PIPELESS.
THE NEW PLAN OF HEATING.
In recent years a new plan of heating has come into being. It is the Pipeless Furnace. A warm air furnace with only one register. This furnace has so many advantages over other heating systems; it is adapted to so many uses to which other furnaces cannot be put; is so low in first cost; and so economical in fuel; that we sincerely believe it to be the greatest forward step made in the heating business in two generations.
Dwelling Houses, Public Buildings, Large Stores, Halls, School Houses, Lodge Rooms and Churches are perfectly heated with this type of furnace. Made in six sizes. Full information, plans and estimates supplied by CHAPTER XIX.

Mrs. Murray clicks her spoon against a wineglass nervously, and Dallas Glynn feels a spasm of rage against everybody at the table.

"Joyce needn't think I am going to make an ass of myself even for her," he says inwardly. "I've seen too much of that sort of thing. It would do Joyce no good to have her name coupled with mine now; and I certainly shall not give Yolande cause to pose as the neglected, injured wife. Not that the cross, stiff little creature seems to care very much now what I do! Ever since that blessed wedding day, she has been more like a sugar icicle than anything else!"

He gazes across at the "sugar icicle"—Yolande is sitting at the opposite side of the oval table between Mrs. Murray and Lady Maria—and wonders gloomily whether, on the whole, it really would not have been pleasanter to have his fair young wife passionately and happily fond of him, as he had been so greatly afraid would be the normal state of affairs in his conjugal existence.

She seems to have quite "fallen out of love" with him now; and Captain Glynn does not feel as satisfied as he thought he should be in the circumstances.

"I wonder if I could not make her as much in love with me as ever, if I were to try?" he thinks.

At this moment Yolande looks up again, her eyes and his meet, a faint, troubled flush disturbs the cold pallor of her face, and he sees with what an effort she tries to continue her conversation with Viscount Glynn.

She has been enthusiastically describing the beauties and charms of a St. Bernard puppy she had seen at the show.

"You're regularly in love with him, Mrs. Glynn!" the viscount remarks, with his slow, mirthless, sneering laugh. "Young ladies are apt to fall in love with handsome puppies."

Though she strives her utmost, Yolande cannot help reddening hotly, for the sting in the rude speech is palpable enough to every one.

"Well, I am in love with that dear little St. Bernard," she admits, looking down at her plate, and flushing more and more deeply in her anger and embarrassment, though she tries bravely not ever to feel the insulting insinuation. "I never saw such a beautiful little dog! I only wish I could buy him."

"If he is a well-bred puppy, you shall certainly have him, Yolande," her husband says, with a slight smile, and a faint accent on the adjective.

"Oh, thank you!" Yolande responds, looking a little flustered and confused by Dallas addressing her in such gentle tones, and with such a soft, wistful look in his eyes. "But I wasn't angling for a present, I assure you. Perhaps, after I had got the little dog, I shouldn't care so much for him."

"I am sure you wouldn't," declares Lord Glynn, breaking a crust of bread with a vicious snap, an ugly, saturnine grin on his lean, dark face. "You'd find him a bad bargain."

Sir Gregory Parker, the eminent London physician, has arrived, and the viscount has left the drawing-room, and has gone to the earl's chamber.

In the sitting-room adjoining the old man's bedroom, the three doctors and Lord Glynn hold a social, semi-professional, and not unpleasant scene, mademoiselle occasionally finding a pretext for joining them. Sir Gregory Parker has dined well; but he does not refuse a glass of the choice old Burgundy which Viscount Glynn offers him, nor indeed do the other doctors.

They are all three very courteous and deferential to the man who will so soon be an earl, and the viscount finds the evening much more enjoyable than one spent in the drawing-room. There every one is either silent or sulky except Lady Maria, who for one weary hour after dinner "exerts herself," as she says, and diverts the conversation with lugubrious "cheerfulness" to sick-room topics, anecdotes of illnesses and sudden deaths, strange remedies and extraordinary recoveries, until her hearers are all limp and pallid with depression.

Joyce Murray yawns openly several times, and at last begs to be excused from sitting up any longer. Her mother, the Honorable Mrs. Murray, escapes from the consciousness of her troubles in a brief dose, until at last Lady Maria herself says "Good-night," and the occupants of the drawing-room immediately scatter.

The Honorable Mrs. Murray, with her stilette air, rustles up to the door of the earl's sitting-room, and prepares to enter and assert her superiority over mademoiselle, if "the presuming creature" is there at this moment.

Finding she is there, and countenanced by the presence of the viscount and the three doctors, Mrs. Murray is obliged to retire very meekly, after a few brief questions. Then she goes into her daughter's room to vent some of her displeasure and discuss some of her grievances.

But Joyce is already in bed, and, hearing her mother's footsteps, and anticipating the usual maternal grumblings, pretends to be asleep. But, as the good lady feels she must find fault with something or somebody, to relieve her ruffled sensibility, she finds fault with Joyce's dressing-case, and reproves her daughter crossly for leaving her jewels and money loosely thrown into an unlocked box.

"You are always losing your money or trinkets, or something!" she says, complainingly. "Now here are your gold bracelets thrust into your necklet case, and here is a ring case, the very one you had with poor, dear Lord Duhaven's ring, empty! I hope you have the ring safe, Joyce. Do you hear me, my dear? That ring is worth quite seventy or eighty pounds. Do you know where it is, Joyce—your beautiful diamond-and-sapphire ring, my dear?" Mrs. Murray asks, anxiously.

Charlotte russes are easily made at home by hollowing out small sponge cakes, putting a teaspoonful of jam in each and filling with one cupful of heavy cream beaten with three tablespoonfuls of marshmallow creme until stiff and flavored with vanilla and a pinch of salt.

Add a dash of lemon juice and a little nutmeg to the white sauce of creamed cucumbers and sprinkle them with chopped parsley just before serving.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it. I have taken it before each of my children was born and afterwards, and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and ringing in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of mine told me what the Vegetable Compound had done for her and advised me to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. BURRIS, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectively as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact.

THE POSE OF ANNABELLE.
Miss Annabelle now quits the store To spend two weeks along the shore, And she'll pretend to be while there The daughter of a millionaire.

With dainty graces she will walk, A touch of pride will mark her talk, And on the beach she'll be as fair As any maiden strolling there.

Not in a bitter way I tell This little pose of Annabelle, But just to show that birth and place Have no monopoly of grace.

Reverse the game, and let's suppose The rich man's daughter selling hose, Would any guess to find her there Her father was a millionaire?

We judge by what we think we see And what to us appears to be, And Annabelle will gain renown She couldn't hope to win in town.

For two short weeks they'll think her there The daughter of a millionaire, Which proves, to make an epigram, Our facts are often based on sham.

Now had her father prospered well, All would be proud of Annabelle; Had fortune found the rich man's door His child had labored in the store.

Thinking her what she seemed to be, Her beauty and her grace they'll see, Which blindly they would pass right o'er If they should meet her in the store.

And so I smile at Annabelle, And so her little sham I tell. To show how oft the thing called worth Is but the accident of birth.

"Yes, mamma, I know where it is," Joyce answers, sharply and suddenly, in a very wide-awake voice. "Please don't worry about it," she adds, crossly, turning her face away from the light of the candle Mrs. Murray carries. "The ring is quite safe."

Captain Dallas Glynn, sitting smoking in an easy-chair by the fire in his own room, is asking himself over and over again why that cur, his cousin, was so rude to him at the dinner table.

"I wonder why Lyulph Glynn was so spiteful to me to-night?" he muses. "Because the fellow will be Earl of Pentreath so soon, or because—of Joyce Murray?"

There is a long silence. Captain Glynn's cigar goes out, and he throws it aside, and leaning forward, with his elbows on his knees and his hands over his head, thinks and thinks, staring at the fire, until the fire goes out, too.

And he is thinking of a young, fair, faithful wife whom in heart and soul he has wronged, of a pure, fond, true, love, given to him freely, which he has cast aside as a worthless thing, of the miracle of a false, fair woman's shallow, selfish fancy, which has lured him almost beyond the border line of honor and plighted troth.

He will never forget Yolande's face this evening, the proud anguish of the large, dark eyes, the incredulous pain of the lip, the girlish face changing into such disdain of him and his false-ness and his insulting neglect.

"My poor, little wife! My poor, pretty, little, dark-haired girl!" he mutters, his heart throbbing fast in a sudden passion of sickle admiration. "I wish that Joyce and I had never met again. I wish I had not been fool enough to go off with her to-day and leave Yolande. She will never forget it or forgive it; and I wish," he mutters, lower still, "I had never given her my ring and taken—this."

He has taken a tiny object out of his waistcoat pocket, and it lies in the palm of his hand—a circlet of light glittering with points of fire—Joyce Murray's sapphire-and-diamond betrothal ring from her dead lover.

THE PERFECT DAY.
It's hard to find a day so pleasant that all its merits will endorse; there always is some voter present to rise and whimny like a horse. "We need," he neighs, "much cooler weather," if he haply warmth is now on deck. "So many sizzling days together will leave the corn a ghastly wreck." And if the day is cool and breezy, a sealer to the safe and sane, the voter springs some chestnut cheese, about the damaged hay and grain. How often I have left my dwelling, convinced the day was fair and grand, with azure skies and robins yelling, and sunshine dappling all the land. "This is a day," I've often muttered, "when even old men feel like colts; the bread of life is amply buttered, the globe moves on with minor jolts. The hilltops look like brass that's hammered, the shadows move about the gorge; this is a day." I've often clamored, "that press and pulpit must endorse." And then I meet the dreary voter who never yet was satisfied; he throffles down his henry motor, and sobs, and will not be denied. "Oh, gee," he wails through gnashing tushes, "there's so much dew it's caused a blight; the prunes are moulding on the bushes, they're needing sunshine day and night."

Rice is delicious cooked in apricot juice and garnished with halves of canned apricots. Use one half cupful of rice to two cupfuls of the canned juice.

Peel and dice eggplant, dust in flour fry until tender in vegetable fat, with them scramble the required number of eggs and serve hot, on buttered toast.

When you make your next bread pudding mix a square of chocolate and add to the milk that you use. The family will respond to the different flavor.

Season boiled rice and grated cheese, make into nests for poached eggs, serve with cream sauce, and garnish with canned or fresh asparagus tips.

Vegetables keep their flavor, minerals and color best when steamed. Steamer-tops or sieves can be purchased which will fit into your kettles and saucepans.

Make jams and marmalades in rather small quantities as it is impossible to cook a large quantity of thick sweet fruit without scorching it, and the long cooking required impairs the color and flavor of the finished product.

The Naval Limitation Treaty Ratified.

Anglo Japanese Alliance is Terminated—Home Bank of Canada Suspends Payment—The Prince of Wales will Visit Canada in September.

NAVAL LIMITATION TREATY BECOMES EFFECTIVE.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. The Naval Limitation Treaty and the power pact of the Washington Conference finally became effective to-day, when representatives of the signatory powers gathered at the State Department and formal ratifications. The formal ratifications were made shortly after noon and were accompanied by a public ceremony. The actual scrapping of the ships under the Naval Treaty will begin immediately and by the terms of the Four Power Pact, the Anglo-Japanese Alliance is terminated automatically by to-day's date.

CHANGES IN CANADIAN CABINET ANNOUNCED.

OTTAWA, Aug. 18. Important Cabinet changes were announced to-night, Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and the formation of the King Government, takes the portfolio of Immigration and Colonization. Hon. J. L. Lavigne, Member of Parliament, succeeds Mr. Robb as Minister of Trade and Commerce. Mr. M. Macdonald, acting Minister of National Defence becomes Minister of Defence. The changes entail by-elections. Mr. Macdonald seeks re-election in Pictou and Lavigne in South Renfrew. Until the Immigration Department was in the hands of Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, and Robb, it is announced, will give attention to developing the immigration plan already worked out by Mr. Stewart and the Government, energetic and carefully considered campaign for immigration and settlement.

HOME BANK OF CANADA SUSPENDS PAYMENT.
TORONTO, Aug. 18. The Board of Directors of the Home Bank of Canada announced they have received from the recently appointed Assistant-General Manager of the Bank an official report of a serious character, as to amount of bad and doubtful debts among the assets of the Bank and as to extent of appropriations necessary to be made in respect of a number of large loans and investments. "It is apparent from this report and from enquiry with respect thereto by the Board, that resources of the Bank are seriously impaired. As no readjustment of capital or reserve could meet the situation disclosed an endeavour has been made by the board to have assets and liabilities of the Bank as a going concern taken over by some other bank or banks, but this has been found impracticable. The liquid resources of the Bank have been practically depleted and the Board for purpose of conserving assets of the Bank for the pro rata benefit of depositors and other creditors according to their legal status respectively, have decided to suspend payment. The Canadian Bankers Association having been notified of this action in accordance with provisions of Bank Act, appointed a curator to supervise affairs of the Bank and to protect rights and interests of its depositors and shareholders. The suspension in no way involves the value of bills of the Bank in circulation, these will be redeemed at face value."

CHINESE BANDITS ON RAMPAPE.
LONDON, Aug. 18. Chinese bandits attacked the town of Tsaoehih yesterday morning, burning the London Mission Hospital, the Catholic Church and Foreign Quarters. The bandits looted the town, and two Irish Catholic Priests are reported missing and eighty Chinese captives were taken.

THE PRINCE LEAVES ENGLAND SEPTEMBER 8TH.
LONDON, Aug. 17. The Prince of Wales who has provisionally booked passage on the press of France, to sail Sept. 6th will go straight from Quebec to his ranch in Alberta, and expects to return to London about the end of October.

TO MAKE CANADA A LAND FOR CANADIANS.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 18. An offer from British Columbia to help the Maritime Provinces in their efforts to have Canadian goods routed through Canadian ports rather than through Portland, Maine, was contained in a communication received by Mayor Fisher. The communication pointed out that both East and West had their problem and should aid each other in seeing that Canada was indeed a land for Canadians. The western problem was oriental immigration.

GEDDES' REPORT ON ELLIS ISLAND, AROUSES INDIGNATION.

LONDON, Aug. 18. Ambassador Geddes' report of conditions at Ellis Island is subject to lengthy comment in the morning newspapers to-day. Editorial writers express horror and disgust at the worst features of the Ambassador's statement and say they are convinced that public opinion in the United States would hotly resent it if their own decent clean living and respectable people are obliged to seek entry into foreign country under such conditions. There is complete unanimity in all editorials that the selection of immigration should be made on this side of Atlantic rather than on the shore of the United States.

SIDE TALK.

By Ruth Cameron.

WHY PEOPLE ARGUE.
Have you ever noticed how many arguments on general subjects are nothing but statements of individual persons? I have never known any one who has not a ready-made argument for every occasion. It is not a national characteristic of that race!

For instance, a national characteristic of some people is mentioned and someone will say, "I don't think the Germans or the Irish or the Scotch are like that at all. Why, I knew two brothers and they—" going on to tell of two individuals whom he knew who did not have that particular characteristic. As if the fact that any two or any two hundred individuals did not have a characteristic proved that it was not a national characteristic of that race!

Whether heredity or environment has the larger effect on character and mental development is often discussed. It is a tremendous subject and one on which science, with all its capacity to see farther and infinitely clearer than the ordinary man, cannot yet make positive decisions.

His Triumphant Proof.

He knows perfectly well that environment is the bigger factor. Why? Because he knew a brother and sister who were adopted into different kinds of homes and one turned out well and the other badly (who doesn't know a brother and sister who were brought up in the same home and one turned out well and the other badly)? Or he knows that heredity is the big factor because he knows several cases where the children didn't have a chinaman's chance in education or opportunity and turned out splendidly because they had the right ancestors. He knows because— And then there's the person who contributes to the discussion as to whether prohibition is really going to work out for the good of all, in the long run, the fact that he knows it is because he knows a family where the husband used to spend all his money for drink and now he brings it home every Saturday night, and he has kept the same job since prohibition came in, and had three raises, too.

And of course to balance this certainty there is the other arguer who knows prohibition will never work out for good in the long run because he knows plenty of places where you can get the stuff and also a lot of people who are making their own.

But They Are Our Best Chance. And the funniest part of it all is that if you could tell any of these people any of the statistics that have been carefully gathered on these subjects, they would be either uninterested or unconvinced. They would tell you that statistics lie. (Speaking of lies, that is one of the most dangerous half truths ever written. Statistics may be so juggled as to convey a wrong impression. But they certainly represent the best chance we have of setting at the truth in large matters.)

A Pleasing Presentation.

TO FIELDIAN GOALS. Just previous to the football match on St. George's Field last evening, a pleasing event took place, when Mr. R. (Dick) Volsey, who recently joined the rank of benedicts, was presented with a handsome clock by the Fieldian football team, of which he is goalie. The presentation which took place in the dressing room was made by Capt. Edgar Ewing who, in a few choice words, offered the benedict's wishes to Mr. Volsey and his bride. Mr. Volsey thanked the donors for their splendid gift, which, he said would be always treasured by himself.

S.S. Yankton in Port.

S.S. Yankton, Capt. Braithwaite, arrived from Boston and Halifax yesterday, bringing a part general cargo to A. E. Hickman & Co., but no passengers. The Yankton, which ship is making her first trip to this port, having replaced the S.S. Anna, was formerly the British steam yacht Penelope and was built at Leith, Scotland, in 1885, later becoming the property of the great French tragedienne, the late Sarah Bernhardt. Of late years she has been used in many trades by the United States Government. Capt. Braithwaite in command, is well known in local marine circles. He was formerly of Bishop & Monroe's employ in the schooners Empire and Ethel, and his many friends accorded him a hearty welcome upon arrival. Alterations are now being made to the ship for the carrying of passengers.

Harbor Grace Notes.

Miss Elsie Sheppard, of the L.N. & P. Association of Fashions, St. John's, is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Robt. Tetford.

Constable Dooley, who was operated on for appendicitis at the General Hospital recently, since coming home is now on the road to recovery.

The schooner "Jubilee," Captain M. H. Roberts, is at present on Dock for repairs.

Mrs. C. F. Snelgrove, daughter of Mr. John Trappell, J.P., I.S.M., accompanied by her two sons, Clarence and Herbert, spent last week here, and was the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Goodwin during her stay. Mrs. Snelgrove's many friends were pleased to see her at the home town, and trust that her stay amidst old scenes and old friends was all that could be desired. They returned to Catalina again by Thursday week's express.

Miss Pauline Searle, daughter of Mr. M. Searle, St. John's, is at present visiting town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Archibald, "Bannerman House." Miss Searle is a native of St. John's, where for many years her father carried on a Watchmaker and Jewellers Shop, and afterwards the family removed to St. John's, where Mr. Searle now is engaged in business.

The Garden Party held at Upper Island Cove yesterday (Wednesday) was well patronized. Quite a few went up from this town and nearby places. A dance was held in the evening, which was well attended; the British Band from here was also in attendance.

The S.S. "Fawcett," arrived in port this morning with a party from the Iron Isle, for the purpose of playing a Tennis Tournament at the grounds here. In the evening a dance will be held in St. Patrick's Hall in honour of the visitors.

After waiting so long for a day on which to have the Regatta, we were favoured with fine weather, Wednesday. At noon the crowd who had gathered at the Lake Side were not many, but ere long the number began to grow larger, and after a while everything was looking lively. Ice cream, candy, fruit, drinks, etc., were sold by the various tent-holders; teas were also on sale, while many choose to pack their baskets and "boil the kettle," as the saying goes. The Fortune-telling and Wheel of Fortune created a bit of amusement, and was well patronized. Much enthusiasm was displayed at the different races were gone through, and everything went off without a hitch. It is needless to add that all who attended the Hr. Grace Regatta of 1922—although so belated—spent a pleasant day at Lady Lake.

Next Sunday the brethren of Lodge "Diamond Jubilee," No. 235, S.O.E., E. S., are holding their annual Decoration Service—COR. Hr. Grace, Aug. 16th, 1923.

WEEK-END NOTES.

(I. C. MORRIS.)

THE TOURIST TRAFFIC OF NEWFOUNDLAND. CAN IT BE DEVELOPED.

At the Rotarian Luncheon last week the speaker was our esteemed citizen, Mr. Thomas Soper—the gentleman who has done such good work in connection with the reconstruction of our suburban roads.

We will therefore pass on to another phase of the question by asking "What would be the opening up of tourist traffic in Newfoundland mean?"

LINES BY REV. HENRY H. PITTMAN, M.A.

On His Mother's 88th Birthday, August 9th, 1923.
"Her children arise up, and call her blessed." Prov. 31-28.

Not for length of too-swift year alone
The tribute of our filial love we pay;
We rise to bless you, on this Natal Day.
Well done, dear Mother, and no doings yet
The eight and four-score full, ripe years be thine!
Beyond life's span, but hale and hearty still,
And faculties in tune, if lower string,
In softer sweeter strains of evening
Well done! In sorrow patient, brave to bear, to trust—
The silver lining seen in the cloud—
Be quick to feel for others, and to cheer
With sympathetic word and kindly deed.
Well done! Thine is the enviable old age,
The calm of harvest after stress of spring—
Thine is the summer always in the heart—
The golden fruitage that which thou hast sown.
We pledge thee now, and wish thee glad returns!
And our fond hope returns commensurate
And match with senses for their full delight,
And all that sweetens most life's latest cup.
We love of all thy dear ones, in compass these Thy spirit joined to-day, at home, afar,
Richer in blessings for the sacrifice
Of other days, full of unselfish deeds.
Be peace that passeth knowledge and all well in this,
We bless and keep thee still in all his ways!
His love o'er all unfold and shadow thee;
And when His last, best gift, the crown of life,
Laid up for all who faithfully have served—
Best eternal!—Light Eternal!

The Post Office Report

FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1921-22.
A BRIEF REVIEW OF IT.
(By VERITAS.)

The annual Ministerial P.O. Report just issued for the fiscal years 1921-22, is one of the most interesting yet published. It is too, the most human, if such a word can be understood in connection with what may be considered so dry a subject as a statistical report. But it is true, because this last report deals almost ex-clusively with the clerical ability of the Department, and then produces its facts and figures to speak for themselves. One is particularly in-terested in the genuine plea made by the writer of the report (our present Colonial Secretary, Hon. W. W. Hal-ward) on behalf of the poorly paid Post Office staff. He shows in this an-nual statement that, whereas the ser-vices has never been sufficiently re-estimated, the officials received a fur-ther cut of from 15 to 20 per cent. during the years 1920-21-22. With this cut there accompanied a reduction of the overtime paid, a figure that per-mitted the poor official to realize the sum of sometimes as high as $7.00 per month. The publisher of the Report touches on the hardship this reduction of salary means to the married men of the Department, and makes an elo-quent appeal to the "powers that be" on behalf of each official. The ques-tion of distinction in salaries between the Postal officials and the Postal Telegraphers is also spoken about, for whereas the Postal official suffered the heavy blow of the axe in 1921, losing a considerable slice off his salary, the Operating Staff escaped this cut, though both departments come under the Ministerial head.

representative of the fourth generation. We were glad to see them all.
Mr. George DeGrah, who had been visiting at St. John's, returned last week (like a giant refreshed). He will spend some time with his daughter at Catalina, before fall time.
Mr. and Mrs. George House, Miss House, and Master Edgar, spent a delightful fortnight in camp at Glen-cove, Trinity, and are now visiting friends before returning to respective duties. Come again.
Mr. George House is having a sub-stantial concrete curbing placed around his family lot in the Church of England Cemetery. Mr. Grant in-tends to do the same in connection with his family lot in the same Cem-etry. This treatment constitutes a valuable outline rotection of a burial lot, and would be repeated by others if it were not so expensive.
Mr. George Bugden (son of the late Benjamin Bugden) who has been liv-ing at St. John's for some years, spent a week at Trinity and returned by Portia. Glad to see you, George.
Mr. William House Jr., of Grand Falls, is visiting relatives in his home town of Trinity, and will return to duty on Tuesday next. He is still sufficiently interested in John Brown and family, who moved to Grand Falls last year, to be sorry to hear of the death of his eldest son, Erick.
Mr. Thomas House Sr., leaves on Tuesday next for Grand Falls, where he will live in the future. Sorry to have him go; but—
The annual Flower Service, and commemoration of the faithful depart-ed, will be held in the Church of England Cemetery to-morrow. The Holy Communion will be celebrated in the Mortuary Chapel at 8 o'clock, and a special service, with an address, will be held in the cemetery at 3 o'clock.
Miss Lella Taylor and her brother, of St. John's, are registered at the Garland, and will spend a week at Trinity. Glad to see them.
Mrs. Ariana House, mother of Geo. and John House, is visiting at her old home, Trinity. Glad to see her.
Magistrate Somerton had the mis-fortune to fall yesterday, and broke a rib.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Curious:—The first recorded Baptism in the old Church Register, is that of Patience, daughter Benjamin and Ann Taverger, Sept. 7th, 1768.
The first recorded marriage is that of Dennis Young and Joan Mulkachy, on April 11th, 1757.
The first recorded burial is that of George Gillet, son of Richard and Mary Gillet, on May 12th, 1757.
J. B.—John and Hannah Waterman were married before the Church re-cords were kept (1757) thus you will find a record of one of their daugh-ters married to David Bailey in 1759. Mrs. Waterman was buried in 1767.
Clerk.—When John Clinch (who afterwards was ordained) was mar-ried in 1754, he was a Surgeon in Trinity Eight.

One would like to ask here, where has been the saving on the $140,000.00 taken from the poorly paid Postal official? Is it transferred to the Model Farm that does not farm? Time and again it has been pointed out in the press that there are a justice and right in paying the Postal officials a decent, living wage. Whose fault is it that this has never been done? Is it a selfish thoughtlessness on the part of the Governments of all times, or is it due to the inertia of the Ministers themselves?
The Report, of which I am writing, goes on to speak of some young men having left the service, and this is the most significant item of the many, showing as it does the little hope there is of any brighter future either in promotion or salary in this Department of the Civil Service. But the exodus does not stop with the de-parture of the officials which the re-port speaks of, for "though an" out-sider, I know—of sixteen or four other-ly, even more demanded than in the United States. The following in brief make up the examination:—
1. An intelligent idea of mathe-matics and knowledge of rudiments of education.
2. Hand writing easily deciphered.
3. An average geographical knowl-edge of the country.
Besides this, only persons under a limited age will have the first chance of employment under Government, and so strict is this rule that Birth Certificates must be produced. There are also details of good sight and hearing and physical perfection, so that a young man possessing all those points in good order is eligible to enter the service. Promotion too is rapid. Civil Servants are never retained in office after a limited period of service, and seniority receives first consideration in promotion to vacan-cies. It will be seen from the foregoing meagre description of Canadian Gov-ernment control that the system is strictly a business one—and the bet-ter for its employees.

The salaries too of officials are good. Carriers receive from eighty to one hundred dollars a month. Assort-ers, which is the next step, get one hundred and twenty-five dollars a month, whilst clerks who hold still more responsible positions are paid, as high as a hundred and seventy and a hundred and eighty dollars per month. That the Civil Service in New-foundland is overstocked there can exist no doubt. This country with its 275,000 population to the 7,600,000 population of Canada has a postal de-livery source per capita of ten to Can-ada's one, and when we consider Can-ada's nearly 3,750,000 thickly popula-ted square miles to our only fraction of this, we come to realize that we have a postal service large enough to attend to a population several times as large as our populated own.
Every village in this island has its Post Office. It is true the remunerative is small, but there is no necessity for so many offices amidst a sparsely placed population.
In conclusion, when your humble correspondent has had great pleasure in the above brief review of the last issued Postal Report. It is promising for the staff when the Minister in charge is with them in their just petition for "Fair play and Fair pay," and under the directorship of Mr. Hawco who, I understand, is himself a young man and has initiated from his experience abroad that foreign if not local taught epic of truth, "the labor-er is worthy of his hire." I feel that brighter days in better paid salaries are ahead for the Postal Civil Servant.
The doing of this need not mean one cent of extra burden on the public, for cut out extravagance and with the just reduction of salaries of use-less officials who receive from $5-000.00 to $8,000.00 per year, the miser-ably paid civil servant will be bene-

TERMS OF TREATY TO END NAVAL COOPERATION.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. Seated about a table in the United States State Department yesterday, five men recorded their final approval of the Powers for the treaties drafted by Arms Conference to end naval competition termed Anglo-Japanese Alliance, and to sweep away over the Pacific. It was equal to the Washington negotiations at which it had been planned to give the place of honor to President Harding at whose behest the Conference assembled, but instead the formal deposit of the ratification was performed without ceremony. Secretary Hughes and colleagues met in the diplomatic reception room in presence of only a handful of spectators. Ambassador Hatfield acted for Japan and the other Powers were represented by those in charge of their embassies here, H. C. Chilton for Great Britain, Captain Andre Laboulaye for France, Augusto Rosso for Italy. The ink had not dried on their signatures before orders were speeding over the wires which meant striking seven hundred and fifty thousand tons in fighting ships new and old from United States navy list. The process will begin at once. The process of verbal which is to form the permanent record of the coming into effect of Naval Treaty, embodies reservations adopted by France, stipulating that the five-five-three-two ratio established among five powers as to capital ships, cannot be constructed as applying to smaller types of war craft, likewise the "no alliance" reservation adopted by United States senate in addition to the ratification supplemental treaty drawn up as provisions were exchanged on the clarify the terms of the four power pact. It declared that in binding themselves to consult together over controversies arising in the Pacific, the four signatories, the United States, Great Britain, Japan, and France are not obliged to submit to a decision any question which lies exclusively within their domestic jurisdiction.

POPE ASKED TO INTERVENE ON BEHALF OF DEVALERA, BUT DECLINES.

DUBLIN, Aug. 18. Eamon DeValera was removed from Limerick to Dublin to-day, says Central News. Despatch to Daily Express from Rome says the Irish Republicans appealed to Pope Pius to intervene in the behalf of DeValera. Cardinal Gasparri Papal, Secretary of State replied that Vatican lacked the power to intervene officially.

Canadian Press News.

Public interest this week has been focussed on the conference of surgeons. The most amazing discoveries in modern surgery have been explained in the simplest terms by practitioners who have devoted years of quiet study and research to the acquisition of that skill with the knife which has literally carved out a new future for the maimed. Curiously has centered not on the Russians, Dr. Sergey Voronoff, who has grafted monkey glands on aged men, thus securing otopogonias activities in the forest; but on the work of Dr. Banting, the young Canadian surgeon who has found a cure for diabetes. It is a new departure for any branch of the West End theatre, however, where he received an ovation, somewhat to his society. He was at a first night at a medical profession to take the lady into their confidence. But even the general practitioner these days condescends to explain the reasons for his conclusions, and though it does not materially decrease suffering to be told why you must adopt a rigorous and bleak diet, at any rate you have the comfort of knowing what the regime is supposed to do. Dr. Banting still remains extraordinarily modest, and resists all attempts to lionize him in society. He was at a first night at a West End theatre, however, where he received an ovation, somewhat to his embarrassment. Arrangements in regard to the British Empire Exhibition are speeding up enormously. Over seventy years ago the great International Exhibition in Hyde Park drew thousands of visitors from all over the world. Nowadays the exhibition would probably be considered somewhat amateurish, nevertheless it has passed into a family tradition in this country. According to history the exhibition in 1851 was a considerable stimulant to British trade, and it is said that the forthcoming one at Wembley Park will have an equally vivifying effect. When I visited Wembley the exhibition ground seemed to me to be as large as Hyde Park. Not being a surgeon I do not know how far their approximates to being correct, but I can say that I was conscious of a sense of space and that the buildings springing up on every side reminded me of the fabulous townships which in the Far West seem to spring into being overnight. Already arrangements have been made in regard to transportation. Railway communications have been simplified, and the road approaches have been widened, while parking grounds are being provided for motor cars and

FEILDANS AND B.I.S. DRAW.

Playing short handed and even at that, carrying a badly injured player (Ryan) all through the game the B.I.S. struggled through to a draw with the Feildians last night after a game that was by no means worthy of a meet between those teams. The attendance was small and this will be so just so long as players are disposed to treat the game as apathetically as they have done all through the season with one or two exceptions. Ewing drew first blood for the Feildians in the early period, while in the second Gordon Halley equalized for the Irishmen. Dick Quick again refereed and his following-up of all the play evoked favourable comment from the fans.

GUARDS SPORTS WEDNESDAY.

Ayre Athletic Field is now being put in first class shape for the Guards Sports on Wednesday. The committee who are exerting every effort to make the day a complete success have made special arrangements to handle the large crowds. Seats reserved to accommodate upwards of 100 people are now being got in readiness. Special attention has been paid to the cinder track. It has been raked and rolled, and with the little extra attention will be in good shape by Wednesday next. The 5 Mile Bicycle Race, this will be an added attraction. Race will take place before the interval on the cinder track. Course will be 27 laps. The football five will be played on the new grounds for the first time. Goal posts are now being erected. The following in the official programme:—

- 1.—100 Yards Dash.
 - 2.—Blindfold Race.
 - 3.—Football Fives.
 - 4.—200 Yards.
 - 5.—1 Mile Walk.
 - 6.—Whippet Race.
 - 7.—Throwing the Hammer.
 - 8.—Putting the Shot.
 - 9.—1/4 Mile.
 - 10.—Field Regatta.
 - 11.—1 Mile.
 - 12.—Married Relay (Band vs. Comrades).
 - 13.—Hop Step and Jump.
 - 14.—Football Fives (Semi Final).
 - 15.—1/4 Mile.
 - 16.—Obstacle Race.
 - 17.—Sack Race.
 - 18.—5 Mile Bicycle Race.
- INTERVAL FOR TEA.
- 19.—Tag-of-War.
 - 20.—Football Fives (final).
- The Prizes are now on exhibition at R. H. Trappnell's and will be presented at sports by Lady Allard.

REPORT OF CHIEF AGENT S. F. A. WEEK ENDING AUGUST 17TH.

Received phone message Saturday night that a man named Hartley was driving a horse in the vicinity of Central Street. I found him on Hagerty Street galloping the horse. I had him summoned and he was fined $200 and costs. Another man named Westcott was found working a horse with sore shoulders, and having previously warned him not to use the horse with sores on him. I had to summon him. He was fined $2.00 and warned by the court not to use the horse until it was in a sound condition. I was also asked to put to death a setter that had been run over by a motor car on Bannerman Street. I also put to death another very old setter owned by a man on Cabot Street. My attention was called to a horse owned by Mr. Oliver which had been standing in the rain on Rennie's Hill Road for two and a half hours Thursday evening. I went immediately to the place, found the horse and brought it to the Stables and found out the owner. I gave him charge of it and warned him not to leave the horse around any more. I got word from some ladies of Hoytestown of another horse which had fallen down on Plymouth Road. The owner got it on its feet, and had it home before I got there. I also received word from LeMarchant Road of some teamsters carting coal in that vicinity who drove over Prince of Wales' Street, down over Bayter's Hill and sometimes across LeMarchant Road at a very rapid speed after throwing off a load of coal. The police will be asked to put a stop to this furious driving. I ordered three horses off the street owing to lameness. I humanely put to death seven cats for different people. Some of the animals were old and in other cases the owners were leaving their houses and had nowhere to put them. Attended to twenty-seven different cases. Very thankful for all information received from the friends of animals. I was asked by Mr. Newman, Hamilton Street, to put to death a pony which was suffering from two bad legs and it was also very old. He had it only a few days, having taken it in trade, and I quickly ended its suffering. I have received an order from Mr. J. M. Tokin, O'Regan's Meat Market, for a humane killer as he highly approves it after seeing a practical demonstration of it. The butcher also claim its use improves the meat.

AT THE HOUSE.

Another Board of Railway—Commissioners Appointed—House Will Prorogue This Afternoon.

The house met at 4.30 p.m. No reports or petitions were presented; questions were asked by Messrs. Moore and P. Cashin.

In answer to Mr. Sullivan, the Colonial Secretary stated that Dr. R. A. Brehm was acting doctor for the Fever Hospital and Dr. A. Carnell acting Port Doctor. Neither had received full appointments.

Mr. Higgins asked who ordered the printing of the pamphlet containing the address of the late Prime Minister on the subject of the Humber Proposition; what number of copies were ordered; what office they were ordered from and what the price was to be paid for them.

The answer is as follows:— The pamphlet containing the address on the subject of the Humber proposition was ordered by the Deputy Colonial Secretary; ten thousand copies were ordered. The copies were ordered from the office of the Daily Mail. The price has not yet been fixed as the pamphlets are not yet completed.

Mr. Higgins in reply to the answer of the last question denounced this method of financing a political newspaper outfit as a grave scandal and those who participated in the arrangement should be censured or made pay the bill. He characterized the matter as a fraud and a steal. Who authorized the Deputy Colonial Secretary to order these pamphlets? The man who gave the authorization should be made pay for them. If the Deputy Colonial Secretary ordered them without authorization. This transaction would cost the Colony in his estimation a dollar a copy or $10,000.00. He had by accident become aware of the printing going on. It not only contained the speech on the Humber Proposition but a number of other speeches such as the Railway Deal Speech. The volume would be bulky and therefore costly. It was another case of keeping a party newspaper going at the expense of the Colony. It would be much better in the light of recent events and also that which would come out before the Royal Commission, if the pamphlet instead of being printed with all it contained, be put aside so that it could not be seen. This pamphlet he believed, contained also the address of the Hon. M. G. Winter, in the Upper House. If these people want to be featured as orators they should pay for their own advertising. This Colony should not be asked to pay $10,000.00 or any amount to advertise individuals. He trusted for the good name of the Colony the Prime Minister would take steps to have it suppressed. If there are any small obligations that have been legitimately incurred by the country, pay that amount and stop the further printing. It was too bad that a party newspaper had to be kept going at the country's expense. He looked to the Prime Minister to have the thing stopped.

Hon. Mr. Warren, Prime Minister, surprised the Assembly when he stated the printing of this pamphlet was ordered and undertaken without his personal knowledge or that of the Executive Council. He answered the Opposition that steps would be taken to stop the work immediately.

Sir M. F. Cashin thanked the Prime Minister and supported the contentment of Mr. Higgins. He said the booklet should have never been ordered or printed, as they were filled with false and misleading statements, and the Deputy Colonial Secretary should be reprimanded for allowing himself to be used by the Prime Minister. During the past six months the Deputy had been mixing himself up in politics. He was very prominent in labor negotiations a short time ago. He thought it would be well for the Deputy Colonial Secretary to mind his own business. He ought to be made pay the bill for the printing and that would teach him a lesson. He did not see why the Colony should pay for printing bills for the gentlemen whose speeches were contained in the pamphlet, because it was nothing more than glorification of deceit and hypocrisy. It was as Mr. Higgins said, a steal and a fraud.

It was only at last sitting he held up in his hand four or five sheets of paper containing the census returns for St. Barbe and a sheet or two of St. John's East, for which the Colony advanced $7,500.00 and if the rate of advances continue, the census will cost $100,000.00 for printing alone. The House then went into Committee on the Loan Bill.

NEW RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS.

Hon. Mr. Warren availed of the occasion to announce the decision of the Government to comply with the wishes of the Opposition in cancelling the appointments of Mr. Bertheau and Mr. Hall. Civil Servants, as Railway Commissioners, and instead of these two gentlemen, Hon. Tasker Cook, and Hon. Geo. Shea, had been selected who, with the Colonial Secretary, would take charge of the Railway policy until the next session of the Legislature.

Mr. Higgins on behalf of the Opposition thanked the Premier. The Prime Minister also agreed to the wishes of the Opposition in closing up the Militia Department immediately. In consultation with Col. Rendell he said every effort will be made to close up the Department in the next six weeks.

Sir Michael Cashin was pleased with this decision. He asked what provision had been made to tide the destitute over the coming winter, as no balance was left from the loan bill.

The Prime Minister said that $250,000.00 would be spent as indicated by Sir Michael and 50,000.00 would be spent on the Railway under the control of W. P. Joyce who, he believed, would see that good value was given for it. The Armstrong-Whitworth Company had now 2,000 men employed, 1,500 others would be employed cutting wood. The A.N.D. Company would be employing their usual quota. The Mooney & Crowe operations would account for another 1,500. So in all he could see where between six and seven thousand men would be employed during the fall and winter.

Mr. Higgins brought up an important point when he asked the Premier to give a promise to the House that no large sums would be expended as they have been during the past three years by orders in Council without the notice or approval of the members of the House not on the Government side. He also hoped that useful and beneficial work would be found for the unemployed to which the Premier agreed. He asked if the loan was to be raised by tender in view of the loss of $25,000.00 which was entailed when the Government raised the last loan. The Premier answered in the affirmative.

Mr. Sullivan once more addressed the Assembly on the immediate need of employment for his constituents, who were hoping to receive work along the railway route before it is too late.

Hon. Mr. Warren asked Mr. Sullivan to confer with him and the Minister of Public Works on the matter.

Mr. Woodford took exception to his name appearing in a morning paper in which it was alleged he used money for a special train, which he wished to contradict as he offered payment to the Passenger Agent who refused to accept.

The Colonial Secretary regretted the name of Mr. Woodford being on the list. The result of the discussion was that Sir M. F. Cashin's name was mentioned.

Sir M. F. Cashin—Yes, my name was conveniently mixed up in it. I happened to get request from Messrs. Woodford and Kennedy to run up a special train on Nomination Day. I telephoned the order and told them to collect the bill from the parties who needed the train. A month ago I received a bill for certain debts. I paid the bill and at the same time told the officials in charge of the accounts to send the bill and collect same from Mr. P. Kennedy, Harbor Master. I heard nothing more about it and thought the thing was paid until the answer was brought down in the House. Some gentlemen whom I know would be very glad to have me mixed up in a scandal, but they cannot do it. I owe the railway nothing. I paid for my special trains. Other people cannot say the same.

Mr. Woodford continued his remarks by asking the Minister of Agriculture to immediately settle all outstanding claims in connection with the railway, to which the Minister agreed.

THE INVESTIGATION WILL BE CONDUCTED UNDER THE ACT OF PUBLIC ENQUIRIES ACT.

Mr. Fox in commenting on the item of $1,000,000, required under the new loan to meet the loss on pit prop and other accounts incurred by the Dept. of Agriculture and Mines, asked the Prime Minister whether the proposed Commission of Enquiry into the alleged scandals connected with the administration of various public departments recently, would be appointed under the Public Enquiries Act.

The Prime Minister said that was the intention of the Government.

Mr. Fox said that in his opinion, appointing a Commission for this purpose, under the Public Enquiries Act, as at present framed, might well prove fatal to a thorough and searching investigation. Under the Act now in force—on the well known rule of evidence—a witness may claim privilege and refuse to answer any question; and the Commissioners cannot compel him to answer or punish him for refusing. Surely if this were to happen in the present Enquiry, and it is quite likely that it will, the investigation might well prove abortive; and instead of being what it should be, impartial, though effective, and just to all parties concerned, it would be a mere mockery, ineffective and useless. He suggested that a Commission, (as in the famous Parnell case) be constituted with special powers to compel a witness to answer any and all questions put to him; to commit for contempt in the event of a witness wilfully refusing to testify; but with the saving power enabling the Commissioners to issue a certificate to protect a witness, who was thus compelled to answer, criminal questions, from criminal proceedings. As was remarked to him to-day: "If the present enquiry, though rough and ready, fails to satisfy the ends of justice, a period of recrudescence will follow, the administration will become a bye-word, public morality will suffer, and a state of affairs more serious perhaps in its consequences than that which followed the Bank Trials, result."

The Prime Minister said that the Public Enquiries Act was the only Act under which the investigation could be held. The only case he ever knew of such powers granted to a Commissioner was that mentioned by Mr. Fox, the Parnell case. Even in the Supreme Court a witness may decline to answer a question if such answer might incriminate him and lay him open to prosecution. He doubted the wisdom of amending the Public Enquiries Act. But of course it could be done. He could assure Mr. Fox and the House that with the knowledge he possessed of the matter to be brought before the Commission. There was no danger of the investigation proving abortive.

Mr. Fox in reply stated that now that the matter had been specifically drawn to the attention of the Government, the responsibility rested upon them. He hoped that the views of the Prime Minister, in whom he had the utmost confidence, would be amply realized.

The Retiring Allowances, Preferential Tariff on the Products of Spain, Preferential Tariff on the Products of Jamaica and Loan Bills, were passed and sent to the Legislative Chamber.

The House then adjourned to meet this afternoon, when His Excellency the Governor will attend for prorogation.

Notice to Motor Drivers.

In the interest of "Safety First" the following has been suggested as an additional Driving Rule to be adopted by members of the Newfoundland Motor Association, and others. Members are requested to give this suggested rule a trial and be prepared to advise as to its adoption, or otherwise, at the next General Meeting of the Association:—

After dark, cars RETURNING to the city shall have the right of way over cars proceeding FROM the city, in other words, cars PROCEEDING FROM the city and meeting cars RETURNING TO the city shall stop (within a distance of from seventy five to one hundred yards of the approaching yard) and dim lights till the car returning to the city (which need not dim) has passed.

The attention of members is called to the following By-Law of the Association:—"Any motorist member of the Association desiring to overtake or pass a car must blow his horn two blasts, and the driver of the car ahead shall signal that he has heard the horn by answering the overtaking car two blasts. If the car ahead cannot keep ahead of the overtaking car, the driver should allow the overtaking car to pass and the overtaking car must immediately get far enough ahead to prevent the occurrence of the car passed from getting the dust."

Mud consists of the filth of the drains and streets, and more often than not the mud carried into your house on the children's boots, or yours, brings in disease germs. The dust you see in your house is dried mud and is generally laden with germs which cause sickness.

Take care to keep your floors free from mud and your curtains, window sills, stairways, etc., free from dust and thereby lessen the chances of heavy sickness in your home. Use LIFEBOUY SOAP, and plenty of it, on your floors and woodwork. Use it also for your wash.

don't take much gumption to look out a few of the leaders are loose in their own case I venture to say. I would better not air our proceedings in print. Resolutions as long as your ears, as things happen to turn out to be harmful. CABINET AND DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION. I say that definition, when applied to politics, is proverbially correct. For example, what do we mean by administration in general, and the various and diverse committees that enter into the particular of departmental administration? I suppose generally, administration implies an office committed to individual or to a corporate body, and competent authority, to the extent that it may supply a particular service. At a point in its historical development a country like Newfoundland finds that it wants a department to supply the want of a certain service. For the present it rents so much of its own staff as may be necessary in a particular person or persons, and he or she, or they, supply to it what is necessary, permitting no display, waste or extravagance on the part of those employed therein. Under the Prime Minister and his cabinet not only abstain from "boasting" themselves, but made this a rule and see that it is strictly observed out. It is very obvious that they occupy. "To keep the river the source from which it draws supply must be entirely free from sediment."

These days we hear much of many warring of combination and concentration of industrial power which railway, telegraph and telephone have wrought. But nothing is said about what seems to me the greatest wonder of them all—how these forces have resulted in the concentration of the political power of upwards of twenty thousand or some sixty thousand votes; how the few can impose their ideas and their will upon widening circles, out and out, until all are included. The people are scattered; the powers confer, man to man, day by day. The people are divided by partisan and other prejudices; the powers are bound together by the one self-interest. The people must accept such political organizations as are provided for them; the powers pay for, and their agents make and direct, those organizations. The people are poor; the powers are rich. The people have not even offices to bestow; the powers have offices to give and lucrative employment of all kinds, and material and social development—everything that the appetite or the variety of man craves! The people punish but feebly—usually the wrong fellows—citizens, in their simplicity and ignorance about political conditions, did not realize what public office had come to mean. At home they believed what the machine-controlled newspapers said of me—that I was a "manly, independent young man," that I was making a vigorous stand for what was honest in public affairs, that I was the "honorable and distinguished son of an honorable and distinguished father." How often I read those and similar eulogies of young men just starting in public life! And is it not amazing that the people believe, that they never say to themselves: "But, if he were actually what he so loudly professes to be, how could he have got public office from a boodler and a notorious political machine?"

INTRODUCING AND SPEAKING FOR PETTY LIKE MEASURES. In a short time I gave up trying to fool myself into imagining I was the servant of the people by introducing or speaking for petty, like popular measures. I saw clearly that graft was the backbone, the whole skeleton of legislative business, and that its fleshy cover of pretended public service could be seen only by the blind. I saw, also, that no one in the "machine" of either party had any real power. The leader of the party was a creature and a servant of corporations. The "boss" of the Opposition party was the same, but less for his services because his party was hopelessly in the minority and its "machine" could be useful only as a sort of supplement or scapegoat.

THE ELECTORS AND THE ELECTED. These days we hear much of many warring of combination and concentration of industrial power which railway, telegraph and telephone have wrought. But nothing is said about what seems to me the greatest wonder of them all—how these forces have resulted in the concentration of the political power of upwards of twenty thousand or some sixty thousand votes; how the few can impose their ideas and their will upon widening circles, out and out, until all are included. The people are scattered; the powers confer, man to man, day by day. The people are divided by partisan and other prejudices; the powers are bound together by the one self-interest. The people must accept such political organizations as are provided for them; the powers pay for, and their agents make and direct, those organizations. The people are poor; the powers are rich. The people have not even offices to bestow; the powers have offices to give and lucrative employment of all kinds, and material and social development—everything that the appetite or the variety of man craves! The people punish but feebly—usually the wrong political and commercial prostitution, the sense of superiority to the legal and moral codes which comes to most men with success. The average citizen is a hero-worshipper, too. He knows his own and his neighbor's weaknesses, but he gapes up at the great with glamourous eyes, and listens to their smooth plausibilities as to the reading of the Gospel from the pulpit. He belongs to the large mass of those who believe, not to the small class of those who question. But for the rivalries and jealousies of superior men which have kept them always divided into two parties, the "ins" and the "outs," I imagine the masses would have remained forever sunk in the most hopeless, if the most enlightening slavery—that in which the slave accepts his lowliness as a divine ordinance and looks up to his oppressors and plunderers as hero-leaders. And no doubt, so long as the exuberant riches of our country enable the triumphant class to "take care of" all the hungry who have intellect enough to make themselves dangerous, we shall have no change—except occasional spasms whenever a large number of unplaced, intelligent hungry men are forcing the full and fat to make room for them. How long will this be? If our education did not merely feed prejudices instead of removing them, I should say not long. How slight and even flimsy a pretence of fairness will shelter a man in high places! He will fool the people as easily as he will fool himself!

THE MANY KINDS OF PRESENT-DAY "HONESTY." Needless to say, there are many kinds of honesty nowadays. There is "corporate honesty," not unlike that proverbial "honor among thieves," which secures a fair or fairly fair division of the spoils. Then there is "personal honesty," which subsidizes into three kinds—legal, moral, and instinctive. Legal honesty needs no definition. Moral honesty defies definition—how untangle its interwoven motives of fear, of pride, of insufficient temptation, of sacrifice of the smaller chance in the hope of a larger! Finally, there is instinctive honesty—the rarest, the only bed-rock, unassailable. Give me the man who is honest simply because it never occurs to him, and never could occur to him, to be anything else. That man is a rare avis in these degenerate days! There is, to be sure, another kind of instinctive honesty—man—he who disregards

THE EXTENSIVE SYSTEM OF BRIBERY. As a well-known writer, from whom I have already quoted, expressively remarks: "To the average citizen, leading a small, quiet life and dealing with affairs in the ordinary way, the stupendous facts of accumulations of wealth and purchases of politicians, the extensive system of bribery, the bribes adapted to every taste and conscience, seem impossibilities, remnants of partisanship, and envy, and sensationalism. Nor can he understand the way unscrupulous men play the great games, the heartlessness of ambition, the cynicism of loyalty as well as self-interest in his uprightness. But there are so few of these in practical life that they, also, may be disregarded. As matters stand at present— "The best thing for sound politicians to learn is That 'Truth' to draw kindly in all sorts of harness. Must be kept in the abstract—for come to apply it. You're apt to hurt some folks' interests by it."

THE OUTLOOK FOR CAPITAL AND LABOR. And here I am reminded that in the course of a debate in the British House of Commons the other day on "Capital and Labor," it became clear that many of the speakers thought that their end could be best attained by attack rather than defence—just as our M.H.A.'s sometimes think under similar circumstances. In the debate in question, there were two attacking parties, and in consequence, the two groups did not come to close grips. From the point of view of the general public more would have been gained if, as was the case in theory, Capitalism had stood in the dock and been called upon to defend and justify itself. "Nevertheless," observes a correspondent, "it is obvious that the debate has created a considerable amount of public interest and will do something to clear the public mind on these fundamental issues. From the labor point of view it is regarded as all to the good that an opportunity should have been obtained to differentiate it from the other political parties. On this occasion the Labor Party was alone in one body, while Conservatives, National Liberals, and Independent Liberals crowded the other lobby. It was part of the case of those who defended Capitalism that during its regime material condition have substantially improved. This, of course, is largely true. It is understood that, as a result of the application of power, machinery, and large-scale methods, the productivity of the community has been enormously increased. On the other hand, it is equally true that the waste and inefficiency in modern industry have reduced the general output, especially in small dominions like ours, to considerably below the possible maximum. Moreover, even if it be admitted for the sake of argument that Capitalism has solved the problem of production, it has created problems for which it has as yet found no solution. It has, for example, not solved the problem of distribution, nor has it put forward any constructive proposal for bringing the government of industry in line with democratic theory and practice. "The one iron law of human life, real and unchangeable," says Lord Milner, "is that work must come first, leisure and pleasure second; and the wrong and danger to the whole people for which Socialists are largely responsible is that they are too apt to encourage easy dreams of an earthly paradise to the detriment of the hard tilling of the ground and the precarious harvesting of the sea." And so it too often happens that "We shape our courses by new-risen stars, And still lip-loyal to what once was truth. Smuggle new meanings under ancient names."

Many women believe they are weak and nervous as a result of age, worry and overwork; they think that their disturbed digestion, headaches, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, pains across the back, etc., are due to some serious disease instead of the real cause—iron starvation of the blood. This is proven by the fact that when many of these same women take organic iron for awhile all their alarming symptoms quickly disappear and they become strong, robust and healthy. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living cells and tissue. Without it nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the strength out of it.

If you are not strong and well do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration, but take some organic iron—Nuxated Iron—at once. But be sure it's organic iron and not metallic iron which people usually take and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. Organic NUXATED IRON is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and it often increases the bodily and mental vigor of weak, worn-out women in two weeks' time.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all drug stores.

Fads and Fashions. The jacquette, or blouse, of fancy silk ties with the more tailored frocks for popularity. Fabrics were never richer nor more subtly colored than those used in the fall models. An exquisite use for real laces has been found on simple draped frocks of heavy crepes. Several smart fall hats have their entire crowns fashioned of nacre drenched marbou. A head band of brown maline stippled with marcellite is worn with long seal earrings.

Household Notes. Plain lettuce, well washed and crisp and lightly strewn with finely shaved onion or minced celery, is nice served with cheese straws and dressed at the table. A plain fruit sauce is nice to serve with vanilla ice cream. Boil one-half cupful of water with one cupful of sugar for five minutes and when cool add two cupfuls of crushed fruit. Peanut cènaques are attractive. Toast or brown in fat, points or rounds of bread and spread with peanut butter, seasoned with salt and cayenne, and moistened with mayonnaise. For an excellent raspberry sherbet use two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one pint of water, and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar and the whites of two eggs to four cupfuls of raspberries. To two coarsely grated potatoes add one-third cupful of flour, one-half teaspoonful baking powder, seasoning chopped parsley and one beaten egg. Mix thoroughly and drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. C. L. B. Activities.

Business resumed as usual at the old stand Thursday night. All ranks on their jobs from recruit to the O.C., all having a new lease of vitality after a jolly holiday in Camp.

At the special request of the Camp Contingent I record the details of their ocean voyage in the Cruiser "Otha" and her tender to Bell Island on Thursday, August 9th. The Battalion paraded at 1 p.m. under the command of Capt. J. Snow, O.C., Captains Short, Adjutant; Lieuts. Hayward and Fred Reid in charge of the Companies and Captain A. S. Lewis, 2nd Lieut. Erley and Rev. A. Pittman, Chaplain, on duty. Total on parade was 145. The sea was too rough to permit the troops boarding the steamer at the wharf so the ex-Navy Veterans under Regt. Sergt. Major Harold Rendell, a veteran of the North Sea, took charge and safely embarked the party, including seven ladies. Mesdames P. F. Fearu and Fred Reid accompanied the party. On arrival the ladies were taken up the cliffs by the trolley and met by J. Co. under Lieuts. Gover, Squires, Cluett and Rev. I. Parsons, Chaplain, when the parade marched to the Armoury owned by J. Company, which does their officers credit. After general leave had been granted tea was served at 5 p.m. by the C.L.B. Ladies' Auxiliary of Wabana and the Officers were kindly served tea at 6 p.m. and Rev. I. Parsons, Chaplain, acted as host. Major William Lindsay, O.C. of J. Co., Bell Island made a neat little speech in welcoming the visitors and Rev. A. Pittman, Chaplain, with Captain Short replied on behalf of the visitors. A song "Magpie" splendidly rendered by the popular Captain Joe Snow was a charming addition to the evening's entertainment. Official photographer Sergt. Brian Reem used his camera with great success. Cheers were heartily given the Ladies' Auxiliary, Captain Lindsay, and J. Company for their hospitality, and at nine o'clock Captain Snow had his troops re-embarked for Topsail, arriving at nine-thirty when cocoa and biscuit ration was issued and the lads retired to Blanket Bay. All ranks thoroughly enjoyed the trip—even a few who were sea sick—and the sights of Bell Island were novel and interesting. Bell Islanders all united in giving their "hals" a royal reception. The visitors say thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for all your courtesies.

The mail brings news of Rev. John Stead, formerly Chaplain of J. Co. Bell Island, now at All Saints Clergy House, Langley Park, Durham, England. He left Newfoundland for Canada about a year ago, but found the climate severe and had the offer of duty at Durham and accepted. The position of C.L.B. is active in his parish though not as many in the ranks as at Wabana. He sends kindly greetings to all his old C.L.B. comrades and friends in Newfoundland.

Sidney Skiffington, formerly Secretary of the Old Comrades and a Blue Puttee man, writes cheerfully from New York, where he is now employed. He is sorry to have missed the Regatta and wishes to be remembered to all at home.

Sergt. Harold Blackler, No. 1, the founder of the C.L.B. in Newfoundland and Honorary Vice-President of the Old Comrades Association, writes cheerfully from Boston and encloses ten dollars towards the C. L.B. Sick Fund. The Scouts Sports Committee who want a team for their Relay Race on August 29th will be accommodated, and our team hope to win the Mayor's trophy! The Lieut. Colonel presented a five years' service medal to Pte. Gordon Snow last night as he has resigned to proceed with his father to Boston. The Colonel also expressed his regret and that of all under his command at the resignation of Captain Joe Snow, who also goes to Boston with his family. Captain "Joe" has been a popular officer as Captain of A. Co., the Gymnasium Squad, and of the football team. The Battalion are all sorry he is going and wonder "will he no come back again." The lads gave him three hearty cheers for his services and wish him good luck. The Eagle Band played a lament for Bugler Gordon Snow, one of their pals who also said "good bye" last night.

Captain Lewis, Canteen Officer, and Sergt. Feaver, the manager, report a turn over of five hundred dollars for the ten days in camp and a net profit of nearly eighty-five dollars as a result of their work which goes towards camp expenses. Congratulations to both.

Recent Battalion Orders announce ex-Lance Corporal Johnson has rejoined and is posted as Pioneer Sergt. with the following pioneers: Ptes. C. Collett, B. Cairns and R. Morgan. Pte. J. Udie is transferred from C. Co. to F. Co., and J. Parsons rejoins and is posted to A. Co. The Rev. John Stead, Captain of J. Co. Bell Island, is now transferred to the active list and joins Platoon 985, Battalion 617th Durham Regt. Captain Joseph Snow, A. Co., is indicate that there is no surplus of Anthracite Coal in the U.S. The shortage caused by the strike of Anthracite Miners last year has not been made up, and American hard coal will, in all probability, be hard to get and high priced. Coke is an excellent substitute for hard coal, and we have on hand a stock of same that will soon be disposed of, because a shortage of hard coal invariably creates an increased demand for our product.

We advise our customers to book their requirements as soon as possible.

Mr. Sullivan

DEALS WITH INSURANCE PREMIUMS AND OTHER FACTS IN THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

In our report of Tuesday's proceedings in the House of Assembly a review of the remarks of Mr. Sullivan, Sr. member for Placentia was omitted.

In endorsing the remarks on the Budget made by the Leader of the Opposition I would like to say that the speech delivered by Sir Michael Cashin has been an eye-opener to this House. The Budget, as introduced by the Finance Minister, is, as I am sorry to say, not very "critically correct." Certain information has leaked out in this House this evening that has astounded members on this side of the House. No mention whatever is in the Budget of the $370,000 that is owed at the Bank of Montreal and we would not know of that but for Sir Michael Cashin. Well, if this amount is not mentioned in the Budget, is it not possible that there are other large outstanding amounts about which we know nothing at the present time? I am afraid, Mr. Chairman, that we do not realise, as we should, the serious financial position of this colony to-day, and it is certainly time that we did. We should know our resources and I do not think that this House is justified at the present time in assuming any more burdens unless we are absolutely certain that we can carry them along. With respect to the West India scheme, I do not think that the time is opportune just now for the inauguration of this new venture; I submit it would be much better and more useful to provide money to save people from starving, and with the innumerable demands that are going to be made by needy people the coming winter, as has been so aptly put by the Leader of the Opposition and Sir Michael Cashin and the true position of the Colony financially. At the next session of the House in February next come down here and be prepared to lay all your cards on the table, as that is the best way to play a straight and honest game. Table your contingencies accounts and your Auditor General's Report and do not wait to have things dragged out of you, as has been the experience during the past three and a half years.

In connection with this thirty thousand dollar loan from the Bank of Montreal for the Fire Department, I agree with the Leader of the Opposition that the Government, if at all possible, should insert a clause in the Resolutions whereby the extra tax would not come back on the policyholders because I believe that the Insurance Companies should pay this tax themselves. If we look at the year 1907 the premiums collected by the Companies amounted to $70,927. Notwithstanding the tremendous amount of money spent by the Municipal Council in getting better protection for the city against fire in the way of an improved water supply and despite the large amount spent from time to time on new fire fighting equipment for the Fire Department, the amount of premiums collected by the Insurance Companies for the year 1922 was $420.68. Therefore, I say it is only reasonable for this burden of extra taxation to be borne by the Companies and not have it imposed on the people of this city. I am quite prepared to facilitate all other business before the House; but I am going to oppose the West India scheme and oppose it strongly, because we should not be called upon to assume a further burden of $250,000 without an absolute assurance that we can afford it financially. Another matter I would like to refer to is that of Retiring Allowances. I sincerely believe that there are a number of people who are getting these allowances and who are able-bodied and active and who should not receive them.

Respecting Government tenders, as already referred to by Sir Michael Cashin, I would say that it seems that the policy of the late Government was to award contracts to the highest bidders and curiously enough I have an instance of this to-night. A few days ago I asked a question calling for the tabling of the cost of supplying Fresh Meat and Eggs to the Sanatorium and General Hospital. The Minister of Public Works has just handed me an answer to my question, as follows:—

SANATORIUM.
Fresh Meat—Warren & Casey; contract for twelve months, 25 cents per pound.

Eggs—E. Simmonds; contract for twelve months, delivered to institution at $1.00 per dozen.

GENERAL HOSPITAL.
Fresh Meat—P. J. Casey; contract for twelve months, 25 cents per pound.

Eggs—Capt. A. Mercer; contract for twelve months, delivered to institution at $1.00 per dozen.

Now I want to say right now, Mr. Chairman, that to charge a dollar a dozen for eggs for any institution is outrageous. I want to point out also that the Railway were buying all the eggs they require at 40c. a dozen. What an example to show to our largest department. With reference to tenders for fresh meat I would like to say that the tender submitted by Mr. Peter Casey and turned down was as follows: for first two months, 18c. per lb.; for next eight months, 20c. per lb.; for last two months, 19c. per lb. Yet the Public Works Department accepted a tender that was six cents per pound higher than Mr. Peter Casey's. The Mr. E. Simmonds referred to, as supplying the eggs for $1 per dozen, is the Member for Harbour Grace in this House and Capt. Mercer, who is also supplying eggs at the same figure, or 40c. higher than the current price of eggs just now, belongs to Bay Roberts and is a constituent of Mr. Simmonds. I am informed that recently, in spite of the exorbitant price charged for these eggs, a Superintendent of one of the institutions mentioned found that a number of the eggs supplied were rotten; also I learn that recently two Superintendents refused absolutely to sign bills for the prices stated. Now I hope that the Prime Minister will have new rules and methods introduced governing the awarding of contracts. Award tenders to the lowest bidder, even if he is an opponent and provided his goods are as good as the other fellows. Take the tender awarded to the Union Publishing Co., as outlined by Sir Michael Cashin. I would not mind them getting a reasonable profit; but certainly it is not good enough for them to get a profit of over a hundred per cent. We have no money to throw away at the present time and it would be well for members of the Government to realise that.

For the reasons I have stated and because I am conscious of the financial condition of the Colony just now, I intend to oppose the West India proposition; but I intend to facilitate the Government in their other legislation so far as I can consistently do so.

Telegram Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Fashion Plates. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A STYLISH MODEL.
4266. This design is suitable for slender and for mature figures. The plain lines, the side closing and becoming sleeve are very attractive, and new. Figured crepe is here portrayed finished with a stitching in floss. The style is also good for satin, broad cloth and serge.
The Pattern is cut in 6 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The width at the foot is 2 1/4 yards.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A GOOD STYLE FOR MATURE FIGURES.
4430. Figured and plain flannel are here combined. One could use satin, and embroidery or brocade silk with satin. Crepe, and embroidered georgette are also a good combination. The Pattern is cut in 8 Sizes: 36, 38, 40, 44, 46, 48 and 50 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 yards of 40 inch material. For panel and collar of contrasting material 1 1/2 yard 27 inches wide will be required. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2 1/4 yards.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A ONE PICE FROCK WITH DRAPED PANELS.
4269. Figured silk combined with crepe is here portrayed. This is a good style for velvet and satin, or net and chiffon.
The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. An 18 year size requires 7 yards of one material 40 inches wide. To make as illustrated for the dress of 40 inch material, and 3 1/2 yards for the panels of figured material. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR "OVER" BLOUSE MODEL.
4041. Silk or tissue gingham with organdy for collar and cuffs would be nice for this style. The peplum may be omitted. The blouse is in "slip on" style, and may be finished with the sleeves in wrist or elbow length.
The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. Collar and cuffs of contrasting material require 1/2 yard of 40 inches wide.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A SLENDIL SKIRT FOR MATURE FIGURES.
4433. Up-to-date with its uneven hem lines, and pleasing in its long soft lines, is the model here shown. Crepe weaves, pongee or linen could be used to develop it.
The Pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 27, 28, 31, 33, 35 37 and 39 inches waist measure. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 yards. This style is finished in "slightly raised" waistline. A 31 inch waist size will require 2 1/2 yards of 38 inch material, for the skirt and 2 1/2 yards for the tunic.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR STYLE.
4433. This is a splendid sports model. It lends itself well to jersey weaves, and to silk, or linen.
The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 2 1/4 yards of 32 inch material.
Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.
