AMERICAN

Ossian Bedell, of New York State, has been nominated United States Consul at Fort Erie.

Secretary Blaine has written a letter to Senator Frye in which he points out that Spain has placed on American flour and other products duties which will keep them out of the Spanish West Indies, and insists that the States would be unwise to admit sugar from those islands free. He also urges at length that Congress should endeavor to secure reciprocity with the South American republics.

This Makes Eighteen.

TORONTO, July 14.—Four more election petitions were filed to-day, viz.: Those for Welland, where Mr. McCleary (Conservative) defeated Mr. Morin, East Durham, where Mr. Campbell (Equal Rights-Conservative) defeated Mr. Collins, the straight Conservative candidate; West Kent, where Mr. Clancy (Conservative) defeated Mr. Fleming (Reformer), and South Ontario, where Mr. Dryden (Liberal) was elected. This makes eighteen protests—an equal number on both sides.

Bitten by a Skunk.

NEW YORK, July 14.—An Arizona cattle raiser was received as a patient at the Pasteur Institute yesterday, minus a portion of his right ear, while his left hand showed the marks of an animal's teeth. While asleep in front of his Arizona home, he told Dr. Gibier, a skunk had eaten off the portion missing from his ear, and that the bites in the hand were received while he was battling with and killing the skunk. Four men in his vicinity, who had been bitten by skunks, he said, had died afterwards with unmistakeable symptoms of rabies. Dr. Gibier inoculated the young Arizonian, and declared that as the skunk belonged to the same family of animals as the wolf and dog, it was quite as much to be feared.

"Knocked Out" by a Woman.

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., July 15.—Clara Sturgess, of this city, has knocked out a middle weight pugilist named Tommy Cook, who claims the championship of the State. Miss Sturgess is a tall, slender, pretty looking miss, about 18 years of age, and her feat is the talk of the town. For some days past Cook has been working for Farmer Sturgess, Clara's father, haying. Tommy became intoxicated, and in the afternoon went to sleep on the farmer's front door step. Mrs. Sturgess objected and undertook to drive the slugger off. His blood was up in a minute and he struck her. She screamed and her cries for help were heard by Clara, who quickly rushed to her mother's assistance, picked up a chair and belabored the prize fighter over the head. The chair was broken in a few moments and Cooked turned his attention to the girl and started to thrash her. She grabbed him around the neck and gave him a pummeling. Here the girl's father arrived on the scene and added further to the champion prize fighter's humiliation by giving him a shaking. Cook was thrown into a wagon and taken to the lockup. He has won several battles in the ring lately, the last one taking place not less than a month ago, when he defeated Jimmy Reynolds, of New Haven

TORONTO LETTER.

TORONTO, Tuesday, July 15.

For evading payment of duty upon the proper value of cigars imported, Messrs. Neriich, Doherty & Co. incurred a penalty of about $700. The firm confessed judgment.

An infant died on Saturday at a house on Bathurst street where it had been placed, and as the doctor refused to grant a certificate the police have the matter in hand.

The death is announced of Rev. P. J. Gavan, formerly of Toronto. He died at Los Angeles of rheumatism of the heart.

E. Pearson, aged 20, was a prisoner in Wilton Avenue Station last night on a charge of perjury. For some time past he has been paying attentions to Kate Moore, a 16-year-old girl, residing at 204 Parliament street, and on Wednesday evening last the couple were united in marriage by Rev. J. M. Cameron. In order to have the wedding consummated, it is charged Pearson swore that the young lady was of age, and had their parents' consent to the marriage. Neither statement, it is said, was correct, and Mrs. Moore, who was strongly opposed to her daughter entering upon married life, immediately interfered and took her daughter home. The latter, however, was quite satisfied with her bargain, and ran away from home to rejoin her husband.

The funeral of the late Dr. W. T. O'Reilly, Inspector of Prisons and Public Charities, took place here yesterday.

The Dominion Day expenses passed on by the Council total up just $4,291 50.

BUILDINGS BURNED.

A $40,000 Blaze at Wheatley, Essex County.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., July 14.—The village of Wheatley, about nine miles from here, was on Saturday night visited by a disastrous fire, which completely gutted the whole main business block of the place. The fire started between 12 o'clock midnight and 1 a.m. in Underwood's livery. The building being frame and filled with hay, burned like wildfire. A west wind was blowing, and the flames soon spread over the remainder of the block, which consisted of Merritt's barn, Lightfoot's hardware store, McLean's butcher shop, Scott's general store, postoffice and telegraph office, and Eastman's general store. The latter building was owned by Lewis Wigle, ex-M. P. Messrs. Scott and Eastman are the heaviest sufferers, but are well covered by insurance in the following companies: Royal, Liverpool and London, Imperial and Ætna. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss estimated, $40,000.

THE CROPS AND THEIR ENEMIES.

Wheat harvesting will be pretty general in Southern Ontario counties before another week has elapsed.

The oat crop in many districts is said to be very backward, and we have heard of many unfavorable reports.

The Gananoque Reporter has sent specimens of blighted wheat to experts who attribute the disease to the extreme wetness of the season. The blight gives the plant the appearance of having been attacked by rust or frost. Wheat on high, well-drained land in the neighborhood of Gananoque is affected to nearly as great an extent as that growing in low fields. Prof. Saunders, of the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, says: "It began with us with a peculiar whitening of the lower leaves of the young grain; in a few days the whitened leaves became red and then a very deep red." The leaves wither and then rust sets in. Mr. Saunders regrets to learn that the blight is quite common throughout the Ottawa district. On some farms near Toronto the oats exhibit the redness here spoken of. The farmers lay the blame not on the heavy rains, but on a new fangled grub or louse.

Business Assignments.

A Justice of the Peace Sent to Prison.

LONDON CITY, Ind., July 15.—Justice R. Hunting, a justice of the peace and lawyer of East Williston, yesterday pleaded guilty to one of several indictments charging him with embezzling $21,000 belonging to clients who had given him the money for investment, and he was sentenced to nine years in prison with hard labor. Hunting belongs to one of the oldest Long Island families.

Warning to Amateur "Deck Hands."

GRIMSBY, July 15.—Saturday morning, as the steam yacht Blandina, owned by Mr. R. McDonell, of Sunnyside, was sailing alongside of the wharf toward the shore, two young men, Herbert Brennan, of Hamilton, and Ed. Wilson, of Toronto, who stood near the stern of the boat, threw a rope to the wharf to fasten the boat. The rope was quickly placed on a snubbing-post. Part of it lay about the vessel's deck in coils, in which the young men were standing. Not knowing that the young men had thrown out the rope to check the boat, Mr. McDonell, who was in the wheel-house, did not slacken the yacht's speed, and as the rope was pulled through the guard by the moving vessel the young men were held tightly by the legs. Young Brennan had one of his legs fractured and Wilson had one of the small bones in his ankle broken.

MADRID, July 15.—The Gazette says: "In the last two months there have been 445 cases of cholera in Spain. Two hundred and fifty have been fatal."

Disclosures Regarding Bismarck Threatened.

BERLIN, July 15.—The Frankfurter Zeitung threatens to make further revelations relative to Bismarck which have hitherto been suppressed unless the Nachrichten ceases its attacks.

A Prisoner's Preferences.

PARIS, July 15.—The Nihilist Mendelssohn denounces what he considers the discomforts of French prisons and their bad sanitary condition. He declares the Prussian system is far superior, but admits that in France the magistrates and jailers are more sympathetic toward prisoners than in Prussia.

Stole the Spoons.

LONDON, July 15.—Among those who attended at Stanley's wedding reception Saturday was a wealthy widow named Hatchard. While there she stole several silver spoons from the room in which the wedding gifts were displayed. She was seen by a detective and arrested. She was arraigned, found guilty, and sentenced to two weeks' imprisonment.

Mr. Gladstone in Good Health.

LONDON, July 15.—A report was in circulation yesterday that Mr. Gladstone was ill, and his absence from the sitting of the Procedure Committee of the Commons lent to it a strong semblance of the truth. On the strength of the rumor hundreds of reporters and friends called at Mr. Gladstone's residence to obtain information as to his condition and express their sympathy. Mr. Gladstone's appearance in his usual good health and spirits attested the falsity of the report, and the callers retired satisfied and pleased that they had been mildly hoaxed.

THE WORLD OF WORK.

English Telegraphers Secure Increased Remuneration—Printers Committed for Conspiracy.

A London dispatch says that the Government has accorded an increase of pay and other concessions to the telegraphists.

The four printers charged with conspiracy by the Montreal Herald management have been committed for trial by Judge Desnoyers at the ensuing term of the Court of Queen's Bench in September. The solicitors of the Herald have been instructed to bring actions for damages against these four and other printers on the ground that they enticed away its employes.

Thirty delegates, representing about 300 conductors on Eastern railroads, disaffected members of the old Order of Railway Conductors met on Sunday in New York and organized a new order—Independent Railway Conductors. The new organization's bylaws do not touch upon the strike question one way or the other. The following were elected: President, C. S. Wheaton; vice-president and secretary, E. D. Nash; chaplain, F. A. Hermance; marshal, A. Holdridge; first conductor, L. K. Wood; second conductor, V. Pigeon; chairman executive committee, F. J. Griffith. The next annual meeting of the new order will be held at St. Albans, Vt., on the second Tuesday of June, 1891. The new order is described as a benefit fraternal insurance organization.

The threatened lockout of the clothing cutters in New York has been averted. The men went to their respective shops Monday morning and signed a paper stating they belonged to no union. This done they went to work as usual.

Editor—You are paid, sir, for conducting a labor column in this paper, and you have not had a line in it for a week. Why is that, sir? Labor reporter—I couldn't get any labor news this week. Editor—Why not? Labor reporter—Everybody is at work.

Sunday shaving is unlawful in this town and has got to stop. That is, the barbers must not shave customers, although a citizen may still shave himself without violating the law of the land. So it is not the act itself, but the manner in which it is performed, that the law takes into account in determining the guilt or innocence of the individual.—[Philadelphia Press.

The March of Trade.—Great merchant (to manager)—Inform the clerks, Mr. Mumm, that owing to the general stagnation in business their salaries will be reduced 10 per cent. on and after the 1st. Mr. Mumm—Yes, sir. Great merchant—And, by the way, if the architect calls with those plans for my Newport villa ask him out to dine. I will return at 1 o'clock.

Soon there will be no profession or trade left as a proud man's very own. Women have successfully mastered farming, doctoring, the law, telegraphy and many other pursuits, and now an Ohio woman has begun work on a railroad building contract. A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

AN AWFUL SCENE.

Statement of a Survivor Who Was on the Steamer Sea Wing.

RED WING, Minn., July 14.—Business here is completely at a standstill. John Gerkin, wife and five children, comprising the whole family, are among the died. "Red" Mero, a brother of Chas. Mero, and insurance agent of Minneapolis, and his entire family were drowned. They went down wrapped in each other's arms, and were picked up last night floating together in the embrace of death. The scenes at the morgue are simply indescribable.

WILLING AND UNWILLING HELP.

Corporal B. L. Perry, of St. Paul, saw the wreck of the Sea Wing and at once hastened to the spot to render assistance. Finding a man standing near a boat on the shore, he asked to be taken out to the overturned steamer. When the man refused, Perry threatened to kill him. With the help of his unwilling assistant he saved the lives of fifteen or sixteen. The steamer Luella pulled the Sea Wing up out of the water, releasing three bodies—one woman and three young men. Alice Palmer, of Trenton, was one of them, but the two men have not been identified.

LIFE-PRESERVERS IN REALITY.

Robert Adams, the 17-year-old son of Dr. Adams, of Lake City, and another boy, whose home is in Red Wing, secured three life preservers and were in the water for six hours before being rescued. Young Adams could swim but his companion could not. During the time they were in the water, from 9 to 3, they were buffeted by the billows and blown hither and thither by the gale. They first drifted about a mile down past the town, and then a change in the wind carried them up the river to Frontenac, seven miles from here, where they were rescued by Dr. Kain and party.

MRS. EACHUS' STORY.

Mrs. Dr. Eachus, a daughter of Mr. Good, who was an inmate of the Good cottage, which was destroyed at Lake Gervais, says: "All our family were in the house. We noticed the storm approaching and some of the cellar. My husband and I were standing at a window, while the others were scattered around the house, and all suggesting some place of security. After a few moments the great spinning cloud reached the center of the lake, and I saw the water divide and overflow the banks some 40 feet. As papa was looking out the door he saw the trees near the Mullanch cottage crash beneath the whirlwind, and then Mullanch's cottage was swept away and then our barn was blown broadside against our house. Just at this time my husband threw me bodily down the cellar stairs. Then he threw Miss King and Mr. McPherson jumped after. My husband then tumbled down and called to the others to follow. The building crushed in upon us and then portions of it were hurled skyward. Trees were blown by, and a huge ice chest fell into the cellar and pinned us all down. As we lay there in the painful refuge we heard the Schurmeir house crash and scatter timbers in all directions. For fifteen minutes the timbers and furniture of both houses were hurled about the site of the houses. After our release from the cellar we began looking for members of the household. We found them scattered about. Minnie Mass lay in the road, her head cut and her mouth bleeding badly. Carrie, her sister, was pinned under a tree. While I was dashing through the mud I ran across the body of George Miller, dead and mangled. His wife also was buried beneath the wreck and hurt quite badly. Mrs. Hastings and her daughter Stella were badly bruised, and Mrs. Hastings will lose the sight of an eye."

LIST OF THE DEAD.

Following is a revised list of the dead or those missing and known to be dead at Lake City: Mamie Adams, Mrs. Bakely and two children, Miss Brennan, Katie Burkhardt, Phœbe Bierson, John Bahrus and wife, Charley Brown, Fred. Christ, Eddie Christoferson, Katie Davis, Katie Daly, Charles Dinstage, John Engelbet and son, Miss Feates, Minnie Fisher, Ira Fulton, Peter Gerkin, wife and five children, Mrs. Merrit Green, Miss Ida Green, Fred Hempling, Lizzie Hempling, Fred. Battemayer, Will Hipper, G. Harris, Theodore Hardwell, Lizzie Ann Harrison, Mabel Holten, Theodore Hornedel, Mrs. Huber, Arthur Haglen, Cora Johnson, Thos Leason, Myrtle Mero, Nellie Myles, Emma Nelson, Geo. Nelson, Orrin Osky, Sadie Pearson, Julie Persig, Annie Persig, Alice Palmer, Nettie Palmer, K. Peterson, C. H. Rhoeder, two children of Mrs. Scuenberg and daughter, Mrs. F. Sherf and daughter, Annie Stieger, Francis Stieger, Fred Severes and daughter, Henry Stiffney, Fley Smith, Mrs. Slawson, John Sheffler, wife and two children, John Strope, Annie Snyder, Miss Zibrasse, Mary Skoglunde, Miss Nellie Wethern, Pearl Wethern, Addie Wing and sister, Bertha Winters. Knute Peterson's body was found about a mile up the shore.

The total number of bodies thus far identified is 68.

SIXTY PERSONS SAVED.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 14—2:15 p.m.—At this hour 60 persons are known to have been saved, and it is thought the death roll by the wreck may be inside of 100. The watches on the bodies stopped at from 8:15 to 8:30, showing pretty accurately the time of the wreck.

ST. PAUL, July 15.—L. S. Bayreil, of Argyle, Minn., was on the ill-fated steamer when she turned over. He says: "There were just 215 people on the steamer when she left the First Regiment camp on her return voyage. When the boat was about the middle of the lake the wind was dead ahead and blowing a gale. The captain evidently becoming uneasy shouted to the pilot: "Hold her to the Wisconsin shore." The pilot stuck to his post nobly, but the vessel in veering round caught the wind on her beam, and after a momentary struggle careened, bottom upward. The scene was simply awful. Words cannot depict the struggles of the multitude thus precipitated into the seething cauldron into which the usually peaceful lake had been lashed by the fury of the wind. The hatches had not been fastened down, as was reported, and the people in the cabin rushed on deck. Many of them jumped from the deck to the barge and three swam ashore. After the boat turned over the tow ropes were cut and the two vessels drifted apart.

"From the water scores of women and children sent up a last agonizing shriek of despair as the angry flood closed over them. The greater portion were carried under by the suction, as the steamer turned bottom upward and were unable to swim out. The water about the boat was soon dotted by the heads of the stronger swimmers and in a few minutes some twenty-five were safely lodged upon the overturned boat. Those first gaining the temporary place of safety assisted others in climbing upon the slippery surface, and in ten minutes all the human beings in sight were upon the boat. Just as the storm was subsiding and hope was strong within them, the boat gave another lurch and more lives were lost.

"When the boat began to careen so fearfully I leaped from the steamer to the barge, and when the ropes were cut we drifted away from her some distance, and I was able to see almost everything that was going on. The heart-rending shrieks and cries of agony that went up from the waves would have wrung with horror the hardest heart. Here and there could be seen, as a flash of lightning revealed them, the white dress of some poor woman or child. One poor creature I saw go down clinging to her child, whom she had been trying to save. The mother—for mother she evidently was—had fastened a life-preserver about her waist and with its aid was trying to keep herself and child afloat until help could reach them. Suddenly I saw the woman release the hold she had upon the child and sink beneath the water. She did not rise again and the child soon followed its mother."

DEATH ON THE TRACK.

A Series of Disastrous Railway Accidents—Ten Persons Killed Outright.

DODGE CITY, Kan., July 15.—Sante Fe express No. 3 was derailed here yesterday Fireman Oles and a tramp were killed.

SIX VICTIMS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 15.—It is reported that a terrible accident has occurred at Baden, twelve miles from here, near a cemetery in San Mateo county. A wagon containing fifteen people was run into by a train. The people were tossed in all directions. Six were killed outright and the others injured.

THE LATE

SIR WILLIAM GULL!

PHYSICIAN-in-Ordinary to QUEEN VICTORIA, the Prince of Wales and ROYAL FAMILY, frequently expressed the opinion "that in

we can do little or NOTHING without COD LIVER OIL and ARSENIC!" (Vide article on Bacillary Phthisis, in Bulletin de Therapeutique, Vol. cix., 1885.)

COD LIVER OIL alone fails to cure, but when taken in conjunction with DR. CAMPBELL'S "Life Renewing" Safe Arsenic Wafers they jointly bring LIFE, STRENGTH, APPETITE and SOUND HEALTH to otherwise HOPELESSLY INCURABLE INVALIDS.

Dr. Cyrus Edson!

CHIEF INSPECTOR of the NEW YORK BOARD OF HEALTH, testified under oath in open court June 11, 1889, as follows:

(Readers will kindly bear in mind that the following testimony taken from the court stenographer's notes of the trial, was literally "wrung" from the unwilling lips of this vindictive witness at the trial of Dr. Campbell, accused by the N. Y. Board of Health of preparing "Poisonous" Arsenic Wafers.)

"Q. Is it not also a fact that this medicine Arsenic) is able in the last stages of TUBERCULOSIS (Consumption) to do what no other one can, strengthen the nutritive function and remove all danger from colliquative accidents? A. Yes, sir; it acts beneficially in those cases."

"Q. Do you know of cases where Arsenic ALONE has been employed SUCCESSFULLY when all other remedies have FAILED? A. Yes, sir."

"Q. Have you ever had any person come to you and complain of being sick or poisoned by the use of them (Dr. Campbell's) Arsenic Wafers? A. No, sir."

I now append the testimony of a GRATEFUL woman, who certifies and is herself a LIVING PROOF of the TRUTH and correctness of Dr. Edson's assertions regarding the action of Arsenic ALONE as a remedial curative!

SNATCHED FROM THE GRAVE!

after ABANDONMENT by two eminent BROOKLYN PHYSICIANS!

by the use ONLY of

DR. CAMPBELL'S SAFE ARSENIC WAFERS.

Lafayette avenue (Brooklyn) lady writes Five years ago I was very ill with consumption; two physicians, prominent in Brooklyn, attended me and finally said they could do no more and left me to DIE! Well, THANKS TO DR. CAMPBELL'S SAFE ARSENIC WAFERS, I am Alive and Well to-day. A steady perseverance in their use entirely cured my pulmonary disease. They have done all that you claim for them. Accept many, many grateful thanks. MRS. EDWARDS."

ANOTHER RAPID CURE!

For years my right lung caused me great anxiety, trouble and expense. Finally my physician advised my immediate removal to a warm climate, otherwise, he said, I would die of CONSUMPTION! It was not possible for my husband to remove South, and for a while I lingered undecided what to do, but I grew so weak and emaciated that I finally called, about a year ago, on Dr. James P. Campbell. I was then taking Cod Liver Oil Emulsion, but to no curative end. Dr. C. advised me to continue the oil and to take three of Dr. Campbell's Arsenic Wafers five minutes after each dose of oil. I carried out this treatment for six months, at the end of which time I had ENTIRELY regained my health, strength and flesh and ever since my lungs have been perfectly sound and healthy, as any one may see for themselves by calling on me.

MRS. M. SMITH, 187 West 80th St., New York.

AT DEATH'S DOOR!

JAMESBURG, N. J., April 2, 1890.

DR. JAS. P. CAMPBELL, 220 Sixth Avenue, New York.

DEAR SIR,—You are indeed a public benefactor. But for your INVALUABLE Preparation of ARSENIC in the form of CAMPBELL'S WAFERS I verily believe that "my time here would have been short." Following frequent exposure to inclement weather while absent from home, a racking cough, profuse expectoration, pain in left side and exhausting night sweats harassed me continually. On my return I requested my family physician to give me his candid opinion as to my condition. He said that hasty CONSUMPTION had a firm grip on me, and that nothing but COD LIVER OIL and ARSENIC would save me. He prescribed Norwegian Oil and Liquor Arsenicalis (Fowler's Solution), which in three days landed me IN BED. Next he prepared an EMULSION of Arsenic and Cod Liver Oil, but I could not swallow the nauseating compound. Then as my stomach would not tolerate the Arsenic, he said, "Stick to the oil alone," which I did, but regained neither health, strength nor appetite. One day I read in the New York World of the case of Mrs. John Sibley, who took CAMPBELL'S ARSENIC WAFERS in conjunction with Cod Liver Oil, and in a short time was ENTIRELY CURED. I sent to your office for three boxes of your wafers and commenced by taking two, half an hour after each dose of oil. As no nausea followed, I increased to three and later to four wafers three times a day. In ten days I realized that this combination of remedies "worked like a charm" and that the progress of the disease was at least stayed. My appetite and strength improved daily, my color was natural and in two months I was able to resume much of my daily occupation. Now, a year later, I am entirely recovered and am again well and hearty. I have called several times at your office, but you were absent or engaged. I shall know not rest, however, until I have shaken the hand that (metaphorically) "punched the heads of the N. Y. Scientists (?)" My grateful thanks are forever yours, and if I can aid any sufferer like myself by answering inquiries I shall be glad to do so. Very respectfully yours, JOHN MOORE.

Above letters and numerous others to the same effect can be seen at depot.

In advocating the introduction of the above wonderfully CURATIVE system of treating Pulmonary Consumption, Dr. Campbell is simply among the FIRST in perfect harmony and accord with the most advanced clinical practitioners of England and France, as the late Sir William Gull, of London, and Drs. Gepmain, See, Lafage, Labord, Robin and others, of Paris. Indeed, it is the RECOGNIZED treatment in all the great French hospitals, as the Hotel Dieu, Le Beaujon, Le Charite and the different naval and military hospitals, and with results the most ASTOUNDING. The great objection to this method of treatment has been the difficulty of so preparing the Arsenic, as to be tolerated by sensitive and delicate stomachs. In actual combination with Oil or Emulsion, Arsenic makes so nauseating a mixture, as to be less OFFENSIVE to the majority of invalids. This impediment, however, is fortunately entirely obviated by the elegant confections of Dr. Campbell, which never derange even the most sensitive organism. Dr. Campbell claims this combined treatment of Campbell's Arsenic Wafers with Cod Liver Oil, pure, or with Cod Liver Oil Emulsion, RADICALLY CURES CONSUMPTION.

HOW THE WAFERS ACT

Not only by arousing all the powers of the body through Increased Nutrition, but by CAMPBELL'S ARSENIC WAFERS acting also as a PARASITICIDE, "destroying the MICROBES," which according to the researchers of Koch and other eminent pathologists are the undoubted CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION!

To SUFFERERS! ☞ A pamphlet giving a more extended outline of this most efficient known mode of treatment and CURE of PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, with full name and address of invalids literally "SNATCHED from the GRAVE," will be forwarded to any address on receipt of postage only 2c stamp.

PERSONAL CONSULTATION FREE.

The body of an unknown man, 5 feet 8 inches tall, about 45 years of age, was found on Lake Erie shore, five miles from Harrow, on Sunday. Deceased was dressed as a workingman, and there was nothing on his body to explain his death. It is supposed he fell from a passing vessel.

George, son of Mr. Peter Flynn, of H. M. C., met with a severe accident, while attending to his duties on the boat train while at Port Dalhousie. He attempted to step on the foot board of the engine while in motion, missed his hold, and in falling, the ends of three of his fingers were taken off.

A peculiar accident, resulting in serious injury, has befallen Chas. Soules, of Arthur township. He and a neighbor were building a line fence, and the neighbor was driving down a stake with an axe when the blade flew off the handle and imbedded itself in Mr. Soules' leg near the knee, severing an artery and inflicting other serious injuries.

Mrs. D. Townsend, of Salmonville, had a narrow escape from being badly burned. While she was standing close to the stove a blast of wind came down the chimney and sent a flame of fire out of the front. Her dress caught and she ran out and rolled in the grass, but this failing, she jumped into a barrel of water near by, and was thus saved from terrible injury or death.

Edgerton R. Shepley, who has been confined in Sandwich jail on commitment for debt since January last, escaped on Saturday morning. He was at one time manager of one of the Walkerville stores, leaving there for St. Paul, Minn., where he embarked in a large commission business and for some time bought for cash. Then he bought on ten days' credit and at one time purchased goods to the amount of $40,000. He rapidly exchanged these goods for money and skipped to Canada and was arrested in Windsor. Since then he has been kept in jail on a charge of debt.

Miss Annie Campbell, of Simcoe, who has been assistant teacher at Burk's Falls for the past three years, was presented by her pupils with an address and a beautiful silverplate fruit dish and several smaller articles on the occasion of her leaving for her home. The members of the Presbyterian Church also presented her with an address and some pieces of silverware.

Ollie, a little daughter of Mr. Taylor, plumber, of Brantford, while playing on the floor, picked up a piece of yellow corrosive stuff and ate it. Mrs. Taylor noticed the stuff in the child's mouth, and, as it was sick, sent for a doctor, who at once applied emetics and stomach pump and saved the child's life. Mr. Taylor only moved into the house a few days ago, and the substance swallowed by the child must have been dropped by the person moving out.

On Wednesday of last a young man named Thos. Dobson, who was in the employ of G. Dale, of Hullett, called at the house of Mr. Wm. Campbell, of Harpurhey, and asked his wife for a drink of water, and upon finding that the husband was absent criminally assaulted her. The screams of the children brought Mr. Campbell and another man to the assistance of their mother. Mr. C. caught the brute and gave him such a beating that he will never forget. His head required to be stitched by a doctor. Constable Lee arrested Dobson in Hullett and he was brought before Squire Beattie, of Seaforth, who sent him for trial to Goderich.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN.

Housekeeping Schools.

A consular report on the German housekeeping school, just published by the State Department, contains some suggestions worth thinking about. Every German town, city and district has its housekeeping school for girls of more than 16 years. The courses in these schools include the following studies: 1 Cooking, baking, washing, milking, uses of milk, making of butter and cheese, and care of a kitchen or vegetable garden. 2. Ironing, sewing, mending, patching, knitting, clothes (dress) making, etc. The scholars bring their own working tools and stuff to work with and on. The things made and mended are exhibited on the last day of school, and afterwards given to the scholar who made them. 3. General instructions in housekeeping, and in regard to preserving health when possessed, and obtaining it when lost; also household book-keeping and accounts.

There are two courses—in summer and in winter. The summer course begins on May 1 and continues till the time of harvest, when the girls return to help in the fields and on the farm at home. The winter term begins in November and continues till Easter, or thereabouts, with a two-weeks' vacation at Christmas and New Year. Each term has a length of about five months. The Consul says: "It is astonishing how carefully, cleanly, tirelessly, happily they work, singing all the time some lullaby song of Schiller or some other national poet. Order is a German housefrau's first law. They develop a skill that seems astonishing. The scholars go to these schools, not as to a task, but as to a playground, with zest and interest. At the exhibitions one sees all kinds of products, which, like valuable works of art, which reveal their beauties on close inspection, awake most interest under a careful and minute examination."

Delicate Perfumes.

A delightful perfume has an indescribable influence. All people of refined taste love it. The odor of a cluster of blush roses, a handful of sweet violets or tinted trailing arbutus, is sure, for the time, to drive away frowns and unpleasant thoughts. No woman can deliberately set her lips to unkind, harsh, rasping words in the presence of a bunch of lillies-of-the-valley, breathing forth the very essence of sweetness and purity. Fragrance is directly opposed to disorder, uncleanness and ill-temper.

Women of wealth find it an easy matter to supply themselves with all the elegant, sweetly-scented toilet requisites, which are now so generally offered for sale—and, by many, sweetness is thought to be available only to these favored ones. This conclusion is, however, far from correct. A very plain home may be supplied with pleasant odors, and a restricted wardrobe may be steeped in fragrance.

Bottles of farina cologne and choice French sachet powders are not at all necessary, though very desirable of course. The toilet soap should be of the best, both in fragrance and quality. If scented, this is somewhat expensive unless purchased in the city, and in quantity. A plain, scentless white eastile soap is always in good taste.

Most of the delightful odors which cling so persistently yet faintly to the gloves, laces, handkerchiefs and stationery of the lady of fashion, are produced by the free use of sachet bags or cushions. Closets, cabinets and receptacles of all sorts are lined with perfumed cushions and loose cases of various sorts, and scents are scattered everywhere among her possessions.

The lady of equally refined tastes but smaller income can easily produce these effects by the use of a simple and inexpensive substitute. The odor of finely-powdered orris-root is almost precisely the same as that of the double English violets, which are sold at large prices. Twenty-five cents worth of orris—or less than that if your druggist is at all liberal—is sufficient to impart a delightful fragrance to all your possessions to which fragrance should be applied.

To perfume the drawers of a chiffonier or bureau, sprinkle a sheet of wadding with a liberal supply of the powder, and put it into a case of cheese-cloth, with an outer cover of silk or satin, if you choose, though an extra cover of the cheese-cloth, tufted with bright worsted, is as useful, if not quite so handsome. The loose meshes of the cheese-cloth allow the perfume to escape freely, and all the laces and ribbons placed in this drawer will have their share of the delicate spring-like fragrance. Small sachet bags of the powder should also be thrown about in various places and occasionally shaken, as should the lining also be, to facilitate the escape of the odors. A bit of perfume wadding, a trifle of ribbon, silk, or even cheese-cloth, is easily made up into a sachet-bag, and these may be placed wherever there are things to be sweetened, taking care not to make the fragrance too common.

For the box, desk or drawer where stationery is kept, there should be a liberal allowance of the perfume. A delicately sweetened letter always gives an added pleasure to the recipient. But again we say, be careful not to overdo the matter. Strong perfumes are offensive and out of taste.

The wholesome, clean and delicate colors of the lavender flower, "strawberry," spruce and the fine blooms of sweet, white clover, which are found in some parts of our country, are quite sufficient, if carefully gathered and distributed in proper quantities, to make a generous supply of delicate perfume for the household linen, wardrobe and toilets of the farmer's wife and daughters.

Pleasant perfumes will not abide with unwholesome ones. This is true of one's property and person. No perfume at all is much more desirable than either a strong or a common one. But the orris-root can be safely recommended, if used in the right way, for its delicacy, permanency and sweetness.

Philippa Fawcett.

Miss Philippa Garrett Fawcett was born in Cambridge, and has spent some part of nearly every year of her life there. When Prof. Fawcett's parliamentary duties called the family to town his daughter attended the Clapham high school, whilst in Cambridge she profited much by the teaching of Miss J. McLeod Smith. Later she attended classes at Bedford College and University College. Karl Pearson was her mathematical lecturer at the latter institution. It was clear from an early period that her forte lay in the direction of mathematics; but Mrs. Fawcett, whilst careful to secure for her the best possible teaching in this branch, gave her a first rate general education as well. In 1886 she passed the higher local examinations with brilliant success, taking a first-class in the language group, with distinction in two languages, and a first-class in the group for logic and political economy with a distinction in the latter subject. Upon the strength of this achievement, Miss Fawcett was awarded the Gilchrist scholarship. The regulations of the scholarship did not oblige her to avail herself of it at once; and, being rather below the average age for entering Newnham, she acted upon the advice of Mr. Pearson, who counseled her to continue her studies at university college for one year longer. At the end of that period Miss Fawcett enrolled herself among the students of Newnham College, and about the same time added another laurel to her wreath by coming out at the head of the list in the mathematical group of the higher locals.

Had Miss Fawcett not been, like most able people, extremely modest and unassuming, and gifted, moreover, with coolness and determination, she must have been put to a severe trial during her student life. She had scarcely set foot in the college before her chances of success became the topic of local conversation, and even in her hearing estimates were frequently made of her precise place in the tripos list. As far as possible, however, she ignored gossip of this sort, and went quietly on her way. In the matter of work, Miss Fawcett was not one of those foolish virgins who sit up into the small hours of the morning with a wet towel round their heads, until brain and nerves give way. About six hours a day was her usual allowance for study, but during those six hours it was real hard work, as we may imagine. She went freely both into general and college society, and took plenty of exercise, enjoying more particularly lawn tennis and hocky. She is also a most proficient fencer, having taken lessons in the science of arms at an early age. Public speaking she rather shunned, but now and again took part in the debates of the Newnham political society. Altogether, a more happily and healthily constituted method of existence could not have been desired.

Miss Fawcett had only the benefit of a single term with the celebrated "senior wrangler maker," Mr. Routh. She was taught for a time by Mr. Atkinson, of Trinity Hall, but her coach during the latter period of her mathematical training has been E. W. Hobson (fellow of Christ's, and senior wrangler in 1878). Miss Fawcett had rivals of no mean mettle. Mr. Bennett, of St. John's College, is so distinguished a mathematician that a former senior wrangler, on learning the result, was heard to declare, "If she is senior to Bennett she would have been senior in any year." It is an open secret, however, that she outstripped even this formidable opponent by a considerable number of marks. It may be a matter of surprise to some that the university, loving her sons better than her daughters, should bestow a title upon one of the former when she cannot bestow the reality. The general public, however, which has been taught to believe that no one can possibly be "above" that exalted being, the senior wrangler, will view, in the Cambridge phrase, a distinction without a difference, and will recognize that at the head of the tripos, the senior wrangler and Miss Fawcett are one and the same person.

LUXURIES AND TAXES.

What nonsense it is for high tax journals to continually assert that the people of Canada do not feel the taxes imposed upon them because the duties are collected on luxuries. We are well aware that a proportion of the duties are collected on what may very properly be called "luxuries," whisky and tobacco being the chief items in the list. But there is really no reason in arguing before intelligent men and women that the duties on iron, on coal, on sugar, on cotton, on rubber goods, on binding twine and many other articles that are consumed by the public are luxuries. Iron is not a luxury, yet there can be no doubt that the heavy taxation collected on imports of that commodity handicaps industry and increases the cost of the articles manufactured from it. The same may be said of coal. Sir Joseph Hickson has no hesitation in stating that the large sum annually paid out as a tax on the coal consumed by the G. T. R. Co. is prejudical to its interests, and as the great system of railways cannot be hurt in this way without the trouble reacting on its employes and on its customers, the people as a whole are losers by the transaction. Sugar is not a luxury; it is a necessity in modern life; but no sane man will tell us that the duty does not add to the price of the article. Moreover, the tax on sugar tends to reduce the value of our farmers' fruit crops, because it decreases the consumption of preserved fruit, and prevents the establishment of canning factories in London and elsewhere. We are confident that if sugar were relatively as cheap in this city as it is in Great Britain, an enormous investment of capital in canning factories would take place, and prove profitable, too. Rubber goods may be deemed luxuries, and in some respects no doubt they are, but if the health of the people is to be preserved in our northern climate rubbers and over-shoes must be worn. One question is, Why should the people be compelled to pay monopolist prices for their supplies of these and other goods? And another pertinent query is, What cause for rejoicing is there because the Dominion Government has now under its control several million dollars more than is required for the management of public affairs, extravagantly as they have been conducted? We remember the time, not so very many years ago, Sir Leonard Tilley, as financial critic for the Tory party, argued that the public expenditure should not be more than $22,000,000 a year. It is now nearly double that sum, and is still increasing. Moreover, in the interval the public debt has been vastly increased. Surely it is time that a limit to the taxing powers of the Government should be set. It is time that the Dominion Finance Minister, instead of arranging for the collection of more taxation than is required to pay the interest on our debt and economically manage public affairs, should set about making it easier for the people to live by reducing the burden of taxation. The possession of several millions of dollars hard cash in the treasury, for which no appropriation has been made, is always a temptation to the unscrupulous and the needy who are apt to gather round every party, and particularly around a Ministry composed of pliable men like Macdonald, Chapleau and Carling. Many will be the opportunities presented to squander this hard-earned money of the taxpayers, and questionable will be the objects to which it will be devoted, or recent history will not be repeated. We deny that the money is collected as a tax on luxuries, and appeal to the rank and file of our population, particularly those engaged in the staple industry of farming and in the mercantile trade dependent on it to say whether we are not correct. These millions of dollars are now lying in the vaults at Ottawa or are on deposit in a favorite bank, drawing interest of 1½ per cent. How much better it would have been at last session of Parliament to have reduced rather than increased the taxes, and by this means have left the large sum, unnecessarily collected, in the pockets of the people.

THE ONTARIO SURPLUS.

At the close of its last financial year, the Province of Ontario had a surplus of $6,427,252 41 after deducting liabilities presently payable, yet the Toronto Empire continues to repeat the assertion that the Province is in debt! Not only that, but by the determined and successful defense of the Ontario Government, the Province retains control of immensely valuable timber and mineral resources in Western Ontario, which at one time Sir John Macdonald attempted to distribute among the Rykertian hangers-on at Ottawa. If that assault had been successful, Ontario would to-day be minus resources worth in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, and the timber limit grabbers who have in recent years haunted the Ottawa lobbies would be rolling in their ill-gotten gains

A CHANCE FOR TRADE.

Old Jamaica is arousing herself. The island Government has arranged to hold an international exposition at Kingstown, which will be opened in January, 1891, by Prince George of Wales, and continue during the spring and perhaps the coming summer. Sir Henry Blake, the governor, desires to show the natives how far behind they are in various branches of industry and especially in labor saving machinery. The United States is expected to be one of the principal exhibitors. What does Canada mean to do? The trade relations between the colony and the Dominion are undoubtedly hampered by the high tax policy of the present Ottawa Administration, which has been laboring hard to make believe, but with very poor success, that the nation which will not buy from a foreign customer can sell at a profit to him. Nevertheless, we hope to see the trade policy of Canada much improved in the near future, and it may be worth while to consider whether it would not be advantageous for our agricultural implement makers, our manufacturers of boots and shoes, light tweeds and clothing to exhibit their products at the coming exhibition. Exhibits will be received from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. The exhibit of the local Government will present in a compact and interesting way the great resources and natural beauties of the island. The garden surrounding the buildings, which will command surpassing views of the Caribbean Sea and the mountains of the interior, will be typical of the almost embarrassing wealth of tropical vegetation which mantles the land surface. A natural history exhibit and a native industrial village will still further display local life and its possibilities for growth.

—The Governor-General has promised to visit Lindsay on Sept. 24.

—Hon. G. W. Ross will, it is said, in a short time pay a visit to British Columbia.

—Most people have been under the impression that Lord Wolseley, in recent years, was next to the commander-in-chief, the Duke of Cambridge, the best paid officer in the British Army. That was not the case. The Duke of Cambridge, as commander-in-chief and field marshal, has an income of $33,160 a year, and Lord Wolseley, as adjutant-general, has been paid $13,500. But his new post of commander of the forces in Ireland will bring Lord Wolseley a very considerable addition to his income. When, in October next, he succeeds General H. R. H. Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar, the hero of Comassie will draw a salary of $16,920 a year.

—When the son of the Prince of Wales took his seat in the House of Lords the other day as Duke of Clarence and Avondale, he was loaded down with robes, chains and things. In the English illustrated papers he looks a perfect guy. Is it not about time to realize the truth of the Scottish poet's declaration that "a man's a man for a' that?" It seems to us that no person should be elevated to the position of being a lawmaker except at the call of his countrymen, and that a great deal of the extra toggery called for on these State occasions is unnecessary, and must be distasteful to the man who has to wear it, if he is possessed of common sense.

—The St. John (N. B.) Gazette shows its respect for freedom of speech by suggesting that when next Mr. Wiman comes to Canada he should be tarred and feathered, and it still further incites its monopolist friends to violence by suggesting that the feathers shall be "fastened on with tar of an extremely sticky quality." The ADVERTISER is not particularly friendly to Mr. Wiman, but it does believe in freedom of trade, of which he is an advocate, and freedom of speech, which should be dear to and upheld by every law-abiding Canadian. The Gazette is a Tory organ, and we are sorry to see cares for none of these things. Fortunately, Canadians are more tolerant than some of these "protectionist" organs give them credit for being.

In Tunis, Northern Africa, the authorities have forbidden the departure of pilgrims for Mecca on account of the report that the cholera is prevalent there. The edict proves that the Eastern people are beginning to have some sense. The Tunisian rulers were not always so careful to prevent the spread of the plague, but no doubt they are moved by intelligent public sentiment, which long since pointed to the conclusion that the pilgrimages annually spread abroad diseases of many kinds. The Dutch traveler, Schnouck, who is the last European to visit Mecca in disguise, tells a harrowing story of the sufferings of the pilgrims while in the city, and of the total lack of sanitary or other measures that would contribute to their health and comfort. Pilgrims from Mecca are often a source of great uneasiness in the African coast towns, whose people are never sure that a pestilence does not accompany the devotees. The steamers of the Rubattino Company are supposed to stop on every trip at Jedda, the port of Mecca, but their visits there are quite irregular, because the other ports where they touch are very likely to have a quarantine against Jedda. In fact, Mecca is coming to be regarded as a good deal of a nuisance even in some Mohammedan regions.

—According to a return presented to the French Chamber by the Minister of Finance, there are 148,809 families, each with seven children or more, which have claimed the exemption from certain taxes recently voted by the French Parliament. These families have 1,157,547 children, or as nearly as possible eight each, and they inhabit 26,632 different parishes. The information gathered by the Ministry of Finance in applying the new law is to the effect that there are 2,000,000 married couples in France without children, 2,500,000 with only one, 2,300,000 with two, 1,500,000 with three and about 1,000,000 with four, 550,000 with five and 300,000 with six. Canadian census returns show that the French-speaking population in the Dominion is far more prolific than are the people of old France. One reason lies in the fact that Canadians marry at a much earlier age, no doubt because the means of subsistence is not so difficult to obtain as in the comparatively crowded old land. But it is an ascertained fact that the French-speaking population in Canada does not increase in a greater ratio than the English-speaking portion of the community. The cause seems to be in the greater infant mortality. In point of numbers, the French families have the start of the first fifteen years or so, but the greater number of deaths in childhood decreases the advantage over the English-speaking portion of the community so as to render the two races practically on an equality in point of living offspring.

Star, Montreal.

No harm will be done if French Canadians and English Canadians alike endeavor to perpetuate the best qualities and keep alive the best traditions of their respective ancestors. We doubt if race feelings will go beyond this; and up to this point we ought to be thankful for it rather than otherwise.

THE REAL LEADERS.

Sun, New York.

In nine cases cut of ten, if not in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, the origin of the political movements which produce results and count in history is in the newspaper offices of the party, and not in the halls or committee rooms of Congress, or the private conferences and caucuses of representatives and senators. It is the politicians that watch the newspapers for inspiration and ideas, not the editors the politicians; and this is as true on one side of the party line as on the other.

Dyspepsia

Makes many lives miserable, and often leads to self destruction. Distress after eating, sick headache, heartburn, sour stomach, mental depression, etc., are caused by this very common and increasing disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the stomach, creates an appetite, promotes healthy digestion, relieves sick headache, clears the mind, and cures the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia. Read the following:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. It relieved me of that faint, tired, all-gone feeling. I have felt so much better since I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I am happy to recommend it." G. A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

THE CANADIAN LEAGUE SCHEME.

Among the responses made to the ADVERTISER'S suggestion that a Canadian semi-professional league be formed, the following are of interest:

Hamilton Spectator—The scheme is a good one and would prove more interesting than the International League. It would perhaps be as well not to make a move until next season.

Hamilton Times—The Times thinks that as the interest in professional ball is dead in Hamilton it would be folly to form a Canadian League. People who would not turn out to see the excellent ball that the ex-Hamilton team played certainly do not want the inferior play of amateurs or semi-professionals.

FLYS.

Will a Canadian league be formed?

Pete Wood is ill at his home in this city.

Lee, of the Clippers, has been playing well behind the bat.

The amateur clubs of the city are anxious to get up a tournament for civic holiday and are now making arrangements.

Casey, of Hamilton, and Sippi, of Grand Rapids, both of the late International League, have been signed by Jamestown.

A question of scoring arose on Monday when Esterbrook undertook to run for Bassett and stole second base. It was over who should get the credit of the stolen base, and was decided in favor of the second baseman.

The Brotherhood teams will play in Detroit the week beginning July 28. The contestants will be the Brotherhood teams of Cleveland and Boston, and they will play July 28, 29 and 30. Then will come the Philadelphia players, who will be entertained by the Clevelands July 31, Aug. 1 and 2. Then if the Brotherhood people consider that Detroit is the proper spot, it is quite likely that Deacon White's veteran aggregation will settle in this city.—[Detroit Free Press.

One last attempt to revive interest in the great and glorious national game, and benefit the ghosts of the old league team, at Grand Rapids on Sunday, resulted in a dismal failure. Six members of the old club, together with local amateurs, formed a picked nine and played the I. M. Westons, defeating them by 10 to 5. The affair was intended as a financial relief for the exleaguers, but the attendance was less than 100. Burke, Murphy, Meister, McMahon, Dunning and Whalen participated.

THE TURF.

St. Elmo won the 2:19 race at Philadelphia, Friday, in three straight heats, lowering his record to 2:18¾ in the third heat. Plush was second in each heat.

CRICKET.

The Forest Cricket Club is arranging for three games this week with St. Marys on Wednesday, London Asylum on Thursday and the return match with Strathroy on Friday.

The annual cricket match between Canada and the United States began Monday on the Wissahickon grounds, Philadelphia. When play stopped at 6 o'clock the United States had completed an inning with a score of 269, and Canada's score, with the loss of one wicket, was 14.

LACROSSE.

At Hamilton, on Saturday, the Y. M. C. A. club, of that city, defeated the second twelve of the Maitlands, of Toronto, by three games to none.

The junior Brants, of Paris, played at Tilsonburg Monday, and were defeated by the Lisgars, who won the first, second and fourth games in 45, 18 and 29 minutes. The Brants won the third game in half an hours' play.

SPRINTING.

The Boston Herald says that the breaking of the 400-yard running record by W. C. Downers, at Beacon Park on Wednesday last, is doubted among the athletes, and that the record is disputed by nearly every witness of the run, baring the officials. A big majority of the spectators, including amateur and professional runners of considerable reputation, believe that the course, as remeasured by Mr. See, was 20 feet short, although as first measured by Messrs. Graham, Stall and Cornish, it was correct.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 14.—This afternoon about 3:30 o'clock when quite a number of strangers were viewing the American Falls at Prospect Point, in New York State Reservation, they were paralyzed by seeing a man jump upon the stone wall and leap into the waters as they rolled over at the brink. He is supposed to be Alex. Wippert, aged 20, of Buffalo. He arrived at the falls this afternoon, and after visiting a couple of saloons he went direct to Prospect Point, and had only been there a minute when he said to a couple of bystanders "Here goes!" and, jumping upon the stone wall, leaped into the seething waters. The body was not seen after passing over the falls.

Mr. J. R. Allen, upholsterer, Toronto sends us the following: "For six or seven years my wife suffered with Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Inward Piles and Kidney Complaint. We tried two physicians and any number of medicines without getting any relief, until we got a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. This was the first relief she got, and before one bottle was used the benefit she derived from it was beyond our expectation."

It is better to judge a man by his appearance than to wait for his disappearance.

To Nervous, Debilitated Men.

If you will send us your address we will mail you our illustrated pamphlet explaining all about Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electric-Voltaic Belt and Appliances, and their charming effects upon the nervous, debilitated system, and how they will quickly restore you to vigor and manhood. Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude.

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 35 cents.

British Live Stock Trade.

EDINBURGH, July 5.—John Swan & Son's weekly report says: The supplies of fat cattle have been large. Trade all through has been quieter, and in many cases less money has been taken with a stiff finish. The English markets during the week has been quieter, and speculators have operated more cautiously. In nearly every market throughout the country prices are reported lower. Sheep have been rather scarcer. For nice weights previous prices were obtained, but for heavy sheep and ewes the demand has been slightly worse, and prices the turn lower. Lambs have been selling well at quite previous rates. Best class made from 34s to 42s. Calves a good show; best still dearer; secondary cheaper. Pigs selling at moderate rates. The store sheep season being about over, the supplies on offer were very short and prices turn in favor of the buyers. Store cattle have been shown in smaller numbers. Good sorts sold at about last week's prices, but secondary slow to sell, part being left unsold. Milch cows not so numerous; best descriptions in demand at from £23 to £28 10s; secondary cheaper. The arrivals from Canada were about 1,000 cattle, which, in sympathy with the home trade, met a middling demand. From the States about 1,000 cattle are reported to have been sold at Yorkhill, and made from 6s 9d to 7s per stone. Bulls and cows and all classes of secondary fat stock are difficult to quit, and make about the lowest prices of the season. Best bullocks, 7s 9d, in some cases slightly exceeded; secondary, 7s to 7s 3d; top Canadians, 7s to 7s 3d; bulls and cows, 5s 6d to 6s 3d. Best sheep, 8½d; heavy weights, 7½d; ewes, 6½d per lb.

The Dairy Markets.

BUFFALO.

July 14.—There was quite a free offering of cheese to-day, but buyers evinced no anxiety to take hold, and only two of the combinations represented sold at the current prices, viz., 1,800 boxes each of Marshfield and Cloverfield at 8c. Springville and Neff sold nothing, asking 8½c, and will consign to New York.

LITTLE FALLS.

July 14.—There has been a sharp difference to-day between white and colored cheese, and the former has commanded fully 1¼c more than the latter, and prices all round are about 1¼c off from those of last week. There is a noticeable shrinkage in the production, but as to the extent of the shrinkage opinions vary, some asserting that it is very large while others, who have just as good opportunities, are claiming that it is not greater than other seasons. Transactions—Three lots at 7c, 37 lots at 7½c, 13 lots at 7¾c, 11 lots on commission; total, 9,362 boxes. Farm dairies—Sales of farm dairy cheese amount to 1,221 boxes at 7c to 7½c, with the bulk at 7½c, and very little at the top price.

Butter—Creamery butter sold comprised 35 packages at 16c, and 16 packages of farm dairy butter at 15c to 17c.

UTICA.

July 14.—The cheese market to-day was dull and depressed. It was a foregone conclusion from the opening of the market that prices would rule lower. There was a drop of ⅛c all around. The outlook is so uncertain that salesmen generally were disposed to let their offerings go. Transactions: Five lots, 500 boxes, at 7½; 115 lots, 9,828 boxes, 7⅞c; 18 lots, 1,821 boxes, at 7½c; 43 lots, 358 boxes, 7¾c; 14 lots, 1,453 boxes, 7⅜c; 14 lots, 1,197 boxes, commission; total, 209 lots, 18,305 boxes; ruling price, 7⅞c. Transactions same date last year aggregated 19,570 boxes; ruling price, 8c.

Live Stock Markets.

EAST BUFFALO.

July 14.—Cattle—The offerings of sale stock were 225 cars, 50 cars in excess of the large offerings of last Monday. Market opened slow, but became more active, and toward the close of business most of the good grades were taken. Prices were generally about the same as last week. Not many export cattle on sale, and sold generally at $4 15 to $4 50. One or two carloads of extra, averaging 1,575 lbs, sold at $4 85; choice to heavy butchers' steers, $4 to $4 25, mostly $4 to $4 15. One selected load of 1,375 lbs, fat and very choice, sold at $4 45, but this was away above quotations for average quality stock of the same weight. Light butchers' steers and medium butchers', handy for the local trade, and fat, $3 75 to $4 25; generally fat cattle of about 1,000 lbs, $4 to $4 05; some sales below choice grades in these weights, $3 40 to $4 75; mixed butchers', common to good, $2 to $3; good to extra, $2 85 to $3 35. Stockers and feeders were in liberal supply for the season, with very limited demand, and ruled weak with prices 5c to 15c lower; $2 75 to $3 10 was top price for best stockers; $3 to $3 40 for select feeders. Bulls were in light supply with a good demand and steady prices for good ones. Common bulls were considerably of a drug in the market. Milch cows and springers of top grades were in good demand, and brought a shade higher prices. There was a good general supply of calves, and choice veals were in good demand at about last week's prices, though some small lots of extras sold a shade higher.

Sheep and lambs—Twenty-seven cars on sale. Trade slow early. More active toward the close. Choice to extra sheep, $5 40 to $5 65, though some good 100-lb sheep sold at $5 50; good to choice, $5 10 to $5 35; choice to extra lambs, $6 80 to $7 15; good to choice, $6 50 to $6 85.

Hogs—Eighty cars. Market dull and 5c to 10c higher. Mediums and heavy, $4; mixed and heavy Yorkers, $4; pigs, $3 85 to $3 90; rough, $3 to $3 10; stags, $2 75 to $3.

MONTREAL.

July 14.—About 350 head of butchers' cattle, 550 sheep and lambs and 60 calves offered at the east end abattoir to-day. Prices were high. A few of the best cattle sold at from 5c to 5¼c per lb. Good large cows that have been finished upon grass, sold from $50 to $55 each, or about 4¼c per lb, and several oxen in pretty good condition brought about the same rate. Common dry cows in fair condition sold at from $30 to $40 each, or about 3½c per lb, and leanish cattle at from 3c to 3¼c per lb; a few smallish sized strippers sold at from $15 to $20 each. Calves were in brisk demand and higher in price, ranging from $3 to $12 50 each. Sheep and lambs were in good demand at about former rates, sheep selling from $3 50 to $6, and lambs at from $2 to $4 each. No sales of fat hogs were reported to-day, and prices are quoted at from 2½c to 5¼c per lb.

UNITED STATES.

CHICAGO, July 14—Receipts, 20,000; shipments, 4,721 head; left over, 4,000; quality of receipts good; market active and firm; prices 5c to 15c higher; light grades, $3 75 to $3 95; rough packing, $3 65 to $3 70; mixed, $3 70 to $3 95; heavy packing and shipping, $3 70 to $3 95. receipts—Omaha, 3,500; Kansas City, 4,000; Sioux City, 1,000; Indianapolis, 7,000; Cincinnati, 2,000; St. Louis, 3,000. Cattle—Receipts, 21,000; slow; 5c to 10c lower; beeves, $3 50 to $4 80, bulk $4 to $4 20; cows, $1 25 to $3 10; stockers, $2 25 to $3 50. Sheep—Receipts, 7,000; steady; muttons, $3 57 to $5 15; lambs, $5 to $6 25; stockers, $3 50 to $4 25.

—The baseball team of the Toronto hotel-keepers arrived in the city to-day, and are playing a game at "Ward's," near Springbank.

—Deputy Sheriff Glass was busily engaged to-day selecting petit jurors for the Fall Assizes which open here on September 8.

—Wm. Downey, whose canine was allowed to roam unmuzzled, did not appear at the Police Court this morning, so the case was allowed to stand over.

—Patrick Wallace, William Constable, Daniel Woodward, George Wilson, Jacob Wavasky were the drunks at this morning's court. They were all discharged.

—The distillers have raised the price of alcohol 20 per cent. The wholesale druggists, including the London Drug Company and J. A. Kennedy & Co., of this city are likely to fight the combine.

—Rev. H. C. Speller, of London, preached two able sermons in the Center Street Baptist Church. The congregations were unusually large, cansidering the hot weather.—[St. Thomas Times.

—Mr. Hellmuth, of London, paid the prisoner Birchall a visit at the jail Sunday. Birchall's friends in England continue to keep him well posted on sporting events, a budget of sporting papers arriviug by every mail.—[Woodstock Standard.

—Governor Kelly, of the county jail, has the most flourishing crop of gooseberries to be seen in a ten days' travel. In his garden are 200 bushes, every one being loaded with berries from three to four inches in circumference, while several nearly five are displayed as samples. The crop is a marvelous one.

—Messrs. R. B. Hungerford and J. S. Dewar, of this city, attended the meeting of the Masonic Board of General Purposes in Kingston yesterday. R. W. Bro. J. E. Harding, of Stratford, was elected vice-president, vice Judge McPherson, deceased.

—John Hamilton, a 10-year-old boy whose aunt, Mrs. Allison Peters, could do nothing with him besides having six children of her own to look after, was sent to Penetanguishene Reformatory for an indefinite term of from one to five years at this morning's Police Court.

—Mr. H. R. Clissold, of Chicago, editor of "The Confectioners' and Bakers' Helper," is spending a day or two with London friends on his way back from the Western Confectioners' Convention at Niagara. The convention spent two days at the Falls and wound up with a much-enjoyed trip by water to Toronto. The hustling "Helper," which champions the interests of the trade, was published daily in miniature form during the three days' continuance of the "candy pull." One of the latest additions to the Western Confectioners' Association is the London firm of D. S. Perrin & Co.

Paul Peel Arrives Home.

Mr. Paul Peel, son of Mr. John R. Peel, of this city, whose success in securing a gold medal at the great French Salon has made his name a household word to many Canadians, arrived home from Paris at noon to-day in response to a cablegram informing him of the serious illness of his mother at the family residence in this city. He left Paris almost immediately after being awarded the medal and has traveled to this city in hot haste, leaving his wife and family in Paris. He will remain in this city for two or three weeks and will then return to the home of his adoption in France. Mrs. J. R. Peel was sufficiently well to be allowed an interview with her son, but her condition is extremely critical. The visit of the artist to the city of his birth will, under the circumstances, be of a quiet character. Mr. Peel has brought with him the medal which he obtained at the Paris Salon.

Still Sick.

LONDON, July 15.—Mr. Stanley continues ill. Dr. Parke says he is very weak. The Queen has sent a message by telegraph making inquiry as to his health.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 15.—Walter W. Harris, of Buffalo, and Wm. Collapy, of Hinsdale, N. Y., engineer and fireman of a Western Shore freight train, were killed in a collision between their train and a Western New York and Philadelphia train at Genesee Valley Junction, four miles south of this city, this morning.

Mistook Orders.

CINCINNATI, July 15.—A passenger train from Columbus, O., and a construction train collided near Madisonville owing to a misunderstanding of orders. Conductor Cook, of the construction train, was severely hurt. Engineer Michaels, of the passenger train, jumped, but suffered a broken leg. Mail Agent M. F. Cather was painfully injured. Fireman Sullivan and Burns were slightly injured.

Disastrous Yachting Trip.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 15.—Saturday last the small yacht Marion, belonging to the Bayview Yacht Club, of South Boston, left Boston in charge of Capt. Vernon Locke, with E. C. W. Kimball, F. Goldsmith and Benj. Cobb, of Boston, for a two weeks' trip along the coast. About 9 o'clock Monday night the yacht struck a sunken ledge off Rye Beach. The captain ordered all hands into the tender, a mere cockleshell which capsized, throwing the men into the sea. All were drowned except Cobb who was picked up in an exhausted condition. Capt. Locke leaves a widow and several children in South Boston. The others are unmarried.

Jumped the Track.

ST. THOMAS, July 15.—On Saturday night about 11 o'clock the tender of a dead engine, drawn by a west-bound freight train, Conductor Edwards and Engineer McAndrews, jumped the track west of Tilsonburg, and near the crossing of the Brantford, Norfolk and Port Burwell branch of the G. T. R. The tender ran over the bridge there with wheels off the rails, but was prevented from striking the sleepers of the bridge by the guard rail, and none of the cars left the track. When the tender was taken hold of by the derrick, and being swung to the track, the derrick toppled over and rolled down the embankment. The engineer and other men on and around the derrick jumped and all escaped without any serious injury. Pete Bruce and Brakeman Hayden, of an eastbound train, were slightly hurt. Very little interruption occurred to traffic. Thomas Crowley, the engineer of the derrick, and Michael McKnight were amongst those slightly injured.

Save Your Carpets.

A sheet of sticky fly paper will do more damage to carpet and furniture than anything ever invented. No careful housewife would have one about. Wilson's Fly Poison Pads will clear the house of flies more quickly and surely than any other means. If placed near the light where the flies are thickest, Wilson's Pads will kill pints every day, and clear the house in short order. Sold by all druggists.

MY WEDDING DAY

"Mr. Smith," I said, "I am afraid the tea will spoil your coat."

"Dear me, dear me!" he said; "what shall I do. They will go in, and I cannot put the buckets down, and the tea will be spoilt. Dear me, what shall I do?"

"Shall I pin them up for you?" I asked.

"Thank you, thank you, Mrs. Ruston, if you would," he answered gratefully.

I managed to set my bucket down and steady it with my foot while I pinned the tails of his coat together behind, so that it looked like a demented swallow tail.

"Thank you, thank you, very much, indeed," was all he said just then; but when he got to a place where we could set our loads down and rest, he observed as he gazed at his muddy legs; "Really, Mrs. Rushton, I am afraid this kind of work is detrimental to my cloth."

At last we reached the top, and found the men hard at work. The fire had come upon them before the had expected. Where a track was already burnt they easily stopped it; but just here they were having a hard fight. So much we learned from one and another as they stopped to swallow a pannikin of tea and then rush back to their work again. How hot they looked; hot and tired, with faces scorched and grimy, and eyes red with a stinging smoke. I had seen thirst before, though not quite so bad as this. Mr. Smith had not, I think, and his face grew very grave as he watched them.

"Well, parson," said one, as he drank the tea, in a husky voice and weak with exhaustion, "you are a Christian for this, if you never said a prayer."

The little clergyman looked distressed; he was a little shocked at first, I think; then I heard him murmur to himself: "A cup of cold water. I never knew what it meant till to-day."

We got down again, he insisted on making another trip at once. I could not help admiring him as he started up the hill again with a bucket in each hand, this time without his coat.

"Well," said Biddy, looking at him, "he has got some pluck in him in spite of his coat."

"He's a brick," said the children, and I quite agreed with them.

The fire was stopped on the hill behind the house, and the men had gone along the ridge to stop it further on. We had dismantled the neglected breakfast table and rearranged it with more regard for compactness than elegance, ready for the men's supper; and at last the long hot day was nearly over. Having nothing particular to do, I went and sat under the back veranda to rest. Mrs. Jones did likewise, and leaning her elbows on her knees and her chin on her hands gazed silently upward to the smoke that told her of the fight still going on. Mrs. Brown seized a broom and proceeded to sweep up the leaves scattered about by our discarded decorations, talking meanwhile about other bush fires she had seen. Now that the fight was no longer in sight, the sense of excitement and conflict we had felt all day in some degree abated. Peaceful home sound—the crying of a calf, the musical sound of milking from the barnyard close by, and the cheerful tinkling of teaspoons in the kitchen—contrasted strangely with the lurid glare of the smoky sunlight and the distant roaring of the flames. In a gum tree close by were a crowd of magpies that had flown screaming away from the fire, and were watching it intently, now and then bursting into a flood of angry song; while once or twice a flock of paroquets whizzed shrieking overhead.

I paid little attention to Mrs. Brown's conversation, but fell to thinking—of Jack, of course—till Biddy came across to the dairy with the buckets of milk, and Mrs. Green came out and called the children into tea. They came scampering in, discussing the day's events with a vivacity which put day dreaming out of the question for the time being.

During tea the talk was still bush fires; no one ever talks of anything else while one is burning. Afterwards, when Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Jones had departed to their respective homes—cottages a little distance off—and Mrs. Green and Biddy were preparing for the men, whom they expected soon, I sat on the veranda and tried to talk the children into a calm state of mind before bedtime. It had been a wildly exciting day for them, and a continual feast as well; for they had made raids on the kitchen every now and then, carrying off their booty to be devoured in some place in view of the fire. They implored me not to speak of bed at first; but in spite of themselves they got drowsy as they calmed down, and were soon ready to say "good-night."

When they had gone I lost myself in my own thoughts again. How long I sat there dreaming I do not know. The sun had set; the short twilight was over, and the smouldering logs shone out like large stars from the blackened hillside above, when I noticed a strong light to my left. Going to the end of the house, I saw a line of fire coming toward us along the flat. A smouldering log must have rolled down from above and lighted the grass. "Fire, fire! just here!" I shouted.

"Mr. Green and Biddy rushed out and took in the situation at a glance. Biddy just threw back her head, put her hands to her mouth and "coo-eed" loud and long.

"Get a can and wet the grass at the end of the house, Mary," Mrs. Green called to me as she ran round the house shutting the windows to keep the sparks out.

"Biddy," she continued, "throw water on the roof; it's dry as tinder.

Biddy gave one more long "coo-ee," and seizing a bucket, fell to work, while Mrs. Green disappeared into the house, returning with the children, blinking and bewildered. Rolling them in blankets, she deposited them in the bed of a dried up creek near the house. Meanwhile I had been running backward and forward with two large watering cans from the tubs we had used in morning, trying to soak a strip of grass to check the fire in its advance on the house. My task was only half finished, however, when the fire came up. I caught up a branch and called to the others for help. We beat and beat with all our might, but the wind was high and the grass long and it seemed as if we could not keep it back. The heat was intense and the smoke choked and blinded us, but we kept on, till I felt as if each blow would be the last, and dimly wondered what would happen when I gave in, as I must do anon.

I do not know how long we worked; it seemed hours, but I suppose it was not many minutes. All at once we heard men's voices and running feet, and a dozen strong arms were beating beside us. It was a sharp tussel, but they got it under, and were just congratulating themselves on arriving in the nick of time, when a voice—Jack's voice—was heard calling for help, and they saw that the fire, though turned away from the house, was making straight for the woodshed, which stood on a slight rise a little beyond. Jack was fighting it single-handed. It seemed to be getting the better of him; then, while I looked, I saw him fall, and the fire rushed onward. And then I suppose I fainted, for I remembered nothing more till I felt myself slowly coming back to life in my own little room. At first I was only conscious of a deathly sick feeling, then I remembered that something had happened, something dreadful. What was it? Ah! Jack. I believe I called his name aloud; and then—could it be true—I heard his dear voice answering me, and felt his strong arms and his kisses on my face. It was no dream, but Jack himself. I hid my face on his shoulder and sobbed. I had a dim remembrance of hearing someone say: "She'll do now;" then the door was shut, and we were alone. I had my arms round his neck, and clung closely to him, unwilling to lose my hold even to look up at his face.

"Hush, Mary," he said—"hush my darling, I am here, safe and sound. Look up, dear, and see for yourself."

At last I did look up. Could that be Jack? It looked more like a badly blacked Christy minstrel "Why, Jack," I cried, "you're as black as a——, and I paused for want of a simile.

"A kettle," he suggested. "Come, little woman, don't call names. I fancy there's a pair of us," he added, looking laughingly at me.

Of course I sat up at once and looked toward the glass to see what was the matter, and this is what I saw—Jack kneeling by the side of the couch, looking like a sadly disheveled sweep, for one of his shirt sleves was burnt off to his shoulder, and he was more or less burnt all over, his eyes were red, and his teeth, displayed just now by a broad grin, shone like a negro's from beneath the singed and stubby ends of what had once been his mustache. As for me, my light cotton dress was ornamented by sundry prints of a human hand in black, while round my waist was a broad band of the same hue. My left cheek was one dark smear; on the other, as well as my forehead and lips, were numerous rough but unmistakable impressions of Jack's mustache.

It was no use being sentimental under the circumstances, so I laughed instead, to Jack's relief for he had a man's hatred of scenes.

"How did you escape?" I asked, "I thought I saw the fire go over you."

"Why, so it did," he answered. "When I found I could not stop it, I lay down and let it go over me."

"Oh, Jack, you must have been hurt."

"Well, I found it rather warm, certainly, and I am afraid my clothes have suffered. There, there, little wife, don't cry like that." The thought of his danger had been too much for me. "I am quite safe, thank God. I don't think I am seriously damaged, though my complexion is a little spoiled for the present."

He stayed talking a little while, and then had to rush back to his task. They had just managed to save the woolshed, but a good deal of fencing had gone. The worst of the fire was over, but it needed watching.

Next morning a rather dilapidated but very happy bride and bridegroom started on their homeward way, after saying good-bye to a still more dilapidated parson, and being honored with three very husky cheers from all hands.

THE END.

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION.

A Judicious Compound of Wit and Wisdom.

A curious fashion has come into vogue in Paris. In all the cemeteries metal boxes with a slit in the lid are placed on the tombstones to receive the cards of visitors. The relatives of the deceased are thus enabled to see who among the living still cherish the memory of their departed friends.

Cold, cough, coffin is what philosophers term "a logical sequence." One is very liable to follow the other; but by curing the cold with a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, the cough will be stopped and the coffin not needed—just at present.

"If our subscribers think anything of us," writes a Georgia editor, "they will begin to haul in our winter's wood while the roads are good."

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

One feat of salesmanship which is always effective with a woman looking for shoes, is the calling of her attention to the fact that she has been wearing a size or half size too large.

Why will you allow a cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This Syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for relieving, healing and curing all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

Advertise your "House to Let" or "House Wanted," and replies will come in and you will get what you want.

—Miss Sadie and Master Frank Murphy have gone on a trip to Duluth.

—Misses Maggie and Mary Brown are visiting Miss Ingram, of this city.

—The Ontario Dental Society met at Toronto to-day. Mr. Geo. C. Davis is the retiring president.

—Mrs. Rooks, of north Wellington street, and two sons, have gone on a holiday trip to Eau Claire, Wis.

—The Merchants' Tea Company on Dundas street, which has been run on the "prize basis," has suspended operations.

—Capt. Foster is preparing a petition to be presented to the City Council, asking permission to run his steamboats to Woodland Cemetery on Sunday.

—Rev. J. S. and Mrs. Ross, of Centenary Church, Hamilton, formerly of London, left to-day for the old country. They will be away until about the end of September.

—Alderman and Mrs. Skinner returned on Friday from a two-weeks' tour through New York State, including Toronto and Niagara Falls on the return trip. Ald. Skinner reports having had a splendid time.

—The dog-catchers made three unsuccessful attempts to entrap a wary black canine on Dundas street about 8:30 this morning. A large crowd gathered around and it was evident that their sympathies were with the animal to judge by the laughter which greeted the futile efforts of the dog-netters.

—Ten carloads of happy excursionists went to Port Stanley this morning on the occasion of the annual Sunday school picnics of the King Street Methodists, London West Methodists and Colborne Street Methodists. The sultry weather made a trip to the popular resort all the more agreeable. To-morrow the Memorial, All Saints', Congregational and St. Matthew's Churches will go to the Port.

Charged with Forgery.

Detective B. B. Allen left this city last night on an important mission—to attempt to overtake John Walker, an ex-agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, who is wanted for forgery. Walker is alleged to have raised the face of a note belonging to the company from $50 to $150, cashing it for the latter amount. He was employed for some time at Clandeboye as agent of the company. Last night he started from Lucan for Montreal and word being received in this city, B. B. Allen started in pursuit with a warrant issued by Squire Smyth. He expected to overtake his man at Toronto, but up to this afternoon had not arrived.

A Disreputable Practice.

For some time past a number of lads have been making themselves generally disagreeable at and about the vicinity of Christ Church and the Wellington Street Methodist Church. They indulge in the practice of lining the walk and making insolent remarks to persons entering their place of worship. During the hours of service they interfere with the conveyances in the horse-sheds and on Sunday some gardens in the vicinity were raided during the evening service. A petition will be circulated and presented to the Chief of Police asking for an officer in that section during hours of worship. In the meantime parents should warn their boys lest some whose names are known be placed under arrest.

South London Methodists.

Last night's "At-Home," in the Askin Street Methodist Church parlors, was eminently successful. It was under the management of the Ladies' Aid Society and Epworth League, in connection with the church, and its object was to enable Rev. C. E. McIntyre, the new pastor, to become acquainted with the members of his flock. Rev. Thomas Cosford, the veteran of 51 years' service in the ministry, took the chair, and introduced the speakers of the evening. Rev. E. B. Lanceley, Colborne Street Church, gave a practical address. He was followed by Mr. McIntyre, who had a most cordial welcome. He expressed his satisfaction at seeing so large a congregation, and added that, though a comparative stranger as yet, he had little doubt that they would get along happily together, as his predecessor had told him that the Askin street congregation were a kind and considerate people. Rev. G. W. Henderson, of Wellington Street Church, also spoke on the relation of pastor and people. The choir contributed two selected pieces to the evening's enjoyment, and Mr. Doggerel gave a solo which was highly appreciated. It is needless to say that the seasonable refreshments were voted excellent. Mr. McIntyre and his family have had a most auspicious settlement.

Knights of Labor.

The Monday afternoon session of the Executive Board of District 138, K. of L., was called to order by District Master Workman Jos. Marks. Sister Mrs. S. Webb, of Stratford, was appointed secretary pro tem. The propositions submitted at the morning session where taken up and discussed. It was determined to make an earnest effort to have the secret work of the order studied and worked perfectly in all the locals; to take steps to put the journal of the Knights of Labor into the hands of every member, and the District Master Workman empowered to prepare a circular to be distributed throughout the jurisdiction, urging upon workingmen the duty and importance of organization. It was resolved that the day for sentimentality was past; that the social question was the greatest question of the hour, and the working classes were now looking for every friend of humanity to take a part in pushing on the great work of reform; therefore it was deemed advisable to take steps to interview the clergymen in this district, and ask them to give lectures on social questions to the workingmen, and the Secretary was instructed to take steps to bring the views of this body before them. It was resolved to push on the Sunday afternoon meetings with renewed vigor, as the results had been most encouraging, clergymen and others taking an active part in them and nothing was advocated but what every intelligent man would heartily indorse. It was determined to issue three pamphlets every fortnight on the social question. Arrangements were made for a constant exchange of speakers in all parts of the district in the coming fall campaign. The discussion of women's organization was long and enthusiastic. Mrs. S. Webb, Stratford, was elected by a unanimous vote as investigator and directress of women's work in the district and empowered to take immediate steps to organize the female labor of the jurisdiction. Bro. McKay, of Woodstock, stated he was confident a local of females could be instituted in that place. Harmony Assembly, which lapsed in London two years ago, is to be revived at once, and the probabilities are that in less than six months female labor will be organized at several other points. It was determined to take immediate steps towards the formation of a Provincial assembly, and the Master Workman was instructed to open correspondence with District 125, Toronto, to secure their co-operation in the matter. Bro. McKay, of Woodstock, made a telling speech, in which he showed the great power the order was now wielding in all parts of the world. Sister Webb said she was determined to make a strong canvass in Stratford, and if the men did not wake up the women would outstrip them. She was determined to fill their hall with lady knights, and she thought the brethren should give great attention to this part of the work. Other delegates followed in the same strain and the enthusiasm was great. A very satisfactory and profitable meeting was brought to a close with a ringing speech by the Master Workman. The delegates, he hoped, would urge their locals to go to work. They had laid the plans for the winter's work; time had been taken by the forelock. It now only remains for every man to do his duty, make every preparation, and on the 1st of October would be inaugurated the greatest revival of labor ever witnessed in Ontario. In spite of the hot weather the membership had increased, an empty treasury at the last meeting now held ample funds, no debt hung over them, their hands were free and with a clear record and hopeful hearts and earnest determination they felt confidence in the future, and were resolved to fling out to the breeze the glorious standard of the Kinghts of Labor, and closing up their ranks to march to a splendid victory. Most of the delegates left for home in the evening, well pleased with the work of the session. The next meeting will be held in January, 1891.

A Sure Remedy for Neuralgia.

Neuralgia is one of the most common and painful affections incidental to this climate. Life to thousands is made miserable through its agency, and as it affects the nerves, only the most powerful and penetrating remedies can reach it. Nerviline has created wonder in the minds of those who have uselessly tried other remedies, since its action seems magical. To all suffering from any kind of nerve pain, internal or external we request a trial of Nerviline. Sold by all dealers in medicine, 10 and 25 cents a bottle.

An Enviable Reputation.

Gentlemen desirous of obtaining the best possible value for their money in cigars should smoke the "Highland Lassie" 5-cent cigar, manufactured by H. McKay & Co., of London. This cigar has been subjected to the most complete tests by the great majority of the smokers of the Dominion, and all of them pronounce it one of the best articles in the Canadian market. Messrs. H. McKay & Co. take a special pride in its manufacture and are particular that none but the choicest specimens of fillers and wrappers enter into its composition. The "Highland Lassie's" reputation is of sufficient repute to satisfy the most skeptical of its worth.
