THE PORTAOVE POACHERS. IT WAS rabbits we were after in Portavoie that night. Lynx' smug between the whins there, up on the warm hill. A red moon rose behind us that made the dark lake bright. An' you'd almost been afraid to breathe, the frost they said that still.

THE BALKAN STATES AND THE WAR. IT IS difficult for those who have not followed the evolution of the present Balkan situation to realize the importance of the part now being played by a group of Powers which, taken individually, do not count for much.

The interest of Great Britain in the Balkans has always been bound up with the preservation of the balance of power in Europe, but more particularly since Germany developed her world-policy, with the question of the Near East. In view of the importance of the British Empire, the Suez Canal and the Persian Gulf, Britain cannot afford to see any other Great Power established in the regions bordering that line of communication.

The Russo-Japanese War must be regarded as an important factor in precipitating the present conflict. Whatever may be the view of the superior William II there is no doubt that German military science and the teaching of history confirm the view of Bismarck, that Russia was and must always be the most formidable rival to Germany.

The Balkan Wars of 1912-13, which ended in the expulsion of Turkey from all but a small corner of Europe, did not materially advance the interests of Germany. She was obviously not yet ready for the great effort which was to make her paramount in Europe, and it was in fact, directly prejudicial to her interests that Serbia, the one Balkan State which was notoriously anti-German, should be so much enlarged.

This article is intended to give a bird's-eye view of Balkan affairs, and especially of the national ambitions which influence them. Serbia, our gallant little ally, is as ancient a sovereign nation as any in Europe, and in its greatest days extended from the Danube to the Adriatic.

The Serbians are pure Slav in race, and colonized their country as early as the fifth century, when the northern migrations of their race began to overflow into Central Europe. They were converted to Christianity in the ninth century by missionary monks from the Eastern Church; but while the bulk of Serbian-speaking people are of the Greek Orth-

Magyars. Of their language, however, no trace remains, Bulgarian providing the most ancient example of Slav liturgies in a writing now archaic. But the Bulgars seem to have given a stamp of character to the people they conquered—and who absorbed them—unless, indeed, they owe their reputed gravity of disposition and other stern traits to the wild country they inhabit.

An agricultural people, fine fighters with wonderful physique gained in their hardy lives, poor, thrifty, cunning, largely illiterate despite the advances of the last forty years, the people of Bulgaria are still in a very backward condition, and are little able to form a judgement on their own national affairs.

Overwhelmed after desperate struggles by the Turkish war, the Balkan States were left in a state of anarchy. The national revival centred round the question of an independent Bulgarian Church, which owed its origin to the early days of Bulgaria's conversion to Christianity. She had never recognized either Rome or Byzantium as supreme, but Greek priests had gradually usurped all spiritual, and a great deal of temporal, power.

The prince chose in the absence of any native dynasty was Alexander of Battenberg, a nephew of the Czar, Alexander II, and he began his reign under a Russian tutelage which aroused a nationalist opposition. How he gradually expelled the nationalist cause, fought a successful war with Serbia, though Russia would not help him, secured the annexation of Rumelia to his own principality, and the work of the Belgian relief committee, and the case of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse executed by the Germans over the protest of Mr. Whitlock.

After the conference the minister returned to his own country, but he was any way. He will sail again for his post December 28, in the steamer Rotterdam. Ottawa, Dec. 3.—It is officially announced that the press censor's office that the troops Melagana, which sailed from Canada on Nov. 23, had arrived in England. PROGRESS OF THE WAR
[November 30 to December 6]

In the week under review the great war entered the seventeenth month of its course. The week was one of quietude...

Comparative quiet, except for artillery duels and sniping operations, prevailed on both Western and Eastern fronts...

With the fall of Measair, which was evacuated by the Serbians and occupied by representatives of the Teuton and Bulgarian armies...

Considerable activity was reported on Gallipoli; but the information supplied was chiefly from Turkish sources...

The news from Mesopotamia was far from reassuring. The British forces which had advanced as far as Ctesiphon...

The Italians seem to have come to a comparative rest at the close of the week...

Most of the submarine activities of the week are mentioned in "News of the Sea"; but it is believed that the Allied fleets are now dealing with this form of naval warfare in the Mediterranean and Eastern Seas...

An important event for the future conduct of the war on the part of the Entente Allies was the conference of the English, French and Italian war leaders at Calais on December 4...

The future attitude of Rumania still remains a subject for conjecture, but it at least seems certain that she will not assist the Central Powers.

In the United States a very interesting event arising out of the war was the notification to Germany by the Washington Government that the German embassy attaches, Captains von Papen and Boy-Ed, were no longer persona grata...

We will here give the desired free advertisement by recording that Mr. Ford and his party of pacifists (we are careful to spell this word correctly in this instance) sailed from New York on the Oscar II, on December 4, according to schedule...

Earl Derby's recruiting scheme seems to produce good results; but whether it will prevent the necessity for compulsory service or not, has not yet been determined.

Copper mine operations near Dorchester, which were suspended some five years ago, are about to be resumed on a larger scale.

Reports received up to Tuesday indicate that Rev. A. W. Meahan, D. D., is making steady progress towards recovery at the St. Stephen Hospital. He is now able to sit up and he anticipates being able to return to St. Andrews in about a week's time.

The box of comforts for the soldier's which was sent off by the Red Cross Society at the end of September has arrived safely in France. Several parcels for special soldiers were enclosed in the box and it was feared that these parcels would not reach the men they were intended for; but we trust the fears were groundless, as several parcels have been safely received and acknowledged.

The Chamcook Branch of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints Church held a most successful Sale last Saturday, realizing a total of $78.80. When all expenses are paid there will be about $12 to hand over to the Soldiers' Comforts Association, being 20% of the full amount. This year's Sale was a record one, showing an increase of over $20 above last year's Sale. Nearly all the work was sold, and the cooking was disposed of entirely.

The question is not "how much does it cost" but "how well will it do my work?" The answer to the latter question is, "I know whether it is worth buying or not. Think of this when you come to buy a typewriter and make it a Remington for sure."

A. Milne Fraser, Halifax, N.S. The Societies of the Women's Guild and the Women Workers of All Saints Church entertained the Church Corporation in the Sunday School on Tuesday night. A full account of the meeting is held over for our next issue.

The young Ladies' Committee of the Canadian Club are to hold a Bean Supper at Irwin's Store on Water Street on Saturday, December 11, from 5 to 7 p.m. The proceeds for Soldiers' Comforts. Home-made Candy for sale. (Building lately occupied by Carrara's Fruit Store).

The members of the Royal Standard Chapter I. O. E. S. J. St. John, desire to express their appreciation and thanks to the ladies of St. Andrews, who so thoughtfully sent donations of useful, artistic gifts to their recent "Christmas Fair," all of which materially helped to swell the "Patriotic Fund."

NAN MACPHERSON SMITH, Regent, FRANCIS M. TRAVERS, Hon. Sec. Rev. R. W. Weddall went to Fredericton on Monday evening to attend the Temperance Convention Meeting in the City this week.

The New Brunswick Branch of the Dominion Temperance Alliance purpose to formulate a definite policy leading to the entire prohibition of the liquor traffic, which policy they will present to the Executive Government, which will be in session at the time of the Convention. The control of the liquor business is the crucial question before the country in these days. Lloyd George declared that the liquor business in Great Britain was more to be dreaded than the German submarines. We seem to have pretty well settled the submarine but the liquor peril is not so easily conquered.

The contemplated action of the Alliance will have the hearty sympathy of all true lovers of the Country.—Communicated.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING The firms in St. Andrews, St. Stephen and other nearby places, who make the most effective effort to supply the requirements of Christmas shoppers, use the columns of the Beacon to enumerate some of the bargains they have to offer. A study of our advertising columns will enable readers to learn exactly where to go to their shopping. The merchants who do not advertise cannot complain if buyers go elsewhere to make their purchases. It may be that they do not wish people to patronize them, in which case the buyer can take the hint.

Social and Personal

Mace's Bay, Dec. 1.—Dr. Weldon of this place is leaving to-day for Grand Harbor, Grand Manan, to take the practice of Dr. Johnson, who for nine years was at that place and has now signed on for the war. Dr. and Mrs. Weldon will be much missed in the life of Mace's Bay, and he goes to the island with the love and respect of every one in the parish. There is a fine opening for a physician in this district.—St. John Globe.

Miss Amelia Kennedy spent a few days in Milltown last week, the guest of Mrs. Graham. Mrs. Dutton, of St. Stephen, was visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. T. O'dell, last week.

Mrs. Frank Kennedy returned on Tuesday from visiting in St. Stephen, where she was the guest of the Misses Short. Mrs. R. A. Stuart, Jr., left on Thursday last for Bangor, where she will stay for a short time before paying a visit to Mrs. F. P. McCall in New York.

Miss Anna Mitchell has been appointed organist of All Saint's Church to fill the vacancy caused by the absence of Mrs. R. A. Stuart. Mr. Allan Grimmer has returned from a visit to Ottawa. Miss Jessie Dyer, of Elmavilla, was the guest of Mrs. Ceci De Wolfe for the weekend.

Miss Kathleen Cockburn is visiting friends in McAdam. Mr. Mason, of England, is visiting in St. Andrews, the guest of his brother, Mr. Arthur Mason. Mrs. Howard Rigby has received word that her son Oscar who was seriously wounded, is now out of danger and has been removed to Shorncliffe, England.

Captain Vernon Lamb has been transferred from England to the Mediterranean.—Mrs. Robert Tenant sailed from St. John on Saturday, on her way to Bontle, England. She will spend a couple of months with her mother. Mrs. Vernon Lamb and Mrs. William Morrow were in St. Stephen this week.

Mr. Horace Mason, of England, who has been visiting his brother, Mr. Arthur Mason, left on Monday for Montreal. Mr. A. K. Hermann, of Milton, N.S., who conducted the services in the Baptist Church last Sunday, returned to Milton on Monday.

Mrs. George Smith, who has been visiting Mrs. Will McVay in St. Stephen, returned this week. Mrs. Stuart Grimmer left on Wednesday for St. John, after a very pleasant visit with Mrs. J. D. Grimmer at Chamcook.

Mr. Hayter Reed left last week for Calgary, where he will make a short stay. Captain Dan. P. Gilmor, of St. John, and himself famous as a football player and all round athlete, is going overseas with the 148th battalion now being organized in Montreal. Captain Gilmor charges through the Germans as he used to charge down the football field. He should be in Berlin in record time. Gilmor was born at St. George, New Brunswick, and is a graduate of two years' standing in law, of McGill. For two years he captained the McGill football team and later was assistant coach. In his college days he was probably the best football player in Canada, his six feet two inches and 200 pounds enabling him to go through any line. At the last provincial elections in New Brunswick Captain Gilmor contested one of the constituencies and, although defeated, put up a good fight.—St. John Telegraph.

Miss Jennie Howe has returned from a visit to St. Stephen friends. Mrs. Kenneth McLarn returned from Fredericton on Wednesday. Mrs. Tom Burton was a passenger on Monday's boat for St. Stephen.

Mrs. T. T. Odell held a most delightful house-warming at Kusbagua on Thursday afternoon last. Mrs. Odell was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Dutton, of St. Stephen, Mrs. G. H. Sticksney and Miss Odell. The guests were afforded very great pleasure by the musical items rendered by Miss Gwen Jack and Miss Anna Mitchell. Mrs. F. P. Barnard, Mrs. W. Caron and Miss Nellie Stuart assisted with the tea. Kusbagua, we understand, means "place of beautiful rest," and beautiful Kusbagua undoubtedly is, prominently situated on its terraced lawns, looking over the town to the St. Croix and the Passamaquoddy.

Inside no less than outside is the word beautiful appropriate, though it does not fully describe the floral decorations of the afternoon. The log fire radiated cheerful warmth and comfort, and we wish Mr. and Mrs. Odell and their family may long continue to enjoy it in their "place of rest."

Mr. Henry E. Hill, of St. Stephen, was in town on Tuesday, and registered at Kennedy's Hotel. Mr. A. Allerton, Manager of the Algonquin Hotel, left on Tuesday evening for a trip to the Pacific coast. J. W. Richardson, Esq., of St. Stephen, was in town for a few hours on Tuesday.

James B. Forgan, who is retiring on January 1 from the presidency of the First National Bank of Chicago, is well known to Canadian business men. Forgan was born in Scotland in 1852, but came to Canada as a young man and resided in St. John's, Montreal and Halifax, later being stationed in Montreal and Halifax, later being stationed in Montreal and Halifax, later being stationed in Montreal and Halifax.

Mrs. David Mathewson, St. George, Dec. 2.—Mrs. David Mathewson, aged 63, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. Apparently in the best of health, she was stricken while in the yard with her daughter, and died while her husband and sons carried her into the house. An attack of heart failure proved fatal. Mrs. Mathewson's death is the first break in the family for thirty years. She was a woman of great energy, and highly respected in the community. Originally from P. E. Island, Mr. and Mrs. Mathewson resided for some years in St. John before coming here. She leaves to mourn their great loss, besides her husband, five sons, James, William, George, Daniel, and Fred, of Northfield, N.S., and three daughters, Mrs. Fred McKillop, who resided in St. John, Mrs. W. Mackenzie, of Vancouver, and Carrie, at home.

WILLIAM ANDREWS On Friday morning, Dec. 3, William Andrews, engineer of the tug Victoria, was drowned in St. John harbor, having fallen overboard from the tug in some unaccountable way. He was 35 years of age, and belonged to Lettice. He was formerly engineer of a tug at St. Andrews, owned by Mr. G. D. Grimmer, and was well known here. He leaves a wife (daughter of the late Wallace Mathews, of Lettice), and seven children, all small. They reside at Lettice, and will have the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement. The body of Mr. Andrews has not been recovered.

D. 1914, made by the above named Albin H. Haney the mortgagor of the first part and Florence his wife, and W. C. H. Grimmer the mortgagee of the second part, upon the following lands namely: "A certain piece or parcel of land situate lying and being on Deer Island in the Parish of West Isles, County of Charlotte, and Province of New Brunswick, in Chocolate Cove, so called, and more fully described as follows:—(N. BORN On Nov. 5, at St. Paul De Metis, to the wife of Kenneth Johnson, a daughter.

MARRIED SIMPSON-IRWIN—Dec. 7th by Rev. W. M. Fraser, B. Sc. B. A., Clifford M. Simpson to Lucy, daughter of Edward Irwin, all of Bayside.

DIED At Beaver Harbor, Nov. 29, 1915, John Campbell, a native of St. Andrews. Aged 79 years, 9 months.

OBITUARY JOHN CAMPBELL As one after one of the old St. Andrews people pass away, we are often reminded, that the untiring industry of St. Andrews is fast being obliterated. Perhaps no event of recent years has established that truth to a greater degree, than the death of Mr. John Campbell, which took place at Beaver Harbor, Charlotte County, on November 29.

The late Mr. Campbell was born at St. Andrews, on February 24, 1836, a son of James Campbell and Jane Longmuir, who was of loyalist descent. At the time of his death, Mr. Campbell was probably the oldest graduate from the Charlotte County Grammar School, with the one exception of Mr. George Mowat, who is still living at Beach Hill Farm. Many and interesting are the anecdotes and legends which Mr. Campbell loved to relate, of his school days, and of the many bright and clever men who were fellow-students with him in that historic old school. He was possessed of a remarkable memory, as well as of a strong sense of humor, which made him a most interesting companion, and with his death, there goes out of existence a great deal of the unwritten history of this old town, during a period that was particularly important and interesting in connection with the commerce and prosperity of St. Andrews.

Mr. Campbell was married about 1866, to Emma Stone, and three sons were born to them. Owen R. Campbell, now a prosperous and prominent banker of Port Hood, is the only survivor. Astley and Arthur, the other two sons, both died some years ago, and Mrs. Campbell predeceased her husband by five years.

Early in life Mr. Campbell was associated with the lumber business in the town of St. George, and was connected with the Magaguadavic River at that time. For a time he also was engaged in business in St. Andrews. Over 35 years ago, he was appointed to a responsible position on the Intercolonial Railway, and took up his residence in Moncton, where, by his genial, kindly disposition, he made friends with everybody, and the present generation of that city, will not soon forget Mr. Campbell's works of charity and mercy. He took a special interest in the care of the poor and needy, and in season, and out of season, he gave freely of his time and means, to see that the poor and indigent did not want for the necessities of life.

A few years ago, when Mr. Campbell reached the age limit, he was returned to the Government from the position he held on the railroad, and since then, has spent his time among relatives. The remains were taken from Beaver Harbor to Moncton, and laid beside those of his late wife.

Mr. Campbell was a brother of the late Mrs. George Mowat, and the last survivor of his family. The number of his warm friends in St. Andrews was only limited by those who enjoyed his acquaintance. A man exceptionally kind and generous in dealing with his fellow-men, especially the more unfortunate among that class, he will be held in kindly remembrance by all who knew, and esteemed him for his many dispositions, his modesty concerning his own qualities, and his thoughtfulness for his friends.

MR. CLARENCE WARD Mr. Clarence Ward, Clerk in the Mayor's Office, St. John, N.B., died at his residence in that city on Wednesday, Dec. 8, at the age of 77 years. Mr. Ward was a native of St. John, of loyalist stock, and was one of the best known and most esteemed residents of the city. He was an active member of the N. B. Historical Society, and devoted much time to antiquarian and historical research.

WILLIAM ANDREWS On Friday morning, Dec. 3, William Andrews, engineer of the tug Victoria, was drowned in St. John harbor, having fallen overboard from the tug in some unaccountable way. He was 35 years of age, and belonged to Lettice. He was formerly engineer of a tug at St. Andrews, owned by Mr. G. D. Grimmer, and was well known here. He leaves a wife (daughter of the late Wallace Mathews, of Lettice), and seven children, all small. They reside at Lettice, and will have the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement. The body of Mr. Andrews has not been recovered.

Mrs. DAVID MATHEWSON St. George, Dec. 2.—Mrs. David Mathewson, aged 63, died suddenly yesterday afternoon. Apparently in the best of health, she was stricken while in the yard with her daughter, and died while her husband and sons carried her into the house. An attack of heart failure proved fatal. Mrs. Mathewson's death is the first break in the family for thirty years. She was a woman of great energy, and highly respected in the community. Originally from P. E. Island, Mr. and Mrs. Mathewson resided for some years in St. John before coming here. She leaves to mourn their great loss, besides her husband, five sons, James, William, George, Daniel, and Fred, of Northfield, N.S., and three daughters, Mrs. Fred McKillop, who resided in St. John, Mrs. W. Mackenzie, of Vancouver, and Carrie, at home.
