BURNS' SKULL USED TO SHOW SCOTS CAME FROM SCANDINAVIA

In a lecture on "The People of Scotland," recently given at the Royal Institution, London, Professor Arthur Keith maintained that the Scottish nation, like every other nation in Europe, is of mixed origin.

the population was derived at a very early date from the opposite shores of the North Sea, or, in other words, from Germany. According to the report of the lecture given by "The London Times," the professor stated that this was the conclusion which Huxley reached—that the Scots were marked Germans.

ANOTHER ENQUIRY.

Parliament will appoint a civil service committee to investigate the working of the Civil Service Commission, which in itself has been investigating the work of the civil service. The resolution that such a committee be appointed, introduced a few days ago, was accepted by the Government and will be put through after the Easter recess. The remedy in the form of an alleged impartial commission which was to remove all the troubles existing under the patronage system has not been as effective as its promoters hoped. Irregularities in the administration of this service, undesirable features in connection with appointments, and dissatisfaction of the part of employees still exist, and from all parts of the country a demand for more intelligent treatment of this branch of the administration has been finding expression. Various representatives in the House maintain the view that while the appointment of the Civil Service Commission took the matter of appointments out of the hands of members of Parliament it has not relieved those members of the responsibility formerly imposed upon them. Representatives are still besieged by office seekers and are being held responsible by their constituents for appointments in which they really have no say. These members feel that because of the situation thus created a more general interest in civil service is apparent and in attempting a further reform they are merely voicing the opinions of their constituents. The motion which the Government will adopt calls for the appointment of a special committee during the present session to inquire into and report on the situation, advising if the civil service in various departments can be reduced and re-arranged with the view to securing the greatest efficiency. During the course of the discussion in Ottawa it was pointed out that there is in the inside service two hundred and twenty people above the age of sixty-five and four hundred and three who are between sixty and sixty-five years, a condition which does not tend to efficiency.

A PRIVATE WAR.

The people of England are for the moment really more interested over the political war which has broken out between the Prime Minister and Lord Northcliffe than they are over the proceedings of the peace conference. The breach between these two former political associates, which has been gradually developing, is regarded as an indication that Lloyd George is planning some new and important move with which the famous publisher does not agree. In his address in parliament the other day the Premier intimated that the criticism of the course which had appeared in the Northcliffe press was due to disappointment on the part of Lord Northcliffe in not being selected as a delegate to the peace conference, and that he is suffering from the disease of vanity which has unduly impressed him with his own importance. Lord Northcliffe comes back in The Times with a bitter attack on the Premier, intimating that some points of the leader's war record require to be more fully known and will be given to the people when public service can be rendered by such a course. The Daily Mail, another of the Northcliffe press, "cares as little for Mr. Lloyd George's hostility as for his friendship." The Evening News caricatures Lloyd George in an airplane dropping bombs of hot air on the Northcliffe papers. The British press generally, apart from the Northcliffe publications, look upon the breach between these two as a considerable event politically, bearing an importance perhaps not yet fully realized. All are still in the dark as to the underlying causes which have led Mr. Lloyd George to so radically change his attitude towards his principal newspaper supporter in the contest with Asquith as minister to America, his Minister of Propaganda, and his associate in many spirited enterprises. Yet the differences between these two have been made the occasion for criticism by other newspapers, of the so-called syndicated press which is now described as wielding a power detrimental to the public good. Further developments in the controversy are awaited with more than ordinary interest in view of the fact that with the possible exception of Russia, no line of policy in the peace conference so far as has appeared contains any problem on which Northcliffe and Lloyd George might be expected to disagree.

BITTER PILLS.

The political health of the Venetian Government is evidently a subject of deep interest to Dr. McGrath. At one time or another during the recent session nearly every minister had to submit to an examination at the hands of the energetic doctor from Northumberland, and evidently he found most of them suffering from grave disorders. At any rate his prescriptions were administered on the principle that desperate cases require heroic remedies. For Hon. Mr. Venetia's hallucination that he is setting value for the great amount of money expended on roads Dr. McGrath prescribed an automobile journey over the highways of Northumberland. For the Minister of Crown Lands he prescribed a fishing trip on the Miramichi in order to correct the delusion that the game warden are attending to their duties. His most lively concern was displayed on behalf of Hon. Dr. Roberts, and his bills to amend the Public Health Act. His expert diagnosis of Dr. Roberts' case was that he was suffering from a want of wisdom, and needed rest and quiet to evolve amendments to the Health Act of a more practical character than "the lawless legislation" the Minister had submitted to the House. Possibly Dr. McGrath's penchant for administering unpalatable medicine to the ministers was due to his solicitude for their political well-being; but there is a suspicion that his embarrassing interest was not unminged with a little personal spleen. The garrulous leader of the ginger group has an optimistic opinion of his ability for public affairs as well as of his political deserts, and he probably feels that he could fill the position of Minister of Public Health with considerably more grace and dignity than does the gentleman from St. John.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

Apparently Premier Foster has convinced himself that the Commission Government in St. John has proved such a success that it is desirable to give the province government by commission. At any rate that would be a plausible explanation of his administration's habit of declining to deal with questions of public importance, and referring them to commissions of various sorts. But if the Government is to abdicate its functions in favor of some sort of commission every time an important public question arises, provision should be made for the election of such commissions. Under the Foster method of dealing with public issues, responsible government has become a joke. Failure on the part of a government to take a decision on important issues pressing for solution is tantamount to a confession of incompetence, or an admission that it no longer thinks it commands public confidence. In either case the constitutional course for the leader of such a government is to tender his resignation, and let the Lieutenant Governor solve the question of finding a government with sufficient confidence in itself and the people to carry on the public business of the country in a responsible manner. Having decided to abdicate their functions in all affairs of importance, the present combination of artful dodgers should abandon altogether their pretension of governing the province; the permanent officials carry on the ordinary routine business just as well without them. Premier Foster and his ministers are drawing salaries under false pretences.

INCOME TAXATION.

Wealthy American's residing in England are hard hit by the income tax imposed by the Government. The case of William Waldorf Astor, who with a great deal of publicity, renounced his American citizenship some years ago, and became a naturalized British subject, is creating much amusement on this side of the Atlantic. This gentleman, now a member of the British Peerage, is sufficiently wealthy to be brought under the highest super-tax imposed by the British Government on income, and as the bulk of his property is in the United States his income from that source is also subject to the American Government's heaviest taxation. These two assessments between them amount to considerably more than his whole yearly income, with the result that in order to meet this taxation he is compelled each year to dispose of part of his holdings, thus reducing his capital, and also to further reduce that capital in order to meet ordinary living expenses. The New York Times holds out the hope that as years go by this continued reduction on his original investment will result in placing Mr. Astor in another category under which he will be subject to a lower rate of taxation. In the past many American business men residing in England have retained their American citizenship, but the application of the present taxation has induced a number of these to become naturalized British subjects as the strain on their incomes has become more than they can stand.

Hon. Mr. Tweeddale's idea of making large grants of Crown Lands to Municipal Homes—and thus providing plenty of room for possible extensions—may have originated in a provident concern for the future. If the piling up of the public debt continues at the rate of accumulation attained under the present Government, it will not be long before the people of this province will have nothing to look forward to but the poor house.

WHAT THEY SAY

The Joys of Sharing. Philadelphia Press—Higher prices for food are predicted now that we have begun to feed Germany, and our affection for Germany is such that we shall all be delighted to make the sacrifice.

The Hun Will Go. Seattle Post-Intelligencer—Germany will go, of course, but just how over the peace terms, but just show 'em the door line, and let them sign when they will, and thank the German Gott it is no worse.

Just Our Beasty Luck. New York Evening Post—One penny, lent at 5 per cent in the year 1842, would amount to a sum sufficient to make multitudes of every man, woman and child on earth. And to think that nobody had the decency to lend it!

A Real Peace of Justice. New Haven Register—If the report is true that France is to control the Saar Valley in perpetuity, there approaches a real peace of justice. Now for indemnities which will pay the cost of the war for the Allies, which will be as far away from the "no annexations" and "no indemnities" idea as is the control of the Saar Valley by France.

The Proper Method. Atlanta Constitution—A Georgia sheriff was placed on trial for not producing in court a negro who had been lynched. Now, if they would only adopt a rule whereby any sheriff in whose county a lynching occurs would automatically lose his job and go on trial for not having prevented the tragedy there would be fewer lynched negroes to account for.

Not Dragging. Arkansas Gazette—After all, peace doesn't consist in dragging when we compare the present conference with other conferences. For example, the armistice in our Spanish War was signed August 12, 1918, and the peace was not signed until December 12. It followed a short war and the problems were relatively simple. The issues that must be settled by the present conference affect every nook and cranny of the world.

Envious of Ottawa. Brantford Expositor—The Ontario legislature seems disposed to allow municipalities to have local option in assessment matters. Hence the granting of Ottawa's request to try out the single tax system. Why not give some other municipality an opportunity to test the merits of the single tax system at a lower rate than that? In practice, this is usually done by the assessor, but done without authority.

The Just Reward. Baltimore American—The services rendered by animals in the war ought not to be forgotten. Messengers, pack animals, and sometimes the day. The horses and mules did their work nobly. As for the Red Cross dogs and the army dogs, their work of vigilance, of course and of mercy saved many a valuable life and helped many a valuable charge. Some better care of animals at home would be the just reward of this record of duty and devotion in the dumb soldiers of the war.

A BIT OF VERSE

Slumber Songs. Sleep, little eyes. The bright with childish tears amid thy play. Be comforted! No grief of night can weigh Against the joys that through thy coming day. Sleep, little heart! There is no place in Slumberland for tears; Life soon enough will bring its chilling fears. And sorrows that will dim the after Sleep, little heart! Ah, little eyes, Dead blossoms of a springtime long ago, That lie in storn crushed and left to lie below The benediction of the falling snow! Sleep, little heart, That ceased so long ago its frantic beat! The years that come and go with silent feet Have naught to tell save this—that rest is sweet. Dear little heart, A splendid note of courageous resignation is sounded in the poem called "Recompense," which may well be remembered by any who experience moments of discontent.

Recompense. By Lieut.-Col. John McCrae. I saw two sowers in Life's field at morn, To whom came one in angel guise and said, "Is it for labor that a man is born? " "Lo! I am Ease. Come ye and eat my bread. Then slidly one forsook his task undone, And the Tempter went his spiteful way, The other toiled until the setting sun, With stealing shadows blurred the dusty day. Ere harvest time, upon earth's peaceful field, Each laid him down among the un-reaping dead. "Labor hath other recompense than this," said he, "and I am glad, Else were the toiler like the fool." I said, "God meth him not less, but rather more, Because he sowed and others reaped his store."

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE. Our class was trying to make a record for nobody being late, and yesterday afternoon Miss Kitty said, Boys, I am highly gratified by the record, if nobody is late tomorrow without a good excuse, will make a hole week of perfect attendance and I will dismiss the entire class an hour earlier than usual as a reward. Us fellows thinking, O hurray. And this morning it was late when I started to walk to school that I saw I better run. When I did, and just outside of school who came running up the other way but Puds Simkins, saying, G, we're late, I bet the other fellows will be mad at us. Lets us think up a good excuse, if we have a good snuff of a excuse it will be all right, I said, and Puds said, G, all right, lets say we didn't know what time it was and we wanted to catch time finding out that it made us late. That's a punky excuse, I said lets say we was walking along talking about our homework and we got so interested we walked about a sock past school without noticing it. Aw, that's a heck of a excuse, said Puds. With it was, and I said, Well then lets say we helped an old lady across the street and she was so old she took a long time to help. And we went in, and all the fellows looked at us fears, and Miss Kitty said, Well, now fuzent this too bad, to break our nice record—what have you to say for yourselves? Meaning me and Puds, in feeling too nervous to say it and I looked at Puds and Puds started to say it 3 times without coming, and then he said, Some old lady helped us across the street and she was so old and everything we could get across quicker by ourselves. This methodly the most idiotic excuse I ever listened to, the rest of the class may go early but you 2 will remain till the bell rings. Wich we did, being about 15 minutes after the rest had went.

A BIT OF FUN

No Charge Accounts, Please. Judge—Understand that you prefer charges against this man? Greocer—No, sir, I prefer cash, and that's what I had him brought here for.

Proof. "So you think you have a forgiving nature?" "I must have, I always go back to the same dentist."—Washington Star.

His Bright Idea. "Please can you give a poor man a little something to eat? But I don't want no bread, please." "Woman—You don't want no bread, eh? I guess you ain't starving. You can just get along out of here."

Wait till I explain, madam. You see, the woman next door just now give me a piece of paving stone for bread, and as she said she was the best bread maker on this street—"The best bread maker on this street! Just come right in here, my poor man, and I'll show you what good bread really is. Lor', how some people does brag!"

An Old Institution. Mrs. Knicker—"Statesmen have discovered that food is propaganda." Mrs. Bocker—"Huh! haven't we always cooked our husbands good dinners if we wanted something from them?"—Judge.

His Only Chance. "What are you going to name the baby?" "I don't know. The women folk at our house haven't decided that yet."

Not a word. They insist on naming the children to suit themselves, but they've promised me that if ever I get rich enough to own a motorboat or a yacht, I shall be allowed to christen it myself."

There is no objection to a man's blowing his own horn, but it's the time he always selects that makes us tired.

The man who choice of languages commands. May talk on all subjects at will; But his wisdom excels if he understands. Just when and where to keep still.

Good Business Head. Maggie had a new baby brother, which everybody agreed was such a baby as had never been seen before, but the care of animals at home would be the just reward of this record of duty and devotion in the dumb soldiers of the war.

Oh, said her father, "Uncle George has taken a great fancy to the baby and he's offered to buy him for a shilling an ounce." Maggie looked startled. "You're not going to sell him, are you, daddy?" "Of course not, precious," answered daddy, proud to see his little girl loved her brother so.

No. Keep him until he gets a bit bigger," the child went on; "he'll fetch more money then."

WELCOMING OUR HOME-COMING TROOPS.

33 Y. M. C. A. representatives accompanied 88 troop trains to their destination and carried on a splendid programme of service.

53,368 sex education booklets.
6,007 games.

It fortifies my soul to know, That, though I perish, Truth is so: That, howsoever I stray or range, Whate'er I do, Thou dost not change.

I steeper stay, when I recall, That, if I slip, Thou dost not fail.

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

NEW YORK MARKET SHOWED STRENGTH

Evidence of the Country's Post War Prosperity Was Primary Factor in the Forward Surge of Prices.

New York, April 21.—The auspicious launching of the Victory loan and cumulative evidence over the weekend of the country's post-war prosperity were primary factors in the further forward surge of prices during today's session of the stock market, the most active of the year.

An overwhelming proportion of the trading was again credited to speculative or professional interests, but public participation was sufficient to furnish an undercurrent of confidence and stability. Another feature was the address of Chairman Gacy at the annual meeting of the United States Steel shareholders, which sounded a note of optimism.

Rails were the one source of disappointment, showing only a limited degree in the movement at relatively nominal gains. Texas and Pacific was a conspicuous exception, jumping four points on very heavy accumulation in the final hour.

Shipments, oils, motors, pigments and the usual assortment of peace industries, notably rubber, tobacco and paper and food issues, were the dominant features at extreme advances of 2 to 5 points.

MEXICAN PETE. IN SIX POINT SLUMP

McDougal & Cowans. New York, April 21.—Some irregularity developed in prices in the early afternoon, but without affecting the tenor of the market as a whole. Mexican Pete, west of a buy order, points and United Clear Stores three points. U. S. Steel went off fractionally, despite Chairman Gacy's remarks at the annual meeting.

It is supposed the price stabilization programme had been abandoned and appeared to regard this as unfortunate. The reaction, however, did not go very far, and as a matter of fact Judge Gacy's statement, taken as a whole, was optimistic. The other quarters of the industrial list made continued advances, particularly, Corn products, American Can and paper, leather, rubber and motor stocks. Trading had reached a million and a quarter shares at two o'clock, and the last hour was active. The market was generally strong at the close.

As bearing upon the steel price situation, which remains dull of late, it is authoritatively reported in the steel trade that some of the mills have recently been shading prices somewhat, and that they are also achieving some reducing in operating costs, partly through the great reduction in the price of pig iron. It cannot be said that any quick solution of the dead-lock over prices is in sight, various circumstances suggest that a basis will be struck, but evolved upon which both producers and consumers will be willing to do business. Sales 1,501,400.

TORONTO TRADE BOARD QUOTATIONS

Toronto, April 21.—All the coarse grains were in strong demand today, both cash and options. Barley is again very much in demand, with cash prices 1 1/2 to 2 cents higher. Buckwheat and rye higher. Baled hay 2 per cent higher. Board of Trade quotations today follow:

BAY STATE ST. RY. SOLD AT AUCTION

Property Eventually to be in Hands of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company.

Salem, Mass., April 21.—The Bay State Street Railway Company which operates in ninety cities and towns in Eastern and Southwestern Massachusetts and extends into New Hampshire and Rhode Island, was sold at auction today, by order of the Federal Court, under reorganization plan by which the property is eventually to be in the hands of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company, and be managed by five public trustees selected for by a special act of the legislature. The purchaser was Arthur I. Glidden, representing Leo Higginson and Company, re-organizing managers for the Bay State Company, and the price was $3,600,000, subject to the taking over of various obligations, including those of the Bay State Roadways, Texas and Pacific of the Boston and Northern Company, and Old Colony Street Railway Company.

FREDERICTON TAX RATE ABOUT $2

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, April 21.—Fredericton tax rate this year will probably be $2, it was learned today. Last year the rate was $2.20, and it was feared that the amount would be even higher this year.

Chief Assessor Sterling confirmed the report that it was expected the rate this year would be reduced to $2. The chief assessor declared he was not yet in a position to make even a close estimate as to what the valuation for assessment this year would be, but said that to reduce the tax rate from $2.20 to $2 with the same assessment, would mean that the chief assessor would have to be increased by approximately $400,000.

It is understood that some delay has been experienced in getting official returns from the C. N. R. of their employees residing here with their pay returns, and that this has delayed making up the assessment, but Mr. Sterling said today that it had been arranged to have these particulars provided immediately. It is also pointed out that the increased rental of many properties furnish adequate means for increasing valuation of real estate, while the assessors have plenty of evidence to allow them to advance personal property valuation.

Allison Edgecombe, son of Mrs. Bedford Phillips, of this city, arrived home on Friday from the Byron Sanatorium, London, Ontario, where he has been since January last. He was brought on a stretcher and accompanied by Dr. Broom. Mr. Edgecombe's condition is very low at present. He served overseas for some time and when invalided home to Canada was in a poor state of health. He spent some time at River Glade Sanatorium in this province. Mr. Edgecombe and Mrs. W. J. Osborne have received word from their son, Signal Battery, that he and several other Fredericton boys were sailing for St. John on the 20th inst.

Two young men named White and Mount, who were recently sent up for trial by Magistrate Limerick, charged with breaking and entering the drug store of Alonzo Strubbe, were brought up before Judge Wilson this afternoon and elected to be tried under the speedy trials act. Mr. H. G. Penry appeared on behalf of the prosecution, and Mr. A. R. Slipp, C. C., on behalf of White, up to the present time Mount has retained no lawyer. The trial was set down for tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Taymouth was visited by fire yesterday afternoon, causing the complete ruin of a large house owned by Mrs. John Edney. Practically everything in the house was saved through the assistance rendered by the neighbors. The main house was burned to the ground, but the kitchen and sheds were saved. The insurance on the house was $1,000, which will not cover the loss. Mrs. Edney had been spending the Easter here with Mrs. Charles Young, Westmorland street.

One of the first farms taken over here by the soldiers' farm settlement, is the property at New Maryland, owned by Mr. Patrick Cain, of this city, which is being purchased by Mr. Allen Boone, who served overseas for several years with the artillery, and was recently discharged. The price is said to have been about $2,900.

The Invisible Conflict

From the moment of birth—and before—until the hour of death, there is going on within the body a constant conflict, unseen and usually unfelt, between forces that seek to defend, and others that strive to destroy.

Germs that enter from without are attacked and destroyed by the living guardians in the blood, the white blood cells or phagocytes. Poisons generated within seek entrance into the drug store of Alonzo Strubbe, and are removed or destroyed by the functions of the intestines, liver and kidneys.

Food waste allowed to stagnate and remain in the intestines, unevacuated, poisons the blood and destroys its power to defend against outside or inside enemies. Such self-poisoning causes over 90% of human illness.

Constipation turns the tide of the invisible conflict against the body, in favor of the invaders. Nor does the taking of castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., to force the bowels to move enable the

The American delegation, in consultation with the press advisers, has recommended that the text of the treaty be immediately delivered to the Germans. Why Can't I Get To Sleep

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed, and it is impossible for them to get a full night's restful sleep.

Some constitutional disturbance, or a nervous system that is not being quieted except by the precious use of opiates or narcotics, again, you have heart palpitation, sensation sinking, a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you are in your sleep feeling as though were about to choke or smother, the only way you can get relief is sit up in bed.

To all who suffer in this way burn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring the much-needed night's rest by proving the tone of the nerves, strengthen the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organism in harmony—then you sleep as peacefully as a child.

Mrs. Jas. Latimer, 29 Leinster street, St. John, N. B., writes: "At night I could not sleep. I had to sit up in bed, my heart beat so fast, and I walked up stairs I would get all of my breath. A friend recommended burn's Heart and Nerve Pills and using two boxes, I can sleep all night and am not out of breath after waking."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, 6c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. T. Burn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OPEN GRAVES SHOW BRUTALITY OF REDS IN REIGN OF TERROR

Official Estonian Report is Made of Outrages by Bolsheviks — Women and Priests Were Massacred.

Another sidelight on the reign of terror following the Bolshevik invasion of the Baltic lands is thrown by Reuter's Copenhagen correspondent. "One of the most horrifying chapters in the annals of Bolshevik crime is formed by the narrative of the atrocities perpetrated in Estonia," says the London "Daily Telegraph." "Now that the country is cleared of Bolsheviks, the Estonian authorities have begun an investigation as thorough and conscientious in its methods as it is ghastly in its results. The first official report deals with the Bolshevik atrocities in Woesenberg and Dorpat. The graves of those murdered at Woesenberg were opened January 17 in the presence of a number of high officials, including the town governor.

Brutality is Exposed.

The vicinity of the graves showed with what brutality the Bolsheviks had executed their victims. All around was to be seen congealed blood, among which lay torn pieces of clothing, brains and fragments of skull with hair. Sixteen bodies were found in the first grave opened. The authorities had three shocking relics of the Red Terror photographed as an enduring reminder of Bolshevik inhumanity. The names of the sixteen victims are published. Among them are a doctor, a priest, a soldier, a merchant, a railway official and a shoemaker, a selection which testifies to Bolshevik impartiality in at least one respect. The second grave opened also contained sixteen victims.

The third and largest of the graves was opened January 18. It was four metres long, two metres deep and filled to the top with corpses, says the official report. It contained fifty bodies of which forty were recognized. Five at least were women, one Jeanette Baronesse Wrangel of Woesenberg, another a Sister of Mercy. Every one except their limbs had been recognized by the survivors; even their boots had been removed. The Bolshevik executioners had shattered the skulls of thirty-three of the victims, and not content with shooting, had pierced most of them with bayonets.

Tells of Executions.

A mantram, who miraculously escaped death at the hands of the Bolsheviks, described the scene of one of his executions.

"On the afternoon of January 11, I said, 'Sixty-six of us were led to the place of execution where the grave was already made. Half of us, including six women, were placed at the edge of the grave. The women were to be executed first. One woman tried to escape, but the Bolsheviks fired at her, and she sank to the ground with the feet into the grave, and she and, escaped on her body until she was silent. Then a volley was fired at the other victims, who were also cast into the graves and died. The death with butt ends of rifles and bayonets, after which the Bolsheviks trampled on the bodies. The Bolsheviks perpetrated the same kind of atrocities as in Woesenberg. The official report furnishes the names of the victims and an account of the execution. A number of persons were dragged to the Embach River and shot down. The bodies were dropped into the river.

INFLAMED GUMS— A CAUSE OF LOOSE TEETH

Pyorrhoea is undoubtedly a vital danger to both gums and teeth. Tender gums indicate it, and with it come loosening teeth. Imperceptibly, at first, the gums recede from the normal gum line. They inflame. They prevent many tiny openings for ingress of bacteria to attack the unenamelled tooth base. Tooth-base decay quickly follows. Even if the cavity be filled and the tooth saved, the gums continue to recede. Remember, too, that inflamed and bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—inflicting joints or toxæmia—or causing other ailments.

Against this Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease) ordinary tooth-pastes are powerless. Yet Pyorrhoea attacks four out of five people who are over forty, and many under this age. But Forhan's—If used in time and used consistently—positively prevents Pyorrhoea. It is a scientific tooth cleanser as well. Brush your teeth with it. See how promptly bleeding or gum tenderness ceases and how your teeth are kept white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

IMPERIAL'S EASTER A GAY AFFAIR

Good British Play, Signor Guarino, and New Stage Setting Distinguishing Features

Imperial Theatre has a happy habit of giving its patrons surprises in the way of stage decorations and settings that take one's breath in admiration and mark a new period of interest in a general way. Yesterday was one of these occasions. This season's design is a free suggestion of the massive iron gates in front of one of England's notable palaces, with stone pillars, stone walls and profuse floral adornments, such as green hedges, rhododendrons, foliage and well groomed trees. When the lights were slowly turned up on this grand array the applause and a burst of exclamations and a round of congratulations followed. It was a rare Easter treat and reflected much credit upon the artist, F. W. Stringer of the Imperial staff, who has recently returned from overseas.

The pictorial feature of the special holiday show was a real British story if ever there was one—a tale of Gibraltar and the English fleet lying at its base when the Germans plotted to destroy it at a blow and thus start their ill-fated war. How a British secret service man trailed the plotters, risit from the Wilhelmstrasse and told them ignominiously was very delicately treated. The Canadian News Budget contained among other pictures the landing of the Prince of Wales at Halifax. Mutt and Jeff were as funny as ever.

Signor Guarino was welcomed back with gusto. He sang two dainty little numbers and was instantly encouraged in fact the whole programme was of the hit calibre and the Easter opening was an auspicious one. The same programme is to be put on today.

Through holes in the ice. When the Estonians reconquered Dorpat six ten bodies were recovered from the river. Their condition revealed that the shocking tortures to which they had been subjected. Many had arms and legs broken, and the skulls of others. One had his eyes put out. On January 14, shortly before they were driven out, the Bolsheviks killed twenty-three of their prisoners. There were 200 in all.

The Bolsheviks used to make them stand in a row, and call out the names of the victims. They were then robbed of their clothing, boots, and valuables, led to the cellar of a bank, and done to death with hatchet blows and bombs. About twenty were killed in this manner, and only the hasty flight of the Bolsheviks saved the rest, about eighty of whom were women.

Bishop is Murdered.

Among those murdered were Archbishop Platon, a university professor, and a grey-haired clergyman. The photograph taken of the cellar is a ghastly souvenir. A doctor who examined the place shortly after the murder says the floor was covered with bodies piled on one another in the most unnatural positions, which could only be attributed to a violent death. In nearly every case the skull had been totally shattered. The whole place was covered with blood, which had also splashed the walls.

"In the country among the peasantry the Bolshevik fury also raged. A report from Estlin, a university professor, and a grey-haired clergyman. The photograph taken of the cellar is a ghastly souvenir. A doctor who examined the place shortly after the murder says the floor was covered with bodies piled on one another in the most unnatural positions, which could only be attributed to a violent death. In nearly every case the skull had been totally shattered. The whole place was covered with blood, which had also splashed the walls.

Hostages Are Taken.

In the district around the Mandi Railway the Bolsheviks took hostages—wives, daughters, and sisters—of the men fighting against them in the Estonian ranks, or who had fled the front. Some of these were taken away by the Bolsheviks, some shot, the fate of many is unknown. All estates and the richer peasants' houses were plundered. Books were burned and pictures torn with bayonets. On the Kohala estate the Bolsheviks backed to pieces valuable pictures by old Dutch and Flemish painters.

"At Narva thirty people were murdered en masse, chiefly women. Stones were hurled at their heads, and they were thrown into the water. Before their retreat the Bolsheviks seized the girls, whom they took away with them.

"The official report is a cold, monotonous recital of a series of murders and outrages, all similar. No mercy was shown to any one. Two girls aged fourteen and twelve were arrested at Walwara because their father, a farmer, could not be found. At Simuna, a number of people were asked to purchase their lives by disbursting large sums. In Werra the Bolsheviks mobilized forcibly all men of military age, and sent them to the Viatka front. They tortured a miller there for the purpose of extracting money, breaking his legs and stabbing him with bayonets, and as a further refinement broke the fingers of his son."

SAYS ANARCHY WOULD FOLLOW FILIPINO LIBERTY

Judge Jenkins, Formerly on Bench in the Philippines, Asserts it Will Take Fifty Years to Educate Natives.

WILD TRIBES STILL LOOSE

Islands Are Self-supporting— Couldn't Keep an Army— Fear Japanese Aggression.

"The Philippine Islands will not be ready for independence for at least half a century," former Judge James C. Jenkins said last night. He served for twelve years on the territorial judiciary and during that time made a thorough study of the language and customs of the Filipinos. Judge Jenkins resigned three years ago after the reorganization of the courts by the present Governor General, Francisco Burton Harrison. He now makes his home at 572 West 141st Street.

The question of Philippine independence has been mentioned recently in dispatches from Washington, forecasting a Congressional debate on the problem at the next session, with the probable introduction of a bill to set a definite date for freeing the islands. "The question is pertinent also in view of the league of nations covenant which, if adopted, would have its first test in the claims of the archipelago.

"There are three ways by which Congress can dispose of the Philippine problem," Judge Jenkins told The Tribune. "They are:

"1. To cede the islands to a foreign power. This has never been seriously considered.

"2. To give the Filipinos independence as soon as they are capable of self-government.

"3. To admit the islands ultimately to statehood.

Won't Want Independence Later.

"And if the Filipinos ever become self-established they are capable of self-government. I think they would also become too sensible a people to want their independence."

"There are also three reasons why the United States should keep the islands. They are:

"1. We acquired them through conquest and by purchase from the Spanish kingdom for $20,000,000.

"2. We did not control them until we had split much American blood there.

"3. By the Treaty of Paris in 1898 we are obligated to continue a sovereignty over the Philippine Islands until they are capable of self-government and maintain a stable government.

"If the question of Philippine independence were even half understood by the people of the United States, and then put to a vote of the people it would get few favorable votes.

Are Luckiest of Small Races.

"I think the Filipinos are the luckiest people of the smaller races under which they suffered since the sixteenth century. Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in their harbors in 1898, and the insurrection was put down by Americans later. President McKinley took possession of the islands and placed the people under the protection of the United States.

"Just now the islands are self-supporting; that is, with the United States paying for the military and naval defenses. The islands would not be financially able to maintain their own military establishment, and the modern fortifications which this country has built, costing millions, would have to be neglected.

"The islands are still but sparsely developed agriculturally. Modern farming methods are still to be introduced, antiquated one-handed ploughs still are in use. While the islands purchase quantities of rice from China, it is possible for them to raise only enough for themselves, but enough for export to world markets if the land were properly cultivated.

"Manuel Quezon, the President of the Philippine Senate, has said that Japan does not look toward the islands for expansion. What do you think would happen if Japan did have ambitions that way, even under the present sovereignty of the United States? It is not difficult to picture what might happen to an unprotected Philippines.

"If there is anything that the Philippines holds in terror, it is invasion from Japan. They dread the prospect of domination by the Flowery Kingdom.

Referring to the President's policy of guaranteeing the rights of small nations and the subsequent debate it might involve in Congress, Judge Jenkins said: "First, we should recall the words of Roosevelt, who proposed that we stay in or get out. He also said, 'There is no greater waste of time than to debate a non-debatable question.' We have been in there for twenty-one years and we ought to know. There are still hundreds of thousands in the wild tribes of the mountains, Igorrotes and Moros.

JUNGLE BEASTS ARE OFFERED TO BRITONS AS HOUSEHOLD PETS

Tame Elephant Called Useful as Well as Amusing, While Crocodile Could Replace Mary's Lamb!

For many years the dog, the cat, the parrot and the monkey have represented the traditional household pets. H. B. Ince, in "The London Globe," says that, thanks to Captain J. A. Jordan, the big game hunter, a company is in the making which will introduce considerable variety in the field of choice. According to this authority the reign of the dog and the cat is passing, and the wilds of East and West Africa are to yield up their annual treasures in a more prodigal fashion.

The larger pet—although exceedingly cheap considering their size—will, for the present, be beyond the reach of most of us. Thus an elephant (three-quarters grown and trained) will cost $4,000. But then, an elephant, besides being a delightful pet, is a very useful beast. One can travel many hundreds of miles on him and even in the fattest country a wide view may be obtained from the top. And although the elephant is a great consumer of rice, rice is cheaper than petrol. A baby elephant can be had for $1,900.

Hyenas Are Cheaper.

But there is no need to choose a pet from among the tamer wild beasts. A striped hyena can be delivered carriage paid for $125 and a mandrill for $50. What an opportunity is here for the ladies who have hitherto lavished affection on a lapdog. Any one can lavish affection on a lapdog, but it is not every one who can love and be loved by a striped hyena. Of sit and converse with your friends while fondling a young hyena demands courage and a certain presence of mind. Mandrills, again, have very diverting ways and many of them are highly intelligent. They can crack the hardest nuts without nutcrackers, and they have raised the homely art of peeling a banana to a fine art. If you would learn to eat fruit gracefully and efficiently go to the mandrill.

The truth would appear to be that we have been rather selfish in our choice of pets. We have taken the way of least resistance. The dog, the horse, and the elephant have, by their kindly treatment, advanced a long way on their evolutionary journey. They have evolved virtues which were far beyond their reach while they lived alone in herds and packs. But the other beasts—and more especially the wilder beasts—have left alone.

Mary's Lamb Forgotten.

But now golden opportunities are offering. Mary was once content with her pet lamb. She thought it "very sweet" mainly because it couldn't bite or scratch. The Marys of the future will do better than that. What merit

A GRASS FIRE.

A spark from a passing locomotive started a grass fire at Seaside Park on Sunday, threatening for a time the cottages occupied by T. J. Cochrane. The blaze was extinguished with difficulty by Policeman Quilly and residents of the neighborhood.

is there in keeping a tame pet? If Mary can purchase a crocodile for $1,800, surely—provided she can find the money—she ought not to hesitate. It is stated that some of the past troubles and causes for such among the men received an airing, and it is felt now that everyone will be satisfied to live and let live.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING.

There was a meeting of the congregation of the Centenary Methodist church last night when the reports of the various committees were read, discussed and adopted. The financial statement showed a good balance on the right side of the ledger, and the church enters a new year with excellent prospects. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the lady members of the church.

THE ROTARY CLUB.

The Rotarians met at luncheon yesterday, and unanimously granted a donation of $100 towards the banquet tonight in the Armories for the first contingent men. A committee was appointed to work in connection with other committees in preparing to welcome the different New Brunswick units soon to return. Among the guests were Major Turner, F. M. C. D. C. M., and Major Peat, F. A. D. C. M. Dykeman presided.

BANQUET POSTPONED.

A meeting of the First Contingent men was held in the G. V. A. rooms last night when it was decided that the banquet to be held to-night be postponed until Thursday night. The reason for the postponement is that a number of men are arriving today from overseas who would like to spend their first day home with relatives and friends, and by having the banquet on Thursday night these late arrivals will have the opportunity of being present.

DAYLIGHT TIME FOR CHURCHES.

It was decided to have the evangelistic churches operate on daylight time hereafter, starting next Sunday. A committee to assist in the work of the Dominion Government of a coming of the New Brunswick units returning soon was appointed at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday with Rev. F. S. THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Exmouth street Methodist church was held last evening here being a good attendance. The chief feature of the evening was an address by Rev. The board has also received from the department of militia and defence in Ottawa copies of the various forms necessary for those who wish to tender for any of the army stores now offered to the public, such as trench boots, trousers, belts, socks, braces, etc. At 275 Sydney street there is displayed samples of many of these articles where intending purchasers may get further information.

Ferry Rates
Are Advanced

Transient Passengers to Pay Five Cents Per Trip—Bond Issue for Water Extension Increased—Other Business at Council Meeting.

An agreement to raise the Carleton ferry rates from three cents a trip to five cents for each transient passenger, and the announcement that the ferry was a source of deficit to the extent of $57,798.13 last year, were the outstanding features of a committee meeting of the Common Council held yesterday morning.

On motion of Com. Jones the bond issue for the East St. John extension was increased from $65,000 to $70,000. The expenditure has been heavier on account of increased cost of labor and material.

Com. Jones was given full authority to act, pending the issue of the bonds.

A petition regarding improvements of the sidewalk and roadway on Metcalf street extension, east of Adelaide street was met by a recommendation from Com. Fisher to the effect that the street be partially graded and a chimer sidewalk furnished by the department; this to stand until the work was taken up permanently.

On motion of Com. Fisher he was authorized to increase the wages of paving, crusher and temporary foremen fifty cents a day, motor drivers forty cents a day, and engineers, road graders, crushers, etc., fifty cents a day.

Com. Bullock, in speaking of applications for lots on the Mainway fish road, said it was time to do some definite town planning, and that he would take the matter up with the committee later.

With reference to the West Side ferry he stated that the receipts last year were $41,375.64, the expenditure was $101,083.77. He stated that the cost per passenger was four and three-quarter cents and said an increase to five cents of the regular three-cent fare would mean an additional $10,000 in yearly revenue. The team rate had been increased to eight cents for single and twelve cents for double vehicles, and he thought that was as much as the traffic would bear. In closing he moved that the fare be increased from three cents to five cents.

This was opposed by both Commissioners Thornton and Fisher, but the motion was carried, Mayor Hayes casting the deciding vote with Com. D. C. M. and Major Peat, F. A. D. C. M. Dykeman presided.

HOUSING SCHEME
BEING DISCUSSED

Commissioners May Take Advantage of Dominion Government's Offer of a Loan—The Propositions Presented.

The City Commissioners have been discussing the matter of devising a housing scheme to take advantage of the Dominion Government's offer of a loan, with W. F. Burditt and other citizens interested in housing reform.

One proposition is to build new houses on the city lands in Lancaster, and another is to utilize land back of Port Howe near the old Shamrock grounds. The city has figured out that her share of the loan would be about $300,000. But it is said that it would cost considerably more than that to build a trunk sewer to serve the land back of Port Howe, as the sewer would have to be run down to the river near the mill at Indiantown.

Laying sewer and water mains on the city lands in Lancaster would also involve a considerable expenditure. At present the commissioners have a good deal of work ahead of them in the way of repairing sewer mains in various parts of the city, and to provide sewer facilities for a housing scheme on any scale it would be necessary to make a bond issue which the commissioners desire to avoid until conditions become more settled.

Nevertheless it is recognized that something must be done before very long to improve the housing situation in the city, or the returning soldiers may find it necessary to establish themselves in dugouts on the flanks of Port Howe for lack of better facilities. Mr. Burditt has given much attention to the problems of town planning and housing and it is hoped that further conferences with the city authorities may result in some practical scheme for improving the situation.

WAR SAVINGS OFFICE.

The headquarters for the War Savings Societies will be moved soon from the Kennedy Building to the Globe building, formerly occupied by the Registrar for the Military Service Act.

The Great War Veterans' regular meeting scheduled to have taken place last evening in their rooms, Wellington Row, was postponed until a later date, owing to the absence of many of its members. The executive meeting of the association will be held tomorrow evening and much business is expected to be transacted.

Police Court
Cases Yesterday

Large Number of Prisoners Dealt With—Men Charged With Having Liquor—Three Charged With Stealing.

The police court was the scene of much activity yesterday afternoon when a large number filed into the dock on various charges. Five drunks pleaded guilty and each was fined $5. William Kelly, on the charge of being drunk on Brooks street, and with having liquor in his possession pleaded guilty on both charges and was fined $8 on the first, and told he was liable to $200 on the second charge. He was remanded.

Joseph Myles appeared for being drunk and having liquor in his possession. He paid a fine of $8 and was told he was liable to $200 on the other charge, and was remanded for further hearing.

George Lang and Howard Robinson appeared on the charge of having liquor in their possession while in the Prince Albert Hotel last Thursday. Robinson admitted guilt, but Lang pleaded not guilty. Inspector McAlnish stated that he, along with other inspectors, visited the hotel on Thursday evening. Going into room 21 he found the two accused sitting on a bed with a bottle between them. In the room were found also some empty whisky bottles. He arrested the two, motor drivers were corroborated by Inspectors Merryleigh and Garnett. The prisoners were remanded for further hearing this morning.

William Perry was charged with larceny and lurking in Kelly's barn on Somerset street early Sunday morning. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded for judgment.

Clement Creary, Joseph O'Leary and Robert McEachern appeared on the charge of breaking and entering into the store of B. Titus, 576 Main street, early last Friday morning. Mr. Titus told of the manner in which the store was broken into and of its being secured fastened on Thursday night at 11.15 when he left it. At 3.15 on Saturday morning he was advised by the police to come to the store which had been broken into. He identified several articles in the court room as being his.

Sergeant Journey told of arresting the trio and of finding articles in their pockets. The case was postponed until this afternoon.

THE RECEPTION COMMITTEE MET

Many Matters Regarding Welcome to Given New Brunswick Units Discussed—General Meeting Thursday Evening.

A meeting of the Citizens' Committee which are preparing for the reception to be given to New Brunswick soldiers on the arrival of the units, was held last evening, and various proposals were put forward, consideration of which was postponed until the general meeting to be held in the Board of Trade Rooms Thursday evening. Among the proposals made to the committee is one to have an elaborate display of fireworks, probably from the Art House on King square. Another proposal is to provide abundant refreshments for all soldiers who have been overseas, and it is said that the question of finding a buffet under cover big enough to accommodate all the soldiers who may be in St. John on that day is causing some worry. It is proposed to have all the principal streets decorated with bunting and noisettes, and it is believed the necessary material can be secured wholesale at Toronto.

WOOD-HOWAN.

English letters received yesterday brought news of the marriage at Hurst, Brighton, on April 2, of Miss Alice Armstrong Rowan, only daughter of A. M. Rowan, six hundred Wood, of this city, and Mrs. J. Herbert Wood, of this city, whose appointment was announced yesterday. Miss Rowan went to England in July last as a V. A. D., while Major Wood, or dicates, went over in the early days of the war, and with the 26th was promotion after promotion. It was originally planned to have their wedding in St. John, but the uncertainties of their homecoming decided the young couple, and they were married at Brighton.

Several Displayed in Dykeman's Show Window.

Such festive looking frocks—with myriads of beads twinkling from every seam—were on display in the window of the hold they've taken on Miss New York's affections. The most guileless ingenue could not help but know she is never more adorable than when arrayed in just Beads, some with their rich Floss and Braid embroidery, others with just Beads, some have both.

A particularly pretty frock is this one of Henna Georgette, rich, heavy embroidery work of self ablaze. Another rich and very simple one of Georgette is Navy with its many tiers of Georgette Crepe, and the outline of the neck and frills is done with one row of Henna beads. Still another rich frock is this Navy Jersey silk, richly embroidered with "Boutique Braid." Many other really wonderful dresses to be seen in the Ready-to-Wear Salon, second floor, Dykeman's.

The 4th Siege
Battery Coming

Major Barker and Men Leave England for Halifax Next Saturday—6th Siege Battery May Come on Same Steamship.

The 6th Siege Battery, two hundred strong, with seventy originals in it, will return to St. John as a unit. This was the word received yesterday in a cable to Major Lawrence T. Allan from Lieut. J. Lyons. The cable was dated Rhyll, and it suggests that the date of departure from the Old Country may be close at hand.

Word was received yesterday that Major Barker and the 4th Siege Battery would leave England next Saturday on board the steamship Mauritanis, bound for Halifax.

It is possible that the 6th Siege Battery may come on the same ship as the 4th, and these two units will undoubtedly receive a grand reception, as they will be the first to come home in a body.

The date for the arrival of the 26th New Brunswick Regiment has not been learned, but it is expected that Lieut. Col. Brown and the seven hundred heroes with him, will not be long following the artillery men. This unit will come direct to St. John, and arrangements are being made for the infantrymen to land at the same pier which the fighting 26th embarked from in June, 1915.

RETURNED MEN
ARRIVE HOME

About Sixty Reached the City Yesterday Morning and Were Given Grand Reception at the Depot.

Yesterday morning about sixty soldiers returned home via the S. S. Adriatic from Halifax, and though the hour was early, were met at the depot by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, a detachment of the V. A. D.'s and members of the Citizens' Reception Committee, who distributed chocolate, cigarettes and fruit as the boys detrailed.

Among the officers in the party were Lieut. Cyril McDonald, Douglas Avenue, who wears the military medal, won at the second battle of Ypres, and the ribbon. Lieut. W. L. Wilson, Chesley street, went over as a private in the 12th Battalion and won his promotion in the field. Private F. L. Gorman, Main street, was with the 5th Field Ambulance and carried on with that unit until put out by poison gas a few days before the signing of the armistice. The boys report a good trip over and all were delighted to be back in Canada again.

PROMINENT CITIZEN
DIED YESTERDAY

A. Rankine Bedell Will be Mourned by Many—Had Been Barrister Since 1864—Graduate of U. N. B.

One of the most popular barristers of the city, A. Rankine Bedell, passed to the bar of the Great Judge yesterday afternoon following a short illness, and his death will be mourned by a wide circle of professional and personal friends.

Mr. Bedell was a prominent churchman, having held the office of warden, vestryman and vestry clerk of St. George's Anglican church, West Side, for a number of years. He has held, for a number of years, the position of librarian of the Law Library, and was a most capable and obliging official.

His professional career began in 1852—fifty-six years ago—when he was granted permission to act as attorney by the Court on February 6th. Up to the time of his death he was perhaps one of the oldest living graduates of the University of New Brunswick, in the welfare of which organization he always took a particularly keen interest.

His death, coming yesterday at five o'clock, was learned with regret by his numerous friends, who mourn the loss of a sterling gentleman and a friend who was ever ready to offer his services or sympathy.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at St. George's church, West End, the services commencing at 2.30 p. m.

ON SAD MISSION.

While mourning the death of her daughter, Mrs. M. L. Cameron, Mrs. Thomas Birchell received a telegram yesterday announcing the serious illness of another daughter, Mrs. Fred Moore, in Montreal. Mrs. Birchell and her son, T. Elmer, had to abandon attendance at the funeral today and left on the express for Montreal last evening.

PERSONAL.

Rev. J. A. Greenless, Georgetown, P. E. I., who with Mrs. Greenless has been visiting friends in New Hampshire, leaves today on the S. S. Minnedosa on a three months' visit to the homeland.

Miss Gretta Godfrey and Miss Gwen Watters, of Chatham, have been spending the Easter holidays at the residence of Rev. Mr. Dawson, of the Exmouth Street Methodist church.

Miss M. J. Doherty, of the school work, Transport Troop-train departments, Free Distribution at Ports and on Trains, Red Triangle Clubs, Hospital Services, etc. Watch for the 1918 financial statement. It's a tremendous record of extensive service. Remember the 1919 Budget Campaign May 5 to 8.
