STEWART'S
Home Made Bread,
THE BREAD MY DADDY LIKES.

Daddy is evidently not one of those back number lords of creation who believes that woman's place is in the home—and only there. His taste in a wife is an up-to-date woman who will prove herself a real companion. He knows that if she is a slave to her kitchen she can't enjoy the poise or have the interest in world affairs that a little extra leisure would make possible; and so he is pleased to eat MRS. STEWART'S HOME MADE BREAD—the loaf with the home made flavor.

The smiling, well-nourished kiddie doesn't look as though suffering because mother is progressive enough to buy good bread made by a bread specialist, instead of wearing out her life in the kitchen.

French Cabinet Resigned.

Leygues Ministry Goes Down to Defeat--U. S. to Round up all Oriental Ineligibles--Canadian Curlers Win From Stirlingshire--Five Years For Sinn Fein M. P.

HAD SHORT LIFE.
PARIS, Jan. 12. The Cabinet of Premier Leygues resigned to-day following defeat on a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies.

THE CAUSE OF LEYGUES DEFEAT

PARIS, Jan. 12. The Ministry of Premier Georges Leygues went down to defeat to-day. The fall came as a result of its opponents' refusal to grant the Cabinet confidence for a week or ten days without a discussion of its policies until after the meeting of the Premier with the British Prime Minister, Lloyd George, and Italian Foreign Minister, Count Sforza on January nineteen to discuss outstanding questions including German disarmament and reparations.

BOUNDED UP UNDESIRABLES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. A general roundup of all Oriental delinquents in the United States will be launched January twenty-two. This announcement was made late to-day at Ellis Island by Leo Russell, Chief Deporting Agent of the Immigration Service. Sweeping orders for such a roundup have been issued at Washington and a special force is to be assigned to the work, Russell said.

A COALITION TRIUMPH.

LONDON, Jan. 12. S. Roberts, Coalition Unionist, triumphed for the Lloyd George Government in the bye-election at Hereford, polling nine thousand six hundred votes against seven thousand four hundred of his Liberal opponent, E. W. Langford.

CLAIMS IS POLITICAL REFUGEE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. Formal claim to the rights of a political refugee was made to-day by David O'Callaghan, Mayor of Cork, who entered the United States as a stowaway without passport and whose case is before President Wilson for final decision as a result of differences between the State and Labor Departments.

CANADIANS WIN AGAIN.

GLASGOW, Jan. 12. Canadian curlers again showed fine form to-day at Edinburgh in a match with Stirlingshire, when they won by twenty-one points.

WILL HOLD ENQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. Secretary of Navy Daniels announced to-day that a court of enquiry would be convened at Rockaway Air Station upon the arrival there of Lieutenants Hunter, Farrell and Kloor, to enquire into all the circumstances of the balloon flight which carried the three officers from Rockaway to the shores of Hudson Bay. The court of enquiry Daniels said, will pay particular attention to the reported sale to newspapers and news syndicates of letters from the three officers. Another subject of enquiry, the Secretary said, would be the physical clash yesterday at Mattice between Lieutenants Farrell and Hunter, growing out of the publication of letters written by the latter to his wife and published by New York newspapers.

SINN FEIN M.P. GETS FIVE YEARS

DUBLIN, Jan. 12. James W. Walsh, Sinn Fein member of Parliament for Cork, who escaped from Mount Joy prison a year and a half ago and was recaptured on January fifth, has been officially informed that he has been sentenced to five years penal servitude. The day before his escape from prison he was court-martialed for delivering an alleged seditious speech and it is for this that the five year sentence has been imposed upon him.

GLACE BAY HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE.

GLACE BAY, N.S., Jan. 12. John MacLean, a Commercial Traveller, lost his life in a fire which last night destroyed the Glace Bay hotel and gutted a nearby building. Twenty other persons in the hotel had miraculous escapes. The loss is estimated at fifty thousand dollars, insurance carried twelve thousand.

VERY INSTRUCTIVE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. Secretary of the Navy Daniels to-day laid before the House Naval Affairs Committee what he described as approximately complete data on the relative seapower of the three principal naval powers, required by the committee in connection with its consideration of the question of international disarmament.

REORGANIZING THE COLONIAL OFFICE.

LONDON, Jan. 12. Latest information as to reorganization of the Colonial Office, which will be carried out before Viscount Milner leaves it, is that two departments will be formed under one ministerial chief. One of these will deal with overseas Dominions' affairs, and the other with those pertaining to the Middle East and the Crown Colonies.

Needed a Chair to Help Her Walk

NOW MRS. EASTCOTT IS PRAISING DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Port Hope Lady who Suffered from Rheumatism and Heart Trouble tells how she found relief.
Port Hope, Ont., Jan. 12th. (Special).—Among the thousands of women in Canada who sing the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills, none is more enthusiastic than Mrs. S. Eastcott, a well-known and highly respected resident here. And Mrs. Eastcott is always ready to tell the reason why.

"I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism and heart trouble for the last four years," she says in telling her story. "I doctored and tried all kinds of treatments, but got no good results. I got so bad I had to walk with a chair."

"After taking Dodd's Kidney Pills for some time I could walk alone. Now I am better than I have been for the last four years. I am on my eighth box and will continue to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, till I am perfectly well."

Rheumatism and heart trouble are both caused by sick Kidneys. The weakened Kidneys fail to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood and the trouble begins. The rational treatment is to strengthen the Kidneys so they can remove the cause of the disease.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are for the help sick Kidneys are crying for.

Exterminated by Bolsheviks.

The forests of the great feudal noblemen of Central and Eastern Europe for many centuries preserved the species of the European bison, which is now extinct. The Count Potocki had a famous herd, but since the war our amiable and enlightened friends the Bolsheviks have exterminated this historic and irreplaceable herd on the ground that if there were not buffalo enough for all men no man ought to have any buffalo at all. A similar fate met the great Lithuanian herd; more than seven hundred head had been carefully preserved for generations by the Counts of Ruzhina. A czar may be bad enough in his way, but a Bolshevik is worse. Between the Bolsheviks and the Germans, the European bison now is done for.

HENRY BLAIR

U. S. Shipping Board Scandal.

ALLEGED CHARGES OF GRAFT.

The investigation being held by a Congress Committee headed by Representative Walsh into the alleged scandals of the United States Shipping Board and Emergency Fleet Corporation is the subject of much comment in American papers. At the present time says the Baltimore News there are 192 wooden ships belonging to the Shipping Board tied up in the James River alone, and costing $100 a month each for caretaking.

The first evidence laid before the Committee was a 100 page report of two investigators, A. M. Fisher and J. F. Richardson. The Philadelphia Public Ledger summarizing the report says:

"Defective steel forgings for Shipping Board vessels were fixed up to pass the official test in the following way: The test required that a hole one inch in diameter was to be bored into each forging to determine the quality of the steel. Inferior forgings were 'doctored' by having good steel plugs, two inches in diameter and six inches deep, inserted in them in such fashion as to conceal the fraud. Then the test-hole was bored into these high-class plugs, with the result that the forging was passed by the inspectors and accepted for use in a vessel of the Shipping Board."

Mr. Richardson said that it was due to these defective forgings that many shafts on Shipping Board vessels were found defective, and it is a common occurrence for a ship to lose its propellers at sea.

Other witnesses called before the Committee testified to such items as a bill for $23,000 paid twice over by the Board by "mistake;" a bill for $161 for putting a hinge worth 83 cents on the door of a ship's galley; fresh water worth 90 cents a ton sold to Shipping Board vessels for $25 a ton; asbestos cloth valued at $1.19 a pound sold to the Shipping Board for $1.50 a pound, causing a loss to the Board of $1,000,000 in one year; overpayments running into tens of millions on claims submitted by foreign shipping firms; and profits running as high as 750 per cent. made by certain firms at the Shipping Board's expense.

Commander Abner B. Clements, frankly told Representative Walsh that the charges contained in the Fisher-Richardson report were probably substantially correct. As evidence of the chaos into which the Board's finances had drifted the Commander stated that 4,000 persons, at salaries totaling $8,000,000 a year, are now engaged in an attempt to straighten the tangle of building accounts of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. He told the committee that in rough numbers 10,000 men are now employed by the Board, and that the annual pay-roll is approximately $19,000,000. Nearly 1,200 ships are being operated for the Board, and under the present system of accounting, he said, there is no way of knowing whether they are operated at a profit or a loss.

The Yellow World.

It is easy to see why China's imperial color is yellow, writes a correspondent from Yangtze River. Her rivers are yellow, her long plains are yellow—especially in a famine year such as this, and as for her seas—the boundaries of her world—so desert-yellow is their color that a string of camels crossing them would look more in keeping than a string of junks. And so one can understand why the very heart of the heart of China, the Imperial City, should lie like a shimmering lake of golden tiles within her lotus-besieged walls. Even against the evidence of my own eyes I cannot believe that the Great Wall is built of solid ordinary stones laid one upon the other. Rather it seems moulded out of the stuff of which the mountains themselves were made, long ago when the world was plastic and empty of all save possibilities. There never was so sinuous a thing as the Great Wall built by men, I think, so sinuous and so inspiring.

Was on Verge of Breakdown, Sydney Woman Declares

Mrs. Dobbins Is Restored To Perfect Health By Taking Tanlac.

"I just can't help but feel happy over starting the New Year in such splendid health," declared Mrs. Charles Dobbins of Sydney, N.S., when relating her experience with Tanlac recently. Mrs. Dobbins is a life-long resident of Sydney and lives on Prince Street.

"I just seemed to be on the verge of a breakdown and took little interest in anything. I got up in the morning tired, went to bed tired and all through the day felt so weak and dizzy that life seemed hardly worth living. What little I ate did me more harm than good and I suffered awfully from gas and bloating and pains in the stomach. Sometimes my chest and shoulders hurt and I often had headaches that were just about as severe as I could bear. My nerves kept me restless all the time and at night I slept but little. I worried and worried over myself and didn't know which way to turn for relief."

"But I am thankful that I have at last found good health." Tanlac was just what I had been needing all the time and I began to improve in just a few days after I started taking it. My appetite is splendid now and I enjoy everything I eat. My nerves seem to be as steady as ever and I haven't a pain anywhere about me. I sleep perfectly sound and have been built up wonderfully. Tanlac certainly deserves the praise people are giving it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by Mr. Connors, in Paradise by Mrs. Martin F. Byrne, in Upper Gables by Heber Andrews, in Portland by H. C. Haines, in St. Joseph, Salmonier, by Mrs. J. Gushue, in Millertown by Exploits Valley Royal Stores, Ltd., in Flat Island by William Samson, in Jamestown by Christopher Haines, and in Lewisporte by Uriah Freake.—adv.

The Sword of Miles Standish.

Among the precious relics of the Pilgrims that were seen when visitors thronged the old town of Plymouth at the tercentenary observances last summer, few are more romantically interesting than the veritable sword of Miles Standish. It may be seen in Pilgrim Hall.

It is a Damascus blade and presumably came into the possession of the Pilgrim captain from some one whose ancestors had brought it from the Crusades.

It bears several curious inscriptions, which waited until June, 1881, to be translated. Then Professor James Rosedale of Jerusalem, went with a band of Arab to America's most important shrine and found that the carved characters belonged to different dates—some in Cufic and very old.

He was only able to translate one of a later period, in Arabic. The words given here show that its spirit was quite appropriate to the spirit of the Pilgrims:

"With peace God ruled his Slaves, And with the judgments of his arms, He troubled the Might of the wicked."

Also in the hall are a pewter platter and a pot, unearthed in the cellar of the Standish house, and a sampler made by Lorea Standish, daughter of Captain Miles. It bears these lines:

Lorea Standish is my name, Lord, guide my heart that I may do Thy will. Also fill my hands with much convenient skill. As will conduce to virtue void of shame, And I will give the glory to Thy name.

Chivalrous Lion.

While a workman was oiling the sliding doors of two cages at the Zoological Gardens, Regent's park, London, England, says a correspondent, a young lion slipped into the sleeping den of an old tigress. They attacked each other in the semi-darkness, before the lion apparently discovered that his opponent was a female. He could have killed her with ease, as her claws were feeble and her teeth worn, yet presently both emerged in neighborly fashion from the sleeping den into the show cage in front. They were separated by the keeper, but the tigress, although apparently little hurt, had been bitten deeply in the chest, and died next day from internal hemorrhaging. The keeper declared that if the two animals had been of the same sex they would have fought to the bitter end in the sleeping den.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—In re the sending of blue ink to the Royal Stores, I have no other paper—may I say that I have not done so. I, at one time, used to send the Times some paper, but have not done so since arriving from New York. I understand that it is being insinuated in some quarters that it was I who wired the questionable messages to the Times, and it is to clear myself that I write you.

Sincerely,
J. R. SMALLWOOD.

Clyde Reports Slob Ice.

The Government Railway Commission received a message from the Captain of the S.S. Clyde yesterday to the effect that North from Twillingate and East of Bacallieu, Notre Dame Bay, there are strings of slob ice, but very little from Twillingate South. As a consequence, the Home, which was at Twillingate last night on her way to LaSalle will probably have to turn about and return here.

Handsome Souvenir.

The souvenir booklet of the unveiling of the War Memorial at St. Bon's, is an excellent example of the quality of work which local printers can turn out. The booklet is printed in blue and gold and contains portraits of H. E. the Governor, His Grace the Archbishop and Sir M. P. Cashin, all of which are very clear. This souvenir was printed by the Union Publishing Company, and is a splendid specimen of the Art Typographical.

McMurdo's Store News.

THURSDAY, Jan. 13, 1921.
McMurdo's Gripe Mixture is composed of the very simplest ingredients—soda, dill, caraway, peppermint—so do not be deceived, but it is a very thing when it comes to relieving infantile colic, wind pains, indigestion, restlessness, on the part of infants and young children, there are few better preparations to be had. It has a pleasant taste, is intended to be wakeful, or starts and passes in its sleep, a dose of McMurdo's Gripe Mixture will often relieve the symptoms, and enable both child and mother to obtain needed rest. Price 20c a bottle.
Alpha Compliment Soap is good for winter weather. Price 30c a box; Box of three cakes, 80c.

Wedding Bells.

McGRATH-MERCER.
A very pretty wedding took place at the Presbytery, Holywood, on Thursday evening last, when Mr. Robert Mercer of Topsail, was united in matrimony to Miss Nellie McGrath of Southside. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. P. Tun, before a large number of friends from Topsail and Holywood. The bride was given away by her father, looked most charming in a dress of pale blue silk crepe de chine, with all and wreath of orange blossoms. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie, who was also neatly attired in gown of pale blue silk. Mr. Jack Mercer, brother of the groom, attended as best man. The ceremony was followed by a sumptuous repast, at the residence of the bride's parents, and later followed by the best wishes of all amid showers of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Mercer with several of the guests left for Topsail, their future home. The trip by sleigh was a little uncomfortable, owing to weather conditions, but these little hardships were soon forgotten when Topsail was reached, as a delicious supper awaited them, and better still a good time, which was indulged in until we were some hours of morning. The collection of wedding gifts was a fine, beautiful and valuable one. We now, only congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Mercer, and wish them bon voyage in their journey through life, and may they enjoy it as heartily as we enjoyed their wedding.

Ready for Sea.

The Spanish schooner Alonso is now loaded with 4933 qts. of fish shipped by Francis Dominguez Garcia, and will sail for Seville on tomorrow. The Alonso was towed to this port on Nov. 8th with her spars and rudder gone, but she has since been thoroughly repaired. The Captain of the vessel is a man of outstanding sea-going ability and is noted for daring and bravery. He is the proud possessor of a first class medal and certificate presented by the province of Seville through the Minister of Marine of Spain. This was for conspicuous daring in rescue work off the coast of Spain in November 1913. We wish captain and crew bon voyage.

Llewellyn Club Lecture.

To-night at the Llewellyn Club Dr. Jones, President of the Club, will give the first of a series of lectures on Fools. The topics to be considered under this general heading are: (1) The Young Fool; (2) The Companion Fool; (3) The Woman Fool; (4) The Rich Fool; (5) The Old Fool; (6) The No-God Fool; (7) Nobody's Fool; (8) God's Fool. These lectures will be given on the Thursday nights between this and Easter. These meetings are open to all men whether members of the Club or not. Strangers will be made welcome.

Hockey Notes.

We have been informed that the rink management is meeting all the demands of the Hockey League in connection with improvements at the rink. The work on the dressing room, which was held up on account of shortage of lumber, is now in progress and will be completed before long. The dressing room stove, which has become rather antiquated, is being replaced. The other improvements decided upon will be attended to later.

In connection with the item which appeared in this column yesterday about the ice, and to which we hear that exception has been taken, we would like to say in justification to ourselves that this was merely given (as a rumor) for what it was worth and that no statement at all was made. This rumor was reported to us by several people about town and as such we published it. We are glad, however, to know that it was entirely without foundation (not the rink, but the rumor).

The rink will be open to-night for general skating. There will be only one practice, the Feldians going on at 10.30.

Coastal Boats.

- CROSBIE & CO.
- S.S. Susa left Greenspond this morning.

- Home left Nipper's Harbor at 10 a.m. yesterday, outward.
- Kyle on way to St. John's.
- Sagamora arrived at Port aux Basques at 9.05 a.m. yesterday.

Personal.

Mrs. Owen Price Jones, of Montreal, is now in the city.
Hon John Anderson has been confined to his home during the past two weeks suffering from a severe cold, but will be able to get down to his office within a few days.
Mr. James Power of Parker and Monroe's, who has been confined to his home for several days suffering from a very severe cold was much improved yesterday.
Capt. T. Connors, who was injured on board the S.S. Fortia, at Huria several weeks ago, has now fully recovered and resumes command of the Fortia next trip.

Rink Foundation Good.

With reference to the rumour which we published yesterday for what it was worth, the management of the Prince's Rink informs us that the foundation on the rink at present is one of the best that has ever been put on and that it requires only one night of hard frost to make an excellent sheet of ice.

Little Stephano Arrives.

Schr. Little Stephano, owned by Capt. A. Kean, arrived in port to-day after a passage of 40 days from Seville. The vessel made a good passage across and reached the Banks 11 8 days, but since has experienced a succession of storms. The crew were expecting to make port for Xmas but events proved otherwise. However, the staunch vessel pulled through without mishap.

"The Follies" in St. John's.

Galaxy of Local Artistes Present Unique Entertainment --- Last Night's Cabaret a Brilliant Success.

Upon entering the C.C.C. Hall last night and looking down upon the ballroom, one was bewildered by the sight which met one's gaze. Gone was the usually prosaic ballroom, and in its place was an exact reproduction of a New York Cabaret. The white-capped waitresses arranged around the room, at which were seated men and women in evening dress, the dainty waitresses and programmes sellers, and the splendid lighting and decorations all combined to keep up this appearance, and caused one's thoughts to fly back to the days of Haroun al Raschid. Surely one must have been transported from St. John's to New York by some such wonderful means as the Magic Carpet, one could not imagine for a moment that the C.C.C. ballroom could undergo such a transformation as this. Nevertheless, it had.

This exact reproduction of a cabaret was the result of the efforts of some energetic young ladies and had been organized for the purpose of benefitting the Church of England Orphanage. For one night only, a bit of Broadway had come to St. John's. And yet, the laughter and talk of the guests, the tinkle of glasses, the sight of the waitresses' fitting about amongst the tables, gave such a touch of realism to the scene as to make it almost unbelievable that yesterday it never was, and to-morrow it would be no more.

But the opening strains of the Orchestra soon caused one to abandon one's musings and give one's attention to the centre of the floor—the Follies had begun. First to appear was Miss 1921, represented by Miss Mary Keegan who wore a most striking costume. She recited the clever and appropriate prologue which she had composed in collaboration with Mr. Hugh Anderson.

Following the prologue came the song "Jewels of Pandora" which was delightfully rendered by Mrs. W. R. Warren. As the name of each jewel was introduced in the song, its representative in the person of a dainty young lady, gowned in the colour of her jewel, issued forth until soon Pandora was surrounded by a galaxy of beauty which one is seldom privileged to see. The jewels and their representatives were:

Diamond Miss F. Rogerson Pearl Mrs. W. A. Reid Topaz Miss M. Rendell Turquoise Miss M. Mare Sapphire Miss E. Joyce Amethyst Miss M. Doyle Onyx Miss M. Carter Opal Miss E. Alderdice Ruby Mrs. H. Anderson Emerald Miss Ruth Orr

After the beautiful song which was made so spectacular by the splendid costumes of Pandora and her jewels, a delightful exhibition of dancing was given by Miss Louise Orr as Pierrot and Miss Joan Rendell as Pierrette. There is no need to recite again the story which this dance expresses. Suffice it to say that the dancers acted their parts to perfection, their beautiful costumes adding greatly to the effect produced. The next item was in lighter vein, it being an excellent bit of Vaudeville done by Messrs. Duke Winter and Frank Bennett who imitated those well-known American comedians, Al Jolson and Benni Huxley. An interval, during which the table holders could dance, here followed.

The fifth item on the varied programme was a dance entitled "Moonlight Fantasia," made famous by the celebrated Dolly sisters, who were in this case, ably represented by Miss Louise Orr and Miss Joan Rendell. The dancing of both these ladies would do credit to any professional and the spectators were loud in their praises of it. The song, "Gee! I'd like to be a monkey in the Zoo," was sung by Miss Ruth Orr and was very well received. She then sang "M-i-s-s-i-s-s-i-p-p-i" assisted by a chorus composed of kiddies from Exon. This number was encored several times. The doll drill by children from Exon was very good indeed and earned rounder of well-merited applause.

Following the Doll Drill came the song "Along came another little girl," sung by Mr. Sid Bennett and Chorus. This item was very well done and was exceedingly well received by the audience. The ladies who formed the Beauty chorus for Beauty chorus it undoubtedly was, were Misses Mare, J. Rendell, Doyle and L. Orr. Another short interval followed the doll drill, after which the famous song "Alice Blue Gown" was sung by the Misses Ruth and Louise Orr. This song was beautifully rendered by the talented performers, their costumes adding a great deal to the effect produced. The recitation "Twas the night before Christmas" was next given by the Exon children who proved themselves a very clever lot of kiddies indeed. Following the recitation came the song "Irene" with Miss Joan Rendell in the title role, assisted by Messrs W. Clouston, E. Bowring, F.

Bennett and J. Paterson. This song was much appreciated by the audience, the dancing being very good indeed. The Grand Finale followed, bringing the concert part of the programme to a highly successful conclusion. The song, "Just an old Fashioned Melody" was sung by Mr. Arthur Williams, assisted by the whole company. "The Old Oaken Bucket" was rendered by Mrs. Warren and Annie Laurie by Miss Ruth Orr.

Following the Grand Finale, supper was served and general dancing was then kept up until, well into the morning. The music for the dancing was provided by the full C.C.C. Band. The entertainment, which was under the patronage of His Excellency the Governor, was organized by Miss Louise Orr and to her most of the credit is due for its success. Miss Orr worked indefatigably to make the affair a successful one, an object which was undoubtedly attained. The whole of the concert was rehearsed under her supervision and was a striking tribute to her capabilities in this direction. Miss Orr was ably assisted by several other young ladies without whose aid the affair could never have been brought to such a successful conclusion.

Miss Estie Tait, most aptly billed as Miss Paderewski, accompanied throughout the concert, her playing leaving nothing to be desired, whilst Mr. Joseph Ross, who was responsible for the effects, also deserves great praise. Great credit is also due to Mrs. Norman Alderdice, who looked after the decorations. Mr. Reg Harvey, the stage manager, and Miss Cecily Rendell, and the ladies who so ably assisted her in looking after the catering. Over $1,000 was raised for the Church of England Orphanage, by means of the Cabaret. It is a pity that there is so much labor entailed by the organization of an affair of this sort, for otherwise, several repetitions would undoubtedly be welcomed and would just as surely be as well supported as the present one. Just after the close of the concert, Miss Louise Orr was presented with a beautiful bouquet on behalf of the management of the C. of E. Orphanage.

Stamps Carry Poet's Fame.

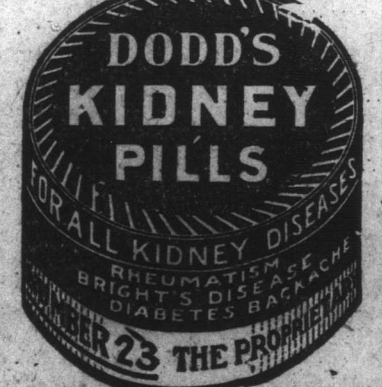

Until recently the name of Ivan Vazoff was seldom heard outside of his own country. To-day it is on the lips of thousands of persons throughout the civilized world to whom it had been made familiar through the medium of a special issue of postage stamps made by the Bulgarian government in honor of the seventieth anniversary of the birth of its national poet, Ivan Vazoff, the most eminent litterateur of Bulgaria, and the writer of countless epic and lyrical poems, was born in 1850. At the age of 29 he took a prominent part in the insurrection against Turkish rule. His best known novel, "Under the Sword," has been translated into several languages. The stamps with which his seventieth birthday has been commemorated are six in number, embracing as many effective designs reproduced in mezzo-engraving. The designs of the 50-stotinki stamp, rose-carmine in color, depicts a courtyard scene, and below it a vignette of the famous "cherry wood" cannon in the National Museum at Sofia, which was used by the insurgents in the war of 1870. A Bulgar irregular, armed to the teeth, figures on the 50-stotinki (green), and a warrior brandishing his fiery lyrics are on the 5-levas value, printed in blue. The remaining stamps portray Vazoff in 1870 and 1920, an autographed miniature of the national poet and Vazoff's birthplace.

Hypnotised a Lobster.

A wild, uneducated female lobster was selected at random from a fish-monger's slab for the purposes of the experiment. There could therefore be no question of a trained confederate or collusion. She was a big fish of 3lb. 4oz., and the hypnotist elected not to cut the string binding her claws as she showed considerable liveliness.

She "bucked" just like a mustang as Mr. Duncan tried to spread her tail out flat on his desk. He performed some rhythmic passes up and down her polished black back, and she grew more docile, permitting her tail to be unfolded. Then for 2 minutes the operator lightly massaged her back with the tips of his fingers until the lobster lost her expression of annoyed anxiety and relaxed into a beautiful trance.

Then came the crowning moment. Mr. Duncan lifted the hypnotised shellfish and stood her on her head. With her two claws and nose as three points of support, she stood, unperched and motionless, for five minutes. After that the hypnotic sleep grew lighter, and passed away a few moments later, leaving a normally angry lobster.

"And the boy guessed right the very first time."

So did KEARNEY when he decided to make JAEGER UNDERWEAR his special for the third four days of his HALF-PRICE SALE. KEARNEY guessed a sharp spurt of weather was just about due, so he said "Jaegers the stuff to gie 'em", and he's offering genuine Jaeger garments at genuine 50 PER CENT reductions, but—they'll go like hot cakes, don't let yours go before you get there.

KEARNEY'S the first to sell at these 50-50 prices (50 for you, 50 for Kearney). Come on and be the first to buy. Here are the specials for the next four days.

later, leaving a normally angry lobster.

Dr. Chalmers Mitchell, F.R.S., secretary to the Zoological Society, watched the experiment with keen interest, but could suggest no explanation. Mr. Duncan points out that some important nerve centres lie just under the shell of the back, and possibly these have something to do with the phenomenon.

He made this queer discovery when gathering specimens for the Marine Biological Laboratory at Plymouth. On trying to prevent an active lobster from crawling out of the boat his wet hand slipped several times on its back, and the creature grew quieter. He repeated the rubbing movement and produced a hypnotic trance.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WHICH ARE YOU?

RUTH CAMERON

Are you a loser or a finder?
I think all people are divided into those two classes—the people who are always rushing in and saying, "Isn't it terrible, I lost such and such," and the people who are always saying, "What do you suppose? Yesterday when I was down-town I rushed back and, miracle of miracles, was reunited to it, and then left it in the trolley as I was riding to my home."

Where, I wonder, do all these lost umbrellas go, anyway? I am sure there are never half so many found as are lost. But when you come to think of it, that is true about everything. The two classes of finders and losers are far from even. One hears of losses five times as often as of finds.

People Who Find and Keep.
Perhaps the finders do not always think best to talk about their finds. I can see that when they follow the policy of "findings is keepings" they might not care to advertise their findings. And there is no question but that many people do follow this policy, even when some easy agency exists for the finding of the owner. Take, for instance, the umbrellas and other articles lost on street cars and trains. If these are taken to the lost article office by the finder, they are given to the owner if he arrives within 90 days and proves ownership, and if he does not, the finder may have them with a clear conscience. Yet how many umbrellas are never taken to the office! I know, for I have visited it several times without success in the hope of being reunited to mine. There are times when I think that if I found someone's umbrella (I never did) I would keep it to reimburse myself for some of my losses, but I fancy if that miracle ever happened, my sympathetic imagination would make me see the poor loser going to the "lost and found" office with high hopes and going away disappointed, and I would just have to turn it in.

How to Stop Losing Things.
I once heard a woman lecturer who advised to help build better characters and more efficient lives, answering questions from the platform. One of the questions asked was "I an always losing things. How can I stop it?"

The lecturer answered that the loser was probably trying to do too much and didn't have her mind on her possessions. Somehow that answer made me think of another question and answer. A woman who always wore white clothes and kept them marvellously dainty and clean, was asked how she did it. "I think of them constantly when I have them on," she said.
Of course there is a happy middle course in everything. When everyone takes it the millennium will have been attained.

Evades the Issue.

An inch more of defiance and an all sorts of excuses will be the general comment passed upon the latest note of Germany to the Allies, on the delicate question of disarmament. It is still abundantly clear that Germany is trying to throw dust in the eyes of the Entente and to wriggle out of the obligations solemnly entered into at Spa, but the truculent tone that was adopted when the speeches of the Ministers in the occupied territory were under discussion gives place to a certain disingenuousness and a plea that Germany is helpless to do more than she has accomplished hitherto.

This change of attitude is no new thing with Berlin. The diplomats of the Wilhelmstrasse can change their coat with a lightning rapidity that a quick change artist may envy. The temper of their antagonists is at once reflected in their methods, and they are quick to meet weakness with insolence and firmness with a fawning humility.

The essence of the latest note lies in the claim of Germany that special conditions prevail in East Prussia and Bavaria which prevent the stripping of the Civil Guards of those areas. It is against the retention of arms and artillery by these Citizen Defence Forces (Einwohnerwehr) that the strongest note of the Allies was directed. Germany claims, in effect, that the population of Bavaria is still completely under the influence of the notorious Bela Kun in 1919, and that it is to prevent a recurrence of the lawless condition that prevailed under that reign of Communism that the Einwohnerwehr have been organized and are still maintained. Germany further claims that they are an entirely civil organization, under the control of the Bavarian Minister of the Interior. The Allies, however, have good grounds for the belief that this organization is military in everything but name, that it is recruited from officers and men of the old German war machine, and that it forms the nucleus of an army which could be used for a lightning attack should Germany have a recurrence of the brain-storm that afflicted her in 1914. THE HAPPY MAN.

If you would know a happy man,
Go find the fellow who
Has had a bout with trouble grim
And just come smiling through.
The load is off his shoulders now,
Where yesterday he frowned
And swore there was no joy in life,
He laughs his way around.
He's done the very thing he thought
That he could never do,
His sun is shining high to-day
And all his skies are blue.
He's stronger than he was before,
Should trouble come anew,
He'll know how much his strength
can bear
And how much he can do.
To-day he has the right to smile,
And he may gayly sing,
For he has conquered where he feared
To come to failure's sting.
Comparison has taught him too,
The sweetest joys are those
Which follow on the heels of care.
To free us from our woes.
If you would meet a happy man,
Go find the fellow who
Has had a bout with trouble grim,
And just come smiling through.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT. AIR. Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 33 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal-oil).
The inventor T. W. Johnson, 246 Craig St., West, Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

THE LAWS DELAY.

Near San Francisco, recently, three delegates were lynched; they were in jail, their weird to do, for crimes revolving pinched. And masked men came, perhaps three abreast, as grim as doom or fate, and strung them to a gallows, which groaned beneath their weight. And law abiding people then sent up an angry cry: "We have our law, and it should be honored." Whereat a most sardonic smile, who stood at my right hand, remarked, "The people would not wait to see those monsters cann'd. And so the stars above us saw a scene of death and woe; the people weary of the law, it is so beastly slow. A feud is tried and tried again, and tried another time, until the weary sons of men forget his ancient crime. And if at last some prison grim should hide his sordid form, some governor will pardon him before his bunk is warm. Oh, through some writ that has a flaw, to fresh crimes he may go; the people weary of the law, it is so deadly slow." I looked with scorn upon the gink who talked in such a way; I looked with scorn, but couldn't think of anything to say.

The Earliest Triple Alliance.
As Louis XIV. had married Maria Theresa, the daughter of Phillip IV. of Spain, he, on the death of her father, claimed, in right of his wife, the Spanish Netherlands; and with a powerful army invaded the country in 1677. In order to check the ambitious designs of the French King, a league, called "The Triple Alliance," was formed between England, Holland, and Sweden, on January 13, 1688. Louis was thus under the necessity of signing the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle, the conditions of which were that Spain should give up to Louis all the towns conquered by him, and Louis should renounce all claims on the rest of Flanders. This pleased the English people highly, and Charles II, who was then King, became, for once, a great warrior. Little, however, did the nation dream how base-ly it was being tricked, and what foul stains were deepening kingly honour. For while Charles openly professed hostility to Louis, he was secretly receiving £200,000 a year from him. The negotiations between the Courts of England and France were conducted by a handsome Frenchwoman, Madame Carwell, who soon won the favour of Charles, and was made Duchess of Portsmouth. At Dover a secret treaty was signed, of which the principal terms were, that Charles should openly declare himself a Roman Catholic; that he should fight for Louis against the Dutch Republic; and support the claims of that monarch on Spain. Louis on his part promised plenty of money, and an army to quell the English if they dared to rebel. Five men, the initials of whose names by a curious coincidence form the word Cabal, they became the chief advisers of the King. They were Clifforde, Arlington, Buckingham, Ashley, and Lauzardie. So pertinacious were their advice, and so strong the hatred of them entertained by the people, that the word "Cabal," which was at first equivalent to "Cabinet," has ever since been used to denote a clique of political schemers, for it means a secret conclave, and is derived from the Cabala, or magical traditions, which were handed down among the Jews from the earliest times.

Shot Dead on Parade.

On the 13th of January, 1793, at English Harbor, Antigua, the well-known duellist, Lord Camelford, was acting as lieutenant-in-charge of the "Favourite," sloop of war, while a Lieut. Peterson was first lieutenant of the "Perdrix," a larger ship. Captain Fable, of the "Perdrix," who was in command of the port, being absent on leave, the alarm guns were suddenly fired, whereupon Lord Camelford sent an order to Lieut. Peterson to hold the crew of the "Perdrix" in readiness to act, and to keep a good look-out at the entrance of the harbor. This order Lieut. Peterson, considering himself temporarily in command, thought proper to disregard. Lord Camelford remonstrated with him on what he called the impropriety of his conduct, but without being able to convince Lieut. Peterson of being wrong. The latter, in fact, dismissed his ship's company, landed and drew them up in the dockyard, and prepared to resist the authority of Lord Camelford, who had brought his men ashore also. Suddenly Lord Camelford took a pistol from the hand of an officer of his ship, and going up to Lieutenant Peterson, asked him point-blank whether he persisted in his refusal to obey orders given him. The lieutenant answered "I do!" Upon which Lord Camelford, putting his pistol to Peterson's breast, shot him dead upon the spot. He then turned and addressing the crew of the "Perdrix," told them he had shot their first lieutenant for mutiny. The companies of both ships, who were drawn up and were spectators of the act, were then withdrawn quietly to their respective ships, and on the following day the "Majilla," of twenty-four guns, Captain Milford, arrived in the harbor, whereupon Lord Camelford gave himself up as a prisoner. Captain Milford immediately sent him to Martinique, where he was tried by a court-martial and honourably acquitted. The court held the extraordinary opinion that the manifest disobedience of Lieut. Peterson justified the act of Lord Camelford, his junior on the list.

S. U. F. Club Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the S.U.F. Club was held on Tuesday, January 11, at their rooms George Street, and was largely attended. The Secretary-Treasurer gave a statement of expenditure for the year showing a substantial balance on hand, which speaks well for the efforts of those in charge. The election of officers for the ensuing year then took place. President, Bro. J. Rendell, who was one of the originators of the Club, was unanimously re-elected for the third successive year. Bro. R. Le-Drew, also an original member, was unanimously re-elected for his third year as Vice-President. The Secretary-Treasurer also seems by unanimity a fixture, as Bro. W. Muford, also one of the promoters, again was given charge of the money bag. The Executive Committee was then balloted for and elected. The lots fell on Bros. Geo. Reid, W. McGillivray, E. Berridge, J. Harnam, R. Skillington, J. Briden, A. E. Withycombe, S. Jenkins, W. T. Lever and H. Hynes. No doubt the executive will continue to inspire that confidence in the members which has been so predominant in the past. After the meeting closed, the usual refreshments were served, and the following Toast List gone through: "The King," prop. The President; Resp. "God Save the King"; Song by Bro. R. W. Shepard; "The Chairman," Prop. Bro. Wm. Muford; Resp. The President; "The Grand Lodge," Prop. Bro. W. McGillivray; Resp. P.G.M. Bro. Phillips; "The Grand Master," Prop. Bro. R. LeDrew; Resp. (Proxy) Bro. A. E. Withycombe, W.G.S. The gathering dispersed about 11.30 with the singing of the National Anthem.

Iceland's Hot Water Service.

The hot water fountains of Iceland are on an average seven feet in height, the top of each of which forms the edge of a sort of basin. From these basins the steam of boiling water can be seen rising and the overflow of water is continuous. The contents of these basins is as clear as crystal and one can see to a great depth, while just below the surface are many wonderfully beautiful white incrustations to obtain samples of which many a visitor to Iceland has burned his fingers. The petrifications caused by the boiling water streams from the geysers include birch and willow leaves, grass and rushes seemingly converted into marble. At no time is it entirely safe to loiter in the vicinity of one of these bottomless basins, for the geyser has a way of spouting and gives no advance warning. Sometimes there will be a shoot of boiling water to a height of fifteen feet, followed by a succession of jets. The highest shoot of which there is any record was ninety feet. Occasionally a basin will for some unexplained reason become entirely empty, or will give forth a "steam shoot," which, in the form of a col-

"Red" Army Organizing in Britain.

Those who read brief cable despatches about the arrest of Lt. Col. L'Estrange Malone, M.P., for making speeches prophesying a happy time approaching when the "Reds" would hang leading British statesmen from lamp-posts, may have been disposed to regard him as a harmless mad-man, or, because of his name, identify him with the Sinn Fein. Mad-man he is, but by no means harmless, for he earned a brilliant military record during the war; Sinn Fein he may be by temperament, but not in fact, for he is a British M.P. elected for East Leyton in 1918 as a supporter of Lloyd George. Speeches like those of Col. Malone are made every Sunday in Trafalgar Square and Hyde Park, and the good-natured London "bobbies" firmly enforce a hearing for the "soap-boxers," as we call them on this side of the Atlantic. Since everyone is free to talk about hanging British statesmen in circumstances where words are unlikely to produce action, it was rather obvious that the authorities had other reasons for apprehending the gallant Colonel. What they were is now divulged. "Saturday Night" has been privileged to peruse

"A difference of fifty cents," was the answer. "Our prices to Ottawa are $10 and $2." "You understand of course," claimed the agent, "the lower price is for the lower berth. If you want a lower you'll have to go to the lower. It didn't need to be said, but we found everybody wanted lower. In other words the higher the fewer." "Why do they all prefer the lower?" I broke in. "On account of its convenient," he replied. "Most persons don't count on it being higher, and when you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed, and then down when you get up. I would advise you to take the lower, although it's higher than the upper, for reason I have stated, that the lower is lower than the lower because higher. New Light on the Ex-Kaiser's Flight

Count Dietrich von Moltke, a former officer of the suite of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, has just issued a pamphlet giving some new and curious details as to the manner in which the German Emperor bolted into Holland in November, 1918.

An attempt was made by the German Government to induce him to abdicate on November 1, when he refused, declaring that if he went back to his last visit to the front, and the Allied airmen improved the occasion by making an attack on his train. He was not in it at the moment, but there was a stampede of frightened people from it, including the cook of the imperial dining-car.

Two days later telegraphic and telephonic communications with Berlin began to break down, and the Kaiser took to sending aircraft themselves. But these did not return. He was isolated. And the German Government called more and more upon the emperor for his abdication.

On November 9 he considered the use of armed force against the revolution in Germany, but had quickly abandoned that idea. He hoped to return to the head of the German army, till he was bluntly told that "the army will not march under the Majesty's order," and was warned that the revolution was making headway against him.

At last, most reluctantly, he abdicated and wrote an abdication letter to the German Emperor but on condition that he remained King of Prussia. In a very short time he was back in Holland. This was as far as he could be reduced to go.

To his dismay there came the news that the German Government, to which he had abdicated and that the Crown Prince had also renounced his rights, two hours before he had signed his provisional abdication. The Kaiser was furious. "He repeatedly asserted that he was the King of Prussia and would not abdicate his army." But during the afternoon there came the news that the Kaiser had broken out on the German front while the Spa garrison had declined to fight for him.

He still determined to remain in Spa, but in the night of November he changed his mind and decided to fly to Holland. As he passed the German post he was received with military honors, but with some reproaches.

The main facts of his journey through Holland are known, but it has not been noticed that his progress was watched by thousands of Dutch with jeers and hootings. By arrangements, which had been previously made with the Dutch Government he was carefully protected and (nominally) conducted to his present safe asylum, where he enjoys an income of $500,000 a year.

When Low is High.

(From Set Square, Toronto) "Let me have sleeping accommodations on the train to Ottawa," said the man at the window, "I didn't seem at all concerned when I took the trip or stayed home. "For a single passenger?" he asked. "No," I replied. "I'm married. I'm not taking anybody with me, a single shelf will answer." "Upper or lower?" he asked. "What's the difference?" I enquired. "A difference of fifty cents," was the answer. "Our prices to Ottawa are $10 and $2." "You understand of course," claimed the agent, "the lower price is for the lower berth. If you want a lower you'll have to go to the lower. It didn't need to be said, but we found everybody wanted lower. In other words the higher the fewer." "Why do they all prefer the lower?" I broke in. "On account of its convenient," he replied. "Most persons don't count on it being higher, and when you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed, and then down when you get up. I would advise you to take the lower, although it's higher than the upper, for reason I have stated, that the lower is lower than the lower because higher. You can have the lower you pay higher; but if you get up to go higher it will be lower

With a salute we sing their praise to-day. All hail the glory of our Island's sons! While we, with glad accord, this tribute pay To "ours" who from these hallowed shores, we make the following special reductions to clear these right away.

Encourage Home Industries. Dear Sir—Some weeks ago, the N.I.W.A., at one of its meetings, passed a resolution to the effect that its members pledge themselves to purchase LOCAL MADE GOODS—a most commendable action at any time, but even more so now. With all due deference to them, I have since wondered whether or not that resolution took definite shape in concrete action; also how far the men that comprise all ranks of labor in this city, are endeavoring to help out their brother workers, by INSISTING ON GETTING GOODS MADE IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

When all is said and done it largely rests with the workers themselves, seeing that they comprise the greater portion of the city's population, whether the wheels of production are to revolve or remain idle. If our people will loyally support the local industries by purchasing the home made products, (which value for value, are far superior to similar goods imported into the country) constant employment will be found for every factory employee, and improvement in trade conditions will surely follow as a result of a constant purchasing power.

GENERAL MOTORS IS GOOD "BUY" FOR BEGINNERS.

With a High last April of $42 per share, and intrinsic value greatly increased since then; with cash dividend of $1.00 per share per year still maintained; with a recent inventory greatly reduced; with its recent $27,000,000 new financing, and with J. P. Morgan and the Du Ponts in control—
GENERAL MOTORS is unquestionably a good purchase on margin at current price levels and we cheerfully recommend it to our clients as being one of the few motor issues with an extremely bright outlook. Beginners may open an account for as low as 5 shares if desired, but don't neglect to get some while low prices prevail. Present quotation $16.50.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Notice to the Public!

Since Re-starting business in 1919 I have been warned that there would be a scarcity of

First-Class Material.

With a view to ensuring a supply to meet my customers' requirements I have during that period made heavy purchases of costly goods to an extent, owing to the general depression, in excess of my needs.

In order to capitalize this stock and incidentally to provide employment for my staff of workmen, I have decided to make a large sacrifice by reducing the price of my Suits and Overcoats until this stock is sold out.

With the exception of a few super-quality Cashmeres and Overcoatings I propose to offer the whole of my stock with

A Discount of from Fifteen to Twenty-Five per cent. for Cash.

At these new figures profit is practically eliminated and in some instances an actual loss will be incurred. This, however, cannot be obviated if I am to achieve my threefold aim—to dispose of my stock, find employment for my staff, and to induce my customers to renew their normal patronage, which may have felt it imperative to curtail owing to the necessarily high costs.

Trusting to be favored by an early call where your commands will receive my prompt and careful attention.

COALOX!

Saves Coal and Money
COALOX is a reddish powder containing chemicals which, when dissolved in water and sprinkled over coal, effects a great saving.
One ingredient retards the escape of burnable gases and gives time for the other chemicals to create more oxygen and so aid in a more even and total combustion.
When COALOX is not used 75 per cent. of the efficiency goes up the flue unburnt. When COALOX is used nearly 60 per cent. is saved.
The fact that customers come back for more is its best recommendation.
