LOCAL SUCCESS NEAR TARNOPOL WON BY RUSSIA

Fourth Minor Defeat Inflicted on Enemy in as Many Days.

FOE MASSED IN NORTH

Germans in Great Force Advance Along Warsaw-Petrograd Railway.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Sept. 12.—The Russians won a fourth local success in eastern Galicia Saturday, breaking down the stubborn resistance of the Austrians and Germans on the Tarnopol road and making a considerable advance. The enemy, unable to make a successful stand, took to flight after his 8th Battalion of Chasseurs, which had just been formed and sent to the front, had been entirely destroyed. The Russians captured 21 officers, 2500 men and 16 machine guns, bringing their total captured up to about 25,000 men and 7000 officers in a week's fighting on this front.

The Russians were greatly assisted in the fighting near Tarnopol by a detachment of their armored automobiles.

Germans Advance in North.

In the north the Germans are still pushing forward in the vicinity of the Dvinsk road, where they have massed strong bodies of men with a strong support of field and siege artillery. At the same time another column is advancing in the district east of Shriviaty from the general direction of Vilkomit, over the main line of the Warsaw-Vilna-Dvinsk-Petrograd railway. An attack is being made by great forces on the front between the Rivers Svanta and Villya. The Germans claim that they captured 1500 men and five machine guns between Duna and Mercy and 1940 men on the Zelivanka.

South of the foregoing front the Russians have been holding up repeated attacks of the German east of

RUSSIANS RECEDE IN NORTH BEGIN ADVANCE IN SOUTH

Slight Withdrawal From Salient of Niemen Decided on, But Armies Continue Offensive Near Tarnopol in Galicia With Success.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Sept. 12.—Decision to withdraw the Russian armies slightly in the Niemen salient while still holding back the Austro-German offensive and a continuation of success in engagements in the region of Tarnopol were announced by Sunday night's official statements of the Russian war office, received here from Petrograd tonight. "In general," says the statement, "we continue the execution of our plans, which daily improve the situation of our armies."

The report, dealing with the situation in the north, says that in the sector of the Niemen salient, the czar's forces had to sustain very strong attacks on Saturday. The chief points of attack were the lower Zelivanka, the road leading to the Slonim and Tarnovichi regions, and at Rozahn, Zelva, and southeast of Kossow. On the lower Zelivanka fierce enemy was destroyed by the Russian artillery, but the enemy under cover of a violent artillery fire, continued attacks till nightfall. In the action on the Tarnovichi road, captured Saturday 21 officers, 4200 men, also four machine guns and munition wagons.

FRENCH IN GALLIOLI ARE LITTLE MOLESTED

Turks Show Respect for Powers of Opponents' Big Mortars.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—An official statement says:

"In the Dardanelles the last period of five days has been very calm. In the north zone the Turks on different occasions have opened a violent infantry and artillery fire, but without leaving their trenches. In the south zone there is nothing particular to report outside the efficiency of our trench mortars, which have destroyed two small forts and caused sensible losses to the enemy."

COMBAT IN EAST SHOWS NO SIGNS OF WANING YET

Russians Continue Offensive With Excellent Results in Eastern Galicia.

FOE BIDS FOR DVINSK

Every Day's Delay Gives Russians Time to Prepare for Stand.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—There is still no sign of waning in the battles which are being fought along the eastern front that now runs almost directly north and south from Riga to the Roumanian frontier. From Riga southward to the Galician border the Germans and Austrians, who are continually receiving reinforcements and supplies of munitions by railway and river, are endeavoring to force their way to the Dvina and the main trunk of the important railway lines.

The Russians continue their offensive in eastern Galicia and, according to their accounts, with excellent results.

The Austro-German offensive is making slow but steady headway particularly along the road to Sloni and Pinsk. Elsewhere the German official reports daily recount the capture of a few thousand prisoners with machine guns.

Fighting for Dvinsk

The Germans' big effort, however, it is expected, will be made against Vilna and Dvinsk, westward of which town heavy engagements are being fought. Having reached the Dvina at Friedrichstadt, and driven the Russians across the river, the Germans are in a better position to advance on Dvinsk, as there is no danger of any outflanking movement. The slowness of the operations is probably due largely to the condition of the country and the heavy roads.

Delays Help Russians.

Every day's delay is giving the Russians a breathing spell, and enables them to make preparations for greater resistance on chosen lines protected by marshes and swollen rivers.

The Germans are increasing their activities in the Caucasus, and it is believed that the arrival of Grand Duke Nicholas will be the signal for more important operations which will lessen the burden of the allies, who are trying to force the Dardanelles.

The Russian rumor concerning the Dardanelles is again afloat, probably due to the statement recently made by Lord Robert Cecil, under secretary for foreign affairs, that the allies are not far from a great success.

There has been little or no cessation of the artillery engagements on the western front. A few isolated attacks by German infantry have taken place, but, according to Paris, have been repulsed, and there have been further air raids and much bomb-throwing.

PROSPECTORS RUSH TO KOWKASH REGION

Great Search Being Conducted for Promising Claims.

MUCH LAND STAKED

Searchers Satisfied They Will Uncover Promising Veins of Ore.

Special to The Toronto World.
COCHRANE, Sept. 12.—Latest reports from Kowkash received here tonight state that the country is now full of prospectors, and that they are claiming a wide area in search of claims. Hundreds of prospectors have already been staked and the search for quartz veins has begun. So far the best samples seen, it is said, have come from the original Dodd's claims, but investigators are of the belief that when sufficient time elapses for them to make a thorough search, they will be successful in uncovering some promising showings.

SOVIET CABINET HAS NOT RESIGNED

Report of Plans for Coalition Ministry Rather Premature.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 12.—(Via London, Sept. 12, 12.33 a.m.)—The statement published in the United States, that the cabinet of Premier Goremykin had resigned, and that a coalition cabinet would be formed, is erroneous. The cabinet has not resigned.

GREAT INCREASE IN OUTPUT OF MUNITIONS VITAL NEED LLOYD GEORGE FACES ISSUE

POINTS IN GREAT APPEAL MADE BY LLOYD GEORGE

The central (Germanic) powers still have an overwhelming superiority in war munitions.

Had the allies realized 12 months ago the strength of the enemy's resources and the allies' own resources in raw material, the German legions by this time would be "scorched back across their frontier."

The allies must put forth their whole strength before it is too late.

"A shrewd and sagacious observer told me the other day that in his judgment the course followed by this country during the next three months would decide the fate of the war."

British labor unions must not continue to hamper munition-producing efforts.

GERMAN SUBS. IN BLACK SEA ARE PURSUED BY RUSSIANS

PETROGRAD, Sept. 11.—(Via London, Sept. 12.)—Russian torpedo boat destroyers and seaplanes have been sent in pursuit of German submarines operating near the Crimean coast, in the Black Sea, according to an official statement issued at the war office tonight.

The text of the statement follows:

"Enemy submarines have been reported in the Black Sea, near the coast of Crimea. Destroyers and submarines have been sent to pursue them."

"In the Black Sea, near Cape Tchabudy, our patrol boats exchanged shots with an enemy submarine, which fled rapidly."

KAVALLA, Greece, Sept. 12, via Paris, Sept. 12, 11.45 a.m.—Reports of a frontier skirmish between Greek and Bulgarian patrols near Fatona have been officially confirmed, and an investigation ordered.

German aeroplanes, it is said here, are constantly flying over Serbian and Bulgarian territory from Orsova, Hungary, to Adrianople. Each of them is loaded to its full capacity, according to the reports, with supplies for the Turks.

Loomis, 18th Battalion; Lieut.-Col. MacBrien, first staff, and Lieut.-Col. Hughes, 2nd Division Staff, Distinguished Service Order.

FUR SEASON STARTS OFF IN GRAND STYLE

It is probably not always prudent to set a standard, but judging from the business transacted at Dineen's, 140 Yonge Street, during the past two weeks the fur season promises to eclipse all past selling records. Out-of-town visitors and those from over the line have come in and bought freely. The scarcity of furs and skins with a subsequent increase in price may have been the reason. If not then the reputation of this old-established house with fifty-one years' experience in the fur trade must undoubtedly be the reason. The management and luxurious furs now being offered are certainly deserving your immediate attention. The prices are right—the quality is right, so you need have no hesitation about coming in. Your visit will be appreciated, and you can rely on getting sound advice from experienced salespeople in the matter of selection.

Germanic Powers Still Have Vast Superiority in Supply—Britain's Work in Next Few Months Will Mean Success or Disaster to Allies.

LONDON, Sept. 12, 10.35 p.m.—That the central powers still have an overwhelming superiority in all the material and equipment of war and that the allies to win must put forth all their strength is the statement made by David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, in the preface of a book containing his speeches since the outbreak of the war, entitled: "Thru Terror to Triumph."

"After 12 months of war," says Mr. Lloyd George, "my conviction is stronger than ever that this country could not have kept out of it without imperiling its security and its honor. We could not have looked on cynically had given our word to protect what was being ravaged, trodden on by one of our own co-trustees. If British women and children were being brutally destroyed on the high seas by German submarines, this nation would have insisted on calling the infanticide to a stern reckoning.

Slender Menace

"Everything that has happened since the declaration of war has clearly demonstrated that a military system so regardless of good faith, honorable obligations and the elementary impulses of humanity constitutes a menace to civilization of the most sinister character, and, despite the terrible cost of suppressing it, the well-being of humanity demands that such a system should be challenged and destroyed.

"Nor have the untoward incidents of the war weakened my faith in ultimate victory, always provided that the nations put forth the whole of their strength ere it is too late. Anything less must lead to defeat. The allied countries have an overwhelming preponderance in the raw material that goes to the making of the equipment of armies, whether in men, money, or accessible metal and machinery, but this material has to be mobilized and utilized.

"It would be idle to pretend that the first 12 months of the war have seen this task accomplished satisfactorily. Had the allies realized in time the full strength of their redoubtable and resourceful foe, nay, what is more, had they realized their own strength and resources and taken prompt action to organize them, today we would have witnessed the triumphant spectacle of their guns pouring out a stream of shot and shell which would have deluged the German trenches with fire and scorched the German legions back across their frontier.

Must Have War Material.

"With the resources of Great Britain, France and Russia, yes, of the whole industrial world at the disposal of the allies, the central powers still have an overwhelming superiority in all the material and equipment of war. The result of this deplorable fact is exactly what might have been foreseen. The iron heel of Germany has sunk deeper than ever into Belgian and French soil. Poland is entirely German, and Lithuania is rapidly following. Russian fortresses deemed impregnable are falling like castles before the ruthless tide of autonic invasion.

"When will that tide recede or be stemmed? As soon as the allies are supplied with an abundance of war material."

Mr. Lloyd George says that he is recalling pleasant facts to stir his countrymen to put forth their strength to amend the situation. There has been a great awakening, he says, and prodigious efforts are being made to equip the armies, but adds the minister: "Nothing but our best can pull us thru."

"Are we straining every nerve to make up for lost time? Are we getting all the men we shall want to put into the firing line next year to enable us even to hold our own? Does every man who can help, whether by fighting or providing material, understand clearly that ruin awaits remission?"

Russians Must Re-equip.

"How many people in this country fully apprehend to its full significance the Russian retreat? For over 12 months Russia, despite dedications in equipment,

POMPADOUR SILK ON MODISH FROCKS

Prettily Patterned Materials Combined With Velvet or Broadcloth.

REVERS AND GIRDLERS

On Indoor Frocks Show Figured Silks in Soft Colors.

Pompadour silks in a charming array of delicate color combinations are being used with very narrow revers and trimmings on numbers of the season's smartest frocks, street costumes and separate wraps. There is a tendency to brighten an otherwise quiet velvet or broadcloth creation by the introduction in the upper part of the costume of a harmonizing afternoon silk which adds tone and distinction. Street suits very frequently exploit smartly faced revers of tiny "parade" models in violet tinted velvet, showing a full skirt and uneven hem banded with sable, was remarkable for its quaint bodice arrangement. An under blouse portion of cream chiffon with long, full sleeves was cutted at the wrist with very narrow bands of the fur. A sleeveless jacket of violet pompadour silk, showing a tiny flower design in saffron and green, was worn over the chiffon, having fur on revers and collar section, which was flatly pleated across the back.

With this stunning afternoon costume was worn a broad low sailor in silk velvet of the same shade, with a full mount of narrow bands of "parade" sweeping about the brim. One of the smart new leather handbags to match was carried mounted in oxidized silver. On one-piece dresses pompadour silks are often used for girlish-pretty pleated effects, or awarded belts with ends, lending the touch of color which marks all modish house dresses of the season.

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, should try a meal of yeast food or foods in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisaurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisaurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. Do not dose an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs, but get rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisaurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisaurated magnesia as directed above, and note remarkable results. Bisaurated Magnesia, No. 25 E. 26th St., N. Y. C.

THIS WEEK AT THE THEATRES

A Full House
The Alexandra Theatre will offer tonight the most brilliant and amusing farce of the season in "A Full House," which comes to Toronto direct from its successful New York run, and will offer fun in unlimited quantities through the week. Walter Jones is at the head of the splendid cast of comedians that Manager H. H. Frazee provides for "A Full House," and some of his notable assistant fun-makers include Josie Intropidi, Geo. Stuart Christie, Charles K. Gerrard and The Alexandras, left on Thursday to matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

JOSIE INTROPIDI, Comedienne, in "A Full House," at the Alexandra.

Shea's
E. Frederick Hawley, assisted by Miss Frances Haight and an excellent supporting cast, will present the successful dramatic playlet, "The Bandit," as the special extra attraction of this week's bill. The Bell Family will offer their pleasing singing, dancing and instrumental melange as the headline attraction of the bill. The dainty singing comedienne, Marion Weeks, will sing among other songs the delightful "Doll Song," from "Tales of Hoffman." Haydn, Borden and Haydn have a bright snappy offering of comedy and song, while Ward, Bell and Ward will present a singing and dancing melange that is said to be the very good. Leo Zarrell and company have an unusual "strong man" act, while Dupree and Dupree are two clever cyclists. The musical playlet with new pictures completes the bill.

"BIRTH OF A NATION."
The new theatrical act invented by David W. Griffith in producing "The Birth of a Nation," which will be seen at the Alexandra Theatre next week, has enabled him to surpass by far any previous stage spectacle. "The Birth of a Nation" was supposed to be the high water mark of such productions. They sink into insignificance beside this wonderful drama, with its 6000 scenes, 15,000 characters, 3000 cavalry, 200,000 dollars and the result of eight months of tireless labor and the expenditure of half a million dollars. The great director is being repaid for his monumental effort in motion picture spectacles by "capacity" business at first-class prices in the principal theatres of the country.

A special attraction on the bill will be the American singing comedienne, Evelyn Cunningham, offering the season's newest songs, with appropriate changes of costume. Kelly Brothers and company will offer their comedy play, "Fun in a Sporting Goods Store." Dunbar and Turner have a unique novelty entirely new to Hippodrome patrons, while Frawley and Hunt have a pleasing offering of Irish songs and dances. J. Hutchinson and Sadler will offer a laughable comedy playlet of merit, and with complete photo-plays and new film feature provide a splendid all-round bill.

Loew's
The big feature act of the bill at Loew's Theatre this week is the posing and diving novelty staged by John F. Conroy and his two lovely girl assistants with a star setting of pretentious aquatic display costing $8500 to erect. This trio will give an exhibition that will delight the water sports in fancy and dance, and others that will entertain are, Ethel Mae Hall and Company, in the screamingly comedy playlet, "The Frog Guy." Italian and Hayes, two clever comedians; McDonald Trio, wonderful cyclists; Morin, the ventriloquist; Marion Sisters, in song and dance, and others, concluding with the "Defenders of Our Empire," a photo play in two parts, showing how airships and aeroplanes are used by the British and French in active service, also showing the war in general as it is being fought at the present time.

Melba's Red Cross Concert
Mme. Nellie Melba, the greatest of living prima donnas, is coming to Toronto on Oct. 4 to do her bit for the empire. The bit constitutes a grand concert in Massey Hall, Mme. Melba's share of the proceeds being donated to the Canadian Red Cross. The diva, who possesses a patriotic spirit as big as any in the empire, in addition to her matchless voice, is even going to pay her own traveling expenses and those of her assisting prima donna, White in Toronto she will be the guest of Lady Hendrie at government house, and their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught are likely to come to Toronto to be present at the concert in person. In the realm of pure home made goods, the world has raised the tremendous sum of $20,000 for the Belgian relief. Red Cross and allied funds demonstrated that she still retains her sovereignty. The seat sale for the Toronto concert opens at Massey Hall on Monday morning, Sept. 20.

HISTORIC FIGURE GONE FROM LIFE OF CANADA
Sir Robert Borden Pays Tribute to the Late Sir Charles De Boucherville
By a Staff Reporter. "The death of Sir Charles Boucher, De Boucherville," said Sir Robert Borden today, "removes an historic figure from the public life of Canada. For more than half a century his name had been associated with public affairs. During all that period he has taken an active and effective interest in all that concerned the welfare of his country. His public career has always been above reproach, and he leaves a name and memory of which not only his relatives and friends but all Canada may well be proud."

Sporting Widows
There has been a marked improvement in the standard and quality of the burlesque shows which have been seen here in the past two seasons and the "Sporting Widows" Company, which comes to the Gayety for a week's engagement, commencing this afternoon, is said to surpass all of the burlesque efforts in point of staging and for scenic and electrical equipment. This show is headed by John Lorenz and Eddie Fox, two of the most popular entertainers in burlesque's nightly realms and with a supporting company which includes such well-known players as Ruth Lockwood, Annie Mack, George Macart, Daisy Mayfair, V. P. Dusey, Dublin bro., and Zenita, the show is certain of a warm reception here. In addition to a laughable musical revue entitled "Beauty Doctors," which is in two acts and several scenes, there will be a complete vaudeville olio of five separate headline specialties.

CAROL SCHRODER, at the Star Theatre.

Auto Girls
When Simonds and Lake's "Auto Girls" open at the popular Star Theatre, commencing with the matinee, today, the patrons are promised one of the fastest shows on the circuit. The "Auto Girls" break all speed limits when it comes to putting over the tinsel musical numbers. Featured with the show are Carol Schroder, Harry Seymour, James J. Lake, almost too well known to need any introduction. The supporting company includes Jack Lewis, Smiling Rose Allen, Bill Hallman, Madeline Webb and George Walker. Special added feature with the "Auto Girls," is the three Bennett sisters, the "athletic girls" presenting their up-to-date novelty act entitled, "Twelve Minutes in the Gym."

"MARY FROM TIPPERARY."
A real war play fresh from England will be produced at the Grand Opera House, beginning Monday, Sept. 27, under the title of "Mary From Tipperary." Three companies of this successful war play are now touring England, and the play is said to contain more real war effects than any war drama written thus far. It takes us from Tipperary, where the boys are recruiting to the signal tower on the Irish coast, then to the submarine base and to the Zeppelins and then to the trenches in Belgium, each scene having an exciting and thrilling scenic effect and giving a demonstration of the use of all the famous war weapons, such as the interior of the submarine, the gas bombs, the signal tower and the Zeppelins, etc. The engagement will be for the week only, with the usual matinees.

BROCKVILLE SOLDIER WOUNDED BY TURKS

Pte. Ridgwood Saved Life at Dardanelles by Pretending Death.

Special to The Toronto World. BROCKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 12.—Pte. Bidgood, a Brockville soldier who received the Distinguished Conduct Medal for conspicuous gallantry at the Dardanelles, writes from a hospital in England, where he is under treatment for wounds received in a desperate fight with the Turks. He tells how he played possum. "When I got hit, it knocked me about two yards," he says. "I thought my face was gone, but I still kept my senses. If I had not I would have been bayoneted by the Turks; I pretended I was dead and outwitted them. I shall never forget that awful five minutes when they were going thru my pockets." Torrance Glazier, a veteran of the Fenian raids, the Northwest rebellion and the South African war, has endeavored to enlist for overseas service at almost every recruiting station between Toronto and Montreal and in each case has been rejected on account of his age.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

By Adele Garrison

"Oh, the Gorilla with the Mumps!"

WELL, upon my word, what are you moaning over?" Dicky's voice, clear to me, started me so that I dropped the silken square which had brought back to me so many memories of my mother and Jack Bickett. Dicky stooped and picked it up and examined it closely.

"India," he commented, and then suspiciously to me: "You appear very much upset over this oriental souvenir. What is it, a memento of some sentimental episode?"

Dicky's voice was sneering, unpleasant. I had learned upon the day he discovered Jack's letter announcing his suspected return, that under Dicky's careless exterior lurked a demon of jealousy. It was not a dangerous demon, by any means, and one of which I was very sure Dicky was much ashamed, but it was strong enough to make him a most unpleasant companion while it possessed him.

I knew that I had only to say quietly: "This is something that belonged to my mother," to make tender-hearted Dicky utterly remorseful and humiliated. But my conscience would not let me tell such a half-truth. I was awaiting the day when I should be able to tell him the truth, and I was brooding over the silken fabric had held so many thoughts of Jack as of my dear mother.

So I faced him, outwardly brave, but inwardly quaking, for I dreaded another scene.

"I found this when I was taking out the linen for tonight," I said. "It is something which my mother prized very highly, and I thought that you, being the best friend my mother and myself ever had."

Into Dicky's face flashed the look of anger which I had learned to dread.

"Oh, the gorilla with the mumps!" he jeered contemptuously. "That was the same expression that he had used when he saw Jack's photograph. When he had said it before, the day that he had found Jack's letter upon the living room table, I had not noticed it particularly. Now, for some reason it stung me deeply. I thought of the many kindnesses from Jack Bickett which had brightened my mother's years of invalidism, of the letters and fruit and look-alike pictures which he had constantly showered upon her. And his kindness had not stopped there. Pleasant memories of his kindness, and my mother's care of him when a boy he had done more substantial things. My mother's frequent trips which we took as his guests, a thousand and one things came rushing back to me.

A Fortunate Interruption.

I flung back my head and faced Dicky. "If you ever speak of my mother's best friend in that manner again, I shall refuse the most ordinary courtesy to any friend of yours." I was surprised to hear my voice as cold and measured as it was. For I was trembling with anger.

Into the silence that followed, Dicky's voice came. I do not know what Dicky would have answered if she had not appeared at just that psychological moment. I have learned that such little things turn the scale of Dicky's emotions. As Dicky rushed through the living room, calling my name loudly, excitedly, Dicky turned on his heel with a terrible word which I pretended not to hear, and went to his own room.

"Missa Graham, oh, Missa Graham, some quick, dot brown skin, hemm all some off."

"All right, Katie, I will come directly." I put the silken square back in the chest, laid the embroidery on the table and the beds upon the top of the chest, spread a sheet over them, and went to the kitchen. There I found Katie in a state of great excitement over the shelled almonds which she had covered with boiling water for blanching according to my directions. She had never seen any prepared before.

"You do now?" she demanded. "Fortunately for my anger and my nerves, Katie demanded action every minute. I knew also that if I wanted to be ready for my little supper in the evening, I would have to hurry."

"Turn on the cold water and hold that largest strainer under the faucet," directed, Katie did so, and I took the bowl of nuts covered with hot water to the sink. I poured the nuts into the strainer, and emptied the bowl of the hot water, rinsing it thoroughly. Katie held the strainer of nuts under the flow of cold water, watching them carefully.

"That will do, Katie," I said, patting the yellow bowl with cold water and carrying it to the table. "Put the nuts in here now."

"You no afraid heem take cold, first hot water, den cold water?" Katie giggled with enjoyment of her little joke.

"Not this time, Katie," I smiled mechanically. "Now let us wash and dry our hands carefully before we touch the almonds."

Dicky's Sole Comment.

I went to the bathroom, leaving Katie to wait for her ablutions. I knew that if I had told her bluntly to wash her hands, she would have resented it. Including myself in the regulation, however, gave her no chance for offense. I returned to the kitchen to find her beaming, her hands red and shining from the scrubbing she had given them.

"Now we will rub the brown skin from the almonds, Katie," I said, putting the action to the word. "I will take the white meats upon this towel on the table." Katie is a very swift worker. She is as quick as a master how unfamiliar it may be to her. So in an incredibly short time the nuts were divested of their brown coats, and lay upon the towel, white and glistening with moisture.

"Now cover them with this other towel," I directed, "and we must leave them for an hour at least until they get thoroughly dried."

"You do den?"

"Then I will brown them and salt them."

"You let me do?" Katie's request was almost a demand. I realized again how this alien girl for the American methods of doing things.

"I cannot let you do them yourself, Katie, they have to be done very carefully, but you may watch me, and I will let you help me with them."

Katie's enthusiasm made me smile in spite of myself. I thought of Tom Sawyer, and his success in getting his fence whitewashed. Truly making a task which was of access made it desirable to Katie's childish mind.

I went back to my room, and put it in perfect order. As I spread my exquisitely embroidered cover over the bed I heard the telephone ring, and Dicky's voice answering the call. But my door was shut and I did not distinguish the words, indeed I did not care to know anything about it. My mental state was one of apathy. Life seemed just a weary round of waiting for another day, myself, parodying a famous phrase sentence. I put the finishing touches to my room, and opened my door to meet Dicky.

"I suppose you would call this a direct Providence," he said unpleasantly. "At least, just telephoned that Miss Maraden must go to Chicago on the next train. Her brother is seriously ill there. Of course neither of them will come tonight, so one of your social problems is solved."

Diary of a Well-Dressed Girl

Making a Princess Frock Suitable for a Petite Figure.

WHILE I was at school Mabelle, Condou, the statuesque beauty of our class, who had a reputation for being frank, said to me one day when I was trying on a new frock that had just come from the dressmaker's: "Too bad that you're not a little taller, Robin. It's such a big handicap, for you're barred from wearing a lot of stunning clothes and will have to stick to youthful styles all your life. There'll be no fun in doing that—you'll look the same in everything."

I must have appeared crestfallen after her remarks, for dear old Peggy Harding, always equal to any occasion, chimed in with this consolation: "Cheer up, Robin! I believe we're supposed to grow until we're 25, so you've a few years to catch up to Mabelle, since she already has her allotted inches."

Princess Frock of Amethyst Taffeta, with Sleeves of Chiffon.

The pointed neck line looked rather plain and unfinished, so I tried using a narrow band of black velvet, fastening it in front with a small jet buckle. This sounded smart to me, and I soon had a ruff that rivalled in proportions those worn by Good Queen Bess.

My frock is stunning, and proves that one need not be a Juno to wear a princess.

I made the short, chiffon sleeves entirely by hand, and joined them to the normal armholes with narrow plings of taffeta.

THE THRILL OF SPEED

By Will Nies

THE slow little sailboat was all very well in its day, with its white sail picturesquely against the blue sea. But today the white lies low along the curling waves in the FOAM OF SPEED. Those in the sailboat say "Here she comes—There she goes," and hold their breath enviously as THEY flash past in a cloud of spray.

But there's a big DISADVANTAGE about the flying miracle. They haven't time for ANYTHING save the THRILL of the SPEED. HE has to give ALL his attention to the boat, and SHE is busy holding her breath. It isn't so in the sailboat. There they have time for each other.

But if it is an ELOPEMENT—ah! that's another thing.

Sound Apples Never Make Specked Ones Whole

By WINIFRED BLACK

MRS. CLARENCE SUMMY of Chicago believes that the only way to help wayward girls to reform is to take them into respectable homes and bring them up as one of the family.

Mrs. Summy is the president of a society which is formed for encouraging and helping in just exactly this form of work.

"I know what I'm talking about," says Mrs. Summy. "I took a girl of that sort into my own family and brought her up with my own daughter, and she turned out a good girl, and I know she's going to make a fine woman."

"Mothers are to blame for their daughters going wrong. The girl with the right kind of a home and the right kind of a mother doesn't go wrong, she goes right."

"Let us see that unfortunate girls have the right kind of homes, if we have to take them into our homes to do it, and the world will soon be quite a different place."

"What a great big, kind, generous, noble-hearted, well-meaning plan! I wonder if it is quite as practical as it sounds?"

"I've known a great many girls who have stepped from the straight and narrow path some time in their lives, and who have stepped back again and become good and honest women."

I would be the last person in the world to put one straw in the path of such a girl, and I would go out of my way a good long stretch to help her in any possible way that I could.

But is this scheme of taking wayward girls into the family and bringing them up with your own daughters really quite "possible?"

How about your own child? Do you owe anything to her? To be sure, she may meet in her own class, in her own private school, a girl who will corrupt her, or try to corrupt her, but that you can't help. Have you any right to expose her to an ordeal which you can help?

Degrees of Responsibility.

If my house were set on fire by a spark from a neighboring chimney I'd call in the fire department, pay for having my furniture done over again after the water from the firemen's hose was through with it, and blame myself not in the least.

But if I have a defective fire in my own house and know it and fall to do anything to correct it, and then go away and leave my children locked up in that house, am I not, to a degree, responsible for what happens after I've gone off to have a good time in my own good way?

I'm afraid that if anything happened to those children while I was gone it would take a good deal more than a membership in some society with a high-sounding name to make me feel quite comfortable about it.

I don't believe in this idea that everybody's children need more protection and more help than my children.

My children were given to me, and it is my duty to take care of them to the best of my ability, and I cannot believe that I am taking such care and into companionship with my own daughters, and what is quite as important, my own sons.

If I met my growing boy on the street with a girl of recognized light character, I'm afraid I should feel a distinct sinking of the heart.

Why should I imagine my boy any better off sitting down at the table with such a girl three times a day?

All the wrongdoing in the world is not the fault of men. The world is full just now of misery arising from the fact that women are just as apt to do wrong, and to tempt men into doing wrong, as men are.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl of 18 summers and have been going with a fellow six years my senior. He has a good position and is a good, sober man. He asked me to marry him and I accepted; but my parents are not aware that we are engaged. I don't like to tell them, in case they don't think it right for me to marry so young.

I intend to marry him some time, so I think it best not to let my parents know, in case they should want to break the engagement. Well, dear Annie Laurie, I will consider it a favor if you will let me know what you think about it.

PERPLEXED HAZEL.

PERPLEXED HAZEL, it is my belief that nothing but perplexity can ever be yours—all through life—if you begin to deceive, and a love affair kept a secret from one's own parents would require all sorts and varieties of deceit to carry out. Better listen to your own conscience and tell your mother and rather right away. If they object, they will have to give some reason, and that may help you to see more clearly what is for your best and life-long happiness to do.

Secrets of Health

How Science Now Turns Old Scars Into Smooth Skin

By DR. L. K. HIRSHBERG

A. B. M. A. M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

ALTHOUGH the pain is past and the wound is healed, the scar remains possibly a brand to mark the carelessness of parents who allowed the child to be scalded or otherwise injured.

In any event, the question is, what can we do with the ugly disfiguring scar that so mars the beauty of our otherwise comely son or daughter? The answer is in skin grafting.

The use of epidermis or thin, transparent layers of skin to cover patches of wounded flesh, over which the original epidermis has been irreversibly destroyed is called a "graft." Skin grafting was originated in 1890, a few years after the civil war, by the French physician, Dr. J. L. Reverdin. At first it was rough, clumsy, haphazard procedure. Today it ranks in the hands of such experts as Dr. John Sturge Davis as one of the fine arts.

Dr. Thiersch, in 1868, a Berlin surgeon, extended the use of this transplantation method of skin grafts, since which time all skillful surgeons have practiced it with more or less success. To eliminate all signs and disfigurements of the foregoing, repellant remnants of the original epidermis, the old scar is made painless and shaved off with an appropriate instrument. The "graft" or fresh skin taken from the thin surface of some hairy area, such as the inner surface of the thigh or arm, is also "shaved" with a broad, flat knife. The skin grafts are almost as thin as tissue paper and spread out on either fresh wounds or unhealed scars. Small pieces of those already healing. Small pieces of the essential condition to be observed in texture, and aseptically clean.

There is an advantage waiting until the new wound begins to heal, because the skin grafts on it. Then there is no pain, no danger of infection, and no chance of bleeding. The new skin quickens nature, gives the flesh a new suit of clothes, and plants a sweet, smooth surface where a tough, crusty structure grew before.

Small, deep grafts, according to Dr. John Sturge Davis, are usually not replaced by scars. The cosmetic result is surprisingly fine if large pieces of new skin are used. The epidermis is regenerated and gives the locality from which it was removed and the sections scattered over the new soil, take happy root and flourish in a kindly manner like the green grass on a lawn.

Three Large Steamers To Be Built at Peace River Crossing—Ship Carpenters Have Been Brought From Vancouver—Three Test Holes for Oil Being Drilled at the Chutes Below Fort Vermilion—Coal Deposit Located.

Red Cross Contributions

- From The Edmonton Bulletin, Sept. 7: The D. A. Thomas interest, who for the past three years have undertaken reconnaissance and prospecting work in the vast district to the north of Edmonton, have at last begun active construction of the Peace River crossing and are spending a large amount of money at the present time in this connection. C. F. Law, of Vancouver, who found personal representation in Mr. Thomas in this country, left Peace River Crossing on Thursday last for the Chutes, near Fort Vermilion where three test holes for oil are being drilled at the present time, and before leaving, told a Bulletin reporter, at the Crossing, that the development work that is being carried on. Three Large Steamers. In the first place, three steamboats are to be placed in commission north of Edmonton, so as to maintain an adequate transportation service on 2400 miles of the northern waterways, including the Athabasca, north of Fort McMurray. Work already has been started on the first boat, which is being built at Peace River Crossing. A crew of ship carpenters arrived from Vancouver on Saturday, and it is expected that the boat will be finished in time for the first open water next year. It will be 175 feet long, with a 35 foot beam, and will be capable of carrying 400 tons and towing another two thousand tons. There will be cabin accommodation for 110. The boat will be fitted with boilers and engine, and will be capable of a speed of 16 miles per hour to be maintained up stream, on the basis of a load of two thousand tons. To Be Elaborately Fitted. Thirty men are working on the boat last Saturday. The boat will be fitted with electric searchlight and being built at Peace River Crossing. The vessel, which can be devalued. In addition, the boat is to be fitted with large oil tanks, so that it can carry a large amount of fuel. The company will be in a position to handle the output. Three test holes for oil are being drilled at a point three miles above the Chutes, on the north bank of the river. The wells, which come from San Francisco, have an up-to-date plant, capable of drilling 2000 feet. Prof. John Macdonald declared this to be a favorable site for oil drilling as well.

GERMANS ATTACK
ADVANCED POSTS

Three Assaults Made on Suptigneul, on Canal Between Aisne and Marne.

REPULSED, SAY FRENCH

Heavy Bombardment of German Lines With Infantry Clashes Continued.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Sept. 12.—German infantry delivered no less than three attacks, intended to be a surprise, on French advanced posts near Saptigneul, on the canal between the Aisne and the Marne Saturday and Sunday.
All three, the French war office says,
were repulsed.
The Germans also delivered a most violent bombardment on the French positions south of the Sear, in the Roye region and north of the Aisne between Paisy and Graonville, and the French grenadiers tossed by each of the three, the French war office says,
were repulsed.
An attempt by the Germans to assault the French positions south of Lelieu was immediately checked by the fire of French infantry and artillery, the French war office says, and the French operated effectively against the positions of the enemy.
The throwing of grenades and a cannonade on both sides marked the day's struggle in the Neuville sector
north of Arras.
On the Artois front great activity
was displayed Saturday in artillery,
the Germans bombarded French positions heavily, the French war office says, and the French in reply opened an effective fire against the guns and trenches of the Germans.
In the Argonne on Saturday the struggle died down to one of bombs
and machine gun fire, the French war office says, and the French in reply opened an effective fire against the trenches of the enemy.
The French artillerists also kept up a terrific bombardment of the German positions at Acheville and St. Hillaire, in the Champagne, the line between the Meux, Meuse and the Moselle.
Montmarie forest, the Lorraine front,
the environs of Nomeny and Xousse and at Ban-de-Sapt.
A German aeroplane dropped bombs
on the Argonne on Saturday and French aeroplanes effectively bombarded the German aeroplane sheds and hangars
at Erayelle.
The Germans report that bombs were dropped on Ostend. Mines were exploded in the Argonne and Champagne.

DIFFICULTIES RAISED
RE CATTLE EMBARGO

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11.—"The question of the Canadian cattle embargo has again been prominent in agricultural circles," says J. E. Ray, one of the Canadian trade commissioners in Great Britain in a report to the trade and commerce department.
A few days ago a deputation waited upon Lord Selborne, president of the board of agriculture and fisheries,
and he acknowledged the importance of the deputation, but pointed out that at the end of the first year of war, the United Kingdom found itself with record herds of cattle which were free from any malignant cattle disease. This was a justification of the policy adopted by his predecessors.
His lordship admitted that there was a shortage of meat and that prices were abnormal, but the cause was not to be found in lack of tonnage to carry usual supplies from abroad
than a lack of unfinished store cattle.
Everything possible was being done to revive the trade in cattle to be landed for slaughter, but he could not accede to their request for the importation of store cattle from Canada to be landed for fattening on farms in the United Kingdom.

MAJOR BICKFORD
GETS PROMOTION

Made Lieutenant-Colonel for Good Work at Toronto and Niagara.

"EX" CAMP BREAKS UP

Major Barker Praises Every Man for Exceptionally Good Behavior.

Major H. C. Bickford, the general staff officer of the Toronto military division, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. His successor in directing the training of the soldiers of the second contingent, who were stationed at Exhibition Park Camp last winter has often been commented on. He has also been doing splendid work in rounding up the men at the big military camp at Niagara.
Parade states of the active service men attached on Saturday night to the various Toronto regiments gave a total of 1279 recruits, made up as follows: G.B.G. 117; 8th M.I. 219;
5th Battery, C.F.A., 26; Q.O.R., 288;
Grenadiers, 180; 12th Yorks, 123; 36th
Regt, 182; 48th Highlanders, 59; 109th Regiment, 8.

A recruiting depot order states that Lt.-Col. W. M. Davis, officer commanding the 2nd Battalion of Pion-neers, is now arranging for the enlisting of men for this unit.

One of the battalions of Pioneers will be recruited in the portion of Canada extending from Manitoba to the Atlantic. It is quite likely that Ontario will supply a substantial part of the men needed. Nearly all of the officers are to be civil engineers.
To be eligible for the pioneers men must be physically fit, engaged in waterworks and sewer work construction, also farmers, prospectors, miners, tradesmen, and a fair proportion of men who have been engaged in the trades such as carpenters, electricians and gasfitters.

It is planned to send the battalion overseas just about as soon as the men forming it have been equipped and received some infantry training.
Col. Davis, who is organizing the Pioneer Battalion, was formerly city engineer of Woodstock. He organized the 1st and 2nd battalions of Pion-neers and was in command of it until he went to British Columbia in 1910.

He must be inoculated.
The Ottawa militia department has issued an order stating that from now on it is a punishable offence for soldiers to refuse to be inoculated against typhoid.

Recruits found medically fit and sworn in for active service at the recruiting depot on Saturday totaled
about 100, and brought the number of enlistments for last week up to 550.
This was a decrease from five days
before, but is explained by the fact that, owing to Labor Day, recruits
were only received on five days.
The number of recruits for the Exhibition being on, also diverted
men from joining the colors.

The call for young unmarried men
for coast defence service at the recruiting depot on Saturday totaled
about 100, and brought the number of
enlistments for last week up to 550.
This was a decrease from five days
before, but is explained by the fact
that, owing to Labor Day, recruits
were only received on five days.
The number of recruits for the Exhibition being on, also diverted
men from joining the colors.

After bivouacking for two weeks at the Exhibition grounds, the splendid 8th Battalion is now ready to strike tents and move on to another camp.
The orders have been officially given,
and the men will go forth with the assurance that the camp commands of Canadian visitors to the Exhibition military camp never saw a more solidly determined set of men than the boys of the 8th Battalion.
The camp commander, Major Barker, wishes to compliment all the N.C.O.'s and men of the exceptionally good behavior which has prevailed throughout the camp, and to express his concurrence in the many encomiums already expressed by the public generally and the public generally on the smartness and precision displayed by all the detachments while on parade. The company commander was equally pleased.

The following valedictory order was issued by Capt. John S. Campbell on Saturday, Sept. 12, 1915, at 2 p.m.
"The company commander wishes, in relinquishing command of the composite company of the 8th Overseas Battalion, C.F.A., to express to all ranks his deep appreciation of the support given him at all times, and of the uniformly good conduct which has stamped the company as the best behaved unit it has ever been his pleasure to be associated with.
"The company was won for the 8th Overseas Battalion, C.F.A., name for smartness, efficiency and good conduct which will make this battalion the best known in Canada, and Canada
the citizens from the Atlantic to the Pacific to follow its movements with increased interest in the future, thru having watched the company at work at work at the Canadian National Exhibition."

BELGIANS ENGAGED IN ARTILLERY EXCHANGE

Germans Fired Fifteen Hundred Projectiles on Ramsappelle and Got Shelled.

HAVRE, Sept. 12.—The following Belgian official statement concerning the progress of hostilities was given out here Saturday:
"Artillery fire continued through the night and morning, especially in the vicinity of Steenstraete and Ram-scappelle, the latter receiving more than 1500 projectiles, which did no damage.
Throughout the day there was incessant firing along the whole front. During the afternoon we shelled the enemy successfully. No infantry action occurred."

BERLIN IS MUM ON HESPERIAN INCIDENT

BERLIN, Sept. 11.—(Via London, Sept. 12)—The German Foreign Office and the admiralty stated today that they had no news regarding the Hesperian incident, concerning which American reports stated that the American ambassador Gerard asked information recently. The question whether Americans lost their lives when the Hesperian was blown up will probably have a bearing on the ultimate answer

ROME, Sept. 11.—The following official statement was issued tonight
at Italian general headquarters:
"Small successes have been gained by detachments of our troops while making reconnaissances in the Redi Castello zone and in the valleys of Carnonica, upper Triano and Ledro."
"Enemy groups, having during the night crept up to the wire entanglements before our positions on Monte Maronia, on the plateau northwest of Anselero, with the evident design of driving them, were discovered and destroyed off by our fire. Other enemy forces tried to set fire to the wood on the Monte Piano (Valley of Rienz),
but were repulsed.
"Engagements favorable to us have occurred at Fasso Della Sentinella (Upper Sexton and Valley of Vissende) and at Piano.
"In the Tolmino section, one of our detachments succeeded by main force in capturing part of the enemy's entrenchments on the Santa Maria Heights, but being subjected to an intense artillery fire, bombs containing asphyxiating gas, and flames from projectors, was obliged to fall back to the neighboring trenches."

PREMIER BORDEN
PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

Sir William Van Horne Was Keenly Desirous of Serving Canada.

ABILITY REMARKABLE

Great Railroad Operator Had Keen Insight Into Dominion's Problems.

By a Staff Reporter.
OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—"I have learned
with regret of the death of Sir William Van Horne, who has been for many years a conspicuous figure in the national life of our Dominion,"
said Sir Robert Borden. "He was, distinguished not only by his remarkable ability and energy but the wonderful versatility of his intellect and his powers. His keen insight into all that concerned the progress and welfare of Canada and the wonderful opportunities afforded by his career gave him a great grasp of the difficulties and problems attending the rapid growth and development of our country.
"Before leaving for England in June
I had asked him to accept the chairmanship of a commission which was then announced, and he had agreed to undertake the task. Shortly afterwards he was appointed to the post of fall, and the constitution of the commission was postponed until my return, when I learned of his serious illness. I know that it was his keen and intense desire to be of service to Canada in every possible way in the great struggle thru which we are now passing, and his declining health alone prevented him from undertaking the entirety of his duty. His untimely death will be a great loss to the greatest value."

INTERMENT AT JOLIET, ILL.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—The remains of Sir William Van Horne, ex-chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who died at the Royal Victoria Hospital yesterday following an operation for abdominal abscess, will be interred in Joliet, Ill., his birthplace. The funeral service will be held at the late Sir William's late residence here on Tuesday and the body will then be shipped to Joliet.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The foreign situation was again an adverse influence during today's two-hour session. Stocks were heavy at the opening, and except for a few fitful and sporadic movements this tendency prevailed thruout. Over-night news reported that the more prominent and Teutonic allies involving the possible rejection of Germany's Arabic defence, made for increased concern and reduced trading to professional and member proportions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Sharp upturns that wet weather caused in the wheat market today were followed by a decided reaction, due to talk of imports from Canada. Prices closed heavy at the same as last night to 1/8 higher, with September at 88 1/2c and December at 86 1/2c, both 1/8 to 1/4 off to 5-8c up, oats unchanged to 1/2c higher, and provisions varying from 1/2c decline to 1/4c advance.

The wagon section of the St. Lawrence Market was at last flushed out and made clean for the Saturday market (due to the continued efforts of The World), for which the farmers, market gardeners and citizens were truly thankful, as it smelled much sweeter, and looked much more sanitary without the corners having manure in them, but the overcrowded condition still existed, quite a number of wagons being lined up on West Market street. This overcrowding would not exist if the civic authorities had not leased two large corners of this section to the Swift-Canadian Co. and Gunn's Limited, and something will have to be done to alleviate it, and make that something should be done quickly; so get busy, Mr. Commissioner, and find a satisfactory solution to the difficulty and act upon it at once.

United States Steel was the target for bearish attacks, selling off a point to 75 3/4, its lowest quotation of the week. Some of the more prominent railways, including Reading and New York Central, averaged declines of a point, but traded in a quiet market.

The mercantile agencies reported a further improvement in general business, and bank clearing from all over the country in this same direction. Banks and trust companies of the local clearing house association reported an actual cash gain of $20,000,000 and a reserve increase of slightly more than $15,000,000, bringing the excess reserves up to the unprecedented total of $22,000,000.

There was a huge market again on Saturday, and farm and garden produce of every description being offered in abundance. Butter and eggs were a slower sale than a week ago, the butter selling at 25c per lb. for the bulk and at 24c for the 100 lb. casks. There were a few dozen eggs which were offered on Friday, which were extra large, which brought 35c per dozen, but these were isolated cases, and were not at the market price.

Wholesale Fruits and Vegetables. Saturday closed one of the worst weeks in the history of the wholesale fruit and vegetable market. The warm weather caused the fruits to ripen very quickly, and the market was flooded with large quantities showing waste when they reached the market, some getting so soft that they had to be thrown away.
