

RAILWAY HORROR.

Freight Train Breaks Through a Bridge With Big Loss of Life.

Passenger Train Passed But a Few Minutes Before—Cars Fell Over Fifty Feet Into Midst of Construction Crew.

CLEVELAND, O., July 11.—Just after ten o'clock today three cars of the east and local freight went through the Nickel Plate bridge at Springfield, Pa. The train left Conant only a few minutes before the accident in charge of Engineer Wm. Griffith of Buffalo and Conductor Phl. M. Moore of Buffalo. The latter was killed outright. The bridge gang was at work on the bridge and the ten men injured are mostly workmen. A fall was made at the bridge and about 50 workmen were standing on the bridge when a horrible accident occurred just after passenger train No. 3 had pulled through. The local, after the passenger had passed, pushed three cars heavily laden, out onto the structure to unload stone for the masons working beneath on the large stone foundations. The work of unloading had nearly begun when without any warning the whole structure, bearing the three laden cars filled with laborers, fell into the valley. So sudden was the affair that only one man, a mason named George Smith, had a chance to leap in time to save himself from injury.

The dead: Phl. A. Moore, conductor, Conant, O.; George Swartz, laborer, North Springfield, Pa.; John C. Epos, laborer, Cleveland; Frank Kruso, laborer, Buffalo; five Italian laborers, names unknown. The injured: J. J. McDermott, a brakeman, Ashabank, Pa., badly bruised; Carl Randall, laborer, West Springfield, Pa., arm broken; J. H. Beckwith, gang boss, Buffalo, hip smashed, injured internally; five Italian laborers, names unknown, badly hurt.

The place where the horror occurred was at Crooked Creek, directly north of East Springfield, Pa. For many years the creek has been spanned by a heavy structural steel bridge. On May 1st the work of filling up the valley was commenced. Down in the ravine, 85 feet below, masons were at work building a large stone abutment. The scene presented a horrible appearance. The steel was wrenched and distorted into one huge mass. The three cars containing stone were broken to bits and the railway track obliterated in the pile.

The cause of the wreck can be laid only to accident. For a long time all trains have been required to reduce their speed to four miles an hour in passing over the bridge. The railroad men regard it as a little less than miraculous that the train, loaded with the heavy laden passenger train No. 3, while moving slowly over it, and five minutes later fell with only the weight of three uncoupled cars standing upon it.

NATIONAL DIVISION S. O. T.

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 11.—The National Division, S. O. T., closed its 57th annual session today. The committee on ceremonies and regalia reported having considered the memorial regarding the restoration of the ritual, 1872-1885, and an optional public installation ceremony, recommending no change in the ritual this session; but in view of the dissatisfaction, a committee should be appointed to revise the ritual, restoring such parts as may be in the interest of the order, and report at the next annual session. This afternoon, readings from the Good Templars and the W. C. T. U. were received from Mrs. Rutherford, president, in an eloquent address. A resolution was passed expressing gratitude to King Edward for referring to the temperance interest in his great empire in his first speech from the throne.

FRASER RIVER STRIKE.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 11.—The developments in the Fraser River strike situation during the past twenty-four hours have been startling. The union fishermen now have the upper hand, having accomplished a coup d'etat which is without a parallel in the history of the many labor disturbances in British Columbia. As a result of a battle of small boats on the river, a battle in which many shots were exchanged, but in which no combatants were killed, 16 Japanese were taken prisoners by the strikers. The Japanese boats were overturned, their rifles and fishing gear thrown into the water, and the Japanese themselves were taken to one of the small islands away out in the gulf. Exactly where this island is located is a secret of the white fishermen. They say they will continue to maroon non-union Japanese there for the remainder of the season, or until the place is discovered by the authorities.

The Japanese held a big meeting at Steveston, raised by voluntary subscription $4,000 for a Japanese hospital, which they think may be needed, and then discussed the salmon catching situation. Some are in favor of joining the union in the strike. The meeting broke up without definite action. This evening a big run of salmon is reported coming in from the south. The cannery think the union men will not stand in view of the temptation to participate in the catching. There is renewed talk this evening of calling out the militia.

CENTRAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

MONCTON, July 10.—The enquiry into the death of Wm. Dowell, killed at Wasson Brook on the Central Railway, was begun at Cumberland Bay yesterday before Dr. Earle, coroner. Dr. Fred King, son of Senator G. G. King of Chipman, was chosen foreman of the jury. The following witnesses were examined: Robert Reid, foreman of Young's Cove siding; James Hughes, section man; Ernest Mercer, brakeman; Conductor Skillen; and S. P. Brand, fireman. The evidence of some of the witnesses went to show that if the bushes had been cleared the regulation width from the track the bridge could have been seen in time to stop the train. Other witnesses differed from this. The inquest was adjourned for a week.

TROUBLE IN COREA.

BERLIN, July 11.—The Cologne Gazette publishes a despatch from Seoul, Corea, dated July 6, saying that bloody conflicts have occurred on the island of Gyeongsang, and that the Catholic missionaries and their pupils and the populace of the island. Fifteen of the natives and about 300 of the mission pupils are reported killed. The governor of Gyeongsang, according to the despatch, says the trouble was the fault of the pupils, and arose from their support of the tax collector in levying illegal taxes upon the natives.

SMALLPOX SCARE.

MONTREAL, July 11.—The provincial board of health reports the small-pox situation in the province greatly improved. There are only five cases now at La Prairie, and the probabilities are that by Saturday there will be only one patient in quarantine. One new case, developed at Fabien, Rimouski Co., today.

Collision Causes More Than a Source of Death—Passenger Train and Fast Stocker Crash Into Each Other.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—The death list resulting from the Chicago and Alton collision between a passenger and a fast live stock train, near Norton, Mo., grows with each hour. At this time seventeen persons have died, three are dying, and others who inhabit the wrecked locomotive may not live. George S. Bosworth, of San Francisco, who was passenger on party of five, Epworth leaguers to San Francisco, says: "The train was making a fine sprint, and everybody was feeling happy and contented, when all of a sudden there was a tremendous crash, and the train struck the live stock train. Instantly the air was filled with splinters and shrapnel, and the live stock train was hurled into the air. The passenger train was reduced to a mere mass of debris, with human beings crawling screaming or lying in mangled heaps on the ground. We immediately added it to our horror to the scene, and above all the terrible clamor of our train were heard the cries of the human beings who were killed. The freight train, the Marquette, French Opera Co., on its way to San Francisco, comprising 17 people, lost every bit of its scenery and baggage. Most of the passengers escaped with more than baggage and were lucky to get away with that much." The passenger train was travelling in three sections on account of the heavy snow. The wrecked train was the first section.

TORONTO, July 9.—In the opening of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance today President McKay of Woodstock said: "We were sorely disappointed in the result of the election. The majority would have been large but for the unscrupulous tactics of some members of the dominion government, who went through the province of Quebec raising false issues and stigmatizing prohibition as a Protestant measure, telling the people that mass could not be observed if the law were passed. The movement to the west will begin about the first of August.

SUPREME LODGE K. O. P.

CHICAGO, July 11.—The Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, today decided that the most expeditious way of meeting the deficiency of $500,000 in the treasury of the endowment fund is to raise the insurance rate to the maximum prescribed by the National Fraternal Congress. If in this way money shall not be forthcoming, it is likely a special assessment of fifty cents will be put on every member of the order for the benefit of the endowment fund. This will speedily raise $250,000.

THE FORESTERS.

High Court of Independent Order in Session at Sackville.

The Reports Show a Year of Growth and Excellent Financial Position.

SACKVILLE, July 9.—The High Court of the Independent Order of Foresters opened here this afternoon. High Chief Ranger Chapman presided and the attendance was the largest at any session of the High Court. Oronhyatekha was not able to attend, but Supreme Secretary McGillivray presided at the session. The following reports were received:

HIGH CHIEF RANGER'S REPORT.

High chief ranger, E. R. Chapman, in his report referred to the general observance of the order by attendance at divine worship, and commended the action of Court Loyalist of St. John, which observed its own anniversary by a service in memory of deceased members. He thought a memorial day would be more appropriate for the order than a decoration day.

The high court, he pointed out, was assisted by the fact that the only liability being a small amount on account of over-payments by some of the subordinate courts. This order had continued to grow in New Brunswick. During the year ending June 1st, 765 applications were sent in, and 663 were accepted. From April 30th, 1900 to May 1st, 1901, the membership in the province had increased from 5,791 to 6,265. On May 1st, the total membership of the order was 179,472, the surplus funds, $4,706,042.52, or equal to $26.23 per capita; and the order had since its organization distributed over $9,000,000 in benefits. The total premium income from July 1st, 1881, to Jan. 1st, 1901, was $12,522,014.33.

A Companion court had been organized at Hartland, Carleton county, and Mr. Chapman urged that more be instituted, as they would stimulate subordinate courts. On this connection he paid a warm tribute to Wm. Kinghorn, acting D. S. C. R. and organizer for the province, and hoped that he would soon be restored to complete health and to the work he did so well.

The high chief ranger referred in fittingly eloquent words to the death of Queen Victoria, the wife of the supreme chief ranger, and in this province of Companion Forester Mrs. J. E. Bernier, and Brothers James W. Toole, W. W. Wall, M. P. Chas. A. Black, M. D., and Capt. C. F. Harrison. In connection with the last named member Mr. Chapman made appropriate reference to the share generally taken in the South African war.

The number of deaths of members in the province in the last year was the largest they ever had, although the death rate was not as high as in 1882 and 1888. A great number relatively have received the total and permanent disability benefits. During 1900 there were paid to members of the order totally and permanently disabled $81,846.64, while the total death claims paid were $1,291,539.30. This, the high chief argued, showed what an important benefit this was, and one which should be considered in comparing rates with those of other societies and old time companies.

The high standing committee after the high court meeting, effected an arrangement with Mr. Kinghorn as organizer, supplementing his salary from the supreme court with 25 cents for each member initiated during the period of his employment as such. The contract for printing the report had been awarded to Geo. E. Day, the lowest tenderer. The chief suggested that each court send items of interest once a month to the high chief ranger, and that that officer be asked to prepare from them a letter for each issue of the Forester. As to court work, he believed interest would be increased by an improvement in the ritualistic work. A committee of the high standing committee, with Bro. A. Markham, had selected a new high court badge, which would be priced as a souvenir.

HIGH SECRETARY'S REPORT.

High Secretary F. W. Emmerson's report showed assets of $2,475,371. The only liability was $22.67, the subordinate courts. The assets were represented by amounts due from subordinate courts, supplies, regalia, furniture, etc., and cash on deposit to the amount of $330,781. During the year 16 members had died. They carried $79,000 in benefits, of which $67,293.96 had been paid, and two or three were pending approval. There was one suicide, one was not paying on proper rating, and one claim of $1,000 for total and permanent disability had been paid. There are 146 courts and two Companion courts. The total amount of cash received by the high secretary from the courts was $1,365.52. There was a charter account refund from the supreme court of $1,904.53, making a total of $6,288.46. There was due from courts $1,455.99.

HIGH TREASURER'S REPORT.

E. P. Eastman, high treasurer, reported cash on hand at last report, $468.31; received from high secretary, $5,285.49; total, $5,753.80. There had been expended $5,395.99, leaving a balance of $357.81. This was made up as follows:

Table with financial details: Supreme court, Premiums on guarantee bonds, Typewriter, High court exp., Audit, H. S. C. meetings, Printing, Travelling expenses, Salaries, Sundries, H. Sec. office expenses, H. Treas. Sec. office expenses.

Total, $5,395.99. High auditors, J. V. Russell and John

Weldon were appointed a mileage committee.

The committee on constitution and laws reported through Harvey Atkinson. They reported against biennial sessions of high court and in favor of making Toronto the permanent place of meeting of supreme court; that a special high standing committee recommend to the supreme executive that the constitution be amended to admit of proof of age during lifetime of members; that steps be taken to encourage the development of Royal Forestry. The report was adopted after very little discussion.

J. V. Russell for the finance committee, congratulated the high court on the excellent financial standing, and recommended as follows: That $300 be devoted to pay expenses of visiting weak courts and holding public meetings; that hereafter all delegates and past executive officers attending high court be paid mileage of four cents one way; that the following grants be made: High chief ranger $100; high secretary $50; high treasurer $25; auditors, $25 each; high court, $20; janitor, $5.

T. J. Hawke brought up the question of the principle of the vote to the press committee was granted. He said he had failed to see in former years reports in some papers representing an attack on the order, and the chief ranger had appointed came with credentials from papers. That was the usual way. The subject was further discussed by A. J. Copp, M. P., and Mr. Markham, and the section was adopted, as was the report as a whole.

Dr. Allison, one of the new honorary members, entered the hall and announced that he was invited to a seat on the platform. W. J. S. Miles reported for the committee on state of the order. They congratulated the high court on its prosperous condition, and counseled continued prudence in managing the affairs of the order. The growth of rival orders in centres of population moved that greater effort on the part of Foresters would result in greater growth of this order. The committee therefore urged greater zeal in this regard, and also that organizers be engaged to promote the work of forming Companion courts. They recommended that a Decoration Day be adopted by the order, on which the graves of deceased members should be decorated, and that the matter be brought before the next supreme court by the high court representatives. The committee recommended that the delegates favor new men rather than those who had previously attended the supreme court.

Mr. Macrae said that if it were right to elect a man twice to parliament, then it was equally proper to elect men twice to the supreme court or parliament. He said that the so-called members of the supreme court in meeting in different countries had led to the idea that those who attended were going to a picnic. That had not been the intention. It was in this high court and in the supreme court that Toronto be made the permanent place of meeting. No resolution should be passed that would shut men out of the order. It would be a calamity if there were no new blood on the delegation, and equally such if there were no new blood on the committee. He said the report of the committee appeared like a censure upon those who had in the past been delegates to supreme court. There was doubtless no intention of that kind, and the committee be given leave to withdraw that section of their report.

W. J. S. Miles pointed out that there were many names in the names of those who had been delegates for the past fifteen years. The committee did not desire to shut out all former delegates, but to have the all former delegates. With the consent of the other members of the committee he would now withdraw the section. And it was so withdrawn. The rest of the report was adopted. J. V. Russell, seconded by Dr. Irvine, moved that the supreme court be requested to invest F. W. Emmerson with the grand cross of merit in recognition of his services to the order. This was adopted by a rising vote, amid great applause, and Mr. Emmerson expressed his heartfelt thanks. Harvey Atkinson moved a resolution of condolence with Dr. Oronhyatekha in his recent great bereavement. It was seconded, adopted, and ordered to be engraved and forwarded to the supreme chief ranger. Supreme Secretary McGillivray briefly expressed thanks on behalf of the supreme chief.

Rev. Dr. Borden, amid loud applause, was invited to a seat on the platform.

The supreme secretary expressed the thanks of the supreme executive to Hon. H. R. Emmerson for his aid to the order in securing important legislation at Ottawa. He then formally obligated Dr. Allison and Dr. Borden, as honorary members, and graciously welcomed them into the order. Other honorary members were Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir Charles Tupper, Lord Aberdeen, and the mayor of Dublin, and a few more.

High Chief Ranger Chapman joined in the welcome and cordial greeting to Dr. Allison and Borden. Dr. Allison expressed his thanks. He was not much of a society man, and was glad he had with him Senator Wood and Rev. Dr. Borden to support this weight of honor. He was proud to be thus identified with the order, and proposed to fill his time more with its aims and work. He was glad that it was non-sectarian and non-political. He was much interested in the address at the public meeting last evening, and the aims of the order were as there stated they were certainly to be commended. On behalf of Mount Allison he said the university people had been very glad to what they could to enable the high court to meet in Sackville. He would strive to do what he could for the order and to promote the noble objects which it aims to secure. Rev. Dr. Borden said he knew something of the organization through its works and through its members. Sackville was glad to welcome the high court and to make a favorable impression on the high court. The members of the high court, I. O. F. are highly pleased that they came to Sackville. They have been cordially received by the people, were able to secure good quarters, have a splendid hall in which to meet, and have charming weather to add to their enjoyment. Moreover, last night's public meeting was perhaps the most successful ever held under the auspices of the high court. Senator Wood observed that the music hall rarely held so large a number of people. The hall was fully two hundred persons who were content with standing room through a two hours programme. On the platform were High Chief Ranger Macrae, high secretary, J. V. Russell, high treasurer, Geo. W. Macrae, high auditor, E. P. Eastman, high auditor, J. V. Russell, high auditor, M. Geo. W. Mullin; Con. W. F. Sears; J. P. F. Hetherington, high auditor, L. B. Hetherington, St. Stephen was selected as the next place of meeting. The following were elected representatives to supreme court, to meet in Low Angus on April 1: E. R. Chapman, Dr. Mullin, H. W. Woods, A. W. Macrae and G. S. Scovill. While the delegates were on the high court, prompted by Supreme Secretary McGillivray, who remembered old parliamentary experiences, sang songs and choruses; Tom Murray sang, W. E. Skillen recited, and Murray and McGillivray sang a duet. On motion of E. R. Chapman, who said this was most satisfactory, successful and happy meeting of N. B. high court ever held, thanks were voted to all in Sackville who had contributed to this result. John T. Hawke, in felicitous language, moved that the high court place on record their regret at the illness of William Kinghorn and the recognition of his work, and desire that the supreme and high court grant him leave of absence for a visit to England. Supreme Secretary McGillivray seconded the motion, which was carried by a rising vote. Mr. Kinghorn, who was deeply affected, briefly expressed his deep gratitude. On motion of A. W. Macrae, thanks were voted to Mr. McGillivray and officers of the high courts of P. E. Island, Nova Scotia, and Quebec. Mr. Macrae, of Quebec, Roberts and Fowler of P. E. Island responded.

It is Not a Stimulant But a Tonic You Need.

Hosts of people do themselves irreparable harm and shorten their lives by many years by using stimulating drugs to whip up the exhausted nervous system and keep the machinery of the body working. Others get temporary relief from nervous headaches and body pains by the use of deadening and nerve-destroying narcotics. Both of these treatments mean death to the nervous system and hasten the approach of paralysis and insanity.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a protest against these old-fashioned and villainous methods of treatment. Unlike any other medicine you ever used, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new real corpuscles in the blood and creates new nerve tissue to replace that destroyed by overwork and disease. It is impossible to obtain a more effective treatment for nervous disorders than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food because it gradually and naturally restores the wasted nerve cells and rebuilds the system. It is the up-to-date remedy for weakness and disease resulting from exhausted nerves.

THE WAR POLICY.

LONDON, July 10.—There was a meeting held at the Guild hall this afternoon in support of the government's war policy. It was a great success from the "jingo" point of view. The idea originated on the stock exchange and was intended as an offset to the recent pro-Boer gathering at Queen's hall. The lord mayor, Frank Green, and the other city magistrates, did their utmost to assure its success, and the result was the great hall of the Guild hall, having a capacity of 4,000 persons, did not suffice to contain the crowd, which necessitated an overflow meeting outside, where the pro-enthusiasts made a demonstration of even more pronounced character than that of the stock brokers within. Patriotic songs broke out at intervals, both within and without the building.

The British generals were cheered and the names of Henry Labouchere and other Boer sympathizers were hooted. The stock exchange was practically deserted, the brokers marching to the Guild hall singing "Soldiers of the King."

How the Major Dammed the Side of Reform.

(Copyrighted 1901, by Robert Howard Russell.)

Once there was a Town that was having a Total Abstinence Jamboree. The Excitement over Temperance was becoming Intense, and all on account of a Reclaimed Sot well-known as a Series of Meetings at Central Hall. The Lecturer claimed to have been Ostracized for 15 years at a Stretch. He had a sudden burst that read like a Session of the Legislature. He had been down in the gutter, and told about it every Evening. The Front Rows were filled with horror-stricken Ladies and sympathetic young Men. He used to hold Strong Drink until he would see green Ananias and polka-dot Lizards peering out from behind the Morris Chair.

How a British Soldier Got a Drink in Australia.

(Copyrighted 1901, by Robert Howard Russell.)

A story is told by one of the imperial troops who visited Australasia at the inauguration of the commonwealth and who arrived back in England a couple of weeks ago. At Dunedin the soldier was billeted on some of the householders, and the "Tommy" who tells the following story appears to have fallen into good hands. "I was put up with a middle-aged couple and their two big sons. The dad says: 'I must tell you that this is a prohibition town, and we have no strong drink on the premises.' I bore up, and said it was all right. After tea the dad asked me if I'd like to look over the house. I went, and as soon as we were in a quiet corner the dad pulls out a bottle and asks me to have a nip; but he told me not to mention it to mother and the boys. We went back, and mother said she'd show me my room. When we got in the passage mother whispered: 'Don't let dad and the boys know, but I've been drugging put for you and you can have a nip whenever you want it. After a short yarn with the family again the boy says: 'Perhaps you would like to have a look at our workshop in the yard?' I would like that," says I, and out we go. "Blest if the boys didn't sneak me into their room, make me swear I wouldn't tell dad and mother and then I had another one!"

CHILDREN CRY FOR CASTORIA.

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 10.—The first session of the National Division, Sons of Temperance, opened this morning. The session today was full of interest. The attendance of delegates from Canada and the United States was large. Reports of the National Division officers, showing the condition of the order, were read and adopted. The report of Most Worthy Grand Scribe Jewell was of especial interest. The number of subordinate divisions on March 31, 1901, was 709, with a total membership of 32,688. On the same date the number of companies of Loyal Crusaders was 272, with a membership of 2,208. The Bands of Hope numbered 50. The membership totalled 2,000. Cash on hand and invested by subordinate divisions amounted to $7,253.33. The decrease in subordinate divisions is 17. The propagation work for the year cost $25,000. Returns from New Brunswick show a loss of 18 divisions and 547 members. Nova Scotia shows a net gain of 32 members. Seventeen divisions were instituted and 89 reorganized. Nine Bands of Hope were formed. P. E. Island reports a loss of 8 divisions and 184 members. Three divisions and four companies of Crusaders have been organized. Tonight a public meeting was held in the First Methodist Church, presided over by Mayor Warburton.

After each of these efforts to save him the Major went to his room and took a Gentleman's Drink out of a Tumbler just to prove that he retained his Personal Liberty. There did seem to be much chance of pulling in the Major, but the Landlady and her Friends kept after him. At last, just to humiliate him, he promised to attend one of the Meetings. He slipped on the Back Seat and listened to the Horrible Example. Next Day he requested an Interview with the Lecturer. At this there was much rejoicing. It seemed as though the legal Dispensario was beginning to weaken.

Next Day the Town settled back to its usual Calm. Moral—Any one who is going into Reform Work should get a thorough Technical Education. GEORGE ADE. A SAD STORY. Artilleryman Commits Suicide at Halifax Rather than Go to Prison. HALIFAX, July 10.—Wm. Smith, a member of company 20, western division Royal Artillery, committed suicide at the citadel this afternoon. The unfortunate man had been confined to barracks for several days, and came up this morning before a court martial for a breach of the military regulations. He was sentenced to four days at Melville Island, and while being taken to his quarters told the guard that he never intended to serve the term. He evidently felt the disgrace keenly, and continued to refer to it. Those who heard his protestation did not dream that he would cheat the Nation of the court by suicide. About two o'clock a rifle shot was heard in Smith's room, and when a comrade rushed in the suicide was found lying on the floor with a bullet wound in his head. A rifle at his side told only too plainly the sad story.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 13, 1901.

MR. ASQUITH PREVAILS.

Tuesday's reunion of the liberal party appears to have been on the whole favorable to the imperialist. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman remains leader, but he does not seem to have obtained authority to suppress the frank imperialism of Mr. Asquith. On the contrary Mr. Asquith has taken occasion to liberate his mind to the extent of reaffirming the principles which he laid down two weeks ago. He even went farther and intimated that it was the duty of the chief minister to have a mind of his own and to express it. Whether Sir Henry was expressing his own mind or Mr. Asquith's, he did so far as to declare that the war ought now to be prosecuted to the end. Thus, for the day at least, he cuts himself loose from the "stop the war" party, of which his able lieutenant, Mr. Morley, is the most prominent and influential personage. Mr. Asquith has demanded the right of free speech in favor of the British cause in Africa. For himself this demand is superfluous, for he has already been using all the free speech that is necessary. There are other liberals who have been made to feel that they are guilty of treason to the party and disloyal to the leader if they support the policy of Mr. Chamberlain in Africa. Mr. Asquith has made it clear that he does not propose to allow these men to be suppressed by the terrorism of the News and the party machine. For himself he had already given notice in his programme speech that so long as men claiming prominence in the party shall assist at pro-Boer meetings like that called by the Boer delegates a few days ago, he and those who agree with him will utter in distinct tones their opinion of such proceedings. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman may consider it his duty to be a trimmer on this great issue. Mr. Asquith is what the western politicians would call "a middle of the road" man. In the end Mr. Asquith must prevail. The party may split, but the section that will become the party of the future will neither be a compromise party or a Little England organization. It will be a comfortable thing if, as the result of this gathering, the nominal leader is compelled to administer to his pro-Boer allies the discipline which he contemplated for Mr. Asquith. Mr. Asquith is all right.

MR. WALLACE AND WEST DURHAM.

In a recent speech of Hon. Clarke Wallace in West Durham he denounced what he called the theft of the seat for that constituency. Mr. Thornton had a majority of votes in West Durham, but the returning officer did not declare him elected. The reason given was that Mr. Thornton did not make his election deposit in cash but in an accepted bank cheque, which was received as sufficient. After the poll was held and Mr. Thornton was found to have a majority of votes the question of the deposit was raised, and the returning officer made a special return. In East Queens, Prince Edward Island, the returning officer and the county court judge, both appointed by the liberal government, went further and declared the anti-minority candidate elected because a gift returning officer had made marks on a number of good conservative ballots. The Toronto Globe sternly rebukes Mr. Wallace for denouncing these minority elections, and cites as a precedent the Queen's county case. So after all the railing and shouting over the "Queen's outrage", it has come to be admitted that the conservatives have lost two seats in the present house by a similar proceeding. Indeed the Prince Edward Island case was infinitely worse, for there neither the candidate nor the electors committed the error that caused the votes to be thrown out. A government appointee deprived Mr. Martin of his seat because another government appointee had interfered with the ballots.

But the Globe in telling the story of the Queen's case omits the important fact that though Mr. King did not protest the election of Mr. Baird, and though Mr. Baird could have held his seat for the whole term, he resigned voluntarily, declining to hold a seat to which he was not fairly elected. As Mr. Baird is now dead it seems hardly fair that this part of the story should be withheld, even if the suppression should be necessary to make it appear that the cases mentioned by Mr. Wallace were no worse than the Queen's case.

CHAMBERLAIN'S CANADIAN ENEMIES.

The horror of the closer union of the Empire is still throwing its shadow over La Presse of Montreal. Our able contemporary issues an almost daily warning to its French speaking readers against the designs of Mr. Chamberlain. In this truly imperialist statement La Presse, like Mr. Tarté's Patrie, finds a source of danger to the dominion. He alone of the Salisbury cabinet is accused of a desire to interfere with the free development of the colonies outside of British control. La Presse says that Mr. Chamberlain takes the good will and loyalty of the colonies as a sign of their imperialism, and that he has fallen into the error of British statesmen of the last century in dealing with the American colonies. After asserting that the other colonies were driven to revolt by persecutions La Presse adds: "Today, when Canada has assumed large proportions, Mr. Chamberlain dreams of imposing on her in a disguised form 'a new tutelage which will restrain her movements and her independent action.'" Against this, La Presse protests, and asks: "What can imperialism give us? We do not ask for it, but Mr. Chamberlain wants us to accept it like a forced card. No privilege is attached to it; it adds nothing to our commerce; it promises not a dollar more for our industrial enterprises, but it takes us 'control than a drop controls the ocean.'" After insisting that imperialism would be the end of Canadian freedom La Presse turns again to the reading of Mr. Chamberlain. "Chamberlain sees no clearer into our future than the politicians of 1719, but he is urged by the same motives."

All this does not, according to La Presse, suggest any disloyalty on the part of the British flag. They are true to the British flag. But it is interesting to notice what the flag implies to La Presse. "The English flag protects us in the order of human affairs as the eye of God does in the immaterial order. At the masthead, as over our roofs, it is the representative of Providence, and we honor it as such. Those who say that we ought to buy this protection by greater sacrifices and pecuniary offerings put forth a blasphemous phony. One does not make Providence favorable by duty, and public and private virtues; one does not buy it with money."

The analogy between the flag and Providence is poetic, but it does not conceal the fact that the protection afforded by the British flag is paid for by the people of Great Britain. The British taxpayer buys the flag which floats from every warship and every fort, and which is borne with every British regiment, and buys also the fort and the ship and the services of the soldiers and sailors who fight under it. The flag itself is a piece of burling which would represent a poor sort of Providence if it had not the British army and navy and the British treasury behind it. With all due deference to the reverence which leads La Presse to treat as blasphemy the suggestion that Canada owes some duty in exchange for this protection, we say that Canadians are not disposed to accept British protection as a free gift. They have shown this by going to Africa against the emphatic protests of La Presse and La Patrie. They have shown it by practically compelling the government against the original intention to pay some allowance to the Canadian troops while they were away. They would very gladly have shown it by relieving Great Britain of every dollar of expense connected with these contingents, but the government of Canada did not represent Canadian opinion to that extent.

It is fair to say that La Presse, following Sir Charles Tupper, speaks of the imperial services carried out by Canadians on this continent at their own expense. No fault is to be found with this claim. But La Presse or Sir Charles Tupper, or any one else, says that in time of need that is the extent of our obligation to the Empire he is not speaking the sentiment of the people of Canada. Sir Charles showed that he does not take this view when he personally appealed to Sir Wilfrid to send a contingent to Africa when our premier had declared that it could not be done, and afterward when he supported more liberal contributions and more energetic action. It was not his idea that the Canadian flag was the symbol of a Providence which needs not the help of man.

MR. FOSTER AND ADDINGTON.
 The Fredericton Gleaner says:—
 Hon. George E. Foster has declined to accept the conservative nomination for Addington, Ont. Mr. Foster probably shares the belief that the party interests, and his own interests also, will not be promoted by encouraging conflicts simply for the sake of engaging in them. Mr. Foster will be available for the general elections, and it is to be regretted that some others in the conservative party cannot see the wisdom of employing their time in educating work for the general campaign instead of insisting on rights at unfavorable times and in unfavorable seasons.

Mr. Foster may or may not see his own way clear to be the candidate in Addington, but he will give a great surprise to his personal friends, and to the party in Ontario and elsewhere, if he favors the unopposed election of a government candidate in that county. The idea of abandoning Addington to the enemy would not occur to any conservative in that province, and no liberal would expect such a surrender. Those who fasten their eyes upon Addington are likely to see a pretty fight, in which Mr. Foster will probably have a share, even though he should not be a candidate. That is how he will get his "educative work for the general campaign."

MR. CARNEGIE.

Mr. Carnegie owns to the possession of $250,000,000, which he proposes to give away before he dies. It is thought that he has nearly that amount in five per cent. bonds, and much property invested otherwise. It will furnish Mr. Carnegie with occupation as long as he lives to get rid of principal and interest in ways which commend themselves to his business judgment. With this task before him it is not possible for him to find time heavy on his hands. With such a pleasant business it cannot be true that he has expressed himself unwilling to make the same bargain as Faust to win back his youth. The story that has gone the rounds of the papers is simply incredible, for Mr. Carnegie, with all his foibles, is a man exceedingly well satisfied with himself, and with his record.

WHERE IS IT?

What is the matter with the cold storage schemes which have played such an important part in recent provincial legislation? Summer is passing, and it does not appear that any progress is made with the project for a large warehouse with complete cold storage equipment in St. John, and the smaller establishments at various places through the province. The scheme was accepted by the public in good faith, and the legislation proposed was adopted. But where is the cold storage? Is it held back to be made a part of the campaign matter for the next provincial election?

The Toronto Mail says:—
 In evidence of the great popularity of Hon. George E. Foster in this province is the fact that although he is being strongly urged to contest Addington for federal honors by the conservatives of that riding, there is an equally strong movement on foot among local conservatives to induce him to contest North Toronto for the legislature. Mr. Foster has so far given no indication of a desire to re-enter politics, but a seat in the local house would fit in with his present business activities better than a seat at Ottawa.

"We have learned," says the Telegraph, "that our manufacturers can do better under a revenue tariff than under one which is avowedly protective, as our busy industries and swelling exports prove."

In other words, we have learned that it does not hurt manufacturers to have a protective tariff called a revenue tariff so long as the protective tariff remains.

The census enumerator who sent a bill to the government claiming ten dollars' damages for the tearing of his trousers by a dog receives no sympathy from La Patrie. Mr. Tarté's paper takes the strong ground that enumerators should not wear ten dollar trousers. So does the dog.

York county liberal leaders persist in plunging the county into the turmoil and tumult of a by-election contest. Instead of permitting Dr. McLeod to be elected by acclamation they are calling a convention to nominate an opponent.—St. John Star.

Some of the Blair organs are intently amused over Mr. Foster's statement that "there is no fortune in politics." It must be admitted that Mr. Foster's statement is not of universal application.

A pro-Boer agitator in Austria has been sent to prison for taking up subscriptions for the Boer cause and keeping the money himself. He appears to be a pupil of ex-President Kruger.

The cabinet meeting held last week at Ottawa was attended by five ministers. It should have taken place in London, where there are six members of Sir Wilfrid's cabinet.—St. John Star.

NORTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Celebrated Its One Hundred and First Anniversary

Wednesday With Special Services—A Large Number of Visitors—An Interesting Historical Sketch of the Church.

NORTON, Kings Co., July 10.—Today the members and friends of the Norton Baptist church celebrated the 101st anniversary of its organization, by a series of services, which formed a fitting close to those which have been held here under the auspices of the Southern Baptist Association since Friday last.

Quite a number of visitors stayed over to take part in the celebration, and Baptist homes in all this neighborhood were almost vacated to enable their occupants to enjoy the pleasure of attending the festival, which cannot come to them again.

The location of the church at Central Norton is picturesque, situated as it is on a green knoll overlooking the beautiful Kennebecasis valley of the Kennebecasis River, with the thriving settlements of Bloomfield and Passakeog on the opposite slopes, and westward the little towns of Hampton, North Hampton and Millbridge. Close by, and forming the part of the original two-acre purchase of the pioneer members of the church in the year 1800, is the burying ground of the church, and the "forefathers of the hamlet," and their successors down to the present day, and where many a stone recalls the names of good men who have gone to join the innumerable host in the mysterious "beyond."

To this picturesque and quiet spot came the people of Norton and their visiting friends, and at 2:30 p. m. opened one of the most interesting series of services ever held in this place. For over an hour the crowded building resounded to the words of praise and prayer, which were uttered by the hearts, the burden of which was ever the same—"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

It was led by the Rev. P. J. Stackpole, pastor of the Baptist church, St. John, who spoke lovingly to the people of their privileges, duties, and obligations, recalling the names of the founders of the church, and the names of those who have gone to join the innumerable host in the mysterious "beyond."

To this picturesque and quiet spot came the people of Norton and their visiting friends, and at 2:30 p. m. opened one of the most interesting series of services ever held in this place. For over an hour the crowded building resounded to the words of praise and prayer, which were uttered by the hearts, the burden of which was ever the same—"The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

After the reading of the sketch a number of brethren gave personal recollections of some of the older pastors, many of whom have "gone home." The whole service, enlivened and varied by the singing of hymns, was exceedingly interesting and was greatly enjoyed. At its close a resolution was adopted to have the sketch printed in extension, and it was also decided to take steps to erect a suitable memorial to James Innis and his co-laborers, subscriptions to which will be taken up immediately.

At 6 o'clock in the evening another meeting was held—first a praise and prayer service followed by addresses by the Rev. H. F. Waring of Brunswick street church, St. John, and the Rev. George Howard of Jacksonville, Carleton Co. The former discoursed on the twentieth century "New Testament," and the latter on the changes which have marked the course of church service and church customs since the time when the congregation regrettably separated, but it was with the feeling that everything had gone off well, and a red letter day in the history of church and people had been enjoyed.

FREDERICTON.
 Death of Mrs. Robert Orr—One Son Resides in St. John.
 FREDERICTON, July 11.—The contract for the steel superstructure of the Oak Bay, Charlotte county, bridge has been awarded to the American Bridge Company of New York, with a branch at Montreal. The bridge will consist of one truss span of 59 feet in length, metal weight being about 10,300 pounds. The contract for the Tobiique River has been awarded to A. F. Smyre of Hampton. The contract for rebuilding the Morony bridge near Tracadis station, Sunbury county, has been awarded to Joseph A. Noble of Russett, N. B. Mrs. Robert Orr died at 10 o'clock tonight. She leaves a husband, one daughter, Mrs. Barker, and three sons, Charles of St. John, Arthur of Boston and John in the Maine lumber woods.

A NEW PAPER.

W. W. Hubbard is making preparations for the issue of a semi-monthly farm and home paper to be called the "Maine Homestead." It will be printed in Halifax, and have an office also at St. John. Mr. Hubbard's experience in farm journalism and his knowledge of stock breeding and agricultural affairs generally is a guarantee that the new paper will be of the sort that will interest the farming community.

paired by the immersion, the weather being cold. The worthy judge cited the preacher for his assumption of ministerial prerogatives and threatened him with dire penalties if harm should come to the woman. Happily no serious results followed the immersion, but on the contrary the woman, who had been weak and ill for some time previous, became "strong" and rugged, to her husband's mingled delight and consternation.

On another occasion Mr. Innis was arrested for marrying a couple at Quaco, and cast into the jail at St. John, from whence he was released after a year's incarceration upon the payment of a heavy fine. There were people yet living a few years ago who heard him preaching through the bars of his cell to the crowd who assembled in front of the jail to listen to his fervent appeals, which were the means of the conversion of some of those who listened.

This worthy man died in 1811 at the age of 75 years, and a small stone marks his last resting place in the plot beside the church where he ministered.

He was followed in the ministry by Elder David Nutter, whose name all over this country and Maine fifty or sixty years ago was a household word, everywhere revered and honored. He was well known to the writer of this letter, who in 1856 and 1857 edited for him a series of "Reminiscences" which appeared in the Christian Visitor, when he was over eighty years of age, but with robust mind and undimmed faculties.

The third pastor was Francis Pickle—the third of the original members of the church to enter upon the sacred office, whose descendants still hold a prominent place in the church's work and service.

Another incident in the history of the church worthy of remark from its peculiarity when regarded from a modern standpoint was the resignation of the Rev. David Crandall in 1848, who, on its acceptance, was presented with a letter of commendation, thanks, regrets, and a cow.

The names on the list of pastors of this church form a large place in the history of the Baptists in these provinces, many of whom will be recalled to the memory of the readers of this letter. After the foregoing came, among others, John Francis, James Bunting, James Blackley, Thos. Herritt, Alex. McDonald, Samuel Bancroft, A. B. McDonald, John M. Curry, W. A. Crandall, S. C. Moore, I. E. Bill, W. Allen Corey, H. E. Shafter, J. D. Skinner, W. F. Barker, Geo. E. Good, Thomas Todd, J. J. Dewolfe, Sydney Welton, T. A. Blackadar, George Howard and N. A. McNeill, the last of the latter still serves the people as their pastor. There were others who for brief periods held the pastorate, including Alexander Mutch. The jubilee year showed a membership of 138, the centennial year 123. The total membership was, of course, very much more—deaths, removals and exclusions accounting for very many. Little colonies have gone out from time to time—only those who formed the Baptist church at Hampton village (formerly the ferry). Others have gone to Ontario, the Northwest—Manitoba, British Columbia, and largely to the States, but these, "weakening the home church, have done much to aid in building up small and weak interests in other places.

After the reading of the sketch a number of brethren gave personal recollections of some of the older pastors, many of whom have "gone home." The whole service, enlivened and varied by the singing of hymns, was exceedingly interesting and was greatly enjoyed. At its close a resolution was adopted to have the sketch printed in extension, and it was also decided to take steps to erect a suitable memorial to James Innis and his co-laborers, subscriptions to which will be taken up immediately.

RUSH FOR LAND.

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—A special to the Star from El Reno, O. T., says: When registration was resumed at the land office booths here this morning not more than two-thirds as many people were in line as at the corresponding time yesterday. Most of the crowd had left town last night to return again within a few days after the rush shall be over. This proved a blessing to those remaining in line, as the thermometer at noon registered 102 in the shade. There is much complaint over alleged inadequate facilities offered by the government in furnishing application blanks and notaries, and in slow registration. No disorder has occurred.

GOLD CURE FOR ASTHMA

Thomas Murphy of Port Hope, Ont., Says:—
 I contracted the Asthma when only nine years of age. I have been a continual sufferer for 23 years until last spring, when I decided to try your Gold Cure. After the use of two bottles of the medicine, I am glad to say I believe I am completely cured, as I have not had the first symptom of an attack during the last six months.

Instead of having to get what rest I could while sleeping in a chair, I am now able to enjoy my rest in bed as well as anyone. I tried every remedy I could hear of, but found no good from them except temporary relief.

Your Gold Cure has made me a new man. I gladly recommend it to anyone suffering from Asthma who wishes to be completely cured.

THE LATE C. W. SINNOTT.

A West Acton, Massachusetts, correspondent of the Moncton Times writes about the death from freezing in Alaska last March of Charles W. Sinnett, aged 34 years.

"C. W. Sinnett was the son of the late Councillor David S. Sinnett of Studholm, Kings, and his wife, Francis Taylor, of Sheffield. He (C. W.) at the age of sixteen an appointment was given by his father to the Halifax Law School, but at the age of fifteen he took the roving fever and went with his father to the far west. Charles was the eldest of a family of twelve. He was a brother to H. A. Sinnett, a former teacher of the Aberdeen school in Moncton; also to E. J. Sinnett of West Acton, and a cousin to Mrs. Edward Sheppard and Miss Parlee of Moncton. His mother now lives with her youngest son at Apohaqu."

At Chubb's corner on Tuesday the Anchor Line steamer, Armenia, wrecked at Negro Head, was sold at public auction by T. T. Lantaulm. The first bid was a low one, but in a short time the price offered was among the highest recorded for a vessel of this class. States people, with whom certain St. John men stood in, went as high as $4,000, but others who desired to make themselves the owners of the steamer, made an offer that figure. E. Lantaulm made a bid of $4,500, but John E. Moore offered $4,700, and Mr. Moore got the ship.

Mr. Moore says he proposes to make an attempt to float the ship. He had the Armenia chartered to load deals here for the U. K. at 40 shillings and he feels satisfied that he will ship the steamer above that figure. E. Lantaulm to go across the Atlantic on her. Mr. Moore says he does not believe the Armenia is nearly as badly damaged as she has been represented. He has offered an offer from parties to purchase her if that is possible.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Restigouche and Bonaventure S. S. Association.

The Sunday school convention of the counties of Restigouche and Bonaventure was held in the Presbyterian church at Charlo on July 8th and 10th.

The opening devotions were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. McLeod, and a number of delegates were present at the opening. The field secretary, Rev. A. Lucas, was present, with a well covered table of literature calculated to aid Sunday school workers.

President H. J. Fidgeon gave a neat little address, summarizing the year, emphasizing the value of the provincial convention to its benefits, and alluding to Geo. Haddock, a leading worker of this county, now away.

After the appointment of committees, the vice-president of parishes made their reports. Not all these were present, but faithful ones had sent reports and kind assurances. Most of these among verbal reports were those by W. D. Duncan and J. Devereaux. These contained earnest commendation of improvements and advocacy of better grading home department and teacher training work. Such reports show the value of this department, and made a notable example for others to do likewise.
