SCOTLAND.
GREENOCK, March 28.
Providence, as if to rebuke the presumptuous confidence of man, has lately shaken by severe visitations the principal members of the political system of Europe. The death of the Emperor ALEXANDER has removed one chief stay of the peace of the Continent. The death of the King of Portugal threatens to embroil again the new world with the old. The latest accounts from Vienna describe the Emperor FRANCIS, as suffering from a disease which seriously threatens a fatal termination. If we go back little further, we have the death of the Kings of France, Bavaria, and Naples; and, we believe, in no period of equal duration in the history of Europe, has there occurred such a mortality among the Sovereigns of the different States.

UNITED STATES.
BOSTON, May 15.
A letter from the Superintendent of the Salem Commercial News Room, to Mr. Topham, furnishes the following intelligence from India, received by the ship George, which arrived at Salem, on Saturday, 112 days from Calcutta.
CALCUTTA, Jan. 20.—We this morning received an extra shipping report, announcing the arrival of the Enterprise steam vessel from Rangoon, 10th inst. She brings the satisfactory intelligence of peace with the Burmese—After the battles of the 2d, 3d and 5th, Sir Archibald Campbell moved on to Patagon, 120 miles in advance of Prome, through a country fortified with the strongest stockades, but which had been deserted. The enemy had suffered severe loss by the cholera, and the ground was strewed with dead, in graves of 20 and 40. Immediately on the arrival of Sir Archibald at Patagon, he was met by the first minister of Zootoo, sent expressly from Ava, to sue for peace, and after several conferences this boon was granted, on the following conditions: The cessation of Merp, Yaw, Zee, and Arracan, to the British; Ava to receive a Resident, and Rangoon a Consul, together with the payment of one crore of rupees, (ten millions). The preliminary treaty is negotiated, and fifteen days allowed for the ratification to arrive from Ava.

By recent advices, we regret to learn that Missolonghi, the Key of Western Greece, has at length surrendered to the Ottoman Power. Russia appears to be making active preparations for a war, which seems now to be inevitable.
Boston papers to the 17th inst. have been received, which state, that the King of Ava had been obliged to sue for Peace, and negotiations for that purpose, were going on, at date of the last advices.
We have been politely favoured by the Collector of H. M. Customs at this Port, with the following important Document—
GENTLEMEN,
I herewith transmit, by command of the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, a Copy of a Convention of Commerce recently entered into by His Majesty and the King of France, whereby it is stipulated, that from and after the 5th April next, French Ships, and the Cargoes imported or exported in them, under the circumstances stated in the said Convention, shall be treated as British Ships and Cargoes. And I am to desire, that you will charge French Vessels, and the Cargoes legally imported or exported on board the same, according to the terms of the Convention, with such and the like Duties only, of whatever kind they may be, that are charged on British Vessels and similar Cargoes laden on-board thereof; and that you will in like manner pay the same Bounties, Drawbacks and Allowances on Articles exported in French Vessels, that are paid, granted, or allowed on similar Articles exported in British Vessels. And I am further to desire, that you will transmit the necessary Instructions to your Officers in the Colonies, for carrying into effect the Stipulations contained in the two additional Articles of the said Convention, respecting French Vessels and their Cargoes, from and after the 1st day of October next.

CONVENTION OF COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION, BETWEEN HIS MAJESTY AND THE MOST CHRISTIAN KING;
Together with two additional Articles, thereunto annexed.
Signed at London, January 26, 1826.
In the Name of the Most Holy Trinity
HIS MAJESTY the King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, on the one part, and His Majesty the King of France and Navarre, on the other part, being equally animated by the desire of facilitating the commercial intercourse between their respective Subjects; and being persuaded that nothing can more contribute to the fulfilment of their mutual wishes in this respect, than to simplify and equalize the Regulations which are now in force relative to the Navigation of both Kingdoms, by the reciprocal abrogation of all discriminating duties levied upon the Vessels of either of the two Nations in the Ports of the other, whether under the head of duties of tonnage, harbour, light-house, pilotage, and others of the same description, or in the shape of increased duties upon goods on account of their being imported or exported in other than National Vessels;—have named as their Plenipotentiaries to conclude a Convention for this purpose, that is to say:—
His Majesty The King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, The Right Honourable George Canning, a Member of His said Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, a Member of Parliament, and His said Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; and The Right Honourable William Huskisson, a Member of His said Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, a Member of Parliament, President of the Committee of Privy Council for Affairs of Trade and Foreign Plantations, and Treasurer of His said Majesty's Navy—
And His Majesty the King of France and Navarre, The Prince of Jules, Comte de Polignac, a Peer of France, Maréchal-de-Camp of His Most Christian Majesty's Forces, Knight of the Royal and Military Order of St. Louis, Officer of the Royal Order of the Legion of Honour, Grand Cross of the Order of St. Maurice of Sardina, Aide-Camp of His Most Christian Majesty, and His Ambassador at the Court of his Britannic Majesty:—
Who, after having communicated to each other their respective Full Powers, found to be in due and proper form, have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:—
ARTICLE I.
From and after the Fifth of April of the present year, French Vessels coming from or departing for the Ports of France, or, if in ballast, coming from, or departing for any place, shall not be subject, in the Ports of the United Kingdom, either on entering into, or departing from the same, to any higher duties of tonnage, harbour, light-house, pilotage, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties, of whatever nature or under whatever denomination, than those to which British Vessels, in respect of the same voyages, are or may be subject, on entering into or departing from such Ports; and, reciprocally, from and after the same period, British Vessels coming from or departing for the Ports of the United Kingdom, or, if in ballast, coming from or departing for any place, shall not be subject, in the Ports of France, either on entering into, or departing from the same, to any higher duties of tonnage, harbour, light-house, pilotage, quarantine, or other similar or corresponding duties, of whatever nature, or under whatever denomination, than those to which French Vessels, in respect of the same voyages, are or may be subject on entering into or departing from such Ports; whether such duties are collected separately, or are consolidated in one and the same duty;—His Most Christian Majesty reserving to Himself to regulate the amount of such duty or duties in France, according to the rate at which they are or may be established in the United Kingdom: at the same time, with the view of diminishing the burthens imposed upon the Navigation of the Two Countries, His Most Christian Majesty will always be disposed to reduce the amount of the said burthens in France in proportion to any reduction which may hereafter be made of those now levied in the Ports of the United Kingdom.

ARTICLE II.
Goods, wares, and merchandize, which can or may be legally imported into the Ports of the United Kingdom from the Ports of France, if so imported in French Vessels, shall be subject to no higher duties than if imported in British Vessels, and reciprocally, goods, wares, and merchandize, which can or may be legally imported into the Ports of France, from the Ports of the United Kingdom if so imported in British Vessels, shall be subject to no higher duties than if imported in French Vessels. The produce of Asia, Africa, and America, not being allowed to be imported from the said Colonies, nor from any other in French Vessels, nor from France in French, British, or any other Vessels, into the Ports of the United Kingdom, for home consumption, but only for warehousing and re-exportation, His Most Christian Majesty reserves to himself to direct that, in like manner, the produce of Asia, Africa, and America, shall not be imported from the said Colonies, nor from any other, in British Vessels, nor from the United Kingdom in British, French, or any other Vessels, into the Ports of France, for the consumption of that Kingdom, but only for warehousing and re-exportation. With regard to the productions of the Countries of Europe, it is understood between the High Contracting Parties, that such productions shall not be imported, in British Ships, into France, for the consumption of that Kingdom, unless such Ships shall have been laden therewith in some Port of the United Kingdom; and that His Britannick Majesty may adopt, if he shall think fit, some corresponding restrictive measure, with regard to the productions of the Countries of Europe, imported into the Ports of the United Kingdom in French Vessels: the High Contracting Parties reserving, however, to themselves the power of making, by mutual consent, such relaxations in the strict execution of the present Article, as they may think useful to the respective interests of the two Countries, upon the principle of mutual concessions, affording each to the other reciprocal or equivalent advantages.
ARTICLE III.
All goods, wares, and merchandize, which can or may be legally exported from the Ports of either of the two Countries, shall, on their export, pay the same duties of exportation, whether the exportation of such goods, wares and merchandize, be made in British or in French Vessels provided the said Vessels are, respectively, direct from the Ports of the one Country, to those of the other. And all the said goods, wares, and merchandize, so exported in British or French Vessels, shall be reciprocally entitled to the same bounties, drawbacks, and other allowances of the same nature, which are granted by the regulations of each Country, respectively.
ARTICLE IV.
It is mutually agreed between the High Contracting Parties, that in the intercourse of Navigation between their two Countries, the Vessels of any third Power shall in no case, obtain more favourable conditions than those stipulated in the present Convention, in favour of British and French Vessels.
ARTICLE V.
The fishing boats of either of the Two Countries, which may be fitted out by stress of weather, or seek shelter in the Ports or creeks of the other Country, shall not be subject to any duties or port charges, of any description whatsoever; provided the said boats when so driven in by stress of weather, shall not discharge or receive on board any cargo, or portion of cargo, in the Ports, or on the parts of the Coast where they shall have sought shelter.
ARTICLE VI.
It is agreed that the provisions of the present Convention between the High Contracting Parties shall be reciprocally extended and in force, in all the Possessions subject to their respective Dominion in Europe.
ARTICLE VII.
The present Convention shall be in force for the term of ten years, from the 5th of April of the present year; and further, until the end of twelve months after either of the High Contracting Parties shall have given notice to the other of their intention to terminate its operation; each of the High Contracting Parties reserving to itself the right of giving such notice to the other, at the end of the said term of ten years; and it is agreed between them, that, at the end of the twelve-month's extension agreed to on both sides, this Convention, and all the stipulations thereof, shall altogether cease and determine.
ARTICLE VIII.
The present Convention shall be ratified, and the Ratifications shall be exchanged in London, within the space of one month, or sooner if possible, after the date hereof. In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the Seals of their Arms.
Done at London, the 26th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty six.

Additional Articles.
ARTICLE I.
From and after the First of October of the present year French Vessels shall be allowed to sail from any Port whatever of the Countries under the Dominion of His Most Christian Majesty, to all the Colonies of the United Kingdom, (except those possessed by the East India Company) and to import into the said Colonies all kinds of merchandize, (being productions the growth or manufacture of France, or of any Country under the Dominion of France) with the exception of such as are prohibited to be imported into the said Colonies, or are permitted to be imported only from Countries under the Dominion of France. And any now be imported into the Colonies of the United Kingdom, in the Ships of that Country, with the exception of a limited List of specified Articles, which can only be imported into the said Colonies in British Ships, His Majesty the King of the United Kingdom reserves to Himself the power of adding to the said List of excepted Articles any other, the produce of the French Dominions, the addition whereof may appear to His Majesty to be necessary for placing the Commerce and Navigation to be permitted to the Subjects of each of the High Contracting Parties with the Colonies of the other, upon a footing of fair reciprocity.
ARTICLE II.
From and after the same period, French Vessels shall be allowed to export from all the Colonies of the United Kingdom, (except those possessed by the East India Company) all kinds of merchandize, which are not prohibited to be exported from such Colonies in Vessels other than those of Great Britain; and the said Vessels, as well as the merchandize exported in the same, shall not be subject to other or higher duties than those to which British Vessels may be subject, on exporting the said merchandize, or which are imposed upon the merchandize itself; and they shall be entitled to the same bounties, drawbacks, and other allowances of the same nature, to which British Vessels would be entitled, on such exportation. The same facilities or privileges shall be granted, reciprocally, in all the Colonies of France, for the exportation, in British Vessels, of all kinds of merchandize, which are not prohibited to be exported from such Colonies in Vessels other than those of France. These two additional Articles shall have the same force and validity as if they were inserted, word for word, in the Convention signed this day. They shall be ratified, and the Ratifications shall be exchanged at the same time. In witness whereof the respective Plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the Seals of their Arms.

PORT'S CORNER.

BEAUTY.
 What is beauty?—Alas!—'tis a jewel—a glass—
 A bubble—a plaything—a rose—
 'Tis the snow, dew, or air—'tis so many things rare,
 That 'tis nothing one well may suppose.
 'Tis a jewel, Love's token—glass, easily broken—
 A bubble that vanishes soon;
 A plaything that boys cast aside when it cloy;
 A rose quickly faded and strewn.
 Like the air it is felt—like snow it will melt,
 It refresheth the heart like the dew;
 And as nothing can vie with a brilliant blue eye,
 'Tis like nothing, sweet lady—but you.

MAN AND WOMAN.

Man is the rugged, lofty pine,
 That frowns on many a wave-beat shore;
 Woman's the slender, graceful vine,
 Whose curling tendrils round it twine,
 And deck its rough bark sweetly o'er.

Man is the rock, whose towering crest
 Nods o'er the mountain's barren side;
 Woman the soft and mossy vest,
 That loves to clasp its sterile breast,
 And wreath its brown in verdant soil.

Man is the cloud of roving storm,
 Dark as the raven's murky plume,
 Save where the sun-beam, light and warm,
 Of woman's soul and woman's form,
 Gleams brightly o'er the gathering gloom.

Yes, lovely sex, to you 'tis given
 To rule our hearts with angel sway,
 Blend with each woe a blissful heaven,
 Change earth into an embryo heaven,
 And sweetly smile our cares away.

MISCELLANY.

The following description of the present Emperor of Russia, and the Grand Duke, his son is from the Gazette of Lausanne:—The Grand Duke Nicholas Poulowitsch, the present Emperor, is high in stature, possessing good symmetry of body. He has a martial air, and a countenance and address which indicate much penetration. He is much devoted to study, and is particularly occupied with the demonstrative and military sciences; he has even attained in this respect to a considerable degree of knowledge. The art of fortification is familiar to him; and so far as regards Russia, he is profoundly acquainted with every branch of the science applicable to that country. This Prince, moreover, observes system and regularity in all his proceedings, and is perfectly informed in the art of accounts, &c. The palace of Anticheff, which he inhabited up to the time of his accession, was a model of elegance, order and good taste. He is very fond of music, and particularly of the military kind; he has himself some talent in that science, assisted by a skillful professor named Stein, he has composed, for the regiments of the minors and pioneers under his command, the most beautiful military music in Europe. The French Theatre is greatly indebted to the Emperor Nicholas, and his spouse the Empress Alexandra. He has upheld it against the intrigues of some Russians, who would be exclusionists, and has frequently had Frenchmen to perform at the fetes given at the palace of Anticheff. He is in the enjoyment of excellent health, which he cherishes by an abundance of exercise, which he takes in marshalling and reviewing the troops. He is often found at night, amidst the most rigorous cold, going round to the guards, to be assured by his own knowledge that every thing is in order. The Grand Duke Nicolowitz, son to the present Emperor, is a boy about seven years old, of a most promising appearance, and of great promise. He has had for the last year a chetaliar, who attends him in his exercise and amusements; this gentleman is Major Morder, formerly captain in the regiment of cadets. The young prince frequently walks out, dressed as a colonel of hussars, and salutes, with grace and politeness, such persons as meet him and pay that homage due to his high birth. He speaks Russian, French, English and German.

A fresh imported Irishman, on his first shooting excursion, shot a bird, and seeing something fall, went to the foot of the tree, where he picked up a frog, (supposing it to be the bird) and put it in his pocket. The frog kept up such a continual kicking, that his companion asked him what made the bird kick so? "Och!" said Pat, "I shot all the feathers, and the poor thing is cold."

An honest Hibernian tar, a great favorite with the gallant Nelson, used to pray in these words every night when he went into his hammock:—"God be thanked, I never killed any man, nor no man ever killed me—God bless the world and success to the navy."

An attorney, who was much molested by a fellow importuning him to bestow something, threatened to have him taken up as a common beggar.—"A beggar?" exclaimed the man, "I would have you know, that I am of the same profession as yourself. Are we not both solicitors?" "That may be, friend, yet there is this difference; you are not a legal one, which I am."

A man sent a note to a rich neighbour he was on friendly terms with, to borrow an ox for a few hours. The worthy old man was no scholar, and happened to have a guest sitting with him at the time, that he did not wish to expose his ignorance to. Opening the note and pretending to read it; after reflecting a moment, turning to the servant, "Very good," said he, "tell your master I'll come myself presently."

An Irishman, who served on board a man-of-war in the capacity of a waister, was selected by one of the officers to haul in a tow line of considerable length, that was towing over the taffrail. After hauling in forty or fifty fathoms, which had put his patience severely to proof, as well as every muscle of his arms, he muttered to himself, "By my soul, it's as long as to-day and to-morrow! it's a good week's work for any five in the ship!—bad luck to the arm or the leg it'll have me at last!—What more of it yet!—Och! murder; the sea's mighty deep to be sure!" When, after continuing in a similar strain, and conceiving there was little probability of the completion of his labour, he stopped suddenly short, and addressing the officer of the watch, exclaimed, "Bad manners to me, Sir, if I don't think somebody's cut off the other end of it!"
