I watched him, fascinated. The change in his apeparance was remarkable, and I could hardly feel that it was Zergald himself before me. As the face changed my hatred for it seemed to die down. He put on his hat and turned up his collar slowly. Then he stepped over to the door, and as he put his hand on the knob paused and looked at me again.

"The compartment would have meant safety. This will be the same. Of course, I know you do not fear personal danger, but let me tell you this: Your death will not remove the princess from my path, but your marrying her will. If you fail me in this, if you fail to remove her from my way after I have put the matter fairly before you both, and made it possible, you're more fool than I think, and," he paused, turning the handle of the door, "fools deserve to die, and die quickly.'

This time it was Hughes who was their victim. He was nounded by the "their lists and the striking distance of the contest." This time it was hughes who was their victim. He was pounded by the "slugging trust," Cobb and Crawford, for a pair of runs in the third that put the game on ice and one in the second was also the result of hits being bunched off Hughes. Three Types of the Destructive Monster of the Northern Woods.

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The problem protecting the forests of the country from fires is receiving considerable attention from associations of private owners, associations of lumber companies, forest wardens and the Gov-

REV. FATHER LADOUCEUR DIED IN CHATHAM

Formerly in Charge of St. Mary's Church in London.

Rev. Father Ladouceur, rector of St. Peter's Church, at Prairie Siding, Ont., died Saturday afternoon in St. Joseph's Hospital, Chatham, after an illness of only a few days' duration. Father Ladouceur was well known in this city, and shortly after his ordination some twelve years ago, was stationed at St. Peter's Cathedral here. During the illness of the late Rev. Father Traher, then pastor of the old St. Mary's Church, on Hill street, Father Ladouceur had charge of that parish, and made many friends among his people. The funeral mass will be sung Wednesday morning at his church at Prairie Siding, and interment will be made Wednesday at his old home at Stoney Point.

Dear Rev. Sir: A great disaster has fallen upon the Catholic parish of Campbellton, N. B., by which the church, presbytery, hospital, school and convent have been wiped out of existence. PLENTY OF PULPWOOD IN OUEBEC PROVINCE

The American Market Need Not Fear a Shortage.

[Associated Press Dispatch.] Washington, Aug. 8.—Despite the policy of the Government of the Province of Quebec prohibiting the exportation of pulpwood cut on crown lands, subsequent to May 10, 1910, there need be no apprehension of a pulpwood shortage in that province the American market, according to a report from Gethard Willrich, United States consul-general at Quebec. "Competent authorities say," ports Mr. Willrich, "that only a' per cent of all the pulpwood cut in this province was cut on crown lands. This percentage, while not considerable, was sufficient to prevent the sale of large quantities of such wood cut on private lands, which has accumulated in large quantities. Despite the new policy of the Government, the market for pulpwood has been poor.

The report further states that the second largest article of export from Quebec in 1909 was wood pulp, representing a value of nearly a million dollars. The value in 1909 was $949, the 100 per cent. The exports of the product to Great Britain in 1909 amount. ed to $847,176; to France, $82,213, and crease from $489,000 in 1908.

The officials of the company believe that the large immigration movement this summer, with a tremendous influx of agricultural labor as its most char-

RURAL DELIVERY IN THE SOUTH.

Throughout the mountain districts of the south the mail is carried on horse back. The pouch is about five feet 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. are usually my long, divided in two sections and opens in the middle. Half the mail is put in each side of the sack, and in this way it is carried on the horse's back. In the rough mountain sections the work is anything but easy. Where there are no roads it is hard to work, riding through storms, fording streams climbing steep and rocky trails with almost perpendicular cliffs above and below. One misstep means death to horse and rider on the rocks below. The postmaster is notified to have the mail ready by the tooting of the horn which every mail carrier carries. He blows the horn before he gets to the postoffice as a signal to be ready for him, so that there will be no delay in making his trip on time.-Fur News

There Is a Great Difference in VINEGARS

Everyone who uses vinegard is aware of this fact. Some vinegars are just concoctions made of acids and really unfit for use. Not so with ours. We do not buy the cheap mixture, but have gone to considerable trouble to find where we can buy the best. It means smaller profits, but our customers are get-ting what they pay for.
