ONTARIO DAIRY INDUSTRY SHOWS PROGRESS

Beal States Technical Addition Necessary This Year

DAIRYING IN PROVINCE SHOWS FINE RETURN

President of Association Reports Fine Outlook During Present Year.

DEMAND IS GOOD

Keen Competition Brings Need of High Quality Products.

H. Mannell, Woodstock, president of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario, speaking at the opening of the morning session today in the Masonic temple here, declared the general outlook for the Ontario dairyman for 1925 is very encouraging. Mr. Mannell, in the course of his address, dealing with milk powder situation in Ontario, said:

"Domestic consumption of milk powder increased 10 per cent last year in the face of adverse financial conditions. Some of the largest users of milk powder, such as the lumber industry, were hard hit. Present values are low, caused chiefly by production being in advance of consumption, and due partly to increased output from various sources. No great increase in consumption may be expected unless the purchasing power and growth of the urban population is increased. Stocks, however, are practically exhausted, and for this reason the outlook is more encouraging. The U. S. stocks of both condensed and powdered milk are almost exhausted, and in general the outlook is promising in this line."

Prosperous Year.

The director's report for the year shows that 1924 was a prosperous year for dairying in Ontario, the cool weather in the summer making it easy to deliver milk to the factories in good condition and sweet. The whole tone of this report is optimistic. As is usual quality was emphasized as the essential requirement in every product, and the keen competition throughout the world for dairy products, make it more important as each year goes by. The report in part says:

"Keen competition in the markets of the world is forcing us as never before to produce only the best quality, and since the production and manufacturing dairy products involves special technical knowledge.

Liniment Jag Ends In Cells

Associated Press Despatch.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 14.—John Atkins, 60 years of age, a farmer, who a few weeks ago went on a rampage after drinking a quantity of horse liniment, shooting and wounding a neighbor and attempting to burn down the latter's house, was taken in custody again last night after bombarding police headquarters with revolver and shotgun.

Atkins, according to information by officials, declared his intention of "getting" the officers who arrested him following his first escapade, and set out from his home in an automobile armed with a shotgun, revolver and a plentiful supply of ammunition. He circled about the police station, firing into the building until he finally lost control of his machine and crashed into a telephone pole.

As he crawled from the wreckage he was placed under arrest. No one was wounded during the shooting.

His only official engagement today will find him in Newmarket, where he will address the annual meeting of the North York Reform association. Arriving at Newmarket at 9:28 a.m. Premier King was greeted by a delegation of civic officials and members of the Liberal association. Reeve P. W. Pearson and Alderman W. W. Osborne were the representatives of the town. Ex-Mayor Howard Cane, president of the association; A. Davis, R. Y. Broughton, W. H. Eves, W. C. SWEDEN LOSES HEAVILY IN CATTLE EPIDEMIC

Associated Press Despatch.

Malmoe, Sweden, Jan. 14.—The epidemic of the hoof and mouth disease in Skaane, South Sweden, has already caused the slaughtering of 10,000 head of cattle, involving losses of nearly $2,000,000. A number of Sweden's most valuable prize-breeding animals have become victims of the disease, and all export of live cattle is prohibited by the government. Local authorities are adopting drastic measures of isolation and prevention to stop further spread of the plague.

LOSS IS $250,000 IN MONTREAL FIRE

Canadian General Electric Plant Destroyed Last Night.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—The Canadian General Electric Company, Limited, office and warehouse, 158 St. Antoine street, was destroyed by fire of so far undetermined origin and caused a loss of $250,000 last night. Three alarms, bringing out the greater part of the city's fire-fighting force, were sounded before there were sufficient firemen to cope with the blaze. The flames, fanned by a high wind, threatened, for several hours, adjacent buildings, which included the Dominion immigration office, where several persons were detained. No one was injured. When the firemen arrived they found the entire building in flames. The four stories and the basement were a roaring furnace and the flames were shooting out of all the windows.

Owing to the severe heat, firemen were unable to approach the building and fought the fire from distant points. The building subsequently collapsed, and several firemen had narrow escapes from injuries.

The occupants of the tenements nearby were forced to leave their dwellings owing to the torrents of water that flowed into them. The blaze was brought under control at midnight.

Officials of the Canadian General Electric stated that the building and stock were valued at $250,000. The loss is covered by insurance.

TRIPLE MURDER NOW NEARING A SOLUTION

Farmer's Son Arrested When Story of Chicago Deal Is Disclosed.

Associated Press Despatch.

Buffalo, Jan. 14.—The triple murder in Linden last March which baffled the Genesee county authorities, appears to be near a possible solution with the arrest of Steve Bloom, 28 years old, whose father owns a farm about three miles from the Genesee county village. Bloom's alleged connection with the crime, police say, was disclosed to a Rochester man whom Bloom was said to have been trying to induce to take part in a robbery at Oswego.

The Rochester man is John Stockum. He is alleged to have told Rochester police that Bloom came to him about Dec. 1 with a proposal to do a "job" in Oswego. At that time, according to Stockum, Bloom told him that he was the perpetrator of the Linden murder in which Thomas Whaley, a railroad man, his wife and Mrs. George Morse, a neighbor, were shot and beaten to death in the Whaley home, the building later being set on fire.

Collie Dog Tied To Train Tracks

Rescuer of Animal Reports the Case to Inspector.

One of the worst cases of attempted cruelty to animals in the history of the London Humane society was reported this morning by Inspector George Tustin.

"Some man tied a collie dog to the C. P. R. tracks, near Waterloo street, last night, hoping that it would be killed by a passing train," declared Mr. Tustin.

A man who was passing by heard the howls of the animal and took it home with him. He 'phoned me at 10:30 last night, and I now have the collie in the humane society kennels.

"I am making every effort to find out who the man was, and if I locate him, a court case will follow, you may be sure of that."

ALLIES SIGN ANNUITIES AGREEMENT

Inter-Allied Financial Conference Brought to Successful Conclusion.

SOME RESERVATIONS

Winston Churchill Given Great Credit for Harmonious Conduct of Meetings.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Jan. 14.—All the powers represented in the inter-allied financial conference today signed the "agreement regarding distribution of the Dawes annuities."

Rumania and Italy signed with reservations.

Limitation of the American damage claims to $350,000,000 was stricken out. This was the only change made in the text of the agreement before its signature.

The Rumanians announced that they were making reservations with a view to demanding an increased percentage of reparations, while the Italians objected to the ruling of the conference on Italy's repayment of the excess she has received in reparations over the percentage to which she is entitled.

These reservations, however, did not prevent unanimous signature of the agreement, and the objections of the two countries will be considered by the allies later.

The Brazilian attitude was supported by France, Rumania, Portugal, Jugo-Slavia and the United States.

The French premier, M. Herriot, came into the conference room after the signatures had been affixed to the document and thanked the delegates for the diligent manner in which they had performed their work.

The leading delegates then filed into the private room of the minister of foreign affairs to pay their respects to the premier.

This result is attributed to the example at the beginning of the conference by the British chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill—an example of moderation, goodwill and determination to effect a settlement.

Everybody seems satisfied that order has been evolved from chaos at the expense of the least possible sacrifice to each of the participants. Even the smaller powers, notably Rumania, whose situation is undeservedly hard, go away with the conviction that their interests will be taken care of and that means will be found to satisfy their requirements in the not too distant future.

The convention is a carefully drawn document in French and English and contains 27 clauses, divided into five chapters. The first chapter consists of clauses dealing with apportionment of the annual Dawes payments, the second with the Ruhr and other back accounts, and the third with special questions growing out of application of the previous agreement.

Among these questions are the costs of the army of occupation from May, 1922, to September, 1924, and debits for the Shantung mines and railroads, formerly held by Germany.

The fourth chapter deals with interests and arrears, and the fifth and last is concerned with miscellaneous questions, such as payments by Hungary and Bulgaria, property handed over to the city of Danzig, and others not covered under the previous headings.

Persistent reports in shipping circles that this announcement indicated that the big liner had been seriously damaged in her last trip from here by heavy weather and that her condition was worse than it was reported by the line were met by a statement from President P. A. S. Franklin, in which it was said that nothing serious was the matter.

SOUTH AFRICA MAY HAVE OWN FLAG

British Press Strongly Criticizes Plan Now Under Discussion.

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Jan. 14.—Some misgivings have been aroused here by a cablegram from Pretoria stating that the government of the Union of South Africa intends to introduce a bill in the South African parliament dealing with the question of South African nationality and creating a South African flag.

The cablegram adds that it is believed the proposed bill lays down the principle that a person who becomes a British subject does not necessarily become a South African citizen, and therefore if the bill becomes law it will create a South African nationality.

The British press criticizes this proposal and points out that this effort to create a separate South African nationality is likely further to complicate the already intricate matter of imperial and local nationalization provisions. The measure is likely to evoke a lively discussion in interested quarters in London and the question arises: What is meant by a "South African citizen"?

Pledge Loyalty Brings Jail Term

War Hero Makes Vow Never To Work Again.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Jan. 14.—When after fighting for his native land in the world war, Hargin Kolega returned to his home at Kali, Serbia, a hero and decorated for valor, he took a solemn vow that he never would do another stroke of work.

Yesterday Kolega was arraigned in Yorkville court, charged with begging, and he said to the magistrate eight times and in eight languages: "I won't work." Fidelity to his pledge, Kolega told the magistrate, had caused him to pass time in jails in France, England and Germany. Magistrate McQuade added to the record by saying "Thirty days."

BUSINESS RECORDS OF OLD RIVAL SYSTEMS OF 1924

Archaeologists Uncover Ledger in Ruins of Ancient City of Ur.

FIND JUSTICE HALL

Associated Press Despatch.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 14.—What are believed to be the most ancient business records ever found by archaeologists, one of them a ledger similar to those used today, have been unearthed by a joint expedition of the British museum and the museum of the University of Pennsylvania at Ur of the Chaldees, the buried city of Abraham, according to an announcement last night.

A report from C. Leonard Wooley, head of the expedition, was received here yesterday and made public by Dr. George Byron Gordon, director of the university museum. This report contained the announcement of the finding of the ancient business records, the bookkeeping of the temple of the Moon God, in the former capital of the Babylonian empire before the time of Abraham.

The archaeologists have also uncovered, the report said, "a hall of justice." This building probably was erected by Nebuchadnezzar. A striking find, according to Mr. Wooley, was that of an arch in the facade of one of the buildings uncovered and which, he believes, moves back the history of architecture in this respect to the remotest antiquity.

SIX CITIZENS GOT LICENSES BUT FAILED TO REACH ALTAR

City Clerk Points to Reasons For Not Publishing List in City.

NUMBER FALLING

Two Weddings a Day Is the Average For Past Year and a Half.

Less than two marriages a day are observed in London, according to averages stretching over a year and a half. The marriage rate is on the decline, slowly and steadily, ever since the "big row" in France gave impetus to a land office business in the exodus from bachelorhood. Nowadays, many are called but not all make use of the marriage licenses they secure from the city clerk's office.

Jewelers, wholesale rice shops and men of the cloth have felt the declining marriage rate. London's youth hesitates—and postpones the happy day. Last year there were only 653 marriages in London, a decrease of nearly 100 from the year before.

Now someone comes and suggests that an honor roll of folk who have secured marriage licenses be published daily. It is stated at the same time that this would be a safeguard to marriages "because it is too easy to get married at the present time."

Not So Easy.

Six young Londoners and their erstwhile fiancees found that it was not easy to get married last year. According to information at the office of City Clerk Sam Baker, a half dozen young men in recent months took out marriage licenses and then their plans blew up. Getting married wasn't as easy as they had thought.

Mr. Baker isn't divulging particulars as to the identity of the young chaps who were jilted at the altar. Rather he champions them. The clerk does admit that eleventh hour powwows on the cost of living provided cause for some of the postponed marriages, while others were instances where the woman changed her mind.

Marriage licenses are good for only three months after they are issued. If not acted upon inside of the time limit a renewal must be secured.

Publication of names of Londoners who have secured marriage licenses is opposed by Mr. Baker.

Nobody's Business.

"There's the instance of those who never used their licenses," Mr. Baker points out. "Only embarrassment would be caused if their names had been given out publicly. Take the case of two old people, who have no children or whose children have grown up. It is nobody's business but their own if they wish to be married.

"Then if young people come before me and swear that they are of marriageable age, I have no option but to issue a license to them. They may leave the office and go direct to a minister and be married in 10 minutes. If they should be under age and their parents object, there would be little good gained from publishing their names 24 hours later. That would be too late to prevent the marriage."

NEWSIE'S FATHER ASKS NEWS STAND PRIVILEGE

Points to Brantford, Windsor and Detroit—Aldermen Frown on Idea.

Application for permission to erect a news stand at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets has been made by the father of two boys, who have been selling papers there for a number of years. It is stated that the boys have been using the steps of a bank as their headquarters, but they have been ordered to vacate by their adopted landlords.

"A news stand would be an indication of thrift and progress," the father of the boys writes in a letter to the city council, "other progressive cities like Brantford, Windsor and Detroit have these news stands."

Because of the fact that a precedent would be established and they fear that soap box news stands would be put up all through the business district, aldermen are inclined to frown on the request.

BROKEN WATER MAIN MEANS ALL-NIGHT JOB

A broken watermain at the corner of Princess and Adelaide streets last night caused the staff of the public utilities commission to work practically all night to effect repairs with the minimum o finterference with the service in the district.

The main, which residents in the vicinity now say has been leaking for some time past, was repaired by 4 a.m. this morning.

The repairs were carrie dout under the direction of Tom Hodkinson, superintendent of waterworks.

BEAL URGES NEW ROOMS FOR SCHOOL

Points Out Outstanding Needs at Vocational Committee Inaugural.

ATTENDANCE GOES UP

Employment Department Great Aid in Finding Student Work.

That additional classroom accommodation is the outstanding need of the London technical high school was the point stressed by Principal H. B. Beal, in an address at the inaugural meeting of the advisory vocational committee today, noon.

Principal Beal spoke at some length outlining the work of the school in general and in particular.

Touching on the question of accommodation, Principal Beal said:

"The outstanding need of the school is for additional classroom accommodation. The increase in the day class attendance, which has been constant, and in last September amounted to 25 per cent, has taxed the building, including the addition which was recently opened. We are at present using lunch rooms for classroom purposes and have placed a temporary partition in the electrical room to make additional class room. The inspectors have pointed out that an additional room for typing and a second domestic science kitchen are urgently needed. Assembly hall facilities are a recognized necessity in a secondary school of the enrollment of the technical high school.

"That the present gymnasium arrangements are not satisfactory will be seen from the following extract from the report of the provincial inspectors: 'The present provision for physical training, while probably the best under the circumstances, is not satisfactory. Much of the period is lost in coming and going from the Y. M. C. A. Moreover, the continuity of the school is disturbed.'

Realizes Other Needs.

"We recognize, however, that the board has pressing claims for collegiate accommodation and while the present gymnasium accommodation is very satisfactory and an auditorium is much needed, these may have to be delayed in face of collegiate needs.

"But from the present crowded condition of the building and the enrollment that may be reasonably expected for September next, a small classroom unit should be provided this year. The fact that the original plans of the building provided for additional class room units to be added at a minimum of cost and that the government will pay half of the cost of construction and equipment, this should not require an expenditure on the part of ratepayers of more than $30,000 or $35,000, and should not prejudice the other building requirements of the board.

"The equipment of most of the practical departments is modern and fairly complete, but the inspectors on their last visit emphasized the following requirements: Equipment for electrical department; additional equipment for commercial department; improvements in the lathes in the woodworking shop; additional domestic science equipment."

Progress of School.

Principal Beal's remarks in reference to the progress of the school during the year were as follows:

"In addition to a greatly increased attendance, the school has made substantial progress during the year. A printing department was established, which has been a marked success. In addition to its value as vocational training in a printing center such as London, it is of educational value in the teaching of English, and has received the hearty co-operation of the printing trade. All the school forms, announcements, etc., have been taken care of to the value of more than $400, and this service is at present being extended to take care of the forms for the board offices and for other school departments.

"In the woodworking department the teachers' desks for the new public schools have been manufactured.

"The school has, during the year, taken over the nurses' training for both Victoria and St. Joseph's hospitals in cooking and dietetics.

"The long recognized need for a special electrical course has been met in the addition of this department in September last.

"The school is co-operating with the University of Western Ontario by providing training in shorthand an dtypewriting for the secretarial course.

"As a result of the students having the advantage of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium facilities the school has been signally successful in athletic events during the year."

Employment Department.

With reference to employment and co-ordination Principal Beal said:

"On the completion of his vocational training it is important that the student should find suitable employment. An employment department has been established in the school for this purpose. As the student nears the completion of his course, or as soon as he finds that he is unable to complete the course

LAWLESS STATES "WETS" STRONGER

Believes Moderation League in Better Position Than Before Plebiscite.

Moderation sympathy as applied to the O. T. A. is stronger in the city now both numerically and in its determination to achieve its aims, revision of the O. T. A., than it was at the time of the recent plebiscite, according to Col. W. T. Lawless, who was elected, last night, president of the London branch of the Ontario Moderation league.

"The London branch of the Moderation league, latest addition to the provincial body, will be a live, vigorous branch, doing all it may to further the interests of the moderates," says Col. Lawless.

"It is the determination of the branch to follow up the resolution passed last night by sending a delegation to see the premier on the subject. This delegation, which will include F. P. Betts, myself, and several other members of the committee, will wait on Mr. Ferguson before the legislature meets again. In the last few weeks I and several others on the committee have received numerous calls and letters, urging us to take active steps to obtain legislative recognition of the claims of the league. We shall do all we can to satisfy this growing body of opinion.

Establish Fund.

"Now that a local organization has been formed it is possible for funds to be established. Previously all money contributed to the league in London had to be forwarded to Toronto, the headquarters of the league. The London branch is now on the lookout for members, and the annual fee for membership has been set at $1, a nominal amount.

"We have set the fee at $1," said the president, "but members can give as much more as they like. Contributions should be sent to J. M. Donahue, treasurer of the branch, who will acknowledge them. These funds will be used at the discretion of the committee wherever help is most needed in the province.

"At the time of the plebiscite the moderates in London were strong. Today they are stronger, not only numerically, but in determination to achieve their aims, the revision of the O. T. A. I have no doubt at all that we shall have a very large membership within a short time, and that our organization will take its place in the provincial-wide work of the league.

Seek Members.

"We welcome to the branch everyone who is in sympathy with our aims, and just now we are looking to such bodies as the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, the Labor party, and all unions or locals which find themselves in line with our program."

When Mr. Ferguson was in the city at the time of the opening of the memorial at Byron sanatorium, Col. Lawless asked him his opinion of the views of the Moderation league, only to be met with what he calls a "politician's answer," which said nothing and expressed no opinion. Now, however, the London leaguers believe that there will be sufficient force not only in London, but throughout the province to make a reconsideration of the whole question and a revision of the O. T. A. possible.

COL. BROWN SPEAKS ON NATIONS' LEAGUE

Addresses University Women's Club at Players Craft Last Night.

The league of nations was the subject discussed by the University women's club at the meeting held last night at Playerscraft. Col. Walter Brown of the University of Western Ontario was the speaker, tracing the development of the league idea back to ancient times.

The speaker referred to the progress of international law and to how the league actually developed out of the international bureau of agriculture, which had had in its membership 60 different nations. Dr. Brown, in the course of his address, pointed out how the league had greatly benefitted the smaller nations, who were under its protection.

The address was followed by a lively discussion on the subject which will be continued at the February meeting of the club.

The book club, organized last year in connection with the University women's club, came up for discussion. It was decided that no new books would be purchased this year, but the old ones circulated from Miss Harrison's office in the London Loan building. New members would be admitted to the club, however. At the close of the meeting coffee was served. Mrs. Richard Crouch, the president, occupied the chair.

"YOU TELL ME," SAYS HENRY TO "NEXT WARDEN" QUERY

Warden Cyrus Henry of Metcalfe township, who presided over the affairs of Middlesex county council during 1924 is not for making any predictions as to who will fill his capable shoes this year.

"Who will be warden this year, Mr. Warden?" Mr. Henry was asked this morning when he visited the county buildings to sign some debentures in the office of County Treasurer Capt. Tom Robson.

"You tell me," smilingly responded Mr. Henry. "You know I did not run for municipal honors this year, and am not officially interested in the race for warden."

ROOMY STYLES STILL PREVAIL

S. P. Cole, London Designer, Tells of Feeling at Chicago Convention.

When the autumn of 1925 arrives, it will not find men's fashions in dress greatly changed, in the opinion of S. P. Cole, designer for the Greene-Swift Company, Limited, who has just returned from attending the annual convention of the international association of clothing designers in Chicago.

"The styles for 1925 will demand the two and three button sack suits for everyday wear and the popular colors will be in the varying shades of gray and brown. That does not, of course, rule out the conservative blue serge, which is always in style. There will be a generally fuller cut in men's suits, but the extremely wide trousers will be confined to the undergraduate and the jeunesse doree. The average man will simply get a slightly fuller cut in his clothes. There will be more room all over and the shoulders will be a little squarer, that's all.

"Evening dress will remain much the same as it is now. The dinner jacket will still be permissible for all informal wear, in spite of the efforts of the merchant tailors to limit its use. Full dress will mean a tailed coat, of course, for state and formal occasions. Morning coats will have one or two buttons, and there will be no braid either on morning coats or on evening dress.

"There is no essential change foreshadowed as far as overcoats go, but the box overcoat will be in style. Cuffs will continue to be worn at the foot of trousers, and the pockets in men's suits will not undergo any 'geographical' changes."

As far as the clothing of the young man about town is concerned, Mr. Cole is not a stickler as to style. "The young men of today simply come in and tell us what they want," he said, "and they don't ask us what the styles are. They say they want wide trousers, or vents in the back of the coats of lounge suits, or double-breasted jackets, and we have to give them what they demand. They are pretty much a law unto themselves, though as a matter of fact they ape style and fashion just as ardently as madame in her limousine. On the whole the style for the fall of 1925 will not differ greatly from present fashions."

$1,000 OUTLAY ON RINK WASTE MONEY, CLAIM

Westminster Structure Would Be Unsafe Even Then, Says Bottrill.

"Paying out $1000 for repairs to the old Westminster rink would be like tossing the money in the mud," Ald. Harry Bottrill declared today in discussing the plan to have the building fitted up at the city's expense and have it used by basketball teams of the city. "I was all for helping out the players until I saw the rink yesterday. Why, if the snow was too heavy and the roof fell in the city would have a big damage action on its hands. The work cannot be done for $1,000, anway."

Basketball fans of the city have been trying to secure accommodation for a long time without success. Crowded out of the armories and with no gymnasium where there is ample seating arrangement, they have asked the city to help provide a gym. Aldermen generally appear in favor of doing something and expenditure of $1,000 has been authorized, if an agreement can be made to have the Westminster rink properly fitted up and managed.

At noon, A. T. Taylor, representing a number of basketball teams, Ald. Bottrill, and the mayor held a conference on the matter. His worship stated afterwards that nothing definite had been arrived at though a solution is looked for shortly.

City Engineer Near has held up work until further instructions are given by the city council.

GREEK AND ROMAN DRAMA LECTURES NOW PLANNED

A study of the development of the Greek and Roman drama has been arranged by Dean W. Sherwood Fox of the college of arts of the university. The course has been arranged in the form of lectures suitable for reading clubs.

Besides the lectures on the drama, Mr. Fox will give lectures on some of the cities of the Mediterranian. Among these are, "Athens, the Beautiful," and "Pompeii, the Buried City" and "Crete, the Cradle of Modern Civilization." These lectures are illustrated with lantern slides.

Other talks will include, "Cursing as a Fine Art," "Lucian, a Modern Novelist in the Ancient World," and "Words and Their Humors, Grave and Gay." One lecture will be given on "The Modernese of Antiquity, the Greek's Contribution to Modern Art and Science."

The lectures are being given through the extension department of the university.

PARLEY ON UNEMPLOYED PLANNED WITH FERGUSON

Efforts are being made to secure a conference in Toronto next week between a London deputation and Premier G. Howard Ferguson. The mayor has been authorized by the council to secure a committee to go to Toronto to discuss unemployment with the premier. His worship said this afternoon that though definite arrangements had not been completed, action is hoped for some time next week.

CITY DELEGATE UNLIKELY AT STATUTORY MEETING

It is not likely that London will be represented in Toronto tomorrow when the statutory revision committee of the legislature meets. Revision of the statutes has been gone into by the executive of the Ontario Municipal association for some time, and many cities will be represented at tomorrow's meeting. The mayor said today that no delegates have been appointed to represent London.

DAIRYING IN PROVINCE SHOWS FINE RETURN

we must continue a progressive policy, in improving the raw material, in maintaining and improving the sanitary conditions of the factories; in educating cheese and buttermakers to the importance of turning out only first grade products. Advantage must be taken of every assistance which science and good practice may offer to standardize our methods. Stability of production and permanent improvement in quality presents a problem that must occupy the attention of not only individuals, but are of sufficient importance to be considered national in scope.

Good Year.

"The past season may be considered as a very good year for Ontario dairying. The cool weather during the summer months made it easily possible to deliver the milk and cream to the factories in good condition, and a consequent improvement in the quality of cheese and butter was distinctly noticeable.

"Pastures were abundant, resulting in a heavy milk flow up to the end of November, when the sudden drop in production was greater than usual, but the period of high production continued through the summer period instead of the usual drop in July and rise in September.

"The spring was backward, delaying planting, but with abundance of moisture, growth followed rapidly, and with ideal harvesting weather in most sections the final results were encouraging. Dry fall weather interfered with plowing operations in some sections.

"Feed, although high in price, is plentiful and cows should come out of winter quarters in good condition.

"Cheese and butter prices were discouragingly low in the beginning of the season, but gradually advanced and remained fairly uniform, with less than the usual fluctuations throughout the year.

"An increased yield of farm crops, other than fruit, with an advance in price, was a feature of the season, and there is every reason to take an optimistic view of the future.

"The prices of live stock, especially hogs, is improving. Higher grain prices may affect in some countries this year's output of dairy products, and evidence is accumulating that the dairy farmer, with factory by-products at his disposal, will be in an advantageous position. Dairying means live stock, which improves soil fertility, essential to successful agriculture.

Canadian Exports.

According to the Dominion bureau of statistics, Canada exported during the twelve months ending Nov. 29, 1924:

Cheese, 120,116,200 pounds; butter, 21,676,036 pounds; condensed and evaporated milk, 43,736,000 pounds; milk powder, 7,717,576 pounds; cream, 32,874,520 pounds; milk, 27,583,840 pounds, with a total value of $41,421,730.

Of this amount Ontario sold dairy products valued at $19,478,505.

During the morning a tribute was paid by Frank Herne, secretary of the association, to the work of the late T. J. Donnelly of Sparta, a past president of the association. Mr. Donnelly was born in 1860, and had been at various times in charge of cheese factories. For the last fifteen years he had maintained the cheese factory in Sparta. "Wherever he was in charge he helped materially to raise the quality of the product," said Mr. Herne, "and he played a worthy part in the betterment of the dairying industry in Ontario."

WARNING USELESS, MAN FINED $400

London Township Man Is Convicted of Having Bootleg Outfit.

As the result of a raid yesterday afternoon conducted by License Inspector Walter Bolton, assisted by Provincial Constable Lloyd Mennie and Inspector Thomas Lucas and Sergeant James Oakley of the London force, a London township man pleaded guilty before County Magistrate Hawkshaw this morning to having false liquor labels and seals in his possession. He was fined $400 and costs, and will pay the fine this afternoon.

When the officers arrived at the London township home they found ten bottles of bootleg whiskey, labelled "Black and White," and three bottles on which seals had not yet been pasted. A capping machine and a quantity of labels and corks were also seized by the inspector and produced as evidence in court this morning.

A second charge of having liquor for sale was not pressed by the crown.

J. G. Gillanders, who represented the defendant, made an eloquent plea for leniency, pointing out that the defendant was the sole support of his wife and family, who would suffer if the man was sent to jail.

Mr. Gillanders declared that his client was about to move away from the district, and that the labels found by the officers had been in the house when it was searched last September and were to be given away.

"This man was warned last September," declared the court. "Why didn't he pay some attention to it? He knew he was a marked man and that the officers would be liable to drop in on him at any time. His case is no different from many others. It is always the wife and children that have to suffer in such cases. However, I think that the ends of justice will be met by a fine of $400 and costs or three months in jail."

UNIONISTS HOLD FAREWELL SOCIAL

Enjoyable Evening Held in Ryerson School by New St. James Members.

The farewell social of the unionist members of the New St. James Presbyterian, held in the Ryerson school last night, was an enjoyable affair.

The farewell, which was attended by nearly 250 members of the congregation, consisted of a splendid program of music, readings and addresses. P. J. Thompson acted as chairman.

What little reference was made to "leaving the church" was along the lin eof advising the members to exercise their own best judgment in the matter, both as to what united church they should attend, or whether they should leave New St. James at all or not.

The speakers expressed the opinion that it would not be true unionism to make any deliberate attempt to split the congregation by urging any members or number of members to leave unless of their own free will.

The musical program, arranged under Mrs. Grant-Harris as convener, included vocal solos by Mrs Lannaway, readings by Miss Ruth Tanner, instrumentals b yMrs. Frank Smith and violin selections by Mrs. Grant-Harris.

Speeches were delivered by a number of those present who reiterated their stand in support of the union cause and related some of their experiences during the campaign which closed recently. Among those who spoke were the chairman, Mr. Thompson, Prof. W. J. Patterson, G. A. Wheable, clerk of the session; Dr. A. J. Murray, B. N. Campbell, J. D. Cmond and C. Benson.

Refreshments were served by a committee under Mrs. W. A. Tanner and Mrs. R. J. Webster.

The gathering brokeup with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

He had also maltreated his children, she said. At this point Magistrate Graydon adjourned court and heard the remainder of the case in his private office.

VINING MAY HOLD P.U.C. POST AGAIN

Reappointment Likely Tomorrow If Commissioner Will Give His Consent.

A heavy agenda faces the public utilities commission at its inaugural meeting of the year tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The first item of business will be the selection of a chairman for the ensuing year. The most accurate information obtainable points to the fact that if Jared Vining, who has been chairman for the past two years, again desires the chairmanship he may have it. Or in other words, if Mr. Vining will continue to act as chairman his reappointment to that position for another year is assured.

City Auditor H. B. Ashplant will appear before the commission, at his own request, to discuss audit matters and clear up certain misunderstandings that have arisen.

The commission will reach a decision as to whether or not the installation of $35,600 of electrical equipment purchased from the Westinghouse Company for use in the new Carling street sub-station, will be installed by the company or by the commission's own staff. The question was laid over at the last meeting of the commission.

Consideration will be given by the commission also to the recommendation of Manager E. V. Buchanan regarding the purchase of four new regulators for the electrical system at an approximate cost of $21,000.

Little headway having been made in connection with the purchase of property at Oxford and Adelaide streets as a playground site in the north end of the city, Manager Buchanan will bring before the commission information he has on hand concerning other sites in the district. The site is being purchased from funds bequeathed the commission for the purpose by the late Archie McMahon.

Another matter to be brought to the attention of the commission is the request for the provision of check room accommodation at the Coves skating rink.

KNOLLWOOD TOLD OF BETTER TIMES

More School Accommodation, Improved Car Service, Are Heralded at Meeting.

MAYOR ATTENDS

Transportation and educational development provided materian for keen discussion at last night's meeting of the Knollwood Park Improvement Association held in the district school. The mayor and several aldermen were present and spoke briefly, answering questions asked by citizens present. President Lavender of the association was chairman and A. A. Williams, the efficient secretary, also took a prominent part in the meeting.

Extension of the Knollwood school to an 8-room unit was indorsed by Ald. Edwin Smith, representative of ward four, and formerly school trustee. The school has only three rooms and, with a growing district, parents want their children to attend Knollwood school.

Admitting laxity in the past in the enforcement of bylaw 916, the tie agreement with the London Street Railway, Ald. Frank McKay of ward three explained the requirements of the act for the laying of track and charging of fares. He was asked if the council was doing anything to secure lower fares and stated that this should come about, according to the act of legislature on March 8. Unless the matter is brought up before then by the street railway, no action is necessary as the company would otherwise revert automatically to the old fares.

Ald. McKay favored the extension of the Oxford street car line to Linwood avenue, a matter which residents are very much interested in. Ald. Thomas Clift of ward four and Ald. F. B. Kilbourne of ward one also spoke briefly.

Mayor Wenige, in discussing the transportation question, stated that the best way for thecity to take over thestreet railway would be by arbitration. He did not believe the city council itself could successfully operate the road, and with the aldermen as directors, the arrangement could only be temporary.

The mayor thought that bylaw 916 was difficult to enforce and that compulsion could scarcely be brought to bear on the company to extend its system at the same time.

MUMPS AND CHICKENPOX HEAD CONTAGIOUS LIST

Mumps and chickenpox head the list of contagious disease cases in London for the month of December. The monthly report of Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, shows a fairly low record for diseases of a serious nature.

The following cases are reported: Diphtheria, 11; scarlet fever, 11; chickenpox, 83; whooping cough, 7; tuberculosis, 3; gonnorhoea, 2; syphilis, 4; mumps, 141; measles, 2.

HIGHWAY WORK COSTS COUNTY $61,149 IN '24

Provincial Government Bears Four-Fifths of Construction Outlay.

The county of Middlesex has been billed for $61,149.31 as the county's share for work performed on the provincial highways for 1924, County Clerk John Stuart stated this morning. The account is not payable until September of this year.

The above amount is one-fifth of the actual cost of the work, Mr. Stuart explained, the balance of the cost being paid by the provincial government.

Some 12 miles of pavement were laid in the county this year, which accounts for the expenditure. Two miles on the Proof Line road were paved, six miles from Lambeth to Delaware, and four miles from Crumlin to Thamesford. Part of the Lambeth to Delaware cost is not included in the bill, and this will be charged up to the county's 1925 account.

and will shortly have to seek employment, he is invited to consult the employment department of the school. Again in consultation with the parent and the instructor of the department in which he has specialized a suitable position is decided upon and the employment department then makes every effort to secure for him such a position.

"By carefully going into the exact requirements of all inquiries sent to the school by employers and by recommending only students who are likely to meet the requirements of the employer, the employment department has established a favorable reputation with local employers. A large number of local firms are turning to the school to fill all the junior vacancies in their offices and plants. By a periodic reminder to local employers of the facilities of the school to give them this service the number of firms using the employment department of the school is being constantly increased. During the business depression, we have experienced little difficulty in meeting all the demands of the students on the employment department, and it is not far distant when all the graduates of the school will be placed in suitable positions through the school employment department.

Further Service.

"The school has yet a further service to render to its graduates. The co-ordinating officer periodically visits those who have been placed in positions to follow up their progress. On his visits he obtains definite information, as follows:

"(1) The student's opinion of the effectiveness of the training he has received while in the school and suggestions of ways in which, from his experience in employment, of improvements in the school course. (2) The employer's opinion of any lack in the preparation of the student. These opinions, after being carefully considered, are made the basis of changes in the school course. (3) What is the student doing to prepare for advancement?"

Other subjects commented upon by Principal Beal included the general aim of the school, commercial courses (three-year and one-year courses), matriculation courses, preparatory courses, part-time adolescent courses, evening classes, and attendance.

HUMANE SOCIETY GETS SUPPLY OF HORSE FEED

Christmas and New Year's gifts to starving horses in the city of London amounted to 2,000 pounds of hay, 1,000 pounds of straw, and 800 pounds of oats, George Tustin of the humane society stated today.

Mr. Tustin declared that there were numerous cases in the city where owners were not in a position to pay for feed for their horses. With practically no demand for horses during the winter months, the owners would receive very little for their steeds if they sold them.

S. SANSONE IS GIVEN HOSPITAL TREATMENT

Prisoner Removed From Jail on Advice of Dr. James D. Wilson.

Sylvadore Sansone, who has been incarcerated in the county jail waiting for the court of appeal to act in his case, has been sent to Victoria hospital for treatment, jail officials stated this morning. He is being guarded day and night by turnkeys from the county jail.

Sansone was removed to the hospital yesterday afternoon after Jail Physician Dr. James D. Wilson reported his condition to Sheriff Donald Graham. The young man is being attended by Dr. Wilson and Dr. Busby.

Sansone's condition is not deemed serious by the authorities, but in the opinion of Dr. Wilson he would have better attention at the hospital than he could possibly receive at the jail.

Sheriff Graham stated that Sansone would probably be back at the jail in a week or ten days. This was the report that he had received from attending physicians.

Sansone was sentenced to ten lashes and two years in Kingston penitentiary by Mr. Justice Riddell on Oct. 18 last for an offense against a young London girl.

COMMITTEE TO DEAL WITH HOUSING REPORT

No Reflection Cast On Present Officers For the Loss.

When No. 1 committee holds its first meeting of the new council year tonight, aldermen will delve into the housing audit for 1923, which has just been completed. The audit shows a deficit of some $54,000 in the commission's funds at the end of 1923.

No reflection is cast on the present employed officers of the commission. Edward Houghton, city tax collector, is accountant on the commission's books. His work has been merely to receive and record payments. John Cunliffe, the housing commission manager, has been acting as bailiff and collector.

"Mr. Cunliffe has helped us out a great deal in our audit," was City Auditor Ashplant's comment.

Deficit of 1923 was clearly due to investments in property when it was valued highly, followed by a slump in the market, the report shows.

Action on the 1923 audit report is unknown, as there is a lengthy agenda of business for tonight's meeting. Officials are expected to be present to provide explanations if needed.

TAKES SPECIAL COURSE.

Miss E. Raymond, R.N., of the city tuberculosis clinic, has been in Toronto taking a special course in clinic work.

LAWLESS TO HEAD MODERATION BODY

Officers For Ensuing Year Are Chosen by London Branch.

Col. W. T. Lawless was elected president of the London branch of the Moderation league at an enthusiastic meeting held in St. George's Hall last night. E. A. Pocock was made secretary, and J. M. Donahue, treasurer. Hume Elliott, who was treasurer during the recent campaign, asked to be relieved of his duties owing to pressure of other work.

In opening the meeting, Col. Lawless read a letter from Cyril D. Boyce, secretary of the central committee at Toronto, stating that the annual meeting of the organization was to take place at the end of the month.

W. C. Fletcher, district organizer, was introduced. He gave a brief address showing the increased sentiment against prohibition during the last few years. In the province the increase had jumped from 32.1 in 1919 to 48.5 in 1925, according to the percentage of votes polled.

The electoral district of Ontario North was the only spot that had not shown a desire for governmental control.

Mr. Fletcher, who had spent considerable time in the territory between Nipissing and the Manitoba boundary, said that government control was wanted there. The advance polls in the province showed a strong leaning toward the cause. There were 801 votes for the O. T. A., 3,886 for government control, a majority of 3,085.

Want Delegates.

The central committee of the league believed in keeping up the work which was being carried on. The members were anxious that delegates go from London to the annual meeting. His request met with hearty response. When it was moved that two members attend, several present said that they wished to go at their own expense. It was decided that the number be unlimited, the delegates to be accredited by the executive committee.

General discussion followed the district organizer's address. A closer co-operation between local members and the central committee at Toronto was decided upon.

The following resolution was prepared by a committee of six, A. R. Douglas, J. M. Donahue, F. C. Betts, J. W. Smith, Hume Elliott, and E. A. Pocock:

"Whereas the plebiscite held on Oct. 23, 1924, disclosed a marked increased sentiment against prohibition in the city of London as compared with the result of previous public expression, and whereas the present prohibition law is unenforceable, causing more lawlessness and intemperance than it suppresses, and whereas it is in the interests of the social, moral and economic welfare of the community that a law commanding the respect and obedience of all citizens should be enacted, this meeting calls upon the premier and the government of the province of Ontario to bring about some measure to remedy the present deplorable condition."

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Will Send Copy.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to the premier and one to Sir Adam Beck.

The committee that drew up the resolution was asked to form a standing committee for one year.

The question was raised as to when the results of the surveys of the districts made by the league should be placed before the government. A large number of resolutions had gone in, Mr. Fletcher said. The final action would likely be decided upon at the annual meeting. Local members were of one opinion that a strong deputation wait upon the government before the house convenes, so as not to upset the member's theories, but rather try to help formulate some plan before their business was completed.

It was decided to hold a public meeting in the near future, and to hold regular meetings thereafter.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Fletcher, district organizer.

GANGS START CUTTING ICE FOR PORT STANLEY BOOTHS

Starting today, London and Port Stanley Railway gangs will continue to cut large amounts of ice at Port Stanley for the summer use of the booths and tea rooms on the board walk. About 15 sectionmen are employed at this work.

The sectionmen started operations early this morning, and the ice is being cut just opposite the lighthouse.

In former years the cutting of the ice by this company has been much later, but owing to the fact that the ice is nearly five inches thick at this point, the work has started earlier.

The recent snow and high winds which swept the country during the last day or so did not affect the L. & P. S. scheme, according to officials this afternoon.

The snow walls piled against the fences stopped the snow from drifting on the tracks and hence the time schedule was not hindered in the least.

TRUE CONCLAVE HOLDS CEREMONY

Mrs. Albert Glinz Officiates at Installation of Officers For 1925.

The installation of the officers of Mizpah Conclave, Order of the True Kindred, was carried out with effective ceremony at the Moose hall last night. A special guest of the occasion was Mrs. Margaret Stewart of Norwood, Ohio, past commander of Mizpah Conclave No. 34, Chicago, who acted as marshal. The officiating officer was Mrs. Albert Glinz of this city.

The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, the red and white colors of the order being used effectively. Roses and ferns were arranged in profusion about the hall. The choir, in smart uniforms, rendered apptopriate music under the direction of Mrs. William Weams, who also gave several vocal solos.

Mrs. E. Bowman was installed as commander, with the following officers: Past commander, Mrs. J. T. May; vice-commander, Mrs. James Weir; priestess, Mrs. J. Edwards; treasurer, Mrs. E. Gilpin; secretary, Mrs. A. Linnell; chaplain, Mrs. M. Horner; senior deacon, Mrs. Thomas Redmond; junior deacon, Mrs. Lorne Dann; inner guard, Mrs. Maurice Lee; outer guard, Mrs. Robert Mercer; advisor, William Prowse; deputy advisor, Dr. U. E. Bateson; organist, Mrs. Weams; lecturer, Mrs. Frank Moffatt.

The ceremony was marked by the presentation of many beautiful gifts and flowers. Great armfuls of flowers were presented to Mrs. J. T. May, the retiring commander, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bowman, the present first officer.

A pretty ceremony was the presentation of the past commander's jewel to Mrs. J. T. May. Mrs. Margaret Stewart, the guest of honor, was made the recipient of a handsome piece of cut glass. Other gifts were as follows: To Mrs. E. Bowman, a handsome necklace of pearls and mesh bag from her family, and a cut glass vase and a boquet of roses from her son Jack; to Mrs. J. T. May, a fitted overnight bag from the conclave and a basket of roses from her husband, J. T. May; to Mrs. A. Glinz, a handsome piece of cut glass from the conclave; to Thomas Redmond and T. Simmons, past advisers, suitable gifts.

Mrs. Agnes Kreitzer was appointed custodian, and was not installed on account of serious illness in the family.

Brief speeches were made by T. Redmond, W. Prowse, F. Simmons, J. T. Doidge, J. T. May, J. Weir and T. Welch. Following the installation a social hour was held.

FIFTEEN GIVEN WORK.

Fifteen men were given jobs by the city yesterday in clearing away snow, according to officials of the government employment bureau. A number of men who have been out of work for some time, canvassed citizens for snow shovelling jobs and were successful, J. C. Spencer of the employment bureau stated.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 14.—Fears are entertained here for the safety of Col. DAIRY FARMERS HIT AS WATER IS SCARCER

Weatherman Abides by Rural Wishes in O.T.A. Vote and Holds Back Rain.

The farmers voted to keep Ontario "dry" last October, but they didn't realize at that time that the weatherman would literally obey the result of the plebiscite.

However, he has, and the result is that farm wells all over the county are minus water and will be until a thaw accompanied by a heavy rainstorm is noted on the weather menu.

R. A. Finn of the department of agriculture stated this morning that he has received numerous reports of wells running dry. Farmers declare that wells that have always produced large flows of water have given up the ghost and are as dry as Chief Birrell's office or O. T. A. headquarters at Toronto.

"The shortage of water is a serious matter with a number of dairymen," Mr. Finn declared. "They have to haul water for long distances in many cases, while there are some farmers who are melting snow in order to provide their cattle with water. A good thaw with lots of rain is what the farmers desire most at the present time."

CANADIAN VEGETABLES ARE POPULAR IN THE U.S.

The demand for Canadian vegetables continues strong in the United States. The December report of the London division of the C. P. R. shows that 124 cars of turnips totalling 2,126 tons were shipped from Waterloo and Oxford counties during the month.

From St. Thomas six cars of beans were shipped to the maritime provinces. One carload was exported to Cuba.

Onion shipments from Kent county are also heavy.

SHOWS NO CHANGE.

No change is reported at Victoria hospital today in the condition of Clyde Burch, who was seriously burned in a fire at the London News company store on Clarence street Monday. Burch's face and body is badly seered, but it is believed he will live.

JUVENILE COURT BODY IS CHANGED

Nine Members Will Be Named to Committee—Carried Unanimously.

In future the juvenile court committee for the city of London will consist of nine members, and be a standing committee of the board of management of the Children's Aid society.

At the last meeting of the board, Rev. G. Quintin Warner, judge of the juvenile court, gave notice that he would move to such effect, and yesterday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the board, despite Mr. Warner's absence, though he came in later, his motion was adopted unanimously.

President A. E. Barbour, Judge Warner and County Clerk John Stuart were named as a committee to bring in the names of nine to form the committee for the approval of the board at its next meeting.

Warner Should Be Member.

Little discussion followed the moving of Judge Warner's motion by Mrs. John I. A. Hunt and W. R. Jarmain, except the expression of opinion by Mrs. R. M. Graham and Mrs. F. E. Leonard, to the effect that Judge Warner should be made a member of the committee.

Supt. W. E. Kelly, in commenting upon his monthly report for December, stated that "in the near future it would be absolutely necessary to secure an assistant for him as superintendent.

"There are many cases that we cannot touch," said Mr. Kelly, "and there are other cases on which we should spend more time."

In reporting 76 gifts at a Christmas tree shower for the new babies' ward in the Thomas Alway home, Mrs. I. P. Marlatt, leader of the happy six, read a letter from the city council expressing its appreciation of the work accomplished by that group of women in providing and equipping that particular ward in the children's shelter.

Mrs. F. R. Hardie read the report of the house committee of the shelter and asked that a shower of records be given for the new Victrola secured for the shelter.

Acknowledged With Thanks.

The board acknowledged with thanks the receipted bill for $3[illegible] the auditing of the books as the request of the Oscar Hudson Company.

The motion of Rev. John Garbutt and W. R. Germain that a letter of sympathy be forwarded Mrs. John Weld, owing to the death of her mother, Mrs. Simpson, was adopted by a standing vote.

City Clerk Sam Baker wrote the board to the effect that the 1925 council had appointed Ald. Edwin Smith and Ald. F. B. Kilbourne as its represetnatives on the board for the current year.

MRS. OLIVER CARTWRIGHT.

Besides her husband she is survived by two brothers and sisters who live in England.

The funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Dodman, 451 Briscoe street, on Friday afternoon, Rev. Leslie Armitage, of St. James' Anglican church, of which Mrs. Cartwright was a member, will have charge. Interment is to be made at Woodland cemetery.

Snapper Must Forfeit Life For First Crime Is Decree

Snapper, a diminutive curly-haired terrier, was convicted of a capital crime in police court this morning. He was found guilty of viciously attacking two citizens and biting them. Sentence for such a crime, in dog law, is death. Snapper is to forfeit his life within the next week.

For more than a year Snapper has been on his best behavior, his owner told the court. He has never been arrested for vagrancy nor has he ever appeared in police court before. This was his first offence.

A short time ago the dog ran from his kennel and attacked a man, biting him on the calf of the leg and drawing blood. A warrant was made out for the animal's arrest, but before it was served Snapper repeated the offence. He again attacked a man, tearing his clothes and biting his flesh.

Snapper was represented in court by one of the city's most prominent lawyers. His counsel's eloquence, however, failed to swerve Magistrate Graydon from the opinion that the dog was a menace to the public. Humane Inspector George Tustin will be notified and the little animal will be executed.

Will Offer Prizes For Work Done in Three London Collegiates.

The W. C. T. U. is planning to conduct another poster contest in the collegiate institutes of London. The contest held last year proved so successful that it has now become a definite part of the educational program of that organization. Through it the members hope to spread information concerning scientific temperance.

Arrangements for the contest were made at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the union, over which Mrs. H. A. Paddell presided. The contest in the South London collegiate will be left in the hands of the newly-organized union in that district. The central union committee includes Mrs. J. D. Omond and Miss Cannell.

The question of branch organization came up for discussion. Ward one in South London has already been effectively organized, with Mrs. Gordon Wright as president. Christmas cheer had been distributed at Victoria hospital, Westminster and Byron, for which donations had been gratefully received from Parkhill, Rodney, Wardsville and Mount Brydges branches of the W. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Bolton.

A. of the Church of the Redeemer held a delightful miscellaneous shower last night in the Sunday school room of the church. The secretary, Miss Beatrice Brett, and the treasurer, Miss S. McCausland led Miss Taylor into the vestry, where, concealed in a prettily-decorated basket, were the many lovely and useful gifts. The evening was greatly enjoyed.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Alice Ruth Higgins of Ottawa, daughter of Mrs. J. H. Higgins, to Douglas Doyle MacKay, also of Ottawa, at Knox college chapel, Toronto, on Saturday, Jan. 10. Both the bride and groom are well-known Ottawa journalists, the latter a member of the press gallery, the former a prominent member of the National and Ottawa Women's Press club, and during the past year House of Commons reporter for the Ottawa Journal. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Doyle MacKay will reside at 455 Besserer street, Ottawa.

Invitations are to be issued shortly by the Three Arts club for a reception and showing of paintings at the Institute of Musical Art, on Jan. 27. Miss Edith Kellett of Brantford, one of Canada's outstanding painters of miniatures, and Miss Eva Bradshaw of this city, will be the guests of honor. The work of other well-known London artists and modern painters will be shown on this occasion, as well as paintings by Miss Kellett and Miss Bradshaw. The three art clubs of the Institute of Musical Art were recently formed for the study of painting, music and dramatic art.

Complimenting Miss Edna Nagle, a bride-elect of this week, the ladies of the congregation of St. Luke's Anglican church, Broughdale, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the church last night. Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson made a very fitting speech on behalf of the ladies, to which Miss Nagle made a charming reply, after which the guest of honor was blindfolded and led to the platform, where many lovely gifts were disclosed when the curtains were drawn back by little Miss Ena White and little Miss Olive Ward. The evening was spent in a social way, with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Wyatt in charge.

TAKE SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Indigestion Results from an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.—Advt.

Facts About Optometry

NO. THIRTY-TWO.

Are glasses worn to be able to see as well as possible?

Not necessarily. Glasses are worn for a variety of reasons. Some to enable the wearer to see farther, as in near-sight. Some to reduce the acuity of vision, as in far-sight. Some to enable the patient to read. Others to protect the eyes from bright lights, and so on.

But comfortable vision is what is desired?

Yes, that may be stated as the principal desire of the Optometrist.

START CAMPAIGN IN AID OF BLIND

I.O.D.E. Committee Will Appeal to Public Through Press Tomorrow.

The I. O. D. E. committee working in the interests of the blind citizens of London is about to launch a campaign for $2,000 in the interests of that work. Final arrangements for such a campaign will be made at this afternoon's meeting of the Municipal chapter, I. O. D. E., and a formal appeal made to the citizens of London tomorrow. This appeal will be made through both local newspapers, who will act as custodians of the fund. Contributions will be received at The Advertiser office beginning tomorrow.

Mrs. E. B. Smith, who is chairman of the local committee, which works in co-operation with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, is anxious that the citizens of London make a generous response to this appeal.

Few realize that in the city of London alone there are almost fifty blind persons, who are receiving special instruction from a resident teacher at the expense of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Through the efforts of this organization they are being made into valuable citizens, who are able to earn part of their livelihood at least, if not the whole amount.

The Municipal chapter of the I. O. D. E. has started out the fund with a generous contribution of $150, and other chapters are expected to announce their donations this afternoon. Tomorrow and for the days following the public will be given an opportunity to help.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

The Artificial Flower Is Worn on the Shoulder of the Frock or the Lapel of the Coat.

The fashion for wearing flowers on the shoulder is just one of the many fashions of the present time that can be traced directly to the dance fad. The first young women who set this fashion doubtless fastened their real or artificial gardenias, roses or other posies on their shoulders, because this seemed like the only place where they would not be crushed and at the same time appear to good advantage. So now, whether one dances or not, this is the place, and the only place, on a frock where flowers of any sort seem to belong.

Flowers are likewise worn on the lapel of the coat, and some young women would feel not quite completely dressed if they went forth without some sort of flower, camellias, chrysanthemums, violets, carnations or roses, on the lapel of their coats.

The status of the gardenia or camellias seems to be open to dispute just at present. Some smart women will not part with them, and two of these waxy flowers, one in white and another in color, are the chosen shoulder flower for several women of discernment. In Paris the camellia has ceased to be the popular flower it once was, but what goes by the name of Parma violets among makers of artificial flowers is coming in for distinct favor.

Needless to say the carnation in every color that was ever seen in a carnation, and many more besides, is well liked for shoulder decoration or boutonnieres. Yellow chrysanthemums have survived their brief autumnal season of the natural flowers, and spread their long petals at the shoulder of many a smart evening frock.

Among other flowers that one finds among collections offered at smart shops are fuchsia-colored roses, fleurs-de-lis, dahlias, marigolds, daisies, nasturtiums, orchids, American Beauty roses, and lilies of the valley.

Some of the flowers chosen by fashion. Dark red and white camellias, a big yellow chrysanthemum, a mauve daisy with an orange center, and violets with a gray frock—all worn on the shoulder.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

IN THE KITCHEN.

The Table.

Next to the sink and the stove there is nothing so important in the kitchen as the table. In some households this is simply a work table, while in others it has to do duty for a dining table for the maid or maids or possibly for the family. If it has to do this sort of double duty it should be selected with special attention. There is a sort of kitchen table made with bins for flour and other dry groceries underneath. This sort of table is not quite comfortable when one must sit about it at meal time. Metal tops are now made for kitchen tables, and these have every advantage in the way of cleanliness. A table well covered with table oilcloth is clean and sanitary so long as there are no breaks in it. Where the oilcloth covering is used it is a good plan to keep a wooden board like a large bread board on the table to use as a rest for hot dishes and cooking utensils which otherwise would scorch the oilcloth. Some persons prefer a plain wooden-top table to the oilcloth-covered table. This may be either painted white and enameled or left in its natural state.

WHEN THERE IS VEAL.

Veal Ramakins.

Little left-over pieces of veal and ham, one ounce of butter, one dessertspoon of flour, one teaspoon of beef extract, one small onion, little lemon juice, pepper and salt. Mince the scraps of veal and ham. Pour a cup of boiling water on the extract, put the butter in a small pan, and when melted mix into it the dessertspoon of flour, then stir in the cup of broth. Continue to stir until quite smooth. Remove from heat, and when a little cool, stir into it the minced meat, seasoning of pepper and salt, the very finely minced onion, and a squeeze of lemon juice. Now heat all thoroughly, and pile up in little ramakin cases, sprinkling finely-chopped parsley over the top.

HALE STREET MOTHERS TO HOLD SEWING TEAS

Will Sew For Child Welfare and Children's Shelter Every Month.

Mrs. James Baldwin addressed the members of the Hale street mothers' club last night on "Love for 'Teen Age Girls." Mrs. Baldwin at one time did social service work in the slums of Old London and knows her subject thoroughly.

She pointed out how essential it was to keep the minds of young girls full of beautiful thoughts, as they had to face the problems of every day life. The environment of Sunday school meant much to them.

The program also included delightful vocal solos by Master Tom Hoskin, with Mrs. C. Hoskin at the piano. Plans were made to hold sewing teas twice a month, the members to sew for the Child Welfare and Children's Shelter. The first tea will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Wills, 225 Hale street, on Jan. 21, and the second at the home of Mrs. J. Hosie, 1344 King street, on Feb. 4.

A very generous response was made to the book shower for the Victoria hospital library. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

MOTHERS VOTE $25 FOR CADET TRAINING

Wortley Road Club Responds to Strong Appeal Made by T. A. Willis.

The gift of $25 from the Wortley road mothers' club toward the purchasing of uniforms for the cadets of that school, was the outstanding piece of business transacted by the club at the regular meeting last night. The gift followed a talk to the club by T. A. Willis. Mr. Willis pointed out the benefits of cadet instruction and the inspiration which the uniform gave.

Miss E. A. Knott gave a brief talk, which dealt largely with what benefit might be obtained through the close co-operation of teachers and mothers. The program also included a piano number by Leonard Hamilton; reading by Miss Bernice Vollick and a vocal solo by Miss Ann McGregor, Miss E. Judd acting as accompanist. Following the meeting a social half hour was enjoyed.

Little Joe Otter Solves the Mystery of the Disappearing Fish

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The young Otter had told his father, Little Joe Otter, the story of how his fish had mysteriously disappeared. You should have seen the twinkle in Little Joe's eyes as he listened. "Would you really like to know what became of your fish?" Little Joe asked.

"Of course I would," replied the young Otter. "But I don't believe anybody will ever find out."

"Don't you think I could find out if I went over there?" asked Little Joe.

The young Otter shook his head very decidedly. "No, I don't," said he, very honestly.

"All right, son, let's go fishing," replied Little Joe Otter, his eyes twinkling more than ever.

So together they went fishing, and presently each caught a fish. "You take yours over to the bank, but don't stop to eat it. Keep your eyes on this fish of mine," said Little Joe.

The young Otter obediently took his fish over to the bank and then sat down to watch. Little Joe Otter climbed out on the ice at the place where the young Otter had twice lost his fish before. He laid the fish down on the ice, then plunged into the water and swam over to where the young Otter was. Before he got there the young Otter saw a great, broad-winged white bird appear from nowhere, pick up that fish on the ice without stopping and fly away a short distance. Then this great bird alighted on the ice and suddenly didn't look like a bird at all. He looked like just a little heap of snow. He looked exactly like the heap of snow that the young Otter had seen over there several times before.

You should have seen the eyes of that young Otter pop out of his head. He was so surprised that for a full minute he couldn't find his tongue. Little Joe Otter's eyes twinkled more than ever. "Well, son," said he, "what did you see?"

"I saw your fish disappear," gasped the young Otter. "Now I know where my fish went to. Do you see that little white heap over there that looks like snow?"

Little Joe Otter laughed right out. "Certainly I see it," said he. "I saw it as soon as we came over here. I saw it and I knew what it was. That is Whitey the Snowy Owl, who has come down from the Far North. He is very fond of fish. I guessed right away who had stolen your fish. Now we'll go over and see what he has to say about it."

Then he spread his broad wings and silently flew away.

So together they swam over and climbed out on the ice. Then they made right straight for Whitey. He turned his head, and the young Otter saw a pair of as fierce eyes as he had ever looked into. They were round and yellow. Whitey snapped and hissed. Then he turned so as to face them. He still clutched the fish in his claws. Little Joe Otter snarled and bounded toward him. Whitey hesitated only a second. Then he spread his broad wings and silently flew away, taking the fish with him. Little Joe was too big for him to fight with.

So it was the young Otter made the acquaintance of Whitey the Snowy Owl and learned that there is always an explanation for a mystery.

Unless a Girl Finds Mr. Right, She Is Better Off Single Than Married.

Why are parents so anxious to get their daughters married?

Heaven knows, it is not because they are under any illusion that matrimony is an elysium into which a girl enters, and is safe forevermore from all the cares and troubles of life. Their own experience, oftener than not, has been a bitter one, and when they look around among their acquaintances they cannot point to half a dozen couples whose marriages have been happy, and successful.

Nevertheless, they are eager for their daughters to marry, and at a wedding you never have any difficulty in recognizing the bride's family. They are the triumphant ones, whose faces are wreathed in smiles and who wear the look of the cat that has just eaten the canary.

Of course, in the past, when a girl was a parasite upon the paternal bough the reason why her family desired to free themselves of her was obvious. They wanted to shunt her support on to some man as quickly as possible. But that explanation of why fathers and mothers are so crazy to marry off their daughters does not suffice now.

For in these days of female emancipation, a daughter is not a liability. She is an asset. Nowadays there are just as few dependent daughters as there are dependent sons, and in every household where the financial question is an acute one the daughters are far more apt to be bringing in money than to be grafting upon the family purse.

Therefore, there is no position more cruel and humiliating than that in which most unmarried girls find themselves in their own families after they are 25 years old.

If they have money mother hawks them about in the matrimonial market and makes such strenuous efforts to rope in any eligible man that the girls feel that they could die of shame. If they are poor, mother badgers daughter incessantly about not catching a husband and wonders why she can't get married when all the other girls are marrying off.

In vain the girl protests that she doesn't want to marry, that she hasn't found any man who either came up to her ideal or fired her fancy. Mother gloomily shakes her head and does not hide from daughter the fact that she considers her a failure and a blot on the family escutcheon.

Of course, a girl should have sense enough not to mind being twitted by her family for not marrying and joked about becoming an old maid, and she should have backbone enough to tell her mother that if she is unwelcome and a burden in the home she will go elsewhere to live; but this takes an amount of courage that few young women possess.

Moreover, we are all strangely sensitive to the strictures and ridicule of our own families.

So thousands of girls literally let themselves be nagged by their mothers into untimely marriages with men for whom they have no real affection and who are utterly unsuited to them.

Mamie comes to the point where she can't stand any longer listening to mother's querulous wonderings about why she isn't attractive to men and why she hasn't married as Sallie and Janie and Mimi have. So, in desperation, she marries the old bean who has been hanging on since her high-school days and who bores her to extinction, or she takes the widower with six children and lives miserably ever after.

And the only happy person is mother, who feels that she can hold up her head in the company of other women, all of whose daughters are married.

PUTTEES FOR SPORTS.

Special to The Advertiser.

London, Jan. 14.—Not only have swords become plow shares, but the puttees which were mud-crusted through winters in the trenches have become the proper thing for winter sports, both for men and women. The olive drab of the army, however, has given way to the brightest colors and puttees.

HEAVY WOOL STOCKINGS.

St. Moritz, Jan. 14.—Comfort, not beauty, marks the stockings worn for skiing and tobogganing here. They are of very heavy wool and are turned back well above the knee over the knickerbockers, if the latter are worn. They look bulky and awkward, but are a wonderful protection in event of spills.

WOODSTOCK COUPLE MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Mackay Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, Jan. 13.—Dr. Andrew Mackay, one of Woodstock's oldest residents, and former member of the provincial legislature for North Oxford, and Mrs. Mackay today celebrated their 50th and golden wedding anniversary at their home here.

Dr. and Mrs. Mackay are both enjoying good health, although Dr. Mackay has passed the 80-year mark. The couple were married at the home of the bride, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth Mackay, on the 10th line, East Zorra, in 1875 by Rev. Mr. McTavish, second pastor of Chalmers Presbyterian church of this city. Although both bride and groom were of the same surname, there was no family relationship, but both were natives of Oxford county and both descendants of pioneer families of Zorra.

Dr. Mackay was born on his father's homestead in West Zorra in 1842, and at 18 years of age became a school teacher. Six years later Dr. Mackay began the study of medicine. After his graduation from Bellevue, New York, and from Victoria University, Toronto, he began the practice of medicine at Underwood, Bruce county. After a period of 18 years spent in Bruce Dr. Mackay returned to Oxford and made his home in the city of Woodstock, where he has since resided.

He has always been active in municipal affairs, and was twice mayor of the town when Woodstock boasted a population of only 6,000. His election to the legislative assembly as representative for North Oxford took place in 1908.

For a number of years Dr. Mackay has been a member of Knox Presbyterian church, and has held the post of session clerk for a long period. Dr. and Mrs. Mackay have two sons, Fred. Mackay, B.A., of Cleveland, Dr. C. McKenzie Mackay of Woodstock, and one daughter, Miss Lily Mackay of this city.

MASONS CONDUCT FUNERAL OF TILLSONBURG RESIDENT

Special to The Advertiser.

Tillsonburg, Jan. 13.—The funeral of the late Harry Dean, aged 38 years, who passed away Sunday morning, after a short illness from pneumonia, was held this afternoon at 1 o'clock to the town cemetery, and was one of the largest funerals held in this district in a good many years. Pastor Emmens of the Gospel mission conducted the services, and N. Stilwell and Pastor Emmons sang a duet. The floral offerings were very numerous and most beautiful. Funeral services were in charge of King Hiram Masonic Lodge, No. 87, A., F. and A. M. He was also a member of Otter Lodge, No. 50, I. O. O. F., Tillsonburg.

PLEATS! PLEATS! PLEATS!

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Jan. 14.—Pleats have a score of uses today. Made of tulle, volle or mousseline de soie, they are used for collar and cuff sets. The collars are turned up about the ears or turned down about the shoulders as one favors the Elizabethan or the Charles I types. Pleats also form the edging of sleeves and for jabots running from neck to waist line.

MINNEHAHA AGAIN.

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Jan. 14.—One dress brought today from Paris would have bought the entire state of New York from the Indians if Henry Hudson had carried it for trade purposes. For it is made entirely of red, green and steel beads, strung in horizontal bands seven inches wide, and worn over a black satin slip.

MASSES OF EMBROIDERY.

Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Jan. 14.—It may be bad form for a woman to wear her heart on her sleeve, but she may wear nearly any other kind of embroidered motif there this spring. The knitted silk and artificial silk frocks are nearly all of rather sober tints, but the collar and sleeves usually are a mass of colorful embroidery.

Eskimo Refugees Taken by Red Cross

Associated Press Despatch.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The eleven Eskimo survivors of the ill-fated Wells expedition to Wrangel island, in the north Pacific, will be brought to this country by the United States Red Cross.

Deported from Russia, where they had been taken by a Soviet ship, the Eskimos were denied admission to China and the United States government found it had no funds available for their return to United States soil.

The state department referred the case to the Red Cross, however, which announced yesterday it had appropriated $1,600 to bring them from Vladivostok to Seattle.

FORM REGIONAL GROUPS.

Associated Press Despatch.

Rome, Jan. 13.—The grand Fascist council has decided to form regional groups of Fascist deputies with a view of bringing problems affecting various parts of the country to the attention of the government and parliament through them. The decision was taken by the council last evening after hearing a statement by Premier Mussolini regarding the activities of the party and the political and parliamentary situation.

IRELAND PROSPERING, COSGRAVE DECLARES

Free State Chief Discards His Incognito To Address French Society.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, Jan. 13.—William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish Free State, last night threw off the incognito he has maintained during his rest on the continent, to preside at a dinner tendered by the French Society of Friends of Ireland in honor of the inauguration of the Irish Chamber of Commerce in Paris.

Mr. Cosgrave, in an address, declared that the Irish nation "now has started on national housekeeping." He laid stress on the growth of Irish exports. Twenty per cent more live stock was exported in 1924 than during many of the best previous years. The budget for the last nine months had been balanced, he declared.

—quality that will save the farmer the extra margin of butter profit, too often lost through lack of proper quality in the salt.

Our representatives, authorities on the salt requirements of the Dairy interests, will be in attendance at the convention. They will be pleased to give any information desired.

Where Does the Profit Come From?

Imagine yourself a manufacturer building up production on one article—a 1,000 quantity means little or no profit, 100,000 articles, with a slight profit on each, means big money. What is it that makes the difference? It's the little bit of profit on each article multiplied 100,000 times.

Where does YOUR profit come from? Exactly through the same means. It costs you so much to fill your cans full of milk—a quart or so of that milk is your money, your profit. If you lose it you have labored for nothing.

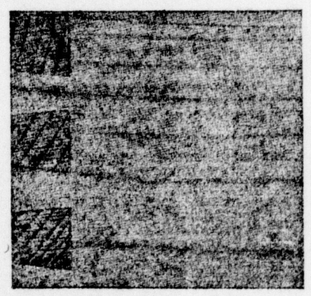

Increase your business by keeping your milk clean—preserve what you have canned by using only

CROSS WORD PUZZLE NO. 79.

After you have struggled with a terror, and want to rest your weary brain, here's the puzzle for you. There should be no time lost in getting this one started, for it is nice and easy and well put together.

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

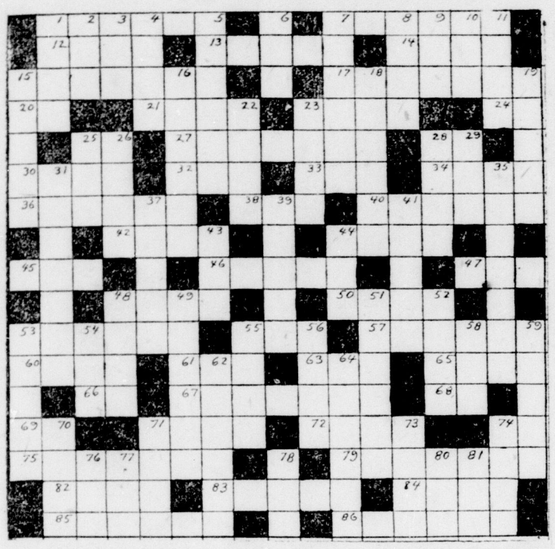

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical) according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white spaces alloted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

DOME MINES OFFICE IS GUTTED BY $10,000 FIRE

Canadian Press Despatch.

South Porcupine, Ont., Jan. 14.—The loss suffered by the Dome Mines Company in the fire of Sunday, which destroyed the mine office, is placed at $10,000. Much of the work of the engineering staff, which occupied the second floor, was lost, but all the important plans were in the vault and, therefore, are secure. The basement was flooded with water, and is now a mass of ice, so that it is still impossible accurately to estimate the extent of the loss there.

WIRE NEWS CIRCUITS ARE RESUMED IN MARITIME

Canadian Press Despatch.

Halifax, Jan. 13.—A representative gathering of maritime daily newspaper publishers was held here today on the occasion of the annual meeting of the maritime division of the Canadian Press, when the decision was reached unanimously to resume, almost immediately, leased wire news circuits between Montreal and Maritime points, which were abandoned about a year ago owing to the loss of the aid rendered by the Dominion government. News service since then has been carried on over commercial wires on an overhead basis, and thus has been necessarily limited in scope and wordage.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The iron and steel industry is moving westward, the department of commerce declared today in a survey of that trade for 1924.

"It appears that the industry is gradually shifting the center of production, construction east of the Ohio-Pennsylvania line being very small in comparison with the works erected further west," Luther Becker, chief of the iron and steel division of the department, said.

Find the Reason Now.

The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company is erecting a transfer elevator at Buffalo to handle its business. It is a Canadian company; it will spend Canadian money to put up a great structure for shipping Canadian grain through United States ports.

The move has been bitterly attacked from several quarters on the ground that it is a poor brand of patriotism on the part of the westerners to deliberately turn to American ports and by so doing deny to Canadian outlets a good volume of business.

The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company is owned by 23,000 farmers of that province, and there must be some reason for the move they are making. Eastern Canada would not care to think that these men would for no reason at all turn their trade over to American ports.

There is an explanation, and it is given by the Canadian Milling and Grain Journal:

"The agency which has led to the provision at an American port of an elevator which is to be built by Canadian money for the handling of Canadian grain, is the lake shipping. It is enabled to do this because it has been given a monopoly in the carrying trade between Canadian ports in the expectation that the interests of Canada will thereby be furthered. Protected by this monopoly the Canadian shipping companies carry Canadian grain from the lake ports to Buffalo at the Duluth-Buffalo rate; and then, to increase their general receipts, they charge a higher rate on the Canadian grain to the eastern bay ports, though the distance is about two-thirds that to Buffalo. The difference is from one-half to one cent per bushel, sufficient to turn Canadian wheat more and more to United States channels, thus starving the Canadian ports and depriving Canadian railways of traffic."

To put the case bluntly, the Saskatchewan farmers are going to direct their wheat traffic to an American point because their experience with lake shipping has proved they will get soaked if they go elsewhere.

But the fact that the Saskatchewan grain growers claim they have been gouged by shipping interests on the lakes is not sufficient reason for them to prepare now to make a large permanent investment in Buffalo that will permanently take business from Canadian railways and Canadian ports.

This discrimination against Canadian ports can be set right. If there is an injustice being done that is going to play havoc with Canadian development of a great Canadian industry it can be set right. There are powers vested in official Ottawa that can deal with such matters, and if they cannot or will not, then not only the Saskatchewan grain growers but all the rest of the country will want to know about it.

The fact that the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company is making plans to deliver its product to a United States port is a challenge to Ottawa to ask the reason why. It should not be necessary to wait until formal application has been made to have an apparent wrong set right; it would be poor policy to wait until the building were started. The Saskatchewan farmers should never be allowed to erect that elevator in Buffalo and nail over the door the sign that they had been forced into a foreign country because conditions made it desirable to go there.

Mumps Then and Now.

Things are done differently nowadays. Matters that we used to treat lightly we now take seriously, and it works the other way too. The very mention of diphtheria a decade or so ago was enough to throw fear into a family. Today it is different. The doctor comes in and with his little needle and fluid puts the disease on the offensive right away.

With mumps it seems to be different. Go back the decade or so noted above and a case of mumps in the family was not a serious sort of business. If there were doubts as to whether the child had mumps or not he was given a sour pickle. If it hurt the glands in the neck it was a case of mumps; if it did not, why he didn't have mumps, and that was all about it. When the case became certain a piece of red flannel was tied around the head and that was about the extent of the treatment.

Today it's different. People have no red flannel around the house any more, so the health officer comes with a card, a hammer and a pound of nails, and spikes a sign on the front door, which says in big, black letters, "Mumps." Underneath that is noted the penalties for tampering with the slogan of the health officer, and the siege is on. The old piece of red flannel did very well in its day, but we're not living in the red flannel era any more.

A Debt That Must Be Diminished.

If Premier King has succeeded in making clear to the people of Ontario that Canada has not yet paid the costs of her war effort, his appearance in Toronto has been fully justified.

Canada's war bill, in dollars and cents, stands today at $1,670,406,242, and the annual interest charges on the total debt of $2,422,135,000 amount to $135,347,000, and that amount must be paid each and every year until we face the stern business of reducing the debt.

Premier King did not say so in his Toronto address, but he might very well have mentioned the fact that his government could make itself very much more popular in many communities by spending money than by cutting down the expenditure.

There is not a day passes but the government at Ottawa receives word of various ways in which it could undertake public works, some of which may be very necessary, but any of which would call for the raising of more money by a people who are paying all they can stand now.

There is never a vacancy in the senate that does not bring forth its full quota of letters and telegrams telling of people who are anxious to step into the breach and draw $4,000 per year for their services for the rest of their lives.

The government at Ottawa may not be doing a very popular thing with many communities in earning the reputation of being tight with its money, but it is performing a good service for the people of Canada as a whole.

A government is like a business organization or a family; the only difference is that it operates in a larger way. When any one of these three finds a large debt, the carrying charges of which are a detriment to development, the sure way is to scale down expenses until the handling of that debt is mastered.

Premier King did well to speak plainly on that point. Canada can do two things, (1) cut her expenses to the last dollar, and (2) turn to the development of her own natural resources in such a way that the people of this country shall take from them all the advantages of labor in turning them into the finished article before they are released to the markets of the world.

Would Have Succeeded, But—

Three burglars set out for a night's work around Windsor. They stole the car in which they were going to proceed to the work and in which to make an escape. They lifted a welding outfit to deal quickly with any stubborn locks. Telephone wires were cut to make the details more complete.

Arriving in front of a very formidable looking safe, the acetylene outfit was dragged in, but the burglars had neglected to bring along the torch that makes its work possible. Their fine weapon was no more effective than a bucksaw.

Just another of those cases where the plan would have succeeded, but—

The old world turns up similar ones every day. "I would have made a fortune out of that stock, but I did not sell soon enough."

"I would have been able to get down the hill all right and make the corner at the bottom, but the brakes weren't working right.

But gets us into much trouble, but again, as in the Windsor case, it saves a great deal of mischief.

Note and Comment.

Two Vancouver burglars who have had quite a successful career have only one leg between them. They made their way by pulling other people's legs.

The New Styles

D. P. Cole, designer for the Greene-Swift Co., has returned from Chicago, where he attended the convention of international clothing designers.—News item.

How interestin' it must be to go unto that meetin' there, and sit alongside of the folks who plan the britches that we'll wear—who say just how our coat must hang, and if it's shaped upon the waist, and whether bulgin' shoulder blades is now considered in good taste.

It's fine to be a man what rules and say which way the style she goes, and tell as how the well-dressed jay will have to shed his last year clothes.

There be four other questions here, perhaps you'll answer, Mr. Cole, they cast a shadow on my path and heave a burden on my soul. A lot of humble folks like me would like to know the same things too, perhaps you'll tell us all at once the right and proper thing to do.

For hangin' in my hut I have a vest that's dapper like and whole, there be no soup marks on the thing, it's colored like a barber pole, and I've been scared to wear the thing, this gaudy-lookin' race-track vest, for fear some cop would come along and bounce his billy on my chest.

Now be the styles what's comin' in a-leanin' toward this giddy thing, or should I put it up for sale and see what shekels he will bring?

Likewise I own an overcoat of vintage dated with the war, she is the greenest at the neck that any person ever wore; now do I run a risk in town of losin' all my goodly name, by clingin' to that overcoat and wrappin' it about my frame?

My workin' trousers show a fringe just where they hug up to my hoof, and I got several pairs the same, they're parked close to the kitchen roof. Now is there any chance at all that fashions comin' in this spring will say as how that bit of fringe is just the proper sort of thing?

There's lots more things I'd like to know, but when you're done these three or four, I'll grasp the pen within my fist and start in askin' you some more.—ARK.

Fighting For Life

Brer Coon, Sought For His Fur, Has Had a Real Struggle For Existence—Not Much Known About the Habits of This Animal.

By D. LANGE.

ANYONE who has not lost all sympathy with the humble folk in fur and feathers cannot help feeling some admiration for Brer Coon for the way he has fought and held his own in the battle for existence.

Before the world war, some 380,000 coon skins reached the fur trade annually, which means the killing of at least 400,000 annually.

During the three years of fabulously high prices of fur immediately following the world war, the number of coon skins handled by the fur trade reached the immense total of 1,713,700 for the years 1919 to 1921, an annual catch of 428,425. The total number of coons killed during these years of destruction must have come close to half a million a year.

An animal that can keep its hold on life in the face of such destruction deserves our admiration and protection.

Indeed the time is here when all our fur-bearers must be given rational protection or the fur trade will destroy itself.

It should be illegal to cut down a tree to catch a family of coons, and it should be illegal to drive them out by the use of fire. Hollow trees, the natural shelter for many forms of wild life, are getting scarce enough without intentional ruthless destruction.

Fortunately the coon will make use of other shelter, if the regulation hollow tree of his ancestors cannot be found. He will accept a hollow log lying on the ground, or a crevice in a rocky cliff; in fact any kind of shelter, where he can sleep through the very cold season of winter. But Thompson Seton thinks that he will not use a hole in the ground.

When Mr. Coon Dines.

THE coon's favorite summer food is corn in the milk, and the species is moving northward with the spread of settlements into the northern pine regions.

It is surprising how little is known of the life history of this common animal. According to Seton, it is not known when they mate, nor whether the parents ever carry food to the young. It is probable that a pair remains mated for life, but we have no absolute knowledge on this point.

In Germany the coon is called Waschbaer, in reference to his curious fixed habit of sousing his food in water before eating it. The coon gathers much of his food in shallow water, such as frogs, crawfish, stranded fish, and probably clams. Very likely he acquired the habit of rinsing the mud and sand off his aquatic prey before he ate it. This habit has become so fixed that a captive coon will souse a piece of meat, whether the meat needs washing or not.

Esseepan, as the Chippewa Indians call him, is not a very profound winter sleeper. In the south he is active all winter, and in this latitude his tracks may be found on the snow in March or on the mud along river banks and lake shores long before the ice has melted on the lakes.

The animals are naturally nocturnal, and are seldom seen in the daytime, and this habit has undoubtedly contributed to the preservation of the species.

Editorial Opinion

REAL WEALTH IN INDUSTRY.

(From the Vancouver Sun)

FORTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS' worth of minerals were dug out of the ground of British Columbia during 1924, according to the report of the minister of mines.

If that $45,000,000 worth of minerals had been smelted and manufactured in British Columbia they would have been worth five times as much to the province.

But instead of providing work for Canadian workmen, prosperity for Canadian business and activity for Canadian industry, those minerals poured in a steady stream over the American border and enriched American institutions.

For every dollar Canada makes out of Canadian natural resources, the United States makes from three to five dollars.

And in that fact is the real reason why Canada is lagging behind while the United States is forging ahead.

The production of raw material is only a minor part of the economic cycle that creates national wealth.

And if Canada is to prosper, those raw materials must stay in Canada and be manufactured in Canada by Canadian industry and Canadian brains.

PRIZES IN BUSINESS.

(From the Ottawa Journal)

THE CANADIAN BANKERS' ASSOCIATION has awarded the D. R. Wilkie scholarship of $100 to Mr. K. A. Clarke, a young teller in the branch of the Royal Bank at Halifax. Mr. Clarke's winning essay in a wide competition was on "The collection department; best method of making it serviceable to the customer and profitable to the bank." The Royal Bank has doubled the prize, but its recognition will probably not stop there, because Mr. Clarke's essay reveals an intimate knowledge of bank practice indicating that he both likes and studies his work.

The Journal refers to it because in these days comparatively few young men seem to take that attitude toward their business employment. Some day those few will wonder why it was so easy for them to succeed among the crowd seeking preferment.

It is all very well to say that the world owes every man a living; but the places at the top in all lines of endeavor are secured by hard work and efficiency born of intensive study.

Should Use the Service.

The bacteriological department of the O. A. C. in 1924 examined 85 samples of well water, and found 70 of that number contaminated. The total of examinations, 85 in all, shows that advantage of the free facilities for doing this work is not being utilized to any extent.

The wonder is that there were not ten or twenty times that number of samples of well water sent in for examination.

Drinking water that is polluted is too dangerous a thing to play with.

HARDY AGAIN CHOSEN ONTARIO LIBERAL HEAD

Brockville Senator Returned To Office at Annual Meeting of Association.

LITTLE IS ELECTED

Londoner Picked As Vice-President—Women Confident of Success.

Special to The Advertiser.
By Staff Reporter.

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Senator A. C. Hardy of Brockville was unanimously re-elected president of the Ontario Liberal association here today. His return to office met with a very cordial reception at the hands of the convention.

When it came to the question of the four vice-presidents, the claims of the north country were heard and vigorously voiced by delegates from New Ontario. After some discussion, A. J. Young, a northerner, now resident in Toronto, the original nominee of the men from the north, was elected. Other vice-presidents are; James H. Spence of Toronto, E. S. Little of London, and Mrs. A. H. Beaton of Toronto.

In the case of the London representative, J. C. Elliott, K.C., ex-M.L.A, was nominated. Mr. Elliott, however, withdrew in favor of E. S. Little, who was absent, stating that he did not wish to oppose a representative whose services to the cause had been valuable, and who had already been an officer of the association.

Other Officers.

Among the resolutions introduced at the last session of the convention was one expressing appreciation of the services rendered Liberalism by the late Hartley Dewart, K.C. A silent standing vote was passed in token of respect to the leader who had passed on. Senator Hardy paying an eulogistic tribute to the work of Mr. Dewart in asking for the standing motion by the meeting.

Other resolutions included one of confidence in the prime minister, presented by the Women's Liberal association of Ontario, a similar one with respect to W. E. N. Sinclair, leader of the provincial Liberal party, and a resolution from the women indorsing the minimum wage act, one of the achievements of the King administration, and urging that it should be most vigorously enforced, and the penalties for its infractions strictly imposed.

Miss Isabel Armstrong, director of the Women's division of the National Liberal bureau, made an appeal for more interest by Liberals throughout the province in the publicity of the party. She had a large exhibition of books and pamphlets on view, and asked every representative to send in the names of secretaries and all interested Liberals in their districts to her department at Ottawa, so that the latest literature of the party might be sent out, and rank and file kept up-to-date with each phase of the government's activities.

May Serve Full Term.

That the dominion government is preparing to complete its full term, but will not hesitate to appeal to the country at an earlier date should its legislative program be hampered in the House of Commons, was the declaration of Premier King when he addressed the association. He appealed for a closing of all breaches in the party and for a blotting out of past differences.

Mr. King won applause by his declaration that the Liberal party was broad enough to include all those opposed to Toryism, and forecast the return of the present government at the next federal elections. He said there was every reason to believe that the Ontario Liberals had taken a new heart.

Hon. Thomas Low, minister of trade and commerce, speaking at the afternoon session, said that West Hastings had been won by the capable leadership of the Liberal party plus a good candidate. He took Toronto Liberals to task for being divided, and declared that if they were a united family there was no reason in the world why Toronto should remain a solid Tory center. In a brief review of Canadian financial history, he declared that Canada today had a trade balance on the right side, and maintained that last year there had been a surplus of receipts over expenditures.

of London, who was elected a vice-president of the Ontario Liberal association at the annual meeting yesterday in Toronto.

SLEIGH ROPE CHOKES LITTLE BOY TO DEATH

Mother Finds Hamilton Lad Dead in Snow Hut.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Hamilton, Jan. 13.—A pathetic tragedy of winter sport robbed Ernest and Mrs. Callowhill, 142 Graham avenue, of their little boy, Wray, 5½ years, this morning. The little chap started out with his sleigh to play. Soon after, missing his merry shouts, the anxious mother found him dead in a snow hut he had previously built when the snow was soft.

Around the boy's neck was tightly wound the rope of his sled. On the box of the sleigh were blood spots. Evidently the lad had put the rope over his shoulders and under his neck as he crawled through the narrow, low passage into the hut. How he got so tangled up in the rope that it choked him to death is a mystery, but one theory is that he may have struck his head violently against the roof of the little "igloo."

THE GREAT BEEF ECONOMY

To Executives and Salesmen

"How I sell busy executives"

A remarkably successful salesman says:—"Never call on a prospect you don't know without first calling him on the telephone to make an appointment." Here are his three reasons:—

1. "To secure an appointment, I must know something about the man, and plan what I am going to say to him. I talk to him about his business, not about my own.
2. "Having the lead in the conversation, I can ask questions to which he will answer 'Yes'. They are of such a nature that he invites me to call—the best possible introduction.
3. "With an interview arranged for, I then carefully study my proposition, and how I intend to present it. 99% of my sales are made in this way."

Planning the conversation before lifting the receiver off the hook is the essence of success in making sales by telephone. It makes better, more productive salesmen. Selling by telephone is an art capable of unlimited development.

PETERBORO SENIOR SEXTET WALLOPS PARKDALE 7 TO 2

Hang Up Third Straight Victory in O. H. A. Series.

PADDLERS SHADED

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Jan. 13.—Peterboro outskated and outplayed Parkdale C. C. tonight, and defeated the Paddlers, 7 to 2, in a fast and spectacular game of hockey. It was the third consecutive win in the senior O. H. A. series for the Petes and their eighth straight victory of this season. Parkdale was beaten by a better-balanced team, and the further the game went the better the Petes got. They were skating faster on end than at the start, and the opening period was a sizzler. The Paddlers overcame Peterboro's early two-goal lead and tied the score, only to have their opponents bulge the twine for five straight goals, three of them coming in the final period, when the winners were all over the Toronto team.

The largest crowd to see an amateur fixture this season turned out, but the game deserved a packed house. Speed, beautiful stick-handling, combination and checking were the features.

The teams:

Summary:

First period—1, Peterboro, Parker, 7:00; 2, Peterboro, Ranger, 8:00; 3, Parkdale, Cawkell, 2:00.

Second period—4, Parkdale, Jeffrey, 5:00; 5, Peterboro, Bailey (Rose), 4:00; 6, Peterboro, McLeod, 10:00.

WINDSOR MAROONS BEAT TUNNEL CITY SIX

Desperate Sarnia Rally in Final Frame Meets Failure.

Special to The Advertiser.

Windsor, Jan. 13.—Windsor Maroons, playing in the O. H. A. intermediate group, administered a decisive waliop to the hopes of Sarnia by defeating the up-river team here tonight by a score of 4 to 1. Nearly a thousand fans saw the game, which proved Windsor's second victory over Sarnia in as many contests.

The visitors' play, while good in spots, was not up to old-time form. Windsor led from the start, and at the end of the second period the count was 3 to 1. A desperate rally in the final stage failed to alter the Sarnia score, but Windsor added another tally before the whistle sounded.

The line-up:

Referee—Sid Rankin, London.

There are some excellent awards offered, and the field of contesting rinks is large. Rinks have been entered from London, Chatham, Plattsville and many other centres.

WEIGHT ON BOTH FEET!

What is the best position of the feet with regard to the lie of a ball when driving? That is, should one stand with the ball opposite the left foot, the right foot, or the center of the body?

Answered by
BOB MacDONALD,
Veteran tournament player, winner of the Metropolitan open championship, 1921, 1923, and the Texas open championship, 1922. Famous the world over for his long-distance driving.

With a correct swing a ball can be hit any place along a two-foot line. The circumference described by the head of a club on a driving swing is a very large one. Consequently the distance from the club-head to the ground is almost the same along the two feet of its travel in which the ball may lie. Choose any of the three positions mentioned in the question, but be sure and keep the weight equally distributed on both feet.

SARNIA BASEBALL PLANS UNCERTAIN

Tunnel City Club Asks Different Grouping in Southern League.

Special to The Advertiser.

Sarnia, Jan. 13.—Just where the Sarnia seniors will function in the O. B. A. A. race next summer has not been settled yet by any means.

It is taken for granted that the blue and white will be back in the Southern counties next season with the chances of a different grouping very good.

But those close to the situation are not so sure of this. The Kent county authorities are said to be angling for the local club for a berth in their loop next season. It is reported that the St. Thomas seniors also are being counted on to strengthen the Kent loop along with Dresden, Chatham and Blenheim.

Sarnia is quite willing to remain in the Southern counties next season but will demand a different grouping. The teams in the group last year were not evenly enough balanced to maintain the district interest, and the attendance at district games was far from what was desired. If the locals can be grouped with London and St. Thomas the Kent county circuit will likely be passed up. This matter will be one of the things discussed at the boosters' meeting to be held Friday evening of this week.

Rickard Thinks Firpo Lost Hope

Says Luis Can Be Beaten by Six U. S. Fighters.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Jan. 13.—Tex Rickard is convinced that Luis Firpo of the Argentine is a lost hope. Firpo can be beaten by six men in this country, Rickard says, and not so long ago the same man declared that he believed the South American to be the only pugilist capable of giving champion Jack Dempsey a real fight. Better than Luis, in his opinion, are Charley Weinnert of New Jersey, Quintin Romero Rojas of Chile and Jack Renault of Montreal. Of course, Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills are rated above the Argentinian.

Rickard's selections are due for a test in Boston Feb. 16, when Romero and Weinert do battle for ten rounds. Then, when the outdoor season comes, Gibbons is expected to meet Wills, and the winner to face Dempsey.

ADD 32 NEW MEMBERS TO STRATHROY CURLING CLUB

Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy, Jan. 13.—At the annual meeting of the Strathroy curling club last evening it was decided to make a real effort to popularize the "roaring game" amongst the men of the town. The annual fees were lowered and thirty-two playing members secured. These were divided into eight rinks with the following skips: Dr. Wilmot, W. T. Rapley, R. M. Trueman, A. E. Gill, Dr. MacDougall, J. H. Sexton, D. H. Patterson and F. L. E. Evans. These rinks will commence on Thursday, Jan. 15, to play off a club tournament, with nightly games to finish the play-off on Feb. 6. Substantial prizes are being offered to the members of the winning team, and to the runners-up. The new president is Mr. D. H. Patterson, with F. W. Atkinson, secretary-treasurer, and W. A. Campbell, captain.

Manager Cornelius McGillicuddy of the Philadelphia American league baseball club has announced that he will leave with his battery men for the Athletics' southern training camp at Fort Myers, Florida, on February 22. A week later the regular infielders and outfielders will leave for the sounth and the entire squad is due at the camp by March 5. Last year the Athletics held their spring training at Montgomery, Ala. Bad weather prevented workouts on many days.

WEST END "Y" BASKETBALL TEAM.

Five of Toronto West End Y. M. C. A.'s crack senior basketball team, who for the past two years have won both the Ontario and Eastern Canadian championships, and who are leading the league this year. They will compete in the international tournament in Detroit in March. Left to right—Charlie Reaves, ace of Canadian basketball; Gord Fraser, defence; "Smiling" Joe Howard, defence; Jack Hutchison, substitute forward; Sidney Tyler, substitute center. The balance of the team is composed of Howard Mitchell, captain, Imrie Walker, Toots Lalonde, Carl Merner, Fred Hedges.

COURT CHATTER

By JUDGE

In officially opening the city ladies' basketball league at the east end town hall last night, Ald. Edwin Smith explained the stand of the city council as regards local basketball. He stated that the city fathers were all behind the sport, and that if the ladies required anything for the betterment of conditions they should not be afraid to approach any member of the council on the subject. The aim of the council seems to be for a bigger and better basketball season than ever before, and they are seeking to help by co-operation. One instance of this is their stand on the question of preparing the old Westminster rink for the cage game.

Without the services of their two star players, Wanless and Fitzmaurice, East C. I. made the Central cagers step in a "Wossa" fixture at Central last night to defeat them 17 to 3. The score by no means indicates the play, as the easterners were in on the dog-shots all the time, but the ball wouldn't go through the hoop. Barbour and Cook looked the best for Central while Rourke led the East C. I. attack.

University of Western Ontario Colleens took a fast game from the East C. I. girls, 25 to 14, at the Central C. I. gym last night. The fixture was close throughout, with the western ladies on the long end all the way. Marion Drew led her teammates, and shared the honors with Isabel Duncan in chalking up the points.

On Saturday Westervelt school will hold a basketball night at the Oxford street gym. Two games will be staged, the stenogs taking on the T. O. B.'s of St. Thomas, and the boys playing a scheduled O. A. B. A. juvenile fixture with the St. Thomas kids. After the games the players will be entertained at an informal dance.

Harris Saw Only Donie Bush In Tigers' Exhibition Game

Bucky Despaired of Ever Being Able To Emulate His Hero.

ADVICE HELPED

Chapter 10—Needed Encouragement.
By STANLEY "BUCKY" HARRIS.

My first chance to see a major league team was a red letter day. Hughey Jennings and his Detroit Tigers were booked to play the Wilkesbarre club of the New York State league in an exhibition game. Weeks ahead of time I made plans to see the contest. My only fear was that weather, or something unforeseen, would prevent the game or keep me from getting to Wilkesbarre.

When the big day arrived I took the afternoon off at the colliery. This was in 1912. I was still an assistant weighmaster. My application for time off had been made weeks in advance. So had those of others in our district. Jennings was considered a home product in the valley. He was the baseball hero around Pittston. He had won three American League pennants, those of 1907, 1908 and 1909 although in the first two years the Chicago Cubs beat him in the world's series and the Pittsburg Pirates turned the trick on the Tigers in 1909.

Going to Wilkes-Barre I thought something would turn up at the last minute to keep me from seeing the game. I had visions of the train being derailed, of being hit by a street car in the city, spraining an ankle, or having a sudden shower come up out of the clear sky.

None of these gloomy forebodings came to pass. I found myself in a twenty-five cent seat a few minutes before the game started. In order to earn a half day's pay, I had had to make a close train connection. There probably wasn't a happier kid anywhere in the country that day or since.

Donie Bush, the star little shortstop of the Tigers, had a special attraction for me. He was one of the smallest men then playing in the majors. I remember thinking that I didn't have to attain an impossible growth to measure up to his size. That was before I saw him in action, however.

Before the game was half over I was spellbound. Donie roved all over his territory. He made seemingly impossible plays back of third base, came in like a flash on slow hit balls, started two beautiful double plays and rifled the ball across to first base with lightning-like speed and uncanny accuracy. He was a ball hawk if there ever was one.

Getting a Line on Myself.

Such playing was a revelation to me. It showed me how very crude and green I was. As long as that was the standard demanded of a big league shortstop I felt as if I never could make the grade. Little did I think as I sat there, a dazed and dazzled youngster, that I ever would be on the same club with Bush. And yet within ten years we were in Washington together. The next season I played under his management.

I was so interested in Bush that I didn't pay much attention to other Detroit players. He was the first shortstop at the top of his game I had ever seen. In those days I was playing shortstop and thought it my natural position, so I don't suppose it strange that I was so intent in watching a master hand perform. I neglected the other players.

As a matter of fact I don't even remember the score of the game, although Detroit won. Nor do Cobb, Veach or Crawford, and their doings that day stand out in my mind. Stars as they were, the sight of Donie Bush

BUCKY AT AGE OF 13.

This is the youngster who said that maybe he didn't weigh much, but he was going to show them some day and get into the big leagues. He did. Stanley Harris at the age of 13, as shown here, appeared to be on form about as unlikely-looking a prospect as ever picked up a bat in the backlot.

putting up a great exhibition attracted all my attention. I was looking upon a player I hoped some day to emulate.

I was a strangely gloomy boy, for one who had just seen his first big league club in action, on the train home. Tony Walsh found a seat beside me.

"Get your pocket picked?" he asked after a look at my face. "You act as if you'd been to a funeral instead of a rattling good ball game. Don't tell me you bet on Wilkesbarre!"

"Made me blue to see Bush work," I answered. "I know now I've been kidding myself thinking I'd some day be a big league shortstop. I didn't know they had to be that fast to get by. Gosh! He's a wonder. I'd give anything if I thought I ever could be half as good. Guess I'll pay more attention to work in the mine and less to baseball after this."

I Need Encouragement.

"Now, listen," Tony interrupted. "You're only a baby as ball players go. I don't know whether you'll ever have the real stuff or not. But don't quit. Don't turn yellow just because the job looks tough. Keep plugging away. If you don't make good, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing that you tried and didn't lie down."

"But, Tony, I can't ever hope to be as fast as Bush," I protested. "No use starting when you're licked beforehand."

"Licked, nothing!" Tony came back. "I'll bet Bush figured a few years back just as you're figuring now when he saw some oldtimer in action. Some day a kid like you'll run out of his job. A guy can do anything he sets his mind on, if he sets it firm enough, and hangs on like a bulldog."

That was pretty far fetched, perhaps, but Tony cheered me up a lot. I certainly needed encouragement. Seldom have a I been so down in the dumps. Before we reached home Tony talked me into the belief that I might, after all, become a major league shortstop when I grew up. He was then, and always when I needed him, a cheerful, good-natured, true friend. He was killed in the mines near Pittston before I led a big league pennant winner. But he lived to see me reach the majors and become manager of the Washington club.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE MAKES RULING ON PLAYERS

Men Drafted by Senior Team Still Eligible in Industrial Loop.

SCHEDULE DRAWN

The Manufacturers bill tonight will go on, though the knotty problem with which the loop wrestled yesterday at a special meeting almost threatened to wreck the circuit at various times during a two-hour discussion.

The league decided to amend the present rule barring O. H. A. players to read as follows: "All O. H. A. players participating in games as regulars are to be barred from the Manufacturers' league, but players drafted from the Manufacturers' league to O. H. A. teams will still be considered eligible.

The schedule was drafted also last night, and it will carry the teams through to March 18, when the first and second series winners will play off for the championship. It is hoped to obtain two nights at the arena during the week following March 18 for the play-off series. Next week the league switches its games to Tuesday night since the 75's have a Wednesday home game.

Tonight's bill has taken on added interest since the troubles of the loop have been cleared away and the teams now know exactly where they are at in regard to players drafted by the O. H. A. teams.

McClarys will not be wrecked, as it appeared they might be, with the loss of Roy and Archie McKay and George Arthurs, but will have a battle on their hands, nevertheless, with the C. N. R. crew. The Railroaders went nicely the last time out. Bell Telephone is rather an uncertain quantity. They've put up a much harder game than expected in each of their engagements and are improving. If the forwards play their positions and get some system to their scoring attempts, the Hello gang won't prove to be the league doormats.

Tommy Munro, who has been handling U. S. H. A. games and will be in London for the night while the U. S. teams are making their long jumps from east to west, will handle tonight's game.

The schedule is as follows:

Jan. 20—C. N. R. vs. Standard Drug; McClarys vs. Bell.

Jan. 28—Standard vs McClarys; C. N. R. vs. Bell.

Feb. —Standard vs Bell; C. N. R. vs. McClarys.

Second Series.

Feb. 11.—Bell vs. McClarys; C. N. R. vs. Standard.

Feb. 18—Bell vs. C. N. R.; Standard vs. McClarys.

Feb. 25—McClarys vs. C. N. R.; Bell vs. Standard Drug.

March 4—C. N. R. vs. Standard; McClarys vs. Bell.

March 11—Standard vs. McClarys; C. N. R. vs. Bell.

March 18—Standard vs. Bell; C. N. R. vs. McClarys.

STRATFORD MIDGETS DEFEAT TAVISTOCK

H. Huehn Knocked Unconscious in Collision With Classic City Player.

Special to The Advertiser.

Stratford, Jan. 13.—In one of the snappiest junior O. H. A. hockey tilts here in some time the Stratford Midgets tonight defeated Tavistock 3 to 2.

A regrettable accident occurred toward the close of the third period when H. Huehn of Tavistock and Wilson of Stratford collided while going after the puck. Both fell to the ice, the former striking his head with such force as to render him unconscious. He was attended by Drs. Cawthorpe and McTavish of Tavistock and Robertson of Stratford, and afterwards removed to the general hospital, where he was still unconscious at 11 o'clock.

Tavistock drew first blood at 9 minutes, Berlett notching the counter. With three minutes to go in the first frame Walton tied the score on a pass from Knechtel.

The Midgets forged ahead in the second frame, notching two goals and holding the visitors scoreless. Knechtel goth both tallies on lone rushes. With but a few minutes to go in the final frame Berlett got in another for Tavistock.

Knechtel, Stratford right wing, was the best player on the ice. Gordon also showed up well, and A. Gingras gave a good exhibition in goal. Huehn and Berlett were the pick of the visitors.

The teams:

Referee—Ferguson, Kitchener.

STRATFORD C. I. JUNIORS TAKE 5--0 WIN IN ST. MARYS

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Marys, Jan. 13.—The Stratford collegiate junior hockeyists won a decisive victory over the St. Marys kids by the score of 5 to 0 in a junior Wossa fixture here tonight. The visitors completely outclassed the local boys, although the game showed some good hockey. The return game will be played Thursday and the winners of this series will play the winner of the Mitchell-Seaforth series for group honors.

The line-up:

Stratford—Goal, F. Yeandle; defence, J. Fisher and D. Clark; center, F. Pigeon; forwards, D. Yeandle and Ferguson; subs, Smith and Makins.

St. Marys—Goal, Ready; defence, G. Sutherland and J. Anderson; center, J. White; forwards, J. Coupland and A. Jackson; subs, D. Jackson and J. McIntyre.

MONARCHS BLANK WATFORD SEXTET

Losing Team Crippled by Injuries To Several Players.

Special to The Advertiser.

Watford, Jan. 13.—Watford O. H. A. intermediates suffered their fourth consecutive loss in as many starts when they were defeated 3 to 0 by Windsor Monarchs here tonight.

The local boys certainly had an off-night, their playing being far below the standard they have maintained thus far. However, several of them are suffering from heavy colds and injuries, and as they were not in fit condition to take the ice they revealed true sportsmanship in their plucky effort. D. Trenouth, one of the strong defence men, was injured in the first period and forced to leave the game. Not only was their condition against them, but all the breaks seemed to go against them as well.

On the whole the game was clean, and the Monarchs certainly earned their victory. However, while the official score was 3 to 0, the local fans claim it should be 3 to 1, as the local boys put in one goal which the Windsor goal judge failed to see. Monarchs played the entire sixty minutes without substitutes. Hickey, Robson and Nunn showed up as the pick of the visitors.

The teams:

NOTHING IS TOO HARD FOR FINNISH MARVEL

Paavo Nurmi To Undertake Three Races in As Many Days.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Jan. 13.—No task seems too hard for Paavo Nurmi. He has imposed a heavy burden on himself this week by undertaking to run three distance races in three days, with intervening nights in a sleeping berth between here and Chicago.

Announcement was made last evening that he had filed an entry for the 2,000-metre run at the Fordham College games in the 22nd Regiment Armory Saturday.

This means that he will undertake what most track and field athletics would consider impossible.

He will face Willie Ritola and others at 3,000 metres at the Municipal athletic league games in Madison Square Garden on Thursday, and then take the train at once for Chicago to meet Joie Ray and others at one mile and three-quarters in that city on Friday evening.

Another wild rush for a train will land him back in this city in just about time, barring accidents and delays, to start in the 3,000-metre run at the Fordham games on Saturday.

The previous records for quick jumps was established by Joie Ray in 1923, when he ran a race in this city one evening, at Washington the following afternoon, and at Boston the following night.

Last year Ray also undertook the task of running two races in different cities on the same evening, here and in Philadelphia, winning both.

Here is Nurmi's proposed train schedule: Leave New York Thursday evening, 10:10 o'clock; arrive Chicago, 8:30 o'clock Friday evening; quick dash to Coliseum for race with Ray; leave Chicago 11 o'clock; arrive New York at 125th street, 9:50 o'clock Saturday evening, and taxi to 22nd Regiment Armory.

IMPS AND WESTERVELTS WIN OPENING NIGHT TILTS

City Ladies' Cage League Starts Off Season at East End Hall.

FIRST GAME CLOSE

The city ladies' basketball league was officially opened at the east end town hall last night with two fast fixtures, junior and senior. In the first engagement the Smallman & Ingram Imps scraped out ahead of the Latter Day Saints Orioles to the tune of 10 to 9, and in the major bout the Westervelt Stenogs trimmed the First Methodist lassies handily, 21 to 11.

In the absence of Mayor Wenige, Ald. Edwin Smith took on the duties of opening the loop, and, after a short speech, tossed up the first ball.

The mix between the Orioles and Imps was close, with the winner being uncertain throughout. A. Speiran was the best on the floor for the winners, running up a total of five points, while G. Timbrell captured the honors for the Orioles with two baskets.

The second game was of decidedly better calibre. Better combination and all-round playing featured, with the Stenogs in the lead at every pass of the game. Marion Hayden was the star for Westervelts with seven points, garnering them all on individual efforts. Her teammate, Hazel Aitken, was on the feeding end of the combinations, and, as a result, chalked up eleven points. Marg Mortimer was easily the best on the floor for the Methodists, getting five well-earned points.

The line-ups:

S. & I.—Forwards, S. Hill (3), A. Speiran (5); center, J. Walde; guards, M. Flaherty, M. Russell (2).

L. D. S.—Forwards, G. Timbrell (4), B. Ayres (2); center, A. Taylor (2); guards, M. Timbrell (1), E. Simpson; sub, M. Christie.

The suspension was the result of a match which the commission deemed "unsatisfactory." The bout was stopped by the referee at the end of the third round when, according to that official, it was apparent neither principal was trying.

TRUSHINSKI'S DRIVE WINS FOR HAMBURG

Guelph Intermediates Beaten 4--3 in Thirty Minutes Overtime.

Special to The Advertiser.

Guelph, Jan. 13.—With one minute to go in a game which extended into thirty minutes' overtime, "Snoozer" Trushinski carried New Hamburg to a 4 to 3 victory over Guelph intermediates tonight, when he let loose a long shot which slipped through Goalie Hayes' arm and flopped into the net for the winning tally.

The victory won by the visitors, which was their fourth straight, practically gives them the group honors. The splendid showing made by the Guelph team against the strong Hamburg outfit came as a big surprise, as the visitors are rated as one of the strongest sextets in the intermediate O. H. A. this winter. The orange and black turned in their best effort of the season, however, and not only had an equal share of the play, but showed better staying power than their opponents in the overtime session.

One of the features of the elongated contest was the brilliant exhibition of net guarding given by Alex. Hayes for Guelph. His saves were nothing short of remarkable. For New Hamburg, Trushinski and Hamel were outstanding, although Oliver, in goal, also did some brilliant work.

The teams:

New Hamburg—Goal, Oliver; defence, Leiderman and Trushinski; forwards, Roth, Bowman and Kavenfleisch; subs, Hamel and Berger.

Guelph—Goal, Hayes; defence, Woods and Brill; forwards, Leachman, Baker and Poole; subs, King and Barrett.

Referee—Geo. Hiller, Kitchener.

Young Britons Lose To Orioles

Junior City League Tilt Is Close Throughout.

Orioles took a close junior city fixture from the Young Britons 2 to 1 at the arena last night. The Young Britons trotted out a practically new team and gave the east enders a battle for the honors. Woods counted the two goals for the winners, tying the score up in the first period after Wong had slipped one past Biggs and winning the game in the second stanza, with three minutes to go. Neither team counted in the last period.

Orioles—Goal, Biggs; defence, Elwood and Bond; center, Tozer; wings, Woods and Wade; subs, Needham and Palmby.

Young Britons—Goal, Scott; defence, Johnston and Crawford; center, Cracknell; wings, Fitzmaurice and Sanford; sub, Wong.

The local students will play their first game in Sarnia on Wednesday night against the collegiate sextet, and the Sarnia team will play in Petrolia on Saturday afternoon. The winners of this series will play with the winners of the Parkhill and Exeter group.

Ralph Boges will referee the game

When the Chicago Nationals signed Mel Kerr of Saskatoon, Sask., recently they got more than a ball player. Kerr is an all-around athlete, a rugby player, track man, tennis player, basketball star, swimmer and fancy diver. In baseball he plays outfield or first base.

In his home town Kerr has been a member of six championship basketball teams, grabbed off individual honors at the Saskatchewan track meets in 1922 and 1923, and has gathered more than 100 medals, trophies and prizes for athletic prowess. He held the Saskatchewan singles tennis title two years.

On the Side Lines

—With C. S. G.

Landis' Task.

It looked very much from the testimony in the scandal case as if there were no "Directing Mind" behind O'Connell's silly blunder, but as if the thing all started in a joke. Only O'Connell and Sande, the bribee, didn't seem to possess a very keen sense of humor.

The testimony revealed only monosyllabic answers from those questioned. Not very bright answers they were either. Frankie Frisch, Fordham College graduate, didn't add much to the intelligence extracted from the questioning.

His longest contribution was: "Oh, yes, you always get a lot of kidding on a pennant contending team—always hear a lot of stuff like that."

It seems that the subjects chosen for levity among ball players are slightly perverted.

Not only does there not appear to be any directing mind behind baseball scandals, but very little mind of any sort.

* * * *

A Race Part.

Baseball players, both minor and major, are slightly different than the average run of people. Men in armies or exploration parties also become slightly different.

Ball players have stretches of conversation in a jargon that to the average person wouldn't mean a thing—almost a language of their own. Some are able to keep their ordinary outlook on life in general and remain normal, common-everyday sort of individuals, but they are in the vast minority.

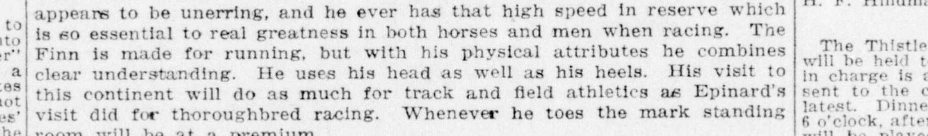

* * * *

Not All Heels.

Much has been written and said concerning Paavo Nurmi since his sensational races in Madison Square Garden last Tuesday evening. The big thrill came when he moved up to Joie Ray two laps from home in the one-mile race and, going to the front, won literally looking back. All records from one mile to 5,000 metres are at his mercy. Those who do not accept him as the greatest runner of all time are hard to convince.

Joie Ray has not gone back as so freely predicted after his sorry showing at the Olympic games. He broke his own world's record for the mile in chasing Nurmi to the wire. He used poor judgment in making his sprint so early, as he himself freely admitted, but in my opinion this made no difference. Nurmi would have won in any case. His judgment of pace appears to be unerring, and he ever has that high speed in reserve which is so essential to real greatness in both horses and men when racing. The Finn is made for running, but with his physical attributes he combines clear understanding. He uses his head as well as his heels. His visit to this continent will do as much for track and field athletics as Epinard's visit did for thoroughbred racing. Whenever he toes the mark standing room will be at a premium.

The 75's will do a drill this week. They are going to try and work up a little "battery fire" stuff for the Preston team. It isn't a bad idea.

They need this game even worse than Preston does.

It's about time the O. H. A. realized that if Bellefeuille were twins, this group wouldn't be any walk-away for any man's team.

HOCKEY REVIVAL SEEN IN BOSTON

Bruins' Better Showing Arouses Real Enthusiasm in Hub.

Associated Press Despatch.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 13.—Despite the defeat of the Boston Bruins last night by the Hamilton Tigers by a 4 to 2 score, it was the unanimous verdict of the Hub sport writers that professional hockey arrived in this city with that contest. When the Bruins took the champion Canadiens into camp in Montreal Saturday they aroused their followers here to their new possibilities, and last night's game, although lost by the home team, was an excellent performance. Some four thousand fans were present and there was not a dull minute.

The Herald said that truly, despite the defeat, professional hockey arrived last night. The crowd that turned out to see a local tail-ender play a leader was enthusiastic and demonstrative. Its magnitude showed just how popular the program is destined to be when the newly-built team gets into its stride, and its color and aggressiveness become known. In the opening period the Bruins appeared to be on the way to an easy victory. They out-skated, out-shot, out-passed and out-checked the men from over the line. They poked in two goals to none for the Tigers, and they came off the ice amid vociferous howls of delight from the crowd.

Hitchman, Benson and the other recruits on the new Bruin line-up came in for their due share of credit for the present-day showing of the team. As for the Tigers, Mickey Roach, the wandering Boston boy, is always hailed as a hero when he returns here to play. The Post says that Mickey Roach of the Hamilton Tigers has lost his welcome in this city. Boston fans don't care whether he ever comes back. He is the Boston Bruins' nemesis. Last night he again engineered a Hamilton Tiger rally to break a score of 2 all, scoring the third goal himself and assisting Bill Burch in the other.

Introducing four new men, the Bruins showed lack of familiarity with each other's style. As a consequence passes were over-skated or failed to reach, and the Tigers were quick to take advantage of such lapses.

ELECTRIC STOCKS DISPLAY STRENGTH

U. S. Steel Common Sags as Result of Profit-Taking Operations.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Jan. 14.—Commission house selling, apparently based on the belief that another technical reaction was warranted, contributed materially to the heaviness shown by many stocks during the morning. American Type Foundries broke 5 points, Denver and Rio Grande Western preferred 4¼, American Foreign Power (25 per cent paid) 4, and Omaha common 2½.

United States Steel common sagged to 124 before it met sufficient support to withstand the profit-taking in that issue. Electric stocks and a number of specialties, however, displayed independent strength, Buffalo and Susquehanna jumping 7 points and General Electric 4. American Hide and Leather preferred touched a new top at 75, up 3⅝, in reflection of a favorable New Jersey court decision.

A brisk demand for American Locomotive and Dupont, which touched new tops at 117½ and 145⅞ respectively, had a steadying effect on the general list around noon, with moderate recoveries under way in several popular issues.

Call money again renewed at 3 per cent.

FLOUR STOCK GOES DOWN, MONTREAL

Spanish River, Although Active, Closes With Half-Point Loss.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—This morning's stock market was dull, the majority of leaders receiving little attention, and the few that were in demand being practically unchanged.

The feature of the session was a sharp break in St. Lawrence Flour. After closing yesterday at 63 it appeared this morning down 1 point at 62, then dropped to 57½. A few more sales saw it touch 55¼, with a small lot changing hands at 55. The net loss was 7¾ points, but there were only a few transactions.

Spanish River was again the most active stock, closing down ½ point at 109, with the preferred selling ¼ off at 122. Abitibi, which is shortly expected to merge with Spanish River, was off 1¼ points at 64¾. The balance of the list was very quiet.

FLOUR

Montreal, Jan. 13. — Spring wheat grades of flour were advanced a further 10c per barrel, but business was extremely dull in this direction, owing to the small offering of winter wheat flour from Ontario millers. The tone was stronger, and prices were moved up 10c per barrel.

There was no change in the condition of the market for millfeed. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was fair, and prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Although wheat underwent an eary setback in price here today, the market soon scored an advance. At first the decline in quotations at Liverpool, together with continued selling here to realize pjrofits, acted as a weight on values. The Liverpool weakness was attributed to increasing offers from Argentina, but renewed speculative buying here quickly proved more than an offset. Chicago opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to ¼c lower, were fololwed by a moderate general down turn and then by a sharp ascent to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn and oats were responsive to the changes in wheat. After opening ⅛c to ¼c lower, the corn market sagged a bit more and then made material gains.

Oats started ¼c to ⅝c off, and eased down somewhat further. Later all months showed an advance.

Futures opened:

Wheat—May, $1.85¾; July, $1.56¾.

Corn—May, $1.30⅛; July, $1.31.

Oats—May, 62c; July, 61⅞c.

Coupled with this good news it is announced that there will be no lay-offs during 1925 as far as is known. Superintendent John Roberts states that unless business becomes suddenly worse or some unknown situation arises, the men will be taken back steadily and there will be no further layoffs.

MEN ARE CROWDED IN TO SECURE PAY CHECKS

Men employed on civic relief work have to be paid in the narrow hall adjacent to the main stairway at the city hall. This morning the steps and hall were jammed tightly with workmen who had come to await their pay envelopes.

The jamming of the corridor was so great that other folk had difficulty in getting in and out of the building. Officials explained that since the basement is being used by the G. W. V. A. it is not possible to pay the men there. The hallway is the only place available for disposing of the pay roll.

After Mrs. Donaldson had given the girls some idea of their special work in connection with the W. A., they had the privilege of meeting her.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were given, and in the past four years the guild has paid off $3,643 of the mortgage on the church, reducing that mortgage to $2,00. Both reports were very gratifying and the balance in the treasury is $1,179.46. The election of the new officers was a feature if the meeting, with the following result: honorary president, Mrs. A. ASKIN STREET M. C.

The regular monthly meeting of the senior mission circle of the Askin street Methodist church was held last night in the junior school room of the church. The meeting was well attended. Miss Myrtle Foster read the Scripture lesson, after which the rest fund collection was taken. It was decided by the members to observe the week beginning Sunday, Jan. 18, as a special "self denial" week, when each member will deny herself something to help along the mission work. Two delightful solos were given, one by Mrs. George Hammond, and the other by Miss Freida Dobbyn. The temperance convener, Miss Howson, read an interesting report on "The Plebiscite Conditions in Ontario and Quebec." Miss Edith Dunn, convener of the Christian stewardship department, read an article on the importance of giving one's time and service, as well as one's money, to missions.

The feature of the meeting, however, was a most interesting talk given by Miss Edna Lancaster, president of the mission circle of the Centennial Methodist church. With the aid of a map of Canada, on which all the Methodist mission stations were marked, Miss Lancaster gave a short sketch of the work that is being done in Canada, giving an interesting item in connection with each station, which helped to make the missionary work more familiar to the circle.

Plans were also discussed for a pie social, which is to be held on Feb. 24, under the auspices of the A. Y. P. A., with Mrs. W. Prevost as convener. George Farr, the president, occupied the chair.

CHARLES RUBY.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, held at the head office in Waterloo on the ninth instant, the general manager, Charles Ruby, was appointed a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of E. P. Clement, K.C. Mr. Ruby was also appointed a member of the executive committee of the board.

The appointment will be popular with the home office staff, the field force and the policyholders, all of whom have learned to know Mr. Ruby during his lifelong connection with the company.

Mr. Ruby has served the policyholders of the Mutual Life for nearly 41 years. He entered the service of the company in 1884, was made actuary in 1902, secretary in 1907, and general manager in 1918.

Local Market

Because of the condition of the country roads, which are in worse shape than they have been for a number of years, no hay appeared on the local market. The snowstorm Tuesday night, together with the high winds, quickly drifted the roads and made it impossible for many farmers to venture from their homes. The price at the present time continues at $10 to $13 a ton.

The scarcity of oats is becoming serious and buyers are facing extreme difficulties in getting their orders filled. The price is now quoted at $1.60 a cwt.

Wheat is also scarce, but the demand is not so great. This grain is bringing $1.60 a bushel. None was brought to the city this morning.

London township hucksters also seem to be evading the local market as none have been noticed for the last two or three days.

No produce either in regard to vegetables or fruit was offered, and few buyers availed themselves to come to the square.

Live hogs remain unchanged at $9.25 a cwt., and from $12 to $12.50 a cwt., for the dressed variety.

Butter and eggs are steady, although the demand for dairy butter is very slow.

Health and good looks
—the reward of internal cleanliness.

IF YOU do not keep clean internally your looks and health are undermined together. A clogged intestine breeds poisons that reach every part of the body. These poisons ruin the complexion and undermine health. Constipation brings on such ailments as headaches, bilious attacks and insomnia, each of which saps your health and vitality.

Avoid Laxatives—say Doctors

Laxatives and cathartics do not overcome constipation, says a noted authority, but by their continued use tend only to aggravate the condition.

Medical science has found at last in lubrication a means of overcoming constipation. The gentle lubricant, Nujol, penetrates and softens the hard food waste and thus hastens its passage through and out of the body. Nujol is not a medicine or laxative and cannot gripe. Like pure water, it is harmless.

WORK ON OLD RINK PENDS AGREEMENT

Expenditure On Westminster Structure Would Be Double Amount Authorized.

Expenditure for improvements at the old Westminster rink are being held up, pending the signing of an agreement by basketball representatives with the city concerning the management and upkeep of the building.

Discussing the mooted expenditure of $1,000 on this structure, No. 2 committee of the city council last night at its opening meeting of the year decided to await fuller reports on the matter before authorizing Engineer Near to go on with the work.

Engineer W. P. Near and Chairman Bottrill stated that they visited the Westminster rink yesterday afternoon. They found conditions there to be such as to not justify any work unless it were complete. Flooring, roof repairs, lighting, heating nad seating accommodation would run up a bill of $2,000, Mr. Near said. The council had authorized spending of $1,000 only. While the aldermen were generally in favor of securing accommodation for the sporting organizations, they felt, as the chairman said, that it was like tossing $1,000 in the mud.

Agreement Asked.

The committee requested that an agreement be made with the representatives of basketball leagues for the provision of funds to augment the city's grant and to determine the management of the building after it is turned over for use as a basketball gymnasium.

Last night's opening session found all members present. Ald. Bottrill taking his place as the chairman of the new committee. The mayor's inaugurals, business left over from 1924 and other matters provided much material for a crowded two-hour discussion. Co-operation was evident, and there was no bickering or hard feeling shown at any time.

Street naming and numbering was discussed and, on recommendation, 550 new name plates for city streets were ordered. This follows up the purchase last year of 600 new plates. Recommendation was also made, on the suggestion of the mayor, that houses be renumbered and that uniform numerals be secured and distributed by the building inspector's department.

Offices of the health department and the Children's Aid society at the city hall will be renovated, similarly to the recent improvements in the council chambers and other rooms.

Seek Extension.

Woodman avenue residents petitioned for an extension of their agreement to pay local improvement costs of opening up their street. Their agreement now is for ten years. A 20-year agreement is wanted. The engineer explained that there was little difference in the payments, but stated that he would provide a report on costs and that the matter could be included in the city of London bill.

Notice was received from the provincial department of highways that provision has been made in the motor vehicles act to require drivers of motor vehicles to sound a warning signal when emerging from a laneway, alley, stable or garage and to pass sidewalks at a rate of speed not faster than a walk. This is in accordance with the request of Ald. Towe's traffic committee of last year for legislation.

Tax Rate Is Talked.

Many items from the mayor's inaugural address were read and passed on to the council. It was requested that early preparations be made for the striking of the tax rate, and the first council meeting in February will likely see committee estimates provided.

Ald. James McCormick stated that he could secure a petition from Stanley street citizens for widening of the street and thereby overcome objection which had been raised concerning the narrowness of this important thoroughfare.

The mayor secured some support on his motion to abolish committees of the council, and it was finally passed on to the council with the recommendation that the scheme be given a month's trial. Ald. Ashton believed that the appointment of special committees throughout the year would prove the undoing of the scheme, and City Clerk Baker, when asked for an opinion, expressed a somewhat similar view. Ald. McCormick and Chairman Bottrill were also opposed.

DEATH OF PHYSICIAN MOURNED BY TRUST

Dr. W. M. Shoebotham Was Former Member of Victoria Staff.

A motion of extreme regret at the death of Dr. W. M. Shoebotham yesterday was passed by members of the Victoria hospital trust at a meeting last night. Dr. Shoebotham was a former member of Victoria hospital staff. A letter of condolence will be sent his surviving relatives.

The death of the prominent London physician is also mourned by four of his university classmates, who are practicing in London: Drs. L. H. Douglass, P. L. Banghart, Herman Schaef, and D. J. McLean graduated with Dr. Shoebotham from the Western university in 1905. A message of sympathy to Mrs. Mayer, sister of the deceased, will be sent, and Dr. Douglass was appointed to represent the class at the funeral.

PARALYTIC STROKE LEAVES WOMAN BEREFT OF SPEECH

While on her way to London Christmas Day, Mrs. D. J. Gladstone of Guelph suffered a paralytic stroke, and was removed to the general hospital in Stratford, where she has been since. With her husband she was coming to visit Mrs. T. Shaw and other relatives in London. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone were in the city at the time of the funeral of the late Thomas Shaw. Before removing to Guelph they were living for some years near Highgate. Reports from Stratford today are that Mrs. Gladstone is resting quietly there, but has so far been unable to speak or move. As soon as the doctors consider it possible to do so, she will be removed to her home in Guelph.

COLONEL GARTSHORE NAMED HOSPITAL TRUST CHAIRMAN

TRUSTEES PLEASED

A record of progress eclipsing that of former years is reflected in the annual report of Victoria hospital submitted to members of the hospital trust at last night's annual meeting.

Although the city's appropriation to the hospital was reduced by $10,000 for last year, 1924 was concluded with a slight surplus. Despite the surplus, however, many improvements have been incorporated. The past year is regarded by the trust members as probably the most satisfactory in the hospital's history.

Gartshore Elected.

Colonel William M. Gartshore was appointed chairman of the trust for 1925 upon the retirement of James Gray, who has held that position for the past two years.

The year's work was reviewed by Mr. Gray.

On May 12 of last year Victoria Hospital instituted in London a "Hospital Day," held on Florence Nightingale's birthday. This has now become a recognized day in Canadian hospitals for the public inspection of the different institutions. It will be held again in London in May of this year.

During the year the hospital laundry equipment was overhauled and new equipment installed. Better housing conditions for student nurses were obtained with the securing of the old Colborne street school building and the old McClary home as temporary quarters.

The tunnel project whereby transportation problems would be alleviated and a more economical heating system installed, was commenced, and it is the expectation of trust members that this work will be completed in the early part of this year.

Letters received at last night's meeting from City Engineer Near revealed that the tunnel could be built, exclusive of heating, for $8,000. The total cost of the completed tunnel, however, would amount to about $20,000.

Thanks Members.

Following Mr. Gray's summary of the year's work, he thanked the trust members for their co-operative spirit during 1924 in making the year one of record.

Miss Margaret Fleming, graduate of McGill University was appointed as masseuse at the hospital, her duties to commence on Jan. 12. She will have charge of demonstrations to pupil nurses and will be available for massaging of patients.

Superintendent Dr. Clegg's report for the month showed that 296 patients had been admitted to the hospital during December. Births, which were 25 in number, exceeded deaths by 14. More than 414 patients received treatment at the free dispensary, and 79 children were attended to at the Children's War Memorial hospital.

FIRST VESTRY SESSION PLANNED FOR TONIGHT

New Church of the Resurrection Will Elect Year's Officers.

Members of the new Church of the Resurrection, Knollwood park, hold their first vestry meeting tonight, when church wardens, sidesmen, vestry clerk and lay delegates will be named. This is the first business meeting of these church folks since the new church was officially dedicated and a big attendance is looked for. Membership has been decided for voting purposes by pledges to the building fund.

The new church is a frame structure, built entirely by the adherents of the church themselves during the past year. It will seat 200 people and is expected to fill the needs of Anglican people in Knollwood park for some years to come.

Prof. Anderson of Huron college, has consented to act as rector of the parish until the church makes a permanent appointment. He will take charge of services on Sunday.

St. David's Team Hits Faster Clip

Comes From Behind to Defeat C. N. R. 67--62.

Ever since the sporting parson, Rev. Roy Mess, got back into the city carpetball games, St. David's have been going great guns. After beating St. Andrew's I., they turned in a great victory against the fast C. N. R. six, coming from behind in the last two frames and winning out by five shots. St. George's suffered another reverse, this time at the hands of Pine Grove W. O. W., who stole in eight shots in the last frame, to win out by two. St. Andrew's II. started the new year right by sending down the C. N. R. Vets to a heavy defeat, while the L. O. L. did the same to the K. of P., who seem to be running in hard luck, although their average is equal to the top teams. The Letter Carriers did well to hold the Sergeants' Mess, whom they defeated in the end by nine shots.

W. A. TREASURER SPEAKS IN LONDON

Mrs. Donaldson Gives Reasons For Formation of Auxiliaries.

The members of the women's auxiliary of St. James' Anglican church were most fortunate yesterday afternoon, when they had the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Donaldson, the dominion treasurer of the W. A., who spoke to them on the opportunity of the work of the W. A. and of its aims. Mrs. Abey, the president, was in the chair.

In telling of the work of the auxiliary, she emphasized the fact that the work is exclusively for women. The old ideas of missionary work was the sewing of rag carpets and the making of petticoats, but the day has passed since these "frumps." Still, they were the beginning, and it is from them that the women's auxiliary has expanded.

Mrs. Donaldson stated that all this work is supported and carried on by the women's missionary societies of the Anglican churches of Canada. The W. A. alone does this great work, as the men of the church only look after the needs of the men in the foreign fields.

Why a W. A.?

In answering the question, "Why is there a woman's auxiliary?" Mrs. Donaldson said that the fathers of the past forgot about women, and in their work among the foreigner and heathen, the need of the woman was overlooked.

The church did not realize then that the woman had no future, but it sees now that there is no light in the women's world unless the women of the church lead the way. This is why the women's auxiliary has been formed.

In giving a brief outline of the W. A., Mrs. Donaldson described it as a candle, once in a corner shedding a feeble ray, but now it has burst into flame and is helping to light the world for women. In the forty years that this organization has existed, from a very small percentage the work has grown until now the W. A. does 43 per cent of the work, formerly done by the men.

Canada's Responsibility.

Mrs. Donaldson spoke of the foreign mission fields, and said that there was a tremendous responsibility in connection with this work for the women of Canada.

In speaking of the Canadian field, the speaker gave a short sketch of the work done, and the need of more work to be done. The work of the women had been entirely handed over to the missionary society of the Anglican church. It was up to the W. A. to support this work and carry it on.

Mrs. Donaldson also spoke of the work among the Orientals in British Columbia. Eight thousand dollars would be spent this year in helping them. There was also work to be done among the white settlers on the prairies, and the W. A. must come face to face with this problem.

Christianity is the hope of the country. It is a personal responsibility and it comes down to the question whether the W. A. is going to acknowledge Christian stewardship or disregard it.

VISITS FIRE CHIEF.

Fire Chief A. S. Kappelle of Stratford was a visitor in London for a short time last night and called on Chief Aitken and members of the local force. The Stratford chief is one of the outstanding leaders in the Knights of Pythias, and was on his way to attend a ceremony in St. Thomas.

WOMEN BORN 1873 TO 1881

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"A Blessing To Suffering Women," Writes Mrs. McPeak

Louisville, Illinois.—"I certainly thank you for the great benefit I have received from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I first learned about it from my step-mother who got so much help from it. Several years ago I took it for inward weakness, and since then I have taken it during the Change of Life and it has been a great help to me. It certainly is a blessing to suffering women and I take pleasure in recommending it. My health has been better this summer than it has been for five years. I am now able to do all my work and have canned 340 quarts of fruit and vegetables this summer."—Mrs. KATE McPEAK, Louisville, Illinois.

Wants Letter Used As Proof

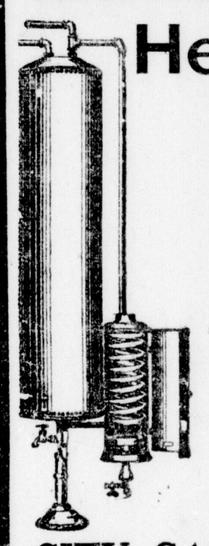

Frankford, Pa.—"I am sure if women who suffer through the Change of Life as I have, with hot flashes, nervousness, and other weaknesses, would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial they would be benefited as I was. My nerves were so bad that every little noise made me jump, but now I am not bothered that way at all. My husband says he reall, hated to look at me I looked so miserable. I hope you will use this letter as proof of the help the Vegetable Compound is giving me."—Mrs. ABBIE HARVEY, 5701 Leonard St., Frankford, Phila., Pa.

Forced To Remain In Bed

Carlyle, Illinois.—"During the Change of Life I suffered with severe nervousness and with disturbances of the entire system. These continued probably two years before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I could do none of my work and was not always able to be up. For ten days at a time I was forced to remain in bed with my hips propped higher than my head and the pains were terrible. The doctor helped me some, but each time I was forced to go over the same suffering. I had taken the Vegetable Compound in 1910 after my twins were born and it had helped me so I decided to try it again. I became better and gained in strength. I have taken it for about three years now, but not steadily. I am able to do my housework, but I avoid all heavy lifting, and washing and ironing, as I know I am not strong enough yet. I give the Vegetable Compound to my daughters and recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. LOUISA B. BRAND, 450 Fairfax Street, Carlyle, Illinois.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 220,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 reported they had been benefited by its use. C

FAMINE EXAGGERATED, JAPANESE GOVT. SAY[S]

Tokio, Jan. 14.—Seoul, Korea, reports, that have been circulated to the effect that three million persons are famine stricken, are greatly exaggerated, according to announcement yesterday in government circles. While admitting the existence of famine conditions in Korea, due to the failure of the rice crop, government officials are inclined to minimize reports of suffering. Adequate relief measures have been taken, it is said.

THE GUMPS—THE MUDSLINGERS

Different Effects of Constipation

Whether to Banish Pimples or to Get Rid of Poisoning Bowel Impactions There's Nothing Equal to Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Your effort to get rid of constipation must contemplate more than a violent purging of the bowels. Such an effort removes neither cause nor effect of the condition. Your best course is to take two to four Stuart's Calcium Wafers and let them operate throughout the intestinal tract. Thus they will get into the blood, the calcium sulphide will stimulate secretions to overcome the poisons that show up in the skin. It will influence liver secretions to provide the substance that overcomes other poisons in the intestines.

Thus you not only empty the lower bowel but you break up accumulations higher up, stimulate muscular action all along the line, stop your headaches by getting poisons out of the blood and your skin improves so noticeably as to be positive evidence of the thorough action of these remarkable Calcium Wafers. Be sure to get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Keep using them for ten days and you will then realize that constipation, while only a condition in itself, was the cause of about all the distresses you experienced from month to month.

Send your name and address to F. A. Stuart Co., 655 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., and a convincing free sample package of these wafers will be sent to you by return mail.

Beauty

A Gleamy Mass of Hair

35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair

You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.—Advt.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

JAMES J. DAVIS TO REMAIN IN CABINET AT WASHINGTON

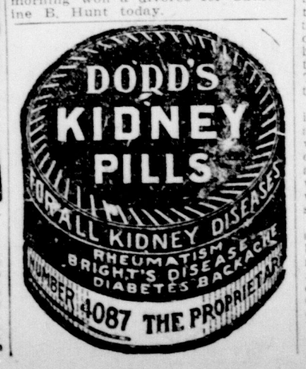

Special to The Advertiser.

Washington, Jan. 13. — James J. Davis, secretary of labor, has withdrawn his tentative resignation, submitted some time ago, and will remain in the cabinet. It was announced at the White House today.

GRANTED DIVORCE.

Detroit, Jan. 13.— Testimony revealing practical pranks of her husband such as jerking the bed covers off and pouring a pitcher of cold water on her at 3 o'clock in the morning won a divorce for Catherine B. Hunt today.

CANADA THEATRES MAY JOIN BIG INTERNATIONAL MERGER

Present Coalition Includes Britain, United States, Australia and South Africa.

EXCHANGE PLAYS

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Jan. 13.—Organization of a vast coalition of British, United States, Australian and South African theatrical interests to "make possible the production of, and the interchange of plays throughout the world" has been completed, it was learned here today. Negotiations to include the Trans-Canada Theatres Limited in the combination are under way.

The coalition, completed in London, is considered the wealthiest combination ever organized in the theatrical world. It does not represent a fusion of capital, but is intended rather as an international exchange through which the greatest plays and players will be seen in the countries represented in the merger.

John Golden, New York producer, and one of the members of the combination, said the shareholders in the merger are Sir George Tallis, J. A. E. Malone and William Gaunt of London; Winchell Smith, A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham, Joseph P. Bickerton, and Mr. Golden, all of New York. The J. C. Williamson, Australian, and the Schlesinger, South African, theatrical interests are connected through a subsidiary corporation.

The Williamson and Tait interests, the wealthiest and most important theatrically in Australia, are represented in the combination by Sir George Tallis, their London representative.

Wembley Show Faces Failure

By J. E. POOLE.
Special Cable to The Advertiser.

London, Jan. 13.—The Daily Chronicle today declares that unless decisive action is taken at once the British Empire exhibition at Wembley in 1925 may prove a disastrous failure. It adds that no provisions have yet been made for the catering. The palace of engineering still awaits its exhibits, as the Big Three association still holds aloof. The officials of the various dominion governments are still marking time in regard to Wembley, but meanwhile much has been done in the way of improving the grounds.

SIR JOHN AIRD LOOKS FOR BETTER BUSINESS

Bank President Says Improvement Will Be Slow, But Sure.

Toronto, Jan. 13.—"Surely we may look for a gradual, if slow, improvement, and we confidently hope that its coming is not to be much longer deferred," said Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, summing up his opinion of Canada's financial and business outlook for the year, at the annual general meeting of the shareholders of the bank here today.

Sir John called attention to the fact that commercial failures in Canada had decreased, there had been a great harvest, and the "maladjustment of the farmers' position has been largely corrected."

Referring to the burden laid on industry by the taxation for the cost of the war, the president said: "Our taxing systems require consideration from the point of view of the cost of collecting, including in this not only the cost of administration paid by the government raising the revenue, but the cost of the accounting and labor involved on the part of the taxpayer. Undoubtedly we shall suffer by the handicap of the higher level of income tax in this country as compared with the United States since the reductions recently made in that country."

Mrs. Alex. Foster, R.R. No. 2, Proton, Ont., writes:—"I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and my cough was so bad, at times, it seemed as if it were tearing my lungs to pieces. I sent and got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and I got relief after the first few doses, and by the time I had finished the rest of the bottle I was completely relieved of both my cold and cough."

Head of U. S. Labor Department Will Press For Legislation.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Recent investigations in South America have convinced Secretary of Labor Davis that immigration from those countries, as well as from Canada and Mexico, should be placed on a quota basis, as is the case with Europe.

AN EXCELLENT LUNCHEON DISH

The mid-day meal should be light yet nourishing, tasty but economical. Here's one recipe that meets all the requirements.

Neal's Bread Omelet

½ cup Neal's bread crumbs
½ cup milk
4 eggs
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespoon grated cheese

Soak crumbs 15 minutes in milk, add the salt, pepper, well-beaten eggs and grated cheese. Have a frying pan heated, and melt one tablespoon of butter in it. Into this pour the egg mixture and place on range where is will cook evenly. When deliciously browned underneath, place pan in oven to finish cooking on top. Remove from oven, fold and turn on a hot platter. This makes an excellent luncheon dish.

Bread, besides being your most important food, makes a valuable cooking ingredient. Ask for Neal's and be assured of the best.
