North End Soldier Is Killed in Action; Pte. Harry E. Hughson

Sad News Comes to Victoria Street Home; Another Son of the Late D. Smith in Casualty List; Carleton Man Wounded

That Private Harry Everett Hughson, son of Winslow Hughson of 131 Victoria street, had been killed in action on September 25, was the word received by his father from Ottawa this morning.

Mrs. Oscar Collins of Somerset street, received a letter yesterday from her sister, Mrs. Daniel Smith of Sydney, N. S., in which she states that on October 5 she received word that her son Charlie had been wounded in addition to suffering from shell shock and had been admitted to a hospital in England.

Word has been received in the city that Private Charles A. Stevens of the No. 8, who left St. John with N. B. Battalion, is suffering from shell shock in a field hospital "Somewhere in France."

Sergeant-Major Charles Henry Blaine Wright, aged twenty-eight years, was admitted on October 6 to No. 8 general military hospital at Letzepf, west of the line in his right arm. The news was received from Ottawa this morning by his wife, Mrs. Blanche E. Wright of 164 Market place, West End.

Very glad you are having good health, and if good war news, news that spells victory, has anything to do with the mothers that have boys at the front, they shall have it. The Germans may hold out another year; if so, it will be their limit. Just watch the papers and see the good news coming, and when the papers say the British artillery did it, think of the 181st Siege Battery, for they are a "bit" of the most powerful artillery in the world.

A Monthly Income for Life

SUPPOSE you knew for certain that when your earning days are over your present income would be replaced by another—one which would be adequate for the support of yourself and of your family! And suppose you were sure that income would continue as long as the need for support exists! Can you imagine anything more comforting?

For Yourself in Old Age

NINETY-FIVE out of every hundred men who live to be sixty years of age are then dependent upon their daily earnings or upon charity for their support. It was this condition that caused Lord Rothschild, the eminent banker, to say that "while it required a great deal of boldness and of caution to amass a fortune, it required ten times greater wit to keep it."

But you can easily escape the misfortune of being dependent in your old age. Simply invest a portion of your earnings for a few years in an Imperial Monthly Income Endowment. Then, beginning when you are 55 or 60, or at whatever age you choose, we will send to you—regularly—each month—for the rest of your life—a cheque to provide for your comfort and independence.

If you should die before the policy matures the Monthly Income will be paid to whomever you have named as your beneficiary. And these Monthly Income payments will be made to you or to your beneficiary for not less than 20 years, no matter when your death may occur.

For Your Wife in Widowhood

YOUR salary will stop with your pulse. But your widow and children will still require shelter, food, clothing, education.

You can provide now for these needs by means of an Imperial Monthly Income Policy. Then after you're gone we will send to your widow—regularly—each month—a cheque for $25, $50, $100, or whatever sum you may choose. These Monthly Income payments will commence immediately after your death. They will continue as long as your widow lives. Should she not live to receive at least 240 Monthly Income cheques, the balance of that number will be paid to her estate.

There is no other provision you can make for her that is so sure and, at the same time, so convenient. Just think! She will have no worry or bother or expense in looking after the investment of her legacy. She can't lose it. Neither can she be swindled out of it. And it will earn a rate of interest far beyond what could be secured by an inexperienced investor, without danger—great danger—of losing the principal sum.

NOW—while you are insurable and can spare the money—ask us to tell you how small a yearly saving will put an Imperial Monthly Income Policy between you and a penniless old age—between your family and a life of hardship. Just fill in the information called for on the coupon at the side and mail it to us and we will send you full particulars without delay.

It will cost you nothing to learn all about this most modern form of life assurance. Sign the coupon and mail to us to-day—to-morrow may be too late!

MANY CLAIMING SHARE IN THE HOWLAND ESTATE

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 18.—Claiming relationship to the late "Hetty H. Green, the richest woman in the world, hundreds of people all over the United States have been writing to the trustees of the Sylvia Ann Howland estate, demanding a share in the Howland fortune. This estate, amounting to about $1,250,000, released for distribution by the death of Mrs. Green, who had a life interest therein, is to pass to the lineal descendants of Gideon Howland of Dartmouth, Mass., grandfather of the testatrix. Claimants are springing up daily from every state in the union, but it is said they are doomed to disappointment, inasmuch as there is no foundation for their claims.

The trustees have the complete list of the heirs, who are 489 in number, embracing every person who can be included, and have notified all of them in regard to the coming distribution. Although hundreds of others who bear the name of the inheriting families have written to the trustees, all attempts to add to the list are proving fruitless because of the thoroughness and accuracy with which the genealogy of the Howlands has been compiled. Entanglements, such as fiction likes to build around the inheritance of a great estate, do not exist in the Howland case. The heirs are scattered throughout the country.

Despite a common belief that Gideon Howland and Mrs. Hetty Green were descendants of John Howland, one of the Mayflower pilgrims, the ancestral line clearly shows that they belong to another branch of the numerous Howland family.

MAKING ARTISANS OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS

Speaking of his success in making artisans of the wounded French soldiers, Le Bourgeois, a famous Parisian artist, who has established a toy factory for these unfortunate, says in an interview for Cartoons Magazine: "The vast-colored decoration of the toy is often left to the initiative of the individual worker, and it is curious to note how even the least educated seldom make a mistake, but indeed succeed in striking and very happy color combinations. A half education at a school seems to hamper artistic taste, to make them hesitate. But the common people are born artisans. I have not selected my workers! I simply send to the hospitals: 'Send me all the wounded you cannot otherwise dispose of.' And so I have here men of all trades and men of no trades, butchers, bakers, candlestick makers, cabmen, plumbers—everybody. "They all work with a will and amuse themselves like children. But we have not room enough here, and shall soon have a much larger factory. Then we hope that our men may return to their homes, if they have any, and continue to make playthings for French boys and girls, and for other boys and girls, too."

PARISIENNES IN WAR TIME

(Mme. Bernardini-Sjoestedt in Cartoons Magazine). All, of course, have loved ones in danger, never absent from their thoughts; many have sustained painful losses, but they make a point of honor not to speak of their sufferings and fears. If suddenly some one's eyes seem to sparkle not quite as usual, if in the midst of a conversation a friend, with a blazer little gesture, dashes something from the corner of her eye, we pretend not to notice it. And then, the feeling of being one at heart with all the others on the only point that counts is a delicious and sustaining comfort. A simple, quiet stoicism seems natural to all. We have staked our lives and hearts on the case which is about to be turned, and await the issue with smiling faces, the women never forgetting to be sweet nor the men amiable. The gravity of the times imparts to the meeting-moment a hundredfold value. We love one another better, and that explains, perhaps, the mystery of our happiness. Then, too, the light of victory is at last beginning to break through the clouds so that our hearts now beat with pride and triumph—emotions to which we as yet hardly give expression lest we tempt fate too far.

ROMANIAN PRINCESS MAY BECOME QUEEN OF GREECE

The Most Beautiful Royal Girl in Europe is Likely to Marry the Greek Crown Prince. The people of Roumania are very proud of Princess Elizabeth, the daughter of Queen Marie and King Ferdinand. She is very fair, like her beautiful mother, and has the same golden hair and blue eyes, and the same dark eyebrows.

Her coloring and her upbringing have contrived to make Princess Elizabeth, who is just twenty-one, look a typical English girl. Her education has been largely English. She had English nurses and indulged in English outdoor pastimes—skating, driving, and tennis. The princess is a skilful driver and can be seen almost daily in the streets of Bucharest guiding her dog-cart through the congested traffic coolly and skilfully.

Though she can be vivacious and charming, Princess Elizabeth is silent rather than a talker, but when she speaks she shows thoughtfulness and shrewd common sense. She can read four languages. She has inherited a love of art from her mother.

As Princess Elizabeth is, perhaps, the most beautiful eligible royal girl in Europe it is not natural that gossip should link her name with that of one prince after another. It is practically certain, however, says an English authority, that the lucky prince will be Prince George of Greece. The young couple are reputed to be very fond of one another and the match had the approval of their parents. It is said the formal announcement of the engagement was about to be made when war broke out. If the rumor is correct that King Iino is to abdicate in favor of the Crown Prince it is very probable that Princess Elizabeth will one day be Queen of Greece, for Prince George of Greece would undoubtedly throw in his lot with Roumania and the allies.

HURRICANE THREATENS THE SOUTHERN STATES; WIND AT 90 MILES

Washington, Oct. 18.—The West Indian hurricane, which has been driving through the Caribbean Sea and Gulf of Mexico, is rapidly approaching the American coast and is expected to move inland somewhere between New Orleans and Apalachicola, Florida.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 18.—A message received here a little before 4 o'clock this morning from Mobile, stated the wind there then was blowing ninety miles an hour. All telegraph and telephone connections between Mobile and New Orleans were lost after 9 a. m. New Orleans, La., Oct. 18.—An east southeast gale was blowing ninety-eight miles an hour at Fort Morgan Ala. at the entrance to Mobile Bay at 6:45 this morning. Occasional gusts reached 98 miles.

THE WAR NEWS

There is still a doubt as to the extent to which the Austro-Germans may be able to break down the opposition of the Roumanian armies and overrun their country. It is admitted that they have entered Roumania at one important point. If they were able to overrun Roumania as they did Serbia it would have a bad moral effect, and it would also prolong the war.

The situation on the western front is more and more favorable for the Allies. If their gains are slow they are steady, and the enemy is being pressed back by superior force. On the Russian and Italian fronts the conditions have not changed in any important way for some time.

AUTUMN REFLECTIONS

Our friend the druggist becomes invested with a new interest for us at this season of the year. We may have enjoyed his conversations on summer days when he served us with cooling drinks or ices, but that was casual. Perhaps we passed in and out without conscious observation of the contents of the shelves, or any exchange of views on the general subject of health and vigor.

THE COST OF LIVING

The delegation from the Union of Canadian Municipalities which will ask Sir Robert Borden to take action in regard to the steadily rising cost of living will get a very courteous reception and an assurance that its representations will receive the most earnest consideration. The government is long on assurance and short on performance.

CRIME AND CRIMINALS

Are men dealt with as criminals who should be sent to asylums for the insane? We are told that, speaking before the American Prison Association at its convention at Buffalo, Dr. Paul E. Bowers, superintendent of the Indiana Hospitals for Insane Criminals, urged that every prisoner at the time of his arrest and trial should be examined sociologically, physically and mentally by a court physician.

slain; and that he argued that such a practice would very materially lessen the expenses of the state as well as prevent the punishment of offenders who were not responsible for their crimes. The Bangor Commercial believes that "Dr. Bowers goes a long distance upon a road that will be traveled for some distance some day, for it is very probable that the time will come and is not far away when expert medical testimony will be handled by the court, and when the court will appoint its experts who will give their evidence without the possible bias that comes from employment by the one side or the other." The Commercial points out that there are in state hospitals for the insane many persons who were first sent to the states prisons, and it concludes that probably a considerable percentage of them should have been sent to the hospitals in the first place, but were not properly examined by experts; while some who were given a short term in prison and turned loose to commit new crimes should also have gone to hospitals for the insane.

In connection with this subject it is an interesting fact that criminals are on the increase in the United States. At the conference at Buffalo, E. Emory Lyon, chairman of the American Prison Association, said: "But within two years, nearly every prison of the country has become crowded. One state in the Middle West has a thousand more convicted felons today than it had two years ago. The prison population of other states and of the federal institutions have similarly increased. If it were not for the fact that some 10,000 men in the different states are at work upon honor farms and at roadmaking, the overcrowding would be more apparent than it is."

Mr. Lyon finds in the great war one cause of the increase in crime, but he cites other causes which are perhaps a good deal more apparent so far as the United States is concerned. He says: "One may cite numerous indirect causes for this increase. There is the continued lack of home-training and control; the absence of vocational education; the insufficient facilities for recreation; the general unpreparedness of youth for the responsibilities of life. A large contributing factor is found in the intermittent employment and limited wages available to the average unskilled workman. Worse still is the chronic condition of unemployment which prevailed until within a few months."

His closing words may well be taken to heart by all who are in any degree interested in promoting public welfare: "With the growing problem before us, therefore, and becoming more immediate and menacing every day, there is need for all the wisdom and concentration of individual citizens, the efforts of all agencies applied at every stage, and for the active application of all principles of prevention, and the utmost efficiency of systems of correction."

Today's report about the Lusitania affair will be taken with a grain of salt. It seems clear, however, that President Wilson's views of what the Allies may properly do does not square with what he thinks Germany may do with prosperity.

The Toronto Star says: "The defeat of Germany is part of a larger aim, which is to place international relations upon a new basis, to enshrine justice, and to give to all nations and people additional safeguards for peaceful development, for constructive work, for the advancement of civilization, the betterment of humanity, and the extension of the bounds of freedom. Never has there been such an outpouring of human blood, so vast and precious a sacrifice. That sacrifice must not be in vain; and vain it would be if this war were a mere clash of rivalry and hatred, or if after the war no earnest effort were made to achieve the great aims which our statesmen proclaimed, and to establish a new order which will make the world a better place for our children. We owe it to our dead to keep that standard raised. We can build no nobler monument to their memory than to labor for better international relations, to extend the bounds of freedom, and to make our civilization better worth preserving."

WHISKEY FROM CANADA. London Daily Mail, Sept. 12—Nine thousand barrels of whisky arrived at the port of Manchester last night in the S. S. Glenella from Canada. Small quantities of Canadian whisky have been received at Manchester before, but no cargo of this size and value. The whisky is to be stored in the bonded warehouse in Trafford Park.

Falls-Luts. The marriage of Miss Alice Lutes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Lutes, to Herbert J. Falls, formerly of Prince Edward Island, but now of the I.C.R. shops, Moncton, took place on October 11th at the home of Mrs. Bishop, sister of the bride, in Moncton.

"One wife too many" exclaimed Mrs. Wedery, as she glanced at the headlines of her husband's paper. "I suppose that is an account of the doings of some 'blameless' husband, without my caring to look up."

"I shouldn't care to be the wife of a man who never smoked." "Well, it is comfortable to see one's husband sitting down after dinner to enjoy his cigar, and, besides, there is something rather soothing about the aroma of good tobacco."

A commercial traveler found himself in a remote village inn when a heavy downpour of rain set in. "I say," he said, addressing the waitress, "I look like the flood."

"Like what?" the girl inquired. "Like the flood. You have real S. the flood, and how the ark landed on Mt. Ararat, haven't you?"

"I ain't seen a newspaper for more'n a week."

"I don't care about the records," said the stranger. "Why are you driving the car so fast?"

Clears Way For New Battalion

Major Tilley Soon May Begin Recruiting; Five Recruits Yesterday; Casualty List Continues to Grow

Now that the authorization has been received for the recruiting of the Killie Battalion in any province in Canada, it leaves this province open for a new battalion and it is generally understood that Major L. P. D. Tilley, formerly recruiting officer for the province, will be in command.

In the city yesterday five recruits were secured for overseas service: H. Grant, Moore, St. John, Field Ambulance; E. Barton, St. John, Field Ambulance; James Bryson, St. John, 28th Killie; George Chatter, Queenstown, 68th Battery, and Viktor Makeia, Finland, 28th Killie.

The casualty list last night contained the names of five New Brunswick men: killed in action, Sergeant J. Allen Probert, Lewisville; Gunner William H. Hannister, Fort; Glen; Gunner Iron N. Carson, Moncton; wounded, Driver J. Doherty, Moncton, and D. Grant, Dorchester.

Word has been received in Fredericton to the effect that Private Alexander Murray, son of Rev. Mr. Murray, had been wounded.

Private Eldon Dunlop has been killed in action, according to information received by Chief of Police Finley of Fredericton, who was asked by the militia department to find the whereabouts of the soldier's next of kin.

Three little girls of the West End, Misses Mary Watters, Bessie Vowels and Mary Clarke, held a bazaar on Saturday last, the proceeds of which, amounting to $8.10, they generously donate to the ladies of the west side who are making an appeal for a fund to provide smokes for the lone soldiers.

According to the Canadian Gazette the most recent Canadian visitors in London were Lieutenant-Colonel A. H. and Mrs. Borden, Major A. J. Brooks, St. John; Miss M. Creighton, Lunenburg; Miss M. M. Crockett, Fredericton; S. E. Elkin, St. John; Major R. E. MacLachlan, St. John; Mrs. A. Mitchell, Halifax, and Staff-Sergeant H. Wheatley, Halifax.

Among the recent visitors to New Brunswick were Lieutenant-Colonel T. C. Loggie, of Fredericton; Lieutenant B. O. Kinney, of Florenceville, and Lieutenant J. D. Peters, 104th Battalion, of St. John.

Dental Draft Going. It is understood that a dental draft of 100 men will shortly leave Canada for England, there to take up their duties in new environment.

It is understood that St. John will have two or more representatives in that siding the question of going overseas, while there will no doubt be several from the province. New Brunswick men are being called into the local military dental surgery in the city of St. John just being formed for the winter season under the command of Capt. Dr. J. M. Magee, of St. John, who was in charge last winter, and who had charge of the dental surgery of Alderhot Camp (N. S.), during the past summer.

It is understood that the officers of the local surgery will be Capt. J. M. Magee, Capt. Frank Gorton, of St. John; Capt. W. R. Wilkes, of St. Stephen (N. B.); Lieut. Farrer, of Dorchester (N. B.); Lieut. LeBlanc, of Moncton (N. B.); and Lieut. Rommel, of Alma, Albert county (N. B.).

In addition to the six operators named above there will be as many dental sergeants and batmen. Four chairs have been installed in the surgery at the armory, and new additional equipment will likely arrive very shortly. The local surgery will handle only the military work of this city, with perhaps details to other portions of the province. The surgery will have the 165th battalion to attend to, which is 800 strong at the present time, besides the men of the No. 8 Field Ambulance Train and the No. 9 overseas heavy siege battery.

What You Can Do For the Returned Soldiers

(By A. R. Dohm, president of the Khaki League, Montreal.)

The Military Hospitals Commission and many official and private organizations are spending much time and energy in behalf of the returned soldiers, but every Canadian citizen should and can take an interest in the national heroes.

Many have neither time nor opportunity to join an organization for the purpose, but much is to be done by individual and independent effort, intelligently directed. Here are a few suggestions which may help you to do your part.

Give Them a Welcome. When you see in the papers that any of the boys are returning to your neighborhood, give them a hearty reception. Don't treat them to alcoholic refreshments. Many of the men are not in normal state, owing to what they have been through. While, under ordinary circumstances, a drink might do them no harm, under present conditions it might be a very bad habit for them. You will not wish to do an injury to those who have endured so much for you.

Employment. Find out what jobs are vacant in your community. Make it a matter of pride for employers to give the first chance to a returned soldier. Encourage the men to get back to work. Looking is bad for them, as it is for you.

Advice. In a position to advise the returned soldier where to go in case of need, if you see one in any difficulty, try to help him out, or go with him where he can get proper attention. Help the men who have helped you.

Some of the places where information and assistance can be obtained follow:—The Military Hospitals Commission, Ottawa; Branch office—Room 801 Drummond building, 511 St. Catherine street, west, Montreal, Que.; 1 Queen's Park, Col. Toronto, Ont.

Here is a list of the provincial organizations:—Nova Scotia—Returned Soldiers' Employment Committee, Metropole Building, St. John's; New Brunswick—Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, 40 Canterbury street, St. John; Prince Edward Island—Returned Soldiers' Commission, Box 308, Charlottetown.

Ontario—Soldiers' Aid Commission, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. Quebec—Soldiers' Employment Bureau, 294 St. Catherine street, East, Montreal; Manitoba—Provincial Returned Soldiers' Commission, 185 Lombard street, Winnipeg.

Saskatchewan—Saskatchewan Division of the Military Hospitals Commission, Leader Building, Regina. Alberta—Central Provincial Committee of the Military Hospitals Commission, Government Buildings, Edmonton. British Columbia—Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, Parliament Buildings, Victoria.

Some of the provincial organizations have local committees in many towns, and more of these local committees are being formed.

Then there is the Khaki Club, which maintains at its Khaki Club, 600 Dorchester street, West, Montreal, a soldiers' employment and information department in charge of a returned soldier, in addition to which it operates another club at 184 Peel street, as well as the Khaki Convalescent Homes at 46 Belmont Park, and 128 McTavish street.

Khaki clubs are also established in the cities of Quebec, St. John and Halifax. In conclusion, take a personal interest in the returned soldiers. They don't need treating, nor coddling, nor charity, but they need human sympathy and kindness, as well as justice. Canada owes her soldiers a debt which money can never pay. Will you do your bit towards paying it as suggested?

SIR WILFRID ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

(Moncton Transcript.)

It is often said that politicians as they become older, become more set and conservative in their ideas, but Canada has a statesman and a politician in Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who seems to broaden out in his political views as his years advance rather than to become conservative. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's declaration at London, Ontario, last week, to the Canadian Women's Club there in favor of the abolition of the sex disqualification for the Dominion franchise, was greeted with intense enthusiasm. He retains the Liberal stand of the province controlling the franchise, but holds that when a province declares for woman suffrage, the Dominion franchise shall not exclude her. The federal parliament shall not exclude her from casting a vote in a federal election when she is qualified to vote in the provincial election. It is scarcely rash to state that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has settled the woman's franchise question in Canada. The return of the Liberal party to power at an early day is usually taken for granted, and therefore woman's suffrage upon the basis of the provincial franchise is certain to come at no distant day for Dominion elections, but it would not be surprising if Sir Robert Borden would feel compelled to give Sir Wilfrid Laurier's views immediate effect when parliament meets. He cannot afford to slumber in the political methods of the unreformed age.

Fred Thurlow of Merrimac, Mass., has in his possession a cane made by his uncle, the late Mr. Somerby of Portsmouth, who was a sailmaker on the frigate Constitution when she made her trip around the world on a peace mission. The cane is carved from whalebone and on its sides are cut the names of all the ports visited by the ship.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE.

(Hardware and Metal, Oct. 14) Prices are still soaring upward and advances have been recorded this week on tin, solder, files, screen wire, fish lines, tire and stove bolts, iron rivets and burrs, crow bars, galvanized sheets, squares, hammers, levels, vices, screw and strap hinges. Prices on sheathing machines have been withdrawn. A new and higher list, if it is understood, is being prepared. In the meantime prices are quoted only on application. The United States Steel Corporation this week reported unfilled orders aggregating 9,222,984 tons on the books of the subsidiary companies at the close of business September 30. This is a decrease of 137,773 tons during the month of September. The total shipments last month are estimated to have been 1,030,000 tons. If the subsidiary companies had been able to handle all the business offered, the sales would no doubt have been greater than the record sales of March 1916.

The insured oil market is holding steady. White lead in oil is very firm, and mixed paints as a result of high prices in hardware lines is good and there is a fairly heavy demand for all reasonable lines despite the unprecedented high prices now prevailing. The only decline noted this week is in poultry netting for spring blooming.

"The banks are loyally behind the war loans," said a well-known banker today. "The banks never had so much money on deposit as they have today. We hardly know what to do with it. Merchants are conserving their resources for the time when after this war readjustment will take place. It is a serious problem for the banks the paying of interest on the great deposits, with the market for money in its present state. Our vaults are choked with gold."

The three big banks, Montreal, Commerce, and Royal (including the Quebec Bank) have in Canada, among them, public deposits to the amount of $203,000,000, or just about enough, according to Toronto's assessment, to buy up Toronto, lock, stock and barrel.

Canadian Banks Choked With Gold

Enormous Deposits on Which They Must Keep Paying Interest; In August $1,250,091,962

(Toronto Star) The merger of the Royal and Quebec Banks brings to attention the fact that there never was a period in the history of Canada when deposits in the banks totalled such an enormous amount as at the present time. The amount for the month of August was $1,250,091,962, including deposits subject to demand and deposits subject to notice. The increase for the year on deposits on demand is 32.6 per cent, and on deposits of 100 days' notice 16.4 per cent.

For about a month now the interest rate on current deposits has been reduced from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent. This prominent banker. This is a reflection of the money market. It is reported that the Canadian war loans is no doubt due to the great amount of money in the banks on deposit. The banks offered to underwrite the first war loan, $100,000,000, which is reported to have been very much oversubscribed by the people of Canada, and not require the aid of the banks directly.

Five Augusts Compared. A comparison extending over the past five years shows at a glance how the deposits have piled up. In August, 1912, the total was $1,004,289,021, 1913, $1,177,354,772; 1914, $988,383,599; 1915, $1,029,610,200; 1916, $1,250,091,962. So that if the $100,000,000 subscribed to the war loan were taken wholly from bank deposits, it would still have a margin of almost $128,000,000 on deposit above the record of 1912. The savings banks deposits, or deposits subject to notice, amounted in August to $868,746,071; deposits subject to demand are current accounts, in August of which do not bear interest, but the great bulk of which do bear interest at the reduced rate of 2 1/2 per cent. It all depends on the account, if it is stationary enough for the bank to make use of its interest is paid.

Banks Behind War Loans. "The banks are loyally behind the war loans," said a well-known banker today. "The banks never had so much money on deposit as they have today. We hardly know what to do with it. Merchants are conserving their resources for the time when after this war readjustment will take place. SIR SAM TO STAY IN BECAUSE THEY D. R. NOT PUT HIM OUT

But He Is Being Gradually Stripped of All His Power and Principal Duties; A Dominion Election a Distant Possibility of the Spring

(By a Staff Correspondent of the Star Weekly.)

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Ottawa continues to write a big question mark after the name of Sir Sam Hughes. "What's going to happen to Sam?" was heard everywhere in political circles this week. Somehow or other the politicians, officials and correspondents have got the idea that General Sam's star dimmed for some time past, is about due for total eclipse. The only thing that seems to be worrying them is the particular form the eclipse is going to take. There is the usual crop of speculations, some pessimistic, some optimistic. The latter are strongly supported opinion is that Sir Sam will go out of the cabinet in the general shuffle that is expected here. Others claim to know that the general's case will be dealt with separately and that his days in the Borden cabinet are already numbered. Finally, there is a well informed Conservative group who believe that Sir Sam is not to be dropped from the cabinet at all, but will be transferred to his department by being stripped of his power and principal duties, those to be invested in the prime minister or sub-committee of the government.

After a canvass of the situation, the correspondent of The Star Weekly is convinced that this latter opinion is nearest the truth. In fact, Sir Sam's retirement from the cabinet seems more remote just now than at any time since the beginning of the war. It is not because the Minister of Militia has improved his conduct in the eyes of his colleagues in recent weeks. The truth is just the opposite. It is simply because Sir Sam's staying in or quitting the cabinet is a matter of political expediency. It's a perfectly safe bet that at least twelve out of the fourteen members of the administration would favor throwing General Hughes overboard tomorrow if they were certain the job wouldn't end in a political mess that might spell disaster. But they are not by any means certain. Sir Sam has been known to actually hang on to the job if the worst came to the worst he would fight, and it is fear of a coalition league' part that he would carry out these threats as much as anything else that has kept him in his job so long. At least that is what Ottawa believes.

A Fairly Safe Hand. When it comes to a question of whitening down General Sam's power, however, the picture seems to be a different one. A fairly safe hand, already the minister has been all but stripped bare of his responsibilities. The War Purchasing Commission relieved him of the letting of all contracts for war supplies. The cashiering of J. Wesley Allison was done without either his knowledge or consent. The discarding of the Ross rifle was brought about in the teeth of his protests by the direct order of Premier Borden. And recruiting has been absolutely taken out of his hands by the appointment of Sir Thomas Dail. So that at present General Hughes has nothing to do with the Canadian forces, very little to do with their training and nothing to do with their command or strategy at the front. A further extension of the process of gradually relieving him of his authority would place him in a position where, except for the name of indelicate speech, he would be incompetent to do anything particularly in any direction.

An Election. Practically all of the political astrologers see an election on the horizon. Liberal politicians who visited the capital during the past week record a growing impression throughout the country that the government is getting ready for an appeal to the electorate. They say that the administration will try to get a snap verdict from the country before the war is over, and the people have an opportunity of fully examining its record in the light of conclusive after-war evidence. On the other hand, government leaders assert that whether there is to be an election or not depends entirely on the opposition. They say that they will again introduce a bill to extend the parliamentary term another year. If the opposition accepts it there will be no election until 1918. If it does not accept it there will have to be a war election next spring, with the opposition taking the responsibility for bringing it on. Just what attitude the opposition does take in regard to an election is probably known only to Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself, and the Liberal leader is not noted for premature exhibition of his trump cards.

In the meantime it is significant that the headquarters organizations of both parties are displaying much more activity than they have shown since last election. The Liberals maintain in Ottawa what is known as the "Central Information Bureau of the Liberal Party." It is in charge of C. M. Goddard, a particularly efficient organizer, and by no means an ordinary doer of words in political writing. This bureau has been exceedingly industrious in recent weeks, political literature expounding and defending the Liberal cause being sent broadcast over the Dominion, and one or more additional journalists added to the staff for the production of pamphlets, leaflets and what are known as ready-made and semi-ready editorials for the country press.

The Conservatives advertise their views and defend their faith through the medium of what is known as the "Federal Press Agency," under the management of Cameron Caldwell, a former Ottawa Journalist. This bureau is known to have literally sent out tons of political literature in recent months, and more is likely being accumulated in readiness to be "franked" when parliament meets.

This double activity suggests that both parties are taking no chances on being surprised, and are preparing for the probability of an election next spring.

GROWTH OF WESTERN CITIES

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—A preliminary return issued today of the results of the quinquennial census of the prairie provinces taken last June gives the population of cities, towns and villages in the three provinces.

Winnipeg, the largest city in the middle west, increased its population from 136,025 in 1911 to 168,000 in 1916, being a gain of 23,975 or nearly 20 per cent in five years. For the ten years, 1906 to 1916, Winnipeg shows an increase of 74,822, or more than 50 per cent.

In Saskatchewan, Regina leads with 22,113, although a decrease of 4,108 has taken place. Both Saskatoon and Moose Jaw show material gains since 1911.

In Alberta, Calgary still stands first with a population of 65,333, followed by Edmonton with 53,762. Of the population of the latter 12,400 represents that of the former city of Strathcona, now municipally part of the provincial capital. In 1911 Strathcona had a population of 5,579 and in 1906 one of 1,660.

FRANCE EMPLOYS 1,000,000 WOMEN

Remarkable Increase in Female Help Aid Comforts Provided Rest Rooms, Nurseries and Other Conveniences Established For Women Workers

Paris, Oct. 17.—The employment of feminine labor in the factories and industries devoted to the production of war materials has increased enormously of late. M. Albert Thomas, minister for munitions and artillery, is advocating an even more extensive employment of women, both in state and privately-owned war industries.

It is largely due to feminine labor that the crisis in munition production, which last year seemed serious, was so quickly overcome. In July, 1916, about 800,000 women were employed in munition works and similar industries. Since then the number has rapidly increased. It is, of course, not possible to give figures at present, but at a rough calculation, taking into account every form of war supplies, more than a million women are now occupied by state or private enterprise.

M. Thomas is greatly in favor of increasing this number and has requested that women who are in charge of war industries to discharge all workmen who are doing work which could be as well accomplished by women. The system of recruiting women workers, which obtains in state industries, for its fundamental rule that precedence be given to widows of men who have fallen in battle, to their daughters, and finally to women whose husbands are mobilized, and this rule is generally followed by private industries.

Every sort of work is performed by the women and in certain branches of munition work they have almost completely ousted the men. Thus a recent ministerial circular provides that practically the entire process of turning out shells, ranging from the 75-millimetre to the 120-millimetre calibre inclusive, be confined to feminine labor. As a rule the handling of shells over 120 millimetres is found to be too heavy for women, but there is one who is able to tackle a 150.

Generally speaking, expert work which requires months of apprenticeship, is still carried out by men, but the ordinary routine labor, which can be learned in a few days or even a few hours is now mostly given to women. In Marseilles, Toulouse and Bordeaux special schools for teaching women the mechanical part of war industries have been opened and are turning out hundreds of competent workers whose training does not generally exceed a week. Whenever a woman takes over work previously accomplished by a male worker, she is entitled to the same salary.

Everything has been done to perfect hygienic conditions for women workers, dressing and rest rooms being at their disposal, besides heating apparatus for warming their food. In some factories nurseries have been arranged, where mothers can leave their infants while doing their work, and by a recent circular the minister of munitions has recommended that these be adopted everywhere, and that all possible measures be taken to relieve women workers from over-strain. The results obtained from feminine labor have fulfilled every expectation. Work inspectors express themselves as highly satisfied with their new employes, whose production aroused the enthusiastic admiration of the British experts when they visited French munition works last year.

SAILOR LORD AND SOLDIER RETURNS TO CIVIL LIFE AGAIN

Winston Churchill, the versatile journalist, soldier, statesman, has had a variable career during the present war. He started out in the important job of first lord of the Admiralty. After his famous alleged dispute with more "technical" admirals than himself, he resigned and stepped down to a much lesser seat in the Asquith cabinet. Later he resumed his commission in the army (with which he served in the South African war) and joined his regiment in France. After serving at the front for some months and spending his "leave" at the House of Commons, he finally retired from the

WAR CABLES OF LAST NIGHT

London, Oct. 17.—The British government will not make any official representation to the United States concerning the German submarine U-53 pending an announcement of its attitude by the American government, said Viscount Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs in the house of lords today. In reply to a question concerning the attitude of the United States toward British patrols, Viscount Grey said that the United States admitted that British ships were not exceeding their legal rights under international law, but that the American government complained of their presence on the ground of irritation which the continued presence of belligerent warships off the coast of the United States naturally caused in a neutral country. He declared that the United States had requested Great Britain, very emphatically, not to patrol off its coast, and said that instructions were sent to the British ships to avoid any unnecessary irritation and to comply as far as possible with the American protest.

London, Oct. 17.—Volynia, Galicia and Transylvania are still the points where the heaviest fighting is taking place. In Macedonia the hostilities have been confined mainly to patrolling engagements and artillery duels. Bad weather has set in throughout the Austro-Italian theatre, and with snow in the mountains and rain in the valleys little fighting of moment has taken place. In Transylvania the Rumanians, fighting near the border passes, continued to tenaciously hold back the Austro-Germans almost everywhere. In the Usual Valley they have driven the invaders back across the Rumanian border.

London, Oct. 17.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Athens says: "The situation appears to be dangerous. There have been royalist demonstrations in the streets." Admiral Du Fourquet, commander of the Entente Allied fleet in the Mediterranean was hissed, and a detachment of French sailors was driven back by a hostile crowd. "A procession of some 4,000 malcontents, headed by the Greek and American flags, stopped outside the American legation, protested against the landing of foreign marines, and demanded the protection of the American minister, who was absent. "The demonstrators then paraded the streets, singing the Greek national anthem."

London, Oct. 17.—The British official communication, issued this evening says: "Today we have bombarded enemy positions in the neighborhood of Neuville-St. Vaast, Wytchate and northeast of Ypres. South of the Ancre there was considerable artillery activity on both sides. "The clear weather yesterday gave scope for great aerial activity. Our machines made a large number of reconnaissance flights in the air, in which three enemy machines were destroyed and another machine was driven to earth and many others were dispersed. Two enemy kite balloons were attacked and forced down. One afterwards was seen to be in flames. "One of our machines was brought down by anti-aircraft gunfire, and six others have not returned."

London, Oct. 17, 6:21 p. m.—An indication that the government does not intend to have recourse immediately to conscription in Ireland was given in the house of lords today by Earl Derby, under secretary for war. In reply to a question, he said that, pending a decision on the whole question, he would make an appeal for voluntary recruiting in Ireland, to which he hoped there would be a worthy response. Herbert L. Samuel, the home secretary, announced today that in view of the restrictions on lighting on account of raids and in order to economize on coal, the government purposes ordering all shops to close at 7 o'clock in the evening in the winter, except on Saturdays, when the time for closing will be 8 o'clock. The order goes into effect on Oct. 30, and does not apply to the sale of intoxicants.

In reviewing the measures the government has taken with regard to meat and wheat, Mr. Runciman said every effort was being made to increase available tonnage for imports, and that the admiralty had agreed, in many instances, to do with a smaller number of vessels. In conclusion, the president of the board of trade said there would be no extension of the principle of rationing, and that the government had no intention of putting the country in the position of a blockaded city.

LAST SESSIONS OF CONVENTION

Maritime Baptist Gathering Closed Last Evening

Five-Year Programme

Comprehensive and Ambitious Scheme of Work Laid Out—Reports on Various Activities Submitted

The maritime convention of the United Baptist church was brought to a close last night after a lengthy and busy session. The leading educational standards for the programme yesterday were foreign missions and a marked advance in the work, in spite of war conditions, was shown. A forward step was taken by the adoption of a five year's programme outlining definite plans for increasing the scope and efficiency of the work of the church.

Rev. W. D. Wilson, secretary of the Maritime Baptist Convention, reported on the work of the committee on temperance during the past two years. The report noted the great advance along temperance lines during the past two years.

The report noted the very drastic regulations of the Russian army regarding the use of intoxicants.

Mr. Churchill's address recommended that the convention use its influence for the enforcement of all laws.

His address recommended a five year programme to be used to secure the repeal of the Scott act in New Brunswick in all places where it is now in operation in order to bring the new prohibitory law into operation.

Third, that we protest against the wet canton and run rations to all Canadian soldiers in the king's uniform.

Fourth, that we support only such men for public office as shall stand for the strict enforcement of laws looking to the suppression of the liquor traffic.

State of Denomination. The Rev. R. Osgood Morse presented the report on the state of the denomination. This report was read and it is necessary to understand the conditions under which the local church does its work to properly estimate the efficiency of the church. For this purpose a study of statistics was made showing of the churches comprising the convention last year.

The total membership is 61,979, a gain of 61 during the past year. There were 1,716 baptisms in New Brunswick, 1,111 in Nova Scotia, 824 in P. E. Island.

TRYING TO DEFEND LILLE DEPORTATION

German Admit They Blundered But Steps Necessary Because of Shortage

London, Oct. 17.—Dr. Hoffrich, the Imperial Vice-Chancellor, defended the German deportation from occupied territories before a committee in the Reichstag, says a Reuter despatch from Amsterdam. He said the labor problem was most pressing in face of the scarcity of labor in Germany and the government was unable to renounce labor from occupied territory. There could be no question, he said, in the utilization of unemployed labor, even in the interest of the occupied territories themselves. Of course, International Law had been observed, but passive resistance could not be tolerated and German action must be regarded in the light of a war necessity.

Dr. Krieger, director of the Foreign Office, also contended that the employment of the population of Lille was in accordance with land war regulations. As Germany was unable to export foodstuffs hitherto, he said it was necessary to exploit the agricultural ground in the occupied territory, and since the municipalities could not be voluntarily induced to furnish labor, the military authorities were obliged to interfere. He asserted there might have been unavoidable blunders, but the legality of the measures is incontestable.

THREE DEATHS FROM INFANTILE PARALYSIS IN WESTMOUNT REPORTED. Montreal, Oct. 17.—Four cases of infantile paralysis, three of them having resulted fatally, have caused considerable consternation in Westmount, where the kindergarten school was closed today in consequence.

Rev. Simeon Spidle, Ph. D., for the committee on religious education in public schools, reported that a movement looking to the securing of credits for work done in the Sunday school or the home on the work of the public schools.

The report recommended the appointment of a committee to confer with like committees from other religious bodies on the matter.

Rev. H. H. Beale reported for the committee on the Baptist College in Europe. The report expressed the opinion that the idea to establish a college in Europe was of God. In view of present conditions it was not deemed wise to press collections. The amount of the fund in hand is $114,429, deposited in the Bank of Nova Scotia drawing interest. Also interest, $88.72.

The evening platform meeting was in the interests of foreign missions. President Wilson presided. Rev. G. W. Schurman read the scripture, and Rev. J. W. Manning, D. D., a former foreign mission secretary, offered prayer.

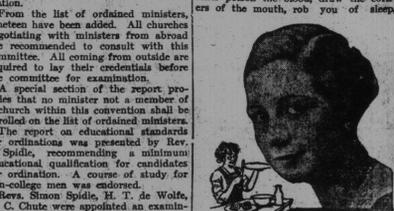

Rev. W. A. McKenzie spoke on the work of the A. P. B. Society. Mrs. Thomas Hill told of her work in Africa; Rev. H. E. Stillwell described the advance of missions in India and Rev. R. C. Freeman reported for the committee on resolutions.

HALEY & SONS' MILL DESTROYED BY FIRE

St. Stephen, N. B., Oct. 17.—Haley & Sons' lumber and planing mill was totally destroyed by fire this evening, together with thousands of dollars worth of lumber. Fire was discovered in the southwest corner of the main building in the glue room, about 6:30 o'clock, and in a few minutes the whole west end of the building was a mass of flames.

As there was a strong northwest wind blowing towards the lumber yard the fire was quickly picked up the great piles of lumber there. Two C. F. E. cars on the siding filled with lumber for Haley & Sons were also burned. The engine and boiler rooms, which are of concrete and practically indestructible, were saved, these parts of the machinery being valued about $10,000.

Haley & Sons' plant was valued at about $100,000, and is practically a total loss, with $55,000 insurance. Haley will rebuild and in the meantime they will run their Calais box and jammer mill day and night to fill their orders.

have a Back ache and feel so weary

Your kidneys are overworked. They need the strength and tone that Dr. Cassell's Tablets can give.

Restoratives—not Drugs

Backache is evidence that your kidneys are weak, that there is not sufficient vital force to keep them properly active. Drugs in such a case can only irritate. It is strength that is wanted, and that strength must come from the living battery of vitality we call the nervous system.

That is why Dr. Cassell's Tablets are so unobtainably effective in the cure of backache and other results of kidney weakness. They nourish the nerves and nerve-centres, replenish the vital reserves, and so restore health to the kidneys by supplying that vital force upon which the activity of the kidneys and of every other bodily organ depends.

DR. CHAR. FORDHAM, F.R.S., F.R.C., etc., a well known English scientist says—"I have tested Dr. Cassell's Tablets and can conscientiously recommend them as an entirely safe and effective remedy for nerve and bodily weakness, for anæmia, indigestion, and many forms of stomach and kidney trouble."

Endless Chain Is The Latest Hyphenate Election Scheme

Arms Embargo Organization's Activities Now Centre in New York; Newspaper Man Now High Mogul; Promoters Offer to "Turn Their Vote" to Presidential Candidates

New York, Oct. 16.—How a working newspaperman has risen within a few months from the ranks of the toilers to the dizzy eminence of the position (with salary and perquisites) of general manager of the American Commerce Protective Committee of the American Embargo Conference, Inc., is described in the most recent exposure by the New York World of hyphenate activities.

Will R. MacDonald, whose operations as promoter of the American Arms Embargo Conference were made public last April, when an attempt was made to create a congressional stampede in Washington, by sending thousands of letters and telegrams to representatives, has established for his organization an elaborate suite of offices in the Temple Court Building at No. 4 Beekman street. Formerly his headquarters was in Chicago.

Under the direction of Lieut. Schelle, described as a member of the German imperial navy, four young women were employed in sending from MacDonald's headquarters a large amount of literature which is a part of a country-wide propaganda to defeat political candidates who fail to accept the doctrines prescribed by the organization's backers.

The Society Councils

While the conference to all outside appearances is carrying on its campaign independently, its higher councils are shared with the American Truth Society, the German-American Alliance and the Irish-American Alliance. In the German club rooms, where the accredited representatives of the Kaiser's government frequently meet, MacDonald and his associates hold their secret conferences.

Unhappily by any lack of funds, the work of perfecting the organization has been proceeding rapidly. An effective endless-chain system has been established, to reach the greatest possible number of voters, and delegates have been called into convention at Detroit and Chicago to form plans for the actual instruction of the members concerning the presidential candidate acceptable to the leaders of the propaganda.

From reliable sources The World says it has learned that the promoters of the conference offered to "turn their votes" to the support of President Wilson on condition that he accept the principles adopted at the last convention held in Detroit September 8. A similar proposition, it is understood, was made to the leaders of the National Republican campaign committee, but both organizations refused to entertain such negotiations.

When the enrolment of members had proceeded to such an extent that it was possible to send a good proportion of delegates to the Detroit convention, Hughes was proposed as the logical candidate, but a suspicion developed that if elected he might be "an anti-German president."

Arrangements were made to hold a secret meeting of the leaders of the Embargo Conference, the American Truth Society, the German-American Alliance, and the Irish-American Alliance, in the privacy of Harmonic hall, a German assembling place in East Detroit, there followed an intimate debate on the Hughes-Wilson situation.

Among the speakers who urged a unanimity of action and the selection of a candidate who could be trusted to uphold the principles as accepted by the

SAYS FARMERS SHOULD BE PRAYING MEN

Observations by Carleton County Paper on Crops and Prices

(Hartford Observer.)

"Never saw so many turnips in my life." "Where do they all come from?" Such are common ejaculations these days. This may not go into history as "the year of the big turnip," but it will go on record as a year of lots of them. The general public was not aware that Carleton and Victoria counties had become a turnip producing section until the market opened and they commenced to come—thousands of barrels a day! One day four car-loads were hauled to Hartland and at every station from Quebec to Grand Falls they were loading as fast as an army of men could work.

Probably the two counties are shipping an average of ten carloads a day, by far the most of them going to the American market for table use. The Potato Products Co., of which H. H. Hatfield is chief past, will soon commence exporting turnips at the Woodstock plant—that is, if ever the price falls low enough to make it profitable.

Today turnips bring seventy-five cents a barrel, and a piece of land producing 800 bushels to the acre. Don't have to hoe 'em, weed 'em or sprinkle 'em. Only use 500 pounds of fertilizer to the acre. Plant the seed and when the plants appear too thick pull out the weakest ones and feed them to the hogs and cattle. The rest of the crop is ready for market. The stock feds on the tops and the farmer feds on the easy money. Sure easier than swinging a sledgehammer, or piling lumber, or adding figures in a stuffy office, or standing behind a counter whittling forelegs. Just as easy as running a newspaper—and a great deal more of it.

But what of the hogs that fat on turnip tops? Last week James McIsaac of East Florenceville loaded into a refrigerator car at Hartland the carcasses of more than 100 hogs for which the farmer got 18½ cents a pound. The hogs were fat as butter, and goodness knows what Jim got. Round pork at 18½ cents is some price all right. A few years ago this journal quoted it at 9½ cents and the farmer hauled it over frozen roads all the way to Florenceville. There is big money in hogs and they enrich the farmer.

There are probably 100 car loads of potatoes passing through and out of the two counties every day. While most of these are sent to the States, one county, a large portion of them were grown in the St. John Valley. The price here is $2.50 a bushel, while there would be good money in them for half that price. A larger proportion of this crop is being stored in the field than ever before. Most farmers consider the price good enough, although all are housing a part of their crop, for potatoes are sure to be higher later on.

There seems to be no activity in the oat market in spite of the alluring price of forty-five cents. If, as it appears, oats are being sold and more grain fed, the sign is a good one.

Buckwheat meal, the one-time staff of life in this section, and which used to bring eighty cents a hundred weight, is today quoted at $3, which brings pancakes to somewhere around a cent apiece.

What of the humble hen? Years ago eggs commonly dropped to six cents in summer, and it was a rare season when at Christmas time the price was high as 25c. Farmers' wives used to commence in August to "pack eggs down to hold for twenty cents." Now the price doesn't go down to twenty cents and this week you've got to pay thirty for them—and later on thirty-five and forty cents, or go without. The old hen herself brings a big price. Chickens sold for eighteen cents a pound early in the season, but the price is getting down to where people can afford to use them for food—about thirteen to fifteen cents a pound. Used to sell years ago for seven cents.

This country doesn't produce as much butter as it should, but the quality is par excellence, as a rule. The price now, however, is below twenty-two cents and the farmers have no difficulty in contracting with city customers at the year-around price of twenty-seven cents. The price today is twenty-seven to thirty cents. Most customers are willing to pay a higher price for priors that bear the maker's name. Less than twenty years ago a local merchant bought tons of packed butter for twelve to fourteen cents a pound and the quality was so vile that he was glad to sell it to a soap maker at the same price he bought it for.

The big stix has not yet commenced in hay. There will be twice the quantity shipped than there was last year and the price is likely to be good.

Beef cattle are scarce and high. The farmers should produce more of this commodity.

The season for lambs is about over. The live animals brought $5 to $10.00 to $2. An unsolved mystery is why all our farmers, instead of comparatively few, do not raise sheep.

Beans are bringing $5 a bushel!

There is a good market for anything that can be grown if the article can be furnished so as to fill a car. Carrots are being shipped.

So busy were the farmers with their potatoes, turnips and hogs that many neglected to plant pumpkins and cabbage, so that it is not unusual to see a farmer drive home with these in his wagon—bought from a grocer.

In spite of the war—possibly because of the war—times for the farmer were never better. He is getting prices "beyond his wildest dream of avarice." True, commodities he has to buy are high, also, but not higher in proportion to what he is getting. Two years ago he sold five barrels of potatoes for a barrel of a barrel of flour. Today he can trade five barrels of potatoes for a barrel of flour. Two years ago he got a pound of cream of tartar for a barrel of potatoes that will today bring him five barrels.

Living under such beneficence the farmers should all be praying men and Christians.

Backed By Germany, Is Charge.

While this investigation was pending, Senator Hastings, in the Providence Journal that the conference was being supported by the Imperial German government through its local agent, Dr. Heinrich Albert. This was denied by MacDonald and his associates, who said that the money was furnished by wealthy members who were opposed to the policy of sending war materials to the Allies.

The Federal investigation, it was learned, terminated rather suddenly. One branch of the department of justice had not even begun to look up the affairs of the concern when instructions came from Washington that nothing further was to be done.

The conference at the time of its first attempt to influence Congressmen had its main office in Chicago. From the headquarters there emanated, according to estimates of congressmen, about 20,000 "peace telegrams" to all members of the House of Representatives.

Soon after the government took official notice of the activities of the conference, a re-organization of its directors of record was accomplished. Col. Darr was retained as president, MacDonald became manager.

Moves to New York.

The Chicago office, after the readjustment of the organization, was kept as a branch and MacDonald moved to No. 4 Beekman street, New York.

After the Chicago and St. Louis conventions MacDonald suddenly began to expand his "business." He took possession of the big offices he now occupies and installed in them new mahogany furniture. MacDonald began to travel extensively.

In the middle of last August MacDonald launched his "endless chain" propaganda. He sent out thousands of letters informing voters that at the suggestion of one of their friends he wished to forward to them a supply of protest letters, which we are distributing to our friends, with the request that they forward them to their congressmen at Washington.

To this he added: "We would more than appreciate your doing this and in this way joining with us in the campaign that we are making to keep the United States first in the minds of all Americans."

It is unnecessary to call your attention to the insolent manner in which Great Britain is ignoring our Nation's rights, how our mails are seized and rifled; how Red Cross supplies intended for the wounded in Europe are held up on New York piers, and how American citizens attempting to carry financial relief to the suffering citizens of Ireland are barred back by the British authorities."

MacDonald, during the last month, has addressed many letters to club-men and members of lodges who are of such standing that they may control elections. When a reporter finally found the office occupied by MacDonald and his staff he was met by Lieut. Schelle, who volunteered the information that the manager had gone to Chicago to attend the convention arranged by the conference there.

One of the close associates of MacDonald, who asked that his name be withheld, said that MacDonald is in complete charge of the organization and that none of those who are in the "inner circle" question anything that is done by the general manager.

Senator Hastings, in asking to have the veil of mystery drawn away from the conference, declared that the "poisonous" purpose of this and other anti-American propaganda should be exposed." Then he added:

"It is high time for the people who are being duped to realize the fact, that the mask should be torn from the faces of those who in the interest of peace are endeavoring to stir up division and insurrection in their own country."

MEN OF THE OLD NO. 4 SIEGE BATTERY IN FIGHTING IN THE WEST

Gunner Cecil Johnston, formerly of the Canadian Drug Company, and now with the old No. 4 Siege Battery writes very interestingly to his brother, William, of some of the activities of that unit, now under a different number. Cecil and Charles, brothers, are in the same battery. Writing in part he says, "Yes, we are catching it pretty stiff just now as the biggest drive of the whole war is on and is progressing favorably with us. For a time today it was just equal to cast and wrought iron.

LOCAL NEWS

POLICE COURT.

The names of four prisoners charged with drunkenness appeared on the police sheet this morning. The magistrate fined all the usual amount, $8 or two months in jail.

Kenneth Ross was in court on the charge of assaulting William J. McKewen, in Sheriff street. The complainant was called by Court Sergeant Hastings, but failed to reply to his name. The case was in consequence dismissed.

CHARLES CLARK

The death of Charles Clark occurred on last Friday afternoon at his home in Queens county. He had been in poor health for some time yet news of his death came as a shock to his many friends at home as well as in this city. He was sixty-three years of age and leaves his wife and one son, Wesley, at home, Isaac H. of St. John, and one daughter, Mrs. Lewis Akley of Adelaide street. Funeral service was held in the Upper Wickham "United Baptist church on Sunday afternoon.

The Man In The Street

Yes, it does feel like fall. Sounds like it, too, when the morning papers announce another rise in the price of coal.

The yawning bin where the winter's supply of anthracite should be looks bigger than ever with prices above the $10 mark.

The work of the recruiting sergeants must be getting more difficult if they find it necessary to establish a shell-proof dugout in King square.

When the MacLean installation is fixed up why not try something easier? It should be a soft job to round up a full battalion of Smiths, for instance, unless, of course, all the Smiths have gone already.

If one little comment in this column can arouse such ire in the editorial pages of the morning government organ, we hate to think of the awful results if we were any more frank.

The Joy of Anticipation

After the pupils had returned to school last week, a teacher asked her class to write a composition on Thanksgiving with some of their reasons for gratitude. After laborious efforts a small boy handed in the following gem: "Thanksgiving day was a holiday. One thing I am thankful for is that Thanksgiving day was a holiday. Another thing I am thankful for is that the next holiday will be Christmas."

In Self Protection?

"Young unmarried men of Cathedral parish organize," says the morning paper. "Who should they worry? Leap year is almost over."

Did He Have a Heart?

Talking of leap year reminds us of one side of a telephone conversation overheard last night.

The young woman approached the instrument, called a number and then: "Is that you, Mr.?"

"Have you a heart?"

This sounded interesting, especially as it was followed by the coy inquiry: "Well, then, have you a tongue?"

But no, dear reader, this was an effort to clear the way for a leap year proposal; subsequent proceedings indicated merely that it was the caller trying to order something for lunch.

HIS BIRTHDAY SPENT IN HARD FIGHTING

Geo. Bloomfield of Hampton Writes Home From British Hospital

Pte. George Bloomfield of Hampton, writing to his mother, Mrs. G. Bloomfield, tells the Sunman of September 16. Pte. Bloomfield, now in the Brook War Hospital, Woolwich, England, having been sent there owing to foot trouble. Writing in part, he says: "I am very thankful to get back in England now. I was in the Somme fight of September 16. It was hell let loose. Our battalion was nearly wiped out. I have got another fellow to thank for being here. I was in what they call a bayonet trench. There were two Germans, I was alone. I had disposed of one and the other was just in the act of going for me with his bayonet when one of the fellows of our platoon noticed me and shot the German. When we were coming out of the trenches a big shell burst near us, killing five.

This wrecked my nerves and with my feet in a very bad shape I was ordered to see the doctor and this letter finds me in England.

"I was out there 17 months and have been in four big engagements. I shall not forget my birthday, June 14. We went over that night. I had some very hard presents thrown at me. It was at the same place where Bill Hansen was killed. The old battalions have been made over again and again with new men. There are not many of the old ones left. I have got a German gold watch and a few other things I shall hold until I come home. I am sending home a shoulder strap from a German's coat.

HAROLD A. ALLISON AND MISS GANDY WED

A wedding of much interest took place in St. Paul's (Valley) Church, this afternoon at four o'clock when Miss Thirza Geraldine Gandy, daughter of Mrs. and the late Barton Gandy, became the bride of Harold A. Allison. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Daniel of Rotherham, cousin of the bride, in the presence of a large number of relatives and invited guests.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, G. E. Chester Gandy, looked charming in a dress of white satin, with a train, which was worn by her mother on her wedding day, and carrying a shower bouquet of cream roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Mabel Forde, who wore a pretty dress of pale yellow silk with green and lace trimmings and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Little Miss Zoe Paterson, as flower girl, wore a pretty white dress and carried a basket of chrysanthemums. Frank Allison of Montreal, brother of the groom, acted best man. The ushers were Lieut. Carroll Cudlip, Lieut. Royce Timmerman and Deane and Arthur Gandy.

Following the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's mother, 37 Wright street, where a dainty wedding luncheon was served and a reception tendered the newly wedded. This evening they will leave on a bridal tour to several of the principal cities in the United States. Returning they will reside in Wright street. They were the recipients of a large number of magnificent presents, including cut glass, silver and household effects.

COACHMEN REPORTED.

In the police court this morning five local coachmen were before the police magistrate upon complaint of I. C. B. Policeman Scovell Smith for overstepping the bounds of their stand at the Union depot upon the arrival of trains.

The coachmen were Frank Donnelly, Ernest Sharkey, H. A. Cronin, William Sharkey and Robert Beckwith. All with the exception of Sharkey pleaded not guilty and their cases were set over until Friday morning.

Policeman Smith swore that on the nights of the 12th and 13th upon the arrival of the Boston train, each of the five defendants had gone beyond the rail in their eagerness to secure passengers. Upon application of the coachmen, who wanted to secure witnesses, the cases were set over until Friday.

Elijah Stewart and Jacob Jacobson were reported for driving over Newman street in a motor car, for driving faster than a walk. Both men pleaded guilty and a penalty of $20 was struck against each but allowed to stand.

USE THE WANT AD WAY

"We have a chap in the flying corps here who is called the 'Mad Major.' The reason of this is that when he goes out he flies so low, and he goes so low over the trenches that he shoots the Germans in their own trenches. Recently he took up a 100 pound bomb with him and flew over their lines, came down within 400 feet, dropped it on one of their great big howitzers and blew it all to pieces."
