THE WEST SEEN BY CANADIAN WOMAN

Graphic Story of the Journey of the Canadian Women's Press Club from Old Ontario to the New West---No Poverty in the Westland.

(On board special C. P. R. car "Wakefield.")

It's a far cry from old Ontario to the New West, but in one of the many 800,000 sleeping cars the C. P. R. puts on a lover of the beautiful west...

If you are fortunate enough to travel by moonlight you see miles of middle-pointed hills standing sentinel along the way.

The first view of Lake Superior vouchsafed to the Canadian Women's Press Club was, with its waters grey in a mist of rain, hemmed in by red granite rocks...

Further on the banks, little settlements of log houses sit close to the tracks on the edges of the many straits. They snuggle up to the level road as though for companionship with the strong C. P. R. On the shorelines, touching hemlock with the honey garments of the meadow...

In the little towns pale blue churches with pale green steeples fringed with carmine shut and country stores, while friendly green stare amiably as you pass.

At Brandon we came into close touch with the far-famed farming lands as well as the wonderful hospitality of the West.

Met at the station by the Ladies' Home we were driven to the experimental farm through avenues lined with a double hedge of spruce and maple, and were shown to what perfection flowers, shrubs and trees could be brought.

Here the tallest of us failed to measure up to the hand-stalked stalks of feather-foot growth, doated no longer the storken we had heard of the heavy-topped golden heads of the men who walked through the fields in harvest time.

Wild grasses, timothy clover and barley were shown in perfection of growth, with wheat, vegetables and many fruits.

The idea that the West cannot cultivate fruits has been exploded. Farmers now plant roses and grape vines, and behind these protecting hedges orchards are maturing and the face of the level prairie developing new beauties of expression.

We learned to distinguish between No. 1 hard and all other wheats. Some experts eat the grain and judge it by the dark glaucous color, but others adopt the more primitive method of chewing it.

While starchy, floury wheats soon dissolve, No. 1 chews to a gum. It is this maximum amount of gluten flour it absorbs so much more water than the lower grades.

GO-BETWEEN RAN GREAT RACE AND WON SUBURBAN

NEW YORK, June 22—Alexander Shields' 5-year-old, Modder-Indigo gelding, Go-Between, carrying 116 pounds, and third choice in the betting at 6 to 1, won the 23rd Suburban handicap and $20,000 before one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed the event at Sheepshead Bay.

Go-Between was but a short head in front of F. R. Hitchcock's 4-year-old, the Hamburg colt, Danielson, which was equal favorite in the betting with Catrington, at 3 to 1. Colonel Gil, backed down from 20 to 1 to 15, was third, three lengths behind the first two horses and the same distance in front of the nine other contestants.

The finish of the race was a terrific drive, Go-Between catching Danielson at the 16th pole in the stretch and lighting it out head and head to the wire. Shaw, on the winner, put up a masterly ride while Miller, on Danielson, got every ounce of strength out of his mount.

As the two leaders rushed to the judges' stand both jockeys, lacking the ribs of their horses into great foaming white, the 20,000 or more, racing enthusiasts at the course rose in their feet and wildly shouted encouragement to jockeys and horses alike.

The thousands who had played the favorite were elating with the surety of victory. Celestine was rapidly falling out of the race, but Catrington, Dolly Spangler and Takalon, the latter the winner of the Brooklyn handicap, were yet to be reckoned with.

The time of the Suburban was 2:05 1/4. And behind those was Go-Between with Shaw sitting high in the saddle. The

There were 21 marriages and 10 births reported to Registrar J. B. Jones this week. Of the births, 6 were male and 4 female.

Water weighs well and is cheap. Can't you see the profit for the bakers? Canadian blue grass and other fine fodders have an abundant growth on the undulating prairie beyond Brandon valley, but this aid all other farm products are eclipsed for the moment by the real estate boom there.

The people are looking for the advent of new railways and a Union station. Property that was bought in town a little over two years ago for $25 a lot sells now at $700.

Dr. S. W. McInnis, M. P. for Brandon, three years ago invested $4,000 in 100 acres which he cut up into town lots. He has already realized $20,000 from about four-fifths of the land and expects to make $100,000 on the whole deal.

This phenomenal increase in value is real, and everywhere and westward the prices are not inflated.

Street paving, new stores and fine residences are going on all around and the general air of prosperity is nowhere more noticeable than among the women.

They are not one minute behind their sisters, sisters in style. Long gloves, princess gowns and French hats were too common to be conspicuous at a debutante tea tended the Canadian Women's Press Club by the Brandon ladies.

There is a young Zoo at Brandon, too, out at the exhibition grounds, where good buildings and a splendid race track give a hint of the magnitude of the fall fair. Brandonites, both men and women, by the way, are lovers of good horseflesh and they are preposterous enough to indulge their liking for the "luxuries of life."

There is positively no poverty in the west. Men, who ten years ago came to the prairie penniless, today not only have comfortable homes but good farms and fair bank accounts. The soil is so fertile that, with no more labor than they formerly expended on poorer holdings, they yearly make good profits.

Saskatoon, 180 miles northwest of Regina, on one of the many branches of the C. P. R., though only five years old, has a population of 5,000, and from all sides come stories of the fertility of its farms.

Last fall the owner of 1,000 acres there grew 48,000 bushels of wheat. Earlier in the summer of the same year a Chinaman named Ling Hong Mark borrowed $1,000, bought a town lot and put up a small restaurant. So one of the main thoroughfares. This year he paid the principal and sold the property for $7,300.

A few days ago, in Flanagan's, the purchaser, resold it to John Drinkwater for $9,000.

Now is it the men alone who are profiting by their faith in the future of the country. Mrs. F. E. Baxter, a widow of the west, bought a Saskatoon town lot for $40 three years ago. Last month she refused an offer of $2,000 for it and leased the opening up of new C. P. R. branches, the assurance of a double transcontinental line and the prospect of still further growth of the west which for the past four years has been, even without this, phenomenal.

Thousands and thousands of acres are still to be had almost for the asking. Americans and foreigners seem to be more alive to the wonderful chances of the west than do the eastern Canadians, and they are fast taking advantage of them.

But the westerners themselves are staunch of faith and clear of vision. There is the making of many a millionaire out here. If faith as a grain of mustard seed can move mountains, surely the faith in their own country of three people west of Lake Superior will itself make a great nation of Canada. M. A. D.

SHARBOT LAKE MURDER STORY HAS DEVELOPED END OF LOCAL INTEREST

One of the Lads Supposed to Have Been Murdered by Indians Was Nephew of St. John Woman ---Belief Was That He Had Been Drowned.

Mrs. H. W. Belding of this city read with deep concern in one of the morning papers this week the story of the alleged discovery of the murder of two boys who were supposed to have been drowned in Sharbot Lake, Ontario, four years ago. One of the boys was her nephew.

In April, 1902, word was received that her nephew, Norris Babcock, aged fifteen, and another boy named Martin, about the same age, had gone out in a boat on Sharbot Lake, and that later the overturned boat was discovered. It was explained that a terrific squall had swept the lake, and it was taken for granted the boys were drowned. All efforts to discover their bodies failed, but as the lake in places was of very great depth, and there was nothing to tell where they had gone down, the failure to find them did not give rise to any suspicion of foul play.

But on Tuesday of this week a Kingston despatch stated that a woman named Neddo had declared that the boys were murdered by one Sandy Badore, and another Indian halfbreed named Frank Beaver, who both bore a bad reputation.

Indeed Badore was three weeks ago sent to Kingston penitentiary for fourteen years for shooting a pedler. He formerly lived with Mrs. Neddo, and she says he told of the murder and where the bodies were buried, and the despatch stated that search had been made and human bones found. It was said the boys had been 870 and 880 between them. Young Babcock had intended leaving in a day or two for Chicago.

A Kingston despatch of June 19th, says: "It seems that Chief of Police White, of Perth came here and interviewed Badore, in the penitentiary in regard to the story that two boys were murdered, and that he might be induced to give the police a tip as to who committed the deed. He denied that he was one of the murderers. He told of the spot where the bodies had been buried, and where the bones have since been found. It is reported here that Chief of Police White, of Perth, has gone to Peterboro county to apprehend Badore."

"The alleged murder mystery at Sharbot Lake is developing. Woods, the Crown witness in a recent fur robbery says that while in jail with Badore he was asked by Badore to write a letter to his wife to ask her to find out if Mrs. Neddo intended appearing as a witness against him and telling what she knew against him. This was before Mrs. Neddo disclosed the secrets she possessed.

"Another feature is that a fortune teller at Mountain Grove about a year ago set the golems talking for her predictions were very remarkable. She told that the boys were not drowned, but murdered, that they were buried, and also told of a searching party going to the place where the bodies were lying, but did not know it, though a brother of one of the lost boys faintly while near the spot. All this was told without the fortune teller knowing anything of the circumstances save those revealed by her alleged art.

"The whole countryside is waiting for the return of Chief of Police White, of Perth, and if he secured Beaver, then the chief will likely tell all he knows, though until then he is keeping his own counsel."

A Kingston despatch of Wednesday's date says:

Kidnapped Boy Found by Police, His Parents and Abductor.

John Joseph Keen

Frederick Muth

PHILADELPHIA, June 21—Seven-year-old Frederick Muth, the boy who was kidnapped last week, was found by the police after a week of unremitting search. His kidnapper, John Joseph Keen, formerly a well to do stock broker of New York city, was captured, and in abject terror he confessed his crime, implicating a woman as the instigator of the plot. He was tried in an hour and sent to prison for 25 years.

Keen needed money to make good his stealings from recent employers, and with the woman, who he says was also in need of money, he made the plans for the kidnaping of Muth.

Keen was taken at the point of a pistol only after he had been first upon and when he realized that escape was impossible. Keen is a married man and the father of three children. He gave as his reason for abducting the Muth boy that he needed the money.

"THE KEEPERS OF THE FLAG"

HALIFAX, June 23—(Special)—The Royal British Veterans' Society at a meeting last night presented a large photograph of themselves to General Sir Charles Parsons, who soon leaves for England. They also gave him an address at the same meeting. The colors presented by the maritime members of parliament to the Halifax provisional battalion as it passed through Ottawa on the way to the Northwest at the time of the Red Rebellion, were presented to the veterans' society for safe keeping.

Mrs. C. N. Skinner and Miss Skinner returned today by train from California.

BIG FIRE IN WAREHOUSE

Fifty Thousand Dollars Damage Done by Blaze in Warehouse

BOSTON, June 23—(Special)—The large warehouse in this place belonging to W. L. Hunting & Co. and containing 2000 cases of tobacco belonging to E. Hoffman of New York City, was totally burned shortly after midnight. The loss is placed at about $50,000 but it may exceed that figure. There is some insurance. The fire started in a barn nearby but the cause is unknown.

A. B. Copp, M. P. P. and Capt. Pratt, returned from St. Andrews last night. The investigation into the charges against Capt. Pratt will be resumed at the customs house in this city next Thursday.

A BIG TENT SHOW DEAL

CHICAGO, June 23—A despatch to the Tribune from Rock Island, Ill., says: The completion of a deal was announced yesterday by which the heirs of the late James A. Bailey sell the Forepaugh-Sells Bros. shows to Ringling Bros. This will probably end a circus war that raged fiercely through this section this season with extra advertising and price cutting. The circus will be sold to Ringling Brothers.

Nine deaths were reported to the board of health this week as follows: Bronchitis, 2; pulmonary tuberculosis, 2; septicemia, paralysis of brain, accidentally killed, valvular disease of heart, and sarcoma of ilium, one each.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

This will be a red letter day in the history of the Quangudy, Wun Lung and the Ludlow.

The street car line has been extended to Rodney Hospital, and the great public will be able to go en masse to see the famous survivors of spring frolics and battles with wharves and the Island Bar.

It is expected that Admiral Gilgore will make a fine display of bunting, and that all the nurses will be on hand to give information to enquiring enthusiasts, and from carrying away the edgewells and other fighting gear of the harbor Leviathans.

There was some talk of having luncheon

A local tract society is sending out to all suburban resorts a large quantity of selected reading. Wet Sundays may be fruitfully spent in perusing literature on Sunday observance and kindred subjects.

At the presentation of the old canon of the French period to the city on Monday evening in Queen square, the mayor will proudly direct the attention of the citizens to the fact that in its ferry service and its streets, as well as the fetters on vacant lots, and many other features of civic life, St. John possesses many relics of the days of La Tour and Chambliss.

CARLETON TO HAVE FREE PLAYGROUND

King Square to be Levelled and Put in Shape for Free Playground for Children --- Playground Fund Now Reaches Total of $1,236.25.

The Carleton people may be the first to have a large free playground for the children. King Square, which has long been a resort for play, but has been in a very rough condition, is now to have some of the rough places made smooth.

Rev. W. H. Sampson has long urged the importance of converting this square into a good playground, and others have expressed similar views. The property is owned by the city. At the Albert school closing yesterday Mr. Sampson again referred to the subject. He had interviewed Ald. Tilley on the subject, and later saw Ald. Baxter. As a result, Director Cushing has been communicated with, and when the street railway company lays its double track all the surplus curbs will be put in the holes in King Square. This will not make the whole area smooth, but will be a step in the right direction. Had it been thought of sooner, the surplus earth from the first track laying might have been hauled there. Doubtless when the work is begun the city will not be content until the whole square has been put in good condition. It is sufficiently isolated to be no annoyance to anybody when children are at play, and it is large enough to meet all the requirements. The playground fund continues to grow. Generous subscriptions received yesterday bring the total up to $1,236.25. The list is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Includes: Previously Acknowledged $1,176.25, Lake of the Woods Milling Co. 50.00, Wm. St. Pierre, Montreal 10.00, Total $1,236.25.

BOSTON TEACHERS MAY BE PENSIONED

School Board Favors Plan to Grant Them Retiring Allowance---Bill to be Drafted.

BOSTON, June 23—A pension for Boston teachers as coming. The School Board Thursday evening started to draft the "taxation" bill, which is to be introduced by the board, by appointing two of its members, Messrs. Ellis and Brock, a sub-committee to report a teachers' pension bill in the fall, for the purpose of submitting it to the legislature.

For a long time it has been felt that the present board, however, is a unit and a vigorous one in its demand for a pension for aged teachers.

Mr. Ellis, who has long been heart and soul in the movement, said: "It is the intention of the board to submit a bill to the General Court at its next session, establishing a pension system for teachers."

"There are already ten masters of grammar schools in Boston over 70 years old, and from 50 to 60 schoolmasters over 65 years old."

"It seems to the board that there ought to be an age limit established for teachers. The pension system would do that. Hereafter, when a woman becomes too old to teach, the superintendent usually talked the matter over with her and persuaded her to take a year's leave of absence with pay. Undoubtedly in some cases, the teacher hoped she would die before the year had passed."

"The pension system will benefit not only the teachers personally, but also improve the teaching force as a whole. The plan is only tentative as yet, but it will probably require a compulsory contribution from the teachers, like the life insurance systems."

A thorough pruning of the teaching corps has been attempted by the present board. In the first place, entrance into the corps has been safeguarded by the new civil service rules adopted this year. Teachers no longer exist through caprice, but according to their ability to pass the entrance examinations.

VESSLS ARE SCARCE

Maine Lumber Shippers Can't Get Enough Schooners for New York Cargoes---St. John Freights Pay Better.

(Bangor Commercial). There don't seem to be much danger of glutting the New York and Boston markets with Maine lumber so long as the present shortage in large vessels for New York freight continues. The Ashland Manufacturing Company and St. John Lumber Company are piling their lumber on the wharves at Cape Jeddison in Stockton harbor for want of vessels to take the lumber away. The big piles of yellow lumber are steadily growing, despite the intrusions being made into them by the vessels at the wharves.

The $2.25 per thousand freight being paid for lumber cargoes to New York does not seem to be any temptation for the masters and owners of the schooners which take 300,000 or 400,000 feet of lumber. There is an over supply of smaller vessels, the little coasters which take 100,000 to 200,000 feet, but the large schooners give Penobscot river and bay ports the go-by. They claim they can go to St. John and get plenty of cargoes at much better freights than they get in the Penobscot.

The small coasters are all right to go down the coast or even to Boston but it hardly pays for one of these to take lumber to New York. Freights to Boston are $2.40 and to the Sound $2.75. It's the old story over again. The sailing vessels are disappearing every year and few of them are being built to take the place of those that go.

NEW I. C. R. TIME TABLE

The summer time-table on the I. C. R. goes into effect tomorrow at midnight. The "Peep-o'-Day" express will make its first trip out of St. John Monday morning at six o'clock, and it is probable that many will have to stay up all night in order to be awake in time to take it should they wish to do so. There will likewise be many who will go back to sleep. There is a yet to be discovered a good and sufficient reason for inflicting this train on the traveling public in this section of the country.

STOPS USE OF TINNED MEAT

British War Office Suspends Issue of American Tinned Meats to Irish Militia.

LONDON, June 23.—War Secretary Haldane, answering a question of Captain Craig, Unionist, East division of County Down, Ireland, in the house of commons, said the issue of tinned beef tallow to the militia of County Down was by local arrangements and not by the war office. The latter, however, had issued orders suspending the further issue of tinned meats to the Irish Militia, who had been made in Ireland until the report of Lieutenant Colonel Percy Hobbs, chief instructor of the Army Service Corps School of Instruction at Aldershot, who has made in the United States to inspect the meat intended for the British army, has been received and considered.

The father and two of the children died in great agony shortly after partaking of the lunch. Little Ethel was taken ill at the same time and had been hovering near death ever since. Mrs. Barenora, the only remaining member of the family did not eat of the lunch provided by her husband.

POLICE COURT

The first session of the police court was held at 8:30 this morning and the second about 10:30.

Margaret Sullivan, who was arrested on a charge of drunkenness, was remanded. James Doyle, charged with being drunk and taking the name of God in vain, was fined $4 on the first charge and $8 on the second.

Three lads, whose ages ranged between twelve and thirteen years, were before the magistrate to answer a charge of taking flowers from T. E. G. Armstrong's garden, back of his home on Germain street. The boys admitted having taken some lilies, and after advice from his honor, in which he drew their attention to the fact that there were laws against such proceedings, they were allowed to go. The boys promised not to repeat the offence.

The officers and men of the Army Service Corps, numbering about 75 in all, left on the noon train today for Camp Sussex, where they will prepare for the feeling of the hungry militiamen who will arrive there on Monday and Tuesday next. The corps is in charge of Captain Harry Gray. They will arrange for the setting up of the lake ovens, slaughter houses, etc. in readiness for furnishing rations to the thousands of soldiers.

STREET RAILWAY MATTERS

Two matters respecting street railway extension are exciting a good deal of interest on the part of citizens outside of the city council chamber. One relates to the proposed extension along Front Street. It is argued by some that if this extension is made it will seriously handicap the operations of Fleming & Son, who in their heavy iron work find it absolutely necessary to use the street in front of their shops in a way that does not interfere with present traffic but might be impracticable if street cars were running there. The use of their siding would also be interfered with. It is pointed out that the city is trying to attract new industries, and should not handicap an existing one of great value and importance. It is replied, however, on the part of the street railway, that they will do all in their power to facilitate the operations of Messrs Fleming. The question is worthy of careful consideration. The other matter is that of the proposed street car extension to Sand Point. It is contended by some that to have the street cars running to that point in winter would cause a serious congestion of traffic. In reply it is stated that the street car line will be located on the extreme west side of the street, where there is now no traffic, and that it will not interfere either with railway trains or teams. The two questions, as already stated, are exciting considerable discussion, and it is felt that all interests should be very carefully considered.

FRATERNALISM

The recent baccalaureate address at Harvard by the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, in which he declared that this is the age of 'fraternalism' rather than socialism, and that mankind is broadening toward that state in which all creeds and sects will be united by their common purpose, instead of separated by their technical distinctions, and all will combine to check the progress of a selfishness that is the enemy of all progress, has so much of brotherly help extended by the fortunate to the unsuccessful and aspiring as now. Our millionaires, and our societies that have only modest sums at their command, are doing a great work in the founding and support of libraries, technical schools, hospitals, colleges, homes and other public institutions for the common welfare; our governments, federal and subsidiary, are eager to take over tasks for social betterment that were no part of government before—such as land reclamation, trade enlargement, the regulation of building, lodging and food supply, no less than education and defence; and everywhere men are regarded in the mass, rather than as individuals—a natural result of massing them in cities. 'The danger of this service, which has been given freely, and out of a generous spirit, is that it may be exacted, instead of asked; that it may be assigned to government and be made of force and law, whereas it should be as free as any other token of kindly feeling. When it has become law the day of the individual will have passed, and we shall live under a socialism that will not only prescribe and insure our privileges, but lay its strong hands on us if we seek to diverge from the path that must be marked for everyone—that will put the infant under government, that will limit gain, that will order our industries and provide our amusements. The eagle represents the individual idea; the ant hill is the symbol of the commune. 'Desirable as are many of these things of the common good, they are not desirable if they are won for us by force, whether we call the force a government or piracy. Liberty is beyond every good that socialism can devise, and it is the individual and not the public who has achieved every good that the public enjoys. And it is not the Anglo-Saxon or his northern neighbors who will lessen liberty in the belief that the world can gain in so doing; communes are the ideals of a weaker people, who, insecure in personal initiative, seek to gain through the force of numbers the fulfillment of those desires for individual welfare that the racial type does not achieve without this motion in bulk. We have outgrown the idea of an aristocracy of birth, and even of wealth, but the liberties enjoyed by the few under an artificial social system must be continued for those whose natural gift or tendency as leaders, thinkers, doers, as inventors, creators, students, as ministers of beauty and learning, entitle them to its exercise, or all ambition must perish, and the world of men become a sodden place, a factory or a prison, in

AN APPLICATION

'The Christian Scientist' is the subject of some amusing stanzas in the current Blackwood's Magazine, by 'C. N. B.' The poem is too long to quote in whole, but the following will be sufficient to tell the story: Strange was her creed, and stranger still that she Could ever rouse sweet thoughts of love in me; And yet I say, despite the way she talk'd, I loved the very ground on which she walk'd. Oh, Gwendolyn! say, was it not unkind To thrill my heart, my poor material mind, With all your beauty's snare, until that day You showed yourself a thing of common clay. For thus it was: we sat beside the mere, And gazed into the water, calm and clear, While she discoursed in vague and mystic Of strength of mind, and ever and again 'There is no pain,' she cried, 'nor any ill. There's nothing real, except the Soul, the Will. The Inner Self, the Me in Me within— Disease and sickness are but thoughts of Sin.' I would not strike a harsh, unfeeling chord, In brutal frankness own that I was bored; I merely murmured, 'Let us go aloft, And talk of 'Higher things' in a boat.' Soon Gwendolyn lay pensive in the stern, 'Oh, Harry, dear,' she sighed, 'if you could learn The power of Will! Could you be only taught! Oh, try and cultivate the Inner Thought.' The waves grew bigger, strongly blew the breeze, And gaily danced the boat upon the seas. And she, my idol, white and green in turn, Lay plunged in sickly ecstacy in the stern, 'Oh, Gwendolyn,' I cried, 'you are not fit For nothing's real, except the Soul, the Will; Your Inner Self, the Thee in Thee within— Can surely not be capable of Sin.' She murmured, 'Harry, take me, take me home.' And that was all she said, no overture, No Gwendolyn by grievous me de mer, No longer mystical, no longer fair. 'Nay, Gwendolyn,' I cried, 'fresh courage take! There's no boat, nor waves, nor any lake— 'Tis all unreal; think only of your Soul.' But all she said was, 'Can't you stop the roll?'

A BIG ORE CARRIER The growth of Western trade and the importance of the great lakes as means of commercial communication is set forth by ever-increasing activity in the lake carrying trade. Year by year the carriers are straining to build larger vessels that will carry bigger cargoes. In less than ten years the average capacity of ore and grain carriers has been doubled. A new boat on the lakes is the 'J. P. Morgan' which has just made its first trip carrying 12,285 gross tons of iron ore and was even then not loaded within 1,000 tons of her full capacity. The previous carrying record was 12,000 tons. The 'Morgan' is the first 600-foot vessel on the great lakes and is owned by the Steel Trust.—Bradstreet's. Mrs. J. THE ART OF GETTING QUICKLY RESTED

Little Points on the Care of the Hair

RESTING is an art; it may almost be called an accomplishment. Yet there are few people who know how to rest properly, and fewer still who have learned the art of getting rested quickly.

Of course, there is a difference between being tired out mentally and being physically tired, and it's the former state that is hardest to overcome.

If you can get your brain and nerves composed and rested, physical relief follows almost immediately. Learn to rest the body all over, but most attention should be given to getting the brain and eyes rested.

The finer tips are used, and the base of the brain should be gently treated for about ten minutes, simply making strokes in rhythm, as the repetition is quieting in its influence.

A few minutes should be devoted to massaging the eyelids. This will not only have a soothing effect, it will brighten the eyes and make them sparkle.

Throughout the whole process no word should be spoken and it is well to select a quiet corner in the house if possible.

Sweet scents are soothing and at the same time invigorating, and most beneficial effects are obtained by smelling one's favorite toilet water.

Some women who are always greatly soothed by inhaling the odor of their favorite flowers, and one of them says she has never had an attack of nervous exhaustion that could not be banished with a scent of apple blossoms.

Of course, a hot water bottle is a most useful thing at hand. But a good toilet water can usually be used, and its effect is unmistakably beneficial.

When this trouble occurs on the heel, the sides and the toes, it may be drawn together and held with adhesive plaster.

When the sides are sore, a little of the tincture of myrrh placed between the affected toes, if there is much moisture, a dusting powder may be used.

When the feet are sore after a long walk or vigorous exercise, massage them with olive oil. They respond to care very quickly.

The comb should be kept perfectly clean.

MANY women who shampoo the hair once in two or three weeks think they have done all that is necessary toward keeping it in good condition.

Brushing the hair is a better than pore at all, and will in many cases keep the hair in a comparatively clean and healthy state.

One source of broken ends and short hairs is using rough brushes and short hair is using rough brushes and short hair is using rough brushes.

The hair cannot be kept clean if proper attention is not paid to keeping the combs and brushes perfectly clean.

The Proper Care of the Feet

By Dr. Emma E. Walker

FEETRY foot is one of the greatest attractions that a girl can have. And in its acquisition that the American girl possesses as handsome feet as the girls of any other nation of the world.

one asked a girl what she would like to find if she took up an article on the foot. She promptly replied: "I would like to read all about corns, for they are the torment of my life."

SUMMER ELEGANCES NOW GREATLY REDUCED

The moment is fast approaching when bargains in rich Spring and Summer garments will be found everywhere.

Already, for some weeks, expensive pattern hats have been here and there at incredibly low prices.

Such headgear as is amenable to refurbishing for Autumn and Winter use are the lace and crinoline shaps.

Especially in young girls' and children's departments are the reductions in fine hats desirable.

Beautiful hat garnitures for Autumn use are the vast cherries and little apples which has been the fad of the season.

A group of pretty children's hats shown by one place, famous for elegant juvenile styles, suggested possibilities for carrying over to another summer.

Two more conventional shapes were identified from hats for older girls, from 14 to 16.

In fine gowns for both grown-ups and children there is already no end of choice among the reduced things.

tailor styles may often be worn almost till November. The toilettes, however, which specially recommend themselves are those in such materials as veiling, silk, lace, net, chiffon, mousseline and embroidered batiste, which last, over a silk slip, may be worn the entire winter, in the house or at the theatre.

The eye is never astonished nowadays at sight of a summery gown on a winter evening, for outdoors, warm cuddlesome wraps cover them all but completely, and indoors houses are so warm that they are in perfect keeping.

Conspicuous among the bargains already on sale are some Empire styles, in gauzy fabrics and thinly woven silks of a soft and graceful fall.

ive salmon pink was the material of the next Empire choice. The slightly trimmed skirt of this, which showed the old Empire seamlines of cut at the hips, was entirely untrammled.

Two bargain outdoor toilettes, magnificently with lace and embroidery, are pictured with the Empire gowns.

Unlined coats of white gauze and lace, and in pale blue, pink and violet, have also been seen among the reduced things.

If a parasol is needed for a short summer outing there are innumerable finds so greatly reduced, that even a purchase in October would seem sensible.

Loosely the fancy shoes, designed along the lines of the Empire, are excellent bargains, as all of these provide dressy house footwear for winter.

IS YOUR NEIGHBOR ANNOYED THIS WAY? Now that the windows are all up, are the neighbors obliged to listen to the strumming on your piano or the clatter of your phonograph from early morn to dewy eve?

is of pure white lace net in fine tulle. As to the reduction, in this gown, which showed a fall from nearly $300 to $30, it was palpably because of color—time having had such a vogue this summer that importers fear the test of carrying over the tone to another season.

Another color intimidating to shopkeepers and private makers and importers is old rose, which, to speak truly, has been almost run into the ground.

hat, or wrap in this much exploited tint will be found very valuable and it is a color seen in some of the richest bargain gowns.

The toilette pictured beside the smoke-colored chiffon is of chiffon cloth in tint. Hand embroidery and braid, which all but completely cover the round gored skirt, trim it magnificently.

here and there can soon be summed up into quite a family history.

Does your propensity for getting up very early on light summer mornings mean that your coffee grinder is brought into action at least an hour before the average mortal is ready to open his eyes for the day?

Does the fact that flies don't bother you and that consequently your house is one of their favorite haunts, imply that your neighbors on the right, who have a genuine horror of those black pests, must be driven to despair in fighting the friends of the fly?

STOP THAT HEADACHE Foolish to Suffer When a Simple Remedy will Prevent and Cure Ever stop to think what caused your headaches? Probably not. Then look to the bowels and stomach, and you'll find plenty of cause.

Headaches never come to those who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and this fact is vouched for by the Assistant Manager of the Poultry Success Magazine, of Springfield, O., Mr. J. H. Callender, who writes: "No better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. We use them regularly and know of marvelous cures that resisted everything else."

TYPHOID FEVER SPREAD BY FLIES

Doctor Dixon Tells of Danger From House Pest—Responsible for Many Deaths.

That flies are an exasperating annoyance, not only to man, but also to beasts, no one need be told. Moreover, it has been found that the milk-producing power of the cow is materially reduced by the annoyance of flies. That flies are one of the greatest possible sources of danger as disease transmitters is also well known, but not sufficiently heeded. This statement was made by State Health Commissioner Dixon of Pennsylvania last week. He was speaking of what is known in the scientific world as musca domestica, but what people in general call the "house fly," that whisks through the small tear in the screen and ruins early morning sleeping hours. "We don't begin to give enough credit to the house fly for the number of typhoid fever cases it is responsible for. The fly alights on some germ-laden material, and then its next stopping place may be some food that is about to be served. It was the late Dr. Joseph Ledy's belief that the house fly carried gangrene and were responsible for its spread. "The fly's responsibility for the great number of deaths among the American soldiers during the Spanish-American war was conclusively shown. The soldiers took the very proper precaution of putting lime about the camp, but the fly was there, too, and those who studied the typhoid epidemic at Chickamauga camp, for instance, report that flies were seen on the food at the mess tents with their little feet covered with lime. No more direct transmission of typhoid can be imagined. That the fly was entirely responsible for many cases was shown by the fact that investigations proved that the typhoid fever germs did not come from the drinking water. There were 145 Americans killed during the Spanish-American war, but 5,277 died of typhoid fever. "The farmer and dairyman should be particularly anxious to get rid of flies, for it means dollars and cents to them in their milk production. It is a recognized fact that the annoyance caused cattle by the fly materially reduces the quantity of milk that the cow gives. "How shall we get rid of this fly danger? Of course, screens do keep them out, and fly papers to catch the insects when they get in, are the easy and natural remedies; but flies are great breeders, and it is most important to look after them in their milk production. The female fly lays about 130 eggs, and these eggs hatch in about one-third of a day. The larval stage is three days, the pupa stage five days, and the fly rounds to the full adult fly in about ten days. There may be twelve broods in a summer. "Now, the first thing to do is to see that the manure pit is well screened, and

OLD CANNON IN PLACE IN QUEEN SQUARE

The old French gun which is to be presented to the city by the New Brunswick Historical Society has been erected in Queen square. The gun occupies a prominent position in the square, having a commanding place overlooking the harbor. It is mounted on the green close to the asphalt to the right of the concrete path in front of the residence of Mrs. J. H. Thomson. The length of the ancient weapon is nine feet and the diameter of the bore four and a half inches; at butt fifteen inches. It is an old smooth-bore and probably threw a projectile of about twelve pounds, a round shot. Near the front of the gun is a smaller platform. The gun dates back to the period of French occupation. From the days of La Tour down there was a fort on the Carleton side of the harbor at the place still known as Old Fort. The period of French occupation lasted until 1788 when General Monkton took possession of the French fort at the mouth of the St. John and, after reconstructing and strengthening the defence, named it Fort Frederick. A garrison of 200 men was established there. After a while a smaller garrison was in charge under Major Studholm. The garrison remained until the harbor had been settled by the first English speaking people—St. Simons & White and their associates. Some time after the war of 1812 Fort Frederick was dismantled and the guns, removed to the batteries erected near Red's Point, in which vicinity the old French gun was discovered embedded in the soil. The formal presentation of the gun to the city will take place Monday evening next.

The Progress of Corn Sowing

By the agency of tight boots a crop is quickly raised, but it's soon coaxed out by the application of Putnam's Corn Eductor which cures corn in one day. Nothing so safe and painless as Putnam's; use no other. Lemon Cream—Soak three tablespoonfuls of tapioca for three hours. Boil the thinly pared peel of two lemons in a cup of water until the latter is flavored. Pour this liquid, strained, over six ounces of lump sugar. Then strain and boil tapioca in this until quite tender. Add the juice of two lemons and two well beaten eggs. Return the saucepan to the fire and cook the whole two minutes without boiling. Turn into mould to set.

Wear Tweed for Health.

Every day people are realizing that, winter or summer, no fabric is so thoroughly healthful as material made from pure wool. Wool—Nature's own means of protecting the body—fulfills the two conditions necessary to hygienic clothing. It permits the perspiration to escape naturally and promotes the proper circulation of the blood. Every fibre of pure wool, being porous, directly helps the tissues to throw off the waste through the skin's millions of pores. This hardens the flesh and makes it strong against disease. It's in spongy, sluggish tissue, not hard, muscular flesh, that microbes thrive. Wool gives the body an equable warmth—even when damp, does not chill, but keeps the skin healthily active. Being a non-conductor of heat and cold, it keeps out the cold in winter and the heat in summer, giving more solid comfort than any linen or cotton, which, through their non-porous nature, check perspiration, stifle the skin and quickly saturate. Wool retains saturation, by throwing the perspiration into the air. When yawning, sneezing or coughing, exposed in any way to heat or cold, storm, frost or snow, there is nothing so safe as good, pure-wool clothes. They guard against rheumatism, chest troubles, indigestion, deranged stomach, corpulence and all other results of poor circulation or obstructed perspiration. In Hewson Tweeds the most perfect pure-wool is obtainable in all weights for all seasons and purposes. The designs are charming—the weaves strong and beautiful. Hewson Tweeds mean better health for everyone who discards cotton or shoddy—and they mean economy—for they wear longer and better. If your dealer can't show you them, send us his name and address, and we'll have him supplied. Hewson Woollen Mills, Ltd., The Big New Mill, AMHERST, N.S.

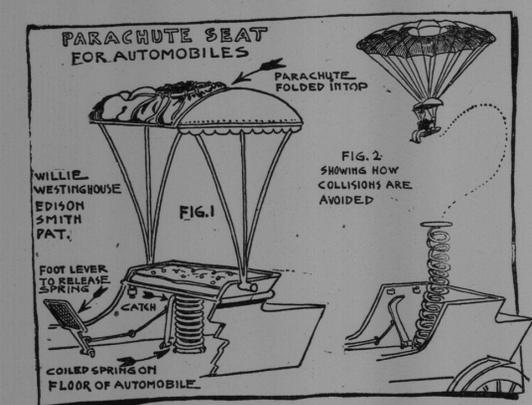

A VALUABLE ANTIQUE Mrs. S. H. Wood has at her home in the west end a table which she values highly on account of its extreme age and family associations. The table, of which Mrs. Wood has recently come into possession, was brought from Bremen, Germany, to Pennsylvania by Elias Wright, her great, great grandfather, in the year 1688. In 1727 the Wright family moved to St. John, N. B., the antique table being taken with them and has been owned by some member of the family continuously ever since. The table, which is of solid mahogany, is large and round and is supported by three claw-shaped feet, after the style of those far-off days, and is a very creditable piece of workmanship for the very early date in which it was made. Mr. Wright, the first owner of the table, was a house carpenter by trade, and is said to have built the first frame dwelling house ever built in St. John—Essexport Centre.

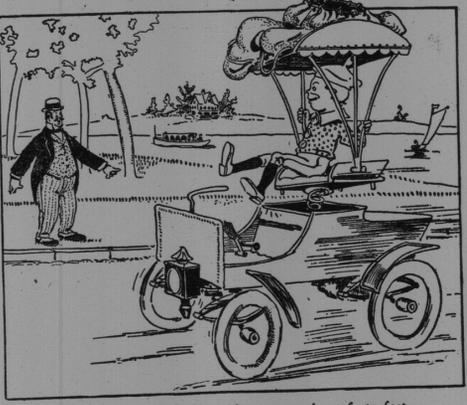

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials Free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation. Mrs. Hustin, wife of W. H. Hustin, proprietor of the Lansdowne House, and children will leave today for Brown's Plata, where they have taken a cottage for the summer. Miss Tillie Thomas left yesterday for Dorchester, accompanied by Miss Jean Barnes, of Sackville.

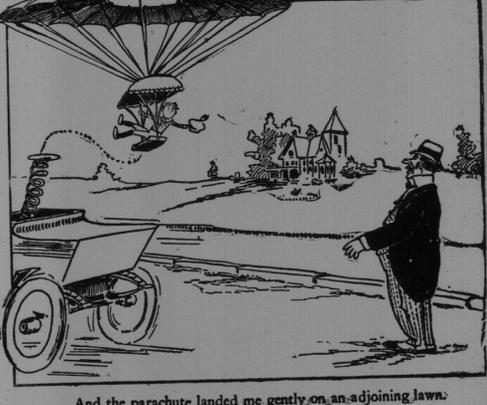

WILLIE'S SAFETY PARACHUTE WAS A SUCCESS—BUT THE WIND SHIFTED

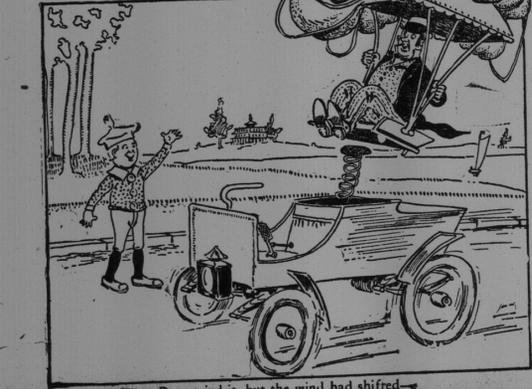

Dear Tommy: This is a new safety device. When a collision is imminent, press the lever and up you go. Then the parachute lets you down.

I tried it first. The spring shot me up about forty feet—

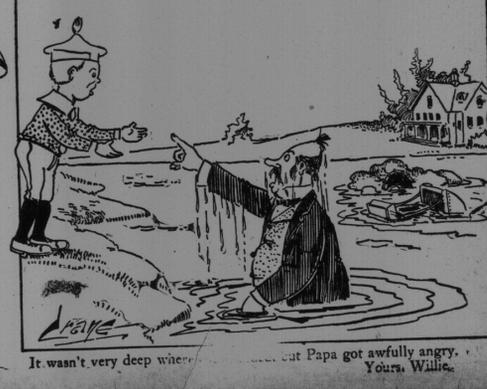

And the parachute landed me gently on an adjoining lawn.

Then, Papa tried it, but the wind had shifted—

And poor Papa was carried out over the lawn

It wasn't very deep where Papa got awfully angry. Yours, Willie.

BASE BALL

There was only a fair crowd of spectators on the Victoria grounds yesterday afternoon when a record game of ball was played between the Montreal, Y. M. C. team and the St. John's team. The score was 1 to 0 in favor of St. John's and it had not been for the few errors that score would not have been made.

It was a pitchers' battle and while very few balls were batted beyond the infield, the work of the players on both teams was of the real professional kind.

The game was played in the remarkable time of one hour and ten minutes, which is the fastest nine innings ever played in the city and it would likely have been an even shorter one had it not been for the errors.

Charles is so situated during the long vacation period at Carleton that he may decide to play ball this summer with some representative club.

A LITTLE LILT OF LOVE

THERE was once a young chap named Larry. But alas and alack, he did tarry. A moment too late Upon the frontgate And it ruined his best chance to marry.

THERE was once a young lady named Rose, Whose beau was about to propose; But he sprang from his knees With a snort and a sneeze. As a bee stung the end of his nose.

Love Will Find a Way.

GEORGE—Oh, Gertie, this is most tantalizing; just as I am about to take that cherished kiss, along comes your mother.

GEORGE—What you think there is something the matter with your lungs, Mrs. Gurgle? Just turn around and let me listen; I can tell in a minute.

MRS. GURGLE—Oh, thank you, George, I'm so glad to know it. GEORGE—Ho, ho, ho! Why, Mrs. Gurgle, your lungs are in the most perfect condition. Gertie, just put your ear here a minute and listen.

matter with her lungs, is there matter with her lungs is there, Gertie? GERTIE—No, indeed.

Signs of Summer.

By WEX JONES. SING a song of Summer hiling up this way: Hot spell's sure a comer, now we're losing May. This is how we know it: Men put on straw hats— Pipes the June-rose poet—housewives clean their flats. Crowds jam soda fountains—kids go in to swim— Pop decides the mountains cost too much for him. Fat man drinks gin rickey, says it makes him cool— Subway's close and sticky—children tire of school. Open cars are running—fab-net shirtwaists shock— Aquatic fools start funning, in cranky boats they rock. Roof-garden shows rehearsing the same archaic jokes, While city man's conversing with whiskered country folks. Sea-serpent in his glory "lashes the sea to foam," And visitors the story will tell when they get home. Oh, Summer's fast approaching—the Summer's even here— For "Hot Drinks" encroaching we see the sign "Cold Beer."

THE CREAMER CASE

Stewart Goodwin of Woodpoint, father of Mrs. Creamer, called at the Post office yesterday and asked us to deny the statement that Mrs. Creamer had a sister in Boston. The statement had been made that the missing children had been sent on to a sister in Boston, which statement was absurd. Mrs. Creamer, he said, was still hoping the children would turn up alive in some way, but Mr. Goodwin thought it was a vain hope.—Sackville Post.

The St. John Times is very anxious that the search for the Creamer children be kept up. This sounds all very well, but if the Times man were on the spot, he would perhaps become tired of going over the same ground again and again without securing anything that can properly be called a clue. The story of a thread being found in the woods, which the daily papers have been making so much of lately, proves nothing. Hundreds of persons have gone through these woods during the last few weeks who will say these threads were not from the clothing of one of these persons? No one in the eastern part of the country takes any stock in this so-called clue. The visit of the Moncton contingent resulted in nothing, as has the visit of every other outsider who has interested himself in the case. The mystery is no nearer solution than it was the night the children disappeared.—Sackville Post.

AGONY AFTER EATING

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure the Worst Cases of Indigestion.

"I suffered so much with indigestion that my life had become a burden," says Miss Nellie Archibald, of Sheet Harbour, N. S. "Every time I took even the lightest meal it caused me hours of agony. The trouble caused a choking sensation, the region of my heart, which seriously alarmed me. My inability to properly digest my food, left me so weak and run down that I could not perform even the lightest household work, and I would tire out going up a few steps slowly. I sought medical aid, and tried several medicines, but without getting the least benefit. My sister, who lived at a considerable distance, and who had been an invalid, wrote us about this time that she had been cured through using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she desired me to give them a fair trial, practically as a last resort. In the course of a few weeks there was a notable change in my condition, and I began to gain new strength, and by the time I had used seven boxes, all signs of the trouble had vanished and I was once more enjoying good health, and I have not since had any return of the trouble."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure indigestion, because they make the rich red blood that brings tone and strength to the stomach. Nearly all the common ailments are due to bad blood, and when the bad blood is turned into good blood by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the trouble disappears. That is why these pills cure anaemia, dizziness, heart palpitation, general debility, kidney trouble, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, and nervous troubles, such as neuritis, paralysis and St. Vitus dance. That is why they bring ease and comfort to all stages of womanhood and girlhood, and cure their secret ailments when the blood supply becomes weak, scanty or irregular. But you must get the genuine pills. Substitutes and imitations which some dealers offer never cure anything. When you buy the pills, see that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is printed on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OBITUARY JOHN McPHERSON.

Many friends in Kings county and along the line of the I. C. R., have learned with regret of the death recently in Charlottetown of John McPherson, for many years section foreman on the I. C. R. at Norton, after the road was first opened. Mr. McPherson was afterwards for a time a railway sub-contractor, then for a time trackmaster on a portion of the P. E. Island railway, and later in the freight department at Charlottetown. He was a native of Scotland, and brought his family to this country shortly after the opening of the I. C. R. from St. John to Moncton. He was an active member of the Presbyterian church, a Freemason, and a man held in the highest respect by all who knew him.

Is Your Catarrh Any Better?

Probably getting worse all the time. It is a thorough cure because it destroys the cause as well as the effect of the quick with this powerful remedy which is guaranteed to cure catarrh in any part of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or lungs.

WALTH BY SPECIAL PRIVILEGES (Chicago News). There are many men who have acquired riches honestly, and it is but fair that all should have opportunities to do so. That wealth in itself is now regarded with so much suspicion and even hatred indicates an unwholesome frame of mind, and for the conditions that produce it the people themselves are to a certain extent to blame. The millionaire who has acquired his wealth honestly and by his own efforts is no enemy of the public welfare. Quite the contrary. It is the millionaire who has gained his fortune through the enjoyment of special privileges in the form of illegitimate favors whose influence is to be feared. Let the people insist that special privileges be wiped out, that all business be conducted in a lawful manner, and that equal opportunities be provided for all. In conditions where every man must work his way forward openly and by fair means there would be no occasion for the prejudice which now bulks all wealth together as evil. BIG GAINS IN CLEARINGS. Montreal clearings continue to show good gains. The comparative statement for the week is as follows: Total for week ending June 21, '06, $29,999,000. Corresponding week, '05, 23,644,800. Corresponding week, '04, 20,620,500. R. J. Armstrong has been given a lease of the Moncton Opera House for another year, on the same terms, it is stated, at least. It is understood that A. E. Holstead will be the Moncton manager.

PREPARING SCHOOL GRADUATES FOR BUSINESS LIFE

Why is it that the Curria Business University, Ltd., has been so conspicuously successful in placing so many in responsible positions? Finely—the systems of training in shorthand and business are entirely different from any other school's methods. Lastly—its final examinations are actual practice, in this way—Through its employment bureau this school secures the patronage of the public, thus forming an immense board of examiners from the very people who require this class of help. This method sharply introduces the trained pupil in a way entirely unthought of by any other business college. This school is years in advance of the ordinary business coll g. Now is the time to begin a course. This institution is open day and night during summer and winter months.

FOR GENERAL CONFERENCE

Baptists to Consider an Organization on Similar Lines to Presbyterian General Assembly.

Rev. David Hutchinson, pastor of Hain St. Baptist church, will leave on Friday next for the coast, where he will attend a meeting of a committee of Baptist ministers to discuss the advisability of forming a National conference for Canada. Rev. R. G. White of Charlottetown will represent Prince Edward Island and Rev. H. C. Newcomb of Amherst will be Nova Scotia's representative. At Montreal they will meet Rev. Dr. Gordon, Rev. In the past the Baptists have had their provincial conferences, but now the proposal is to consider plans for holding a dominion conference of all the representatives from all the provinces under arrangements to be found most favorable by the committee. The idea of a dominion conference will be on somewhat the same principle as the general assembly of the Methodists and Presbyterians.

TO BE AIRED IN POLICE COURT

Henry Hilyard Charges Intimidation Against Members of Millmen's Union.

Henry Hilyard, of the firm of Hilyard Bros. mill owners, has charged the president of the Millmen's Union with intimidation, and the case will be taken up next Monday at two o'clock before Judge Ritchie.

Mr. Hilyard, accompanied by his counsel, L. A. Curry, K. C., appeared before Judge Ritchie yesterday afternoon and briefly outlined his case. Mr. Curry quoted the law respecting intimidation, the penalty for which is three months imprisonment or $100 fine.

Mr. Hilyard pointed out that on Wednesday last John Martin and Charles Daley appeared on the wharf at his mill, and again about noon returned with about 100 men and tried to prevent the firm's mill hands from resuming operations by threatening to have them expelled from the union. Mr. Hilyard added that not only were the men threatened but were called "scabs."

The Hilyards claim to have lost one man as a result of the demonstration. Martin is president of the Millmen's Union and Daley is acting in Killen's place among the longshoremen, who are acting in conjunction with the millmen. After hearing an outline of the case Judge Ritchie gave instructions that Martin and Daley be notified.

12th OF JULY

The 12th of July Orange committee met last night and practically completed arrangements for the entertainment of the visiting brethren on that day. A satisfactory arrangement was made with the churches, hotels and restaurants for the supply of meals for an immense number, which both the Orange demonstration and the track races will bring to town. A short parade will take place as soon after the arrival of the Orangemen in town as possible, but not later than 9:30 a. m. The parade will be through the principal streets of the town. Short addresses will be delivered by prominent members of the association. The food will be bounteously provided and the service excellent. A day in summer in the garden and natural picnic grounds of New Brunswick should attract thousands of citizens, the Orangemen will attract themselves.
