MUCH EASIER IS FEELING OVER ULSTER TO-DAY

Premier Asquith's Declaration Has a Quietening Effect.

Resignation of Officers Was Generally Misinterpreted.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, March 23.—A much easier feeling has been created in the British Isles by the reassuring statement given out by Premier Asquith in regard to the movements of troops in Ulster, which he said had been made only as a precautionary measure and for the protection of government property. The inference is generally drawn from the premier's remarks, that the government's intentions in respect to the army officers, who did not desire to serve against the Orangemen, had been misinterpreted. The public in all parts of the United Kingdom awaited calmly to-day the explanation of the Cabinet in the House of Commons, to which place the Irish controversy has been transferred. In some quarters there was an inclination to believe that General Sir Arthur Paget, commander in chief in Ireland, had placed a much greater interpretation upon the government's inquiries as to the feelings of army officers in the Irish garrisons than was intended. His presentation of an ultimatum to the officers that they must serve or resign, led it is now thought to their handing in their resignations.

Sir Arthur Paget always has taken a serious view of the threatened refusal of officers to serve in Ulster. It is understood that he followed his public warning to them by a private intimation that their resignations would not be quietly accepted by the war office.

MME. CAILLAUX TAKEN TO COURT

Strict Precaution Taken by Officers of the Law in Paris Case.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] PARIS, March 23.—The reappearance before the investigating magistrate of Madame Caillaux, assassin of Gaston Calmette, editor of The Figaro, again roused great interest in Paris to-day. She was taken from the Saint Lazare prison to the palace of justice in custody of a number of detectives, and strong guards were placed in the vicinity of the law courts to prevent demonstrations.

PARIS, March 23.—A serious row was said to be simmering to-day between the 800 women incarcerated in the Sainte Lazare prison, all of whom objected to the granting of so many privileges to Madame Caillaux. The punishment cells of the jail were reported to be filled with refractory prisoners, who continued to shriek protests against any discrimination being made.

Attorneys presenting a number of the prisoners awaiting trial in the penitentiary made representations to-day to the ministry of justice, demanding that the cells should be heated and that better food should be supplied to their clients.

"MOTHER" JONES ARRESTED WALSBERG, Colo., March 23.—After a week's freedom "Mother" Mary Jones is again a military prisoner in the coal miners' strike zone. The aged strike leader was taken from a southbound Colorado and Southern train to-day by Captain H. C. Nickerson and lodged in the county hospital under military guard.

ORANGEMEN'S RESOLUTIONS. FORT WILLIAM, Ont., March 23.—Two resolutions, one to Premier Asquith protesting against the Home Rule Bill, and the other to Sir Edward Carson congratulating him upon the stand he has taken, were sent by Fort William Orangemen to-day.

Voting is Very Light on By-Law

Voting on the by-law for the purchase of the street railway to-day brought out one of the quietest polls in the history of the city. The ratepayers of the city are not evincing the interest. Up till 12 o'clock only a handful in the by-law that was expected, of voters had cast their ballots, the factory men took occasion but at the noon hour a few to call at the polls and cast their vote.

The wish of the property-owners with regard to the proposed purchase is plainly shown by this indifference. Had they been against it there would have been a larger vote cast. The returning officers look for a larger vote this afternoon, as a number of the supporters of the by-law are endeavoring to get out voters in aid of it.

From every polling sub-division comes the report that voting is very quiet. In one sub-division, at 1.30 p.m., only 17 out of 76 voters had cast their ballots. At another, at 11 o'clock this morning, three ratepayers had voted. Indications point to the carrying of the by-law by a big majority. Though the voting is not heavy, a majority of those who have cast their ballots have expressed themselves in favor of the by-law.

SPECIAL REDRESS IS ASKED FOR ON TOLL ROAD

Mr. C. E. Atkinson Points Out Grievances Held by Some Farmers.

That the farmers resident on the Cocksbutt road for two miles beyond the toll gate are suffering from an injustice in the daily payment of tolls and that the County Council should give them a rebate on their taxes, was the statement made by Mr. C. E. Atkinson, a well-known resident of that district for many years to The Courier to-day.

"It costs every farmer from $30 to $300 a year to come to the city," said Mr. Atkinson, while farmers in other sections pay nothing. Our taxes are right up to the maximum and the use of the road is an extra tax besides and it is heavy one. Besides we do statute labor."

Mr. Atkinson said that representations would be made to the County Council for redress. It was his suggestion that by continuing tolls to the outsider from Norfolk, Tuscarora and rebating those who had to use the small stretch of toll road about two miles in length or else go around to the Mt. Pleasant road, some five miles, that a more equitable condition of affairs would be reached. He was well aware of the big financial problem involved in the abolition of toll roads, and for that reason he thought that some special consideration should be given to those farmers who were under a handicap.

Mr. Atkinson mentioned in support of his argument that he brought 30 head of cattle from Toronto, the freight cost him $19.00 and it cost him $1.20 to take the cattle two miles to the farm over the road.

Parliament To Sit Until June 1 Next

[By Special Wire to The Courier] OTTAWA, March 23.—From present indications there is little likelihood of the present session of parliament concluding before the first of June, or at best very late in May. The budget will be brought down next week, and is likely to entail lengthy discussion. The Opposition is said to be planning a particular onslaught on military expenditures. The N. T. R. debate will probably last a week, and there are many other measures, such as redistribution, the railway act, shipping act, cold storage act, and other government bills likely to prolong the session.

EXPENDITURE IS ON INCREASE--ESTIMATES FOR CIVIC WORK 1914

Estimate of Receipts and Expenditures Given To-day--General Increase All Round for Public Works--Items Are Given in Detail by City Treasurer.

As announced in The Courier Saturday, the tax rate this year will be 22 1-2 mills, a reduction of a half mill from 1913.

Civic estimates for this year show a total contemplated expenditure of $330,465, as compared with $472,579 last year, an advance of $66,886. The sum of $10,292 in connection with the above is on account of Hydro Electric. The amount will ultimately be refunded and appears on the revenue account as well.

Interest and Sinking Fund exclusive of Hydro Electric accounts for $13,000 additional caused by debentures for Waterworks, and city share of Local Improvement works. With reference to the waterworks there has been added, it should be mentioned, estimated increased receipts this year of $10,000.

All educational purposes, including a special rate of $2,000 for the Free Library, call for $12,000 additional, but in consequence of the increase in assessment the school rate will not be needed.

There is a charity increase of about $4,500 on account of Hospital, Refuge, Sanatorium and general relief.

The Parks and Board of Health show small increases.

For Justice, there is an advance of $2,000, portion payable to the County and an increase in police estimates.

Under general service there is an advance of $23,600. The principal item is street lighting $13,000. This represents about three quarters on a dollar or about $1.50 per annum on the average. As Hydro has cut private rates in two, that item should not be begrudged, especially as our streets are properly illuminated.

The Board of Works estimates are $3,000 higher and Fire Department $2,800 with $1,000 for the renovation of the fire alarm system.

Police Officers Vigilant Arrests Were Effectuated

Young Hamilton Man Came to City Saturday Night And Was Caught at Local Hotel--In Police Court.

Sergeant Donnelly caused not a little consternation when he made his appearance in Room No. 57 of Kerby House at 12.30 on Saturday night. So unexpected was his entrance that he surprised the occupant, James Handel of Hamilton, in a rather unprepared condition, and had not been in the room long before a young lady, who was then said to be Handel's wife, came into the room. She was partially undressed and the officer questioned them. She claimed that the man was her husband, and he for a while upheld this statement, and then seeing the game was up, made a clean breast of all. Further investigation revealed the fact that another young lady was in an adjoining room, and the sergeant then proceeded to bring the parties within the law of respectability and escorted them to the police station.

It was transpired that the girls had met the man on the way up to Brantford on the radial. An acquaintance of the man and sharing their misfortunes at this end of the line Handel offered to see them safely installed at his hotel, as it was very late and the ladies would have had to travel a considerable distance home. They got rooms 27 and 29 at the Kerby and were registered as man and wife and also another married lady.

The manager got suspicious, phoned the police and Sergeant Donnelly made his dramatic appearance, which the magistrate afterwards said had probably prevented a young girl from entering the path of ruin.

Sergeant Donnelly, before the magistrate, testified that he went down to the hotel and there went to room 57 where he found Handel. Shortly after his advent, a young lady entered the room and he questioned the parties. She asserted that they were man and wife, and soon after the man said he would tell the truth, and he said they were not married, but no harm was intended. They were just having some fun. He had helped the girls out after they had arrived here, and had obtained a room for them at the hotel. Upon hearing this he made the arrests.

One of the parents said he lived in the city, and the elder defendant was his daughter. His daughter had not lived with him for 12 months. She left to go to service in Hamilton. He had invited her home to spend the week-end, and she had said by letter that she would come, and was bringing a friend. He was greatly surprised to find his daughter at the court in connection with the charge. He had not seen his daughter very often for the last year, and he was not precisely aware of what her reputation was, but he had never heard of her acting loosely. She had brought one or two articles in her valise for her mother and sister. She had not communicated with her family when she did arrive, and he was first aware of her presence when he heard of court proceedings.

Mr. Littlefield testified as to the arrival of the parties at his hotel, and did not know their way about the town and as it was late he suggested that they should put up at the Kerby, as they could not find their home at that time. They agreed, and he with them registered at the hotel as Mr. Ryan and wife of Toronto, as a joke.

It was simply a joke. Nothing had taken place at the hotel. He had gone to his room 57 and the girls went to 59. He had never known the girls much before only claimed a nodding acquaintance with them. Cross-examined by Crown Attorney Wilkes, he denied emphatically that he took the girls to the Kerby. They moral designs and he had told the girls that he was going to register as man and wife and that accounted for one of them proclaiming that he was her husband. She naturally thought he was going to get into trouble and looked up to this as the only way out of the trouble.

There was sufficient for four persons. A friend who was expected, had not arrived but if he had, he would have taken him into his room. He did not hire the room with the intention of taking any girls into his room. When the sergeant came into his room, he was preparing to go to bed and the girls were in their own room. Nothing had been intended, and nothing would have occurred. He registered under the name Ryan, meaning no harm. This was the first time he had ever done anything of this kind.

"Well," said the Magistrate, "I don't believe you and no sane person would. That is the way young girls go astray."

"This is an escapade of which you have no reason to be proud" he continued. "This is the first downward step with young girls. The next thing they will be out upon the streets." The facts of the case were very suspicious, but the Magistrate decided, as no harm had been effected defendant would be discharged. "You had better not try that kind of joke again" commented Magistrate Livingston.

The girls concerned, were the subjects of another charge, that of vagrancy, and they received a fatherly lecture from the magistrate. They both said it was the first time they had ever been in trouble. They

Drunken Man Walks Into Church; Offers Pastor a Drink

[By Special Wire to The Courier] TORONTO, March 23.—William H. Balfour staggered into the Berkeley Street Methodist Church last evening during the service, and on gaining a seat in the centre of the auditorium, stood up, waved a big bottle of whiskey in the air, and invited the pastor and the choir to have a drink.

"Come one, come all," yelled Balfour. The pastor stopped in the middle of a sentence and sat down. The congregation shifted and shuffled. Balfour continued his invitation and general discourse on the fruitlessness of church-going. Then the janitor got a policeman, who walked in and coaxed Balfour out. Service was resumed.

Misunderstanding Says The Premier Keynote of Explanation of Crisis in Ulster, and the Revolt of Several Officers.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, March 23.—"Misunderstanding" was the keynote of Premier Asquith's explanation of the crisis brought about by the resignations of army officers when their regiments were ordered to prepare to proceed to Ulster. In the House of Commons the Prime Minister made it clear that officers and men of the British army and navy refusing to obey in connection with the Home Rule for Ireland, were liable to dismissal.

Details of the revolt of the army officers against service in Ulster had been awaited with strained expectation by the whole country. Only brief statements were forthcoming from the secretary for war and the Premier, and the gist of these was that the whole affair was due to "misunderstanding," and that all the officers had now returned to their duty.

As far as the ministers' statements can be interpreted, the "misunderstanding" arose through General Sir Arthur Paget placing a wrong construction on the orders given him by the war office and telling his subordinates they were to be employed in quelling an uprising in Ulster.

The number of officers who resigned their commissions and how widespread was the disaffection in the army and other details, were not disclosed.

Colonel Seely was derisively jeered during his explanation.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, had stated that "nothing could save the army now except a declaration that officers would not be compelled to engage in civil war against their wish."

He demanded more detail and when he said that officers refusing to serve against Ulster were only doing their duty the Labor members shouted: "How about strikes?"

The whole affair is generally accepted as demonstrating that the army cannot be counted upon to fight Sir Edward Carson's volunteers if such a contingency should arise. Opposition politicians declare this to be the collapse of the Home Rule project and express their belief that the government may soon relinquish office by its own choice.

ITALIAN ROW IN QUEEN CITY A Teacher Makes Complaint Against Editor of Paper in Toronto.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] TORONTO, March 23.—Scarfino Cherubino, teacher of Italian children in a separate school, magazine and newspaper writer, is seeking protection of the courts and claiming damages against La Tribuna Canadiana, an Italian paper published here, and those associated with or contributing to it. These are A. O. Castrucci, owner, who is also employed in the department of education; Enrico Corticelli, editor; Geo. H. Goerberham and E. W. J. Owens, member of the legislature representing South Toronto, who the plaintiff's statement of claim alleges, control the paper for political purposes and are its financial backers, and G. Bagnato, post office employee and author of a letter to La Tribuna.

Bagnato's letter and comment thereon by La Tribuna, the plaintiff alleges are to be interpreted as charging the plaintiff with being insane, as attempting to make him contemptible and regarded as unfit for association with Italian conferees and unfit to teach their children, and even suggesting his assassination, or for the Italian idiom is capable of the two constructions—confinement in an asylum. The plaintiff represents that he has suffered great damage, financially and otherwise, that the Italian people have turned against him, that he has been frequently threatened and warned, and is in danger of bodily and even assassination.

Last fall the plaintiff published an article "eloquently descriptive of the characteristics of the Italian people known to the public of this country, lauding the great predecessors of this race, and commenting on its degeneration and renaissance."

This brought forth a letter from Bagnato, criticizing Castrucci, warning him that he must not again revile the Italian people and concluding: "Believing you to possess the symptoms of mental alienation, the Italian colony may provide means whereby to put your mind aright."

LIKE BOLT FROM THE BLUE SKY SAYS LEADER

Ulster's Condition is Discussed in the House of Commons.

Aonar Law Charges Effort to Intimidate The North.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, March 23.—The interest in the disaffection in the army arising out of the newest phase of the Home Rule situation was displayed in the House of Commons this afternoon when the House was crowded to listen to a statement from Coy Seely, Secretary of State for War. The communication made by Colonel Seely was very brief and utterly vague. The gist of it was that some officers had informed General Sir Arthur Paget, commander-in-Chief in Ireland, that they could not serve in certain contingencies. There was, he said, a misunderstanding and these officers had been ordered to rejoin their regiments. The movement of troops, he concluded, was solely in order to protect the stores of government arms and ammunition.

Both Premier Asquith and Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, recognized the widespread anxiety for an exhaustive debate on the subject by agreeing to a motion for the adjournment of the house immediately after the secretary for war had spoken in order to discuss the Irish situation.

The leader of the opposition declared that the government's procedure was a most amazing instance of meddling with the House of Commons. The danger of the British army being destroyed before the "gunny" eyes, he said, came on the government like a bolt from the blue. He had declared received proof from other quarters apart from the cavalry regiments that resignation of officers had occurred.

Mr. Law then read a letter stating that officers who would not fight against the Ulstermen would be dismissed from the service.

The action of the government in moving troops, Mr. Law declared, was foolish as there was no new situation in Ulster nor any threatened outbreak.

The Opposition leader read a letter in which Gen. Sir Arthur Paget had stated that active operations were to begin against Ulster and that it was expected that the country would be ablaze by Saturday. The Irish commander-in-chief, wrote that he was in close communication with the War Office and had received instructions from headquarters. Mr. Law asserted

"It will be difficult for the Prime Minister to convince the House that with or without his knowledge some of his colleagues did not make these movements of troops as part of a concerted plan to provoke, intimidate Ulster."

Must Be Prepared. BELFAST, Ireland, March 23.—The capital of Ulster in which are the headquarters of the provincial government of the province is to-day perhaps the least excited city outwardly in the United Kingdom. No more troops have arrived here and none are expected while the residents look to London and Curragh Camp for their news.

The statement issued by Premier Asquith last night declaring that the movements of troops were of a purely precautionary character has not weakened the determination of the Unionists to be prepared for all eventualities. When Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Ulster men arrived here to-day, he remarked "The statement simply represents the position the Prime Minister has been driven to take. The government has put itself in a ludicrous position, but its action makes no difference to us. We are proceeding steadily with our preparations and organization. We are not in the least affected by anything the government may do or pretend to do. We shall keep steadily in view our main object which is to prevent ourselves being put by force under a government we detest."

Mr. Law asked whether General Hubert Gough, commander of the third cavalry brigade at the Curragh camp had been reinstated, and if so on what terms. He contended that officers refusing to undertake duty against Ulster should be permitted to resign instead of losing their pensions.

Nothing, declared Mr. Law, could save the army now but a clear declaration that officers of the army

GUNMEN MAKE A STATEMENT FROM DEATH CHAMBER

Allege That They Are to Die Unjustly in View of Becker's New Trial.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] NEW YORK, March 23.—Convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair in the week beginning April 13, the four gunmen in the Sing Sing death house, issued "a statement to the public" to-day. Alleging that they were left to die unjustly, while former Lieutenant Chas. Becker obtained a new trial, they had their counsel Charles G. F. Wahlte, give out their appeal for "justice" and "fair play," which they had already prepared when he visited them yesterday. They reiterate their innocence and charge Harry Vallon and 'Bridgey' Webber with the Rosenthal's murder.

"Lefty Louie" Rosenberg, 22 years old, the youngest of the four, wrote the statement in pen and ink in a clear, firm hand, and it was signed by the others through the heavy bars of their cells as the guard held it for them. "Dago Frank" Cirofici, added a statement of his own in pencil, controverting a particular point in the opinion of the court of appeals. The others who signed the document are Frank Muller, otherwise "Whitey Louis" and "Gyp the Blood," whose name is Harry Horowitz.

Official Report On the Killing

[By Special Wire to The Courier] WASHINGTON, March 23.—British Consul Perceval's official report of the killing of William Benson by General Villa at Juarez, received at the embassy here to-day, says: "No pistol shots were fired in the fight which ended in the ranchman's death," leaving the inference that he was stabbed.

Brave Mother Saves Children

MONTREAL, March 23 — Only through the heroism and presence of mind of their mother were the four little children of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Quimet of 703 Visitation street, saved from a terrible death last evening. An argument risked to herself while her husband was struggling with burning clothing, Mrs. Quimet climbed up an outside stairway, burst through windows and carried the four babes to safety, first getting two of them, and returning for the other two. While Mrs. Quimet was thus rescuing the four children, three other ones escaped through the front door, not content with this, Mrs. Quimet tried to go back into the flames to rescue her husband, but was prevented by the firemen who by this time had arrived and made short work of the blaze.

A solo by Miss Ariel Savage was followed by a paper on "What is Worth While," by Mrs. E. Alderson. This paper was an exceptionally good one, and showed careful preparation and research. A recitation by Miss Jessie Arnold, "Home Studies," and a solo by Mrs. Savage, "Our Home is where our heart is," were much enjoyed. A social time was spent, the hostess serving dainty refreshments. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Jull for her hospitality and the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. SUNDAY IN THE LOCAL CHURCHES

Inspiring Services Throughout City—Helpful Sermons.

SYDENHAM ST. METHODIST.
The services at Sydenham St. Methodist church yesterday were largely attended. In the morning Rev. Mr. Snyder took for his subject, "Lessons from the Life of Hon William Paterson." He gave a brief review of the early life of the deceased gentleman and paid a tribute to him, mentioning his many splendid qualities of mind and heart. In the evening the pastor took for his text the Ninth Commandment—"What about Gossip." He handled the subject in his usual vigorous and peculiar style, and made some very trite and practical comments on tale bearers and drew some very telling lessons from his subject. At the Brotherhood in the morning, Mr. Joseph Ham gave a very helpful talk on "Christian Citizenship." There was a good attendance of men, and the meeting was a helpful one. There were 224 present at the Sunday school.

MARLOBORO CHURCH.
Very helpful and interesting services were held last evening in Marlboro street church. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Richmond of Brant avenue church, who gave a splendid address from I. John, chapter 15 verses 16 and 17, "Love not the world and the things of the world." The speaker went on to describe the different sins which some people indulge in and warned his hearers against those sins which so easily beset them. God has a high destiny in view for us and if we wished to become instruments in His hands, we must shun the very appearance of evil. God cannot work through evil-doers, therefore, our lives must be pure even as God is pure.

First Rehearsal Great Success

About sixty young people met at the Collegiate Institute Friday night for their first rehearsal of "A Night in Dreamland." Director Wellington gave a description of the production and the interest increased with every artistic feature described. It is doubted if ever in the history of Brantford's local talent entertainments there has been so much interest right from the start as was expressed at the rehearsal of "A Night in Dreamland," Friday night. Not only by the young ladies and gentlemen who are to take part, but by the committee in charge and a number of visitors present. The production is certainly an ambitious enterprise for our local performers. The opening scene is a big pantomime act entitled "The Turk in everything." The act is much like what is being staged in "The Follies of 1913," and will certainly produce many a laugh. The location is a street scene in Brantford. The time is one of these days when everybody will be doing it. To the music of the ever present "Everybody's Doing It," various characters, like are seen on our streets, appear in raggy motion and the special business for the policeman, postman, nurse girls, preacher, Salvation Army member, suffragettes and twenty-five other characters will be very funny indeed. There are sixteen song numbers with attractive dances. Many novelty effects are in evidence and from Director Wellington's description of the production not a thing will be lacking that is necessary for the professional finish and tone of "A Night in Dreamland."

OXFORD ST. LADIES GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Very Successful Event Was Held at Marlborough St. Church Thursday Evening

The entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, took place on Thursday evening, in the Marlboro street church, which was crowded with this who were anxious to get a glimpse of the fair ones taking part in the programme.

The performers are all members of the Oxford St. Ladies' Aid Society. The meeting was called to order by President, Mrs. Anderson, who then gave way to those who were responsible for the entertainment. At this juncture, the ladies representing "A Ladies' Aid Meeting at Mowhawk Cross Roads," 20 in number made their appearance, which created a great deal of merriment and laughter.

It was a sight long to be remembered, the ladies dressed as in ye olden time, with hair powdered, while some enjoyed the distinction of having their hair frizzled or made up in a nice bob.

They quickly got down to business and soon made some humorous hits which caused some hearty laughter. At the close of the business meeting, tea was served, after which an excellent programme was given consisting of recitations, vocal and instrumental music. The numbers given were well received and encored, the artists gracefully responding in every instance; the entertainment was brought

HIGH PRICES AT RECENT SALES IN BRANT COUNTY

Thoroughbred Stock is in Great Demand All Over the Country.

Prices for cattle, horses, and other live stock have gone up considerably during the last few years, and recent sales of stock have borne this fact out without any doubt whatever. At a sale at the Oak Park stock farm last week horses in good condition brought anything between $200 and $1200. This is not very remarkable, as horses always will, when in good shape, command fair prices. At the same sale some great Shorthorns went for anything between $100 and $246. Ordinary milch cows brought good round sums above the average and as farm implements were sold at a splendid price, a total of $12,000 was realized upon this one farm. Yearlings which at one time could be bought for a snifter of $15, now cost between $50 and $96. On a little 100-acre farm, the property of Mr. Patterson, $17,000 was realized. This included all stock and implements and shows the upward tendency of the present times.
At a sale conducted by Mr. Welby Almas last week fifty head of cattle were for sale and twenty of these were young, some not ten days old, and the sum of $13,750 was realized. One fine milch cow brought the small fortune of $705, and she has since given her owner 36 lbs. 5 ounces of butter in one week. This is a splendid quantity to produce and the new owner is satisfied that the cow was worth the tall price. Another pure bred, with two calves, not a week old was sold for $1,120 each calf bringing the owner the sum of $240. An old farmer standing by gasped in astonishment and said they could not make a paying proposition at such a price. He was staggered to see a prize winning cow go for $680 a head.
A short while ago at Vanessa, eight head of cattle, three of them being calves, brought $1,700. In every direction a rise in price is evident and this applies to almost all kinds of stock, but particularly so to cattle. The reason is not hard to find. There is a shortage of cattle. Farmers are not breeding them to any great extent and the present shortage is likely to last for many years, and the price meanwhile will remain high.
The leather supply cannot cope with the demands, and breeders are, to say the least, lackadaisical. It was suggested that it would pay a farmer to breed cattle extensively and exclusively, but the farmers seem to shirk the responsibility of raising such a number and the scarcity exists. Beef as a palatable eatable is greatly in demand but many have to pay a high price because of the exportation of the same. The spring will see a brisk business done in cattle, but it will not see any reduction in prices. These are fixed to go anyway but down, during the next decade.

INTERESTED LISTENERS

The woman who is tired and nervous should remember one thing of big importance, and that is that she should not talk too much.
Truly it has been said there is no one clever or witty enough to talk all the time and be interesting and pretty to gaze upon.
The continuous chipping performance on anyone's part is anything but bewitching.
It is not enough to talk well. One should also know when to be silent and listen intently.
Who doesn't love those few creatures who are not only willing to listen, but who are willing to appear interested.
According to Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, the noted writer and feminist, there are six kinds of love: Gratitude for benefits received; friendship, based on sympathy; admiration which represents a sort of adoration or worship; usage, including love of home and country; and sex attraction, which merges into the greatest of all loves, and benevolence which desires to serve and to do good.

THE IRISH SITUATION.

Once more Ireland is the stormy petrel in connection with British affairs, as indeed she always seems destined to be. That the men and the women of Ulster are grimly determined to resist any form of Home Rule is now more apparent than ever and on top of this there has come the deeply significant fact of the resignation of a large number of officers of the regular forces, rather than serve against Ulster forces, should such be brought into action.

Meanwhile, the position of the Asquith Government is most perilous. They are pledged to the passage of Home Rule before the holding of a general election. If they abandon that plan, their administration will be stultified; if they persist, civil war will almost certainly result with many defections of officers and men in the army ranks.

These Americans are all expert and successful irrigationists. They took to Alberta not only a plenitude of chattels and coin of the realm, but, more important, the knowledge and skill necessary to make the most of what that fertile region offers to the posted agriculturist.

There were nearly twenty robust families in this interesting caravan. As they traveled toward their destination the towns and villages en route turned out en masse to give them joyous greeting, and when they reached their goal—Bassano—they were received enthusiastically by the citizens.

When Speaker Champ Clark and other anti-Canadians hear of this fresh exodus of American manhood and money, they will probably have further qualms as to the future of the Republic. But they are so much in the minority as to be negligible.

Canada's great West is being populated by settlers from all lands, and all decent immigrants are given the "glad hand." But our neighbors have an excusable liking for the settler who can "take hold" from the start—who needs no instruction in the art of soil-tilling, which is the predominant art of the Prairie Provinces.

Russia last year nearly doubled its production of hops over the figures for the previous year. A reinforced concrete silo 62 feet high and 16 feet in diameter is a novelty on an Illinois farm.

KEEPING OUT THE PRESS

In connection with a recent deplorable case in Hamilton, reporters of the papers there were rigidly excluded from the police court hearing. The girls involved were brought to the building heavily veiled and their names and identities were absolutely concealed.

"Will the press be allowed in at the hearing of the case when James Gow and A. B. McKay come up for trial in the high court?" Mr. Washington, the Crown Attorney, this question was put.

"The press should never be allowed to hear any cases of this kind, and it is only because the magistrate had never before realized that the press is part of the public that the reporters have been allowed in. I have always asked that the press be excluded from such cases, but I never wanted to raise a fight right in the court room. However, in future, I will see that the press is excluded from all such cases."

"Isn't it funny that the plan should go into operation in this case?" he was asked. "Are the girls wealthy?" he asked.

"No, they are not. They are poor working girls, servants, orphans and everything else, and one poor girl has been fired from her job already because of this case."

On top of the requests of the Canadian Northern Railway for more substantial aid from the Dominion, running into the millions with regard to bond guarantees, the Grand Trunk Pacific people are now asking for another $15,000,000. They claim that the same is really covered under the contract with the late Administration.

The undoubted truth is that both these are legacies from the Laurier government which rushed pell mell into anything and everything without due consideration.

After the votes are counted this evening it will be found to be a case of trolley la to a privately owned street car road.

The Toronto Globe calls Hon. Mr. Hanna a "pussy-foot." For force of expression and tenacity of argument this must be regarded as quite in the Globe's most intelligent form.

THE DIARY OF MRS. WEAVER

Her Experience Was a Very Sad One—Never Again For Martha.

Do not judge from mere appearances, for the light laughter that bubbles on the lip often mantles over the depth of sadness, and the serious looks may be the sober veil that covers a divine peace and joy.

Assuming the above to be true, we will proceed to tear a page from the life diary of Mrs. Weaver and present it to our readers.

"What am I going to do about that new suit I must have?" said Martha Weaver to her husband as he came in from work one evening.

"Well, what do you want to do—run into the city and get you a suit?" asked John.

"Yes, I could do that, but I am almost afraid to risk it. Still, the styles appear to be good, and the prices quoted seem reasonable."

At last it came—express bill and all—and eagerly the box was opened and the suit laid on the bed for inspection. It did not quite measure up to the proportions of the picture in the catalogue.

The longer Martha had the suit the more numerous and pronounced became its defects, until at last her pride rebelled, and she refused longer to wear the miserable parody.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver held a consultation, after which Mrs. Weaver declared that never again in her life would she buy anything from a picture or from a catalogue house.

TRIBUTES PAID TO THE LIFE OF THE LATE WM. PATERSON

At Park Baptist Church Sunday - Life Long Friend Gives Testimony.

At the memorial service last night the Rev. C. W. Rose supported by Mr. W. Whittaker and Mr. C. Tapscott paid tribute to the life of the late Hon. William Paterson.

The remarks of Rev. Mr. Rose were as follows: "We have gathered in this memorial service to offer our thanks to Almighty God for His gift to this country of William Paterson, Christian statesman and true defender of the faith, His death has released him from party and creed and given him to all Canadians. While he lived he was thought of almost entirely in connection with one company of nation builders and one body of Christian people. The day he died his influence expanded and he became the possession of all. Because of this common ownership in a great and good man, Canadians from sea to sea view with each other in weaving their garlands of loving homage with which to crown his sacred memory. To-night we seek in this great congregation to honor one who for many years honored his home, city, church and country. If he could speak he would urge us to refrain from praise, and bid us rather to crown virtue, and to extol fidelity, and to look away to the ideal character, Christ himself."

"That he was a good man as well as an able statesman is the feeling everywhere expressed. Of him as of one who lived many years before it could be truthfully said, 'He lies in a good old age full of riches and honor, he served his day and generation well.' Through his long life he imparted elements of strength and stability to representative government. He never sold his power; nor prostituted his gifts nor privileges for selfish purposes. His long life is one ringing rebuke to all who trifle or trample upon the sacred trusts of the people. His friends and colleagues are assured that whatever record of his past may come to light that there will be nothing to do him dishonor. "He is gone who seemed so great. Gone, but nothing can bereave him of the force he made his own. Being here, and we believe him something far advanced in state. And that he wears a truer crown Than any wreath that man can weave him."

More Trouble With Musicians

Mr. A. J. Locksley is Asked For an Apology by The Union

The following letter explains itself: To the Editor of the Courier: Sir,—Since my explanation of the situation of the Y. M. C. A. orchestra appeared in your columns, I have answered the charge laid against me by the executive board of the Musicians Union, and have received the enclosed letter which I submit for your perusal. I did not intend to bring the matter up again, but since an apology is requested from me, I am at a loss to see where such is necessary. The remarks contained in my letter of Feb. 9, did not refer to the professional musicians, who earn their living entirely by music, but to semi-professionals who follow their various occupations daily and devote their spare time to musical study and training. Yet when the time comes that they should be paid for their services they allow themselves to be hoodwinked into the play-for-nothing system under the pretence of government orders. The military authorities do not expect the services of any musician without remuneration, and when one hears of this continual playing for nothing, it would give the impression that something is wrong at the financial end of affairs, besides dragging the musical profession down to the very lowest degree. It is a pity to see first class musicians who have devoted the best part of their lives to the study and practice of music, compelled to submit to such conditions in hope of turning their talents to a profitable issue, while others who know nothing about music, and in fact hardly know the name of the instrument they carry, are squeezed in to make up the number, and are offended at the truth. My remarks were not intended to be offensive, and only given for comparison of musical organizations other than the Y. M. C. A. orchestra who give their services gratuitously, and in saying that they blow till tears roll down their cheeks, is only a mild form of explaining their grievance. However, I hope it will be the means of waking up some of the old timers, so that they will realize the value of their services. Yours faithfully, A. J. LOCKSLEY.

Mrs. Lavell, Wife of Missing Prof. Refuses to Believe That Her Husband is Dead.

HAMILTON, March 23.—Mrs. Lavell, wife of Cecil Lavell, the college professor, who it will be remembered mysteriously disappeared from Hamilton several months ago, called up by long distance from Toronto this morning to say that she is still of the opinion that her husband is living. Ever since the strange occurrence, when Prof. Lavell rented a row boat here and was last seen rowing towards the west end of the bay, his wife has employed every means possible in her search for him. This week she had 15,000 circulars published, giving in condensed form the circumstances surrounding the disappearance of her husband. This she has had circulated broadcast throughout the Dominion. The $500 reward still awaits a claimant.

MISSIONARIES AT ST. BASIL'S CHURCH

Redemptorist Fathers Inaugurate Two Weeks of Special Services in Local Church

Yesterday St. Basil's Church on Palace street was filled to overflow with devout worshippers at 10.30 Mass and again at seven in the evening. The Redemptorist missionaries, Father O'Reilly and Father McCauldsh of London, Ont., are giving a two weeks' mission. First week women only; second week for men. Yesterday, Father O'Reilly described Mass as God's masterpiece, with an immortal soul, which He must save by a religious life. Too often we give more attention to our temporal affairs than to our spiritual affairs. During the penitential time of Lent, we should reform and do penance for our sins. The sermons will be on the great subjects of judgment, hell, heaven, etc. Three sermons per day, at half past five o'clock Mass, and eight Mass every morning and at seven thirty every evening. Catholics can bring their non-Catholic friends to those services if they so desire. Will Break Tie. To-night the Waterous and A. O. F. hockey teams will do battle at the Alfred street rink to-night when they will endeavor to break the tie of last Friday night's game. Both teams claim the game and to-night the dispute will be settled.

DR. SINCLAIR IS DEAD AT PARIS

Collector of Customs Crossed the Great Divide Last Evening.

(From our own correspondent.) PARIS, March 23.—One of the most prominent of the citizens of Paris passed quietly away at ten o'clock yesterday evening, when Dr. A. J. Sinclair crossed the great divide. Dr. Sinclair was born in Elgin County near St. Thomas. He received his education at the Grammar School in the latter town. He first took up the profession of teaching but later took a course in medicine with Dr. McCarthy of St. Thomas, graduating from Trinity College in 1875 he removed to Paris, and entered upon his new profession and gradually built up one of the largest practices in Western Ontario.

Dr. Sinclair was an ardent politician and for some years was president of the North Branch Reformers' Association. In 1904 he was appointed collector of Customs for Paris and filled the position until ill-health compelled him to resign in 1909. The funeral will be held from his late residence, at 9.15 a.m. on Wednesday, the remains being taken on the 10.15 a.m. train to St. Thomas.

Arrests Were Effectuated

(Continued from Page One) never had been concerned in a case of this kind before. They had, they said, lived a good decorous life in Hamilton and they had no idea that Handel had registered one of them as his wife. Both of them worked at the same place in Hamilton and their meeting with the previous defendant was entirely accidental.

"You have had a very close call," said the Magistrate, and advising the girls to be very careful in the future he dismissed both of them.

LIKE BOLT FROM THE BLUE SKY

"The government is attempting to coerce a portion of the United Kingdom without the authority of the electorate."

Premier Asquith rose to speak amid a great outburst of cheering. He said that after Mr. Law's speech it was necessary that the country should know at once the kind of issue that was going to be presented.

"The duties of the army in relation to the civil power are very simple and have never been contested. Any officer or private who refuses to obey an order is liable to dismissal."

As far back as December last year, said Mr. Asquith, general officers of the army were informed that it might be their duty to come to the assistance of the civil power, and any officers domiciled in their area might be executed if there had been any intention of an aggressive move toward Ulster this would have been the last step taken, and he added, the movements of troops were now concluded.

The Premier said Sir Arthur Paget had emphatically denied that he had used any such words as: "That this was the first step in a series of operations to conquer Ulster." These words had been wrongly attributed to the commander-in-chief in Ireland. General Paget had never received from the War Office any instructions justifying such a statement. It was, said the Premier, an undoubted fact that General Hubert Gough and other officers concerned had interpreted their instructions in a wider sense. The Army Council, the Premier said, was now satisfied there had been a misunderstanding, and the officers also were satisfied. He concluded:

"If the doctrine laid down by Mr. Law, that any officer refusing to serve was only doing his duty, was to be preached, the country was in the presence of a new danger."

INDUCTION OF RECTOR AT CLINTON CHURCH

CLINTON, March 23.—St. Paul's Anglican Church was the scene of a very interesting function last evening, the occasion being the induction of Rev. J. A. Potts, M. A., as rector of the parish. Mr. Potts who has been assistant at Grace Church, Brantford has recently been appointed to this charge and he has promise of a very successful pastorate. The induction service was attended by a large congregation and full vested choir.

The Rev. J. B. Richardson, D. C. L., archdeacon of London, officiated and he was assisted by Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, rector of Goderich and H. Langford of Holmesville. The church wardens, H. T. Rance and T. T. Murphy, received the bishop's mandate and the nasal ceremony followed.

The sermon was preached by Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, a powerful discourse on the ideals of the Christian ministry, concluding with an earnest appeal to the people for a loyal support of his former pupil and their new rector.

The choir rendered its part of the service with good effect. In some parts of Switzerland all the dead, rich or poor, are buried at public expense.

RUBE DENEAU HAS A MESSAGE FOR LOCAL FANS

He Knows They Are From Missouri in Brantford and Must be Shown.

At last Manager "Rube" Deneau has been heard from and with his message to the president of the club he also conveys the following message to the fans: "Tell the fans for me that the reason I have not had my calopie open full blast like some of the other managers is that I know they are from Missouri and I hope to show them on May 7th. Also we have a team they can cheer for."

In the letter received at headquarters Saturday, Manager Deneau states that he has received a communication from the St. Louis Nationals saying that they will not know until the 26th of this month just what pitchers he will give Deneau, but assures him that he will get at least one first class twirler.

Deneau has landed what he considers a prize in Cal Chase, the big hauler from Chicago. Chase, though not a brother of Hal Chase comes well recommended to the Brantford club and no doubt will be a splendid acquisition to the club.

He has also signed an outfielder by the name of Carr and an infielder by the name of Belts. If the latter lives up to his name we may rest assured he will "Belts" the pill and it will take a "Carr" to bring it back.

Manager Deneau has all the men he needs now. He is certain he has three winning pitchers and is confident of being well up in the race.

The schedule looks good to Deneau and he is well satisfied with it. He has asked that the diamond be skinned farther back and that some new turf be put on the infield grass. Deneau states that he is pleased to know that President Nelson has secured the World's Champions for a game. It will be one of the best drawing games of the season and should draw better than any other ball team. He considers it the greatest attraction the club could have secured.

Training will in all probability start on April 15th, in this city, providing the grounds at Agricultural Park have dried up enough.

When dancers in a Carnegie hall studio in New York agreed to soft pedal the ragtime, which made Paderewski nervous before a concert, the famous pianist treated them to champagne.

HOW OLD TIMERS EARN THEIR LIVING

Majority of Ex-Champions Have No Need to Fear End in Poorhouse.

What has become of the old timer of the ring? Here is a little dope that will be of interest to those who have been following the boxing game for the last decade—

Pedler Palmer—When last heard of was working as a "movie" actor. John L. Sullivan—Living on his farm near Boston; is spending his retirement in ease, with no fear that the wolf will ever reach his door.

Jake Kilrain—Well fixed in earthly goods; owes much to his old rival, John L., who used Jake as his stage partner for many years.

Ad Wolgast—Reputed to be worth $20,000; is still boxing ten round bouts in Wisconsin.

Battling Nelson—Lives at Hedge-wich, Ill. Invested the bulk of his savings in real estate, and is looked upon as being "land poor."

Jack Root—Doubled his ring earnings by clever theatrical investments. Has retired from active business.

Jack McNuliffe—Still on the vaudeville stage. Looks good for 20 years more of stage life.

"Billy" Papke—Following a business career in Illinois. He saved every dollar of his earnings, and is independent for life.

Primrose Path for Johnson

Jack Johnson—Eking out a primrose existence in Paris by engaging, in doubtful ring and mat affairs. Also appears in vaudeville. Is an exile from the United States with a federal court charge hanging over his head.

"Young Corbett"—Lives in New York. Is practically penniless.

Terry McGovern—Works in one of the theatres controlled by Cohen and Harris. Practically broke.

Bob Fitzsimmons—Trying to induce the Eastern promoters to allow him to box. Declares that he will starve unless allowed to re-enter the ring.

Corbett Still Gets Coin

Jim Corbett—In vaudeville. It is his proud boast that he earns $800 a week as an entertainer, and will command this salary for years to come.

Jim Jeffries—Los Angeles cafe owner. The richest of all the veterans. It is estimated that Jeff is safely over the $200,000 mark. Spends most of his time in hunting and fishing.

Abe Attell—Although one of the shrewdest boxers of this day, is reported to have less than one tenth of the money he earned in the ring. Is living in New York, where he is an inveterate poker player.

ENGLAND WINS RUGGER HONORS, DOWN SCOTLAND

Rose Scored Two One-Point Victories to Win the Calcutta Cup.

Home teams were fairly victorious in the English league on Saturday, but in the second division three visitors carried away all the points. Sunderland at home were the top scorers with five goals compiled against Everton's two. Liverpool came next with three goals against the Prestonians, who are now in a sad way, and are nearly certain to be doomed to relegation. Apart from these two scores, all the victories were of the small and minging type, which denotes the falling off which comes with the end of the season.

Wolverhampton Surprise.

Wolverhampton sprang a surprise over the second division leaders when they defeated them to the tune of 4 to 1. Nevertheless Notts are in no danger of losing their lead as they still have a six points lead over Wolverhampton, their nearest rivals. Arsenal, however, are three games in hand and may be careful playing equal Notts record. Bristol, Crawford, and Leicester Fosse all accomplished great things when they won away from home.

Swindon Safe.

Crystal Palace were defeated on Saturday by Reading, the surprise team and consequently they gave Swindon a more commanding hold upon the leadership. They are now four clear points to the good, and added to their goal aggregate, five goals at the expense of Southend.

Scotch League.

Hibernians were the only visiting team strong enough to take two points from their opponents, whilst

Comment on Soccer Games on Saturday

Partick and Raith Rovers each captured a point upon foreign meadows. Results were pretty well as expected.

Stevenston Still Fight.

For the third successive time Third Lanark and Stevenston met and could not decide the winner in a cup tie. If this occurs again it is probable that a spin of the coin will decide for them. Stevenston is a little known football centre, whilst their opponents are famous.

Interleague Draw.

The pick of the Scottish league equalled the pick of the English league in a stiff game at Middlesbro, both sides getting three goals.

Linfield got the best end of five goals scored by them and Glentoran in a lone Irish fixture.

An actress appearing in the nude in the new play "Aphrodite" was wildly applauded in Paris until she answered a certain call undraped. She was then hissed until a veil was thrown about her.

ENGLAND WINS RUGGER HONORS, DOWN SCOTLAND

Rose Scored Two One-Point Victories to Win the Calcutta Cup.

INVERLEITH, Scotland, March 23.—The English fifteen won the International Rugby championship, defeating the Scottish team by 16 points to 15.

With the victory of the English team over Scotland ends one of the most interesting seasons of international Rugby ever fought in the home countries.

It leaves England in possession of the International honors and also allows this country to hold the Calcutta Cup for another season.

It has not been a walk-over for the champions, however. On two occasions have they only won by the narrow margin of a single point, defeating Wales by 10 to 9, and Scotland 16 to 15, while the victory over Ireland was by no means easy.

It is not generally known that the fight between England and Scotland is a double event for they play for the Calcutta Cup as well as international honors.

Government troops are moving towards Ulster and excitement prevails in Britain.

JOE JEANETTE BEAT FRANCE'S CHAMPION

Black Heavyweight Outpoints George Carpentier in Fifteen Rounds.

PARIS, March 23.—Joe Jeanette, the American negro heavyweight, won the decision over Georges Carpentier, the French champion on points in a fifteen-round fight Saturday night. The contest took place at Luna park, which was crowded.

Jeanette had the advantage at the start of the contest, and in the early rounds which was marked by continuous infighting. Carpentier put up a fine defence, and several rounds ended in his favor.

The American, who had a trifle more weight than his opponent, landed heavily by a number of times, and as it appeared at the end of the fight that Jeanette had been more aggressive, the referee awarded him the decision.

"Oh, you Dutch—give us an Irish tune," shouted Ed. Kinnealy, at a "leddie" German band, in Chicago. Kinnealy will be in the hospital for two weeks.

Tarzan of The Apes

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1912, by the Frank A. Munsey Company.

CHAPTER IX.

At the Mercy of the Jungle. LAYTON turned and rushed back toward the scene. The sailors stood in a frightened group, with drawn weapons, peering into the jungle. The wounded man writhed and shrieked upon the ground. Clayton, unseen by any, picked up the fallen revolver and slipped it inside his shirt; then he joined the sailors.

"Who could it have been?" whispered Jane Porter, and the young man turned to see her standing, wide eyed, beside him.

"I dare say Tarzan of the apes is watching us," he answered. "I wonder how wide that spear was intended for? If for Snipes, then our ape friend is a friend indeed."

"By Jove! Where are your father and Mr. Philander? There's some one or something in that jungle, and it's armed, whatever it is. Ho! Professor! Mr. Philander! young Clayton shouted. There was no response.

"What's to be done, Miss Porter? I can't leave you here alone with these cutthroats. You certainly can't venture into the jungle with me, yet some one must go in search of your father. He is more than apt at wandering off aimlessly, regardless of danger or direction, and Mr. Philander is only a trifle less impractical. I have it! You can use a revolver, can't you?"

"Yes—why?" "I have one. With it you and Esmeralda will be comparatively safe in this cabin while I am searching for your father and Mr. Philander. Come, call the woman, and I will hurry on. They can't have gone far."

Jane Porter did as he suggested, and when he saw the door close safely behind them Clayton turned toward the jungle.

Some of the sailors were drawing the spear from their wounded comrade, and as Clayton approached he asked if he could borrow a revolver from one of them while he searched the jungle for the professor.

The rat faced one, finding he was not dead, had regained his composure and with a volley of oaths refused.

This man, Snipes, had assumed the role of chief since he had killed their former leader, and so little time had elapsed that none of his companions had as yet questioned his authority.

Clayton's only response was a shrug of the shoulders, but as he left them he picked up the spear which had transfixed Snipes, and thus primitively armed the son of the then Lord Grey-stoke strode into the dense jungle.

Every few moments he called aloud the names of the wanderers. The watchers in the cabin by the beach heard the sound of his voice growing ever fainter and fainter, until at last it was swallowed up by the myriad noises of the primeval wood.

When Professor Archimedes Q. Porter and his assistant, Samuel T. Philander, after much insistence on the part of the latter, had finally turned their steps toward camp they were as completely lost in the wild and tangled labyrinth of the jungle as two human beings could be, though they did not know it.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glassy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

It was by the merest chance of fortune that they headed toward the west coast of Africa instead of toward Zanzibar, on the opposite side of the dark continent.

When in a short time they reached the beach, only to find no camp in sight, Philander was positive that they were north of their proper destination, white, as a matter of fact, they were about 200 yards south of it. Mr. Samuel T. Philander grasped Professor Archimedes Q. Porter firmly by the arm and hurried the weakly protesting old gentleman off in the direction of Cape Town, 1,500 miles to the south.

When Jane Porter and Esmeralda found themselves safely behind the cabin door the negro's first thought was to barricade the portal from the inside. With this idea in view she turned to search for some means of putting it into execution, but her first view of the interior of the cabin brought a shriek of terror to her lips, and, like a frightened child, the huge black man to bury her face in his mistress's shoulders.

Jane Porter, turning at the cry, saw the cause of it lying prone upon the floor before them—the whitened skeleton of a man. A further glance revealed a second skeleton upon the bed.

"What horrible place are we in?" murmured the awe-stricken girl. But there was no panic in her freight.

At last, disengaging herself from the frantic clutch of the still shrieking Esmeralda, Jane Porter crossed the room to look into the little cradle, knowing what she should see there before ever the tiny skeleton disclosed itself in all its pitiful and pathetic frailty.

What an awful tragedy these mute bones proclaimed! The girl shuddered at thought of the possibilities that might lie before herself and her friends in this ill-fated cabin.

Quickly, with an impatient stamp of her foot, she endeavored to shake off the gloomy forebodings, and turning to Esmeralda bade her cease her wailing.

"Stop, Esmeralda; stop this minute!" she cried. "You are only making it worse. I never saw such a big baby."

Soon the girl found that the door was equipped with a heavy wooden bar upon the inside. After several efforts the combined strength of the two enabled them to slip it into place—the first time in twenty years.

After Clayton had plunged into the jungle, the sailors—mutineers of the Arrow—fell into a discussion of their next step, but on one point all were agreed—that they should hasten to put off to the anchored Arrow, where they could at least be safe from the spears of their unseen foe.

So much had Tarzan said that day that his head was in a whirl of wonder. But the most wonderful sight of all to him was the face of the beautiful white girl.

Here at last was one of his own kind; of that he was positive. And the young man and the two old men, and they were much as he had pictured his own people to be.

Paris News

PARIS, March 23.—Although floods have been reported at various points along the Grand River, the water here is not a great deal above winter normal. The Grand Trunk bridge is causing a large ice jam which extends only from the east shore two-thirds across the river, the channel being open from the shore to the first abutment on the west side, this is causing the river to take a new course, and unless the jam breaks shortly a new channel may be permanently cut through Riverview Park and to the west of the present channel.

One of the most highly respected farmers passed away last Monday from heart failure in the person of Mr. L. Parnall of Brantford Tp. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon.

Since the return of cold weather the ice surface at the rink is in the best condition of the season and the curlers and skaters are taking full advantage of it.
