Mr. Powell cannot be considered a the Tory machine, the railway influence, who has always had a strong hold on the electors of Westmorland, running elections under discouraging circumstances and unexpectedly turning up at had command of the expedition which the head of the poll when the chances put down the Northwest rebellion in were apparently against his success. Mr. Killam led Mr. Powell in the last elect- as commander in chief of the British ion, as we have said, by 118 votes, and army we believe he can do it again. No man is better known in the county than Mr. Killam, and even the Moncton Times, of which Mr. Powell is chief proprietor, acknowledges that "Mr. Killam is a man of much local strength and has probably a larger personal following in the constituency than any other of his party."

But Mr. Killam must command the support of the electors of Westmorland from the cause of Liberalism which he represents. The Tory government at Ottawa is admitted to be on its last legs. It could scarcely survive the last session; its members are quarrelling among themselves and only the flesh pots keep them together. They have brought the country to a condition of strife to be regretted, on the Manitoba school question. They have fooled with the matter until Canada is threatened with a religious war, and Mr. Powell appears in Westmorland as the apologist of the government's record in this particular. And then there is the black history of Tory dishonesty and boodling of railway and canal contracts sold to the highest contributor to the Tory election fund, of thefts in the public works department, the Curran bridge steal, the Fredericton bride scandal, and a score of other dishonest deals which have aroused the people of Canada to indignation and a resolve to rid themselves of the corrupt Tory combination

We believe that Mr. Killam will make a strong fight for victory on Saturday next, and that nothing short of an immense expenditure of Tory boodle will prevent his success. The county will swarm with political orators during the next week, and the contest, although short, will no doubt be unusually lively. Nomination took place to day, and polling will be held next Saturday.

LOOKING FOR A CONSTITUENCY.

The announcement that Hon. G. E. Foster has about decided not to contest York county, is denied in a half-hearted way by the government organs, but that does not alter the fact. Mr. Foster wants to return to parliament and in the past few weeks he has realized the force of the opposition to him in this constituency. He left Kings because he had no prospect of re-election there, and he came to York confident that with the assistance of Mr. Gibson he would have an easy run. However, from the day of his nomination here, there has been open rebellion against his candidature in the Tory ranks. All over the county prominent men who have hitherto yoted for Mr. Temple, are determined not to encourage the accession of an outsider into this constituency. They say we have always been able to produce our own representative men, and it is an insult to the people to introduce a tramp politician who has been kicked out of his own county. Mr. Foster, no doubt, at the convent school.

MR. POWELL is a man of good ability, strong candidate in the present contest but has poor fighting qualities. He is except in so far as he has the backing of not industrious, suffers considerably from an abnormally developed opinion of his present system. etc. On the other side is Mr. Killam own greatness, and makes a poor repre sentative for the people.

THE British parliament opened Monday and Speaker Gully was re-elected without opposition. The anti-Parnellites have reelected Justin McCarthy, chairman of their organization.

The number added to the Dominion voters' list by the recent revision in New Brunswick was 21,176, and the entire vote of Canada is increased to 1,353,735.

The Reporter, whose editor was associated with Mr. Powell in the legislature, expresses a very poor opinion of the Tory candidate in Westmorland.

MR. KILLAM has fought and won many a victory in Westmorland and he has excellent prospects for defeating Mr. Powell in the present contest.
