INEFFICIENT SERVICE

Judge Hodgins, of the Canadian admiralty court, has decided that the fishing schooner Kitty D., seized by the Petrel, shall be restored to her American owners and restitution made. Captain Dunn, of the Petrel, gave evidence that the American fish pirate was seized two miles inside the boundary; Captain Spain estimated the distance at three-quarters of a mile inside the boundary. But seven witnesses, including Captain Hodgins, of the United States revenue cutter Fessenden, swore that the Kitty D. was a mile and a half inside the American boundary. Judge Hodgins gave judgment in accordance with the weight of evidence and the admiralty precedent that the vessel of a foreign nation should get the benefit of the doubt. The evidence showed that the seamen steering the Petrel were so inexperienced that their evidence could not be relied on. The case justifies the assumption that the marine and fisheries department has a very inefficient instrument in the Petrel, both ship and crew, for the delicate work of apprehending the elusive fish pirate.

OXYGEN AS A COLORIST.

London Lancet.

The question is often asked without a satisfactory answer being supplied, why do lobsters and certain shrimp and prawns turn red on boiling? One reason may be that the black pigment of the lobster is an iron compound to the lower state of oxidation, which boiling oxidizes to the higher state. Red human hair is said to owe its brilliancy to iron existing in the higher oxidized state, and by means of reducing agents, such as pyrogallol acid or snail, the color may be modified. In short, oxygen is a great painter, and probably accounts for the beautiful autumnal tints of plant life.

THE NEXT DISPUTE.

St. Thomas Times.

Great Britain has looked upon Hudson Bay as a closed sea, it is true, but the United States will almost surely dispute the claim, in which case commissioners will have to be appointed, and Canada may again be sacrificed. It is useless to borrow trouble, but with railroads being built northward it will not be long before there is a clash of interests. For seventy years Americans have had free entry to those northern waters, and will claim a moral, if not legal right, to them. If Canada insists upon exclusive rights, there will be a conflict of interests which will have to be settled by arbitration, and, with the Alaska award in memory, Canadians may well feel anxious as to the outcome.

CAPTURED A STANDARD.

London Chronicle.

Baroness Campbell von Laurentz has been fined £5 by the Berkshire magistrates for driving her motor at an excessive speed—an incident which presents a curious contrast, or, say, pendant, to the fact that her husband was once, contrariwise, rewarded with the Iron Cross of Prussia for furious riding. This was at the battle of Marala-Tour, when Lieutenant Lawrence Campbell, of Craighish, as he then was, serving in the Bismarck cuirassiers, forming part of Bredow's heavy brigade, took part in the famous cavalry charge immortalized by Freilgrath, and captured, in hand to hand conflict, a French eagle—the only one thus secured in the course of the great war. Afterwards Lieutenant Campbell was raised to the rank of Baron Campbell von Laurentz by the late Duke of Saxe-Coburg Gotha, to whom, as chief of the Bismarck cuirassiers, he subsequently acted as flugeladjutant, or aide-de-camp, but on the death of his patron he retired from the Prussian army, married an English lady, and settled at Windsor, where he stood in high favor with Queen Victoria.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.

"My appetite was gone; nothing tempted me to eat, and what little I did eat felt annoying and unpleasant in my stomach. I tried many remedies without any benefit whatever. Finally, Hood's Sarsaparilla having been recommended, I began its use. After taking one bottle my stomach would retain food, and my appetite began to improve. After taking three bottles I was completely cured." WILLIAM ROSS, Wallington street, Sarnia, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

UNSOCIAL.

N. Y. Tribune.

"V. C." is responsible for the following anecdote: An Englishman and a German were travelling together in a diligence, and both were smoking. The German did all in his power to draw his companion into conversation, but all to no purpose. At one moment he would, with a superabundance of politeness, apologize for drawing his attention to the fact that the ash of his cigar had fallen on his waistcoat or a spark was endangering his neckerchief. At length the Englishman exclaimed: "Why the deuce can't you leave me alone? Your coat-tail has been burning for the last ten minutes, but I didn't bother you about it."

A Millionaire's Gratitude.

An interesting life story is that of Mr. Arthur Cohen, who has died in South Africa, leaving, it is reported, a portion of his fortune, estimated at two and a half millions, to Mr. John Wynn of Cheltenham, England. Mr. Cohen was a London Jew without friends or relatives, except a brother who went on the stage, and has not been heard of for years. A quarter of a century ago Mr. Cohen was engaged in business on his own account in Mary street, Cardiff, and his closest friends there were Mr. John Wynn, who at that time was landlord of the Dumfries Commercial Hotel, and Mr. Nathan, a hatter. Sixteen years ago, owing to the state of his health, Mr. Cohen was warned that the only chance of prolonging his life was to emigrate to South Africa. Forced realization of his business caused him serious financial loss, and his two friends came to his assistance with gifts of money. Mr. Wynn giving him £2,000, and Mr. Nathan £1,000. In South Africa Mr. Cohen's health rapidly improved. He obtained a concession from President Kruger's Government to lay about a hundred miles of telegraph lines, and he surrounded the bases of the posts with structures about four or five feet high, which he hired out for advertising purposes. By this means he amassed sufficient wealth to enable him to deal largely in shares, and only two years ago in a letter to one of his friends he indicated his prosperity in the phrase, "I am a fair clover just now; I have only to sit in my office and draw the money."

Mr. Wynn left Cardiff for Weston-super-Mare, then crossed to America, and finally returned to his native town of Cheltenham, where he is now a commercial traveler for a Birmingham firm. During their separation the friends corresponded but little, but during the past week Mr. Wynn was informed that under the millionnaire's will "Mr. John Wynn, landlord of Dumfries Commercial Hotel, Cardiff," was largely interested, but until identity was clearly established and Mr. Wynn of Cheltenham was legally proved to be the person referred to no other details would be divulged.

Mr. Wynn has placed the matter in the hands of his solicitor, by whose advice he declines to give any information as to his good fortune. Mr. Wynn's only son is on the staff of the Board of Agriculture in London.

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil made almost as palatable as milk. It is easy and soothing to the weak stomach; it checks the tendencies of children toward thinness.

Scott's Emulsion gives strength to weak mothers because it creates healthy flesh and new blood.

Nursing mothers will find a special value in Scott's Emulsion because it insures a flow of rich, nourishing milk for the baby. More and better than a medicine; Scott's Emulsion is a food.

A CHANGING IDEAL.

Women Should Own Their Own Lives, Says Rev. J. A. J. Savage, of New York.

—The Modern Woman.

The ideal of woman that has predominated in the past has been as one dependent on some man, developed only on her sentimental side—loving, drooping, tender, clinging, cared for, watched over, protected, supported by some man. This has been the ideal woman of the past. Ideals, however, are the creation of conditions, and changed conditions of necessity work changes in the predominant ideals of the world.

What is today the position of woman in the family? Woman used to be completely in the power of the husband. In the old days he could put her to death if he pleased, and nobody could call it in question. He could beat or abuse her to any extent. He could send her out of his home. He could take into that home, in spite of her wishes and protests, as many other women as he pleased, and she had no power to prevent it. She had no control of her own money. She had no control of her own children. She was helpless in the hands of the man.

But, now, thank God, so far as these things are concerned we are beginning to get just a little civilized, at least in some places. Women are beginning to be recognized as having rights of their own, as having the same right to stand on their own feet, think their own thoughts, speak their own words, live their own lives, as men have. Woman is beginning to get the grant that she may have an interest in her own children. She is beginning to attain her majority—to be free. This is the attitude that is coming in the home.

To-day there are a large number of occupations into which women have entered. They are successfully competing with men. They are doing the work and doing it well, so that the chances are that if the present tendency holds we shall have to face the fact by and by that women are standing on their own feet, earning their own living, having their own bank accounts, engaging in business for themselves and are deciding for themselves as to whether they shall occupy this position or that instead of being forced into it by necessity.

The tendency is all along the line of the coming of women into a larger and freer life in politics, in religion, in the family, as to occupation, as to education.

In every department of society women are pressing against the barriers, and the barriers are here and there giving way.—Rev. Minot T. Savage, of New York.

Canadian Farmers Prosperous.

The Canadian Government has issued a census bulletin which gives statistics as to agriculture in Alberta, Assiniboia, and Saskatchewan, which, united, compose the Northwest Territories. The total area of these territories is 190,963,117 acres, and only 6,569,064 are occupied as farms. Of this area 75.99 per cent. is unimproved, 7.74 per cent. exclusive of hay, occupy 53 per cent. of the improved land, but only a fair beginning has been made with fruit trees and vegetables. The area of land in wheat, oats, barley, rye, corn, peas, potatoes and other field crops in 1901, was 1,407,700 acres. The increase at the end of the last decade was 694,073 acres, or 338 per cent. The production of home-made butter is nearly twice as much as ten years ago, and in the interval ten factories have been put into operation.

Never Had a Carriage Drive.

Apologies of those who never enjoy the luxury of a carriage save when the death of some one makes for a ride to the cemetery, the Rev. John Watson (Jan. MacLaren) told of a little girl standing at Fifth avenue and Thirtieth street. She was a ragged little thing, and she was watching the carriages rolling past with the most wistful eyes. "Well, little one," he said, "would you like to own one of those carriages?" The blue eyes turned up and there were tears in their corners. "I never rode in a keeriege," she said, softly, "me little brudder died afore I was born."

Systematic Farm Work.

Don't be a slave to your work. Master every detail of farming. Plan ahead, and it will be a pleasure to be a farmer. Make ten hours a day's work, but see that things move during the ten hours. Train yourself and your help to work faithfully. Keep going, and you will accomplish more in ten hours than most people do in sixteen; besides, you have the six hours for recreation and work in other lines. Try this method this season and see how different you feel and how much more you can accomplish.—Farmers' Advocate.

Scissors.

A young fellow, a reporter on a big newspaper, who turns out "copy" easily and in abundance, called the other day at a hardware shop.

"What do you require?" demanded the polite shopkeeper.

The brilliant reporter was engaged in thought and answered absently, "A pair of scissors."

"For what use?"

The reporter answered, with an intensely preoccupied air, "Scissors—to use in writing."

AUSTRALIA'S FORCES.

Their Unification Proceeding Under Gen. Hutton's Plan Into Federal Army.

The Melbourne correspondent of The Chronicle writes regarding the unification of the Australian military forces that what General Hutton has obtained the Government's assent to is practically this: "The complete organization of (1) a mobile field force capable of being sent anywhere in Australia at short notice, and (2) a garrison force designed to defend the vulnerable spots in each State. Both these forces are composed of volunteers or militia acting under the instructions of some 1,500 professional soldiers who form the nucleus of artillery and garrisons required for fixed defenses, the technical direction of forts and mines and a military tuition staff. The Australian field force will consist on a peace footing of 13,911 men and sixty guns, capable of expansion in time of war to 26,583 men and eighty-four guns. The garrison force will be composed of 11,896 men and twenty-six guns, exclusive of the rifle clubs, which now total over 80,000 men. Taking the two forces and the rifle clubs together it will be possible for Australia to put in the field or at her forts in time of war at least 68,000 trained men, made up, approximately, as follows:

Field force.....26,583
Garrison force.....11,896
Rifle clubs.....30,000

68,400

With a physically fit manhood population of 700,000 to draw upon, the 68,400 trained men would become the backbone of an army of half a million should invasion actually occur.

For the purposes of broad generalization the Federal army now stands divided into eighteen regiments of Australian Light Horse, thirteen batteries of Australian artillery, three field companies of Australian Engineers, and two regiments (three brigades) of Australian Infantry.

Each arm is given an excess of officers in proportion to the peace establishment of privates. Peace cadres, with their full complement of trained officers and non-commissioned officers can therefore be mobilized in time of national emergency be expended to war requirements without any danger of crisis through lack of efficient leaders.

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure when Other Means Fail.

Mr. J. J. Perkins Disabled by Kidney Pains, Finds New Health in the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

Tyndall, Man., Oct. 26.—(Special).—All over Manitoba and the Territories people are telling of benefits received from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and this place furnishes a striking example of how they will cure when all other means have failed in the person of Mr. J. J. Perkins.

"For two years I was troubled with my kidneys," Mr. Perkins says. "I got so bad that the doctor attending me declared me incurable."

"At times I had such severe pains in my back that I thought I would have to give up hopes and die. I was unable to work and was becoming destitute."

"One day a friend asked me, 'Have you ever tried Dodd's Kidney Pills?' I answered 'No,' and he persuaded me to try them."

"The first box made me feel like a new man; five boxes cured me completely. Dodd's Kidney Pills saved my life."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys, Sound Kidneys take all impurities out of the blood. Thus Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Rheumatism, Sciatica, and other diseases caused by uric acid in the blood.

The contract for the new residence for the Lighthouse-keeper at the mouth of the river has been awarded to Scott Bros. & Co. They expect to begin work at once. FARMER HARRON WINS APPEAL

Recently Michael Dillon, bailiff of the Seventh Division Court, visited the premises of John Harron, Kent County, with a distress warrant, issued at the instance of Mr. Graham, the landlord, who alleged that the rent was due. The officer, on being shown the cattle, hastily turned up section 144, sub-section 2 (b), of the Criminal Code, Harron found that in order to prove an offence under this section, it was necessary to show that rent was due and in arrears. Taking courage, he called forth, and soon had the bailiff safely corralled in the fields. But his success was only temporary. The bailiff's reinforcements soon had Harron a prisoner before the County Judge, who concluded that in the excitement of the moment, Harron had misinterpreted the statutes. His Honor held that this warrant was conclusive as to the rent being due.

In the judgment of the Court of Appeal given out yesterday, Harron's interpretation is upheld, the conviction by the County Judge quashed, and the prisoner ordered to be set at liberty. J. B. Rankin, K. C., for prisoner.—Toronto News.

FIREMEN'S BENEFIT

Everyone should attend the Fireman's benefit at the Grand to-morrow night. The attraction is the Colonial Moving Picture Company, and it promises to be a good performance. This company was here last year and everyone was delighted with their entertainment.

The proceeds from the concert will be devoted to paying the premiums on the accident insurance held by the firemen. This is a most worthy cause and it should be encouraged.

Each of the local firemen is insured for $1,000, and during the past year four of the men have been called upon to draw insurance money. In former years falls have been held to defray these premiums, but last year saw a change to a benefit attraction at the Grand.

A matinee will be held to-morrow afternoon and the school boards have granted the children of the city a half holiday in order that they may attend the matinee.

At the evening performance Barney Weiden will put on a couple of humorous specialties.

CHRISTIANS REVOLT

WAR IN MACEDONIA AGAINST TURKEY BEGINS IN EARNEST.

Twenty Thousand Under Arms, Led by Sarajoff, Under Direction of the Macedonian Committee—Insurgents Swear to Fight to the Last Ditch in the Fight for the Freedom of the Balkans.

The long expected Macedonian insurrection, after many starts, for which the insurgents paid heavy penalties, seems to be on in earnest. It is reported at Sofia that 10,000 Macedonians, divided into four bands, are operating in the vilayet of Monastir, where they have already scored several victories over the Turks, and that 10,000 more are in the field in the vicinity of Castoria. They are said to be well armed and provisioned, while the Turkish regulars sent to oppose them are disaffected and have been unpaid for months. The Sultan's intention to call out his irregular forces, with the probability of new massacres by the undisciplined Albanians, was met by a vigorous protest from the foreign representatives at Constantinople, and the Porte hastened to announce for the present that none but regular troops would be employed in crushing the insurrection.

Macedonia has been for centuries a thorn in the side of the "commander of the faithful." Turkey has sought in vain by every means except those of mercy to break the proud spirit of the Macedonian Christians. As the martyrs of the early church welcomed death by torture the Macedonians welcomed persecution, even massacre, "for the good of the cause." Their hope lies more in the intervention of the Christian powers than in their own armed assaults, and it is not until the powers in their behalf they count their sufferings but gain.

Several times in the recent past the powers intervened so far as to force the Sultan to promise reforms in Macedonia and demanded of the Macedonians that they keep quiet until the Turkish Government had an opportunity to put its promises into effect, but nothing but words has come of it all. This time, the leaders of the insurrection say, "nothing can end the revolution until our national aspirations are satisfied or those fighting to attain them are exterminated."

The famous Macedonian committee, the genius of the present revolution, as of all other risings in Macedonia within the past decade, has its headquarters in Sofia. It was formed there in 1891. Something of the kind had existed before, but it was in that year that the people first began to prepare for a revolution. The committee has enormous power. Peasants in Bulgaria, Servia, Roumelia, Macedonia and Roumania are under tribute to it, and it has agents all through the world. For a Macedonian to become known as a member of the Macedonian committee means certain death, but the committee's agents inside the danger line are as active as they are in Bulgaria, where they are countenanced, if not assisted, by the authorities. Some time ago, when the Macedonian members of the committee had accumulated so large a supply of arms as to attract the attention of the Sultan's spies, 8,000 Macedonians were cast into prison. Only half that number has emerged. What became of the rest is easily guessed.

The present head of the central committee is General Michailowsky. He is a man of energy and ability and at the same time enough of a diplomat to keep out of needless trouble, unlike his predecessor, Boris Sarajoff, the most picturesque figure in the Balkan drama, was too strenuous for the committee, and his methods were so aggressive that Prince Ferdinand, under pressure from Russia and Austria, was forced to procure his removal.

After his deposition as head of the central committee Sarajoff retained an active part in the workings of the revolutionary conspiracy, going into the enemy's country to arouse enthusiasm and recruits, and he is believed to be in command of the insurgent army in the vilayet of Monastir.

Sarajoff was born of Bulgarian parents in a Turkish village of unpronounceable name, where his ancestors had lived for 200 years and where they were always engaged in insurrections, so that his hatred for the Turks is hereditary.

He has made the most careful study of the country in which he has planned to carry on his war against the Mohammedans, and it is said that there is not a bypath in Macedonia which he does not know. He has from time to time gathered about him bands larger or smaller and has made many successful raids into the Sultan's territory, but the insurrection which has now begun is his greatest attempt, for which all his previous work has been the preparation. A little over thirty, his dream is to capture Constantinople and dethrone the Sultan, making himself dictator of an independent Macedonia.

Macedonia, with its almost impenetrable hills, full of natural fortresses, is an ideal country for the sort of irregular warfare which the out-surgents wage, and whatever the outcome of the present combat Turkey must suffer. To rush down from a mountain fastness, wipe out a Turkish village and get safely back to port before the Turkish regulars are anywhere in sight is a feat which Boris Sarajoff has more than once accomplished.

The insurgents are accused by more disinterested critics than the Turks of being bandits, and it is not to be denied that some of their tactics closely approach those of the brigand, but in a country where might makes right the immorality of brigandage is not a burning question.

Macedonia, the birthplace of Alexander the Great, has had a glorious and bloody history, and though its name is now only a figurative appeal to the foreign representatives at Constantinople, and the Porte hastened to announce for the present that none but regular troops would be employed in crushing the insurrection.

LORENZO PEROSI.

The Talented Priest-Composer Discovered by Pius X.

Among the notable deeds of Pope Pius X. was his discovery some years ago of a rare musical genius among the priests of Venice. Lorenzo Perosi sprang into fame in 1899 when he was hailed as "the Wagner of church music." His "Resurrection of Christ," the fourth of his oratorios, was heard at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York in 1899 and had already delighted the critical audiences of the continent.

LORENZO PEROSI.

Perosi was born at Fortuna in 1872. He inherited musical talent as a youth won distinction as a pianist, organist and composer. His own preferences led him to the priesthood, and he put aside a musical professorship to assume the ecclesiastical habit at Venice.

Cardinal Sarto interested himself in the priest-composer and when he had produced his first oratorio, "The Passion of Christ," launched him among the music lovers of Venice as a new star in the firmament of song. Perosi is small of stature and insignificant in appearance except when inspired by music. As a conductor he becomes very excited and is more acceptable to the audience in that role than to the musicians he leads.

Redmond and the Peers.

William Redmond's humorous and pointed interjections are becoming quite a feature of Parliamentary life. The House of Commons was favored recently with another laughable interruption from Mr. Redmond. Just before the House adjourned an Irish member managed to move the second reading of the "Town Tenants Bill."

Thereupon a member rose to speak upon the bill. The member succeeded in speaking for many minutes without saying anything, much to the disappointment of the Irish members, and started to conclude his remarks with the words, "For these reasons, Mr. Speaker," when Mr. Redmond interrupted, and a roar of laughter, with "They ought to send you to the House of Lords."

Spilled a Fugitive.

The Bishop of Manchester, whose fighting speeches in the House of Lords on the Education Bill were so much commented on, was in his youth a skilful boxer. He tells a tale of how, when he was young, he had a cousin at Harrow, a sixth form boy, who prided himself very much on his boxing. The bishop was persuaded by the lad to put on the gloves and test his skill. The result of the contest was that the Harrowian was soon vanquished, when he remarked admiringly: "It is a pity you are a parson; you would have done for the ring."

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

The most timid men will take any chance of escape. The blessed rope dropped down the precipice, the alpinist log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety, for the means to that end.

There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose hollow cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians—"There is no cure possible." Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what has cured thousands of suffering men and women?

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave today," writes Mr. James M. Hill, of Hillman, Minn. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up all the time, both day and night. My friends took Dr. Pierce's favorite prescription and it had helped me so much I decided to try a little of his 'Golden Medical Discovery'—which I did. I have taken four bottles and now I feel like a new man. Thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.

Cricket in Canada.

There are in Canadian cricket no "grates." Every cricketer has to pay his own expenses, and the expenses have a way of mounting up. There are so many other sports that can be used to fill in the gap end of an afternoon that it is hardly likely that the good old game will ever become very strong in this country, writes Day by Day in Toronto News.

And yet Canada has turned out some players who, were they to live in England, would be very near being in the first flight. In 1887 when Mr. G. G. S. Lindsay took across the water an eleven of Canadian gentlemen, the English authorities on the game pronounced D. W. Saunders the equal of any amateur wicket-keeper in the country. W. W. Jones, Dr. E. R. Ogden, W. A. Henry of Halifax, and R. B. Perda, of Hamilton, were all worthy of high places in English cricket. Few of them have much time for the game nowadays, but the youngsters who are coming up are worthy successors to them.

Reposefulness is a prime characteristic of cricket, but the game teaches good many things that are desirable. It is good for a man or boy to know how to lose gracefully; to accept defeat undismayed or victory modestly. There is lacking in cricket the strenuousness which we find in other sports, but also are wanting the bad temper and the desire to win at any cost which mar, sometimes other field games.

Substitutes of London English.

At the Southwark coroner's court the coroner, having concluded the evidence in an inquest, suggested that the jury should return a verdict of "death by misadventure."

The Foreman—We agree to a verdict of accidental death, that's the same thing.

The Foreman—Oh, no, Mr. Coroner.

The Coroner—What is the difference?

The Foreman—Well, you see, these things get into the newspapers, and when people read a verdict of "misadventure" they will conclude that the deceased was killed in a squabble, seeing that it happened at a public house.

The Coroner—And does "accidental death" mean anything different in the minds of the people you refer to?

The Foreman—Yes, sir. An accident is an accident, and no one teaches the deceased, but misadventure makes people think he got shot or hanged. We'll have it accidental death if it's all the same to you, Mr. Coroner.

Eventually the coroner said that he did not see where the misunderstanding could arise, but the jury knelt in the matter—St. James Gazette.

A FINE PRODUCTION.

Miss Sadie Martinot, supported by a strong and artistic company, presented P. Mero's great society drama, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," to a splendid house at the Grand last evening.

Everybody was delighted with the production. It was a thoroughly artistic presentation, splendidly staged by a company of clever actors. Miss Martinot herself was exquisite and received repeated curtain calls.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

At the Chatham Grand:

Firemen's Benefit—Oct. 29.
Over Niagara Falls—Oct. 30.
"Powell"—Oct. 31.

(Supplied to The Planet by Press Agents.)

Be sure and go to see "Powell," the distinguished illusionist, and his excellent company, headed by Zazzell and Vernon. They will appear at the Grand on Saturday, Oct. 31st. "Powell" has just returned from his most successful tour of Australia and the Orient. He played all the principal music halls of London, Paris, Buenos Aires, where he met with the most flattering success. Investigation with Mr. Powell is a fine art, and more unique and bewildering than anything of the kind ever before presented before an American public. His illusions are truly marvelous. Keeping every member of his audience in a state of intense surprise and profound wonderment. Zazzell and Vernon come direct from European triumphs in their characteristic pantomime production, "Robert Macaire," bringing with them new and beautiful costumes and trick scenery. This act has proven a decided success in all the large cities where they have been headliners in all the principal vaudeville houses. There are other new and novel acts too numerous to mention which will aid in keeping the audience in a continuous uppour of laughter.

CHARM OF DAMASCUS

City to Which Paul Journeyed Still Retains Most of Its Ancient Habits and Appearance.

To Damascus belongs the peculiar charm of being the most unspoiled of any Oriental town that the ordinary traveler to the East has the opportunity of seeing. It has indeed a huge hotel, an ugly barracks, and a railway station, but those lie far from the heart of the city and are soon forgotten in the labyrinth of its bazaars, the novelty of its purely native houses and streets, and the kaleidoscopic changes and groupings of its manifold Eastern costumes. The tiny railway is indeed a great advantage to travelers, and most will consider the hotel the same. The train from Beyrout or the most easy-minded, contented little creature we have had the pleasure of traveling upon. In its leisurely course dwellers by the roadside are able to exchange remarks with passengers at the carriages, have a promenade on the platform, and discuss the last news from Beyrout or Damascus. But one does not grudge the time spent in drawing one up to ever lovelier views of the rich sea-coast, washed by the deep-blue waters of the Mediterranean, or in threading the hoary fastnesses of the Lebanon.

The chief lion of Damascus is of course the ancient Christian Church, supposed to stand on the site of the House of Rimmon, and now a Mohammedan mosque. The mosque has three minarets, the one to the left being called "The Jesus" because the Mahomedans say the Lord will alight upon it when He comes to judge the world.

Through the midst of the town stretches "the street which is called Straight," running under its long arch like a railway tunnel from east to west. Towards its eastern end the Jews have still their quarter, and there the blind, restless Saul, with the fierce fires of his fervid temperament at white heat, and healed by the humble Ananias. The eye wanders enchanted over the variegated and novel scene that is spread out below the roofs, some flat, some rounded in quaint domes, the secluded courtyards, the lovely minarets, the old castle to the right (successor of that kept by the Governor under Aretas, the King in the days of Paul), the wealth of green foliage girdling the grey old town, or away in the distance the low hills of the sandy desert, the mountains of Lebanon, and the dazzling snow summit of Mount Hermon rising to kiss the deep blue of the Syrian sky.

The Bust Form.

Any woman who has much sewing done at home will find it greatly simplified if she adopts my plan. Fit a waist lining of some strong material and take it to any store where covered wooden bust forms are sold. Get one to fit the lining as near as possible, and when it comes home put the lining on it and pad out all deficiencies with cotton, and then sew up. In this way one can have an exact duplicate of one's own figure on which to fit and drape, and that fitting part of the work will then be diminished to the greatest possible degree. It is an excellent plan and works splendidly.

AT LIFE'S EVENING.

To those well along in years there comes, according to the condition of the system, their measure of ills and suffering. Some are young at 70, while others are old at 40.

Elderly people who once use Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill find that it has marvelous power to relieve them of the troubles that nothing else will shake off, especially backache, constipation, appetite, and indigestion. If Anti-Pill is used upon taking cold, the aches and pains that usually follow will be avoided. To prove this, send to "Winnipeg-Exe Co., Niagara Falls, Ont., for a free sample. Anti-Pill is sold by druggists at 50 cents a box.

Meats are especially susceptible to impurities while being roasted—their rich flavor is retained only when the oven is pure.

Aerated Ovens Breath Fresh Air.

By an ingenious arrangement applied only to the Souvenir, fresh air is made to circulate freely and everything impure, including odors from cooking food is driven out of the oven and up the chimney—not into the room.

The Aerated principle is the only one that actually ventilates the oven.

FELL INTO WHEEL PIT.

Four Men Killed and two Injured at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 28.—One of the most serious accidents that have occurred on the power works since their commencement occurred yesterday. Four men are dead and two injured. The dead are Geo. Hiller of this city, and three Hungarians. The foreigners are known on the works only by number, and it is impossible to ascertain their names. Hiller is a well-known young man who lived with his widowed mother on Simcoe street. He had been on the power works only a short time.

The scene of the accident was the wheel pit of the Canadian Niagara Power Company, which is being put down by Dawson & Riley of St. Catharines. At 7 o'clock this morning the men were going down into the pit to work as usual. Five Hungarians and Hiller got into the skip and were lowered by the steam crane. Hiller was a pumpman and the skip was to let him off at the staging 50 from the bottom of the pit. The skip was attached to the hoisting rigging by a steel cable at the back and a chain in front. When the skip rested on the platform the chain became unhooked. When the engine was started the back of the skip was pulled up and the men slid out and fell to the floor of the pit, 50 feet below. One man clung to the rigging and was drawn up with a broken arm.

BOY KILLED AT DOON.

John Gerlick Drawn Into a Card Machine.

Galt, Oct. 28.—John Gerlick, aged fifteen, was the victim of a fatal accident in Perine's woolen mills, Doon, Monday afternoon. He was engaged in cleaning one of the card machines when his coat was caught in the revolving cylinder, which is filled with sharp points of steel. He was drawn into the pickers, and before the machinery could be stopped his body was badly mutilated. When taken from the machine he was quite dead and one arm had been pulled completely off. The accident was witnessed by two men who were powerless to prevent it.

HIS EYE TORN OUT.

Painful Accident to Clarence McDonald at Galt.

Galt, Oct. 28.—Clarence McDonald, aged seventeen, an employee of the Victoria Wheel Works, had his right eye torn from its socket yesterday by a projection on the driving belt of a machine which he was running. There is a possibility of his losing the sight of the other eye as well.

RUN ON ST. LOUIS BANKS.

Baseless Rumors Startled Many Depositors.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—From about 1 o'clock until 2 o'clock this morning, runs were made on the savings departments of three banks of St. Louis, and at the same time more than the ordinary amount of withdrawals by savings depositors were noticeable in the other banks of the city. The run, as it can be traced, was started by a rumor from outside the city to the effect that the savings industry of St. Louis was in a bad way. Depositors rushed to the Lincoln Trust Company, the Mercantile Trust Company and the Mississippi Valley Trust Company to withdraw their money. Bank officials and the police sought to quiet the fears of all three institutions. It is stated that the rumor that started the run came from Chicago, and was to the effect that two directors of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company had recently endeavored to negotiate a loan of $200,000 in that city, and had been refused. This rumor is pronounced a canard. The depositors to-day were paid as rapidly as money could be handled. At the Missouri Trust Company a number of depositors had collected their demand payment, but the crowd soon thinned out and before 3 o'clock the incident run had subsided. The different national banks assembled and issued a statement in which they announced that the banks of St. Louis are all perfectly solvent. All the banks closed at 3 o'clock and announcement was made that they will open to-day at their usual hour and will meet all demands.

C. P. R. ENGINEERS' PAY.

Conference With the Company to be Held at Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 28.—A committee representing the engineers of the entire system of the C. P. R. will hold a conference with Mr. D. McNicoll, the General Manager, on November 3, to discuss a scale of wages, which has already been presented. Both the company and members of the committee say that there is little likelihood of a strike. Mr. A. Kennedy, Chairman of the committee, says that increases have been asked for, but no general increases. The demands have reference to locality. Where living is comparatively cheap the demand will be slightly where it is dear there will be something more asked for. The range will be from 15 to 25 per cent. The new conciliation bill had nothing to do with the present demands. What brought the thing to a head was the introduction of the big consolidated engines on the road. The engines do almost twice as much work as the smaller ones, but they require twice as much attention.

Ontario W. C. T. U. Convention.

St. Thomas, Oct. 28.—The 26th annual convention of the Ontario W. C. T. U. is at present in session in the Central Methodist Church, St. Thomas. The opening meeting was held at 9.30 yesterday. The President, Mrs. McKee of Barrie, opened the meeting with a Scripture lesson and devotional exercises.

RED DEER MURDER.

Ernest Cashel Found Guilty at Calgary.

Calgary, N.W.T., Oct. 27.—The trial of Ernest Cashel for the murder of Isaac Rufus Belt, rancher, at Red Deer last fall, concluded. The prisoner was found guilty. The jury was out 35 minutes. Cashel was sentenced by Chief Justice Sifton to be hanged on December 15. The trial lasted eight days. The judge's charge was strongly against the prisoner. The doomed man's widowed mother owns a ranch near Red Deer, whither she had come from Kansas a few years ago. Last fall the prisoner started out forging checks and stealing horses. In attempting to escape, he wound up at Belt's, who was living alone, and after Cashel went away Belt could not be found, but his body was discovered three months after in the Red Deer River, with a bullet in his head. Cashel in the meantime was found guilty of stealing horses, and sentenced for two years to the Stony Mountain Penitentiary. He was brought from there to stand his trial for murder. The evidence of the Crown was a complete network of circumstantial evidence, which entered the place for years. A fellow-prisoner indicated a confession. No evidence was offered by the prisoner. In answer to questions by the judge before sentence, he said he could read and write, was temperate, and 21 years of age. He took the sentence coolly. A hanging in Calgary had not taken place for years. After the sentence was passed the prisoner was handcuffed and taken to jail under the escort of four policemen.

HON. MR. BLAKE'S HEALTH.

Writes From Florence that He Must Continue to Rest.

London, Oct. 28.—The Irish friends of Hon. Edward Blake take a serious view of his condition. He is suffering from nervous breakdown, and has written from Florence to the Longford fellow-prisoners, indicating a confession. No evidence was offered by the prisoner. In answer to questions by the judge before sentence, he said he could read and write, was temperate, and 21 years of age. He took the sentence coolly. A hanging in Calgary had not taken place for years. After the sentence was passed the prisoner was handcuffed and taken to jail under the escort of four policemen.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT.

Finlay McLeod of Sarawak Probably Fatally Wounded.

Owen Sound, Oct. 28.—Finlay McLeod, a young man 25 years of age, was shot yesterday afternoon in Sarawak, eight miles from this town, and is now lying at death's door. He was out hunting partridges with a young friend named McAllister. The latter was walking behind McLeod, and when passing through a thicket his gun was accidentally discharged. The charge entered McLeod's body between the hips, at the abdominal cavity, just passing the spinal cord. The victim was still alive last night, but his case is critical, and the physicians hold out little hope of recovery. McLeod was a widower, whose wife died three years ago, leaving a daughter.

Rye—The market continues firm. Two hundred bushels sold at 50c per bushel.

Eggs—There were not many offerings, but the demand for good stock continues good and prices have a firm feeling at 30c to 32c per dozen.

Poultry—The cool weather is improving the demand for poultry in all lines. Today's receipts were light and trade was quiet. Quotations hold steady to firm at 10c to 12c per pound for chickens, 8c to 9c for fowls, 10c to 12c for ducks, 7c to 8c for geese, and 10c to 12c for turkeys.

Hay—About 30 loads were on the market. No. 1 timothy sold at $10 to $11.50 per ton, mixed or clover at $8 to $9. Straw—One load sold at $1.25 per ton.

Toronto Live Stock.

There was a slightly heavier tone to the trade at the Western Cattle Market this morning, and prices here and there had an easier feeling. This was not generally sufficient to make much of a change in quotations, but at quoted figures trade was inclined to be slow. There was a scarcely generally of really good cattle, but the offerings of common to medium grades were fairly large. The total run was 78 cars, comprising 1,223 cattle, 1,343 sheep and lambs, 1,273 hogs, and 48 calves.

Export Cattle—A few loads of moderately good cattle were on the market, but there were none that could be called extra choice. The demand all round was fairly good, and nearly everything offering was sold. Extra choice cattle are quotable at $4.40 to $4.60 per cwt. ordinary choice at $4.25 to $4.40, others at $4.10 to $4.25. Cows are about steady at $2.40 to $3.

Butcher Cattle—Trade for the better class of cattle was fair, while the inferior stock were slow of sale and the best kinds were scarce. Trade was not very active in any line, but by the end of the day nearly everything had been cleared up. Picked lots ran at about $1.20 to $1.40, good cattle at $1.35 to $1.50, fair to good at $1.30 to $1.50, rough to common $2.00 to $2.50, and cows at $2.50 to $3.50.

Stocks and Feeders—The demand for these cattle is falling off, especially in the case of feeders, as the buyers here are pretty well filled up. Trade was inclined to be dull and prices for stockers were about at $2.25 to $2.50 for the best, $2.50 to $3 for light, $2 to $2.50 for common, and $1.75 to $2.50 for light bulls. Feeders are quoted about steady at $3.50 to $3.70 for short-keepers, $3.25 to $3.50 for mediums, $2.50 to $3.25 for bulls, and $2.25 to $2.50 for common to rough.

Milk Cows—The run was not large and prices ranged about steady at $30 to $35 each.

Calves—There was a fair number offering, and all were sold. Prices are steady at 4c to 5c per pound, and $2 to $10 each.

Sheep and Lambs—Trade in lambs was good, and the market had a firmer tone. They are quoted 1c to 2c per cwt. better at $2.50 to $3.50 per cwt. Sheep were steady at $2.50 to $3.50 per cwt for exporters, and $2 to $3 for culls. Everything was sold.

Hogs—The run was fairly large, but the market was slow and prices are steady at 5c per cwt for select and $3.15 for lights and fats.

Montreal Live Stock.

Montreal, Oct. 27.—At the Montreal Stock Yards at Point St. Charles this morning the receipts of live stock for local consumption were 600 cattle, 600 sheep, 800 lambs and 400 hogs. Owing to the increased supply of cattle, which in quality consisted chiefly of medium grades, only the tone of the market was weaker, and the price showed a decline of fully 1c to 2c per lb. since last Monday. The demand was good at the production in prices and an active trade was done. The best beefers sold at 25c to 30c, fairly good at 20c to 25c, medium at 15c to 20c and lower grades at 10c to 15c per lb. In sheep and lambs the feeling was steady and a fairly active trade was done. Sheep sold at 3c to 4c and lambs at 3c to 4c per lb. There was no change in the market for live hogs. The supply was small, for which the demand was good and sales were made at 25c per lb.

PURITY.

LAGER BEER

"The Beer That is Brewed in Glass"

Lager Beer made in an impure cellar or imperfect vat becomes infected, is unhealthful, and liable to cause headache, sour stomach, and bowel trouble, and, as it will not keep, unprincipled brewers use preservatives to prevent its getting worse and the consumer has to suffer for it.

In Munich, supposed to be the home of Lager Beer, glass-lined steel tanks are rapidly superseding the wooden ones. This is done because they are thoroughly convinced of the bad effects arising from the use of wooden fermentation tanks.

In olden times Lager Beer was fermented and stored in underground cellars and left in damp, moldy cellars to acquire "AGE" but all the time it was gathering bacteria and other wild ferment. Now, in a modern brewery, Lager Beer is brewed in glass, in the light, remains above ground and is watched carefully from the moment it leaves the kettle until it reaches the consumer. Frequent analysis has proven its superiority over beer made in the old way, and any one with the least judgment can see that it must be purer and more wholesome.
