 WATERDOWN

W. A. A. A.

The Waterdown Amateur Athletic Association was highly honored last Tuesday evening when their worthy President, Mr. A. W. Palmer, was elected to the office of Vice-President of the H. A. B. A. Too much can not be said of Mr. Palmer, who has been instrumental in making the W. A. A. A. what it is today. No doubt he will be of considerable help to the H. A. B. A. as he is one of cleanest and best upholders of amateur sports in this district.

The local club is in a flourishing condition, there being 75 senior members and 30 Juniors. The Lox Social given on the 17th netted them an even $100 after all expenses were paid. It is their ambition to keep on giving entertainments with the hope that in the near future they will be able to secure an athletic field. The Association has joined with the Public Library in holding a monster celebration on the 24th of May. A mass meeting will be held in the near future to appoint committees for that day.

The club will give a grand ball on Friday evening, April 1st. An excellent five piece orchestra has been secured and the floor is in grand condition, in fact it is one of the best floors for dancing in this district. Young and old are respectfully requested to take this in. Tickets for gentlemen $1.50. The young ladies are asked to bring the lunch. The subject of the ladies bringing lunch was warmly debated at a meeting, but the boys came to the conclusion that they want to make money, and in this way they would save a big expense, as the ladies are to be supplied with lawn tennis courts during the summer months they feel that it is not asking too much.

Something New

There is something new in our town
 Which seems to draw attention
 The way the people stand and gaze
 Is beyond our contemplation.

Some people think it is just fine
 To knock we merchants down
 By catering to the Cut Rate Store
 But watch their trade go down.

The Cash and Carry is not all
 Don't you for a moment think
 They will get you one and all
 Don't go to sleep but wink.

So do your trading at our stores,
 I think you'll find in time
 It pays to trade with friends you know
 At the Stores aged one and nine.

There has been times in ages past
 Your money did not flourish,
 You wanted goods and did not have
 The pay or ready cash.

Our object now in business life
 Is honest fair and square,
 So now what more do you expect
 If you deal over there.

You may get through this world
 But it would seem very slow
 If you would listen to all
 That is said as you go.

You have heard it whispered
 That we can't make it pay
 Since the new store has started
 To cut in this way.

But don't get excited
 What ever they say,
 For ten years now have passed
 And we are here yet today.

Freelton W. I. Meeting

On Thursday, March 17th the Freelton Branch of the Women's Institute held their annual "Shamrock Tea" at the home of Mrs. Wm. Anderson. Mr. Jas. Gray was in the chair and gave an address in his usual cheerful manner. The spacious rooms were prettily decorated in Irish colorings, and a very enjoyable programme was given consisting of instrumental duets by Mrs. C. Byers and Miss L. Hamilton. Other instrumental selections were given by Mrs. W. Anderson and Miss E. Leslie who were all in excellent form and received hearty encores. Irish songs by Miss Nina Leslie were much appreciated. Readings, mostly in keeping with the day were given very acceptably by Miss Logan and Miss Peterson. A vote of thanks moved by Miss L. Revell was then extended to all who took part in the program, also to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson who so kindly welcomed all to their home. This was seconded by Miss A. Land say. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Institute, after which all went home with the good Irish humor.

Millgrove

The funeral of Mrs. Geo. Denholm on Sunday was very largely attended.

Mrs. Robert Platt visited in West Hamilton this week.

Mrs. Stanley Burns was visiting in Brantford last week.

D. C. and Mrs. Platt have returned to their farm after spending the winter in Hamilton.

Mrs. Dryden of Halton has moved to the village.

Mrs. Spera of Dundas is visiting at Mr. Robert Smith's.

Mr. K. E. Cummins motored to Toronto on Monday.

Mrs. D. Mosher of Toronto is visiting at her daughter, Mrs. K. Cummins.

Millgrove parsonage is undergoing repairs. Mr. John Mitchell is the contractor for the cement work.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing in our village.

I feel a little dithdent
 And I should have said here 'fore
 That the frogs are singing merrily
 Beside our Parson's door.

Grand Bazaar

A Grand Bazaar, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church, will be held in the Sunday school room Wednesday afternoon, March 30th. A splendid display of useful and fancy goods consisting of children's clothing, home made rugs, home made baking, confectionary and candy will be offered for sale. Afternoon lunch will be served.

In the evening a good literary and musical program will be given and refreshments served. Program to commence at 8 o'clock.

Locals

Miss Helen Mitchell spent the week end with relatives in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Foster and daughter of Bradford, Pa. have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. Flatt.

Principal A. E. Smith of the Public school staff, has been confined to his home the past week with a severe cold.

Mrs. W. S. Griffin and Miss R. Newell have returned from spending a week end visit with friends in Brantford.

The Waterdown Bus will resume its regular trips to Hamilton some time next week. The new bus is larger and more up to date than the one in service last summer, and no doubt will do a flourishing business this summer.

The Public school children were vaccinated Thursday afternoon. A number of supposed cases of small-pox having appeared in the school the Medical Health Officer considered the vaccinating necessary. So far none of the cases have developed as small-pox.

Rev. S. Bennetts of Marshville has purchased Mr. E. H. Slater's residence on Main street, and will move his family here about the first of April. The Rev. Mr. Bennetts is known to a number of old-timers here, having held services in Grace church about 30 years ago.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Drummond wish to thank their many friends for the expressions and kind letters of sympathy sent them in their sudden bereavement.

The Sunday School Lesson

Lesson XIII. March 27
THE LIVING CHRIST.
 Lesson—Matt. 28: 1-20. Printed
 Text—Matt. 28: 1-10, 16-20.

Eastern Lesson.
 Golden Text.—"I am with you always, even unto the end of the world" (Matt. 28: 20).
 Historical Setting.
 Time.—Apr. 9, A. D. 39. Place.—Jerusalem and vicinity.

The Lesson Text.

- 1 Now late on the Sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
- 2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it.
- 3 His appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow;
- 4 and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and became as dead men.
- 5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, who hath been crucified.
- 6 He is not here; for he is risen, even as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.
- 7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples. He is risen from the dead; and lo, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him; lo, I have told you.
- 8 And they departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word.
- 9 And behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.
- 10 Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not; go tell my brethren that they shall see me.
- 16 But the eleven disciples went into Galilee unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them.
- 17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him; and some doubted.
- 18 And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth.
- 19 Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit:
- 20 teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

Comments.
 Verse 1. The resurrection lesson is studied today because today is Easter. The Romans measured the day from sunset. The evidence of all the Gospel accounts together points to the former; therefore the time was about daybreak Sunday morning. The two Marys were Mary of Magdala (Luke 8: 2; Matt. 27: 61; Mark 15: 47) and probably Mark, the mother of James the Less (27: 66). Mark says Salome was present (16: 1), and Luke adds Joanna (24: 10; 8: 3).
 Verse 2. The description here plainly indicates a miracle. The Roman authorities had shut and sealed the door to the tomb.
 Verse 3. The other accounts of the resurrection are in Mark 16: 1-11; Luke 24: 1-12; John 20: 1-8. The language of verse 3 suggests the transfiguration scene.
 Verse 4. The men of the Roman guard, probably through fright, "swooned into unconsciousness."
 Verse 5. In reconciling the seeming differences in the four accounts, all that is necessary is to accept all of them as true. The guard had reason to be alarmed; not so these women.
 Verse 6. Jesus here recalls a prediction He had made which His disciples did not understand (Matt. 16: 21; 17: 22; Luke 24: 6). The women were invited to look into the tomb where the Lord had been. They were convinced that He had risen.
 Verse 7. As soon as the Lord had risen there was work for His disciples to do. There was a wonderful story to tell. That story has been the glory of the ages ever since.

TOPICS OF THE DAY AS THEY ARE DISCUSSED BY THE EDITORS OF CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS

Various reasons are advanced as to why the U. S. has made Washington's birthday a perpetual one, but the most plausible is that it is because he was the first citizen of the U. S. A. who never told a lie.
 *And last.—Toronto Star.

An English investigator has discovered that prehistoric man was an artist. No doubt, prehistoric woman also used to paint.—Montreal Star.

Chinese "medicine" shipped to San Francisco has been found to be 59 per cent. alcohol. For ways that are dark, the heathen Chinese is about up to the standard of the rest of this boot-legging world.—Regina Post.

If they keep on raising her pay, the schoolm'am will soon be getting almost as much money as the cook.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Motorist who just missed a policeman was fined $10. Some of these motorists are altogether too careless.—Toronto Telegram.

That German actor who died while playing the ghost in "Hamlet" seems to have taken the part too seriously.—Montreal Star.

The hog business is said to have been disastrous last year. It is not to be implied that this applies solely to the profiteering business.—Lethbridge Herald.

Henry Ford can do most anything, but it is doubtful if he can invent a flyover that will give milk.—Brookville Recorder Times.

Women's hats in the spring are to be large and drooping. It is announced. Symbolic of the bills and the spirits of those who pay them.—Regina Post.

If you have ever had the experience of paying for a dead horse, you know approximately how Germany feels about paying for a lost war.—Windsor Border Cities Star.

There is reason for the existence of everything except a skunk and the man who thinks he is a hit with the ladies.—Kingston Whig.

Verse 8. Naturally they were excited with both fear and joy.

Verse 9. "All hail" was a simple form of salutation. The women may have sought to convince themselves, by touching Him, that He was really there.

Verse 10. The Gospel tells of a number of other appearances which the Lord made to His disciples (Luke 24: 34; 24: 36; John 20: 19, 26, 29; John 21: 1-13; Matt. 28: 16-20; 1 Cor. 15: 6, 7; Luke 24: 36, 41; Acts 1: 6-12).

Verses 16-20. Jesus' final interview with His disciples took place in Galilee, May, A. D. 30. The world conception reached in the language of the commission was hitherto unknown to any language. In various forms it was the burden of His conversation with the disciples during the forty days between the resurrection and the ascension. To baptize into the name of the Father, Jesus adds the name of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. During the forty days Jesus had already taught His disciples how he could be present with them to believe the promise in verse 20. There is a modern tendency to make light of baptism. Would the last words of the Son of God contain a trivial command?

Topics for Research and Discussion.

1. The Radiant Angel (vs. 1-5).
 1. Why is the resurrection lesson assigned for today? 2. Just when did the two Marys visit the tomb? 3. Who were these two women? 4. Who else were present? 5. What are some indisputable evidences that the resurrection was actual and miraculous? 6. Why had the Roman guard cause for alarm? 7. Why were not the women frightened? 8. The Risen Lord (vs. 6-10).
 1. What glorious work for the disciples immediately followed the resurrection? 2. Was their privilege any more glorious than ours in this respect? 3. The Great Commission (vs. 16-20).
 10. Where and where did Jesus' final interview with His disciples take place? 11. What was peculiar about his commission?

Lord Haldane says a great store of talent is buried in democracy. The same can be found out by listening to the conversation of any barber.—Montreal Star.

A Boston laundress was found to have possessed $32,000. The general extravagance of the times is blamed for the depletion of her savings.—Portage La Prairie Graphic.

In the words we used as school boys, Germany refuses to put up or shut up.—Calgary Herald.

There doesn't seem much sense in talking Communism in a world where you have to chain the telephone books to keep them from being stolen.—Winnipeg Free Press.

"Baboons," says a scientific item, "can tell by instinct when they are near water." But who wants to be a baboon?—Windsor Border Cities Star.

A St. Mary's citizen being asked why he didn't run for Councilor, said he didn't know whether his great-grandfather was a chicken thief or not and he did not wish to find out.—Lindsay-Watchman Warden.

As we understand the reformers, the two great dangers of the present day are concealed arms and revealed legs.—Kingston Whig.

When they are dressed for market, you can't tell a chicken from an old hen. This is a poultry item, not a fashion note.—Cobalt Nugget.

Some Americans who plan to visit Montreal are not actuated so much by thirst for travel as just plain thirst.—Montreal Herald.

The Voliva Zionists have barred spats from their church. But who ever heard of a church that did not have spats?—London Advertiser.

CANADIAN TRADE WILL NOW BE PROMOTED

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL BE FORMED IN LONDON.

British and Canadian business men have decided to form a Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London with the object of increasing trade with Canada. F. C. Wade, agent-general for British Columbia, who presided at a meeting of business men held recently, said the great question to be determined was whether Canada was to remain a British country or to be lost to Great Britain, owing to the influence of United States money.

Worms are encouraged by morbid conditions of the stomach and bowels and so subsist. Miller's Worm Powders will alter these conditions almost immediately and will sweep the worms away. TO SEVER RELATIONS WITH ALLIED NATIONS

The London Express correspondent at Berlin understands that German action in recalling her representatives from London, Paris and Brussels means that a plan is under way for a great diplomatic offensive. It is suggested that Germany is preparing to break off diplomatic relations with the allies on the ground that the Versailles treaty had been violated by the military action taken.

I do not think there was ever a time when I enjoyed opening my mail so much as now when there are always so many interesting letters to read from my many nephews and nieces. How I love to read about your pots and the work you do, and about your home and friends!

For several weeks now I have been going to tell you of some new games and other things but if I take up much time with my letters to you there will be very little room for your letters, so the games must wait for a time. By the time you read this holiday season will be here again, the Easter season with its thoughts of wee fluffy chicks and baby rabbits, and gardening time, the time when we begin to think how we will plan out those summer gardens which brings me to the question

How Many of You Will Have a Garden This Summer?

I should like to hear all about it—what you intend to plant. I have not forgotten the splendid war service some of our Helpers did with their gardens.

I hope every one of my Helpers will have a very happy holiday and go back to school, and to work ready for a useful and happy season.

Our Letter Box.

Dundalk.
 Dear Aunt June—I am enclosing the Pledge signed, which was in the paper this week. I enclosed a stamp for a badge a few weeks ago and am hoping to get it soon.—Mildred Warner.

Dear Mildred—I am afraid there are one or two of my little friends who have not received their badges as soon as I would like them to have had them but Aunt June has had a very bad cold and has spent a few days in bed so could not look after your letter right away. I will certainly send you a badge if one has not already been sent off to you. Thank you for the pledge. Let me know if you get your badge alright this time.

Paisley.
 Dear Aunt June—I wish to join your League. I enjoy reading the boys' and girls' letters very much. I am ten years old and am in the junior third class at school. I go to school every day until a few weeks ago when I had an operation for appendicitis. I liked the nurses very much. I was in hospital for ten days. Before I was operated on I used to help them milk the cows, feed the cattle and get in the coal and wood, but now when I can't do anything I put the baby to sleep and read books. I have five sisters and two brothers. For pets I have a cat named Daisy, a dog named Teddy and a Banty rooster. I live on a farm of two hundred acres. We have sixty-nine cattle, ten pigs and eleven horses. I guess I will close. Please send me a badge.—D. J. McKenzie.

Dear Little Helper—You did not sign your Christian name to the letter so I do not know your name and am wondering if it is Dorothy or Doris or some other pretty name like that. I know all the other Helpers will be very sorry to read of your illness and hope, with me, that you will soon be quite well again. I am sending you a badge as I think you will be a splendid little Helper. Write to me again and tell me when you are better and able to go to school again. I shall be anxious to hear.

Laurel.
 Dear Aunt June—I am 12 on the 25th of May, 1921. I would like to write to other members and them write to me. Although we live 24 miles from the place where the paper was printed we used to live in Dundalk. I will tell you of one of our near towns. It is Orangeville. They call their paper the "Banner" and another is the Shelburne Free Press. I hope to see a corner in both. I am enclosing a stamp and the pledge for which I hope to receive a badge.—Fred Harrison.

Dear Fred—I enjoyed your letter very much and would like to send you a badge but you forgot to tell me of the many things I know you do to help another and father every day. Write and tell me some of them and then I will send you a badge right away. I am keeping your stamp until I hear again from you.

N. E. Margaree, C.B., N.S., Rossville P. O.

Dear Aunt June—As I saw the boys and girls writing to you I thought I would write too. I enjoy reading the boys' and girls' letters. I have four brothers and four sisters. My oldest brother and sister are married. I go to school nearly every day and am in grade ten. I would like to receive a badge. I guess I will close now as my brother and sister are going to write.—Gertrude Crowdis.

Dear Aunt June—As my sister is writing I thought I would write too. I go to school every day that is fine. I am nine years old and am in the second book. I would like to receive a badge. We have two cats and one dog. The dogs name is Sport. I will close now and write again some other time.—Elizabeth Crowdis.

Dear Aunt June—I saw the boys' and girls' letters in the paper and I thought I could write too. My father is a miller, he has three mills. A saw mill, a grist mill and a planer. I like to work in the mills. I go to school and am in the third grade. I would like to get a badge.—Harold Crowdis.

My dear little Helpers three, A sad little tale I hold for thee. You send me letters and did not say What you do for others every day.

If you will write and let me know if you help in the mill, wash sweep or sew And send a three-cent stamp to me I'll gladly send you badges three.

Perth.
 Dear Aunt June—I have signed the pledge and am going to try and help my mother and others. The things I do for my mother are the following: Wash dishes, sweep the floor, and scrub, sometimes bake bread when my mother isn't at home. I go to school which is one mile from home and am in the third book. My age is twelve years and I have four brothers and one sister. Two of the boys go to school and my sister is small. We don't live on a farm so any spare time I skate on the ice and sleigh ride. I am enclosing a three-cent stamp hoping to receive a badge.—Olive McTonegal.

Dear Olive—What a splendid little Helper you are to be sure. I am very glad to be able to send you a badge as I most certainly think you have earned it and I know you will live up to the Pledge. Write to me again some time and let me know how you are getting on at school and if you go away for any summer holidays.

West Bay.
 Dear Aunt June—I would like to join your happy corner. My name is Katherine MacKenzie, West Bay C.B., N.S., I am going to school every day and like it fine. I am in Grade IV. For pets I have four cats and one pretty black dog. His name is Buster and he is a Water spaniel and he coats on the little sleigh with me. Dear Katherine—You did not tell me of the different things you do during the day to help mother or father so I cannot send you a badge, although I would like very much to have you as a member of the League. I am keeping the three-cent stamp until I get a letter from you telling me or some of the Helping things you do and then I will send you a badge at once.

Pense, Sask.
 Dear Aunt June—I have been reading the letters in the Boys' and Girls' page and thought I would like to join. I go to school every day and when I come home I help do the chores and get water for the house and every little job I can. In the summer I work on the land such as plowing, weeding and four horses and harrowing. Yours truly,
 RALPH McSARREN.

Dear Ralph—You forgot to enclose three cents in your letter so I cannot send you a badge. If you send me a stamp I will send you a badge as I think such a splendid Helper as you would be a splendid Member for the League. I am glad you like the corner.

Sarnia.
 Dear Aunt June—This is my second letter. I have not seen my other one in print. I guess you have not got around to it yet. Our school is not very big but we have about 32 on the roll. I like school and have great fun in winter.

RUBY ELSOM.
 Duby Dear—What must you think your Aunt June for not writing to you sooner. I am so glad you wrote to me again. And I expect you thought your letter was not going to appear this time so far down the column is it. But you see what a lot I have to answer. I am sending you a badge and hope you will like it.

Joanettes Creek.
 Dear Little Helper—Thank you for writing to me again. I could not quite read your name on your letter, and I have hardly room to print your letter this time as I have so many new members to welcome. Write to me again, will you dear, and then perhaps I can put your letter in print next time. Thank you for sending in the little pledge all signed.

Campbells Bay, Que.
 Dear Aunt June—I am nine years old and in third book. The work I do is help to bring the wood and water and mind the baby, and dust, wash dishes and sweep the floor. I have four sisters and two brothers. I have a number of friends and will ask them to join. Wishing success to all members of the club.

SARAH SMITH.

Dear Aunt June—I am twelve years old and in the fourth class. I have three sisters and two brothers. For pets I have two cats and a dog. My father travels a great deal. I help bring in the wood and water, wash the dishes. I think it would be great fun to correspond with someone of my age. I am fair and five foot one and very thin. I am very fond of sports and I am sure there are not many that are not.

VERA SMITH.
 Dear Sarah and Vera—I am glad to be able to send you both a badge and welcome you as members of the League. I am sure some other Helper will be very glad to write to you Vera and I shall be so pleased if you will write and tell me if you hear from any other members of the League.

Kitchener.
 Dear Aunt June—I have been a reader for some time of your corner and I am signing the pledge. I go to school every day when I am able but sometimes I am not very well. When I come home I help get the supper and wash all the dishes, and when I am home I make my bed and get wood. I am twelve years old and in the senior third. My teachers name is Miss Good and I like her fine. How is Uncle Jim? I haven't seen his name in the paper for some time. I am enclosing a three-cent stamp for my badge and am looking forward to seeing my letter in print. Wishing the Club every success.—Brown Eyes.

Dear Brown Eyes—Thank you ever much for the good wishes for the Club. I am sure all the other members are glad to welcome you and I am sending you a badge and hope you will always wear it. Uncle Jim is very well and thanks you very much for enquiring after him. I am glad you like your teacher and I hope you will write to me again soon and let me know how you are getting on at school.

Canfield.
 Dear Aunt June—I have signed the pledge and will try to do what it says on it. I am eleven years old and am in the senior third class in school. I have three sisters and one brother. I wash dishes and sweep the floor and I also gather the eggs. I have a pet lamb and a cat. The lamb's name is Puffy, and my cat's name is Grey bear. The lamb will beat little children, especially if they tease him. My sister is going to join the band of Helpers the next time the pledge is in the paper.—Pearl Kaha.

Dear Pearl—How very nice it must be to have a lamb for a pet. I think lambs are so very pretty, especially when they are very young and have such long legs and funny tails. I suppose it will soon be time for the young lambs to start frisking around once more as they usually come about Easter time, don't they? I am sending you a badge and glad to welcome you as a Member of the League of Helpers.

Moorefield.
 Dear Aunt June—I have been reading the children's letters for some time. I am a girl thirteen years old. I go to school every day and am in the fourth class. I expect to try my entrance this summer. We are having a carnival at Moorefield next week and I intend to dress as an old witch. At home I wash the dishes and milk the cows and always help papa with the chores. I help milk nearly all the time. I have signed the little tag and would like to become a member.—Nellie G. Hoffborn.

Dear Nellie—I am sending you the long looked for badge and hope you get it safely this time. I hope very much you pass your Entrance this summer and shall look anxiously for a letter from you telling me if you are successful. I like very much to hear of my Helpers meeting with success in the things they try to do and hope you will always find time to send me a letter about yourself.

Maberley.
 Dear Aunt June—Here I am again. I wrote you just after I got my badge but I guess the W. P. B. must have got it. I am enclosing a three-cent stamp and please send me another badge. I was unlucky enough to lose my first and I feel lost without it. I go to school every day. It has been a lovely winter as there were no storms to keep me at home. I am studying with all my might. I am trying for my fourth book in the summer holidays. I am eleven years old. I have so many lessons that I haven't time to do chores only on Saturday. We have great sport at school such as riding and skipping. There are about 50 scholars going to our school and the teacher is nearly worked to death. She has a nice book she reads to us every Friday evening if we are good. We always try our best for we like to hear her read. My lady is helping to take our sand for a big iron bridge that is to be built this summer at Maberley. I see my letter is getting rather long. I'm apt to write long letters because I love writing. Best luck to the Boys and Girls' Club.—Ruby Lake.

Dear Ruby—I enjoyed reading your very interesting letter and I am sure the other members of the League will enjoy it too. I am very sorry you lost your badge but I am sending you another. Try and not lose this one as I do not usually send a second one I have so many Helpers wanting them that I am afraid of running short. Write to me again and let me know if you get your fourth book this summer. I hope very much you will be successful.

Freeman.
 Dear Aunt June—I have been reading your Boys' and Girls' corner for some time and enjoy reading them. I go to school every day and am in the junior fourth book. I help mother do dishes and bake cakes and cookies. I do some outside chores besides. I have a pen of White Leghorn hens. They laid twenty-five eggs today. I took a pair to the school fair and got a prize. I would like to correspond with any girl my own age, twelve. Wishing the corner success.—Fudge.

Dear Fudge—I think if you read last week's corner you will find a Little Helper there aged thirteen who wants to write to other Helpers. You could write to her and perhaps when some of the other Helpers see your letter they will write to you. But where, oh where, is the stamp for the badge. I want to send you a badge as you are such a splendid Helper for mother but I cannot until you send me a stamp. So will you send me right away and I will post the badge off to you.

Magnetawan.
 Dear Aunt June—I am a boy twelve years old. I will be thirteen in the Spring. I help to wash dishes and do chores. I go to school and am in the third class. I have a cat for a pet. I also have a twenty-two, a camera and a fountain pen. I live on a farm and I helped to peel bark last summer. On our farm there is a creek, a fall and a cliff about twenty-five feet and down the creek there is a rapids. Below our house there is a pond and I have a raft on it. As my letter is getting long I will close.—Farmer.

Dear Farmer—What a very interesting letter from your farm sounds as though it must be very pretty. I see that you have a camera and I should so very much like you to take a picture of the creek and the falls and send to me. I am sending you a badge and hope you will always wear it. Write to me again and tell me what you do this summer.

Freeman.
 Dear Aunt June—I like reading the letters very much. I go to school every day. I help daddy with the chores and help mother in the house. I would like to correspond with someone my own age, ten.—Bubbles.

Dear Bubbles—I am afraid I must tell you the same as I told Fudge—if you and Fudge will put a three-cent stamp in an envelope and send me I will post you a badge each.

Will some other Helpers aged twelve and ten please write to Fudge and Bubbles. Fudge is Winifred and Bubbles is Maribel Watson, R. R. No. 1, Freeman, Ont.

Now once more a very happy holiday to all my faithful Helpers. I shall look forward to hearing how you spent the days. Yours lovingly,
 AUNT JUNE.

ADVICE TO GIRLS

BY MISS ROSALIND

Registered According to the Copyright Act.

Miss Rosalind welcomes letters from young women asking for advice on any subject. All you have to do is address your letter to
MISS ROSALIND,
34 King William St. Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Miss Rosalind—I read your column of Advice to Girls and I've always found it interesting and often I tell my sister she would only follow some of the advice that it would do her a world of good and she would have less trouble.

The real reason I'm writing to you is that I read of a young lady known as Mickey who stated she would like to correspond with more writers in Ontario; would she be willing to correspond with a boy? If so, I'd only be glad to write to her as I've a lot of idle time on my hands, but of course if she wishes to correspond with young girls only, I hope you will excuse me for interfering and using your time.

If any other young lady wishes to write to a young man, I'd only be delighted to write as I find it helps to kill the idle time, and also it helps to broaden one's mind and help him or her in understanding different people who live in this great country of ours. During the years of war that are past, I had many a correspondent writing to me, and I can say truthfully that they helped me through many a weary hour when I stood in the shell-torn trenches of France and they also put new heart in me to fight when things looked black. But since the war is over it seems that we all neglected each other and settled each down in his or her different course of life each forgetting the other.

BUGNE.
I made up a name for you, dear friend. I have already sent you a number of names. I hope by this time you are very busy and happy answering letters. Come again.

ROSALIND.
Dear Rosalind—I take a great interest in reading your Advice to Girls. I am a girl, 36 years of age, and find it rather lonesome at times, and would like very much if you could put me in touch with some nice boys of my age, 36 or 38 years old.

Your "Advice to Girls" must be a great help to those who have no mother or friend to help them, and I notice you welcome the boys too.

INA.
Same to you, Ina. I have sent you some names, I am especially glad to hear from the twenty-three crowd. There are several this week. So many of our members are very young that I welcome the more mature thought and experience.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind—I have been reading your Advice to Girls and I have also seen some young fellows asking advice of you. I am a young fellow about 29 years of age, and I thought I would ask you this question: Is it right for a young fellow to ask a girl to dance with him, without first meeting her, if you have not met her before? Hoping to see my answer in print. I am also very shy when being made acquainted to girls. I live quite a distance from town and as there are not very many girls around here I will be glad to write to any girl who cares to correspond with me.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owen Sound, Ont.—"I suffered for ten years with female organic trouble, neuralgia and indigestion, and was weak and had such bad pains I could hardly walk or stand up at times. When I would sweep I would have to go and lie down. I could not sleep at night, and would wander around the house half the time. I tried everything but nothing did me any good, and the last doctor I had told me he never expected me to be on my feet again or able to do a day's work. One day one of my little books was left at my door and my husband said I should try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I thank God I did, for it relieved me, and I am now well and strong. I think there is no remedy like the Vegetable Compound for anyone who has my troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. You can publish my letter for the benefit of those I can't reach."
—Mrs. HENRY A. MITCHELL, 1787 7th Ave., East, Owen Sound, Ont.
If you have any symptom about which you would like to know write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free of charge.

me, between the ages of 18 and 21. Thanking you for your trouble, I remain,

BASHFUL.
It is not considered correct to ask a girl you do not know to dance with you. No nice girl would dream of accepting such an invitation. Ask somebody you know to introduce you to some girls who like to dance and let them do the talking until you get over your shyness.

ROSALIND.
Dear Miss Rosalind—I have been deeply interested in the advice you give to those who correspond with you and have decided to be one of the great number. I noticed in the last edition that "Tiny" wished to correspond with a young girl. I am seventeen and attend Collegiate, hoping to obtain my Middle School Certificate this year. I am of fair complexion, blue eyes, and medium height.

JUANITA.
Very likely others will want to write also, Juanito. Don't let the letters interfere with study, though.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—I am a young girl about sixteen, would like your advice on certain subjects, whether a girl my age should wear her hair down or puffs at the ears?

Should she use rouge and powder to any extent? Should she let a young man kiss her more than three or four times in an evening?

Do you think it proper for a girl my age, who has been keeping company with a boy two years older than myself to take him into the house or leave him at the gate?

A young man I think very much of accompanied a girl friend of mine to the show last evening, and it annoyed me very much. Do you think I should let him call on me again or not?

Is there any harm in holding hands at a picture show?

If a man takes an interest in a girl, should the girl have any influence over him?

KITTY.

Your writing and sophistication would lead me to suppose you considerably over sixteen. Therefore I would suggest that you wear your hair puffed at the ears and rolled up at the back.

Rouge and powder have their place but not on the complexion of a sixteen-year-old girl. Of course, you may need such decoration very sadly, but I think fresh air, cold water and plenty of exercise—and fewer crazy notions about how to act with a young man would be more helpful to yours.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—I have been an interested reader of your column for a long time. What splendid advice you give, and what crazy questions you are sometimes asked.

I am eighteen years of age and of a very respectable family. I attend Collegiate and hope to enter College soon. I noticed in your column that Tom B. wished to correspond with a young girl. Would you please forward my name and address to him.

TANTRY BOOBS.
Welcome, thrice welcome, sensible stranger. We would really and truly appreciate a long, interesting scrawl from so evidently interesting a correspondent.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—I have been reading your column since it started. I have a few questions to ask you: First, is it wrong for a boy to kiss a girl in a room after he has paid her a call? What should a person do if he has sent a lot of love letters to a girl and she's got a lot from her? She also has a handkerchief of his and he wants the letters he wrote destroyed and also wants his handkerchief? He has asked the girl for them but she refuses to give them up. What's a fellow to do then? Well I must close now thanking you for your advice. I hope to see my letter in print as I do need your advice.

GLENN.

When you recall need my advice then I am very, very glad to give it. It is not nice for boy and girl chums to ask like grown-up engaged folks. I'd advise the fellow to forget it and never get into the same fix again.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—For some time I have been reading your Advice to Girls and would like very much to have your opinion on a few subjects which are puzzling me. Will you answer my letter in private as I do not want it to appear in print, not for any reason only my own wish?
M. W.

Your answer will be as safe and confidential in the paper as through the mail—and easier for me, too. But if you feel you cannot see your query in print, write me all about it.

ROSALIND.

Dear Rosalind—I am sure the girls receiving advice from you ought to be very grateful. I have been reading it for some time, and as I am puzzled a little myself I thought I would write you. I am sixteen years old and am going with a boy eighteen years.

LITTLE Miss Donnet wears a huge bonnet, With dozens and dozens of pink roses on it; Her dress is spread wide by the hoop-skirt inside, And she looks in her mirror with evident pride.

Put three extra pictures who are dressed up—Right side down, as per usual. Letter light corner down, as per usual. Upper left corner, along left side.

We have been chumming together for almost a year now. I like him very much. He has come to our house to see me quite often but since he has met another girl who lives out of town they have been keeping up a correspondence. He told me that he likes me better than this other girl but he keeps on writing to her. Now if I wrote to another boy or even paid the least attention to any boy but himself why he would be peeved and think I was mad at him. I am not old enough to be engaged to anyone, therefore he should not take it for granted that he is the only one I should pay attention to. Don't you think so? What would you do in that case? I would not like to hurt his feelings. Should I let him kiss me good-bye. How old should a girl be before she allows a boy to take her to the show or go out at all with him? What do you think is a decent marriageable age for either sex? Do you think it best to be engaged for a few years or rather a shorter period? How old should a girl be before she becomes engaged. Dear me, I am afraid I have troubled you too much, so I will close thanking you ever so much for your coming advice. Wishing you success in anything you undertake.

BROWN-EYED DORA.
Such a nice little letter, Dora dear, and even if you are only sixteen, you seem to have a head on your shoulders. I wouldn't bother if the boy chum wrote to a dozen girls. If you do not mind and he knows that you do not, he cannot possibly care how many boys you chum with. He may not like it, but he certainly cannot say anything. And he will value your friendship just as highly. You know what I have said a hundred times about kissing. It cannot be discussed in particular cases and so I must make a general statement and say positively it should not be allowed except when men and women are engaged or married.

A girl of sixteen may go to a show with a boy chum as long as her mother knows about it and approves. Twenty-five is a decent marriageable age. One to two years is long enough for an engagement, but if people only knew it, that is the happiest time and should be prolonged as long as possible.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—Reading your good answers to other girls I also have decided to ask you the following:

1. Is it proper for a girl of 20 to marry a fellow of 35?
2. Does sociability come natural or is it just a habit?
3. Supposing a young girl meets a young, intelligent, more or less respectable man and after knowing each other for a short time he embraces her. Should she object?

SMILES.

If a girl loves a man it does not matter about age—only when she is 50 he will be 65. It may look different then.
One must cultivate the social pleasantries and duties that will make one an entertaining and delightful companion.
No really intelligent, respectable young man embraces a girl until he is engaged to her.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—A s we are

ROSALIND.

great chums and are very anxious to get some of your motherly advice we will ask you to answer these questions:

1. Do you think there is any harm in dancing?
2. How old should a girl be before she goes out with a boy?
3. If a fellow takes a girl for a drive on returning should she invite him into the house?
4. If a very dear boy friend is leaving for a long while is it right for a girl to let him kiss her good-bye?
5. If a girl goes to a place of amusement and she meets an old friend and goes home with him should her steady fellow be jealous?
6. Is it right for a girl to propose in leap-year?
7. Do you consider kissing a filthy habit among people?

CHUMS.

The easiest way to answer the Chums is by numbers.
First—Of course not. I would rather dance than eat any day.
Second—It depends on the girl and on what her mother thinks about the boy.
Third—See answer to second.
Fourth—See answer to third.
Fifth—Did she go with one boy, and leave him to go home with another? If so, she was very rude. But if she went alone or with another girl—no one has a right to object.
Sixth—Surely you are joking. If not you probably know my answer.
Seventh—Ask your doctor.

ROSALIND.

Dear Miss Rosalind—I have been reading letters that have been answered by you, and take a lot of interest in them and I am sure that any girl that takes your advice will be alright. I am 22 and have never fallen in love with any young man, I do not believe in love at first sight. I am not keeping company with anyone now, and never will until I find a young man that is true. Am not very well, and cannot enjoy life very much, do you think I should marry or not? I am not happy this way—I love home, if I had one of my very own. Hoping to see this in print when its turn comes.

CURLY HEAD.

It is a mighty serious question you ask, Curly Head—and one I cannot answer—because I do not know how ill you are. But surely in this world of wonderful doctors and miraculous cures—you should be advised of your recovery—given a chance anyway. I send on your letter and hope its answer may bring comfort and cheer to you. Do you read much? Write to me again and tell me more about yourself.

ROSALIND.

EPIDEMIC OF DYSENTRY
It affects many people more in winter than in Summer—in the one case it is due to improper eating—in the other, to congestion excited by cold. A small dose of good old Nerviline repeated a couple of times usually removes the trouble very promptly. If there is pain, relief is almost immediate. For cramps, colic, stomach pains, and the like. Nerviline in sweetened water is certainly a wonder, 35c at all dealers.

A Corrector of Pulmonary Troubles.
Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in curing disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes.

Minard's Liniment for Dandruff.

YOUR EYES AND THEIR CARE

Many people put off getting glasses even when vision becomes dim for reading or sewing, fearing that they will weaken their eyes by wearing glasses. This is a mistake, because if you do not wear glasses for the relief of this defect, you are imposing a severe strain on the delicate muscles of the eye and this, if carried too far, may develop serious disorders.

When you find print blurring at reading distance or a tendency to hold things further away from you in order to see clearly, do not delay; visit your Optometrist or eye specialist and have him fit you with a proper pair of glasses for your work. You will be more than pleased with the results.

Muscular imbalance causes lack of union in the working of the two eyes together. All of these defects show serious eye-strain and cause extensive waste of nerve energy and its effects, probably the most common of which is severe headaches.

If you wish to have a question answered regarding your eyes, write direct to Dr. Brown, 1 Adelaide Street East, Toronto, and the answer will be given in this department.

What is the "sight" of the eye?—The pupil of the eye is often called the sight. It is the round blue, black or brown centre of the eye through which light passes to the retina or nerve coat of sight.

BRITISH AND BELGIAN FORCES ALONG RHINE

Great Britain's contribution to the forces of occupation along the Rhine for the present is to be confined to cavalry, tanks, and a small number of boats, in addition to a small complement of infantry. It is officially announced that no troops will be sent from Britain to the Rhine.

Premier De Wiart of Belgium, today told the Chamber of Deputies that a regiment of grenadiers was going to the Rhineland to reinforce the troops of occupation, and that possibly a regiment of cavalry would join the forces later.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it cannot thrive. To keep the children well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are absolutely safe and never fail to relieve constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fever. Concerning them Mr. Jules Pasquereau, Nominique, Que., writes:—"My baby was terribly constipated and suffered day and night. I was advised to give him Baby's Own Tablets and from the first they helped him and now at the age of thirteen months he is a big healthy, happy boy." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 35 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Reality

Real Service! Real Worship! Real Joy
To the Members of Grace Church.
Dear Brethren:

Real Service

Is it poor service at a restaurant or in a store? You are helpless at the time and just so far hindered in life. But go to a store where the clerk is alive to his own good, interested in his employer's business and above all desires to be of service to all his fellows. Such a man helps everything and everybody. Never the less there must be self-interest amid all self denying effort. What helps the world must reflexively help the worker. Let us all be alive and efficient. We have the Heavenly merchandise. Let no one say, "It doesn't matter about me, things will go on anyway." Will you say this in business or at home? Be of service everywhere. If you are any good at home or in business or in church, it will not be necessary for your employer to keep his eyes always upon you. Look around for the good of souls. It is service in the greatest business on earth. It calls for consecrated service. Be real. Be alive. Be earnest. Remember our Lenten motto, "New and contrite hearts." If never before alive to the situation, awake now. "Awake thou that sleepest and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." Be of real service in the world and in the church. Live a life worth living.

Real Worship

You have been of some service in the Lord's vineyard. It may have been only the giving of a cup of cold water. Acquire reality in worship by practice. It calls for experience. Learn about God from the wonders within you and around you. Read your Bible. Learn now of the triumphs of Jesus Christ in every age. Let there be no more surface knowledge. Be as earnest as you are in the pursuit of wealth or pleasure. Within every heart there is the spirit of worship. Do not thwart the design of your Lord and Master. Behold Him as He walks the earth. Acknowledge His wonderful claims upon your whole body and soul and spirit. Adore Him who is the Lord God omnipotent reigning in the hearts of millions of rejoicing adoring christians, surely he reigns within you. Around this holy center the whole universe revolves. Kneeling in lowly adoration, a warm influence fills your being and you to join the throng of true worshippers of the Lamb.

Real Joy

Joy comes because of problems solved, difficulties overcome or victories gained. The worshipping church solves the riddle of existence. You are on the winning side. It is and always will be a mighty conflict fought with much danger and attended by some disasters. Don't be like one of earth's powerful rulers who persecuted the church in early days, sending many hundreds to cruel deaths, but who himself was in the defeat of his dying breath, obliged to moan, "Thou hast conquered o Galilee." Joy comes in its highest degree to the worshipping congregation. Joy is richer when experienced together with one another. There comes the hearty expressions of adoration and the loud amen. In the early days christians could talk with those who had seen those who saw our resurrected Lord, and when they met together to worship the loud amens would sound like claps of thunder. After this long test of time we can be just as sure as they were. Easter is once more here. Jesus Christ has come mighty to save. Lowly He entered the world, so low He came that He reached me. He raises me from the death of sin to the life of righteousness. After real service in real worship with real joy let us arise and glorify His Name. "Jesus Christ is risen today, Alleluia!"

Yours faithfully,

H. J. Leake.

N B—This closes this present series of letters. I send them forth with prayerful effort and abounding hope for the good of souls. H. J. L.

TO ALL Whom It May Concern

THE Parliament of Canada has recently passed a bill regulating the taking of the vote on the Referendum in Ontario on April 18. The points to remember are as follows:

1. Every British subject by birth or naturalization, man or woman, resident in the Dominion of Canada one year previous to February 1, 1921, and resident in the Province of Ontario for two months previous to same date, is entitled to vote, unless otherwise disqualified.
2. Voters' Lists used in the last provincial referendum are the lists to be used in this Referendum, subject to revision. Every voter in an urban polling division must be on the list, and will presumably be on the list only in the division in which he resides.
3. In incorporated cities and towns of 1,000 population or over, arrangements will be made for receiving applications from any who are not now on the list on March 29 to April 4 inclusive—except Sunday—when for six clear days officers will sit to receive such applications.
4. In rural polling divisions the voter must be either on the list or be put upon it as a resident and be vouched for as such by another resident.
5. Both affirmative and negative sides have the right to select scrutineers.
6. Women have the right to vote.

THE MAELSTROM

BY FRANK FROEST.

Late Superintendent of the Criminal Investigation Department of Scotland Yard.

"I can't express how I felt. My quick anger against my father was no less intense than his long-nursed hatred."

"We talked long. I finally refused his offer to go back to Canada, and told him that I would never take another penny from my father. He was against that. He argued that it was the least Mr. Greye-Stratton could do for me."

"When he saw I was determined he pointed out the possibility that I might be Mr. Greye-Stratton's heiress, and that to refuse the allowance might embitter him against me." She flamed for a moment into passion. "As if I wanted anything—anything from that man!"

"When he left me I scarcely knew what to do—what action to take. I resolved to do nothing. After all, when I was in a colder mood I could see nothing that I could do. I could not or would not attempt a reconciliation with my father. I could not attempt the vindication of my mother. I remained on as they were before—except that I had my brother."

"He went back to Canada and the United States. Now and again I had letters from him. He had a hard struggle to make ends meet."

"Hallett nodded mechanically. Something in her tone made him begin to see the brother in a less sympathetic light. He burst out on the question on the spur of the moment: "He died—I meant he wrote to you for money?"

She winced. "Yes; he wrote to me for money. A little more than a year ago he was in England again. He has stayed here ever since. He called on Mr. Greye-Stratton and something happened—what I don't know. I suppose there were recriminations, but my brother told me little but that he was now entirely without resources. Mr. Greye-Stratton—Hallett noted that she persisted in the formal mode of reference—had cut off all help from him. I don't know if Mr. Menzies has said anything to you about my brother?" She flashed the question at him suddenly.

"Not a word. This is the first I have heard of his existence."

"I ask because he questioned me closely about him. My brother is a hard man, Mr. Hallett, and his outlook on life is different to that of the ordinary person. Circumstances have been against him. He was driven to find a living how he could. I want you to remember that if he was driven to it. I helped as far as I could, but he had heavy expenses. He signed my father's name to some cheques."

"He committed forgery?"

"Yes. The canceled cheques came into the hands of some one else, who knew that Dick Errol was my brother. He threatened to pass them on to Scotland Yard and give evidence against Dick unless I paid. Last night there was an appointment made at my flat. The price he needed was greater than I could pay. When he went I followed him. I knew he had the cheques on him and I hoped that I might find some way to get them from him."

"Just before I met you I had appealed to him again. He refused. He had the cheques in his hand. I snatched them to you on the impulse of the moment. That is all, Mr. Hallett."

"But there is something more," he said; "something you have not said." She shook her head, her lips pressed tightly together. "I have said all I can—all I dare. You helped me, Mr. Hallett, and I have told you more even than I have the detectives. It has been a relief"—she sighed—"to tell any one."

Jimmie was silenced. Yet a score of questions trembled on his lips. Trained to see the weak points in a narration, he could not fail to realize that there were gaps in the story—gaps that needed filling before one could come to full judgment. She had passed no hint of the blackmailer, the man from whom she had the cheques. That he was closely linked with her in some manner he felt.

And then speculation was lost in a rush of pity for the girl, who had been so unwittingly dragged into a maelstrom from which he could see no way of escape. That the man Errol was a scoundrel was certain on her own showing. He glimpsed through her reticence the fresh tragedy that his advent had meant to her life.

Vainly he tried to see for what purpose she was being used. If course Errol had been bleeding her, but there was something more. It came to him suddenly. She knew the murderer—she had said so. Here was a motive for Errol—a motive more powerful than revenge or passion. She would stand to gain a fortune by Greye-Stratton's death, and Errol would look to dabbling his fingers in it.

Yet this was the man for whom she was playing with fire. He was not very clear about English legal methods, but he conceived that in trying to shield him she was laying herself open to suspicion. He had judged Menzies acutely.

If Greye-Stratton's fortune were to come to her, that detective would leave nothing undone to be absolutely sure that she had no hand in the crime. Points would arise, actions be revealed that would look black against her by the very reason that she had carefully concealed them.

"Miss Greye-Stratton," he said gravely, "forgive me for what I am going to say. I believe it is a crime here to be an accessory after the fact in a case of murder. Do you realize that? Don't you think it would be wiser for your sake—for your brother's sake—to be candid with the police? Believe me, all that you have told me is sure to be known sooner or later."

Her face was irrevocable. "You think they will find out? That it will be worse because I tried to conceal it?"

"I do. If you will take my advice—my sincere advice—you will come with me to Menzies now. Understand me. I shall not betray a word of our conversation without your permission."

She placed her elbow on the table and rested her chin in her cupped hands, staring across the room in reverie. Presently she stood up.

"I will think of it," she said. "I will think of it."

CHAPTER VIII.

The Wedding Ring.

No effective detective organ is dependent on one man.

Co-operation is the essence of all successful detective work, exactly as it is in the carrying on of any great business. Scotland Yard will throw a score, a hundred, ten thousand men into an enterprise, if needed be, and every one of them from the supreme brain downward will have an understudy ready at any moment to pick up a duty abandoned from any cause.

No individual is vital, though some may be valuable. Every fact, every definite conclusion arrived at is on record. There is no stopping, no turning back to cover ground already traversed. The spade work of detection is as automatic as bookkeeping.

That is why Weir Menzies found time to cover the case against the pickpockets he had captured the preceding evening and to return to headquarters to smoke a quiet pipe and consider things in general.

He stuck his feet on a desk, leaned back in his chair and began serenely to go through the reports that had accumulated from every point where information, however remote, might have been gathered on the Greye-Stratton affair.

RHEUMATIC PAINS HAVE DISAPPEARED

AS A RESULT OF TREATING THE TROUBLE THROUGH THE BLOOD.

The chief symptom of rheumatism is pain. The most successful treatment is the one that most quickly relieves and banishes the pain. Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood; when rheumatism is associated with thin blood it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up.

Mr. Ed. Hall, Main-a-Dieu, N. S., suffered from rheumatism for years, but was more fortunate than many victims of the disease for he found a remedy that so built up his entire system that he is now free from rheumatism. Mr. Hall says: "I was taken down with rheumatism, and at times was under the treatment of several of the best doctors in Cape Breton, but they held out no hope for my recovery from the trouble. I was confined to bed for three years and a helpless cripple from the trouble. I could not move, and had to be turned in sheets. My legs and fingers were drawn out of shape, and sores developed on my body as the result of my long confinement to bed. I was in this serious condition when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking them. The first benefit I felt from the pills was an improved appetite, and then I began to feel stronger, and was finally able to get out of bed and go about on crutches. I continued taking the pills for months, slowly but surely getting new strength, and finally I was able to lay the crutches aside. I will always be lame, as the result of my long stay in bed, but my legs are shortened somewhat, but otherwise I am feeling fine and able to do my work as Fishery Overseer. I may add that when the rheumatism came on I weighed 140 pounds, and when I began going about on crutches I only weighed 67 pounds, and now I am at normal weight. There are many here who know and can vouch for the truth of these statements."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS

Farm Products Took First Place in Canada According to Annual Report.

Agricultural products take first place among Canada's exports for the last twelve months, according to the trade statement from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total of agricultural products exported was well over $550,000,000 of a total exportation of Canadian produce of $1,235,000,000.

There were exported during the period ending January, 1921, 123,952,694 bushels of wheat, with a value of $209,664,132, against 73,167,630 bushels with a value of $168,682,768 the previous year. The value of live animals exported fell from $55,164,837 in the twelve months ending January, 1920, to $27,080,417 the next twelve months.

The value of wheat flour exported dropped from $109,697,498 in the period ending January, 1920, to $57,961,676 in the next twelve months. Wood, unmanufactured, increased from $97,174,926 to $120,882,916 in the period just ended.

Total exports of Canadian products for the year ended January, 1921, were $1,235,621,584, against $1,242,585,893 in the twelve months previous.

According to the census of 1911 New Brunswick had a population of 361,829 souls, the males numbering 179,367 and the females, 172,022.

India and China contain about half the population of the entire world.

Uncle John's Joke

The practice of judicious economy is one to succeed. Economy, like intelligent and uniform work, is constructive—and no one can hope to enjoy real independence who does not keep his expenditures well within the limits of his income.

The reckless spending of money, quickly becomes a habit, and those who allow themselves to be enslaved by extravagance are burdened under the triple load of past, present and future obligations without sufficient funds to meet them.

There is just pride and pleasure in knowing that there is going to be a surplus left when the weekly bills are paid—much greater pleasure than the temporary enjoyment of things we cannot afford.

FATE'S GRIM JESTS

Performers Meet Death Though Able to do Some "Stunts" in Life.

The strange tricks Fate plays with the lives of men is illustrated by the recent case of a diver who met his death through drowning in an ordinary bath. The incident calls to mind the case of a sword-swallower who used to perform outside public-houses, thrusting a formidable blade several feet long down his throat as often as his admiring audience required him to do so. Yet this redoubtable steel-eater died from suffocation as a result of swallowing a small fish-bone. There is an account of a Spanish bull-fighter who had earned considerable repute in one quarter of Spain only to receive a fatal kick from a young steer on the farm of one of his friends. A similarly unlucky end was that of a circus performer whose particular feat was to plunge into a pond, chained and manacled, and liberate himself before appearing on the surface. While taking a bath one evening this performer took a dive into a river and, becoming entangled in some weeds, lost his life.

SIAMESE GHOST BOAT

Fish Get Frightened and Jump From Water Into Fishermen's Laps.

What is known as the ghost boat is used by the Siamese fishermen. This consists of a long board, painted white, and arranged in position in the water. The top must not be too high above the surface of the water for the fish it is desired to capture to leap over. When in position the ghost resembles very much the white side of the boat or punt. The fish seeing this white board, become frightened, and in fear they leap over the board. At the back of the board, however, nets are arranged in such a position that those fish that succeed in leaping the board land in the nets and are caught. The amount of fish caught by the employment of ghost boats is very large, indeed, and the method has the advantage of preventing the smaller fry from getting into the nets, as they are unable to leap over the board.

New Brunswick has upwards of 600 miles of coast besides many lakes and rivers. The fisheries of the Province are, therefore, extensive, producing yearly fish and fish products to the value of about six million dollars.

SCALLOPED FISH.

One and one-half cups of fish, 1 1-2 cups of cold boiled rice, one cup of grated cheese, one cup white sauce. Any kind of fish may be used for this recipe. After cooking the fish, shred it and arrange it in alternate layers with the rice and white sauce in a well oiled baking dish. Over each layer of the mixture sprinkle a layer of the grated cheese to which seasoning (salt and pepper) has been added. Cover the top of the mixture with grated cheese and bake until the top layer of cheese is well browned.

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line. His work, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is now in three million homes in this country and Europe. At one time Dr. Pierce represented his home district in Congress.

Fifty years ago last winter, this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equalled for the weaknesses of women. Many women in every hamlet, town or city will gladly testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did them a world of good.

Another of this great physician's successful remedies is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and, like the "Prescription," is now sold by druggists everywhere, in both liquid and tablets. The list of men and women all over the universe who have successfully used it for indigestion and as a blood tonic and system builder, makes an amazing total of thousands.

If you desire a cloth-bound copy of a new edition of the "Medical Adviser" by Dr. Pierce, send one dollar to the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. It is a book of 1000 pages of ready reference. For those not within easy reach of professional aid at critical times, and in cases of emergency or dangerous accidents, it is invaluable.

What Their Geographies Taught About Canada.

Germany has captured all the United States and a part of Canada, startlingly announces the Rocky Mountain News. The conquest took place ten years ago, all on the quiet and unknown to the inhabitants. The Kaiser at the time admitted the occupation and subjection of this territory and issued maps for the education of the little Huns in the public schools of the fatherland, whose gullibility left them believing that the select and rich parts of the world belonged "by divine right" to the German people, and all the rest was inhabited by swine and heathen.

But America has at last come to the full knowledge of its predicament by reference to page 55 map No. 1, of the Volkshul-Atlas von C. Diercke (public school atlas), used in the schools of Germany ten years ago.

As the youthful Hun struggled through his geography lesson he became "enlightened" about the world. He knew Germany, for he had seen the great pompous dignity of its emperor reviewing the imperial troops, Germany was a reality to the child. But about the rest of the world, Bah! They were heathen and "low brows."

And then the teacher came to page 5 of the lesson and then to map No. 1. It is titled "Verteilung der Menschensrassen," or the division of the human race. In great, stirring red ink the pupil was at once attracted to a vast area covering the whole of the United States and almost half of Canada.

And across the whole was written "Germanen," meaning Germans. To the north was a strip of green designating that there was the home of the "Noramerikanische Indianer," meaning the North American Indians. But the skillful art of lying, even in the face of an untruth, because they thought they could get away with it, led the authorities of Germany to step farther, and, behold, the race that gave to Germany the first knowledge of telephones and telegraphs, the submarine and airplane, through American inventions, was transformed into "heathen."

Map No. 2 on page 5 shows the western hemisphere in another light—that of the division of religions. Here the miracle of miracles is being worked, for in a heathen country German missionaries are battling the elements and savagery of a hideous race to plant the imperial and holy flag of Germany upon its soil and to bring "Christian" enlightenment to their unholy souls.

Across the face of the United States and Canada dark shaded places are shown, with a footnote reading Gebiet deutscher Heidenmissionen," meaning spheres of influence of German missionaries to the heathen.

IMMIGRATION.

Trade Will Not Flow Strongly For Over a Year.

Probably a year, or slightly more than a year, will elapse before the movement from Great Britain to Canada reaches a really large number, in the opinion of Hon. James A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and Colonization. Mr. Calder, who has returned to Ottawa, after an official trip to England and Scotland, finds that shipping conditions are at present operating to restrict the movement. Moreover, Canadian immigration agents overseas have instructions to take every precaution to see that no more people migrate to the Dominion than can at present be absorbed.

They advise persons not likely to find employment within a reasonable time of their arrival in Canada to defer their departure from England. Shipping agents, too, in view of the penalties to which they are liable for bringing unsuitable persons to the Dominion, are careful to scrutinize applicants for passages. In consequence, Mr. Calder asserts that Canada is securing a better and more suitable class of new citizens than ever before.

The shipping situation, however, prevents any immediate increase in the volume of immigration. Mr. Calder interviewed officials of the North Atlantic shipping conference, and was informed that accommodation on vessels coming to Canada was booked for about a year. In so far as the outlook for immigration in the future is concerned, it will depend a good deal upon economic conditions in Great Britain. For instance, Mr. Calder states that there is at present almost as great a shortage of domestic servants in England as in Canada. Women, who were trained for domestic service, found employment in industry during the war. They are only gradually leaving that field and returning to domestic service. The Minister of Immigration, however, found in Great Britain a feeling that a fairly serious unemployment situation might develop there in the near future. Such a condition would tend to drive people to seek homes and livelihoods in other countries. It has been variously estimated, moreover, Mr. Calder points out, that Great Britain has a surplus population over pre-war days of from 600,000 to 1,200,000. Before the war 250,000 people left Britain every year. At the same time, having regard to the shipping situation, Mr. Calder inclined to the view that immigration would not reach really large numbers for probably a year, or until the spring of 1922.
