RAINY FALLS THE FIRE FIGHTERS IN WEST ONTARIO

Situation Worse in Some Places and Better in Others

Wall of Flame Fifty Feet High Laying Waste All in Its Path—Railways Send Hundreds to Fight—Airdocks Get Scorching.

(Canadian Press)

Port Arthur, Ont., June 2—Reports reaching the Canadian Press from the Ontario district up to midnight show little if any change from the day. Hopes for rain failed with nightfall. The danger in some places has been increasing owing to high winds.

The White River situation is reported as "somewhat improved," although a danger is said to be still prevalent. A half hour rain during the late afternoon was of little use but the population is easier in mind.

At 11 o'clock reports from Home Payne was that a big fire was burning steadily at "Lux" on the main line of the C. N. R. east. The report says "the very bad at Millage 80 and 81." There has been no rain all day with the exception of a few drops early in the afternoon.

On a two hundred mile front there have been fires of varying proportions for the last two or three days. An army of 1,500 to 2,000 men has been thrown into the fight. The C. P. R. and C. N. R. suspended all track operations to release large gangs of men for fire fighting.

There have been serious fires from Biscoe Landing clear through to White River at points along the main line of the C. P. R. Communication was restored at White River yesterday for the first time in thirty-six hours, and all is reported well there. Eye-witnesses at Leobach and Girwood told of walls of flame reaching a height of fifty feet accompanied by a terrific roaring wind, advancing with incredible swiftness and laying waste to all in its path.

Sanac Lake, June 2—Three forest fires, two of menacing proportions, broke out in this section of the Adirondacks yesterday and last night were requiring the efforts of hundreds of men to prevent extensive damage.

Another fire broke out late yesterday afternoon in the Adirondack timber land property of the Mountain Paper Company, about eighteen miles south of St. Regis Falls. The property, chiefly forested, not easily accessible and the fire is regarded as decidedly menacing.

A third fire which broke out near Ellensburg last night was under control, immediate attention having prevented its spread.

Ottawa, Ont., June 2—Little if any change in the situation in the Gatineau hills district, north of here, is reported this morning. An army of fire fighters are working.

Babe Falls Five Stories; Bounces Safely Off Awning

New York, June 2—Margie O'Donnell, aged 17, tumbled off the roof of a five story building yesterday. Two hours later she was taking a nap, sleeping off the effects of hoodlums. Margie tumbled off the roof while her mother was busy. She disregarded the frantic shouts of two small boys on an adjoining housetop and crawled to the edge of the roof. But pedestrians below heard the boys' cries and rushed to the spot below. Margie fell and bounced off, awning into the arms of a waiting rescuer.

IRON MAN AGAIN DEFEATS RED SOX

John P. Quinn was Let Out by Them Two Years Ago

He's Around 40, but He Can Pitch—Triple Play in Indian-Tigers Game—The Giants Make Run Record.

(Canadian Press)

New York, June 2—There was more color in the major league baseball games of yesterday than had been splashed on the diamond for some time. A lot of the vivacity was furnished by old John P. Quinn, an iron man among the veterans in the sporting world, who is enjoying a prosperous year. Cast off by the New York Americans two years ago, but Babe's attitude became reciprocal and he got three hits.

The result left the Red Sox from the cellar to six places. Quinn pitched a gem, allowing only one run in six innings. He struck out ten batters and pitched a gem, allowing only one run in six innings. He struck out ten batters and pitched a gem, allowing only one run in six innings.

The New York Giants kept three home runs in trimming the Philadelphia Quakers, 22 to 8, and setting a record by making at least one run in every inning.

The Cleveland Indians, led by the speedy red legs of Cincinnati, downed the Cubs again, 5 to 3, gaining one point on St. Louis and reaching for the lead in the pennant race.

Leo Dickerman, one of Brooklyn's best pitchers, was without control for his second consecutive time and the Braves knocked him out of the box, winning 11 to 8.

STEWART HEIRRESS HELD OF AGE; TO GET $2,400,000

Mrs. Marion Honeymann is Freed of Guardianship.

Seven Million Estate Settled—Suffolk County Surrogate Signs Four Writs, Which End Long Litigation.

Riverhead, L. I., June 1—Surrogate Robert Pelletreau of Suffolk County, has signed four final decrees settling all litigation over the estate of John K. Stewart, the speedometer inventor, of Chicago, who died on June 1, 1916, at Centerville, L. I., leaving an estate valued at more than $2,400,000.

The decrees also settled the litigation over the estate of Mrs. Julia K. Stewart, the inventor's wife, who died at Alton, S. C., on March 18, 1917, and the estate of Jean Stewart, a daughter, who died in Chicago on October 10, 1921, when she was ten years old.

At the same time the guardianship of Marian Stewart Honeymann, wife of Robert B. Honeymann, Jr., is settled. As a result Mrs. Honeymann will receive more than $2,400,000 from the estate of her parents and sister.

Mrs. Honeymann's guardians were Martin Taylor of New York and Leander H. Lachante of Chicago. Lachante is now president of the Stewart-Warner Speedometer Corporation. By these decrees they are retired from their duties as Mrs. Honeymann's guardians.

The two guardians were appointed for Mrs. Honeymann, then Marian Stewart and Jean Stewart. When the child died Taylor and Lachante applied to Surrogate Pelletreau for appointment as administrators of the estate.

Surrogate Pelletreau refused to appoint them and named the Suffolk County National Bank, of Riverhead, as administrator of the estate. Mrs. Honeymann conferred with officials of the bank and an agreement was reached that was satisfactory to the Surrogate.

Speakers and Press Discuss it in Ontario, but There is No Declaration by Any Party Leader Against the O. T. A.

LIQUOR LAW PROMINENT IN THE CAMPAIGN

Ontario, June 2—A remarkable feature of the election campaign in this province is the prominence of the liquor law question. It is the only issue which the temperance question occupies in the platform speeches of candidates and the discussion in the press without any mention of the O. T. A. A few Conservative candidates have been outspoken in their determination to adhere to the act and in reply to the "Prohibitionists" they say that "Conservative prohibitionists have no right to seek prohibition in anti-prohibition constituencies," and that the convictions of Hon. Howard Ferguson on the Ontario Temperance Act are not binding upon constituencies that cannot share those convictions.

In the vote of four years ago only eleven out of the 111 ridings in the province gave majorities against the continuance of the O. T. A. These were Cochrane, North Essex, Fort William, Manitowish, Ottawa, East, Riverside, Sturgeon Falls, Southwestern, South West Toronto, North Waterloo and Windsor. Nineteen ridings gave majorities against government control.

Members of the uniform rank, the Pythian Sisters and the Knights of Khorassan, the latter a social organization connected with the fraternity, took part in the parade leading to the tomb and witnessed the ceremonies.

FRANCE AND ITALY NEXT TO GIVE THE VOTE TO WOMEN

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Predicts Universal Women Suffrage in 25 Years.

New York, June 2—Woman suffrage will be universal within twenty-five years, and France and Italy will be the next European nations to enfranchise women, so Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, honorary president of the International Women Suffrage Alliance, predicted upon her return last night on the Benares from an eight months tour of Europe and South America. She said that Mussolini retains the premier-ship of Italy for another year, the women there will vote.

GAVE LIFE TO SAVE FRIENDS

Detroit, June 2—Scott W. Markie, thirty-five years old, a foreman at the U. S. Shipping Board's fleet, gave his life this week that others might live.

Markie died in the Receiving Hospital from burns suffered when he made a heroic but unsuccessful attempt to prevent a gasoline explosion in the plant that had been placed in his charge.

A spark from an acetylene torch in the hands of a structural iron worker fell into a can of gasoline and paint. Fearing it would ignite and endanger the lives of half a score of men in the place, Markie picked up the bucket and ran toward a cistern. The rush of air fanned the spark and the contents ignited. Markie was burned from head to foot.

That Billion Bid

Silver Creek, N. Y., June 2—John W. Slack, the "man who bid more than a billion dollars for the ships comprising the U. S. Shipping Board's fleet," last night issued his first official statement, in which he makes Chairman Lasker's advertising methods as "belittling the value of the fleet."

Slack charges that Chairman Lasker did not invite him nor a representative of the company to meet the Shipping Board committee in New York and estimates that he still is negotiating for a million dollar bid that would have been required had the bid been taken up.

Referring to the chairman's description of the bid as a "summer dream," Mr. Slack's statement says: "We are willing to hazard the unanimous approval of the conference. Chairman Lasker may be described as a 'horrible nightmare'."

Asked if Henry Ford was interested in the bid, Slack said: "Let Mr. Ford speak for himself." He denied conferring with the manufacturer when the latter passed through Silver Creek in the middle of May.

Reported Widow Will Presert it Instead of Asking for $100,000.

London, June 2—The late Earl of Carnarvon's wonderful private collection of antiques, which includes some of the most valuable Egyptian relics, will be presented by his widow to the Nation for the British Museum, says the Daily Mail.

Lady Carnarvon thereby sacrifices the prospect of great additional wealth, but the will stipulated that if she decided to sell the collection the British Museum should be accorded first chance to purchase for £200,000. This sum is far below the real value of the treasures.

MAKES A PLEA TO UNITED STATES TO ENTER THE LEAGUE

Cecil Says He Found Widespread U. S. Sentiment Favoring League

London, June 2—In the first speech he has made since he became a member of the British cabinet, Lord Robert Cecil last night made an eloquent plea to the U. S. before the League of Nations. He declared he had found widespread sentiment throughout the U. S. during his recent visit there in favor of the League.

Lord Robert sounded a warning that in many parts of the world warlike symptoms were developing, which were profoundly disquieting. He surprised his audience by informing them that there were more armed men in Europe today than before the world war. He affirmed that the tendency of most of the larger countries was toward military equipment.

"There seems to have been a conviction during the last few months," Lord Robert continued, "that force, violence and bloodshed again are coming into power as instruments for settling international disputes. Now is the time for all nations to erect a barrier against this scourge when the frame of public mind is such that it is passionately anxious for peace."

"DRY" CANDIDATES ONLY TO RECEIVE METHODIST VOTES

Straw at Hamilton Conference Shows Which Way the Wind Blows.

Brantford, June 2—Will the Methodist Church in Ontario support only such candidates in the coming provincial election as stand solidly behind the enforcement of the O. T. A.?

From the applause that greeted a suggestion to this effect at the Hamilton Conference here, it seems certain that Methodism intends to make this the supreme issue of the election next month.

The sister was skeptical when Dixon, following an address which Rev. Albert Moore will be adopted, placing the issue before the conference.

York, Pa., June 2—Believed to be dead after an absence of fifty years, Lee Dixon, a former Indian fighter, who was with the wagon train at the massacre on the Big Horn River when General George A. Custer was killed, returned to York and surprised his sister, Mrs. Mary J. Heller.

HOME FROM BORDER. Before Sitting Magistrate George A. Henderson, John C. Davis was charged following an address which Rev. Albert Moore will be adopted, placing the issue before the conference.

HEALEY AND WOODS FIGHT TO A DRAW

Boy Dead, Hanging From Door Knob

Eleven-Year-Old Brooklyn Lad Strangled to Death in Home With a Necktie.

New York, June 2—Francis Dangler, 11 years old, was found by his six-year-old sister Helen hanging by a necktie from the knob of the kitchen door in his home, 87 Norman avenue, Brooklyn, strangled to death. There was no one else in the home at the time of the tragedy and the police of Brooklyn, as well as those summoned from Manhattan, are doubtful as to whether it was suicide or murder.

Little Helen was frightened when, coming into the apartment on the third floor, she discovered her brother hanging from the knob of the open door. Another sister, Mary, 8 years old, followed Helen and the two got a kitchen knife and cut the tie. The body fell limp to the floor.

Their screams attracted neighbors and a call was sent for an ambulance and a call was sent for an ambulance and a call was sent for an ambulance.

Patrolmen Shay and O'Connell of the Greenpoint Avenue Station who were the first to arrive at the home found that the necktie the boy was wearing had not been used and that it was extra tie which had been bound about his neck and the door knob. Detectives from the Eleventh Avenue Branch were also summoned and found the case puzzling that a call was sent for Chief Inspector Cahillane in Manhattan and the detectives of the Italian squad.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Rose Dangler, who came into the apartment shortly after the discovery of the tragedy, could think of no reason for her son to commit suicide nor any cause for murder. The father is in Philadelphia.

A police officer could learn was to commit suicide nor any cause for murder. The father is in Philadelphia.

Two Bridges in Danger—Gas Supply of City Cut Off—Floods in Other Parts of West—Hundreds of Autos Stalled on Road.

Calgary, June 2—Water seriously menacing two bridges in the city, residents in the Elbow River section are preparing to leave their homes, and gas cut off all over the city, a state of general alarm exists in Calgary.

During the last few hours, the Elbow has lowered four inches but heavy rains are being reported from reports of rising water. Mayor Webster last night ordered all persons to keep two blocks from Twenty-fourth Avenue bridge. Fire Chief Smart said the bridge was gradually being undermined.

Firemen and Boy Scouts are trying to keep the bridge clear of refuse so that the water may pass through, although it is nearly to the planking. The rate of the current is estimated at eighteen miles an hour.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "you will be glad to know that Sir Conan Doyle has been in direct communication with the spirit of the late Lord Northcliffe."

"You don't say," said Hiram. "How the weather where he is now?"

"Who—Northcliffe?" asked the reporter. "Yes," said Hiram. "I've always been kind of curious to know about the weather on the Stix."

"His lordship," said the reporter, "did not talk about the weather."

"Well, anyway," said Hiram, "a good newspaper man like him couldn't help sendin' some kind of a good story about things over there."

"On the contrary," said the reporter, "he talked with Sir Conan about earthly affairs."

"Then I'll bet he's sorry he got that assignment," said Hiram. "He's using a man like him for what they ain't no noos? Kinner home—s'pose? Hardly with while to put on wings if you can't fly. I wonder if that other man was talking to him any way?"

"He says so," said the reporter. "Well, you know," said Hiram. "He's something of a newspaper man himself. I wouldn't bet on no tips I got from him—no, sir."

Men and Women at "Starvation Farm" Sanitarium Foodless for 42 Days—Bodies Mere Skeletons.

Chicago, June 2—State and medical officials have begun an investigation of the "starvation farm" in Lombard, at the west door of Chicago, where eleven men and women, practically living skeletons, are paying $30 a week for the privilege of trying to sustain upon water alone.

Some of them have not tasted a morsel of food for 42 days and are shockingly emaciated. The back-yard of the "sanitarium" is shut off from the public by a high board fence, and on one in the yard lay five men, nude, their eyes sunken and their ribs and other bones almost protruding through their parchment-like skin.

Inside the three-story building, placed on cots, before windows, where the sun may shine on them, were found six women, their scrawny hands and pinched faces and bodies showing the ravages of hunger. Most of the women have gone without food for three weeks.

In addition to the starvation and sunshine treatment, the patients are fully looked after in the city offices are affected. This is explained, is to stimulate the blood, but the patients look as if they had no blood.

CANNOT GIVE STEEL WORKERS RAISE ASKED

B. E. Corporation Employees at Sydney Wanted 20 Per Cent.

Check-off System Refused—Men Ask Interview With McDougall and There is Strike Talk—Coal Miners Would Re-open Wages Contract Matter.

Sydney, N. S., June 2—The British Empire Steel Corporation yesterday afternoon declared itself unable to meet the demands of its employees for a twenty per cent. wage increase, and refused on principle to adopt the check-off system, which would amount to recognition of the Steel Workers' Union.

The men's committee said they were not satisfied with the result of the conference and asked if they might present the case to Vice-President D. H. McDougall yesterday. B. E. Steel promised to present their request to Mr. McDougall, who is in Montreal.

During the interview the committee informed Mr. B. E. Steel that they had taken a strike vote and that there was found to be a large majority in favor of a walkout.

This came as a surprise to the general public here, because it was generally understood in Sydney that the result of the strike vote had been a small majority against a strike.

The Coal Workers. The question of whether the wage contract between the Dominion Coal Company and the United Mine Workers of Nova Scotia is to be reopened for upward revision will be taken up at a conference between H. J. McCann, assistant general manager, and the officers of District 26 at Glace Bay today.

A special United Mine Workers' commission from the House of Commons yesterday arranged for the meeting, and later in the afternoon met the district executive and completed the details of the case for the contract which it is sought to revise is the one signed at the conclusion of the Nova Scotia strike of last summer, and which originally would remain in effect until January 15, 1924.

There has been much trouble over it, as to interpretation of the conditions, during the last few months. The contract can be opened for revision only by the consent of both parties and the House of Commons is the only one in the United Mine Workers' organization where 1921 wages are not paid.

GERMAN ST. CAR STRIKE SPREADS

Cologne, June 2—The strike of street car workers which was begun yesterday was extended late last night to include most of the municipal employees. The laborers in the stockyards, the city transport, gas, water and electrical plants, the municipal theatre, the cemeteries and the city offices are affected. All the unions have disclaimed responsibility for the walkout.

THIRD READING OF INDEMNITY BILL TO PROTECT BRIDGEMAN

London, June 2—The House of Commons yesterday passed the third reading of the indemnity bill framed for the protection of Home Secretary Bridgeman in the case brought against him by Art O'Brien and others reported to Ireland in the March raids.

A new clause and amendments of a restrictive character, embodying concessions by the government, were added to the measure.

Winnipeg, June 2—George R. Brown, mayor of the village of Brooklands, near this city, has been disqualified from holding office and disfranchised for a period of seven years, by the terms of a judgment delivered by Mr. Justice Dwyer, Court of King's Bench.

The judgment followed quo warranto proceedings charging Mayor Brown with receiving moneys for various reasons, contrary to the provisions of the Municipal Act.

RESCUES GIRL WHO LEAPS INTO RIVER

Harvard Professor Wades in and Drags Her Ashore.

Boston, June 2.—Doris Aubrey, twenty-one, of Watertown, apparently attempted suicide when she jumped into the Charles river. Prof. James B. Conant of Harvard heard the girl's screams, vaulted the rail and waded into the water and dragged her ashore.

Nearly unconscious, she was taken to the Cambridge City Hospital and revived.

According to the police two notes and thirty cents were found in the pockets of the girl's clothes. One was addressed to "Mother, Dad and Phil" and said, "Is not your fault. I'd doing this. I'm very unhappy, that's all. Forgive me, please, all yours." (Signed) "Oots."

The other note was addressed to the girl and read, "I will see you home to-night, (Signed) Phil."

Three weeks ago the girl was picked up in a hysterical condition on the street and was treated at the hospital.

USES ELECTRIC RANGE TO HATCH CHICKENS

Stratford, June 2.—Something new in electric range uses was discovered this week by a Stratford lady who had three eggs under a cooker. When the chicks began pecking the shell she received the idea of taking them away from the hen and placing them in the warming department of the range. She fixed up a hat box, lined with flannel, and placed the whole thing in the compartment, keeping the temperature at ninety degrees. The thirteen chicks lived through the experience, and one or two of them were probably saved from death by the careless feet of the hen.

BANKS FORESTALL POLICE STRIKE

Peking, May 31.—(Associated Press, by Mail)—To prevent a strike of metropolitan police, whose pay is five months in arrears, the native banks of the capital have subscribed $500,000 as a loan to the Ministry of Finance, which is said to have admitted its inability to hold out any hope of relief for the city guardians.

DEJONG-EWING

(Montreal Gazette.) The marriage took place quietly Thursday morning at the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul of Miss Grace Elizabeth Ewing, daughter of Mrs. Anne G. Ewing, of St. John, N. B., to John H. Dejong, of Montreal. Only a few friends were present at the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Fraser.

The bride, who wore a gown of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white and pink flowers, was accompanied by her mother, who wore her traditional suit of sand-colored tulle with white to match, and a corsage of white and pink flowers. Both bride and groom were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Dejong left by motor for New York, and on their return will take up their residence in Toronto.

GEESSE SHOT NIAGARA AND TURN UP UNHURT

Fowl With Clipped Wings Make Safe Trip Over Falls. Niagara Falls, Ont., June 2.—Three African geese swimming in the Niagara River Parkway, away Chippawa, on Monday night, gradually drifted out upon the falls. Yesterday Bill McMullen, freeman on the Maid of the Mist, found the geese on shore near his boat, and, as a vigorous chase, caught the bird. In the evening "Red" Hill found one of the geese on shore, and she, like the geese, was quite unharmed.

The geese are now back on F. H. Leslie's farm. Each had a wing clipped, so that in going over the falls they were unable to do little to save themselves by flying.

FARMER GETS 40 CENTS

Stratford, June 2.—A Logan township farmer packed some apples in boxes, and in one of them placed his name and address, and requested the consumer to report as to quality and price. This brought a reply from Weyburn, Saskatchewan, which stated that the large pack was $2.90 for a box which the Logan farmer sold for forty cents.

FERRY REVENUE MORE

The ferry revenue during May was considerably higher than for the same month last year. The figures for the two periods was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: 1922, 1923. Rows: Passengers carried, Revenue, Increase passengers, Teams carried, Revenue, Increase teams.

Bandits Freeing Captives

Shanghai, June 2.—The representative of the Chinese chamber of commerce has telegraphed that the Shanghai train bandits have agreed to release eight of their foreign captives. The captives are now in the hands of the bandits and the others when all of the bandits have been enrolled in the army.

Edward Elias and Theodore Saphiere, both British subjects and brokers of Shanghai; Jerome A. Henley of New York, and Manuel A. Vera of Guadalajara, Mexico, were released today.

The United States annually gives away sixty-five million packages of vegetable and flower seeds.

France has more iron ore deposits than any other country except the United States.

NEW NAMES IN BATTING HONORS

How They Stand in the Big Leagues—Ruth Seven Homers Behind Cy Williams.

Chicago, June 2.—Harold "Muddy" Ruel, catcher for the Washington Senators, is challenging Harry Hellman Detroit veteran, for batting honors of the American League. Ruth also gained 46 points during the week and is runner-up to the Tiger slugger with an average of .408. Hellman suffered a slump but still leads the players who have participated in 25 or more games, with a mark of .425. Dick Reiche of the Red Sox, is third with .382.

Ed Collins of the White Sox, continues to play brilliantly. He is leading in all major league players in stolen bases with sixteen thefts, only four fewer than he pilfered last season. He also is hobnobbing with the leading batters.

The veteran Philadelphia Cy Williams, has made eighteen four base hits, and Babe Ruth eleven. Ruth is leading in total bases with 98. His hits, besides the circuit drives, include ten doubles and four triples. Ruth also leads as a run getter with 87.

Other leading batters—Cobb, Detroit, .355; Miller, Philadelphia, .352; Ed Collins, Chicago, .348; Jamieson, Cleveland, .342; Rice, Washington, .339; Burns, Boston, .336; Welsh, Philadelphia, .336; Ruth, New York, .331; White, New York, .329; Williams, St. Louis, .329.

The Nationals. Johnny Mookan of the Phillies and Clyde Barnhart of the Pirates are making rapid strides towards the top among the batters of the National League. Far down in the list a week ago, they are smashing out base hits regularly. Mookan got 19 bases in his last ten games, and Barnhart poled ten hits in six games.

Mookan's mark is 375 and Barnhart's rose from 311 to 383. Zack Wheat, Dodger outfielder, increased his lead among the regulars from 417 to 424. He averaged 18 hits in his last six games. His nearest rival is Charley Grimm, of the Pirates who has 400.

Frank Frisch of the Giants, leads the regulars with 385 hits. Sam Bohne, of Cincinnati, is showing the way to the base stealers with 11. Cy Williams, besides leading with 40 homers, has made nine doubles and three triples.

Other leading batters: Southworth, Boston, .379; Robinson, St. Louis, .378; Mookan, Philadelphia, .378; Hornsby, St. Louis, .370; Frisch, New York, .367; Young, New York, .367; Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .359; Williams, Philadelphia, .351; Nelis, Brooklyn, .345; Flick, St. Louis, .345; Bagwell, Boston, .345.

Rev. Bernard Waddington, who has relinquished charge of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Hammond River, will sail for England soon. In the summer he will become rector of the Anglican parish of Richmond, Carleton Co.

At the annual meeting of subscribers to the Old Ladies' Home, Broad street, yesterday afternoon, W. Shives Fisher was elected chairman of the board of management and Lt. Col. B. R. Armstrong secretary-treasurer. Reports presented to the meeting regarding the condition of the home during the last year were satisfactory.

The Protestant Orphans Home in West St. John has received gifts on several occasions from children with the request to use the money to buy special treat for the orphans. Recently Miss Doves, of the Orphan, received $1 from a basar conducted by Helen Perry and Gerlie Paterson, with the request that it be used to buy fruit for the orphans.

The body of Mrs. Mary R. DeVeber was discovered yesterday at noon on the island by Miss Margaret Paul. Mrs. DeVeber disappeared from the home of Miss McKenize at Millidgeville early in the morning of April 30, and a night gown, sweater and pair of slippers and strenuous search of the vicinity failed to locate her. The place where she was discovered is directly across the river from Millidgeville. The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock, standard time, from St. James' Church at Westfield Beach.

A serious accident was narrowly averted last night about 10 o'clock at the Junction of Prince William street and Market Square through the quickness of Harry Wetmore, driver of a Ford truck, when a young woman ran so close to the truck that the high heel of her shoe was caught in the spokes of the rear right wheel. The driver applied the brakes and the truck was stopped but not before the woman had been dragged for several feet. Fortunately she escaped serious injury although she sustained a laceration of her ankle. She was driven home by Mr. Wetmore. He was nearly struck by the driver of the truck and any blame for the accident.

A Wallop For C. N. R. Authorities

(Hartland Observer) The C. N. R. bridge across the Meduxnakeag was wrecked by the flood of April 30, and thirty days elapsed before the management commenced repairs. This meant that during all that period the twenty-two miles of road from Woodstock to Centreville and Lakerville have been absolutely cut off from railway connection. While this has been a great handicap to the traveling public, it is in the matter of perishable freight that the greatest blow has been struck. It has cost the produce shippers of Hartland and Florenceville $15,000 to bring by motor truck the potatoes held in storage on the C. N. R. and which would be a total loss if left until the bridge is completed at the promised date, July 1. It is altogether preposterous that one of the greatest railway systems in the world would allow a short bridge span and allow traffic to be tied up for a period of two months.

The loss to the shippers is a sum almost sufficient to restore the bridge, but the C. N. R. management seem to stand in wonderment what to do while their patrons by a flood of motor cars are transporting their freight from the C. N. R. across country and handing it over to the C. P. R. This is business with a very small "v."

The provincial executive of the associated Canadian Clubs met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, with H. A. Porter, provincial vice-president, in the chair. It was decided to find out the views of the clubs in New Brunswick regarding the proposal to extend an invitation to the Association of Canadian Clubs at the annual meeting this year at Victoria in September to hold its convention in this province in 1924.

Arrangements for the provincial convention which will be held next month in St. John were made at the regular meeting of The King's Daughters, held yesterday at the Guild with the president, Mrs. H. W. Robertson, in the chair, and a large attendance of members present. The provincial convention promises to be of outstanding interest to the members of the order. Mrs. Robertson led the opening devotions yesterday. The reports submitted by the various committees were entirely satisfactory and were received with gratification. When the convention plans were under discussion it was decided to alter the dates so as to have the convention commence in July 4 and continue for three days.

Shoots 3 At Movie And Causes a Panic

Boisterous Man, Ejected From Chicago, Theatre, Returns and Fires at Spectators.

Chicago, June 2.—Three patrons were shot and several hundred persons attending the National Moving Picture Theatre, 608 South State street, stampeded for the exits when a boisterous spectator, who had been ejected because of his offensive remarks, returned and rained the audience with a 22 calibre revolver. The wielder of the weapon then darted away and lost himself in the crowds before the police could capture him.

The gun toter had occupied a seat near the front of the house and had been warned several times because of remarks made loud enough for persons about him to hear. Finally, Samuel Isaacson one of the movie operators, ordered the man to leave. He placed his hand on the man's arm but the man shook him off.

"Keep your hands off me," he shouted belligerently, then added sullenly, "I'll go out but you ain't going to throw me out."

Isaacson escorted the man through the doors used ordinarily as the entrance. In another instant the man had pushed his way in again through the exit doors. He had the revolver in his hand and aimed it point blank at Isaacson. The weapon missed firing Isaacson just time enough before the man pulled the trigger a second time to make a headlong dive between two rows of seats.

Then the bullets began flying in all directions. Women screamed, men tried to crawl under the seats. Some jammed their way through a narrow exit under the stage. Then as the gunman emptied his revolver and jumped

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY.

Throughout the Empire on Monday the people will extend congratulations to King George. He is particularly happy, not only in the love of the people but in his own family, every member of which has won golden opinions, not given any cause for adverse criticism of his or her conduct.

THE FISHERIES.

There was a lively discussion in the House of Commons on Thursday night on the question of withdrawing from American fishing vessels the privilege of using Canadian ports, since our neighbors have withdrawn a similar privilege from Canadian fishermen.

BY EDITH STEVENS

In all my colorful experience—the mutiny of crews, facing death at sea, running the gamut of the revenue officers, working at all hours of the day and night with desperate characters—in all my "hectic" life as queen of rum runners, I have never encountered any situation that compared in mental anguish with the period that is this chapter opens. I shall not go into it in detail as too many women have done so before me.

"I felt as if I were some white flower thrown into the gutter. No one should miss a night in jail who wishes to live fully."

I did not want to leave the place because I wanted Antonio to be able to find me when he came back. If he did come back, I did not know whether he was dead or alive. My heart seemed to fall into my shoes. My feet were lost. This was the most terrible month of my life. Waiting an hour is an ordeal, but to have the hours of suspense draw out for a month—waiting blindly each moment something! Anything!

I did not know it, but on the strength of Joe, Cassese's lawyer, I had been he had turned state's evidence. I had been indicted and he was helping the police to catch me. So indicted, and not knowing it, with Cassese—Heaven only knew where he was, I went through the motion of living. Often I remembered a captain who had been thrown overboard and his cargo stolen by his crew. The captain had been reported "lost at sea" in some out-of-the-way port.

One night I dressed up in an attempt to raise my spirits—a girl's first recourse from depression. I put on a white flannel skirt, a white sweater, white hat and stockings. The night I sauntered over to my sister's. I had been in the house only a few minutes when the door bell rang and callers were announced for me—two gentlemen.

I came out in a few minutes and saw that they were officers. I thought they had come to question me about Cassese. They told me Antonio Cassese was a terrible man and that he had treated his crew in a shameful fashion. I did not believe them but I didn't know anything about what they were saying. They told me if I would tell them where Cassese was, they would find it better in the long run. I did not know. I told them that I knew Cassese and I knew what they were saying was untrue. Finally they called, "Will you come with us down town? They want you to answer a few questions down there. It won't take long."

I answered, but that was all. I waited for days, hour by hour. Days lengthened into weeks. I nearly worried myself into distraction asking her if she had received a telegram. "She'll wait here or proceed?" "I answered, but that was all. I waited for days, hour by hour. Days lengthened into weeks. I nearly worried myself into distraction asking her if she had received a telegram. "She'll wait here or proceed?"

On the day I appeared to have my trial, Mr. Cassese's lawyer asked me if I wished him to represent me. That was the only assistance I had that I knew of. I prayed that Cassese would not be arrested, and he would give himself away and be caught. That was my only worry. I felt as if I were held as a sort of hostage for him. At last the night before the trial. Yes, rather excited I was. I thought of what I must do and then I forced myself to sleep. For I wanted to be equal to the ordeal, but I had lost some weight.

The next morning I dressed in my fresh white clothes and felt better. Then as I always do when I smoke a lot, I put my cigarette in a long, white holder. Women are permitted to smoke in jail. With many things on my mind, I smoked listlessly out into the main corridor of the prison, smoking. A matron saw me and said: "Put that cigarette down!" "Have the orders been changed?" I asked.

"Well, don't smoke in my presence!" she retorted quickly. "Why not?" I think I need a cigarette this morning. I couldn't be bothered with a mere discussion of a cigarette. Just then I heard this: "A letter for Miss Edith Stevens!" My first letter in prison, my first letter in six weeks!

Antonio Cassese had sent me a letter saying, "Don't worry, you'll come out all right. Call me at ——— when you get out." I picked up the telephone number. It was the secret one from which we used to get in touch with each other. The letter made me very happy. But it frightened me more. Although he had signed a false signature, it was afraid it would get him in trouble. "Nine o'clock rolled by. Time for me to go to court to be tried. I didn't know it then, but outside standing against the very wall of the jail was Antonio waiting to see me pass.

The worst was over. My husband was called. He admitted he was my husband, and answered that he did not know Antonio Cassese and had never heard of him. My husband did not look at me at all. But I knew so my eyes glued on him. For I knew so well what he would like to say. With round-about testimony of the crew I had never seen before, the day was over. Two of my enemies were out of the way. I was late in getting back to jail. All the girls were waiting up for me. Little Maria had been crying. She thought I had gotten out. She wanted me to get out, but she said, "I didn't like to see you leave!"

The next day I went again to court. Maria and I had talked until late that night, but I had managed to get a good sleep. I was there, chauffeur, by whose efforts I was there, second time on the stand. He turned his head away and with a red flush on his face gave his testimony. The captain was a real man. He stood by me. Joe told many untruths. Not Guilty!

That afternoon my attorney asked if I could tell my story very simply to the jury. I said I could. I did. When I was cross-examined, no matter how angry the district-attorney made me I managed to keep calm. The late Judge Chatfield then charged the jury not to consider the fact that I was a woman, and to go by the letter of the law, and said something to the effect that I was guilty. This took me by surprise. I was greatly agitated while the jury were out. The foreman came in for an interpretation of something. At the end of two hours the jury came back. I could tell by their faces that it was all right. From that minute on, I lost all my strength. I could hardly get out of the court room. My first act was to rush to the telephone.

In the last and most thrilling installment, Miss Stevens tells of the last voyage with Cassese. In Jacksonville, while waiting for the boat to go over to the island, come the federal authorities. Cassese is arrested, and she does not see him for a long time. At last in the Provincial Bank of Canada on Wednesday evening, George H. Beaman acted as chairman.

The Maritime Club is being organized with a view to the bettering of the conditions of the mariners, economically in the federation of the Dominion of Canada. The speakers at Wednesday evening's meeting were, the chairman, G. H. Beaman, W. E. Monagle, B. C. L., B. F. Myles, M. S. Ridpath, W. N. Goodwin, Leo J. Doucett, A. W. Belyea and L. C. Jones. Mr. Beaman following his being chosen as the chairman of the meeting outlined the aims of the club, stating that the club was being brought into existence for the purpose of consolidating those men who had the welfare of the Maritime Provinces at heart and willing to do something to further these interests, with a view to assisting the industrial development of the maritimes. He further said that he was of the opinion that the maritime provinces would only be able to emerge from the rut it seems to be in, by means of concentrated effort. The people must get together and work in conjunction with one another in the interests of the maritimes as a whole.

The Fallen Queen of the Rum Runners!

My Experiences as Queen of The Rum Runners

In this chapter, Edith Stevens, the spirited young beauty who defied law and convention tells of spending a sleepless night among screaming women prisoners and how the morning of her trial dawned. For the first time she tells the inside story of what happened in the court room. In one-corner sat Stevens Hirsch, her husband; in another corner sat Mrs. Cassese. What will they say? On the second day of her trial for rum-running, she is acquitted.

"I Avoided an Operation Appendicitis Disappeared" Mrs. James Wells, Udon, Ont., writes: "I took a severe pain in my right side. It was very bad at times. I tried oils and tablets without gaining any relief. The doctor pronounced it chronic appendicitis. I dreaded an operation and a friend advised Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I used them and not only obtained relief from pain, but I believe it has completely freed me of appendicitis, as it is now over a year since I have had any of the old symptoms."

BRITAIN AND AMERICA.

The Times recently presented the case for the common observance by Canada and the United States of a Memorial Day. The day is observed in the latter country on May 30. On that day in Winnipeg, Montreal and Halifax, American citizens joined in its observance. Referring to the celebration in Montreal, where Sir Henry Thornton was the chief speaker, the Montreal Gazette says: "By Canadians participating in this anniversary tribute, a binding influence is manifested which will go far to set at naught the influence of the 'hidden hand' we hear about at times which would seek to make trouble between the two branches of the English-speaking people, with whom rests, virtually, the peace of the world, and upon whose unity so much world happiness depends. In Canada, as in the United States, democratic and constitutional government has been tried and proved on the largest scale. It was equal to the sternest tasks of war, and despite setbacks in one quarter or another it ought not to fail before the functions and duties of peace. Together the British and United States aggregations of kindred peoples constitute the strongest political, economic and moral force upon this planet. A great and powerful weapon is in the hands of these two great peoples. They are more and more learning to understand each other better and are as a consequence welding more and more an influence for good in the world. Today's memorial celebrations locally will, in an humble way, help to link together more strongly that mutual understanding and strengthen those bonds of unity so eminently desirable. It becomes increasingly obvious to all who wish to discern it, the desirability of both branches of the English-speaking race travelling ever on parallel roads, ever onwards and upwards towards the praiseworthy goal of promoting peace on earth and goodwill among the other nations of the world."

GUARD AGAINST FIRE.

It has been stated that returns compiled by the Department of Lands and Mines in Fredericton show that more than ten thousand people spent Victoria Day in the wooded portions of New Brunswick. Happily no forest fires resulted. There is a fear that we may not be as fortunate in the latter respect during the next three days. From Saturday until Monday night gives fishermen and campers a longer time to spend in the woods, and doubtless great numbers will take advantage of the opportunity. This is the danger period in the woods, as the green foliage and grass are not yet well advanced. It is therefore essential that every visitor to the woods and lakes and streams take every precaution against a possible spread of fire, whether from a camp-fire, a lighted cigarette, or a match. The forest is a provincial asset. It means wealth for the province if properly utilized, but immense loss if thoughtlessly destroyed. Let everyone who goes for an outing take along a keen sense of personal responsibility for the preservation of this source of wealth for all the people. It is estimated the total number of newspapers published in the world is 84,000.

CHILD DIES AND MOTHER BURNED IN FIRE IN HOUSE

Montreal, June 1.—Five-year-old Patricia Funchon was burned to death, and her mother, Mrs. Percival Funchon, of Beech Ridge, Que., was badly burned at noon on Wednesday when their home, a short distance from the town, suddenly caught fire and burned to the ground.

RECENT WEDDINGS

A wedding of local interest took place in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul in Montreal at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning when Miss Grace Elizabeth Ewing, daughter of Mrs. Annie G. Ewing and the late John Armstrong Ewing, and John H. de Jong, of Omaha, Nebraska, were united in marriage by the Rev. D. J. Fraser, principal of the Presbyterian College, at Montreal. The bride wore a traveling suit of sand colored pique with a hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. She was given away by her mother. After the ceremony the happy pair left on a motor trip to New York, Atlantic City and Washington and later will reside at 21 DUNDONALD STREET, Toronto. The bride received many beautiful gifts from her large circle of friends, who will wish her every happiness in her new home. Mrs. Ewing returned to St. John yesterday morning.

RECENT DEATHS

Miss Evangeline Sutton. (Bathurst Northern Light) Deep and general sympathy is extended by their many friends in Bathurst and in other parts of the province to the bereaved family in the loss last Thursday of his daughter, Miss Evangeline. The deceased had been in poor health for several years. Loved and admired by all who knew her for her peculiarly attractive and lovable qualities, her death at the early age of 24 comes as a heavy blow to a wide circle of friends and the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community goes out to the surviving family in this latest of the number of bereavements in the family during the past few years. The surviving family consists of her father, Police Magistrate R. A. Sutton, two sisters, Mrs. Blon Smith Sutton, two brothers, Francis and Paul at home.

William Polly. Word was received here yesterday that the death of William Polly, formerly assistant passenger agent of the C. P. R. at Toronto, had occurred in that city, after a protracted illness. Mr. Polly had many friends in railway circles in St. John who will learn of his death with sincere regret.

The Breaking Point

"I was in the living room when Donaldson ran in. I hid there until they were all gathered around Lucas and had quit running in, and then I got away. I saw my mother in the grounds later. I told her where the revolver was and that they'd better put it in the billiard room. I was afraid they'd suspect Bev."
"I have read the above statement and it is correct. I was legally adopted by Mrs. Alice Ford Hines, of Omaha, and use that signature. I generally use the name of Frederick Gregory, which I took when I was on the stage for a short time."
"Signed) CLIFTON HINES."
Bassett folded up the papers and put them in the envelope.
"I got that," he said, "at the point of a gun, my friend. And our friend Hines departed for the Mexican border on the evening train. I don't mind saying that I saw him off. He held out for a get away, and I guess it's just as well."
He glanced at Dick, lying still and rigid on the bed.
"And now," he said, "I think a little drink won't do us any harm."
Dick refused the drink. He was endeavoring to comprehend the situation; to realize that Gregory, who had faced him with such sneering hate a day or so before, was his half brother.
"Poor devil!" he said at last. "I wish to God I'd known. He was right, you know. No wonder—"
Some time later he roused from deep study and looked at Bassett.
"How did you get the connection?"
"I saw Melis, and learned that Hines was in it somehow. He was the connecting link between Beverly Carlyle and the Thorwald woman. But I couldn't connect him with Beverly herself, except by a chance. I wired a man I knew in Omaha, and he turned up the second marriage, and a daughter known on the stage as Beverly Carlyle."
Bassett was in high spirits. He moved about the room immensely pleased with himself, slighted beautiful.
"Some little stroke, Dick?" he said. "What price Mr. Judson Clark tonight, eh? It will be worth a million dollars to see Wilkin's face when he reads that thing."
"There's no mention of me as Livingstone in it, is there?"
"It wasn't necessary to go into that. I didn't know—look here!" he exploded. "You're not going to be a flannelled fool, are you?"
"I'm not going to revive Judson Clark, Bassett. I don't owe his anything. Let him die a decent death and stay dead."
"Oh, piffle!" Bassett groaned. "Don't start that all over again. Don't pull any Enoch Arden stuff on me, looking in at a lighted window and wandering off to drive a taxi."
Suddenly Dick laughed. Bassett watched him, puzzled and angry, with a sort of savage tenderness.
"You're crazy," he said morosely. "Darned if I understand you. Here I've got everything fixed as slick as a whistle, and it took work, believe me. And now you say you're going to chuck the whole thing."
"Not at all," Dick replied, with a new ring in his voice. "You're right. I've been ten sorts of a fool, but I know now what I'm going to do. Take your paper, old friend, and for my sake go out and clear Jud Clark. Put up a headstone to him, if you like, a good one. I'll buy it."
"And what will you be doing in the meantime?"

Dick stretched and threw out his arms.
"Me?" He said. "What should I be doing, old man? I'm going home."
Lucy Crosby was dead. One moment she was of the quick, moving about the house, glancing in at David, having Minnie in the kitchen pin and unpin her veil, and the next she was still and infinitely mysterious on her white bed. She had fallen outside the door of David's room, and lay there, her arms still full of fresh bath towels, and a fixed and intense look in her eyes, as though, outside the door, she had come face to face with a messenger who bore surprising news. Doctor Reynolds, running up the stairs, found her there dead, and closed the door into David's room.
But David knew before they told him. He waited until they had placed her on her bed, had closed her eyes and drawn a white coverlet over her and then he went in alone, and sat down beside her, and put a hand over her chilling one.
"If you are still here, Lucy," he said, "and have not yet gone on, I want you to carry this with you. We are all right here. Everybody is all right. You are not to worry."
A time he went back to his room and got his prayer book. He could hear Harrison Miller's voice soothing Minnie in the lower hall, and Reynolds at the telephone. He went back into the quiet chamber, and opening the prayer book, began to read aloud.
"Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept—"
His voice tightened. He put his head down on the side of the bed.
He was very docile that day. He moved obediently from his room for the awful aftermath of a death, for the sweeping and dusting and cleaning curtains, and sat in Dick's room, not reading, not even praying; a lonely yet indomitable old figure.
When his friends came, elderly men who creaked in and tried to reduce their robust voices to a decorous whisper, he shook hands with them and made brief, courteous replies. Then he lapsed into silence, and they felt shut off and uncomfortable, and creaked out again.
Only once did he seem shaken. That was when Elizabeth came swiftly in, and put her arms around him as he sat. He held her close to him, saying nothing for a long time. Then he drew a deep breath.
"I was feeling mighty lonely, honey," he said.
He was the better for her visit. He insisted on dressing that evening, and on being helped down the stairs. The town, which had seemed inimical for so long, seemed to him suddenly to be holding out friendly hands. More than friendly hands. Loving, tender hands, offering service and affection and old-time friendships. It moved about sedately, in dark clothes, and came down the stairs red-eyed and using pocket

Protect Your Home Against Fire!

THE roof is the most susceptible part of your house to fire. Flying embers from a passing train, the wind-strewn sparks from a burning building, are apt to be blown on to your roof.

Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs offer you protection against this ever-present danger. Through actual test, it has been proved that where ordinary roofings burn, a Vulcanite Hexagon Slab roof does not even smoulder. Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs form a solid, double-thick, fire-resisting roof and a thorough protection against stormy weather as well. Neither rain nor snow can seep through this sturdy covering. Beautifully surfaced in red or green crushed slate.

Vulcanite Roofing of the same high quality also comes in individual shingles, four-in-one slab shingles, and in rolls, both slate surface and smooth finish—for home, farm and industrial buildings. You can identify the genuine by the Vulcanite name and the Beaver trademark. Ask your dealer for full information or write us. We will send free samples and a booklet on request.

"Thank God for Tea! What did the world do without it—how did it exist? I am glad I was not born before Tea."
Thus wrote the brilliant Sydney Smith in the early days of the nineteenth century, and countless thousands have echoed his sentiments since. But if Sydney Smith could so enthuse over Tea as it was then, what would he say of it to-day, when science in growing and art in blending have brought your cup of Tea to such a high point of perfection.
And what would he think of to-day's cost? At an incomparably lower price you are able to enjoy Tea of a deliciousness Sydney Smith never knew or imagined.

she heard and understood, not the Lucy on the bed, but the Lucy that had not yet gone on to the company of heaven, carried him back to his bed, comforted and reassured.
He was up and about his room early. The odor of baking muffins and frying ham came up the stairs, well, as did the sound of Mike vigorously polishing the floor in the hall. Mixed with the odor of cooking and of floor wax was the scent of flowers from Lucy's room, and Mrs. Sayre's machine stopped at the door while the chauffeur delivered a great mass of roses.
David went carefully down the stairs and into his office, and there at the long deserted desk, commenced a letter to Dick.
He was sitting there when Dick came up the street.
"The thought that he was going home had upheld Dick through the days that followed Bassett's departure for the west. He knew that it would be a fight, that not easily does a man step out of life and into it again, but after his days of inaction he stood ready to fight. For David, for Lucy, and if it wasn't too late, for Elizabeth. When Bassett's wire came from Norway, "All clear," he set out for Haverly, more nearly happy than for months, more very rhythm of the train sang: "Going home, going home."

At the Haverly station the agent stopped, stared at him and then nodded gravely. There was something restrained in his greeting, like the voices in the old house the night before, and Dick felt a chill of apprehension. He never thought of Lucy, but David—
The flowers and ribbon at the door were his first intimation, and still it was David he thought of. He went cold and bitter, standing on the freshly washed pavement, staring at them. It was all too late. David! David!

WHY MILK SHOULD BE PASTEURIZED

Board of Health Submits Irrefutable Testimony on This Matter.

(From the Board of Health)
Nathan Straus, New York City, says: "There is a milk problem because milk is the only animal food used in its raw state. There are six diseases, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, septic sore throat, tuberculosis, and the summer complaint of children. Pasteurization destroys all the germs of disease that may be in the milk, but does not impair the taste nor at all affect the digestibility or food qualities of the milk."

In the fight against tuberculosis, pasteurization is considered a most important factor. Dr. R. C. Schroeder of the N. S. Department of Agriculture proved that "one of the chief, if not the most important source of infection is the taking in of raw milk. A number of infected animals in New Brunswick is much more numerous than we care to report. The first depot was founded in New York City in 1893. By the year 1920 there were 297, distributed over 36 cities. In spite of the fact that nothing but certified milk was used in the preparation of the food every drop of it was pasteurized. Pasteurization has been endorsed by the American Medical Association, the National Association for the Study of Tuberculosis, the American Public Health Association, the N. S. Public Health Service and the National Commissions of Milk Standards. Here is an extract from the Report of the Rockefeller Foundation International Health Commission.

"In 1892 Nathan Straus established his pasteurized milk laboratory and free depot, which operated throughout the year. This was the beginning of organized effort to combat infant mortality by providing absolutely safe milk for infants." "The efficacy of pasteurization was mathematically demonstrated at Randall's Island, where the death rate among the city's foundlings was cut from 41.8 per cent. to 21.7 per cent. The same favourable results were obtained in Washington and in many cities in that country and in Europe. "And wherever pasteurized milk is introduced the death rate falls as if by magic."

The New York City Health Department reports that since they have been conducting the Nathan Straus Laboratories in the city, the death rate among children under five years of age has dropped from 96.2 per thousand in 1892 to 34 per thousand in 1916. The mortality statistics of the City Health Department record the saving of 241,990 lives in these 25 years, and the rate has been considerably lowered since that time. We wish to ask in view of these astounding facts, how a mother in Saint John can ignore them, or listen to paid canvassers of artificial milk, when only ambition is to defeat the efforts of the City Board of Health in their desire to give to the mothers of this city a food for their children that is absolutely safe, pasteurized milk. The Board of Health did not make this important regulation with the view of destroying infants, but to save them, and any citizen who reads the press despatch of May 29th, which states that the death rate in the British Empire, could not have felt flattered if they gave the matter a moment's consideration.

Remember this: If you are asked to sign a petition against pasteurized milk, that pasteurized milk saves the babies, and that raw milk in many cases kills them.

LORD BEAVERBROOK TO HELP BELVEA

That the Rt. Hon. Lord Beaverbrook will assist Hilton Belyea, Canada's premier oarsman, who is in London, Eng., training for the big Diamond Scull event to be held during the English Henley, was the glad tidings to reach St. John yesterday. G. Heber Vroom wrote to Lord Beaverbrook and asked him if he would act as custodian of a certain sum of money to be expended on behalf of Belyea and also have one of his writing staff meet him. Yesterday Mr. Vroom received word that Lord Beaverbrook (Max Aitken) a former resident of this city, would willingly do so.

With the personal interest of Lord Beaverbrook and the anticipated assistance of J. Barry, world's professional champion, his friends are confident that he will be well cared for and efficiently coached. A letter from Hilton should reach St. John in the near future and contain much news of interest.

NEW PLAYGROUNDS

The ceremony was attended only by immediate relatives and the bride and groom were unattended. Many handsome and useful presents were received. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mahaney left by automobile for their summer home at Acana.

ALMOST RAZED BY CARELESS SMOKER

Whole Business Area of Verner, Ontario, is Destroyed by Flames.

Sudbury, Ont., June 2—The entire business section of Verner, a small farming village between Sudbury and North Bay, was wiped out by fire this week. The damage is estimated as being between $150,000 and $200,000. The blaze was first noticed in a stable near the C. P. R. Hotel, presumably started by a careless smoker, and at 5 o'clock was still burning, although placed under control by the Sturgeon Falls Fire Brigade.

The general stores of Gerard, Belanger and Bertrand, the U. F. O. cooperative store, the C. P. R. co-operative store, a barber shop and seven dwellings were totally destroyed.

The fire had gained considerable headway before noticed and the hotel was soon in flames, despite the efforts of townspeople, and within half an hour the entire central section of the village was burning. The fire brigade from Sturgeon Falls arrived shortly after 4 o'clock and succeeded in getting the fire under control, but not before the business section was in ashes. The buildings were all of frame construction. Definite figures on the detailed loss are as yet unavailable. There were no casualties.

Verner is the centre of a prosperous farming community, and is one of the most picturesque French-Canadian communities in the North country.

Say Mother Taught Children To Steal

Boy and Girl Aided Parent in Shoplifting, Detectives Tell Court.

New York, June 1—Mrs. Mary Kezel, thirty years old, was sentenced to ten days in the Workhouse in Special Sessions. A probation officer informed Justices Nolan, McInerney and Salzman that Mrs. Kezel had made shoplifters out of her nine-year-old son and eleven-year-old daughter. The woman was arrested in James A. Hiram & Son's store in West Fourteenth street on March 29 last.

When she pleaded guilty to the theft of a boy's suit, a girl's hat and a pair of roller skates, all valued at $18.04, detectives of the Stores Mutual Protective Association said that her son and daughter had aided her in the thefts. The detectives said that the woman and the two children made two trips to the store that day before Mrs. Kezel was arrested with the loot in two long bags which she had improvised for the purpose.

They said that on the second trip the boy was seen to take the roller skates from a counter and hand them to his mother. After dropping the skates in one of the bags, she moved to another counter with the children. When Mrs. Kezel said the children were talking in an adjoining room to be questioned, the detectives said, the boy and girl readily admitted that their mother had taught them how to steal in stores.

The girl, who deeply regretted the death of Mrs. May Douglas, wife of D. P. R. Douglas, which occurred last night at her home in Hampstead, on the St. John river. She had been very ill for some days, particularly since a little one was born to her, but not in life, on last Wednesday. Mrs. Douglas was a daughter of Joseph Drive, cotton manufacturer of Manchester, England. She came here two and a half years ago and was popular in the city with the Maritime Clothing Co., leaving them to be married and to take up her home at Hampstead. Only a few weeks ago she returned from England where she had gone to visit her family. Accompanying her on her four months visit were Mrs. H. M. Britcher, of the Ferns, and the latter's two children, May and Veronica. Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Britcher were life long friends and they had greatly enjoyed the visit to their homes in Manchester. Mrs. Britcher had made several journeys to her friend in her illness and returned to the city only last night. Mrs. Douglas is survived by her husband and by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Drive, and one sister and two brothers, in Manchester. Her body will be brought to St. John. The funeral will be at the new Catholic cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. D.P.R. DOUGLAS

The husband of the convicted woman was in court, and told Justice Nolan that he would take care of the children until his wife was released from prison.

The Barnet Refrigerator Preserves Food in Arctic Cold Air

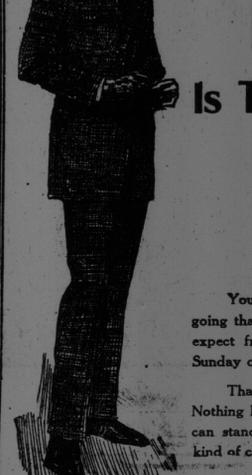

Foods must be kept in a cold refrigerator, not merely a cool one, in order to prevent deterioration and the breeding of dangerous germs. With the Barnet you can maintain a temperature of 36 to 39 degrees in the provision chamber.

At the same time the larger supply of ice melts slower than a small supply, an addition, the Barnet has no less than eleven walls to keep out the heat and keep in the cold. And it is healthfully cold because the Barnet is a dry refrigerator, not a damp one. Then, too, the Barnet's wonderful syphon system keeps the air inside in constant circulation, while the ventilators allow all odors, food vapors and air moisture to pass away.

Imperial Gasoline advertisement featuring a large image of a gas pump and a landscape illustration. Text includes: 'Premier GASOLINE You may pay more but you can't get more. brings out the best in every motor brings down the cost'. At the bottom: 'IN 1858 the first oil well in North America was brought in at Oil Springs, Ontario. For a brief period this little district in Lambton County produced enough crude oil to meet the country's requirements. Canada's demands, however, soon exceeded this supply and since then it has been necessary to draw upon foreign fields, not only in the United States but in South America and Mexico. Cannot Canada again develop sufficient petroleum production to supply her own needs? That question remains unanswered. Imperial Oil Limited has been a pioneer in a relentless search for oil and continues to spend heavily in the effort to locate further sources of supply. Geologists are constantly studying and charting every formation that suggests the probability of oil. Expert well drillers following their trail keep steadily at work, continually seeking to discover pools of oil which may some day make Canada independent of foreign supplies. "Facts Worth Knowing" is a booklet which tells more fully of Canada's oil industry and deals particularly with the subject of gasoline. If you have not already received your copy, address IMPERIAL OIL LIMITED, 44 Church Street, Toronto. Room 721

DISAPPOINTED YEGGS SET BLAZE IN LOFT BUILDING

Burglars Find Nothing After Ransack- ing Thompson Street Office and Opening Safes. New York, June 2.—Burglars are believed to have set fire to the two-story loft building of D. Benjamin & Sons at 11 Thompson Street after they had ransacked the office, opened the safe and found nothing of value.

A complete yeggan's outfit was found near the safe, and a rear win- dow had been forced open. The burglars gained entrance through the win- dow by swinging from a rope from one of the upper floors of another loft building at the rear.

The fire evidently had been kindled on both floors of the loft building. It burned for an hour. Fire Patrolman McNiff, of Fire Patrol 2, was injured fighting the blaze and had to be taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Louis Benjamin, owner of the build- ing, said that no money was ever kept in the safe and that the outer door was always left open. The damage done to the building was estimated at $10,000.

ALUMINUM COINS SOON TO BE USED IN BERLIN. Berlin, May 9.—(Associated Press, by Mail).—It will not be long before the single of metal coins will again be freely heard in Berlin shops and banks. It is estimated that there will soon be 210,000,000 marks in aluminum "small change" in circulation.

The enormous depreciation of the mark has made the penny pieces such insignificant bits that they have dis- appeared from virtually all cash tills. Before the war there were one and two penny coins in copper, 5, 10, and 25 penny pieces in nickel, and 50-penny coins in iron, besides the 10 and 20 mark gold pieces.

The practice of minting aluminum coins originated during the war, when this material was used to replace the copper coinage in the smaller denomina- tion. Later iron also was used, and the Sixton tower of Meissen, famous for its porcelain ware, even resorted to the use of porcelain for this purpose.

All of the new coins now being minted are made of aluminum. Only re- cently a large number of 200-mark pieces were put into circulation, and plans were nearly completed for issuing 500-mark coins as well. The former use about the size of the American quarter and the latter will measure something like a United States half-dollar. The mintage of 1,000-mark coins also is being considered.

RUSSIAN UNIVERSITIES OPEN NIGHT CLASSES FOR WORKERS. Vladivostok, May 1.—(Associated Press, by Mail).—The universities of Russia, including that at Vladivostok, now have facilities for the higher educa- tion of workers.

The idea is to make engineers and other technical professional men out of mechanics. The best teachers have been engaged, and the salaries paid are higher than in any of the other facul- ties. The classes are held in the evening, so as to give the workers attend- ance in the different government facto- ries and workshops a chance to attend.

Exide BATTERIES

MADE IN CANADA

When you need plenty of light

For city driving, lights do not count for so much—just enough illumination to cover the law and that is all a driver demands. But out on a dark country road, adequate lighting often means the difference between safety and disaster.

If you have a temperamental battery, you follow the road only by intuition. But with a good, healthy battery each turn in the road, each hole, each stone is plainly visible to you as you sit behind the wheel.

The importance of having a powerful, dependable battery in your car cannot be exaggerated. It means safety. It means comfort.

Rugged power is built into the Exide Battery. It lasts so much longer than ordinary batteries that it has earned year in and year out the title of the long-life battery.

There is economy in owning an Exide, not to mention safety and comfort.

You have a right to expect these things of your battery, and you can get them by making sure your battery is an Exide.

the act which attracts box office receipts, he argued, and the transportation of properties in interstate commerce merely is incidental. He said that the Supreme Court had held that the uniform, bats and other paraphernalia carried by professional baseball teams did not constitute interstate commerce.

Supreme Court decision as construed by counsel for Hart, however, laid down the principle that interstate commerce consists of the transfer across state lines of some product of human effort. The production of vaudeville essentially entailed a product of human labor, it was argued, as well as a commodity in which the property rights of the owners were recognized and protected by law.

From the producer's standpoint, Hart's counsel contended, there could be no doubt that the act and not the performers was the attraction. The producer created the act, employed the performers, furnished the scenery, completely staged the act, and sometimes had to employ special transportation facilities to move it in interstate commerce.

WHY NOT REVIVE ARBOR DAY?
(London Free Press)
What has become of the old-fashioned Arbor Day in Ontario? Years ago Arbor Day was quite an event in most of the schools, when trees were set out and teachers and others emphasized the need of tree-planting. There was never a time in Ontario's history when there was such need for tree-planting as today. One has only to drive through western Ontario to see how rapidly the fine old woods, which a few years ago were a feature of the landscape, are disappearing. Arbor Day should be revived in Ontario.

HAMMER MURDERESS MUST GO TO PRISON.
(Canadian Press Despatch).
Los Angeles, Cal., June 1—Clara Phillips, hammer murderess, lost her last legal fight against being taken to San Quentin Penitentiary late today when Justice Nathaniel H. Conroy denied a motion for a writ of habeas corpus to have her taken to the county jail here in the jurisdiction of that court.

QUICK ACTION BRAKES EXTRA LARGE AND EXTRA SAFE

In the construction of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, every consideration has been given to the owner's safety.

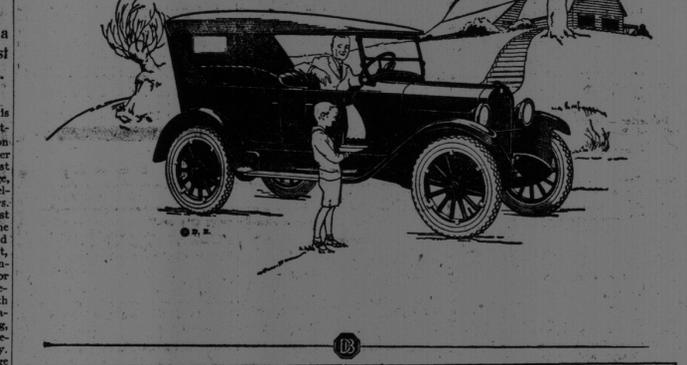

This is particularly evident in the brakes, which, with their 14-inch drums and 2 1/4 inch lining, are appreciably larger than the average. The extra surface thus provided develops greater friction when the brake bands contract over the drums—and it is this friction which stops the car.

Connecting levers are designed to transmit the maximum of power with the minimum of effort. The slightest pressure on the brake pedal has an immediate effect. This pressure is distributed evenly between the two rear wheels by a highly efficient equalizer, which prevents skidding because it retards both wheels simultaneously.

And the brake bands grip evenly all around the drums. This protects the lining against irregular wear and enables the driver to stop quickly, quietly and safely.

Good Fishing
(Bathurst Northern Light.)
The lobster fishermen of the county closed one of the best weeks in the recent fishing history of the county last Saturday, after experiencing one of the poorest opening weeks of any season in recent years. Reports from both east and west of Bathurst as well as from the further down shore points have been very disappointing since the opening of the season, but it now looks as though the industry will enjoy one of the best periods in its history. On account of the late departure of the shore ice the herring fishery, which is depended upon to supply bait for the lobster traps, was an utter failure until last Monday. The catch both of herring and lobsters on that day was a

Syracuse, N. Y., June 2—Tommy Robson of Boston and Young Fisher of Syracuse, fought 12 rounds to a draw here last night.

YUKON PIONEER VICTIM IN CRASH

Reveals Identity When Told That He is Dying.

Memphis, Tenn., June 2.—Told that he was dying from a broken neck and fractured spine, received in an automobile accident, "J. W. Deviney," disclosed that his real name is Michael Dineen, that he was one of the founders of the town of Valdez, Alaska, and a leader in the gold rush into the Yukon in 1898, according to friends summoned to the bedside of the injured man.

Into his story was woven a romance which culminated in his marriage in Detroit to a Southern woman, whose picture in a paper which found its way into the gold fields attracted "Deviney" or Dineen to the South after he had amassed a fortune in Alaska.

Dineen, 63 years old, his employer, Mrs. George Waggener, and her son, Mark Waggener, were injured when their automobile overturned yesterday near Maston, Ark.

Dineen's story, according to an account made public, began in 1890, when he left Washington as a leader in the dash into the Alaskan gold fields.

He came South 15 years later, but found that the woman whose picture caught his eye had been married. Soon after the marriage Mrs. Dineen returned to Tennessee, and later moved to Ocean Springs, Miss., according to the story credited to Dineen.

When Dineen came South again, it is related, he learned that his wife had entered suit for divorce, but later it was withdrawn.

Now a suit entered by Dineen for settlement of $9,000 in notes on property which Dineen claims he caused to be turned over to Mrs. Dineen, is pending in chancery court here.

Joseph Reilly of Watertown as the officer sat patiently on his motorcycle in Watertown square expecting something to happen, but not expecting it to sneak up on him from behind. Reilly looked about in search of the thing which had given him such a tremendous jolt. All he could see was a pelting automobile of a well-known make, the driver of which was tendering profuse apologies for having caused him inconvenience.

PANIC FOLLOWS VOLLEY - FIRED IN CEMETERY

Miss Betty Olson of 51 Brookline street, Cambridge, explained to the officer that she had failed to see him as she drove up to the curb. The apologies were accepted and Reilly righted himself and his machine, neither having suffered damage.

Bullets Cut Electric Wires, Killing Horse and Starting Blaze.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of this week the music of the Imperial Theatre orchestra was broadcast by the Maritime Radio Corporation. By exclusive telephone wires the sounds have been transmitted through the local exchange in Chipman Hill to the radio company's works at Courtenay Bay, through which the music has been transmitted to the air. A telegram from St. Louis, Mo., told of hearing the concert there. This is an excellent advertisement for the city.

Martinez, Cal., June 2.—A horse was killed, a grass fire started, and more than 1,000 lives endangered here when a firing squad, using ball ammunition, fired over the graves of the soldier dead in a Memorial day ceremony and cut down two electric power wires, each carrying 11,000 volts. The wires struck the horse, killing it, and fell on many of the hundreds of automobiles parked outside the cemetery. When the fire department was responding to the alarm sent in when the tall grass started to burn there was a panic among the 1,000 spectators and many were slightly injured.

Steward on Liner Was "Flat Broke" Rumanian Count

New York, June 2.—The log of the Fabre liner Patria, contained the entry "Ship's steward identified as count."

tain in mid-voyage, of Count Georges Boldour of Roumania, son of Prince Alexander and descendant of Catherine the Great of Russia. The Count is 40 years old. He had money and an ancestral estate, once. But, as he told passengers who pierced his identity, he was fond of roulette and of the Casino at Monte Carlo, and he suddenly found himself a pauper. One day there was a new porter in the galley of the Patria. Soon the new man became cook, then assistant steward and finally chief steward. This is how he will be listed on the payroll when the Patria sails again: "Count Georges Boldour, chief steward."

SUPER-SPOTTED TWIN GIRLS WIN FRECKLED BOY CONTEST
New York, June 2.—Twin girls won a freckled boy contest here. Mary and Winifred Lenny left their upper East side home for a holiday stroll in Central Park and mingled with a crowd of celebrants at a political club outing. They were interested spectators at the freckled-boy contest, which, narrowed down to four much-speckled urchins was causing the Judge some uneasiness. Then the worried judge saw Mary's merged freckles resembling one super freckle; he noted its twin on Winifred's countenance, and shouted: "You win."

A suggestion that a choice be made between the two was discarded when it was pointed out that nobody could tell Mary from Winifred.
