BOLSHEVIK CHIEFS PAID BY GERMANY

Sixty Million Rubles Given Trotsky and Lenine by Enemy.

GREATEST BETRAYAL

Sensational Documents to Be Issued on Russian Revolution.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Proofs revealing any doubts that Lenine and Trotsky, the Bolshevik leaders, are paid German agents—if indeed any doubts remain—are laid before the world today by the United States Government in the first instalment of an amazing series of official documents disclosed thru the committee on public information. The documents already were setting forth how the German Government, thru its imperial bank, paid its gold to Lenine, Trotsky and their immediate associates to betray Russia in deserting her allies, but gave added proofs, if any be necessary, that Germany had perfected her plans for a war of world conquest, long before the assassination of Sarajevo, which set the world war in motion, and which the world now is convinced, conclusively furnished her pretext. These documents further show that before the world war was four months old, and more than two years before the United States was drawn into it, Germany already was setting about her plans to "mobilize destructive agents and observers," to cause explosions, strikes and outrages in this country; and planned the employment of "anarchists and escaped criminals" for the purpose. Almost ranking in their sensational nature with the notorious Zimmerman note proposing war by Mexico and Japan upon the United States, which was first given to the world thru the Associated Press, these documents lay bare a new strata of Prussian intrigue, a new view of the workings of kultur to disrupt the alliance, standing between the world and Kaiserism. They disclose a new "toy of human treachery for gold which might almost well be described without sacrilege as placing its perpetrators on a pedestal with Judas and his 30 pieces of silver. Carried Out Thoroughly. The intrigue appears to have been carried down to the last detail of arrangement with typical German system. It will be revealed completely in a series of seven articles furnished by the committee on public information for publication each morning, beginning today, until the series is complete. Not only do the disclosures prove that Lenine, Trotsky and their band are paid German agents, they show that the Bolshevik revolution, which threw Russia into such orgy of murder and excesses as the world has seldom seen, actually was arranged by the German staff. They show how the paid agents of Germany betrayed Russia at the Brest-Litovsk "peace" conference; how German staff officers secretly have been received by the Bolsheviks as military advisers; how they have acted as spies upon the embassies of the nations with which Russia was allied or at peace, how they effectually have directed the Bolshevik foreign, domestic and economic policy, wholly in the interest of Germany and the shame and degradation of Russia. They show how a picked German commander was detailed to "defend" Petrograd against the German army and an extent of German intrigue and domination almost beyond the realm of imagination. Originals of documents, photographs of originals and typewritten circulars of some of them marked "very secret" or "private" and many of them bearing the annotations of the Bolshevik leaders themselves; some of them containing references to "Comrade Trotsky" or "Comrade Lenine" comprise the damning record. Some of the originals, it is shown, altho deposited in the secret archives of the Bolsheviks, were required to be returned later to representatives of the German staff in Petrograd that they might be destroyed. But evidence of them remained in the fabric of rogery and into the vacancies they fit perfectly. The Bolshevik leaders themselves informed their "comrades" that the German Government had required the return of the order of the German Imperial Bank depositing 60,000,000 gold rubles in a Stockholm bank for Lenine and Trotsky, and at the same time the accounts of the bank had been "audited" to conceal the payments. The first instalment of the revelations appearing herewith is prefaced by an official statement by the committee on public information which tells briefly what the succeeding instalments of documents will prove.

AMERICANS CRUSH COUNTER-ATTACKS

Hard Fighting Takes Place in Fey-en-Haye Quarries.

COLLECTING SUPPLIES

United States Troops Finish Cleaning Up St. Mihiel Salient.

With the American Army in Lorraine, Sept. 15.—The enemy counter-attacks against part of the American lines Friday evening and again during the night, but met with an intense and accurate artillery fire and recoiled. The Americans took a few prisoners in these attacks. Hard fighting has taken place in the quarries northeast of Fey-en-Haye, where the Germans had placed one big gun and many machine guns in a well defended position. Additional Austrian prisoners have been taken. Native civilians said that they came in only a few days ago. Artillery fire and gas shells were sent against certain American positions during the night, but they did little damage. The Americans are organizing their newly-taken positions rapidly and are pushing forward exploitation parties. Prisoners and supplies are being collected and roads are being constructed in No Man's Land. Much booty and ammunition have fallen to the Franco-American allies. Prisoners and refugees alike are greatly impressed by the fact that the Americans are eating white bread, regarding it as a particularly ominous sign for Germany. Thruout the night and early today Pershing's men continued to advance and finished cleaning up the St. Mihiel salient. They cleared the forests of lurking Germans. Prisoners make conflicting statements respecting German preparedness for an attack in this sector. Some say it was unexpected, others declare they had advance information of the hour and place of the attack. Still others expected it would take place on the 15th, and say that the artillery had been ordered to withdraw on the night of the attack. The posts command was being moved when the attack began and therefore was caught unawares in the barrage. This apparently explains the light counter-artillery fire Thursday morning. A German prisoner-officer is quoted as saying: "The Hindenburg line in its present state is untenable."

EXEMPT THE BONDS, SHAUGHNESSY'S VIEW

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 15.—"The chief thing is for Canada to get the money and the only way to get it is from exempted bonds," stated Lord Shaughnessy, on Saturday morning in an interview when questioned as to what he thought of any proposal to tax Victory bonds. "If they are to be taxed, either the rate of interest must be increased, or the selling rate reduced. Manifestly it would be fairer and more equitable to all, if the bonds were taxed, but the minister has thoroughly considered all these points and considers that the best way to get the money for Canada's use, which is very necessary, is by the system of tax-exempted bonds. Securities that are free from taxation in this way have proved very attractive to the buyer and there is no doubt that it is the best way to raise the money."

FRENCH MAKE ADVANCE BELOW AILLETTE RIVER

Paris, Sept. 15.—An official statement issued by the French war office says: "In the course of the day we made progress between Savy and the Ham-St. Quentin road. "South of the Ailette River we advanced our positions to the north of Nantouilly-Fosse. "Two German counter-attacks in the region of Laffaux and Moisy Farm were repulsed. "Near East, Sept. 12.—There were lively reciprocal artillery actions and patrol activity at numerous points along the front. "West of the Vardar River an enemy attack against the new positions of the British was repulsed with heavy losses. A number of prisoners were captured. "British airplanes bombarded enemy works in the valley of the Struma River."

ALLIES TO REJECT AUSTRIAN FEELER

To Give Germany No Opportunity to Treat Separately.

PROPOSALS INSINCERE

Washington Officials See Underlying Sinister Purpose in Note.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Germany's latest peace feeler advanced thru Austria, it was officially stated today, best finds its answer in President Wilson's Baltimore speech, delivered last April. "Force, force to the utmost, force without stint or limit, the righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world, and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust." That was the president's answer then and, it was reiterated today, it is his answer now. "No one doubts that it is the answer of all the allies. The allied leaders recognize Austria's proposal as an effort by Germany to obtain the best terms possible. There will be no round table conference, no sounding out process such as Germany proposes and which she hopes will give opportunity to deal with her enemies separately. If any reply at all is made, it will be after an exchange of views between the United States and the other combatants so that a reply for all may be made in one. On every side it seems agreed that the only ground on which Germany may have a conference is the acceptance of the principles laid down by President Wilson and which have been accepted by the allies as their watchword. The Washington Government has already formed its own opinion regarding Baron Burián's plan and even in the formal shape in which it is now presented, it is quite as objectionable as it was originally and does not present a single point upon which the entente powers and the United States

U. S. PASSPORT RULES ARE NOW EFFECTIVE

Montreal, Sept. 15.—Residents of Canada contemplating traveling to a foreign country should be careful to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the new United States regulations, so that embarrassment, misunderstandings and possible delays may be avoided. President Wilson's proclamation, dated Aug. 8, 1918, governing the issuance of passports and the granting of permits to depart from and enter the United States, becomes effective today. Under the terms of said proclamation, all persons resident in Canada, other than citizens of the United States, who may desire to enter the United States for the purpose of sailing from any port in that country, are required to file their application to depart from any such port, with the nearest United States immigration office in Canada or the nearest immigration office at the border, each application to be accompanied by four copies of the photograph of the applicant, not smaller than two inches by three inches, photographs to be mounted on thin paper with light background. Applications for permits to depart from Canada must also be accompanied by passports, properly made out and viced by appropriate consular officers.

STRONG ENEMY THRUST PARRIED AT TRESCAULT

With the British Army in France, Sept. 15.—Hard fighting has continued in the neighborhood of Trescault and Goussaucourt, the Germans counter-attacking against the positions captured by the British on Thursday. Last night the enemy made a strong thrust at the defences east of Trescault after a hurricane bombardment. Some of the attacking infantry succeeded in penetrating the trenches, but were immediately ejected, and the assault was repulsed. At 2 o'clock this morning the Germans also made a heavy bombing attack, supported by liquid fire, against a small section of British trenches north of Goussaucourt. A fierce hand-to-hand engagement ensued and the defenders were forced to fall back slightly to their support line.

DO NOT THROW THAT FRUIT AWAY

Government Will See How Much Damage Infected Rings Has Done.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—The Canada Food Board has issued a request that the fruit infected or supposed to be infected by phenol or some other substance, be not destroyed. The trouble, first located in Muskoka, seems fairly widespread, and a great loss might result if all the fruit infected is destroyed. Experts are now investigating, and are hopeful that ways and means of saving this fruit will be discovered. In the meantime the board asks that the fruit be held. The public is asked not to destroy it until it is definitely and positively known that it cannot be made fit for use.

GERMANS TO RESIST AMERICANS STRONGLY

With the American Army in Lorraine, Sept. 15.—The Germans gave further evidence today that they intended to resist strongly on the line to which they have fallen back above the former St. Mihiel salient. A detachment was digging in today about Dommarlin (4 1/2 miles north of Thiarcourt). Between Lachaussee (2 1/2 miles northwest of Dommarlin) and Dommarlin squad trenches have been established. German detachments also were in the woods above Wool (four miles north of Hattoville).

TWENTY-ONE THOUSAND BRITISH CASUALTIES

London, Sept. 15.—Casualties among the British forces reported for the week ending yesterday total 21,445, compared with an aggregate of 20,640 in the previous week. The casualties were divided as follows: Killed or died of wounds: Officers, 585; men, 3514. Wounded or missing: Officers, 1702; men, 15,665.

WOMAN EXCEEDS SUFFRAGE CLAIMS

Mrs. Pankhurst Says Civilization Follows in Wake of Women's Work.

HELP RECONSTRUCTION

Soldiers Can Bank Upon the Women to Last Ditch.

"We have grown a conscience more tender than any before," said Mrs. Pankhurst, on Sunday afternoon, addressing a great gathering at the Lyceum Theatre under the auspices of the National G.W.P.A. "You soldiers can bank upon the women to follow up the principles under reconstruction to the last ditch."

Reconstruction always is before our eyes, but never let us waver in our vigorous prosecution of the war. The time is again sending out feelers through all allied countries. Germany is willing to surrender Belgium and Alsace-Lorraine. Yes, why? Because in the Balkans and in conquered Russia, she holds in her grasp land and seas of unmeasured wealth.

Progress of Women's Work. Mrs. Pankhurst traced the progress of women's war work in Europe from its inception, when the militant suffragettes turned their energy and resources to the duty of recruiting British munitions, of settling the South Wales coal strike and finally of introducing women into munitions and other useful war work. "Whenever women work they bring civilization with them," concluded the speaker. "The health of Britain has been better than ever before, and the death rate, despite the heavy casualties lists, has not increased, neither has the birthrate decreased. This is her answer to those who long have asserted that man alone can be relied upon to keep a home going. The very of the womanhood of all the nations has succeeded all the claims ever made for it."

VETERANS FORMING NEW ORGANIZATION

The Grand Army of Canada Will Be Only Discharged Men and Women.

"The Grand Army of Canada," the new veterans' organization, has now become a definite association. Its aims are to band together all men and women who have served in either the army or navy, either in Canada, Britain or on any of the belligerent nations. The object of the organization is to obtain protection and provision for direct representation on all legislative bodies for its members and dependents. No one shall be allowed to join the society until after his or her discharge into civil life, and the standard of membership shall be the possession of a certificate of honorable discharge from either the Canadian army or navy. The association, which will elect its officers for the current year within the next ten days, will grant sick and funeral benefits under a system, details of which are now being formulated. A suitable badge, emblematic of the ideals of the association, will be issued to all members. An open meeting will be held shortly.

SPIRITUALITY NEEDED FOR NATION'S GREATNESS

"Our resources are unquestionable but you should see to it that you produce greater men, but unless you produce spirituality with your materialism, your nation's greatness may be in jeopardy," said Hon. Samuel Mauger, ex-postmaster-general of Australia, who delivered a striking address before the Western Congregational Church on Sunday evening. In the course of his address the speaker pointed out that Australia, with her 4,500,000 population, had sent 400,000 men to the front. A feature of the service was the returned soldiers' choir and orchestra, which delighted the large gathering. Mr. Mauger may speak again next Sunday.

ALIEN ENEMIES BARRED.

Local 2612 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters has passed a resolution refusing to allow alien enemies in the local. This resolution, which was presented by Albert T. Edgington, was carried unanimously, and was transmitted to all the Hamilton locals, to the district and provincial councils.

It's Easy Enough to keep the liver right if you use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills occasionally. The liver gets lazy at times and when it does digestion is interfered with and the kidneys fail to act. You soon know it when the liver is awakened by this treatment, for headache, biliousness, and stomach troubles disappear and you feel fine. This is an easy prescription for health and happiness.

DOROTHY DIX'S TALKS

WHEN MOTHER WAS A GIRL. BY DOROTHY DIX. The World's Highest Paid Woman Writer.

A correspondent asks this question: "What particular quality should a woman look for in the man she marries?" Assuming that the prospective bridegroom could pass a civil service examination in the higher moralities and that he was financially able to support a home, what is the particular quality that would make him most livable and lovable through the long years of matrimony? For alas, it is only too true that many a one who possesses a number of the virtues has none of the amenities of life.

If I were a girl picking out a husband I should first satisfy myself that the man was not unscrupulous in the acquisition of his money, and that he had demonstrated that he could make a living by his own unaided efforts, and then I should concentrate my attention on finding out whether he was sympathetic or not. I count sympathy the crown jewel in a husband's diadem. When a man has that he is the miracle worker who turns bread and angel food for his wife, and makes her whole married life a matter of how much work, poverty or hardship it has in it, a grand, sweet song.

Sympathy in a man means understanding. It means appreciation. It means pity. It means a man being able to see the woman's point of view, and to see life from the feminine angle, and to forgive her every other sin under the sun, and if he can't do it, all of his sounding cymbals. I do not believe that there are many men who are intentionally bad husbands, or who marry girls with the deliberate purpose of turning their lives into cinders. I think that most men would like their wives to be happy and contented, yet there are very few happy or contented wives, and the reason of it is that they have married men without sympathy.

The man without sympathy cannot put himself in his wife's place, and so he does not realize how dull and drab, how dreary and monotonous are the days of the woman who does her own housework, and takes care of a brood of little children. Therefore, his solicitude for her is doing, except her housekeeping, and yet people wonder at the prevalence of divorce. It is sympathy that binds people together. It is sympathy alone that can bring the tired wife back to her normal state, and unless a woman finds in her husband a sympathetic friend and confidant, she can "show herself in time of need, or less of a failure to her."

SOCIETY

Conducted by Mrs. Edmund Phillips

The premier of New Zealand, Mr. Massey and Miss Massey, will arrive at the King Edward this morning from England. The former will be the guest of the city at lunch, and of the Ontario cabinet at dinner.

Miss Hendrie has returned to Government House from the sea, where she has been for the last two months. The marriage of the Rev. Canon Macdonald and Miss Eleanor Harrington Owen, Toronto, took place in St. Alban's Cathedral on Saturday afternoon. The church was beautifully decorated with daisies and ferns tied with white ribbon work, and in the chancel palms and banners, lectern and pulpit also bordered with flowers, and on the altar pale pink carnations and gladioli. The bride, who was brought in and given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. H. H. Elder (Detroit), was met at the south door of the cathedral by the full choir, which sang "The Voice That Breathed Our Eden." The Lord Bishop of Toronto read the service, assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon Inglis, acting as his chaplain. The bride, who was unattended, looked very smart and handsome in a tailor-made, black silk gabardine, piped with black silk braid, a blouse of white georgette crepe, and a blue hat with tange ostrich feathers. She also wore a diamond brooch and earrings and a gold cross, the gifts of the groom, and a pearl chain from her brother and sisters. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and maiden hair fern. Canon Macdonald was attended by his nephew, Col. Carter. The service was fully choral. Mr. Coombes, the organist, playing the wedding music. His House singing "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. The wedding trip is first to New York, where they will be the guests of Col. and Mrs. Carter from there they will go to Plainfield, N.J., and then to Quebec before returning home. Canon and Mrs. Macdonald were the recipients of numerous beautiful presents from members of the congregation, a purse of gold, many bouquets from personal friends and other gifts too many to be mentioned in detail.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 16.

The Peace Drive.

Austria's peace drive has been expected for some time past. The most obvious thing to say about it is that it could not have been formulated without the permission of the German Government, which has Austria enslaved. Next, Germany would not have consented to such a move but for the defeat beginning July 18. Before that time Germany was actually increasing her demands and protesting that Belgium, Alsace-Lorraine, Poland and other occupied territories would never be given up. Two months ago peace was not in the German mind. The proposal now to have the war to end while conversations were being held by representatives of the belligerent powers is merely a stupid German device. "Will you walk into my parlor?" said the spider to the fly. The fly is buzzing its way thru the spider's web, and the spider would be glad to have a chance to find out how venal the fly may happen to be.

The knowledge that the great war was deliberately plotted and planned long before it broke out in 1914, and that even the Russian revolution was all arranged and conspired about years ahead as part of the plan of campaign, takes away the interest that might have been felt in it as a genuine and ingenious proposal. But we know now that everything that comes out of Germany will be the Hohenzollern way and its militarism continues, is merely a war measure. The offers to fraternize in the Russian and Italian trenches were no more false than this offer to discuss peace terms while the war is still carried on. Should the German armies regain the initiative and the present military situation be reversed, the peace conference would not continue its sessions another hour.

Austria and Germany could have had a peace council any time before the war broke out in 1914, but they rejected every proposal, and the pleadings of Sir Edward Grey at that time were treated with scorn. The high and mighty gentlemen who would not listen to peace proposals at that time now profess to be profoundly moved over the "deep-reaching convulsions" and the "devastating effects" of war in a "tottering world." But we are not so tottering as not to be able to keep one eye on the fellow who started us tottering, and he will totter to some tune before he has his will of us now.

"The earnest will of peace of wide classes of the population of all the states who are jointly suffering thru the war" is only to be found in Germany and the countries of her allies. If these "wide classes" really want peace they can have it by upsetting the governments that made war, and by dispersing the ill-gotten gains of that iniquitous policy. They might as well make a virtue of necessity, for they will be compelled to concede justice to those they have devastated before another crop is all sown.

One must always ask what particular war aim Germany has in view to be advanced by any move she makes. Evidently she would hope by getting the allies into a discussion on peace terms to throw some apple of discord on the council table, and thus cause friction. An offer to release Alsace and Lorraine to France and to reconstitute Belgium has already been hinted at as a means of detaching France from her allegiance. But France knows if she gave up the fight now and allowed Germany to recoup herself in the east for the loss of Belgium and the Rhine provinces, that it would only be a little while till Germany would return and demand a greater sacrifice than ever. And moreover the United States and Britain would continue the fight until democracy was safe.

The growing arrogance and brutality of Germany under the inspiration of imagined victory and up till two months ago has led all wise men to the determination to have no traffic with Germany until the German military machine has been shown to be a false god, an idol of clay, on which the people of Germany can place no reliance. Until Germany repents of her great sin against humanity the allies are not to be trapped into any foolish discussion of what has gone beyond debate. The Kaiser himself has frequently told us that the mailed fist alone could settle the quarrel, and we are quite satisfied to abide by that decision. An unconditional surrender will soon be the only terms which Germany can expect at the hands of an outraged world.

Sunday Motoring.

Yesterday's weather was such that the fuel controller's request to keep motor cars in their garages was not in the nature of a self-denying ordinance. There was a very general observance of the desire of the authorities to conserve gasoline for war purposes at the front, and there is no doubt of the real help rendered in this way.

It is estimated that not more than five per cent. of the usual motor traffic was in service yesterday, and this was probably for the most part necessary. One or two cars were labeled "On war work." In Hamilton a green star has been provided for physicians' cars.

The Bolshevik Plot.

Lieut. Woldemar W. Sveshnikoff, a Russian artillery officer, has secured papers which have been laid before the authorities in the allied capitals proving conclusively that Lenin and Trotsky, the heads of the Bolshevik organization, were the paid agents of the German Government, by whom the whole diabolical plot of the overthrow of the Russian revolution was planned. The revolution was first inaugurated, and when it was fairly launched and apparently a success without bloodshed, Germany first pushed Kerensky to the front, and then, overthrowing him, installed the two tools, Lenin and Trotsky, alias Ulanoff and Bronstein. Trotsky had been arrested by the British authorities at Halifax, and he rolled on the deck of the steamer there, screaming and howling like a baby, till the sailors bundled him over the side into a boat. All the pacifists in America and the Germans and pro-Germans, raised such a howl that the British Government, not wishing to quarrel with Washington, allowed him to proceed to Russia. This was the beginning of the reign of terror.

The documents show that Trotsky, Lenin, Loannsharysky and others, had been receiving German money as early as 1916. When accused of this, they have been in the habit of replying: "Well, what if we did? Our aims are different from the aims of those who gave it." They stole all the accusing documents from the archives of the police of the old regime. But authentic documents have been reproduced in the Priasofski Kral, a south Russian paper, and in Fozar, the Moscow weekly. On Feb. 23, 1915, the German foreign department issued a circular to all ambassadors, envoys and consuls in neutral countries, asking them to "protect and co-operate as much as possible" with leaders of a propaganda which had been organized to "excite the Socialist movement, and in consequence thereof strikes, revolutionary agitations, rebellions, civil war, and agitations for disarmament and immediate peace." Consciously or not, all the pacifists and defeatists are therefore playing into the hands of Germany.

Maxim Gorky, who has recently publicly denounced the Lenin cause, received money from Scheidemann, the German Socialist, 150,000 kronen (about $37,500), being sent to one Oberg, on Aug. 25, 1917, for this purpose. Lenin received 315,000 marks (about $78,000), thru Swenson of Copenhagen, July 1, 1917. On Sept. 12, another 207,000 marks went to Lenin (over $50,000). On Sept. 21, 1917, the German Military Bank enquired of Rafael Schaumann in Haparanda, the best way to get money to "Comrade Trotsky" and on Oct. 2, 400,000 kronen ($100,000), were sent to him by Comrade Sonia.

Agencies were opened at Lulla, Haparanda and Vardo, on the Finnish frontier, and in Bergen and Amsterdam, "in order to maintain a more active supervision of the material interests of German shareholders in Russian, English and French enterprises." In another circular "from the general staff of the military agents, France, Italy and Norway," instructions were given for the use of "special military credits for the auxiliary forces of the war in all departments of German banks and banking houses in Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, China and the United States."

In this circular, which is signed Dr. E. Fisher, "the general staff authorizes you to use widely these credits for the distribution among hostile factories and small factories, warehouses, and important military and civil buildings, to foment strikes, to make trouble, to spoil machinery, destroy ships, which carry ammunition to hostile countries, to fire goods and raw materials, to destroy electrical power in large cities, to destroy stores of coal, charcoal and foodstuffs. Special agents will be sent to place themselves at your disposal and will bring you high explosives and a list of the agents who will be responsible to you in the countries in which you are located."

How faithfully the Bolsheviks, the I. W. W., and their sister organizations have carried out this policy is known to us all. We have had many letters from deluded Canadians in defense of the Bolsheviks. Where they are ignorant they are to be pitied, but in view of the revelations that have been made, and the wholesale policy of murder and assassination which the Bolsheviks have adopted one can have little sympathy for those who still support them and thru them the Germans. The whole revolution helps to draw the line sharply between those who are fighting for a real peace, founded on liberty, truth and justice, and the pacifists and pro-Germans

THE PRESS AND THE RAILWAY QUESTION

The Montreal Financial Times, a bitter opponent of public ownership, scornfully tells us that now the "Nationalists" have acquired the Canadian Northern Railway they are "disputing among themselves as to how to run it." An effort is made to show that the friends of public ownership are frightened by the big task which confronts the government of operating a transcontinental railway system, and we are told:

Now that they are getting a considerable dose of their long-desired public ownership in tangible and immediate form, some of the advocates of the nostrum are getting frightened at the odor of the medicine and are asking nurses to take it and fix it up with something that will modify the taste.

All of which we submit is rather ill-natured buncombe. No one supposes that the government purchased a five hundred million dollar railway without first deciding how they were going to run it. A year ago Sir Thomas White intimated to the house of commons that the government represents the Canadian Northern directorate and place all the state-owned roads, including the National Transcontinental and the Intercolonial, under its management. In his speech at the Toronto Exhibition a few days ago Sir Robert Borden, formally announcing the policy of the government, declared that all the state-owned railways of Canada, including the Canadian Northern, would be merged "into one system under one management," and that the Canadian Northern directorate would be reorganized in the "immediate future." We have every reason to believe, therefore, that within a very short time the new board of directors for the Canadian Northern, including the chairman, will be announced, and that all the government railways will pass under one management.

Judging from the press despatches, the delay in doing all this hinges upon a certain disagreement among members of the government as to the chairmanship of the new board. Some members of the government are said to be strongly in favor of Hon. Frank Cochrane, while other members of the government oppose his selection. Hence it has been suggested in some quarters that a temporary board be appointed for the Canadian Northern, with Hon. J. D. Ross as chairman, and that Dr. Reid, as minister of railways and canals, continue to operate the National Transcontinental and the Intercolonial.

This suggestion meets with strong opposition from The Winnipeg Free Press, which believes that the national railway system should be operated in such a way as to be permanently safe from the interference of party politics. The Free Press, however, is not ready with any concrete suggestion, but contents for the moment with saying:

The way to take the government railways out of politics is to take them out. The Free Press has some views upon the way this can be accomplished, which it will share with its readers some day.

The Winnipeg Tribune does not aid the government with any suggestion, although it considers the retirement of Sir William Mackenzie, Sir Donald Mann and the other directors who retired with them as a step in the right direction. Just now The Tribune is vigorously evincing its censor before Lord Shaughnessy, and bids fair to displace The Toronto Globe as chief acolyte.

The World learns from a high source that some announcement from Ottawa on the railway question may be expected by the middle of this week.

who want an immediate peace which will leave Germany in possession of her ill-gotten gains and the opportunity to recuperate and force another and more deadly struggle on the world. There is no neutral zone in the war. We must either line up with Germany, and help the Kaiser's plans, or stand by the allies and fight till victory has been sealed.

THE WIFE

By JANE PHELPS

Ruth is Disturbed Because of Mrs. Curtis' Chatter.

CHAPTER XXXVII.
Ruth's luncheon with Mrs. Curtis had a very upsetting effect upon her. All the afternoon her careless remarks returned, making Ruth rather abashed. So much so that she had been wondering if her husband had been unpleasant because of her absence. For, while not at all intending to do so, she had given both Mr. Mandel and his clerk an impression that Brian objected to her being in the shop.

So it was known and talked of, already—she thought bitterly. Ruth wished that Brian hadn't taken her to the dinner. Of course she couldn't say so, could she? Object to what he did when she was away. It was rather disconcerting to be told of how intimate he used to be with this Mollie King. Ruth had to own to herself that Mollie was attractive. "Fascinating," Mrs. Curtis had called her. She would watch Brian closely if Mrs. Curtis did give a dinner and ask them. She would also watch Mollie King.

"A penny for your thoughts, Mrs. Hackett!" Mr. Mandel stood at her elbow, smiling down at her. "I have stood here for ten minutes, and you haven't moved a muscle."
"Oh, Mr. Mandel!" Ruth flushed with embarrassment as she took the papers he had brought her. "I was thinking of the redecoration of the Philadelphia house."
"Thinking of that new apartment you told me you were going to take?" he asked, looking at her. "I have to go—but I really am going to move, and I haven't half thanked you for the lovely things you said I might have to help make the change. I returned with more usefulness in my manner than she usually displayed. She had been so kind to speak of the apartment, that he had said no more about what she was thinking. She was not accustomed to hiding her feelings. She must learn to do so, or else to concentrate on her work, that even when Brian had done, or might do, something to take her thoughts from it.

"Mr. Mandel said no more, she thought about the lovely old house they were to 'make over' inside," as he expressed it; and when he left her with the plans nearly ready for her to work up the color scheme, Ruth really had forgotten all about what Mrs. Curtis had said—had even forgotten there was such a person as Mollie King.

But she recalled her again at dinner when she told Brian of meeting Mrs. Curtis.

"She is going to ask us to dinner, and she also said she was going to ask that nice Miss King you took out to dinner while I was away. I told her we would be glad to come. I hope I did right."

"Of course we'll go!" The Curtises are rather jolly people, and they also have a very good cook. Curtis is pretty well fixed," he added, flushing a little as he always did when money was the subject.

Ruth started to repeat what Mrs. Curtis had said concerning a woman who was doing something for the benefit of the hospital, but she stopped because of it; then caught herself. Brian was already more than a little sensitive on the subject. It would be better to say nothing that might possibly make him more so.

But several times during the evening Brian thought of what had been said, and wondered if, by any possibility, Mrs. Curtis could be right. Did she have a dominating effect on a man to have his wife earn money? Why should it? If a woman were happier doing something outside of the home, and capable of doing it, why should it? If a woman were quiet at home, watching the political moves and talking as a spectator more than as an actor,

GENERAL BICKFORD HANDS OVER COMMAND

Official word has been received of the promotion of Col. H. C. Bickford, C.M.C., officer commanding Toronto military district, to the rank of brigadier-general. The step upward in rank follows his appointment to the command of the infantry brigade of the Canadian Siberian Expedition. General Bickford will hand over the command of the district this morning to Major-General W. A. Logie, C.B., who will be temporarily in command of the Toronto divisional area. General Logie is at present specially engaged at Ottawa on matters dealing with the problems of demobilization. Tonight General Bickford goes to Ottawa.

SEPTEMBER IN ALGONQUIN PARK

September is one of the most delightful months of the year in the "Highlands of Ontario," and Algonquin Park offers attractions that are not found in other districts. It is situated at an altitude of 2000 feet above the level of the sea, assuring visitors of pure bracing air that rejuvenates body and mind. A few days here is better than ounces of tonics, and saves doctors' bills. The territory is also easy of access via the Grand Trunk, 200 miles north of Toronto and 170 miles west of Ottawa. The "Highland Inn," a charming caravansary, affords most comfortable accommodation at reasonable rates. Descriptive literature telling you all about it, from any Grand Trunk agent, or write Miss Jean Lindsay, manager, Highland Inn, Algonquin Park, Ontario.

A Line of Cheer Each Day of the Year

By John Kendrick Bangs.

VOICES.
I can't help it if I hear vibrant voices sounding clear Messages of Hope and Cheer.
That there's Sorrow, Pain and Woe, Overwhelming in their flow, Is a truth too well I know.
But all thru them runs a strain With a comforting refrain, Bidding us to hope again:
Bidding us to stand and fight, Full of faith in Love and Right, In the sick world's mad afflict;
Bidding us rebuke despair, Speeding us to conquer care, And with cheer our burdens bear.

Political Notes

Hon. Robert Rogers is in town. He is supposed to be still identified with the revived Winnipeg Telegram, which has come out strong for the reconstruction policy preached by Sir John Willison in an address he made to the Canadian Club of Winnipeg the other day.

Is Frank Cochrane to be let out of the new Borden government as Mr. Rogers was let out of the former one? And where does Hon. Dr. Reid stand? These were the three most active men in the last government from a political point of view.

Sir Edward Kemp expects to leave Ottawa shortly to return to England as overseas minister of war.

Sir Clifford Sifton is now at Ottawa, on the what mission, if any, no one seems to know. One rumor connects his name with the office of Canadian High Commissioner in London.

The Statesman, the new Liberal weekly, published in Toronto, in its first issue, is quite critical of Hon. N. W. Rowell, it charges the Hon. Toronto Star with "rattling" on the Liberal party and having deserted the Liberal doctrine of responsible government. The Statesman says that Hon. Thomas White's tax-exempt war bonds are for the rich.

People are asking what is in The Globe's head these days. Is it out to tear things apart? It is displaying an increased antipathy to the Unionist government, and it made a savage attack on Hon. Frank Cochrane on Saturday. The News of Saturday in a reply served warning on The Globe that the Liberal members of the Unionist government might expect some kind of retaliation.

John S. Ewart speaks in The Statesman of Sir Robert Borden's subjugation to the British Government in the matter of allowing Borden to bring one of their wives into Canada, thereby practically legalizing polygamy in this country.

Lord Atholstan of The Montreal Star is making his first visit to the Canadian west, and he is speaking against public ownership of railways. He and his paper are as much against it as The Montreal Gazette. But they both supported Unionist government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is sitting very quiet at Ottawa, watching the political moves and talking as a spectator more than as an actor.

TORONTO OBSERVES "GASLESS" SUNDAY

Citizens Co-operate to Save Fuel for Soldiers Overseas.

FEW MOTORS RUNNING

Deserted Streets Testify to a Desire to Help Where Possible.

Toronto observed its first "gasless" Sunday—just as Toronto does anything that is of a patriotic nature—enthusiastically. The fact that only a few cars were running in the city yesterday, in spite of the fact that the streets were filled with cars, was a tribute to the patriotism of the citizens.

Pie up the Surplus

To win this war every ounce of the strength of each of the allied nations must be put forth to meet the organized, trained and disciplined efficiency of the Central Powers—that gigantic, ruthless force which is the result of fifty years of planning and preparation.

And every ounce of every allied nation's strength is in the hands and brains and hearts of the individuals of each nation, because they are free peoples.

Now the individuals of each nation must live as well as fight, therefore a proportion of the effort and material of each nation must be diverted from war purposes to living necessities.

So the less each individual takes for himself or herself for personal use the more effort will there be left for fighting and winning the war.

Every cent you spend represents that much effort because somebody must do something for you in order to earn that cent—somebody's effort must be given to you instead of to the war.

Therefore the less you spend—the less of somebody's effort you take for your individual use—the more will you leave in the national surplus for war effort.

The war can be won only by the surplus strength of the allied nations. The money each individual saves represents that surplus strength.

So the truly loyal Canadian will use less, spend less, and save more, to help to win the war.

Wonderful Array of Suits

Comfort and Distinctive Style—The Outstanding Features of the Autumn Modes

Suit Coats that descend below the knee, richly lined and usually interlined, high muffler collars; and the liberal, even lavish, use of fur characterizes the stunning new autumn suits for women and misses. The trend of fashion is toward the practical tailored suit, but handsome dressy models are also featured.

Velours, silvertone, fine serges, gabardines and poplins are the materials in rich sombre shades of brown, grey, Burgundy, green, taupe and blue, also black. Priced $35.00 to $150.00.

The New Coats Are Straight of Line, Mostly of Velour and Extremely Practical

Simplicity, but not severity, straight lines, made lovely by soft ripples, pleats and flying panels and much fur trimming, are notes of interest in the handsome coats for women and young women.

They are mostly fashioned from wool and suede velours, pompom, duvet delaine, silvertone and velvet in shades that enhance their warm appearance. Moderately-priced coats, have great collars, and trimmings of self or seal plush, while exclusive models are richly adorned with seal, sable, beaver and such furs. Priced from $25.00 to $135.00.

Charming New Dresses

Combining the Practical and the Artistic in a Score of Delightful Ways

The silhouette holds true where all the autumn frocks are concerned, but is beautifully beguiled from too straight and narrow a way by soft drapes, apron panels, irregular tunics and deep tucks. They are also mostly collarless.

The varied and lovely materials are serge, jersey, satin, charmeuse, taffeta, crepe de chine and georgette, in everything from the smartly tailored street dress to exclusive dressy models.

Rich fringes, beading, embroidery in silk, chenille and wool add charm, while every conceivable color is shown.

On Sale at 2 p.m. Today in Misses' Section—New Serge Dresses at $21.75

They are regularly $27.50. Fashioned from fine Botany serge in a variety of smartly tailored styles, embroidered and button trimmed. Colors navy, black, brown, green.

Blouses Par Excellence

Georgette is Again the Dominant Note of the Autumn Blouse

But the colors, too glorious for words and so numerous as to be bewildering. Reindeer, beaver and mixed browns, greys, taupe, beige, bottle green, white, mats and flesh—alone or in rare combinations. There is an abundance of navy, and the smartest designs in black and white.

The style features are many. The collarless neck line, ruffled, rucked and pin-tucked fichus, accordion pleating, embroidery in silk, wool and beads, and the modish fringe are a few of the many touches that make each blouse a thing of beauty and a joy as long as you wear it.
