Far more women than men suffer from nervous disorders. And little wonder, when you come to think of the thousand causes of worry and anxiety which come daily to the woman in the home. Particularly to those who are nervously energetic the many demands of society, the numberless details of home life, and the exacting attention required by the children, sooner or later wear on the nervous system.

You begin to worry, and worry upsets the nerves. The more irritable the nerves become the more you worry. And thus is formed a vicious circle, and there is no end to your troubles. Since the nervous system holds in control all the functions of the body there soon arises a thousand little ills to make life a burden.

Nervous headaches, spells of indigestion, irritable temper and attacks of the blues tend to make you feel miserable. You cannot rest by day or sleep at nights, and what reserve force you have rapidly disappears.

It may not be convenient for you to get away for a change and a rest, but there is within your reach Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and there never was found a nerve restorative which could be compared to it.

Use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food regularly and you will soon be able to take a cheerful view of life, enjoy your daily work and forget to worry. For with good health comes new energy and strength, new hope and courage, happiness and success.

Women everywhere are praising this great food cure, because it lifts them out of this terrible nervous, irritable condition, and by its reconstructive influence enables the bodily organs to properly perform their natural functions.

Love in a Flour Mill,
OR,
The Romance of Two Loyal Hearts!

CHAPTER VII.

"Can't say I have," replied Ronald.

"Nor more did I, sir, till I fell off the top of a wagon-load of 'em. Seemed to me, while I was lyin' in the 'ospital, that the sooner I got back from the land the better; so I set off to pad the hoof to Lunnon, and, seein' that they wanted a little 'elp at the sidings, I offered my valuable assistance; and 'ere I am, as the burglar said when he fell through the skylight into a tea-party."

"You seem to have retained your good spirits through all your troubles," observed Ronald appreciatively.

Smithers emitted a queer little laugh from the corner of his mouth which was not occupied by the cutty.

"What's the good of repining?" as the song says," he responded. "Something 'll turn up some day or other. Jullo! 'ere we are!"

The train stopped noisily; and Ronald, slipping a tip into the guard's hand, got out on the embankment. Smithers followed him, and Ronald looked round hesitatingly, for the place was new to him.

"Which way might you be goin', sir?" asked Smithers.

"Up West," replied Ronald. "Which way are you?"

Smithers looked about him and then up at the sky vaguely.

"I'd give a whole penny if somebody would tell me," he said, with a kind of dogged cheerfulness. "There being no offers, I may as well show you the way out of this rum place. I know it well enough; for I've often slept inside one of the empty wagons—if I couldn't get one with a cover to it."

Ronald followed his strange guide as he threaded his way across the lines, amongst innumerable trucks, up narrow and squalid streets, and so into a busy and grimy thoroughfare lined with warehouses and offices.

"Ere you are," said Smithers; "you'll be able to git a keb 'ere. I wish you good afternoon, sir."

Ronald took a sovereign out of his pocket and extended it to the man; but, to Ronald's surprise, Smithers drew back and shook his head, his blue eyes twinkling up at his companion.

"No, thank you, sir," he said. "The 'arf-crown's enough. I hadn't no intention to sponge on yer. I can see the sort o' young gentleman you are, and I don't mean to impose on you."

Ronald was touched by the man's independence.

"Look here," he said; "I should like to help you, if I can. Is there anything I can do?"

"Well, yes; you might give me a suit of old clothes, sir," said Smithers; "they'd stick on me, which the sovereign wouldn't. You're a taller and a bigger made man than I am, sir, but I could get 'em cut down; and I could look out for a decent situation. It's the clothes as tell, as the gentleman said, when they stole his while he was bathin'."

"All right," said Ronald, in his free and easy way. "Give me your address and I'll send them to you."

"Ah, now you 'ave me, sir," responded Mr. Smithers. "Charley Smithers, Esq., Under Blackfriars' Arches, or 'On the Second Seat of the Victoria Embankment, might find me, or they mightn't."

Ronald considered for a moment. He might take the man to the flat in Chelsea; but there was some risk in such a course; so one might already be watching for his return. With his characteristic recklessness, however, Ronald decided to chance it.

"You'd better come home with me," he said. "I'll look you up something."

As they were walking along the narrow pavement, a huge wooden case, in process of being lowered from the upper storey of a warehouse, nearly came down on Ronald, who was unaccustomed to this kind of street. Smithers, respectfully following him, sprang forward, and, with a strength with which one would scarcely have credited him, thrust the thing aside with one hand, at im-

Rheumatism A Sneaking Disease Has At Last Met Its Conqueror

Throbbing Muscles and Swollen Joints Made Well.

RUB ON NERVILINE.

Old age knows no foe more subtle, more unrelenting than rheumatism. At first only a grumbling pain is felt. But, alas, it settles in the joints and muscles, and finally tortures its victims.

To-day the disease may be in the muscles of the back, thigh, shoulder or neck—to-morrow in the joints of the hand, toes, arms or legs. It may work with redoubled fury.

Whether the pain is constant or occasional makes no difference to "Nerviline."

Because other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged. Nerviline has cured the worst of cases. It has brought health to those in the deepest despair, has ended years of awful suffering for those who never hoped to be well again.

There is a marvellous healing power in Nerviline which it derives from the extracts and juices of certain rare herbs and roots. It allays almost magically the awful pain that only rheumatism can describe.

Congestion is drawn out of the muscles, stiffened joints are eased and limbered up, the old time feeling of depression is cast off, and once again Nerviline brings the sufferer to buoyant vigorous lasting good health.

Every home needs good old Nerviline, needs it for earache, toothache, headache, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, stiff neck, chest colds and sore throat. Wherever there is pain, congestion or inflammation, Nerviline will cure it.

minent risk to himself, and pushed Ronald out of danger with the other.

"That was a narrow squeak, sir," he said cheerfully.

"It would have been much narrower but for you," declared Ronald earnestly. "That was a jolly plucky thing you did, Smithers!"

"Now, that's where you make the mistake, sir," retorted Smithers placidly. "It isn't pluck; it's want o' thought. If I'd 'ad time to think, I should 'ave kept myself safe behind, and watched the circus."

"That's nonsense," said Ronald, a little thickly. "Get into the cab. Are you hurt?"

"Not a bit, sir; you see, I was a street acrobat for a short spell. I hope you're the same, sir?"

"I'm all right," said Ronald, still rather embarrassed by a gratitude which, like most men, he could not express. "Here, light up."

Smithers took the cigar and smoked with obvious enjoyment as the cab made its way westward. Ronald's face grew graver as they approached Chelsea, and his manner so preoccupied that Smithers' sharp eyes could not fail to notice that something was wrong. He had, naturally enough, wondered why a gentleman should be travelling at night in the van of a goods train. The imagination of a Cockney is both quick and fertile, and Smithers asked himself, as he glanced from the corners of his bright eyes at his companion's moody countenance, whether this open-hearted gentleman had been "up to something." Smithers considered that the conjecture was not an improbable one; for his varied knowledge of the world helped him to surmise that his benefactor was one of those "swells" who are apt to get into scrapes; therefore, though he could not ask any questions, he kept a sharp look-out alternately watching the street and Ronald's face.

As the cab turned the corner of Copley Place, in which was Ronald's flat, Smithers caught sight of a man strolling along the pavement.

"There's a 'tec," he remarked casually.

CHAPTER VIII.

"A what?" asked Ronald, rousing himself.

"A detective, sir," explained Smithers. "I know 'im. Oh, not on my own business; it was a pal of mine who got into trouble. He's on the lookout for somebody or something."

"He's looking out for me," said Ronald, quietly.

Smithers instantly thrust up the trap-door in the roof of the cab and told the cabman to turn round. When the cab had gone some little distance, Smithers looked hard but respectfully at Ronald.

"Just in time, sir," he said. "I'm glad I caught sight of him, as the mouse said when it saw the cat watching for it on the other side of the cheese. Nothing serious, I hope, sir?"

Ronald hesitated for a moment; but there was something so honest, so trustworthy, in the blue eyes turned to his, that he hesitated for a moment only.

"I don't think so," he said, with a laugh. "Fact is, Smithers, I've got into a row, a bit of a scrape; and I fancy this man, this detective, wants me."

"Ah well, he ain't the only man as wants what he won't get, and won't get what he wants," said Smithers, with quiet confidence. "I don't hanker to go poking my nose into what

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. J. W. Ray of Blockton, Ala. Continuing, he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kemnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headache of women."

"When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of tick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than 'A-cide', and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kemnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-kemnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists."

don't concern me; I've suffered for it too often, as the dog said when at last he got his out of the beehive; but if you want to give that chap the slip just say so, sir, and let me help you. Seems to me I can come in 'andy 'ere; for it stands to reason that you're a stranger at this business."

"Yes, I'm afraid I shan't be able to go back to my flat," said Ronald. "I can't explain without telling you the whole story."

"No need for that, sir," said Smithers quickly. "I ain't curious." He considered for a moment or two; then he said: "Would you mind telling me your name, sir?"

"Desborough — Ronald. Desborough," said Ronald, a trifle reluctantly. "My flat is No. 16, first floor."

But Smithers caught his tone, and nodding quickly, said:

"All right, sir; don't you be afeared: I shall forget it in 'alf an hour. I'm a shockin' bad 'and at rememberin' names. Look 'ere, sir, you just step into that public-'ouse we're comin' to, and 'ave a glass o' somethin'. I'll be back in 'alf an hour, or less. If I don't turn up—well, 'ere's 'Good-bye!' and thank you for all your kindness, sir."

Before Ronald could accept or refuse the proposal, or, indeed, prevent the man, Smithers had stopped the cab, leapt lightly out, and was walking in a business-like way back towards Copley Street. Ronald dismissed the cab, and went into the public-house. It was a quiet little place, the compartment he entered was empty; he ordered a whisky-and-soda, and sat down to wait—and to think.

The fact that the detective had been set to watch for him made it evident that Lydstone bore malice and meant to gratify it by dragging Ronald into a police-court. The time passed slowly, the half-hour dragged by; but just as Ronald, full of remorse for having allowed Smithers to run the risk of getting into trouble, was going to take his departure in search of him, the swing door opened and Smithers entered.

He took no notice of Ronald, but ordered half a pint of ale, and entered into conversation with the barmaid.

"Well, Em'ly," he said, with the warm manner of an old and affectionate friend, "how is the world treatin' of you?"

"My name don't 'appen to be Em'ly," she retorted, with a toss of the head and a comprehensive wipe of the pewter counter.

"No!" exclaimed Smithers in accents of well-simulated astonishment. "Surely I ain't makin' no mistake! Ain't you the lady as took the beauty prize at Barnet Fair lars' year?"

The barmaid's face relaxed with a reluctant smile, and she made a playful dab at him with her damp cloth, a dab which Smithers fielded cleverly.

"Go along with you!" she said, putting up her hand to thrust a hairpin in its place, and displaying a costly brass ring set with coloured glass.

Messages Received Previous to 9 A.M.

OFFICIAL.

LONDON, Nov. 23. The Governor, Newfoundland: General French reports organized bombardment of hostile lines. A German aeroplane was captured, undamaged. No special news from Russia or Italy. Enemy advance in Serbia continues. BONAR LAW.

ASQUITH TO BE QUESTIONED.

LONDON, Nov. 23. The advisability of placing the French and British forces on the Western front under one commander, will be raised in the Commons tomorrow by Sir George Scott Robertson. Sir George has given notice that he will ask Asquith whether consideration has been given to the advantage which might be obtained by placing the land forces of the French and British under one supreme individual commander, as would be the case if the British and French Grand fleets were operating together.

LORD ST. DAVID'S ATTACK.

LONDON, Nov. 23. Strong denunciation is following upon Lord St. David's bitter attack in the Lords upon the general staff, several letters have appeared in the Times from such men as Lord Ruthven, Professor Morgan, Colonel Arthur Lee and Major-General Turner, remonstrating with indignation the serious charges made. The Daily Telegraph calls upon Lord St. David to retract his criticism, failing which the country will write him down as a calculator of a brave, hard-working body of officers.

FRENCH WAR OFFICE REPORT.

PARIS, Nov. 23. The French War Office, this afternoon, issued a report of the progress of hostilities as follows: There is nothing to add to our preceding communication. During Nov. 22, French aviators at various points on the front, took part in fights which resulted in our advantage. In Belgium

"Still Getting Worse."

"No one can measure your 'Nerve Force' as it leaves you." "Prescription A" will increase your "Nerve Force" wonderfully. Nerve Force is the very motive power of the body as petrol is of the engine. If you are using up too much Nerve Force through overwork, worry or other causes—you are like a motor car with a leaky petrol tank, however good the mechanism it must break sooner or later. Now Prescription "A" not only restores lost Nerve Force but actually increases it to a remarkable degree. Try it. You will really be astonished at the result. Price: Trial Size, 25 cts.; postage, 5 cts. extra. Price: Large Size, 50 cts.; postage, 10 cts. extra. Prepared only by DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, St. John's, Newfoundland. two German aeroplanes were compelled by our aeroplanes to come to earth; in the region of Rheims two aviators pursued by us flew away. In the Champagne district and on the borders of the Argonne there have been five aerial engagements as a result of which three German aviators were compelled to come down suddenly within their own lines. A fourth was disabled and fell, and a fifth came down to the German lines in flames.

THE GREEK SITUATION.

LONDON, Nov. 23. No amplification of the Foreign Office statement is obtainable in official quarters. The universal deduction is that the Greek Government has satisfied the British demands as submitted by Kitchener. It is assumed that Greece has furnished guarantees of the safety of the Anglo-French expeditionary forces. It is believed the announcements from Athens concerning the commercial blockade of Greece were premature in that they presented the provisional intention of the Entente Allies as accomplished facts.

TALK OF RESIGNATION.

SALONIKA, Nov. 23. The resignation of Premier Skouloudis, of Greece, according to reports in circulation here, is expected momentarily on account of the difficulties between Greece and Great Britain.

NO BLOCKADE.

LONDON, Nov. 23. The Foreign Office states no Greek ships are being seized or held up in ports of the United Kingdom and that no blockade of Greek ports has been instituted or is in force.

WIPING THEM OUT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. A News Agency despatch from London says that ten thousand Bulgarians were killed and wounded in the fighting for Monastir. Bulgarian forces attacked the town on Saturday. Salonika's advisers say that it is learned here to-day for the first time, that the assault was repulsed. Repeated earlier reports were to the effect that the town had fallen.

BULGARIANS DEFEATED.

PARIS, Nov. 23. The defeat of the Bulgarians by the Serbians in a battle in Central Serbia was announced in the official communication given out by the Serbian Legation to-day. Five Bulgarian cannon were captured.

DANISH PROHIBITION.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 23. The Danish Government has prohibited the exportation of cotton goods and cases in the dry state.

HUNS AND PERSIANS.

BUSHIRE, Persia, Nov. 23. W. T. O'Connor, British Consul at Shiraz, in the interior of Persia, about fifteen miles northeast of Bushire, and other members of the British Colony there, were arrested recently at Shiraz and taken to Borasjan, about twenty-five miles inland from Bushire, where they were detained. The women of the party, who have been released, have arrived at Bushire. They declared that gendarmes, alleged to be acting in collusion with Germans, deceived the Persian Government of the province, stating that war had been declared, and that they were acting under orders from Teheran.

OFFICIAL DENIAL.

LONDON, Nov. 23. Recently published despatches to the effect that in the fighting in Mesopotamia, a British monitor had been sunk in the Tigris River, were denied officially here to-day.

LANDING ON ALBANIAN TERRITORY.

LONDON, Nov. 23. Italian troops have begun landing on Albanian territory, according to a despatch to the Journal Suisse, forwarded by the Central News correspondent at Zurich.

KAISER'S PEACE OFFER.

LONDON, Nov. 23. A despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Bern, says that there is declared to be undoubted foundation for the report that Emperor William will make an offer of peace through President Wilson, after the Emperor's state entry into Constantinople.

IN FEAR OF BOMB PLOTTERS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. A Herald despatch from Washington says: In fear that bomb plotters may try to destroy railroad communication through Washington from the south to New York City, apparently to stop shipments of ammunition, a large force of guards are on duty in tunnels leading into Union Station and under the city.

GERMAN BAIT.

LONDON, Nov. 23. Restoration of temporal power to the Papacy, is the latest bait offered by the Germans to enlist sympathy for their cause. According to the Swiss correspondent of the Standard, Prince Von Buelow's recent visit to Switzerland was connected with a scheme for the restoration of the Papal sovereignty after the war. This would serve both as revenge upon Italy for her so-called "perfidy" to her former allies of the Triple Alliance, and would conciliate Catholics throughout the world.

Little Things.

Little horns of whiskey, little cups of beer, makes a gent feel frisky as a tall roan steer. For a little season he feels passing well, and he sees no reason why he shouldn't yell, then the peels cart him to the village jail, and the judge will part him from his bunch of kale. If he has no money says the jurist, then, "Break some bonders, sonny, with the other men." There a while he'll languish young man in the hole, while green streaks of anguish sizzle through his soul. Little drops of bitters lend amusement brief, then will land poor critters in some kind of grief. If it isn't falling it is something worse; ask the woman wailing round that pauper hearse. One day, Mr. Simpson, of this town, told me about the trouble he had with his kidneys, and I recommended him to try GIN PILLS, and gave him one to take. The next day he brought some for himself, and both he and his wife have derived great benefit from them."

The Treasurer of the Christmas Gift Fund wishes to make it clearly understood through the press that it is quite impossible to enclose individual cards in each gift to men at the Dardanelles, R.N.R. men, or men at Ayr, as the gifts have been ordered by cable and will be forwarded direct from wholesale houses in London, but suggests that those wishing their contributions to go to special men, should convey their message and Christmas Greetings by letter direct to that man.

Look at a Child's Tongue When Cross, Feverish and Sick

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered. When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one— if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "fruit" cleaning should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

A strong portrayal of Chinese cunning and intrigue is "The Mission of Mr. Foo." Lillian Walker features in a vivacious comedy, "The Captivation of the Mayor," this a great mid-week show don't miss seeing it.

A Frightful Death!

Suffocated In Asthma Attack

Every sufferer from asthma knows the terror, the abject remedies that overcomes them when struggling for breath. The old fashioned remedies may relieve, but never cure. Best results come from Catarrhazone, which cures asthma after hope is abandoned. It's because Catarrhazone kills the asthma germ that it cures. Choking spells and labored breathing are relieved, suffocating sensations and loss of breath are cured. Every trace of asthma is driven from the system, and even old chronics experience immediate relief and lasting cure. Equally good for bronchitis, throat trouble and catarrh. The large one dollar outfit includes the inhaler and lasts two months, sold by all dealers or from the Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Canada.

than last night's, and that is saying something. Nickel shows are always good, but to-day's is in a class by itself and everyone should make an effort to see it. The great attraction is of course "The Exploits of Elaine" which is the most attractive serial ever shown in this city, all lovers of the 'movies' are interested in this story and all pronounce it the best they have ever seen. To-night will be shown the Vanishing Jewels. The "Return of Maurice Donnelly" is the last word in thrills. Maurice is electrocuted and brought back to life. This is a wonderful film and none should miss it.

BRITISH THEATRE.

The mid-week programme at the popular British is well up to the usual standard of excellence. The Tray O' Hearts is being shown as an extra, and will be so continued until completion. The two-reel drama "For the People" is just what the name implies, showing the struggle that is everywhere going on between labor and capital. Other comedy pictures complete the remainder of this well balanced show. On Thursday night Mrs. Ayre will sing "For You Alone" Monday and Tuesday of next week will see the production of that great four-reel feature, Richellen. This great prelate and statesman ranked as the leading master mind of his day, and some of the most stirring scenes in the history of the French nation were enacted by him. A great subject and beautifully staged.

No Blockade of Greece.

We are not surprised to learn that the British Foreign Office declares that no blockade of Greece ports has been instituted or is in force. The messages received up to press hour yesterday were so persistent in stating that a blockade was in force, that they made it appear that this was actually so. We, however, pointed that no instructions had been sent out to Newfoundland for the issue of a proclamation to this effect, and we also pointed out that it was usual when a blockade was instituted against a country with which the blockading country remained at peace, it was usual to issue a proclamation stating that though the blockade was being instituted, a state of peace still existed, and that from this characteristic it was called a Pacific Blockade. Although there is no blockade in force at present, there is an embargo prohibiting the export of munitions, fish and stores which Greece could stock with a view to storing supplies, should war ensue between the Entente and Greece, and it is not unlikely that in Greece this embargo which the Entente Powers have laid on their own people, is regarded in effect as tantamount to a blockade, for we know that one Greek minister has complained of the Entente Powers endeavouring to starve them into submission. As Greek trade is largely with the Entente Powers, this embargo effects largely the same purpose as a blockade, without the difficulties of carrying it out against a country with such an extensive coast. An inspection of the map of Greece will show the indentations of the country and the large number of islands within its territorial limits, and will give some idea of the difficulties of carrying a blockade out effectively. An effective blockade, however, would exert far more pressure than the embargo which is in force, as under that embargo there is no attempt to stop exports from Greece or imports from neutral countries. If an effectual blockade was put in force, it would put an end to all sea trade with Greece, and as the Greeks are the sailors of the Mediterranean, it would be a serious blow to them.

Killed in Action.

This morning the sad news was received by Mr. Thomas Walsh, grocer of the West End, that his son, Mr. David Walsh, had been killed in action in France on Nov. 11th, the information coming from the Adjutant General's Department, Ottawa. Mr. Walsh was a member of the 49th Battalion, C.E.F., and enlisted at Edmonton. He was a well known athlete and played hockey with the St. Bon's team, with whom and the members of other teams he was deservedly popular. Mr. Walsh's name adds another to the list of Newfoundland's sons who have made the supreme sacrifice in defence of home and fatherland, and it will assuage the grief somewhat of the stricken parents to know that their son did his duty fearlessly and well.

Wilhelm, the Nihilist.
(From the New York Herald.)
The Kaiser will not be allowed to go unpunished. It would be, perhaps, too much to hang him, for he is mentally irresponsible. He is a madman, with homicidal tendencies, and while he is at large humanity is in danger. As a measure of self-preservation, therefore, we should co-operate in the noblest work that could be conceived, the work of rescuing civilization from the attacks of this insane nihilist. The United States should break off all relations with Wilhelm the Nihilist and further in every way the efforts of the Allies to reduce him to harmlessness and to bring about his incarceration in an asylum for the criminal insane.

Prince Of Wales On The Firing Line.

London, Nov. 15.—"There was a young English officer at the front dashing here and there through the danger zone, followed by two privates," said Ben Tillet, labor leader, in an address to-day on what he saw on the firing line in France.
"It's all right for him if he gets killed," said one of the privates, "but how about us? We shall get blamed for it."
The officer was the Prince of Wales. "I bring a message from the trenches," continued the speaker. "It is this: Send a volcano of hell to overwhelm the German torrents of shot, shell and gas."

Whaling Fishery Closed

CACHELOT'S SUCCESSFUL CATCH. The whaling voyage for 1915 has closed. The Cachelot, operating at Hawke's Harbor, she being the last of the fleet to hunt the leviathans, fished up last week. Her catch for the season is 71 whales, which is more than the aggregate catch of the other whalers. The Cachelot is now on her way to Trinity, due to arrive there in a day or two, where the crew will be paid off. Capt. Amundsen and the Norwegian members of her crew will come on to St. John's and take passage by the next steamer leaving here for the Old Country, en route to their home in Norway. Notwithstanding that the Cachelot is high liner this year and her season's work considered very successful and profitable, operations would be continued yet but for the stormy weather that is prevalent at Hawke's Harbor.

Infectious Disease in Outports.

TWO DEATHS HAVE OCCURRED. Dr. Brehm, the city Medical Health Officer, is a busy man these days. His efforts are not only confined to coping with the outbreak of diphtheria in the city, but are devoted as well to several outports where infectious disease is prevalent. This morning he was apprised of an outbreak of typhoid fever at Baie Verte and LaSce and that two patients had died with it. Four persons are now stricken with the malady and are being looked after by Dr. Abraham, of Piley's Island, who is endeavoring to prevent the disease from spreading. Dr. Brehm also received word that diphtheria had shown itself at Gander, though there are only a couple of cases there. The sufferers are being attended by Dr. Chisholm.

Out in the Storm.

By the Fogota to-day there arrived some members of the crew of the schr. Conscript, which was out in the storm and succeeded in reaching Seldom after having been badly tossed about. The Conscript, J. Covey, master, was on the way from Labrador to Clarke's Beach and had his foremast carried away in the gale, but made port before any other damage was done. The men who arrived to-day say that the schrs. Cleopatra and Louis T., belonging to Carboner and Cupids respectively, were also out in the storm, having left Seldom the same day as the Conscript, and as far as they could learn have not yet been reported. The men who arrived to-day will go to their homes at Brig Bay by this evening's train; the remainder of the crew are at Seldom and will bring their vessel to the home port.

Criminal And Stupid.

Nothing has done the cause of Germany in this war more harm in the estimation of the people of this country than these schemes, vainly designed to help that cause by committing crimes in its behalf. This applies to the destruction or the attempt to destroy works—at the risk of also destroying life—which are engaged in legitimate industry and trade, because the enemies of Germany may derive benefit from their operation. It applies to designs for sinking vessels at sea which leave the ports of this country, and thereby not only causing large loss of property, but the sacrifice of lives. That these are crimes nobody can deny. They are excused by those guilty of them or in sympathy with their purpose, on the ground that the nation which they are designed to help is fighting for its existence and sacrificing far more of life and property in its defense than can be involved in these plots. If there were any real excuse in this kind of plea, it would not apply to acts committed in a neutral country against its interests and in defiance of its laws and the authority of its Government.—New York Journal of Commerce.

MORE PRO-GERMANISM.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Henry Ford called on President Wilson to-day in support of a movement for a neutral conference to attempt to end the European war and establish permanent peace. He told the President he considered Christmas the best time for such movement, but declined to say how the President received the suggestions. I am willing to give all the money I have got and go anywhere, if my doing so will aid this movement, said Ford, as he came from the White House. President Wilson has kept the States out of the war, and I have learned his course is being approved by the people generally throughout the country, said Ford. Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of a member of the British Parliament, and Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, of Hungary, will see the President on Friday to urge the same movement. Ford will be here with Mrs. Snowden and Mme. Schwimmer.

BRITISH CONSUL ARRESTED.

LONDON, To-day. Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, announced in the Commons yesterday afternoon the seizure of the British Consul and the Manager of the Imperial Bank of Persia as Shiraz has been officially confirmed. They were arrested, he said, without the knowledge of the Persian Government by gendarmes who are now in revolt throughout the country.

DEATH SENTENCE COMMUTED.

PARIS, To-day. A despatch to the Havas News Agency from Madrid, says: At the request of King Alfonso the sentence of death, passed upon Anna Benazet, by a German court martial at Liege, late in October on her conviction with others of having collected information useful to the French Government for whom it was intended, has been commuted to imprisonment for life.

BRITISH WEALTH.

LONDON, To-day. A rough estimate of the capital wealth of the British Empire places it at $136,000,000,000 and its yearly income $20,000,000,000. Reginald McKenna, Chancellor Exchequer told an inquirer in the Commons yesterday.

BULGARIAN STATEMENT AT ATHENS.

ATHENS, To-day. M. Passarow, Bulgarian Minister in an interview to-day announced he had good reason to believe the Greeks would under no circumstances allow their troops to march against either the Bulgarians or the forces of the Central Powers. The Greek commander at Saloniki yesterday demanded the troops of Entente Powers vacate camp. Lambete, commander of the troops, at first refused to comply with the demand, then offered to change the position of the troops in Greek camp some distance away. Finally, however, he gave in and began building barracks near Zeitlok.

REDMOND'S ROUSING REPORT.

LONDON, To-day. So far as the Western front is concerned, Germany is beaten said John Redmond, Leader of the Irish Nationalists Party, who has just returned from a visit to the army in France, in addressing a recruiting meeting yesterday. Every day, every hour, she is getting weaker. For every shell she throws at us we throw five. There are no pessimists among our men fighting there. From the commander-in-chief down through all ranks of the army there is a feeling of absolute confidence on the result of the war. Redmond visited the Belgian lines and saw King Albert. I told him said the Irish leader, we were determined to gain the independence of Belgium at any cost. Come weal or woe, Ireland would have no peace that doesn't bring about the rehabilitation of Belgium. Redmond concluded with a message from the Irish troops at the front to their fellow countrymen. They ask me to say they feel that every man of them in this war is fighting not merely for liberty and right, but for the prosperity of their beloved Ireland as well. Ask Ireland to stand by them. Tell the Irish people that they will be disgraced for ever in history if they fail to send out reserves to replenish the gap that may be made in Irish ranks.

ATHENS STORY OF KITCHENER.

PARIS, To-day. Earl Kitchener, British Secretary of War, in a conversation with Greek officials in his recent visit to Athens is reported here to have declared England will have by next March four million soldiers under arms and be in a position to arm and provision six million Russians. That consequently would show great stupidity to think the war could end otherwise than in the complete overthrow for Germany. This information is contained in an Athens despatch to the Havas Agency which adds Lord Kitchener admitted the declaration of war found the Entente Powers insufficiently prepared for a long campaign, but said the Allies have known how to utilize the time that has since elapsed to complete their military preparations.

KING CONSTANTINE'S EXCUSES.

SALONIKI, To-day. Denys Cochlin, Minister without portfolio in the French Cabinet has abandoned his proposed trip to the front and left yesterday on board a Greek cruiser for Athens. From a person who is in a position to be fully informed in the situation, the Associated Press learns that King Constantine assured Earl Kitchener, British Secretary of War, he had never considered disarming or internment of the Entente Allied troops who might take refuge on Greek soil though a number of Austrians including several officers are now interned in Greece. Respecting the friction which has arisen between Greece and Britain and the coercive measures which the British insist in no sense constitute a blockade, it was stated the King regards this situation the result of a misunderstanding easily remediable. Greece is ready to assure the Entente Allies that her only purpose in maintaining troops in Macedonia is the legitimate necessity of self preservation, especially in the event of the Allies deciding to abandon their Balkan expedition and leaving Greek Macedonia at the mercy of the victorious Bulgarians with their army already in the field. As statements of the French and British, respecting the serious continuation of the campaign leave Greece in doubt on this point, it was said there is no present possibility of either demobilization or withdrawal of Greek troops from Saloniki, but the moment the Allied forces operating in this field assume proportions sufficient to guarantee the serious prosecution of the Balkan campaign rendering Greece's own demand in Macedonia superfluous, the King will not refuse to consider the demobilization or at least the withdrawal of Greek troops from Saloniki. Their presence is regarded as embarrassing the movement of Allies. A likely solution of Greek and British differences will be reached along these lines, it was said.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR MONASTIR.

LONDON, To-day. The Serbian army at Monastir is being reinforced by troops from Governor Krustev, Dibra and Ochrida, according to a despatch from the Serbian front dated Monday. Guns and munitions are being sent from Salonika. The Serbs occupy positions southwest of Prilepat, Pribiles, Krustev and Brodo. General Bokovitch, Serbian Minister of War, is arranging for the shipment into Serbia by way of Monastir, of quantities of provisions, which have accumulated at Salonika. The situation on the French front is described as being calm.

GERMAN FOOD PROBLEM.

COLOGNE, To-day. The Volkes Zeitung, in a sharp article, urges the Reichstag which meets next week, to call the Government to account for its failure to deal adequately with the problem of supplying food stuffs. To supply German nations with provisions is at present a most important military question and one which must be carried through before the winter, the Volkes Zeitung says.

ENTENTE MINISTERS MEET.

PARIS, To-day. Ministers of the Entente Allies at Athens, called upon the Greek Government in a body on Tuesday to discuss the question of what action Greece would take should the allied troops now in Macedonia be compelled to retreat across the frontier, says a Havas despatch from the Greek capital. The message asserts the official statement announcing the action of diplomats described the step as friendly. Official confirmation of the Athens report has not yet reached Paris.

GERMAN SHIPPING.

LONDON, To-day. Of the 5,459,296 tons of which German Merchant marine consisted at the beginning of the war, 230,000 tons have been captured by the British navy and 38,000 tons by other allies, while 117,000 tons has been sunk, 397,000 tons interned in ports of the British Empire. The remainder, except a few ships at large in the Baltic, are interned in German and neutral harbors. These figures were given out by Sir Owen Phillips, while presiding at a meeting here of the British Shipping Company.

U. S. PROSECUTES GERMAN SHIPPING DIRECTORS.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Government brought forward to-day more witnesses to prove that Karl Buentz, Managing Director of the Hamburg-American Line and three of his associates conspired to defraud the United States, when they sent a fleet of steamships out of American ports to supply German warships, operating in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans early in the war. The prosecution expects that before the trial is over, there will have been written into the record of the case a large part of the history of raids of German commerce destroyed in the early part of the war. The Government has fifty witnesses or more, still to be heard.

Advertising Not an Expense.

Advertising is an investment not an expense—and should be treated as such. Because it has been the habit of some merchants to look upon it as an expense, a wrong view has been gained. Perhaps the misconception arose from the fact that in book-keeping it has been the habit to charge advertising to expense.

Advertising produces a new business—it swells the volume of business and profit—therefore it is an investment.

Only the man who looks upon advertising as an expense who is afraid of it, prejudiced against it, loses money in Advertising. The man who treats advertising as an investment and gives it the attention an investment requires—knows that every dollar rightly invested in this direction yields compound interest—and more.

The Value of Perspective.

Chicago Tribune.—Great Britain is secure and stable compared with the Great Britain of those dangerous and unstable days when the news of Wagram meant the downfall of a government in London, when Napoleon's threat from Boulogne carried the real possibility of putting French grenadiers in London. Great Britain never was so well organized for national need as it is to-day. Its fleet never had the sea under better control; its armies never were so large and its Government seldom has been able to weather periods of failure in better shape. Even the Crimean war sent the Aberdeen Ministry out in disgrace. Asquith has gone through this war so far with only the loss of a few Cabinet Ministers. A perspective will not save the British from anything that lack of national effort may prepare for them, but it at least saves them from magnifying difficulties observed by the microscopic eyes of an unrelated present.

Buried Alive!

By RUTH CAMERON.

Do you ever feel buried alive? Do you ever feel as if you were crushed and suffocated and held down by a routine of little monotonous duties or pleasures that are well enough in themselves but that don't seem to be getting you anywhere? Every once in a while I get a letter from some letter friend who is evidently suffering from the "buried alive" feeling (though she doesn't call it that), and who asks me what to do for it.

"I seem to have stopped growing," one friend says.
"I don't seem to be getting anywhere," is the plaint of another.
"I'm In A Rut."

"I'm in a rut," says a third. I suspect this is a state of mind in which all but those intensely alive people who are always growing and developing and those half alive people who are too well satisfied with themselves, sometimes get.

It's a good thing to feel buried alive. Of course it's a painful sensation, but it's one of those pains that are growing pains of character. They show your soul is still alive. Better be buried alive (when you can get out by making the effort) than buried dead.

How to get out? Well, there's lots of ways.
Get Out and Meet New People.
Exert yourself to meet some new people. Or refurbish some of those worth-while old friendships that you've let get dull and tarnished, and when you meet folks, old acquaintances or new, open your mind to them. There's something interesting about them; try to get at it instead of talking about your own interests. Another pointer—you can meet new personalities in many ways besides through the conventional social channel. The man who fixes your furnace may be able to present you with a new point of view on life that will help stir you out of your torpor, if you will give him a chance. Take up some definite course of reading or some new study. Learn Spanish or French or typewriting, or study astronomy or biography. Read biographies and be stimulated thereby (my favorite specific).

Go To School.

If there is any college or night school or anything of the sort in your vicinity, take up a course there; this is better than an individual course of study, as it brings you in contact with people.

Give some definite portion of your time to social work in some one of the many agencies, Church, settlement house, etc., which are always glad of such help.

Get A Hobby.

Take up some hobby, like raising bees or mushrooms or chickens. Nature is always ready to interest and instruct you.
Take up some definite form of physical exercise. It may be that your body as well as your mind needs attention. I know of a woman who took singing lessons simply to develop her chest and gained immensely in strength and health thereby.

The world in this day and generation is "so full of a number of things, I'm sure we should all be as happy as kings." And I'm sure none of us has an excuse for remaining buried alive one day after we recognize our sad condition.

As a delicious tea that is absolutely pure and clean "HOMESTEAD" stands pre-eminent.
No injurious adulteration cheapens its excellent quality, but every stem is of the highest grade and selected with the greatest care.
Rich, creamy and full flavored, it's a tea that gives the meal its finishing touch.

Vigorol

If you want to feel well, bright and cheery, full of ambition; be able to move about quick and smartly—VIGOROL, the Great French Tonic, will brace you up—it cleanses the whole system. If the manufacturers could only impress this upon every one who does not feel as they ought to, the world would owe them a great gratitude; but all we can do is to ask you to try one bottle and see for yourself. The change will be wonderful. You need a spring medicine—then take VIGOROL. Sold at all drug stores.

POSTAL OFFICIALS BUSY.

Rarely have the officials of the parcel post department been so busy as they were yesterday, attending to the despatch of parcels to our soldiers from their relatives and friends in the city. From the early morning until the closing hour the place was thronged with persons availing of what was probably the last opportunity to send parcels in time for Christmas delivery. The amount of mail matter sent out by yesterday's express was also a record one and many old officials of the staff say that they have never seen a busier scene during the Xmas season.

The rule of the Lion extends only over the animal world; the rule of SUNLIGHT SOAP extends to wherever Soap is necessary. Give it a trial and you will be convinced of its value.

Salvage Notes.

The W. P. A. Branch at Salvage held a Box Party in the L. O. A. Hall, quite recently, and although some of the men were gingerly in patronizing the efforts put forth, those who were present showed their patriotism as well as their enthusiasm for the amount of $27 was realized.

This branch has lost one of its most active, as well as its patriotic members in the person of Miss G. E. Macdonald, who left Wednesday last by the Dundee for St. John's enroute to New York. Miss Macdonald was prominent in Church and social life while her patriotic spirit was that of the thorough British, and we deeply regret her leaving us for whenever any movement in consideration with the war was afoot we were sure of Miss Macdonald's co-operation and talent, which is of no mean nature, for we certainly believe she was "Anor Patria" and although she is leaving British soil yet we do not think her patriotism will diminish. We wish the young lady every success in her new sphere of life.

Owing to the recent storm tides has been doing by our men, although most of our men have finished with their vessels for this season.

Mr. Thos. Turner's schooner Magie, which was towed to safety by the S.S. Dundee, Wednesday last, reached Happy Adventure on Friday much damaged, having her sails practically torn to shreds and some of her rigging gone.

We are eagerly awaiting the count from St. Barbe District, for we believe Newfoundland is intending to show the Mother Country and sister colonies the way she treats an enemy of her people and anything which is detrimental to their welfare.—Com.

"LOOKED THE PART."

Men must look right and be right to command success. Clear eyes, clear skin and clear brain mean money to the man who possesses them. Dull eyes, sluggish brain and a pimply, blotchy skin are a serious handicap. O'Mara's Hypophosphites will remove pimples and blotches, brighten the eye and increase vital power by giving you pure blood and good circulation. Price $1.00.

We recommend it because we know what it contains.

Fads and Fashions.

There are new boots with vamps of patent leather and tops of a soft-colored leather.

Rich and becoming is a dress of white plush, embroidered around the bottom with black silk.

Sealskin and mole are very much used for the soft draped choker collars on the new tailored suits.

Flowers are used extensively in the shape of knots and garlands on the simpler evening toilettes.

Mole is one of the best furs for the high choker collars found on so many new models of tailored suits.

Hr. Grace Notes.

MONDAY.

The Rev. Mr. Godfrey of Heart's content occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church yesterday forenoon and evening and delivered very able discourses, that were heartily enjoyed by the congregations.

The annual missionary meeting takes place in the Methodist Church to-night. The speakers will be Rev. Mr. Godfrey, Rev. F. R. Matthews, of Carbonear, and the Pastor, Rev. A. A. Holmes.

The handsome sum of $230.00 was realized by the ladies of Christ Church at their Sale and Tea on Wednesday and Thursday last. The ladies wish to thank all the kind friends who helped.

The Rev. W. J. R. Higgitt, St. Paul's new Rector, moved into the Rectory on Friday, where we all hope himself and Mrs. Higgitt will spend many pleasant years.

The little schr. S. Cluett, stranded here in Tuesday's gale, is now on dock undergoing repairs. The damage sustained was not so serious as at first feared, as the craft rested quietly on the beach.

Mr. Max Duff, who is here from Nova Scotia on a health trip, leaves to-morrow for St. John's, where he takes passage on the schr. Dorothy Duff, for Barbados. We wish him a pleasant and profitable trip.

Coal is very scarce in town now, but Messrs. McRae Bros. are expecting two cargoes to-day, as they left Bay Bulls this forenoon. These schooners are the Alma Nelson, and Gladys S. Other cargoes are to follow soon.

Mrs. E. E. Parsons has been very sick the past week, and is being attended by Dr. Cron. All her friends are hopeful of a decided change for the better soon.

The Supreme Court opened this forenoon, and will continue while business calls for the court to sit here.

TUESDAY.

All the friends of Rev. J. T. Newman are pleased to see him in town on a few days visit. Mr. Newman made many friends of all denominations while in charge of the Methodist Church here some years ago.

Mrs. Samuel Gordon left last week for Halifax, where she will spend some months with her son, Mr. John Gordon, who is settled down there.

The ladies of St. Peter's Church, South Side, are holding their annual sale of work on to-morrow and Thursday.

The missionary meeting of the Methodist Church here last night was very interesting. After opening with hymn and prayer, Mr. John Trapnell was requested by the Pastor to take charge of the evening's programme. After a few well chosen preliminary remarks he announced the first item, a missionary rally song, by the choir. This was well rendered, and seemed to sharpen up the hearers for the good things that followed. The first speaker was Rev. A. A. Holmes, who merely gave the missionary report, which was considered excellent. The rev. gentleman appealed to all to help on this good work, to get in the firing line, as it were, and do their best to advance the cause of Christianity.

Rev. Mr. Godfrey, of Heart's Content, then began an address that was sure to make a deep impression on the hearts as well as the pockets of those present. The rev. gentleman clearly showed that the church universal was still able to convert the world. His address was listened to with rapt attention and very highly spoken of.

Rev. Mr. Matthews, of Carbonear, followed in a very forceful address. Mr. Matthews is a very fine speaker, and taking for his subject "Mahomedanism" he gave his hearers an able address that left them hungering for more information, and in many cases determined to do more for the cause of Christianity than ever before. After the collection had been taken up, the benediction was given by Rev. Mr. Godfrey.

CORRESPONDENT.

Hr. Grace, Nov. 23rd, 1915.

He has two sons Aubrey and Salney residing in Halifax, and three daughters. Mrs. James Hynes, this city, Mrs. J. F. Cheeseman, Burin, and Mrs. Herbert Baker, of Newport, U.S.A.

More Larcenies Committed.

Felix O'Connell, who was arrested a few days ago, charged with a series of larcenies and remanded and who appears to be touched with kleptomania, was brought from the Penitentiary to the Magistrate's Court today to answer to two new charges of theft. The latest charges are, the stealing of a new overcoat from the Balsam Hotel, belonging to Lieutenant Federhoff, Russian representative; also he was charged with "making love" to a leather grip in another city residence. Accused pleaded guilty to each charge and was further remanded.

From The Sagona.

The Reid Nfld. Co. received a marconigram from Capt. Parsons, of the Sagona, last night, saying that the ship had arrived at Black Tickle at noon yesterday. Capt. Parsons sent the message via Grady and Fogo and it is presumed that the Sagona is on the way South though the message does not state so. The ship encountered N.E. and S.E. winds with sleet and rain during the trip but yesterday the weather was fine with a light south west wind. Very little frost was experienced.

No Tidings of Missing Craft.

There is still no tidings of the missing schooners Blanche M. Rose and Swallow, the former bound here from Grosis Islands, and the latter from Fogo to Bay Roberts. The Cabot and Ingraham, which are engaged scouring the north and south shores, respectively, in search of the missing crafts, had not reported up to noon today and it is assumed were not successful in their mission up to that hour.

London Doctors Suspects

That Bombs from Zeppelins are Impregnated with Germs of one of the Deadliest Varieties Known, Causing Fatal Gangrene.

London, Nov. 19.—The high rate of mortality among persons injured by bombs thrown from Zeppelins at first caused the belief that these bombs contained poisons. Now, according to the Daily Mail, surgeons suspect that the bombs are impregnated with disease germs.

The Daily Mail quotes an unnamed surgeon at a hospital where 40 persons seriously injured in the last raid were treated, as saying that the death rate was at least five times as high as would be expected among patients wounded equally severely in battle or accidentally.

"In practically all the cases," the surgeon continued, "a germ causing rapidly fatal gangrene which is very rarely met with in ordinary hospital practice has been discovered by the hospital bacteriologists. Patients who have received the best treatment afforded by a modern hospital within ten minutes after being injured have suffered a much higher death rate than soldiers who after receiving wounds of the same severity, have had to wait 24 hours before being treated.

Enquiries are being made to determine whether Italian bacteriologists have found the same germs in the wounds of those injured in the recent raids on Verona. If this rare gangrene-causing germ is found there also it will be pretty strong evidence that the bombs were deliberately impregnated with one of the deadliest varieties of disease germs known.

Life Saving Scouts.

The 3rd St. John's Troop Boy Scouts held a most interesting meeting in their room last night. Major Cave spoke to the large gathering in his usual pleasing and interesting manner. The main object of the meeting was to reorganise the Troop to Life-Saving Scouts, which are run on exactly the same principle as the B. P. Scouts, only having their headquarters at Toronto, Canada. Many important questions were asked by the members about the movement, and all were soon convinced that the Life Saving and B. P. Scouts are run on the same basis. A new branch was also established in connection with the Troop under the name The Young Cubs, consisting of boys from eight to eleven. The new division will be commanded by E. Nicholle and H. G. Husey. This new branch promises to be a credit to the Troop and all are determined to win the favor of their supporters. The Troop was dismissed after singing the National Anthem.

Gas and Hospitality.

The sound of motor wheels heralding the arrival of unexpected guests has no terrors for the housewife whose menage is run on up-to-date lines. While the visitors are removing the traces of travel with the hot water which a gas water-heater keeps always "on tap," a match to the gas fire makes the drawing room a place of warmth and pleasantness for their reception; and the children love to "help mother" by toasting the crumpets before the clear and smokeless glow.

The gas cooker (or the modern gas trivet by the drawing rooms gas fire) boils a kettle of water in no time, and within a quarter of an hour after their arrival the guests are enjoying a cosy chat over the cup that cheers. Should they be persuaded to stay, the invaluable "cooker makes it possible, even at such short notice, for the experienced housewife, after a raid upon her emergency store cupboard, to set before them a dainty dinner of which no hostess need be ashamed. Gas means ever-ready hospitality.

Snub for the Kaiser.

The Catholic Herald publishes what it describes as "the fullest evidence yet available of the German plot to enrol Irish prisoners of war in a German-Irish brigade."

A corporal of the Royal Irish Regiment describes visits to the camp at Limburg by Sir Roger Casement and by an American priest in order to induce the Irish prisoners of war there to join the proposed brigade. The proposal was answered by a letter drafted and signed by the senior N.C.O.'s of different Irish battalions and sent to the German Emperor.

They said: We fully appreciate the kindness extended in (1) grouping us together under one roof; (2) assuring us of better food; (3) decreasing the amount of fatigue work to be done; but we must beseech his Imperial Majesty to withdraw these concessions unless they are shared by the remainder of prisoners, as in addition to being Irish Catholics we have the honour to be British soldiers.

The rules for the proposed brigade were that it was to be "formed solely for the purpose of fighting for Ireland and securing for her national independence." It was to be paid by the German Government, wear a "special distinctive Irish uniform" and have only Irish officers. "In the event of Germany gaining a big naval victory" the brigade is to be sent to Ireland, and if not to help to free Egypt from the "British yoke." When the war ended any member of the brigade who so desired it could be sent to America.

Commenting on these proposals recently, the Manchester Guardian said that the Kaiser had not read Mr. Kipling's "Mutiny of the Mavericks" or he might have scented a snub and held his hand.

The British Way.

Britain has the reputation of being slow to start and slow to stop when she has been fully aroused. It is sometimes profitable to know what our enemy thinks about us. M. Zolteln Ambrus, one of the most prominent Hungarian Publicists, in an article discussing the probabilities of an early peace, comes to the conclusion that peace, early or late, depends entirely on England.

He draws this conclusion from what he calls the "stubbornness and bulldog persistency of the English character." He says:

"The bulldog typifies the obstinacy in which the English have no rival and which demands our unwilling respect for them. We see that the Englishman—unlike the 'good business man' he is so persistently called—on seeing that his esteemed Ally is being slowly but surely defeated, instead of withdrawing from the struggle and making the best of it, will do his utmost to settle down for three or four years of war, and will work this bulldog obstinacy to crush his enemy in the end. When that end may be in no concern of his. He begins the business and will see it through."

"Those people," M. Ambrus concludes, "who look forward for an early peace in the world with longish hearts must turn their eyes towards England hopelessly, for as long as the rays of peace are not originating from the two great islands in the west there is no hope for peace."

The Home in Japan.

The Japanese home is an excellent training ground for discipline. All must obey the Head, but he is bound also by custom and many religious regulations. The atmosphere is almost always one of kindness, gentleness, and good manners. Children are not allowed in Japan, to go to school until the March or September after they are six, but when that important event takes place they are already disciplined little human beings, with great respect for learning and some thirst for knowledge. They have already done some small share of the work of the home, they have been taught something of the history and literature and religion of their country, they are expert in manners, and are keen little patriots. All this education has been given them in their home. A true conception of a Japanese home is necessary for any clear knowledge of the Japanese nation, and explains many things, e.g. the fact that workhouses, old age pensions, school attendance officers, a cane in the schoolroom, and a truant school are unnecessary and inexplicable to the Japanese people.—E. P. Hughes, in "The Highway."

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARTERS GET IN COWS.

Asked for Prohibition.

Premier Murray promised a delegation of clergymen and laymen last night that his Government would give serious consideration to their request that the Nova Scotia Temperance Act be amended to provide prohibition for Halifax City. He agreed with the petitioners that the war presented a new phase of the question of licensed bars versus prohibition. Premier Murray was given an enthusiastic reception by the large number of delegates present. The members of the Government present were Premier Murray, Hon. O. T. Daniels, Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Hon. Geo. E. Faulkner, Hon. Jason M. Mack, and Hon. Robert M. MacGregor.

Those who spoke in favor of prohibition included the Rev. Manilton Wigle, Rev. L. J. Donaldson, Mrs. Frank Powers, J. T. Wilson, Rev. Clarence MacKinnon, Rev. H. R. Grant, Rev. W. I. Croft, Rev. Mr. Freeman, W. O. Creighton and Rev. Dr. Moore of Toronto.

City Solicitor F. H. Bell spoke of the difficulties of enforcing prohibition.

Mr. Bell stated that the temperance workers did not want a plebescite, so he would ask them to seriously consider how a Prohibition act could be enforced if it did not have the support of the people. The temperance advocates must bear in mind that many of them were not in favor of prohibition. He referred to Sydney, and stated that because of public opinion there liquor was almost openly sold, and the traffic was not as well regulated there as it was in Halifax. During the course of his remarks he was frequently interrupted and told to sit down.—Halifax Recorder, Nov. 17th.

Women's Wages On War Services.

A ledger clerk earning £2 a week joined the Army and was replaced by a girl at 17s. 6d., who did all the work. Another clerk at the same salary left two months later and was replaced by another girl at 17s. 6d., net result being that the firm, instead of paying £4 a week, paid 35s. Only one male ledger clerk is left, but he is very uneasy; but, characteristically not because the women are shamefully underpaid for doing identical work, but because he feels his tenure and the taking back of the other men as very insecure—the firm may wish to pursue these economical tactics. These girls were supplied to the firm by a well-known crammie establishment, and presumably advised to accept these conditions. But it is the same in the Civil Service—e.g., Post Office.—The Educational Times.

WITH SPIES OF GERMANY.

Providence, R.I., Nov. 12.—The Providence Journal says to-day: "Dr. Joseph Gorlick, who has been a prominent official in the Austro-Hungarian consular service for fifteen years, and who resigned his office on December 20th of last year, made a statement to the Providence Journal in which he declares that the United States is honeycombed with German and Austrian spies working directly for Count von Bernstorff and Consul-General Von Nuber, and that every Austro-Hungarian consul in the country is the centre of a hot-bed of propaganda for the destruction of munition factories, for the creation of strikes among labor men working in such factories, and for every act of violence that is being committed here to-day, having these objects in view."

Why We Live Longer.
 "When Goodyear discovered the vulcanizing process of treating rubber he added immortality to the world's health. About fifty million pairs of rubber boots and shoes are made, sold and worn in the United States every year. When you reflect that the most fruitful cause of colds—and all the dangerous and fatal diseases that colds lead to—is a pair of wet feet, it is easy to see that this enormous use of rubber footwear must have a very marked influence on the general standard of health. When Goodyear discovered how to make rubbers, human longevity took a great bound forward."—Popular Science.
