COCKING MAIN RAKED EXCITEMENT AT DUNDAS Thirty-Three Men, Mostly Farmers, Bagg'd by Chief Twiss and Five Officers.

HAMILTON, Feb. 27.—(Special).—Chief Twiss, Dundas, with five officers, raided a cocking main at Dundas, shortly after midnight Saturday, capturing thirty-three men, fifteen live game chickens and two dead birds. The contest was being held in a barn in the heart of the village. John Bollinghoff, officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, secured the information. The chief took Bollinghoff and four policemen from Hamilton. They reached the village shortly after midnight. There was but one door to the barn, and it was not guarded. The crowd was so taken up with the contest that they paid no attention to the officers until someone caught a glimpse of their uniforms and shouted: "Police." The cry had hardly died away before the place was in darkness. The police were blocking the only door and the gang scurried to the windows.

When the police brought the birds into the police station, they decided that the place was the place for them and they were taken to the police station. The chickens had no sooner obtained their freedom than they flew to each other and had to be separated by the police. Bollinghoff turned them loose this morning to feed them, and they started to scamp and squawk.

HON. GEO. FOSTER LOSES Continued From Page 1. an official of the I.O.F., but the other members of the syndicate were shown to have assumed a share later. A letter was produced showing that in negotiating for the purchase of a block of land at Swan River, Manitoba, Mr. Foster had directed that a cheque for $2400 be sent to himself. This cheque was received by Mr. Foster and deposited to his personal account.

When Mr. Foster entered the witness box, he submitted to a severe cross-examination by Mr. Johnston. The summing up of both counsel, which occupied all day Friday last, was full and eloquent. His lordship occupied all day Saturday from the opening at 10 a.m. till 3.50, when the jury filed out to consider their verdict. Summarizing the evidence, Justice Magee said, in part: "No man has a right to injure the reputation of his brother. Society would be unbearable and life not worth living if every man could slander his neighbor. The law gives damages for words written or spoken, which would render a man open to contempt, or lessen his reputation as a good citizen in the eyes of his neighbor."

But there is a difference with regard to written words. It was necessary to prove that special damages had been suffered if the words were defamatory. Written words are presumed to be more defamatory and the plaintiff does not have to prove special damages, as when spoken. Therefore Mr. Foster brought action on both grounds with special reference to the spoken words. It was not necessary to prove that special damages had been suffered if the words were defamatory. Written words are presumed to be more defamatory and the plaintiff does not have to prove special damages, as when spoken.

His lordship read the portion of the speech containing the alleged libel. The gist of the charge, that Mr. Foster got an unjustifiable rake-off in a deal with trust funds, and that he had no right or title to the money. There are two branches to this case: First, the alleged rake-off with regard to the Swan River deal, and second, the alleged effort to get the trust funds for speculative purposes. His lordship then reviewed the powers of the I.O.F. and their relationship to one another. Continuing, he said: "In 1901 the Union Trust Co. was formed, and soon after an agreement was entered into with the I.O.F. by which it was to act as agent of the I.O.F. in making investments."

AMBROSE KENT & SONS, LIMITED 156 Yonge St., Toronto

Mr. Stevenson's Objections. That was the position in February, 1903. Mr. Stevenson of the I. O. F., a gentleman whose conduct through these transactions has been a model for every one, appears to have objected to advances to Montague, and we find Dr. Oronhyatekha writing to Foster in April, 1904, apparently saying that Mr. Foster had asked the syndicate to purchase the land. In reply, he wrote, "I can think of no way to get the Montague advances out of your accounts, except by out-and-out purchase by the syndicate."

The Rake-off Charge. Coming now to the charge. The words "unjustifiable rake-off" and "notorious Swan River deal" were used. Mr. Macdonald admits responsibility for those statements. He comes here with two strings to his bow. He says "I believed them then, and I believe them now, but even if they are not true, I merely made fair and reasonable comment, and the law protects me; further, I made them on a political occasion."

Meaning of a Phrase. Continuing, his lordship said: "Is there anything in the words 'Notorious Swan River Deal' that can be called libelous. At that time there had been a great deal of talk about the matter in parliament and through the country. The words notorious did not necessarily imply that the deal was of evil character. His lordship then dealt with that part of the charge in which the words appeared. 'That he asked for a private rake-off in a deal with trust funds.' In that connection it is to be noted that the plaintiff's mind the fact regarding the payment of $2400 to Mr. Foster. Mr. Foster received that sum as a commission."

cheque and deposited it to his personal account. In dealing with Mr. Macdonald's expression the jury would have to put themselves in his position with the results of the royal commission investigation before them, and decide whether Mr. Macdonald implied that Mr. Foster had got a rake-off and whether that was a reasonable construction to put on the evidence taken by the commission which was before him. His lordship instructed the jury that remarks concerning such matters were not always libelous. People were entitled to freedom of speech and to comment freely on matters of public interest. There was likely to be little purity in politics if that were not so. The royal commission report was undergoing a wide discussion. It was a matter of importance and a matter which the public had a right to discuss, and make fair and proper comment thereon. There was no doubt that Mr. Macdonald had been challenged by Mr. Foster in strong language to discuss that very subject. Having accused Mr. Macdonald of being better than the best, it was not expected to be handled with gloves. A man so charged was entitled to defend himself, so long as he kept within the law."

Other Branch of Case. The other branch of the case has to do with the deal made on the Forsters by Mr. Foster, with reference to his letters containing the words "turn on the tap," and the charge that Mr. Macdonald alleged moral callousness. On Oct. 25, '03, Mr. Foster was in England, and from Liverpool he wrote to Dr. Oronhyatekha, calling attention to his memo given to Mr. McGillivray some time before, pointing out the necessity for funds. The letter stated that the reserve funds of the I.O.F. Then came the letter with the words: "Turn on the tap." His lordship said nothing significant in that apparently mere form of words. Mr. Macdonald charged Mr. Foster with trying to induce Dr. Oronhyatekha to pay over surplus funds. By the agreement between the I.O.F. and the Union Trust Co. the latter was to receive both capital funds and investment funds from the I.O.F. It was for the jury to decide whether Mr. Foster had used the words "turn on the tap" in a manner which implied that he was using the reserve funds of the I.O.F. from an investing. Could it be said that Mr. Macdonald was wrong in interpreting the letter as he did.

Remarkable Interest. The case awakened remarkable interest, not only in Toronto, where hundreds of columns of the evidence was printed, but through Canada. The principals and counsel, as well as most of the witnesses, are all prominent in the country, but undoubtedly the personality of the plaintiff was the spice that lent flavor to the battle. Possessing a power of eloquence and a reputation that during the period of 30 years has made his opponents in parliament sit up in his effort to bowl another enemy over could not fail to attract wide attention. Mr. Foster deserted his chosen field and gave battle in an arena where his natural weapons stand him in little stead. If he had been able to notice the enemy onto a common platform as he endeavored to do, he might have obtained satisfaction with results more to his general advantage. It would be interesting to know what might have happened if Mr. Foster had been allowed to sum up his own case to the jury.

Tait broke away at the start and set a stiff pace, which he maintained for a mile, causing a trifle while he conceded the pace-making privilege to Bonhag.

Bonhag's former time for the distance was 9 minutes 27 1/2 seconds in New York, Feb. 15, 1909, and his last night was 9 minutes 14 1/2 seconds.

MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 28, 1910.

SUBWAYS AND OUTSIDE RAILROADS.

Looked at from any point of view there is one, and one only, satisfactory solution of the problem created by the demand of railway companies seeking entrance into Toronto. That entrance must be by means of subways, and these in the hands of independent private systems come into direct conflict with the inherent right of the citizens to control transportation within the city limits. The truth of this can scarcely be denied and the principle involved is not of particular application to Toronto, but concerns every municipality throughout the length and breadth of Canada. All over the continent serious trouble has arisen thru lack of uniformity and the irreconcilability of public and private interests, combined with the fact, proven by experience, that no effective supervision can be exercised over franchise-holding corporations.

Also the issues raised are of great immediate importance, they attain their highest significance when regarded in the light of the situation as it will emerge at the expiry or earlier termination of the agreement with the street railway company. It is of the utmost moment to Toronto that, when the time comes, as sooner or later it must come, for the city to re-arrange its transportation facilities, there shall be no complications, but an entirely free field wherein to meet the legitimate requirements of every one of its districts. To secure that advantage the subways permitting access to outside roads must be constructed by the city itself and made available on fair and equitable terms. In addition, they will form part of the city's own combined system of surface and underground tractions.

STREET RAILWAY JOKERS.

If we may take the liberty with such an experienced and successful body as the Street Railway Company, we would suggest that the weak point in the company's dealings with the public thru its employes is made clear and explicit in Mr. James Gunn's latest pronouncement. There is absolutely nothing left to the discretion of the conductor. He is regarded as part of a machine, and there is no appeal. If the little cog in the machine is not satisfactory, then you must go to a bigger cog, at the head office. What ought to be settled instantly cannot be settled without a long journey to the head office, and a long time spent there, as anyone knows who has tried it. This is why Mr. Gunn's ukases are regarded as jokes, and why it is impossible to take them seriously. The first one declared that you must take the next car if the car was crowded that you were in time for. Several citizens have since complained thru the press, and multitudes have had the experience in silent bitterness, of waiting for the next car and having their transfers challenged. In that case, says Mr. Gunn, you put in a blue or yellow ticket and go to the head office with your story. Nice advice this for a man who lives at the extremity of the system. The company knows that if the passenger puts in another fare that is all that will be heard of the matter, as people have not the time to spend necessary to recover a car ticket, even if the chances were much better than they appear to be in such cases. Yet such pin-pricks and gnats-stings make all the difference in good relations between the people and the company, and the miserable friction that constantly occurs. If Manager Fleming has inspired the ordinance appearing over Mr. Gunn's name he cannot be congratulated upon the adoption of the principle it embodies. If the men in the company's service are not to be credited with any discretion at all, and that is the meaning of the last decree, then Toronto has to deal with the worst form of corporation rule that Canada has yet experienced. The company will be found to be reasonable and willing to oblige at the head office, says Mr. Gunn. The people want the company to be reasonable and willing to oblige on the cars where the people are paying for the service.

CIVIC GOVERNMENT IN TORONTO.

If there be any truth in the estimate of the city directory company that Toronto has over 400,000 population, there is ample justification for the feeling which is growing in many quarters that the time has arrived to do something towards governing the municipality less after the style of an overgrown village. Seven or eight years will bring half-a-million people within the civic boundaries. It seems almost impossible to wake up the old-time Torontonians to a proper appreciation of what this means. The result is that the standard of the city government is not only not advancing, but it is actually retrogressing relatively to the problems that have to be faced. Fortunately there is a growing ele-

Just Drinking and "Drifting"

Your Brain Can't Stand Liquor—Your Business Can't Stand It—Your Nerves Can't Stand It—You Can't Stand It Forever.

The Gatlin Treatment Will Cure You of the Liquor Habit in Three Days—No Hypodermic Injections—No Disagreeable Features.

There Is No Treatment Like the Gatlin

DID you ever say that you were "going to stop drinking"? Certainly you have. But did you ever ask yourself why you DIDN'T STOP when you said that you were going to?

Well, you couldn't—that's all. You DID TRY, but it seems that you just DRIFTED back to it. You were nervous without it—things didn't go right—your head wasn't clear—your appetite was bad—digestion worse—didn't sleep right; and all the time you were PUNISHING YOUR NERVES by keeping away from liquor, you KNEW, right down in your heart, that you were bound to drink again because it was the only thing that would bring relief.

You are going to keep right on that way—DRIFTING along a little more strongly on the liquor tide until some day you will find that you have no business, no friends, no health—you will just represent "NOTHING" in this busy world—you'll BE FORGOTTEN IN A DAY after you strike bottom.

The Gatlin Institute will accept your case for treatment under a plainly-worded, legally-executed contract that you are to be cured in THREE DAYS—cured to your entire satisfaction and to the satisfaction of your family and friends—or at the end of the third day the full fee paid will be returned and treatment shall cost NOTHING.

You will not be the first man who has taken the Gatlin treatment—SIX THOUSAND have preceded you.

If you cannot come to the institute for three days, send for the Gatlin Home Treatment. It carries practically the same contract to cure, the only change being one to protect us against unscrupulous persons.

Write or call for particulars, Address Medical Superintendent, Gatlin Institute of Ontario, Limited, 8 Howard Street, Toronto. Phone North 4538.

ment which may do as much for Toronto as was recently accomplished on other lines in Montreal. Montreal has suffered from dishonesty. Toronto suffers from incompetence. So far as the citizens are concerned the results are about the same. If something is not done to apply the best skill available in the city to its needs, it will be necessary to ask the proper authorities to appoint a guardian for it.

The World has supported the view for a long time that the proper way for government Toronto is by commission. The Guild of Civic Art appears to be coming round to this view. It is one that is commending itself to observers everywhere. The experience gained in the United States under the two forms and their variants by which government by commission has been adopted there, indicates that better results with less friction are thus obtainable than by any of the older forms of mismanagement.

The professional politicians and those who look to the city machinery as a means of livelihood are all dead set and graft of every description. It means getting the most and the best value. It means the disappearance of pull and graft of every description. It means efficiency and progress. It means foresight and economy. All the elements which are arrayed against such an improved state of affairs, all the municipal molasses, in short, will oppose such a proposal with all the inertia and all the energy they possess.

The sooner the Guild of Civic Art gets its proposals before the people the sooner we will know where we are at.

We do not suppose that Mr. W. K. McNaught himself had the idea of compromise in his mind in advocating a delay of ten years before the city should re-acquire the street railway franchise, but there can be no doubt that the seed of compromise exists in this delay. If the people cannot get control of the railways for ten years, it is almost inevitable that they will give way to some compromise to escape the altogether intolerable conditions from which they now suffer.

Chancellor A. C. McKay of McMaster Hall is one of the big men of the province, and if the city should ever obtain his services as superintendent of education, now that it seems J. L. Hughes' resignation is determined, no better appointment could be made. Chancellor McKay will probably consider long before he decides to undertake the dubious task of satisfying, not the Toronto public, but the Toronto board of education.

Much the same relative importance is attached in Ontario to the mad dog scare and the real typhoid epidemic, as to the ravages of consumption and the fancied terrors of smallpox. Scarcely anyone ever dies of smallpox, but if a case occurs the province is turned upside down. Over 3000 people die every year in the province from consumption and it is regarded as a dispensation of providence with which mere human beings should not interfere. There has not been a death in Ontario from hydrophobia and the dogs are all muzzled. In Toronto over 340 deaths have occurred since last September, and we are advised to boil the water.

The sermonee habit is infectious. The Street Railway Company has caught it from the Glocks, the difference being that the street railway defusions are funnier. They are written with a fine sense of authority and power. The people are put right about a lot of things. If you want explanations or anything else, do not write to the newspapers or go to the city hall. Go to the head office of the railway. Is the advice tendered by Mr. James Gunn. "If there be any address, that is the only place to get it." Mr. Johnston and other city solicitors, the railway board, the privy council, and other bodies please note.

Thomas Reynolds is for the moment the Canadian hero who is receiving the well-merited distinctions and attentions of his fellow-citizens at North Bay. He has been specially honored by his sovereign lord, King Edward, by the bestowal upon him for his bravery in the recent Spanish River railway wreck of the Albert Medal of the first class. This rare decoration ranks in civil life with the Victoria Cross on the field of battle. No truer imperial bond exists than this thrilling recognition of the deeds of its subjects from end to end of the world-spread empire.

BRITISH TARIFF REFORM.

The N. Y. Tribune says editorially: More and more significant was the fact that the Unionists voted solidly for tariff reform. Only a few years ago men were saying everywhere that of course Great Britain would remain a free trade country, and that whatever a few old-fashioned Tories might privately say of do no considerable party or important statesman would ever seriously advocate protection. Yet here in the party which for ten years recently governed the country with a strong majority and which today has a plurality of the voters of the kingdom unanimously committing itself to the principle of a protective tariff. The fact denotes a change in British political and economical convictions with which the United Kingdom and the whole commercial and industrial world will have most seriously to reckon in the near future.

Deserving Case.

Editor World: We beg to call the attention of the public to the case of Richard Benjamin Cooper, a young Englishman, who has been in Canada for about three years, and who met with a serious accident last July, falling from an open three-story window in a house off York-street, the case being reported at the time as a fatal one.

After nearly seven months' treatment in St. Michael's Hospital, the young man is a cripple for life, entirely dependent on whatever charitable disposed persons can do for him.

The hospital discharge certifies that he was treated for a broken back, both wrists fractured, and was in addition partly paralyzed.

Cooper is willing and anxious to work at any kind of light employment as a timekeeper or watchman, etc., and is a teetotaler.

Any further particulars of this very deserving case can easily be obtained from the St. Michael's authorities, and as he has been and still is attending the hospital at intervals, we hope that by your kindness in giving publicity to this painful case in the columns of your valuable paper, some good and beneficial result may arise.

$12 A WEEK BOOKKEEPER LED MILLIONAIRE'S LIFE

That is, He Spent Thousands as to Manor Born—Now the Bank's Wrecked.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—It develops that George W. Coleman, who is alleged to have embezzled $144,000 from the National City Bank of Cambridge, Mass., of which he was bookkeeper, was in receipt of but $600 a year. He is 24 years of age and had been with the bank for six years. He dressed well, took lady friends to the theatre, owned an automobile, and hired a chauffeur whose wages were double those of his employer—and nobody investigated to find where he got his money. Coleman, who had been last heard of in Kansas City, unexpectedly turned up to the city Friday and surrendered.

The discovery of the shortage in the accounts was the direct result of an examination of the books, which was being made by officials of the Harvard Trust Co., which had nearly completed negotiations for the absorption of the National City Bank.

The cashier recognized that some of the books had not been balanced for months. The cashier admits he took the figures of the teller and bookkeeper, in weekly bank statements, without verification.
 Young as he was, the defaulting bookkeeper appears to have been living a remarkable life, on a salary of $12 a week.

His attorney admits Coleman was freed of $40,000 in an attempt to break a faro bank in New York to which he was lured by the same trust company which did Cashier Walker of the New Britain, Conn., bank, and Dr. Muir, a New York physician, out of thousands of dollars.

It is also said that there were three women who flocked for nothing while Coleman's money could buy it.

One of these is described to have been Mrs. Marguerite Taylor, a young Cambridge widow, who has now disappeared.
 Another luxury in which the young bookkeeper indulged was a suite of rooms at the Hotel Lenox, where he entertained without regard to cost, where no cigars under 50 cents each were smoked, and each guest began with a bottle of champagne. Princely suppers were served almost nightly.

It is said Coleman thought nothing of dropping $1000 on his flying visit to the curb market, and always was looking to repeat the haul of $20,000 which he made two years ago.

DALAI LAMA'S ADVENTURES WITH CHINESE SOLDIERY

Was Fired on While Hustling Out the Back Gate of His Palace En Route to India.

DARJILING, British India, Feb. 27.—The circumstances surrounding the flight from Lhasa, the capital of Tibet, of the now deposed Dalai Lama, the nominal head of the Tibetan Government, are as follows: The Dalai Lama, following his wide wanderings, arrived at Lhasa in December with authority from Peking to take over the government from the provincial governors who were appointed following the invasion of the Holy City in 1904 by Col. Sir Francis Edward Younghusband, at the head of a British column, when Great Britain secured from Tibet certain concessions in the matter of trade, and in that of the foreign relations of the country.

The Dalai Lama was installed at the palace, and the monastery of Potala, amid popular demonstrations. The ruler, who was again given civil power, along with his office as the head of the government.

A few companies composed of the Dalai Lama's followers were hastily enrolled under the name of "golden soldiers." They opposed the Chinese troops, but being indifferently armed, were shot down with much bloodshed. Meantime the Dalai Lama, with three of his ministers and sixty retainers, fled thru a gate at the rear of the palace enclosure, and they were fired upon as they escaped the city.

The Dalai Lama does not intend to appeal to the Indian government, his motive in coming to India, instead of proceeding to western Tibet, where he would be perfectly safe, being because this way offers the shortest route to Peking, where he can personally lay his grievances before the Chinese throne.

The Tibetans generally resent the treatment of the Dalai Lama, and as they have other grudges against the Chinese officials at isolated points are in great danger of being massacred.

ONE LAW FOR THE MAN

Judge of British Divorce Court Says Woman's Misconduct is Worse. LONDON, Feb. 27.—The royal commission which was recently appointed to investigate the whole subject of divorce in response to strong public opinion in favor of a revision of the law on this subject, held its preliminary sessions Friday and Saturday. There is only one divorce court in England and Sir John Bigham is the president. Sir John said he was opposed to increasing the number of courts, but was in favor of increasing the causes for divorce. He would grant divorce decrees for long desertion, a long sentence of imprisonment, habitual drunkenness and lunacy, if the latter condition developed soon after marriage. The Archbishop of York, a member of the commission, objected that Sir John ignored the Christian principle that adultery was the only ground for divorce. In reply, Sir John said: "I do. I do not look at it from the religious point of view at all." He also affirmed that he held a strong opinion which might shock some people, namely that adultery was the same whether committed by either a man or woman from getting a divorce. He said that he favored equality of the sexes in the right to obtain divorce, but added: "I do not consider or think that the act of adultery on the part of a man has anything like the same significance as such an act on the part of a woman."

A quart bottle of whiskey left by some workmen was found by Herbert Dawson, aged 11, in a basement next to his home, at 82 George-street, late yesterday afternoon, and he drank a large quantity of it undiluted. When found last night by his parents, he was in a stupor, and a physician employed by them worked over him for some time. He was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where the stomach pump was employed. He was not out of danger at an early hour this morning. There was found a glassful of liquor left in the bottle. Fractures Knee-Cap. HOPES OF UNION IN ASQUITH CABINET of joint action for the coalition has been found temporarily on the veto question, yet the situation cannot be described otherwise than as critical when the prime minister is rumored to be riding for a fall and the united Irish League has withdrawn the Irish support from Mr. Binn in the by-election in East London. While every section of the coalition is suffering from attack of nerves, even so hopeful a Radical as H. W. Massingford, the editor of "The Nation," cannot suggest a better way out of the deadlock than the adoption of a referendum, which would convince the King of the necessity for guaranteeing and also keep the government in office without a general election. These counsels of despair may be dispelled by the united, if belated, action of the cabinet and the resolute bearing of the prime minister, who has not yet accepted dictation from any group and is still master of the precarious situation, since he alone can straighten out the finances before the end of March, and every section of the commons is anxious to avoid a premature appeal to the country. Rosebery's Program. The less influential peers are in greater danger from Lords Rosebery and Curzon than they are from the distracted Radical party. Lord Rosebery will take an early opportunity of proposing the reform of the upper chamber from within and Lord Curzon has been working out a practical scheme for converting it into a senate and more efficient body of legislators. Practical politicians on the Conservative side agree that the party must have a definite scheme for the reform of the upper house before the next general election, since a body of hereditary legislators, pure and simple, cannot be defended in the industrial north and Scotland, or anywhere outside of feudal England.

ASQUITH'S RENOUNCED PLEDGE

That's What Batters the Nationalists—Deadlock is Serious. CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—T. P. O'Connor (Nationalist M. P.) cables The Tribune from London: This has been a week of unbroken disaster to the Liberal government, and I believe it will end in its downfall. My situation turned at first at the meaning of Prime Minister Asquith's pledge in the Albert Hall speech at the beginning of the election campaign, that he would not assume against any such use of its veto power by the house of lords as its rejection of the budget or other Liberal proposals sent during the last four years. The universal interpretation put on the pledge was that the safe-guards applied to guarantees from the King to swamp the house of lords with Liberal peers, so as to carry the veto measure of the Liberals. Nobody doubts Asquith's personal good faith, but everybody who is opposed to the lords' veto deplores the plain misunderstanding, and above all, Asquith's neglect to correct the misinterpretation, which he ought to have known to be so universal. The explanation probably is that Asquith was deeply immersed in the stump-making, in traveling on the stump, and in personal grief over the death of young Gordon, Lord Aberdeen's son, who was the fiancee of Asquith's daughter, and did not pay sufficiently close attention to what was being said about him. A further explanation is that Asquith is casual, scornful, and somewhat indolent, and does not keep up that eternal vigilance which is the price of ministerial and especially of Liberal power. The explanation of Redmond, tho it did not spare the government, and especially did not spare Asquith, was received with enthusiasm not only on the Irish but on the radical benches. While Asquith spoke all thru amid freezing

The Man With the Grouch

HE don't believe in advertising anyway -- tried it once -- or twice and because the fool public--he said it just like that--fool public-- didn't come running in with 10 dollar bills in their fists and buy out his entire stock on the second day--he knows that advertising is a fake--and all advertising men, qualified members of the Ananias Club.

I've met seventeen or eighteen such, and this is a composite picture of the bunch as they were--but I gave them each and everyone a little quiet talk--reasoned with them as it were, and now they have a different view point.

Here's the essence of the quiet talk

You never drove a nail with one blow of the hammer. You never ate a beef steak at one bite. You never shovelled snow with a tooth-pick--you never built a house with one brick--how do you expect that a measly little "ad" once in a while is going to make you rich?

MRS. HOODLESS EXPIRES ON LECTURE PLATFORM

Prominent Society Woman of Hamilton Drops Dead in St. Margaret's College.

In the midst of a lecture on "Women in Industrial Life," at St. Margaret's College, at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Mrs. John Hoodless of Hamilton dropped dead. She had not been speaking more than five minutes, when suddenly she stopped and asked for a glass of water. Mrs. Falconer, who presided over the meeting, and who was sitting behind her at a table on the platform, handed it to her. With shaking hand she took a sip, and as she was saying "The interest in domestic" she dropped to the platform. As she was falling she was speaking the words, and even while lying on the floor she endeavored to finish her sentence, uttering a few unintelligible words. In the deathlike stillness of the hall her faint words sounded hollow and strange. An agonizing gasp, her head fell back, she sighed weakly, her head fell back, and she was dead.

The 50 present imagined she had merely fainted, but a hasty examination by Dr. Julia Thomas showed that she had expired. Several physicians worked over her for some time, but their efforts were unavailing.

Mrs. Hoodless was prominent in the highest social circles of Hamilton and was also a prominent member of the National Council of Women. She was greatly interested in the department of household science, and was largely responsible for the introduction of that subject into the curriculum of the public schools of Canada.

The deceased was 53 years of age on Saturday and leaves a husband, a large furniture manufacturer of Hamilton, two sons, Bernard, and two daughters, Miss Marie and Mrs. Bostwick, all of Hamilton.

AUTOMOBILE BUYERS ARE WISE THIS SEASON

Heaviest Demand at Show is for High-Grade Cars of Canadian Manufacture.

With the automobile show at the St. Lawrence arena in full swing, brisk buying is going on among those who, at the opening of the show, contented themselves with a leisurely inspection and comparison of the different makes. It is now easy to appreciate the chief trend of interest and the predominant sentiment among purchasers.

There is no mistaking the fact that the trend is very strong toward Canadian-built cars. There is no lack of good cars of foreign make, which receive a fair share of attention, but the Canadian car is assuredly the star feature. Furthermore, the most remarked-upon characteristic of buyers this season is the demand for cars known to be of the highest grade quality.

This is clearly seen, for example, in the heavy sales of Russell cars, the leading Canadian make, a car which has this year doubled its output. Probably no car is more closely identified with the "quality doctrine" and its success is as logical as it is interesting.

The Russell exhibit at the show is a good deal of a surprise to the layman who has not yet realized to what an extent automobile manufacturing has developed in Toronto. It includes no less than 12 different cars, prominent among them being the "38" and the "22" horse-power models, fitted with the Silent Knight motor, for which this car has the Canadian rights. Both are shown with luxurious touring bodies.

Of even greater interest to those not buying the higher-priced cars are the Russell "30" and the seven-passenger, the latter a decidedly popular novelty, being the first regular seven-passenger touring car at a medium price to appear on the Canadian market; the two extra tonneau seats are easily removable.

In addition to the regular touring body the "30" is shown with the survey, special roadster and toy tonneau bodies. The double rear seat of the survey is removable, leaving a handy baggage compartment when needed. The special roadster is a fast powerful looking model with rakish, sweeping lines. The toy tonneau gives the attractive close-coupled effect now so popular, but is sufficiently roomy for comfort. This latter car is finished in battleship gray relieved by trimmings of scarlet and scarlet leather upholstery.

Two other beautiful cars are a Limousine and Victoria, both of them luxurious models of great attractiveness. The bodies of these two cars are interchangeable on one chassis and are intended to appeal especially to those desiring town cars for both summer and winter use. The Russell coupe is another fine car entirely enclosed and especially useful for town use in severe weather.

Another Russell exhibit is the best which its makers have ever made.

SYSTEM OF RECIPROcity IS AIMED AT BY TAFT

U. S. Administration Working Quietly Toward a Definite End in Regard to the Tariff.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.--The Washington correspondent of The Tribune (staunch Republican) wires:

A tariff war with Canada would cause genuine regret, quite as much from the fact that Canada is the close neighbor of the United States as from any financial considerations. In a spirit of friendliness and conciliation Secretary Knox has proposed to the British ambassador, that two representatives of the United States, a member of the tariff board and a representative of the department of state, go to Ottawa to discuss with the Canadian officials the questions at issue. It is felt that personal and friendly negotiations of this character will be more conducive to an understanding than more formal exchanges carried on thru the British embassy.

There has been, apparently, some delay in the submission of Mr. Knox's proposition to the Canadian authorities, but a reply is now looked for in the not distant future.

Effect of French Treaty. Canada has extended her conventional rates to France and other countries, and the officials at Ottawa have thus far insisted that they could perceive no advantages offered by the minimum tariff of this country which would warrant reducing conventional rates to the United States.

It is possible, however, that the president, taking into consideration the comparatively small cost of transportation to the Canadian market, may not consider it necessary to insist on precisely the same concessions that are accorded here and abroad, which must ship their exports so much further.

On the other hand, there is a strong demand for American goods at the lowest possible figure. The entire Canadian northwest, a demand to which Sir Wilfrid Laurier is keenly alive, also it is apparently beyond the ken of the European press. It is therefore too early to forecast the results of the negotiations with Canada.

The New Reciprocity. With a realization of the benefits derived from the maximum and minimum clause of the Payne bill will also come an appreciation of the fact that if this country had more to offer even than has been obtained, President Taft is determined to set the tariff board to work immediately after the close of his present labors to ascertain the actual cost here and abroad of all classes of goods protected by the Payne bill. There is reason to believe that many instances will be found where still further reductions of the rates of duty could be made without injury to American industries.

Then the scheme of reciprocity referred to will be proposed. This will consist of inducing Congress to empower the executive to grant such reductions as can be made without injury to American manufacturing. Such countries as will make special and adequate concessions to imports from the United States. In other words, it will not be proposed to carry further reductions without return, but to obtain therefor generous concessions for the American foreign trade.

In this, as in all things else, the Taft administration is working quietly toward a definite end, with a carefully conceived and far-reaching policy in view, and one which, as it develops, will strongly commend itself to the American public.

HETTY GREEN'S GOOD THING

Sued for $5000 Note on Which Interest Already is $14,500.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 27.--Mrs. Hetty Green was sued Saturday in the circuit court to compel her to relinquish a note for $5000 on which she has drawn 8 per cent. interest since 1874. Although the interest for that period has amounted to $14,475, Mrs. Green has repeatedly refused, according to the petition to accept $5000 in cash and resign the investment. Her son, Colonel E. H. R. Green, is named with her as a defendant in the suit.

The note was executed on December 31, 1874, by Mrs. Catherine Holland, and secured with a mortgage on real estate. It was to be payable in five years and draw 8 per cent. interest. The loan was made by the trustees of the estate of E. M. Robinson, father of Mrs. Green. Colonel Green is now administrator.

Mrs. Holland died in 1908, after paying $13,800 interest on the $5000 note, and her son, Chas. H. Holland, brings the suit. He says he vainly offered Mrs. Green $475, principal and interest for 1910, for the note February 11, at the Chemical Bank, in New York.

TIRED OF NAVAL DEBATE

Gordon, Liberal M.P., Wants Agony Ended Soon.

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.-(Special.)--Dis-satisfaction with the long drawn out nature of the naval debate is becoming general. A move is expected to be made tomorrow in the house by D. A. Gordon, ask that the debate be brought to an early termination. At the present rate of progress it will continue for several weeks to come.

Meanwhile other public business is falling behind. The estimates are not half disposed of and all those that are to come are contentious. Yet the financial year will close on March 31. The revision of the Bank Act is to come yet. Another important measure is Hon. Mackenzie King's anti-combine measure.

These will occupy a considerable time and it is hardly possible if all proposed measures are dealt with, that parliament will prorogue before June.

GOLD TAKEN BY CONTINENT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.--In the international money markets the most interesting incident last week was noted in the announcement from London that the $2,250,000 of South Africa gold offered in the open market had been taken for the continent. This was the first time in many weeks that the Bank of England had not secured a large portion of such Transvaal arrivals. Competition of the continent for this gold caused an advance of about one-eighth penny in the price of bar gold, the first change since October. As the Bank of England also withdrew $1,535,000 of gold bullion for shipment to Paris, international banking interests began to wonder how much further the drain upon Lon-

QUEBEC BY-ELECTIONS

Nominations for Two Vacancies in the Legislature.

MONTREAL, Feb. 27.-(Special.)--Nominations took place yesterday in Argenteuil and Drummond, the vacancies in the former county being caused by the elevation of Hon. W. A. Weir to the superior court bench, and by the resignation of H. Laferte in Drummond. In the last named county, Hon. Jules Allard, minister of lands and forests, who has resigned his seat in the legislative council, was nominated by the government party, while Mayor Garceau was put up by a coalition of the Nationalists and Conservatives.

Henri Bourassa and Armand Lavergne, M.L.A.'s, were on hand as the opponents of Sir Lomer Gouin, but as Drummond has at least five hundred of a Liberal majority, it does not look as if the coalition would amount to much at the polls.

In Argenteuil, however, the contest will be closer, as the Conservatives hold the seat in the house of commons. Messrs. Slater and Hay were nominated by the Liberals and Conservatives respectively, and while Hon. Messrs. Mackenzie, treasurer, and Descarie, minister of agriculture, championed the Liberal cause, Mr. Teller, leader of the opposition, and Mr. Perley, M. P., spoke for the opposition.

TO BREED TAILLESS CAT

Odd Experiments Being Made in Dark Cavern on Long Island.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.--To determine the effect of darkness upon various forms of animal life, experiments are being conducted with insects and fishes at the Carnegie Branch of the Experimental Evolution at Cold Spring Harbor, L.I. The experiments are in charge of Dr. A. M. Banta.

A concrete cave has been built, 42 by 10 feet, and eight feet in height. It is five feet underground. It is equipped with tanks in which live fishes of various kinds have been placed, while crickets and other insects have been placed in compartments that are dry but without a ray of light. Other odd experiments have been in progress for some time, one of them being the effort to breed a tailless cat.

U. S. SUNDAY PAPERS BARRED

Residents of Canadian Border Towns Deprived of Usual Reading.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 27.--Canada has given the thumbscrew on the Sunday day lid another twist. Sunday papers are barred absolutely from Fort Erie, Ont., under an order just issued. The orders, which the government has just issued, prohibit the sale of newspapers in Fort Erie on Sunday and forbid all persons to bring newspapers into the village on Sunday, even for their own use. The foregoing law, relative to Sunday newspapers, has been more or less enforced in other parts of Ontario for two years, but heretofore Fort Erie has been exempt because of the many Americans living there.

It is believed that the recent protest of the Ministerial Association at Windsor, Ont., over the importation of Detroit papers, is the cause for the new order of enforcement all along the line.

TRIAL COURT FOR MINISTER

Rev. David Hicks is Accused Under Three Headings.

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 27.--An investigation committee composed of Rev. J. Philip, chairman, of Essex; Rev. T. Blatchford, of Cottam; Rev. D. Wren, of Maldstone, and Rev. S. T. Toll, of Walkerville, met at Essex yesterday afternoon to investigate the affairs of the Gesto Methodist Church, and the condition in which it was left by the erstwhile pastor, Rev. David Hicks, who is now occupying a pulpit of the Methodist Church in Corunna, Mich. Mr. Hicks will be given an opportunity to explain matters at a court of trial which will be held in Essex in three weeks.

The investigation committee discovered that the missing pastor left debts to the amount of $1200. The committee formulated three charges against Rev. David Hicks: first, obtaining money under false pretences; second, falsehood, and, third, leaving the work irregularly.

A letter was received from the Toronto missionary authorities in which they denied that they ever received $210 from the Gesto people.

The cardinal does not doubt the authenticity of this document, the value of which is only equaled by Charlemagne's epiphon on Pope Stephen.

N. YORK CONSERVATIVES NAME J. A. M. ARMSTRONG

Rousing Meeting on Saturday Pledges Support—News Notes From York County.

NEWMARKET, Feb. 26.—(Special).—Without a dissenting voice and amid a scene of the wildest enthusiasm John Alexander MacDonald, Armstrong of Schomberg, notary and farmer, was on Saturday afternoon chosen to contest North York in the federal interest by the Conservatives of that historic riding.

The town hall, where the meeting was held, contained more than 300 representatives. North York Conservatives see in Saturday's great meeting an augury of success. T. H. Lennox, M.L.A., shared with the candidate in the honors of the day.

On the platform were John Currie, J. A. M. Armstrong, T. H. Lennox, D. H. Sprague, J. D. McKay, Frank Roche, Isaac Fenton, A. McCullum, R. White, A. L. Peaker, A. W. Brodie, L. Hollingshead, Dr. Stevenson and many others.

Solid on Naval Policy. "I stand loyally by the policy of the Conservative party as applied to the naval question and the giving of Dreadnoughts to Great Britain," said Mr. Armstrong. In eloquent terms he reviewed briefly the vacillating policy of the government and criticized severely the reckless waste of public money. Through his address, which was given with splendid effect, was cheered to the echo.

A. C. Goodve, M.P., British Columbia, charged reckless extravagance in connection with the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific and referred in scathing terms to the Newmarket Canal and other public works.

C. J. Doherty, M.P., St. Anne's, Montreal, criticized the naval program and charged that the government were acting wholly without reference to the will of the people, and in variance to the loyal sentiments of the people of Quebec. "We are not satisfied to sit back like puppets and let Sir Wilfrid do all the thinking for us," he said.

Goulding & Hamilton have completed the sale of 200 feet of vacant land on Beech-avenue for a good figure. The question of improved drainage is one of the big matters that the local board of trade might well take up in the immediate future.

J. K. McEwen reports the sale of horses and cattle as being exceptionally good in brood mares selling as high as $450, and milk cows as high as $100. Miss Wardlaw and Miss McNaughton were the delegates from Weston to the semi-annual convention of the Toronto Presbyterial held in the Dovercourt Church this week.

The action of the Weston Presbyterial Church in deciding to erect a $10,000 Sunday school and gymnasium on the Main and Mill-street site is hailed with pleasure generally. No better evidence of the abiding faith of the townpeople in the progress of the church, and Weston can be found than in the voluntary assumption of this debt. It is said that fully $5000 has already been provided for.

There will be a fancy dress carnival in the Weston Rink to-morrow (Monday) evening.

NORTH TORONTO, Feb. 27.—(Special).—Mrs. John Fisher, wife of the venerable ex-mayor of North Toronto, had a miraculous escape from death by the ignition of her clothing on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Fisher was in the back yard, whither she had gone to burn some waste paper, and while so engaged, in some way unconscious, set fire to her clothing. Going to the house she became aware of the presence of fire in her clothing, which was on the point of breaking into flame, when discovered and put out. Beyond the nervous shock Mrs. Fisher is all right.

Exc-councillor John Anderson is seriously indisposed at his residence at Bedford Park. While John Usher of Victoria-avenue was driving thru Deer Park and along the narrow passageway on Yonge-street, where the northern end of the sewer is now in course of construction, the runners of his cutter caught in the car tracks, utterly demolishing the rig. Mr. Usher retained control of the horse. The place where the accident occurred is especially dangerous, and the wonder is that more accidents have not taken place. It is said that Mr. Usher may enter suit against the city.

In Eglington Methodist Church this morning Rev. Dr. German preached the annual educational sermon, and in the evening the pastor, Rev. Mr. Balfour, spoke to a large congregation. The choir of the church, under PAPINEAU AND LIBERALISM Quebec Politicians Are Trying to Find His Place.

QUEBEC, Feb. 27.—(Special).—The new conflict now on between the several sections of the Liberal party as to the exact part the name and memory of Louis Joseph Papineau should play in the political discussion of the day. For the past few days, able and polished articles have been appearing in Le Canada, signed "St. Denis," believed to be the facile pen of the postmaster-general-for Mr. Lemieux can write as well as talk—and Le Canada says that both Lemieux and Bro. Langeais have repudiated Papineau, evidently with the intention of rallying to the school of Lafontaine and Cartier.

"We cannot help it," adds the old Rouge organ, "if Bourassa and Bro. Langeais quotes from Dr. Willfrid Nelson to show that Papineau did not flee after the battle of St. Denis, and only left for the frontier when commanded to do so by Nelson, and when a price had been set on his head."

PINCHOT SAYS BALLINGER RECEIVED THE PRESIDENT

And Declares That Taft, in Dismissing Glavis, Quoted a Ruling That Was Never Made.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 27.—With Gifford Pinchot on the stand, the Ballinger-Pinchot enquiry entered into its second phase Saturday. The dismissed chief of the forestry service, before being sworn, dramatically declared that, when his story had been told, the country would demand a verdict "in harmony with the general conviction that the secretary of the interior has been unfaithful, both to the public, whose property he has endangered, and to the president, whom he has deceived."

Mr. Pinchot accused Secretary of the Interior Ballinger of having made an explanation in his conduct to the president that was "essentially false." He charged him with being a "dangerous enemy to conservation." He charged him with having made a statement to the public which he declared to be "absolutely false in three essential particulars."

Pinchot characterized Glavis as a "faithful public servant," and declared that the facts which he presented "proved that Mr. Ballinger had been unfaithful to his trust as the guardian of public property of enormous value."

The conservation movement begun under the administration of Roosevelt, was progressing excellently up to the time that Taft and Ballinger came into office, said Pinchot, but less than a month thereafter Ballinger had practically broken the backbone of the central idea of the conservation movement by restoring previously withdrawn water-power sites to the public domain and leaving them open to private appropriation and monopolistic control.

Pinchot declared that there was no such decision by the comptroller of the treasury as cited by President Taft in his letter of Sept. 13, 1909, to Ballinger, dismissing the Glavis charges and authorizing the removal of Glavis from the service of the United States.

Mr. Pinchot's implication that President Taft was either misled or utterly mistaken caused a rapid fire of questions from Senators Root, Sutherland and others, who read into the record various decisions of the comptroller, which they contended had a bearing on the matter, but Pinchot would not withdraw from his position.

In a statement issued late last night, Secretary Ballinger refers to Pinchot's decision as "a serious and constant menace to the public interest," and adds: "It will be equally difficult for him to deceive the committee."
