For the first time in many years, possibly the first time in the history of North Sydney, coal could not be procured to suffice the needs of local consumers the first three days of last week, and in many instances people were obliged to disconnect their water service when forced to dispense with their furnaces. In a community where millions of tons of coal are to be had for the digging, the situation here last week was unique, even if it carried much hardship with it.

THE BEST SHORT COURSE GIVEN AT THE COLLEGE AT TRURO

The short course at the College of Agriculture Truro was completed on Thursday Jan. 10th. She enrolled attendance was 180 and in addition there were several one or two conventions and a very considerable intermittent attendance which would bring the total number who took advantage of the educational work up to about 350.

From the standpoint of the work done and of the interest taken the staff are unanimous in considering the 1918 short course to have been the best yet given at the College. Special attention was given to the matter of the using of the best kind of seed and the improvements of the live stock of the country.

second box and a very considerable better growth. From this illustration the importance of buying it need be a lesser quantity of high class oats instead of a larger quantity of a low class feed oats was urged on every student present and the lesson was applied to every other kind of seed.

Similar ocular demonstrations were given in regard to live stock and many other phases of agriculture. The result was that practically every student left the course having adopted the suggested New Year's Short Course resolution of "No Food Shortage If We can Help it."

This is the fourteenth short course which has been held at the College of Agriculture in Truro. The beginning in 1905 was small but since that time the course has grown in popularity and influence until today it is doubtful if any other single factor contributes more to the advancement of Nova Scotia Agriculture than the Truro short course.

HYPOCRITICAL "FREEDOM OF THE SEAS"

The British Fleet stands today between Germany and the dominion of the world, as the enemy realizes; and hence the phrase "the freedom of the seas" is continually on the lips of the hypocritical exponents of Prussianism. We desire to support every wisely directed effort to co-ordinate and elucidate the war aims of the Allies; but on the matter of our rights—which have nothing to do with war aims, but are the protection of real liberty from the evils of militarism—there can be no compromise.

AUSTRIAN MINISTRY IS FORCED OUT IN CRISIS; STRIKE IS SPREADING

Every Indication That Dual Kingdom is Shaken to Foundation by Peace Movement

Amsterdam, Jan. 21—The Austrian ministry has resigned, according to a Vienna despatch to the Berliner Morgen Post. Count Von Toggenburg, minister of the interior, has been charged with the task of forming a new cabinet.

Strike Movement Spreads Demand.

London, Jan. 21—The strike movement is spreading throughout Austria-Hungary, and it is associated with a demand for immediate peace, according to despatches received in London from Swiss and Dutch sources. A general strike was declared at Budapest on Friday, when the entire transport system came to a standstill, while form all parts of the Dual Empire strikes and demonstrations are reported.

The food situation and the question of peace were the sole subjects of discussion at the sitting of the budget committee of the Austrian chamber of deputies on Friday. The Socialists, according to the despatches, described the situation as extremely serious and declared that peace could not be postponed.

Food Situation Regarded as Desperate.

London, Jan. 20—A Daily Mail Bern despatch Sunday, says the strikes in Vienna and Lower Austria are becoming startling. As many as 300,000 were out Thursday. In all factories work ceased in Trieste, Ternitz, Pulten and other towns on account of the lack of food. The premier declines to give the mayor of Vienna any reassuring statement with regard to the flour supply. An extremely grave Austrian crisis is believed to exist.

The King Edward Hotel has been chosen for the purpose. The electoral lists of the sub-divisions have been also incorporated in one list. INCREASE IN SHEEP

While special emphasis has been laid on the increased production of hogs, more sheep are needed also. The increase in the number of sheep in all Canada this year amounted to 300,000 head, or 15 per cent. There doubtless will be, and should be a much greater increase next year.

The old year goes, silent and slow, With unguished eyes of misery and woe. The roll of drums and sound of marching feet Are in his ears, His hands and garments dyed a crimson hue Upon his head there rests a wreath of rue And in his heart sad memories of war fare grim, And bitter tears, Silent and slow, does the old year go, With his burden of woe,

The new year comes, pure as the snow, With timid men and eager fare aglow, From out the strife and din of vanished yesterday, He gently peers, The spottless scroll he carries has no strain Faith, Hope and Patience follow in his train While Peace repulsed, yet lingers, sore beset With doubts and fears, Pure as the snow does the new year come, Ah! the tap of the drum.

WINTER SERVICE

The interior of the cab, which is roomy and well ventilated, has spring cushioned seats which can be moved on a slide, while the sliding arm-rest on the window is also comfortably cushioned. A coat cupboard with swinging pegs takes care of the surplus clothing. The windows are double sashed with storm windows for winter and are constructed with small panes—a great advantage, as they are more easily and quickly replaced and occasion less discomfort if broken. A wind deflector enables the engineer to see the track without hurting his eyes, while a wind deflector on the roof of the cab stops the back draught and keeps the cab free from dust. The cab itself has double ventilators and is pleasantly warmed in winter through having the insulation on the boiler head made in panels which can be easily lifted out. The roof is painted a cool green, and cool green shades cover the lights, while the eyes are further protected by a deflector on the fire door which eliminates the glare. The water gauge is protected with a screen in case of the glass breaking, and, indeed, every possible device that human ingenuity has so far invented has been provided for the safety and comfort of "the man behind the gun."

A great improvement is the power reverse gear worked by air, as easy to work as the handle of a sewing machine, which eliminates the old heavy hand lever and reduces the physical strain upon the engineer.

So far as the exterior of the locomotive is concerned, this has been designed so that repairs can be made without the men having frequently to go inside or under the engine. One of the old worries of the engine crew is removed by a new type of air trainer, drawing cool air into the sump which requires little or no attention. A noticeable feature of the exterior is the Lefrd crosshead, an old type revived because it ensures such excellent lubrication and is easy to maintain. A safety strap is applied to the guide bar to prevent it from dropping. The guide is self-centering and maintains alignment better than the ordinary guide, while the leading driving wheel is flexible with one inch extra sidelay and is provided with wedge play to ensure proper guiding. The engine truck is provided with side resistance procured by a sliding inclined plane, and here again the safety of the engineer is considered in the safety clamp which prevents the tank from sliding forward on to the cab in case of collision.

Twenty-five such Decapods are under order for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and will be in service on the mountain division. Maximum power for minimum weight is the keynote of their construction. The locomotive itself weighs 125 tons, the tender 32.5 tons, loaded, while the tank capacity is 3,200 gallons of oil and 7,000 gallons of water.

Notwithstanding high prices of materials, the Canadian Pacific has continually added to its cars and engines, having built 1,500 cars last year and another 2,000 under construction at the present time.

WHERE A DAY IS FOUR DAYS LONG

Picture taken 12.15 a.m., June 22nd, from White Pass and Yukon route steamer "Gasca," on Yukon River at Fort Yukon.

IN Alaska there is a time when a day is four days long. From the 19th to 22nd of June, inclusive, the sun does not set. It is because of this that the vast country on the northwest of the American continent is called "The Land of the Midnight Sun." It fills one with strange thrills to be in the midst of an open country at midnight and then see old Sol look at you with a sleepy eye that peeps just above the horizon.

The far famed lovefulness of Alaska is an invitation to the tourist to visit it. Thousands go there annually. Transportation facilities are convenient. Some travel thousands of miles to see this region, but the invigorating atmosphere, the endless variety of mountain, river, lake, waterfall, forest and glacier scenery compensate well for the journey. On many of the plains and valleys the vegetation is rich, and excellent crops are raised.

The voyage along the Pacific coast from Vancouver to Skagway is delightful. The Canadian Pacific runs an excellent service of passenger vessels on this route. Last summer I took the trip. A White Pass and Yukon Route train brought me from Skagway to the town of White Horse on the Yukon River. There I boarded the steamer "Gasca" and took a trip into the heart of the country. There were about fifty tourists on the boat. It was the 21st of June, and we were all anticipating the experience of gazing on the sun at midnight. Nearly everybody had a camera in readiness. At 11 o'clock p.m. we were near Fort Yukon, and Sol then appeared to be a little clouded, but it was plain daylight. At midnight the Lord of Light had brushed away the clouds and appeared more like the full moon than the sun we know in Canada. We took many photographs of him as he climbed higher on the stairs of heaven and arrayed himself in his brightest shen.

As we sailed along the banks of the Yukon River we saw some bears and moose patrol the wilds, and the huskies—or big Alaskan dogs that draw the sleighs in the winter—kept the air busy in carrying the sounds of their baying to our ears. Each homesteader keeps a little herd of these dogs, and they are as useful to him as horses are to the residents of other countries. We continued our course until we were well inside the Arctic Circle, and while there we did not feel the necessity for heavy overcoats.

The population of Alaska embraces Eskimos and Indians, but it is by the large influx of white settlers that the country is being developed. Lumbering and mining are the principal industries, and they are carried on with profit. The United States paid $7,200,000 to the Russian Government for Alaska, and the bargain seems to have been a good one for the purchasers, for in recent years immense quantities of gold and other minerals, furs and timber have been produced in the country.

The making of railways is proceeding. Alaska is likely to become a sphere of considerable business activity. For the hunter and tourist the place holds a thousand charms. It is enchanting to look on at all times, but it appears at its best in June when it has that wonderful day of 96 hours in length. J. C. S. B.

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told me to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

HUGHES NOT CONSCRIPTION WAS OPPOSED

Melbourne Jan. 22. After a meeting of the Laborites to discuss the coalition proposals, Hon. Frank Tudor, leader of the Opposition, stated that there was not the slightest possibility of agreement between the opposing parties. In the course of the debate in the House of representatives Mr. Tudor, ministerialist, declared tens of thousands of votes were not against conscription but again a spirit of bitter antagonism, which had hitherto been foreign to Australia.

WHO IS SHE?

I know the dearest little girl,
About as big as you,
Her eyes are black or brown or gray,
Or maybe they are blue;
But, anyway, her hands are clean;
Her teeth are white as snow;
Her little dress is always neat;
She goes to school, you know.
This little girl—I love her well,
And see her often, too—
If I today her name should tell—
She might be you.

ARSENATE OF LIME

Warning in Regard to its Use

BY G. E. SAUNDERS.

Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Annapolis Royal, N. S.

Arsenic in the form of arsenate of lime costs but little more than half of what it costs in the form of arsenate of lead. At the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Association all of the experimenters who had used it agreed that the arsenate of lime sulphur combination gave less burning of the foliage than the arsenate of lead lime sulphur combination. The experiments of the Dominion Entomological branch have for two years shown that more apples remained on the tree where the arsenate of lime sulphur combination was used than where the arsenate of lead lime sulphur combination was used. Experimenters and fruit growers all agreed that no injury had followed the use of arsenate of lime and lime sulphur for the first three sprays. These are points well worth considering and when we remember that the material comes in powder form and does not cause any black sludge in the bottom of the spray tank we must admit that the poison cannot be lightly considered.

In the papers and discussions at the N. S. F. F. A. it was found that in some experiments and in several orchards, when used with lime and sulphur the fourth spray, arsenate of lime had given some slight and in a few cases serious yellowing. This was without doubt due to the slow breaking up of arsenate of lime, liberating small traces of soluble arsenic. If arsenic had been freed in any considerable quantities, as in the reaction of lead arsenate on lime sulphur, burning instead of yellowing would have resulted.

In many cases yellowing was caused by the grower diluting his lime and sulphur away below the spray calendar and not reducing the arsenate of lime. Knowing that arsenate of lime is unsafe unless protected we know that it was impossible for this procedure to result in anything but yellowing.

The elimination of small quantities of soluble arsenic such as causes yellowing, proved an easy matter in 1917. Arsenate of lime (3-4 to 40 gals), which yellows badly, was made safe for four sprays by adding 10 lbs of hydrated lime to 40 gallons of spray. The soluble sulphur (1 lb to 40 gals.) arsenate of lime (1-2 to 40 gals) combination which normally yellows badly was made safe for four sprays by adding 10 lbs of hydrated lime to 40 gallons of spray. Arsenate of lead, 10 lbs to 100 gals, alone yellows badly, was made safe for four sprays by adding 10 lbs of hydrated lime to 40 gallons of spray.

For those who wish to retain the good points of arsenate of lime, and the point of cost is an important one, and do away with one defect that showed on the last spray in a few cases, we would recommend the adding of 5 lbs. of lime, either slaked or hydrated, to 40 gallons of spray. We do not believe that the addition of lime is necessary for the pre-blossom sprays. We know of no case in 1917 where it was necessary for that kind of spray but in order to be on the safe side we would recommend for the third spray 2 gallons of lime sulphur 1-1-2 lbs. of arsenate of lime and 12 lbs. of water slaked or hydrated lime to 100 gallons of water. This will not yellow apple leaves.

For the fourth spray we are recom-

THE QUESTION OF FEED

Pork Can be Produced With Profit—Hog Feed Available

Professor H. Barton, of Macdonald Agricultural College, St. Anne de Bellevue, writes on one aspect of hog production as follows: "Many a man will shout, 'no feed—' 'dear feed,' when the subject of pork production is mentioned. Feed is scarce and dear, but a large amount of feed that hogs can use is available. More can be found and at prevailing prices pork can be produced with profit. On every farm and in every household there is a certain amount of waste that only the hog can make use of. Hog feed of this character is of immense value. Shorts and middlings are to be available at cost price. They should be used for hog feeding exclusively and not for dairy cattle for which they are not economical."

The low cost, the reduction in burning the handy powder form and the freedom from the sludge in the spray desirable. The one defect of the tank, make arsenate of lime most new poison with lime sulphur, which showed in only a few cases in the fourth spray, can be easily eliminated as outlined above.

TWO GIRLS FOUND DEAD IN TRUNK

The St. John Standard. Boston, Jan. 18.—Catherine and her sister, Adeline were found suffocated in a trunk in their home in the south end district by their mother. While playing about the house they had climbed into the trunk and closed the lid, which had a spring lock. It was more than an hour before they were missed.

TO THE MARRIED MAN WHO MUST DRINK

A reader having at heart the interests of the married man who cannot get along without a drink, sends the following suggestion of Elmer F. Hoover in the Medical World:

1. Start a saloon at home.
2. You will be the only customer.
3. Give your wife two dollars to buy a gallon of whiskey, and remember there are 96 drinks in a gallon.
4. Buy your drinks from your wife only, and by the time the first gallon is gone she will have $7.60 to put in the bank and $2. to buy a new stock.

5. Should you live ten years and continue to buy booze from her, and then die with snakes in your boots, she will have money enough to give you a respectable burial, educate your children, buy a house and marry a decent man.

Let's try it!

Nova Scotia apples No 1 quality were selling a week ago at $9.00 per barrel in Wainipeg.

Hog Raising Is Very Profitable

THE raising of hogs has for long been one of the most profitable branches of the farming industry in Western Canada. At the present time the returns from hogs are greater than ever, while the growing shortage of meat all over the world ensures a safe and profitable market for many years to come. Nowhere are the returns safer and greater than in Western Canada, where the land is cheap, where feed crops can be raised in abundance, and where the climatic conditions are such as to reduce the risk of disease to a minimum. No class of stock brings returns more quickly to the farmer than hogs. The proficiency and the rapidity in which they grow to marketable size ensure a maximum production of meat in the shortest time. 1,500 pounds of dressed meat is a moderate estimate of what can be produced from one sow in one year.

The principal hog feeds of Western Canada are alfalfa, the king of hog feeders, wheat, alfalfa, oats, barley and corn. Alfalfa is grown successfully throughout the west, especially in the irrigated areas of Southern Alberta. Oats and barley are excellent feed crops, and produce splendid pork and bacon of excellent flavor, which always commands the top market price. For growing hogs there is no superior feed than Western Canada oats, which weigh as to 32 pounds to the bushel, and contain a large amount of meat and a comparatively small amount of hull. For fattening purposes, barley is chiefly relied upon, and there is no doubt that apart from the weight of the hull, barley grown in Western Canada is equal in food value to corn and produces a superior quality of meat.

A typical example of the successful hog breeder of Western Canada is F. H. Wieneke of Stony Mountain, Manitoba. Mr. Wieneke has been associated with hog raising practically since the day of his birth fifty-five years ago, in a log hut in Iowa, when hog raising was in its infancy in that part of the State. The farm on which the hut was located could then have been bought for $6 an acre, and he says, "It is but one of hundreds of corn and livestock farms in Iowa that raise corn and sell hogs."

In the fall of 1905 he decided to come to Manitoba, because, to put it in his own words, "I thought hog raising would be more profitable here than in the more densely populated farming community of Iowa, which proved to be true."

Since locating in Manitoba he has been a regular attendant and exhibitor at the International Live Stock Show at Chicago, and has won the Grand Championship over all champions of other breeds in the broad sow classes for three years in succession. Every time he has been there he has met some of his old friends who would invariably ask him how he achieved his success in raising hogs without corn. To this question he would invariably reply, "You fellows feed too much corn. That is why you always have to be on the lookout for large sires to keep up the size and stamina of your herds. Our feed is the kind that produces good sturdy pigs with plenty of ham and a deep side of bacon which you cannot get by feeding corn." In addition to winning the Grand Championship, Mr. Wieneke has also won thirty-four champion honors at twenty-four of the best shows in Western Canada.

Farmers who breed the stock, and raise the hogs, are not only getting the benefit of the market at home, but they are also getting the benefit of the market abroad. One of Mr. Wieneke's best hogs sold his 1916 size in October realizing about $200 each for them and he fed them but little grain in addition to good pasture and manure. That was last year. This year the market is much better, and considerably higher prices have been realized. Barley shorts, bran and mangels, with a little milk, Mr. Wieneke considers an ideal ration for growing pigs, and barley and wheat-fed, or finely ground screenings, with a few mangels, make as good a finisher as can be had in any country. All these can be produced cheaply and abundantly in the Prairie Provinces. He always tries to have plenty of pasture, and finds that fall rye makes the best in the fall and early spring, but for the rest of the growing season alfalfa is the best. In 1916 he had a field of alfalfa which averaged four and a half tons to the acre, and which was cut three times. For those who have no alfalfa he recommends a mixture of barley and rye sown at different times during the summer. He also feeds chopped rye to pigs of all ages and grows hogs, and finds it one of the best feeds to produce growth and muscle.

Hog raising has been making big money for many farmers in Western Canada this year. To the small farmer they are indispensable, affording him a steady income. Every week prices are rising, and a few instances of sales made by farmers in Alberta this year will be illustrative. In April last a number of farm-ers of Bon Accord, Alberta, clubbed together and shined a car containing 85 hogs, weighing 17,000, which they realized $2,500.51, after payment of freight and expenses. In June a farmer of Crossfield, Alberta, shipped a car of 84 hogs to Calgary. Their total weight was 20,000 and the net amount realized by this farmer was $2,000. In September a Cloncha farmer shipped two cars of hogs in successive weeks, on the first of which his net receipts were $3,500, and on the second $4,038. The price of which the hogs in the latter case were sold was $19 a hundred pounds. In the same month a car load made up by a party of twelve farmers of Leduc, Alberta, and sold at Edmonton, realized $2,200. Another car from Spruce, Alberta, made up by the same farmers, netted the owners $1,750. The price of the hogs in these two cases was $17.50 a hundred pounds. A farmer of St. Albert, Alberta, sold 79 hogs at Edmonton in September, on which he realized $1,387.78, or an average of $42.53. The initial cost and the cost of raising them he estimated at $20, so that his product amounted to $22.53 per hog.

Loyalty.

Loyalty to our country is good, but loyalty to our town and our neighbors is just as important, although rarer. To send money out of town for things that may be obtained from townsmen and neighbors is not loyal, and does a serious injury to our schools, churches, and other institutions supported by local taxation or philanthropy. Support good roads, good churches and good schools. Spend your money at home. You will get just as good of better value, and can see what you buy before you pay for it, instead of after. ANOTHER TERRIBLE DISASTER
WITH HEAVY TOLL OF LIFE.

Ninety Miners Entombed

New Glasgow, January 23—Another chapter in the horrors of the past two months and what it is feared was the worst mining tragedy of Pictou County, was added to history at a quarter to six this evening, when an explosion occurred at the twelve hundred foot landing of the Main Shaft, which practically destroyed the lower levels of the mine and entombed nearly a hundred miners working there.

There are three levels or landings in the Allan Shaft, at five hundred feet, nine hundred and sixty-two feet, and twelve hundred feet respectively. At the time of the explosion there were known to be nearly one hundred men in the mine, including seven of the day shift who had not finished their work. Nine men on the five reached the surface safely. Not one of those remaining is known to be alive, and the mining centres of the County are again in deep mourning.

Draeger Men There

The specially trained Draeger men were on the spot in a few minutes after the accident and are spending the night at taking their turns at the dangerous work of descending into the gas filled mine. Practically every mining man in the County is spending the night with them and the Company's officials at the mine. Hundreds of miners and miners' families are also spending the long cold night at the shaft's mouth, many of them hoping against hope that their loved ones will come out alive.

New Glasgow, January 24—Up to two o'clock this morning eleven bodies had been recovered. There were 96 men in the mine, nine of whom came out alive, leaving 78 men unaccounted for. A special train with Draeger apparatus from the Dominion Coal Co., at Glace Bay, is rushing to the rescue.

CAUSE NOW POUND FOR RECENT ITALIAN ROUTE

Pro-German Traitors Did the Work

After a swift but thorough investigation on the ground of the causes of the Italian debacle of Oct. 23, Herbert Corey has discovered facts which make one of the most remarkable stories of the war. The Italian army was driven from its advanced position because political traitors in Rome failed to support it, because pro-German traitors within the army ordered their men to retreat, and because pro-German civilians conducted a propaganda of falsehood and forgery. The Italian private soldier was told peace had come—officers by connivance or ignorance permitted this—and on the morning of Oct. 22 thousands of men threw down their arms and started for home. Thereupon they were attacked by determined German troops. By herculean efforts patriot officers managed to establish a defence on the Piave. During the rout many patriot common soldiers shot their traitor officers.

Mad Presentation Before Leaving Fort William

From Fort William Daily Times—Journal.

The friends of J. W. Ryan, manager of the Union Bank, Fort William, who have been associated with him as members of the Kaministiquia club, met this afternoon in the club to say goodbye to him on his departure for St. John, where he has been transferred as manager of the Union bank in that city. An address was made by D. W. Black, who, on behalf of the assembled friends, presented Mr. Ryan with a purse, a traveling bag and a handsome cane, at the same time expressing their sorrow at losing a man who has proved himself so good and active a citizen, and wishing him good luck in his new position. Mr. Ryan will leave on Monday morning for Toronto, and thence will continue his eastward journey to the maritime province.

BIG ORDER PLACED FOR CANADIAN RAILWAYS

Ottawa, Jan. 21—The railway department will shortly place orders for $7,000,000 worth of new rolling stock. Contracts for $4,000,000 worth of new locomotives, cars, etc., were let some months ago and deliveries are now being made.

Parliament voted last session $25,000,000 for additional equipment for Canada's railways and the contracts are being placed as rapidly as the steel companies can handle them. Although the new cars are primarily for use on the government railways they will be loaned to the Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk and other roads as occasion requires. The new orders will be for $3,000,000 worth of passenger cars with $4,000,000 for box cars and locomotives.

FIRST CANADIAN AEROPLANE ENGINE GIVEN ITS TRIAL

Ottawa, Jan. 21—The first aeroplane engine manufactured in Canada was successfully tried out in Toronto today, according to a telegram received by Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the imperial munitions board. A thousand of these engines will be delivered and installed in the completed machines this year.

BRAZIL TO ENTER WAR

Paris, Jan. 20—Within a few months Brazil will have an army of several hundred thousand men ready to take their places in France beside their allies and by the end of this year she will have assembled an army of two million men.

This statement is made by the Brazilian Senator De Mello Machado, in an interview published in the Petit Journal. Brazil has a population of 25,000,000. An army of 2,000,000 men would bring into service at least one-sixth of the male population.

"It is a question of honor," declared Senator De Mello for his country to come to the fighting front in France, in order to take part in the defence of the world's liberty. Germany seems to have considered our declaration of war as a matter of small importance. She adopted the same tactics with regard to Great Britain at the beginning of the conflict, and more recently with respect to the United States. We must make her change her tune."

"Before the war our army and navy had altogether about 15,000 men. I do not exaggerate when I say that today Brazil, with a population of twenty-five million, can easily raise an army of 2,000,000 men. This number we shall get together by the end of the year.

"Meanwhile, within a few months, we shall have an army of several hundred thousand ready to go to France to fight with the Allies.

Brazil declared war against Germany October 26th last. If the statements of the Brazil senator are true she will have trained her first overseas army in less time than it took the United States.

HARBORVILLE

This place of ours is just about over the world about now, as we hev such dern wether, snow and then rane and then sun hale, and then it wuld fress up sum more, so thet now our rades is just one glair uv ice, and uv curse it hes cought most uv our citizens with ther horses without sharp shoes, so they cant stand up, and es they hev no skates, they hev to keep them tu hum. I hev often wondered why in blazes they dont put them never slip up shoes unto ther horses, es Im told them gets sharper the mor you use em, and dont cost no more hen the other kind.

Its dern funny how sum of them assessors does aint it Howard? We hev a fellers what owns several peeces uv property, sum of the best ther is over here, an des I was in Parkers shop the other day I was lookin over the school tax list, and I was hornsawkled to see thet this fellar was not on that list at all, nether was anybody else taxed for the properties what he owns. It looks dern funny ter me, cus he hes owned them same places for several years, but maybe the school tax list is med up from sum assessment role uv the year 1800, but even et thet they should be taxed to sumbody even if they was dead.

In the menetime we air raisen more kids what will hev to be schooled by and by, even if sum of em aint quite clear as to whether they hev a farther or not. We sur hev sum fellars in Nova Scotia, tnet wont fight, but maybe the germens culd use em to raise—

We had our population increased last week by one young lady, Mrs. Edward Spicer, Jr, heven presented her husband, with a little darter. Mother and child air doin well, and so is Ed. That makes Five boys and two girls he hes now. If he is not phisical fit to fite, he is sur doin his bit just the same.

Mr. Putman, the Government Engineer was over last week to see iv Commodore Perry was fixen our old wurf up rite. I guess he was, becuz Billie is still on the job.

After neely wern himself down to er skeleton, Capt. Bloom Morris found sum fellar what was willin to chop wood for him in exchange fur real munny, so Bloom is busy day and nite haulin wood to his house, but he seems ter be the only one round here doin a dern thing, exceptin Ben Bezanson who es soon es he got back from County meetin set off to rip sum more uv the insides outern his mercantile establishment. Uv curs every body is wonderen what Ben is goin to do but he is sayen nuthin, just keeps on sawen wood so ter speke.

We hev a new business firm to Harborville now, es Vernon Salzman and Dan Spicer, hev formed a partnership and air cuttin out all the hoop poles what is grown along the road ter Berwick. Thet will help sum, and they will earn wakes, but if they wuld cut out them pesky alders whil they was getting out them hoop poles, they wuld be helpen the general comnertty also.

I notered a stranger to Harborville the other day but cum to get close to him I seed it was Capt Ed. Curry. The reason I didnt know him was becuz he hed sum grate whiskers unto his face, and when telled him I hedent grown him, and asked him what he was growen whiskers fur, he telled me, thet he hed no time to shave his self, es he had to work day and nite cuttin wood to keep five fires goin, him heven to keep fires inter his frost proof celler to keep his own and the neighbors petaters from freezeen, fur he sed the neighbors air not helpen to cut fire wood. Thet hit me sum fur I hev a couple uv bushels uv valuable petaters in thet same cellar.

Seem es it was a bad day Tuesday, I thot I wuld go up and see the old fellar on the hill, es I hedent saw him fur sumtime, so I went up over the ice and found him es usual in thet ben houses, and it nigh tuck my breth away. Say thet old fellar is sure some sport, even ef he is goin round with one leg in the silent tune, fur ther he was in one ef the pens with half a hundred roosters or so, and ill be derned ef he didnt hev about a dozen uv em fighten like blazes, and sum uv em looked es if they hed been thru viny ridge, and the hens in the other pens was holden a meetin, and for all the world it remind me uv a nitten circle meetin. Them hens was raisen the d—, and the big Rhode island red was floppen her wings and hollerin worse then the commodore does when he is rel mad. So I asked the old fellar what all the row was about, and ses he its like this. I hev wurked and starved and worried all winter hustling feed fur

We are sorry to report the serious illness of Mrs. Trueman Costley. Her speedy recovery is hoped for by a wide circle of friends here and elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ward, of Goldbrook, called on friends in this vicinity on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Legge, of Riverside are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. David Costley is still busily engaged in trapping and dealing in fur, despite his years and the depth of snow.

Miss Annie MacGarry, is visiting friends in Kentville.

A "tramp" passed our way last week one day. A man he was, wide read, with a mind brown enough to grasp and understand all that makes life worth living. All the "ologies" were to him an open book. Was he a German spy or "only a drifting plank upon an open sea.

SIR WILFRID WILL LEAD OPPOSITION AT COMING SESSION

Seats May be Found for Former Liberal Leaders—Including E. M. MacDonald

Ottawa, Wednesday — Sir Wilfrid Laurier will continue to lead the Liberal opposition in parliament for the coming session at last. Although the old Chief has been personally desirous for two years past of retiring from the storm and stress of active leadership and responsibility, political conditions both from the national and party standpoints require him to keep his hand on the helm still. Various rumors of Sir Wilfrid's pending retirement from the Liberal leadership towards the close of the last parliament raised a storm of protest from his followers throughout Canada, and more particularly from Quebec. Apart altogether from the personal affection and esteem accorded him by Liberals there was always felt the difficulty of agreeing upon a new leader to succeed him who could command the entire confidence and loyalty of all parts of the country and of all sections of the party as he has done through his outstanding position as the trusted, experienced and revered statesman and party leader.

At the Liberal conference in Montreal on Monday and Tuesday last, it is understood that, although Sir Wilfrid made it clear that he was ready to retire whenever the way was clear the unanimous opinion was expressed that his resignation could not be considered under present circumstances. Sir Wilfrid will, accordingly remain in active public life meeting the call of national service and the wishes of his followers.

Under the circumstances speculation as to his successor is deadly premature. The report that Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is the man designated to receive the mantle when Sir Wilfrid drops it is perhaps a natural surmise in view of Sir Wilfrid's long standing admiration for Mr. King's character, energy and ability, but for the present at least it is only "a report."

There has been no real discussion among the liberal leaders as to "the next man up." In parliament itself there is an undoubted paucity of choice among the English-speaking followers of Sir Wilfrid from whom to pick a "first lieutenant." The first problem of the opposition is to secure entry into parliament of two or three men from the English-speaking provinces around whom the liberal party might again rally in preparation for the next election and the expected party realignment and readjustment. Both Mr. King and Hon. George P. Graham are wanted back in Parliament behind Sir Wilfrid if a way can be found for their re-entry. It is also hoped that E. M. MacDonald may also continue in public life as Liberal leader east of Quebec while Hon. William Martin, Premier of Saskatchewan, is mentioned as the prospective federal leadership in view.

The question of the re-entry of any of these men into parliament, however, has only tentatively discussed so far. In any event until parliament meets there can be no resignation of opposition members-elect with a view to providing a seat for Mr. King, Mr. Graham or Mr. MacDonald. A resignation can only be made to the speaker of the commons, and there will be no speaker to receive a resignation until the new parliament appoints one. Indications are that the remobilization of the Liberal party and the problem of leadership will be left in abeyance until after the coming session of parliament. It is not likely to be a very long or continuous session.

He has already urged all his Quebec friends to use their influence towards securing loyal co-operation from Quebec both in regard to the enforcement of the military service act, and in regard to every other form of war service. His chief reason for retaining the party leadership is because he believes he can thereby assist the restoration of harmony and unity between the two races in Canada.

HIS CRIME

A man descended from an excursion train and was wearily making his way to the tramcar, following by his wife and four children, when a policeman touched him on the shoulder and said:

"Come along with me."
"What for?"
"Blowed if I know; but when ye're locked up I'll go back and find out why that crowd was following ye."

GUARDING THE GERMAN RULER

His Movements are Kept Secret

So closely is the German Emperor guarded when he travels by rail thru Belgium that his movements are kept even from the railroad officials handling his train up to the last possible moment, according to a correspondent of the London Chronicle, who has several times witnessed the Emperor's arraival.

"Whatever the passage of the Imperial train is to take place the fact is not known to the chief railway official until the same day, and to his subordinate not until a quarter of an hour before the arrival," the correspondent says. "In the station the lines are all kept free."

Describing one such arrival of the Emperor's train the correspondent says: "All workmen, on this occasion, whether Belgian or German, were dispatched outside, and access to that station was forbidden. This applied to all passengers as well. The military guards occupying parts of the station and environs were ordered to leave their posts and pile their arms. The only persons allowed on the platform were the stationmaster, his employees appointed to work the signals, and the military chief. There was no guard of honor, no manifestation whatever."

"This clearing of the station takes place at every station through which the train passes, which it does at the maximum regulation speed. At Brussels, detainment took place opposite the Place Rogier, which is military post since the occupation."

"The space in front of the station which is always forbidden ground to passengers, was occupied by several motor cars. As soon as the Emperor entered his car the small fleet ran swiftly to the Parc Rue Royale, where the Kaiser stayed several hours.

"During the presence of the Kaiser the officials always display the utmost nervousness in fear of anything taking place, and they always breathe a sigh of relief when their master is gone. The fact that even the military are obliged to retire and pile their arms seems to suggest a distrust of his own army."

NOVEL BULLET-FINDER INVENTED

An electro-magnet which tells the position of a bullet by causing a sound "very much like a steamboat whistle" in a stethoscope placed on the patient's skin is one of the recent developments of war surgery, according to Surgeon-General Fortheringham, C. M. G. of the Canadian Army Medical Service. By means of the new magnet the exact position of any electro-magnetic substance, including the German bullet, can be determined. When the bullet is not deeply seated a vibration is set up by the magnet which can readily be made out by the hand. When too deep for this, the electro-magnet is placed on one side of the patient's body and a stethoscope is moved about on the skin opposite the magnet. The steamboat-whistle sound indicates the nearest point to the foreign body, and the skin is marked at that point. The development of the locating of bullets by this magnet and similar means since the war began would be, according to Surgeon-General Fortheringham, perfectly amazing to a civil surgeon.

Yarmouth, Municipality of Aryle has passed a resolution imposing a special poll tax of $2.00 a head on all males from 21 years and upwards, for the Patriotic Fund for 1918.

uors as beverages are no longer regarded as necessities of life. Drinking habits depend upon facility and custom, and when the facilities are removed the bulk of the population are easily reconciled to the change." The Star notes that the United States seems also moving in the direction of nation-wide prohibition, and predicts that the time will come when the North American continent will be dry from the Mexican border north.

In the judgement of the Guelph Herald, the Government's announcement is "the grandest Christmas box that could have been bestowed upon Canada." It calls attention to the fact that great stores of grain are diverted to the manufacture of liquor, and that these are needed to maintain the armies at the front and the people of the Allied nations where already certain articles of food are both scarce and dear. The Galt Reporter believes that in a short time the liquor traffic will be a thing of the past in Canada, since after the war the people having tasted the benefits of prohibition will be determined to keep the country "dry."

The Winnipeg Free Press commends prohibition as a war time measure, and says "the logic is all on one side." In the judgement of the Ottawa Journal there will be very little dissatisfaction expressed in Canada over the order. The people are ready for prohibition now "where they were not ready one, two to three years ago." The St. John Telegraph commends the government, but says that it should have taken the step three years ago, and thinks that the administration ought not to have postponed until April next the duty of forbidding interprovincial traffic.

The Times and Starr of the same city say that in bringing about prohibition the "government has justified the confidence of its supporters." It says that a "sober Canada has long been the dream of reformers but no one dreamed the change would come so soon."

In commending prohibition the St. John Standard says that the decline of drunkenness in St. John since the passage of the Provincial Prohibition Act "tells its own story," and continues "On Christmas Eve last year the County Jail contained 48 prisoners; last night the same institution housed twelve." The Montreal Gazette declares that Canadians are among the lightest users of alcohol in the world, and says that if total abstainers are in the minority so are those who may be called drunkards or even heavy drinkers. It believes that the new orders are Draconic and suggests that they may provoke veasions.

The London Advertiser, the chief opponent of the Union Government in Ontario thinks it will be well if the government takes time to consider the full effects of its programme; "too great haste might create evils which would be disastrous." It believes that in Quebec are to be found the greatest reserves of liquor, and it hints that if Quebec is obliged to consume all that remains in store there after April 1st the results will be unfortunate in a province which "most needs clear thinking, cool and understanding judgement during the coming months and years." It also fears that as the one 'wet' province in Canada Quebec may attract a class of immigrant not well calculated to create and cement friendly relations with the rest of Canada. The Advertiser concludes it seems hardly wise to force upon Quebec the status of the bar-room of Canada."

The Hamilton Herald is the only paper that has come to our desk which says bluntly that it does not believe in prohibition as a principal of national policy under ordinary conditions." It holds, nevertheless, that the Government is justified in its action as a war time measure.

Kings County Poultry Show

The entry at the Poultry Show held in Wolfville January 16th, 17th and 18th was not as large as that of last year but was of better quality. The citizens of Wolfville took a keen interest in the show, and everybody was there.

Rhode Island Reds were the class of the show. Keen competition and lots of it. White Wyandottes were a good entry and full of quality. Barred Rocks were of excellent quality but lacked strong competition. Mediterraneans were there in variety, the white leghorns showing some real beauties. Polands were an excellent showing and all down the line were filled classes of A 1 quality. Pekin ducks in number and quality far exceeded all former shows.

Now is the time to prepare for a bigger and better show for next year. No industry offers better opportunity for development at a minimum outlay. The Poultry Show is a big factor in getting started with a good class of birds. More interest should be shown by our citizens in the efforts put forth by the members of this Club. Do your part by becoming a member of the King's County Poultry Club and attend its meetings.
