Showing a difference in favor of the south-ern route of 77 miles. So that he is wrong all his figures, and they are mystifying in every way. Taking Mr. O'Sullivan's own figures, from Grand Falls to Moneton it is 167 miles across a straight line over the mountain, which still leaves a difference of 52 miles in favor of the southern route, although he had made it himself 25 miles different. All this proves that Mr. O'Sullivan's report s entirely wrong, as regards distances, and is impracticable. No doubt Mr. Sullivan is s impracticable. No doubt Mr. Sullivan is a clever man, for it takes a clever man to misinterpret statements and mystify figures, as I fear he has done in his report. I said I would show where he had made an error, in reference to the country over which he pro-poses to take this line. I will show the House his line is utterly impracticable, according to explorations that have taken place years ago. Major Robinson in his report of rears ago. Of course, so far as we are concerned in Fredericton, it is not material which route the line takes. If it goes by Mattawamkeag under the resolution, it passes through Fredericton; if it goes to the north, it passes through Fredericton; but I wish to see the line carried out in accordance with the resolution now before the House. Owing, of course, to our geographical position, the road will strike us on any point. Mr. O'Sullivan has said in his winding up, quoting Sir Wal-

Opening of Riel's Trial at Regina A six week's postponement probable.

Riel was arraigned for trial at Regina Monday morning. Stipendiary Richardson occupied the bench and associated with him was Henry Lejeune, justice of the peace. The prisoner was brought from the barracke in a wagon under a strong escort and conducted to a cell underneath the Court House, fitted up for his accomodation. He was carrying a ball under one arm, the chain being fastened under his left ankle. His lawyers are Lemieux, Q. C., Fitspatrick of Quebec, Greenshields of Montreal and Johnston of Regins. The counsel for the prosecution are Robinson, Q. C., and Osler, Q. C., of Toronto; Burbidge, Q. C., Deputy Minister of Justice of Ottawa, Casgrain of Quebec, and Scott, Mayor of Regins. The jury panel was called and only three failed to respond. Gen. Middleton and staff and Lt. Gov. Dewdney were present. Riel walked Riel was arraigned for trial at redfaced woman, who was carrying a bucket-of water, paused and asked:

"Is it the sick woman you're asking after, ma'am? I don't think you can do much for her now besides buying her a policy, soon thing!"

Tor many years he will need no more than that," gently replied her visitor. "No more, sawe the tendences after, and that I promise to supply to him."

SIGNE "For many years he will need no

coffin, poor thing!'
"Is Mrs. Wentworth so ill as that?" cheeks of the listener, and quite softeninvoluntarily asked the visitor. "Pray ed toward her stepmother, she made an tell me where I shall find her room at ineffectual effort to clasp her hand as

"I don't know what her name is, but number thirty five lodges in the attic, and if you'll keep going up and up, you'll find her room at the head of the last stairs."

Thanking the speaker, Mrs. Asley dainty lifted her sweeping skirts, and ascended the stairs. The way darkened as she went up, and at the end of the third flight it was so gloomy that she was compelled to peer around to discover the number she sought.

She said:

"Gan you forgive the cruel words I spoke just now? An angel was sent to me, and I was ready to reject her mainistrations with the hard scorn of shy original stature. When God has brought me so low as I now an, the sinful spirit of pride should be dead within me, but it still flames up at intervals as it did just now. I give you my son Mrs. number she sought. just now. I give you my son, Mrs.
At last it was found but just as she had Ashley; rear him as your own; make

"I pledge myself to that," was the wisitor.
"What is it, dear? Why are you so much alarmed?" she hurriedly saked.
