CHAPTER XXV.
IN WOODLEIGH CHURCH.

With a gesture, almost of appeal, she let her arms fall to her side, and with bent head moved from before the tablet. As she passed into the deep shadows cast by one of the pillars, a sudden thrill ran through her; one of those strange sensations by which we are convinced that hitherto unsuspected by us, we feel that some other human being is near us.

She heard nothing, saw nothing, yet she felt that something strange and mysterious was near her.

White as death, not trembling, but with every limb rigid as the stone statues on the tombs, she leaned against the pillar and stared before her.

A minute it might have been an age, passed, and she was about to make a great effort to recover her presence of mind, when, with a horror no tongue can describe, she saw a white substance gliding from the chancel.

With noiseless, regular movements it seemed to float down the aisle, now lost in the shadows, now white and distinct in the broad moonlight.

Cold beads of sweat stood on Lillian's face; with starting eyes she watched, powerless to move a limb or to utter a cry; one thought alone possessing her, in the shape of a vague prayer, that the something might not approach her or turn its face.

Slowly the white figure reached the nave and glided to the door, but suddenly, just as the awful weight seemed about to lift a little from Lillian's terror-stricken heart, the figure turned and stood looking at the white tablet; and as it turned, the moonlight fell upon the face.

It was the face of the girl whom she had left for dead in the hut; it was Lillian Leigh's—Sir Talbot's daughter!

Only for a moment did the staring eyes see it, only for a moment, for the next the impostor fell forward against the pillar and shut out the awful sight.

CHAPTER XXVI.
LOVE THE MAGICIAN.

SHE did not feint—the horror was too vivid, too acute. An age seemed to pass before she could gain strength to raise her head, and when she did so her eyes refused to lift themselves and glance even in the direction of the white figure. At last, with a great gasp, she put up her hand, the diamonds flashing in the moonlight, and pushing the wet hair from her forehead, forced herself to look—the figure had gone.

With a sob of relief she stared round her, pressing her numbed fingers together shudderingly.

'Have I been asleep?' she asked herself, 'or—was it a vision? No! such things are not possible. There are no ghosts now, save our own evil consciences. And yet—and yet—oh, Heaven, how like it was! And—and there it stood, there—opposite her mother's tablet, reading her mother's name! It was a dream, only a dream; but one more such dream would bring me to my grave!'

It was some minutes before she could summon sufficient courage to leave the shadow of the pillar and make her way to the door, but at last she passed out of the church, and closing the door behind her, stood in the porch, drawing her shawl round her and fighting hard for the composure which was so difficult to regain.

'Suddenly the fact of the door having been ajar occurred to her. 'Could it be possible that the figure was no ghost, but one of flesh and blood? How came the door open? As she asked herself the question, the newly made grave answered it.

No doubt the sexton had left some tools, or his coat, perhaps, in the church, and was coming back for them. Nevertheless she looked about her with half-fearful scrutiny; then seeing nothing, ghastly or human, went hurriedly to the gate.

As she put her hand upon it she heard something move. It was no vision, however, but Dawson Slade. He was leaning against the fence, his arms folded, his head bent, and evidently waiting for her. With a gesture of relief he came to her side, stopping short and looking at her white face, in which the dark eyes flamed more darkly than ever, by contrast with the pallor of her face.

'Is it you?' she said, forcing a smile. 'Why are you here—why do you stare so? Do I look like a—ghost?'

He smiled, constrainedly. 'Forgive me!' he said, in his low voice. 'I could not remain in the house while you were out here alone.'

'How long have you been here?' she asked.

He raised his eyelids. 'I cannot tell; it seems ages—probably a few minutes only.'

'A few minutes!' she repeated. 'Did you see anything?' and she glanced back at the church with an irrepressible shudder.

'Yes,' he replied.

'Yes,' and she started and laid her hand unconsciously on his arm, looking up at him with eager, alarmed eyes.

'Yes,' he said, 'I saw Mr. Robert Green.'

Her hand would have fallen from his arm again, as she turned away with a sigh of mingled relief and disappointment, but he laid his hand on hers and drew it closer to him.

'Mr. Robert Green, he repeated. He was lounging about the path with a cigar in his mouth. Did you see him? Did he frighten you? Because if so, I will avail myself of the opportunity of expressing my antipathy to that gentleman by giving him a sound kicking.'

'No,' she said; 'why should you? You saw no one else?'

'No one else,' he answered, looking in at her earnestly. 'Have you seen anyone, or been frightened? Your hand trembles—'

'You are right, after all,' she interrupted him, with a little laugh. 'I am nervous and frightened at shadows.' 'It was kind of you to wait for me. Are they still singing and card-playing?'

'Most of them are gone,' he replied; 'I am supposed to have gone. Sir Talbot thinks you are in your rooms.'

'And Harold?' she asked.

'Harold!' he said, with a frown; 'Harold I passed on the terrace. He looked—well, to put it mildly, tired, and was splashed with mud as if he had been riding hard. Poor Harold!'

'Why do you pity him?' she asked.

'Because I have a fellow feeling for him—we are in the same boat.'

'You do not look tired,' she said, with forced lightness.

'Do I not? Look at me!' he said, and stopped short.

She raised her eyes and looked at him in the moonlight. If he did not look tired he looked worn and restlessly anxious.

Her eyes drooped.

'Do I not look tired?' he asked, in a low, earnest voice. 'And I am tired—tired of playing a part, of eating my heart out in silence and dissimulation. Lillian—do not take your hand away—I am a changed being.'

She looked up again with a swift glance. It was true. He was no more like the indolent, nonchalant man, who had sauntered into the theatre at San Francisco, than a man working hard for his life is like a lounge in Pall Mall.

'I am a changed man,' he repeated, almost bitterly. 'You know what has worked the change; yet, I will tell you if I may. Great Heaven, why do you not trust me?'

She faced him, white and panting, her delicate nostrils inflated, her lips apart like a beautiful animal at bay.

'Why should I?' she breathed.

'Because,' he replied, almost sternly in his earnestness, 'because I love you!'

'She attempted to draw her arm away from his, but his hand held it.

'No, do not take your hand away do not affect surprise. My love is no new thing to you; you have known it for months past. I have spoken as plainly as man can speak. Lillian—Hilda—which shall I call you? I love you by either name!'

She panted and looked at him with a half-frightened, half-defiant gaze.

'My darling!' he murmured, stretching out his hand appealingly, 'did you think such love as mine could be blind? I knew you the moment I saw you in England. How could it be otherwise, seeing that I carried your face with me night and day, since the night you sent me from you with scorn and contempt. I knew you, but I hid my knowledge almost from you yourself. No word of mine has broken into that past which you have so closely hidden; why, I know not.'

'You do not know?' she breathed. (To be continued.)

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Some years ago I knew a young newspaper man who was almost continually in a state of mind and countenance that can best be described as "down in the mouth."

The "upward curves," that Ella Flagg Young says lead her on to success, were almost an unknown quantity with him.

He thought the world an altogether dreary and futile place to be in, and held, and very frequently expressed, dark opinions of his father and mother for bringing him thither without consulting his preference.

He spouted Omar Khayyam and Schopenhauer, of course, and to all who would listen, related the various bad strokes of luck that were, continually befalling him, from the indifference of a lady love to his affection, to the shabby and worn condition after three wearings, of a rubber raincoat for which he had paid an exorbitant price.

A few weeks ago I met him again. He was a man transformed, smiled frequently, quoted James Whitcomb Riley instead of Schopenhauer, and in an hour's conversation never once mentioned the thoughtlessness of his parents in failing to find out that he would rather not have come.

Of course, I demanded the reason at once, my woman's nose for romance scenting a happy ending to his love affair.
 But it wasn't that—she was as unfeeling as ever.

Nor was it my second guess—material prosperity. On the contrary, he had a poorly paying position which he expected he might lose at any minute.

"What then?" I asked.
 "Well, I'll tell you, Miss Cameron," he replied, "I studied it out and I decided that, as long as I couldn't have what I liked, I'd like what I have. As long as I couldn't make things come just the way I wanted them I'd take what came along and manage somehow to enjoy it; and, do you know, you always can if you put your energy into that instead of into fretting because things aren't different."

A rather old idea? You've heard the substance of that before?
 Yes so have I, but the reason I tell you about it is that it was more than an IDEA with him. It was something that had ACTUALLY MADE HIM HAPPIER, SOMETHING THAT HAD MADE HIM A MORE LIVABLE PERSON both to himself and other people.

Read his philosophy over again in the light of that realization.

Or if you don't care so much for the way he states it, how do you like this prettier and more religious way of putting somewhat the same feeling?

Then whatever winds may blow,
 Some heart is glad to have it so.
 My little bark is not alone—
 Ten thousands fleets from every zone
 Are out upon a thousand seas;

What blows for one a favoring breeze
 May drive another with the shock
 Of doom, upon some hidden rock.
 So I do not dare to pray
 For winds to waft me on my way:
 But leave it to a Higher Will
 To stay or speed me—trusting still
 That he who launched my little bark
 Will never, never fail.

Whatever breezes may prevail,
 To bring me, every danger past,
 Into the desired haven at last.
 Then whatever winds may blow,
 My heart is glad to have it so.
 Blow it east or blow it west,
 The wind that blows—that wind is best.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better. But you are thinking of the cure, not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fads and Fashions.

Ribbon girdles of satin taffetas and moire are seen on street and fancy gowns that have just arrived from Paris.

Velvet flowers are coming out for winter, splendid convoluted in plain or mixed colorings to be worn on velvet hats.

Hoods are seen on many of the handsomest evening capes. These are often finished with a tassel more or less elaborate.

Gilt buttons, which have been exceedingly popular on the colored tub dresses this summer, will be used on the fall gowns.

Fantasies in plume grows more and more eccentric, enormous coin spots, stripes, plaids and iridescent coloring being displayed.

This year's vogue is the white parasol, not matching the small accessories such as stockings, belts and hats, as it did last year.

The liking for bits of cretonne, judiciously introduced as trimming, has never been quite overcome. Every now and then it re-appears, but now its popularity is seriously threatened by the Persian printed designs.

For skirt trimming nothing is better than wide folds of the same material, or satin of the same color used in folds. These are untrimmed.

Some of the most attractive of the gold or silver embroidered shoulder scarfs or shawls, have richly knotted fringe of silk shoe strings.

The new sackcloth material is an imitation of coarse packing canvas. And yet it is in reality an expensive fabric. It is a mixture of silk and wool.

An effective theatre or informal dinner gown is of changeable blue and pink taffetas. The skirt is made with the tunic banded in over a slightly full skirt.

There is a disposition again to use small buttons in an ornamental way and the return of old-time "nail heads" is among the possibilities of fall.

Exceedingly handsome necklaces and chains are those of coral and silver beads in combination. Usually three or five coral beads are used to one of silver.

Quaint diaphanous capes, slightly

A Simple Treatment that Will Make Hair Grow Now Sold in Nfld.

Every up-to-date woman should have radiant hair.

There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair, who do not try to improve it.

In England and Paris women take pride in having beautiful hair. Every Canadian woman can have lustrous and luxuriant hair by using SALVIA. The Great American Sage Hair Tonic.

Every reader of the Telegram can have an attractive head of hair in a few weeks by using SALVIA. T. McMurdo & Co. sells a large bottle for 50 cents, and guarantees it to banish Dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in ten days, or money back.

SALVIA is a beautiful, pleasant, non-sticky Hair Tonic, and makes the Hair grow beautiful.

embroidered, to wear over colored dresses, will be much used this summer, thus harmonizing with the general fashion of transparencies.

Beaver is to have a great season in millinery. Such hats, trimmed heavily with velvet, Persian satin, brocaded on metallic ribbons or silks, will prove most elegant in style.

Delicious little neckties are of bias satin or velvet, the ends ornamented with bunches of tiny taffeta roses and leaves, while a similar knot holds the tie together at the throat.

One-piece gown on the street and for calling, day reception, day weddings, matinees, etc., will again be prominent during the coming season, made of broadcloth.

Means of General Booth's Conversion.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 15.—The Rev. Edward Payson Hammond, for many years a well-known evangelist in America and Great Britain, died at his home here late yesterday from infirmities due to old age. The most notable of his conversions was that of General Booth, the father of the Salvation Army. He was born in Ellington, this state, in 1831, and continued his evangelistic work until a few years ago, when failing health compelled him to retire.

Mr. Hammond had a remarkably eventful life with the whole world as his field of work. A graduate of Williams College in 1858, he began evangelistic work in Scotland, and after touring Europe he returned to this country in 1861. At Newark, in 1864, upwards of 1,300 persons were converted through the hymn "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By," written for him by Miss Campbell. Mr. Hammond joined Mr. Moody at Chicago, and thereafter nearly every state in the Union and many countries were visited by Mr. Hammond. In 1868, General Booth credited Mr. Hammond with the influence which induced him to enter into his great career.

From 25s. a Week To $20,000 a Year

Thirty-three years ago Mr. Anthony Brunsell, an Australian farmer, who recently arrived in this country, emigrated from England to New South Wales and got a job on a farm at 25s. a week. To-day the value of his property in farm lands and stock is computed by a Commonwealth Government official at something well over £100,000, and his income at anything up to $20,000 a year. Two years after landing in New South Wales Mr. Brunsell had saved enough to buy a team of three draught horses and acquire forty acres of land. And from this small beginning he built up his immense wealth of to-day.

Largest Restaurant in the World

The largest restaurant in the world, capable of accommodating 6,000 people, is to be erected in New York, on Broadway, between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Streets. Customers will be served in the family style of the German cities. There will be ten kitchens, each with its separate staff, and each equipped to serve 600 people. In the centre of the restaurant there will be a glass dome 60 feet high, with an area of about 10,000 square feet. A glass covered ice skating rink will be provided on the roof, which may be transformed into a roof-garden theatre in the summer.

Girls Russian Blouse Suit.

Simplicity and Comfort Combined.

For every day and play time wear, a girl's dress like the model here shown is very desirable, and had quite some style about it. The collar, cuffs and band trimming may be of contrasting material. Brown cashmere with tan silk for trimming would be very nice. The sleeve may be a one-piece model or in bishop style, the pattern providing for both. It is cut in 5 sizes, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 years and requires 4 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for the 12 year size.

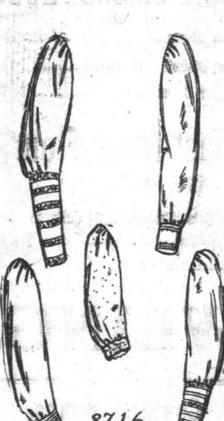

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in stamps or silver.

A Group of Practical Models. Set of Sleeves.

In renovating last season's gowns and waists, it is sometimes necessary to make over the sleeve. In the designs here shown we have two up-to-date models, that may be made in full length or 3/4 style, and with long or shorter cuff. The bishop sleeve is most practical for shirt waists and house gowns, while the puff sleeve is very desirable for dressy waists. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, Medium and Large. It requires 1 1/2 yards of 24 inch material for one pair of sleeves in Bishop Style; 1 1/2 yards for Sleeves with Deep Cuff; 1 1/2 yards for 3/4 Sleeves with Band Cuff or for Puff Sleeve.

Pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Clean Up, Keep Clean and Beautify.

"O wad some pow'r the giffle gie us To see oursel's as others see us." These words of Burns were recalled to our mind by reading the observations of the Rev. George W. Ridout on cleaning up St. John's. Mr. Ridout's article appears in another part of this issue. Mr. Ridout observes with the eyes of one who has a keen love for his native city and who rejoices in the beauty of its surroundings, but deprecates profoundly what man has made vile. He points to the growing tourist traffic, and the inference is obvious that we must be up and doing and see to the cleaning up of the city if we are to reap the full advantages which Nature has bestowed upon this spot.

Mr. Ridout's remarks are so pointed, so strong an endorsement of the wholesome criticism made by our correspondent "Reform," that we are publishing them in this article to give additional prominence to them. Mr. Ridout remarks: "Why should St. John's, the Capital City, allow itself to run on year after year with dirty, ill-kept, poorly paved streets and with drains that smell at times so vile—plain language, but please excuse me. No city has a finer location for a perfect drainage and sanitation system. St. John's ought to be one of the best paved, the best kept, the cleanest cities in North America, and this could be accomplished at a minimum of what it costs some other cities. It is to be regretted that the absence of cleanly, well-kept streets is a matter of common gossip among the tourists who are pouring into St. John's in increasing numbers every year." He concludes with an exhortation to the Municipal Council to take a lesson from Halifax and to make a resolve that St. John's shall "clean up and keep clean and beautify."

Fishery Improved.

Mr. Bert McGrath who returned to town from King's Cove by the express to-day, reports a great improvement in the fishery on the South Side of Bonavista Bay. During the past five days boats get from three to four qtls.

The Biggest Smuggler.

They Are Not The Society People Who Get the Advertising.

"Society people are supposed to be the biggest offenders," said a treasury official, "but it is simply that they get more publicity. We had a Harlem butcher who smuggled in $1,000 worth of jewels and then got trapped because he took an orange from the table after lunch. He put the orange in his pocket, and the bulge drew the inspector's attention. He was searched and the jewels found."

"There was, too," he continued reminiscently, "a noted musician who goes back and forth every year to Paris and who bought a stradivarius violin one year. He sold his old one and brought the famous Strad back in his own case, covered as it was with custom stamps. Naturally the inspectors passed it, but the musician boasted of his violin, and a dealer who went to see it heard the story of its purchase and notified us."

"There was a man from Naples who came in with his shirt fairly lined with jewels, and there are the Syrians who smuggle in laces and handkerchiefs, and there are the manufacturers who declare half or three-quarters in and smuggle the rest."

"There are the automobile men who bring their machines in with faked certificates of value, and there are buyers of cheap jewelry who bring in great cases of plated brooches and bracelets, etc., with magnificent sapphires, rubies and even diamonds set in with bits of glass, and these necessitate weeks of work for the jewel experts in the appraiser's stores." Washington Times.

REACHED ST. LAWRENCE.—The S. S. Glencoe reached St. Lawrence at noon to-day.

EUCCHARISTIC CONGRESS.—The Reid Nfd. Co. will give special ticket rates to all who go from Newfoundland to Montreal to attend the Eucharistic Congress. Mr. J. W. Johnstone, the Passenger Agent, will give all information on enquiry at his office.

Fine School and Hall.

Messrs. E. H. and G. Davey have begun the erection of a large school and hall combined at Burin for the Church of England people of that place. Mr. F. Davey is up there superintending the work of erection and Mr. Geo. Davey went up with him to enjoy a vacation there. The building will be large and commodious, will be well lit and ventilated and will be built on a basement of concrete piers. It will cost over $2,000 when completed, and will be of a handsome appearance and a credit to the Anglican folk of the place. The Messrs. Davey can be relied upon to make a good job of it.

Lord Northcliffe's yacht arrived here last Sunday evening, 13th, and sailed again Thursday. Mr. Beaton went by her to Montreal to meet Lord Northcliffe and his two brothers.

The s.s. Tritonia sailed from here Sunday morning, 21st, about 10 o'clock, with a cargo consisting of 4,300 tons of pulp and paper and several passengers. At the time the Tritonia left the wharf the s.s. Pythia arrived with a shipment of China clay for Grand Falls for the paper manufacturing. It is white, just like flour. Several passengers came by her. The trains are running between Botwood and Grand Falls, taking a train load of China clay and returning with paper and pulp.

A CLEAN DOCKET.

There was a clean docket in the police court this morning, not a solitary drunk even having been arrested. To-morrow an affiliation case will be tried.

GARDEN THIEVES ABOUT.

Garden thieves are beginning to prowl about nightly and last night one of them paid a visit to a garden owned by Mr. Donnelly at the head of Adelaide Street. He stole quite a number of cabbages and a quantity of potatoes. People should beware of these gentry and try and capture and hand them over to the police.

PETTY HARBOR FISHERY.

Fish struck in plentifully at Petty Harbor yesterday and all the boats would have easily loaded but for the scarcity of bait. This is a great pity, for if squid were procurable a good sport of fishing would result.

Public roads and one of them got in a gentleman's garden. He impounded it and was asking $18 for it for the damage it did to his garden.

Thomas Green, a laborer, while working on the s.s. Tritonia, had his foot badly crushed while loading the steamer by a roll of paper falling on it. Dr. Ames and Dr. Murphy were called on board and attended him. Botwood, Aug. 23rd, 1910.

Racy Record of the Cricket Match of Yesterday.

Despite the many counter attractions and the large numbers of people who went countrywards, the weather being so fine, the cricket match of yesterday, City vs. Shamrock, was witnessed by many hundreds of spectators. After the interest evinced in yesterday's match by citizens generally, he must be a confirmed pessimist who would still adhere to the belief that the game is not still very popular in St. John's. We opine that with little energy properly directed the game would hold the same place in public estimation as it did only a decade ago, when citizens flocked to see the hard-fought contests which then prevailed. Football has superseded cricket, but it does not call for the art in playing it which the latter does. The weather was balmy yesterday with a gentle westerly wind blowing and St. George's Field presented an animated appearance. Flags flew from all points, many ladies were in the throng which crowded the grand stand, and the dulcet strains of the C.L.B. band were very pleasing to the ear. The object of the match was one which appealed to all, viz., the helping of the fund organized to secure a new church ship for the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland. In the struggle the "heroes of a hundred fights," the Shamrocks, went down to defeat, but considering that not a man of the team has played a match or had any practice for over 10 years, they need not feel ashamed of their aggregate of 89. A feature of the game was Secretary Fitzherbert's brilliant exhibition of batting for the City. His innings of 104 was made in a dashing manner and he proved himself to be an expert at the willow. Though the boundaries were short and runs rapidly earned, this did in no way discount Mr. Fitzherbert's tasty style as a batter. Commentators declared it to be the best demonstration of graceful and clever batting seen in St. John's for many years. Winning the toss the City team elected to go to the wicket first, and Mr. Fitzherbert and Mr. T. Job paired first, facing the bowling of Donnelly and Linegar. When nearly an hour had passed, playing a careful though dashing game and sending boundaries right and left, Job succumbed to Linegar with a well earned 36 to his credit. Rendell joined Mr. Fitzherbert, but had hardly done so when Donnelly retired him for a cither in the third ball of his over. Two wickets for 78 runs. Mr. J. Munn was next to go to bat and had not long been at work when Secretary Fitzherbert's "century" was announced after 1 1/2 hours' play, and the field loudly applauded him. The Shamrocks were fielding excellently and giving no extras. Here His Excellency and suite accompanied by Bishop Jones arrived. The band played the National Anthem and the spectators saluted the party, who remained until the last wicket fell. On making a drive for 6 Mr. Fitzherbert broke his bat and a leg bye, the first extra recorded after 2 hours' play. Mr. P. Wallace now replaced Donnelly bowling, and the Shamrocks missed catching both men. Both men were playing nicely when Wallace found Munn's wicket, and he retired with a well played 22. Three wickets for 160 runs. Mr. W. C. Job now associated himself with Mr. Fitzherbert, and it certainly reminded spectators of old matches to see Mr. Job face Wallace and Linegar. Mr. Job has lost none of his skill as a batsman, and shortly after he went to the wicket his companion was captured by Linegar, and as he left the field Mr. Fitzherbert received an ovation. His 104 runs was the result of brilliant, graceful and yet careful play. Four wickets down for 180 runs. Mr. A. Donnelly now paired Mr. Job, who was rapidly putting up a score, but did not remain long, Linegar retiring him for 0. Mr. Gerald Ayre now faced the music, but was quickly and deftly caught by Keating at point off Linegar without scoring. Six wickets gone for 180. Mr. Frank Donnelly now joined Mr. Job, and both were not long at play when Mr. Job sent the ball to the boundary, just inside of which His Excellency sat. The Governor stopped the ball on its course inside the rail and received the amused plaudits of all who witnessed the feat. Mr. Job, who was playing well, was soon afterwards caught off Wallace by Larkin, who had to run for it, the catch being a difficult one. Mr. Job hit up a nice 33 and well deserved the applause received. Seven wickets down for 206 runs. Mr. Gerald Harvey now went to bat, Mr. Frank Donnelly all the while playing good cricket and scoring hurriedly. Shortly after Mr. Harvey joined him, Mr.

F. Donnelly was caught by Mr. Jno. Donnelly at square leg off Linegar with a total of 9. Eight wickets for 207 runs. Mr. Bert Job now entered the fray and broke his bat on the first or second ball sent him. He was soon caught by Mr. Keating off Wallace with a score of 1. Nine wickets down for 208. Mr. Trenchard now paired with Mr. Harvey but was run out for 2 runs, and the innings closed with a total of 211 runs. The Shamrock fielding was very good and they conceded their opponents only three extras.

Mr. B. Job here took a photo of Mr. Jno. Donnelly, the Shamrock's "strong man," who good naturedly submitted to the ordeal, after which a short interval occurred.

When the Shamrocks went to bat the idea was entertained by their supporters that some of their well known "sloggers" would settle down to work and that it would "rain" boundaries, but the fates willed otherwise. Messrs. J. S. Keating and Jas. Foley were the first to face the bowling of Trenchard and Ayre. Mr. Keating was just settling down to work when Mr. T. Job caught him with one hand at point and was applauded for his work. Mr. Keating's score was 3 runs. One wicket down for 15 runs. Mr. C. Ellis next reinforced Foley, when shortly after Mr. Foley's wicket was found, retiring him for 6. Two men gone for 19 runs. Mr. P. Wallace now faced the music and gave a fine exhibition, carrying his bat through the rest of the innings and in the style for which he was famed in past matches, making many sharp runs. Trenchard's excellent bowling was demonstrated in this innings and he dismissed Mr. Ellis for 5 runs. Three wickets down for 30. J. Larkin now joined Wallace and was getting steadily down to work when Trenchard's deadly bowling was once more in evidence and he went under after his 6th run. Four men gone for 38 runs. Mr. Jno. Donnelly next took the wicket, but fell before Ayre for 5 runs. Five wickets down for 46 runs and Shamrock's stock lost, even its par value. Mr. P. Berrigan, a hard "drive" and good all round man, now paired with Wallace, who was getting very sharp runs, but Ayre found his wicket for 9, and six were recorded out for 65 runs. Mr. J. Savage, another good man, was also quickly dismissed by Trenchard for 1 run. Seven men out for 70 runs and it looked like a forlorn hope for the Shamrocks. Mr. E. Furlong now batted very well and it looked like a stand for him, but he was caught by wicket keeper Rendell off Munn, who was now bowling. Eight wickets down for 82 runs. Mr. W. Linegar was now quickly bowled by Munn for 2 runs, and in the first ball Mr. Munn disturbed Mr. John Higgins' furniture, the innings closing with 89 runs for Shamrocks, the City thus being the victors by 122 runs. Messrs. Patk. Myler and Gregory Flynn capably performed the duties of umpires.

Suspect Arrested.

On the 19th inst. some person or persons unknown entered a building in course of erection on Robinson's Hill and stole a quantity of lead, etc. The police ever since have been on the look out for the thief or thieves, and last night Sgt. Byrne arrested a man suspected of the larceny. It is said that 50 lbs. of lead were stolen, and the police believe that more than one person was implicated in the matter, and they hope to round up these parties soon. They think that they have the right man in the matter, and that from him they will get the names of the others.

Itching Piles For 27 Yrs.

Despaired of ever getting relief until cure came 3 years ago with use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Mr. John Johnson, Cawley, Alta., writes: "Three years ago I was cured of blind, itching piles of twenty-seven years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used to think that death would be the only relief I could ever get from the terrible misery of piles. Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth sixty dollars a box instead of six cents. I am a different man since using it. I am farming all the time now and never miss a day. Words fail to express my gratitude for the cure this Ointment made for me. I cannot tell half as much about it as it deserves. Any one doubting this can write direct to me."

Do not accept an imitation or substitute in place of Dr. Chase's Ointment, for there has yet to be discovered a treatment which so promptly gives relief from itching and so thoroughly cures every form of piles. 80 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for a free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

Hit by a Bike.

As little Frank Fleming, aged 6, of Carter's Hill, was coming off Freshwater Road with his father yesterday, a man came along on a bike, when the child becoming scared left his father's side and ran immediately in front of the machine. It collided with him, but had not the rider been so quick to jump off he would have killed the boy when he fell; as it was the lad's lip was split and he received other injuries though not of a serious nature. His father and the owner of the bike found up the wound and

Very Artistic Work.

The engraved address of the T. A. Society, presented recently to the President, His Honor Mayor Ellis, is the most beautiful piece of work we have seen for many years. The design is very artistic and the lettering and tint ensemble extremely handsome. It is now framed and hanging in the Society's rooms. The work was executed by Mr. John Sullivan, of King's Cove, employed at Knowling's, and is a testimony to his ability as a penman and to his artistic talent.

Hit With Ball.

Just after the city team finished its innings yesterday, the two umpires, Messrs. Myler and Flynn went practicing with bat and ball. The former bowled pretty swiftly to the latter when the ball struck him full in the face and the blood flowed freely from nose and mouth. Mr. Flynn had to lay on his back on the field for fully 10 minutes before the flow of blood ceased. He continued however, to umpire the match to its finish.

Complaint About Letters on Labrador.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Mr. Editor,—Allow me space in your paper for the following lines, in which I am going to state before the Government how the mail is handled on board the S. S. Invermora. The S. S. Invermora arrived at Webster's Cove on Saturday morning at 3 o'clock, but bringing no mail. They landed the mail in Kennedy's Cove about three miles above this harbor. Then people had to go there for their mail, which could be avoided if the mail was delivered in proper order. Also people's letters are sometimes carried down the shore, and cannot get them until she returns, and then it is too late for home correspondence. Letters belonging to people in Long Island were landed in the harbor, which the people could not get, until her return trip from St. John's. I wish that the Government would attend to such matters, and arrange the mail in proper order, when the people would be able to answer their letters by return mail.

I am, yours truly,
 A FISHERMAN'S SON.

Wedded Yesterday.

THOMSON-CLOUSTON.
The wedding of Miss Eugenie Thomson, daughter of Mr. W. A. Thomson, of Leslie Street, and Mr. Walter S. Clouston, son of Mr. W. Clouston, Water Street, took place at "Walton Cottage," the residence of the bride's parents, at 3.30 last evening. Rev. J. W. Bartlett officiated in the presence of a large gathering of the friends of bride and groom. At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Florence Pratt. The bride looked very pretty in cream silk costume, richly embroidered, and wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms. She bore a bouquet of roses, maiden hair ferns, sweet peas and chrysanthemums, and was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Thomson, and Miss Margaret Clouston, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. Both were attired in white silk and carried choice bouquets. Miss Clara Thomson was flower girl and Master Josie Pike acted as page. The rooms were tastefully decorated with ferns and flowers, and the "joining of hands" took place beneath a handsome floral bell. After refreshments had been served the bride and groom, accompanied by a large number of their friends in carriages and motor cars, drove to Mount Pearl where they joined the train for Avondale to spend the honeymoon. The presents were numerous and useful attesting the popularity of the newly wedded couple. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket and chain with diamond setting, and to the bridesmaids gold pendants and chains. The Telegram extends hearty congratulations to the bride and groom and wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Lost at St. Pierre.

The little schooner Terra Nova, well known here, came to grief at St. Pierre on Friday last. She was commanded by Capt. Kehoe, of Caplin Bay, and her crew narrowly escaped drowning. The schooner was bound from St. John's to Cape La Hève with supplies, and the night before she was lost she met a heavy gale and lost her jib and foresail, with other gear and the mainmast was also torn. Capt. Kehoe then determined to lay to for the night, but after attempting to do so had to "bout ship" and run before the gale. As she ran several seas boarded and threatened to swamp her, beating in the cabin companion and taking everything moveable from the deck, while the "light of the rushing flood burst up like a mainmast. Shortly after she was in under Gallantry Head on which a heavy sea ran, and the vessel struck heavily. The men had a hard time of it, barely escaping in their dory, lost all their belongings, and were kindly treated by the St. Pierre people.

BROUGHT TO HOSPITAL.—Mrs. Power, of Branch, came in by train last night to go to the General Hospital for treatment.

A Paper Chase.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Motor Cycle Club held a paper chase. There were twenty "hounds" following the two "hares"—Dr. Smith and Harold Harvey, who started off in the lead at 2.45 p.m. near St. Thomas's Church. They took the road for Topsail, the motor cycles going at full speed. All arrived at the club house in Topsail without a mishap, the hares having given the hounds a hard, unremitting chase. A sumptuous tea was provided at the club house which all enjoyed thoroughly. The Cycle Club members were all well pleased with the "hunt" and are anxious to have another very soon.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S Liniment in my family for years, and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

A Return Match.

On all sides yesterday the hope was expressed by those who witnessed the cricket match, City vs. Shamrock, that a return match would be played at an early date and if thought advisable for the same worthy object. If it should materialize our people would like to see it played in a place where the regulation boundary could be placed and where both teams would have to run and generally earn the scores put up in a more strenuous manner than that of yesterday. Come, gents, give us another match; use your cocoa matting and select good old Pleasantville as the site. The people will flock there to see it, as it is only a pleasant walk from the city.

S. A. Captain Gone to the Hospital.

Captain Woolfrey, of Moreton's Harbor, Twillingate District, who has been in the Salvation Army for some time, and who was last stationed at Fortune, arrived in Town by Tuesday night's train. He is suffering from internal trouble, and his constitution is impaired, due to his strenuous work. His many friends are hopeful that his time in the hospital will be short. He was admitted there to-day.

Prayer for King George Fifth.

God bless our real "Royal George," Our noble Sailor King, And Her Majesty Queen Mary And their Royal offspring.

God grant him grace to rule aright This world-wide great Empire, And follow in the steps of him—"The Peacemaker"—his sire.

May loyal hearts with wisdom great Stand ever round his Throne, And all his subjects everywhere Stand true to him alone.

May he defend our British laws As signed at Runnymede, And all the Acts supporting it For every class and creed.

May he defend our British faith As first to Britain brought, Which our forefathers loved and held As by the Bible taught.

Pro TERRA NOVA.
W. Swansborough.

Blackall's Report on the Church of England Schools.

Mr. J. W. Withers is a very thoughtful writer, and his comments on this excellent and exhaustive report are all very admirable, but no one seems bold enough to point out that over all our educational system is the curse of sectarianism and division. We are the oldest Colony of the Empire and the only one in North America that has not got a University. Even a young stripling like Manitoba has one thoroughly equipped on modern lines. Every Newfoundlander should be taught the History of his own country. We have no suitable text book for this purpose. We are a seafaring people and all our boys should be taught geography, and at least the rudiments of navigation. We have no such text books. Mr. Withers suggests a book on "Fishing," an admirable suggestion. Let us be practical. In modern education, especially in England, Germany, the United States and Canada, Manual Training now forms a leading part in education. In the Dominion a Newfoundlander has invented the very best and most ingenious apparatus for this most practical and desirable form of education. We have some form of manual training in our city schools, but it should be adopted generally all over the Island.

Several scows, are trawling off here and doing well; squid were fairly plentiful at Cape Cove yesterday and to-day. Bar. 29.70. Ther. 59.

Fishery News.

There was good fishing outside the Heads yesterday, boats getting from one to four quintals. Squid bait was fairly plentiful yesterday, and the fishermen were able to get a supply. If the weather keeps civil a few weeks longer the fishermen expect to do well. The fish is of a large size.

Roosevelt on the War Path.

Special Evening Telegram.

UTICA, Aug. 24.
Theodore Roosevelt's notice to-day that he would wage war without quarter on the "Old Guard" of the Republican Party in New York State, having been drawn into the fight, as he says against his will, he has determined to pursue it to the end, win or lose. Col. Roosevelt's attitude was indicated more clearly than at any time before by a statement which he issued to-day. The statement is as follows:—"They will have all the fight they want. I am only going to the Convention because I feel that the public interests, the interests of the people of New York demand that the Republican Party be given a chance to stand squarely and uncompromisingly for clean, decent politics. I go to that Convention to make the speech exactly as it has been originally planned, and while I hope there will be enough good sense to prevent any one opposing the principles for which I shall stand, yet if they do oppose them, then it is their own affair, and so far as I am concerned the issue shall be absolutely clean cut."

The Vatican and Spain

Special Evening Telegram.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Aug. 24.
At a Cabinet Council meeting held to-day, which was presided over by King Alfonso, who had just returned from abroad, Premier Canalejas read a telegram from Marquis De Gonzales, Councillor of the Spanish Embassy at the Vatican, announcing the receipt from Cardinal Merry Del Val of a long note answering a number of points raised in the last Spanish note and expressing at length the Vatican's grievance against the Spanish Ministry. Premier Canalejas declared that although he did not know the exact tenor of the note it would in no way affect his policy. "Whatever reasons are put forward by the Vatican," he added, "the Government will not change the attitude it has maintained since the beginning of the conflict, which attitude always has been correct." The Premier concluded by saying that the text of the note was too important to risk causing errors in it by telegraphing, and that therefore it was expected to reach Spain at the end of the week.

Annexation of Corea.

Special to Evening Telegram.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.
The text of the Convention under which Corea, the Hermit Kingdom, is annexed to Japan was communicated at 11 o'clock this morning to the Powers. The document, which according to now established facts, was signed August 22nd, will be effective when officially promulgated. This will occur according to some of the Ministers on Aug. 29th or 30th, when the independent existence of the little kingdom, the struggle for whose control started the Russo-Japanese War, will cease.

Salvage on Bedford.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.
Salvage work on the British cruiser Bedford which ran ashore on Sunday morning during a dense fog, was commenced to-day according to information given out by the Japanese Admiralty. The heavy sea running at the time of the wreck had hitherto interfered with operations on the ship by the fleet of Japanese warships and salvage vessels, and had even forced two British cruisers which had anchored near the wreck, to hoist anchor and put to sea; the water is now fair.

Crippen on Megantic.

Special Evening Telegram.

LONDON, Aug. 25.
The London morning papers print wireless despatches from the White Star steamer Megantic which say that Dr. Crippen and Ethel Le Neve are making the voyage from Quebec to Liverpool in complete seclusion from the other passengers. It is understood that the prisoners will be landed secretly either at Holyhead or by private tug in the Mersey. The customary permits to board the Megantic at Liverpool when she arrives have been withdrawn.

Big Artillery Order.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.
The Minister of War has placed an order for artillery amounting to $1,400,000 with the Creusot Works in France. Many members of the Duma are displeased that the contract will go to France, as the appropriation was voted with the understanding that it would be expended in Russia.

Obituary.

When it became known last evening that Mr. Laurence Hanford had died at the General Hospital, where he had gone to be treated for appendicitis, sorrow was expressed all through the city, but especially in the West End where deceased had hosts of friends. Mr. Hanford for many years conducted a drug business at the store now occupied by Mr. Peter O'Mara, and was noted for his kindly and affable disposition. He served his apprenticeship at McMurdo's, and was an expert in his profession. He married Miss Irene Perez, daughter of the late Capt. Perez, who with four children survives him. He also leaves a mother, one brother, Mr. Stephen Hanford, of the Power House, Petty Harbor, and two sisters, Mrs. Capt. Couillard and Miss Hanford, Asst. Matron at the General Hospital. To the bereaved family the Telegram extends its sincere sympathy.

Nerves at High Tension

Slight extra strain means collapse—Restoration obtained by using DR. A.W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

The successful men and women are often of the high-strung nervous type—keen and active—but with too little reserve force.

A little extra worry and anxiety and snap goes the nervous system. Weeks and months are often required before energy and vigor are regained.

Rest helps, so does fresh air and exercise, but the blood must also be made rich and red by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Wm. Branton, Victoria St., Strathroy, Ont., writes:—"My nervous system seemed all unstrung. I could not sleep, had no appetite, my digestion was poor and I had jerking of the limbs. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food helped me and I continued until I had taken twenty-four boxes. This treatment has made a radical change in my condition, building up the system and strengthening the nerves." ## NOTES OF TRAVEL AND CURSORY OBSERVATIONS

By Rev. G. W. Rideout.

ARTICLE II.

After two weeks of a most delightful visit, with trips to Topsail and Bay Roberts, and taking in two picnics, and other good things too numerous to mention, we embarked by S. S. Siberian for Halifax and Philadelphia. By a strange chain of circumstances we were detained in Halifax two whole days during which we had opportunity to see Halifax—the city and its suburbs—and anyone who would say that Halifax is not much of a city is guilty of libel. But I was struck with the contrast between St. John's and Halifax. What makes the difference? Not population—Halifax has only some 52,000; St. John's, 35,000. Not location—St. John's is a city set upon a hill with advantages somewhat superior to Halifax. It is true Halifax has got some moneyed men, so has St. John's. Halifax is quite a shipping port, so is St.

John's, but why is Halifax so far ahead in every particular than St. John's? First, it has splendid, clean well-kept streets and boulevards; but why should not St. John's have the same? Why should St. John's—the Capital City—allow itself to run on year after year with dirty, ill-kept, poorly paved streets and with drains that smell at times so vile—plain language, but please excuse me. No city has a fairer location for a perfect drainage nor sanitation system. St. John's ought to be one of the best paved, the best kept, the cleanest cities in North America, and this could be accomplished at a minimum of what it costs some other cities. It is to be regretted that the absence of cleanly, well kept streets is a matter of common gossip among the tourists who are pouring into St. John's in increasing numbers every year. Halifax has splendid streets, magnificent driveways; St. John's can have just as good. Then Halifax has splendid means of access to its beautiful suburbs; for five cents car fare you can reach them, but St. John's has just as beautiful suburbs. What can equal in beauty Waterford Valley or Quidi Vidi? What it would mean though if a trolley system would penetrate those points of beauty. It may be argued population not sufficient, but Halifax has only 17,000 more than St. John's, and yet all the advantages. One would suppose a motor omnibus service such as we see in London, would pay splendid in the season to take people to and from those suburban points. Then, again, Halifax has such superb Public Gardens and Park. St. John's has the approach of a Park it is true; but it is to be hoped that something more be attempted and more commanding will be attempted in the near future. They say Halifax is a slow old town, but the Municipal Council of St. John's would learn a thing or two about the City Beautiful if they took a trip to Halifax—even at public expense, and such a trip would be a paying investment if they came back with resolute will to have St. John's clean up and keep clean and beautiful.

Writing in a hurry yesterday our contributor made an error. Instead of for the last half year the profits were $819,000, it should have read for the July quarter. The profits for the last half year would be double that amount. The Bank is one of the oldest in the British Colonies, and will soon celebrate its centenary. The amount on deposit in the Bank of Montreal goes into hundreds of millions.

Fell From a Cart.

A man named Lee, of Petty Harbor, while driving down town yesterday with a load of fish on the vehicle was thrown from it by the wheel coming off, and narrowly escaped serious injury as the horse and cart toppled over in the drain and almost came on top of him. Mr. Lee was cut about the face, and the horse was badly injured.

Rifle Club Contest.

The J. W. Morris prize which was competed for at the Rifle Range yesterday, was won by P. W. Norman who made a total score of 63 points. The ranges were: 200, 500 and 600 yards. The exposures at the 600 yards range was two minutes, and at the other ranges seven shots were allowed; sighting shots were used. The scoring, considering the lack of practice, was very good.

Shipment of Brick.

The branch railway will prove a great boon to the Messrs. Pelly, brick makers at Random Sound, formerly they had to ship all their brick from the yard at George's Brook by schooner. Now the branch railway runs right along by their brick yard and can ship with great convenience. This week they shipped the first car load in over the railway.

Annual Outing.

The Oddfellows had their annual outing at Smithville yesterday afternoon. The weather was very fine and suitable for outdoor sports which formed an important part of the day's programme. At night a dance was held under very favourable auspices. The ballroom was beautifully decorated. The event was brought to a conclusion at an early hour this morning. All were well pleased with the outing.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARGET IN COWS.

TIM SHANNAHAN ON THE LOOK-OUT.

Strange old world this. It is so. As you are enjoying yourself something turns up that knocks all the frisky business out of you. Sometimes Mrs. Tucker gets right down in the blues. She said how easy 't would be to get along if we hadn't to dress ourselves up to please our neighbors and live in houses that are away beyond our means, because Jimmy Sloan lives in one just like it. Mrs. Tucker can't see why other people have to keep up with the Sloans, but just the same you have to do it or you'll be called slow. 'Tis better, you know, to be considered a mystery than to be reckoned as being slow.

Mrs. Tucker says the first good old-timer of a northeaster that comes up makes people think of the Labrador and our thoughts go away down that way, and we say to one another, "I wonder how is the fishery on the Labrador?" Terribly strange how it strikes every one of us. The giddy little lassie with the innocent smile and the desperate looking animal on the motor bike all wonder "how they are doing on the Labrador?"

Early in the summer when everything was nice and gay, when Aunt Jane didn't exactly know where she'd spend the summer and Casablanca was wavering as to what maker he'd patronize when ordering his auto, no one thought of Labrador. Mines and minerals, pulp and gold, iron ore and beach rocks, all are now forgotten, and we ask one another, "How are they doing on the Labrador?"

Until "they" have done well on the Labrador and until we are independent enough to stop crying over a bad fishery, we should not start in spending money on monuments, money that could be spent in a better way and be a benefit to our people. Half-baked historians of the second eleven type, who have nothing else to do only go around looking for some one to dig up and erect a monument to, should be gagged in a poor country like ours. Here we are depending on strangers to assist our fishermen on the Labrador and afterwards soak us in the outside press, and yet we can find money to fire away on monuments erected in honour of men who, if they came on earth to-day, would drop dead laughing at our nonsense. The rich around here blame the poor for being extravagant, but they should take a tumble and drop their antics, which are not fit for this country—antics and tomfoolery which are sending us on the rocks.

A couple of more trips of the Labrador boat with the same old news and we'll have some of the auto gang dreaming of a memorable day known around here as Black Monday. We hear a lot about our revenue. It is belled into our ears night, noon and morning—our wonderful revenue. But let us take a look into the business and what do we find? Every family man is taxed about sixty dollars a year to make it up. No wonder 'tis wonderful; but let us ask ourselves how wealthy are our workmen becoming? We, all of us; Shannahan and Tucker included, are living in a ring-a-rose atmosphere. We have had a few good years and we're gone mad. Now 'tis up to us to put on the brakes and ask ourselves: Are we acting straight or are we living past our means?—and the sooner we find the answer the better. 'Tis considered a crime almost around here to talk in this strain, but Shannahan can get plucky enough to say just what he means, and knows there is another side to life beside the giddy one.

All that historical business should be buried now that the Guy fiasco is over. Let us get down to actual business and let us knock off aping other countries that are a thousand times our size, with money to burn and not depending on the products of the ocean to keep things a-going. One touch of nature makes us all alike. Some smart man said that one night and he was pretty near right. For a bad codfishery would send us all bemoaning the loss of the days when "everything was lovely on the Bowery."

TIM SHANNAHAN.

$20 a Week For a Typist.

Sir Robert Hadfield, head of Hadfield's Foundry, Sheffield, who is residing in Santa Barbara, California, has failed to find an American stenographer and typist who can "take" 150 words a minute of dictation, and is offering (writes a San Francisco correspondent) £20 a week for an adept.

Sir Robert is allowed to work only every other hour, but crowds two hours' work into one. Hence his demands have proven too much for the California typist, and he threatens to send to London for the person he wants.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

The Newfoundland Agricultural Board has ascertained that certain plots of potatoes in the neighbourhood of St. John's are affected by the dreaded

"Potato Canker" Disease.

This is the same disease that was first detected at Red Island, in Placentia Bay, about a year ago, and is so fatal in its effects that if not immediately checked the absolute impossibility of growing potatoes in Newfoundland for years to come, is sure to result.

The Agricultural Board therefore requests that all potato growers who may observe indications of disease in their crop will at once notify the Secretary of the Agricultural Board at the office of the Department of Agriculture and Mines.

The Agricultural Board recognizing the incalculable injury that must accrue to the country if this disease be not immediately stamped out earnestly requests all persons to aid the efforts now about to be made to effect this.
