NAT'L LIBERAL CONVENTION MEETS TOMORROW LACKING IN ENTHUSIASM AND HAPPY UNITY

The Overshadowing Question is, "Who Will Be the Leader?"—Mr. Fielding's Star, Shining So Brightly a Week Ago, is on the Wane—Instead of Being An Overwhelming Favorite Formidable Opposition Has Developed—Quebec is Against Him — New Brunswick Swings With Quebec.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Aug. 3.—The National Liberal convention, the greatest Canadian political gathering since Laurier's death, is held in Ottawa tomorrow. For more than a week delegates from all quarters of the Dominion have been pouring into the Capital and when at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, House Leader McKenzie declares the convention open upwards of thirteen hundred authorized representatives will be present to answer the roll. Whatever it may lack in the enthusiasm and the unity which characterized the gathering of 1913, there is no question that in point of attendance, organization and aggressiveness, the present gathering challenges recognition. Eastern delegates may be opposed to Western ones, agricultural representatives antagonistic to fellow delegates from the cities, but upon the platform of common determination to win office and power, all appear to be belligerently united and many not unwilling to sacrifice convictions in order to achieve the transcendent ambition.

Who Will Be Leader. Today, within the sphere of the convention, the overshadowing question: "Who will be leader?" A week, or even a few days ago, Mr. Fielding appeared to come first and to have no second. The party managers in Ottawa, who have been engineering the convention, were overwhelmingly for him; the West seemed to be swinging strongly behind him; the Maritime Provinces were expected to follow the stamper and no objection was anticipated from Quebec. The mantle of Brown, Blake and Laurier seemed to have fallen upon Mr. Fielding, but on the political stage as in love, there is many a slip 'twixt the lip and the cup, and today the situation has undergone a radical change. Instead of being an overwhelming favorite, the ex-Finance Minister now finds himself confronted with most formidable opposition. His own province divided by its absence, anti-convention delegates from every province generally antagonistic to his mantle of Brown, Blake and Laurier seem to be in a representation greater than the three prairie provinces put together, practically hostile to a man.

After all, when we vote for Fielding," asked a French-Canadian delegate, one of the brightest of Quebec's parliamentarians. "He has never shown to be a friend of our people. He opposes Sir Wilfrid whenever our rights and privileges were at stake, and he deserted him in the greatest crisis of his political career. In my province, rightly or wrongly, the formation of Union government is regarded as the great political crime. Why should we be asked to vote for Fielding?" A careful canvass of the situation shows this to be the overwhelming opinion of the Quebec delegates, an opinion held with a passionate sincerity and backed up by a solid bloc strong enough to all but swamp its will upon the divided remainder of the convention.

Strong Opposition to Fielding. Nor is the opposition to Fielding monopolized by Quebec, the convention in the first place is dominated by men who are first, last and all the time Liberals of the Laurier school. There is a sprinkling of Unionists to be sure, representative of the western provincial governments, men like Norris and Stewart, but in voting power they are in a hopeless minority, utterly incapable of influencing the convention's views. And the predominant delegates, dyed in the wool Laurierites and anti-conventionists to a man, have little use for any one with even the remotest connection with Unionism. They realize that Mr. Fielding is the most violent figure before the convention; that in point of parliamentary ability, legislative skill and political sagacity he has no equal in his party, but the desire for revenge is strong and only an overwhelming belief that without Fielding they cannot win, will induce them to make him leader.

Support from West. In the West, prominent Mr. Martin permits a determination not to allow his name to go before the convention. Fielding will get his chief support, British Columbia, which has some twenty Liberals, and which is not overtly attached to radical or free trade views, will stand behind him because he is regarded as sound and safe. The prairie provinces, on the other hand, will accept him in preference to a leader made and elected by Quebec. In Ontario, too, Quebec's opposition will be helpful. The Ontario delegates are fearful of the cry that Quebec is dominating the convention, and were most of them as Laurier Liberals are hostile to Fielding, they are prepared to submerge their vindictiveness to avert the disaster of a leader dominated by the French Canadians. Nova Scotia, with two native sons in the running, is bound to be divided, and New Brunswick, where young Mr. Foster does not appear to possess a surplus of either prestige or strength, is not unlikely to follow the dictation of Mr. Vender, the Acadia political boss, and throw in its vote with Quebec.

Dark Horses. Strangely as it may seem, Fielding's most formidable rival at the present moment is the Honorable Sydney Fisher. A dark horse up to a few days ago, the ex-Minister of Agriculture appears to have the solid support of Quebec's seceding ranks and, while he will be weak among the English-speaking delegates, Quebec will have more representatives present than the entire west and with its solid vote, balanced against a divided one, Mr. Fisher's chances are not by any means to be despised. The chances of Mr. Mackenzie King depend upon his making a strong oratorical impression upon the convention, and being seized upon as a compromise candidate. Radical in his views, which commend him to certain groups in the west, and an anti-conventionist which makes him unpopular with Quebec, his opportunity may come with the refusal of Quebec to take Fielding and counter refusal of Ontario and the west to stand for Fisher.

As for Mr. McKenzie his stock at present stands far and away below par. A few loyal cohorts from his own Cape Breton will nominate and vote for him, and a few scattered voters will write his name on the first ballot but, in the main, the West, Ontario and Quebec will be overwhelmingly against him.

Of the other possible aspirants for honor there is little to be said. Mr. Graham, Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Oliver, standpaters all of them, are generally without an army, and, considering the present temper of the delegates, the election of any one of them would be a miracle.

The light so far as can be discerned for the moment rests upon Fielding, Fisher and King.

London, Aug. 3.—A national strike of bakers began yesterday but it is not expected to last beyond Tuesday. Enough bread has been baked to last till then. The men want four pounds for a forty-four hour week and the abolition of night baking.

The bakers at a meeting in Trafalgar Square decided that the steps taken to meet their demand were unsatisfactory and it was resolved to continue the strike.

Troops In Charge At Birkenhead

Serious Rioting Occurred, Following the Strike of Police and Martial Law Was Proclaimed.

London, Aug. 3.—By The Associated Press.—No extension of the police strike was reported anywhere today, but the authorities were obliged to cancel, temporarily, all police holiday leave in order to replace the dismissed strikers.

Serious rioting occurred at Birkenhead, opposite Liverpool on the Estuary of the Mersey, as well as at Liverpool Saturday night. Ninety six of the total force of 225 policemen are on strike in Birkenhead, where feeling is running high. There was looting of shops with damage of many thousands of pounds late Saturday.

The riot was quickly quelled on the arrival of plain clothes men. There was more serious havoc wrought in the London Road, where gangs of youthful "hooligans" smashed the windows of jewelry, boot, tailor and mantle shops, and stripped the windows of their contents, throwing the goods to the sidewalk.

It is officially stated that altogether 994 policemen went on strike out of 2,000 in London, 700 out of 2,200 in Liverpool, and 1,450 at Birmingham. The strikers' places are being filled with new recruits.

FREDERICTON ENTERS PROTEST AGAINST C. N. R. SCHEDULE. The Proposed Schedule for Operation of Trains Between Centerville and St. John Not Satisfactory.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 3.—In railway circles it was said today, that the C. N. R. officials' inspection of the Valley Railway had shown the road from Gagetown to Westfield would not be ready for operation by the C. N. R. before August 15th, and it was unlikely if trains would be running into St. John much before September 1st.

In the meantime the Fredericton Board of Trade and civic corporations have made a formal protest against the proposed train schedule which C. N. R. headquarters have sent out for operation of the Valley Railway for through trains from Centerville to St. John as entirely inadequate with its provision for passenger trains only three times a week and mixed trains on other days.

GERMANY MAY NOW RELEASE RUSSIAN PRISONERS OF WAR

Heretofore Poland Has Been Unwilling to Allow These Russians to Pass Through Polish Territory on Their Way to Russia.

Paris, Aug. 2.—(By The A. P.)—Marshal Foch appeared before the Supreme Council this afternoon in connection with the decision of the Russian prisoners problem. The condition of the Bulgarian army also was taken up, Marshal Foch making a report on the number of effective troops held in Germany has been lifted.

Germany may now release such prisoners. There are between two hundred thousand and two hundred and fifty thousand Russian prisoners in Germany. This has been a great problem for the Allies, as many of them are Russian Bolsheviks.

Poland, heretofore, has been unwilling to allow these Russians to pass through Polish territory on their way to Russia.

Canadians Are Among The Missing

Records Offices in London Making Their Last Grand Tally in An Effort to Trace Every Man Who Has Been on Their Books.

London, Aug. 3.—(Reuter's).—Records offices in London of the various Overseas Forces are making their last grand tally and trying to trace every man who has appeared on their books. Up to the present time some 7,000 or about one per cent. of the total cannot be accounted for.

Not all these men are considered to be definitely lost. Some have gone on the furlough and accepted work without the formality of communicating with the authorities; others have married and settled down in preference to returning to camp and telling the Colonel; others are realists men, many of whom will trickle back.

The South Africans have but 25 absentees, every other man of the 25,000 who came overseas being accounted for. The New Zealanders are 300 short.

Most of the missing are Australians and Canadians, and it will take a long time for the military police to round them up and shepherd them in concentration camps. Some of the Dominion governments are publishing advertisements warning these men to return by a certain time unless they wish to forego their gratuity and free passage home.

PEACE CIRCLES SATISFIED WITH THE NEW GOV'T

Socialist Government of Hungary Which Has Been Set Up in Succession to Bela Kun Make Overtures for Peace With Allies.

Vienna, Aug. 2. (By The Associated Press).—Overtures for peace with the Allies have been made by the new Socialist government of Hungary. Bela Kun, who resigned his virtual dictatorship, has been furnished a safe conduct by the Allies and is expected to seek refuge here as it is felt that his life would be endangered if he remained in Budapest.

The peace overtures were made by Jacob Weizsacker, president of the socialist and workers' Soviet of Hungary. Arriving in Vienna from Budapest, Herr Weizsacker asked Colonel Cunningham, the leading representative of the Allies at Vienna, and the other Allied officials here to recognize the new government and treat for peace.

The new Hungarian cabinet is presided over by Jules Peilich who was formerly minister of the people's welfare in the cabinet of Count Karolyi. The cabinet contains provisionally many members of the former Bela Kun regime.

Vienna, Aug. 2. (By The A. P.)—Budapest was orderly during the night. Picked troops patrolled the town. The troops now at the front were informed that they may retire as it is said in Budapest that Rumanian forces along the Tisza River had received orders from the peace conference in Paris not to advance further towards Budapest.

When the new government was proclaimed last night, and the coming of peace was announced, there was a commotion but the people responded to the appeal for order. Early today thousands of Hungarians who fled from their homes during the reign of the Soviet government, began returning to Budapest seeking to regain possession of any remnants of their property that might remain.

Exchange rates improved here today, and the customary scramble for the purchase of foreign money, which had become very marked recently, became less noticeable. The newspapers commented upon the downfall of the Soviet and seemed to have a good moral effect on business and to mark the beginning of a commercial revival in Central Europe. Some of the newspapers suggested the formation by the Allies of a Danube federation to include both Austria and Hungary.

Peace Circles Satisfied. Paris, Aug. 3.—Hungary's new government was commented upon generally in peace circles as being moderate and one that can be dealt with by the Allies.

Virtually all members of the provisional government were said to be Socialists of the right or of the extreme right or of the extreme right and regarded as temperate in their views. Peter Agoston, minister of foreign affairs, is known here as a moderate. Many members of the peace conference are well acquainted with him. His position in the Bela Kun administration is said to be a subordinate one. The new Hungarian cabinet is composed of a number of men whom peace conference delegates had expected to take the lead in the reconstruction of the government.

Ask for Armistice. London, Aug. 2.—The commander of the Italian Military Mission at Budapest, according to information received here, sent a wireless message today to French and Clemenceau at Paris, requesting that the new Hungarian government be recognized and that a provisional line be drawn on the Tisza River.

St. John is not the only city in Canada where the use of lemon juice is supplemented by drugs. All over Canada complaints are made that men and women are seeking the stimulation of drugs, but it has not yet been determined whether prohibition or the high cost of living is responsible.

The increase in the consumption of opiates last year was so marked that the Government has considered it necessary to impose restrictions on such imports.

BELGIUM HAS GRANTED UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE

Women Who Lost Husbands or Sons in War Are Entitled to Vote.

The London correspondent of "The Manchester Guardian," discussing the recently enacted electoral reform in Belgium, writes: "After endless discussions the Belgian Parliament has unanimously passed the new electoral law. Until the outbreak of war Belgium had clung to the plural vote based on wealth, education and rate of taxes. The world's classes under this system mustered three votes, and for the town council elections, even four votes. The Belgian Socialist and Liberal parties made many vain attempts to induce the successive Catholic governments to introduce universal suffrage, but even the general strike decided upon for this purpose had no result.

HARBOR COMMISSION.

The proposed transfer of St. John Harbor to the Federal Government is bringing to the minds of our people consideration of the whole unfortunate scheme of harbor development under which we are now and have for years been suffering...

Our whole plan of harbor development has been unfortunate. We built on the west side, from our own money, wharves which are not of a permanent nature and which must be replaced before long.

Millions of dollars have been expended so far and more millions will be paid out before we have anything to show. The breakwater upon which such an outlay has been made is now receding exactly in line with the sea that sweeps into the newly formed harbor.

It is well understood that Hon. Mr. Bellantyne is by no means enthusiastic over the purchase of St. John Harbor by the Federal Government. His attitude is that if we do not care to accept the amount he offers, we can go without. Hon. Mr. Carvell has not been particularly active in this matter.

CABINET RUMORS.

The news from Ottawa is very interesting. For the present it consists largely of rumors, some of which are undoubtedly correct, while others must be regarded as poor guesses.

Certainly other cabinet changes are intended, and in this reorganization the names of several New Brunswickers are mentioned.

Conditions surrounding participation in the federal loan for home building seem to be highly complicated. Those at City Hall who have been endeavoring to find the solution, in order that these funds may be made available to prospective builders, are still in the dark.

THOSE MENTIONED FOR POSITION AS MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS

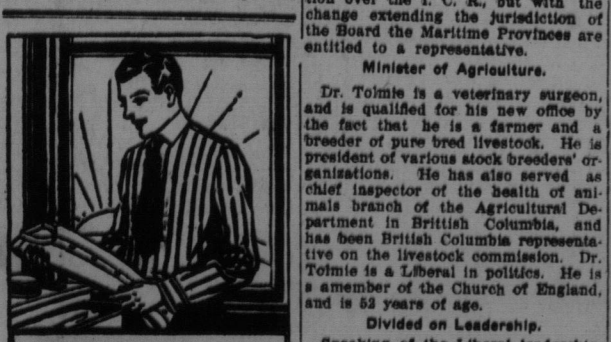

Ottawa Correspondent of Montreal States Sir Douglas Hazen and General H. H. McLean Are Mentioned as Successors of Hon. Mr. Carvell—Mr. Carvell's Attitude—The Minister of Agriculture—Divided on Leadership.

Sir Douglas Hazen and General H. H. McLean are both mentioned as possible successors of Hon. Mr. Carvell as Minister of Public Works. The Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Star wired his paper on Saturday as follows:

"Hazen May Replace Carvell. Sir Douglas Hazen, Chief Justice of New Brunswick, is here, and he has the refusal of the position. He might replace Mr. Carvell in the Public Works department or go back to his old portfolio of marine. Mr. Balfour's going to public works. The retiring minister in that event will likely become either Chief Justice of New Brunswick, or replace Sir Henry Drayton on the railway commission. Mr. Carvell's withdrawal opens Carleton and Victoria. It is not likely that his successor will contest that seat. Instead, there is a rumor that York may be opened by making Harry McLeod, M. P., a county judge, or St. John city by appointing R. E. Wigmore, M. P., to the newly created harbor board.

"Where Sir Henry Drayton will seek election is not certain. The rumor is current that Sir George Foster is retiring, and if so, North Ontario would be vacant. North Ontario already is vacant, and there are lots of seats that can be opened.

"Dr. Toimie, the prospective Minister of Agriculture, represents the Conservative city of Victoria, which is regarded as a safe seat. "Hon. Hugh Guthrie is in line for a full cabinet portfolio. It is not a custom to oppose ministers going back for reelection, and it is a question whether or not the Liberals will do so in this instance. There are now so many elements and parties in politics

Speaking of the Liberal leadership, the Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Star says: "The result of the contest must depend essentially upon the personnel of the convention and the dominating purpose of the delegates. If a majority of them are stand-patters, determined upon no leader save one who followed Laurier with relentless fidelity, the choice, inevitably, will be different from what it will be if a reunion with the unionists is really sought.

"The element of speculation and uncertainty is bound to prevail until the rank and file arrive and till the east and west, English and French get together and decide where they are at.

"Oppose Fielding. "With Fielding as the most prominent man in view, he is confronted with opposition from certain members and candidates on the ground that he was in a party opposed to them in 1917. Certain of them appear to resent this fact more than they do the lukewarm unionism of Premier Martin at the last election. The Martin movement will stand watching. "An unconfirmed and discounted rumor in circulation is that Sir James Loughheed will retire as a Minister of Soldier Civil Re-establishment and be succeeded by Col. A. E. Ross, M. P., of Kingston.

The Great Parade Here Back In 1887

Interesting List of Suggestions for This Month's Procession—Polymorphians Put on Great Show During Queen's Jubilee.

Those having in charge the parade which is to be part of the welcoming festivities (to be held on the 14th) hope to have a turnout not only worthy of the occasion but quite as interesting as previous big processions of which the Queen's Jubilee parade of 1887 was perhaps the most pretentious. For the sake of reminiscence and because it may possibly be of some help to those who are about to prepare for next week's event 'The Standard' reprints herewith the line-up of the Queen's Jubilee Polymorphians parade:

- Mounted Police, Band of the 62nd Regt., Mounted Armored Lancers, Tableau Representing Britannia, Artillery Band, The "Blind Half Hundred" Band, "Blind Half Hundred" Regiment, Platoon of Police, City Cornet Band, Baroque with Officers Portland Polymorphian Club, Platoon Representing Five Decades of Queen Victoria's Reign, Group Representing the Queen's Family, Baroque Containing Mayor and Aldermen of Montreal, Montreal City Cornet Band, "The Mikado" (Jap group) by Monoton Polymorphians, Tableau Representing Canada, Zulu Band of Music, Zulus in charge of Chief McQuarrie, Miniature Haymarket Square Bandstand, Float Representing Noah's Ark, Chief of the Darktown Fire Brigade, Darktown Band (to be later joined by Darktown Fire Brigade with Engines, Darktown Ladder Truck with Oxen, Every foot of the streets traversed by the procession was lined with spectators, sidewalks, windows and house-tops being crowded. The procession proceeded as far as Richmond street, east from the city hall, and then turned Market square by the following route: Along Waterloo to Sydney; along Sydney to south side King Square; into King Street; along Charlotte to King; down King to Germain; along Germain to St. James; along St. James to Prince William; along Prince William to Market Square; when the head of the parade reached Mill street the word "halt" was given, and the Darktown Fire Brigade house was driven on to Market Square and there set on fire. This was followed by an alarm from the laborers' bell, and Chief Hunter's cart came along at a rapid pace, the "chestnut gong" attached to the wagon ringing continuously. This was followed by the hose crew and ladder and bucket company. The fire was by this time making its appearance through the roof. The brigade got connection with the hydrant, coupling the hose to the branch pipe, put a stream of water on the fire. Members of the brigade rushed into the burning house for the extinguisher in a manly and affording great amusement to the spectators. The crowd in the square was immense, and many got a thorough soaking. The burning of the Darktown Fire Brigade, was a most interesting sight. The fire was extinguished, and the brigade returned to the station. The parade then proceeded to the Haymarket Square, where it was met by the Chief Hunter by Alderman Peters. The book and ladder wagon was drawn by two oxen, containing several old worn ladders, and by the driver's seat was, "Drive slow, McDermott." "Slow but sure." Captain Ferrell of Salvation Army Indorses Tanlac

Declares Results from Medicine Have Been Wonderful

Captain Nellie Ferrell of 640 Main Street, St. John, one of the most efficient and popular officers connected with the Salvation Army, is now an ardent champion of the merits of Tanlac since the medicine has proved of such great benefit to her. Captain Ferrell in relating her experience with Tanlac while in the Ross drug store, recently, said: "Tanlac has certainly done great things for me. I had been suffering from indigestion for six years and my stomach troubled me so at times I was unable to do my work. I had no appetite and just had to force down what I did eat. I even tried on a diet of raw eggs for a while, but this not only helped me, but I was very badly run-down, had nervous, depressed feelings, and would sometimes get so dizzy that I would have to stop and stand still for awhile. "One day I read the statement of someone who had been relieved of the same troubles by taking Tanlac, so I began taking it myself and now I am just like a new person. I am always ready at meal time with a good appetite and I can eat just anything and enjoy it. I have so much more strength and feel so much better in every way now that I can do a long, hard day's work without having that tired, worn-out feeling like I did before, but before taking Tanlac if my work was a little hard I would give out. As I said, Tanlac has been a great thing for me and if my statement will help others find relief I am only too glad to give it."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next, it cleanses the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food, thus permitting the nourishing elements to be converted into blood, bone and muscle. It overcomes, it is said, that great exciting cause of disease, weakness. It renders the body vigorous and elastic, keeps the mind clear and energetic and throws off the symptoms of nervousness and indigestion. It builds up the constitution weakened by disease and mental and physical overwork, quickens convalescence and is an unfailing source of comfort to all suffering from such troubles.

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co. and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.

made out of the head of an African ram, from which the horns protruded. Their war cries were blood-curdling, and they certainly made a grand appearance. The colored band which headed played choice music under the direction of William Diamond, their leader. Their drum major, Solve Leslie, discharged his duties in an acceptable manner.

The Japanese Parada attracted a large amount of attention, and was the work of J. Fen, Fraser and Charles Nevins. It was decorated in true Japanese style, and the goshin was excellent.

The H. M. S. and band stand, in miniature representation, was a highly creditable piece of workmanship, and very correct representation of the Haymarket Square. In the square and on the band stand were twenty-three boys dressed in red coats, with blue breeches and a small cart drawn by a blue bull, representing handsmen and soldiers.

Noah's ark was designed and planned by George Sande, and the workmanship he displayed with the brush is worthy of all praise. On canvas running around the ark were painted animals of every description. Noah's family in the ark were represented by Robert Carr, Geo. Campbell, George Day, Arthur Gough, James Graham, Wm. McLeod and Charles James.

The tableau, "Canada," was one of the finest in the line. The large wagon, drawn by three horses, presented a very handsome appearance. The body of the wagon was covered with red cloth, and stripes of white and blue were above and beneath it. The top of the conveyance was beautifully trimmed with red, white and blue. Sitting around on a raised platform were a large number of little girls dressed in white, with blue sashes, and wearing wreaths of flowers on their heads. In the centre sat Miss Morrison, who represented "Canada," beautifully attired. It was an exceedingly attractive spectacle.

The Blind Half Hundred, representing the 60th Regiment, was under command of Robert Nixon and headed by their own band. The marching of the men was all that could be desired, and the uniforms of red looked well. "Fair Land" was one of the prettiest and best representations in the whole display. A large number of little girls were neatly and beautifully attired as fairies.

The tableau was designed and built by R. J. Wilkins and William McCarthy and deserved the highest praise.

JAPAN READY TO OPEN NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE CHINESE

Is Firmly Determined to Restore to China Her Sovereignty Over Kiachou.

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Mr. Debutch, Counselor for the Japanese Embassy and Charge in the absence of Viscount Ishii, conferred today at the State Department with Secretary Lansing.

So far as is known, no formal request has been made upon the Japanese Embassy by the Administration, to issue any statement regarding the Japanese purpose as to Shantung, but Mr. Debutch was willing to discuss the subject with the Associated Press, with the distinct understanding, however, that he was expressing his own personal views.

In answer to a question as to what was to be the final disposition of the Japanese troops in Shantung, Mr. Debutch replied:
"Japan has firmly determined to restore to China her sovereignty over the leased territory of Kiachou, which sovereignty was conferred upon Germany in accordance with the stipulations of the treaty between China and Japan in 1903.

"Japan is not only prepared to restore that property to China, but also is ready to open negotiations that end with China as soon as possible.
"The railroad between Tsingtau and Tsinan-fu, which was formerly under the exclusive management of Germany, will be placed under the joint operation of China and Japan. Likewise the fortified port of Tsingtau, formerly exclusively controlled by Germany, and practically a closed port to the rest of the world, will be opened to foreign trade generally without discrimination.

"Japan contemplates the maintenance in Tsingtau in the future of a Japanese settlement, and also an international settlement; the situation there will be practically like that at Shanghai, where there is a French settlement and an international settlement.

"Germany enjoyed and exercised the right of stationing troops in Kiachou under the terms of her treaty with China. Japan, however, in view of the fact that she has determined to restore sovereignty over Kiachou to China is firmly determined to withdraw every one of her troops actually stationed in Shantung just as soon as possible.

"The above disposition, however, are subject to the signature of the German peace treaty by China and to a subsequent agreement by China with a Japan in regard to the disposition of the restored territories."

DRYERS ARE TERMED FANATICS

Drinkers' and Non-Drinkers' Part in War Contrasted to Detriment of Latter.

E. J. Good in "The London Globe," contributes the following reflections on a problem that has troubled the life of the ordinary British workman; I have had a good spell in the army, and I am a close student of industrial, social and political affairs, and as such I wish to submit a few facts and points for the consideration of those interested in the drink question, especially those who are out for prohibition of what they call the drink traffic.
"Right or wrongly, the great majority of our men—workers and fighters—do not only enjoy drink, but they honestly think it does them good. The prohibitionists, on the other hand, during the war the drinkers have patiently and patriotically suffered much interference with their drink and their public houses. This is not sufficient for the prohibitionists. They desire the temporary war-time restrictions to be made permanent if they cannot secure absolute prohibition. They contend that drink is a poison, that it demoralizes and brutalizes, that it causes crime, poverty and inefficiency. Let us see. It is impossible to deal with all the points in a short article, but I will try to meet the chief points.
Founded on Fallacy.
"It is not stretching language to say that the prohibition movement is mainly on fallacies and falsehoods. It is certainly true to say that the bulk of our temperance advocates are unsound in their minds, and in their methods. Most of them are uneducated, and they are ignorant of the facts of industry and working-class life. They are mostly fanatical persons who have never worked in distressing fumes, intense heat, choking dust. They have never experienced the mental strain, created by certain occupations. They are persons who do not usually turn out of bed at 5 in the morning to be at work at 6. They are mostly persons who have fairly large houses, with separate rooms for their children. They neither understand the workers' desire for drink nor the public house. In plain language, these prohibitionists are as ignorant of the industrial and social and domestic conditions of the workers as they were ignorant of international politics when they were trying to starve the army and cut down the navy and declaring that the Kaiser was a true man of God and a lover of peace."
Fanatics Always Wrong.
"These fanatics have always been wrong. It is worth remarking, by the way, that nearly all the so-called conscientious objectors and pacifists—the shirkers of military duty who, had they had their way, would have surrendered to Prussianism and seen a German army of occupation in this country—most of these cowards, like most of the agitators in the labor world, are teetotalers. Civilization owes little or nothing but trouble to the teetotalers. In art, literature, science, invention, just as in right-down hard work and fighting, we owe nearly everything to the drinkers.
"In the early days of the war the army authorities made a series of shooting tests between drinkers and teetotalers, and between men who had had a drink immediately prior to their shooting and those who had had no drink for considerable periods. Those tests were made under teetotal influence, in the hope that a case might be made out for prohibition. But what was the result? The regular drinkers beat the teetotalers, and the men who had had a drink were without exception the better marksmen. Had the result been otherwise the prohibitionists would have made a tremendous shout, and demanded prohibition in the army, if not in the country. But because the result did not square with the fanatical theories, the public were kept in ignorance of the facts.

The Case of Russia.

"Our teetotalers, while keeping at least about these results, made great capital out of the fact that the Czar, or the Russian government, prohibited vodka. We were assured that the Russians would do great things under compulsory teetotalism. They did. They very soon collapsed as a fighting force! Again, because the French government prohibited a certain kind of drink, absinthe, more akin to a drug than anything a Britisher would dignify with the name drink, it was falsely represented that the French had gone dry. But the fact was that the French government increased the soldier's allowance of real wine from a pint to a quart a day was never mentioned by the virulent fanatics.
"Another remarkable fact is that on the very day when an important deputation waited upon Lloyd George to urge prohibition in munition areas and that gentleman declared that drink was a bigger enemy than the Germans—upon the very day that the deputation was trying to make out that drink was causing restricted output—figures were published proving that the production of new tonnage on the Clyde for the quarter just ended was many thousands of tons greater than in the corresponding three months in the last year of peace, notwithstanding heavy curtailment of the younger men. It seems that always and everywhere the temperance movement is based upon false statements.
Longevity and Work.
"A great point is made of the alleged longer life of the teetotaler than that of the drinker. It is said that certain insurance companies accept lower premiums on the lives of teetotalers. But that proves nothing. The teetotalers have nearly all the healthy jobs. That is why most of them are teetotalers. Suppose the teetotal minister lives to be seventy while the chemical work laborer, a beer drinker, dies at fifty, does that prove that beer is bad? Not a bit of it! The minister has a healthy occupation. The laborer has an unhealthy one. So it is all along the line, the teetotal theories will not stand the test of scrutiny.
"One more point and I will end the column. Some little time before the war Sir T. P. Whitaker, M. P., the great temperance advocate, published a set of figures showing that in ten years—between 1900 and 1910, I think it was—we had saved 40,000,000 pounds in our annual drink bill, allowing for changed prices. We had consumed that value less in beer, spirits and wines. I was immediately able to allow from official records, that, contrary to the teetotal theories, instead of the country having improved, in that period the number of our bank ruptcies had increased; our indoor paupers had increased in spite of old age pensions; our lunatics, our suicides, our criminals had increased and the general conditions of our country had become so much worse that the number of our people emigrating—leaving us to seek their livings elsewhere that teetotal theories were upset."

UNEMPLOYED PAY ROLL GROWS LESS
IN LONDON

Weekly Dole Has Been Reduced by 500,000 Names Since May.

London, July 31.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The pay roll of the unemployed in London has been reduced by about 500,000 names since May last when the government drew its purse strings tighter. From November to May the weekly benefits were paid to about 1,250,000 persons. Payments are now being made to about 750,000.
At first the amount paid the men out of work was $6 a week, $5 to women, $3 to boys and $2.50 to girls. There were smaller grants for children, so that it was possible for an unskilled workman with four children to draw nearly $11 a week, which was more than some could earn at work. When the joyful news of this pay for doing nothing spread many tired workers immediately resigned their jobs and came upon the government, according to testimony in the courts, while others who never had done so wished to do any work found themselves in the sorry position of gathering unexpected manna from the heavens. The English newspaper say that Ireland availed itself wholeheartedly of this Godsend.
Instructions from the government to disbursing officials were to lean toward the side of generosity and this policy appears to have prevailed.
GLOW WORM.
Glow worm, glow worm, come with me
Up into the apple tree,
Bring along your shining light,
Cause I'm so afraid at night.

Fear the darkness just like me,
We all want to play at night,
Please dear glow worm bring your light.

DOMINION TIRES

Come Through with the Miles

DOMINION TIRES are consistently economical. The owner of a high class touring car in Toronto, who rides on the luxurious "DOMINION ROYAL CORD" Tires, the driver of a jitney at Lake Louise, who scoots over the Rockies on "DOMINION CHAIN TREADS", and a grocer in Halifax, whose delivery cars are equipped with "DOMINION 'PLAIN TREADS'", all say the same thing—
They Get the Mileage Out of Dominion Tires.
Dominion Tires give this extra mileage because they are made extra well, of extra good materials, by experts.
DOMINION INNER TUBES are mileage mates of Dominion Tires—they insure perfectly balanced tires. See that your Dominion Tires are fitted with Dominion Inner Tubes.
DOMINION TIRES and ACCESSORIES are distributed through DOMINION RUBBER SYSTEM BRANCHES and sold by the Best Dealers throughout Canada.

PAYS $32 WAR TAX
ON HER AIR FLIGHT TO ATLANTIC CITY
Government Levy is Eight
Per Cent. on Aero Express Tickets.
New York, July 31—"Good night," said Mrs. John A. Hoagland recently when she heard the news over the telephone from the office of George A.
 Schaefer, deputy collector of internal revenue of the Third district, to the effect that she must send immediately a cheque for $32 to him in payment of "aerodrome tax" resulting from her trip to Atlantic City by way of the Aero Limited Express last Saturday.
 Her trip was the first ever to be made from New York to Atlantic City.
 "I'm just getting my nerves to stand up again," she said laughingly a few minutes later, "from the effects of dropping into the ocean in a storm on our way back from Atlantic City, when along comes this fine piece of news."
 "Oh, well! What do I care? It was worth ten times as much as it has cost me. I'll pay the $32 willingly, and anybody else would if they once knew what fun it was to fly that distance and back again in the same day."
 The imposing of the $32 war tax is the initial action on the part of the government for collecting "aerial passenger traffic tax," and before the payment was accepted yesterday much searching through law books was necessary to find the actual part of the statutes that dealt with such a collection of tax.
 "Eight per cent will be the war tax on tickets for air travel," Mr. Schaefer told C. Nicholas Reinhardt, passenger agent of the Travellers' Company, at the Wakeford-Aspria Hotel, which handles the bookings for the airplane express.
 "That," replied Mr. Reinhardt, "will be quite a blow to Mrs. Hoagland, I'm sure."
 But it developed it wasn't so much of a blow as had been feared.
 The booking office at the McAlpin, Wakeford-Aspria and Claridge hotels were notified late yesterday afternoon after the war tax ruling was made that tickets hereafter would be $108, including the tax, each way, for each passenger.

UNGLY BILLBOARDS.
Advertising when properly directed, is no doubt a means of creating additional business for the advertiser.
 How the advertiser spends his appropriation—from the standpoint of securing results—is his own concern.
 The medium by which he reaches the public, however, concerns the public, and the people are awakening to the fact.
 Appearance counts. For this reason and for no other, all modern daily newspapers, notwithstanding that the greater proportion of their revenue comes from advertising, have excluded display advertising from their front pages.
 While a private industry, as dependent upon its advertisers, can take a stand on behalf of appearances, how much more important is it that our public streets, the front pages of our city, should be protected.
 The more public a situation is, the more eagerly it is seized upon for the erection of a billboard, and this regardless of the fact that it constitutes a deteriorating influence upon surrounding property, in many cases is a hindrance to the "starry" and often creates a fire menace of no mean proportion.
 Cities are spending enormous sums in the construction of good roads and sidewalks; merchants and residents, largely for the sake of appearances, improve their property fronting on same; but the eye of the "starry" and public may not be offended. Yet billboards and signs are permitted without control as to location.
 It is high time our municipal au-

CANADIAN NATIONAL SUBURBAN. Suburban No. 338 due to leave St. John at 9.00 a. m. will be held until 9.30 a. m. Suburban No. 372 due to leave St. John at 12.30 p. m. will be held until 1.30 p. m. on Tuesday, August 5.

THE WATERWORKS. A joint in the connection of the 16-inch main at East St. John, blew out Saturday morning, interrupting the new service which was completed on Friday. Workmen were despatched to repair the trouble.

CARS WERE DELAYED. Yesterday afternoon a street car broke an axle on Douglas avenue and then left the rails. Seven other cars from Sealus Park, West St. John and Fairville were held up for about half an hour, while the disabled car was removed to the repair shop.

ENJOYED PERFORMANCE. Saturday afternoon the staff and children of the Protestant Orphanage were the guests of Manager W. H. Golding at the Imperial Theatre. Mr. Golding has stated that "the latching of the Imperial is always out to the orphanage at any time they wish to use the privilege."

OFFICIAL APPOINTMENT. Senior de las Cuevas, Cuban consul at this port, has received from his government the official appointment to the vice-consulate at Antwerp, Belgium, probably the first appointment to countries in the war zone by a Latin-American nation since the cessation of hostilities. He will not leave the city to take up this appointment until the autumn.

SMASHED A POLE. Early last evening John Hamilton left his automobile standing on Spruce street. There is an incline at this particular place, and while Mr. Hamilton was away the car started down hill on a trip by itself and only stopped when it crashed into and broke a New Brunswick Power Company pole. The car was also somewhat damaged.

SPEED DEMONS. Complaints have been made regarding the prevalence of speeding by motorists on Sydney and Germain streets, between King and Queen. Some of the auto drivers do not bother sounding their horns at the corners, and it is due more to the agility of the pedestrians than to the care of the drivers that there have been no accidents to report.

FOR THIS DISTRICT. The R. M. S. Scotian which arrived at Quebec yesterday carried the following passengers for this military district: Hcn. Capt. P. Coulburn, nearest relative, H. A. McCabe, Ferris Hotel, St. John. These men will come through on the first regular train from Quebec.

Power Boat Club Service Yesterday

Large Crowd Attended Second Annual Church Service at Belyea's Point—Sermon Preached by Chaplain Nichols.

All routes on the St. John river yesterday led to Belyea's Point, for it was there that the second annual church service of the St. John Power Boat Club was held.

From morning until noon the river from Marble Cove to the Point was lined with the power craft, the turnout this year and the great interest taken in the event giving rise to the statement by Commodore J. C. Chesley, that a picnic ground and boat club up river should be secured by the club for the next annual service.

The pacemaker of the cruise was the steam yacht, "John W. Mason," flagship of Commodore Chesley, who had as his guests Miss E. J. Melone, St. Stephen, F. B. Frapp, engineer in charge of the Cape Tormentine and Fort Borden terminals; Senior de las Cuevas, Cuban consul; John Thornton, commissioner of public safety; D. J. Purdy and others. Nearly two hundred motor boats made the trip to the service.

Belyea's Point is probably one of the most beautiful spots on the whole river and the open-air service in the grove just beyond the shore line could have been held in no better place.

Pennants and streamers decorated the improvised pulpit, which was occupied by the Rev. Craig W. Nichols, chaplain of the Power Boat Club, and the Rev. Dr. Morrison, chaplain of the R. K. Y. C. The music for the service, and during the river trip, was furnished by an orchestra composed of the Opera House musical organization.

Chaplain Nichols took for his text the third verse of the twenty-seventh chapter of Acts: "Except these remain in the boat, ye cannot be saved." He told of the dangers of the sea voyages undertaken by the apostles, of the manner of vessels there were in those days, and something of the character of the seaman. When the vessels were found unserviceable, he said, they were "frapped," or bound about with chains and ropes to keep the timbers tight.

Drawing an allegory from this, he stated that society today is passing through one of the most dangerous stages in the history of civilization. "The world of humanity, he said, is sitting on the edge of a volcano. The present unrest, the fever for industrial strikes, and other disturbances all come from a refusal to follow the advice of the Great Master. The world is thinking only of material things, of wealth, personal gain, power and the other baubles which only last for a short while and are easily removed.

There is in the world, he thought, a state which he would characterize as national selfishness, where nations are striving to get as much as they can from their sister nations; and of class selfishness, where each class and creed is striving for more power and prestige.

We must not forget, he declared, that God is the God of the whole world. He does not belong entirely to one country, to one class or to one creed. It was He who taught the lesson of world brotherhood and the unity of the race, and it was because that lesson was unheeded that Egypt, Assyria, Babylonia, Greece and Rome fell from their high estate.

The leaders of thought are now trying to "frap" the world with a "League of Nations," declared the speaker, and the churches are awakening with a new social programme, but if we listen to the advice of Christ and keep His truths in our heart we need have no fear of any uprising.

Bolshewik Russia has declared that there shall be but one class, and that the class represented by the new world terror, forgetting that in every activity the factors represented by the classes of wealth, education and labor must all work together harmoniously if any good is to be accomplished. Christ, when He was on earth, did not consent entirely with one class. He was the friend of all; the student, the rich man, the woman, the fisher, the laborer, the leper and all of high or low estate.

The church, he thought, had made a mistake in taking uniformity for unity. She failed in this and will fall again, as Paul the apostle failed until he broadened his vision. There is no hard and fast rule of making the church built on the foundation laid by Jesus Christ that each man is a brother; and it is only by following the teaching of the Great Brother that we can arrive at anything sure, for in the final analysis, the hope of world reconstruction lies in God alone.

The order of service included the hymns "Jesus Shall Reign," "Pilot Me," "Eternal Father Strong to Save," and "On our Way Rejoicing;" the usual Anglican ritual, and two selections, "Just Outside the Door" and "Somewhere, Sometime," by a male quartette composed of Samuel Holder, John Burt, Hugh Smith and J. Cantor.

A number of boys from the Wiggin Orphanage were present and greatly assisted in the singing. The offering, which was large, was contributed to the Home for Incurables. It was remarked that the number of autists present was not so great as last year, but in that case it was those who were not present who were missing a treat. The day was ideal and the river surface was smooth as a lake.

Following luncheon by the various boat parties, the cruise up river was continued, the club members returning to the city at twilight.
