From the battle-scarred fields of France and Flanders comes a new monster which will on Wednesday, Nov. 21, bring home to Toronto some of the feeling of terror caused by the instruments of modern warfare. A huge British tank, which for weeks dealt out to the Huns their just deserts and caused them to flee in mortal dread, is being rushed from New York via Montreal to Toronto to take part in a great parade in this city in honor of the Victory War Loan.

Yesterday's meeting was attended by two farmers from each at length. As a result farmers of and they will be asked to co-operate in the plan for increased production.

J. C. Steckley, district representative of the department of agriculture, presided. C. F. Bailey, assistant deputy minister of agriculture, outlined at length the proposal of the food controller. He emphasized the need for increased production by quoting from a statement recently issued by Mr.
Hanna showing that France would require during the next year to import Hanna showing that France would require during the next year to import 40,000,000 hundredweight of cereals alone. Bacon, as a compact form of food and quickly prepared for the market, was desirable, and he urged all farmers to increase their herd of hogs by keeping at least an additional sow.

No Relief From States.

R. W. Wade stated that the entrance of the United States into the war would not relieve the food situation in France, as food would now be required by the American soldiers in France,

France, as food would now be required by the American soldiers in France, and less ships would be available for the transportation of supplies.

"We do need to do all we can in the way of producing," he said. "There won't be a surplus sow to give us another hog next October if the young sows are not kept now. If we have pigs next year there is no question but that we will get a fair price. The United Empire Loyalists went into poverty for an ideal. E. Stonehouse stated that even if he tid not make one cent more he would raise as many hows as possible to refleve the food situation.

Pigs May Win War.

"If pigs will win the war let's raise them." was the suggestion of Mr. Ramsay, which was received with general approval.

The scarcity of labor was a handicap to greater production, stated John Guardhouse. Referring to the exemption tribunals he stated that in some cases young men who were real farmers and producers had not received permission to remain on the farm. He could do as much work with one skilled farm laborer as with half a dozen of the ordinary variety. Farmers, he continued, realized the situation and the responsibility resting on them. The average farmer, his wife and family, were doing one-half more work now than they should have to do, but they were ready to try and produce to the uttermost.

The flood was loosed at the point where the enemy succeeded in crossing the Plave near Grisolera (four miles from the coast), and the whole region where he gained lodgment is prow under water. The inundated territory forms a huge triangle about 12 miles on each side, with the apex at Dona di Plave. The enemy had been driven back, but still held on within this triangle until the dykes from both rivers released the water over the low-lying plain.

The chief menace at that point was that the eremy might be able to approach venice thru the lagoon or borning the elevation of the rivers. The inundation interposes a barrier of water 12 miles across and several feet deep.

Regoris which have reached head quarters from other points on the front also are favorable.

The action of the Italians in opening the floodgates of the Plave and Sile Rivers probably means an attempt to drown out the Austro-German forces which crossed the lower Plave several days ago at Grisolera, about 17 miles northeast of Venice. preparing to resist further advances into Belgium with desperation, because the gaining of much further ground by the British army in the next few weeks would be disastrous to the coming German peace drive. The British Government and the British higher command, however, are set upon winding up the campaign with a decided military success. Political reasons demand a gain of territory. The British advance will therefore proceed. The only adverse factor to its rapid success would be a further demand for large British reinforcements for Italy.

The Belgians, in conjunction with the British, are exerting a powerful pressure against the Dixmude salient. Its loss by the Germans is merely a matter of time. ## To the Men and Women of the Electoral District of West York

Ladies and Gentlemen

I am a parliamentary candidate in your riding in the present Dominion general elections, the voting taking place on Monday, December 17, 1917. Largely signed petitions and nomination papers have been presented urging me to this decision. I am delighted to act on the requests that have come to me through these expressions of confidence and through other sources on December 7 and 8, was discourse on December 5. It is a pleasure to me that in these representations people of all shades of political thought joined. It is quite true that, owing to the lack of time, no formal convention was called to offer or tender me a nomination or ratify the wishes of those who signed the petitions or nomination papers, but as I am a native-born resident of the County of York my political faith is known. In a word, I am a Liberal.

The purpose of this short statement is to bring the foregoing facts before the electors, leaving a further presentation of my views to the discussions that will take place between now and polling day.

Do Not Miss the Bargain Bonds.

Sales of war bonds have not, it is said, been up to the record anticipated, but it is possible that the workers have been over-sanguine for the opening week, forgetting that it is not a four or five-day campaign, as in the case of the Red Cross or other funds. There are a good many days yet in which to subscribe for the bonds, and many who have thought of subscribing have, as usual with people when there is time enough, put it off till a more convenient season. With two weeks yet they are willing to wait until they are asked, or until the last days for subscribing.

It is just-possible, however, that there may be a very large oversubscription, and those who wish to get into this tempting investment may find themselves too

There are hundreds of thousands of people who five years ago, had they been told that they could have had government bonds paying 5 1/2 per cent., would have scraped together every cent they could muster anywhere and invested it. For a permanent investment there is nothing like it. The actual return is over 51/2, being 5.61 in the case of the twenty-year bonds. People who have cash on deposit or in savings banks have the chance of their lives. The best security in the world is available for their savings, with interest which is equal to that on gilt-edged mortgages. People who swear by mortgages should remember that these bonds are a mortgage on Canada. There may be a moratorium on mortgages, but these bonds are as good as money any time.

The subscription has really been excellent, but those who have money to invest should not delay or they may find themselves too late. Last year's savings, it is said, amounted to $750,000,000, so there is plenty of funds for oversubscription.

Winning the War.

Shall we win the war? The question is being ask-Premier Lloyd George gave it emphasis. It is But with a condition.

Yes, if we put all our energy and resources into

We have notoriously failed to put all our energies into it. Lord Northcliffe has been saving the same thing to the English people. He does not think they are working as hard as the people in the United States. This can scarcely be possible, but there is no doubt that we are not putting our utmost effort into the task,

Germany is doing this, and that is why she thinks she ought to and will win. Germany spares no effort. no pains, to achieve success; and no endeavor, small or great, is avoided or neglected if it will tend to assist the decision. A striking example of this is found in the immediate decision to put the Italian plains which have been invaded to serviceable use. Crops are to be planted immediately so as to provide vegetables at the earliest possible moment. Organization like this position. But what is their remedy? cannot fail to count, and when we contrast it with our own untilled realms we can understand that it is our own lack of organization that makes us weak where we are weak. Where we are strong it is where we have bent our energies to getting the most out of our opportunities

If we are to win the war we must put our hearts into it and work at winning.

Municipal Government.

The City of Chicago is making a desperate effort to simplify and centralize its municipal government. At present there are no less than twenty-seven bodies, including the county board and the city council, which have more or less governmental jurisdiction. There are many "boards" and still more "commissions" with overlapping jurisdiction, extravagant overhead expenses, and lack of unified administration. The remedy suggested is a city council of thirty-five, which shall employ a general manager of the city. The general manager is to run the city as he would a private corporation, subject only to a control from the city council corresponding to the control exercised over the general manager of a private corporation by its board of directors.

This is heroic treatment, and sounds like business It is more or less a compound of the German municipal system and the commission system of government. The German system, before the war, we heard eulogized extravagantly, and the commission form of goverament has undoubtedly commended itself to the people wherever it has been tried. Some enthusiasts go so far as to advocate placing states and provinces under commission government; and, logically, we suppose, they might go further and advocate a commission form of government for the British Empire or he United States. Indeed, if we are to have a league of peace, why not have some sort of commission government for the world? Experience, we think, has shown, however, that public business cannot be conducted in the same way. as private business. The ideal of a just government is service; the ideal of a successful private corporation is profit. Public administration is most efficient when subjected to pitiless publicity; private administration abhors publicity. The old-fashioned "boards" probably had their absurdities, but they may have a more human touch than the $50,000 a year general manager who takes over and runs a city as he would a soap factory or a coal mine. There is no reason. however, why the business manager should not combine humanity and efficiency.

The big business man has not always been a success in municipal politics, and in the larger field of political action his failure has often been grotesque. Politicians are often incompetent and wasteful, but as a class they die poor. Their besetting sin is love of power, but that causes them to be eager to please the More business and less politics is the need of every government, but is it wise to make government too centralized? Should a considerable section of peop be as impotent to interfere with the administration of the city as 40 per cent, of the stockholders of a railway are impotent to interfere with its board of directors? The remedy may lie in the direction of the Chicago plan, in which the city council, elected by the people, will provide the humanity, and the general manager, who will need to be a mighty man, will provide the efficiency.

Helping Germany or Canada.

One of the chief defects of the party attitude at present is its effect in blinding those who succumb to it to the terrible needs of the war situation. There are a large number of people, people who were shouting for united action a year ago when it seemed as if settled, but following a meeting of the united action were impossible, who now refuse to party adherents in O'Neill's Hall, Parhave anything to do with united action on the ground, as one of these deluded ones put it yesterday, that it is believed that a decision will be there were plenty of people who could carry on the arrived at today. Ottawa, Nov. 16.—A split schedule will again be followed out in the champion-ship race this winter by teams in the new Eastern Hockey Association. The objections were made in some quarters last season against the double-decked plan of deciding the championship, it is understood that the Wanderers, Canadiens and Quebee have voted to have it again and that the Ottawas have asquiesced.

It is understood that the first half of the schedule will end the last week of January and the second the first or second week in March. This will give time for the play off and also for the world's series matches against the Pacific Coast champs.

Eddie Gerard and others of the Ottawa Club are said to have been won over to the split schedule idea, but they will demand full information before the championship race gets under way. They won't be caught napping agai non the goal scoring system.

There will be a meeting of the Eastern Hockey League in Montreal tomorrow night, for the purpose of completing organization. Quebec's answer will be received and the final decision reached with regard to the clubs that will compose the circuit. It was learned Wednesday night that Quebec had definitely decided to remain in it, but reports from the Ancient Capital last night were to the effect that the Ancient Capital club had not made up its mind. In any event tomorrow's meeting will settle things for once and for all. The schedule will likely be announced on Monday.

Col. R. C. McCullough, who presided, read the rules governing the meeting in reference to the protest, and declared that it was not out of order and that it would be put to a vote.

As his supporters followed jeers and cries of "slackers" from the veterans hastened their departure.

Study the Inside Nerves

WITH the brain as its centre, the nervous system reads out to every organ of the human body. From the spinal column and from the various nerve centres the thread-like nerve fibres find their way to every nook and corner of the body, controlling all movements and action, and making a living being of the mass of flesh and bone.

Without the nerve force which is manufactured in the brain there could be no beating of the heart, no breathing of the lungs, no digestion, no activity, no life.

It is only when you think of the nervous system in this way that you begin to realize its true importance and to appreciate the far-reaching effects of any derangement of the nerves. Any break in this connection with the brain, or any pressure on the nerve lbres to interfere with the transmission of nervous energy, means helplessness or paralysis of the part affected. It may be the loss of power to use

If there is ever a time when sympathy is needed it is when the nerves give way. But you must have more than sympathy if you are to recover your nervous energy. The feeble, exhausted nerve cells must be nourished back to health by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This treatment is so gentle and natural in action that it admirably suits the delicate condition of the exhausted nervous system, and at the same time is wonderfully potent in restoring vigor and strength.

A little patience is necessary in order to build up the nervous system so far run down, but as headaches disappear, digestions inproves, and you rest and sleep better, you will be encouraged to continue this treatment until restoration is complete.

LIBERALS DIVIDED IN S. WELLINGTON

Gathering Adjourns Without Nominating Candidate.

LETTER FROM GUTHRIE

Declines Party Nomination as Being a Member of Union Government.

Special to The Toronto World.
Guelph, Nov. 16.—After a meeting which was thornly representative in character of the Liberals of South Wellington, and which lasted for nearly three hours, during which time there were many heated speches by the delegates and many spressions of opinion respecting usion government and the advisability of putting a candidate in the field to oppose Hon. Hust Guthrie, K.C. solicitor-general, an adjournment was made without any action being taken, and no candidate named. It was without doubt the largest Elberal convention held in the riding for many years, and it was evident from the very start that the division in the party over consertion, was so great that there was never any chance of them getting together, and the more they discussed the matter the farther apart they appeared to get. The chair was occupied by Dr. Angus Mackinnon, precident of the association.

A letter from Hon. Mr. Guthrie, in which he stated that he, being a member of the union government could not permit his name to go before a Liberal convention, but must be mominated by a union convention was read. An attempt was made to nominate thin, but the chairman ruled it out of order. It was evident that the vast majority of the statement members of the party were favorable to the chairman declared it carried. An appeal was made aspanst his ruling, but it did not prevail. The names of Sam Carter, M.L.A. and Geo. D. Grastings. assessment commissioner of the city, were both moved, but in neither case was there a seconder, and and against his ruling, but it did not prevail. The names of Sam Carter, M.L.A. and Geo. of Sam Carter, M.L.A., and Geo. D. Chastings, assessment commissioner of the city, were both moved, but in neither case was there a seconder, and after some further discussion a motion to adjourn without nominating a candidate was carried. This action on the part of the Liberals of the riding simplifies things to some extent, and probably means that Hon. Hugh Guthrie will be endorsed as the union can lidate at a union convention of Liberals and Conservatives, following the official nomination meeting on Monday. There are faction, who were defeated in their faction, who were defeated in their

A house-to-house canvass is to be undertaken at once to ascertain the names of women which should be on the voters' ists. In each ward committee rooms will be opened, to be known as "Headquarters of the Unionist Win-the-War Women." The formation of the Toronto Women's Union Government League on Thursday is another thase of the desire of the women voters to "get together" and bring into power a unionist government. While both these crganizations are working towards the same end, still it seems that each will work in its own way and along its own particular line. It was stated yeste-day afternoon that the Women's Conservative Association would extend to the league their support and sympathy, but that they could not merge with them.
A great many prominent Liberal woman have individually expressed themselves in cympathy with the unionist women, and, while not wishing to sever their connections with their own club they, however, will co-operate with the unionist win-the-war women, and many have placed themselves on record as being opposed to party politics at this time. The Liberal women, too, have recognized this need of the hour, and tho many still desire to retain their own organization and name, still that is no indication that they are not in favor and working towards the same ideals as those women who have publicly placed themselves under one or the other of the win-the-war banners.

There is at present no indication of Vancouver, Nov. 16.—Sir George Foster and Hon. Arthur Meighen have been invited by the Unionist organization in British Columbia to participate in the election campaign in this province, and it is expected that they will accept. They may be assisted here by Dr. Michael Clark.

A Globe special from Belleville, dated Thursday last, says: At a unionist convention called by the Conservative executive and held at Madoc this af-convention was not a unionist convention, and refused to be bound by the recommendation that the nomines pledge themselves to the choice of the convention. Mr. Northrup, who has represented the riding of East Hastings for many years, explained why union government was necessary, and said he would not allow his near why union government was necessary, and said he would not allow his name to be considered by the convention. He said he was in the field as a "win-the war unionist candidate." The situation accordingly resolves itself into a sure conflict with two Conservatives contesting, both claiming to support union government principles. Mr. Northrup warned the convention against the danger of discord and the possibility of a third candidate. It is understood that prominent Liberais are supporting Mr. Northrup.

TRADE IN TORONTO

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's that while sorting business in drygoods lines is hardly measuring up to expectations, there continue to be liberal anticipations of spring requirements by retailers. The most significant fact shown by the trade situation during the week was the foresight of retailers who have stocked up with goods purchased at prices be ow those that are now current, and the difficulty of securing deliveries of textiles at the time for which shipment was contracted. Wholesalers are willing, however, to take the goods when milis are able to make delivery, and the enhanced prices since placing of orders have made cancellations undesirable. All lines of woollens are scarce, and prices are scarce, and prices are scarce, and prices are showing a tendency to wards conservatism in the matter of credits for commercial surposes. Carshortage is somewhat less pronounced than a couple of weeks ago, but the situation is still serious, and the movement of grain is being curtailed. Distribution of munition orders recently secured will mean activity in a large number of Ontario plants for several months ahead.

Leather markets are firm, with large than last year surface in some of the cotton markets with an expectational Association shows permentage than last year same period. It can hard, including the period. It can hard, i Finished cattle are scarce thruout Ontario and prices were stronger in Toronto during the week. Hogs and pork products were slightly higher. The grain trade is moderately quiet, and western wheat is being bought on a hand-to-mouth basis.

CORNER IN SILVER?

Hamilton B. Wills, dealing in his cekly report with the deal for delivery next year by United States smelters of 100.000,000 ounces of silver to the British and United States

Governments, says:

"Since bar silver declined from $1.08 1-2 to $1 1-2 and again started upward the rank and file of the producers have refused to dispose of their product and simply began to actually the started to the product and simply began to actually the started to the 1,255 ly higher prices would quickly follow.

200 Of all the metals, none is in greater.

3,725 demand than silver, more especially from public circulation. What other metal has the warring nations to full back upon as a national credit? The

1,000 colnage problem is most certainly a serious one, and in an effort to keep pace with the situation the combined mints of England and the United States are working at fullest capacity 24 hours every day. A contract carrying with it 100,000,000 ounces for doll-very next year will very probably bring about a corner in silver produced in America.

"The fixing of the price of silver will greatly benefit the market in the buyers are offering from two to five cents per ounce higher for spot delicents per ounce higher for spot delivery, with the producers showing no anxiety to sell, the price to be decided upon will provide a very substantial profit to the operating companies.

"It is well to point out that the fixed price on copper for governmental purposes is 23 cents a pound. whereas quotations in the open market for the red metal is 26 1-2 cents a pound. It is obvious, therefore, the fixing of silver prices will show the same variance between the government and public users. In other words, if the price of silver is fixed around 90 cents per cume it is likely fancy prices will be recorded in what remains for public consumption."

BUYING OF BRAZILIAN FEATURE IN MONTREAL

Brompter. and Steel of Canada Also Attract Some Buyers.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—Apart from the moderate demand for Brazilian there was no feature to the session of the Montreal Stock Exchange today.

Brompton and Steel of Canada were the only other stocks traded in in board lots a hundred shares of the former changing hands at 29, and 40 shares of the latter at 50.

There was a fairly good demand for broken lots. Civic Power, Toronto Ratiway, Smelters, Textile and Steel of Canada all found buyers at the minimum.
