundreds of thousands of dollars. There is no complaint from Leeds county, because the people are happy, contented and prosperous." One of the first things to be considered in viewing the policy of the pregent Government toward agriculture was himself a practical farmer, a graduate of the University of Toronto and of the Ontario Agricultural College. The Minister of Public Works, was also a practical farmer. One of the first things to be consid-Works was also a practical farmer and brought to the solution of the pro-blems of highway improvement in Ontario the experience and view point of the rural districts.

Many Securing Education.

The influence of the youth from the country was an important factor in maintaining the vigor and strength of the nation, continued Mr. Denovan. At Toronto University 65 per cent. of the students were boys and girls from the country, sons and daughters of farmers. From the University they went into business and professional pursuits and the success that followed their endeavors was one of which Canada itself might be proud.

It was true that in years gone by there had been a movement away from the farms. First it started toward the cities and then was attracted by the lure of Western Canada. On-tario should be well satisfied that her cons and daughters had done so much o stabilize Canadian sentiment in the West. That movement from the farms continued until about 1905 when it turned. Since then there had not been such a large migration from the rural districts, but it could never be entirely stopped. The love of adventure and the desire to roam was an instinct of the Anglo-Saxon race, and that instinct had made the colonization enter-prises of Eritain so successful throughout the world.

Reminding the House that in 1881 a unission had been appointed by the Government to investigate the couses of rurel depopulation at that ime, Mr. Donovan said the whole af-air was received by the farmers with ostility and indignation by reason of the inquiry into what they regarded as their own offairs.

Conditions Now Different.

Approaching another aspect of the question. Mr. Donovan said that the conditions under which farming was conducted to-day were entirely different from those of twenty years ago. The advent of labor-saving machinery, the development and extension of hydraclectric reversed. the development and extension of hydro-electric rower, and the application of science to agriculture lightened manual labor and made it possible to produce more with less effort. On the other hand he dissented from the view that young men and women should be kept on the farms for no other purpose than to supply labor. The farming inan to supply labor. The farming in-stry of Ontario should present the ome attractiveness to the young peo-le as the conditions under which ook is carried on in the cities. For hat matter, while he himself had been n indifferent farmer, he was ready to duit that the moral fibre of the na-

Mr. Donovan vigorously condemned the "mad oratory of the member for South-West Toronto (Mr. Dewart.)" "I was astonished and surprised to read his mad oratory in the newspapers re-cently when he referred to the Prime cently when he referred to the Prime Minister of this province as a pupper during the time he occupied the port-folio of Agriculture. I was surprised that the Hon, member should make that remark when I understand he is aspiring to become leader of the Liber al party in Ontario or perhaps Canada."

The Government's Work.

Dealing specifically with the work of the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Donovan asked the question "Has Hearst helped Agriculture?" That question he answered in the following manner:—In the four years of the Hearst Government the farm assets of Ontario have increased $116,500,000. The value of the combined farm assets of Ontario when the last figures were compiled was $1.572,069,071. The total area under crop in 1918 was about ten million acres, an increase of 560,000 acres in four years. The value of the farm products for 1918 was field crops, $350,000,000; live stock, $100,000,000; making a total for the year of $530,000,000.

500,000. During the year the Government, through the Trades and Labor Branch, had supplied not less than 30,000 people to assist in farm work. To-day in every county there was a representative of the Department of Agriculture, whose duty it was to bring to the door of the farm the facilities and instruction of the college. These men had a wide range of duties, and there services, it was admitted, were of great value to the farmer.

The work of the Women's Institutes The work of the Women's Institutes had progressed under the Government. In 1904 there were only 57 institutes, with a membership of 5,433. At the present time there are about 900 institutes with a total membership of 30,000. Last year these women's organizations reject in each for war numbership. ganizations raised in cash for war pur-poses over $800,000, while the attend-ance at their various gatherings and meetings was considerable in excess of Highway Improvement.

With regard to highway improve-ment the Government had spent over ment the Government nad spent over $10.000,000 on road improvement in Ontario. The policy for the future was framed for the purpose of provid-ing road facilities where they were needed and of a character suited to the class of traffic the roads received. It was important to bear in mind when the proposed provincial highway was being discussed that 50 per cent. of the population, 50 per cent. of the wealth, and 50 per cent, of the revenue from meter vehicles was derived from a strip twelve miles wide through which the new highway was to pass.

Special attention, Mr. Donovar pointed out, had been given to agricul-tural education. Not only had agricul-tural training been introduced into the schools, but the new Minister of Edu-cation was taking important steps in the direction of extending this train-ing. In 1914, the school fair, which was an innovation started by the pre-sent Government started with 150 fairs. Lest very 207 fairs. fairs. Last year 307 fairs were held, representing 2.863 schools, 71,083 pupils, 67,938 plots and 117,749 entries, and on attendance of 86,343 children and 94,838 adults. The new agricultural high school at Kemptville for which $100,000 had been appropriated would sowe the eastern section of the would serve the eastern section of the Prevince and prove a source of pride to the country.

With these and other facts before the House and the country, Mr. Donovan concluded by saying that the farmvan concluded by saying that the farmers of the country would repudiate the inference in the resolution of the member for Prince Edward (Mr. Parliament) that the agricultural industry was languishing. "I am sorry, Mr. Speaker, that he had the political audacity to introduce into this House such a sickly, narrow, anaemic resolution in the hope that he would please the farmers of this country." Conditions In Ireland Are Rapidly Growing Worse.

Growing Worse.

LONDON, April 22.—The possibility that all Ireland will be idle soon is becoming greater hourly as the result of what may be called a deadlock in the strike in Limerick against the British Government. Besieged Limerick has now become the battle area for organized workers, whose leaders assert that unless the siege of Limerick is raised and her people are permitted to come and go without military permits, there will be a complete paralysis of industry in the south and most of Ireland.

Limerick has been proclaimed a military area for a week, and for that week it has also lived under Irish rule. Behind the governing Soviet is seen the inspiration of the Sinn Fein and this renders the developments in Limerick

Sinn Fein and this renders the developments in Limerick of even greater importance.

For it is believed that if the paralysis of the country becomes a reality there will be established numerous local Soviets, the chief links of the chain being the chief factors of the Sinn Fein.

No one is underestimating the ser-iousness of the immediate situation or its future possibilities. British soldiers with fixed bayonets and equipped with tanks and barbed wire, have not been called on so far by the residents of Limerick or by employers there for projection from the Soviets' rulings. A strike committee has had a week's term of office and is now pointing out how successfully it has managed the distribution of foodstuffs, which are fast being depicted, and at lower prices. picted, and at lower prices. It points to the lack of disorder under the So-vict's regime which is asking itself, "If this can be done in Limerfek, "If this can be done in Limerfek, why not elsewhere, if there is a national strike?" It savors of well-thought-out plea of the Sinn Fein leaders. Early in the week the strike committee might have been willing to listen to promises of modifications of the military measures, but not now. A proposal to modify the restrictions on the movement of workers offered by the British general in charge of this district, has fallen on ers offered by the British general in charge of this district, has fallen on deaf cars.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is the positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers thas they offer One Hundred Doljars for any case it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Another Step Towards Signing of Peace Treaty.

Germany Has Notified Allies That She Will Accept All Conditions Respecting Versailles Conference, and Foreign Minister Will Head the Tenton Delegation Expected April 28th.

PARIS, April 22.—Germany has notified the Allies that she accepts all the Allied conditions respecting the Versailles conference. This official versailles conference. announcement was made on Monday.

The German delegation to Versailles will comprise six high personages, at the head of which will be Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the Foreign Minister.

Marshal Foch was so informed late

Monday evening, according to official announcement. The delegates can-not arrive at Versailles before April 28.

Germany will send the following delegates to the congress with full powers to negotiate:—Count von Brockdorff-Ranizau, Foreign Minister; Herr Lansberg, Secretary for Publicity, Art and Literature; Dr. Theodor Melchior, general manager of the Warburg Bank; Herr Leinert, president of the Prussian Assembly and of the National Soviet Congress; Herr Geisberg, Minister of Posts and Herr Geisberg, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, and Herr Schuccking. In all, the German party will number seventy-five. The arrival of the dele-gates cannot be expected before April 28.

The previous decision of the Ger-Wednesday: Mid-Week Prayer Service

The previous decision of the German Government to send gers' to Versailles to receive the text of the treaty and return with it was based upon misapprehension of the based upon misapprehension of the program for the initial meeting of the German plenipotentiaries with the representatives of the Peace Congress. It had been understood, through press statements in Berlin, that at the first meeting the German delegates would merely be handed the text of the treaty, but would not be permitted to discuss the terms. be permitted to discuss the terms, and would be sent back to Germany to confer with the Government and the National Assembly, returning also to confer with the Covernment and the National Assembly, returning after a stipulated interval to Versailles for the actual discussions. Under the circumstances the German Government considered it unnecessary to send the entire peace delegation—something over one hundred, headed by six plenipotentiaries—to Versailles merely to receive the draft and return to Berlin with it, and would therefore send a smaller delegation and later proceed to Versailles for the actual discussions and the signature of the treaty.

Meanwhile, however, the plans and program of the Council of Four for discussions with the Germans had been aftered, in no small degree, apparently on account of the fact that it was found a physical impossibility since the instructions to appear on April 25 were sent to the German delegates to have the actual text of the proposed treaty ready by that date. This would necessitate communicating the determinations of the Allied and associated Governments to a certain extent in outline, or in less Allied and associated Governments to a certain extent in outline, or in less formal shape than the definite text.

For this purpose the presence of the plenipotentiaries charged with the peace negotiations was impera-tive. Quite apart from the point of the peace negotiations was impetative, Quite apart from the point of prestige, the plenipotentiarics of the Allied and associated powers could only need with the German representatives of equal rank and dignity. Furthermore, it is planned to have such limited discussion of the peace proposals as the Allied plenipotentiaries are prepared to admit, notably of the modes of payment of the sum which have been exacted as reparations and explanations on any points in the long compilicated drafts of the treaty provisos, which the German delegates may seek to begin with, without awaiting the action of the Government at Weimar, the text of the treaty and difficult points as they arise being in the meantime communicated to Weimar. communicated to Weimar.

THE FRYATT MURDER

(Philadeiphla Record.) Nothing could so comprehensively disclose the sinuosities of German psychology as the proceedings in regard to Captain Fryatt. The captain was shot by order of a court-martial on the ground that he had tried to ram a submarine. He got away at the time, but after more than a yea the Germans got him and killed him. This was only of a piece with mos of Germany's conduct during the war and there was no obvious reason why it should have lain more heavily than many other things on the German con-science. The Provisional Government might have disclaimed all responsibili for what the Imperial Government d. But the Fryatt murder seems to have disquieted Germany more than Miss Cavell's murder, or the deporta-tion of 125,000 Belgians, 6,000 of whom perished, or the sinking of the Lusi alty.

This is true enough, but if only in the small part of the truth involved in the Fryatt case. The German pundit produces as much international law as will vindicate Germany, and ignores the rest, and his countrymen stand awe-struck at the vastness of his erndition. The law of nations provides that a reval vessel in war may summon a merchant vessel to stop submit to search and seizure. submit to search and setzure. If he refuses it is at his own peril. If he tries flight it is lawful to sink him. If he fights he is outside of the law of nations, and in the event of capture may be shot.

Port Hood Island.

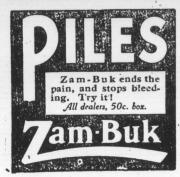

But the essential fact in such a case is that he refused a lawful command to stop and be searched. The worst that could happen to him if he were an ememy would be capture. But the German submarines did not summon sels to surrender. They did not call on them to submit to search and seleure. The captain of the Lusitania had no opportunity to save the lives of his passengers and crew by surren-dering; the vessel was simply blown up without warning. In nearly all cases the submarines proceeded in this manner Every merchant knew when he saw a submarine what was in store for him. The submar-ine would only sink him if it could, and it might or might not affordany opportunity for the persons on board to escape. In most cases no opportuni ty was given; the vessel was sunk with all on board unless the crew managed to flee while their vessel was going down, and they might be hundreds of miles from shore and the weather be stormy.

Professor Schuecking and the national court-martial justify the killing of Captain Fryatt by an appeal to that international law which the German submarines treated with contempt from the beginning of the war to the erd. The law is made for foreigners; Germans are always above law

An Old English Custom

In the northern counties of England there was practiced at Easter up to at least half a century ago the curious custom of "lifting." It must still exist. I have before me, writes a cor-respondent, a newspaper cutting of 1860 giving an account of an indignant commercial traveler of the ritual to which he was subjected on Easter Tuesday by the maids of a hotel at Crewe. He was placed in a chair, lifted three times and kissed by the merry revelers. It appeared that a like privilege might have been his for the exercising on Easter Monday a privilege which absence made impos re is a remonstrance of a century earlier by a man who was treated by the maids of the Talbot Inn, Shrewsbury, in a similar fashion, but who in addition had to pay a fee. -London Chronicle.

A good story concerning De Valera, the Sinn Fein leader, is going the rounds of London.

It appears that recently a certain London newspaper sent a reporter over to Ireland to take shorthand notes of one of his speeches. The audience objected, but De Valera was all smiles and urbanity.

"Let the gentleman remain," he said. "So far as I am concerned, he is at liberty to report my speech venbatism if it pleases him."

De Valera advanced to the front of the platform. Eyes glistened, ears were all attention, and the reporter's pencil was poised in the air. esowed one more benignant smile on the newspaper man, winked wickedly at his audience, and began his speech—in the Gaelic language.—Pearson's Weekly.

That sea-power depends on some thing else besides armor-plate and 17-inch guns is quite unobstrusively mentioned by Admiral Beatty in his remarks and the British squadrons which blockaded the German ports. The stretch of sea the blockaders had to patrol is well described by the admiral as a "waste of waters." The Atlantic, which surges against the fanged coasts of the Western Islands, is the home of Tempests. It spreads, lonesome and sullen, into the frozen zones of the ice-cap, dotted by a few bare rocks, overhung by steely, un-friendly skies, the air too heavily laden with brine, the whole region storm haunted and alien to man.

In the course of the centuries this wild northern sea has preserved all its characteristics; the blasts of the hurricane filled the sails of the Norsemen's long ships, the ley spray lashed the oarsmen, the black teeth hidden in the curling foam ripped

It was a people compounded of the races who long ago made a highway of this savage sea-track that guarded the British Isles during the war. It is no idle figure of speech to describe the modern Briton as a descendant of the sea-rovers. That, precisely, is what a great many Britons are, and that makes them the wardens of the North Atlantic to-day just as their pirate fathers were its wardens centuries ago, they in their swan-prowed longboats, and the modern Briton in Battleships are easy of construction brave men are common to all races but the spirit that can thrive on the waters which the blockading fleets had to guard is the spirit on which British sea-power rests. It is not the sea fights, the winning or losing or battles, that will determine the control of the sea. It is the actual ruling of the waves themselves. A chance shot may sink a dreadnought, but the power to dominate by seamanship the wastes of water stretching from the outer Hebrides to the Arctic Ocean—this goes to the foundation of naval supremacy.

For one thing, he has tried seating the medium on a weighting machine while the manifestation are going on and watching the varying record of her weight. He d that where a chair or table was levitated an increase in her weight al most corresponding to the weight of the piece of furniture was noted. HAITI DEVIL WORSHIP.

West Indies Blacks Are Vicious Savages.

Aside from warlike considerations people have become accustomed to being safe that it is something of a shock to learn that only a few hundred miles from the centres of American culture there is an almost savage country, the islands of the West Indies are, as a rule, the abodes of enlightenment where any one, man or woman, may travel without fear of molestation. "But such is not the case in Haiti," says A. Hyatt Verrill, in "the Book of the West Indies." "Here the shortcomings, the failures, the savage in stincts of the blacks have been fed and fostered for centuries. From untamed jungles they were brought in recking, pest-ridden slave ships to starve beneath the lash. Debased, untaught, they rose, and in a resistless wave of black swept the dominating whites from the land. Then were loosened up the pent-up hatred, the und ug lust for revenge, the supressed s. .ery of the African races, and slaughter, rapine, incendiarism, torture and debauchery stalked naked through the stricken land.

Haiti has improved considerably since then, but there is yet much room for improvement. The only wonder is that any vestige of civilization remains, that there is the semblance of rule, of industry, of order in the republic." Among the barbarisms now prevalent in Haiti are voodooism and obeah, the former a kind of devil worship, and the latter a form of witchcraft. "In its most fanatical form voodoism requires human sacrifices, which are accompanied by cannibalistic feasts and unspeakable orgies. ... Obeah, on the other hand, is merely witchcraft with no religious significance whatever, and in its most malignant form consists of poisoning with devilish ingenuity, and in its commonest and least virulent form amounts merely to a lot of nonsense, hocus-pocus and mummery." an almost savage country, the islands o

RECIPES.

THRIFT FLITTERS.

Two cups cold mashed potatoes, ½ cup left-over corn, 1 onion, minced fine, 1 beaten egg. Salt and pepper.

Aix well and saute in a frying pan in which is 6 teaspoon of cooking oil. Brown well on one side, then carefully turn and brown on the other side. Peas or salmon can be substituted for the corn with equal results.

STUFFED DATES SUPREME Two pounds dates, one-third cup black walnuts, one-third cup pimento cheese, ½ teaspoon salt.

Wash the dates in warm water, dry them. Cut a slit in the sides and carefully remove the stones. Fill the cavity with the cheese and chopped walnut paste, well blended with the salt. Firmiy press the filled dates together and pack closely in a waxed paper lined box.

STUFFED PRUNES. One pound sweet prunes, one-third cup lack walnuts, ½ cup raisins, 1 tablespoor select large, well-shaped prunes. Soak over night, dry open carefully and re move the stones. Mix chopped raisins, black walnuts and lemon juice. When thoroughly blended, refill the prunes with the mixture.

PORK CHOPS AND ESCALLOPED

PORK CHOPS AND ESCALLOPED POTATOES.

Fill a baking dish with sliced raw potatoes. Almost cover with water or milk. Lay pork chops on top of these. Season with salt, pepper, dredge with flour. Bake in oven, turning the chops once. The fat from the meat will flavor the potatoes nicely.

STEAMED FRUIT PUDDING.

One quarter pound seeded raisins, one-eight pound fat, one-eight pound citron, one egg, ½ cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-quarter cup milk (generous measure), one cup breadcrumbs, ground fine: one-half cup flour, one and one-quarter cups chopped apples. Rind and juice of three slices of lemon, medium size.

Wash and dry raisins. Cut into pieces. Slice citron very fine. Cream fat and sugar, add beaten egg and seasonings, also lemon juice and grated rind. Add milk and flour alternately. Dredge raisins with flour and add to mixture. Fold in breadcrumbs and then the chopped apples. Turn into a well-greased mold and steam five hours. Serve with maple sauce. This recipe makes enough for two meals. STEAMED FRUIT PUDDING.

A BLUEBEARD HELD IN PARIS?

May Solve Fate of Score of Missing Widows

Who Entered His Villa and Disappeared.

Paris Cable - The disappearance of a number of women from a suburb of Paris has led to the arrest of Henri Laudru, who, the Paris detectives assert, may be able to solve the mystery of their continued absence from

The missing women were acquaintances of Laudru, who is declared to have made a specialty of becoming engaged to widows. The police officials says that from papers found in Laudru's possession they believe that he had at least ten fiancees who cannot be found.

Under the name of George Dupont Laudru hired in 1915 a lonely villa in the outskirts of the village of Gam-bass, on the border of the Rambouillet Forest. The villa is almost sur-rounded by walls and is 550 yards from the nearest house. The allegation is made that Laudru only paid leged to have been found in the villa.

Laudru, according to statements made by the detectives, admitted having used various names, because he had been imprisoned several times. He denied, the authorities say, that he did away with any of the women, but said he killed the dogs at the request of the woman because it was too expensive to feed them.

Peking Cable - Little news is permitted to come out of Seoul since April 1, but despatches indicate that conditions in Korea are still serious. The Korean Daily News of April 1 to April 4 has not been permitted distribution, though the issues of April 5 and 6 have arrived. This paper reports that on April 1 an assemblage from 4.000 to 5,000 persons gathered in one of the main streets in Seoul; troops were called out, and fired, killing about sixty and wounding seventy others. Numerous arrests were made.

The paper gives reports from about where demonstrations thirty towns, continue. Germany's former allies will be required to accept the principle that they are responsible for damages to civilian and property under the same categories as applied to Germany, and a sub-commission has been studying the extent to which they can be made to satisfy debts. The results of the work of the commission thus far are understood to have been largely negative as the assets of the debtor states have vanished to a great extent and rich parts of their domains are now included within the bounds of Allied liberated States. Something, however, may be realized from the wreckage for compensating Italy, Roumania and Serbia.

Thus it was not until three years after the death of the fifth Earl of Shannon that his legal representatives were able to run to earth in New Mexico his c'dest son, who had been leading for lose upon a decade a most adventurous life in the Western States as a ranchman, a miner, a train hand and a jack of all trades, and who had remained in complete ignorance of his father's demise, and of the fact that he had become an Earl and the owner of extensive entailed estates in Ireland. He used to go by the name of "the Cowboy Earl." EARL, EARL, WHO'S GOT THE EARL? That there is somewhere in the United States the missing heir of the dormant Earldom of Milltown, and to the equal dormant Viscounty and Barony of Russborough was recalled by the death the other day in London of Lady Barbara Chetwynd-Stapyiton, only surviving daughter of the fourth Earl of Milltown, and sister of fifth, sixth and seventh Earls.

The romance connected with this Earldom is worthy to be the theme of any author or playwright. Indeed, the fourth Earl of Milltown has figured in the pages of a well known and popl-lar novel. He was the original of Lucas Malet's "Sir Richard Calmady," like whom, although in other respects a fine and powerful man, he had merely rudiments of legs. This did not prevent him from enjoying life, from moving freely in London and Dublin society, from sitting in the House of Lords at Westminster as a representa-tive peer of Ireland, or even from huntriding on a specially constructed

The fourth and legless Earl of Milltown was very strict with his child-ren, and therefore when his eldest son, Joseph, Viscount Russborough, fell in love with a very pretty girl, daughter of a farmer on the Russborough est-tates in Ireland, and wanted to marry her the Earl drove him from his pres ence. The young Viscount fled with the girl to Scotland, where they lived together as man and wife, this being according to Scottish law sufficient to constitute a valid marriage.

A boy was born to the union. But when the child was about 2 years old it disappeared mysteriously with its mother during a fortnight's absence of the father in Ireland, and he was nover able to obtain any trace of what had become of them, although firmly convinced that they had been spirited away somewhere or other at the instance of his parent.

In the course of time his father died, in 1866, and he succeeded to the honors and estates as fifth Earl of Milltown But he never married again. Indeed, he did not feel himself free to do so, and six years later he in turn was gathered to his fathers, and in the absence of his missing son and heir his brother Edward because the sixth Earl. This peer married Lady Geraldine Stanhope, daughter of the fifth Earl of Harrington.

The union remained childless, and the Earl having by virtue of an arrangement with his younger brother Henry, an invalid bachelor, disentailed all the family property, bequeathed it to his widow, on the understanding that the actual estates should go at her death to his nephew, Edmund Russborough Turton, M. BOLSHEVIKI KILLED 2,000

Without Provocation, U. S. Mission Reports.

Unthinkable Atrocities Are Revealed.

Omsk, Saturday, Cable - Indisputable evidence of the massacre by the Bolsheviki of more than 2,000 civilians in the near the town of Osa, has been obtained by Messrs. Simmonds and Emrson and Dr. Rudolphe Teusler, of the American Red Cross, who have just returned from Perm, Osa and other reoccupied Russian territory. Approximately 500 per cent. were killed at Osa and 1,500 in the surrounding district.

Osa, which had a poulation of 10,000, was so denuded of males by the Bolsheviki, that General Casagrande, upon the occupation of the town, was obliged to telegraph to Yekateringburg for men to administer civic affairs.

In addition to securing verbal and documentary evidence the Red Cross witnessed the exhuming of scores of victims from trenches, where they were buried sometimes several deep in graves revealed by the dig-ging of dogs. The murders were withging of dogs. The murders were with-out provocation, and the victims were largely of thirfty and intelligent class-es or servants of the Church, which later it was announced intention of the Bolsheviki to exterminate.

The evidence discloses almost unthinkable atrocities. A man was shot because he lived in a brick house. All attorneys and jurists were killed, and doctors, whose services were not required for the moment, were disposed of in a similar manner.
