The Toronto World.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 25, 1881.

The Dundas Banner handsomely compli ments The World upon its vigor and indithird party issue a waste of time and energy, because the history of third parties proves their destiny to be suicide, or absorption into older organizations. We deny the accuracy of our contemporary's political history, but granting its correctness, we should still hold that party misfortune than the sweeping success of 1873-4. Its influence for good has been much impaired by the temptation of office. It went into power with a reputation for firmness, and purity, and came out with a character for inconsistency and unscrupulthe manifestation of dissatisfaction with the the methods of the existing factions. No one would form it in the hope of reward. I s members would have no occasion to quarrel over the patronage of the country, and how troublesome dangerous such quarrels are sir John, Mr. Blake, and Mr, Mowat, know fail, in the nature of things, to be pure and them. Its members could truthfully say that although it is not in mortals to com mand success, they can do better by desert

But if the Banner will turn to the history of the United States, it will find that the republican party started as a third party. and that absorbing the better elements of Uninterrupted success has corrupted it, and it is now held together solely by the power of patronage, supplemented by the influence of the protectionists. In Germany a Catholic party, acting independently, has wrung from iron-willed Bismarck very large sions. Parnell and his third party embarrassed Beaconsfield and have defeated the Gladstone candidates in several constit-ncies. Our Dundas contemporary will see from this that a party, though weak in numbers, is not necessarily impotent.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

The political situation is of the most perplexing character for all genuine liberals. They behold upon one side a compact and skilfully led dominant party, very generally supported by both the industrial and the employing classes, but pledged by the premier to oppose every aspiration after something better for the country than perpetual colonialism On the fother hand they see an inharmonious opposition, captained by an able man, but one which has yet to display the special qualities necessary to successful leadership, and position possible to the opponents of the great Canadian Jingo, whose gratitude to the mother country for honors received assumes the shape of ingratitude to the country which placed him where such honors

No matter protectionist, and the people of this country are not going to again give their neighbors all the advantage in commercial affairs, even if they must assert their rights at the cost of some little increase in the price of coal and shirtings. Until Mr. Blake can invent a substitue for the N. P., he must remain as one crying in

The object for which the meeting is called, and the only proper object of a public meeting at this juncture, is to consider whether the capital should be reduced and how much. That the capital must be reduced few can doubt; but the question is what per cent. should be struck off. That a considerable portion of the original banking capital has disappeared is quite evident, but the prosome influence upon its rivals even posed reduction has not caused its disaprearance. If the shareholders should vote for a less reduction of the capital that the bank's affairs warrant they will run the risk of having their application to the government sent back to them for further consideration, and also of losing a manager who has given evidences of being an able man.

It is to be hoped in the interests of the bank, in the interest of its shareholders and of the trading public, that the shareholders will not allow themselves to be blinded by passion to their own true interests, and that their desire to bring somebody to the stake may not cause them to forget those sound principles of banking, which can only be contravened with loss to all. A COMMITTEE OF ANCIENTS.

Sir John A. Macdonald succeeded in rallying the rural seniors of his party on Tuesday, but his attempt to capture the youth of the city at the Temperance hall last night was a wretched failure. It will be seen from our report that the meeting was a small one, and largely composed of was a small one, and largely composed of men who have grown grey and hoarse in working and shouting for sir John. The young men were conspicuous by their absence. The premier had no right to expect anything else. As we showed the close of the meeting.

Mr. Capreol appeared before the committee and said that a syndicate could now be formed to carry out the Huron and Ontario ship canal if the land could be purchased and he wished to have a deputation visit England to inspect some lift. elderly office-seekers. He declared at the banquet that he had no sympathy with the following resolution—That the com-

The World's articles doubtless had a cooling mitted to them by Mr. Capreol in regard to effect upon the attempt to capture the youth, and sir John's speech completed the good work. The result was a sprinkling or barristers and wire-pullers on partially empty benches. We congratulate the young men on their good sense.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR.

We are making history fast. How many would have said twelve months' ago that the all absorbing issue to-day would be in regard to Canada's future. The right to discuss this question without being hounddiscuss this question without being hounded has been achieved; a large national art is springing up; the papers are all the collector's roll for the ward of St. Lawtalking about the merits of independence and annexation; the British and American journals devote no little attention to the same questions; and now sir John Macdonald has had to declare himself thereon. The treasurer submitted a draft by-law providing for the issue of debentures to pay for the share of the street railway company on the Yonge street block pavement. The total cost of the pavement is $65,694, of on the street railway company for ten years, such sum to be annually inserted in the collectors foll for the ward of St. Law-rence, in which the headquarters of the company are situated, and for the issue of debentures to the amount of $15,286, on the security of such special rate. The bylaw was approved of by the committee.

The treasurer also mentioned the inconvenience which arose from the fact that separate debentures had to be issued for every work, however small. This year there were about seventy sewers and pavements. He would suggest some legislation by which all the works for the year could be provided for by one set of debentures.

The accounts of the several committees were passed, and the committee then adlaw was approved of by the comm

'Poor, poor Clara!" said Mildred brokenly, "my heart aches for you as I think of all you've suffered."

The girl sprang up, seized the candle, and held it to Mildred's face, "My God," she whispered, "you are crying over my troubles." Then she looked steadfastly into the tearful blue eyes and beautiful face of her new friend for a moment, and said, "Millie, I'll believe any faith you'll teach me, for I believe in you."

HE HARRISON'S AT THE ROYAL. if is with pleasure that we announce the return of this magnificent burlesque comiedy company to our eity for three nights and Wednesday matinee of next week at the Royal opera house. It will be remembered that their engagement here last winter was looked upon by the public as being one of the greatest theatrical successes of the season. Their recent engagements in New York and Boston are spoken of as follows by the press of those cities:

Alice Harrison's imitation of Maggie Mitchell in "Panchon," and of Aimee in the drinking song of "Le Perichole," are perfect, and fairly captured the the audience. Louis Harrison gives an excellent initiation of Stuart Robson, and appears in a variety of characters which proveke screams of laughter.—

of characters which proveke screams of laughter.

N. Y. Times.

The "Harrison's" as a company are unsurpassed by any in America. Every time they repeat their inimitable performance, they merely signalize their triumph. It is doubtful if there is an absurdity on the stage as overpoweringly funny as "Photos," or a company more fitted for this particular line of comedy, than those whose trade mark is "The Harrison's."—Boston Advertiser.

PROCRASTINATION.

Heavy the task work, dreary dull the hours,
That part too hard for head of heart to play?
Such parts will fling the treasured hoard away,
Such aim will overstrain the best-fried powers.
Such air will blight to death the fairest flowers!
What does it matter? "Tis but for a day;
Resign the hope for one short while, they say,
Wait, bear, work, trust; the next time will be ours And just that pause takes all the salt from life,
And just that miss makes all the future naught
The war-cry silenced in the sudden strife,
The world all cankered by the gnawing thought,
But for that lingering doubt that act delayed.

My boat had scarce such fatal shipwreck made!"
—Tinsley's Magazine, FREEMASONS' FEAST.

The most successful affair that has take the banquet at the Walker house las night in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of St. John's lodge, A. F. and A. M. 75 G. R. C. St. John's lodge undoubtedly stands at the head of the craft in Toronto, both as regards membership an wealth. It was with no small degree wealth. It was with no small degree of pleasure that W bro Wm, Simpson, W M of St. John's, presided over the entertainment, surrounded by the most eminent members of the order and his fellow-craft'smen. Bro. Simpson fills his position of worshipful master well, and is ably supported by the following officers: W bro U Boddy, I P M; bro J Moerschfelder, S W; bro Walter Sterling, J W; bro Rev W E Smith, chaplain; R W bro R J Hoveden treasurer; bro John Orr, secretary; bro Donald Sinclair, S D; bro John L Kerr, J D; bro M Thwaite, D of C; bros R Mearns and C F Rees, stewards; bro Harry J Brown, organist; bro T H Hudson, I G; bro J H Pritchard, tyler. With such officers and so many good substantial members it is no wonder that St. John's lodge occupies the position it does in civic zetland lodge met last night and received an efficial visit from deputy grand master Daniel Spry. The following officers were elected: P. B. Sall, W. Maddonald, J. E. Hay, W. Kough; trustees, J. B. Mixon and W. Minnett.

Charles Fostelle and his company appeared at the Boyal last night before a considerably better audience than on the previous evening. The play, Mrs. Partington, is an excellent oue and no doubt the performances of this afternoon and evening will be well patro. ized.

At a meeting of the University senate yesterday the Lorne medal was presented to Mr. E. Davis and Mr. Leonard of Upper Canada college admitted and W bro Ulysses Boddy, made a hand-some third vice. The menu card was the handsomest piece of artistic printing that has probably ever been laid before a banguetting party in this city. It is semething that all present will cherish as a fond remembrance of a fraternal and delightful classion.

After the company had paid attention to the enticing bill of are, the worthy chairman gave the first toast of "The queen and the craft," which was heartily drunk. The grand master of England, H. R. H. the prince of Wales, was received with due honors. W bro Simpson proposed the health of the grand master of the grand lodge of Canada in a neat speech. a Fire and Life insurance business, and opened offices the same year in MonTREAL, and in all the leading cities of the continent, but only commenced the life insurance feature in 1850.

The ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was set apart from the parent body by an Act passed May 28, 1833, and with a specially trained copps of life underly lifes in charge, soon took the prominent place which it holds to day in the Iront rank of existing life insurance companies.

In July, 1869, was established the present MUTUAL DEPARTMENT, affording to the public ALL THE BENEFITS OF PURELY, MUTUAL INSURANCE, without the dangers attending mutual contracts.

In February, 1866, its non-forfeitable Policies were first introduced into Canada, thus doing away with the fear of losing all the money paid if able to keep up the policy, after two or three, or more payments made.

The August, 1868, the sum of $419,000 was deposited with the Dominion Government as a pledge of good faith with its Canadian members.

In Asiy, 1871, it resolved to avail itself of the new Insurance Act and annually increase this deposit. Keeping always in Government hands at Ottawa enough funds to fully provide for every Canadian policy issued subsequent to March 31st, 1378, and $196,000 were. Its Deposit is now $225,000 and about $100,000 more will be added in 1832, and more in 1833, affording such ceurity to its Canadian patrons as few companies furnish, in any country.

The Annuary 1878, the undivided surplus earned in the stock department, ac books and funds of which have always been kept "entirely distinct from those of the Mutual department—was found to have grown in the 28 years to lorged, the Directors resolved to add $600,000 of it to the capital, raising it to $5.50,000, thus affording additional security to every holder of an ÆTNA POLICY.

The February, 1878, an Act for this purpose was passed by both Frouses,
The Act was, in consequence, duly re-considered, resulting in its being enacted to 5s in the Assembly and 16 to 4 in the Senate. Garbled extracts
