The Women's Patriotic League held its last meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Hawkins and the women present spent a busy afternoon sewing. At the meeting a resolution was passed that the women of the league should economize as far as possible in food and help the country in conservation of food movement. The League also wish to thank the council for their generous grant of money for the work. The collection amounted to $24.10 and the bale packed after the meeting contained 15 pyjama suits, 3 shirts, 22 towels, 4 pillow-slips, also 13 pairs of socks were sent to Toronto.

The buildings on the Roche property corner of Huron and Main streets, some of which were purchased by Lambton Teachers' Bank, have been disposed of and will be removed or pulled down. The corner was sold to Mr. T. A. Adams and the old butcher shop to Mr. Richard Moore. The people who have already responded to every demand made by their country will likely comply with the Food Dictator's request for meatless days. Because it is to be a voluntary service, the burden of it will be borne by those who have been bearing the burdens of the war.

The price of live hogs on the Toronto market on Tuesday was $17 fed and watered. Last Thursday the price was $19.50, a fall in three days of $2.50 per 100 pounds. The result of this sudden drop has been a great loss to the drovers, who buy hogs from the farmers and bring them to Toronto market. They were badly shocked by the experience. The farmers also got a shock. So far no satisfactory cause for this drop has been given out.

WARDEN WOODHALL entertained the county and municipal officials by an auto trip through the northern part of Lambton on Wednesday, leaving Sarnia 9 a.m., by way of lake road to Camlachie, Forest, Rock Glen, to Theford for dinner at 12.30, thence to the peach orchards and celery gardens, to Ipperwash Beach and Kettle Point, where lunch was served, thence to Sarnia by way of lake road. The trip was greatly enjoyed by all. Reeve Kenward accepted the invitation and joined the party at Arkona. It took 30 autos to convey the party.

He was bringing home a piano from the Ketch school in a light wagon, and when coming along at a fair pace this side of the fourth line a strap broke and the piano started rocking with the result that the rig was overturned and the occupants and load thrown out on the road. In falling Mr. Harper had his collar bone broken, but Mrs. Harper who was in the seat with him escaped uninjured. Fortunately the team was a quiet one or more serious results would have been the outcome.

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLARICE MORIN, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, dizziness, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided.

NOTE AND COMMENT

At the present rate the cost of the war to every man, woman and child in Canada is $535 for the year.

All soldiers, even if under 21 years, will vote in the next election. This is right and proper. A man who is old enough to fight for his country is old enough to vote for it.

Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller, calculates that food wasted in the garbage pails of Canada each year through carelessness and lack of kitchen economy amounts to $56,000,000 per year, or about $7 per head of population.

American coal dealers who increase the price for anthracite more than 10 cents a ton before September 1st, will be considered by the Federal Trade Commission as openly declaring "a policy of profiteering." Automobileists are asked to cooperate with the American Government in stopping excessive use of automobiles during the war in order that the gasoline needs of the United States and its Allies may be met.

The promise of plenty of potatoes for next winter is important and is based upon a greatly increased acreage. British Columbia has an acreage increase of 5 per cent; Alberta an average acreage; Saskatchewan, a substantial increase; Manitoba average; Ontario, 10 per cent above average; Quebec, some increase; New Brunswick 20 per cent; Nova Scotia 25 to 35 per cent and Prince Edward Island, from 10 to 15 per cent increase over last year, and a large crop is indicated by the present appearance of the crop in each of these provinces. Now if the Food Controller will keep a sharp eye on the speculators the people may be able to secure plenty of potatoes at a fair price and so be able to reduce the consumption of wheat so loudly asked for.

A small English lad, who had been in more than one controversy with his mother over his belligerent activities, was out walking one day when the mother thought she saw a boy on the other side of the street making faces at her beloved. "Willie," asked mother, "is that horrid boy making faces at you?" "He is," replied Willie, giving his coat a tug. "Now, mother don't start any peace talk—you just hold my coat for five minutes."

"The children of Belgium are crying for food. Serbia has been overrun by the enemy. Half of Roumania is occupied. Much of France is laid waste. Ten nations of the world are on rations. Sixty million men are withdrawn from production for war service. To feed the Allied armies and nation, the men and women of Canada must pledge themselves to maximum production, the elimination of waste, and the largest possible consumption of perishable foodstuffs," says Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller.

Proper Methods for Buttermaking

Few people trouble themselves about the reason that creamy butter is to be preferred to dairy butter, but by way of introduction to Bulletin No. 53 of the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch, Ottawa, Dairy Commissioner Reddick furnishes an explanation. Incidentally he also points out that a good deal of damage is done to the trade by inferior dairy butter. The bulletin, for which Mr. George H. Barr, Chief of the Dairy Division, is responsible, in concise terms describes the whole process of butter making, tells the utensils that should be used and how they should be used, gives the results of experiments with the separator as regards temperature and variations in speed, deals with the care of cream in cooling and preparing for churning and in pasteurizing gives expert counsel as to salting and working and points to the advisability of attractive packing in parchment paper. He also points out the requirements of the law in branding or marking and supplies practical hints on care of utensils. Finally, he tells in terse terms how to get the best results in farm dairy work. Both the bulletin and a blue print of the plan for a dairy that is given can be had free by application to the Dairy Commissioner or to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

ONTARIO PEOPLE CALLED TO BE SPARING OF FUEL

Government Demands Rigid Economy in Use of Gas and Coal

By means of large display bills the Ontario Government, at the request of the Dominion fuel controller, is drawing the attention of the public to the fuel situation in the province. It is pointed out that war conditions have affected the normal supply of coal and rendered imperative that every consumer practice the utmost thrift. Municipal, religious, educational and other authorities and bodies are requested to repeatedly urge and impress the following considerations upon the public.

1. Refrain from using fuel of any kind, including gas, until it becomes absolutely necessary.
2. Practice rigid economy in the use of fuel.
3. Wherever possible use substitutes for coal to the fullest possible extent.
4. Guard constantly against waste of fuel when making or cleaning fires, and when using gas.
5. Thoroughly sift all coal ash, and burn the residue. The result will be surprising. One-tenth of the fuel originally fed to the fire has been recovered and utilized in this way.

Canada Has Done Better

(Cincinnati Times-Star)

Canada up to date has produced 455,000 volunteers for the gallant armies sent over the sea. Recruiting lately has been dropping off materially owing to the difference of the French Canadian provinces. Yet Canada has, in proportion to her population, infidently done better than our country has done in the way of volunteering. Canada's population is between seven and eight millions. Ours is one hundred millions, yet, according to a recent Washington statement, our volunteers including those for the regular army, the navy, aviation corps, officers' training corps, railroad and other engineering corps, national guard, marine corps, and other corps, have not numbered more than one million. If Canada needed the draft our own need was much more urgent. We must push its application with a sure and inflexible hand if we are to get from it the results promised.

The Duty of the Individual

Strict economy is needed in the use of all food stuffs by each and every individual householder. Our food supplies must be conserved, but they should not be hoarded. Of what use is a mine unopened, a forest untouched or land untilled? By the conservation of our food supplies, we mean that they should be used in the wisest possible way and shared equally. We should eliminate superfluities and luxuries and eat the things that are substantial, plain and nourishing. There are many foods produced in Canada, such as corn, peas, beans, oats and barley, which are not used as much as they could or should be. Unless provision is made to care for and properly use the garden vegetables, much of this material will be wasted. Perishable things should be canned wherever possible. Rhubarb, tomatoes and other vegetables should be put away for winter use.

Every Soldier Should Have a Vote

Parliament is justified in leaving nothing undone to enable the polling of every soldier's vote at the coming general election. No man—no woman—in Canada today is so well entitled to cast a vote on the one issue that has to be decided as he or she who has offered life as a sacrifice on the altar of country. Conventions in Canada may worry over tariff reform, partisans may juggle words in resolutions, blatherskites may prate of democracy, and cowardly orators may cry for liberty, but all this pot boiling is worthless as wild mustard compared with the voice of him who calls for help "from the agony of the battlefield." Everything is justified that will permit the completest registering of that cry in the only manner in which it can be effective—to do less were criminal.

Worms in children if they be not attended to, cause convulsions and often death. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will protect the children from these afflictions.

Lightning Tailoring
 [From London Answers]
 Something very like magic is going on every day in the world of commerce. The demand for khaki is tremendous, and in a certain factory 30,000 uniforms a day are being turned out. A clever cutting out process makes this output possible. Sixty uniforms can be cut out at one operation and by one man.

Khaki in twenty-foot lengths is laid out on long tables until there are 60 layers. Then a designer chalks in the various parts of the pattern, and then comes the cutter with a circular knife that is operated at lightning speed by an electric motor. The cutter sends his knife with incredible swiftness along the chalk-lines, and cuts through 60 layers of khaki as if they were a sheet of tissue paper. A slip would mean the ruination of 60 sections of as many garments; but the expert cutter is as sure as he is swift.

The smaller and shorter lengths of cloth are cut by a saw. The saw is stationary, and the operator has to pilot the cloth, twisting and turning it to make the saw follow the chalk lines.

THREE PILLS CURE RHEUMATISM.
 To the men who suffer from rheumatism a trial of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended. They have pronounced action upon the liver and kidneys and by regulating the action of these organs act as an alternative in preventing the admixture of uric acid and blood that causes this painful disorder. They must be taken according to directions and used steadily and they will speedily give evidence of their beneficial effects.

INDIAN SIGN LANGUAGE.

Members of Every Different Tribe Can Read These Signals.
 A white man who visits a foreign nation finds it hard and sometimes impossible to make his most ordinary wants known. The red man has no such difficulty. The problem of a universal language was solved centuries ago by the savage inhabitants of this western world.

Should an Indian from northern Alaska go to Patagonia he could by means of this universal language converse with his southern brethren almost as easily as he could with his neighbors at home. That would also be the case if he visited Central America or met the tribesmen of our own western prairies and mountains.

When this language was invented no one knows, but every Indian learns it in addition to his own. Recently two chiefs of different tribes met in the Geographical society rooms in Washington and held a conversation that lasted nearly three hours, and yet neither one knew a word of the other's language.

This universal language is, of course, made up of signs. For example, if an Indian is passing through a strange country and sees other Indians at a distance he makes the "peace sign"—that is, he holds up his blanket by two corners so that it covers his whole figure. The same thought is expressed by extending the hands, palms outward, slightly inclined from the face. Any Indian would understand either one of these signs.

Then there are the abstract signs by which these "savages" can express their thoughts with regard to the Great Spirit, heaven, good, evil, life and death, sickness, health, riches and poverty. Life is expressed by drawing an imaginary thread from the mouth and death by chopping this thread off. Another sign for death is to hold the tips of the fingers of one hand against the palm of the other and let them gradually slip downward and at last drop beneath the palm.

Most white people think that the Indian word of greeting, "How," is merely the abbreviation of the question, "How are you?" But that is not so. The word is really "aou," which means "brother" or "friend." So when he comes up and greets out his seemingly inquisitive "How" he is not asking after your health, but telling you that he is a friend.—Youth's Companion.

Jutland and the Sea.
 Jutland is one of the few countries where political change has been avoided. Denmark has looked after the Jutes for over 1,000 years without challenge. But the sea has refused to let Jutland alone. Like Holland, it needs the protection of dikes, and but for these there would be considerably less Jutland. Even on the east coast, with its higher elevation, the sea runs into many inlets. One of the longest of these, the Lyndford, was in 1825 broken into from the west by the waters of the North sea, and the north corner of Jutland has ever since remained an island.—London Chronicle.

Had His Title All Ready.
 Dismell's first novel affords a curious instance of intelligent anticipation. Among the host of characters in "Vivian Grey," most of them slightly veiled portraits of celebrities of the day, Lord Beaconsfield is one of the most important in the secondary rank. The novel was written in 1826, exactly fifty years before the writer assumed the title he had invented. It is usual for novelists to portray themselves in their first book, but no other instance can be found of an author christening a character with a name subsequently to become his own.—London Spectator.

Some Reach.
 Bacon—It is said a dinner table reaching around the earth sixteen times would be required if the inhabitants of the world sat down at a meal together. Egbert—Imagine yourself reaching for the butter!—Yonkers Statesman.

Diplomatic.
 Young Man—So Miss Ethel is your oldest sister. Who comes after her? Small Brother—Nobody ain't come yet, but pa says the first fellow that comes can have her.—Exchange.

Too Rough.
 "How did the girls' sparring match turn out?"
 "It was very brief. Mabel fainted and Gertrude fainted."—Exchange.

To please will always be the wish of benevolence; to be admitted the constant aim of ambition.—Dr. Johnson.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Operations,—whether by doctors or coal barons, are invariably painful for the individual who foots the bills.

The greatest race the world has ever witnessed is on today and being won by Britain, which is building ships faster than German boats can sink them.

At last a coal baron has been found to declare that he is playing the game to the limit, regardless of the consumer. Not news, of course; merely a confirmation of what was common knowledge.

Sir George Foster has introduced a measure to compel the stating of all weights or measure on the contents of original food packages. That will be help to consumers in enabling them to check up values.

Tomorrow's dullness might be prevented by today's activity. Often a dollar's worth of economy is responsible for the loss of many times that much profit. Live business men make live towns and stir up business in a manner that wins dollars and reputation. Lack of advertising is often responsible for lack of business. A persistent effort is sure to be crowned with success.

"Newspapers that question why the campaign for increased production in fall wheat in Ontario was not commenced years ago apparently forget that the farmer grows the kind of crops that he thinks will pay him best and yield the most. Farmers are not ruled by sentiment any more than other people, and they only laugh at the efforts of the city people to tell them what they ought to do."—Guelph Herald.

Food is being wasted in Canada and it is a plain fact that every pound of bread and bacon that is saved in Canada can be eaten in the war ravaged countries of Europe. It is no news to you that the people of France and Britain have submitted cheerfully to an unheard-of restriction in their food supplies. The people of Canada stands for the same cause; let us then be determined to help our heroic allies to the finish.

Throughout Canada the autumn fairs will soon be held. The attractions before the grand stand are a prominent feature, and the stand is usually crowded with people. The stands are almost invariably of wood constructions, and, as paper wrappers from candy, luncheon, etc., are frequently thrown under the tiers of seats on the floor, great care must be taken that the danger from fire is thoroughly provided against. The careless smoker who throws unextinguished matches, cigarettes or cigar stumps on the floor may easily start a fire resulting in panic and loss of life. Smoking in grand stands should be prohibited.

A four-year-old Indian boy of Langford Mills was accidentally shot by his nine-year-old sister. The little fellow's head was badly crushed by the shot.

Tragedy at Ipperwash

FOREST, August 29.—Fear that a sad tragedy occurred early this morning in the drowning of Miss Maud Hotson, daughter of Dr. Hotson, of Parkhill, at Ipperwash Beach, Lake Huron, near Ravenswood, became practically a certainty as the all-day search of the coast line by fishermen and others failed to reveal any signs of the young lady. Shortly after darkness fell this evening a heavy north wind set in, which compelled a cessation of the search until daylight comes again.

Miss Hotson, who was holidaying at Ipperwash Beach, with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cowley, of London, had been in the habit of rising early in the mornings and going for a dip in the lake, this morning she arose about 5 o'clock and left a note saying that she was going for a row. As she was known to be a good swimmer little fear was felt until her absence became prolonged.

Immediately fear was aroused as to her safety, a search was made, in which a number of the local fishermen took part, with the result that shortly before noon the boat in which Miss Hotson had gone out was found, nearly a mile from the shore, upsidown. Later one of the oars was found, but no trace of the young lady.

Dr. Hotson was notified and arrived during the afternoon and took an active part in the search. The locality has a reputation as one of the safest boating and bathing resorts on Lake Huron.

Miss Hotson has been on the school teaching staff at Parkhill for about a year.

By the first of August some twenty thousand persons had been arrested in the United States for refusing to register on June 5 under the Draft Act.

The Goderich butchers have stopped delivering meat so as to cut down expenses and customers must carry home their own parcels.

A London dentist was fined for having three bottles of whisky in his office. He probably kept it to lure his patients into the torture chair.

A heart beats 30,000,000 times a year. A "Don't Worry Club" contains more debtors than creditors.

Hope for the best prepare for the worst and take what comes.

There is nothing so apt to make a man economize as the lack of money.

A small boy says the proper time to gather fruit is when the dog is chained.

Tile-fish is an excellent fish, which should be more popular than it is.

Irish broth is a good mutton broth in which vegetables have been cooked.

The water in which rice is cooked will make a good foundation for soup.

Odd pieces of fried bacon can be minced and added to the scrambled eggs.

War Notes

One hundred vessels are to be taken in the fall from the Great Lakes for ocean service.

Premier Borden has announced a temporary increase in pensions to meet the high cost of living.

Out of 5,700 prisoners taken by the French in recent fighting near Verdun 201 were officers.

From April 9th to the middle of August the number of prisoners taken by the Allies was nearly 170,000 of which the British alone took over 46,000.

"We want peace and desire to end this terrible bloodshed," said Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria, in an interview on the Papal peace note. "We have been emphasizing this attitude for more than a year," he continued.

The French have at last recovered practically all the ground lost to the Germans during the enemy's drive on Verdun in 1916, and the British have won back most of the ground lost in Flanders at the time of the first gas attack on the Canadian and Algerian troops.

SMOKEY JOE ALLEN, the Great South Paw will be on the Mound.

THE OLD GIANTS COMING STRONG TO PROTECT THEIR TITLE AS AMAETURE CHAMPIONS!

"Smockey Joe" Allen once a native of Arkona, now pitching for Brantford will undertake the task of Beating the Fast London All Stars, a team composed of the best material of London, including Canadian Leagues and Semi-profs. The Giants line up—Babe Smith, Stan Smith, H. Smith, W. Bell, Nig Jeffries, W. Gibson, A. Towle, C. Gin, D. Wright, Eastman, Evans, White, Dowding. This is a formidable team and looks capable of beating any other team right now in Ontario. The players are all coming home, and are all playing ball, and with Smockey Joe at the zenith of this career should be unbeatable. Will the Giants win? This is the question every person is asking these days. Who can tell. The uncertainty of Baseball must be considered, but the London All Stars are in the pink of condition and have played a lot of games this year and are right now in midseason form. Who will pitch the second game for the Giants is not announced, but a dark horse will probably appear in the second frame. As Allen is a left hander, undoubtedly a right hander will pitch the second game. Hundreds of people will embrace the opportunity of seeing these games. Record crowds are expected.

First game called 2 p.m. Admission to both games 25 cents. A desire of the Citizens to see the Giants in action once more causes the staging of these games at this time. Don't miss it. Automobiles and Carriages Free.

Toronto Markets

There was a fair Tuesday market for cattle. The receipts were slightly larger than usual for the second day of the week, but the demand was also better than usual. About 300 head of cattle were held over from yesterday.

There was no appreciable difference in the condition of the cattle quotations, prices remaining steady. Calves were especially in active demand and some sales were made at a few cents in advance of yesterday's quotation. Sheep had a good demand, with prices firm to strong.

The hog drovers woke up this morning to find the big packers as firm to-day as they were yesterday in their refusal to pay more than $17 for hogs. The situation appears to be very uncertain and owners and buyers are now both jockeying for better positions. Meanwhile the very needy ones paid $17.15 for small lots. Their purchases at this price cannot be said to represent the real market price.

Colt Killed by Heat of New Hay

Richard Coghlin, of Attwood, lost a fine colt on the farm of William Schotts, where it was pasturing, through a most startling cause. It was found dead in an old barn after it had been missing for a couple of days. The barn was used for the horses and cattle to go into for shade. This year it was necessary to use for putting in hay. It is not known whether the animal was in the barn at the time the hay was put in or whether it went in afterwards, as the doors were left open. However, it was discovered deep down in the hay on its back. It was nearly roasted from the heat of the new hay. Mr. Coghlin valued the colt at $150.

Clover Seed—Why Not Grow your Own?

In average seasons red clover, that has not been pastured after the first hay crop has been removed, will produce a crop of well matured seed. Instead of cutting the second crop for hay, pasturing it or, as it frequently happens, ploughing it under, why not allow this crop to mature and save the seed from it?

By raising your own clover seed you are obtaining seed from plants which, by their very existence, have demonstrated their adaptation to the conditions prevailing on your farm, and in your immediate locality. Such seed, it is quite reasonable to suppose, will produce plants which are equally well adapted to local conditions. For this reason home-grown clover seed is really more valuable than most of the seed obtained through ordinary channels of commerce.

Quite often very poor-looking fields of second growth red clover will produce a profitable crop of seed. In many cases fields where the clover is quite their and say only eight or ten inches high, will yield over one hundred pounds of clean, well-matured seed per acre. Usually, however, an average second growth will produce anywhere from 150 to 250 pounds of seed per acre.

The red clover seed crop should be cut when the heads are dark brown in color, and containing hard, well-developed seed. In harvesting all unnecessary handling should be avoided. Rough handling, frequent turning, etc. will thresh or break off the most mature heads, thus wasting a portion of the most valuable seed.

Where the crop is less than one foot high in may be cut with an ordinary mowing machine. It is usually advisable to have two men follow the machine with hand rakes and mow each swath out from the standing crop a few feet so that, on the next round, the cut clover will be out of the way of the horses and machine. By following this practice with short clover, a great deal of seed will be saved that would otherwise be threshed by the horses' feet, and therefore left in the field.

Where clover is one foot or more in height the most satisfactory implement to use for cutting is the binder. The cord should be removed and the spring on the knoter slackened so that it will trip continuously. Usually there are two boards that hold the sheaf; these should also be slackened so that the clover will have a free course to the ground. In dropping to the ground, the seed will not shell and the crop will be left in loose windrows where it will dry quickly, and can be easily gathered with a barley fork.

The length of time that the clover should remain in the field would depend upon the weather. Generally speaking the crop should be placed in the mow or stack when dry enough to keep well. It can then be threshed when convenient.

Sugar beets grown in the heavy clay lands south of Petrolia have not done well this year, owing to the recent dry weather, but are a good crop in the lighter lands north. The crop on the whole will not be up to the average.

I was suffering from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and now for six months I have been entirely well. STORY OF A GHOST

The Scene Is Laid In Germany During the Pan-European War

By PAULINE D. EDWARDS

The German people are supposed to be phlegmatic. On the contrary, they are very emotional.

The Germans are especially fond of what is mystical. Young persons of all climes are given that way, but Germany is the home of secret societies composed not only of young men, but of those who are older.

Heinrich Borgesser and Carl Freiberg were regular students at the University of Heidelberg. Borgesser was a merry chap, always ready for a joke, while Freiberg was of a serious cast. Borgesser was a member of a corps whose business it was to practice on one another with the short sword. Freiberg was a member of the society for psychical research, whose object it was to discover some tangible link between the material and the spiritual world.

The students of the university frequented a wine and beer house presided over by a man named Becker. His daughter Bertha, a girl of seventeen, was accustomed to wait on those who gathered there. She was a Madonna-like creature, with large, serious eyes, and there was a reserve about her that prevented those she served from the usual jolly that young men are apt to give a waitress. The only person who ever tried it was Borgesser, and he called to her face a look so pained, so entirely out of keeping with his banter, that he never tried it again.

Freiberg occasionally went to Becker's place for his beer. It was soon noticed that he was the only man who frequented the place with whom Bertha would converse. What the secret of this willingness was no one could tell. All were equally respectful to her, but if after she had set down her wine or beer they tried to detain her by a bit of chat she would invariably bring it to a halt and leave them. In time she received a nickname from the students. It was Lady Purity.

Neither Borgesser nor Freiberg was of the nobility, but Borgesser aspired to be an officer in the army. Both young men served their term in the military service, but Borgesser was doomed to disappointment in securing a commission. The officers were appointed from the ruling class.

About the time these two young men were leaving the university the pan-European war broke out. Borgesser's attempt to rally Bertha Becker had affected her so much that it sank into her heart. It was as if he had broken a fragile vase. There was no anger in her manner toward him. It was simply that she had been hurt. Strange as it may appear, it irritated him. He was ignorant of what this irritation meant, but it was plain to others that it was the awakening of a passion for the girl. When he was hurrying away to the war he found time to stop at the wine house to say goodby to her. He might as well have said goodby to a stone.

But when Freiberg bade her goodby it was very different. There were few words spoken between them. Indeed, Bertha spoke not at all. Carl simply said goodby, with a pressure of the hand, while she said goodby with her whole soul through her eyes, and when he hurried away to the rendezvous she followed him with those same eyes while he was in sight.

Borgesser and Freiberg were in different regiments, but hard fighting commenced at once between the Germans and the Belgians, and the corps to which they belonged, being decimated, were joined in one, and thus the two young men were thrown together. Borgesser seemed to know that Freiberg had obtained a success with Bertha Becker, which was denied to himself. Nevertheless he maintained the same friendly treatment of Carl that he had borne toward him at the university. Heinrich had often rallied Carl upon his predilection for "ghosts," as he called it, and on one occasion, changing from banter to a serious vein, had said:

"Carl, suppose we make an agreement."
"What agreement?"
"One which will satisfy either you or me of your belief in a hereafter and its connection with mortals still on earth. I propose that whichever dies first shall appear to the other."
"I have no objection to that," replied Carl.

"Very well. It is understood and agreed that if I, Heinrich Borgesser, die before you I will in some way make you sensible of my existence."
"And I will do the same by you."

Heinrich reminded Carl of their agreement and added: "This fighting is getting thicker every day. I have a feeling in me that I'm going to be downed, and that before long. So you may expect to see me, my boy, for I shall certainly keep my pledge if I pass into another existence and am able to excite the senses of a mortal. My own theory is that I cannot; that you have no sense that will enable you to be cognizant of me, a spirit."

"That is what we men of psychical research are endeavoring to determine," replied Carl.

Immediately after this dialogue there began that sacrifice of life, the like of which was never seen before in war. Trains loaded with wounded began to leave the front for Paris and for Berlin, while thousands of dead bodies were thrown into trenches or buried separately as those attending to the dead and wounded found time. Heinrich Borgesser was reported among the missing, which meant that he had been either killed or taken prisoner. But the Germans were at that time driving the French back on Paris and were themselves losing few, if any, prisoners. It was they who were taking prisoners. Borgesser's friends therefore gave him up for dead.

Carl Freiberg was badly wounded, and with many hundreds of others was sent eastward. His home was at a little town near Heidelberg, and after a few months in hospital he received permission to go home till he was ready to return to the front. After regaining his strength he concluded to go over to Heidelberg and enjoy a glass of wine served by Bertha Becker. He found few persons in the place, and, as for Bertha, she was working in an ammunition factory.

But Bertha came home at night, and a few days later Carl went to Heidelberg again. Bertha had returned and, seeing the soldier limping up the walk, ran out to meet him. There had been no lovmaking between the two, but now, meeting after all that had happened, what was in both drew them together. They flew to each other's arms.

It was now autumn, and the summer was dying by gasps, as it usually does. There would come a cool snap—a winter skirmish line—followed by a return of warm weather, then another colder period, which would after a few days give ground before another warm invasion. Carl and Bertha, when the evening was not too cold, would sit out on a bench in the Beckers' private garden, as lovers have sat on garden benches from time immemorial, locked in each other's arms.

The time was approaching when Carl would have to go back to the front. His first departure had not troubled him, for he had not then been aware of his love for Bertha; but now a return to that which was almost certain death or maiming was awful. He was not thinking of his own sacrifice, but of Bertha's. Whenever he spoke to her of re-entering those dreadful scenes she would cling to him as if he were about to be dragged away to execution.

One night they were sitting in the garden together when they received a shock. The darkness was relieved by a moon nearly full shining out of a clear sky. The lovers were sitting in a place open only to the front. Suddenly a figure appeared at this opening.

"Heavens!" exclaimed Bertha. "It is Heinrich Borgesser!"

There was just enough light of the moon shining full upon the figure to show the features. The face was deadly pale, there was a horrible red gash in the cheek and a bandage across one eye.

Carl was visibly affected. Was this really the man who had promised if it were possible to prove to him that the dead may communicate with the living and had now come back to keep his agreement? One would suppose that a mind leaning toward a belief in ghosts would accept the figure as the spiritual body of his returned comrade. But now that a test was put on his credulity Carl doubted.

The ghost stood for a moment facing the couple, then resumed its pace across the opening. As it passed out of sight something fluttered from it to the ground. Carl ran to it and picked it up. Holding it in the moonlight, he read with difficulty:

"I forbid the banes."
Bertha was near a state of collapse. Carl turned to her and, taking her in his arms, endeavored to reassure her.

"What is on the paper?" she asked faintly.

"Nothing of moment," replied Carl. But she insisted, and he was obliged to tell her. She sank back on the bench and covered her face with her hands.

"We must part," she moaned.

"Not by this command."

"He has come back from the other world to warn us. It is not God's will that we should live for each other."

"Sweetheart," said Carl, "there is something wrong here. If he had really come back from the dead I would have felt the presence of a spirit. On the contrary, I felt the spirit of a living man."

"How do you explain his coming? Did he not perish on the battle field?"

"I don't believe he did. He was reported among the missing. I believe that he was made a prisoner and escaped. I am sure it was he in the flesh."

Time proved that Carl was right, but months passed before the matter was explained. Borgesser had been taken prisoner, but had got away from his captors, had hidden in a wood and burrowed into the ground. After many efforts to return to his own lines, from which he had been driven, he had finally succeeded. He had sought Bertha and found Carl in possession. Taking advantage of this agreement, he had yielded to a temptation to separate Carl from her.

Borgesser returned to the front, and neither Carl nor Bertha ever saw him again, for he was killed in one of the attacks the Germans made to possess themselves of Calais. But before this fatal ending he wrote Carl, confessing the deception.

Before Carl went back to the front he married Bertha. His experience with a spurious ghost turned him from his disposition to dwell upon the marvelous. Carl was so badly wounded as to unfit him for active service, so he was discharged. Then he married Bertha and settled down in Heidelberg as a tutor.

Sheepskin.

Sheepskin was used as parchment before the invention of paper. Even then it was a substitute for vellum, which is made from calfskin and of a far finer quality than parchment, and was employed for fine illuminated work. Tanned sheepskins are in the trade called basils. For these there are many legitimate uses, but it is for imitation purposes that the sheepskin is most largely used.

CAUSE OF ASTHMA. No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Dust from the street, from flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to eradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Uncertainty may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from this scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere. m

Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

* Dear Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anuric." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets so I thought I would try them. I took only one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, MRS. WM. KELLER.

NOTE: This "Anuric" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys.

Patients having once used "Anuric" at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anuric" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Mr. Editor—I want to write you about "Anuric." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in bed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to get up sometimes when I was sitting and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me. I had heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and thought I would try them. I took one box of the Tablets, and my kidneys are now free from pain and I can take care of my family. I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, Mrs. Wm. Keller.

This "Anuric" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, back, rheumatism, dropsy, constipation, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and chemists at Dr. Pierce's great Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases, curing the diseased kidneys. Patients having once used "Anuric" at Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have rarely sent back for more. Such a medicine has been created that Dr. Pierce decided to put "Anuric" in the drug of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one dime to Dr. Pierce for trial package and cents for full treatment.

Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery food cleanser and alterative that cleans the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to make red blood, which feeds the heart, brain and organs of the body. It is clean, strong and strenuous.

ITALY APPEALS TO CANADA IN RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Goal of $100,000 Set for Southern and Western Ontario District.

Chevalier L. Zunini, Royal Italian Consul-General, to Handle Fund.

Italy's magnificent fight in the Alpine mountains of Austria is costing hundreds of thousands of brave Italian soldiers' lives. An appeal is now being made by the

CHEVALIER L. ZUNINI,
Royal Italian Consul-General to Canada.
Government of Italy to the people of Canada through Chevalier L. Zunini, Royal Italian Consul General, Montreal, for the Italian Red Cross and orphans of her fallen heroes, sponsored by the youthful Crown Prince Umberto di Savoia, to meet pressing needs.

In answer to this appeal, Southern and Western Ontario have fixed a goal of $100,000 to be raised by popular subscription during August and September. Royal Italian Consul Agent Giovanni Danovaro at Welland has been appointed official representative of the Italian Red Cross in this division. L. P. Shumway and L. Porter Moore, of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. of the United States, and associated with the War Council, American Red Cross during its recent successful drive for $100,000,000 in the United States, officially represent the Italian Red Cross as divisional directors and campaign organizers. Their headquarters are at Brantford.

Through Colonel Noel Marshall, chairman of the Central Executive Committee, the Canadian Red Cross has pledged its support, and that of all local units is asked, for the Italian Red Cross campaign. "Every dollar that is given will make its bond between Italy and Canada. Let us show our Italian friends within our borders that we hold in grateful regard the land that gave them birth; that we appreciate her tremendous sacrifices in the great cause for which we fight, and that we cannot regard with indifference her noble contribution to the success that is yet to be ours and hers," is a recent editorial comment on the Italian Red Cross campaign in Canada.

Here's a Sure Road to Wealth

In the September American Magazine a writer in the family money department says:

"There is one sure road to wealth. It is not a get-rich-quick scheme, no wildcat mining venture, no war baby speculation: it is simply a common-sense way of attaining a small fortune in a strictly legitimate way. "One dollar invested in a savings bank each week for twenty years would amount to $1,612. "Five dollars deposited each week for the same length of time would become $8,000. The interest on this $8,000 would be $6 a week. Anyone following out this plan of weekly deposits of $5 for twenty years could at the end of that period draw out of the bank $6 a week as long as he lived and still leave to his wife and family at his death not only all he deposited but half as much more. "The young man of twenty who will save 27½ cents a day in a savings bank paying four per cent. compound interest, and keep up these payments or deposits till he is 70 years of age would have a fortune of $29,000, which would pay interest of $22 each week. This interest would be about ten times the amount saved each week."

"You are serving the sultan. Hardship should be sweet."
"I should be more fit to serve him if I got more sleep and rest."
He waved a fat hand about the tent.
"Look at me! Here I am, an officer of rank and"—shooting a knowing look at me—"I have not even a nice blanket."
"A crime! A crime!" I interrupted.
"To think of it, when I, a humble soldier, have dozens of them at home! I should be honored if you would allow me"—My voice trailed off suggestively.

GRAFT IN THE ORIENT.

An Incident That Illustrates the Way of the Far East.

I had had experience with corruptible Turkish officers, and one day when barrack conditions became unendurable I went to the officer commanding our division, an old Arab from Latakiah who had been called from retirement at the time of the mobilization. He lived in a little tent near the mosque, where I found him squatting on the floor nodding drowsily over his comfortable paunch. As he was an officer of the old regime, I entered boldly, squatted beside him and told him my troubles. The answer came with an enormous shrug of the shoulders.
"You are serving the sultan. Hardship should be sweet."
"I should be more fit to serve him if I got more sleep and rest."
He waved a fat hand about the tent.
"Look at me! Here I am, an officer of rank and"—shooting a knowing look at me—"I have not even a nice blanket."
"A crime! A crime!" I interrupted.
"To think of it, when I, a humble soldier, have dozens of them at home! I should be honored if you would allow me"—My voice trailed off suggestively.

"How could you get one?" he asked.
"Oh, I have friends here in Saffet, but I must be able to sleep in a nice place."
"Of course. Certainly. What would you suggest?"
"That hotel kept by the Jewish widow might do," I replied.
More amenities were exchanged, the upshot of which was that my four friends and I were given permission to sleep at the inn—a humble place, but infinitely better than the mosque. It was all perfectly simple.—Alexander Aaronsohn in Atlantic Monthly.

MILLION ACRE FARMS.

These Are the Kind, as a General Rule, They Have in Mexico.

In the United States the farmer is a humble person. In Mexico he is a king of millionaires. You look out across a level plain and you see a magnificent house of stone, cement and great timbers, covering sometimes as much as half an acre. Surrounding it are other houses, hundreds of them, but all small, constructed of adobe, brush or even of cane stalks. You are not looking at a town, but at a ranch settlement. In the great house, which costs many times more than all the little houses put together, live the hacendado and his family. In the little houses live the peons.
The typical farm in Mexico is not of 100 acres, but of 1,000,000. In the state of Morelos twenty-eight hacendados own all the agricultural lands; twelve own nine-tenths of them. The territory of Quintana Roo, double the size of Massachusetts, is divided among eight companies. The greater portion of the state of Yucatan is held by thirty men, kings of sisal hemp. A major fraction of the agricultural and grazing lands of Chihuahua is owned by one family. Lower California, equal in size to Alabama, is nearly all held by five great corporations.
The 1,000,000 acre farms lie mostly fallow. Naturally a rich agricultural country, Mexico does not produce enough corn and beans to feed her own peon population. Modern machinery will never be used extensively so long as the peon is so cheap that primitive methods are cheaper than machine methods.—World Outlook.

Food Controller's Advice

Following are suggestions put forth by Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller:--

1. Use perishable foods. Save garden truck that has been produced so abundantly this summer. Preserve, dry, can and store.
2. Eat more fish.
3. Substitute other cereals for wheat products--oatmeal, buckwheat flour, rice flour, and above all oatmeal.
4. Don't throw good food into the garbage can. $50,000,000 is wasted every year in this county by carelessness in the kitchens.
5. Preach once more the good old-fashioned gospel of the clean plate. Do not let children waste food at their meals. Do not waste it yourself.
6. Organize. Various women's organizations are already active. Their leaders will tell you what to do. Get in touch with the workers in your own district.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of her little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach trouble, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by the government analyst to be perfectly harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Insure Early in Life

There are two things a young man should do as soon as he begins to earn money. The first duty he owes himself and the community in which he lives, is to insure his life. Such a procedure will add to his self-respect, and his self-reliance. He will be a more valuable asset to his community. It will be an incentive to him to save a portion of his earnings. After having provided an Insurance Policy, he should next put away in the Savings Bank such sums as he could spare. These need not be large, but something should be laid aside regularly. The young man who does these two things is putting himself on the road of independence. He is also protecting those who may be dependent upon him. Such a young man proves himself to be a good citizen.

THE Q. P. Club request the people to save every paper in future as the price given for waste paper is low at the present time and it now takes a larger quantity to make any appreciable amount of money for the Red Cross.

How to Can Carrots

When thinning carrot beds be careful not to throw away vegetables as large as a dime, for this size is the best for canning.

Wash carrots thoroughly with a stiff vegetable brush, blanch for four to six minutes, then plunge into cold water for an instant and remove outer skin with the stiff brush. The carrots may be cut into strips or cross sections or used whole. After packing into jars add a level teaspoonful of salt per quart of vegetables, and fill jars with hot water. Adjust tops and partially tighten them and sterilize for an hour and a half. If using tin cans seal completely before sterilization. Remove jars from boiling water, tighten tops and invert out of a draught to cool.

For storing, wrap jars in dark paper to prevent bleaching.

Read This out Loud

"A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which a sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which the sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps. Therefore while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper under the sleeper until the sleeper which carries the sleeper jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper by striking the sleeper on the sleeper, and there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper on the sleeper." You will readily understand that one of the "sleepers" referred to are the railway ties, upon which the rails are laid. It is astonishing how intensely muddled one can become upon attempting to read this aloud at any speed.

Why A Child Needs Glasses
MANY children are born with a defect of vision. Unless it is very great the child does not particularly suffer until the school period. Then the young mind becomes intent upon study and any defect of vision becomes a direct strain upon the brain. To relieve this the child will squint, or turn the head, in many cases using only one eye. This habit grows until we almost have a deformity of the eye.

Parents; do not let this be the experience of your child. We will gladly and thoroughly examine your child's eyes, and tell you truthfully how best to remedy it. See to it now.

The Western Fair Sept. 7th to 15th

The Management of the Western Fair of London, Ontario, are making every possible effort this year to eclipse all their previous Exhibitions good as they have been. They are giving special attention to the Live Stock and Agricultural departments. Two Thousand Dollars was added to the Prize List, (which was a liberal one before) making this year's list the best ever offered, and exceedingly liberal in all departments. It is expected that there will be a large entry in all the Live Stock Classes. Special classes in the Horse Department have been provided for farmers and their sons. Professional breeders and dealers have been barred from these classes and the farmers will have an opportunity of exhibiting against farmers. There are also plenty of classes for the professionals with liberal prizes offered. Prize Lists, Entry forms and all information promptly given on application to the Secretary A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario.

Smoke-Taylor Nuptials

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. H. G. Taylor, Wyoming, on Wednesday, August 22nd at two o'clock, when her only daughter Elizabeth Isabel was united in marriage to Sheldon L. Smoke, barrister, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Smoke, of Paris, Ont. Rev. John McLeod of the Presbyterian church officiating. The bride wore a beautiful gown of radium lace over white duchess satin with pearl trimming and the conventional bridal veil was held in place by a band of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet-heart roses and orchids, and was given away by her brother, Mr. Harry Taylor of Toronto. Mrs. W. E. McKeivey of Sarnia acted as matron of honor and the groom was unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and emerald ring and to the painter a cameo and pearl pendant. After a dainty buffet luncheon a toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle and responded to by the groom, after which many congratulatory telegrams were read from distant friends. The happy couple left on a trip through the Muskoka Lakes and on their return will reside in Paris.

In many towns in Ontario the bakers have had to double their output of war bread, the demand for it being so great. The bread consists of white flour 50 per cent., whole-wheat flour 30 per cent., oatmeal, rice flour and corn flour, approximately 7 per cent. each.
