SOME VIEWS ON RECIPROCITY

Expressed by Local Business Men of Yarmouth, Digby and Annapolis.—Fishermen Want Free Fish.—Lumbermen Less Disposed to Regard Tariff Concession as Important

The Halifax Chronicle is publishing articles on what T.M. Fraser, one of the editorial staff, learned in regard to the feeling on the question of reciprocity, during his tour along the Nova Scotia south shore. Here is what he says regarding the feeling at Yarmouth:—

"Yarmouth is no exception to the general attitude in favor of reciprocity along the South Shore. I conversed with many of the leading citizens of the place, and found a stronger sentiment towards free trade than in any other place along the shore. Here they would go in for it on almost any terms so strong is their faith in the benefits that would accrue from it. Yarmouth has always been in very close touch with the United States and the trade in that direction is still very large. Here is the collective sentiment of three of the largest fish dealers of the place:—

"We should get the Americans in here on any terms. We have three thousand men who go annually to Gloucester. Many of them live here and in Shelburne and Yarmouth counties. They spend about $20,000 yearly in getting back and forth for transportation. They make a good living out of the fishing and bring enough home with them to pay their store bills at least. Under reciprocity they would not shut out of Gloucester. A big shipbuilding industry would grow up here. Ships can be built here cheaper and operated cheaper than in Gloucester or Boston."

"It is depressing to recall how the fishing industry in Yarmouth has fallen off. Thirty-five years ago one firm, Ryerson, Moses & Co., operated and outfitted thirty-two hankers and Quero, fourteen Labrador men, and twelve Bay Chaleur men besides an average of six ships in the West Indies trade. There were sixty fishing vessels actually owned in Yarmouth and fifty-eight in Pictou. Today there are not more than sixteen all told."

EVERYTHING IN FAVOR OF RECIPROCITY.

"There is everything in favor of reciprocity from a financial point of view," said R. E. Spitzer. "We should conduct the negotiations with the greatest care, however, and have the

Shipwrecked in Bay of Fundy

Capt. Herbert Coffill returned to Canning on Wednesday last having lost his schooner the Lone Star and suffering the terrors of shipwreck in the Bay of Fundy through one of the worst gales of the season.

Capt. Coffill had his Lone Star loaded with barrel heads, staves etc. by Silas Gates of Port Williams and was bound for St. John. His journey from Windsor Saturday morning last at 4 o'clock while running at an 8 knot speed and about three hours out of St. John his schooner struck fair into a deluge of rain in the bay. He only had time to rush on deck and he and his two sons Dan and John had to leave everything except the clothes they had on and fight for their lives. The schooner soon turned on her beam ends and then after the masts broke away she righted again. The forecast in breaking cleared the sail and by carefully lashing a boom and keeping the forecast all tight it they were comparatively safe while the boom held. They rode all through the terrible storm of Saturday which washed poor Tupper off the deck of the Yarmouth, and hung on all through the wet and cold until Monday when the C. P. B. steamer Mont Temple picked them up right in their track and took the three to St. John.

The two boys and Capt. Coffill looked very well after their trying experience. They speak in the highest terms of the treatment they received on the Mont Temple, providing for them until they left for home on Wednesday morning.

The Lone Star was owned by Capt. Coffill and the loss is about $1000 besides all clothing etc.

The vessel had been repaired at Hantsport about a month ago and was fit for many years service.—Kentville Advertiser.

Drummond of Canadian Iron Corporation Visits Valley

Messrs. J. J. Drummond and W. P. C. Parsons, of the Canadian Iron Corporation, who have been visiting the mines at Torbrook and the ship piers at Port Wade, were in Middleton on Tuesday of last week and were interviewed by the Outlook.

President Drummond is always ready and willing to spare a few minutes to a reporter. He indicated the Outlook that the iron trade is still dull especially in the United States. But the mines will be kept open at Torbrook during the winter.

A steamer, the Thode, Bagelard, was expected to arrive at Port Wade on Tuesday to load 6600 tons of iron ore. This cargo goes to Middleboro, England. As soon as this steamer is loaded the ore pockets at Port Wade will be refilled from the mines.

Turning from the business of the Canada Iron Corporation Mr. Drummond remarked that there was room for some improvement in the streets of Middleton. Nothing would so benefit the town as to have good streets. He would be glad to co-operate with the Town Council in any move ment for the improvement of Middleton.

Mr. Drummond referred to his experience with Midland, Ont., where the Canada Iron Corporation has smelting works. The company offered to supply slag from the works at a very low price. As a result Midland is known all over Ontario for its superior streets.—Outlook.

If a standing order for stone from the mines at Torbrook were given so the stone could be loaded as raised at the same time the ore is being loaded for Port Wade a rate of one cent a ton would be given. A car could be loaded about every second day. These could stand until a train load of say ten cars was ready to be hauled to Middleton. If a rate of twenty cents could be made with the H. & S. W. Ry. the stone could be landed in Middleton at thirty cents a ton.

This proposition Mr. Drummond said is one which offers an advantage over other towns in the Valley and if improved Middleton will soon be known for its superior streets.—Outlook.

Williamston Boy, Frederick L. Schaffner, Now Representing Manitoba in Federal Parliament.—Active in Religious, Educational and Philanthropic work in The West

Among a series of sketches written by Rev. R. Osgood Morse for the Herald, appears the following regarding Frederick L. Schaffner, a native of this country.—Dr. Schaffner was born at Williamston, Annapolis. By diligent use of the opportunities afforded by the common school of his district, Mr. Schaffner fitted himself as a teacher in the common schools of his native province. After some years teaching, he entered Acadia College, whence he graduated in 1882. Proceeding at once to the then new west, he was principal of the academy in Rapid City, Man., for one year. A course in medicine at Toronto University followed this. In 1887, Dr. Schaffner settled in Boissevain, Man., in the practice of his profession. He has been identified with this town ever

Tobacco Remanded on Murder Charge

Prisoner's Landlady Tells of His Paying a Board Bill the Day After Victim Disappeared.—Sheriff Doubts Tale About Visitor to Jail.

Digby, N. S., Nov. 29.—The preliminary examination of John Tebo, Jr., charged with the murder of Edward W. McGregor, was continued at ten o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Mina Haight's evidence was continued. She said, among other things, that the prisoner had boarded up her room about the first of July until he was arrested. He paid her $16.50 six weeks ago tomorrow (Wednesday, Oct. 19, the day after McGregor was missing). The amount was paid with a $10 bill, a $5 bill and a $1, and fifty cents in change.

When interviewed, Sheriff Smith in reference to a strange man being at the jail, said no one had been there with the exception of the prisoner's counsel. He would not even allow the detective there.

The second witness called this morning was Walter Vantassel. He said among other things that he had overtook the prisoner on the Bay Road Tuesday night, Oct. 18, and continued along the road with him until the witness reached his home which is on the same road as the McGregor house and within a mile of it. The witness agreed to meet him at the pool room and he went downtown but the prisoner did not appear that night. The witness left the pool room to return home again at ten o'clock.

The next witness, Mrs. Kaiser, said she met the prisoner on the Bay road near the South End grocery the same night returning from the direction of the McGregor house.

David Sibley, the next witness said that he saw McGregor standing on his own (McGregor's) doorstep on Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, about 6.30 o'clock. This is the last time McGregor was seen alive by any witness who has been examined up to the present time.

At this stage of the inquiry Magistrate Harvey said that a lot of evidence had been taken, and he did not think it was necessary to proceed any further, as there was certainly enough evidence to warrant the prisoner being sent up to a higher court for trial. The prisoner was asked to stand up and when asked by the magistrate if he wished the evidence read over to him he said: "No." And when asked if he had anything to say he replied: "Nothing." The prisoner was again locked up in jail awaiting the June term of the supreme court or a special session of the same.

Fruit Growers' Association

The Association of Annapolis, Kings and Hants fruit growers met at Windsor on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The features of the opening meeting were described in last week's issue.

On Tuesday, at the morning session, a collection of boxed apples from the different provinces, was shown, with a demonstration and discussion of box packing, the Fruit Marks Act, and uniformity in gradings.

At the afternoon session Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, of Ottawa, gave a useful address on "Insects injurious to fruit in Nova Scotia," and F. H. Johnson, of Bridgetown, another of the Management of Bearing Orchards. These were followed by discussions.

At the Tuesday evening session there were addresses by Canon Powell, Prof. M. Cumming and others.

The first business of the association at the Wednesday morning meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year, as follows:—President—Ralph Messenger, Bridge-water.

Vice-President—A. C. Starr, "Sea View Farm," Port Williams. Secretary—S. C. Parker, Berwick. Assistant secretary—M. K. Ellis, Port Williams. Treasurer—G. W. Munroe, Wolfville. Auditors—Wm. Black and J. Elliott Smith.

Robert Starr was appointed an honorary member of the executive, the other members of which are W. W. Pines, F. Chipman, Stanley Banks and S. P. Chute. The vice-presidents of last year were all reappointed.

The morning session closed with an admirable paper on "Profits in orcharding," by Professor P. J. Shaw, of the Agricultural college. Professor Shaw's address was of special interest to the practical fruit growers, especially to those who are beginners in the work.

In the afternoon the association closed its sessions with an address by Professor Merret Wallace, Cornell University, on "The apple scab and its control," which elicited much profitable discussion.

PERRY SENTENCED TO TWENTY YEARS IN DORCHESTER.

Tenno, Nor. 30th.—Judge Drysdale to-night sentenced E. J. Percy to serve twenty years in Dorchester Penitentiary for killing his wife on the 19th day of September last. The jury took two hours to deliberate, before rendering a verdict of manslaughter.

Did you ever hear any one say they could not get good coffee except in the States?

I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business.

Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never tasted such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded.

Estabrooks' Red Rose Coffee, put up in sealed tins is—well, it's good coffee. You and your American friends will say so.

PAUL'S WIFE

Elizabeth Cresson still could not understand why her husband had married her. Indeed, she had never recovered from the surprise of that moment when he had asked her to go with him hand in hand through the remaining years of his life. Her attitude toward him ever since had been one of profound gratitude, touched with humility. She felt that she could not be thankful enough for being saved from spinsterhood and school teaching.

She had ten one of five children whose mother had died and left them to the care of a father who drank up most of the little he earned. There were two girls, Anna kept the house and Elizabeth taught school. What she earned went to keep not only herself, but Anna and the little boys comfortable. It was a hard life she had until the boys grew to be of an age when they could earn for themselves. Then Anna married. After that the household was broken up. The boys shifted for themselves, and Anna took her fast aging father into her own home. Thither Elizabeth also went at vacation time.

By this time Elizabeth was twenty-nine, a plain girl with a tired look and a shy manner. It was just then, when life seemed most unprofitable and undesirable, that Abel Cresson appeared in a single day all was changed for her. When she realized that she was actually engaged to him she began to see that heaven was, after all, not so high above earth but that one could get some glimpse of its glory. They were married immediately and she made Abel a good wife—the best of wives—who saved his money for him and kept his house excellently and was a splendid mother for his son Paul. Paul was the only child and he grew up to be a handsome fellow, with real adaptability for his father's mere sing business. Paul and Abel were Elizabeth's whole life, but perhaps Paul created the greatest interest in her because he gave her the most anxiety. In her secret heart she had a faint idea of what his mother should be. Yet even more for him than for Abel she sought to do her best and behave her niece.

With all the little womanly means permitted her she tried to make him express himself concerning her. Abel tried also. Abel was so outspoken. "Paul," he would say "how do you like that dress on your mother?" And Paul would look at the dress as it was standing alone by itself in the middle of the floor. "It's all right, father," he would reply, and that would be the end of it. His attitude toward everything and everybody was similar to his attitude toward her—one of cool indifference. "Yes, he'll fall in love desperately," Elizabeth thought. "I hope she'll be charming. I'm sure she will be. He loves beauty just as much as I do." When Paul had finally reached his twentieth year without so much as one important fancy she began to look musily at the many pretty girls of his acquaintance and wonder why he did not choose this one or that. There was Louise Ashbel now—a very picture to behold, and one by a master too. Thought of course it was known that she had a terrific temper. "If Paul wants her I'll get along with her," Elizabeth thought. And she thrilled as she thought of seeing that perfect face each morning at her breakfast table. For Paul's wife would live with her. The house was big enough and she would interfere in nothing. Anyway, would it not all be Paul's, and Paul's wife's in time? One day it occurred to her that after a certain business trip with his father to another town Paul seemed to keep on going there rather often, obviously with no reason in the world. She also became aware that he was getting letters done up in dainty square envelopes bearing a tiny intricate monogram on the flap. He began to show a great many changes of neckwear and to order new clothes from the tailor. Often she found him sitting in a study unmindful of the book or magazine he had taken to read. These she felt were all vital happenings and portended much. She asked Abel about it.

"Did Paul meet any girl in Sterling that time you were both there, dear?" Abel considered. "There was a girl in Thompson's where we dined—his daughter," he replied. "Ah! How did she—look?" "Why, I don't know that I can tell you, Elizabeth. I was talking to Thompson, you know, and that left Paul to the rest of the family. But my impression is that she had English hair."

"Don't you think Paul is going back there pretty often, Abel?"

He stared a little. "Maybe, I hadn't noticed," he said. "But it's all right, if he is, Elizabeth. The Thompsons are first-class people and the girls a nice girl. Paul's got to marry some one, you know." He pinched her cheek lovingly. "You hadn't gone and picked out any one for him yourself, eh, my dear?" "I wouldn't dare do that, you know, Abel. I thought I had thought a little thing—that, well, he always seemed to admire Louise Ashbel a good deal."

"My dear," Abel was quite positive, "admirer and marrying are two different things. I admired a dozen girls in my day, but I didn't marry any one of them. When it comes to wife-getting a sensible man goes slow. I think Paul is a little, don't you?" Elizabeth had to admit that she did think so. She was very curious about the Thompson girl, whom she had never seen, although Abel had maintained pleasant business relations with Thompson for a great many years. The following Saturday Paul went up to Sterling again. When he returned home he was more silent than ever, but his mother could see that it was a happy silence. When at last she could bear the suspense no longer she slipped up behind his chair as he sat smoking and inquiring.

"Won't you tell your mother—about her?" she asked. He laughed softly. "So you've guessed it? You're great at guessing, mother. I hoped you would and so save me the trouble of telling you. It's—its embarrassing business for a man to talk to his mother about his sweetheart. It's Helen Thompson, you know. And we're engaged."

"I'm glad, dear," she bent and kissed him, and then she went away quietly to think it over. Two weeks later she went up to Sterling with Paul to call on his fiancée. She did not know what she would find, but she meant to be prepared in any event. She put on her handsomest clothes and tried her best to keep her nerves under. Paul seemed almost as excited as she was. In the Thompson's parlor, in the presence of Mrs. Thompson, they waited for Helen to appear. She had been out when they came, not having known beforehand.

"There," Mrs. Thompson exclaimed suddenly. There was a light step that it was Helen entering. Elizabeth gave one gasp. She was a tall, dignified-looking girl with a plain face and gray eyes that were at once gentle and shrewd and shy. Her air seemed to radiate the beauty of Paul's wife went down with one mad flap and lay incapable of being rebuilt. She scarcely knew what happened after that until she was back again at home.

European and American Children

W. J. Henderson, in New York Sun. "What is the matter with the American children?" asked the wife, "in a difference of attitude. The ancient proverb, 'Little children should be seen and not heard,' was created by an inhabitant of Europe, but the true American has subjected it to a revolution, says W. J. Henderson, in the New York Sun. He reads it thus: 'In the presence of little children, grown-up people do not count. That is what makes the difference. The European child is taught from infancy that when he is in a room where there are adults, he is to be quiet. He is made to understand that the earth does not revolve around him; that the social fabric does not lean upon him for its support. As the advertisers of a certain beverage say, 'There's a reason.' 'Yes, so I suppose,' said the man, 'and I believe I know what it is.' I yield the floor to the honorable gentlemen," parried the wife.

"In Europe you find yourself in the presence of old society and long established social observances. People are not in a continual state of strained anxiety about their social manners. They are not constantly wondering whether they are doing the right thing or not. You know our people spend much of their lives trying to find out what the Europeans do and then learning how to copy it; but they have not yet arrived at the philosophy of the thing. If they had done so the American attitude toward children would be changed.

"What is this philosophy?" The philosophy of the maintenance of social relations demands first of all a recognition of the fundamental fact that their basis is conversation. Now, conversation does not consist of such remarks as "Does mamma's darling want another piece of cake?" Nor can it thrive in the presence of shrill juvenile voices screaming to attract mamma's attention. Children do not converse. They chatter. Conversation is an art known only to adults. Even young men and women are not experts in it, and doubtless that is one of the chief reasons why they do not occupy an important position in European society. Mere talk, such as you hear at summer boarding houses in one of the rural districts in the United States, is not conversation.

"Now over here," continued the man, "it has always seemed to me that there is an insistence on the great fact that the world belongs to men and women, not to little children. In our country it appears to be principally the other way. In almost every home you are expected to be silent the instant one of the children speaks. Even if you are not your hostess is not unlikely to turn away and listen to her precious offspring.

"In hotels the children romp through the public rooms, over the verandahs and even into the dining-room. In railway cars they ramble up and down the aisles and from far ends of the car shout, 'Mamma! mamma!' Every one is expected to give way to them."

Many persons find themselves affected with a persistent cough after an attack of influenza. As this cough can be promptly cured by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome. Sold by all dealers.

ARRESTED IN BOSTON.
 Proprietor of Halifax Theatre Pays Fine for Expecting on Street.

Boston, November 25.—Leonard R. Acker, of Halifax, proprietor of a vaudeville house in that city, was arrested here today for expectorating on the sidewalk in Elliott street. After being brought to Lagrange St. station, Acker was immediately taken to court he pleaded guilty and was fined two dollars. The unusual part of the proceedings came when after paying his fine, Mr. Acker shook hands with the officer who arrested him and complimented the patrolman on his vigilance. He said he thought it was a good thing to arrest people who expectorate on the sidewalk. He would like to see the police gather in more than they have been getting in the new crusade. Acker was standing on Elliott at the corner of Tremont street. Officer Hanlon spoke to him and asked if he did not know better than expectorate on the sidewalk. Acker replied very pleasantly that he did know better but that he never thought. The theatrical manager was one of the sixteen brought into court on the same charge. He said he was anxious to catch a train for New York, so the court disposed of his case first.

Rockport, Mass., Nov. 28.—George W. Tufts, former cashier of Rockport National Bank, who was recently indicted for the alleged larceny of about $8,000 from the bank, committed suicide by shooting himself late today. He was out on bail pending an examination as to his sanity.

VICTIMS OF CONSUMPTION.

MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN AT MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL.

Are Now Under Treatment—Husband, Too, Had Been a Patient—A Tragedy in Real Life—Heavy Debt on Institution.

A story from the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives tells of a mother who, with her two children, is now under treatment at this institution. The husband had been a patient, but the case was so advanced one when the patient entered, and he has since passed away. There is little doubt but that the wife was infected as a result of caring for her husband, and now she is in the Muskoka Hospital. Her little girl, about five years of age, and a boy of ten are with her, both being afflicted with this dread disease.

The words of the mother are pathetic. She writes: "I went to a doctor and got him to examine my lungs to see whether there was anything wrong with them, and he said that the right lung was affected. A little rest, he hoped, would build me up. I have a little girl, about five years old, and the doctor says that if I could take her up with me it would do her ever so much good, as she is not very strong. I have three more children, and one of them, a boy of ten, seems also to be afflicted, and it is advisable that he should enter the hospital."

These three are of the 104 patients who are residents in this deserving institution and being cared for without money and without price. The sorry part of it is that the trustees are carrying a debt of something like $40,000, incurred largely through the additions that have been made within the past year, and that have more than doubled the accommodation of the institution, together with the heavy cost of maintaining so large a number of free patients. Leaders who desire to help this great charity may send their contributions to Mr. W. J. Gage, Chairman Executive Committee, 84 Spadina avenue, or to the Secretary-Treasurer, 347 King street west, Toronto.

The Muskoka Free Hospital has ever lived up to its claims of never having refused a single patient because of his or her poverty.

SUCCESS BY STRUGGLING

"It is hard to struggle. Often we meet with nothing but a blessing for it is through struggling that we become strong and courageous and win the good things of life.

"Undoubtedly you will remember when you were kids and were taking your first swimming lessons. How hard it was at first. I kept my head above the water! I remember when I was a boy, it was over sixty years ago. I remember how hard was for me to learn to swim. I had to kick and splash and struggle, but I was the happiest of boys. I have been struggling ever since.

"If we do not struggle we will become weaklings; to be strong we must struggle always. This is the only path to success and to accomplishing anything in life. If we struggle manfully and push hard all laws will work out and we will be successful—John D. Rockefeller.

The Doctor's Question

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that ninety-eight per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored. Rexall's Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, grip, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness diarrhoea or other annoying effects. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. A. Warren.

M. K. PIPER

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1910.

President J. J. Drummond, of the Canadian Iron Corporation placed a proposition before the town officials of Middleton the other day, which is worthy of consideration by other towns than Middleton. The suggestion was that they should secure for their streets the slag from the iron works, which they could obtain at the low price of ten cents a ton loaded at the mines. The railway could probably be induced to allow fine rates on a train load of the slag. He thought Middleton could have it landed at about thirty cents a ton.

Of course Middleton would have the advantage of closer proximity to the mines, but Bridgetown is not far enough away to make railway rates an insuperable obstacle. If the slag would be good material for Middleton streets it would be equally good for Bridgetown.

Mr. Drummond cited the case of Midland, Ont., which used this material on its muddy streets with result that now Midland is known all over Ontario for its superior streets. While this might not be the best material that Bridgetown could use it is worth some consideration. As the improvement of our streets is a paramount question with our citizens before another session the methods to be employed should be settled upon, so that no time may be lost. If the majority of our citizens agree that permanent road construction should be begun, even over a very small area, the work should be undertaken without further delay, otherwise some effort should be made to palliate the very disagreeable conditions of bad roads the major portion of the year.

NOTE.—Since the above was put in type the Monitor learns that the Town Council took action at its session on Monday night to consult with the towns of Wolfville and Middleton regarding joint methods of road improvement.

District Sunday School Conventions

Mr. J. W. Brown, Field Secretary, will be in the County from Dec. 13th to 21st for the purpose of attending the Annual District Conventions. Obituary.

MISS FRANCIS GIDNEY. The Monitor's Belleisle reporter writes— Again does it become our painful duty to chronicle the death of another of our older and much respected residents, Miss Francis Gidney, whose death took place on Friday morning, 2nd inst. from pneumonia, after a short illness at the residence of Mr. John H. Bent, where she had lived since her brother's death last spring. The lady was a daughter of the late Joseph Gidney, who formerly lived at Johnsbury, N. B., where the subject of this notice was born. Seventy-three years ago he immigrated to this province, purchased a farm from the late Isaac Willett, at Belleisle, settled and lived there the remainder of his life. Miss Gidney was a lady who lived a retired and most exemplary Christian life. She was a most zealous and consistent member of the Anglican church and uniting in her efforts for its propagation and was possessed of rare mental abilities, which made her a most entertaining and instructive conversationalist. She had many friends in the community, by whom she will be greatly missed. She is survived by one brother, Wallace, of the Sacramento Valley, Cal. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, the 4th inst., service at the Church of St. Mary's, Belleisle. The remains were conveyed and interred beside the members of her family, who had gone before her. The Rector, Rev. Ernest Underwood officiated.

Granville Ferry

Last week Edward Wade received news of the death of his father, Mr. Job Wade in New York. The remains were brought to Granville Ferry for burial, arriving on Thursday. The interment was in the Mills burying ground, Rev. Mr. Hains officiating. Mr. Wade had been a consistent member of the Methodist church during a long life, the greater part of which was spent in Granville Ferry. A memorial service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday, Dec. 4th. Mr. Wade had a family of three sons. The oldest Capt. Wade, died some years ago in England, the youngest, Dr. Fred Wade died in Matland, Yarmouth Co. and Mr. Edward Wade survived him and lives on the old homestead.

The sympathy of the whole community went out to the husband and family of Mrs. Fred S. Troop, when the news of her rather sudden death was known. Mrs. Troop had been in delicate health for some time and had only returned from Boston a short time, having gone there for medical attention. Her death took place at 9.30 a.m. on Wednesday and it was not until the noon train of the same day that her only child reached home—too late to see his mother living. The funeral was on Friday at Stoney Beech cemetery. Rev. Mr. Raymond officiating. There were many beautiful flowers from Mr. S. W. W. Pickup and wife, a wreath from Mr. Ernest Mills, and one from her husband and children. A memorial service was held in the Baptist church on Sunday, Dec. 5th. Mrs. Troop was the daughter of the late Supt. Joseph Hall.

Miss Priscilla Hall arrived home on Friday to recruit her health and spend a few months with her friends. Mrs. L. C. Willett has closed her house and gone to New York to spend the winter. The Ladies' Aid intend giving one of their popular Ice. teas in the Oddfellow's building on Thursday evening from 5 to 8 p.m.

Rev. W. Suckling being away on Sunday last, the service in the English church was taken by the Rev. F. P. Grestorex. Mrs. Ernest Kidd, of Denver, Col. who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. F. P. Grestorex, went to Pictou to stay some months with friends before returning to the United States. Mr. Wm. Piggott has been confined to the house for a week or more with a sick spell, but we are glad to hear that he is improving.

Miss Lennie Eaton, of Granville Centre, spent a few days with her cousin, Miss Cora Eaton at the Ferry. MARRIED. WHITMAN—LONGLEY.—At Paradise, Dec. 2nd, by Rev. L. F. Wallace, Mrs. Nettie E. Longley, to Mr. George H. Whitman, of Berwick. TROOP—CALNEK.—At Annapolis Royal, Dec. 5th, by Rev. H. How, Walter H. Troop, of Granville to Matilda F. Calnek, of Granville Ferry.

DIED. SABEANS.—At Bridgetown, Dec. 1st. John Sabean, aged seventy-six years.

us more than at present. Canadian would come down in price and American would go up. Cotton is now so high that we are using hemp canvas for ships. It comes from England. For three or four years past we have been importing English cordage. The preferential tariff enables us to get a little under the Canadian price.

THE NATURAL MARKET. "We ship about ten or twelve million feet of lumber yearly. The removal of the American duty on lumber would give us more profit and a bigger market, but we would not have the stuff to send them. The removal of the duty would not divert the lumber from our other export markets. Generally speaking, however reciprocity should be an advantage to us. The New England States is our natural market."

"Reciprocity in fish would not help our dried fish business at all," said Mr. F. C. Whitman. "We do not ship any to the States from this port. Our best market is the West Indies and South America. There is no fresh fish handled here at all. Not even for the table." Annapolis has not even enough agricultural products for local consumption; the farmers do not raise them. Last year they had to import hay. There were no fresh eggs to be had in town, so the hotel people told me. Here are some of the local prices: Turkeys, 25c. lb.; potatoes, $1.25. bb.; eggs, 25 to 30c.; butter, 25c. Even the orchardists do not seek a buyer. They do raise a lot of turpins for the Boston market, between here and Yarmouth. T. M. FRASER.

In response to a telegram of invitation, Mr. R. J. Messenger, President of the U. S. Fruit Growers' Association took dinner last night with the executive of the Canadian Northern Railway on board the "Royal Edward" Halifax.

The gum slot machine belonging to J. I. Foster accidentally left hanging in front of his store on Saturday night, disappeared on Sunday. The theft was traced to two lads about town named Sabean and Kyle. The machine had been destroyed. The boys were taken to Annapolis jail today.

It is reported that Mrs. B. W. Cousins, of Digby, has been awarded $2500 damages in her case with the D.A.R. Mrs. Cousins sued the railway company for $10,000. The Supreme Court granted her $4,000. The company appealed with the above result and will probably appeal to a still higher court.—Courier.

Before the full bench at Halifax last week in the case Pratt vs. Balcom, Ritchie for plaintiff, Miller for defendant, an appeal of the defendant from the judgment of Judge Longley in favor of the plaintiff, in a case having reference to the construction of a deed, was argued and judgment reserved. A second appeal, by the plaintiff's attorney from the order which gave the plaintiff the costs of the motion, was settled out of court the plaintiff agreeing to pay costs.

The genial H. Price Webber and his talented wife, Edwina Grey with their Boston Comedy company opened a three nights engagement on Monday night in the Court House. A large audience greeted them, for they are favorites with the play-going public, both old and young, and many were present who have never failed to greet these players in their many years of coming and going. The play was "Honey-moon" in which the leading performers, who seem to have sprung of the fountain perennial youth, were at their best, and were supported by one of the best stock companies that has ever played here. The costumes worn were costly and handsome, and their own scenery gave an appropriate setting. Last night "The Gold King" was given. Tonight the popular old-time temperance drama, "Ten nights in a Bar-room" will be performed, and it is undoubtedly the greatest play of the many which have been written in the cause of temperance. It is well constructed, too, and has many amusing features, which are always welcome. Mr. Webber's company will be extra good in their respective characters.

Capt. J. W. Dunham, a brother of O. S. Dunham, editor of the Digby Courier, died in a hospital in San Francisco last week. He was taken ill while on a voyage from New York to San Francisco around Cape Horn. He was fifty-seven years of age.

The death of Captain William Potter, of Canning, one of the best known mariners of the province, occurred quite suddenly at his home in Canning on Sunday. He was sixty-five years of age and had retired from the sea some years ago. His wife pre-deceased him about five years ago. He leaves one son, Captain Potter, who is attached to the Army Medical Corps in Halifax.

A. D. Parker, of Granville Ferry, killed four sheep that tipped the scales at 340 lbs. crossed. One of the four weighed 110 pounds. The same gave Mr. Parker in three years $26.50 worth of lambs sold in St. John market, and six sheep and three lambs earned him this year over $70. Anyone who thinks that sheep-raising in Annapolis county, is not profitable nor practicable should go to Mr. Parker for a few pointers.

The attention of the Monitor has been called to a discrepancy between its report of the lamentable drowning accident by which Robb Tupper lost his life, and the reports of other journals in which it was stated that the unfortunate victim never came to the surface after falling into the waters of the Bay. The Monitor's information was at first hand from a letter written to a member of Mr. Tupper's family, in which it is stated that the drowning man was seen to come to the surface twice, seemingly making an effort to swim to the steamer, and that the second time his overcoat had been cast off. The young man was a good swimmer and his pluck and courage did not desert him to the last. This sad event is only referred to the second time to show that the Monitor had authority in making its statements. We regret to report that the young widowed bride has been critically ill from the shock, but is now slightly better.

SUDDEN DEATH OF TOWN CLERK OF MIDDLETON. The death occurred suddenly on Monday, of H. A. Beldon, town clerk, and secretary of the school commission, for Middleton, who was taken suddenly ill while walking the street and died in a few minutes. He was a native of Sheffield, England, was seventy-two years and leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. V. H. Finney, of Middleton. He came to Middleton twenty-three years ago. He filled the positions of manager of Gullivan's hardware store, secretary-treasurer of the Valley Telephone, secretary-treasurer of the school and water district. He was a man of integrity and rare business ability.

APPEAL REFUSED McNULTY. Toronto, Dec. 5.—The Court of Appeals this morning refused the appeal of McNulty who was sentenced to death for being an accessory before the fact to the murder near Orillia, of Mary Dolan's child.

Mrs. Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science movement, died at her home at Concord, Mass., on the 3rd inst. in her ninetieth year.

WHY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING SHOULD BEGIN EARLY. First.—Because you can get better bargains when the stock is fresh and full.

Second.—Because you thus have time to make proper selections instead of buying "just anything" to make out your gift list.

Third.—Because you can time the gifts you send away by express or by mail so that they will reach the recipients just before Christmas, and not a day or so late.

Fourth.—Because by spreading your shopping over several weeks instead of doing all of it in a few hours and in a great rush you will be able to get what you want when you want it.

Fifth.—Because you will be doing your part toward making things easier for the shopgirls and the other clerks, who are pushed almost to death when everybody buys everything the last few days before Christmas.

TOWN COUNCIL

The Town Council met on Monday evening last in regular monthly session.

After passing a number of bills on water and street accounts and salary to Dr. Burns, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved that the Fire Wards be requested by the Clerk to at once organize the fire department of the town and to report to this Council at a meeting to be held on Monday evening the 12th inst., at 7.30 p.m. in the Council Chamber with the names of the firemen now enrolled.

Resolved that the Clerk notify Herbert Hicks to appear before the Town Council personally in support of his application made to some of the Councillors for town water, at the next regular monthly meeting of the Council.

Resolved that the Clerk correspond with the Town Clerks of the Towns of Wolfville and Middleton asking them if they would join in the purchase of a suitable stone-cutter and power plant for the purpose of permanent street improvement and upon what terms.

EPWORTH LEAGUE LECTURE.

The Epworth League of Providence church are announcing another popular lecture for Friday evening of this week. The Hon. O. T. Daniels, M.P.P. will be the speaker and the subject of the address will be Technical Education a Provincial Asset.

The growing importance of the matter of technical education, together with the popularity of our esteemed townsmen, Mr. Daniels, should insure a large gathering in the lecture room of the Methodist church on Friday evening.

Worship. Mayor Hoyt, has kindly consented to act as chairman for the lecture. An offering for educational purposes will be taken.—COM.

MARITIME WINTER FAIR.

Amherst, Dec. 5.—The tenth annual Maritime Winter Fair and fat stock show opened today under most favorable conditions, and from the number present on the opening day the attendance promises to be a record one. The exhibits in point of number and quality far exceed any previous show. This is true of all classes. In the dairy exhibit there are over seventy entries as compared with fifty last year. The beef cattle exceed last year's by twenty-five entries. Sheep and swine are the best aggregated.

ASQUITH GOVERNMENT EXPECTED TO GO BACK. London, Dec. 5.—At the end of today's polling the parties stand: Conservatives, 100; Liberals, 100; Labour, 100; and Independents, 100. Opposition one hundred and fourteen. This puts a Tory victory out of the question, as they only gained two seats today in ridings where their biggest gains were expected. When Ireland, Wales and Wales come to poll there will likely be a decided victory for the Government. There were twenty-nine Unionists and twenty-eight Government returns in today's contested elections.

UNIONISTS DISCOURAGED. The results today merely confirm the opinion formed from the results of Saturday's contests that the Unionists now have no possible hope of replacing the Liberal Government in power. The only question remaining is whether the Liberals will return with a larger or smaller majority.

THE HOME

SOME VARIOUS HINTS.

When washing ammonia put two tea-spoonsful of ammonia into one gallon of water, to soften the fabric.

Flour thrown over burning oil will instantly extinguish it, while water only spreads the flames.

When grease is spilled on the kitchen floor, pour cold water upon it at once. This will harden it, and prevent its soaking into the boards.

Silk dresses should never be brushed, but should be carefully rubbed with an old piece of velvet kept especially for that purpose.

A dying fire may be coaxed into life by scattering over the embers a tablespoonful of granulated sugar.

The tender leaves of small ends of the stalks of celery, if dried, are excellent for flavoring soups.

To renew velvet, cover the face of a flat-iron with a wet cloth, hold the wrong side of the velvet next to this cloth until thoroughly steamed, then brush the pile with a soft brush.

To powder parsley, the bunch is dipped quickly into boiling water to make it a brilliant green; then put it into a hot oven for a few minutes to dry thoroughly. After this it may be broken into tiny flakes.

NEW USE FOR GLASS.

The use of glass, instead of china has become popular for bedrooms in London, according to the "Daily Mail" and there really is something very bright in the aspect of a room that has a white or cream striped paper, gay chintz curtains of a flowery pattern, and on the washstand of which is placed a piece of plate-glass with mats of Irish lace, and on which, in turn, you stand the basin, jugs, bottles, etc., also of glass!

For powder pots, large and small, are glass ones with lids, and for jewel receptacles, can one imagine anything daintier than a glass dish which has a lid and is supplied with a rose-colored cushion on which to lay brooches in use, chains, pendants, and the like? Glass candlesticks are nice with rose-colored candles and shades, the latter covered with lace.

The newest idea is to paint a piece of wash-stand or toilet table on the under side with blue, pink, silver oxidized paint—what you will, color shows through very prettily.

LAUNDRY HINTS.

If your table linen is extra good quality it does not need starching; for a gloss may be imparted by ironing it out in boiling water and ironing while still damp.

By ironing on the right side of a tablecloth or napkin, a high gloss is obtained by ironing on the wrong side the design is brought out more clearly. After ironing in the latter fashion, however, it is wise to turn the cloth and iron lightly on the right side.

The removal of stains from linen is the most troublesome of all laundry tasks. Tea and coffee stains can be obliterated by stretching the stained part flat on a table wetted with cold water and then rubbing with equal parts of glycerine and lukewarm water.

Once a stain is removed the linen needs but little rubbing. Simply soak it thoroughly, soak and rub on a board in hot soda. It should then be rinsed well and washed in a thin dishing water.

DULL, LUSTRELESS EYES.

Beautiful eyes and brows are, in one sense, a special gift of nature. Many a plain woman is redeemed by fine eyes; many a pretty face spoiled by red-rimmed, dull lusterless eyes. But at the same time a great deal may be done to make even unpossessing eyes clear and attractive, to render eyes which are only passably pretty really beautiful.

Attention to the general health will go far to make the eyes clear and bright and prevent fatigue, even when they are called upon to do a great deal of work.

Have you never noticed the dull eyes of a person afflicted with dyspepsia, the yellow tinge of overfed and neglected liver; the lustrous eyes of the woman who sleeps in an ill-ventilated room, who takes no exercise and spends all her spare time reading novels over the fire?

LIFE.

I would walk softly with my fellow-men, Content to be, nor seek for things too high; I would know love a little while, and then, Bid all good-bye.

And yet it may be, that there is no rest; With hands outstretched, and eyes that hope to see, It may be God has greater gifts to give Unknown to me.

EVIL SPEAKING.

Keep clear of personalities in conversation. Talk of things, objects, thoughts. The smallest minds occupy themselves with persons. Do not needlessly report ill of others. As far as possible, dwell on the good side of human beings. There are family boards where a constant process of depreciating, nastiness motives and cutting up character goes forward. They are not pleasant places. One who is healthy does not wish to dine at a dissecting table. There is evil enough in man, God knows. But it is not the mission of every young man and woman to detail and report it all. Keep the atmosphere as pure as possible, and fragrant with gentleness and charity.

ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE FOR WOMEN.

"Young women are reared with absolutely no thought of doing anything with their education afterwards," says Mrs. May Wright Sewall, for twenty-five years head of a classical school for girls at Cincinnati. "They will wake up soon and realize what a sense of freedom absolute economic independence brings. Schools should give regular and daily drill in the rudiments, but a particular training as well. A great change in our national domestic life is impending and when it comes we will wonder why freedom was not thought of and put in practice for both sexes long ago."

KITCHEN SPONGES.

While wooden sponges are invaluable in the kitchen, there are certain uses to which they should never be put. One should never use a wooden sponge in stirring anything containing onions, for the wood absorbs the flavor of the onion instantly and will impart it to other food-stuffs, even after the lapse of many weeks. A metal utensil used in preparing onions should be wiped off at once to remove the taste of onions. Some cooks always take the precaution of running a burning match over a fork knife or spoon used in preparing onions, as this instantly destroys the onion flavor.

Says a popular writer:—Sometime ago someone asked me to please write on "The detestable and filthy habit of chewing gum in public." I haven't complied with the request because it seemed to me that anything I might say would be so ridiculously obvious. I don't believe I have a reader who doesn't know that it is bad form to chew gum in public, and anyone who does it in spite of that knowledge, will undoubtedly continue to do it, no matter what I may say.

FOR EARACHE.

To relieve ear ache, irritate the ear with warm water. Arrange the patient so that the water can run out of the ear into a receptacle or into cloths which will absorb it. Have the water of slightly more than tepid warmth and allow it to run slowly into the ear until relieved. Cover the ear afterwards with warm woollen cloths.

Window and door screens usually get very dusty during the latter part of the summer, and it is poor economy to put them away in that condition; neither is it a good idea to wash them just before storing unless they are most carefully dried to prevent rusting. Last year I tried ker-

SUBS TORONTO FOR HIS CHILD'S DEATH.

As Result of Toronto Isolation Hospital Inquiry.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Mr. Jas. Rogers has entered suit against the city and others claiming damages to the extent of $20,000 for the death of his four-year-old boy, Frank Rogers, in the Isolation Hospital on June 30, last. Mr. Rogers is the man who first started the inquiry into the management of the Isolation Hospital. His son was admitted to the hospital suffering from diphtheria, and when convalescent he contracted scarlet fever and measles and died from the combination. Mr. Rogers claimed that a scarlet fever patient was placed in a bed on one side of his boy and a measles patient in the bed on the other side and gives as the ground for action, "Gross negligence, bad management and bad conditions."

Canadian News Service

Halifax, Nov. 24.—The Eastern Press Association was in conference here all day on Wednesday. The following representatives were present: C. F. Pearson, Chronicle; C. F. Crandall, Chronicle; W. Dennis, Herald; C. C. Blackadar, Recorder; P. B. Kelly, St. John Globe; F. W. McCready, St. John Telegraph; H. N. McKinnon, St. John Standard; E. J. Fayson, Moncton Times; A. D. McNeill, Glass Day Gazette; A. R. Coffin, Truro News; J. T. Hawke, Moncton Transcript, was recommended as a director on the Canadian Press directorate, in place of C. F. Crandall, resigned in consequence of going to Montreal to reside.

C. F. Crandall was appointed the association's representative at Montreal, where the world's telegraphic news will be collected edited for the Maritime Province papers.

All essential arrangements were completed for the Canadian papers to begin gathering and distributing their own news service after January first next.

The visiting members of the Association were entertained at lunch at the Halifax Club by the Halifax daily newspaper proprietors. The organization of the Eastern Press Association was completed.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LTD.

Gentlemen,—Last winter I received great benefit from the use of MINARD'S LINIMENT in a severe attack of La Grippe, and I have frequently proved it to be very effective in cases of inflammation.

PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED

London, Nov. 28.—The second Parliament in the reign of the late King Edward VII., which met on February 15th last, was dissolved today in pursuance of the programme of the Liberal Government to go before the country on the question of the prerogatives of the House of Lords.

The King's speech was notable for its brevity, the only reference to the constitutional crisis being a colorless expression of regret that the conference between the leaders of the opposing controlling parties had failed to agree on the reformation of the Upper Chamber.

POISONED BY DECAYED FRUITS.

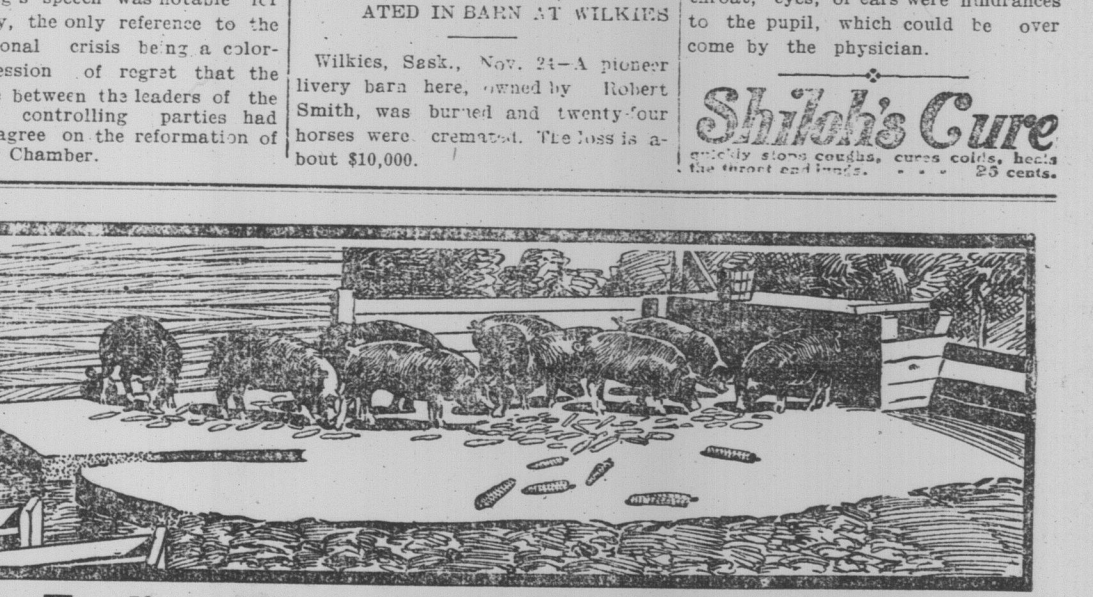

Parrishore Leader—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spicer, of Spencer's Island, were called upon on Saturday and Sunday last to pass through the agony of parting with two of their children—a boy and girl. It is supposed the children ate some decayed apples, the poison of which quickly developed into cholera morbus, causing the children's death within a few hours of each other. The grief-stricken parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends, with whom the Leader joins.

Shick's Cure

For Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, and all Lung Affections.

This Feeding Floor Could Be Built in The Fall and it would help greatly to preserve the condition of your live stock in the Spring.

Every farmer knows that in the Spring of the year his barnyard is almost bottomless. The live stock mire down into the mud and almost float around—greatly to the detriment of their physical condition.

By building a Concrete feeding floor in the yard, this trouble is done away with.

A Feeding Floor of comparatively small area and built this Fall, would pay for itself next year. Concrete is the only material that can be used in this way at a moderate cost.

Will you ask for your copy of the book which we have prepared for you—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"? It's free—and, take our word for it, you'll find it one of the most interesting pieces of such literature you ever read. And profitable, too—because it will save you money.

2 IN 1 FAMILY

Here is one of the many cases in which several members of one family have benefited from the household box of Zam-Buk. Col. Sgt. Louis Elliott 3rd Co., 42nd Battalion, Peterboro, Ont., says: "The lower part of my face, cheek and chin broke out in small red pimples, which later fastened and broke, forming nasty sores and dry scabs. The itching set up by these eruptions and sores was terrible, and seemed far worse during the night. All kinds of soaps, washes and ointments were tried in the vain attempt to get relief, even to bathing with carbolic acid and water. Finally I thought of Zam-Buk and straightway procured a box at the drug store. One night's application brought great relief from the intense itching, and as I kept on applying this balm daily, the inflammation was soon drawn out and in less than a week's time the sores were thoroughly healed and every scab banished."

Mrs. Elliott, 139 Sherbrooke St., Peterboro, telling of Zam-Buk's effect on her younger son Walter, says: "He slipped and caused a wound on his right hip, which developed into a running sore. From this smaller sores spread until his lower limbs were covered with ulcers. These proved very alarming and I feared blood-poisoning. I began the Zam-Buk treatment and it really seemed to aid like magic! In a remarkably short space of time the raw running sores were all healed. I am very grateful indeed for his cure and I strongly recommend all mothers to keep Zam-Buk always handy."

WHAT ZAM-BUK WILL CURE.
Zam-Buk will be found a cure for cold sores, chapped hands, from lice, sores, skin eruptions, varicose sores, bites, scabs, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin irritations. It will also cure all kinds of sores, ulcers, and skin diseases. It is a remarkable remedy for all kinds of skin diseases. See the testimonials in every package before buying.

OUTBREAK OF DIPHTHERIA IN SECTIONS OF MANITOBA.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 24.—A severe outbreak of diphtheria has been noted in several parts of the province. Reports of the disease have been received from Rapid City, St. Jean, Miami, Grandall and Minnedosa.

The department of public health is taking every possible step to stop the spread of contagion.

The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of a disease towards pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

OF DATE BLOUSES.

A blouse that is unfashionable may be transformed into a dainty little corset cover by ripping out the sleeves, trimming or binding the arm eyes, cutting away the neck and shoulders so that only a strap remains to support the back and front, taking up the fullness by means of a ribbon run beading and hemming the bottom of the garment, or cutting it off at the waist line and attaching it to a peplum, or an individual band.

WOMEN IN CONGRESS.

Four women will sit in the eighteenth General Assembly of Colorado as a result of the election. They are Alma Lafferty, Louise U. Jones and Louise M. Kerwin, all elected to the House of Representatives from Denver district on the Democratic ticket, and Agnes Riddle, Republican representative for Adams, Afanphee and Elbert Counties. At the last General Assembly Mrs. Lafferty, who was re-elected, was the only woman representative. There are no women Senators.

Mrs. William G. Clarke, matron of Cleveland, Ohio, recently became the mother of her third set of triplets. She showed the family Bible which displayed the fact that she is also the mother of four pairs of twins, and that she herself is the only sister of twenty brothers. Two pairs of twins and one set of triplets were born during Mrs. Clarke's first marriage and the remainder of her seventeen children came in groups during her second marriage.

Valuable Horse Dies on Passage Up From Boston

Four horses all good stock, purchased recently in the States were shipped on the Fleet liner A. W. Perry at Boston and the steamer sailed at three o'clock Saturday afternoon for this port, says the Halifax Chronicle. The steamer arrived yesterday morning after a very rough passage with one of the horses dead. She met heavy N. W. and N. E. all the passage and her twenty-four passengers report a rough trip. The three horses landed in good shape consisted of the two purchased by C. E. Smith, of this City, at the Old Glory sale at New York last week and another for Pictou County, Mr. Smith's two are the two year old bay filly Miss Maloney, by Cochocho, for which he paid $500, and the three year old filly Darton, 2:23, by the Director General, which cost him $510. The horse killed en route was purchased at private sale by Frank Boutiller. He was named Robin Hood, was by W. H. Cassidy and was eight years old, having a mark of 2:17. Robin Hood is said to have been one of the finest horses ever imported here and his death means a considerable loss to Boutiller stable as the horse was not insured. The animals were shipped in horse boxes and had a pretty rough time of it. Robin Hood was the worst sufferer and was found dead in the box. The flooring of the box was not cleaned and the footing was poor. It is said the horse was valued at $3,000. The third animal landed was a year old stallion, which was purchased in New York by Mr. Gray, of New Glasgow, and at his request Mr. Smith brought the colt along with his shipment. Mr. Smith had a desperate time with the colt and had it not been for the attention that he gave it, the animal would not have been landed alive. The sea was so rough, and the steamer pitched so badly that the richly bred horse was heard to control. At times the men were ankle deep in water trying to hold the horses in check, and for nine hours at one stretch. That the animal was landed safely was due entirely to the strenuous work of Mr. Smith.

Joker's Corner

HE WAS TOO ENTHUSIASTIC.
Hank Dobbs was noted as an 'honest' horse trader. He would not lie about a horse. He would merely suppress the truth. Incidentally, he always beat the customer who dealt with him. The way he would slur over the defects and buzz about the virtues of an animal amounted to genius.
Once Hank was trying to sell a neighbor a horse that had an eye which was nearly sightless. The neighbor knew Hank would not lie outright to him, so he questioned the horse trader as to the various points of the brute.
"How about his eyesight? Can he see out of both eyes?"
"Sure," said Hank, "he's got good eyes." Here he leaned forward, his eyes fairly scintillating with suppressed honesty. "One eye is particularly good!"
Hank's enthusiasm for the truth had carried him too far. The deal was off.

GOOD HUNTING.

It was at St. Andrew's in Scotland the home of golf, where the links stretch away over the moors by the sea, and dear, quiet Aunt Mary had gone up from London to visit a golfing family of nephews and nieces. At tea the first afternoon some one managed to stop talking golf long enough to ask "Well, Aunt Mary, and how did you spend the morning?"
"Oh, I enjoyed myself immensely, my dear. I went for a walk on the moor."
"A good many people seemed to be about, and some of them called out to me in a most eccentric manner but I didn't take any notice of them. And, oh, my dear, I found such a number of curious little round things! I brought them home to ask you what they are."
Hereupon Aunt Mary opened her work-bag, and produced twenty-four golf-balls.

"WITHOUT WARNING."

An Ottawa paper in a headline describing a "didn't-know-it-was-loaded" accident, relates how the gun went off "without the slightest warning." Apparently some people are accustomed to a gun that blows a whistle and waves a red flag and then gives five minutes notice, before deciding to send some one to the Kingdom Come.

THE BLAME-PASSER.

Don't be afraid to take the blame for your mistakes. That you will make them these is no reason to doubt. Common sense will enable you to profit by them.
Shouldering the blame that is yours may cause you a few bad half hours, but snaking out of it or trying to pass it along to innocent men will not only sap your self-respect, but rob you of the respect of every man who is associated with you.
Sooner or later every man will discover that he will be valued by other men for what he is, not by what he pretends to be.
The impulse to get out of trouble may prompt him to run away from the consequences of his own folly, but he had far better stand up and take them.

Hair Health

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer
We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.
We assure you that if your hair is beginning to unhealthily fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness.
Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. A. Warre.

SCHOOL HOUSES AND CONTENTS SEIZED FOR UNPAID TAXES.

Teacher in York County Got Judgment Against Trustees. Another Teacher Stags for Salary.
Fredericton, N. B., Nov. (Special)—The school building with its contents and the site, in a York county school district have been seized to satisfy the claim of a teacher for unpaid salary. The seizure was made by Deputy Sheriff Winter, on behalf of W. H. Anderson, a licensed teacher, who got a judgment in the county court against the school trustees of District No. 71 in the parish of Bright for unpaid salary.

Crisp, who has been confined to the house for a week is improving rapidly. Miss Nettie Cahoon, of Wolfville, was the guest of her friend, Miss Frances Ruggles over Sunday. Miss Emma Wilkinson, of Bridgetown, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Longley. Crusade Day was observed by the members of the W.M.A.S. on Wednesday afternoon last. A program was given in the church and a pleasant social time enjoyed by all present. Tea was served at five o'clock. The offering amounted to $22.66. Mrs. Roland Taylor, of Aylesford, spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Starratt. Mr. John MacCallum went to Windsor last week, where he has an interest in the stone quarry. Mr. MacCallum has also discovered a manganese mine at Morristown.

Clementsville

Rev. I. A. and Mrs. Corbitt, of Bear River, were the guests of Rev. O. E. Steeves on Monday. Mr. Starratt and Miss Edith Potter went to Tupperville Saturday to visit relatives there. Mr. Ward Wright, of Ipswich, Mass is visiting at his old home here. He was sold his property to Mr. Willis Potter. Miss Dukeshire, of Bear River East is visiting her friend, Miss Mabel Long. Miss Mary Campbell, of Bear River, spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Willett. Mr. Ralph McLaughlin returned home from Bridgetown Tuesday.

Round Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Harold FitzRandolph and little son returned home from Digby on Wednesday last, where Mrs. Randolph has been visiting for the past week. Mr. J. Roxby Robinson left for New Bedford, Mass., on Saturday, where he intends taking a position offered him. It is reported that the Round Hill Fruit Company have sold about five hundred barrels of apples and are now in the apple house getting same ready for market. Miss Henrietta Dunn, sister of the late Mrs. W. C. McLaughlin, is boarding with Mrs. Bessie Sargent. The nephews and nieces of the late Mrs. W. C. McLaughlin returned to their homes in the United States on Saturday.

Torbrook

Miss Lola Woodward spent the week end at Mrs. Geo. Spurr's. We are glad to welcome Mrs. Stephens and family among us again. J. E. McAloney is spending a little time in Port Wade again. Mrs. L. A. Allen arrived home on Monday. Mr. Arthur Spinney and Mr. S. Payson are both confined to the house with illness. Mr. Hugh MacMillan left on Wednesday for the United States. Mr. Frank Waterman was summoned to Brookfield on account of his father's death. Mr. J. Etta Charlton, of Rosedale, Mass., was calling on friends in this place recently. Mr. M. M. Charlton has returned home after spending a few weeks with his brother, A. C. Charlton. Miss Josephine Wheelock is visiting friends in the north end of the village. Mr. B. S. Banks, of Lawrence town, spent the week end with friends here. J. H. Parker, who has been housed with a bad cold, is out again. Mr. Stephen Banks is spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Edward Gordon.

Bear River

The death of Mrs. M. C. Armstrong occurred at her home here on Wednesday, Nov. 30th after a lingering and painful illness at fifty years of age. She was the youngest daughter of the late E. E. and Hannah Tupper and had been married twice, her first husband being Wm. Tupper, who was the son of the late Miner Tupper, of Bridgetown. Her first husband pre-deceased her five years ago. She is survived by one son, Payette Tupper, a sister (Ella) Mrs. I. L. Brock, of Beverly, Mass., and a brother, George L. Tupper, of this place. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 1st, the service being conducted by Rev. A. Daniel, assisted by I. A. Corbitt. Interment in Mt. Hope cemetery. S. S. Bear River arrived from St. John on Friday last. She had in tow schooner Mercedes, of Clements-port. The latter was badly damaged in Digby in the big storm a couple of weeks ago, and will lay up here for the winter and undergo repairs here in the spring. Bear River is greatly interested in the movement now afoot to interest the C.P.R. in bringing the railway track into the town, instead of running as at present four miles from the village. It would be a great boon to the town and conducive to our interests in many ways.

Parkers Cove

We are sorry to report Mr. Walter Robinson, also Mrs. Lettie Henshaw on the invalid list. Death visited our neighborhood on Thursday last and claimed little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ainslie Hudson as its victim. We sympathize with them in their bereavement. Rev. C. W. Smith conducted the funeral service. Mrs. Loran Clayton and little daughter of Youngs Cove, have been visiting Mrs. Curtis Halliday the past week. Mr. Fred Milner, who has been ill for the last two months, we are glad to report on the road to recovery. C. E. W. Dodwell, Engineer, was here inspecting the work on the breakwater, which is nearing completion. George Milner and Earl Coates have shipped in the new schooner that was launched at Annapolis and is now ready for sea. Her destination is Cuba. On Saturday last, while the wind was blowing a gale from the north-east and accompanied by a heavy storm, a fire broke out in Mrs. Mary Wilkins' house. It was occupied by two families, Richard Hardwick and family and Edward Hudson and family. Despite all efforts to subdue the flames their work was fruitless and less than an hour the house and outbuildings were one mass of ruins. Both men were in the barn at the time. One family lost all their clothing with the exception of what they were wearing. The other saved most of theirs. Richard Hardwick has moved his family in part of Boston Longfellow's house for the present, while Edward Hudson has bought the farm of the late Stephen Johns, of Hillsburn and expects to occupy it about Christmas. The families were well cared for in their loss until they could get moved and settled, therefore, it is a hard time of year to be burned out and lose all.

Port Wade

Mrs. Ed. Slocumb is very low at this writing, having had a second shock of paralysis. J. Taborn is home for the winter having resigned his position with the Albert J. Lutz. Mrs. Elizabeth Covert arrived home from Lynn on Saturday, after a visit of two months with relatives and friends. S. S. Thode, Fagaland, Capt. Nilsson, Norway, arrived here in charge of pilot E. Keans, on Wednesday last, and sailed Saturday morning for England with about seven thousand tons of iron ore. A number of the officials of the D. I. Co., the I. Matheson Iron Co., and the H. & S. W. R. Co. have been here while the steamer was being loaded. Bro. Wade, Bellisle, will make a note of the above, as he has seemed a little skeptical of intelligence of this nature. Mr. Bayne, of the H. & S. W. is still here with his private car. The many friends of Leander N. Kendall, Nictaux Falls, are pleased to learn of his quite rapid recovery. The weather the past week has been very unfavorable for fishing, it being only possible for one set, the boats each securing about seven hundred pounds. The Sunday School teachers and scholars are very busy now rehearsing for a concert to be held Friday evening before Christmas. Our day school teacher, Miss Simpson, is only teaching a half term. It will be necessary to get a new teacher for the remainder of the term. The funeral of Lena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Curry, took place here Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Brown officiating. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Templeman, of Bridgetown, were calling on friends here last week. George Beardsley and Harold Anderson are home. Mrs. Lois Allen, of Torbrook Mines, was visiting Mrs. Emma Brinton last week. Rev. W. H. Warren, of Bridgetown, preached here Sunday morning.

Port Lorne

Capt. Freeman Beardsley has been to St. John on a business trip. Loring Beardsley, Frank Starratt and Lorimer Sabean are home for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Templeman, of Bridgetown, were calling on friends here last week. Mrs. Lois Allen, of Torbrook Mines, was visiting Mrs. Emma Brinton last week. Rev. W. H.
