CHAPTER XXVIII.

He had thought it dead—dead and buried with the too faithful Bella, but he discovered that it had sprung from the ashes, and that it burned with a fiercer and more intense fire than before.

As he stood before the mirror and regarded the placid, almost unnaturally calm face reflected there, he murmured, as a man does who hides nothing from himself, who plays at no hide-and-seek with his own conscience:

"I love Lucille, Countess Vitzarelli—I, who thought to love no more! And why? Who shall say? Perhaps because—because—there is the shadow of a likeness in her face and form to her who died for love of me. Perhaps because I have seen by chance behind the mask of peace and prosperity she wears so well. Perhaps because I see a fitting soul to link with mine. For all these reasons, perchance. But—without reason or none, 'tis the same—I, Reginald Dartmouth love her."

And for Reginald Dartmouth to say he loved was to say that he meant to woo and, by fair means or foul, win.

Whose game was empire, and whose stakes were thrones, whose table earth—whose dice were human bones!—Byron.

"And so you think there is something more than appears on the surface in the Vitzarellis?"

The speaker was Reginald Dartmouth, leaning on a fauteuil in the private billiard room of the Duke of Tethers. The person to whom the question was addressed was a foreign diplomat, an astute man of the world, behind the political scenes of every court in Europe, and possessing a key to the most intricate mazes of diplomatic life.

The tone of the question was careless, almost indifferent, touched only with a slight appearance of interest and amused curiosity—nothing more.

Sir Bardolph smiled the smile that had puzzled many a crowned head.

"Perhaps," he said, softly, "we are all something more than appears upon the surface, mon cher capitaine. Men do not wear their hearts upon their sleeves for daws to peck at now—women have long discontinued to do so. Look around you and tell me how much, or, rather, confess how little you know of the secret purposes and aims of this roomful. I am behind the scenes a great deal, and in my fights from land to land, from court to court, see and hear many things; but it is, after all, but scratching the outside lava of the volcano; to reach the fire, to discover where, how, and why the fire smolders and burns, that is impossible. There, in that corner, looking like an idiot or a child of three years, sits one of the puppet-pullers of the world. His name is Lemestoff. See him twittering like a canary to the little old woman at his side. They are talking of the last song, criticising the dresses, and doing it with the greatest interest; but, tongue, but it remains at its post. He is thinking, thinking; deciding, at this moment, perhaps, the day for the Germans to pour down with the cry of war upon the ill-fated Danes, or Austrians, as the case may be."

Captain Dartmouth was silent. The diplomat went on: "As for madam the countess and the white-haired Elrado, their game—I speak not vulgarly, but as one who remembers that we are all 'players' in another sense as well as the theatrical one—their game is broken in two parts. One, the man's, is Italy; the other, the countess's, is—what shall I say? It may be Italy, for she is an Italian—at least, by repute. Italy is in a transition state. Plots and conspiracies are being hatched every hour. In this room are a dozen men—ay, and women, too—who have sworn at the risk of their lives to uphold the cause of what they call liberty. At the risk of their lives. One and all hold their existence in their hands. They are conspirators, dyed with blood. Let their secret transpire and their heads must pay the forfeit, or they must be banished from their dear Italy, which they would consider infinitely worse. They have pledged themselves to overthrow the present state of things, and have come over here to plot."

"But"—and Reginald Dartmouth smiled subtly—"but too many to hold a secret, they say, is to let it step 'twixt finger and thumb. One may turn traitor."

Bardolph smiled. "No," he said, coolly, "for every man has pledged himself to do more than keep the faith himself; he has taken an oath more terrible and awe-inspiring than I can tell to avenge the cause on him who plays false. Every man knows that if he turned traitor at sunset, before sunrise a hundred—a thousand—men would be on his track, a thousand daggers would be thirsting for his blood. There would be no escape. Let him fly to the ice of Siberia, and the avenger would appear in the shape of the ferryman who carried him over the stream. Let him climb the highest snow peaks of Switzerland, and one of the band would strike in the form of his guide. Here, where safety is most likely to be found, in the ballrooms and public places of London the relentless daggers would be waiting their opportunity. He would find the assassin beside his bed at midnight, would feel his steel as he entered his carriage, or from some flower, tendered by the hand of beauty, inhale the fatal odor of the deadly poison pressed into the service of the terrible band. No, there can be no traitors, for by this time all have learned that from treason the next step is death."

"Can it be possible?" exclaimed Captain Dartmouth. "It reads like a page from one of our popular romances. Secret Society; members pledged by terrible oath; treason punished by death! My dear Sir Bardolph, here are the ingredients for a startling melodrama."

The diplomat smiled. "It is not unreasonable or unnatural that you should receive my revelations rather incredulously. It is an extraordinary state of things, but of its truth there can be no doubt. Nay, more, I think I can give you some proof. See that lady yonder?"

And he glanced in the direction of the Countess Vitzarelli, who at the moment entered the room.

"I see her," replied Reginald Dartmouth, with the slightest flush of emotion.

"She is coming this way," said Sir Bardolph. "Now watch me."

The countess, superb with her southern beauty and princely diamonds, glided toward them.

As Reginald rose and took her proffered hand she smiled and uttered a few words of greeting.

Reginald Dartmouth, while replying with reverential respect, saw, with a glance of his quick eyes, that Sir Bardolph had placed one finger on his heart as he rose and kept it there for a moment, indeed until he had elicited the signal of response from the countess, who, with a peculiar smile, full of meaning and significance, pressed her small, taper finger to her side and glided on.

Sir Bardolph sank into his seat with a quiet smile of triumph. Reginald Dartmouth stroked his mustache thoughtfully.

"You observed?" said Sir Bardolph. Reginald Dartmouth inclined his head.

"I saw you place your fore-finger against your heart and fancied that the Countess Vitzarelli answered the gesture."

"It was no fancy," replied Sir Bardolph. "That is the secret sign—or, at least, one of them—whereby we know each other."

"You, then, are one of the band?" queried the captain.

"I am a member, or at least cognizant of, nearly all the secret societies of Europe," returned Sir Bardolph.

"And, pardon me; but would not this disclosure that you have just made to me of the sign be considered to savor of treason?"

Sir Bardolph shook his head. "I am a favored individual," he said. "I am allowed a very wide margin. They know that I could quash them all—Communists, Carlists, Reds, one and all—and so they let me alone. Besides," and he rose with a repetition of the diplomatic smile, "it is scarcely a revelation—'tis but a premature initiation, for, if I mistake not, Captain Dartmouth will soon be enrolled among the Vitzarelli followers."

Reginald Dartmouth frowned and shot a glance of anger after the languid, self-possessed figure. He disliked being read more than most men, but he knew his man too well to resent it. Few secrets were such to Sir Bardolph.

Harding Receives Republican Nomination

Presidential Dark Horse Brought in at the Last Moment -- Head of Albanian Delegation Assassinated in Paris--Trail Yacht Vanitie Wins Third Victory Over Resolute -- Anglo-Japanese Agreement to be Continued.

SENATOR HARDING NOMINATED. CHICAGO, June 13. Warren Harding, United States Senator from Ohio, was nominated for President last night by the Republican National Convention, after a deadlock which lasted for nine ballots and which finally forced out of the running all the original favorites. His running mate the convention named Governor Calvin Coltrige of Massachusetts, upsetting the plan of the combination of Harding backers to nominate for a place Senator Lenfest of Wisconsin. The collapse of the forces of Governor Frank Lowden and their transfer in a large part to Senator Harding put the Ohio candidate over. Harding received a franchise over 520 votes.

ANGLO-JAPANESE AGREEMENT. WASHINGTON, June 13. In order that the Dominions of Canada and Australia may exercise the right to express their views at the Imperial Conference to be held, probably in London, next fall, a decision has been reached by the British Government to continue the existing treaty between Great Britain and Japan. The understanding reached between the two nations is believed here to be based upon an abandonment of any effort at present, to change the conditions of the existing treaty. This treaty, it is said, will continue in force indefinitely subject, however, that either Government may after July thirteen give notice of its intention to ask for amendments or

PASHA ASSASSINATED. PARIS, June 13.

Essad Pasha, head of the Albanian Delegation in Paris and former President of Albania, was assassinated here to-day. Three shots were fired at him by an Albanian student, two of which took effect. Essad was emerging from the Hotel Continental in the Rue Castillon when he was suddenly confronted by a young man, who later gave his name as Rustem Aveni, and said he was an Albanian student. Without uttering a word Aveni fired two shots which struck Essad Pasha in the chest and another shot which went wild. Essad sank to the ground. He was picked up and taken to his bedroom where he shortly afterwards died. The assassin was arrested by a waiter. He told the police he arrived in Paris on May 1st and declared the crime was not premeditated. Recognizing Essad Pasha on the street, whom he held to be responsible for the sufferings of Albania, he said he felt a sudden impulse and fired the shots.

SUGAR CARGO DESTROYED. NEW YORK, June 13.

Part of a cargo of sugar valued at a million and a half, was destroyed here yesterday, when fire broke out in the second hold of the French line steamer Cardigan. The ship was loading for Havre.

VANITIE SCORES AGAIN. NEWPORT, R.I., July 13.

The Vanitie scored her third victory in the seventh race with the Resolute, for the America's Cup defense honors on Saturday. The Gardner boat's margin was four minutes and eight seconds in addition to the allowance which she gave. The course was a triangular one, of two reaches and one beat.

POLES DRIVEN BACK. LONDON, June 13.

Polish lines, both north and south of Kiev, on the west bank of the Dnieper are being driven in by the Bolsheviks, who are cutting Polish railway communications with the city, according to Friday's official communication from Moscow.

A BRUTAL DUEL.

NEW YORK, June 13. Omfreio Carracolo, a barber, armed with revolver, and Louis Viscoho, longshoreman, with a knife, fought an uneven duel in a lonely spot in Seventeenth Street last night until Viscoho had been killed. The barber, covered with blood and badly slashed about the arms and legs, was captured by the police, as he was running from the scene. Carracolo, the police say, said that the men's quarrel was about the longshoremen's strike, and it was agreed that each should retire to his room and return with whatever weapons he possessed and fight it out.

PRIZE RING.

LONDON, June 13. Joe Beckett, champion heavyweight of England, and Tommy Burns, ex-champion of the world, have signed articles for a twenty-round contest at the Albert Hall on July 15th.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

CAIRO, June 13. An unsuccessful attempt was made this morning to assassinate the Egyptian Premier by means of bomb.

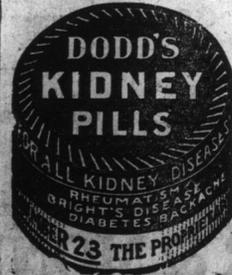

A HARDING BOOM.

CHICAGO, June 13. Harding of Ohio, emerged to-day from the all night conference of Republican Chieftains as the man expected to break the imminent deadlock on the presidential nomination. On him they plan to concentrate their strength should the convention fail to break through the blockade established yesterday by four ballots. Senator Harding participated in the conference and also saw Senator Johnson in the latter's private apartments, but the Californian Senator described the visit as a "convention call." Details of the meeting were not disclosed. It gained significance because the backers of the Harding movement are looking to Johnson supporters for aid if their plans materialize.

THE CARRANZA MURDER.

MEXICO CITY, June 13. Generals Murguia, Urquiza, Montes and Barragan have been formally detained in connection with the death of former President Carranza. This action was taken by the Third Federal District Court last night.

Laying of the Corner Stone Of the Roman Catholic Church at Grand Falls.

Sunday, the 6th of June was a memorable day in the life of Grand Falls and in the history of the Roman Catholic Church in this vicinity, particularly. It was the occasion of the laying of the corner stone of our new church. His Lordship, Bishop March, arrived here on the No. 1 express, Friday morning, and spent that day and Saturday in visiting and inspecting the new erection and the schools.

Sunday was a day of bright sunshine, and the appearance of the grounds decorated with bunting, the presence of a large and devout congregation standing bareheaded under the bright canopy of heaven, while the Bishop, robed in Pontificals, with the beautiful ceremony which the ritual of the church provides for such occasions, laid the block of marble in position, made a profound impression upon all present and augured a bright and prosperous future for the Parish. At the conclusion of the ceremony of the laying of the corner stone which took place at 10.30, Mass was celebrated by the Rev. W. Finn, P.P. After Mass His Lordship preached a most impressive sermon upon the meaning which the church attaches to the beautiful ceremony of the laying of the corner stone of a temple to be dedicated to God. The sermon was heard with rapt attention, at the conclusion of which His Lordship took his seat on the predella of the Sanctuary, while a committee on behalf of the congregation came to the altar rails and presented to him the following

ADDRESS:
To the Right Rev. John March, D.D., Bishop of Harbour Grace.

May I please Your Lordship,—
The laity of Grand Falls and adjoining settlements, in unison with their esteemed Pastor, avail of this opportunity to tender you their hearty felicitations on your safe return from your Ad Limina visit, and especially to bid you a whole-souled welcome to the Parish.

The purpose of your visit, at this juncture, we regard as marking a most important period in the history and development of the Catholic church in Grand Falls; and our hearts are overflowing with joy and gratitude as gathered around you, we witness the solemn ceremony of the laying of the corner stone of an edifice which we aspire to make a lasting memorial of the faith that is in us and a fitting dwelling place for Him at the mention of whose Name "every knee shall bow."
We are all the more encouraged in this undertaking in view of the rapid advances the church has made, here as elsewhere in your diocese, under your prudent council, wise guidance and financial aid.

To Catholic education, which features so appropriately in the church's mission of teaching all nations, you have ever directed an apostolic zeal commensurate with its dignity and importance; with the result, that the youth of the diocese go forth from our educational institutions, equipped with a knowledge of that priceless treasure of Catholic faith well calculated to safeguard their eternal interests and allay the anxiety of parents as well as rejoice the heart of a prince of the church.

From the Pontifical Throne you bring to your fold the Apostolic blessing. Bowed in reverence to your Lordship and to our Holy Father, we receive it of your hands, and, as the sentiment excited within us is unable to express itself sufficiently in mere words, we ask you to do us the honor of accepting the accompanying gift as an unalloyed assurance of our unwavering loyalty and devotion to Holy Mother Church and her official representative.

Signed on behalf of the Roman Catholic citizens of Grand Falls.
June 6th, 1920.

J. H. Judge, W. A. Shannahan, Thos. J. Dunphy, M. Lefebvre, Michael J. Shallow, Edward P. Quinn, James Healey, Gregory Kelly, Freeman C. Petrie, John McHugh, Patk. J. Connors, John C. Cashin, John J. Conran, A. Bennett, W. R. Hogan, P. J. Griffin, M. J. Nugent.

Replying, His Lordship cordially thanked the congregation for the fine sentiments of loyalty and devotion to the Vicar of Christ and the Bishop of the diocese expressed in their address. It was with great pleasure he noted the rapid progress made by the church in Grand Falls, warranting the erection of a new church which, when finished, would occupy a prominent place in the ecclesiastical architecture of the Dominion. In undertaking to build a Church of the costly material and dimensions outlined, the comparatively small parish of Grand Falls had set itself a difficult task, but if the enthusiasm and harmony already displayed continue, he felt that even the impossible would be made possible and the possible easy. His Lordship congratulated Grand Falls Catholic Academy for the truly phenomenal success it had achieved in last year's C.H.E. exams, establishing a record never before reached by any school in the Island. The position of the Catholic Church with regard to education was clear and unmistakable. While we wish well to other schools, we take an unflinching stand for the principles that must inform our own.

"To us," continued His Lordship, "the salvation of the soul is infinitely more important than the highest worldly gain. Hence the knowledge that informs and directs us to that end must rank in our educational curriculum in accordance with its importance and necessity. We must insist, therefore, that our schools be permeated with a religious atmosphere, so that our children, while seeking an education that may enable them to pursue their worldly avocations, will, at the same time, imbibe a knowledge of our holy faith and be informed with the spirit of Christian virtue that will lighten to them the more exalted way that leads to the vision of God."

At the conclusion of his reply, His Lordship imparted the Papal Blessing. An incident of the occasion was the presentation by Notre Dame Council No. 2053 K. of C., of a beautiful silver trowel used by His Lordship in the laying of the corner stone. During his stay, a number of prominent citizens came to pay their respects to His Lordship and bid him welcome to the Paper Town, and all expressed the hope that it would soon be his pleasing duty to return and dedicate to the service of God the church begun under such favorable auspices.—M.J.N.

Police Court.

A case against parties for a breach of the Fishery Regulations was deferred.

Two residents of Pouch Cove were summoned at the instance of the Marine and Fisheries Department for having traps set in berths allotted to others. Mr. Barron for the prosecution pressed for a conviction. Mr. A. B. Morine for the defence moved for a dismissal as there was nothing in the Act to prohibit a man from setting a trap in a particular spot. It was not a case for the Crown, as the aggrieved party, if any, was the party who drew the number of the berth, and he could take civil action for damages against the defendant. Justice McCarthy deferred judgment until this afternoon.

MRS WHITE WANTS THE TRUTH MADE PUBLIC

Halifax Woman Believes It Her Duty To Tell Others How Tanlac Restored Her Health.

It is really wonderful how different Tanlac is from all the other medicines I have ever taken," said Mrs. E. A. White, of 55 Gerish St., Halifax, N.S., recently, when telling of her remarkable recovery of health.

"Tanlac has helped me so much that I feel like going out and telling everybody about it," continued Mrs. White. "I am only too glad to give this statement because it was through the recommendations of others that I was led to try the medicine and am a well and happy woman to-day."

"I was in a terribly run-down condition and could find nothing to build me up. My nerves were so bad that I couldn't sit still long enough to do anything like needle work, and any sudden noise would make me jump and tremble like a leaf. Scarcely a week went by without my having a bilious headache and it was no uncommon thing for me to be laid up in bed for two or three days at a time. I slept so poorly at nights that I always got up feeling tired out. I lost fifteen pounds in weight and my friends all remarked how ill I was looking, and I got so weak towards the last that I thought I should have to give up entirely."

"I had taken so many different medicines without getting any benefit from them that it was a long while before I could be persuaded to try Tanlac, but several of my friends recommended it so highly that at last I decided to see if it would help me. I have taken five bottles of it in all and I can honestly say that I am like a different woman. I am no longer bothered with those dreadful bilious headaches, my nerves are as steady as a clock, and I get such restful sleep at night that I get up in the morning feeling full of life and energy. I have regained all my lost weight and feel as though I had a new lease on life. My wonderful improvement has been remarked on by many of my friends and I always take the opportunity of telling them that it is entirely due to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors; by Reg. Sullivan, Pouch Cove; Sound Island Store, Sound Island; Dennis Flynn, Avondale; J. J. O'Brien, Cape Broyle.—adv.

To-day's Messages.

A TOKIO REPORT.

TOKIO, June 13.
Information that the Moscow Government has been overthrown, that Leon Trotsky has been killed and that Premier Lenin has escaped, said to have come from the Vladivostok Government, is printed in an extra edition of Asahi Shimbun. The new government headed by General Brusiloff, is reported to have been established.

TO BLOCK THE MERGER.

MONTREAL, June 13.

A circular letter has been addressed to all the shareholders of the Dominion Steel Corporation asking for proxies for the annual meeting by George Caverhill, R. Dandurand, Sir William Mackenzie, William McMaster, J. R. Plummer and E. R. Wood, members of the Company's Board of Directors, which proxies shall cancel any sent to Roy Wolvin, President. The letter states that these directors have decided to call a special meeting of the common stockholders of the Company which they have received fuller information on the terms to be obtained from the British Empire Steel Corporation. Mark Workman, ex-President of the Company, has cabled from England protesting against "amalgamation without information."

LONDON UNINFORMED.

LONDON, June 13.

Nothing has been received in London from any source confirmatory of a report from Tokio that Bolshevik Governments have been overthrown by revolution, and Leon Trotsky killed. Bolshevik military communiques by wireless have been received daily, and the latest dated June 13 was received to-day and announces that the Bolsheviks have occupied Kiev.

UNINTELLIGIBLE MESSAGES.

PARIS, June 13.

Persistent reports have been current of a counter-revolution in Russia, but French official circles have no news on the subject. Attention is called, however, to the fact that during Friday messages from Moscow, picked up by French wireless stations, have been unintelligible. A number of messages in Russian, were copied to-night, but it was impossible to make any sense out of them.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

A GILT EDGE TEN PER CENT.

Do you remember the old saw we used to copy in our copy books:— "A penny saved is two pence clear, a pin a day is a groat a year."

I suppose I must have copied that at least a hundred times, and every time I copied it, I wondered—in the way of children have of wondering at the queer, inscrutable sayings of grownups, without ever thinking that they might ask and find out—just what a groat was (since one attained it by saving pins, I fancied it was something made out of pins) and how a penny saved became two pence (which I thought was the same as two pennies.)

Two Pennies for One. All of which reminiscence came back to me when I read an editorial in a business magazine which told me one could really, by saving a penny, have two pennies clear.

It was called "Two Sides of the Fifty-Cent Dollar Proposition," and it reminded us when we are grumbling about the fact that the dollar saved five or ten years ago, will buy but 50 cents' worth to-day, to remember the converse of that proposition. In all likelihood, the dollar saved to-day will five or ten years from now buy two dollars' worth.

The Man Who Will Wait. And isn't that just the investment that any savings bank offers to the man who is willing to-day to defer enjoyment of some of his earnings? Or better still, if you want to make a slightly higher interest on your money, and have a still greater security that you cannot lose the principle unless your Government goes to pieces (and if it does, of what use is property?) why not buy short term Government Bonds?

Gilt Edge Securities with a sure 4 1/2 and 5 per cent. and an almost sure bonus of from 5 to 10 per cent. a year. Was there ever a better opportunity offered to investors? I doubt it.

The Savage Club.

The Savage Club, which was formed on June 14, 1887, is literary, artistic, musical—everything pertaining to the arts, and everything else that is not commonplace. The cleverest men of many professions may be found chatting together in the smoke-room, and you can observe a Royal Academician and a famous novelist discussing the points of the newest play, when lo! the playwright himself suddenly swoops down upon them, and the conversation is switched off to the weather. The members call themselves "brother savages," and Saturday nights are given to feasting together. Above all things they like a "lion," a brand new "lion" amongst them, and if there is a great general fresh from a war, an intrepid explorer newly arrived from the Antarctic region, or a famous musician who has just completed a tour of triumph, depend upon it the Savages will do their best to lure him to dinner, and cheer him when he makes a great speech. Mr. W. E. Gladstone was present at the 22nd anniversary in 1879, and acknowledged the toast of "Literature." Mr. Huxley responded for "art"; Sir Julius Benedict for "music"; Mr. H. J. Byron for the "drama"; M. Henri Van Laun proposed French literature and the drama, for which M. Edmund About and M. Got returned thanks. Lord Dunraven occupied the chair. In 1882 the Prince of Wales (Edward VII.) was a visitor at the club. In July, 1883, a fancy dress ball was held in the Albert Hall, which was attended by the Prince and princess of Wales, and many of the Royal Family. Thirty members of the club, attired as North American Indians acted as the Reception Committee, and performed a variety of ceremonies of an Indian character. Mr. Aaron Watson has written an interesting volume on the club, giving its history, anecdotes, and reminiscence. The volume contains a chapter by Mark Twain, and a photogravure frontispiece, four colored plates, and over sixty other illustrations. Mr. A. Halliday publish-

COMMITTEE MEETINGS.
For this and that and various things It seems that men must get together. To purchase cups or diamond rings Or to discuss the price of leather; From nine to ten, or two to three, Or any hour that's fast and fleet— There is a constant call for me To go to some committee meeting.

The church has serious work to do, The lodge and club has need of workers. They ask for just an hour or two— Surely I will not join the shirkers? Though I have duties of my own I should not drop before completing, There comes the call by telephone To go to some committee meeting.

No longer may I eat my lunch In quietude and contemplation, I must foregather with the bunch To raise a fund to save the nation; And I must talk of plans and schemes The while a scanty bite I'm eating, Until I vow to-day it seems My life is one committee meeting.

When over me the night shall fall And my poor soul goes upwards winging Unto that heavenly realm, where all Is bright with joy and gay with singing, I hope to hear St. Paul say— And I shall thank him for the greeting: "Come in and rest from day to day, Here there is no committee meeting!"

Why the Trout Died.

Re the dead trout referred to by both News and Evening Telegram as having been found in the Waterford and Quidi Vidi Rivers—those trout died for want of oxygen—the normal quantity in the shallow streams having been depleted, and owing to the continued absence of rain no accession of oxygen was possible. Time and again we have heard the complaint from anglers that "though the river is full of fish they won't rise—we must wait for rain." Low water in the streams means scant rain fall, and consequent scarcity of oxygen—result, the fish become enervated and lethargic—physically incapable of "rising to the fly." Copious rains soon change the aspect of things in this respect.—Com.

Regatta Committee Meets To-night . . . Last year's Regatta Committee meets at 8 o'clock this evening in the T. A. Armoury, when all last season's affairs will be finalized. At 8.30 a meeting of citizens will be held, and the 1920 Committee elected. Considerable interest in this year's Regatta is already being evinced.

1,000 Men Fought Forest Fires.

All Fires Reported Out—Timber Damage Not So Extensive as Feared. Dr. A. Campbell, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, returned from along the line Saturday night, having been out looking after the extinguishing of forest fires. He had more than 1,000 men engaged at this work and all the blazes were extinguished. Not nearly so much timber as reported was destroyed, the Minister says.

More Vitality Than Ever.

In the countries on the neighboring continent, the people are beginning to be told by close observers that the high cost of living is fighting for its life, and authoritative students of economy are being freely quoted as expressing their belief that prices are at last on the toboggan, "and the nightmare of excruciating expenditures is ending." This must be good news to the consumers of these countries, who have been paying the maximum price for the minimum of quality, and have been oppressed with a burden greater than they could reasonably hope to carry much longer. Price slashing has been introduced in many cities, departmental stores making sweeping reductions on their wares, in the hope of doing something wherewith to relieve a stringent purchasing situation, but pessimists see in this only signs of greater increases in prices ere long. The more optimistically inclined look upon it as a beginning and many are convinced that the high price ogre has received a mortal wound and that retail prices are down to stay. The New York Tribune is the authority for a statement made by the President of the Retail Dry Goods Association, in which Mr. Saks declares "that we are coming back to earth. Honest work, more production and consequently more competition will result in a permanent softening of prices." Another financier is of the opinion that "the general trend of prices of commodities will be downward from now on."

These expressions are given to show that there is some hope for the easing up of the climb of prices in the lives of our next door neighbors, and it would be real consoling if similar sentiments could be expressed in Newfoundland. But unfortunately that cannot be. The high cost of living ogre in this dominion is being endowed with more vitality than ever, and far from being stricken mortally, a fresh infusion of strength is being given it by the Government who intend to implement the already overheavy load by adding on a round million and a half dollars to the general current expenditure, which means that an equivalent sum will have to be collected on general current revenue to even up, thus compelling the consumer to dig further down in his pockets to pay the excess of duties that will have to be taxed on food and clothing. No other country's administration is—perhaps—taking less interest in the affairs of its population, than is that of Newfoundland. Personal aggrandizement appears to be the sole object of our rulers, and with the power in their possession they are not slow to take advantage of it to vote themselves large salaries out of the public revenues. The prospects of slumping fish prices do not appear to alarm them in any way. Trifling personal affairs are considered of more value than the markets abroad and their condition as it affects Newfoundland and no measures are being taken to improve a situation that is largely the outcome of amateur legislation.

Misrepresentation of facts and distortion of the speeches of experienced legislators, will not help the Government any, and it is criminal for a certain section of the press favorable to the administration to gloss over the existing state of things and present fiction for fact. There will undoubtedly be buyers of fish next fall. So long as Newfoundland produces and exports fish there must be local purchasers. So long as supplies continue to be given out on credit so long must the suppliers accept fish in payment of accounts. BUT WHAT ABOUT THE PRICE OF FISH NEXT FALL? Hon. R. K. Bishop, whom the Advocate quotes on Saturday in defense of the Fish Regulations, and their subsequent value, declared in the Legislative Council Chamber on Friday last, while speaking to these same Regulations, that "He did not think there was any hope of obtaining ten dollars per quintal for Labrador fish this fall, or twelve dollars for Shore fish, and it was a serious mistake on the part of the Minister (Mr. Coaker) to send the fishermen away with these prices in their minds."

The honorable gentleman was quite frank in making this statement, and he believed that which he uttered, and his declaration impressed other honorable gentlemen. Fishermen will be wise to remember the words of Mr. Bishop. If they were told to go ahead with the fishery on promise of ten dollars for Labrador and twelve dollars for Shore Fish, they were deceived, and it is patent that the Minister of Marine and Fisheries must have told them that these prices would obtain, otherwise a strong champion of the Government as Hon. Mr. Bishop is, would not have said that such was a mistake and an error. The fruit that this promise of high prices may yield will be very bitter to the taste of those who accepted it in good faith, and are relying on its fulfillment at the end of the voyage.

Petition Will Be Presented.

CARBONEAR, To-day.
Special to Evening Telegram.
Respecting inquiry in your paper of June 11th, re petition protesting against the passage of the Fish Export Regulations from Carbonear, I may set the minds of petitioners at ease by telling them they need not make any inquiries of the person to whom the petition was entrusted, as I will assure them it went through the proper channel, and no doubt will be heard from in a day or two.
PETITIONER.

Married at Carbonear.

Miss Florence Guy, daughter of Mr. James P. Guy, and Rev. Albert Johnston were married at Carbonear on Thursday, 10th inst., by Rev. J. R. Saint. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left for Holyrood. They leave shortly for Canada. The Telegram extends felicitations to Mr. and Mrs. Johnston.

St. John's women, who really appreciate those delicacies and refinement which are so essential to perfect dress, should see the Charming Dress Silks opened at BISHOP'S on Saturday. Gorgeous materials for day and evening wear.

McMurdo's Store News.

MONDAY, June 14.
We would remind you that we have an excellent selection of genuine French Ivory Goods—Boxes, Trays, Brushes, Mirrors, Manicure implements, Bouquet Holders, Soap Boxes, etc. all of dainty patterns, and of the finest workmanship. These goods are in great demand for wedding and birthday presents, being very ornamental as well as useful, and many people prefer French Ivory to silver for personal use, as they are lighter, handier, and much more easily kept clean. If you are looking for something especially nice to give somebody, have a look through our stock.

Mews, C. M.G., J. W. Withers, C. P. Ayre and Dr. V. F. Durka. The Telegram extends congratulations to Mr. Ashbourne and to his Alma Mater.

Trouble Brewing.

An eight gallon keg, a jar and some bottle of liquor were seized by the night police early this morning. It is said to be part of a shipments salted down on the S.S. Terra Nova, which arrived yesterday from St. Pierre. Over-vigilance on the part of some body has, it is authoritatively stated, made trouble between the police and the Custom authorities. The police, so we are informed, went aboard the ship and seized a part case of spirits, supposed to be owned by an ardent prohibitionist. Complete particulars are not available at the moment, all interested being reluctant to talk about the matter, but no doubt some startling developments will likely be the outcome.

C. L. B. Parade.

The C. L. B. Church Ladies Brigade Cadets paraded at the Armoury at 10 a.m. yesterday, where they were inspected by Col. R. F. Goodridge, O.C. and Major Raley M.G., Adjutant. A.P.C. and K. Co.'s were present with a squad from Shannon Mann Farm. The parade numbered 300 of all ranks. The Battalion marched by way of Military Road to St. Thomas's Church for eleven o'clock service. The preacher, Rev. C. A. Moulton, addressed the ladies forcibly on the matter of Public Worship, and particularly referred to the habit of kneeling on one knee, and assuming a partly sitting posture, as many wrongly do. He urged his hearers to kneel on both knees. After church service the battalion proceeded to the Armoury, where the Lieut.-Col. addressed the ladies and presented the following officers with their commissions: Lieuts. F. P. Rendell, Frank Miles, Hendry, Colley and House. The sectional commander of the Outerbridge Shield Competition, Corporal Ewing was also presented with his medal for winning the competition. The officers were then photographed on the steps of the Armoury, by Holway. Negotiations are underway to get J. Co., Wabans, to visit St. John's on Saturday, June 26, for inspection by His Excellency on St. George's Field and for Church Parade, June 27. The Brigade here has affiliated itself with the great Cadet movement in England. The affiliation with the King's Royal Rifle Corps will be inaugurated June 26, when His Excellency will inspect and address the Battalion. The officers meet Thursday night in the Mess room to discuss the question of financing this year's camp at Top-sall. The Quartermaster has already cabled for a new supply of tents.

The Battle of Naseby.

Naseby was one of the battles in a great war that was fought on English soil. That was nearly 300 years ago, for which we ought to be thankful. The village of Naseby, in Northamptonshire, is very nearly in the centre of England and the surrounding country is high rolling uplands. Here, on the height called Mill Hill, stood the Parliamentary army, under the command of Fairfax, on the morning of June 14, 1645. Cromwell, not yet in supreme control, had the command of the horse that day. On the opposite hill King Charles arranged his army for his last battle. The space between was called the Broad Moor. The battle was opened by Prince Rupert, on the King's right wing, charging up the hill. He routed the forces opposed to him and went on to the baggage waggons of the Parliamentary army, with a view to plunder, but was beaten off. Meanwhile, Cromwell, on the Parliamentary right, charged down the hill and routed all before him. Then, having no thoughts about plunder, he turned on the King's main army. For three hours there was hard hand-to-hand fighting, with sword and pike and musket. The field was heaped with slain and Cromwell began to get the upper hand when Rupert returned. Rupert did his best, rallied the King's cavalry, and prepared to charge. But it was too late his troopers would not face Cromwell's victorious army. They turned and fled, were pursued for miles and most of them slain. The King fled to Leicester. His coach and papers were seized. His cause was lost. He fitted from place to place, trying to raise new armies, and was finally captured, tried and executed. His crime was trying to govern the country without the interference of Parliament. Compared to the Kaiser, he was no criminal at all. If his execution was just and right, that of the Kaiser is fifty times more so.

Warns the Council.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir,—I was pleased to see and read the letter of 'Citizen' in your paper of the 12th inst., but the writer could and ought to have gone further, for around the corner and from the junction of the roads at Hayes, as far as Mr. Rusch's house on the Portugal Cove Road, near where the Council's boundary ceases, the road is more like the bed of a river than a public mainroad. I am one of the many who pass that way daily and I now give the Council notice that should my horse, by stepping on one of the many round loose stones there, stumble, fall and in any way injure itself or damage harness or vehicle, that I shall at once make my claim and if not promptly settled shall institute proceedings to recover same. The whole Portugal Cove Road from King's Bridge to Windsor Lake is in a wretched condition but that portion above referred to, and which I understand comes under the Council's control, is positively dangerous for both man and beast.
 Yours truly,
 RESIDENT.

The Coal Situation And the Legislative Council

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—At the outset of this letter, I wish it to be clearly understood that I believe no profiteering has been going on in coal, so far as the retailer is concerned. We have been paying too much for coal at Sydney, and too high freights. During debate in the Legislative Council last Monday and Tuesday, I quoted figures to prove my position. For shedding coal I allowed 40 cents per ton; Hon. Mr. Grieve said 60 cents. Hon. Mr. Bishop, who has been trying for some time to solve the high cost of coal by importing large shipments in the s.s. Earl of Devon, or at least bringing enough coal to fill fourteen cellars at one time, gave as his opinion that the cost of shedding coal was $1.40 per ton and that my figures were all wrong. The debate was continued on Tuesday. I again maintained that the figures submitted by me on Monday were approximately correct. Hon. Mr. Bishop corrected his figures of the previous day from $1.40 to $1.20 for shedding coal, and $1.00 for landing, in all, $2.20. My hon. friend further stated that he found it cheaper to buy half a ton of coal outside than buy his own. I am not interested in the coal cargo of the Earl of Devon or what became of it, or how it was sold and the price paid for it. I have no interest in political wire pulling, and much less in single or double leg pulling, although both of them often play a part in our Legislative Halls.

In one of our papers Hon. Mr. Bishop is reported as having said that "he would not waste the time of the House by replying at length, because the figures quoted were preposterous and Mr. Anderson's argument was absurd, but he would be quite willing, any time Mr. Anderson and his informant had half an hour, to go into the matter with them, and disprove by the test of his own actual experience in importing cargoes, the ridiculous estimates which Mr. Anderson had put forward." Because my figures did not agree with those of my hon. friend in the cost of shedding, they must be all wrong but a simple statement from his mouth is not proof enough that my figures are all wrong; I will leave these figures for examination to the public. I have no interest in the Dominion Coal Co. I have no shares in the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company, nor do I gamble on margin upon the Stock Exchange of these Companies. I have only one interest, and that is cheaper coal for the country. In trying to do good for our fellow men we are not wasting time.

COAL CARRIERS.

We can never expect to find a solution in the high cost of coal brought from Sydney to St. John's in schooners whose tonnage is only from two hundred to three hundred tons, nor yet will we find a solution by employing such steamers as the

S.S. Thetis	530 tons
S.S. Neptune	550 "
S.S. Ranger	580 "

much less a steamer of the size of the Earl of Devon, whose carrying capacity, I understand, is about 200 tons; these steamers in the coal trade will never reduce the cost. Balling buckets of coal from the ship's side in quarters and half tons in the month of June is not good enough; we must be up and doing. The s.s. Bonaventure, when in the Newfoundland trade, carried 1,300 tons coal. S.S. Bellaventure, 1,350 tons, and the S.S. Adventure, 1,970 tons.

The coal situation has become alarming and serious. I have every confidence that the Government will handle this problem in a thorough and business-like manner. This country requires about two hundred thousand tons of coal, one hundred thousand tons for the Outports, and one hundred thousand tons for the City of St. John's. Newfoundland is a good customer of the Dominion of Canada. Our imports last year were over $12,000,000. We have treated the Bell Island Ore Companies in every way that has been fair and just, and in return we ask for a square deal for this Island in her coal trade. We do not ask coal for ore in a spirit of retaliation; we ask it as a matter of reciprocal justice at a fair price, and assist us with their steamers to bring the coal to St. John's. What we want for the coal trade in St. John's is a steamer to carry from 2000 tons up to 5000 tons at a flat rate per ton, and at a reasonable flat rate for coal per ton without demurrage and extraordinary charges added to the price of coal. The price for Screened North Sydney Coal quoted a few days ago was $7.75 per ton, and for Domestic Coal $7.25.

Newfoundland is entitled to be on the list of the lowest contract paying price of the company for good coal and not dirt and dross. This might be an opportune time to come to some agreement upon the coal and ore question; the Companies are forming themselves into one great Limited Company. The following cable despatch has an interest to the public of St. John's:

"D.L.S. Directorate; Changes expected.—The majority of Directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation have signed a request to President Wolvin for the calling of a special meeting to-morrow when, according to information from well-informed circles financially, the chief question to be considered will be that arising out of the form of proxy sent to shareholders for the annual meeting next Tuesday. It is understood that sweeping changes on the Board are regarded as within possibility and there is talk of resignations before the annual meeting in June."

Plans of merger have taken definite shape and will be known as the British Empire Corporation to have a Capital of $500,000,000. Plans in connection with the British Empire Steel Corporation, Ltd., took definite shape the last week in April, when the Directors of several of the Steel Companies concerned were to meet in Montreal, to have placed before them the offer that had been agreed upon between representatives of the various Companies and Col. Grant Morden and other British interests looking to the merger of these companies in the new corporation. The merging of these companies is the biggest affair of its kind that has ever developed in Canada, as may be indicated by the fact that the authorized capital is $500,000,000. This, it is understood will be divided as follows:

First Preference Stock	$100,000,000
Second do. Stock	150,000,000
Third do. Stock	50,000,000
Common Stock	200,000,000
	$500,000,000

Among the Companies that will be included in addition to the Dominion Steel Corporation, Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company, and Canada Steamship Lines, will be the Halifax Shipyards, Halifax, N.S., Collingwood, Ont., and the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company of Port Arthur, Ont. There will also be included in the merger, The Montreal Transportation Company.

This Dominion owes much to the Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Company; they have paid large sums of money in wages during the past twenty years, which we thank them for, but from a business standpoint it has been a question of value for value received.

Coal valued at 3 cents a ton.
Iron Ore valued at 7 cents a ton.
On the above valuations I leave to the citizens of St. John's to reason together. These figures are recognized on a very conservative basis, on which valuation of assets of the Big Steel Merger is made.

Referring to the big steel merger Col. Grant Morden, M.P., said the British Empire Steel Corporation was not capitalizing the enormous holdings of coal and iron ore which would form part of its assets, and which were in excess of those of U. S. Steel. The surplus financial assets of the British Empire Steel Corporation would show up, comparatively speaking, as strong as the others. Moreover there was $350 of appraised value behind every $100 share of common stock of the new corporation. The basis of the valuation of the coal, Col. Morden said, "is taken at 40 cents a ton at the beginning, and is graded down to 3 cents a ton at the end of 50 years, to meet the increasing charges, and no allowance is made for what coal then remains in the reserve, although the programme as mapped out for mining coal would leave five-sixths of the deposits still untouched at the end of fifty years. So, in the case of iron ore, which we have valued at $1.00 per ton at the start. This is to be scaled down to 7 cents per ton at the end of fifty years, and it is estimated that all the mining of iron ore in that time will have removed only 10 per cent of the total deposits. Our estimates of the value of the ore and coal deposits run to $203,000,000, or one-half of the total assets of the new Corporation."

ESTIMATE OF COST.
The two following flat rates I will leave to the judgment of the public, and if my figures are wrong, than it is only a matter of negotiation to make them right. Fifty thousand tons to be delivered in St. John's during the next four months would be a great relief to the public, and would fill the coal cellars of many a householder in the city.

Hon. Mr. Bishop has made a public statement in the Legislative Council that the figures quoted by me on coal are wrong. My figures I will leave to expert opinion and the judgment of the public. Coal has become a national question and affects the country and every family in St. John's. For months we have been paying a big price for dirt, dross and rubbish. There are three qualities of Household Notes.

If gravy is too salty, stir in a little coarse brown sugar.

Rinse in a saucepan in cold water before heating milk in it.

Honey, butter and nuts make an excellent sandwich filling.

Sweet potatoes are good when candied with maple syrup.

Children are often irritable merely from lack of sleep.

Make hems in the tops of kiddie-socks and slip elastic through.

Beefsteak pie may have a crust of small baking-powder biscuits.

It is well to keep on hand in the larder a dish of cold corned beef.

Try dipping the French-fried potatoes in oatmeal before frying.

Nothing is a better stimulant to the appetite than a plate of soup.

A satisfactory way to finish a floor is to paint it with linseed oil.

An onion and orange salad is delicious served with French dressing.

Line the heels of your slippers with velvet to save your silk stockings.

Let sugar cookies cool in a covered earthen jar lined with a clean cloth.

Bore a few holes in the bottom of an old cocoa tin and use as a flour dredger.

If a sewing needle becomes blunt or hooked, rub it evenly on a sharpening stone.

Keep a button bag near the electric washer for any buttons that are wrung off.

Chorea—St. Vitus' Dance

When children's nerves become starved and exhausted their trouble usually takes the form of Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance or Convulsions.

Rapid growth—physiological changes—urgent school work and examinations mean a tremendous strain on the nervous system of the child who is naturally of a nervous temperament.

The child becomes fretful and irritable. Restless, wriggling movements of the limbs and face— inability to sit still—tendency to drop things from the hands tell of the development of these troubles.

Later, speech is affected and there is irregular twitching of the muscles, squinting of the eyes and other indications of loss of control of the muscles.

Rest in bed in a bright airy room with cheerful companionship and the absence of anything to irritate or excite the nerves is the ideal condition for recovery.

Since the nervous system is completely starved and exhausted it is essential that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food should be used regularly and persistently to build up the depleted nerve cells.

Instead of dwelling on the merits of this well-known food cure we shall refer you to the letters quoted here which tell of actual results accomplished.

<h4>St. Vitus' Dance</h4> Mrs. Wm. Matt, Cordova, Man., writes: "My little girl, ten years old, was not very well, and I noticed some rather odd ways about her. She used to act very strangely at times. I asked the doctor what could be the matter, and he said she had St. Vitus' Dance, to keep her quiet and out of school. He said treatments weren't any use for her. She was affected in this way for a year. I thought something ought to be done, so in looking over Dr. Chase's Almanac I read several testimonials from people who had used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I sent for six boxes, and started this treatment with my daughter. Before she had finished the first box I could see a great change in her, and by the time she had taken the six boxes, she was completely cured. She is real well now, and going to school every day."	<h4>Twitching Nerves</h4> Mrs. M. E. Robson, 170 Dublin St., Peterboro, Ont. writes: "When about the age of 14 or 15 my daughter was on the verge of nervous break-down. She had a very poor appetite, lost all her color, and at times had a twitching of the nerves in her limbs. I secured some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and gave her a treatment, using five or six boxes. The results were splendid, entirely curing her of her nervous trouble, and restoring her appetite. I find Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a splendid Spring tonic, and best results to be found by taking some of the Kidney-Liver Pills at the same time."	<h4>St. Vitus' Dance</h4> Mr. S. F. Flarity, Warton, Ont. writes: "My daughter, eleven years of age, was in a run down condition, and suffered from a nervousness which showed a tendency toward St. Vitus' Dance. I got a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for her, and by the time she had taken three boxes there was a big change in her. She is much stronger, and her system in general is built up. She has recovered from her nervous weakness, and you could not detect a trace of it now. I gladly recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to anyone suffering from nervousness of any kind."	<h4>Convulsions</h4> Mrs. Xavier Albert, St. Francois, N. B. writes: "My daughter, Imelda, was troubled for four years with nervousness. Almost every night, she used to take nervous convulsions. We took her to a doctor, but he did not do her any good. Finally we began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and gradually the convulsions were less and less frequent, until they disappeared altogether. It was two years ago that she used the Nerve Food, and six boxes completely cured her. We are very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done for her."

S. U. F. Dance

This dance, held on Tuesday evening proved a very successful and enjoyable one, and the Masonic Hall was fairly well filled with the young folk, who had foregathered to spend a few hours of recreation and pleasure. Dancing began at 9.30 and was kept up until about 2 a.m. Representatives were present from Heart's Content, Bell Island and St. John's, all of whom voted the gathering a success and were well pleased with their visit. Teas were served in the British Hall. The Committees in charge had but the enjoyment of their guests in view, and all did their part creditably and well. The dance was a great success in every way.—Hr. Grace Standard.

Produce and Provisions.

(From Saturday's Trade Review.)

CODFISH—The total exports of dried codfish this week amounted to 9,494 quintals, of which 7,738 qts. were sent from St. John's, and 1666 from Burin to Halifax. A cable from Ontario to the Marine and Fisheries office on June 7th showed that the stocks of Nfld. fish there were 51,000 qts for the week and sales 11,000 qts. at 56s. The local prices are $3 to $10 for merchantable, other qualities $4 to $7. Labrador, not saleable.

COD OIL—The demand for Common Cod oil is holding good. Messrs. Job Bros. & Co., Ltd. sent 11,301 gallons to New York in the S.S. "Roseland," and are now loading the "Alomda" with about 290 tons. The price in the local market is $310 to $315 per ton. The total yield of the 1919 codfishery is estimated to be about 4,800 tons of Common oil, and of this amount about 4420 tons have been shipped since August. The holdings in all Nfld. of 1919 oil are therefore, now down to about 380, including what is on board the "Alombie."

COD LIVER OIL—We would strongly recommend the Refiners of Cod Liver Oil to arrange with the fishermen in the same way as the principal manufacturers do in the Bay de Verde District.

The Refiners promise to pay 20 cents for the Livers for every Dollar that they get for the Refined Oil. If the price for the manufactured oil is then 40 cents per gallon for the livers.

$1.75 per Gallon for oil pays 35 cents for livers. $1.50 per Gallon for oil pays 30 cents for livers.

This is a fair way for the fish-men as they get full value all the time, and the Refiners are not speculating.

LOBSTERS—Custom's Officer Mr. J. H. Doe, who returned to town from the West Coast this week, reports that those who are in the business of packing Lobsters there, have so far done excellent work. Lobsters are plentiful and a larger size than any season since 1914. There are, he believes, less fishermen engaged at the business this Spring and fewer licenses than last year are being issued. But most of the old time export packers are going on, and greater care, skill and economy than ever being exercised with a view to having good pack. From St. George's and Bonne Bay he also heard the news that the fishery is being vigorously prosecuted and lobsters there are large and plentiful. The packers are expecting a big price, no less than $38.00 per case.

CANNED SALMON—The pack this year promises to be very large. The United Can Co. here are sending 750 boxes of cans to points North to St. Anthony on the French Shore by the next Prospero. Most will be landed at St. Anthony, where there will be great competition in buying fresh salmon amongst the different packers. These cans will be closed by the United Can Co.'s machinery. There will be a station at Packs Harbor, Labrador, also where Mr. Clouston will pack all that will be offered there.

MOLASSES—The manufacture of Fancy Molasses in Barbados has been discontinued for this season as it did not pay, owing to the present price of sugar. The schr. "Mary E. Santor" arrived this week with 177 puncheons, 48 tierces and 35 barrels. The St. John's quotation for Fancy is $1.90 in the puncheon, and for Choice $1.75 per gallon wholesale, tierces 3 cents additional and in barrels 5 cents more than in puncheons.

SUGAR—Sugar is now handled by the Nfld. Food Control Board, and prices have been fixed for the balance of the season. This was deemed necessary, owing to the sharp advances that were cabled every week from the Refiners. If the public were to be protected, it was considered that this control was necessary before prices would reach a level that would be out of reach of the ordinary consumer. Prices are graded for Importers, Jobbers, and Retailers, but we understand that there is a bitter complaint amongst the Retailers, on the ground that the margin of profit allowed them is so small that it does not pay them to handle sugar except for cash. It is a well known fact that mostly run credit accounts and the small percentage of 5 per cent. they say does not pay.

PORK—The U. S. Market continues to fluctuate within narrow limits, but there has been no recent change in the local prices except in Mess Pork, which is now $47.00 wholesale. There is no decided tendency to indicate future values. Shipments from Packing Centres are moderately good, but not as active as last year. The export decrease is very marked, especially to Europe, and this must necessarily influence the future situation. The U. S. reports, however, show a good domestic consumption, which helps to keep down the accumulation of stocks. Fat Back here is $45, Ham Butt $56.00.

BEEF—The Beef market is very dull and there is but small change in prices the past month. Beef is now cheap food and is the only product that is any way near pre-war prices. Boneless can be had for $28 to $29 per barrel, according to quality, and other grades of good sound beef as low as $22.50 per barrel. Future changes in Beef prices up or down will depend on the rate of American Exchange. Plate Beef is $27.00, and Libby's Special Family $36.00.

FLOUR—The North American Wheat crop will certainly be short, and there are no grounds for belief that flour will be cheaper. On the contrary, all the indications at present point to higher flour. The U. S. Winter Wheat is one-third short of last year, and the U.S. Spring wheat sowing is so far short. The same applies generally to Canada, where in addition the growth is said to be three weeks late. Unless the weather conditions in the next few weeks are as perfect as can be desired, the North American crop will be certain to show the serious shortage indicated. Leading Brands here are $17.25 wholesale, other grades $15.50 to $17. Consumers here would do well to take advantage of present prices.

POTATOES—Some small lots are due this week on the S.S. Canadian Miner from Montreal and Gulf Ports. The stocks at Charlottetown are pretty well exhausted, and potatoes are obtainable at present in small lots only. After a few weeks, it is said none will be had there at any price. United States quotations are even higher, and cables received by dealers here this week, show that it would cost $17 a barrel (180 lbs.) to land potatoes here from New York. The first new potatoes on the market will come from Halifax early in August, and after this there will be a steady decline in price. Bonavista Bay and Strait Shore men brought in a few hundred barrels this week and sold them at $12 to $13.00, after a hard struggle to make sure they could not procure $20.00.

Football Game To-Night

The first football game of the season will be played to-night, when the Saints and Highlanders clash. The game has been set for 7 o'clock sharp. This is the first season in which the Highlanders have been in the senior league, but they are expected to give a good account of themselves.

Scouts' Church Parade.

The Gower St. Troop of the Boy Scouts and the Wolf Cubs held their first church parade yesterday morning, attending divine service at Gower St. Church. They turned out 110 strong, and looked well in their attractive uniforms. The parade was in charge of Assistant Scoutmaster, Lieut. C. Garland, and the marching of the Scouts and Cubs was very creditable. Scoutmaster Rev. E. W. Forbes, in addressing the combined troops, congratulated them on being members of the best organization for boys in the world. The Scouts were the only juvenile organization honored by the King with invitations to the Garden Party for War workers held in Buckingham Palace last July. They were the first voluntary body to take on organized war duties in 1914, and were also the first, voluntary, to celebrate the signing of peace. A great gathering was held in Hyde Park, and when the guns announced that peace was an accomplished fact, they were answered by the lusty cheers of 15,000 scouts assembled for the demonstration. The movement has received the recognition of the President of the United States who has caused a week in June to be set aside as Boy Scout Week when the claims of the work can be presented to the public and funds gathered for its support. In the course of his address, the Pastor pointed out how a boy in the Old Testament, lived according to the spirit of scouting and proved himself useful when his services were needed for the sake of his country and his God. The Gower St. Troop of Scouts is progressing finely. It now numbers 135 Scouts and 65 Cubs. The latest venture is the issuing of a monthly magazine edited and managed by the boys themselves. The paper is called "Scout-life and Canadian Boys." The Canadian Boy is the official organ of the Scouts in Canada, and one of the best magazines for boys now published. By special arrangement with the Canadian publishers it is incorporated in Newfoundland with the local paper of the Gower Street Troop, and subscribers have the advantage of being brought into touch with the larger movement through the world, as well as of being kept informed about the progress of the local work. All the Scouts are looking forward to the annual camp, which will be held in July, and will be bigger and better than last year's camp. A day of sports and an exhibition of scouting work is being planned for the first of July.

Cattle at Large.

The attention of the Municipal Council is called to the fact that a number of cows are left at large within the city limits. If the Impounder was sent along the old railway track down, as far as the "yard," a good haul would be his reward. Now that citizens have their lawns and gardens put in order, stray cattle should be kept from destroying them.

Altering the "Watchful".

The trawler "Watchful," owned by the Newfoundland Government, is now at the dock pier undergoing repairs and alterations, a gang of shipwrights having been put to work. New deck-houses for the accommodation are being built, while a cross bunker is being removed to make room for freight. It will be several weeks before the work is completed. When ready she will be placed on the Port Union-LaSalle service.

The weekly meeting of the St. John's Municipal Council was held Thursday night last. Mayor Goeling and Councillors Ayre, Mullaly, Morris and Vinicombe being present. After the reading of the Minutes the following matters were taken up:

Deputy Colonial Secretary acknowledged receipt of Council's communications (1) in reference to the Petition of the Motor Association, (2) in relation to Guarantee of Loan for Sprinkler.

Deputy Minister of Public Works asked permission to open street opposite General Post Office so as to remove gas lamp.

A communication was received from the Inspector General, in reference to the limiting of the Fire Zone, Water St. West.

Harvey & Co. requested that Council public cove, adjoining their premises, stating that, owing to its present condition, it is quite unsafe for horses. Engineer will look into matter.

Harvey & Co. requested the Council make repairs to retaining wall at Shee's premises. The Engineer is to look up all particulars and data re same.

In re Job Bros. & Co., communication for water connections, South Side, the matter will receive attention, provided the Company pays all expenses of making connections and alterations.

E. St. C. Churchill will be permitted to build garage on Old Railway property, East End.

A communication was received from the Deputy Colonial Secretary, in answer to Council's inquiry as to ownership of the above property.

Nld. Clothing Co., Ltd. asked attention to be given Solomon's Lane. Order is to be attended to.

Application of Harry S. Ford for water and sewerage extension, Freshwater Rd., was referred to the City Engineer, he to prepare estimated cost of laying pipes in this section.

Joseph McKinley's request, to sink gasoline tank front of garage, Lime St., was referred to the City Engineer and Inspector General Hutchings.

Henry Blatch forwarded a Petition from land owners and residents of Merrymeeting Road, re opening of New Street. The matter was given favourable consideration. Should the work be proceeded with, the land owners will have to pay cost of making road improvements, laying water and sewerage mains, etc. The Engineer is to prepare estimate and report.

Leslie R. Curtis, Secretary S.P.A., asked that certain streets in the City, particularly of the steeper grades, be not oiled. The President of the Truckmen's Union forwarded a communication on the same subject. For the present, some of the streets referred to will be omitted.

J. J. Long, on behalf of citizens of St. John's East, asked the Council to meet a deputation before permission for the erection of proposed abattoir is granted.

A. E. Hickman & Co., Ltd. submitted plans of new sprinkler system to be installed at their South Side premises. This was acceded to provided the usual agreement, in such cases is signed.

Solicitor Halley, on behalf of Mr. R. Piercey, Clifford St., asked that water and sewerage be extended to this street. Arrangements will be made to do so if the residents will install water and sewerage in their houses.

Communication of Mrs. C. R. Thompson in re opening up Sudbury layout was referred to the Engineer for report.

City Engineer tabled estimated cost of oiling Waterford Bridge Road.

SOMETHING TO KNOW.

Ask for our two free booklets
"THE POWER OF SAVINGS,"
"TRADING ON MARGIN."

These are very interesting and inform you fully and in simple language the rules of the Exchange.

These booklets have been obtained for our clients and investors generally with a view to setting further in detail the general rules for trading in all securities on the market.

ROBERT TEMPLETON.

Not Out of General Revenue.

(Hr. Grace Standard.)
 No one will object to the citizens of St. John's providing ample and good housing for the people, but they should do so without compelling the general revenue to be taxed for the purpose. There should be capital sufficient in the city to launch any project to provide houses for all those who need them. The proposition is purely a business one, that judging from the facts submitted in its favor should be met by the capitalists. No state aid should be given, except a similar help be given to every man in the country to provide a home for himself. St. John's seems to be ever on the alert for state aid. It has enough now at the cost of the country in general, and the outport representations should see that the city philanthropists provide the means to house its people.

MINARD'S LINIMENT is the only Liniment asked for at my store and the only one we keep for sale. All the people use it.
 HARLIN FULTON.
