TWO BURNED TO DEATH IN TORONTO HOTEL FIRE

Many Guests Were Injured and Property Loss Is Over $150,000

OBSTRUCTION IS RESORTED TO BY ROWELL

Legislature Held Stormy All-Night Sitting as Result of Government Measure Designed for Protection of Member for Grenville.

The Ontario Legislature yesterday afternoon passed thru a period of rare turmoil and dramatic tension. Uproar broke forth time and again and the din in the chamber drowned the voices of speakers striving to be heard. Members rose in their seats and hurled uncompromising suggestions, and, falling to make intelligible their ideas in shouts, resorted to wild gesticulations. In the midst of the stress the Speaker had occasion to threaten to name several members, and although the actual call was not extended to the sergeant-at-arms, feeling ran very high throughout the whole afternoon and evening. At 12:30 o'clock the opposition was carrying out a threat to extend the session into the following day.

Rowell Strongly Opposed.

This Mr. Rowell opposed as involving a very serious matter in its broad nature. He wished the first reading alone, granted and then time for consideration given. The battling thru of the stages brought the excitement and involved the house in a tangle of parliamentary authorities. At the time of going to press the matter was not settled and the house was in session. One argument of the government was that the opposition wished to bring a writ against Mr. Ferguson for $40,000 following the present rule. T. W. McGarry declared that many unsuspecting members were liable under the present act. He intimated that Mr. Hayes, partner to William Proudfoot of Huron, had been connected with the Succession Duties Act. Hon. W. J. Hanna followed up by saying that he knew of more than two men in the house who would be concerned, although they never dreamed of it.

BODY OF ONE MONTREAL MOVING PICTURE MAN RECOVERED FROM RUINS OF WOODBINE HOTEL WHICH WAS COMPLETELY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Max Cohen and Frederick Levison Cut Off From Escape and Perished in the Flames—New Hotel Worth $200,000 Was Guttled and Guests, Consisting Principally of Actors Playing in Toronto This Week, Lost Clothing and Jewelry—George Speers, Manager, Had Narrow Escape, and Others Jumped from Windows—Search for Second Victim Resumes This Morning.

Two persons are known to be dead, and the lives of two others are feared for, and damage to the extent of $150,000 was done as the result of a fire which completely gutted the Woodbine Hotel on West King street at 7:20 last night.

The bodies of Max Cohen, representative of the Union Feature Film Company of New York, and Frederick Levison, a representative of the same company, were recovered from the ruins shortly before midnight.

A. Lee, of New York, who was an intimate friend of the victims, was sitting with them in room 301 when they discovered that the building was on fire. They rushed from their room, which was situated in the rear of the hotel, towards the fire escape. Before they had reached it, however, Cohen and Levison decided to try the elevator. Lee called to them to follow him as he knew where the fire escape was, but they did not do so. Continuing on his way he broke open the door of one of the rooms leading to the fire escape and climbed down it to the street, jumping from the second floor to the pavement.

It was further stated that the bell on the elevator was heard ringing and the indicator pointed to floor No. 3. An attempt was made to respond to the call, but it was impossible to get the elevator higher than the second floor. In the meantime access to the fire escape had been cut off.

Men Became Panic Stricken.

Judging from the position in which the bodies were found, the men had apparently become panic stricken, and losing all idea of direction, had rushed towards the rear of the building in an attempt to escape. By that time the rear part of the building was a roaring furnace and the men had absolutely no chance of escape. Mr. Lee thought that Cohen had hesitated for a few moments in an effort to rescue a valuable bull dog, which always accompanied him in his travels, and these few moments he thought had cost him his life.

George Giles, Montreal, a guest, was seriously injured by jumping from a third storey window to the pavement in the rear of the building. He had been asleep when the fire started and was completely cut off from the stairs or fire escape in the front of the hotel. Realizing that his only chance of escape lay thru the window, he took that chance and jumped. Although unconscious he was unable to move and had to be carried into a nearby store whence he was taken in the ambulance to the General Hospital, where it is reported he is paralyzed from the waist down, and in a critical condition.

W. E. Gray, assistant manager of the hotel, sustained serious lacerations on his wrists and arms, by breaking the windows with his fists. He was removed to St. Michael's Hospital.

Damage Estimated at $150,000.

George Speers, manager of the hotel, stated last evening that the loss so far is unknown. Roughly he thought $150,000 damage had been done to the building contents. This would be mostly covered by insurance.

There was some doubt as to the origin of the fire, but it is agreed that it started in the extreme rear of the building. E. Belmont, a guest who occupied room 214, when interviewed by The World, claimed to have discovered the fire. He had been sitting in his room when he heard a crackling in the room adjoining, 215. A friend, Mr. Martin of Bracebridge, occupied that room, so he rapped at the door, but received no answer. He looked in and saw flames issuing from the bathroom and immediately sent in the alarm to the office. His opinion was that it had been caused by defective wiring in the bathroom. He rushed back into his room and seizing as much of his belongings as he could conveniently carry, he escaped thru the front of the hotel. By this time, he said, the whole back part of the building was burning and he had much difficulty in finding his way thru the smoke, which was already very thick. This he said was at 7:20.

MADE FIVE TRIPS INTO BURNING BUILDING.

Sam 'B' Hardy, one of the leading men with the "Stop Thief" company at the Princess Theatre, was asleep in his room when the fire started. His wife had left for the theatre some time previously and when she heard of the fire she went back and woke him. He dressed hurriedly and escorted his wife to the street, where he left her and returned to his room in an attempt to save their property. He made five trips thru the smoke and was successful in saving all of his own and his wife's belongings, including two heavy trunks. After that I had to go on the stage and try to be funny," he concluded.

Miss Glynn and Miss Chester, also playing at the Princess, were not so fortunate. They knew nothing whatever of the fire until they arrived at the theatre about nine o'clock. They occupied rooms 305 and 306 in the extreme rear of the building, as this part was completely gutted by the flames, all their personal belongings and valuables, amounting to about $2500, were lost. Miss Glynn said that she was quite unable to realize that they had lost everything and had no clothing except that which they wore to the theatre.

Another actor from the Princess, Thomas Findlay, who occupied room 203, lost approximately $1500 in the fire.

COULD NOT GET OUT BY ELEVATOR.

James C. Marlowe and his wife, when interviewed at the Princess, related their experiences in connection with the fire. They were occupying room 204 on the third floor, when they heard the call of fire. The flames had by this time made considerable headway. Rushing to the elevator they found that it was not in working order, and pushed towards the front of the building and on the second floor they turned down two flights, and Mrs. Marlowe was carried the remainder of the distance by one of the firemen. She was almost overcome by smoke when she reached the street.

"IT'S TOO BAD," SAYS MISS RYAN.

It was because of Michael, the little dog who plays such an important part in "Peg O' My Heart," that Miss Elsa Ryan went to the Woodbine Hotel. No dogs were allowed at the King Edward.

Thru last night's performance, Miss Ryan knew that she had lost about five thousand dollars' worth of jewelry and several large trunks of expensive gowns and clothing. All Miss Ryan would say after the curtain fell for the last act was "It's too bad."

Mr. Yack, the manager, and another member of the company also had their personal belongings destroyed.

HEAD AND FACE BURNED BY FLAMES.

Charles Richards, a guest at the hotel, had a very narrow escape. Having been in a room at the rear of the building when the fire broke out he was cut off from the front, and in his desperate rush thru the flames was severely burned about the head, face and hands. He was treated at the General Hospital.

Mrs. Diamond of Diamond and Brennan Company at Shea's was in the building when the fire started, but she and her husband were able to retrace all their belongings.

Joseph Cole and Gertrude Denahy, who were also playing at Shea's, occupied rooms 302 and 303. They had left the hotel immediately after dinner and knew nothing whatever of the fire until 9 o'clock, when they arrived at the theatre. Their loss will amount to about $100.

PEG O' MY HEART COMPANY LOSS IS FIVE THOUSAND.

The loss to the Peg O' My Heart Company at the Royal Alexandra will amount to approximately $5000. When the fire was brought under control Deputy Chief Noble went to Miss Elsa Ryan's room and recovered all of her belongings, which were valued at over $2000. The remainder of the company, including M. Moore of Chicago, Mr. Broughton of London, England, Mr. Burbeck of New York and M. A. Yack of New York, who were registered at the hotel, lost everything.

FIRE BRIGADE MADE A BRILLIANT FIGHT.

In the opinion of Deputy Chief Noble the fire brigade made a brilliant fight against the flames. The deputy declared that when the fire brigade reached the hotel flames were already shooting out of the roof. Within a few minutes eight steam engines were working and throwing water at a pressure of 180 pounds. The firemen confined their efforts for the most part to keeping the fire to the rear of the building. Entering from the front of the building they cut streams of water were playing into the interior, gradually forcing the fire backwards. Both the second and third floors collapsed.

Total Fire Loss $150,000 With Insurance of $135,000

The Woodbine Hotel was owned by the recently formed Woodbine Hotel Company, Limited, of which the Cosgrave Brewery Company, Reinhardt Brewery Company, Thomas W. Horne and George Speers are the largest shareholders. The building, which was on leasehold ground, including furnishings, was valued at $200,000. A short time ago the hotel was remodeled and enlarged to one hundred rooms.

Insurance on the building is said to be in the neighborhood of $100,000, divided among different companies, while the fixtures are insured for $55,000.

The blaze was best seen from the rear of the burning building, where, in the narrow lane, the huge water tower threw tons of water into the building. At 8 o'clock the flames from the back actually enveloped surrounding buildings, and only the superhuman efforts of the firemen and the absence of an wind prevented a conflagration extending throughout the whole block.

According to eye-witnesses, at one time nearly twenty women were congregated on the narrow fire escape, awaiting a ladder on which to descend to the street.

All the people interviewed by The World who had been in the building, agreed that it was extremely difficult to find one's way to the fire escape or to the street from the rear of the hotel, especially if one was not acquainted with the layout. In a later interview with Mr. Lee, the friend of the two victims, he stated that at the end of the hall there was a mirror, and that this is probably what had caused his two friends to rush to the elevator instead of the fire escape, as he himself could see the reflection of the fire in the mirror and had for a moment been deceived by it himself. His friends, he thought, also had seen this reflection, and thinking that there was a fire in the front part of the building as well had decided to try to escape by way of the elevator.

Late last evening fears were still entertained that two other persons who had not been accounted for, had also lost their lives but up to an early hour this morning these fears had not been confirmed.

The fire was eventually brought under control at 11 o'clock, when a vigorous search was instituted by the firemen, and this will be continued today.

Two Men Who Were Burned Were Well-Known in Toronto

Max Cohen, who is about forty years of age and unmarried, was Toronto representative of the Union Feature Film Company of New York, which position he has occupied for about three years. He was born and brought up in New York. His office was at 77 Victoria street, room 26.

Frederick Levinson was also a New York man and had been here only about three weeks. He came to be Cohen's assistant here.

C. Bell, the Montreal representative of the Union Feature Film Company, was wired to last night, by Manager Kaufman of the Canadian Film Exchange, who will take charge of the body after it is released by the coroner pending the arrival of relatives from New York.

Hints on Beauty Culture

"Greens" and Pure Water Nature's Best Beautifiers

By MAGGIE TEYTE

Prima Donna Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company.

CHANGE of season spells a change of diet for the woman who values her health and looks. Nine out of ten of us have been eating too much and too heavy food for several months. We have eaten more than we needed. Now that the need is lessened so materially the supply should be cut in half.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison apparently understands the laws of hygiene as well as the mysteries of electricity. He and his wife in comparison with former times ago increased their efficiency thereby. When the frying intermediate days came, when winter was most severe and spring just around the corner, he went to the sunny Southland and lived on fruits and vegetables and plenty of water.

We can't all go South. Otherwise we can copy his program.

There is an old Greek saying that "Spartan has killed more than famine." I met a man recently who told me he had a long period of misfortune which compelled him to curtail all his expenses. He said when he had reduced living to a fine financial system he found he could allow himself but 30 cents a day for food.

I started out to analyze the needs of the body and the component parts of different foods, said he. "I soon realized that I could not only keep from starvation on what seemed so small a sum in comparison with former times ago, but I lived better from the standpoint of health. I was soon able to save a few pennies each day, which gave me a reserve fund when the need of extra food came to meet some unusual demand of work.

A celebrated dietitian advises the gradual diminution of food from the first of February to the first of May, then keeping that standard for the summer. He allows about 10 ounces of food daily, but he insists it shall be of the most nourishing kind and well balanced.

Naturally, the amount of food eaten depends upon the work done by the individual. The woman who does the housework for a big house will find the necessity for food is greater than the woman who does nothing but read and eat and rest amusements. But the latter is the woman who is sure to overeat. Lots of persons eat more because they can't think of anything else to do. Eating is more of a habit. If, when you feel you must eat, you will stop and think whether it is too much time or too little food which created the habit, the chances are you will find you are not hungry.

An ideal diet for the spring is made up of fruits, fresh vegetables, eggs, some meat, excluding pork, unless one has great work to do, milk and tea and coffee in moderation if you feel they are necessary.

"Eat only when hungry, and be sure you know when you are hungry," is the advice a physician gives to his patients. "Forget the existence of, while bread unless you toast it brown, and crisp. Pineapple is a beautifier and an antiseptic for the throat and stomach. "Greens," which means spinach and dandelions and young beets and kale, are blood purifiers and complexion makers. And if you want to be happy and well and beautiful never drink less than a dozen glasses of water daily between meals and not a drop with meals. If you follow these hints you can evolve a diet which will suit your individual needs."

Then cast out all unkindness and all envy, and think only of truth and love and beauty, and your will note a marked change in your appearance and your health.

"DRESS" A Message to Today from Theresa Tidy

THERESA TIDY was a household name when the great-grandmothers of today were debutantes.

She wrote advice on a variety of subjects of interest to the young women of the time and her books on decorum ran through ten or a dozen editions. They are full of gentleness, but written with an authority which convinced the leader that Miss Theresa Tidy was sure of her position on any subject which she discussed.

In one of her quaint little volumes published by A. H. Malby of New Haven, Ct., in 1883, and entitled "Maxims of Neatness and Order," she discourses on dress with a delightful dignity which will doubtless amuse the young women of the present as much as it impressed their ancestors.

And underneath its elaborate wording there is the lesson of good sense which must ever remain undimmed. Says Miss Tidy:

"Man being the source and delight as well as the helpmate of man, a moderate use of ornament seems reasonably allowable to her.

"In a judicious selection and tasteful arrangement of dress a lady adds to the charms which nature has bestowed upon her, and she more becomingly dresses herself or absolutely hides them. We are inclined to believe that the young women of the present are, were they stirred that they usually are, more aware of the extent to which a person of any penetration can discern their character and disposition in their style of dress and manner of wearing it.

Great Grandma's Attic in 2014

By Michelson

IT WILL happen a hundred years from now a nice girl somewhere will find herself among the debris in great-grandmother's attic. She will find in the litter all sorts of oddities reflecting the activities of a time long past—emblems and instruments of strange old sports, and CLOTHES. Oh, yes! Clothes! Such old dresses, worn in 1914 and thereabouts, and hats of the most peculiar style.

You can fancy that girl of 2014 slipping on one of the hundred-year-old dresses, and of course one of the hats. You can readily imagine that she will think they are very funny. She always thinks everything is funny that is not being worn NOW. The girl who comes a hundred years after HER will think the things SHE regularly wears are funny. That is the way the world goes.

But, mind you, nice girls themselves never go out of fashion. You may like to stop and think just what they will be like in a hundred years. PROBABLY you will only succeed in fancying them in different clothes.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie:

I am a stranger in a big city and I don't know what to do with myself evenings. I can get acquainted with plenty of folks, of course, just as any other young fellow can, but I don't know anything about them and, besides, I don't like the kind of people that are so easy to pick up. I'd like to know some nice girls like the ones I went with back home. But those that I see here all seem so fresh, as we used to call them, that I don't seem to care for them.

Any girl that will pick up with me just because I smile at her will pick up with the next fellow who comes along. I don't like that kind of a girl. What shall I do to get acquainted? LONESOME KID.

WELL, Lonesome Kid, you may be a kid and you may be lonesome, but you have plenty of good common sense hidden away in that youthful head of yours just the same.

You are quite right. The girl who smiles at you, just because you smile at her, will smile at the next man who passes, and at the one who comes behind him and at the whole procession of men.

Isn't smitten with your looks, she's just after a flirtation and she thinks you'll do—that's all.

It doesn't make any difference what city you're in; the girls are just the same there as they are anywhere else.

Human nature has nothing, or at least not very much to do with geography.

The spoozy girl back home, who went down to the depot to see the Chicago train come in and make eyes at the brakeman, lives in the big city, too.

She doesn't have to wait for the Chicago train, that's all.

The girl who always had the last new "drummer" "on the string"—you knew her back in the home town, didn't you?

She was the sort who always wanted to start the kissing games at the Sunday school picnic, and when it came time to take down the swings and pack up the lemonade buckets she was always "lost" somewhere—with the young fellow from town who called everybody who didn't live where he did when he was at home "a spoozy."

Poor girl, she ran away with a dark-eyed stranger at fair time. He deserted her somewhere down South and she came home looking like her own grandmother.

She's common enough, that sort of girl, poor thing, and you're quite right to want to keep away from her.

How shall you meet the right sort? You mustn't expect to do that all in a minute.

The right sort of girl isn't hanging on a bush for the first man who passes to pick.

She's at home helping mother let down little sister's school dresses, and mend little brother's trousers, or else she's at work somewhere supporting herself.

But don't be discouraged; you'll find her and her sisters all right, if you try hard enough.

Where do you go to church? Nowhere? That's a mistake. Pick out a good church, and go to it Sunday evenings and Wednesday evenings.

Go and have a talk with the minister; tell him who you are and what you are and how lonesome you are, and the first thing you know you'll know so many girls that it will be hard for you to keep track of them.

Every big city is full of decent social clubs for decent young men and women. Hunt some of them up. You won't find it hard.

Don't be ashamed of wanting to know nice girls. Be proud of it.

The nice girls all want to know you, and men like you, too.

Good luck go with you, Lonesome Kid. You won't be lonesome long.

Annie Laurie

Miss Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her care this office.

Observations of a Cynic

There is one good feature about the divorce business: There is no question about the sincerity of the celebration that follows the issuing of a decree.

The policeman's baton is the only re-claim club that is effective with some people. And it often reaches the wrong head.

Folks become speechless with fright quite often. It is a pity that anger does not have a similar effect on the vocal organs.

Flattery is one of the less pleasant because both parties to it know it to be false. And it is just as effective as if both believed it to be true.

When You Are "Grouchy," Look for Physical Cause

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

Copyright, 1914, by Dr. L. K. Hirschberg.

WHEN you are well you are light-hearted. You feel as light as a feather. You can tango and dip and hesitate and trip the light fantastic as bouncingly as a feather.

There is something exhilarating about good health. Your spirit is light and your head is as free of care as an X-ray globe is of air.

If you are pessimistic, heavy, heady, listless, fed up or loaded down with trouble, an honest, searching examination will disclose the fact that the world is treating you no worse than it is treating George Green and John Jones.

Your physical make-up is at fault, not the universe. If you have pins and needles tingling your spine, a pain in your neck, aches and twinges in your anatomy, you are apt to rail at people and things.

Many of these ballast-like torments weigh you down. They keep you from the buoyancy round about you.

You dread the joke, which is on you. You think when people mock you, that misery is yours.

Don't you believe it. Those around you who taunt your complaints, your knock-knees, your humpback, your excess obese baggage, mean no more than they would mean if they said sweet things to you.

Human nature is so endowed that people speak scandal and do not mean it deeply. They mock you, and are not even aware that you exist. They speak well about you, praise you, advance your stock of "ego" 100 per cent.

Yet they have no deep feelings in the matter. It is all a matter of their light-heartedness against your foolish heavy-headedness.

When a boy shoots a bean at a silk top hat it is buoyancy. When men and women speak scandal and do not mean it deeply, they speak of you as if you were not even aware that you exist. They speak well about you, praise you, advance your stock of "ego" 100 per cent.

Answers to Health Questions

Miss N. L., Indianapolis—My hair is turning gray, yet I am only 27 years old. What shall I do?

Apply a proper oil to your hair twice a day and resorb oilment to the scalp every other day. Sulphur and ammoniated mercury ointments half an hour once a week. Take 30 drops of tincture of iron in water three times a day through a tube.

F. B. L., Pottstown, Pa.—I work in an office and do not exercise. What is good for falling hair and dandruff?

Wash your hair with hazel nut or rose water cream. Do not use water. Clean your combs and hairbrushes with scalding hot water and ammonia. Use 6 grains of salicylic acid, 10 grains of resorbol in an ounce of castor oil as remedy every other night.

G. K., Toronto, Canada—I have noises in my ear only when at work. The noises are not there when I go walking. I'm deaf in one ear.

Suppose you try dropping 10 drops of eucalypti in that ear twice in 24 hours while you are at work. Also have an aural surgeon examine it.

Sayings of Children

A little boy and his sister were allowed last summer to collect eggs from the henpocks, but were told they must never take away the nest egg. The little girl, however, did so one morning by mistake, and her brother told her she must take it right back, "because that was what the old hen measured by."

Tommy—Sealing wax.

Little girl aged 9 called her father to her bedside the other evening. "Papa," said the little diplomat, "I want to ask your advice. What do you think it will be best to give me for a birthday present?"

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

WHAT in the wide world is that noise?" asked Mrs. Rabbit of Jack Rabbit, as she began making bread one evening.

"I guess it's Father snoring," answered Jack.

"I hope he don't shake the stove down. Go and wake him up and ask him to tell you a story. You are in the way here."

Jack went up stairs and asked Billy to come down with him. "How will we wake Father up?" asked Billy.

"Cher-cher-cho-oo!"

Jack sneezed so loud Brer Rabbit almost jumped to the ceiling.

"Good morning!" exclaimed Billy.

"What do you want, you rascal?" asked Brer Rabbit.

"Another Indian story," said Jack.

"Then," began Brer Rabbit: "Let me twist my ear and start my brain going."

Then he began: "Indian children, my dear boys, love the woods, the rees, the little streams, the flowers and the birds."

"Silver Star and his sister Ka-wash-a had a little canoe on the Sunshine river and often they went along the edge of the water gathering flowers. Silver Star paddled in front while Ka-wash-a sat behind."

"They climbed up the bank of the Sunshine river one day when suddenly they came upon a nest of bees."

"All about them the busy little bees swarmed."

"Keep perfectly still," said Silver Star to his sister.

"There the children stood like statues, hardly daring to move."

"Over their heads came the bees, nearer and nearer, but they stood motionless, for Indians have wonderful self-control."

"One by one the bees went away and left Silver Star and Ka-wash-a standing alone."

"They went back to their canoe and paddled back home, where Ka-wash-a told her Father, the Great Chief, what Silver Star had done."

"The Great Chief took an eagle's feather and placed it in Silver Star's hair and—"

"Didn't he even kiss him?" asked Billy Bunny.

"No," answered his father. "To have an eagle's feather placed in your hair by the Great Chief is far greater honor than being kissed."

"But I am not a Great Chief, so here is a kiss for each of you," said Brer Rabbit.

The Kind of Girl a Man Likes

BY NORVELL ELLIOTT

THE Purposeful Girl

THERE is all the difference in the world between those two girls," said my bachelor friend emphatically, as we passed Caroline Myers' door.

I lifted my eyes questioningly.

"Caroline Myers is just drifting. Caroline has a purpose in life. Simple enough to say, but mighty big when it comes to moulding the character of two young women." The philosopher by my side turned to me for corroboration. "You see, lad, I always have believed that a woman should have a definite purpose in life as well as you."

"And if you didn't, a little review of Caroline's and Maria's lives would convince you," he replied. "Maria is exceedingly pretty and, on first acquaintance, she seems attractive enough, but she doesn't last. I used to wonder why it took me so good many noons to whom the mystery. The Toronto World will pay for The Daily World for one year, delivered in the City of Toronto, or by mail to any address in Canada, Great Britain or the United States.

FOUNDED 1880. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited; H. J. Maclean, Managing Director.

SAFEGUARDING CITY CONTROL. In the amendments carried in committee extending the charter of the Toronto, Niagara and Western Railway bill, at Ottawa, the principle has been accepted and should now be finally settled that the cities of this country must have control over their own streets.

CLERICAL INTOLERANCE. A constant wonder among church people is stirred by the fact that they don't make more progress among the clerical element. The reason is frequently put out in plain terms, and it has been written large on the face of some of the ministers against others who took part in welcoming Rev. Henry Hallam Sanderson, the new Unitarian parson, to his church.

EUROPEAN UNREST. Europe is permeated with an atmosphere of suspicion and unrest. It is even more observable in the smaller nations that live in perpetual dread that their cherished independence will be sacrificed to the ambition of the greater powers with whom they are in immediate contact.

EXTENDING POSTAL SERVICE. In a message from Mr. Burleson, postmaster-general of the United States, read before the Democratic achievement banquet, held at Minot, North Dakota, he outlined the work of the postoffice department during the first year of President Wilson's administration.

GRADUATE OF McMASTER IS APPOINTED PROFESSOR. Dr. W. A. Parsons Takes Chair in Biblical Languages at Rochester. Word was last night received by Mrs. W. A. Parsons, 277 Osler avenue, that her son, Dr. Ernest W. Parsons, had been appointed professor of Biblical languages at Rochester-Dominican Theological Institute.

more reasonable and efficient than they were they could not cover every district that is reached by letter post. Parcel post, as Mr. Burleson wrote, reaches everywhere, whereas private expresses extend their operations only to profitable territory.

Mr. Burleson explained that well-equipped experts of the postoffice department are now studying postal conditions in representative sections of the United States. Their reports are being analyzed and every suggested improvement found feasible and desirable is promptly adopted and put into operation wherever practicable.

BRITAIN'S NATIONAL INSURANCE. Although a section of the workers in the United Kingdom are said to resent the compulsory contribution required by the National Insurance Act it is evident that the act has brought vast benefit in its train. According to an official report just issued covering the first year of its operation close on $65,000,000 was paid out in the British Isles in sick and maternity benefits.

CHATHAM ALDERMEN NOW IN CONTROVERSY. CHATHAM, March 17.—An interesting controversy is going on in the city at the present time between members of this and last year's industrial committees of the city council. Last year when the St. Mary's Machine Company of Ohio failed to carry out its agreement and establish a plant in Chatham, the agreement was transferred to the National Drop Forging Company, and it was planned by the factory in the Defiance plant on Laurox street, on which the city holds a large mortgage.

Large Crowds at Opening Dance. The New York dancing pavilion got away to a good start last night, when the staff employed by the management that it was well for the company did exceedingly well, as everything went smoothly when once the young folks got onto the dance. The dancing is in the latest American plan, favorably known as the "Nickel Dance." In other words, one can dance just as long and as often as one chooses, but a nickel each dance, and that is not so bad considering this company does not here in Toronto resort to the rush, for a full ten minutes is allowed for each dance; so there is no hurry, but all is conducted in good order.

The pavilion, erected on the main floor, is an elaborate affair and very pretty; good taste is shown in the decorations. The staff employed last Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night will no doubt bring large crowds to the Riverside arena to enjoy this popular amusement.

W. F. Maclean (S. York) said that the pollution of navigable waters may be, and ought to be, under the control of the Dominion Government. He, however, strongly questioned the wisdom of the government's bill for obtaining a pure water supply. If the government did so it might be called upon to do likewise in the case of other cities.

WATER POLLUTION DEBATED IN HOUSE

Proposal to Refer Question to Committee Objected to by Liberals.

MAY AID OTTAWA W. F. Maclean Contended That Bad Precedent Would Be Established.

OTTAWA, March 17.—The house spent the greater part of the afternoon considering a resolution proposed by Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, which provided for the appointment of a committee to investigate the pollution of navigable waters.

Mr. Hazen, in introducing the resolution said that he did so at the advice of the conference which met last night to discuss the matter.

The opposition took occasion to twit the government with trying to sidestep the issue by referring the matter to a committee, instead of considering the bill introduced at the last session by George Bradbury of Seikins, which prohibits the discharge of sewage into navigable streams.

Mr. W. M. Maclean (S. York), Dr. Steele (Perth), Mr. Bradbury and Frank Oliver also spoke on the subject.

Wanted New Committee. Mr. Hazen in support of his resolution said that the committee which had considered the subject at the last session had not had time to finish its work. A conference had been held last fall, at which representatives from the various provinces had been present. Experts at that conference had recommended further consideration of the matter and he was therefore asked for the appointment of a new committee.

Hon. George F. Graham complained that the appointment of the committee would put Mr. Bradbury's bill off until next session. In his opinion the government was endeavoring to sidestep this important matter.

Situation Serious. The prime minister, obviously annoyed at Mr. Graham's imputations, made a spirited reply. He pointed out that the question was a serious one, involving as it did not only the pollution of inland waters, but also the pollution of international waters, and therefore the government did not intend to act hastily in the matter.

In concluding Mr. Borden declared that it was the duty of the City of Ottawa to supply pure water without delay, as at present the lives of every citizen connected with that city were in danger from impure water. If it became necessary, the government would assist the city in obtaining water.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who followed the prime minister, said that in his opinion the appointment of the committee was unnecessary. Parliament was competent to consider Mr. Bradbury's bill, and turning it over to a committee was simply a bad example.

W. F. Maclean (S. York) said that the pollution of navigable waters may be, and ought to be, under the control of the Dominion Government. He, however, strongly questioned the wisdom of the government's bill for obtaining a pure water supply. If the government did so it might be called upon to do likewise in the case of other cities.

"It is a serious proposition," said Mr. Maclean, "to say that the federal authorities of a great country like Canada must undertake to make good the water of the various municipalities."

In concluding Mr. Maclean declared that he agreed with the government that the pollution of streams was a matter for federal control. If towns and cities would have to be prohibited from continuing to do so, Burden on Taxpayer.

Hon. J. D. Hazen said that the clause in Mr. Bradbury's bill forbidding the discharge of sewage into streams should be carefully considered. As the clause now stood, it forbade the discharge of sewage into streams, which was absurd, as it could not possibly do any harm. Its passage, Mr. Hazen pointed out, would mean that many cities would have to entirely change their sewage disposal plants. This would work a great hardship. In the case of a city like Montreal, which had been estimated that such a change would cost $8 per capita.

The resolution then passed and the bill was referred to the new committee.

Civil Service Insurance. The house then took under consideration a resolution proposed by Finance Minister White providing for an amendment to the Civil Service Insurance Act.

Mr. White explained that the amendment would raise the maximum amount of insurance from $1000 to $5000, and also provides that the women of the service shall be eligible for insurance. The bill founded upon the resolution was then introduced and read a first time.

After dinner the house went into supply on the secretary of state's estimates.

When the estimates for the high commissioner's office were reached Hon. George P. Graham attempted to draw from the government some information as to who would be Lord

Torontos Beat Victorias 6-5 in Second Game for Stanley Cup After 18 Minutes Overtime

MINNIE MCGIFFIN SCORES WINNING GOAL AT THE ARENA

Torontos Lucky to Tie It Up in Third Period Crowd Smaller at Second Game Western Rules Please the Fans.

The world's championship and the Stanley Cup will be residents of Toronto for the next year unless something very unexpected happens in the final game on Thursday night. Last night Torontos made practically sure of this when they defeated Victorias 6-5 in the second game of the series by the score of six to five in eighteen minutes overtime. There is very little possibility that the Victorias coming thru with three straight games and winning the title. As a result of the overtime, the fans were disappointed in not seeing the game stop at the regular time, but the westerners would utilize it sufficiently to pull out a victory.

The general opinion seemed to be that Torontos were lucky to win last night, yet the fact remains that they did it naturally the applause is forthcoming. They did not penetrate the defence like they usually do, while the crowd displayed a surprisingly better style than they did in their first game. The team work of the visitors was far superior to the locals, but Holmes in the nets was like a stone wall and his work so excellent that he was able to save off the fast coming Victorias. The main feature of the western rules is a puck in mid air daily marked off where players may stand. In this game the puck was not offside outside the lines. It bothered the locals and caused many arguments, and they were generally found checking the wrong man. The fact that they were also playing seven men a side had a lot to do with this.

The locals were not used to staying in their positions, which is a feature of the even man game, with the result that Victorias were always breaking away on the wings by taking long passes in the restricted space and testing in on the defence. The forward pass makes the play faster and allows the players breathing space at times. This does not mean that loosing in this space is very much in evidence, in fact on the contrary the fact that a player may receive a pass at any moment from any side naturally forces him to keep on the move and his eyes open for the unexpected. It is an improvement on the old rules, at least and likely none on the O.H.A. style of shunting a man aside.

To single out on the forward line of the blue shirts is a heavy task, as every one of them stayed with the play from start to finish and checked back like fiends. The outstanding feature of the local's play was the work of Minnie McGiffin. Minnie beamed with joy as the game progressed, as he eluded the officials in a race to the net, and at a time he came in on the goal, and the little peep box simply allowed in the going. Many thought he was a bit of a show-off, but he did it to stop the man, and he rarely let anybody get away with a shot. He was in on Lindsay with every rush, and he was the most elusive man on the ice.

Walker and Foyston were just as good as ever, and they were relentless in their pushing forwards. Their feats are common talk among the fans, so it is not necessary to elaborate upon their performance again. Holmes in goal was by far the strongest man on the ice. He was as cool as a cucumber, and his work was really phenomenal. If he had not been there it would have been a different story. Marshall, Cameron and McNamara were not very good on the defence, although Cameron was not very good at carrying the puck. Cully Wilson was in his element, and he carried the attack in many times.

Dunderdale and Patrick were the stars for the westerners. The former showed his marvelous stickwork to good advantage, while Lester seemed to have taken a new lease of life. Patrick was very good in execution of his home league rules especially, and he was always dangerous when he started. By a lot of roughness, and then crabbied when his smaller opponent took a turn at the same game. That is one feature of the westerners that did not please the fans. They are not used to a referee continually crabbied to the referee or calling the play for him. Kerr and Small tried hard to play a good game, but they were not up to the task. Kerr was a rough passage at times in the mix-ups at the defence, and came back for more. Poulton is a fishy player, but his consistent work makes him a valuable man on any team. Rowe was on for a few minutes.

First Period. Cameron opened the first period with an end-to-end rush, but he was returned to centre. Torontos forced the play, and Foyston carried the puck from centre to the net. The score at the end of the first period was 3 to 2 in favor of Torontos.

Second Period. Victoria started to work their centre play, and Small beat Holmes in two minutes from the net. The puck was way thru and missed by inches. With and Dunderdale went down, and the latter shot Patrick went in and netted in the rebound when Holmes lost his balance and fell. Three minutes later Wilson again put Torontos in the lead, when he took another pass from McGiffin and tripped. Small went in and shot, but Holmes cleared before he reached the net. Dunderdale was benched for up-setting McGiffin. The score at the end of the first period was 3 to 2 in favor of Torontos.

Third Period. Victoria tried hard from the start of the second period, and Holmes was given a very busy season in the opening moments. After a series of hard shots, Patrick better in the back from the mix-up, tying the score up again. Kerr was chased for hitting Foyston and McGiffin accompanied him for playing a time on George's ear. McNamara, replaced Cameron. Victoria were playing so well, that they were falling to follow in Foyston's footsteps, and after beating the defence, lost his balance as he was going to shoot. Patrick broke away again and booted right thru, as a public in the back tracks and tallied with a back hand shot. It was a pretty piece of work. Wilson and Walker combined to get a shot when a score was almost unavoidable. Kerr was benched again and McNamara was given the same treatment. Dunderdale put the visitors in front by two goals.

Overovertime. The overtime was a real test for both teams. The puck was in mid-air for a long time, and both teams were trying to get a shot in. The overtime was a real test for both teams. CIVIC DEPARTMENTS IN TWO CLASSES

Those Bearing Revenue Will Not Figure in Estimates in Future.

STRIKE RATE EARLY

Method Now Proposed Would Simplify System—The Salary Question.

Hereafter when the tax rate is struck by the board of control it will be done automatically and very early in each year. For each of these departments the estimates only from the standpoint of their surplus earnings. For each of these departments separate accounts will be kept.

Non-revenue-bearing departments will each have an appropriation fixed by millage rate. For instance, one department may require an amount such as three-quarters of a mill would produce from the assessment. The mill rate will be the same. With this system established the striking of the tax rate will be simplified.

It will be the duty of each head of a department to be given the responsibility of showing efficiency from year to year upon the amount of money he will require. Efficiency and salary will, of course, be proportionate. It will also give co-operation of the departments more co-operation in civic government, and popular men will have to advantage in getting estimates thru.

Salary Grading Bad

Control of City is working out a plan by which a board to deal with salaries will be established. The grading system now in use is a complete failure and a clog upon efficiency. One instance of such failure was disclosed yesterday. It is that of a young man who had been in one of the departments for the past seven years, and his salary of $7 a week has been stationary all that time, although he has advanced from office boy to a very responsible position.

To get the new policy of rate striking established as far as possible the board yesterday arranged with Commissioner Chambers to strike $87,000 from the parks estimate so that the total would be equal to the mill rate it would have amounted to last year. Similarly $85,000 was struck off the estimate for street cleaning. The street lighting $48,000 was struck off, but $22,000 more was added. The three departments were given 20 extra men and $50,000 towards equipping the system, but the six district chiefs were denied runabout automobiles, and the green and white hydrants was reduced from 500 to 100.

JUVENILE COURT JUDGE OPPOSED

Board of Control Will Stop Funds if Boyd is Retained.

UNANIMOUS DECISION

Provincial Government Will Be Asked to Withdraw the Appointment.

While the board of control were dealing with the estimates yesterday they unanimously decided to recommend to the city council that not one cent be expended upon the juvenile court this year. This radical action is a protest against the appointment of Edward B. Boyd to the position of juvenile court commissioner.

The board will appeal to the provincial government to withdraw the appointment of Mr. Boyd. If the appeal is successful the usual expenditure upon the juvenile court will, of course, be continued. It is probable that the city council upholds the action of the board.

When it became known that Mr. Boyd was selected for the vacant position those members of the city council who are strongly interested in the mission of the juvenile court appealed to the provincial government to re-appoint the desirability of giving to the juvenile court a commissioner who is in close touch and sympathy with the most modern practices in that department of child protection and betterment.

Those members of the city council regret that no consideration was given their wishes in the matter. They are also determined that the juvenile court shall carry out the mission for which it was established, or financial support will be withheld. The provincial government has the appointment of the commissioner, and the city pays the expenses of the court.

CANADA'S NAVAL AID REQUIRED CHURCHILL USES BLUNT WORDS

Wealthy Dominion Easily Able to Lighten Load of British Taxpayer, and Relief is Sorely Needed — Should Provide Water Stations, Docks and Repair Plants.

LONDON, March 17.—(Can. Press.)—Via Reuters's Ottawa Agency.—Winston Churchill first lord of the admiralty, in his address accompanying the presentation of the naval budget, referred to the absence of three Canadian ships from the British naval program. He said that the government proposed to place in the Mediterranean in 1915 a battle squadron of eight ships, six of which would be dreadnoughts, or Lord Nelsons, centred on Malta. They would make the other end of the Mediterranean the British and four large armored cruisers. He pointed out that in order to do this and maintain the indispensable margin of security in home waters it was necessary in the absence of three Canadian dreadnoughts to accelerate three ships. That was sufficient to make the force he had mentioned from the end of 1915 to the middle of 1916. As the Canadian ships were not yet forthcoming, it was necessary to repeat on a smaller scale, the course adopted in 1913, and to begin two ships in the 1914 program so as to have them ready by the third quarter of 1916.

Looks to Canada. The government was not without hope, however, that Canada would meet her share in naval defence. Canada was a great and wealthy community, with interests ever spreading more widely over the surface of the globe. She had to make some provision for her own defence. If she were annexed to the United States she would no doubt contribute, thru taxation, to the upkeep of the United States navy. If she were independent, she would have to make provision at least equal to the most powerful American state. He did not wonder at all that Canadians of every party thought it was not consistent with the dignity and status of the Dominion that she should depend upon the British taxpayer, who was often much less well off than the average Canadian.

Sticks to Memorandum. Mr. Churchill affirmed that on the general question of Canadian ships and the propriety and need for Canada, in common with other dominions, to take an effective part in the defence of the empire, there was nothing more to be said. The admiralty view had been expounded in the Canadian memorandum, to which the admiralty adhered, and the facts had been strengthened by the passage of time. They contain an absolute justification of the Canadian action thereafter.

Dealing with the acceleration program, made necessary by the absence of Canadian ships, Mr. Churchill declared that there were good prospects that the unfortunate deadlock which had arisen in Canada would be relieved by joint action, probably, both parties, and that Canada would be able to take some share in her own naval defence and in the common defence of the empire.

Need Stations. Mr. Churchill turned next to the Pacific. He remarked that the alliance with Japan had been renewed to 1921, but it was not to be expected that Japan would be less in need of her powerful friend at the other end of the world at that date than she was today. New Zealand and Australia had acted with profound wisdom. The dominions were, however, perfectly free. The matter rested entirely in their own hands. The responsibility of the admiralty lay in placing plainly before dominion ministers and the people of the dominions the responsibility of naval strategy.

Mr. Churchill then urged the importance of having in Canadian and South African waters stations, docks and repair plants, which would enable an imperial squadron to operate in these. There should also be in each theatre both destroyers and submarine flotillas for the purpose of defending the establishment.

Will Match Delays. In dealing with the naval estimates for 1914-15, amounting to $257,750,000, he said:

"Every delay, accidental or deliberate, by the next strongest power to England will be matched by us." Admitting that the naval estimates were the largest that had ever been submitted to the house the first lord said that in the absence of any new departure the estimates for 1915-16 would be substantially lower than the present ones, which show an increase of $13,700,000 over those of last year.

Mr. Churchill reiterated that it was the policy of Great Britain to complete eight battle squadrons by the time the German fleet had established five, without calculating ships on foreign stations. He explained that the development of the German fleet had not been so rapid as had been anticipated owing to difficulties in manning the vessels. Great Britain, therefore, had been enabled to postpone the completion of her Gibraltar squadron, which now consists of only four battleships.

REDMOND SPEAKS HIS LAST WORD

No Sacrifice of Principle Was Made on Home Rule.

SPEEDY SETTLEMENT

Ireland Will Have Self-Government in a Few Short Weeks.

LONDON, March 17.—John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist party, presided over the Irish National banquet here tonight, and in responding to the toast "Ireland, a Nation," said: "In a few short weeks in the absence of a political earthquake the home rule bill will be a law of the land, probably in precisely the form in which it now stands." The efforts of the government to conciliate Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, and his friends, Mr. Redmond declared had met with no success. He referred to the failure to any part of Ireland, and declared that it was a great sacrifice to make as the price of peace, but in making that sacrifice, to avoid a conflict, they had made absolutely no sacrifice of principle. If the proposal had been for the permanent exclusion of one inch of Irish territory they would unhesitatingly have rejected it, as the principles of the bill must be maintained.

Their Last Word. "Speaking for myself and my colleagues, and I believe, the Irish nation," Mr. Redmond continued, "these principles are our last word. Beyond them one inch we cannot, and we will not go. If force is interposed, that force will be met with force. The party of the democracy of this country will be all the stronger because Nationalist Ireland has shown that it has been willing to make a great sacrifice for peace."

Mr. Redmond said that there was no difference between the British cabinet and the Irish party as regarded the principle and policy of procedure. During the course of the day Mr. Redmond received a large number of cablegrams from prominent Americans congratulating him on the prospect of the speedy realization of self-government for Ireland.

GALT-HAMILTON RADIAL PROJECT IS SUPPORTED

GALT, March 17.—The Galt Board of Trade and Hydro-Electric Commission have been strongly urging on the town council to apply to the provincial commission to furnish opinions of the feasibility with an estimate of the cost and probable revenue and method of financing of a radial railway from Galt to Hamilton. The council, after full deliberation, have endorsed the proposition and the application was forwarded to Hon. Adam Beck today.

RETAILERS APPEAL

CORNWALL, March 17.—The Retail Merchants' Association of Cornwall have served notice of appeal in the case of Police Magistrate Davis' judgment in the recent transient traders' bylaw case, when the magistrate dismissed the action against Mr. Frank Shumy, formerly of Montreal. The association bear no animosity toward Mr. Shumy, but have entered an appeal in order to test the validity of the bylaw. The case will come up shortly before his honor Judge Liddell.

MOVED WEST.

CORNWALL, March 17.—T. E. Fletcher, who has been manager of the Cornwall branch of the Stirling Bank, and also superintendent of all Eastern Ontario branches for the past six years, has been notified that he has been promoted to a similar position in the bank's service at Regina, Sask., and will leave about the 27th inst. for his new home. Mr. Fletcher came to Cornwall from St. Catharines.

WANTS SOME ONE TO ENFORCE LAW

Suggestion is Made Before Ottawa Banking and Commerce Committee.

OTTAWA, March 17.—Further consideration was given today to the trust companies act, under revision by the banking and commerce committee. "We enforce the Customs Act and occasionally turn out the Dominion police," said W. F. Maclean, "but generally speaking, we do not carry out our own laws, not even the criminal code. There should be some officer to specifically enforce these statutes."

Mr. White said that under the British North America Act, the administration of justice was under the provincial attorney-general, the anybody lay an information, the minister could lay an information. Mr. Maclean replied that crimes in connection with public works had taken place for the most part in Ottawa, and that where responsibility was not fixed, it had been found easy to evade.

"What about the McGreevy case?" asked some one. "Yes, there was this case, and if we are to believe it, there is another coming. A report has been made of great offences probably committed in this capital," said Mr. Maclean.

Gone Forever Are Dyspeptic Days of Old

The Simple, Safe, Sure Use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Bring Joy to Any Stomach. In an Easy, Comfortable, Dietless, Easy manner. How many quiet, afraid-to-eat, noisy, unhappy hours are due to cross, irritable, mischievous, nervous, or kind of dyspepsia sufferers. Such men and women cannot help their peevishness for they suffer terribly and should be resuscitated. It is irritated, raw, rebellious and not fit to do its work is certainly the cause of constant dragging down and even excruciating agony. It is a feeling surpassed by no other illness known to man. No one can blame such a person for his temper and silent moodiness. Ever and always he that does down, soured, and feeling at hand to cause every waking hour. Dyspepsia, bad breath, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach, pain in the bowels, nervousness, heartburn, belching, bloating, etc., are all the signs of this disease. There is nothing to be gained from these horrors unless they are again repeated. When the system exhausts its juices, when the liver, when the stomach, when the stomach becomes thereby unfit to furnish the proper digestive fluids, one cannot expect the same system, without aid, to do anything else than keep on making improper digestive products. Such a condition means a constant state of suffering, and unquestionably fatal danger to the sufferer. There is relief in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets that means a restoration to normal health, a building up of the system, and a feeling of absolute harmoniousness in the method and its result. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain qualities in just the right proportion to the needs of the system. When the stomach is weakened, quickly, balance, readjusts matters, quickly, balances acids and alkalies and stops pain, supporting other ingredients have just as important effects upon the system as well as the stomach and thus in a remarkable, safe, and sure manner, indigestion, etc., disappears. Go to your druggist today and obtain a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia tablets, 75 cents.

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC CO. LIMITED

Annual Report of the Board of Directors for the Year Ended the 31st December, 1913

DIRECTORS: W. R. BROOK, Hon. President and Chairman of the Board. FREDERIC NICHOLLS, President. S. W. MORTIMER CLARK, L.L.D., K.C., Vice-President. E. W. COX, Vice-President. HON. J. K. KERR, K.C., Vice-President. HON. ROBERT JAFFRAY, Vice-President. SIR RODOLPHE FORGET, Vice-President. SIR WILLIAM MACKENZIE, Vice-President. HERBERT S. HOLT, Vice-President. A. E. DYMENT, Vice-President. J. K. L. ROSS, Vice-President.

Your Directors submit herewith the Balance Sheet of the Company as upon the 31st day of December, 1913, and Statement of Profit and Loss for the year, and Certificate of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, Chartered Accountants.

In view of the financial stringency that existed during the year, and the consequent lessening of demand, your Directors are gratified at being able to present such a satisfactory Statement to the Shareholders. An examination of the Balance Sheet will show that a Profit of $2,028,898.53 had been earned after deducting the sum of $479,938.98 for depreciation, and $222,654.69 for interest, there remained a net balance of $1,326,304.86. Deducting from this amount Dividends on Preference and Common Stock at the rate of 7% per annum, and a Bonus of 1% on the Common Stock, there remain surplus earnings of $559,675.76, which $238,124.05 has been added to the Reserve Fund and $221,551.71 to the balance of $483,896.53 at Credit of Profit and Loss, 31st December, 1912. The Reserve now amounts to $2,759,000.00, the balance at the credit of Profit and Loss to $218,932.34, making a total Surplus of $3,113,932.34, equal to 26.14% of the par value of the share Capital of the Company, both Common and Preference.

Following the usual policy of the Company, the inventory has been taken at cost or market value, whichever was the lower, and the usual deductions have been made for depreciation and any obsolete stock has been written down to scrap value. From the inception of the Company until about five years ago, it had been the custom to write off the yearly allowance for depreciation of Buildings, Plant and Machinery, instead of carrying it forward to Reserve for Depreciation Account as at present, and the large amount that has each year been provided for Depreciation has resulted in the book value of our Assets having been written down below their actual value.

INCREASE IN VALUE OF REAL ESTATE HOLDINGS. The Real Estate owned by the Company has also greatly risen in value since the respective dates of purchase, but has been carried on our books at its original purchase price. In order to secure an independent and careful valuation, the services of the Canadian Appraisal Company were retained to make a complete itemized appraisal, and their report shows the replacement value of our Real Estate, Plant and Equipment to be $1,400,000.00 in excess of our book values. From this amount they deduct $1,271,635.00 for a liberal depreciation, leaving a net excess of $1,128,365.00.

VALUE OF PATENTS AND CONTRACTS WRITTEN OFF. Last year, under the heading of "Patents and Contracts," our Balance Sheet contained the item of $502,782.22, being their book value after depreciation had been written off from year to year. It will be understood that our Patents, acquired from time to time, represent a very considerable outlay, and our Contracts, which include our Trade Marks, and our Agreements with the General Electric Company and many other Companies whose Canadian rights we have acquired from time to time, are of prime importance to the successful conduct of our business. Notwithstanding this, our Directors recognize that these Assets are of intangible value, and therefore have decided to write them down to the nominal sum of one dollar, increasing the value of our Real Estate by the amount written off Patents and Contracts, and all annual installments, and will be met by the liquidation of the Cash Assets acquired, which amounting to $1,424,554.58, to remain as an inactive Reserve.

COMPANIES ACQUIRED. During the year your Directors acquired, on favorable terms, all the property, liquid assets, and good-will of Allis-Chalmers-Bullock, Ltd., of Montreal, including an agreement with the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company of Milwaukee which gives the Canadian General Electric Company the exclusive right to manufacture and sell in Canada the types of apparatus for which the Allis-Chalmers Company have achieved a world-wide reputation, such as Corliss Engines, Water Wheels, Saw Mill Machinery, Gas Engines, etc. The business of this body is rising rapidly, and it is expected that within the next thirty days it will be further reduced. Notwithstanding the financial stringency that existed during 1913, collections have been very satisfactory. Your Directors have for some time been anticipating a material shrinkage in the volume of business offered, but although orders fell off somewhat during the latter part of the year, no serious shrinkage has so far been experienced. It is yet too early in the year to warrant any forecast, but it is hoped that the prospects for a general trade revival will materialize.

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, LIMITED. Consolidated Balance Sheet, 31st December, 1913.

Table with columns: ASSETS, CAPITAL ASSETS, LIABILITIES, CURRENT LIABILITIES. Includes items like Buildings, Plant and Machinery, Patents, Contracts and Good-will, Capital Stock, Preferred and Authorized and Issued, Bonds and Other Indebtedness, Current Liabilities.

NOTE.—As the appraised value of the Company's properties shows a net excess of $1,128,365.00 over book values, the value of real estate as carried on the books has been increased by $603,761.42, which amount has been used to write down the Asset of Patents, Contracts and Good-will to the nominal value of one dollar.

CONSOLIDATED SURPLUS ACCOUNT. Profit for the year ended 31st December, 1913, before providing for Depreciation and Interest on borrowed capital, $2,028,898.53. Chambers-Perland sold at 20c and showed a further strengthening tendency.

Beaver sold at 31 1/2. It would not be surprising to see a sharp upturn in this stock before its annual statement is issued.

Jupiter was stronger, selling up to 17 1/2. It is stated on good authority that McKinley-Darragh has a controlling interest in this company and will start active work at once.

WHEAT PRICES RULING STRONG

Slight Fall of Rain Had Little Effect in Encouraging Selling.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Sprinkles of rain over northern and eastern Kansas failed today to relieve except in a transient manner the fear of a dry weather scare regarding wheat.

Reports of continued heavy winds and dust storms in southern Kansas were what renewed apprehension on the part of the wheat trade.

As the official forecast gave no promise of any additional moisture, speculators who had early in the day taken to the bear side were more and more inclined to a reversal of judgment later in the session.

New crop futures developed a noticeable tendency to be independent of the May delivery. The nearby month was under much greater selling pressure.

Improvement in support from commission houses put a little backbone into provisions. Trade as a whole, however, was light.
