Talking about "a busy store" if you want to see a crowd of buyers go to The Watford Dry Goods Co.'s Whale of a Sale.

"Mrs. Temple's Telegram" is a scream from rise of curtain to drop. See it Tuesday, March 31.

Canada's post office is taking stock. It is a great undertaking. Every letter and piece of mail matter handled in this country between March 1 and April 1 is being closely scrutinized, counted, weighed and the amount of stamps it bears recorded. This is being done on the rural routes, on all railway trains and at all post offices. The duty is an onerous one, but it is being performed cheerfully by the staff.

"Packing Pork to Pay Expenses" a true story, will be the special topic on which Rev. T. DeCourcy Rayner will preach in the Congregational Church on Sunday morning. His evening topic will be "Living on Straight Street." These are live and practical messages for modern Christians, and you are invited to hear them. Everybody welcome. Sunday School at 10 a.m. with special program and a few lantern pictures.

Join the Horticultural Society and "Make Watford Beautiful." A congregational meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements for the taking of a vote on church union, after which voting will commence and continue each day until the Monday after Easter, April 13th.

"One little fib produces millions". Just see it proved out. Tuesday, March 31st, in the Lyceum.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Doan and family left on Wednesday for Biggar, Sask, where they will make their home.

Mr. Gordon Doan, who has been visiting relatives in this vicinity, returned to his home in the West on Thursday.

Dr. K. P. R. Neville, Registrar of the University, will be the speaker. His subject is "King Tut". Everyone is cordially invited. Admission 25c.

Another big crowd attended the "Whale of a Sale" last Saturday at The Watford Dry Goods Co., successors to Swift, Sons & Co.

"The Hunchback of Notre Dame" the big screen version of Victor Hugo's dramatic masterpiece, is now playing to capacity houses in London. This big feature will be shown in the Lyceum with special music on Friday evening, April 3rd.

Don't attempt to do your Spring Cleaning without an Electric Washer. Get one that will take your heavy woolen blankets, comforters, quilts, floor mats, curtains, sheets, etc. Anything in the household that can be washed. The heaviest washings will not add more than five cents to your hydro bill. Don't try to do without any longer. Ask your neighbor who has one; then come and let us show you the "White Cap."—J. R. McCormick.

At the request of so many of our customers we have decided to continue "The Whale of a Sale" until Saturday, April 11th, at The Watford Dry Goods Co., successors to Swift, Sons & Co.

The regular meeting of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church was held at the Manse on Monday evening, March 23rd. There were nine members present, and the president, Miss Anna Cran, presided. After the opening devotional exercises Miss Reta Stephenson read the scripture lesson, and Mrs. Workman read a portion of the Study Book, "Japan, and the Upward Trail." Mrs. Luckham and Miss Anna Cran were appointed a committee to visit the sick for the following month. A hymn and prayer brought the meeting to a close, after which Mrs. Workman served tea.

A public meeting will be held in the Armory this (Friday) evening at eight o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Rifle Association in Watford and everyone interested in the formation of such a club is requested to be present. The Association will be formed under Government military regulations in order to receive the grant of money for maintenance. A very flourishing Rifle Club was in evidence in Watford several years ago and it is hoped that the spirit may be revived. Every man interested in target practice is urged to be present at this meeting.

Coming to the Lyceum, Friday, April 3rd, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame". This fine production is drawing record breaking crowds. Don't miss it.

OBITUARY

ROBERT LONG

Another of the oldest residents of this district passed away on Sunday evening, March 22nd, in the person of Robert Long, who was in his eighty-first year. The late Mr. Long was stricken through weakness of the heart, in August of last year, while engaged in the work of his farm on the sixth line, south, east of Watford. Since then he has been confined to his bed, excepting for the period of a few weeks last fall, during which time he went to visit at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Freeman Birchard, on the fourth line west, Warwick, where he was again compelled through serious illness to remain in bed, until the time of his death.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Birchard at whose home he passed away, he is survived by his wife, and his son Russel at home; Mrs. Anderson of Petrolia; Frank of Elbow, Sask; and Earl of Sarnia. With the exception of Frank, all of the surviving members of the family were able to be present at the funeral, which was held on Tuesday afternoon from the home of Mr. Birchard to the Watford cemetery and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. V. Workman, of the Watford Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was at the time of his death, the eldest member of the Session.

The pallbearers were six old neighbors on the sixth line: Chas. and Daniel Kelly, Bert King, William Logan, William Greer, and Ben Richardson.

Mr. Long was a pioneer in this district. He was an industrious, earnest Christian man, who had a wide circle of friends in Watford and vicinity.

MRS. ANDREW CARSON

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Dewar Carson, wife of Andrew Carson, mention of whose death was made last week, was held Friday afternoon from the family residence, 242 Christina street south, Sarnia. The service conducted by Rev. F. G. Newton of St. John's Anglican church was very largely attended by friends from the city and county and there were very many flowers. Interment was made in Lakeview cemetery. The pallbearers were Harry and Sam Carson, Wm. Armstrong, Daniel Ross Marsden Whitely and John Milligan.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR BEN DOAN AND FAMILY

A number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Doan on Monday evening, March 23rd, to bid them farewell before leaving for their new home in Biggar.

An address was read by Mrs. Melville Buchner, and the presentation made by Mrs. Earl Roberts, of a handsome club bag, to which Mr. Doan made a suitable reply.

The evening was spent in games and dancing. A dainty lunch was served at mid-night by the hostess.

To Mr. and Mrs. Doan and Family: We the friends and neighbors of the community have gathered together to bid you farewell, before leaving for your new home in the West, which we hope will bring as many good friends as you have left behind, and that our loss will be their gain.

The residents of Watford and vicinity join together in presenting you this small present as a token of our esteem, and regret at your departure. We all join together in hoping your new home will bring happiness and success to you and your family.

Signed on behalf of the community: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Buchner.

DIED

WARWICK

Last regular meeting of Maple Leaf Community Club was held in S. S. No. 11 school on Friday evening last. A good crowd was in attendance which shows the interest which has been taken in the meetings throughout the winter months.

Don't forget the Box Social in S. S. No. 11 school house, 2nd line, S. E. R., on (this) Friday evening, under the auspices of the Maple Leaf Community Club. Everybody is welcome to come and join in making the final evening a real success. Ladies are requested to bring their box.

While at work in John Grieve's sugar bush, Will Grieve was struck in the eye by a breaking bough. A tiny piece of a bud penetrated the eyeball, causing a painful wound. The sight of the eye was saved by prompt treatment by a London specialist.

The annual meeting of the Kingscourt Zenana Missionary Society was held on March 17th, at the home of Miss Ada Lambert. The meeting was opened with prayer by the president, after which the following members were elected for the coming year. President, Mrs. McCormick; vice-pres., Mrs. Rivers; treasurer, Mrs. Birchard; secretary, Mrs. A. Bryce; cor. secretary, Mrs. Smith; instructor, Mrs. Sayers, with Mrs. Thompson assisting; pianist, Miss Ada Lambert. After the business part of the meeting the remainder of the afternoon was spent in social games, Irish songs, jokes and conundrums, the winning side having the pleasure of meeting Pat and his relations. Mrs. Hume gave a much enjoyed reading on the life of St. Patrick, after which a dainty lunch was served and the meeting closed, with a collection of six dollars and eighty cents. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. George Garside.

Mrs. E. J. Thompson, Warwick Village, who has been ill for about a month with nervous trouble, was moved to Strathroy hospital on Wednesday for further treatment.

Second Line School Burns

The fine public school building of school section No. 17, Warwick, Miss Dorothy Wordsworth, teacher, on the second line south was totally destroyed by fire Monday morning, shortly before the opening of school. One of the older pupils, Chester Bartley, who acted as janitor, had lit the fire in the stove at the usual hour and had gone out to the woodshed to split wood. On his return he discovered the interior of the school house ablaze. The alarm was immediately given, and the men from the nearby farms hurried to give assistance, but it was impossible for any to enter the school house. A window was smashed, and a few books, together with one map, were the only things saved. The building was of frame, veneered with white brick, and the brick veneer is the only part of the school which remains, and part of that is destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. The estimated loss of building and equipment is about $2,500, with insurance of only $850. At a meeting of the ratepayers of the section held on Tuesday evening it was decided to place a temporary building on the school property to be used until midsummer, when a new schoolhouse will be erected.

Strathroy Minstrels

Make Big Hit

Wholesome Entertainment Provided by Junior Athletic Club's Creations of Talent, in Darkey Melodies, Comic Songs, Rare Jokes, Athletic Exercises and Varied Specialties.

The members of the Strathroy Junior Athletic Club proved themselves splendid entertainers behind the footlights of the Lyceum on Friday evening, when they made their initial theatrical bow to a Watford audience and tried their hand at minstrelsy. Their performance was up to a very high standard and in this club of about one hundred members, there appears to be abundance of ability, not only in athletics, but also as entertainers. The large audience which left no vacant chairs in the theatre, was charmed with the clean, clever production given by the boys, some of whom performed with the ease and grace of more experienced artists. The first part comprised the usual circle, with the president of the club, Dr. G. F. McFadden, in the interlocutor's chair, surrounded by his company, arrayed in white with the club colors in the form of a sash, and six lively 'coons' as fun makers "on the ends." The solos and choral work was admirable and inlaid with volleys of new and crisp jokes many of local color and application, the audience was easily kept in wrapt attention and pleasure. Dr. McFadden could not easily be surpassed as an interpreter of his loquacious end-men. The sentimental solos, "Sunrise and You," by Robt. Freele; "Can't You Heah Me Call'n', Carolin'" by Mack Collins; the very appropriate number for St. Patrick's Day, "Mother in Ireland," by John Warner, and "The Big Bass Viol," by Arthur Greenwood, were all creditably given in good voice and style. The end songs, "How Do You Do?" by Douglas Fortner; "Oh, Min," by Walter Moran; "Why Did I Kiss That Girl," by Louis Keek, and "Down Where the Big Bananas Grow," by Allan Gill, were interpreted in true minstrel style and with such a dash and finish that encores were oft demanded. The second part specialties comprised a realistic "black and white" boxing bout between J. Warner and S. Limon, and a series of gymnastics "on the horse" by F. Eagleden, D. Fortner, L. Enwright, George Eagleden, R. Moore and O. Kelliher, showing the physical training side of the club's varied activities. The club instructor is Wm. Ingham, who is succeeding in turning out some excellent athletes among the members. Allan Gill acted as clown during these exercises, and in the opinion of the majority, made the best all-around representative of the real "darkey." F. Mackin was right at home in his monologue and buck and wing dancing, his clever sketches evidencing marked ability. One of the best features of the evening was undoubtedly the original and clever interpretation of the "Bells of St. Marys." A Greenwood acting as the sedate minister, Frank Butler as the handsome groom, and Robert Freele as the blushing bride. The latter left little to be desired as a female impersonator, and looked lovely in her elaborate white array with flowing veil. This was one of the real hits of the evening. There were also "the funny four" coon soldiers, D. Fortner, H. Frank, Mack Collins and L. Keek, in a rollicking song sketch, and the cotton pickers down in old Alabama, who introduced some of the old-time melodies and clog steps, the show closing with the appearance of the "ebony belles" and a rousing old-fashioned square dance. J. A. Allum directed the choral work; Mrs. Conkey presided at the piano, and the "S. J. A. C." orchestra filled in the intervals and played admirable accompaniments. The members of the latter were: Richard Statham, H. Sullivan, W. Willmott, violins; L. Galloway, clarinet; R. Gibson, cornet; C. Down, bass viol; drums, G. Marshall; piano, Stewart Milne. The boys deserved good patronage, and they got it.

MORRISON—SHEPPARD

An interesting wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage, Wyoming, on Saturday, when Miss Bessie Sheppard was married to W. Gordon Morrison, both of Forest. The pastor, Rev. J. Jones, officiated. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left by motor to spend their honeymoon with friends at Eastern points.

"Squibographs"

As an athlete Paavo Nurmi may not be much to look at but he is a "rum one to go."

The thief who stole the pole from in front of an Omaha barber shop is now wearing a striped suit.

Listeners in on radio sermons miss the musical clink of the coins dropping in the collection plates.

The Nevada legislator who advocates abolishing upper berths in sleeping cars may be riding for a fall.

A beauty shop for dogs has been opened in Los Angeles. The water spaniels love to splash around in the permanent waves.

Viewing the alluring pictures in the seed catalogues is said to stimulate the jaded mind after solving a cross-word puzzle.

A scientist has discovered that moths have no sense of smell. Housewives are satisfied that they have fierce appetites.

Straws show which way the trade winds are blowing. Canadian dealers are shipping hay and straw to Ireland.

The Alberta farmer who traded his ranch for a California orange grove is convinced that he has been handed a lemon.

Imitation is said to be the sincerest form of flattery, but Charlie Chaplin protests when another actor copies his inflated trousers.

A Denver judge has ruled that the first straw hat of the season is a logical target for boys equipped with pea-shooters.

A Winnipeg man is under arrest for "salting" a gold mine. Stockholders fear that salt-petre may not save their investment.

From the altar to the cell was the fate of a Guelph bridegroom who started serving a prison term a few hours after his marriage.

"Resolved: That the powder puff is of more value to the human race than slambang or hairgroom," was the subject for a recent debate in an eastern college. The judges decided that no man can be handsome when his hair is standing on end and the sheiks lost the decision.

Eggs have dropped to 25 cents a dozen in Texas. Governor "Ma" Ferguson urges citizens to eat an egg a day to make poultry pay.

To ascertain the action of certain microbes a London specialist swallowed a tube full of the alleged poisonous germs. He is now reported to be dieting to reduce his weight.

Owing to his wonderful speed Paavo Nurmi is not one of those who can read as they run. The letters jumble together like the number of a radio station.

The inventor of barbed wire recently celebrated his 99th birthday. His invention probably wrecked more trousers and other garments than camphor balls ever saved.

It is announced that five per cent beer will be on sale in Ontario on April 1st. The date is ominous for those thirsty souls who expect the "kick" of pre war brew.

When the usher in a Winnipeg church tripped and spilled the contents of the collection plate, the organist with great presence of mind prevented a stampee by playing "Gathering in the Shekels."

The Canadian manager of a number of red-front chain stores is retiring from business to engage in politics. Playing tag with politics is a different proposition from attaching price cards on 5, 10 and 15 cent goods.

While excavating the site of an ancient city in Greece tablets were discovered showing that a tax similar to our income tax was in force. Further research may reveal that the old timers were taxed for the axle used on their chariots.

Miss Abbey Rockefeller, reputed to be the wealthiest girl in the United States, is to be married in May to a "struggling" young lawyer. The prospective groom's struggling may be confined to cutting coupons in future.

Postal authorities in Vienna have ruled that postmen are not required to deliver mail to places where they are exposed to attacks by dogs. Their bark may be worse than their bite, but the carriers have no time to reason why.

A commission appointed in England to investigate the food served prisoners in penal institutions reports that the menus are composed of too much suet pudding, porridge and other fattening articles of diet. As a result the prisoners are becoming fat and lazy. Grapefruit, oranges, Brussels sprouts and berries in season might have a stimulating effect.

ALVINSTON

A very enjoyable time was spent on Friday evening when the business men of the town tendered the local high school boys a banquet in Code's hall. Over one hundred sat down to the sumptuous supper prepared by the Methodist Ladies Aid, who catered to them. Splendid addresses were delivered by Prof. N. C. Hunt of Western University, L. W. Oke, M. P., H. M. Miller, G. V. Thornicroft, Dr. E. C. Axford and Miss S. Massey. At the conclusion of this Robert Morrison gave a vocal selection which was much enjoyed. Music was furnished by the "Syncopters."

The funeral was held on Saturday of one of this community's most highly respected citizens in the person of Elizabeth Gray, beloved wife of Jno. Campbell, of this place. Deceased who was in her 60th year passed away after a lingering illness of two years' duration. The late Mrs. Campbell lived in this community all her life and was well and favorably known to a host of friends. Deceased leaves to mourn her loss her husband and one daughter, Effadora, of Hamilton, also one brother, Robert Gray, of town, and one sister, Mrs. Parlan McTavish of Brooke.

Word was received last week of the death of Neil Livingston, a former resident of this place, who died in Petrolia hospital. Deceased was born in this community seventy-three years ago and lived practically all his life in and around Alvinston. The funeral was held from the residence of his niece, Mrs. Jos. McTaggart, River street, interment taking place in Alvinston cemetery.

DEFINITE FINES ARE IMPOSED ON JARVIS AND SMITH BY COURT

Former Provincial Treasurer Must Pay $100,000 or Serve Additional Five Years in Portsmouth Penitentiary—Jarvis Must Pay $60,000, in Addition to the $14,000 Already Handed in as Restitution or Serve Five More Years.

Toronto, March 23.—By a decision handed down this morning by former Appellate court Peter Smith, former provincial treasurer of Ontario faces an additional five year term in Portsmouth Penitentiary unless he pays a fine of $100,000 in connection with his conviction last year of conspiracy to defraud the province in the purchase of duty free bonds on behalf of the government. The decision was rendered this morning when the Appellate court handed down a decision on the appeal launched by Aemilius Jarvis Sr., against the fine of $600,000 in connection with the same transaction.

Aemilius Jarvis, head of the former bond firm of Aemilius Jarvis and Co., was given a six months term in the county jail and Peter Smith, three years in Portsmouth penitentiary and a fine of $600,000 was made collectable from either, or both jointly.

Definite Fines

By the decision of the Appellate court a definite fine is now imposed on each, Aemilius Jarvis to pay $60,000 and Peter Smith $100,000. The decision does not alter the prison sentences already imposed but specifies an additional five years on each if the fines are not paid.

Aemilius Jarvis Sr., recently returned to the government $140,000 which he claimed was his entire profit, with interest, in the transaction which resulted in his arrest. The Appellate division holds that this sum must be regarded as restitution, and the fine of $60,000 is entirely separate from this.

An Oil that is Famous—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

A Reliable Tonic For Springtime

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Give New Health and Vigor

Not sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives as many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood, which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men and women and children, bright, active and strong.

Proof of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the system is run down is shown by the case of Mrs. Lillian Lewis, South Ohio, N.S., who says: "About a year ago I was badly run down. My appetite was poor, I did not sleep well and my nerves were all unstrung. I could not go upstairs without stopping to rest. As I was a long way from a doctor I decided to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in the course of a few weeks I felt like a new person. As an all round restorative I can heartily recommend this medicine."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail, at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

O.T.A. AMENDMENTS

4.4 Beer May Be Sold at Tables by Hotels, Cafes and Clubs; Grocers May Deliver Cases to the Home

MANY CHANGES MADE IN ORIGINAL O.T.A.

Toronto, March 20.—Provision for sale of beer of 4.4 per cent. alcoholic content in standard hotels, restaurants and grocery stores is made in amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act, which were introduced into the Ontario Legislature Thursday afternoon by Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general, and given first reading. In the case of grocery stores the beverage will be sold for outside delivery only, while in the hotels and restaurants the stipulation is made that service must be given at tables to avoid a reversion to the bar system, which received its death blow in Ontario in 1916.

The number of prescriptions to be allowed a doctor is reduced from 50 to 30 a month, while the minimum fine for consuming liquor in a public place is reduced from $200 to $50.

A nominal fee for a permit to sell beer will be charged, but the attorney-general made it clear this was for control purposes and not to obtain a profit.

There were no surprises in the amendments. Every feature of it had been forecast or hinted at during the past few weeks.

Other than those mentioned above the outstanding features of the amendments are:

That beer containing two and a half per cent. volume of alcohol may be sold and that any beer exceeding that amount of alcohol shall be deemed intoxicating. The beer allowed at present under the O.T.A. contains not more than 2½ per cent. proof spirits. The new beer is approximately double the strength of that sold now.

That the new beer shall be sold by those who get permits from the board of license commissioners.

That beer shall not be sold to those under eighteen years of age.

That all supplies of alcohol required by wholesale druggists shall be purchased hereafter from the license board direct and not from the distiller.

That the board may prohibit any druggist from selling or supplying liquor on the written prescription of a physician.

Extend Appeal Time

That the time allowed for an appeal from a magistrate's judgment in an O.T.A. breach action shall be 20 days instead of 10 as at present.

That the department of health may cause an analysis to be made of any patent medicine and may prohibit the sale of such medicine if it found to contain alcohol in contravention of the act.

That a druggist may keep a supply of liquor for sale for strictly medicinal purposes in packages of not more than six ounces.

That a dentist may have in his possession in addition to what he is otherwise entitled to, one quart of ethylic alcohol for purely mechanical purposes.

That clubs may sell 4.4 per cent. beer under permit, and that such premises shall be open to inspection at all times.

Reduce Minimum Fine

That the minimum fine for having or drinking liquor in a public place be $50 instead of $200 as at present, and that the maximum remain at $1,000.

That the 4.4 per cent. beer shall be in bottles with tin stoppers inlaid with cork and the name of the brewer stamped and the alcoholic content plainly marked. When sold in kegs or barrels these must have the same information stamped in the wood.

That those places found guilty of infractions of the law may be closed for not less than a month and not more than three and be placarded.

That permits for selling beer may be cancelled at any time by the board.

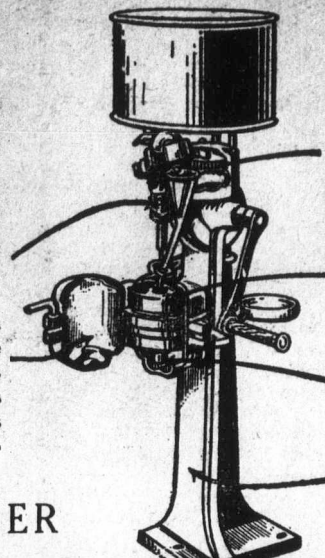

That breweries be bonded to the extent of $10,000 not to infringe on the law and that in cases of being found guilty of infringement the minimum fine be $1,000.

MELLOTTE ORIGINAL

Points of Superiority

- Single Ball Bearing suspends the bowl. It spins like a top. Bowl is self balancing — cannot get out of alignment. This is an exclusive Melotte feature. It turns easier than any other separator of similar capacity.
- Sanitary milk and cream chamber lined with white bath-tub enamel. Reduces tinware one-half—makes cleaning easy—is always sanitary — lasts a lifetime.
- Square cut gears (not spiral). All enclosed vertically and mounted—running in oil, on steel ball bearings.
- Suspended self-balancing bowl. No bottom bearing to wear or cause vibration and poor skimming.
- Self-draining bowl insures clean discs—prevents cream waste. Milk cannot sour in the bowl if it is left standing before washing.
- Solid cast iron base and frame—rigid and sanitary.

Government of The Argentine Nation

External Sinking Fund 6% Gold Bonds of 1924, Due December 1st, 1958.

Principal and interest payable in gold in New York.

We recommend these bonds for the following reasons:—

Argentine credit ranks higher than any other South American country and she leads all such countries in volume of foreign trade.

Argentine has gold on hand as a reserve against currency in circulation of 75%—one of the highest in the world. Canada's position in this respect is 46.05%.

Population is 9,500,000. Average wealth per person—$1,533. Total average Government debt per person—$103. Total debt represents only some 8% of the national wealth. Canada's average Government debt per person is about $350. United States about $200. Great Britain about $800.

Argentine credit in Europe ranks very high. Before the war Argentine Government Bonds were sold in London and Europe at coupon rates from 3½% to 5%.

These bonds are rated very high by the best authorities. They are also listed on the New York Stock Exchange, which assures the holder of a ready market for same at all times.

Willys-Overland Reports New Retail Sales Record

In the first ten weeks of the current year, Willys-Overland smashed all previous production records in manufacturing and shipping at the Toronto factory.

This new, high record represents an increase over the corresponding period of last year of more than 35%. Despite the fact that production has been stepped up to a new high average, according to figures issued by Willys-Overland officials on March 21st, an enormous number of unfilled orders were still on hand.

An indication of the tremendous demand that Willys-Overland products are experiencing from all parts of the country may be had from the following remarks of E. R. Paige General Sales Manager, who says:—"To meet these conditions, production schedules for the month of April are such as never before attempted at our Toronto plants and will necessitate twenty-four hours shifts in many departments."

"In the case of our Overland Sedan and Willys-Knight four-cylinder models earlier schedules for the next three months have had to be doubled."

WATFORD PUBLIC SCHOOL SOCIAL

On Wednesday last, March the eighteenth, a very pleasant evening was spent in the Public School under the auspices of the Spelling Club. The spelling contest has been going on for the last month under the leadership of Doris Howden and Lizzie Watson, the former's side being the winners.

The evening was spent very happily in games and music of all kinds. Some of these games being "An airplane ride" and "group games." A geography match was held being won by Mary Hay.

After the games lunch was served by the losing side while music was played. The party ended by singing "God Save The King."

Another party will be held in the future and it is hoped it will be as successful.—Ariel Routly.

ARKONA

The play, "Three Pegs", will be presented by the Arkona Women's Institute in the Methodist church on Friday evening, April 3rd. Reserve seats 50 cents, rush 35c, and children 25c. Come. 27-2t.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Utter with the president in the chair. Twenty-one members were present and responded to the roll call by "If I could have just one more labor-saving device, it would be." Reports of committees were given and all were pleased to hear of the progress of the play which is to be given in the near future. Mrs. Arthur Stoner was appointed as the new secretary-treasurer of the cemetery work. Miss Macintosh gave a most excellent paper on "Good Form in Public Places" which was followed by a most enjoyable piano duet by Mrs. Utter and Mrs. Moore. A demonstration of candy was then given by Mrs. Nelson and Miss Lampman, after which the meeting closed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Fuller.

Miss Olive Oakes of Hagersville, is spending a few weeks at her home here.

Our new spring linoleums are here.—Fuller Bros.

The St. Patrick's supper and concert given in the Baptist church on the evening of March 17th was well attended. A very sumptuous table was spread and no one could fail to satisfy the inner man. The entertainment that followed was much enjoyed. The playette "The Obstinate Family" if not instructive, was very amusing.

Some improvements are taking place in Arkona this spring. John L. Brown is having a new verandah built on the front of his house and we are pleased to see N. Stoner and E. Gingrich starting to clean up the rubbish on the corner, left by the fire. They are making preparations to rebuild on the unsightly spot.

Those who were "listening in" on the radio on Friday evening of last week enjoyed a rare treat. Not often we of the small towns have the opportunity of hearing grand opera such as the famous "Il Trovatore."

By filling all orders with only the best quality chicks that carry their own recommendation, the local demand has steadily increased. Several whom I supplied chicks and stock in late years have competed with my business by breeding and selling eggs from stock I supplied. This is a tribute to the quality of stock my customers get. All Leghorn chicks look alike when one day old but there may be a vast difference when they grow up. Quality counts big in poultry. Be sure what you are going to get before ordering any chicks. I guarantee every lot to be exactly as represented. Order early as quantity is limited. Descriptive folder sent on request. Special discount of 10% from chick prices when I supply a Brooder. Custom Hatching—small lots 5c per egg; Per tray of 215 eggs $7.00 plus 2c per chick

GREAT MEN OF THE PAST

VICTORIANS ENJOYED LIGHTER SIDE OF LIFE.

Sir George Rose Had Amazing Facility for Making Puns—Darwin's Head Resembled Ape—What the Shop-Girl Thought of Garvice.

"The Victorian punster has no follower in the present generation; it may be that we have not the wit to invent puns," writes Harry Furniss, in "Some Victorian Men." "A good pun to be effective must be purely spontaneous." And he gives this as an example: A well-known punster was dining with some brother Bohemians in his club, and a great noise going on in the room above attracted his attention. He inquired of the waiter who were the merry party. "It's the Pawnbrokers' Association, sir."

"Ah, I suppose they are pledging one another!"

Of a similar grain was the remark of Sir George Rose, the Victorian judge, who had an amazing facility for making puns.

An old friend of Sir George, overtaking him one day, observed, "I thought it was you, Sir George, walking so fast." "Ah," he replied, "you knew the rose by the stalk."

Sir George one evening was dining with Lord Langdale, who bemoaned the fact that the village of Langdale could boast only a very diminutive church. "Why," said the host, who was his patron, "it is not bigger than this dining-room."

"No," returned Sir George, toying with a walnut and raising his glass of port, "and the living not half so good."

"The worst of your clever punster is that he can never refrain from making a pun even in serious moments," the author remarks. "A friend of his (Sir George Rose) died of dropsy. Sir George remarked, 'Poor fellow! He has gone to Gravesend by water.'"

"It was somewhat unlucky for Darwin, but fortunate for the caricaturists," Mr. Furniss writes concerning the great naturalist, "that popular opinion credited him with the theory that man originated from monkeys. He was uncommonly like one himself. His intellectual head in profile bore a remarkable resemblance to the ape—his bushy eyebrows, his deep-set, penetrating eyes, short nose, and his thought-wrinkled face. I have heard artists advance the theory that men's faces, expressions, and even the shape of their heads gradually take their expression and form from the subject with which they are mentally engrossed. Yet I only recollect one man mentioned as an illustration of that absurd theory—and he was Darwin."

Another interesting figure of the Victorian age was Charles Garvice, a tall military-looking man, beloved by his countless readers.

He looked what he was a country gentleman. The last time I saw him he told me of the following incident: "He was travelling in the Tube with a friend, who had beside him a young girl who happened to be buried in Garvice's latest book. Garvice got up and left the carriage at his station, and as he was walking out the friend told the girl the identity of the man who had got out."

"The girl stood on tiptoe and gazed intently at the retreating form. Then she sank into her seat and ejaculated, 'Good heaven!'"

The author has some amusing stories that were told of Jack Ryder, the actor, who had "a tremendous propensity for bad language."

He was opening with a play at Liverpool, and, being informed that the costumes had not arrived from London rushed into a telegraph office, seized a pencil and a telegram form, and wrote a telegram containing the most awful language. The girl clerk ran her eye over it and returned the form. "We cannot send such language as this, sir." "Then write it yourself," said Ryder. The girl wrote:—

"Costumes for to-night's performance have not yet come. Their non-arrival will ruin performance. Please send them without fail by next train. Wire reply immediately."

The telegram was sent, and back came the reply: "It won't do for us. That message is not from Jack Ryder."

Ryder was one day swearing at the degeneracy of the stage, and said he had started as a solicitor's clerk and had a good mind to "chuck" the theatre. "Quite so," remarked a friend. "Why not open an office now as Commissioner for Oaths?"

Mr. Furniss' book is an amusing—and enlightening—survey of the men whose doing filled the newspapers in our fathers' and grandfathers' times. Say what we will, the Victorian age was a great age—otherwise we should never hear so much and read so much about it!

Something to Laugh at

When Sir William Orpen, as a young man, returned to Dublin from London he met an old friend, who remarked, "Billy, they told me you had been spilt in London, but you're not." "I'm glad of that," the artist replied. "Oh, you're not," the other said; "sure you're just the same little fool you always were."

The above is one of the stories which Sir William Orpen tells in his book, "Stories of Old Ireland and Myself."

One of the best stories concerns George Moore, the Irish novelist, who with a friend was travelling in a train. Looking out of the window, Moore exclaimed, "Isn't that view superb, now? I would give five pounds to be able to see it for just a few minutes." "Right!" said his companion, "you'll have your wish." He pulled the communication cord and the train stopped. "I have often wondered," Sir William remarks, "if Moore paid the five-pounds fine or not."

Another amusing book of Irish yarns is Sir Henry Robinson's "Further Memories of Irish Life." Here are some of them:—

An application was made by a widow for a new roof and gable-end to her house. "The roof was letting in the rain in such strames," she said, "that the only way to keep out of the wet was to go outside!"

The author once arrived at a hotel from which there came the sound of singing and revelry. "Whilst the manager was showing me my room," he says, "the singing suddenly ceased, and an appalling and prolonged yell rang through the house, something between a railway train whistling through a tunnel and a pig being killed. The manager listened with uplifted finger. 'Me daughter's voice. That's her top note,' he said, with conscious pride."

Once the author applied for a new carpet for his room at the Local Government Board—the carpet being much worn—and the Commissioner of Works said that one of the Commissioners would look in and see if the carpet was really in as bad a state as had been made out.

"There was a hole in the carpet close to the door, and just previous to the Commissioner's visit a clerk caught his foot in it, took a regular header, and tore it considerably. The coming of the Commissioner was awaited with confidence. When the door was thrown open and he was announced, he ambled in with outstretched hand, caught his foot in the hole, and came to the floor with a most gratifying crash. I apologized for the state of the carpet, picked him up, brushed him down, and told him how deputations from the local authorities making their entry into the room in the same way as he had done declared that it interrupted their train of thought." So the new carpet was secured.

The hospitality of the old priests in the West of Ireland was unbounded. Once Sir Henry arrived at the house of one of these clergy to learn that he had nothing but bread and butter. He went, however, and prepared a pancake, which was really uneatable. To avoid giving offence, the author slipped the pancake, unknown to his reverence, into one of two letter-bags which he carried. The other bag contained papers. After leaving the author deposited the bag with the papers at the village post office. Later, to his horror, he found he had left the wrong bag, and the pancake had gone up to the Local Government Board without explanation.

Later still he received an official request to state precisely what were the contents of the bag. Not wishing to reveal his carelessness, he headed his reply, "Failure of the potato crop. Sample of food consumed by small farmers in the West."

Over a Million Insects.

The British Museum in London possesses by far the most comprehensive insect collection in the world. It has not before been possible to frame an exact catalogue of all items, but after three years' work one has been now completed and published.

According to this the collection contains 1,118,000 insects. There are 325,767 butterflies of 41,210 different kinds. Of bees, wasps and winged ants there are 19,608 kinds. Of bugs, flies, gnats and mosquitoes there are 7,267 species represented; of grasshopper types 3,900 and of plant lice twenty-one species in 140 items. Private donors have done most to swell the collection. One alone gave 230,000 insects, another 30,000, while one entire collection of butterflies which was presented consisted of 31,130 specimens.

Birds and Lighthouses.

Perches for the accommodation of birds are fixed on St. Catherine's Lighthouse. Isle of Wight, for the benefit of birds during the migratory season. Extraordinary sights are witnessed every year by the keepers of lighthouses, for the brilliant glare attracts enormous flocks, which flit to and fro. As the monster flamingo spoke swings round the birds, evidently blinded by the glare, dash with such fury against the glass panes of the lantern as to flutter to the floor of the gallery with broken necks and wings, while large numbers, dazed or killed, fall into the water. Moths, too, often hover in clouds round the light, and are—like the birds—of such variety that an hour on the gallery would bring infinite delight and rich harvest to the entomologist.

Here and There

A total of 1,003,672 barrels of apples have been shipped to the English market from Halifax since the beginning of the shipping season up to February 24. London took 354,715 barrels and Liverpool and Manchester came second and third with 267,823 and 172,685 barrels respectively.

Eighty-four thousand automobiles are now being operated by citizens of the Province of Quebec equivalent to an average upkeep of $300 per year each, a total expenditure for maintenance alone of $25,000,000 every year, according to figures supplied by the Montreal Automobile Trade Association.

Around 16,000 horses were shipped from western Canada to eastern Canada in 1924, most of them coming from Saskatchewan. This province is maintaining its lead as the greatest horse-breeding centre of the Dominion, with a total of 1,170,745 head, an increase of 33.44 per cent over 1923.

The steamship "Princess Marguerite" successfully passed her trials on Clydebank when she developed an average speed of 22.56 knots and a best run of 23.2 knots per hour. Together with the "Princess Kathleen" she will be used on the Seattle-Vancouver-Victoria route this coming season.

Monsignor Heylen, Bishop of Namur, Belgium, and permanent president of the Eucharistic Congress, arrived at St. John, N.B., last week on the "Montrose." His Lordship was on his way to Chicago where he will make preparations for the Congress, to be held there in June, 1926.

Ivan Shvegel, Canadian Pacific Railway representative in Jugoslavia, interviewed here recently, stated that his countrymen were 88 per cent agriculturists and that he felt "certain that in the mutual interests of both countries the future will, in the field of immigration, lead to closer and closer relations between Canada and the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes."

A romance of the peerage and the steeple was personified by F. E. Bailey, grandson of the late Lord Glanusk, who arrived at St. John, N.B., last week among the third-class passengers on the "Montrose." Bailey, who is just 17 years of age, was so struck with Canada that he ran away from Bray Court College at Maidenhead and after a number of adventures realized his ambition by sailing on the "Montrose."

The largest batch of Clydesdale horses that has ever sailed from the Clyde, valued at $10,000, was embarked recently on the "Marloch." It consisted of 14 stallions and 3 fillies, and there were also ten Percherons from Antwerp on the "Marburn," while ten more Percherons and Belgians will be shipped at a later date. The horses were purchased by Mr. W. J. McCallum, of Brampton, Ontario, and Brandon, Manitoba.

George E. Buchanan, of Detroit, believes in romance. He believes in it so much that last year he took 48 Detroit boys for a trip to Alaska. This year he is going to take a good many more and he will include Canadian youngsters. He has been visiting in Toronto and his object is to find some boys willing to take a holiday in the Far North next July. Mr. Buchanan, who was born near Chatham in Ontario, has developed this unique hobby owing to having himself been taken on a trip to Alaska forty years ago when he was a boy.

About Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mount Forest, Ont.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt weak and miserable, and had pains all through me.
I was living in Ailsa Craig at the time, and one day a friend came in and told me her experience of using the Vegetable Compound and advised
me to take a bottle,
which I finally did.
I began to get stronger and those pains left me. I am glad I found out about this medicine as I think there is none equal to it for women who have troubles of this kind. I cannot praise the Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. Whenever I know of a woman suffering I am glad to tell her of it."—Mrs. Wm. RIDSDALE, R. R. No. 1, Mount Forest, Ontario.

Women throughout the Dominion are finding health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
No harmful drugs are used in its preparation—just roots and herbs—and it can be taken in safety even by a nursing mother. For sale by all druggists.

The first sign that a ship is becoming "foul" is a decrease in speed.
After being laid up for only six months a vessel that is good for eighteen knots, when clean, will do barely fifteen.

To the big Atlantic liners speed is everything. They have their mail contracts to fulfill, and in any case, their speed is their great advertisement. If they are allowed to get foul, they not only lose in this respect, but they burn much more fuel, and there is increased wear and tear of machinery, extra wages for the crews, and extra food and attention for passengers during a longer voyage.

A crack liner is cleaned every few months. She has to be unloaded, dry-docked, cleaned, coated with anti-fouling fluid, and undocked. The expense of this is enormous. There is not only the loss of her enormously valuable time, but also the payment of her crew's wages, which goes on just as usual.

Once it used to take a whole fortnight to clean a ship, but now the time has been cut down to about three days. Gangs of cleaners relieve one another and the work goes on night and day until finished.

Many attempts have been made to perfect an anti-fouling composition, and hundreds have been produced.
Some of them are of great value and enable ships to remain clean for a considerable period. But I believe I am right in stating that the perfect anti-fouling composition has yet to be invented.

The cleaning is done with long steel chisel-bars. Then the whole bottom of the ship is scrubbed, and finally several coats of anti-fouling composition are applied with long-handled brushes.

Jewels for All

Nowadays every woman in the world, no matter how limited her means, can always wear one or two pieces of fashionable jewellery.
Pearls and jade are both much worn by leaders of society, and a really good roop of artificial pearls, that will look every bit as good as a real string of the same length, can be had for a guinea or so.

When it comes to jade it is quite an impossibility for anyone but an expert to tell the true from the false, even with the two sets side by side.
As a matter of fact, there is no perceptible difference between a necklace priced at half a crown and one costing two or three hundred pounds.

There are, however, many women who have a "feeling" about jewellery that is not real, and for these the fashionable stones of the moment are diamonds in unusual settings.
Flexible diamond bracelets as much as two inches in width are being worn by some wealthy women.
The popularity of these stones probably lies in the fact that, at a time when there is so much artificial jewellery about, it is always possible to tell a real diamond from a fake even at a casual glance. Besides, diamonds are always worth what has been paid for them, and can be turned into money should the necessity arise. After pearls and diamonds, the most popular stones at present
are emeralds and sapphires.

Black Wins

He was a very cautious, middle-aged wooer, and, with certain reservations, he had bestowed his affections on the minister's cook.
He had satisfied himself as to her suitability in all respects with the exception of one important point. He felt that the question of "siller" must be definitely fixed up before he went further.
On bluntly asking her how well off
she was, his prospective fiance cast a chill over his expectations by admitting that she had little of this world's goods. But she told him that she had a rich uncle, from whom she had expectations.
"Aweel, Jean," remarked the gentleman, who, by the way, came from Scotland, "we'll just say nae mair about it the noo. But ye ken me feelin' if a black-edged letter comes."

Burning the Clavie

A strange New Year custom, so old that its meaning has been forgotten, is kept up every New Year's Eve in the little fishing village of Burghed on the Moray Firth. A rude spiked tub or wheel, made from half a herring cask and half a tar barrel, knocked together without the use of a hammer, and containing only one nail, is borne flaming on the shoulders of a succession of bearers through the streets of the "Doorie," a sort of stone altar on a small hill just outside the village, where it is smashed to pieces, the crowd scrambling for the blazing fragments. The "Burning of the Clavie," as it is termed, dates from time immemorial, and is probably a survival of some pagan custom.

CURED BY ACCIDENT.

Cures Accomplished Which Medical Skill Has Been Unable to Effect.
The remarkable case of Mr. W. G.
Harbord, whose memory was restored by the kick of a horse, is the latest addition to a long list of cases in which accidents have accomplished cures which medical skill has been unable to effect.

A curious story of a similar kind was told some time ago by Maj.-Gen.
Maudersson, of Tiverton, says Tit-Bits.

"In India," he said, "eight or ten officers quartered near Lahore were out hawking ravine deer and obara, and during a run Col. Fisher's horse blundered over some rough ground, and fell with him.

"The only injury he received was loss of memory." We got a native cot and he rested on it for three hours without getting better. We kept asking what he was doing to have fallen, and so on, but he could remember nothing about it. As we were some twelve miles from Lahore, it was suggested that he should be carried home on the cot by coolies.

"This he objected to, and insisted on riding home. A brother officer and I rode with him. By the time we got near Lahore it was dusk, and his pony fell with him over a heap of limestone at the side of the road.
He again fell on his head, unhurt;
but his memory was completely restored."

More remarkable still was the experience of William Allen, a soldier, who was severely wounded in the head at the Battle of Gettysburg.
Allen recovered from his wound, but the machinery of his brain appeared to have stopped. For forty years his mind was a blank so far as current events were concerned; but he retained a vivid memory of the incidents of his life up to the unlucky day, and could describe long-dead men and trivial incidents of his youth with remarkable fidelity. On July 22nd, 1903, he was thrown from a horse on to his head; and, after recovering consciousness, found that his memory was completely restored.

The fear of an accident was the means of restoring speech to a dumb
man. The man, who lived at Gosport, had been dumb for four years when,
on returning home one evening, his bicycle skidded. In his alarm he shouted, and was so startled and surprised at hearing his voice that he called out again and again until he was convinced that speech had returned to him.

It is not many years since a remarkable case of dumbness excited great interest in medical circles.
Twelve months earlier a cattle-dealer had been kicked by a horse, with the result that he completely lost his voice. A year later he was riding a doomed horse to the slaughterer's yard, when the animal began to kick and plunge in a dangerous manner.
"The man," we are told, "lost his head in wild excitement, and after a few minutes began to talk."

More curious still was the case of a blacksmith, Paul Stengel, who was kicked in the head by a horse while in the middle of a sentence addressed to his assistant, and rendered unconscious for several days. On recovering, his mind was an absolute blank, until one day he fell down a flight of steps, pitching on his head.
He was picked up in a dazed condition; and on recovering his senses the first words he uttered were the completion of the sentence that had been interrupted by the horse's kick
some months earlier.

Some time ago a Devonshire man, who had been blind for nearly twenty years, sustained a fracture of the skull in a carriage accident. In the necessary operation part of the skull which had been driven into the brain was removed, with the result that, when the patient gained consciousness, he found that his sight was restored to him.

SOUS TRU BREED DISEASE.

An interesting fact has impressed itself upon the medical faculty, to the effect that most of the tetanus, or lockjaw cases treated at the London hospitals came from Essex, where the soil is apparently suited to the germ. Actually, all soils are the breeding ground of disease germs.
In the New Forest there is a species of mould, used in orchid cultivation, that is well known among gardeners
as being dangerous. It contains microbes which, on obtaining access to the blood, set up a peculiarly virulent form of septic poisoning, from which recovery is unlikely. Similarly, what is known as "azalea peat," a fine vegetable loam found in certain Midland districts, carries germs equally potent. Many nurserymen will handle it only with gloves.

Alvinston will rebuild the cement sidewalks on Main street this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLachlan, of Alvinston, celebrated the 52nd anniversary of their marriage recently.

J. B. Allard, egg dealer, of Thamesville, was fined $50 and costs on three charges of buying ungraded eggs.

Peter McBrayne has been appointed road superintendent for the township of Zone at a salary of $3 per day.

We are putting up the following motto in a conspicuous place in our office. "No, we don't know any word of any number of letters meaning anything."

Isabella Rebecca Hodgins, the 17-year-old Lucan high school girl, who disappeared from her home on March 9th, was discovered by high county constable Robert Whiting, working as a domestic near Courtright.

There is today adjacent to Toronto a whole township without a single farm, or at any rate without one farm being worked. There are two farm holdings in York township, but neither is operated.

An unusual consignment passed through Montreal recently in the care of the Dominion Express Company when six Rocky Mountain sheep were shipped to Austria to form part of a zoological exhibit there.

Adam Morningstar, Chippewa, was fined $25 with costs for selling a skunk skin without a license. That is the minimum fine. Mr. Morningstar was dismantling an old barn and killed seven skunks.

Word was received last week of the death at Bath, N.Y., of Mrs. Chas Robinson (nee Alice Toohill) a former Metcalfe girl. She was a sister of Wm. L. and Robert F. Toohill and Miss Sarah Toohill, of Napier.

J. T. Patton, manager of the Bell Telephone Co. in Sarnia for the past ten years, has been transferred to Stratford to assume the district managership there the first of April. His successor in this district has not yet been announced.

One-fourth pound maple sugar, one-half cup water, boiled together till it will spin. Whisk boiling hot into the beaten whites of two eggs and one-half cup thick cream and a little lemon juice to taste and you will have a nice pudding sauce.

A fine large barn belonging to Dan McCaw, 10th concession east, just outside the Petrolia corporation was completely destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning, with a loss of $6000; part of which is covered by insurance. All of the stock and part of the implements and remainder of last season's crops were destroyed. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, but is attributed to the electric storm which passed over this locality early Monday evening. It is believed the fire smoldered for a considerable time unnoticed. The owner was not aware of the blaze until the collapse of the walls awakened him.

While returning from shopping Mrs. David Templeton, an old resident of Copleston, was stricken with paralysis and lapsed into unconsciousness just as she arrived at her home late Monday afternoon. For an hour or more she lay unnoticed in the yard exposed to the cold wind. Her husband, who is also a victim of a stroke and is incapable of helping himself missed his wife, and thinking something had happened, made a noise by thumping on the wall. This attracted a passerby who found the woman, in an unconscious condition. She died that evening without regaining consciousness.

In this week's issue our readers will notice an advertisement of Bonds of the Government of the Argentine Republic. This is the first time that Bonds of a Foreign Government have been announced for subscription in this district. The event is noteworthy because it marks the entrance of Canadian investors into the world's financial markets. These bonds which are advertised by the well known firm of B. A. Daly & Company, Toronto, are part of the issue recently floated in New York. The Argentine Republic is the most prosperous of the South American countries. It has the greatest foreign trade. Its leading city, Buenos Ayres, is one of the most beautiful capitals in the world. The population of the Argentine is larger than that of Canada, and the average wealth of its people is very high, about $1,533 per capita. The total debt is very low only $133, as compared to Canada's $350.

SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian Spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery, is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is often overheated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ills of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
