Borden Government Interference in Saskatchewan Election Comes In For Slashing Attack By Hon. Mr. Turgeon, Who Exposes Right-About-Face of Conservative Leader.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Nokomis, Sask., June 26.—"Intimidation and coercion" were terms applied to the actions of the two ministers of the Borden cabinet who are at present in this province, fighting the battles of Haultain, by Hon. A. Turgeon, in a fighting address before an audience which packed the Northern Crown Bank Hall tonight. Mr. Turgeon attacked vigorously what he termed "open federal interference" on one hand and "complacent self-effacement" on the part of Haultain.

"The present election is epoch-making in the history of Canadian politics," said Mr. Turgeon. "Never before did a Federal Government interfere so openly and aggressively in a provincial contest. Never before did a provincial political party consent so complacently to the attempted coercion and intimidation of its own province."

The Conservative campaign was opened at a banquet at Regina by Mr. Rogers and Dr. Roche, two federal ministers from Manitoba. Mr. Rogers conveyed to the aggrieved farmers of Saskatchewan the cheerful message that all hope of obtaining access for their produce to the United States market was dead, and Mr. Haultain and his lieutenant cheered enthusiastically, though the gentlemen one year ago voted for and spoke in favor of reciprocity. Mr. Haultain, the admired leader of the Conservative party in Saskatchewan, has become the willing victim of his own effacement, and has allowed the real leadership of the Conservative campaign to be handed over to the Minister of the Interior.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, June 27 .- Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, former president of the defunct-Farmers' Bank, made his long-expected after organization, owing to the court irregularities.

In answer to questions as to his familiarity with the bank's affairs previous to organization, Dr. Nesbitt de-clared that he had no knowledge that any part of the $250,000 deposited with the Government to secure the charter had been borrowed from an institution with which Hon. A TILT OVER THE BIBLE

P. M. Judd Showed That Mr. W. R Meredith Was Mixed in Regard to Certain Event.

An echo of the Polack celebration of two weeks ago in which fifteen men were arrested by the police in a house at 5541/2 Ottaway avenue, was heard before Police Magistrate Judd this morning, when Peter Gooska, the land-lord, was charged with selling liquor without a license.

The P. M. however, accepted his explanation that he and his friends were merely celebrating the chirstening of his week-old baby, and dismissed the Crown Attorney McKillop declined to press strenuously for a conviction on a technical charge Mr. W. R. Meredith acted for the defence.

It was shown that Gooska had purchased ten gallons of whiskey and a quarter keg of lager on Saturday, and the greater portion of this was con sumed on Sunday in the christening celebration. The crown attorney saw that this was a fairl satisfactory ex-planation for the Sun ay in question, but with mock seriousness asked the witness if he had had another christening the week before as attention had then been attracted to the place. Gooska, however, replied that that was the occasion of the jubilation over the birth of the infant.

A Jar of Whiskey.

"When did you last have a big stone Jar of whiskey like that?" he asked, and was told that the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Gooska was the occasion.

Bryan, Clark, Wilson, Kern, Gaynor All

Likely To Be Put Forward, Baltimore Hall, June 27 .- The Democratic national convention was called o order at 12:40. A lively controversy arose as Theodore Bell, of California, championed the Clark delegates in the South Dakota case, delegates challenging his state-ments from the floor while shouts for

Wilson gradually brought on a tumultuous demonstration. Great waves of cheering swept the hall as the demonstration increased to a storm. Banners were borne through the aisles, delegates standing on chairs and madly waving hats, umbrellas and flags New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Texas swung Wilson banners: a Clark transparency gained the point of van-tage immediately in front of the place form. Underwood streamers were fur-ther back, and Massachusetts unfurled

Foss banner half across the hall. The uproar was in full swing after twenty minutes, delegations parading with banners, floor and galleries yelling madly in a confused din for Wilson, Clark, Underwood, while frequent flashlight explosions punctuated the bedlam of sound.

Expect Exciting Ttime.

Baltimore, June 27.—The delegates the Democratic national convention filed into the convention hall singly and in groups today, prepared for a long and excited session.

It was expected to be the day of the climax, the end of the long campaign waged by the presidential aspirants.

And as they came into the hall, these delegates approach to the session. delegates apparently were as much a sea as ever as to who would be the nominee. The various boomers of candidates were ready to start demonstra-tions and counter demonstrations, and it seemed certain hat the delays would be such as to throw the actual balloting late into the evening.

All sorts of rumors were afloat as to deals and combinations during the forenoon, but none of these seemed to have a trustworthy foundation. The supporters of Woodrow Wilson, heart-ened by the so-called "Wilson-Bryan" victory last night in the fight for the abrogation of the unit system, were claiming that the New Jersey governor would sweep the convention today, and secure the nomination. They expressed the hope that Mr. Bryan might be induced to come out squarely for Mr. Wilson, and felt that if this might be brought about, ultimate victory was

There was renewed talk of Bryan himself as the nominee today, some of the so-called conservatives being quoted as saying that so long as the progressive seemed evitable, it might be just as well to have Mr. Bryan lead the fight for a fourth time. Some of Mr. Bryan's friends indicated that the Nebraskan apparently was content with the position he now occupied in the convention, the right to name the ca idate

Clark Sees Victory.

Supporters of Champ Clark were claiming the nomination with as much outward confidence as ever as they gathered for the day's session.
"There has been and will be no defection from the Clar kstrength," read a statement put out from the Speaker's headquatrers.
"Dark horse" talk died away a little today, and while many candidates were mentioned, there appeared to be a consensus of opinion that the fight lay among the supporters of Wilson, Clark and Bryan, Mr. Bryan had not committed himself on the question of the presidency in any way up to the time the convention met.

poesy, both of flowers and weeds. Those are foolish prophets who would cry to us that poetry is dead or dy-

Little, certainly, but the name Canada seems to be known to Mr. John F. Waddington, of whose threestanza Ode to Canada, published in

If Mr. Waddington came to Canada he would be in knee-breeches and ear-laps. On Montreal wharf, gun in hand, he would look about for an Indian guide and strike an attitude for stalking game. He read about Canada when he was a boy, in the old buffalo stories. He has since seen a "Wild West Show," and marvelled over posters advertising Saskatchewan or Peace River. With his mind's eye he does not see this country steadily not see it whole. "A fairy-land, a prairie land" he calls it in an earlier verse. He conceives vaguely a fringe of mountain and lake, but essentially Canada is the prairie, inhabited by a few "strong husbandmen," born of the soil they "delve," fine aboriginal fellows and by fairies, shall we add? Perhaps the Canadian girls are deliindicated, though the poem otherwise makes no mention of them, in that sweet word "fairy-land." Mr. Waddington loves Canada as a fine bit of fresh earth for young men to settle on. And yet he seems to draw an invidious contrast between the sons of this earth and the immigrants who are coming "from afar" to "conquer" it. At least it almost looks as though these newcomers are some of them the "meddlers," bold Maritime League. The great majority burrowers after metal or oil, or Italian of the members of the League objectpick-axe and dynamite men perhaps. Mr. Waddington has the ancient pastotal distaste for mining as an innovation of the iron age, unknown in the Arcadian age of gold. Canadians will feel a start of surprise at being told that there are no cities here. They may not all enjoy being styled "uncouth," and perhaps to a scarecrow representing Satan, with It will be hard to keep back a blush at the compliment in the last line apparently given to wash that bitter epithet down. Is nobody, after gold in this fair land? Mr. Waddington hasn't caught the local color, but how can even a poet expect to catch it by looking at Canada through a monocle from the other side of the Atlantic? THE FOOD PROBLEM IN THE UNITED STATES. The crop statistics of the United States gathered by the census enumerators in 1910 have just been pubon the production of the previous year, 1909, show the enormous increase of value of the leading crops, as compared with 1899, but the increase in the quantity of the yield is relatively much smaller. The quantities of some and 1899, in bushels, were as fol-

(tons) 97,453,000 The ominous fact stands out that the increase in production (the decrease in corn was due to a bad season in 1909), has not kept pace with the increase in population. The increase of wheat production in the decade was only 3.8 per cent. In oats it heard one word of implied reproach from was only 6.8 per cent. Demand has grown faster than supply, hence the higher values. The average price of wheat in 1899 was 56 cents a bushel; in 1909 it was 96 cents. Corn advanced from 31 to 56 cents; oats from itself. Go to sleep. 23 to 41 cents. It will surprise many

20,421,000 No wonder the consumers of the United States, pinched by higher prices and threatened by a continual advance in the cost of living, so long as they depend upon the lagging agriculture of their own country, are looking for fresh sources of supply. Wheat-growing is dying out in the East; in New England only 115,000 bushels were grown in 1909. More and more the populous Eastern States are drawing upon the far west for food. What a market for the Eastern Canadian farmer at his door! What a piece of folly in refusing it!

HATS OFF TO THE LADIES. The financial result of the play grounds canvass is not yet known, but t will be sufficient at least to give the system a fair start. When the value

Some o London's charitable institutions, which in large measure dependent private support, would be closed an English journal, the final stanza up if it were not for the unselfish labors of women. How many men would volunteer for a house-to-house canvass for any cause, except an election? Canvassing for money is several degrees less pleasant than canvassing for votes. The average man would rather pay money than collect The average woman is ready to do both, when her sympathies are enlisted. Samuel G. Blythe told Press readers that the third commandment would be broken more often than the [Stratford Beacon.] Talk Ontario up. It is worth being talked of. It is one of the best lands that the sun shines on today. The West does not need booming from the newspapers Ontario is a good province to stay in and a good province for intending new settlers with a little money, intelligence and industry. MILLIONAIRES' MILLIONS.

[Hamilton Herald.] In his inaugural address as lord rector of Aberdeen University, Dr. Andrew Carnegle took advanced ground on several hard to see justice in the succession duties, by which a certain proportion of their fortunes is appropriated by the state after their death. They feel, many of them, that this tax is a legalized method of robbing their heirs. And their heirs feel the same way. Not so Dr. Carnegie. 'I have," said the well-known Scottish laird, "no objection whatever to one-half of the millionaire's hoard being taken by the state at his death."

The highest succession tax imposed in any civilized country falls far short of 50 per cent of the whole estate. One can imagine the scorn with which Sir James coming from a representative of labor. The congregation of St. Mark's Pottersburg, held a very successful garden partly last evening in the asylum grounds. An excellent repast was served by the members of the Ladies' Guild, after which a good programme was carried out under the chairmanship of the rector, Rev. E. A. Appleyard. Miss Angus rendered several planoforte solos, while Misses Straich, B. Clark, J. Clark, E. Clark, Mrs. Calun, Mrs. Moorehouse and members of the Excelsior Quartette were greatly appreciated. Little Miss Reta Will mott was very effective, and Mr. Clare, as usual helped considerably with his

An Indian Orator's Modern Diction

(By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

Readers of the brave Indian tales of Fennimore Cooper will receive quite shock if they happen to run across the annual report of the Ontario Historical Society for 1911. When this quiet volume reached me the other day, I looked at the pictures first, for the volume contains very fine photographs of my friend, David Williams, of Collingwood, president of the society at this time, and of other past presidents and officers. Then I browsed among the various summaries of speeches delivered at the annual meet of the society at Brantford a year ago. terward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit My interest was not violently aroused until I came to the place where Chief David John, after receiving the members of the society in the council, laid the wampum belt on the table. The meeting, having been only opened, another chief, known to the paleface as John W. turn to the Bible demonstrates that M. Elliott, to his fellow-tribesmen as vital stream fills the arteries of the body Deyenhehken, which, being translated, means Double Life, took the floor, and proceeded to welcome the Historical Society in an oration.

Indian orations have always had ar rresistible charm for me since my early youth, when I revelled in the pages of Cooper, Ellis and Ballantyne. But it does seem as if the good, old-fashioned kind of Indian eloquence is extinct. Do of Ontario. They have newspapers of their own new capable of floing it. or poetical Red Cloud, drawing his blanket around him and shaking his top-knot of eagle feathers, strode gravely into the centre of the lodge and commenced his impromptu speech with graceful compliments to the great father over the sea, before proceeding to voice the redman's wrongs? But Chief Double Life, of Brantford, brought his speech in his pocket; it was carefully written questions, notably on the question of probably type-written, and his language taxation. Most multi-millionaires find it was that of a Brantford manufacturer remarks to the historians, "that we can place you in the category of true friends," This was pretty fine for a start: many college graduate dees not know the neaning of "category." Proceeding, he tion Indians and observed sententiously "that in this modern epoch it may be pardonable on our pert to readvert to some of the achievements of the Six Na-Whitney would receive any such proposal, tions in the past history of the North American Continent."

The diction here is good, but it hath a strange sound in an Indian oration. The only part of this speech to remind me of the eloquent passages in the orations of Double Life's forefathers is his recital of grievances. No Indian speech would be worthy of the noble redman a all, unless it recited in burning language what he has suffered from the government of the whites. So here in conventional language the chief reminds his done for Great Britain, and now they writhe under the disgrace of being placed in "the category of minors." Says the chief, "We are surprised today to find the Canadian Government by intrusion trampling upon our rights and privileges to such an extent that the Indian is reduced to a condition so near approaching slavery that the line of demarcation is hard to define." In his peroration Double Life called the members of the Historical Society his brothers, and, after referring to their "friendly confab," he wound up in this surprising burst of rhetoric, "In conclusion, God bless the Rose of England, the Thistle of Scotland, the Shamrock of old Ireland, and the Maple Leaf of Canada forever." When as their deadly enemy, and gives the we find words like "demarcation", "category" and "confab" in an Indian oration council, composed of Messrs. J. N. A Sunday Dress. Dear Miss Grey: 1. Would you kindy suggest something that would be nice to make a Sunday dress for a girl of 15, not very tall for her age? 2. Some nice way to have it made? 3. We are bothered with the large black ants. Could you suggest some way to get rid of them? 4. Does coaloil, olive oil and rose water make the hair oily? 5. How often should it be treated with this, and how often should I wash my hair after using it? Hoping I have not bothered you too much.

SCOTCH LASSIE.

A.—1. Embroidered batiste, mar quisette, cotton voile or foulard are all admirable materials for girlish frocks. 2. Regarding the making, I really think you would gain a better idea of popular designs from five min-utes' study of an illustrated fashion sheet than from half a column of talk by me. There are many pretty styles you can choose from. 3. It is stated that to place a saucer containing boiling water in which some carbolic acid has been dropped will drive them away. 4 and 5—The mixture is new to me, but I should fancy it will make the hair oily, if used frequently with-out washing the scalp. Supposing you use the formula three nights a week and wash the hair twice a week while continuing the treatment.

Hair Won't Curl.

Dear Miss Grey: Being an interested reader of your column I should like to ask you a couple of questions. 1. Do you know of anything I could put on my hair to keep it curly in damp weather? Of course it is not naturaly so or it wouldn't come out. 2. How to make a pale blue marquisette dress for a girl of about 17 years, and what to put under it? Please answer as soon as possible.

BLUE EYES. soon as possible. BLUE EYES.

A.-1. Some folks say to wet the hair with a little cologne water will help to keep it in curl, but if your hair is not naturally curly, I fear nothing will avail. 2. Would suggest making it in the skeleton or jumper style with trimmings of cream lace, the "V" and short sleeves being made of cream net. The skirt should be slightly gathered, made with a deep hem and a row of the lace set just above it. Use a soft crush girdle of the marquisette.

Line a glass dish with slices of sponge-cake (or lady fingers) dipped in sweet cream; lay upon this ripe strawberries sweet-ened with powdered sugar; then a layer of cake and strawberries as before. When the custard is cold, pour over the whole. Now beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, add a tablespoonful sugar to each egg, and put over the top. Decorate with the largest berries saved for that purpose.

Country Strawberry Tart. Stew a quart of ripe strawberries and then sweeten them. Cut slices of brown bread and butter and lay them in bottom and around the sides of a large bowl or deep baking dish. Pour in the strawberries boiling hot, cover the dish. and bake for thirty minutes. This is to be served hot and eaten with cream. Velvet Cream Strawberries.

Dissolve half an ounce of gelatine in a gill of water, add to it half a pint of fruit juice, grated lemon peel and the juice of one lemon and five ounces of sugar. Stir over the fire until the sugar is thoroughly dissolved; then strain and cool. Before it sets, beat into it a pint Strawberry Frappe.

Squeeze enough fruit in a jelly bag to make a pint of juice, add a pint each of sugar and boiling water. Pour the whole boiling hot on to three whites of eggs beaten to a stiff froth, and whip the mixture thoroughly. When cool, freeze in the usual manner. Strawberry Cream Pie.

After picking over the berries carefully arrange them in layers in a deep pie plate, sprinkling sugar thickly between each layer, having first lined the dish with your best pastry. Peterboro, Ont., June 26.—The London three Peterboro pitchers this afternoon, control, and after filling the bases gave way to "Lefty" MacDonald. The southpaw was battered unmercifully by his Glints From Papers on Canadian League Circuit.

HAMILTON PAPERS PLEASE COPY.

Ottawa Citizen: Frank Bowerman proved himself anything but the un-gentlemanly player which Hamilton, Brantford and Guelph players had gentlemanly player which Hamilton, Brantford and Guelph players had credited him with being. The former Giant did not lose his smile from the beginning to the end. He caught a grand game, and his throwing to bases was one of the features of the match. Bowerman is independently wealthy, and is simply playing with London to oblige old friends. He was the first to congratulate Manager Cook at the commencement of the game. And this is the "rowdy" some of those one-horse town writers would have bounced from the Canadian League. Bowerman will be a big favorite in Ottawa.

SENATORS LOOKING AHEAD.

Ottawa Citizen: There is no longer any doubt about the success of the Canadian Baseball League venture in Ottawa. The capital has been giving the Ottawa club phenomenal support. Yesterday's crowd was away in excess of expectations, causing Bowerman and others, who had played in the big leagues, to sit up and take notice. At this rate Ottawa will soon own a franchise in the International. chise in the International WHAT'S WRONG, LOOEY?

Ottawa Citizen: Looey Bierbauer, the champion batsman of the Canadian League, didn't star in yesterday's game. None of the big fellows could do so, in fact, in the face of McManus' sterling work.

CONGRATULATED EACH OTHER. Ottawa Journal: At that this London team look good—as good as any that we have seen—but their pitcher was away off. To Twirler Reitzman may be laid the blame for the downfall of the Cockneys. In the third inning he was anything but good, and, if possible, in the fourth he was worse. Bowerman evidently determined to make him stay in and take his defeat like a little man, and he stayed, despite the cries of the fans to have him removed forthwith Mr Reitzman and Mr Renfer were observed to silently shake forthwith. Mr. Reitzman and Mr. Renfer were observed to silently shake hands after the contest.

HE WENT AWAY WITHOUT SAYING A WORD. Ottawa Free Press: No one knew it, but a Cleveland American League scout spent the last four days of last week in Ottawa. He was looking over Fryer, Guelph's left fielder, and Fred Herbert. He had a chance to see both men at their best. Herbert impressed him particularly during the seven innings he worked Saturday

A HARD CRACK AT KNOTTY. Hamilton Herald: Knotty Lee threatens to break up the Canadian League if Cancella is allowed to umpire any more games. Of course if he made the threat it was during the time when he was highly peeved, but there never was a great deal of love existing between the peanut vendor and the Hamilton manager. It will be remembered that during a game here last season, Cancella and Lee had a wordy war in which many words not found in the ritual of the loyal order of thugs were used. In fact, the cross-fire between the Italian and the manager was hotter than the place Lee requested the umps to go to. Cancella, like every other umpire, is doing the best he can and no matter if his decisions should be wrong in Lee's opinion, there is no reason why he should make such hot-headed remarks and make a burlesque out of the game by being ordered off the grounds. It is a manager's duty to stick up for rights, but there are other ways of treating an umpire than trying to buildoze him. Lee's talk of breaking up the league is merely a joke, for no wise old owl is going to leave a nicely feathered nest.

QUESTIONING BOBBY'S PERCENTAGES.

Brantford Expositor: Let us see. London was going to bust up the league, because the owners of the club were fined. Somehow they thought better of the Rut now the great Knotty Lee of Hamilton is going to break up the it. But now, the great Knotty Lee, of Hamilton, is going to break up the league unless Cancella loses his job. Megalomania is catching. It is good to have a bunch of straight ball players. The fielding percentage is published today-has Secretary Robinson made up a hot-air percentage?

Leafs Outhit Them, But Could Not Get Runs Across—Other Games in International.

Providence, R. I., June 26.—The Leafs wound up the series with the Grays this afternoon by splitting even in a double-header featured by some terrific clubbing. Putting the ash to the sphere for a total of 13 safe drives, the invaders toek down the decision in the opener by a score of 12 to 6, a brilliant batting rally in the eighth, in which Lafitte was driven to the stable, being the feature. Although the Leafs came back and smote the pill squarely on the snout, amassing 15 safetles, the second game was tacked on the Providence ledger as a result of a streak of clouting in the eighth that netted five runs and a victory, with the count 9 to 7.

Frank Bowerman's Tribute to Ottawa Baseball Fans

Ottawa Free Press: "I want to take off my hat to the finest baseball public in the Canadian League, and one of the best I have ever played before," said Manager Frank Bowerman yesterday. "When bases were full with no one down in the second inning and we retired the side without a run, the fans gave us a great and we retired the side without a ran, the rains gave hand, and I tell you we appreciated it. It made us feel we were playing before a sport-loving population rather than a biased one-sided crowd that can only see their own club.

Your grounds are just as good as any in the minor leagues, and in point of picturesqueness, have it on them all. I like to play baseball, not for what's in it, but because I love the game and know it is the best and cleanest of all sports. But it becomes a downright pleasure to get out there and play before the class of people you had in your stands yesterday. SHEA TROPHY.

The first day of the Thistie Bowling Chib's Scotch doubles tournament provided some interesting games and atvided some interesting games and attracted a large crowd. The tournament was opened at 1:30 o'clock, President A. A. Langford welcoming the bowlers to the city and declaring the tournament was accounted in Willgoose ney open. Many surprises occurred in the preliminary and first rounds of the Monarch trophy. One of the most notable victories of the afternoon was that of Fetterley and Kelly, of the Thistles, over the winners of last Lind Long year, Tillmann and MacDougall, of Tillmann and MacDou year, Tillmann and MacDougall, of the London Rowing Club. The Kelly Club was down four shots, with two rink was down four shots, with two ends to go, and it looked like an easy victory for their opponents. However, on the second to last end, Kelly tried a short running shot, but missed the howl and carried the jook to within bowl, and carried the jack to within a few inches of the ditch, laying four and tieing the game. On the last end he scored one, and won out.

Another Surprise.

Another surprise occurred when Bawden and Laing, of Ridgetown, last year's winners of the association cup, were put out by Gillespie and Kennedy, of the Thistles, in the first round of the Monarch trophy, and lost to Till-mann and McDougall in the associawann and McDodgar.

Quite a record for games was established at yesterday's play, 49 being played during the afternoon and evening There are eight rinks left in the Monarch trophy, and the finals will likely be played off this afternoon. The bowlers are enjoying themselves im-mensely and some exciting matches are being pulled off. Today's play started at 9 o'clock this morning. Yesterday's results:

A Pitiful Sight When Mrs. Williams saw her son disappear beneath the waters, she screamed in terror. The space between the two boats was so narrow that if he floated any distance beneath the surface, he would come up under one of the boats and be drowned. London, June 26.-The Canadian Press was informed at a late hour tonight that no official action had been taken regarding the reported dismissal from the Olympic team of J. Howard, the negro runner. President Merrick, who was unware of the matter, will investigate today. Speaking of Howard's conduct, how ever, the coach said there had been trouble ever since the team left Montreal through "sheer disobedience to orders." Thorne released the hands of the wolling he loved and stood listening. Edith Varney took advantage of such a diversion to dart through the upper door, the nearer one, into the hall.

The Shot That Killed.

A glance through the window showed baptain Thorne that the yard beyond, which had been empty all evening, was now full of armed men. The Corporal had gone out through the hall door back of the house whence he had entered. There was no doubt but that the back windows would be equally well guarded. The house was surrounded, no escape was possible. He was trapped, virtually a prisoner, although for the time being, they had left him a certain liberty—the liberty of that one large room! It was quite evident to him that he was the object of their suspicions, and he more than feared that his real affiliations had been at last discovered.

Apparently, there would be no opportunity now in which he could carry out his part in the cunningly devised scheme of attack. "Plan 3" would inevitably result in failure, as so many previous plans had resulted, because he would not be able to send the orders that would weaken the position. The best he could hope for, in all probability, was the short shrift of a spy. He had staked his life on the game and it appeared that he had lost.

The coalition of the Bryan and Wilson forces in the first fight of the convention, however, led to talk of the Bryan strength ultimately going to Wilson to the day. When Summer Stops the Swing

Most of us can remember the school lesson in the law of accumulated motion-momentum.

If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing, you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip, you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing, the momentum will die out and the swing come to rest at "dead centre."

Winning trade follows the same natural laws.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally, the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point.

If you stop Advertising, you lose momentum.

The moral of which is:

Don't stop the business swing in Summer. Keep adding the pounds of Advertising pressure.

BERRY PRICES HIGHER

Next Tuesday Is Expected To Be the Big Day of the Strawberry Season in the City.

The feature of the market today was the offering for the first time this year of home-grown new potatoes. Ex-P. C. Taylor, of Delaware, sold a small quantity for 10 cents per quart. The strawberry prices today were slightly firmer than on Tuesday, and most of today's sales were made at 8½ cents per box, wholesale. Some sales were made, however, at prices from 7½ to 8 cents per box. Opinion varies as to whether the prices will be lower again this year or not. The buyers say that next Tuesday will be the big day of the season, provided that there is some rain in the meantime, and the sellers state that last Tuesday was the height of the season.

SEIZED WITH CRAMP AND LOST HIS LIFE

Norman Milligan Slipped Into a Hole in the Thames in North Branch.

IN 15 FEET OF WATER

Father of Latest Thames Victim Was in Camp at Goderich With the Seventh Regiment-Family at Springbank.

Norman Milligan, 14 years of age, eldest son of H. L. Milligan, cashler of the McClary Manufacturing Company, 865 Waterloo street, lost his life by drowning in the north branch of the River Thames, near Dexter's mill, yesterday afternoon shortly after two o'clock. The young lad, in company with Leonard Callahan, of 340 Gros-venor street, wheeled to the river shortly after dinner and went in for a swim Norman had undressed and had swam across to a section of the old dam which is just a few yards distant from the spot. He swam back again and had entered the water once more when he apparently stepped into a hole. He went under and came up crying for help. Only one other lad whose name could not be learned, was in the water at the time. He went to young Miltigan's assistance, and tried to grab his arm. The drowning lad clutched 1 00 at him and pulled him down once. In 1 00 coming to the top the hold was broken and young Milligan went down again. 1 00 In the meantime Leonard Callahan had reached for a stocking and made 2 00 an effort to throw it to Norman, but 10 00 it would not reach, and the latter did

1 00 not reappear. Searching for the Body. The men at Dexter's mill were informed of the accident, and the police department and fire department were also communicated with. Dr. James Collins, who lives in West London a short distance from the mill, was notifled and hastened to the spot soon after the young lad had gone down. He immediately undressed and began to dive for the body. Chief Aitken and Firemen Tozer and Vance also arrived on the scene shortly after with grappling irons and hooks, Armed with these, George Webb, 16 Horton street; Martin Donohue, 154 Mill street; Jack Fairbairn, 713½ Richmond street; Dr. Collins and the two firemen began the search for the body. It was located four feet deep around this point, but at the hole was nearly fifteen feet. Family at Springbank.

When the remains were brought ashore, Dr. Moran, one of the house surgeons of St. Joseph's Hospital, and Dr. Collins, assisted by the two firemen and a member of the local police force, worked over the body for some time, but all signs of life had left it. was later removed to Logan's undertaking parlors, after being viewed by Coroner MacLaren, who decided an inquest was unnecess ry, death being caused by accidental drowning.

A sad circumstance in connection with the case is the fact that Mrs. Milligan and two younger boys and a sister of the victim of the accident were enjoying an outing at Spring-bank, when the accident happened They were notified about an hour later. One other brother. Arthur Milligan about ten years of age, was at home and he heard the news shortly after the accident happened. Mr. H. L. Milligan, father of the boy, is in Goderich where he has been for the past week attending the military camp, attached to the Twenty-sixth Middlesex Regiment as adjutant. A telephone message was sent him soon after the rowning. The spot where young Milligan was drowned is a treacherous one, and although the water is not deep, there are several deep holes along the bottom of the river. It is about a hundred yards north of the spot where Norman Cochrill was drowned a couple of ex-tenants, started late yesterday af- to swim fairly well, and the theory is that he took a cramp after sinking into the took of the building, as he window frames of the building, as he age and looked to be about 16 or 17. parents, one sister and three brothers, all younger than himself.
