GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

CHARLIE'S AUNT AS FIRST PLAYED

That is the Great Theatrical Treat for February 6 at Imperial.

St. John theatre-goers will be given the opportunity of witnessing the most popular farce comedy in the history of the English-speaking stage at the Imperial Theatre on Friday night, Feb. 6, when Charlie's Aunt will be produced by the Y. M. C. A. Dramatic Club. This farce has been played literally around the world, and has been translated into sixteen languages. No attempt has been made to modernize the play for this performance. It is being given exactly as produced in London with all the asides and soliloquies as originally spoken. Thus an interesting opportunity is provided to compare the humor of yesterday with the current fashion of the drama of today.

TRULY WONDERFUL DRAMA AT UNIQUE FOR NEXT WEEK

Vitagraph brings to the screen another famous Charles Klein stage success in "The Third Degree," which, starring Alice Joyce, will be seen in the Unique all next week. The Lion and the Mouse, recently released by Vitagraph, was conceded one of the greatest dramatic screen triumphs of the year, and it is conceded that "The Third Degree" exceeds even that drama in finish and compelling force.

Miss Joyce never has appeared to better advantage than in the role of Annie Sands, waitress bride of a college youth, who crushes the power of her millionaire father-in-law, swears to destroy her, and of an all-powerful police inquisition to save her young husband from death for a murder he did not commit, but of Tom Ferris has given the picture a splendid direction, and in the capable supporting cast are Gladden James, Anders Randolph, Miss Hedra Hopper, Herbert Brans, George Backus, J. T. Wade, L. Rogers Lytton and Edward McGuire.

AWAY TO SETTLE ON THE SITE OF MARNE MEMORIAL

New York, Jan. 31.—Marcel Knecht, member of the French high commission in the United States, sailed for France on the La Savoie to establish headquarters at Paris for "America's Gift to France," the MacMonnies statue to commemorate the first Battle of the Marne. M. Knecht will be liaison representative for the national committee in this country and the French committee in Paris. Soon after his arrival in Paris he will present several silk flags to members of the French cabinet, President Paul Deschanel, Marshal Joffre and Marshal Foch as gifts from the national committee for "America's Gift to France." WANT A LARGE INCREASE IN THE TELEGRAPH TOLLS

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—In a judgment handed down yesterday, and concurred in by other members of the board, Chairman F. B. Carvell of the Railway Commission, warns that very great care should be exercised in the distribution of franks by telegraph companies, "because an application is now pending before this board by the telegraph companies of Canada asking for a very substantial increase in their rates, amounting to from thirty to thirty-five per cent of the rates now in force, and any revenue lost by the giving of franks must be made up by the remainder of the community."

Montreal, Jan. 31.—W. M. Neal, who has been general secretary of the Canadian Railway War Board, now the Railway Association of Canada, since the formation of that body in October, 1917, has been appointed by the C. P. R. as assistant general superintendent of the Quebec district.

A NOTABLE ADDRESS.

Mr. Frederick J. MacLeod, former chairman of the Public Service Commission of Boston, sees the solution of the public utility problem in public control or ownership. He very properly insists that there should be no speculation in public utilities, and that the people served should not be asked to pay dividends on watered stock, or pay for past extravagance or blunders on the part of a company.

In his admirably clear and illuminating address before the Canadian Club last evening Mr. MacLeod noted the changed attitude toward such public utilities as street railways since the early days when the owners felt free to issue watered stock, advance rates when they chose, and treat the enterprise as if it were a proper one for speculative activities and making the largest possible gain for themselves.

The situation in Massachusetts has become such that half the street railway mileage of the states is under public control, and in Mr. MacLeod's opinion such control will steadily be extended. He does not see any other practical way out of the difficulty.

New York Evening Post—German democracy has evaded a blow more threatening than that of the Spartacists. A judge has upheld the right of a cartoonist to caricature the highest officer of the state. It is possible to conceive of a government without a constitution.

MEMBERS OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Members of the Commercial Club last evening paid a deserved tribute to Mr. Thomas F. Drummond, who was dined at the Clifton on the eve of his departure for Montreal. He was one of the founders of the Retail Merchants' Association and of the Commercial Club itself, and his removal deprives St. John of an exceptionally bright young merchant and wide-awake citizen.

THE PEOPLE OF WEST ST. JOHN VOICED A VIGOROUS PROTEST AGAINST INCREASED COST OF FERRY SERVICE AND AN APPEAL FOR A BRIDGE. They also denounced the street railway service they are getting. Their grievances and their claims must be considered.

WINTER FANCY.

In these barren shut-in days Fancy lures me many ways; Fancy, with its necromancy, Prigdigal the part it plays.

For it shows me how the Spring, From the south-land journeying, With the northward-faring bluebird, Will return on azure wing.

Tells me tales of pimpernels, Where the white waite-robin dwells, And reveals the harked honey hidden in the wild-phlox cells.

Of its wealth bids me to share Orient aromas rare, All the ecstasies of April With its daffodilian air.

Come, then, Fancy, bide with me Till the hour when I shall see The eternal verities rapture In its clear reality.

George's Handicap. A certain senator, deploring the dishonest methods of one type of business man, once said, with a smile: “It all brings back to me a dialogue I once heard in a southern school. ‘Children,’ said the teacher, ‘be diligent and steadfast, and you will succeed. Take the case of George Washington, whose birthday we are soon to celebrate. Do you remember my telling you of the great difficulty George Washington had to contend with?’”

Mrs. Alice Roberts Felt Like a Different Woman After She Had Used the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.
Hathersage, Alta., Jan. 30th, (Special)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the remedy that tired women with aching backs are looking for is the lesson taught by the experience of Mrs. Alice Roberts, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place. Mrs. Roberts felt tired all the time. Her backache was terrible. She used Dodd's Kidney Pills. That is why she says: "Dodd's Kidney Pills did wonders for me." Passionate Notes of Man Are Sued by Pretty Woman From Teaneck.

New York, Jan. 31.—Miss Mary Lillian Phipps brightened up the corners of the old circuit court of Hackensack by her beauty and stylish figure when she appeared in her $30,000 breach-pony suit against William Russell Smith, of Tenally, N. J. Miss Phipps is twenty-seven years old and moved prominently in Teaneck's younger set. She is a daughter of George Phipps, of New York, a typewriter inventor and a descendant of Sir William Phipps, the first royal governor of Massachusetts.

When the fair plaintiff appeared, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Irving S. Van Loan, of Teaneck, she was about five feet six inches in height. Her eyes are large and blue and surmounted by a mass of brown hair which arched under a black toque hat. She wore a gown of blue silk under a brown military coat, and high top shoes.

Miss Phipps declared she only seeks to punish Mr. Smith and that if she is awarded the $30,000 she will hand it over to charity. She is wealthy in her own right. Her complaint contains about forty letters, through which she says Smith poured out his love for her. She says Smith first proposed to her during a ride in the Van Loan automobile to Asbury Park on last Easter Sunday and that she refused him.

REPORT ON EMPLOYMENT IN DOMINION
(Department of Labor.)

Ottawa, Jan. 31—Reports from employers to the Dominion headquarters of the employment service of Canada, department of labor, indicate that, disregarding loss of time due to strikes there was an increase in employment in the week ended January as compared with the preceding week.

The actual increase was much larger than anticipated, however, and it is especially noteworthy as being the first actual increase registered since the week of Nov. 29, and would indicate some recovery from the large losses reported, especially during the holiday and inventory period. With the exception of the grain provinces, substantial increases were registered in all the provinces, that in Ontario being the largest. For the week of Jan. 17 additional increases in lumbering, textiles, vehicles, quarrying and mining, railway operation and miscellaneous, all groups anticipated further additions during the week of Jan. 17.

Reports for the week ended Jan. 10 were received from 4,408 firms. These firms reported 644,177 persons on their payrolls as compared with 637,250 persons on payroll for the week ending Jan. 3, an increase of 6,927 persons or one and one-tenth per cent. These same firms anticipated increasing their staffs by 3,569 persons or five-tenths per cent during the week ending Jan. 17. The increase for the week ending Jan. 10 had been anticipated. Reports from employers for the week ended Jan. 3 indicated a reduction in staffs of 12,683 persons or one and nine-tenths per cent and an anticipated increase of 3,588 persons or six-tenths per cent, which increase the actual figures for the week of Jan. 10 given above show to have been greatly exceeded.

Plus industries, those that registered increases in the number of persons employed for the week of Jan. 10 were as follows: Building and construction, two and nine-tenths per cent; lumbering, six per cent; clay, glass and stone products, two per cent; leather and leather goods, one and four-tenths per cent; metals, two and three-tenths per cent; pulp, paper and printing, one and five-tenths per cent; textiles, one and six-tenths per cent; vehicles, one and five-tenths per cent; woodworking, one and three-tenths per cent; quarrying and mining, two and two-tenths per cent; shipping and longshore, six and one-tenth per cent; chemicals, five-tenths per cent; miscellaneous, two-tenths per cent, and in railway operation a normal increase only.

The increase in lumbering of 2,190 persons was the largest actual addition, largely due to more favorable weather conditions. Metals, vehicles and textiles showed increases of over 1,000 persons and would indicate a return to more normal conditions following the holiday and inventory period. Large increases in these groups had been anticipated but the actual increases were larger than the anticipated gains. Quarrying and mining, and pulp, paper and printing also recorded considerable gains, which were much larger than had been anticipated. The addition in building and construction is noteworthy because it is the first increase recorded since Nov. 15. A very small decrease, however, in this group was anticipated for the week of Jan. 17. Railway operation and shipping and longshore also expected declines in the week of the 17th, the anticipated decrease in shipping and longshore being the only large loss recorded by any of the groups.

Minus industries, those that registered net decreases in the number of persons employed, were commercial and mercantile, one and seven-tenths per cent; food, drink and tobacco, nine-tenths per cent; and railway construction, two and eight-tenths per cent. The decline in commercial and mercantile, while larger than had been anticipated, was however, much smaller than the decrease registered during the week of Jan. 3. Of the minus groups, commercial and mercantile was the only one to anticipate a further decline, the decrease being nominal in character.

Maritime Provinces.

Summarizing the returns by districts, the maritime provinces showed an increase of 1,629 persons or 2.4 per cent, to have been registered during the week of Jan. 10. An increase had been anticipated for that week but the actual increase far exceeded the anticipated one. A further increase of fifty-three persons or seven-hundredths per cent was expected for the week ending Jan. 17. Of the three provinces in this district Prince Edward Island was the only one to record a decline.

Plus industries, gains were registered during the week in lumbering, clay, glass and stone products, chemicals, food, drink and tobacco, metals, pulp, paper and printing, textiles, vehicles, quarrying and mining, railway operation, shipping and longshore, and miscellaneous. The increases in lumbering, railway operation and mining were especially noteworthy, while increases in all these groups except chemicals and miscellaneous were over one per cent. Lumbering, textiles, vehicles, quarrying and mining, railway operation and miscellaneous all anticipated having further increases during the week of the 17th. The expected increase in lumbering (3.1 per cent) was the largest. Clay, glass and stone products and chemicals anticipated having no change. Food, drink and tobacco, metals, pulp, paper and printing and shipping and longshore expected reductions in their staffs, the decrease in shipping and longshore being the most considerable.

Minus industries, building and construction, commercial and mercantile, leather and leather goods, woodworking, and railway construction, reported declines during the week ending Jan. 10, building and construction showing the largest loss. This group and railway construction anticipated having further declines during the week of the 17th. Commercial and mercantile, leather and leather goods, and woodworking, on the other hand, anticipated nominal increases.

TOO MUCH FOR HER.

Unobserved and unannounced the president of a church society entered the composing room of a newspaper just in time to hear these words issue from the mouth of the boss-printer:
"Billy, go to the devil and tell him to finish that 'murder' he began this morning. Then 'kill' William J. Bryan's youngest grandchild, and dump the 'Sweet Angel of Mercy' into the hell-box. Then make up that 'Naughty Parisian Actress,' and lock up 'The Lady in Her Bonnet!'"
Horrified, the good woman fled, and now her children wonder why they are not allowed to play with the printer's youngsters—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

An interesting and instructive address on "Bolshevism and the Present World Unrest," was delivered before the Senior Epworth League of the Portland Methodist church, last night, by Kenneth McLaughlin, a veteran of the Siege Battery, and son of Rev. Neil McLaughlin, pastor of the church. William Atherton was chairman and tendered the vote of thanks, which was moved by Robert Maxwell, president of the League, and seconded by Frank Merritt.

IN HONOR OF T. F. DRUMMIE

The Commercial Club tendered a farewell dinner at the Clifton house, last night, to T. F. Drummie, one of the organizers and charter members, who leaves today to enter upon the duties of his new position in Montreal. Because of a meeting of the industrial and transportation committee of the organization, all the members could not be present, but thirty attended the dinner.

Stanley E. Elkin, M. P., the president of the club, proposed a toast to the guest of the evening, to which Mr. Drummie made a happy response. The club was proposed by C. H. Peters, vice-president, R. D. Paterson responding. H. P. Robinson proposed the city and province, to which L. P. D. Tilley, M. P. P., responded. A. M. Belding and H. P. Robinson were also speakers.

All spoke of the energy and splendid sincere wishes for a successful career in Montreal.

HIGH SCHOOL SOCIAL

The graduating class and the football team of the High School enjoyed a pleasant social in the Y. M. C. A. last evening. After the boys had taken part in some games and stunts in the gymnasium, games, music and dancing were indulged in upstairs and every one had the best possible time. Refreshments were served and were heartily approved of. The conveners for the entertainment were Thomas Robinson and Rita Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. S. Myles, G. C. Martin, Miss Bessie H. Wilson and Miss A. K. Gale of the High School staff were chaperones and they entered into the enjoyment as heartily as their pupils.

The gathering broke up after midnight with the forming of a big circle for the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

The Trail Rangers of St. David's church, at their meeting last night listened to an instructive and interesting address by Dr. G. G. Corbet on the relation of food to the body. Percy Long, the leader, was the chairman of the meeting.

That Bump—Three-Point Suspension Triplex Springs In Overland 4 Take Out the Jar

THE three-point suspension Triplex Springs of the new Overland 4 mark the greatest riding improvement since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

They smooth out road roughness. They take up the jolts and rebounds.

Overland 4's light weight and efficiency make it surprisingly economical of fuel and oil.

In completeness and quality of equipment, including Electric Starting and Lighting, this greater-comfort car ranks with higher-priced cars.

Come and see for yourself how it rides on rough roads.

These springs are diagonally attached at the extreme ends of a 130-inch Springbase. They give Overland 4 with 100-inch wheelbase the steadiness and smoothness of riding which long wheelbase and heavy weight give the large car.

PREPARING AIR ROUTE

Intention Is to Organize New Air Track from Cairo to the Cape Into Six Areas, Each Under Supervision of British Official.

(Special to The Christian Science Monitor)

London, England—It is interesting to note what has been done in the matter of preparing the all-British air route between Cairo and the Cape, now available for traffic, and a short account of which has already been cabled to The Christian Science Monitor.

In December, 1918, three survey parties known respectively as Nos. 1, 2 and 3, African survey parties, were dispatched to explore as far as possible the route between Cairo and the Cape, now available for traffic, and a short account of which has already been cabled to The Christian Science Monitor.

No. 1 party dealt with the section from Cairo to Nimala (Soudan); No. 2 party dealt with the section Nimala to Abercorn (Rhodesia); and No. 3 party dealt with the section Abercorn to Cape Town. Each party, consisting of six officers and a certain number of other ranks, has for the past year been collecting all available information as to its own particular section, and has, with the aid of parties of natives, cleared aerodromes and landing grounds at distances of about 200 miles or less along the route selected.

The Detailed Route.

The route follows the Nile from Cairo to Wady Halfa, thence the railway to Sherik, from which place it conforms to the course of the Nile to Khartoum.

From Khartoum the course is to the west of the White Nile to Eleri and then almost due south through the Uganda Protectorate to the northern shore of Lake Victoria. Partly owing to the extremely disturbed nature of the atmosphere above the lake the route skirts it on the eastern side, passes over what was formerly German East Africa to the southern end of Lake Tanganyika and thence crosses northern Rhodesia to Livingstone, whence a southeasterly course is followed to Balawayo. The next town of importance on the route is Pretoria and so to Johannesburg and Bloemfontein across Cape Colony by Beaufort West to Cape Town. Aerodrome in Jungle.

The preparation of many of the landing grounds has involved a great deal of labor. In places it has been necessary to cut aerodromes out of dense jungle, to fell thousands of trees and dig up their roots, while the soil of innumerable ant hills has had to be removed by hand, being carried in native baskets, as practically no barrows or other equipment were available.

To those unacquainted with this country it will come as a surprise to learn that ant hills are often twenty-five feet in height and between thirty and forty feet in diameter. As one cubic yard of ant hill weighs about 2,670 pounds, some idea may be gathered of the labor necessary to clear the ground at such a place, for instance, that at Ndola, in northern Rhodesia, where 700 natives were working from April to August of the past year and roughly 20,000 tons were removed from the ground cleared. Blasting was tried, but was found to be unsuitable.

However, now that the initial work of clearing has been completed, it is not anticipated that the cost of maintenance will be heavy. Native labor is generally abundant and cheap, and it is estimated locally that even in the worst cases, i. e., those of landing grounds situated in the fast-growing bush and forest country, only small annual charges will be incurred.

Land Free of Cost.

In practically every case land was provided free of cost or at purely nominal rent by the local administrations who have arranged to guard the stores deposited at the aerodromes and to assist in keeping the aerodromes and landing grounds clear of bush.

In some cases landing grounds were prepared entirely by such local authorities. For instance, at Serowe, Chief Khama laid out such a ground at his own expense in order that his district should be linked up with the route. He also rendered considerable assistance in preparing that at Palapye.

It has been arranged for the survey parties to return shortly, and the intention is to organize the route into six areas, each under the general supervision of a British official.

Nile Journey Not Difficult.

The first portion of the journey along the Nile valley should present no particular difficulties to air traffic. Communications by telegraph, river, and railway are fairly good, and landings can be safely effected, if necessary, at many places apart from the prepared grounds.

In the central zone, however, difficulties are more numerous. Most of this is covered with dense bush and tropical forest, and landings at other than the prepared grounds will be exceedingly dangerous if not impossible. In some parts there is no land transport with the resultant difficulty of providing the necessary stores at the aerodromes. Moreover, at some places it is impossible to use cattle, so that, failing the provision of light motor transport—for which special roads would have to be prepared over some sections, native bearers will have to be used for the carriage of stores. The fact that the survey parties have, in the face of such obstacles, completed their work within 12 months is worthy of notice.

For most of the southern section with the exception of northern Rhodesia, conditions are considerably better. Railway and telegraph facilities are good, and stores can be distributed without much difficulty. Forced landings could be negotiated in many places without serious danger.

Wireless Stations Provided.

There are wireless stations at various points within reach of the chain of grounds. Generally speaking, cable and land line communications are good with the exception of those across certain sections such as that between Abercorn and Ndola and others in central Africa, where considerable delay may be experienced.

The total distance by existing methods of communication is 6223 miles, for which 50 to 74 1/2 days would be required. Against this the total flying distance of the aerial route should not exceed 9200 miles at the pilot will stop only at the main stations. Taking 10 miles an hour as fair average flying speed, under favorable conditions, and when the route has become firmly established, only 52 hours' actual flying time would be required to traverse the entire continent or, say about a week, flying eight hours a day.

The survey parties everywhere met with the greatest assistance and co-operation from the various local authorities who evinced the utmost enthusiasm for the project. Such whole-hearted assistance has been invaluable, and it is certain that had it not been forthcoming the work could never have progressed as it has done. This co-operation indeed has been a most encouraging feature throughout the period of prospecting, and gives a happy prospect for the successful opening of the route.

BOLIVIA CONSIDERING HUGE WATER-POWER DEVELOPMENT

Electrification of Whole Country May Result, Creating Great Market for Electric Goods.

A comprehensive scheme for the development of water power in Bolivia is now under consideration by the Bolivian congress. If the plan as outlined in the report is adopted there undoubtedly will develop an active market for electrical machinery and apparatus of all kinds in that country. Some time ago an engineer was engaged to make a complete survey of the water-power possibilities of the country with a view of suggesting a remedy for the shortage of fuel.

This engineer's report pointed out that the nature of the development would be along such extensive lines that it should be undertaken by the government or by a corporation with ample funds to carry it to completion. His recommendations are now being considered by the Bolivian congress. They include large developments in the neighborhood of La Paz, Tres Cruces and Colquechaca. At La Paz the power would be used for the Comoro copper mines and for lighting, cooking and heating in the capital itself. This would undoubtedly result in a good market for electrical appliances of all kinds and it is proposed that a depot should be established for accessories at La Paz.

The other developments would be for mining principally. The cost of the developments is estimated at between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000, but in addition to this there would be much other machinery and accessories required.

JUSTIFIES MOUSE SCARE.

(N. Y. Post.)

That awful stigma upon woman, her fear of a mouse, a subject which has the record of at least all English-speaking countries, has its "comprehensible" explanation, says the Ex-Ambassador to Germany, who has taken away the stigma and really one of those wonderful instincts of her fear and that it is justified. Mr. Gerard was talking to a big audience of women at the house of Mrs. Ernesto G. Fabbri the other day, and evidently wishing to be nice and polite to them he knocked the mouse joke right out of existence. It will be hard on the joke makers, both comic and serious, but the women will have a chance for a little respite from one of the antique knocks which has been handed them for several generations.

"A woman's fear of a mouse is a very sensible thing," said the Ex-Ambassador. "A long while ago the author of that wonderful book 'Robinson Crusoe,' Daniel Defoe, wrote another great book which gave the cause of the Bubonic plague. If the English doctors had read it, it would not have remained for a Japanese doctor to get the credit of the great discovery.

"They discovered that at the time of the plague rats and mice came up out of their holes dying with the plague, and as they died, and sometimes before, certain kinds of small lice, with which they were infested, left them for human beings and carried the plague infection with them. So you can see that the fear that woman has is based on a very good foundation. There is nothing funny about it. It is perfectly good sense. "Anyhow," concluded Mr. Gerard, "people may laugh at the mouse and the woman who jumps on a chair to get away from it, but how much more ridiculous is the man who leans against a par (he was evidently thinking in past numbers) and sells the future of his child and his fortune for drink!"

One Newark saloon keeper is removing his entire establishment, including the bar, and fixtures, to Havana.

ONTARIO "MOVIES."

(Toronto Globe.)

Did you know that the province of Ontario has a Motion Picture Bureau all its own? Quite possibly it is the greatest motion picture producer in Canada, for during the year ended Oct. 31, 1915, 98 subjects were in constant circulation and about a dozen additions were made in the last part of the year, bringing the total subjects to 108. Of these subjects 298 copies have been used and 200,000 people in the rural districts have seen them. In addition, films were shown 1,000 times at the Toronto and other large exhibitions and viewed by more than 3,500,000. The number of occasions on which the various films were used was as follows: Agriculture, 857; public highways, 56; public works, 1; lands, forests and mines, 25; game and fish, 25; provincial secretary, 8; provincial treasurer, 8. Practically every county and district in Ontario has seen some of these films in the past twelve months.

The bureau has just released six new subjects: A Spring-time Harvest; Vocational Training in Ontario; The Story of Paper and a Glimpse of Muskoka; Lake Nipigon Fisheries and Farmerettes; Tilling the Waters; Salt, From Mother Earth to the Table. Ontario films are also being placed for overseas circulation and interprovincial film exchanges are in contemplation.

Query: When does the department of education of Ontario or of any other province begin to make some real use of the "movies" in our schools?

THE Church is not impersonal. It is a company of individuals, each of whom has expressed determination to acknowledge Jesus as Lord and God, to accept His teachings and follow His example.

The Active Christians

Those who persist in the Way find their lives radiant with hope. They have an object in living. They are not plunged into hopeless misery by bereavement. They develop character. They learn contentment. Being themselves men of hope and good-will, they are centres of hope and good-will in the world.

The Inactive Christians

Not all continue faithful. Many neglect to keep the Pattern before them. They cease to pray. They forego public worship. They become only nominal Christians. Their sympathies are on the side of Right, but they miss the full-orbed peace that comes from being obedient to the Heavenly vision.

Aiding the Enemy

Apart from their own loss, lukewarm Christians do positive harm to the Faith. Enemies never cite the lives of notable Christians as a proof of the inefficiency of the Church, or of the Gospel it proclaims. If, therefore, all lukewarmness should disappear the critics of Christianity would be confounded.

Where Do You Stand?

You are a Christian. Are you ardent or careless? Are you whole-hearted or half-hearted? Do you realize that the Church in Canada faces unprecedented responsibilities? You believe that the Gospel of Christ is a perfect solvent of selfishness and class-hostility. Will you do your part to give it free course?

A Great Possibility

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is the reproach of any people." If all the Church Members of Canada would begin today to follow earnestly the principles enunciated by their Divine Master; if they would acknowledge their stewardship in full measure, the name of Canada would ring around the world. Therefore, the Question is to you:

"What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ?"

A United Appeal

FIVE Christian Communions—Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian—have in Canada ten thousand congregations, over one million communicants, and represent more than half of the population of the Dominion. Under the stimulus of five great Forward Movements, it is in the power of these people to root out the evils of materialism in Canada, and to conserve the spiritual values revealed by the chastisement of War. Are you ready for active service?

The Decision Is Yours

LET Christianity have a fair trial in your own life. Make Jesus Christ master in your home. Test the reality of prayer. It will give your life direction, purpose and power.

You can help to cure the ills of Canada and the world. Be prepared to serve. Begin NOW.

SCHOOL GRANT
REDUCED $10,000

Discussion of Estimates Not Completed by Council Yesterday — Matters to Be Dealt With Today.

An item of $10,000 was pared off the grant to the school board; additional grants to the amount of $8,250 were approved, but the matter of increasing the ferry rates, policemen's wages and other items which were the main purpose of the special meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon were deferred until this morning, when another session will be held at City Hall.

Delegations, representing the West End of Trade, the Lancaster ferry association and the police protective association, waited on the council with requests and received promises of consideration.

Commissioner Bullock moved the grant of $1,000, with the proviso that the ferry expense be within $8,000 a year and, after some discussion, the grant was passed.

A grant of $1,150 was allowed the public library for repairs, subject to the approval of the building inspector and the city engineer.

Upon request of the Hon. Dr. W. F. Ober, an additional sum of $1,000 was granted the local board of health to help defray the expenses of that board in its milk and water inspection.

William M. Ryan, grand knight of the local council, Knights of Columbus, presented the council with regard to a grant for the Catholic Girls' Guild, in an event that a grant were given the "Travelers' Aid." The letter was received but no action taken, as no grants are being made in this direction.

Mr. Fisher moved that the C. P. R. be memorialized to the effect, when the construction of a new bridge over the reversing falls is commenced, that any interference with the level railway crossing shall be avoided. Upon suggestion from Mr. Bullock, a similar suggestion was ordered sent to the board of railroad commissioners.

An application for a grant, from the Salvation Army, was not recommended.

The grants included: Lancaster ferry, $1,000; board of health, additional, $1,150; Public Library repairs, $1,150; Playgrounds Association, $6,500; River-view Park, $250; Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis, $500; Horticultural Association, $550; Arboricultural Association, $250; Seamen's Mission Society, $500; Associated Charities, $225; Victorian Order of Nurses, $2,000; Playgrounds, $6,500; Free Kindergarten Association, $1,500; S. P. C., $150; S. P. C. Animal League, $100; Tourist Association, $500; Natural History Society, $400; Great War Veterans, $10,000; Swimming scows, $1,200; Exhibition Association, $10,000; Town Planning Commission, $500.

Upon motion of Mr. Jones, the additional grant to the schools was reduced from $77,250 to $66,450, a deduction of $10,000 and interest on the amount granted, for the school overdraft.

A protest was received from the Robert Reford Company and Furness, Withy & Company regarding the discharge of ballast by vessels in port, and it was recommended that the protest be considered and a delegation of the ship-brokers be heard.

J. M. Martin, dock inspector, informed the council that suitable gangways were needed at the city wharves for the accommodation of tramp steamers and other vessels which were not suitably equipped for meeting the rise and fall in the local tides.

West Side.

It was pointed out to the common council yesterday afternoon by members of the west side board of trade that West St. John did not consider itself benefited by the commission form of civic government; that a bridge should be built to connect the east and west sides of the harbor and, until that bridge is built the Carleton ferry should be operated as a public highway; failure of the council to consider these matters might lead West St. John to separate from the city proper and affiliate with Beaconsfield, Fairville and Lancaster in forming a municipality of its own.

J. Firth Brittain, president of the west end board of trade, entered a vigorous protest on behalf of his organization against the proposed increase in ferry rates. The general opinion of the west end residents was that the ferry should be operated as a public highway until such time as a permanent bridge was erected. The present rates were high enough, he considered, and he was strongly opposed to any increase.

W. E. Scully, J. A. Barry, W. L. Harding, and N. P. McLeod supported Mr. Brittain in his protest. They contended that the west end regarded the ferry as a public highway and that neither the city authorities nor the street railway gave the people of Carleton proper consideration. Instead of being an increase there should be a decrease in ferry rates. The Union Act had promised a bridge, but it had not come, and the residents of Carleton felt the ferry should be practically free until it did come. There had been talk of an amalgamation of Carleton, Fairville, Lancaster and Beaconsfield. Mr. Barry reminded the council and the action of the latter might force the people of those parts to unite in the way suggested. Mr. Brittain said he was opposed to an increase of any kind, but if that were the best the council could do he would tell the west end rate payers and try to keep them satisfied.

Commissioner Bullock outlined the plans he had suggested in connection with the ferry increases which have already been published in the Times-Star. Later when the matter was taken up the committee Commissioner Jones and Fisher opposed it.

The Police.

Fred A. Campbell and Patrolmen Frank Killen and Allan McInnis accompanied by John McLellan, of Ottawa, of the fair wage commission under the department of labor, appeared at the council meeting and appealed for an increase in wages for policemen to $120 a month. It was said that the policemen on their present wage were unable to support their families and were not making as much as ordinary workmen. Unless the demand was granted the case would be put before a board of conciliation.

Protest Against Discrimination.

At a meeting of the industrial and transportation committee of the Commercial Club last evening, telegrams were sent to the Halifax Commercial Club and the maritime branch of the C. M. A., asking that they join in a protest against discrimination in rates on commodities manufactured in the maritime provinces and objecting to the proposed curtailment in the number of free days allowed for cars with lumber shipments for export. The unsatisfactory passenger service to and from St. John on the C. M. R. was referred to also. A letter was read from Hon. Mr. Mackenzie King in which he said he hoped to be able to have St. John and the whole of Canada benefit by what he had seen in his visit here.

B. R. Armstrong, chairman of the committee on tax exemption reported that he had drafted a letter to the common council explaining what was done in other cities to induce new industries and asking that they lay down a definite policy in this regard.

The meeting opened at 8.15 with A. P. Paterson, the president, in the chair. P. D. McEvity, chairman of the hydro-electric committee, reported that his committee had interviewed officials of the provincial government and they were assured that the question of increased hydro-electric development in New Brunswick would be taken up early in the next session.

E. A. Hoyt, chairman of the committee to inquire into the passenger service on the C. M. R., reported that the committee had found the passenger service very inadequate and connections very poor. They had interviewed Messrs. Hayes and McLennan and, although these gentlemen inferred that an increased passenger service from St. John to insure better connection with the Ocean Limited and other trains would not be a paying proposition, still they held out some hopes for its accomplishment.

The matter of the proposed curtailment of the free days for cars with lumber shipments for export was taken up and Hugh Mackay said that any such move would be very injurious to the lumber business in the province. The chairman said he thought any such move would be hitting at the vitals of the province as lumbering was the main industry. He thought that this province and the other maritime provinces were not being fairly treated by Ontario and the other Canadian provinces. New Brunswick had been willing to bear taxation for benefits in the upper provinces and in the West, but these provinces thought that everything in the maritime provinces should be paying propositions, and they were not willing to bear any of the expenses connected with benefits down here. According to the British North America Act, he said, the L. C. R. was not supposed to be a paying proposition, and that New Brunswick and Nova Scotia should insist on their rights being granted.

LECTURE ON THE GREAT WAR

A lecture by Lieut. Col. H. C. Sparling, D. S. O., in the armory last evening on "Lessons Drawn from the Great German Advance and the Last One Hundred Days," proved attractive and interesting to a large gathering over which Brig. Gen. Macdonnell, C. M. G., D. S. O., presided. The lecture was illustrated by maps and the speaker graphically and in detail described the various features of outstanding importance both prior to the German offensive in March, 1918, and after it up to the armistice. He was rendered a hearty vote of thanks.

COMMANDERS OF THE UNITS IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Announcement Today at Military Headquarters — Likely Camp Sussex to Open on June 22.

Announcement of the officers who will command the various military units in the province this year was made at military headquarters here today. These announcements include some already named which will be found of interest as well. All have served overseas and it was found by General Macdonnell, G. O. C. No. 7 district, on his recent trip through the province that the feeling among officers and all other ranks was in favor of the units in all branches of the service being commanded by those who had been on the other side during the war.
The units have provinces with their commanding officers as announced by Lieut.-Col. Sparling, D. S. O., today are as follows: 8th Princess Louise Hussars, Lieut.-Col. A. J. Markham; 28th N. B. Dragoons, Lieut.-Col. C. H. McLean, D. S. O.; Heavy Artillery Brigade, Lieut.-Col. W. T. Harrison, D. S. O.; Field Artillery Brigade, Lieut.-Col. C. B. Anderson, C. M. G., D. S. O., of Moncton; Machine Gun Brigade, Lieut.-Col. C. J. Messerman; 62nd St. John Fusiliers, Lieut.-Col. A. McMillan, D. S. O.; 87th Regiment, headquarters at Woodstock; Lieut.-Col. L. L. Kennedy of Centreville; 71st Regiment, headquarters Fredericton; Major W. H. Laughlin of St. Stephen; 73rd Regiment, Major C. Donald, headquarters at Chatham; 1st Brighton Field Co., Engineers, Lieut.-Col. W. W. Melville, headquarters at Woodstock; Field Ambulance, Lieut.-Col. G. G. Corbet, Army Service Corps, Capt. A. G. Rainie.
While no date has been named by Ottawa with respect to camp training, local headquarters have recommended June 22 as the date for the opening of Sussex camp. It has not yet been officially announced that there will be a camp there but there is reason to believe that one will be held. If so, it is expected it will be a very large one, many of those who served overseas being desirous of going in order to make up for the time spent of the province with whom they fought in France.

PRESENTATION TO F. J. HARDIMAN

At noon today the staff of the business office of the Telegraph and Times gathered in the main office to pay a parting tribute to F. J. Hardiman, who is leaving the employ of the company and removing from the city. E. W. McCready, managing director, recalled the fact that Mr. Hardiman had come here ten years ago and in the intervening period, by faithful and capable work had not only given satisfaction to his employers but gained and held the friendship of the staff. He had also made many friends in the city, whose good wishes would go with him wherever he went. His fellow workers regretted his going but were sure success would attend him because of the qualities which he had manifested while a citizen of St. John.
On behalf of the staff Mr. McCready presented to Mr. Hardiman a substantial gift. He made a feeling reply, remarking that he had done his best while a citizen of St. John, and appreciated the high esteem his friendships he had made. He would miss his friends, and was very grateful for their appreciation and their expressions of good will.

The Hawks won the first string from the Sparrows in last night's game by 13 pins. For the Hawks Downing had 108, Power 94 and Jarvis 97. For the Sparrows Cosgrove, Gamblin and Lawson were in the ninety class.

The Sparrows won the second point by 25 pins, giving the Sparrows three points and the Hawks one. For the Hawks Jarvis had a century and Power 94. For the Sparrows Hutchinson had 102, Cosgrove 98 and Smith 84.
Shots at the King Pin.
The Sparrows got the pins when pins meant points.

Hutchinson's strike on his spare in the last string started the Sparrows on a rampage which resulted in four spares and swamped the Hawks. The fourth and anchor men of the two teams fought a good battle. There was only four pins difference between their totals for the three strings.

Why Is a House Divided Into Rooms?

That the greatest convenience and comfort may be derived, a house is divided into rooms, and the genuine purpose of this house as a home depends upon the completeness and appropriateness of each of these room's appointments.
The furnishings of a room may be recognizably costly, yet wholly lacking or incompatible with the feeling of warmth and restfulness which should be the end to be gained, and never to be departed from, in the entirety of its furnishing scheme.
Possibly, by the rearrangement of this same furniture, all the serenity of harmony and the exquisiteness of effect may result in the transformation of this atmosphere.
Color tones must be essentially correct and in concord with the furniture it is to display to advantage, and at the same time adding that subtle "something"—better perceived as the "soul of a room."
For your realization to the fullest extent of each separate room's distinct individuality, we invite you to come to this resourceful furnishing establishment for furniture of quality and beauty which will become an asset to your home.
Service is courteously and conscientiously extended you in every department of our store.

Author of the House Bill Attacks Senate Budget Plan

Representative Good of Iowa Goes Into Details, With Some Criticisms — Business Methods in Government Required.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Representative James W. Good of Iowa, chairman of the house committee on appropriations and author of the budget bill adopted by the house last October, in an interview yesterday declared that the senate must adopt the house budget plan if the government is to have a business administration of its fiscal affairs; and, with the adoption of the plan, he said that congress must "clean houses" by concentrating its appropriating powers in single committees of the two chambers.

economy that successful business men everywhere have found necessary in the conduct of their business affairs. Here Representative Good attacked as ineffectual the budget plan being fostered in the upper branch of congress by Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the senate select committee on the budget. The bill that has passed the house places full responsibility for the preparation of the budget upon the president through a bureau of the budget in his office and, among other things, creates an independent auditing and accounting department.

contative Good said, "No budget system, however perfect, will itself save money. It may have potentialities but it cannot have actualities. The savings and economies that can be effected through such a system will depend entirely upon the sound business judgment of the president who will execute it."

"Apparently the government of the United States is the only great business concern that is not run along business lines. With one breath the secretary of labor asks for $14,500,000 to establish employment agencies throughout the country to help our unemployed to find jobs, while in another he voices his approval of the plan of the commissioner of immigration to bring into the United States 100,000 laborers from Porto Rico and Mexico to supply a labor shortage. On the same day the attorney-general is seen starting a great crusade against buying anything except the actual necessities for immediate needs, we see the secretary of agriculture advising and urging the state highway commission to buy and store for future use all kinds of material and machinery for road construction. We behold the treasury department urging Congress to accept a generous donation by patriotic citizens of a southern city of 5,000 acres of land on which to build a hospital and, when a generous appropriation is made by Congress to build this hospital, we see this same department letting a contract to some of those patriotic citizens who donated the land. That is not all. The contract is let at just double the amount which the treasury department estimated it would cost to have the same improvements made by letting out the work to sub-contractors. We hear all of the executive departments in one grand finale denouncing the hoarder of the necessities of life and threatening to throw him into jail, while at the same time we behold the secretary of war, the greatest hoarder of necessities in all the world, refusing to dispose of his hoarded stock until commanded by Congress.

The clinic is held particularly for the children, whom Miss Louise Hopkins, the tuberculosis nurse, who has already done a great deal in this line, may desire to send, for Miss Bicknell in her district nursing work, and for the two school nurses, Miss Katherine B. Smith and Miss Mary Williams.

No child can receive treatment at the clinic unless he presents a card signed by a parent giving consent for his or her attendance and also approved by the nurse. The establishment of the clinic has been made possible through the generosity of the dentists in so freely giving their valuable time and expert services, the hospital trustees in allowing the use of their dental room and the generosity of a member of the anti-tuberculosis society in supplying funds to meet all present expenses.

If you look closely the faces of 8 other persons will be found. Can you find them? It is no easy task but with patience and endurance can be accomplished.

"The president and the president alone," Representative Good said, "can bring about an harmonious co-operation of his official family, and to him should be committed the responsibility for the preparation of the budget. To give one of the members of his official family the power to regulate and control all the activities carried on by the other members is unnatural and unworkable. For the next twenty-five years the big political questions in this country will center, not around questions of the coinage of silver, or the tariff, but rather around the big business problems of economy and taxation."

"It is suggested by a senate bill that, by divesting the secretary of the treasury of his non-financial duties, he would be best able to prepare the budget. It is proposed to transfer from his supervision the public health service, the office of the supervising architect, the bureau of war risk insurance, and the general supply committee. Even with these functions transferred to other departments, he would still have under him the office of the treasurer of the United States with 14,000 employees, drawing an annual salary of more than $250,000; the office of the commissioner of more than $1,500,000; the office of the comptroller of the currency with 165 employees drawing annual salaries in the aggregate of more than $250,000; the office of the director of the mints, with more than 1,000 employees, and conducted at an annual expense of more than $2,000,000; the office of the commissioner of internal revenue, with more than 14,000 employees and conducted at an annual expense of $21,000,000; and the bureau of engraving and printing employing more than 7,000 persons and conducted at an annual expense of more than $12,300,000.

"He collects customs and in that service employs about 7,000 persons at an annual expense of more than $10,000,000. His coast guard service contains 100 vessels, maintains 272 life saving stations, employs more than 5,000 men, and is conducted at an annual expense of more than $10,000,000. "The division of public moneys, of loans and currency, of the secret service, and of printing and stationery; the office of the comptroller of the treasury, with all the auditors for the other departments of the government; the register of the treasury, and the federal farm loan board, place upon the secretary of the treasury duties which require the employment in the aggregate of thousands of clerks and the disbursement of millions of dollars in salaries and expenses, and add to his other manifold duties. Even if the non-financial duties described in the senate bill should be taken from the secretary of the treasury and transferred to some other department, he would still have under him almost 45,000 employees, and would annually expend in the payment of the salaries and expenses in carrying out the duties imposed by law upon the treasury department more than $164,000,000. "The estimated requirements of the government for the next fiscal year aggregate $5,250,000,000 and if the senate bill was the law today the secretary of the treasury who would make the budget would pass upon less than $1,500,000,000, or less than one-third of the total estimates, outside of his own department. The treasury department alone is more than $1,600,000,000 and under the senate plan no one is to supervise these and bring about any economy in the department where the large appropriations are contained and where a great saving must be made.

"It is a part of the present plan of the House select committee on the budget that the House shall change its rules by providing that all authority to report appropriations be centered in one committee of thirty-five members. Such a resolution has been reported and is now pending in the House and will be acted upon at this session of congress. Certainly the House will not place itself in the position of requiring the executive departments to clean house and at the same time refuse to put its own household in order.

"By creating an independent auditing and accounting department, as provided for in the House bill, Congress will have applied another practical business principle to the administration of the government's fiscal affairs. Men will be employed as auditors who owe their positions to their training and ability, and who do not secure their positions as a reward for political service. They will be fearless in their examination and can criticize the executives who misuse appropriations or whose offices are conducted in an inefficient manner without fear of removal because their tenure of office is made secure during good behavior."

Asked how much an executive budget system would have the nation, Representative Good said, "No budget system, however perfect, will itself save money. It may have potentialities but it cannot have actualities. The savings and economies that can be effected through such a system will depend entirely upon the sound business judgment of the president who will execute it."

Can We Conquer Russia by Kindness

The hand that feeds Russia is liable to be bitten, in the opinion of some skeptical editors who doubt the wisdom of applying to our dealings with Lenine the apostolic injunction: "If thine enemy hunger, feed him." According to one paragrapher it looks as though the Allied statesmen thought the policy of "feed the brute" ought to work as well with a hostile nation as it is supposed to do with a balky husband. The Echo de Paris wonders how "we are going to do business with the subjects of Moscow without doing business with Moscow, since by military requisition they can take anything sent into Russia." The New York Times, in taking a dig at Mr. Lloyd George, says that he "having failed to kill the wolf, now offers him a juicy bone." Yet as we study the editorial opinion in this country we find much approval of the new Russian policy. The Newark News calls it "the most sensible and hopeful move that has been made in dealing with the Russian middle."

France's New President Elegant Man of the World

Deschanel Has Found the Secret of Applying His Polished Oratory to Subjects Like the Tariff and Naval Appropriations.

(Ithaca, N. Y., Evening Post.) Some twenty or twenty-five years ago, when Paul Deschanel was at the height of his popularity, he was universally spoken of as "the young and brilliant M. Deschanel." Young he was, as youth goes in politics. Entering the chamber at twenty-eight, he was its speaker at forty-one. At forty-three he was a member of the French Academy, and as he aged very slowly the "young" stuck to him beyond his rights and beyond common practice.

Brilliant he was likewise if the word means both intellectual and physical attractiveness. He had received a more than good education and his speeches, as his writings, bespoke true culture. He was also good looking, had an appearance of "class" and wore clothes that fitted, a rare thing in our somewhat careless French democracy. His hair was always nicely parted and his eyes, which he never closed, were full of fire. He was always neatly dressed, in fact, one of these things that is not free from cosmetics. "Le pomade Deschanel" is the way his political opponents, the extreme radicals and the extreme reactionaries, often called him. They said, not without truth this time, that every time he delivered one of his long prepared, finely expressed and skillfully delivered speeches, the galleries were full of well-gowned ladies.

The ritual was always the same, frequent handclapping and "vive le président" while he spoke, and the end of the oration would be greeted by what the Journal officiel calls "lively and prolonged applause" followed by a rush of colleagues to congratulate the orator. Those who did not like M. Deschanel used to say that he learned his speeches by heart, and rehearsed them before his mirror. Pure slander. More than likely he prepared his orations with the greatest care, leaving very little to chance. More than likely also, he was fastidious about his voice and his gestures. But why not? He could reply to his critics what Jaures once answered a colleague who seemed to reproach him for speaking too well: "I have too much respect for my colleagues to bring to them anything that I have not prepared."

The first time he made a set speech he chose a subject that did not seem to lend itself to the flourishes of oratory, namely, the tariff. Representative of a protectionist district, he rose to support the tax of six francs on wheat that was demanded by the French farmers. For the first time a tariff speech had fervor, polish, literary charm and great eloquence. The date, June 29, 1886, is well remembered by parliamentarians. Of course, his political opponents tried to disparage this brilliant debut, which they said could not be duplicated. Some likened him to Delaunay, the then famous actor of the Theatre Francais, who played the lover before an admiring house of young ladies. Others said that he would soon join in oblivion another one-night star, the famous "single speech Hamilton," who had once started the House of Commons only to go back to private life unremembered and unknown.

Deschanel believed those evil prophets. He was not a lazy dilettante nor was he an imprudent tempter of fortune. His principle was to remain silent until he had something to say, and then he prepared his speech with painstaking care. He appeared again at the tribune in 1888 to discuss the French protectorate of the Christians in the Near East, and again on a very technical subject, the appropriations for the navy. And again to these most arid themes he brought his charm of manner, his finish, and his flights of oratory. Some of these qualities were either the result of his excellent training or the direct heritage of his distinguished father.

I heard Emile Deschanel, the older, when, at the end of his career, he used to lecture once a week to a large and enthusiastic crowd at the College de France. He preceded his son in the admiration of the fair sex. They flocked to his courses and no one could hear him with comfort who did not get there an hour before the time. He was a clever speaker with more grace than force.

During the early part of his life when an exile in a foreign land he had to learn all the tricks of the lecture platform, and the audience of the College de France received the benefit of his experience. For this distinguished literary critic and professor of literature was also a noble citizen who had suffered for his democratic beliefs. A Republican and an opponent of the coup d'etat of Napoleon III, he was exiled in 1861 and went to Belgium to earn his living like Victor Hugo and other martyrs of the Republican faith. That is why Paul Deschanel was born in Brussels, in 1857, at the height of the second empire and that, perhaps, why he has shown all through his life such ardent love for his country which he had first learned to cherish in exile.

Emile Deschanel gave to his son, in addition to the austere lesson and example of fidelity to principle, the best classical training that a young Frenchman could receive in Paris in the late seventies. Paul obviously felt a calling for the administrative and political life, for he studied exactly what was to prepare him for that career.

The place of his father in the esteem of the Third Republic gave him at once opportunities for political experience. Under M. de Marece, now justly forgotten, although he died not more than ten years ago, and especially under Jules Simon, the philosopher who belonged to several cabinets, young Deschanel learned the routine of governmental administration at the centre before beginning his tour through the provinces as administrator of district or, to use the official title, as "sous-prefet." Le sous-prefet is often considered a ridiculous personage in France because of the disproportion between his official prestige and his real power. M. Deschanel was surely not ridiculous as sous-prefet of Dreux, Melun, Brest and Meaux, which he administered in turn. In fact, one of these districts is the one that has elected him to parliament for the last thirty years. He entered the house in 1885.

His politics, if we were to judge by the friends he associated with and the ministers he served, and the papers he contributed to, would seem distinctly conservative. In fact, in the chamber of deputies he soon stood out as one of the most ardent opponents of extreme radicalism then led by Clemenceau and as the very scholarly and insistent critic of a doctrine, then in great favor and well represented, namely, Socialism. Between 1886 and 1900 Deschanel had many a bout with the disciples of Karl Marx and with some of the more powerful orators of the party like Jaures and Jules Guesde. I remember hearing once a debate between him and Jaures, on the agricultural problem and on the agrarian policy of the Socialists. The two opponents were well matched and their oratorical temperaments had very singular resemblances. Deschanel never lost the respect of his opponents because he took the pains of studying the doctrine that he attacked, and while pasthe kind that is impervious to new ideas or balks at all changes. He is a progressive conservative of the same type that M. Poincaré belongs to. All of the reforms made by the radical party in the last few years were accepted by him. The separation of church and state that terrified some members of his party he defended eloquently before the house. No doctrine, however bold, has found him inhospitable if the doctrine had in it the requirements of justice and common sense. He has studied too much, he knows too much history and too much economics to belong to the category of those who learn nothing and forget nothing.

Although M. Deschanel does not claim to be an original scholar, he is justly proud of his literary output, which fills easily ten or fifteen volumes. He writes well, almost exclusively on historical, political or semi-political subjects. His early books were either essays on historical characters or studies of colonial subjects. His membership in the French Academy he would, however, be the first to credit to the high position he occupied and to his oratorical successes rather than to his literary merit.

A few days ago two young women entered a car and found only one vacant room. One of them whispered to her companion: "I'm going to get a seat from one of these men."

She looked down the row of passengers and selected a very sedate man, who bore the general settled appearance of a married man. She sailed up to him and boldly opened fire: "My dear Mr. Green! How delighted I am to meet you! You are almost a stranger. Will I accept your seat? Well, I do feel tired, I heartily admit. Thank you, so much."

The sedate gentleman—a total stranger, of course—looked, listened, then quietly arose and gave her his seat, saying: "Sit down, Jane, my girl. Don't often see you out on a washing day. You must feel tired, I'm sure. How's your mistress?"

The young woman got her seat, but lost her vivacity.

WILL DRURY SCRAP SCHOOL SYSTEM?

Ontario Premier Says He Will Do So If It Is Found Necessary.

BIG CHANGES COMING

Less by Rule and Regulation and More by Arousing Interest in Study.

By W. C. PREMIER E. C. DRURY is prepared to scrap the entire educational machine of Ontario if such a course is found to be necessary.

"The trouble with our educational system seems to be that there is too much of the machine and too little of the human element in it," declared the Premier.

At the dinner given by the schoolmen's club in Toronto, when a leader of the U.F.O.-Labor Government was the guest of honor and the speaker of the evening.

He said so and said it quite frankly and quite freely and frankly to the assembly of about 150 educationists who were there.

Ontario's school system is half hour speech and half hour speech of a revolutionary in its tendency by some of the Education Department officials, no doubt.

But the strongest statements of the Premier provoked applause from the great majority of his hearers.

That followed from such men as Sir Robert Falconer, Dr. James L. Huxley and Dr. Waugh, endorsed the sentiment that it was time for a change.

Dr. Huxley went further and denounced the Education Department under the Hearst regime as being absolutely tyrannical.

Premier Drury's chief concern is for the 50 per cent. of children who never go beyond the Public School. He wants to see the love of learning developed in their minds and hearts so that they will be stirred to go as far as they can in the educational course.

He declares that in this desire there is nothing of criticism or opposition to University interests. In fact, the Public School development should naturally lead to a broadened and bettered University life.

Encourage Individuality. YOU want to know what our educational policy is? Well, we are hunting for one. We intend to gather all the inspectors in conference soon and put certain ideas before them for consideration.

Then we want them to come back to us and give us the benefit of the information they have gained, and assist us with their counsel.

Mr. Drury believes that the public school in things educational is largely due to the fact that the people have been given no voice in shaping the educational system of Ontario.

It is there and they must take it as it is. Therefore, the educational system of Ontario has become a machine, minus the human touch that it should have to be a vitalized force.

serve the great masses of the people. There is a rule in the Schoolmen's Club that no speeches are allowed after the guest of the evening has spoken.

TANKS NOT WANTED SAID WAR OFFICE

Sir Albert Stern Tells Amazing Story of Opposition to New War Weapon.

AWFUL BLUNDERING Even When the Army Proved Tanks' Value the War Office Fossils Hated the Idea.

THE more truth we learn about the management of the war the more miraculous does it seem that we were not beaten.

Fortunately, as we know now, the management of the enemy was as bungling and blundering also.

Sir Albert Stern makes some surprising revelations of British War Office mismanagement in his book "Tanks," published by Hodder and Stoughton.

Hamilton Fyfe, writing in the London Mail says: "The order for the production of 1,000 tanks was reinstated next day."

It was lucky that Sir Albert happened to be a banker, the son of a man very well known and with power in the city.

He could stand up to the mandarins where a man without influence would have been "sunk without trace."

It was lucky, too, that he was a man of resource and humor. When the War Office pressed him to let Russia have plans of our tanks in 1916 he opposed this strongly.

"I was convinced by the nature of the questions asked that the request would show itself impracticable. However, the Intelligence Department of the War Office was very insistent, so it cancelled without his knowledge, since he was President of the Army Council."

Leading Candidates For Republican Nomination.

Senator W. Harding of Ohio

Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois

Disadvantages: Senator Harding has failed to come out in clear-cut fashion on some of the important issues that have arisen in the country since the armistice, his opponents point out.

The first advantage claimed for Gen. Wood is that there is a spontaneous movement for him over the country, and that he is the only aspirant among the Republicans about whom an account of his record as a soldier and administrator is given for this.

First, on the basis of personality and achievements, take Governor Lowden. He has an excellent record as administrator and reformer of the Illinois State Government.

When he was elected Governor in 1916 there were 128 State prisons, overlapping in waste, failures and inefficiency. These were consolidated into nine departments and an effective budget system was introduced.

Courage as a public man is another asset. He led the way toward the repeal of the liquor prohibition act.

Disloyalty and opposition. When Mayor Thompson failed to interfere with the meeting of the "People's Council of America for Democracy and Terms of Peace" charged with being pro-German, Governor Lowden called out the troops to prevent the meeting.

In the more recent troubles between labor and capital he has acted with equal boldness, declaring that compulsory arbitration was the only safe life.

In Governor Lowden's career, starting from a humble beginning, there is a quality that has its appeal to the voter. He is the son of a village blacksmith, born in 1851 at Switz, Minn.

He worked his way through college in Iowa, and soon made his mark practicing law in Chicago. In 1886 he married Miss Florence Pullman, the daughter of George M. Pullman.

In pointing out his ability as a business man, one of his supporters said that the fortune Miss Pullman inherited had been "bled" by Mr. Lowden's good management.

Senator Harding stands out most conspicuously in the eyes of the Republican powers that be as a safe man. His career is not marked with any striking achievement, but has been a steady growth from a farmer's boy upward.

Harding a Newspaperman SENATOR HARDING'S supporters point to his record as an employer. Born in Blooming Grove, Ohio in 1865, he started in life in Marion, Ohio, as the publisher and editor of a small newspaper.

Serving in the beginning also as typesetter, pressman, advertising man, and reporter he built the paper up year after year until it became the most influential daily in that part of the State.

Though a strong partisan, Senator Harding's liking for a man does not stop at party lines always in Senator Harding's case. His political preferences George B. Clark, Jr., the Senator's secretary in a Democrat; they had long been next-door neighbors at Marion. Outside of his own State Senator Harding's supporters expect him to make an especially strong appeal to constructive business interests.

But his greatest advantage from a political standpoint is that he hails from a pivotal State, a doubtful one with a big electoral vote. From being considered a rock-ribbed Republican, State, Ohio has gone Democratic in the last two Presidential elections.

TROUBRIDGE IS AN IDOL AMONG HUNGARIANS

British Admiral Could Become a Dictator, Such Is Confidence in Him.

A MAN who, by his strong personality and by reason of having won the utmost confidence of the people of Hungary, could become dictator-to-morrow if he so willed, is Admiral Sir Ernest Troubridge, K.C.M.G., president of the Danube Commission.

Nominally his functions do not extend beyond the Danube. Actually he is the arbiter, counsellor, friend of soldier, sailor, and politician alike. The Hungarians have the utmost confidence in him, and if he so willed he could become Dictator of Hungary.

Each time he appears in his box at the opera he is cheered to the echo, for the Hungarians know he has stood between them and the ravishing of the Rumanians. To him the Hungarians owe their very existence this winter. Every time the Rumanians have tried to requisition food destined for the starving population of Budapest, Admiral Troubridge has said "No," and by sheer force of his personality has struck terror into their hearts.

The admiral had 40,000 men to enforce their demands. The admiral had 200 submarine chasers, and with six-pounders to enforce his will.

In appearance Admiral Troubridge is a typical John Bull. Snow looks over a kindly, wrinkled face do not hint of the power that lies behind his eyes.

Many stories of the admiral in Budapest could be told. When the Rumanians were setting free Budapest, he was left in such a state of chaos that they would get a mandate from Hungary to stay permanently in Budapest, the admiral devised a plan to counteract them.

He started a movement to conserve every inch of food in the Danube. "It's like this," he said, "the poor haven't seen food for months. I give them little trips down the river. They see their friends, buy cheap food in the country, come back, normal happy people, and forget all about Bolshevism."

Our Farmer Premier Can Crack a Joke

Mr. Drury Handed Out a Laugh at the Schoolmen Club's Dinner.

By W. C. PREMIER E. C. Drury has a sense of humor. It has not been very much in evidence so far. Perhaps that is because of the serious nature of the business he has had in hand.

But the humor in the man flashed out a bit at the recent dinner of the Schoolmen's Club at Hart House.

"I confess that it is with a distinct sense of disappointment that I face this audience," he began. The audience was entirely a masculine one, made up of Public and High school and University men, and educationists at large. Said audience sat tight and waited.

"When I was invited to come here and speak," he went on, "the invitation was given to me over the telephone. Perhaps I did not hear distinctly but I understood over the telephone that I was being invited to the School Ma'am's Club. And when I set here this is what I find," he extended his hand toward the mere males in front of him.

TOWN'S POOR BOY RETURNS AND BUYS IT FOR $5,000,000

Sap Copley, London Banker, Who Left Huddersfield, Yorkshire, With One Dollar, Purchases Place to Make Dwellers Freeholders.

LONDON, Eng. Huddersfield was cursing landlordism ever since I have always thought that if I were rich enough I would buy Huddersfield and free it, and now I think the opportunity has come. It was at the suggestion of my friend Wilfrid Dawson, a well-known stock broker of Huddersfield, that I gave the corporation an offer of the property. I bought. If the corporation does not accept the offer I shall give every man in Huddersfield the opportunity of becoming the owner of his own freehold property.

"This buying of the Ramsden estate is just one of those changes in social conditions in England to which we are now getting accustomed. "There was a period of slavery, then a period of serfdom and then a period of landlord and tenant. To-day is the period when people are going to own their own freeholds which is one of the greatest things to keep men at home and satisfied men will always fight for home."

MANITOBA FARMERS PLEASUED WITH RURAL CREDIT SCHEME

System Adopted in 1917 Has Shown Remarkable Growth, With Credits in 1919 of Over $1,000,000 - Working Expense is Small and Terms of Credit Very Generous.

(By J. A. Macdonald, Publicity Commissioner for Manitoba.)

A convention unique in the annals of such gatherings was that which took place on Jan. 14 and 15 at the Port Garry Hotel, in Winnipeg, bringing together 500 of the leading farmers of Manitoba, who are directors of the thirty-eight active rural credit societies in the province.

The growth of the Manitoba rural credit system has been remarkable. The necessary legislation was passed in March, 1917, and in that year only one society was organized, and that largely for the purpose of demonstrating the working methods of the scheme. The Kildonan-St. Andrew's Rural Credit Society, with a membership of fifty farmers, granted credits of $16,000 to its members in 1917, and that represents the total of operations under the act in that year. By the spring of 1918 ten societies had been organized, and these granted to their members during that year a total credit of $215,880. In 1919 there were thirty-eight societies in active operation, and the total credits granted amount to over $1,000,000. It is confidently expected by the provincial supervisor of these societies that before the end of 1920 there will be in existence at least seventy-five societies doing active business, and that these will cover practically every section of the province.

Only Farmers as Members.

The system of organization is as follows: When fifteen farmers in a district evidence a desire to start a credit society by petitioning for a charter, an organizing secretary. This organizer is usually one of the brightest, most energetic and public-spirited farmers in the district. Five provisional directors are named, usually from among the fifteen petitioners, and these co-operate with the organizer in securing the additional members necessary to complete a society, that is, fifty shareholders in all. Each of these fifty members subscribes to one share of stock in the society of a par value of $100, on which $10 is paid at the time, the balance being subject to call by the board of directors of the society. It may be mentioned, in passing, that so far no society in Manitoba has yet made any but the first call of 10 per cent on stock subscriptions. The liabilities of each member for the debts of the others is limited absolutely to the amount of his subscribed capital, which is always one share of $100.

When the necessary fifty members have subscribed their stock the municipality subscribes to stock to one-half of the amount subscribed by the farmers, that is, a minimum of twenty-five hundred dollars, and the same sum is then automatically subscribed by the provincial government.

Each of the latter pays one-tenth of its subscription, thus giving the society, with a membership of fifty, a total subscribed capital of $10,000, of which $1,000 has actually been paid into the treasury. Each Rural Credit Society is incorporated, with an authorized capital of $20,000, which permits the admission of 100 members.

members. In actual practice when a society has 100 members, a new society is formed to take care of the surplus. This has already happened in two or three districts in Manitoba. The three distinct groups of subscribers to shares, that is, the members of the society, the municipality and the government, are equally represented on the board of directors of nine members. None but farmers can be members of a society, and none but members of a society can secure credit through it.

Reliability Is Assured.

The actual money borrowed through the association is secured through the local branches of the chartered banks of Canada. The act provides that no borrower may be charged more than 7 per cent for money lent to him, and that the society pays the banks only 6 per cent. The difference of 1 per cent goes to pay the expenses of the society, and any surplus augments its reserve capital. The society as a whole is responsible to the bank for the money borrowed, but the borrower does business direct with the bank, and his credit has been approved by the society.

It will be seen that the fundamental soundness of the whole scheme lies in the fact that the application for credit is passed upon by the applicant's own neighbor. The directors of a rural credit society know every man who asks for a loan. They know what kind of a farmer he is. They know his land. They know just how much grain he sold last year. Having been neighbors of his for years, they are able to judge his needs and his capabilities far better than the banker sitting at his desk in the nearest large town. Above all they are personally to become responsible for a certain small share of his liability.

How the Money May Be Spent.

The uses to which money borrowed through a Manitoba Rural Credit Society can be used are limited to the following: The purchase of seed, feed and other supplies; the purchase of implements and machinery; the purchase of cows, horses, sheep, pigs and other animals; the payment of the cost of carrying on any farming, ranching, dairying or other like operations; the payment of the cost of preparing the soil for cultivation.

An idea of what the million-dollar borrowed through the rural credit societies in 1919 was used for may be gained from the following statement:

Live stock	.....	$ 172,332

Growing up sturdy and strong on OXO CUBES

Sturdy and strong! that's how every mother wishes her children to grow up. Then give them a cup of Oxo every day. It can be made simply and quickly with Oxo Cubes.

A daily cup of Oxo works wonders in the matter of health. Sturdy children grow sturdier—backward children get rosy cheeks, gain weight, win back their appetites.

An excellent diet both for delicate children and invalids is an Oxo Cube in a glass of hot milk. Oxo renders the milk readily assimilable and vastly increases its nourishing value.

The item of $247,691 for new breaking means that over 30,000 acres of new land was brought under the plow during the year, and it is estimated that not 10 per cent of this breaking could have been done except for the aid which the individual farmer secured through his rural credit society. Taking the average production of cultivated land in Manitoba in the past ten years, these 30,000 acres of new land should increase the production of the province next year by approximately $1,000,000.

"OF NECESSITY ETERNAL"

A wise people cannot remain indifferent to the important question of dairying. Whether it is realized or not, dairying is the foundation of human welfare and of a permanent agricultural and healthful nation of the earth, those that have a strong and resourceful people, are producers and consumers of dairy products. Milk is the most vital food for health, growth and development. The dairy cow provides an easy way to keep our lands fertile and productive. The strength and progress of a nation lies within its soil and its intelligent development. We have in the cow a creature that produces the most nutritious and important food and sustains a fertile soil. No other animal of the farm contributes so much to the welfare and happiness of man. She is of necessity eternal.—Hoard's Dairymen.

Effects of Inflation.

Compilation of information by a New York bank showing that paper money has increased by 600 per cent. in the world since 1914 is supplemented in an enlightening manner by an article on "Foreign Exchanges and the Inflation of Currency" in the Incorporated Accountants' Journal, London. "It is generally agreed," says the article, "that the present high prices are attributable partly at least to the inflation of our currency by the issue of currency notes. It is customary to speak of the high price of goods, rather than of the low value of money, but inflation of currency may be expressed either in the terms of higher prices of commodities or lower money values. The latter is in fact more current, because the amount of money in circulation has been artificially increased and has thereby become of less value. Its value is less because it is more plentiful, and it is more plentiful because it has been inflated by the issue of notes which are not in fact (although they are in law) exchangeable for gold." The inflation of currency is the cause, and the rise in prices is the effect. But the currency is not the only cause. Variations in prices arise from changes in the relative plentifulness of money and goods, and at present the supply of goods is becoming less through decreased production during the war, and the supply of money greater through the creation of paper currency not backed by gold. There is consequently an alteration in the relative proportions of money and goods which are exchangeable. Financial authorities attribute the trouble mainly to the monetary inflation, but it is quite evident that, apart altogether from the inflation of the currency, prices would have increased through the shortage of supplies."

The Journal quotes the opinion of the committee appointed by the British treasury to inquire into the question of "currency and foreign exchanges after the war," which found that exchange and currency questions are largely bound up together, and elaborates upon the granting of large credits resulting in inflation of the currency and high prices.

Elmslie's Fine Work.

Sarnia, Ont., Jan. 31—Bob Elmslie, national league umpire, in a curling match here yesterday gave one of the greatest exhibitions of the game ever seen in Sarnia. Skipping a St. Thomas rink for the McGibbon trophy, he captured the last five ends and squeezed out two points ahead, although J. C. Burr, Sarnia skip, led him 11 to 2 on the third and was still eight holes in the lead on the seventh end.

THE RING.

Kilbane Signed Up.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 30—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world, has signed to meet Benny Valger, of New York, in an eight round bout at Newark, N. J., on February 16. Valger is to weigh 124 pounds at three o'clock. Kilbane will box at catch weight.

Champion Matched.

Toledo, Jan. 30—Jimmy Wilde, the British champion, and Frankie Mason, of Port Wayne (Ind.), have been matched for a twelve-round bout in Toledo the latter part of February for the flyweight championship of the world, according to a telegram received late this afternoon from Ad Thatcher, who went to Milwaukee several days ago to obtain the signature of Wilde's manager to a contract.

Briton Won.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 30—Jack Britton, world's welterweight champion, was given a referee's decision over Jimmy Conway, of Savannah, at the end of a twelve round bout here today. Britton had the better of his opponent at all stages of the bout.

WRESTLING.

Won Championship.

New York, Jan. 30—Joe Stecher of Nebraska, tonight won the heavy weight wrestling championship at catch-as-catch-can by defeating Earl Caddock, of Iowa, with a body scissors and arm lock after more than two hours of wrestling.

Caddock put up a great battle and it was not until within five minutes of the end that his opponent gained a decisive advantage.

Just before the close of the second hour Stecher secured a body scissors and wrist lock after Caddock had made a valiant but futile effort to obtain a half-nelson. Caddock brought the spectators to their feet when he broke the double hold as his shoulder was barely an inch from the mat for a pin fall. The effort had, however, apparently held him for a moment later he was again gripped in a body scissors and the time took his shoulders went to the mat.

The official time was 2 hours 5 minutes and 30 seconds.

Green's Class Looks Good.

Boston Globe. Andover Academy has a formidable wrestling team this winter, according to Manager Philip W. Shields, who expects it to hold its own against the strongest college teams. For two weeks the team has been rounding into condition, under the supervision of Bridson Greene, and he has found some very good prospects.

Meets have been arranged with Tufts, Harvard, M. I. T. and Yale varsity teams and one has also been secured with the Harvard freshmen. There are two open dates on the schedule which the management would like to have filled. Captain Not and two other veterans are back, and this, combined with the new cadets, is likely to make a favorable impression.

SMOKER WAS GRAND SUCCESS

Power Boat Club Members Spent Enjoyable Evening—Programme Had Many Features.

The members of the St. John Power Boat Club had a most enjoyable smoker and entertainment last evening in their rooms at Marble Cove. After pipes and cigarettes had been passed around the genial commodore, J. C. Chesley, welcomed all to the reunion. The following programme was then carried out: Vocal solos by F. J. Punter, D. Kitchen and C. Warren; buck and wing dances by Charles Noddin and M. Merritt; accordion and banjo duet by Charles Noddin and Clarence Cain; songs with mandolin accompaniment by Clarence Cain and a wrestling bout between William Howard and H. Taylor.

The wrestling match was a feature attraction and the two boys, who are pupils of George Brooks, wrestling instructor at the Y. M. C. A., gave a highly interesting exhibition. They are clever and give promise of developing into good mat artists.

At the conclusion of the programme the members and their guests were ushered upstairs where refreshments were served. The programme was arranged by George Lake and was voted by all to be a grand success. The smoker was a forerunner of other good times in store for the members of the club, who are planning on a banner season.

Notes of Interest.
The boys who participated in the wrestling match were given prizes, which were well merited.

Commodore Chesley is still wearing a smile and there is a reason. After the guests had been ushered upstairs he was cordially invited into the kitchen by the chief chef, H. L. Belyea and Stan Mulkin, and there partook of a sumptuous clam chowder. While sipping the hot milk he saw the waiters start off for the kitchen above with a boiler teeming with milk and clams and a moment later heard a crash, and saw the clams come back towards the kitchen in a race with the milk. Evidently they won out, for the atmospheric conditions above and desired to remain in the well heated kitchen. Anyway they won out, for after all clams were bad so near bedtime and they made a great inroad into the cheese, crackers and coffee.

John Kiernia was relegated to the kitchen, but later appeared with a smile and announced that the clam chowders must be struck off the menu. A mystery which has been ordered to solve is, who split the chowders?

Sim Dingy is said to be learning a few new steps to demonstrate to the boys in the near future. He is said to be "some" dog dancer, but had to acknowledge after witnessing the variety of steps last night that he has still a few fancy ones to add to his repertoire.

Clarence Cain and Charles Noddin would make good on any vaudeville circuit with their highly entertaining musical programme.

An interesting programme was presented last evening at the annual thank offering of the Mission Band of St. David's church. The feature was a play depicting life in an African Christian home and a mission school. The characters were very cleverly represented by Daley, Bernice Somerville, Dorothy Fraser and Lillian Malcolm. Others taking special parts were Hazel Christopher, Yvonne Johnson, Mildred Sage, Audrey Jones, Thomas Somerville and Albert Punter. The leaders of the Mission Band are Miss Jean Somerville and Miss Theodora Wilkins.

SPOTTED FEVER IS RAMPANT IN BALTIc STATES AND POLAND

Stockholm, Jan. 31—Ravages brought about by spotted fever in the Baltic States and Poland have reached an alarming stage, according to investigations made by the Swedish medical board. The situation is considered grave for Sweden and the rest of Europe. Reports from the Swedish consular at Revel says there are 4,000 cases of spotted fever among Russian soldiers at Narva, 8,000 cases at Wenzburg and 2,000 at Ziegenhaken.

Vienna, Jan. 31—A Ukrainian Red Cross official who has arrived here seeking aid, says there are 5,000 cases of spotted fever in Kamennets, Podolia, near the Austrian frontier, alone, and that there are more than 20,000 cases in the western part of the Zaslav district, where there are only four doctors and three of them have been stricken. The officials say that deaths are occurring at the thousands.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE

"Public Utilities and the Public" was the subject of an able address last evening before the Canadian Club in Bond's restaurant by Hon. F. J. MacLeod, of Boston, former chairman of the state committee in charge of the state of Massachusetts, and seconded by C. B. Lockhart.

The speaker dealt in the various questions arising from public utilities and reviewed the work done in Massachusetts in this connection. He talked at length upon transportation and a solution of its problems, and also referred to the principles underlying operation and management of public service corporations giving public operation as a possible solution of the street railway problem. He gave a clear and definite understanding of what a public utility should be and how it should be served.

An enjoyable concert and dance was held by the West Side Mimosas in the Carlton Masonic Temple last evening. Those who assisted in the programme were Mr. and Mrs. Girvan, Messrs. Gardner, Godkin and Belyea. After the concert in charge consisted of G. M. Bailey, Harold Mayes, N. P. MacLeod, J. F. Brittan and J. F. Myles.
