THREE AGREE AS TO POLICY RE GERMANY

France, Italy and Belgium Confer and are in Accord

German Workers at Krupp's Killed in a Clash With French Soldiers—Getting More Coal Out of the Ruhr—Report of Socialist Parliamentarians.

(Canadian Press)

Brussels, March 31.—There is complete accord among the Italian, French and Belgian Governments concerning their attitude toward Germany.

This official announcement was made last night after a conference by King Albert, Premier Theunis and Foreign Minister Jasper.

Albert, accompanied by his daughter, Princess Mary Jose, will leave for Italy today, ostensibly to meet Queen Elizabeth, who is returning from Egypt by way of Brindisi.

Berlin, March 31.—Six German workers at the Krupp plant in Essen have been killed and twenty injured in a conflict with the French military, says a Central News message from Essen today.

The trouble occurred through the French unexpectedly proceeding to occupy certain of the Krupp Motor Works, whereupon the workers stopped the machinery and went outside to offer opposition, the message states.

The officer in charge of the French tried to persuade the men to return to duty but they refused and surrounded the troops, threatening them with attack, unless they would withdraw.

The officer pointed out that he must carry out his orders, but the workers were obstinate, declaring they would defend their plant.

Four machine guns then opened fire, adds the message, and six workers fell dead, while twenty were seriously wounded. The remainder scattered and the French then proceeded to occupy the works.

Essen, March 31.—The Government owned coal mines at Besenclappe in the Gelsenkirchen district, were occupied today by French engineers, escorted by a detachment of troops with tanks. This is the ninth mine in the Ruhr taken over by the French and Belgians. Thirty thousand tons of coke and great piles of coal were seized.

Brussels, March 31.—Belgian official circles are gratified over what they consider the growing improvement in the exploitation of the Ruhr, saying that coal shipments now amount to 8,000 tons daily and will reach 6,000 tons daily by April 15, thanks mostly to resumption of shipments by water.

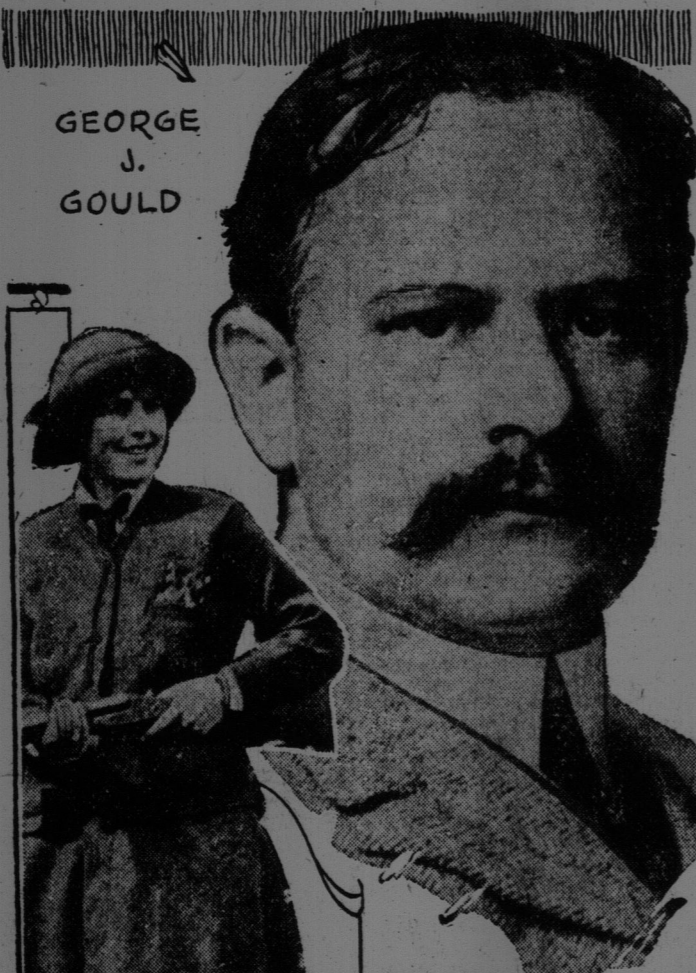

The Rhine-Herne Canal, which the Germans obstructed by sinking the ship, will be reopened for traffic on April 15.

Paris, March 31.—A delegation of Socialist parliamentarians from Great Britain, Belgium, France and Italy who recently visited Berlin to confer with the leaders of the German Socialist Democratic party regarding the settlement of the Ruhr controversy met yesterday and listened to a report of their visit written by a French Socialist Deputy, Vincent Auriol. They then placed on record their agreement with the stand of the German Socialist Democratic party, discussed the problems of the Ruhr occupation, reparations and security for France, and put the finishing touches to draft resolutions which the delegates will submit to their respective parliamentary groups.

These groups will deliberate on the eventual course of action to be taken and then acquiesce in the British Labor M. P. with their findings, and it will be the duty of Mr. Shaw to call another meeting of the parliamentarians.

George J. Gould Dying At Nice; Wife And Her Children Are With Him

GEORGE J. GOULD

MRS. GEORGE J. GOULD

Nice, France, March 31.—Hope for the recovery of George J. Gould, Sr., of New York, stricken with pneumonia at his villa here, has been given up and his death is expected to occur at any moment.

News of his critical condition was first received in this country in a cablegram to his daughter, Mrs. Carroll Walworth, with him at Nice on the schooner R. Borden, Captain Williams, Oporto for St. John's, which had run short of water and provisions. The Kyle sent the needed supplies. On Thursday evening a steamer met one from the Carleton club on the West End ice and played sixteen ends to a 13-13 tie. The rink was as follows:

Thistles—Dr. Stevenson, Frank Watson, A. J. Machum, H. A. Stubbs (skip).

Carleton—V. Joyce, D. Currie, Jas. Mitchell, C. O. Morris (skip).

Two sheets of ice were kept going yesterday when a few of the Thistles visited the West Side rink and played in mixed team as follows:

V. Joyce, Geo. Scott, J. Mitchell, C. O. Morris (skip).

P. Belyea, Dr. Pendry, Samuel Irons, W. J. Currie (skip).

As Hiram Sees It

Well, sir, said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, 'who'd ever believed some water runnin' over a dam or through a sluice down to Musquash could turn a town upside down that's fourteen mile away. Too bad—ain't it? Here you been gain' along nice an' pleasant an' payin' fifteen cents a kilowatt fer lights—an' along comes this here Musquash water an' brings the price so low that the big taxpayers is scart half to death. I guess you'll hev to open up them dams an' let the water run along the way it used to run. Then you kin all get together an' put on a drive to raise money to pay the dividends on that there five million dollars for the Power Company. You could hev a tag-day, too, fer a good cause like that. The little taxpayers 'ud be tickled to death to be ast to help the big taxpayers in savin' that poor, onfortin', hard workin' Power Company that's done so much fer the town. When I think about it I need an extra handkercher—By Hen!"

Found Dead With His Throat Cut

Spanish Priest Had Just Been Nominated for Promotion to be Bishop.

Madrid, March 31.—Javier Vales Falide, nominated by King Alfonso to become Bishop of Sion, which includes the patriarchate of Occidental India and the chaplain generalship of the Spanish army, was found dead in his room yesterday. His jugular vein had been severed with a razor.

It is asserted by his friends that difficulties had arisen relative to his nomination, which was recently sent to the Vatican for approval. The prelate was confessor to the Spanish King and Queen and was a great favorite among his colleagues. He was born at Lalin, near Pontevedra, and was the author of many works, especially bearing on Galician emigration.

London, March 31.—A despatch to the Times from Madrid says the room of Bishop-elect Falide was in disorder with numerous papers strewn about it. The priest lived with his mother and brother in an apartment outside the royal palace.

Returning from the royal palace, on Thursday he complained of being very tired and went to bed. When he did not answer the call of the servant yesterday morning, members of the family broke in the door of his bedroom and found him dead. A theory that he had committed suicide is scouted by friends.

Start Work an Hour Earlier

French Statesman's Plan to Circumvent Daylight Time Operations.

Paris, March 31.—Minister of Public Works Le Troquer has devised a scheme to circumvent the rural operations of summer time and put it immediately in effect in spite of the opposition.

He proposes to advance by one hour the schedules of railroad street car omnibus systems, as well as the time for opening and closing the government offices, including the post offices. The minister has called a meeting of representatives of the railroads, the various transportation companies, and the hotels, to consider ways and means of putting the plan into operation.

More Typhoid in Cochrane

Cases in Ontario Town Now Number 492—Sewage in the Water System.

Toronto, Ont., March 31.—Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, chief health officer for Ontario, said last night that the typhoid outbreak at Cochrane was growing worse, twenty-eight new cases having been reported in twenty-four hours, bringing the total number of cases reported up to 492. Public health nurses and doctors are being sent from here.

Trouble is due to the subsidence of the level of the lake by six feet, which has caused sewage normally three feet below the surface to be drawn into the town's water system.

EASTER GREETINGS TO THE VATICAN

Pope Prays for Resurrection of a Suffering World to Hope and Brotherhood.

Rome, March 31.—Easter greetings are pouring into the Vatican from all parts of the world, and it was said there today that the Pope had been greatly touched by the expressions of devotion and confidence that had reached him.

His Holiness, it was added, said that his current prayers at the sacred Easter Mass in celebration of the resurrection would be for the resurrection of the suffering world to hope and brotherhood. That peace and comfort might come to all mankind, and that especially to those who are suffering because of the world's sin.

His Holiness, it was added, said that his current prayers at the sacred Easter Mass in celebration of the resurrection would be for the resurrection of the suffering world to hope and brotherhood. That peace and comfort might come to all mankind, and that especially to those who are suffering because of the world's sin.

THE RESURRECTION

He comes triumphant Who, a moment back, Gave up His life upon the cruel cross! He, for Whose momentary death, the sun Was sheathed in blackness, and the frightened earth Shuddered, that man could do such ghastly wrong.

Weakness, to think to seal within a tomb The power of Heaven, centred in one Man! Within a narrow tomb to seal a Love Divine; a love all strong, all powerful! Time came when that All-power should manifest itself: The tomb, the seal was naught! The Word of Heaven walked the earth again In form of man; in form of God on high. Glory upon the brow where thorns had been! Almightly strength within the arm, the form That had experienced death's agony.

He comes triumphant at the Easter tide. We feel His coming in the living air. Light to the soul, and strength and joy and peace. Ever He comes. Even while men debate On His Divinity, and this and that. He dwelleth ever in the human heart.

NO GENERAL STRIKE IN C. B. ON APRIL 1

What May Happen After That is Problematical.

Speech of Roy Wolvin Before Sydney Board of Trade and Demand Made for an Inquiry by Government.

(Canadian Press)

Sydney, N. S., March 31.—While there will be no general strike of Cape Breton miners and steel workers on April 1, according to positive statements made last night by both U. M. W. headquarters in Glouce Bay and by officials of the steel union in Sydney, it was intimated at both places that what may take place after the first of the month was largely problematical.

Openly expressing its contempt for what it terms the imitation Fascisti, Phalen local of the U. M. W., yesterday issued a public challenge to the Sydney Board of Trade to come out to New Aberdeen and there begin its avowed purpose of stamping out the "red" element in Cape Breton.

Paul McNeill, secretary of N. S. steel union, and J. B. McLachlan, secretary of U. M. W., District 26, have issued a statement to the effect that some three weeks ago, Roy Wolvin, president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, addressed a closed meeting of the Sydney Board of Trade and that they have been reliably informed that he said to the Board of Trade members that it was up to them to drive the radicals out of Cape Breton or he would withdraw his capital from this island and allow the grass to grow on the streets of Sydney.

They demand a thorough investigation by the Government into the speech delivered by Mr. Wolvin. Among those in touch with the whole situation it is realized that the danger is not over, but may merely be postponed. The uncertainty regarding financial support from union headquarters in Cincinnati is said to have something to do with the immediate inactivity of the steel workers.

Colonel Eric MacDonald, head of the Provincial Police, arrived yesterday morning with twenty-seven constables. The men were in civies and carried no arms or equipment of any kind. They were taken to temporary barracks within the barb wire guarded premises of the steel plant and there they will be uniformed, armed and drilled. Colonel MacDonald is said to have received reinforcements daily until his unit was up to strength and that he was trying as far as possible to enlist only ex-service men or men with previous police experience.

"CONFESSION" OF WILSON DOES NOT STIR THEM MUCH

Former Evangelist, in Prison, Declares He Can Solve the New York Bomb Explosion.

New York, March 31.—A report from Los Angeles stating that Herbert Wilson, a former evangelist well known throughout Western Ontario, convicted of murder and charged with robbery, had told the police he could solve the Wall street explosion mystery. Scrutiny, 1920, today was received differently in various quarters.

"Bunk," pronounced Chief Willingham of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. "Interesting, if true," commented officials of the Burns Detective Agency here. "Bunk," echoed William J. Flynn, former chief of the Department of Justice. The report of Wilson's confession emanated with the Los Angeles Times, which published a story today quoting Wilson as having confessed to county officials and postal officials there to whom he sold the bomb that sent it to a man who has been charged with the guilty knowledge of the crime, but never prosecuted.

Wilson was represented as having reformed with the hope of "reward" and as being anxious to clear up activities of numerous crimes his name has been associated with. He said he recognized the photograph of a man arrested in Warsaw as that of Max Wolfe, an individual of the same name to whom he sold the bomb that sent death to thirty and caused considerable property damage in the financial district when it was exploded.

New York police officials expressed their belief that the bomb "confession" made by Wilson was a ruse to stay the execution of his sentence for murder.

It was reported today at the General Public Hospital that William Stoddon, who was injured in a railway accident on Thursday, was doing very well. His arm was amputated above the elbow. The condition of Joseph Milan, who was hurt on Thursday by a falling crate of automobile parts, was said to be about the same at the Infirmary today.

A CORRECTION In an editorial in today's Times reference is made to a delegation going to City Hall on "Saturday." It should read "Thursday."

H. M. MacCallum, recently appointed assistant general passenger agent, Canadian Pacific Steamships Ltd., began work with the company as clerk in 1904.

Island Pond, Vt., March 31.—With their vision obscured by a blinding snowstorm, the engineers of a C. N. R. switching train and a freight failed to realize the presence of each other and the trains crashed head-on here. William Johnson, 27, of Richmond, was killed practically instantly when he was thrown off the engine and his skull fractured. Johnson was fireman on the freight No. 1019 and while the tender was thrown off the track the cars remained in place and nobody else was injured.

ONE DRY; THREE FOR LICENSE

Mansville, Q., March 31.—Since the recent referendum in Missisquoi County resulted in a majority in favor of the repeal of the Scott Act, licenses have been taken in various districts on by-laws calling for the issuance of licenses for the sale of beer and wine under the Quebec Liquor Commission.

Phillipsburg voted against issuance of licenses, but Bedford voted "wet" on Thursday by a majority of forty-two. There were 220 votes cast. Cowansville also voted in favor of a license by 117 to 48. St. Armand likewise voted "wet."

TO GO TO OTTAWA FOR RURAL CREDITS

Toronto, March 31.—While rural credits have been established in several provinces by the governments, the system is not working out to the entire satisfaction of the Canadian Council of Agriculture and because of that the problem will now be put up to the Federal Government to see if Canada can establish some system of federal aid, such as in force in the U. S., Australia or New Zealand. With that end in view, a resolution was adopted at yesterday's meeting of the C. C. of A. to the effect that the Dominion Government be urged to introduce at the present session of parliament a measure to provide adequate rural credits on the long term farm loan basis.

SPECIAL CONCERTS IN IMPERIAL BILLS

Orchestra and Special Artists in Bi-Weekly Programmes—A Charming Innovation it Promises to Be.

The spring season promises to be enlivened with a series of musical programmes which Imperial Theatre arranged this week. The first of the programmes will be rendered between shows Tuesday evening and the second one Thursday evening.

The coming week the programme, which is expected to be from a half hour to forty-five minutes duration, will consist of three numbers by the Imperial Concert Orchestra and several solos by Mr. Lawrence of Montreal, a favorite baritone of the Canadian metropolis who is in winter-port work here and temporarily a member of Trinity choir.

Among those engaged to be heard in connection with subsequent concerts are Mrs. S. Kent Scovill and Miss Bezi Blouch, whose two-piano recitals have created so much favorable comment.

The idea back of this plan is to give St. John's musical culture general public outlet and not confine it to groups and church sections. As non-theatrical endeavor to present it to its own people will be duly appreciated.

The Slater Shoe.

The name "SLATER" is that of one of the oldest and most successful shoe manufacturers in Canada, synonymous in this country with SHOES of Quality. Lately we have had to announce the failure of the George A. Slater, Limited, Ontario street, makers of the "Invictus Shoes," and today we believe it our duty to call the attention of our readers to the fact that this firm although it bears the name of Slater, has however nothing in common with the old Slater Shoe Company of 105 LaTour street, which for the past sixty years has manufactured the shoes that have made the name "SLATER," famous all over Canada and abroad.

OVER THE WIRES

Frederick W. Burnham, a New York contractor, who was shot in his office on Thursday afternoon, died yesterday in a hospital without regaining consciousness. Miss Helena Zeigler, who shot him and then turned the revolver on herself, died in the office. The death sentence recently imposed on Archbishop Zepiak, head of the Roman Catholic Church in Russia, was commuted on Thursday to ten years' imprisonment under strict isolation. The appeal of Vicar-General Butchkevitch for clemency was denied. As the result of a train traveling at seventy miles an hour striking an automobile at a grade crossing near Columbus, Ohio, yesterday, a woman and her two small children, occupants of the automobile, two members of the train crew, one passenger and a negro who was riding "blind baggage," are dead and fifteen are in hospital suffering from injuries. When the engineer saw the automobile he applied the brakes so quickly that the cars bucked and catapulted from the rails.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 31, 1923.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

An unheralded delegation went to City Hall on Saturday afternoon to urge the City Council to delay action in regard to hydro until there had been more parleys with the New Brunswick Power Company. It is true the speakers endeavored to explain that it was not the old Power group but a new one with which the City would have to deal. This, however, is not impressive. A change made now in the directorate could be followed by another change, and the capitalization of $5,100,000 would still be there to clamor for interest and dividends.

The situation is not changed by a change in negotiators. There were some familiar faces in Saturday's delegation. If the advice of some of them had been taken the City would be so tied up to the New Brunswick Power Company today there would be no hope of cheap light and power. The people, however, asserted their independence and chose cheaper light and power, with the certainty of still further reductions as soon as their distribution system is ready; and they have also the knowledge that no company can ever increase the rates at their expense for its own profit.

In view of the popular verdict it is rather surprising that any group should attempt to go over the people's heads and use the City Council to defeat the people's will. They were very well answered, however, by the five commissioners, and the fifth Com. Thornton, vice the people or whom he will succeed Saturday, the popular vote on hydro the majority in its favor would be far larger than it was when the Fisher platform was endorsed. It is that platform the members of the City Council have to keep in mind, and not the appeals of those who would destroy the effect of the hydro policy.

But why did Saturday's delegation go to City Hall? It is not on record that any group of "large taxpayers" has ever gone to City Hall. The New Brunswick Power Company appealed to it to relax its grip on the throat of the City. Nor did Saturday's group have any offer from the Power Company. It had only a rumor that the Company would sell its distribution plant to the City. This is old stuff. The Company made that offer last December, but made it only in general terms. The City Council has never received a definite proposition relative to the Company's distribution system, nor did it get one on Saturday. In spite of this, however, the delegation achieved its purpose. With the help of Com. Thornton it gained delay. The other Commissioners voted for the bond issue asked for by the Civic Power Commission, but Com. Thornton voted nay. He held up the work.

Why should it be held up? The Power Company is not coming to the Council with any proposition the latter can accept. Encouraged by the attitude of some citizens who want the will of the people defeated, its terms, if it offers any, will be exorbitant. But delay will also serve its purpose, and if it can get the City Council into a long parley over terms it will be highly pleased. So long as it can get any reputable citizens to turn calamity howlers it will hope for results satisfactory to itself, and especially so long as they can be kept going to City Hall instead of to its headquarters.

Com. Thornton now has the centre of the stage. He cannot do it speaks for the people if he votes again in opposition to the bond issue. The people have declared their purpose, and declared it with increasing emphasis when they endorsed the Fisher platform.

HON. MR. FOSTER ON HYDRO. Hon. W. E. Foster gave the enemies of hydro something to think about when he discussed the subject in the legislature on Thursday. Dealing with the Musquash development, he showed that the yearly cost will be more than met by the receipts, while the people will be getting the full benefits of cheap light and power. That is a business proposition which the people will endorse and recognize as one of the highest value to the Province. Mr. Foster made short work of the sectional cry that only the southern part of the Province gets the benefit. Inasmuch as the southern part of the Province will pay the bills, the other portions do not suffer, and a beginning had to be made. The Government wisely decided to begin where there was a market and no risk. Its next step in the development of its policy, which it undoubtedly is taken at Grand Falls, where it could not begin until the International Paper Co. lease expired. Mr. Foster found it necessary also to refer again to the misrepresentation of the Opposition in regard to the price. He pointed out that a price had been offered and declined, and that now the courts will fix the amount to be paid. That the Province will pay, and not one cent more. The picture Mr. Foster drew of the effect of cheap light and power not only upon industrial expansion but upon rural life and in the homes of the people was not overdrawn, and he might well express satisfaction if his name as Premier when the hydro policy was introduced should be forever associated with the policy.

THE LIQUOR ISSUE.

No argument would seem to be necessary to prove that the chief essential in the enforcement of prohibition is to reduce as fast as possible the supply of liquor in the province. No matter how well guarded the supply imported and sold ostensibly for export may be, its existence is a menace, and there is certain to be a leakage. To deny this is to fly in the face of common sense. Why, therefore, have any such source of a possible supply for violators of the law?

An attempt has been made to create the impression that in regard to prohibition this newspaper has been seeking to embarrass the Government. The Times advocated prohibition before the law was enacted. Since the enactment it has advocated law observance and enforcement. Its policy has not changed. Because it accepts Premier Venlo's assurance that he desires rigid enforcement of the law it points out to him and his Government and the Legislature what it believes to be essential to such enforcement. It holds, and believes the position to be unassailable, that so long as the province receives more revenue from liquor than the legitimate sale for medicinal, sacramental and industrial purposes would warrant, it is a partner in the traffic which it has made unlawful. This journal also holds that no plea of financial need can justify a Government in regarding as a large revenue producer a traffic which the people have so emphatically condemned; and it sincerely hopes the majority of the members of the Legislature share its views. Since every member is there in a representative capacity, and is under an obligation to make effective the laws upon the statute books, until the people have clearly signified a desire for their amendment or repeal, the question is not for any of them one of personal inclination or opinion, but of plain duty. The will of the people is paramount. The same responsibility that rests upon members of the Government is upon every member of the House. Moreover, the observance and enforcement of the law is a matter in regard to which every citizen of the Province owes a duty to the community. If there is a provincial partnership in the prohibited traffic, every citizen, whether willingly or not, is a shareholder.

Toronto Telegram: "Discussing immigration matters in the Legislature on Wednesday, Major A. W. Gray, member for Leeds, voiced a note of alarm at the number of Canadians leaving this country. In his own constituency, he said, seventeen young Canadians of the very best type had left for Detroit in the last six months. He was opposed to any grant of money for immigration purposes at the present time because it was not in the interests of the province to bring in new comers when unemployment was rife and so many excellent citizens were leaving for the United States."

Only 1,004 immigrants settled in this province last year. Put over against that the number who moved out of the Province to other parts of Canada and the United States and the comparison would be very far from gratifying. Hon. Mr. Foster is right. We need capital, we need hydro development, and for the farmers we need markets and lower freight rates. If anyone will tell us how to solve these problems, that of immigration will be greatly simplified, and the migration of our own sons and daughters will be lessened.

REFORMS BANQUET (Toronto Globe) "The Good Old Times" for which elderly people sometimes sigh, had some points that would not be approved nowadays—such as long, dreary banquets. It is not many years since the toast list at even the most local banquet was at least 15 or 20 speeches long. Evidently it was based on the theory of "no offence, there were not some people who could not possibly be overlooked. Their place as select local orators had been established for a generation, and the local banquets had recognized their old jests and stories as a permanent part of local entertainment.

The Prince of Wales indicated the change in a recent address at the dinner of the Royal Caledonian Schools, when, after referring to the inaugural dinner in 1815, where, according to a contemporary report, "convivial happiness pervaded every person present," he said: "We often talk of 'the good old times' and it is said that the younger generation are sadly inferior to the generation of old. As one of the younger generation myself, I have always objected strongly to this theory, but when I see that the toast list in 1815 contained no less than 21 speeches, I begin to wonder whether we are, perhaps, quite the men our ancestors appear to have been. (Laughter.) I notice, too, that the Duke of York quitted the chair a little before midnight, and was succeeded by the Duke of Sussex, who kept up the conviviality of the evening for some considerable time. I do not propose to detain you quite as long as that."

BEAUTY AND THE—BRUTE!

His Play—I see by the papers where in the U. S. alone the women spend $75,000,000 a year for lip-sticks and rouge and stuff to make themselves look like dolls—beauty culture, I believe the smooth phrase is. Bah! Too bad women wouldn't have some sense; too bad they wouldn't take a glance at the pages of history. Yes, history! They would find that all women who have ever amounted to anything were plain, often ugly in appearance. And they would find, too, that most of the women who captivated the men of great mind and dazzling genius were plain. Catherine of Russia was homely as a hedge fence, Queen Elizabeth had a face that would have stopped a clock;—think of that, and don't buy any more Pink Lilac perfume.

Her Counter-Play—Ridiculous! If you're of the women who spend $75,000,000 a year for ads to grooming, I wonder how many silly men spend on face massages and hair oil in the barber shop and I wonder how many millions tip the pretty manœuvre girl half a dollar? And I wonder whether it is millions or billions that you men spend on tobacco and chewing gum and—oh, well, let's keep to the subject. I know that whenever I have peeped into history that there have been mostly beautiful women who figured in the big events. You've heard of Eve, haven't you? Her good looks were quite a little trouble in Eden, you remember. And seems to me two beauties named Louise and Josephine worried Napoleon more than the rest of the world; and what about Mary Pickford and Mary Garden to come down to this day. They are not exactly unknown to the world, are they? The Referee—She wins with pitiful ease. (Copyright John F. Dille Company.)

A SONG OF FAITH.

Day will return with a fresher boon; God will render the world a new world; Night will come with a newer moon; God will remember the world!

Evil is only the slave of good; Sorrow the servant of joy; And the soul is mad that refuses food Of the meanness in God's employ.

The fountain of joy is fed by tears, And love is lit by the breath of sighs; The deepest griefs and the wildest fears Have holiest ministries.

Strong grows the oak in the sweeping storm; Safely the flowers sleep under the snow; And the farmer's heart is never warm Till the cold wind starts to blow.

Day will return with a fresher boon; God will render the world a new world; Night will come with a newer moon; God will remember the world!

I do not propose to detain you quite as long as that."

Dinners are being shortened in this country, and for the country's good. Probably the absence of stimulants has hastened the reform, as there is not the same lure for extending the toast list for those who "take it strong."

Moreover, the luncheon clubs, like the Canadian Empire Rotary, Kiwanis and others, have worked on a rigid time schedule, and this must have operated to organize and restrain even the greatest of speakers.

For evening dinners a set speaker or two with a real message is chosen, and if there is any prolonging of the proceedings the reform, as there is not, there is a reckoning for the chairman later on. A few days ago the chairman at a noon meeting in a western Ontario city, as the time limit arrived, took his watch from his pocket and placed it significantly in front of the speaker, thus ending an important speech on trade matters.

On the Crusade Against Vice By FINLEY PETER DUNNE.

"Vice," said Mr. Dooley, "is a creature of such heinous men, as Hogan says, that th' more ye see it th' better ye like it. I'd be afraid to enter upon a crusade again vice fr' fear I might prefer it to a varchous life."

"Th' city iv Noo York, Hinnissy, sets th' fashion iv vice an' starts th' crusade again it. Th' ivybody else takes it up. "We're in th' mist iv a crusade now, an' there isn't a pollman in town who isn't thremblin' fr' his job. "As a people, Hinnissy, we're th' greatest crusaders that ever were fr' a case iv vice. On a quarter mile thrack we can crusade at a rate that wud make Hogan's frind, Godfrey th' Bullion, look like a nab. "But th' trouble is th' crusade don't last after th' first sprint. Th' crusaders drops out iv th' procession

"Besides a horse show or th' football games or something else excitin' diverts th' attention an' wud day th' boss crusader finds that he's alone in Sodom. "Vice ain't so bad after all. I notice business was better iv twinty minyits ago. Sure ye right," says another. "I haven't sold a single pink shirt since they closed th' fare games," says he. "The theatre business ain't what it was, wud they was more vice," says another. "This ain't no Connecticut village," he says. "An' th' no use thryin' to intrajoose secondary legislation in this impetuous American city," he says, "where people come pursued by th' sheriff fr' ivy corner iv th' wurrald." He says, "I can't make laws fr' this community that wud suit a New England village," he says, "where," he says, "th' people are too unwhilved to be immoral," he says. "Vice," he says, "gives a long way tow'd makin' life bearable," he says. "A little vice now an' then is related by th' best iv men," he says, "who's a fellow, anyhow, interferin' with th' liberty iv th' individual, an'," he says, "makin' it hard to rent houses on th' side streets," he says, "who's a fellow, anyhow, interferin' with th' liberty iv th' individual, an' th' best th' rayformer gets out iv it is to be able to escape fr' town in a wig an' false whiskers. "An' there ye are, Hinnissy. Th' crusade is over an' vice is rampant again. I'm afraid, me head, that th' finds iv vice is too strong in this wurrald iv sin fr' th' friends iv varchue. An Audience With the President of China

BY ALBERT R. CARMAN

Peking—President Li Yuan Hung received me in private audience in the Winter Palace within the Forbidden City of Peking. This is a very unique honor. I mention this feature of the affair quite freely because it was not an honor due to any merit of mine—a casual travelling journalist—but because I was called to me because I had a powerful friend at the Chinese Court. My friend is "Ferguson of China," easily the most influential foreigner today in China a Canadian boy of whom I want sometime to tell you. He had arranged this "audience" by virtue of his personal influence with the President at a period when no Chinese official had much time to spend on strangers; for Canton was in the midst of a very mixed military make, Peking itself was full of intrigue, and the disturbing China New Year was at hand.

"Does he speak English?" I enquired faintly. "Not a word," said Dr. Ferguson. "I'll see you through." And as my friend talks Chinese like a native, I dismissed the whole business from my mind. I could see easily what would happen. It wouldn't matter what I said. Dr. Ferguson would say right thing to the President and tell me the answer—and what to pretend to say next. But as the Ferguson motor-car passed the saluting sentries at the great gate into the Forbidden City—because of a special insignia which only few cars of high officials carry—my friend remarked: "No, I shall not go in with you. The President has his own interpreters; and they would leave it too much to me if I were there."

RECENT DEATHS

James Barry.
At the age of 67 years, James Barry passed away on Thursday evening at his home in Waterloo street after illness of some months. With his death there ended a life marked by much activity in society and political circles, more than a quarter century of good service as a public school teacher and principal and a further twenty years of excellent record in the civil service. A good schoolmaster, a kind friend, a platform debater willing and well able to assert his views as a sturdy Liberal; an ardent champion of Irish rights, prominent in the work of the Cathedral and societies of the parish, Mr. Barry filled a large place in the life of the community, particularly in the years prior to his appointment to the federal position he held. In the home circle he was the devoted head of his household and in the wide circle of his acquaintanceship he was an entertaining figure.

Mr. Barry was born at Melrose, Westmorland county, and educated at the Sackville Academy and St. Joseph's College, Memramcook. He came here in 1877 and taught school where St. Malachi's Hall now stands. The great fire destroyed the building. Mr. Barry then went to Normal School and returned with superior license to be appointed principal of St. Malachi's school in 1879, there to remain until 1902 when he was appointed inspector of weights and measures in the Federal Department of Trade and Commerce here. About ten years ago he was promoted to be district inspector for New Brunswick.

He took early interest in Catholic societies and had been president of the Father Matthew Association, Irish Friendly Society, Irish Literary and Benevolent Society and the Holy Name Society of the Cathedral. He was also a member of the Y. M. C. I. He was interested in sport, a member of the Shamrock Baseball Club of a good many years ago and also liked horse racing. He was a staunch Liberal; a

External Treatment With Vaporizing Salve is Best

Some children seem to take one cold after another—never have a chance to build up any strength. This is apt to make them puny and delicate—just sets them back for months.

Many St. John mothers are finding that they can break up a cold best with Vicks Vapo-Rub, the externally applied salve. While it acts like a liniment or plaster, it is also inhaled as a vapor, and so gets into the throat and lungs immediately. The cold is often broken up overnight.

Vicks is prompt, too, in croup and equally good for skin hurts and itching.

Mrs. Wm. White, 44 Sebastopol St., Montreal, Que., writes: "I find Vicks splendid. I used it for headache and sore throat and also used it on baby for bronchitis and when I called in the doctor he said it was the best thing I could have done. I have recommended it to others and they have used it. I apply it freely to the affected parts and leave it to do its work."

At all drug stores 40¢ a jar. For a free test size package, write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P.Q.

Though Vicks is now in Canada, it enjoys a remarkable sale. Over 17 million jars used yearly.

ward chairman for his party, a valued platform speaker and a doughty champion for the cause he espoused.

It was tribute to his standing in matters educational that when the revision of Butler's Catechism was decided upon the work was left in the hands of the late Rev. Dr. A. W. Meahen and Mr. Barry by the late Bishop Sweeney.

Mr. Barry was the last member of his own family to pass away. His only surviving uncle is James Barry, of Mealy, father of Dr. J. M. Barry of this city. Two first cousins, P. G. Mahony and Sister Mary Patrick died recently.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Mary McElrath, of Cross Creek, Kings county, and to whom he was wedded nearly forty-four years ago; two sons, John A. Barry, barrister, and P. Edmond Barry, railway mail clerk, both of St. John; and one daughter, Miss Nora Barry at home.

One son Arthur, and two daughters, Augusta and Helena, died before him. Those bereaved have the sympathy of many friends in their loss. The funeral will be from 121 Waterloo street on Monday morning at a quarter to nine o'clock.

It's Time to Think of New Spring Clothes

New Fashions Await You Here! Each one reflecting the best of the new style tendencies. This store cordially invites your inspection of recent modes. Many garments have the oriental motif as their theme.

Frocks—with the Printed Vogue Prominent

All sorts of frocks await you here. For afternoon wear you will notice many of the new crepe weaves fashioned from plain material or in smart combination with some of the novel Persian patterned Silks. For street wear, heavier materials such as Poiré Twills and Tricotines, are strongly favored and are seen trimmed with rows of plain black braid or enlivened by touches of exotic embroideries. For sports wear, dresses of sponge and light weight homespuns in soft pastel colorings are altogether attractive. For use in warmer weather we have assembled a variety of handsome printed silks, voiles and "crashy" materials sure to meet your approval.

Coats—Many of Them Loose and Wrappy

Exceptionally lovely and a little more dressy than usual are the new coats. Wrappy styles predominate and are fashioned from soft velvynes, velours and other such effective fabrics; many times elaborately embroidered with self or contrasting color. Sports modes are plainer and are showing in serviceable tweeds and camels' hair effects. Whether your need is for an all around, serviceable coat; or a model of the most dressy kind. We feel sure our present stocks will offer the wanted variety. Prices are lower than you suppose.

Suits—Some with Three Pieces

Tweeds and camels' hair effects are among those generally accepted for everyday and business uses. When a dressy suit is wanted the three piece suit is called for. The extra garment in this case is a very smart costume blouse in shade to match or harmonize with lining of coat. These dressier suits are fashioned from fine Poiré Twills and Tricotines; sometimes plain, other times profusely embroidered in self or contrasting color. Box coat and jacquette styles are being highly favored and are as becoming as they are youthful. Of course, there are more conservative styles too for matronly figures.

An Audience With the President of China

of tea were served. Fortunately I kept my hands off mine. At once I felt that I could talk to this man quite freely of anything that came into my mind...

He said that it was due to "militarism" - which was, by the way, precisely the answer I had got to the same question from Dr. Wu, one of Sun Yat Sen's chief supporters...

President Li defined "militarism" as the far too great and costly military activities of the military Governors. They kept armies mobilized to attack each other and defy the central government...

By this time, we were getting on so well that I thought I would venture on the delicate subject of our Canadian restrictions on Chinese immigration. The ice was a bit thin, perhaps, but I had skated all over it in India with complete safety.

"Canada is quite right to keep out Chinese laborers, Canada does not need Chinese laborers, for she has plenty of laborers of her own. But Canada does not need Chinese laborers, for she has none of her own. This she would be very foolish to deny herself the advantages of receiving Chinese laborers just because she does not need Chinese laborers."

If you will read that last paragraph carefully and get its full import, you will have the key to much of Chinese policy toward the outside world. President Li was thinking of Canada precisely as the Canadian mission thinks of China. He was concerned for the moment solely with our side of the question - not at all with any wounded susceptibilities of the Chinese. He was suffering from the cause of our restrictions. It was wholly a matter of what would be good for Canada.

He went on to say that, of course, "China did not want to lose any of her own people - that she would want to keep them as a home for her own people. Just as well have suggested to a Canadian missionary that Canada wanted to keep her people at home. The missionary would say: "Yes, but China needs missionaries more than Canada does."

The only difference is that President Li feels that he can be giving out of her measureless abundance while Canada feels that she is sparing as much as possible out of her poverty. Yet that is precisely the angle from which I had intended to discuss this question which seemed delicate to me, but not a bit to the President. The difficulties being wholly economic and not to the smallest degree racial, etc., etc., but the President's physical nature for these phases of the question and harked back at some length to his theory that Canada needed scholars - and so he does in the Chinese sense of the term.

We often wonder how it is that a nation of four hundred millions submits so tamely to be trampled by a few and generally ordered about by comparatively little nations from Europe and America - and even by the Japanese, whom the Chinese most heartily despise. We say it is because the Chinese cannot fight, though "Chinese" Gordon could have told us better.

They may have no patriotism, no cohesion, no self-respect - though no one more highly esteems himself or his special type of civilization than a Chinese gentleman.

We never think of the explanation in a Chinaman's serene confidence in his own unchallenged superiority. That that is very likely where it lies. What does the display of superior force mean to him? Only the temporary triumph of a ruler person who will very soon be conquered by and eagerly adopt his superior and more cultured Chinese civilization. The Mongols came and conquered him; and then he conquered them - because Chinese. The Manchus came, and were swallowed in the same fashion. The Japanese, he believes, got all their culture from him. So why should these other barbarians from Europe and America be any different? They may have more physical force for the moment, but presently they will bow - as all barbarians have bowed in the past - to Chinese culture, learning, philosophy and art. China has only to wait.

But you mustn't imagine that I thought of all this while watching President Li's fine face light up from time to time with a smile as he caught the meaning of my latest question from the interpreter. I had begun to wonder rather when and how I should go. The President showed no sign of terminating the interview, as is the custom and privilege of rulers. Yet I knew that he was terribly busy with his far-reaching and highly explosive problems. I felt that I could not trespass any longer; but could I dismiss the President of four hundred million people?

I wished with all my might that I had thought to ask John Ferguson about this. In the end, I took a middle course.

I did not rise to go but I confined my last remark to warm thanks to the President for receiving me so kindly and talking of great questions so informally. He acknowledged this with a smiling bow, and I rose. We all three bowed and then the President shook hands cordially. Western fashion. The interpreter walked half-way across the apartment, and then turned and again exchanged bows with the President. Once more at the doorway we all three bowed and a moment later we were bowing the other way to officials awaiting in the ante-chamber the conclusion of the Chinese reception. John Ferguson and I went home by the Southern Sea - the last of the three artificial lakes that decorate the Western side of the Forbidden City. We crossed it, and we crossed it in a frozen ice-boat as the Dowager Empress used to do in the old days when she formerly lived in the Forbidden City. It was to its name, when no foreigners penetrated its mazes or revelled in its beauties, and when the Manchu Empire had not yet fallen.

William Stack, a car inspector of the C. N. R., while attempting to load a car at Quebec, fell rigidly upon the track and had his left arm so badly crushed that it was found necessary to amputate it at the hospital. He was formerly in charge of the Y. M. C. I. bowling alley, and many friends will sincerely regret to learn of his accident.

C. P. R. officials here claim that there will be no change in their plans for summer sailings to and from Montreal and Quebec because of the war ward spirit. There was a report current that some of the sailings for the St. Lawrence had been cancelled and the steamers would call here.

BOOK REVIEWS

"The Crime of Being Clean"
By H. A. Cody.
In the April number of the New York "Bookman," the following brief notice is given of a recent Canadian novel:
"The Bells of St. Stephen's—Marian Keith. One of those nice, sweet, innocuous products that Canada (outside of the Province of Quebec) exports so profusely to us."
What a sneering note is detected in these few words. The writer apparently resents Canada exporting clean, wholesome books into the United States. And yet what a tribute to Canadian authors. How thankful we should be to the Canadian books as a rule are "innocuous" and "sweet" and "beautiful words to all whose vision is not sadly distorted. But with the soul of the sex novels, prefers, perhaps, the pig-sty to the niceness of a garden with its sweet flowers. Such a person may follow his desire, and wallow in the sex novels, and books of that type. But the Canadian public as a rule demand clean, wholesome books. Such writers as Marian Keith, Ralph Connor, Sir Gilbert Parker, Robert Stead, L. M. Montgomery, Nellie McClung and others, write clean books; and anyone reading their works need not be ashamed to give them to his sons or daughters. That is the high standard we wish to maintain, and any critical, censoring countries might do well to follow our example. In a recent number of a leading New York literary paper a certain book was highly commended. The reviewer says in passing: "It is intense beyond bearing. It reeks with sour brutality of truth. It is a novel that will be decreed, sneered at, ignored, consigned to the puritan but its bitter honesty lives on every page." The heroine of the book is the hero's mistress, "his master and inspiration, a blowy, this and that, she gives her body to his art and sells herself that he may live and create. Beneath her repulsive flames, high woman's faith in man. She is hideous, terrifying in her pathos."
Such a book is highly commended by the reviewer because of its reality and portrayal of truth. But why serve up everything that is real? Would we want the filth of our streets served up on our breakfast table because it is real and true filth? Certainly not. We know where such stuff belongs, and for the safeguard of our homes destroyed. If we are so careful of our bodily health, should not the minds and souls of a community be safeguarded? The whole matter might be summed up in a few words—encourage Canadian authors to continue their production of clean, wholesome books and place a ban upon the importation of the unclean and degrading novels, magazines, and moving pictures. What people read is either strength and inspiration, or it is a subtle poison of far-reaching effect.
Ermynate and the Curate
Many books have been written about the Great War, and it has provided themes and incidents for literary treatment by innumerable writers. There is an almost hideous sort of fatigue in perhaps a bit jaded, to be revived in later years in the generation now coming up; but there are some books which seize the imagination and command the attention of readers because there is a definite purpose behind them, and because the pictures they present have an almost hideous sort of fascination for those who have viewed war only through the eyes of others.
Such a book is Ermynate and the Curate by A. M. Cogswell, published by Edward Arnold & Co., London. Two men, one a teacher and the other a curate, were in the war, and this book deals chiefly with their experiences in an English labor corps at a base depot near Boulogne. The reader sees them and becomes acquainted

C. P. R. Brakeman Killed in Fairville

Ralph Peterson, a C. P. R. brakeman, was almost instantaneously killed yesterday morning when a freight car of a train on which he was working passed over his body. The accident occurred about 2.30 o'clock in the Fairville yards and there were no witnesses of the tragedy. Howard Cunningham noticed that Peterson's lamp was not visible, and on investigation, he discovered the body beneath the train. Life was extinct when Dr. Y. D. Davidson arrived. Coroner F. L. Kenny viewed the body and the following were sworn in as a jury for an inquest—Edmund Howard, Fred Johnson, George Hazelwood, George Hennessy, David Hagerly, Bedford Knight and Harry Bell.
Peterson was fifty-four years of age and had been a railway man for twenty-five or thirty years. Yesterday he told his landlady that he had a very narrow escape from death or serious injury on Thursday when his clothing was caught on a hook.
The ground where he was run over was clear of snow or ice and it is regarded as extremely puzzling that he should have lost his footing. Peterson's aged mother, Mrs. Athenis Peterson, Prince street, West End, survives him. Living with her is one sister, Lydia. Two brothers also survive—Ernest, 300 Guilford street, W. E., and Walter, East Calgary, Alta. One married sister, Mrs. Frank Dykeman, 45 Watson street, W. E., also survives. The funeral will be held from Brennan's rooms Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

MOTORS
And Their Care

A Rust Preventive.

Apply a small quantity of graphite over the surface of wire spokes and nuts to keep them from rusting.

Care of Spark Plugs.

Do not clean the spark plugs with mery cloth. It scratches the porcelain, and plugs collect carbon faster afterward.

Emergency Braking.

When the brakes refuse to hold when stopping the car, switch off the ignition, engage lower gears and the clutch, using the engine as a brake.

Tire Sizes Should Be Alike.

Never use a fabric tire on one side of the car and a cord tire on the opposite wheel. Because of the difference in sizes, there is a constant wear on the differential.

Clean the Muffler.

While the muffler on most cars is in a most inaccessible position, this part should be taken off occasionally.

Holds 1/2 Ton!

When you fasten fixtures or shelving, use Rawlplugs and the screws will never loosen. Rawlplugs save plaster walls and facilitate attachments to cement, brick or any other material.

Rawlplugs are handy about the house and easy to use. The hardware store has your Household Outfit for $1.00.

before backing, the driver will swing part way into his space and then steer out again. This puts the rear wheels nearer the curb.

Precautions on a Grade.
Leaving the car in gear when parking on a hill is not sufficient protection against its coasting away. Low compression in the cylinders will allow the weight of the car to turn over the engine. This occasional jerking of the machine may be sufficient to force the shift lever into "neutral." Always use the emergency brake, too, and point the wheels in toward the curb.

Use Cotton to Cover the Wires.
Electric tape is not the best material with which to patch leaky insulation on the high tension wires, as it is loosened by oil getting on it. This is because oil dissolves the rubber compound which makes it stick. Use ordinary cotton tape to tap up the break in the insulation and afterward apply shellac liberally. This does not look so well, but makes a more satisfactory repair.

Testing Quality of Oil.
The practice of draining off a little of the crankcase oil to examine it and decide whether all the oil should be discarded is not good. The heaviest portion of the oil naturally goes to the bottom, and as the drain plug is always at the bottom of the crankcase, the oil the motorist drains off is no index of the general condition of the lubricant. The best plan is to make the test after the engine has warmed up, drawing off about a quart. If it is in excellent shape, and if no fresh oil is handy, it can be poured back.

It is easier to buy a used car than to sell one.

Carelessness causes three-fourths of tire troubles.

When properly aligned, front wheels are not exactly parallel.

A short circuit is often caused by wires becoming oil or water soaked.

Pack universal joints with grease after every thousand miles of running.

Spinning the wheels in mud or on slippery road surfaces grinds off the tire treads rapidly.

The cost of repairs to the full-floating axle is usually less than for the line axle, because the former is more accessible.

Lack of oil will cause piston rings to cut the cylinder walls, causing a leak, which in time will usually break the rings.

To check the speed of a car when descending a wet hill, use the engine as a brake, by shifting to second or low gear and leaving the clutch engaged.

Before applying new grease to the universals, first remove the grit and old grease with kerosene.

The operating cost for heavy automobiles is approximately 2 1/2 cents per mile, and 1 1/4 cents for light cars.

The rim-nut of the valve should always be driven up tight, or dirt will work into the shoe and cut the tube.

A knock, due to overheating, will be noticed on a hill, but it also occurs on level roads. It is accompanied by steam from the radiator.

Henry Appleby, 128 City road, superintendent of the McLean, Holt & Co. Ltd. foundry, suffered a painful accident on Thursday afternoon while on duty at the foundry. One of the most prominent businessmen of the Southwest is Ed Overholser, president-manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Oklahoma City. He has spent thirty-two years of his life in serving the people of Oklahoma without compensation, save that of sincere gratitude. Talking about his father, who was equally well-known in that part of the country, he says, in Forbes Magazine (N. Y.):

"My father always insisted that the only excuse for dishonesty was the full and free confession that you were supervising, the only limit was the capable, honest organization it could build up. The best executive I have ever known was the man who realized that he could not possibly know it all, but who had the ability to find the man who did know and to secure the information from him, and then had the moral courage to draw his own conclusions and stand by them."

"But we were always divided upon one question, and as I look back I can see that we represented two different schools. My father was never satisfied unless he could attend to the most minute details himself. On the other hand, I have always contended that for the mind capable of planning and

DEAN OF WINDSOR
SPEAKS ABOUT
UNITED STATES

Sails for Home Impressed
With the "Violent Contrasts" in America.

New York, March 26.—The Very Rev. Albert Baillie, Dean of Windsor and chaplain to the King of England, who has been lecturing here, sailed for home last week on the White Star liner Megantic, carrying with him the impression that the United States was a land of violent contrasts. Notwithstanding these diversities, which were among the difficulties he found in understanding this country, America meant something real to him. He said he believed in the future of this country, not because of its wealth, but because it was growing in nobility of thought.

"I do not profess to understand America or to be able to analyse her faults or qualities, but she has come to mean something very real to me," said Dean Baillie. "Experience soon reveals the amazing diversities of American life and begins to suggest that though the background of life is different in kind to that of European countries, it is as real and vital. This first impression is largely due to the way Americans talk to foreigners in New York and Boston and other places where there is much intercourse with Europe. The diversities in different parts of the country are astonishing. New York and Virginia are as different as Paris and Vienna. Chicago and Boston are London and Edinburgh. Who would confuse in memory the Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions.

Greaseless, stainless "Hair-Groom" does not show on the hair because it is absorbed by the scalp, therefore your hair remains so soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it. Not sticky or smelly.

Chicago, full of civic pride and an almost barbaric self-assertiveness, with the gaiety and joyousness of Virginia, whose delicious, harmonious, caressing voice gives it such an unforgettable charm? Who could confuse a village community of Scottish Highlanders in Carolina with country life in New England?

To analyze American life all such diversities must be studied besides the great mystery of the West, which is every day asserting itself more insistently in American life.

There is one element of which I have only touched the fringe and that is the great mass of manual workers.

There you touch the great undigested diversity of endless races who must be absorbed before American nationality is completely formed.

"But these diversities are not the only difficulties in understanding America.

"It is the land of violent contrasts. In no land is there a class so unblushingly given to the worship of Mammon, but in no land have I found so many men simply and wholeheartedly sacrificing opportunities of wealth and power to serve their country—or help their fellow men in laborious work without reward or even recognition. In no country is there such prompt reaction to pure idealism. In no country is there such blatant vulgarity and yet no country has such exquisitely elaborate refinement. No country has such tender, affectionate home life. No country has such arrogant conceit and yet no country has such shrewd, almost cynical, insight.

Believes in Our Future.

"But my experience has taught me to believe that while the weaker side is blatant and obvious on the surface, it is the nobler qualities which are growing with a steady wholesome growth.

"Yet with all these diversities America has a unity, complex and full of variety. It has a personality, and that personality is very real to me. The predominant feature is kindness. In my mind the American face which has formed itself out of countless faces that I have watched, has always kindly eyes. The mouth is sometimes hard, the chin sometimes tells of almost ruthless pushing through to success, but the eyes are kind and this kindness reflects in the endless kindly courtesies with which American social life is full.

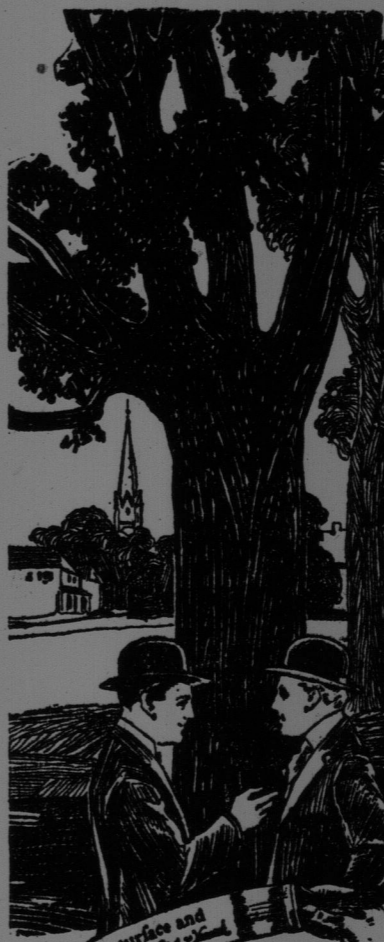

"So I believe in the future of America, not because of its wealth and power, but because it is growing in nobility of thought and sending out a youth worthy to be entrusted with the work of dealing with the problems of the coming age."

The Megantic, following its next trip, will go back to Summer service between Montreal and Liverpool.

BIRD'S ROOFS

A Roof of Beauty and Economy

Bird's Asphalt Slate-Surfaced Twin Shingles made in three attractive non-fading colors—red, green and blue-black—will lend distinction to any home and greatly improve its appearance.

The economy of Bird's Twin Shingles is apparent not only in first cost but because of the years of protection they give. Rain cannot penetrate them, sparks cannot ignite them, and the heat of the sun has the effect of cementing them together, making a solid roof covering.

The Twin shape and self-spacing feature saves time in applying and requires fewer nails than is the case with ordinary shingles.

novels has turned to inventing. In the old days when a man in New York wanted to talk to a man in Pittsburgh, the best he could do was ride through on a horse, and by the time he'd got to Philadelphia he'd forgot what he wanted to say and turned back. Now you can pose for a photograph of what you gotta say and they'll ship it through by wireless. They ain't no distinction in being a good liar any more. Machinery is stranger than fiction. It only seems like yesterday that most people thought the radio was something fer to rub on the joints. Necessity is the mother of invention, as the guy says when he invented the bath tub. Every time I take a ride on a train they've invented some new way of hidin' the soap in the washroom. The newspaper y'r readin' today is the shirt that the laundry held out on y' Saturday night. I'm expectin' any day to hear that the fountain pen has begun leedin' a double life. I can remember as well as if it was only last week the first time I was ever stepped on by a low-flyin' taxicab. Yes, this is a fast age. Yesterday's novelty is today's nuisance. Everybody's just livin' from one push-button to the next. The old cuckoo that rode high bicycles an' absorbed their coffee from mustache cups thought they was the cat's forefinger, but don't kid y'rself. Some day the mere mention of broadcastin' 'll be the hottest joke of the village cut-up. Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Trentowsky have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Arnold, to Winfred Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lee Crouch, of Dayton, Ohio, the marriage to take place in Dayton the latter part of April.

ALL PROVINCES ARE REPRESENTED EXCEPT MARITIMES

Representative of the Canadian Teachers' Association, Here, Tells of Aims and Ideals of Body—No Union Affiliation—Annual Meeting in August.

Every province in Canada with the exception of those in the maritime group are represented in the Canadian Teachers' Federation, so R. E. Howe, P. A., federal president of the Westmount High School, Montreal, and official representative of the federation, told a Times reporter in an interview this morning. He said that he hoped before the end of the present year the teachers' associations of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island would have affiliated with the Canadian body.

Mr. Howe said that the all-Canada organization was about three years old and was formed in Ontario and the western provinces. Last January the Quebec association was admitted. The objects of the society, he said, were to combat as far as possible the lack of understanding, information and sympathy which existed between the provinces in educational matters. It was also out to elevate the professional, social and financial standing of the profession.

Ideal Is Nationalism. The ideal of association, he continued, was nationalism rather than provincialism. At present, he said, a teacher properly certified in one province was not received in another province except in one or two cases. In his opinion there should be one status throughout the Dominion. Matters relative to the courses of study, standards of university matriculation, amount of training necessary for teachers, and even the nomenclature of schools should have enough similarity so that a measure of understanding could be established. A recent campaign, he said, which arose outside of the teaching profession, for a Dominion educational bureau with the idea of provincial communication and a measure of contact between the provinces, met with little or no support. The teachers, he said, were not in favor of such a bureau and the aim of the Canadian Teachers' Federation was the establishment of such under the auspices of the federation. At the same end, he thought that the establishment of a teachers' magazine of the greatest importance; one that would appeal to the teachers of all the provinces.

There was sectionalism, Mr. Howe pointed out, in other than educational matters, as the political and economic news in the daily papers would show. It was felt by members of the federation, he said, that improvement in this regard was more likely to be achieved through education and the broadening of the outlook of the rising generation than through any immediate legislation or other action.

No Union Affiliation. The federation, Mr. Howe declared, did not allow interference between the teachers of different provinces or localities in the matter of disputes between the teachers and their respective authorities. While the federation concerned itself with the financial welfare of the teachers, he added, it had not adopted the union principles and had conferred complete autonomy on the various provinces that had affiliated or might affiliate with it. It was not connected, he said, either officially or unofficially with any labor organization, and no levy was made upon the profession in any province for the benefit of the other provinces, except the regulation membership fee of fifty cents a teacher which is devoted to the administrative work of the organization.

This amount, he said, was paid out of the provincial association fees, which were approximately as follows:—British Columbia, $5 to $7 a year, according to salary; Alberta, $5 to $11; Saskatchewan, $5 to $5; Manitoba, $5 flat; Ontario, $5 for men and $1 for women; Quebec, $2, $3, and $5; New Brunswick, $1. He said that when Quebec joined the federation it was compelled to increase the provincial fee, and he presumed that the same would have to be done in New Brunswick. He said a few of the provinces were benefitting from provincial magazines and he felt the esprit de corps resulting from a Canada-wide publication would be repeated in greater measure.

He said that another aim of the federation was an arrangement for the exchange of teachers between the provinces which would tend to broaden their outlook and thus assist the profession. Some 18,000 teachers were now included in the federated membership, he said.

The next annual meeting of the federation was scheduled to take place in Montreal August 7-11, and it was hoped to have a representative of the N. B. Association there. The officers of the federation at present are: President, H. W. Huntley, Manitoba; vice-president, H. C. Newland, Alberta; secretary treasurer, Helen S. Arbutnot, Ontario; past president, H. Charlesworth, British Columbia.

At Tenetree in the Cathedral on Friday evening a masterful sermon on the last words of the Saviour on the cross was preached by Rev. Roy McDonald.

THE REAL OBJECT OF THE POWER CO.

The new drive at City Hall by the New Brunswick Power Company group, whose real object is not to sell the company's distribution system to the City, but to get for the company the control of Musquash power, is the universal topic of conversation about town. People are wondering what it is that has galvanized the old group into activity again, after their signal defeat in the civic election. It is also asked, and not without some heat, why a small group of citizens should thus try to defeat the expressed will of the people. Those who discuss the matter are under no delusions regarding the real aims of the Power Company. It is after control of Musquash power, and a renewal of monopoly conditions. All the scattershot talk about the ruin to be brought upon the City by competition is a part of a propaganda to get the people in a frame of mind where they would consent to let the Company distribute Musquash power. The action of the four Commissioners who refused to be held up at this stage is highly commended. Behind the new scheme to get more delay is seen the cunning hand of the Power Company, supported by the opponents of public ownership, whose numbers are few.

"It," said one strong supporter of hydro this morning, "any of the gentlemen who went to City Hall on Thursday to ask for delay did not know they were acting against the City's best interests; they ought to be enlightened. If they went because they want the Power Company to win, the citizens have already settled that question twice. Must they settle it again?"

JEWTRAW LEADER OF 1922 AMATEURS

Staff Heads the "Pros" and Gladys Robinson the Women Skaters

Skating Season Closed This Week—Carpenter Challenges Nilles—Mrs. Mallory Loses Again—Zack Wheat Signs With Brooklyn.

(Canadian Press) New York, March 31.—Premier ice skating honors during the record breaking season which closed this week, were captured by Charles Jewtraw, Lake Placid, among the amateurs; Art Staff of Chicago, in professional ranks; and Gladys Robinson of Toronto among women competitors. Jewtraw won the international amateur outdoor title and the Adirondack gold cup series; Staff triumphed in both the United States indoor and outdoor professional championships, while Miss Robinson defeated all rivals in men's title events. Joe Moore, New York star, and Harry Kasky, sensational Chicago skater, were Jewtraw's closest rivals. The former won the Canadian Maritime and middle Atlantic championships, while Kasky flashed to victory in the national amateur outdoor title meet.

More than a score of records for distances ranging from fifty yards to three miles were shattered. Challenge By Carpenter. Paris, March 31.—Georges Carpenter has challenged Marcel Nilles, French heavyweight, to a bout for the championship, says the Echo de Paris today.

Conditions of the 1923 contract were not revealed, but it was reported that Zack's team-mates had pledged themselves to make up the $800 bonus of contention to keep their captain.

Saskatoon, Sask., March 31.—Jack Taylor, heavyweight wrestling champion of Canada, successfully defended his title here last night, throwing his challenger, Buck Olsen, of Minneapolis, in two straight falls.

Lloyd George's Breakfast Parties Interest Politicians

 chill during the Russell litigation recall an amusing incident during His Lordship's stay with a well-known manufacturer in the North of England. Answering his host's breakfast-time inquiry, Lord Amphil assured him that he had slept perfectly. Later it was discovered that the wooden bottom of the bed had been "kicked out" during the night by six-foot-six distinguished nobility.

Baths De Luxe.
 The extravagant bathroom is the latest fad of the wealthy foolish. One of London's palaces is being equipped with a vast room, in which an oval sunken bath will be approached through tiers of flowering plants. No doubt, a pergola will be provided for one's dressing gown. The same "designer of interiors" has just completed another bathroom with a glass-domed sunbath complete with a fountain and goldfish.

St. Bart's.
 Next Sunday will be the 800th anniversary of St. Bartholomew-the-Great, the beautiful old Norman church founded, along with a famous priory, when Henry I reigned in England. It is the only church in the kingdom where, amidst the shadows cast by noble Norman pillars and under the mystery of ancient stone goings, one may still worship by candlelight. It stands close to the famous "Bart's Hospital," and near by Smithfield, where they burned the last martyr only three-and-a-half centuries ago. E. V. Lucas worships, in two senses, at the shrine of St. Bart's, which he describes as "one of the architectural jewels of the city." It has a crazy old graveyard, and the sexton's house, with its tiny Tudor bricks and windows, still remains against the north wall. The visitor who steps within St. Bart's splendid old doors, leaving the London life behind, is at once plunged into the Middle Ages—and the virginal society of innumerable ladies painting the old aisles. The locality crew, into Barking Creek, where they hid themselves in the hedges by the road approaching the alderman's house. The plot failed through Sir John being "kept late in the city," but I often wonder whether it gave Dumas the notion for his great adventure, in "The Vicomte de Bragelonne," when D'Artagnan, sailing in a sloop from Dunkirk, kidnaps General Monk in somewhat similar circumstances.

Censuelo's Millions.
 A piquant feature of the will of the late W. K. Vanderbilt, American millionaire, which has just been appraised in New York, is that the estate owes half a million of the dowry given on the marriage of Vanderbilt's daughter, Consuelo, to the Duke of Marlborough. Consuelo was dowried with a million. Consuelo is now Madame Jacques Balsan, having divorced the Duke a few years ago, and married the handsome Colonel Balsan. Her father signaled his approval by giving her £3,000,000, and under his will she received a further £200,000. So Madame Balsan ranks among the world's richest women now.

The Hansom Cab.
 What do you know of London who only Fleet street know? I see one writer in a London newspaper suggests that hansom cabs are coming back again, and propounds the theory that it means a definite movement towards that tranquility of which Honor Law recently spoke. As a matter of prosaic fact, the hansom cab has never entirely vanished from West End night life. One or two smart old hansoms, driven by specially smart hansom cabbies who really seem to have "made up" a la Arthur Roberts, have always haunted the Circus after dark. Old stagers use them for old acquaintance sake occasionally, and sometimes under graduates take them just for the novelty or for a joke. Probably they do fairly well out of these two classes of patrons. Recently quite a number of new hansom cabbies have appeared, but these are taximen whose "buses" have been condemned by the Scotland Yard authorities, after long newspaper agitation, as worn out and unsuitable. So there is a touch of real drama in this new phase of London's night life—the return of the old Jehu to his first love—jilted by the new!

INVEST OF U.S. CROOKS FOR 1922 OVER 3 BILLION

Burglars, Forgers, Swindlers, Bad Check Passers and Others Collect an Enormous Amount.

Dishonesty in the United States last year paid an army of burglars, robbers, forgers, bucket-shop operators, confidence men and common thieves more than $3,000,000,000. Conservative estimates, compiled by the National Surety Co. of New York city, place the sum at $2,925,000,000. That is approximately equivalent to the internal revenue receipts of the Federal Government for the fiscal year 1922. It is in excess by half a billion dollars than the imports of the country in 1921. It is an average tax on every man, woman and child in the country of more than $90 a year.

In New York city this average loss would total $168,000,000. For Yonkers it is more than $20,000,000. This tax for dishonesty is certain of collection. While you may not hold any worthless all stocks nor have been held up and robbed at the point of a gun, you have paid your $90 per capita tribute to thieves. You are paying in the constantly increasing rates for burglary insurance. Less than ten years ago automobile theft insurance was something under one per cent of the value of the automobile. Now it is five or six per cent.

Merchants throughout the country last year, wholesalers and retailers marked off something more than $150,000,000 in bad accounts. They charge this loss to operating expenses and the honest consumer foots the bill. Railroads of the country last year lost $12,000,000 by claims for goods lost by theft or burglary. They retrieve that sum in higher rates. William B. Joyce, chairman of the National Surety Co. recently underwrote a complete dishonesty loss in the city. He gathered records of thirty-one surety companies and after examination of the assembled figures it was agreed that $225,000,000 annually for burglary and $125,000,000 for embezzlement were conservative

SUFFERED SO FROM HEART AND NERVES LIFE WAS A BURDEN

Mr. A. H. Lee, Beausville, Ont., writes: "I am delighted to let you know what I have to say regarding the good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did me."

A short time ago I suffered with heart and nerve trouble, and was so bad I could not sleep, only about two hours each night. My heart was so bad I had spells when driving on the road and would faint away, and neighbors would carry me in from my wagon. I also took these pills in the night and during my daily work on the farm. My nerves were so bad I would jump out of bed, and was then compelled to walk the floor before I could settle down again, but after taking a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I can honestly say I am a relieved man. I now feel in the best of health, in fact, the best I've been in for three years, and can do any class of work with pleasure where before life was a burden to me."

The Only Remedy Says This Doctor

"The treatment of skin diseases (eczema) and diseases of the scalp is known to be difficult. There is one remedy that is known to be the most effective in the treatment of eczema and troublesome diseases. I refer to D. D. D. Prescription."

A sum somewhere between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 was added for forgeries. Inquiries were made in other fields where the swindler and thief operates and the following table was compiled:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Amount. Includes Stock frauds, land frauds, confidence games, Burglary, Automobiles, Robbery, etc.

For this table Mr. Joyce makes no claim of accuracy except as minimum estimates. The total, he says, is probably nearer $4,000,000,000. A list of estimates, somewhat higher than that shown here, was examined by the National Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. Admitting the difficulty of getting very definite figures, Hugh Smith, secretary of the committee, says

Of Those Who Have Been Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I had a bad pain in my left side and I could not lift anything heavy with the Marine Agency of the Insurance Company of North America, piracy in the New York harbor and docks amounted to $50,000,000 a year and probably half as much for other seaports of the country. While that loss is not reduced it is still considerable, he says. Jewelers alone lost more than $1,000,000 in robberies in 1922. Ten train hold-ups and twenty mail truck robberies from April 8, 1920, to April 30, 1921, yielded bandits a haul of $2,500,000. Chicago's theft and robbery loss in 1922, exclusive of automobiles, as reported by the police department was $8,301,709, of which $2,175,992 was not recovered. During 1921, in Philadelphia, with approximately 17 per cent of the country's population, 10,200 robberies and larcenies were reported, with a loss of $1,209,988, exclusive of automobiles. Of that sum $1,269,624 was not recovered. In the same year 8,382 automobiles were stolen and 1,081 with a value of $1,286,716, were not recovered. Thefts in New York.

The Retail Credit Men's Association at St. Louis believes that the cashing of worthless checks by merchants is almost a universal source of loss as bad accounts. If each of the more than 600,000 retail stores cashes about $100 worth of worthless checks a year the loss would be more than $100,000,000, and as a matter of fact much larger extent.

A compilation of crimes against property, if such were possible, would reveal figures almost inconceivable. Last year there were more than 18,000 embezzlements reported to the various surety companies—about sixty every working day of the year.

New York City's police report for 1922 shows 41,086 crimes against property reported, including 1,175 embezzlements; 1,197 robberies and hold-ups; 6,285 burglaries; 320 consigned 39,900 larcenies and more than 4,000 automobiles stolen.

District Attorney Joab H. Benton said last summer that $700,000,000 had been taken in New York by fraudulent stock games since the war. President Cronwell of the New York Stock Exchange estimates the fraudulent stock loss in the city at $100,000,000 annually. In twenty-eight cities of the country, with only one-seventh of the population, 37,584 automobiles were stolen in 1921.

Every other man in the jails and penitentiaries of the county is there for a crime against property. Of the 111,498 prison population shown by the census of 1910, there were 5,000 robbers, 15,000 burglars, 30,000 thieves, a total of 53,000.

In figures of the surety companies is evidence of the growth of dishonesty in the past ten years, showing claims paid—

Table with 3 columns: Year, Embezzlement, Burglary. Shows increasing trends from 1910 to 1921.

These amounts represent payments only. Actual losses are much higher because many claims are not allowed because the policy holder has not taken the precautions demanded in his policy.

Before the war insurance experts estimated that there were three burglaries for every fire. Now they expect seven burglaries for every fire.

WHATEVER YOU DO DON'T NEGLECT YOUR EYES, SAYS DR. LEWIS, WHO TELLS HOW TO STRENGTHEN EYESIGHT

Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were restored through the principle of Bon-Opto.

Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily and exercise them daily as directed. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind

Doctor Says It Is Your Heart

What did he say? Well, he says that the great majority of people who had the 'flu' have suffered afterwards from weak heart action. "I never had heart trouble."

"No, but the way the doctor explains it is that the nervous system is so weakened by the 'flu' that there is not enough nerve force left to drive the machinery of the body."

"That is about the way I feel, for I have no appetite, and do not feel able to stir."

"Now, John, I think that is exactly what you need. It always helped me when I got run down in health, and I hear so many saying the same thing that I think you should give it a trial. You know your

LOSS IN BAD CHECKS

In 1921 the Harvard Business School examined the records of 119 department stores, which had total sales of $18,352,000. They charged 0.2 per cent, or $36,704, off as uncollectible.

The Retail Credit Men's Association at St. Louis believes that the cashing of worthless checks by merchants is almost a universal source of loss as bad accounts. If each of the more than 600,000 retail stores cashes about $100 worth of worthless checks a year the loss would be more than $100,000,000, and as a matter of fact much larger extent.

President Cronwell of the New York Stock Exchange estimates the fraudulent stock loss in the city at $100,000,000 annually. In twenty-eight cities of the country, with only one-seventh of the population, 37,584 automobiles were stolen in 1921.

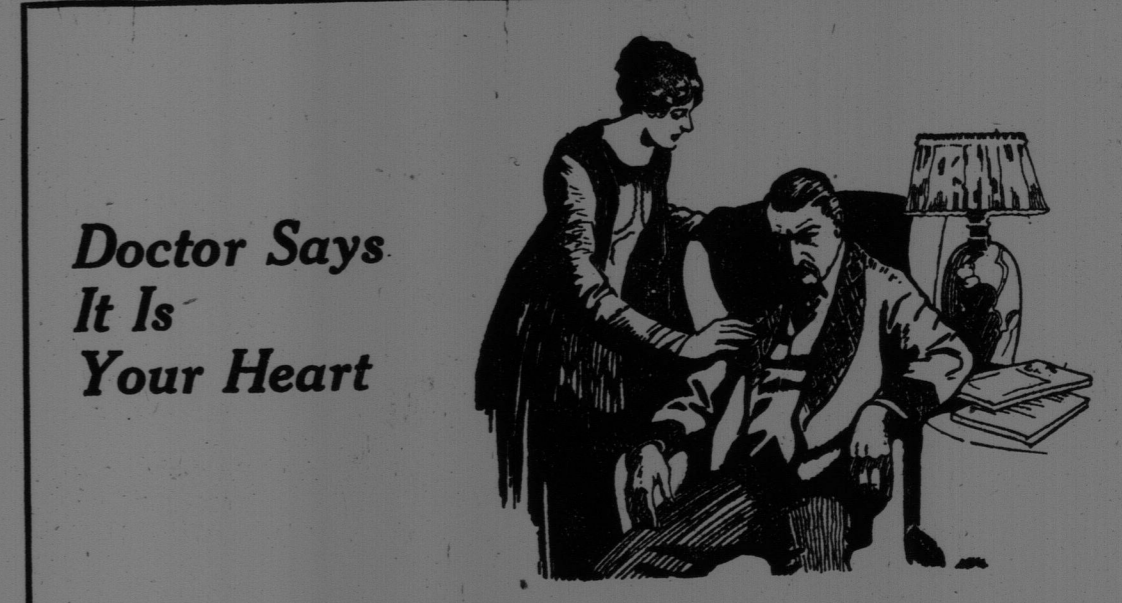

Every other man in the jails and penitentiaries of the county is there for a crime against property. Of the 111,498 prison population shown by the census of 1910, there were 5,000 robbers, 15,000 burglars, 30,000 thieves, a total of 53,000.

In figures of the surety companies is evidence of the growth of dishonesty in the past ten years, showing claims paid—

Table with 3 columns: Year, Embezzlement, Burglary. Shows increasing trends from 1910 to 1921.

These amounts represent payments only. Actual losses are much higher because many claims are not allowed because the policy holder has not taken the precautions demanded in his policy.

Before the war insurance experts estimated that there were three burglaries for every fire. Now they expect seven burglaries for every fire.

"I Was a Fright!"

"Nothing I Could Take Made Me Any Fatter." "Up to the time I was seventeen years old, I believe that I was the most miserable and unhappy girl that ever lived. Honestly, I was a fright. I was the most ungrainy looking creature you ever saw. I was thin and scrawny—straight up and down. My height was five feet nine inches and I weighed exactly ninety-one and three quarter pounds. No matter what kind of clothes I put on I looked like a fright. I was clumsy and awkward. I used to stand before the glass and study my features. I found I had a good nose, good eyes and a good mouth, but my cheeks were sunken and my face looked like a skull with a piece of parchment stretched over it. But nothing could do or take made me any fatter. Men rarely even glanced at me. When they did, they merely gave me a casual, amused or pitying look—an expression which I am sure meant, 'why is a being like that allowed to live?' I used to lie awake at night for hours at a time wondering why there were so many beautiful girls in the world and I was so hideous."

ductions of the European countries are considered, these countries being the only ones where the cultivation of these two crops for fibre is of any relative importance. The production of flax in the countries of Europe amounted, in 1922, to 3,773 thousand centals, showing a decrease of 18 per cent. as compared with 1921, and a still greater decrease (of 21 per cent.) as compared with the pre-war average.

The production of hemp in 1922, which came to 3,321 thousand centals, was 15 per cent. below that of 1921 and at least 24 per cent. below the average for the five years 1909-1913.

The notable difference between the production in 1922 and the pre-war average is due, in the case of flax, almost entirely to a corresponding difference in the area cultivated; while in the case of hemp, in addition to a reduction of the area cultivated, there was a diminution also in the yield per acre.

In the above aggregates for the countries of Europe are not however comprised the data relative to the territories of the Russia of today, as exact statistics pertaining thereto are as yet unobtainable. The production of such data makes the totals very incomplete, seeing that the territory covered by present-day Russia yielded annually before the war about 10 per cent. of the total European production of flax and 60 per cent. of the total European hemp production. According to an appropriate estimate, the production of flax during 1922 in the above-mentioned territory, was equal to only one-sixth of the pre-war average production of the same territory; and also for hemp it may be said that the crop has undergone an immense reduction.

PREDICTS DRY BRITAIN IN '28

"Man Who Beat Churchill" Talks Confidently on Subject—Says Temperance Will Not be Enough.

(The Associated Press.) Great Britain's one Prohibitionist member of Parliament, Edwin Scrymgeour, now universally known as "the man who beat Churchill," today predicted that in the next general election, assuming that it will be five years hence, the cause which he represents will sweep the country.

This sanguine prophecy was made by Dundee's newly-elected dry champion in the course of his maiden speech in the House of Commons, not in the tones of a dreamer flushed with his first burst of victory, but in the cool, deliberate manner of a man who thoroughly believes he knows the workings of practical politics.

Mr. Scrymgeour made his statement to a representative of the Associated Press. He is a kind-faced Scotchman, slightly bald, and apparently about fifty-five years of age. His rather large though well-formed lips bespeak his kind manner, although there is a definite suggestion of firmness in the long, drooping grey mustache which covers his upper lip. Earnest unpretentiousness is perhaps the outstanding description of his general appearance. Clad in an ordinary unadorned Scotch tweed business suit, with a large watch-chain stretched across his breast, from which a well-worn crucifix is suspended.

"America has been intensely interested in your victory," said the correspondent, grasping the large, rough hand of the Scotchman.

"So I hear," he replied in an unmistakable Scotch accent.

"On what basis do you predict a dry victory in the next general election?" asked the correspondent.

"Well, in the first place," he answered, "since my election I have received every day a stack of letters that high"—and he measured with his hands held up to his waist—"congratulating me on my victory. The writers of virtually all these letters say they are going to bring pressure to bear on the members from their several constituencies to support the bill I intend to introduce. If that does not work, the people of this country at the next election, taking a lesson from Dundee, are going to nominate avowed prohibitionists, and my prediction is that there will be enough elected to force a prohibition bill through Commons.

"The people of this country are learning that it's no good supporting temperance candidates on the promise to do anything to stop, or ever, regulate, the liquor traffic. We don't want temperance; it never amounts to anything. What we want is absolute eradication, and no other programme will satisfy us.

"We may not be able to pass a bill through this House, but we're going to make a start. One of the first things I intend to do is to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that, regardless of the rightness or wrongness of prohibition, we are antagonizing a friendly country, the United States, by countenancing the shipping of vast quantities of liquor to the Bahamas and other British islands off the Atlantic coast, which we know is intended for smuggling into America. It's ridiculous to imagine that the amount of liquor now going to these places is only sufficient for British inhabitants. The recent correspondence between Mr. Hughes and Ambassador Geddes clearly indicates that we must be careful not, even tacitly, to interfere with the enforcement of the laws of a friendly country.

"When Mr. Johnson—Mr. Scrymgeour avoided the word Prohibition—came here there was a storm of protest against his alleged interference with the affairs of this country. Well, the same argument should hold true in our attitude toward the enforcement of prohibition in the United States. Of course, however, we prohibitionists States and to let us draw our own conclusions. It has been alleged that the Anti-Saloon League has been helping us in the cause of prohibition. Of course that is not true. The Anti-Saloon League has not given us one penny, and we don't expect any material support from any American organization. We are quite able to do the thing ourselves, although certainly we shall welcome moral support from whatever source."

Had Your Iron Today?

Won't Shrink Woollens

—true, says MONARCH KNITTING CO.

The above firm, one of the largest manufacturers of woollens in Canada, investigated the best method of cleaning sweaters—and they recommend Lux.

Here is their letter, which tells how sweaters should be washed.

Messrs. Lever Bros., Limited
Toronto, Canada
January 17, 1922

Gentlemen:

Sweater coats or blouses, when they are manufactured out of pure wool or silk, can be washed as satisfactorily and as easily as ordinary goods, provided the proper material and methods are used for the washing, and to-day there is on the Canadian market a product entirely suitable for who knitted goods and for our yarns. We suggest to all women who buy these goods to wash them with Lux.

The slogan of the manufacturers—"Won't shrink woollens"—is true if proper washing methods are used. The chain, water-like flakes of Lux dissolve readily and there is no possibility of any pieces of solid soap sticking to the soft wool or silk and yellowing it, ultimately ruining the garment.

Children's sweater coats or suits are often ruined in the first laundering because they are improperly washed, but if Lux is used, they will wear longer and give more satisfaction to the buyer.

We also recommend that garments should be dried quickly and when drying, lay them out flat and straighten to shape. Never hang them up when wet.

We are pleased to say that our silk and woollen sweater coats, skirts, suits, etc. in the most delicate colors and weights can be safely washed with Lux.

Yours very truly,
THE MONARCH KNITTING CO., LTD.

The Production of Cotton, Flax, Hemp

The World-Production of Textile Crops in 1922 as Compared With Pre-war Production.

In summarizing the results of the 1922 harvest, as published in the latest issue of its International Crop Report and Agricultural Statistics, the International Institute of Agriculture arrives at the following conclusions in respect of the production of the principal textile crops. The respective cotton production of a group of countries responsible for about 85 per cent.

of the world's total production amounts this season to 73 million centals, showing a decrease of 16 per cent. as compared with the corresponding pre-war average (87 million centals); although showing an increase of 22 per cent. over the production in 1921-22 (59 million centals). The production in 1921-22 was, however, exceptionally poor, due in great part to the deficient yield of the United States, which was the lowest recorded for 25 years.

The cultivated area under cotton in 1922-23 (56 million acres), exceeding by about 12 per cent. that cultivated in the previous season, approaches the pre-war average, being only 4 per cent. less. The yield per acre, in 1922-23 even, cannot be looked upon as favorable, a yield of only 1.3 centals per acre being obtained as compared with an average of 1.5 during the five-year period 1909-1913.

Here's a popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran—greatest health food!

Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!

If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method—Measure off two tablespoonfuls for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.

Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regulatory powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.

Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent relief from mild or chronic constipation and because it can be eaten without forming a habit. Again, Kellogg's Bran will free you from drastic, dangerous cathartics.

When constipation conditions exist in your system or when you are threatened, do not take half-way measures. Foods with a partial bran content cannot free you! What you must have is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Go the limit; get relief!

Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macarons, etc. Recipes on every package.

Start eating Bran to-day! Get well—keep well—keep disease out of your home! First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

How Good Friday Was Observed

NEWS NOTES OF STOCK INTEREST

HYDRO DEVELOPMENT

The trouble with hydro at Edmundston is, according to Hon. J. E. Michaud, insufficiency in the plant at Green River, not in the plant at Three Rivers. The Green River plant was built a few years ago when the town's population was probably not more than a thousand; and now, with a population increased to four thousand in a comparatively brief period, the service is quite inadequate.

Girl Guide Notes
 The Guides in St. John have certainly been lucky this week. We had a wonderful opportunity on Monday and I was glad to see so many take advantage of it. The Chief Guide said a lot of nice things about us, but I do hope we will look a little smarter the next time she comes to see us. Wouldn't it be nice if we all had uniforms? Not only is Lady Baden-Powell called the Chief Guide but she is a real Guide, ready to "lend a hand" and to "help other people at all times." With her example and her inspiring words before us I think that our Guides and officers will enter more heartily the great game of Guiding.
 Every company in the district was represented at the rally last Monday which was pretty good, considering the very short notice most of them had. It was especially encouraging to see girls from the companies which are inactive at present, as it shows that the girls are eager to go on, as soon as officers can be found.
 The 6th St. John had a good hike last Saturday. They went out the Red Head road and on the way home stopped at the County Hospital and called on one of their schoolmates who is there at present. The walking was pretty bad so they were thankful to accept the offer of a drive and by the time they got back to headquarters they were starving. Their bean supper tasted fine and when they had tidied up and washed up and hung up everything they were ready to call it a day—and a good day.
 The 5th St. John Company and the 2nd Brownies held no regular meetings this week, but both attended the Lenten Service arranged by their Chaplain, Ven. Archbishop Crowfoot, in St. Paul's Church. After the parade the following badges were presented by Mrs. J. M. Magee in the Sunday School:
 Second Class—P. L. Winifred Woodley.

Lady Baden-Powell, Chief Guide

Cook's Badge—Pack Leader Shirley Magee.
Domestic Service—Senior P. L. Ida Lyon.
Embroidress—Second Myrtle Fowler.
Needlewoman—Pack Leader Shirley Magee.
 A brief practice for the Wallace Nesbit team was also held. They were examined on Wednesday.
 Altogether with these special activities, the enjoyment of seeing the Chief Guide, Guides and Brownies feel that this has been a full and memorable week.
 The 2nd Rothesays were examined for the Wallace Nesbit on last Friday. The captain of the team was Patrol Leader K. Peters and the other members, Patrol Leader A. Cannel, Second, S. Frink; Guides, B. Miles and H. Blanchet.
 There will be a Sick Nurse badge examination on Saturday, April 7th, at 2 p.m. Captains will kindly notify Miss Coates before the evening of April 6 if they are sending up any candidates.

A TREAT FOR YOUR WIFE

Been wondering what would make a good Easter gift to your wife or mother? Buy her a package of genuine Orange Pekoe Tea and give her a real treat. You can get the very choicest of Orange Pekoe right in the city—RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE TEA, composed of the buds and first leaves scarce ten days old when plucked from the bush.
 Your grocer will be open this evening and you can phone him now, before you do another thing, and he'll be only too glad to send you over a 1-2 lb. package of this fragrant and flavorful tea, that will go further and give you greater pleasure than any other tea you ever tasted. Try it, you'll praise it more than we do.
 Miss Jennie Smith, formerly of this city, but now of Halifax, has been awarded the gold medal given to the pupils from four Halifax schools who make the highest general averages in grades eight, nine, ten and eleven.

BOILS Made Him Sick and Miserable

Mr. Richard Zelenoski, McLean, Sask., writes: "I had been suffering continuously with boils for three years, and during that time I tried many different remedies without any success whatever. In spite of all my efforts I was compelled to go to the hospital. This was in the Fall of the year, and right in the busiest time of the season. Upon my return home it just took about two weeks until my neck and arms were again occupied by the boils which made me feel very sick and miserable. One day one of my friends advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used less than two bottles I was very much surprised at the result. It is now over two years since I got in touch with B. B. B., and I have had no bother with boils since. I will recommend it to all persons suffering from any defect in the blood."

One Vote Holds Up Bond Issue For Transformers

Authorization for a bond issue for the purchase of transformers and copper wire was held up by Commissioner Thornton on Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Common Council. A bond issue requires a unanimous vote. The Mayor and other commissioners voted in favor of it. Just before the vote on the bond issue, some citizens, headed by W. E. Golding, appeared and asked for hearing. Mr. Golding said he had heard that the new owners of the N. B. Power Company would next week make an offer to the city to purchase the company's distribution system. He advised delay until then. H. P. Puddington, L. P. D. Tilley, C. H. Peters and others favored a like course. Commissioner Mullock made a strong speech in defense of the city's action to date and its intentions, as did also Mayor Fisher. In answer to a question by Commissioner Thornton Roy A. Willet said bond issues voted for the hydro commission to date totalled $151,000.

Hon. Mr. Foster's Effective Answer To Opposition

Hon. W. E. Foster, former Premier, delivered a strong speech in the Legislature on Thursday afternoon in which he dealt with some of the actions of his government from 1917 until he gave up office and showed that much had been accomplished. He answered very effectively the criticisms offered by the Opposition and accused them of trying to make political capital out of his government. He showed that from the sale of current already contracted for there would be a surplus of $17,000 annually and to this would be added $35,000 more when the remainder of the current was disposed of. He had not finished when the House rose for Easter. Premier Veniot announced that next week the House would hold evening sessions.

Sydney Plans A Lot of Work

Sydney, N. S., March 31.—An ambitious programme of public expenditures to be carried out during the coming summer at a cost of nearly $551,000 was decided upon at the first meeting of the recently elected city council. The items are: New City Hall and Juvenile Detention Home, combined, $200,000; New Housing Loan, $200,000; Water Supply Improvements, $80,000; Nurses Home, $45,000; Bridges, $16,000; New Motor Fire Engine, $10,000. Most of the expenditure proposals were introduced by Mayor Fitzgerald, and this was so unusual that some of the aldermen remarked upon it. His Worship enlightened them. "I have held office for the last five years because I got a reputation for being close-fisted. It is time for a change of policy. I shall make myself solid at the next by loosening up a bit."

It was alleged that the case arose last week when Merryfield was given a writ to serve on a local doctor. It is claimed that Merryfield did not effect service on the proper person. The law requires that the writ be served on the person named or an adult member of his family at his residence or on his boarding mistress, Merryfield, according to the evidence, served it on a woman who resides in another section of the same house and then made affidavit to have
