

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 31, 1913.

Editorial Notes.

Yes, the dearest of reciprocity was a good thing for Canada. The Canadian producer can get more stuff into the United States under the new tariff than he would under reciprocity, with out having to give up his own market and without having to keep the Laurier government in office.

The wet weather which has continued throughout the month of October has been most unusual. As a result much of the crop is yet unharvested, and the outlook for its gathering is most gloomy. Many apples are yet unripened and in some sections very few potatoes have been dug. It has rained practically every day of the month.

A change in the manner of directing mail is shortly to be established in connection with the Dominion Atlantic service. Through mail cars will run between Yarmouth and Sydney both ways, reducing the labor required in transferring and otherwise facilitating the postal business. The Dominion Atlantic is part now of the Canadian Pacific Railway system.

Now that the dark nights are again upon us we would like to see the suggestions made by some of our citizens last spring with regard to an improved system of lighting Main street carried into effect. We believe such a system as was then outlined would undoubtedly prove to be a profitable one. A move should be made at once so as to get all the benefit possible from the improvement. We hope to be able to report progress next week.

One of the men who will be missed from the new Municipal Council when it is elected will be Mr. R. F. Reid, of Wolfville, who has for about thirty years represented Ward 8 in that body and exerted an influence probably greater than that of any other man in the carrying on of the business of the county. Mr. Reid is a man of excellent judgment and has made himself conversant with municipal affairs, and though he has been obliged by advancing age to lay down the work we trust he may be spared for many years to counsel and assist those who take it up. Ward 8 has done a graceful thing in electing by acclamation, his son, Mr. W. A. Reid, to take his father's place. Mr. Reid, Jr., is a young man of excellent business capacity and will be a very useful man in the Council.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall, K. C., Secretary of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, attended the New Brunswick Union and praised the work already done in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. He said the Nova Scotia Union was founded by Mr. F. W. Doane and is one of the best. The convention report for 1912 proves that so-called 'old conservative' province in the forefront of Canadian progress. Formal notice is given that they have brought about the passage of a Town Planning Act, a Tenement Act, a Street Tree Act, a Public Utility Commission Act, and even an act to advertise industrial opportunities and seek tourist trade; and are preparing an impatiently awaited set of standards to be by-laws. If I had been asked without knowing what province had produced this sheaf of legislation, I would have answered 'Saskatchewan,' but all idea of an 'effete West' is blown to the winds. The key of such progress lies evidently in the fact that, like the other provincial unions, they have wisely cultivated friendly relations with the legislature as appears by its printing its proceedings and accepting their suggestions.

Hallowe'en.

Are you peevish when a rattling noise disturbs your peaceful slumber? When a lot of rocks come rattling against your house? When the door-bell rings and refuses to stop? When someone comes on your porch and rings the bell you answer the ring and when you open the door a big log falls in your face and nearly knocks you off your pins? When you wake up next morning to find your comfortable chair that you left on the porch hanging from the top of the telegraph pole on the corner? And when you find the hose is gone, the gate is gone, those pretty roses that you admired so much, gone, and on your porch you find everything from a washing machine to a small sized house, does it peeve you? And when you take a healthy kick at the sidewalk and nearly kick your toe off, does it really peeve you? If you do get peeved, just think of the time you were a boy and think that it only comes but once a year—Hallowe'en.

Municipal Candidates.

The municipal elections take place on November 4th. Before voting, the ratepayers should carefully weigh the qualifications of each candidate and then vote for the man who appears to them as the one most likely to carry on the affairs of the municipality in an intelligent and business-like manner. There should be no other considerations. The very best men—men of intelligence and high ideals—should represent the tax payers of the Council. Ambitions to be a councillor in a qualification, there must be a lot of common sense and sound judgment in the mental make-up of the candidate before he should command the vote of the people. Let the best man win.

The Hon. Martin Burrell.

Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, is being widely commended throughout Canada for his aggressive agricultural policy. The ten million dollars voted for agriculture has proved exceedingly popular, and by co-operating with the government Mr. Burrell has evolved a plan which has greatly increased the effectiveness of the agricultural work of both provincial and federal governments. The 'Canadian,' a non-partisan weekly published in Toronto, has the following eulogy of the work of Mr. Burrell which is but typical of the commendation he is receiving from all sides:

'The Englishman who is Dominion minister of agriculture has made a speech at a country fair that ought to be endorsed by every newspaper and publicist in Canada. Mr. Burrell said that the ten million dollars that has been voted for the aid of agriculture in the provinces will be spent without reference to politics. The apportionment has been made according to the population of the provinces, and before the money was voted, Mr. C. C. James, former deputy minister of agriculture for Ontario, laid out a scheme in conjunction with each province, so that this money will be spent where the best results will be secured. 'Mr. Burrell is a skilled farmer, of high intellectual culture. He is governed by the best traditions of public service. He is, of course, a thorough Canadian which makes it the more gratifying for those who rejoice to call him an Englishman to render him the warmest tribute of respect for the administration of this department. 'If the agricultural grant shall be allocated according to the population of the provinces, why should not the grant for good roads be similarly treated? The partisan enemies of the government say it is because the funds are intended to be used where they will be of most electoral advantage, and that that is why the senate refused to pass the bill. 'It might be argued by a captious purist, that the agricultural grant was devised to benefit the government and that it is, therefore, as shrewdly partisan as though the manner of its distribution were nakedly political. But such a counsel is a counsel of foolish and impossible perfection. There is no reason why rectitude should put a premium on obtuseness. 'To the pure all things need not be stupid. One of the things that the so-called clever politician does not know is that the best service of the public is the best service of the party. 'Mr. Burrell is too wise a man to set out to wreck his party. He is too sincere a Canadian to be willing to despoil the country of its rightful dues. He is a public servant who knows the political preciousness of a good name.' More power to his elbow; more success to his department.'

Arthur Friedheim.

IN COLLEGE HALL, WOLFVILLE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH. Who among the piano playing world does not know the name 'Friedheim'? Friedheim, the favorite of Liszt, who lived under the master's roof for a long period, and was for years regarded by him as the most wonderfully endowed of all living players! His playing is characterized by the most blazing brilliancy and an irresistible sweep which is all compelling; and again one is soothed and tranquilized as when placed under the influence of a narcotic. His technique (that much abused term) is colossal and his fingers can produce all the dynamics from the highest pp to the greatest ff. His poised and poetic rhythm are equally beautiful and never distorted but all that he has done is the outpouring of a sane intellect, guided by a perfect equipment and inspiration of something more than talent, that is genius.

Good for Farmers.

The interests of the farmers are being carefully cherished by the Borden government and the Hon. Martin Burrell as minister of agriculture is carrying out his plan of extending the scope of the agricultural department. The spending of the grant made during last session is receiving the attention of the heads of the department and announcement is made of the work. Several small demonstration plants in different parts of the provinces will be conducted as an aid to poultry keepers. D. demonstration fruit orchards will also be established. The same methods will apply to dairying, tobacco growing, the maple syrup industry and honey production. The minister in his new agricultural policy of introducing better methods will remove the lines already laid, while assisting the farmer to produce better fruit and more honey, tobacco, etc. Reports are being received from farmers all over the country, who are keen on adopting the principles of the department. In connection with the third part of the policy, namely to teach the rudiments in the public schools, the department announces special courses for normal school teachers in nature training. It is proposed to establish agricultural branches of instruction in connection with French speaking normal schools, and it is also proposed to enlarge the scope of domestic science schools by adding to them work in agriculture and dairying. All sections of the Dominion are receiving a fair share and the desire of the present government to reach the farmer by the introduction of modern methods will lay the foundation of future prosperity.

Laid to Rest.

The funeral service of the late Roy Douglas Davidson, whose death was recorded in last week's issue of THE ACADIAN, was held at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Davidson, Summer street, on Saturday afternoon and was very largely attended by both young and old, the faculty and students of Acadia Collegiate Academy attending in a body. Rev. G. W. Miller, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was a member, conducted the service. Dr. Archibald, principal of Acadia Collegiate Academy, read selections from the Psalms, also Luke 24:13-35, from which account of the appearance of Jesus to his disciples. Rev. Mr. Miller drew the central thoughts of his address. He emphasized the fact of Christ's victory over death and His comforting presence to those who are in deep sorrow. No life which has known Christ is incomplete, however early it may be ended here. It is ever complete and ready for transition. The tribute paid to the one departed, he affirmed, was in the number of persons of all ages who had gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to the dead. We could feel that gratitude that his life had been lent us, even for a short time. Rev. Mr. Rackham, pastor of the Methodist church, offered prayer. A choir of Academy students, led by Miss Helen Beckwith, sang three beautiful selections: 'Jerusalem the Golden,' 'Jesus, Lover of my Soul,' and 'Oh, so Bright!'

The floral offerings were exquisite and very numerous, including beautiful tributes from the students of the Academy, members of the Wolfville Athletic Association, the Mission Guild of St. Andrew's church, the Y. W. C. T. U., the Senior class at Acadia University, the R. A. E. Club, the staff of THE ACADIAN and friends from Wolfville and different parts of the province.

The interment took place at Willow Bank Cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Miller pronounced the last impressive rites in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing friends. The pallbearers were Messrs. Cliff and Webster, Arthur Allen, Horace McKenna, Robert Borden, William Chase and George Dexter.

The deceased entered the matriculating class of the Academy this term, but was able to continue his studies only a month when he became a victim of acute tuberculosis, succumbing after an illness of three weeks, an illness born with courage and fortitude which rendered easy the task of those who ministered to him. He was a young man the loss of whom must be keenly felt. His brightness of intellect, his wit and thoroughly gentlemanly qualities made him one whom it was indeed a pleasure to have known either as son, brother or friend. Beside the sorrowing parents and a twin brother he leaves three other brothers, all of whom have profound sympathy of many friends in this time of sorrow. B. M. C.

'Beyond.'

Death came and robbed from our sight, One that was bright and fair; But Jesus will bear him gently Into his heavenly care. Yes, the chair will now be vacant, We look there and heave a sigh; He's gone to be with Jesus To his home beyond the sky. His work on earth is finished, And he's crossed to the other shore, There he will wait for his loved ones, United forevermore. Do we say he is gone? Ah never—only passed the gates ajar. We cannot see, our eyes seem dim, But the journey is not far.

Law Wrong 600 Years.

In the days of King Edward III., the British parliament provided by statute that persons 'of good fame' might in the case of certain offences be bound over to keep the peace. The law was engrossed in Norman French on parchment, says the New York World. Not long after a clerk copied it for convenience and to save wear on the parchment roll. He was careless and made it apply to persons 'not of good fame.'

For 600 years an act of Parliament has been enforced as 'exact opposite' of what it really is! Parliament meant that a person 'of good fame' need not go to jail for a petty offence, but might be bound over, it passed a statute of mercy. For 18 generations this has been enforced as meaning that persons 'not of good fame' must be otherwise punished for offences unless they could provide bonds. It has been used as a statute of mitigated severity.

That is not all. The wording of the careless clerk's copy, instead of the original fact, has affected the theory and in many cases the wording of the law in every British colony and in many American states. It is so buttressed in precedent and statute that, except in England itself, it will doubtless remain valid law. What will be done about it in England we are unable to guess.

Bad Fire.

Wolfville was visited by a disastrous fire last Saturday morning when the livery-stable of Mr. Henry Leopold, next the Royal Hotel, was badly damaged. The fire was discovered at about one o'clock and had then made such headway that it was impossible to gain an entrance to the building. The firemen responded quickly to the alarm and soon had a stream of water playing on the fire, and most of the carriages were removed. Eight horses, however, which were in the stables, were burned to death. Six of these belonged to Mr. Leopold, one to Dr. A. deW. Bains and one to Mr. C. W. Strong. The harnesses, hay, grain, etc., was also destroyed and Mr. Leopold's loss is a heavy one. Fortunately there was no wind, and this made possible the saving of the adjacent buildings, for which the fire company deserves much praise.

The sympathy of the Herald and all the newspaper men in Nova Scotia will go out to Mr. B. O. Davidson, proprietor of the Wolfville ACADIAN, and Mrs. Davidson, in the loss of their son, Roy Douglas, aged 19 years, whose death occurred on Thursday last after an illness of a few weeks. Mr. Davidson was taken ill several weeks ago and never improved. His father and mother, who were in Massachusetts, had to be sent for. Mr. Davidson was highly esteemed by all who knew him.—Vermouth Herald.

Arthur Friedheim.
WORLD RENOWNED PIANIST.

Arthur Friedheim known through out his career as Liszt's most brilliant pupil and one of the most intimate of all the friends of the great composer, is to give a recital at College Hall, Wolfville, Thursday, November 6th. Friedheim's career is one of the most notable in the history of piano-forte music. Following his association with Liszt in the eighties, he made an extensive tour of North America, and in view of his splendid all-around musicianship, he was invited to assume directorship of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, upon the death of Anton Seidl, in 1894. His position as director of the Royal College of Music in Manchester, England, however, made it impossible for him to accept the offer. Since that time Friedheim has toured Russia, Austria, Germany, Italy, Sweden, United States, Egypt and England with conspicuous success, gaining everywhere recognition that was immediate and gratifying. His unusual technical ability, finely balanced temperament, and wide knowledge of all branches of musical art have gained him a prominent and honored place in the world's musical life.

RAILROAD MAN HAD TO LAY OFF

Until He Took GIN PILLS

Buffalo, N. Y.
"I have been a Pullman conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central for the last three years.

About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pain in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate. I treated with my family physician for two months for Gravel in the Bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by GIN PILLS, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try GIN PILLS which I did—with the results that the pains left me entirely."

FRANK S. IDE,

PLEASE PUBLISH MY TESTIMONIAL

So Other Sufferers Will Take "Fruit-a-lives" And Be Cured

Gratitude—heartfelt gratitude—prompted this letter. Madame Langlois was so thankful to "Fruit-a-lives" for restoring her to health and strength, that she gladly allowed her letter to be published.

MADAME VALERIE LANGLOIS

QUEBEC, QUE., SEPT. 23rd, 1912.
"I have pleasure in stating that I have been cured of severe Dyspepsia and Chronic Constipation by using 'Fruit-a-lives.' I was a terrible sufferer from severe Constipation for many years, and I tried every remedy I heard of, and also was treated by physicians without any permanent benefit.
Then I tried 'Fruit-a-lives,' and this fruit medicine has completely cured both the Constipation and Indigestion. I cannot praise 'Fruit-a-lives' enough."

Don'ts for Young Men.

Don't call your father the 'old man,' nor your mother the 'old woman.' The world has no respect for a man who does not respect his parents.
Don't forget that smoking cigar ettes and drinking liquor never made men out of boys, but it has made fools out of men.
Don't try to do how quickly you can get a thing done, but work well. Keep your eye on your work, and not on the clock. We are here to do things right.
Don't forget that it is better to chase a baseball than a highball, and in college keep after the sheepskin as well as the pigskin.
Don't fall to treat the other fellow's sister as well as you want him to treat yours. When getting married your wife has as much right to expect a good past from you as you have to expect one from her.
Don't fall in love with a girl simply because she is good looking, a good dresser or a good dancer. Temperament is the thing you live with after the first year of married life. Nothing can take the place of a cheerful disposition and a good character.
Don't forget that honesty is better than shrewdness. Character is the capital on which a man does business, and in the same in heaven or on earth.
Don't think that you can drop in a nickel in a slot and take out an education, a position or a fortune. Hard work is the price men pay for success in everything. Remember that a lazy man is worse than a dead one, because he takes up more room.
Don't live for self or sin. Selfish living is the quickest dying. The world does not owe you a living as you owe it a life. It has a right to your best. Nothing less than your best is good enough for God and your fellow men.
Don't forsake your mother's church nor your father's God. The Christian religion was good enough for them; it is good enough for you. They lived in its faith and died in its strength. If you want to meet them again you must do the same thing.—Herald and Presbyter.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. 'After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women.'—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 254 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada.
Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?
For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.
If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be answered, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
Mineral Linctus for sale everywhere.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.
If you have a cough, do not resort to a sedative cough medicine. Such a medicine will only suppress the cough, and the inflammation will continue to burn. A cough is a sign of inflammation. What is needed is a remedy that cleans out the inflamed beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other grave diseases. This is why Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a wide-spread reputation for its cure. It is available in capsules or other sedative forms.

Quebec Odd Fellows Bar Hotel Keepers Who Deal in Liquor.

Montreal, August 21.—The Independent Order of Odd-Fellows gave further proof of their zeal in the temperance cause yesterday when at the annual session of the grand lodge of Quebec, a new clause was introduced in the constitution providing that no hotel keeper selling spirituous liquors could be received as an Odd Fellow. The meeting was unanimous in favor of the new clause. Previously there had been a regulation debarring bar tenders from membership. A. L. Doodridge, of Quebec, was elected grand master.

Governor Sulzer, of New York, signed the Fitzgerald 'Drunken Chauffeur' bill, which provides a penalty of not more than a year in prison or a fine of not more than $500, or both, for a person convicted of driving an automobile while intoxicated. This is the first law of the year. When the bill came to the Governor for his signature, he remarked: 'I'll sign this bill. A drunken man has no business driving an automobile. It's hard enough to dodge them when the chauffeur is sober.'

Kept Near Safety.

During a certain battle the colonel of an Irish regiment noticed that one of his men was extremely devoted to him and followed him everywhere. At length he remarked: 'Well, my man, you have stuck by me well to day.'
'Yes, sorr,' replied Pat. 'Shure me mother said to me, said she, 'Just stick to the colonel, Patrick, me bhoys, and you'll be all right. Then colonels never get hurted.'

The Burdens of Age.

The kidneys seem to be about the first organs to wear out and fail to properly perform their work. The result is weak, lame, aching back, rheumatic pains and falling eyelids. Many people of advanced years have recovered health and comfort by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They ensure the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

The Doctor's Daughter.

'Father is awful proud of his skeleton.'
'Why?'
'I don't know, perhaps it was his first patient.'

Paralyzed Limbs.

Today it is sleeplessness, headache, digestive trouble, and irritability. Next thing you know some form of paralysis has developed. Mr. Alex. Hunsberger, 10 Moore street, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: 'Nervous trouble developed into paralysis of the limbs so that I became helpless. Doctors failed me, but after using ten boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I resumed work, and now feel better than I did for 20 years.'

Had a Stroke of Paralysis

And Found a Cure in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

It is always better to prevent serious diseases of the nerves. There are many warnings, such as sleeplessness, irritability, headaches and nervous indigestion.

Prostration, paralysis and locomotor ataxia only come when the nervous system is greatly exhausted. Even though your ailment may not yet be very serious, there is a great satisfaction in knowing that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will cure paralysis in its earlier stages.
Mrs. E. Bright, 215 Booth avenue Toronto, writes: 'Two years ago my husband had a stroke which left him in a weak, nervous condition. He started taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. And we saw the good results almost immediately. They have made a new man of my husband and we cannot speak too highly of them.'

How Ladies Should Behave.

Children's opinions on most subjects generally are interesting and amusing, and on such a subject as the behaviour of their elders they ought to be doubly so. I asked a class of nine-year-olds to write a composition on 'How Ladies Should Behave,' and some of the information I received, I think, worth passing on. I will give one boy's composition in full, just a fair sample, and then make selections from the rest:
'Ladies should not go with bad company, because it will disgrace their family. They should not go to Five-cent stores; but go to some place that is by Snakespear, or some of the other plays.
'And if they are introduced to somebody they do not know they shake hands, and the person that introduces them says: 'This is Miss—, Mr.—, Glad to meet you,' then they say, 'Did you come from—?' 'Yes, did you?' 'Yes, I did.'
'If they go to a reception, they should wear their best dress, and shake hands with the person that invites them, and then go around and meet the other people they know.
'At the table they should not put their elbows on the table; and they should not talk when somebody else is talking. They should not grab hold of their knife as if it would kill them.
'They should go to church on Sunday, and get the meals ready, and take care of the children and teach them to be good.
'Some of the things requisite to a lady's character might be enumerated as follows:
A lady should have good manners. She should keep her shoes clean.
Ladies should have their husbands' supper ready when he comes home for it.
Ladies should look after their children, and give them a nickel once in a while.
Ladies should stay at home and be good to their husbands, and do what their husbands tell them. Some ladies have no husbands, so those who have them ought to be good to them.
Ladies should know how to cook well, and wash well, too.
Ladies should use good language. They should know how to make dresses.
They should chop the wood when a feller is at work.
Ladies should be polite to gentlemen.
They should get married when they are about twenty-five years old.
Young ladies should answer grown-up people promptly.
If a young girl is in a crowd and steps on someone's toes, she should politely excuse herself.
When a lady is with anybody she should put on her best behaviour.
A lady should have friends, and go calling to see them. She should go out to teas, and give teas for her friends.
When they go for a walk they should throw up their heads and walk nicely.
Ladies should go out with the men on Saturdays.
If a lady has a piano she should not have a lot of rag-time pieces.
A lady should go out every day to make her strong. She should have an automobile or a carriage; but she should not ride in it all the time, because it makes her lazy.—Donald A. Fraser in The Canadian Magazine.

A Transformation.

Buckhaven, Scotland, a short time ago was a typical fishing village; with an interesting history. It has undergone a wonderful transformation. The fishy tribe has been superseded by the black coal, and now Buckhaven is a big mining town. Coal mining from a time to time has been carried on in the parish, but its modern development dates from 1864, and now thousands of men and boys are employed.

A pathetic fact in the history of Buckhaven illustrates the growth of the mining industry, and also has a bearing upon an honored resident of Halifax. The links of Buckhaven a little village, by the sea, where the original church and manse of the town were situated, has been completely buried beneath the sidings of a huge coal pit. Beneath the embankments lies what was once a smart village, the birthplace of Rev. Dr. Pollok, former Principal of Pine Hill College, Halifax. The early home where the venerable Dr. Pollok drew inspiration when a youth is now buried beneath a huge coal pit.
