STRATHCONA SEES FIRST STREET CAR

First Trip to University City on Saturday Was Successfully Made.

At the street railway car barns today the electric car that arrived over the C. N. R. on Saturday afternoon is being put ready for use and by Wednesday both No. 1 and No. 2 cars will be in regular operation in Edmonton.

There is a possibility that the board of commissioners may ask that gates be placed on each end of the bridge in order to avoid any possibility of accident, but this has not yet been fully considered.

Intercommunication by street car line was put into effect between Edmonton and Strathcona for the first time on Saturday afternoon and the first street car to run in the traffic provinces entered Strathcona shortly after three o'clock.

Shortly after one o'clock car No. 2 left the barns with Mayor McDougall, John McDougall, Jr., Commissioners Betcham and McNaughton, J. C. F. Down and representatives of the press.

Along Jasper the car ran slowly as it was necessary to clear out the track which was used for the first time, but when a block of bad track was passed the car sailed along without interruption.

Crossing the bridge a demonstration was made of the electric car and even a hawk would not block communication.

The grade to McClaggen's corner was taken without difficulty and Supt. Taylor said that only a little over one-third of the toll passed without the car was needed to make the grade.

Major McDougall was delighted with the trip and the realization of his promise of three months ago that the line would be in operation before Nov. 1st.

HOW WINNIPEG WAS WON.

When a constituency turns from 276 majority for one party to over 1,000 for the other side it is an indication that some pretty powerful argument has been introduced into the electorate of the community. Such was the case in Winnipeg from the results of 1904 to those of Monday last. Following is an article copied verbatim from the editorial page of Tuesday's Free Press, which hints pretty plainly at the kind of persuasion poured into the Winnipeg voters.

"Yesterday's election was, in respect at least, by far the worst in the history of the city. "Never did a political party make the open and undisguised use of liquor their chief weapon in an election contest in Winnipeg.

"But from the outset of the campaign it was the evident intention of the Conservative machine to sweep Haggart into parliament on a river of booze.

"That was why they nominated Alex. Haggart, though there were other reasons which commended him to the machine, one being his absolute subservience to its orders.

"As chairman of the license commission he would be, they considered, the candidate most likely to secure the support, financial and otherwise, of the hotel-men.

"It is announced by the Roblin organ that he resigned his position as license commissioner on October 8.

"If he did the fact was carefully concealed from the public. His resignation was not gazetted in the Manitoba Gazette of Oct. 10 or Oct. 17, not until Oct. 24, two days before the election, did the Gazette contain the announcement of his resignation. The newspaper announcement was not made until Oct. 22. Though Mr. Haggart was speaking two or three times an evening he forgot to mention the 'little matter' of his resignation.

"During the two weeks which elapsed between the alleged date of his resignation and the announcement a fund of many thousand dollars was swayed out of the hotel-keepers. The collecting was done by D. G. McKay, chief license inspector for the province, whose card still 'goss' in the license department. He was assisted by various citizens, including a law partner of Mr. Haggart.

"From the outset liquor has been much in evidence. The disgraceful orgy in Edward hall marked the opening of the campaign; it closed with the three days' debauch which was unbroken in by the announcement which went along the lines on Saturday afternoon that everything was to be wide open until after the election.

"On Saturday night in the main Conservative committee room, in the Shaw block, there was a bar, served by three bar tenders, at which drinks were dispensed to hundreds of electors. This liquor was given away or sold, according to the wish of the drinker. The debauch went on until after midnight, and the place was filled with half-drunk men.

"The hotels in the centre and north end, with some honorable exceptions, took advantage of the situation and sold liquor after hours. The St. Nicholas hotel was doing business Saturday. A warning from the Liberal executive that he would be prosecuted if he broke the law was treated with contempt by the proprietor. He relies upon his pull with the attorney general and the license department.

"Yesterday many of the hotels were open, particularly in the morning. At 10.40 a.m. a representative of the Free Press walked into the bar of the Ontario hotel and bought a flask of Scotch whisky. The bar at the time was filled with people.

"Well, what's to be done? Leaving the Liberals completely aside as people of no particular account, what do the decent Tories think of this thing? To be personal, what do those eminent temperance Conservatives, J. A. McAlkins and E. L. Taylor, think of it?

"Shall this flagrant, defiant breach of the laws of the land pass unopposed? Or were the laws all suspended, except as regards Liberals, by the ukase of Carr Rodmond P. the First?

"Either this arraignment is true or it is not true. If it is true then the honor of every decent-minded man in Winnipeg is involved in punishing the guilty. Stigmatized the alleged sinners as they may, the law must be able to capture the constituency by virtue of his power over the liquor dealers; that his resignation as chief license inspector was kept dark until the eve of the election; that in the meantime he or his friends bilked the hotel-keepers of an enormous sum of money, presumably on their understanding that Mr. Haggart still held the power to confer licenses or to cancel them; that with either the explicit consent or the blind acquiescence of the provincial government the saloons sold whisky after hours on Saturday and Sunday and on election day; that a bar was established in the committee rooms of a party on Saturday evening and dispensed liquor to all comers. If this is true every honest man in Winnipeg and every man honest or not who values his vote, should be on the trail of Alex. Haggart and the allied Black-legs who suspended the provincial statutes for the purpose of delinquency. If it is true the Roblin government should be behind the bars. The proof of one-tenth of it should put them out of business politically. That the government will take action against themselves is doubtful. It is not then the Liberals of Winnipeg who should institute proceedings. It would cost money, but no political party ever suffered ultimately by making sacrifices in the cause of decency and law. Winnipeg Liberals have the opportunity to ally themselves with the future; against that the Roblin government cannot fight.

"If this story is not true there should be openings for about ninety-nine (99) actions against the Free Press. It makes the charge 'off its own bat,' declaring editorially and explicitly that these representations are true. If they are not true then the Roblin government have the opportunity to arrange them politically than to establish their own tottering reputation and discredit their most formidable opponent by one move. If the Free Press charges are not true the Roblin government are bound to prosecute that journal and to carry the prosecution to judgment. If they fail to do so the world will know that Manitoba is governed by a band of men who have no honor to vindicate.

BALLOON-BURST IN AIR.

Was at Height of 2,000 Yards—Landed Gently in a Tree.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—The Parsavel military, rigid dirigible balloon, which made its debut today, burst while at a height of over 2,000 yards, and made a rapid descent towards the earth. But when it was close to the earth its pneumatic valves and it landed gently in a tree. Its occupants were uninjured.

The balloon was making its second trial before a military commission appointed to govern the balloon, it was suitable for army purposes. Major General Pavesi, the inventor of the balloon, was present. Within the past few months the Parsavel has made a number of unofficial trips. On September 10 last, while it was attempting a flight from Tegel, Berlin, to Dohritz, it was struck by a squall and the gas bags collapsed, and the balloon came down on the roof of a villa.

The balloon's reconstructed airship, No. 1 had a most successful trial today, lasting three hours, at the Fritzdachshof. The airship as now altered is an improved small edition of the one built as Echerich and the inventor of the balloon, which in many parts, and the motors are of 34 horse power instead of 110. The airship was a wonderful manoeuvre, notwithstanding the fact that the wind was blowing at a lively rate. It soared, graded, and turned angles with the greatest ease. It has reached almost every section of the country, and a review of available statistics show, without a doubt, a well balanced and healthy condition.

INDIAN PRINCE A HERO.

Nizam of Hyderabad Rescues Subjects From Floods.

Calcutta, Oct. 29.—The great floods have destroyed the southern half of the city. Two hundred lives were lost.

The Nizam and his ministers and officers displayed splendid heroism, saving lives of personal risk, and visiting and compelling the plaintiffs, have opened their eyes to the cause. The courts are open to them, the election law makes provision ample and certain for all the known crimes in the political calendar. Yet for a hundred plaintive howlings about whisky and money and intimidation over the case gets into court. What set it down as this public proceeding that most of the howling comes from men who have nothing to howl about but their own inability to take defeat gracefully. The people of Canada are tolerably familiar with the fables of leopards and have no notion of getting moderately excited till they see the wolf.

SEPTEMBER BUILDING FOR CANADIAN CITIES.

Statistics For Last Month as Compiled by "Construction," the Canadian Architectural Journal, Shows Improvement Over September, 1907.

Toronto, October 27.—The upward trend of building activities, so manifest in the month of August, is rapidly gaining momentum as the season advances.

Returns for the month of September from various cities scattered throughout the Dominion, indicate a decidedly improved tone, which gives promise of continuing unabated for some time to come.

Number of those places show an unprecedented building growth, many big fairs to fully overcome the decline experienced earlier in the year, while others are gradually wiping out a large portion of the decrease which fell to their lot.

But by far the most significant phase of the situation is the fact that the reaction is by no means localized. Instead, it has reached almost every section of the country, and a review of available statistics show, without a doubt, a well balanced and healthy condition.

Of the seventeen cities reported in the accompanying table, fourteen show a marked comparative figures which place the aggregate cost of building in these centres for the month of September of this year, at $3,333,975, or against $2,424,075 for the corresponding month in 1907, thus showing a gain of 36.68 per cent., or 15.21 per cent. more than the splendid advance made in the preceding month.

Nine of the cities report substantial increases, and five show a falling off in building activity.

ARE ENGLISH HORSES SUPERIOR TO THE CANADIANS? That the English race horse is superior to the Canadian is a matter of opinion. Some people believe that the English horse is superior, while others believe that the Canadian horse is superior. The issue is still debated, and it is difficult to reach a definitive conclusion. However, it is clear that both types of horses have their own strengths and weaknesses, and it is often a matter of preference as to which is favored.
