Chamberlain Urges Extension of Trade With Dominions CIVIL WAR IN GERMANY IS NEAR

PREMIERS HEAR PLANS FOR TRADING

Lord Milner Says Chinese Wall Cannot be Built.

URGE PREFERENCE

Baldwin is Asked to Obtain Proposals From the Dominions.

(By Canadian Press) London, Nov. 9.—The Premiers who have been attending the Imperial Conference here were guests at a dinner last night given by the Compatriots Club, which was formed twenty years ago in support of Joseph Chamberlain's tariff views. The Earl of Selborne, a former under secretary for the colonies, former first lord of the admiralty and former governor of the Transvaal and high commissioner for South Africa, presided.

Lord Milner, proposing the toast "Our common country," said it was impossible to build a Chinese wall round the empire trade, but he thought each member of the empire should give the other members the first chance in business. He expressed the opinion that the prosperity of the empire would enormously increase and her foreign trade expand if the principle of preference were adopted.

Chamberlain proposed the toast to the guests and in doing so made an important speech on the fiscal controversy. He said he rejoiced that while he was Chancellor of the Exchequer, he made his first small hesitating gesture of appreciation of the Dominions by a preferential policy, and he rejoiced that it had fallen to his father's other son (Neville Chamberlain) the present Chancellor of the Exchequer to make the next advance along this line. Austen Chamberlain said he accepted and supported every fiscal measure favored by the government but the government's proposals were only half measures.

He favored an extension of the preference to the main articles of Dominion production and urged Premier Baldwin to invite the Dominions to make definite, concrete proposals with regard to the development they could undertake if Britain undertook to consume the produce the Dominions could grow but could not eat.

HERE ON MATTER OF FARMS SURVEY

Hon. D. W. Mersereau Taking It Up With Soldier Settlement Board.

Hon. D. W. Mersereau, Minister of Agriculture, arrived in the city today to take up with the Soldiers' Settlement Board the matter of making a survey of vacant farms in the province. Mr. Mersereau said that as the Board was doing this work for Nova Scotia and for other provinces, he thought it would be an excellent thing also for New Brunswick.

Asked who would bear the expense, he said the Dominion Government had made an appropriation and the staff of the Board in the field could be augmented as was considered necessary to carry out the survey satisfactorily. Mr. Mersereau is meeting Mr. Donaldson, the local superintendent, this afternoon to arrange final details. He expressed the belief that this would be a very desirable work and also, if the schemes of the board were carried out, should result in much good advertising for the province.

RUSSIAN RIOTS Situation in Carrow Over the Railroad Strike Is Causing Anxiety.

Warsaw, Nov. 9.—The situation in Carrow where earlier in the week three persons were killed in a riot growing out of the railroad strike, is still causing anxiety. The striking railway workers are disobeying the orders of their union to return to work and are formulating fresh demands. The first of these is amnesty for those responsible for the trouble at Carrow and for the persons who killed the Polish officers in the clash between the military and the mob. Their second demand is for a fortnight's delay in the settlement of the strike.

BALDWIN IS WEAKENED BY DELAY

Failure to Announce English Election Date Hurts Government.

POLICY UNDECIDED

Chief Interest Centres in an Announcement From Lloyd George.

BY HARRY N. MOORE (British United Press)

London, Nov. 9.—Premier Baldwin's delay in advising His Majesty as to the exact date of the dissolution of parliament is believed to be weakening the position of the Government. Many supporters of the present Government are giving more or less publicity to the view that the Premier again seems unable to make up his mind on the most important point of his policy and many Conservatives led by the Postmaster General are urging dissolution within the next ten days.

When it was first proposed that the general election should be held before Christmas there was intense and widespread opposition from the tradesmen throughout the country who declared that the unsettling effect of a general election upon Christmas trade would mean the loss of thousands of dollars to a class that has not done so well lately and was hoping that the Christmas trade which is not unpromising would recoup them for the losses of a poor summer.

Protest Carries Weight This protest seems to have carried weight for despite the fact that considerable pressure it now seems unlikely that there will be an election before January although there is still an important body of opinion in the cabinet which favors the holding of a general election at once, in order that the Baldwin Government may obtain release from the pledge made by Bonar Law that there would be no radical change in the fiscal policy of the country before an appeal had been made to the electorate.

New Protection Policies

With this pledge dispensed of, the Government would feel free to start its campaign of education in the matter of the new protection policies and the relief of unemployment with which they are intimately bound up. It is considered likely that Premier Baldwin may make an important pronouncement in his speech tonight at the Guild Hall at the Lord Mayor's banquet at which he is the principal speaker.

The chief political interest, however, continues to center round Lloyd George and the announcement which he is expected to make with regard to the future of his party and of Liberalism as a whole immediately after his arrival in this country which will not be long delayed.

Organist Dies As Playing Ends

New York, Nov. 9.—As he lifted his fingers off the keys of his piano and the last poignant chords of "The Miserere" floated away, death lay a gripping hand upon Richard Nicotri last night and he toppled from his bench, dead. He was 63 years of age.

INCREASING COSTS

How Shall Newspapers Meet Them?

Beginning January first another big increase in publishing costs will hit this and every other newspaper, in the form of an increase in the sales tax to 6 p. c., which will add 3 1/4 p. c. to the cost of its white paper. This will mean an annual increase in our expenses of several thousand dollars.

Every month or so in the last few years publishers have had to face increases of this kind. The cost of white paper itself has been doubled, adding in the cost of this paper over $50,000 per year. Postage has been multiplied by six. Labor has been steadily increased. The cost of getting news is piling up steadily and the public demand for improved papers compels the collection continually of more news.

To face conditions such as this, other papers in Canada have increased their normal pre-war selling price from one cent to three cents or five cents per copy. The Times-Star has remained steadily at one cent, but continuing increases in costs, as instanced above, have forced the publishers seriously to consider whether in the near future they will not have either to diminish the quality of the paper or follow the example of every other publisher in the country.

Wants Church Minus The Barnum Staff

Detroit, Nov. 9.—Honorio S. Barle, former State Highway Commissioner, has resigned from the Cass Avenue Methodist Church because he believes churches generally have abandoned the gospel for politics. "There is too much P. T. Barnum stuff in the church today," Mr. Barle said.

Mr. Barle said he was giving serious consideration to the idea of his friends that he establish a church of his own.

"It would be a church," he said, "in which you would be scolded every Sunday for being bad and preached the being good. And no propaganda of the Anti-Saloon League or any other organization would be disseminated by it. There would be no P. T. Barnum stuff, no preaching to the newspapers such as is indulged in by certain clergymen in this city. These clergymen are shown, not preachers."

LLOYD GEORGE IS AT HOME AGAIN

Celebrates His Return to England by Bitter Attack on Premier Baldwin.

BY WEBB MILLER (British United Press)

Southampton, England, Nov. 9.—Lloyd George jumped into the middle of the British political battle before the White Star liner, Majestic on which he returned from America, was made fast to the dock today. In a general interview, he scathingly attacked Prime Minister Baldwin's handling of the tariff problem.

Baldwin revealed his leaning toward extension of tariffs on some goods in his Plymouth speech a few weeks ago. It was considered to be largely the result of the pressure of Dominion Premier exerted in the present Imperial Conference to get England to extend tariff duties without submitting the issue to a fresh general election.

English Liberals had attacked the Prime Minister's recent utterances in favor of protection on the ground that he was committed at the last election to an attack on the protectionist programme of the Conservative party as represented by Baldwin.

"Your food will cost you more," has already become the slogan of the Labour party in its attack on the protectionist proposals.

With Lloyd George to the fore, the opposition to protection, the coming election, which was rumored as coming within a month or two, promised to be one of the biggest political battles in English politics in the last generation.

Says Boys Better But Girls Worse

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Boys are becoming better all the time, while the girls between the ages of 12 and 20 are becoming more wayward, according to Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, chief of the Women's Division of the Department of Police at Washington, D. C., here to study police conditions.

Gay cabaret life and cheap literature are making the majority of the girls in the U. S. unfit to become wives and mothers, Mrs. Van Winkle said.

Monk Gets Job In Boston To Wipe Out Debts Of Family

Boston, Nov. 9.—Having recently learned that his grandfather died, leaving debts totalling thousands of dollars, and desirous of retrieving the family honor, Andrew Dennis, formerly of South Boston, but for the last two years a member of the Trappist order, has obtained a special dispensation from Pope Benedict temporarily releasing him from his monastic vows in order that he may reenter the world and earn enough money to pay the debts of his relative.

He will enter the service of the city of Boston as assistant chaplain at the Long Island Hospital, to which position he was appointed yesterday afternoon, by Dr. David J. Johnson, commissioner of institutions, after the latter had heard the details of the strange story from the young monk himself, supported by recommendations from city officials. When the debt is satisfied, Dennis wishes once more to retire from the world and reenter the order in which he found all his hope and faith.

According to the story, vouchered for by one of Mayor Coffey's secretaries, Dennis entered the novitiate of the Trappist order several years ago, later taking the vows which he was fulfilling diligently and faithfully until the news reached him that his grandfather had died, leaving a burdensome debt.

U. S. MOST AFFECTED

Canada's Advantage Chiefly Against Neighboring Under Proposed Preference.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The chief competitor in the British market over which Canada will be given an advantage under the proposed preference on fresh apples and salmon, is the U. S. This appears from British trade figures available at the office of the Bureau of Statistics here. Imports of apples into the United Kingdom for the calendar year, 1922, the latest figures available here, were 4,471,000 cwt. and for the year 1921, 4,001,000 cwt. The last figures which show the distribution of the trade among the various countries of the world are those for 1921. In that year U. S. shipped to Great Britain 1,713,000 cwt.; Canada 1,484,000; Australia, 387,000; Belgium, 104,000; Netherlands, 128,000.

Of the total imports of apples for that year 1,908,000 cwt. came from within the empire, while 2,094,000 cwt. came from foreign countries.

Get Moonshine And Ginger in Raid

Boston, Nov. 9.—William P. Carney, proprietor of a fruit store and luncheon in Lynn, adjacent to the Narragansett gauge railroad station, was arrested by the Lynn vice squad, under Sgt. William McLaughlin, on a charge of the illegal keeping of liquor. The squad visited his establishment and just as they arrived a man in the store was seen to make a dash for the roof. Officers Kelley, Coppinger and Kane followed and on the roof they found a sack which yielded three one-half pint bottles of moonshine and a large number of bottles of Jamaica ginger. These were confiscated.

It is the first time in a long while that Jamaica ginger has been taken in a raid in Lynn.

Two Children Drown Skating In West

Regina, Nov. 9.—The bodies of Minnie Clark, 10 years, and Douglas Clark, 7 years, were recovered from the Souris River one mile south of Estevan, Sask., on Wednesday night.

The provincial police were notified by Mrs. Clark that the children were missing at about six p. m. in the evening and a search revealed the boy's cap near a hole in the ice at a spot not far from the Clark home on the river bank. The ice, which was about two inches thick at the point had rotted in the warm sunshine.

MONARCHISTS PREPARE TO SEIZE POWER; LUDENDORFF NAMED MINISTER OF WAR

Leader of Bavarian Reactionaries Says Enemies of Germany Will Be Conquered and Fatherland Will Be Proud and Solid Empire—French Opinion Regarding Possibility of War is Divided—Berlin Cabinet Said to Be Bankrupt.

FLASH

Berlin, Nov. 9.—Gen. Ludendorff and Adolph Hitler, leaders of the Bavarian revolt, have been captured by Federal troops.

BY JOHN D. GANDT (By Canadian Press.)

Paris, Nov. 9.—Allied ambassadors in Berlin already have made clear to Chancellor Stresemann that they are opposed to a military dictatorship in Germany, the correspondent of the Paris Journal telegraphed today. The correspondent said the American ambassador informed Chancellor Stresemann that in event of coup d'etat by the right wing groups (Monarchists) the United States will announce that it has abandoned plans to settle the reparations question.

The council of ambassadors, after a meeting here, has decided to send a note to Holland and Germany presumably about the danger of an impending Monarchist coup in the Reich. The note probably will be sent today, it was said in well informed quarters, and will announce allied opposition to the proposed return of the former Crown Prince to his Silesian estates.

A Munich despatch today said that Adolph Hitler, leader of the Bavarian reactionaries, addressed the co-operative societies in the name of the new government last night, saying: "The day has arrived for which we have waited patiently for five years. There is much to be done. It may be dangerous work, but we will conquer Germany's enemies and in the end we will make the Fatherland what destiny intended it to be, a proud and solid empire."

5,000 Hunters In Woods of Ontario

Sudbury, Ont., Nov. 9.—About 5,000 hunters have been in the woods between the French River and the Transcontinental line in the past fortnight seeking deer, moose, caribou and prairie while a number of followers of Isak Walton brought along their rods and reels. The Hitler-Ludendorff movement last night only under competition and that they plan to repress the movement and arrest Hitler, which, however, are received with reserve here, state that the Bavarian dictator Von Kahr and the commander of the Bavarian Reichswehr, Gen. von Lossow, joined the Hitler-Ludendorff movement. One message from the Burgomaster of Nuremberg said that they expected to repress the movement (Continued on page 2, fourth column.)

POOR DOCUMENT

NOV 9 1923

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1923

NEW LAW FEATURE APPEARS FOR FIRST TIME IN LOCAL COURTS

Certificate for Appeal Re-fused by Judge Barry in McDonald Case.

The first case of the kind to come up since the Criminal Code was amended, to provide for reserved case after conviction had been returned, came before Judge Barry in the County Court this morning. It dealt with the matter of the King vs. Harold C. McDonald, recently convicted on charges of obtaining money and goods under false pretences and of uttering a forged document, knowing it to be such.

D. Mullin, K. C. counsel for the convicted man, applied for a certificate of the trial court that this was a fit case for appeal on grounds involving a question of mixed law and fact as to whether the evidence was sufficient under both counts to sustain the conviction. He made his application under section 101B of the Criminal Code as amended by Chapter 41, Section 92, George V., assented to on June 30 of this year. He said that the question was as to whether the evidence was sufficient to establish the forgery of a check on which the conviction was based.

W. M. Ryan, who represented the crown, said that he understood that no rules had been laid down as yet under this, which was a new procedure, by the Court of Appeal. He thought that the proper course for the prisoner's counsel to follow would be to take the matter up with the Appeal Court.

Judge Barry said that, in his opinion the prisoner had a fair trial; that there was sufficient evidence to establish the forgery, and that the prisoner knew it was a forgery. He felt that the certificate should not be issued and he ruled accordingly.

Sentence on Tuesday.

Judge Barry said that he would withhold sentence until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when he would also pass sentence on Murray Wilson, convicted on charges of forging and false pretences, and on Edgar Bertrand, found guilty yesterday on a charge of theft of a C. P. R. railway ticket, St. John to Montreal.

REACH COMPROMISE ON BILL FOR HYDRO

City and Commission Agree But Withdraw Statement

In commenting on the compromise held yesterday between the City Council and the New Brunswick Electric Commission, Mayor Fisher this morning said: "The bill of the commission to the city for current was discussed and an agreement reached as to a compromise, the whole without prejudice to either party in case the agreement was not consummated, which was apparently satisfactory to all concerned."

"In any compromise there must be a yielding on both sides, and what the city yielded yesterday was approved by Dr. Baxter as in order and reasonable."

"The bill of $3,097.10 from the commission for the estimate of cost for the distribution system was also discussed and disposed of for the present at least."

"No definite time was fixed by the commission as to when they could communicate with the council in regard to the compromise settlement of the bill for hydro." The hydro bill is $60,000.

One report is that the commission offered to waive two months' payment and bill from July 1 and to bill in future on the meter readings, leaving the balance of the amount of $230,000 a year to be paid at the end of the year in the adjustment account.

IS IT CIVIL WAR?

The German Government was confronted yesterday by the spectre of revolution. The Government of Bavaria was reported to be overthrowing General Ludendorff proclaimed military dictator of all Germany, with Adolf Hitler, the Fascist leader as his political adviser.
This is the news that came over the cables last night. It does not yet appear, however, that all of Bavaria stands behind this movement to overthrow the Government at Berlin. The latter has issued a manifesto refusing to recognize the self-constituted new rulers of Bavaria, and declaring that they support the movement to be of high treason. Ludendorff and Hitler declared their intention to remove the seat of government from Berlin to Munich. A former reporter is reported to have said a turning point in the history of Germany and the world has been reached. Evidently he has great faith in himself and his Fascist comrade, who appears to be the real dictator. The first message that came over the cables today was to the effect that Dr. Von Kahr, who is the military dictator in Bavaria under the Berlin Government, and Gen. Von Lossow, commander of the troops, had refused to join the new movement, and declare that they can overcome the revolt. Rumors of various kinds fly thick and fast, and while there has been no actual conflict the fear is expressed that the outbreak in Bavaria means civil war in Germany. The hands of the monarchists are doubtless to be discovered in this affair. The Bavarian minister in Berlin in an interview two days ago said:—
"We do not want separation; we are, and remain, Germans. What we wish is to help the Fatherland from the misfortune into which it has sunk deeper and deeper under the influence of the social democrats during the last five years. It is now a question of making an end of the so-called achievements of the revolution, and restoring order and work to their proper places."
Today's cables report that the Berlin Government is taking active steps to meet the situation, and while Hitler has declared that Bavarian troops will march on Berlin the counter announcement is made that imperial troops will march on Munich. In that event German will fight Germany, and the Republic is threatened from within. An armed conflict would be a disaster, since impoverished Germany is in no condition to support armies in the field. Civil war would be about the worst calamity that could now befall the country. The most interesting news of the day is again coming out of Germany.

CANADA DISSENTS.

The proposal to establish a permanent Imperial economic committee to give continuity to the world conference on the Imperial Economic Conference was not assented to by the Canadian delegation. It is said Canada will not appoint a member, and that South Africa would only favor doing so in regard to matters directly affecting that country. Great Britain and Australia favor such a committee. A London cable says:—
"Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Canadian Minister of Railways and Canals having the Canadian point of view in the proposal, said that in the aim of the project, namely, to study the economic problems of the Empire between the sittings of the conference, Canada had every sympathy but he doubted if the method proposed was the best one. The Analogy between the Imperial shipping committee and the proposed committee was not justified, Mr. Graham continued, because the shipping committee had only problems of shipping to consider whereas the economic committee would be faced with numerous problems. It was questionable if such a committee sitting in London would be competent to handle such a variety of questions."
The London Times says that no doubt Mr. Graham has been influenced in his attitude by the recognized tendency of his Government to hold aloof from what might become embarrassing commitments beyond the borders of the Dominion; but expresses his own view that the committee would enable future economic conferences to meet better informed and better equipped to deal with the problems before them. If it should have that effect the Times thinks it would accomplish a very real service. Premier Bruce of Australia and Sir Phillip Lloyd-Greaves, President of the Board of Trade, supported the proposal, arguing that it would be a valuable body for the consideration of suggestions for the improvement of inter-Imperial trade during the intervals when the Economic Conference is not in session. While Hon. Mr. Graham was in sympathy with the purpose which it was sought to serve, he and his Canadian colleagues did not approve of the method.

FORCIBLY PUT.

(Stratford Beacon-Herald.)
In an endeavor to show that Great Britain was really anxious for reparations Lloyd George made a few statements a day or two ago which should not be overlooked. The war, he said, cost the people of Great Britain more than it cost any other people. "It cost us $10,000,000,000. We advanced $3,000,000,000 to the Allies. I am sorry to say they are in no hurry to pay. Therefore our taxation is the highest in the world. Why? We determined from the start to pay our debts. It is a habit our ancestors got into."
It would be difficult to improve on such a statement.

B. C. IS PROSPEROUS.

(Victoria Colonist.)
Two excerpts from the Speech from the Throne to the B. C. Legislature conditions which should create a feeling of confidence. It is noted that there has been no unemployment in industrial conditions within the province, and the bounteous harvest throughout Western Canada tend towards further improvement. "It is further noted that 'the timber industry was never in a better position than at present and the outlook for the future is bright.' The improvement in industrial conditions is undoubtedly, for there is far less unemployment now than there was this time last year. We have more work on the road to economic recovery, and with wise methods of conservation, with hard work and reduction of expenditure, there is nothing to fear about the future of this province."

THE EMPIRE'S HONOR ROLL.

(Toronto Star.)
The British War Office has issued a statistical volume which constitutes a record of the Empire's colossal war effort. It is disclosed that at the time of the armistice Britain had five and a half million men in her army, of which nearly three and a quarter million constituted the expeditionary force sent to remain in the trenches at home. The Empire's army losses exceeded nine hundred thousand men. The following table gives details of the casualties:—

Table with 4 columns: British Isles, Indian Empire, India, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Newfoundland, Other countries. Rows: Dead, Wounded, Missing.

In considering with mournful pride this honor roll of the British Commonwealth, Canadians cannot but be touched by the sufferings of Australia and New Zealand. Due largely to the debauch of Gallipoli, Australia has hardly more than half of Canada's population, had even greater casualties than Canada.

THE MEN WHO FELL.

(Toronto Globe.)
Armistice Day approaches, and many a speaker will search for the apt thought or quotation to crystallize the feelings of reverence and gratitude for the brave who died in the war. One of the most suitable utterances we have seen occurs in "The Book of Remembrance," a work published a year or two ago, containing a record of the addresses at the celebration of the anniversaries in the history of that quaint Nova Scotia town, to be read by the Governor of Virginia, at Richmond, on Armistice Day, at the request of other parts of the world. It is a passage from Pericles, in praise of the fallen heroes of Athens, and is as follows:—
"But each one, man my man, has won imperishable praise, and a glorious grave—not that sepulchre of earth wherein they lie, but the living tomb of their glory is enshrined, remembrance that will live on the lips, that will blossom in the hearts of their countrymen the world over. For the whole earth is the sepulchre of heroes; monuments may rise and fall, but on far-off shores there is an abiding memorial that no pen or chisel has traced; it is graven, not on stone or brass, but on the living heart of humanity. Take these dead men, for your examples. Like them, remember that prosperity can be only for the free, that freedom is the sure possession of those alone who have courage to defend it."

A POET'S BATTLE CRY.

Bliss Carman has returned to Ontario for a visit, says a writer in the Toronto Globe, and friends of the cause, who are sure that the poet will strike a chord in the hearts of his countrymen, and the reader may well understand its appeal to a serious-minded man bent on doing his bit for victory. The following is the poem in part:—
Lord of my heart's elation,
Spirit of things unseen,
Be thou my aspiration,
*Consuming and serene:
Bear up, bear up, bear onward,
To selfhood or oblivion,
Incredibly thine own.
As the foamheads are loosened
And blown along the sea,
Or sink and merge forever
In that which bids them be.
I, too, must climb in wonder,
Uplift at their command;
Be one with my frail fellow,
Beneath the wind's strong hand.
Baron James Rothschild has offered a prize of $2,000 sterling for the best Palestine novel.

Press Comment on Alberta

(Edmonton Journal.)
The Legislature must proceed immediately to wipe out the present act, Town and country have joined hands in issuing clear instructions on that point. The view of the present act is that it is not going to be an easy matter to frame a new act on the basis of popular verdict.

(Calgary Albertan.)
The people are tired of prohibition; they have lost patience with it. The action has come, and for another period at least we must return to the liquor traffic. The Alberta says the Legislature should meet as soon as possible, and that clause D should be in operation by the opening of the year.

(Calgary Herald.)
The most satisfactory feature of the vote was that it was uniformly in favor of prohibition. The Government was given a clear and positive mandate by all classes and by all sections to bring in a new law that will place the control and sale of liquor in its care.

(Manitoba Free Press.)
Alberta is the fourth province to go into the industrial conditions in 45 per cent of the population of Canada which has decided in favor of the prohibition of liquor. The Alberta agency of the system will depend on the manner in which it is controlled, and the success or prevention of the gross abuses of other days. Moderationists should take an interest in seeing that such policy is maintained, and prohibitionists, however skeptical of any system of regulation and control, should be willing to work with moderation and give the new system a fair trial.

(Winnipeg Tribune.)
There is left no room for doubt that at present Alberta people want the opportunity to present their views on the liquor question than they have today, and will be able to vote, if called upon, with reasonably clear judgment as to the relative merits of prohibition and Government control.

(Brandon Sun.)
The Alberta vote against prohibition is the result of the need of temperate views and action by temperance advocates. If the conditions obtained that province that stood against the liquor traffic pushed the front line too far in advance of the supply base of public opinion.

(Moose Jaw Evening Times.)
The capture of the Alberta salient by the wets is only an incident in Canada's war against alcoholism, indicating that the wets are driving against the liquor traffic pushed the front line too far in advance of the supply base of public opinion.

(Prince Albert Herald.)
The result of the liquor referendum in Alberta yesterday has placed Saskatchewan in a splendid position of isolation on the grounds, as far as prohibition goes. Yesterday's decision will add to the difficulty of enforcing the provisions of the Saskatchewan Temperance Act, and will go far to hastening another referendum in Saskatchewan.

(Saskatoon Star.)
The tendency to compromise with the liquor evil, to reconstitute the traffic under the control of politicians, is but one of the signs of the general reaction toward moral and political laxity, which marks the present day. In the Alberta ballot were not more intelligently presented.

(Vancouver Sun.)
The result as indicated in these returns must be no surprise to those who have been following the campaign since past few years. Quebec, British Columbia and Manitoba are now frankly in the front ranks of the liquor traffic, and the movement toward the re-establishment of liquor is now frankly in the self-defeating fever of war-time profits that placed all things secondary on the sacrificial altar to the gods of war.

(Toronto Star.)
Every method of restricting the harm done by alcohol to the citizen who expects perfection. After stating that disconnection soon develops after any change of policy. Star urges Alberta to give Government control a fair trial before swinging to another experiment.

(Ottawa Journal.)
Another important factor in the trend of public opinion is the economic one. The spectacle of very large profits made from the sale of liquor by some of our Provincial Governments, Quebec and British Columbia both making millions of dollars annually out of it, has undoubtedly had a marked effect on the minds of heavily taxed people. Revenue derived from such a source as the sale of liquor may not be a very creditable thing, but after all it comes only from those who want liquor, and it comes under circumstances which restrict the injury that may be done by liquor. And it is not strange that a good many of our people, burdened by heavy taxation, should begin to find themselves personally benefited to let people who wish to use liquor help to pay liberally towards the expenses of the state. Other people may thus have to pay less. Finally a conviction grows with many persons who hitherto have felt obliged to vote for prohibition that prohibition cannot be properly enforced unless there is a more powerful public opinion behind it than is evident at present in many places.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Does this partial rehabilitation of the liquor traffic in British Columbia, Manitoba and Alberta mean that the cause of temperance has lost in these provinces all that it was supposed to have gained by the referendum of several years ago? The friends of temperance surely do not think so. They cannot be so pessimistic or so little enlightened by the working of the prohibition law as to believe that the "dry" voters of some years ago have all become "wet" voters. The prohibition wave that passed over almost the whole country in wartime sprang from the will of the people to get rid of one grievous social evil, the evil of the licensed liquor traffic. It is to get rid of another grievous social evil that the people of the three provinces mentioned have voted, namely, the evil of the unlicensed liquor traffic.

(Montreal Gazette.)
The rejection of prohibition by the people of Alberta signifies the same general alteration of public opinion that was manifested in Manitoba a few months ago and of which there has been some evidence in Ontario. These provinces have tested prohibition, loof enactments and have found them to be ineffective; they have had experience of social conditions attributable to the prohibition system and have found them bad, and they have come to the conclusion that the system itself is fundamentally unsound. It has been obtained in this province. It will not be long before their provinces, which added greatly to the difficulties of law enforcement, were closed only this year. The act should have had a longer test before being challenged, as there was independent testimony that it had resulted in great moral, social and economic benefits.

(Toronto Globe.)
Alberta also has discarded total prohibition, though the system has not been fairly tried. The barroom was banished in 1916, but the importation of liquor was forbidden less than three years ago, and the export warehouses, which added greatly to the difficulties of law enforcement, were closed only this year. The act should have had a longer test before being challenged, as there was independent testimony that it had resulted in great moral, social and economic benefits.

(Rev. Dr. Gordon.)
Dr. R. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), expressed his great disappointment over the result of the vote in the Alberta referendum. "I consider it a retrograde step," he said, "and a lesson to the temperance people and church workers who should learn that no great movement like prohibition can advance unless the need of it is constantly kept before the people and the ends of temperance impressed upon the young."

(Quebec Telegraph.)
Albertans are to be congratulated upon the adoption of a common-sense policy. Signs are not wanting that other provinces will follow suit whenever the opportunity presents itself. Every day it is becoming clearer that prohibition breeds more crime than it prevents, and that the temperance people and church workers who should learn that no great movement like prohibition can advance unless the need of it is constantly kept before the people and the ends of temperance impressed upon the young."

CAPTAIN DROPS DEAD ON SCHOONER

Lubeck Skipper Passes Away While Talking to a Companion.

North Head, Grand Manan, Nov. 8.—Captain Talbot Garish, of Lubeck, Me., died suddenly this morning here on board his gasoline schooner Campobello. According to an account by a deckhand on the schooner, Captain Garish awoke about 2 o'clock and went up on deck. After attending to some ropes, he returned to his bunk and dropped into it, remarking at the time that if the tide went much lower it would place the vessel in a bad fix. His companion asked him a question but received no reply. Thinking that the captain might have fallen asleep in such a brief period the deckhand waited and then repeated his question. Receiving no reply, he went over to the bunk and shook the captain. To his horror, he found Captain Garish apparently dead. He immediately evasued a resident of North Head and Mr. J. P. McAuley, of Castalia, was summoned. Life was extinct, however, when the doctor arrived. It is understood that heart failure was the cause of death.

The late Captain Garish was an elderly man and well known here in fishing circles. He was engaged in collecting sardines for canning factories at Eastport on his trips here. The body was conveyed to his home in Lubeck this morning.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Knox-Fair.
At the Presbyterian manse at Lorneville on Wednesday evening Miss Elodie Fair, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fair, of Manawagonish road, and John Elvin Knox, son of Robert and the late Jennie Knox, of Lorneville, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Bevis. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of navy blue Canton crepe and wore a hat to match. After the ceremony the happy pair motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held. Following the reception they motored to their home at 122 St. James street, West St. John. The many beautiful presents which they received testified to the popularity of the bride and groom.

RECENT DEATHS

Thomas G. Scott.
Dalhousie, Nov. 5.—Dalhousie mourns the loss of one of her most worthy citizens, Thomas G. Scott, who passed away Sunday in the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, Campbellton, where he had been a patient for eight days. The late Mr. Scott was born in the town of Bathurst, April 13, 1854. In early life he started out on construction work as water boy. His sterling qualities brought him to the notice of the Intercolonial Railway officials, and in the course of time he became one of the most highly esteemed and trusted locomotive engineers on the line. As a driver of more than 40 years' experience he saw service on the northern division as far as Riviere du Loup and later on, on the Moncton division. The record for service on the Dalhousie branch was established by him after 35 years' faithful work. About seven years ago he retired on a well deserved pension, much to the satisfaction of his friends.

The surviving members of the family are his wife, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth McLean, of Douglaston, N. B.; two daughters, Mrs. G. O. Ball, of Clarendon, N. H., U. S. A.; Mrs. A. A. Putnam, Shawinigan Falls, Que.; and four sons, C. A. Scott, Amherst, N. S.; H. L. Scott, McAdam Junction, N. B.; T. J. Scott, Edmundston, N. B., and W. B. Scott, Grande Mer, Que.

Mrs. Mary Graham.
After an illness of several months the death of Mary, wife of S. L. Graham of Lakeside, occurred at her home on Thursday, Nov. 8, and will be learned with great regret. By her cheerful disposition and kindly ways she had endeared herself to the whole community. Besides her husband she is survived by one brother, William Morgan, of St. John; one sister, Mrs. S. Harris, of Boston; three daughters, Mrs. W. R. Hunter, Mrs. W. S. Knowles and Mrs. E. A. Wood, all of St. John, and two sons, Rev. C. Graham, of Winston, P. E. I., and S. Ernest Graham, home. Nine grandchildren also survive. Mrs. Graham, as a daughter of the late William and Lydia Morgan, of West St. John. The funeral arrangements had not been completed last night.

Charles P. Pickett.
Apoahqui, Nov. 8.—In the eighty-seventh year of his age, Charles P. Pickett passed away at the home of his nephew, Charles Stewart, Collins, on Sunday, Nov. 4.

The late Mr. Pickett was born at Kingston in 1847 and his passing removes one of the oldest inhabitants. Early in life he took up his residence at Springfield, where he remained 40 years until the death of his wife 20 years ago. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Alfred Reid, Rosville, Mass.; Mrs. Frances Clarke, Everett, Mass.; and Mrs. Helen Gosline, Boston.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 7, at 3 o'clock, of the Baptist church, conducted a service at the home of Mr. Stewart, after which the funeral cortege proceeded to Springfield Anglican church, of which Mr. Pickett was a member. Rev. H. T. Buckland officiated at the service in the church and at the graveyard, interment being made in the Anglican cemetery at Springfield.

BANDITS HOLD UP KANSAS TOWN

Blast Way Through State Bank Vault Door—Shoot Up the Town.

Ogden, Kansas, Nov. 8.—Eight or ten bandits in wild west fashion held this town of 600 inhabitants at bay for two hours early today when they blasted their way through the door of the vault in the Ogden State Bank. Guards stationed outside the bank kept up a heavy fire until their companions gained access to the vault and looted it. Then, shouting derisively, the bandits hurried here by town as they walked to their two motor cars on the edge of the city and drove away. Bank officials estimated the loss at approximately $25,000.

The bandits had been found tonight. Telephone, telegraph and electric light wires were cut by the bandits before they were captured.

Eight or nine charges of explosives were required before the vault door finally yielded. Volleys of shots greeted every person that appeared during the holdup and every light that appeared near the bank. The final blast sent a chunk of steel through a clock stopping it at 4 a. m. The explosives demolished the side of the bank.

Marshal Joe Kennitz fired several shots from behind a tree across the street from the bank but, aside from drawing fire of the guards, accomplished nothing. Citizens who ventured into the streets were driven to their homes by bullets from the bandits' weapons.

After the bandits had held the town at bay for two hours, Joseph Bolter, a citizen, drove to Humboldt Central, across the Kansas River and spread the alarm. Police of Junction City and Manhattan and a detachment of soldiers hurried here but found no trace of the robbers, who had departed half an hour previously.

Coat frocks of velvet are the latest novelties to arrive from Paris. They are gorgeously furred.

DISCLAIMS NEGLIGENCE IN DEATHS OF FOUR

Edmonton, Nov. 8.—Defending the construction of the Mount Ross Apartment House, which was destroyed by fire with the loss of four children, early on Sunday morning, Mrs. A. Sanderson, owner of the building, was the principal witness yesterday at a civic enquiry.

Mrs. Sanderson said the block, together with two adjoining houses that were also destroyed, cost $40,000. She thought the fire-escapes were sufficient protection. There were no fire extinguishers in the halls.

Mrs. Sanderson maintained that at no time had she been ordered by the city officials to cease using the Mount Ross for human tenements.

MINISTER WILL NOT INVESTIGATE STRIKE

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 8.—All hope of Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, intervening in the longshoremen's strike was dispelled by a telegram received this morning by Mayor C. E. Tisdale in reply to one asking the personal attendance and mediation of the minister. Hon. Mr. Murdock condemns the action of the longshoremen in going on strike and intimates that their only hope is for leniency in re-employment by the Shipping Federation.

DESIGNED A SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Hubert Stane, just out of prison, where he served a term for forgery, visits a northern post of the Hudson Bay Company. Stane meets Gerald Ainley, friend of brighter days, and a midnight meeting is agreed upon between the two men.

One of the governors of the Hudson Bay Company arrives at the post, and Ainley, who is an employe, goes to welcome him. Stane makes the acquaintance of a beautiful Indian girl, because Ainley promises to visit Stane's camp late at night, the latter goes to his little canvas tent to await the coming of his one-time friend.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

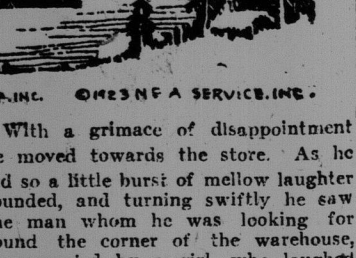

CHAPTER II

An Attack at Midnight
In his little canvas tent, sitting just inside, so as to catch the smoke of the fire that afforded protection from the mosquitoes, Hubert Stane still watched and waited for the coming of his promised visitor. He was smoking, and from the look upon his face it was clear that he was absorbed in thoughts that were far from pleasant.

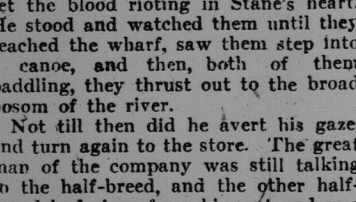

Three hours later he was awakened by a clatter of voices and the clamor of barking dogs, passing from sleep to full wakefulness like a healthy child. Kicking the blanket from him he slipped on his moccasins and stepped outside where the source of the clamor at once manifested itself. A party of Indians had just heaved their camp, and were exchanging greetings with another party, evidently that whose teepees stood on the meadow outside the fort, for among the women he saw the Indian girl who had fled through the willows after encountering him.

He watched the scene with indifferent eyes for a moment or two, then securing a canvas bucket went down to the river for water, and made his toilet. That done, he cooked his breakfast, ate it, strolled into the enclosure of the Post. In the square itself stood the plump gentleman who had landed the pipe before talking to a singing half-breed, whilst a couple of ladies with him around as he entered, and surveyed the aborigine outside the store with curious eyes. Stane glanced further afield. Two men were busy outside the warehouse, a second half-breed strolled on the bench by the store, but the man for whom he had waited through the night was not in sight.

A PUZZLE A DAY

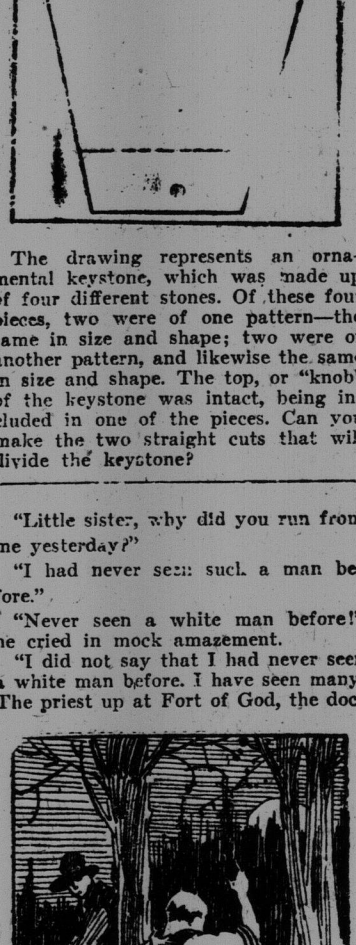

The drawing represents an ornamental keystone, which was made up of four different stones. Of these four pieces, two were of one pattern—the same in size and shape; two were of another pattern, and likewise the same in size and shape. The top, or "knob" of the keystone was intact, being included in one of the pieces. Can you make the two straight cuts that will divide the keystone?

Your Health

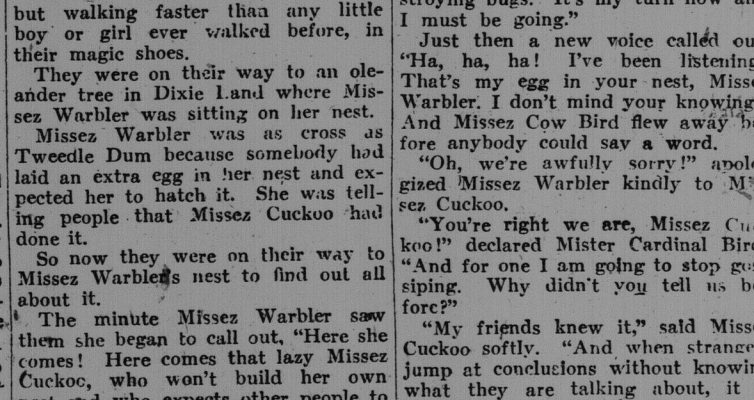

BY DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

CORRECT POSTURE
Correct posture, in sitting, rising, standing, walking, stooping or lying, is of great importance to health. When your spine is bent and the body is "slumped" or in a stooping position, both the chest and the abdominal cavity are narrowed and restricted. The action of the vital organs, in these two cavities, is interfered with. If kept up more or less all day, the loss in blood circulation will result in harm that can hardly be measured.

Social Notes of Interest

Mrs. W. H. Shaw entertained yesterday afternoon at her residence, Germain street, receiving her guests in a pretty soft grey georgette gown beaded with steel. Her daughter, Miss Hilda Shaw, received with her mother, wearing a smart gown of yellow and mauve changeable taffets, with mauve gossamer draperies. The reception room was decorated with pink carnations and chrysanthemum daisies and was very attractive. In the dining room Mrs. D. L. Hutchinson and Mrs. Frank E. Ellis presided over the tea table, which was centered with Opheleia roses in a large cut glass bowl and lighted softly with coral candles in cut glass candlesticks. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. W. E. Rowley, Mrs. L. de V. Chipman, Miss Barbara Dobson, Mrs. Percy McAvity, Mrs. Frank L. Peters, Miss Zela Lamoreaux and Miss Harriet Vincent. Mrs. George Scarborough and Mrs. Fred J. Harding ushered the guests, who numbered over 150.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ernest Smith was the scene of a brilliant function on Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Smith was hostess in honor of her debutante daughter, Miss Helen Smith. Roses and chrysanthemums in great profusion decorated the entire lower floor of the house, many of them being gifts from friends. Candles shed a soft glow over all and greatly enhanced the beauty of the scene. In receiving Mrs. Smith was a handsome gown of black chiffon velvet with jet garnitures. Miss Smith wore a cape of white Canton crepe with cap effect embroidered in crystal beads and carried a magnificent bouquet of American Beauty roses. Mrs. William Hild, grandmother of the debutante, also assisted in receiving and wore black satinetta in radium lace.

In the dining room the table was most artistic, being centered with a tall silver basket filled with Opheleia roses. Vases of sweetheart roses and pink candles in silver candlesticks completed the beautiful setting.

Mrs. William G. Smith, wearing brown Canton crepe with hat to match, and Mrs. Richard Arooth, in blue Canton crepe and hat with ostrich trimming, presided over the tea. Mrs. Joly H. MacLean, Mrs. W. Grant, of St. Stephen, Florence Warwick, Isabelle Walker, Audrey Rankine and Marion Henderson assisted in serving the guests. Mrs. Allan Rankine, in black Canton crepe with hat to match, ushered, assisted by Mrs. William E. Golding and Mrs. Robert P. Cowan. About 200 guests were present during the afternoon.

Mrs. Ronald Carson, of Toronto, formerly Miss Jessie Murdoch, of this city and a resident for several years of Calgary, Alta., was the occasion for a delightful party when Mrs. A. A. Carson, of DeMonts street, Beaconsfield, entertained on Wednesday evening. The house was decorated with chrysanthemums and yellow and white daisies. Those who assisted in serving were Mrs. Frances Godard and Miss Edith Atcheson. Mrs. J. W. Godard and Mrs. A. Atcheson received with Mrs. G. Gray Murdoch, Mrs. Phillip Simons, Mrs. Herbert Breman, Miss Alice Murdoch, Miss Alberta Nelson, Mrs. Noel Sheraton, Mrs. Wiley Tilton, Mrs. John Tilton, Mrs. H. P. FASHIONABLE PARISIAN EVENING HATS IN TURBAN, BANDEAU AND CLOCHE EFFECTS.

(By Marjorie Hays)

New York—Up to this season we have not had to worry about putting an appropriation for the evening hat into our clothes budget.

Before going to the opera or hop or whatever function seemed to call for a display of our eveninginery we needed only to arrange our locks in the most becoming fashion and concentrate the expense on the gown and wrap.

This season promise to be different, for the evening hat is back and because of its novelty designers are inclined to make the most of it.

The evening chapeau may be just a glorified framework of beads, preferably pearls, jet or rhinestones, with much hair revealed.

It may be a turban of gorgeous gold or silver cloth, draped becomingly about the face and minus a crown, so that the well brushed hair may be revealed.

It may be some novel variation of the bandeau, or a headress of feathers and lace, or a ruffe of black lace placed to make a wide frame for the face.

Mrs. Stella Knowlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy, of the Isolation Hospital, has returned from Boston, where she has been studying vocal music with Miss Mabel Adams Bennett, of Trinity Court, Dartmouth street, Boston. Prior to leaving here, Mrs. Knowlton was a pupil of Professor Lloyd and had developed a lyric quality, which Miss Bennett states in a letter, is well worth further cultivation. Mrs. Knowlton will remain home for a few weeks, when she will return to Boston to continue her studies in voice culture. Miss Bennett says that she has every reason to encourage this of considerable difficulty, with a voice of good compass and pleasing quality.

PARTY REFRESHMENT

If you are entertaining your bridge club in the near future you are undoubtedly racking your brains for something a bit different to serve and a new way to serve it.

Wouldn't a buffet service from the dining-room be a relief to both the hosts and guests? And if the party isn't a club party the move from the table to the dining-room makes for greater sociability among the guests.

The setting of the table with flowers and candles can be made so lovely that the beauty of the whole party is enhanced.

Table Arrangement

The meticulous care with which the table is arranged bespeaks an experienced hostess. Absolute order and neatness must prevail. The silver arranged in rows, the napkins in piles, the plates and cups in perfect balance at opposite sides or end of the table and the sandwiches and cakes placed with geometrical precision on plates or trays—these details mean much to the attractiveness of the table.

The centerpiece for the buffet luncheon table can be high, if desired. Candles make a lovely light in the late afternoon dusk and add to the festivity of the occasion. Four are used in the center of the table making a square, and one can be used in the corner of the table as the hostess sees fit. Shades are passed, to let the candles throw their gleams unshaded.

The Menu

The menu may include tea and coffee or chocolate, a salad, sandwiches, an ice and cakes. Sliced nuts, olives and hot-hops are usually provided.

Two close friends are asked to "pour," one at each end of the table. Tiny individual salads are arranged on a platter for each guest to help herself. These salads would be quite enticing if served in molds of hearts, spades or diamonds and served in a leaf of crisp lettuce.

The sandwiches also could be cut in diamonds and hearts.

The color scheme of black and red carries out the bridge theme.

Molded Red Salad

One quart cranberries, 8½ cups boiling water, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups Tokay raisins, 1 cup nut meats, 2 cups diced pineapple, lettuce, mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons granulated gelatin.

Pythian Tea is WELL ATTENDED

Pythian Castle Hall was besieged last evening with eager patrons who filled the large auditorium, where silver tables were set with red candles in silver candlesticks and where the fashionably dressed members of Moulton Temple Pythian Sisters served delicious refreshments. At large tables, set in the form of a cross, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Mrs. F. L. Grosvenor, Mrs. G. Waiters and Mrs. E. E. Thomas presided over the tea and coffee urns.

The following ladies were in charge at the small tables: Mrs. H. Colwell, Mrs. J. McGowan, Mrs. Harry Bette, Mrs. D. M. Lawson, Mrs. Henry Coad, Mrs. William Dodge, Mrs. G. Stevens, Mrs. Thomas Murray, Mrs. Fred Cameron, Mrs. William Sargent, Mrs. F. Powers, Mrs. Charles Wannanaker, Mrs. L. Thorne, Mrs. E. Anderson, Mrs. B. Brittain, Mrs. F. Barnes, Mrs. Mowry, Mrs. M. MISSION COMMITTEE MEETS.

The sub-committee of the Board of Missions of the Fredericton diocesan synod met yesterday afternoon in the Church of England Institute and drew up the budget schedule for the new year. IMPROVEMENT IS SHOWN IN HEALTH

Board of Health Figures Indicate Lower Death Rate—Fewer Infants.

The statistics for St. John city which are now being tabulated at the office of the Sub-district Board of Health indicate some marked improvements in health conditions in the city during the period from November, 1922, to October 31, 1923. That statistical year was the first in 11 years in which no citizen died of typhoid. The infant death rate shows a decided decrease which is especially noticeable in the period of the last six months. The number of infant deaths is below the average number of infant deaths during the last three years in every special group of causes. Figures are available for the last 11 years for some health statistics in St. John city and this fact is due to the careful records kept by Dr. G. G. Mevins while he was district medical health officer.

While the figures show that the cases of notifiable diseases slightly exceeded last year's, this year's total was made up largely of cases of measles. A small epidemic of measles appears in the year just closed and in the previous year there were practically no cases of measles. There was a slight increase in the number of cases of diphtheria, but in spite of this fact the number of deaths in the year just closed was only about half the number of diphtheria deaths which occurred in the previous year. The percentage of deaths to cases of diphtheria has been extremely low in the year, indicating that illnesses in which sore throat is a prominent symptom are being looked upon by parents as more serious and that in this way treatment with anti-toxin is more prompt—with a correspondingly smaller number of fatalities.

It has been proved repeatedly that cases of diphtheria treated with anti-toxin within the first 24 hours show an extremely low death rate. Dr. William Warwick, medical health officer, said that the death rate for diphtheria was the lowest with one exception for the whole period of 11 years.

Big Reduction in Typhoid. It was the great reduction in the number of typhoid cases which he considered the most outstanding feature of the year's statistics as they have been prepared so far. The total number of typhoid cases for the year was 27 as against 82 for the previous year. During the six months, May 1 to Nov. 1 of this year, a period when typhoid is most prevalent, the figures show that there were only 15 cases this year as against 72 last year. The only death which occurred in St. John from typhoid was a case of a sailor brought to this port suffering with the disease. Although this death must figure in the statistics it should not be regarded as the death of a citizen. The average number of cases of typhoid each year in the 11-year period has been 62. This year's small showing is an extremely pleasing feature of the statistics as the typhoid death rate is usually taken as an index of the sanitary conditions of a city, particularly its water and milk supply.

Investigation has shown that a large percentage of the 27 cases which are recorded were infected outside the city and a considerable percentage were infected from other cases, usually mild cases in the same family. At no time in any locality was there a considerable number of cases of typhoid.

With regard to the number of infant deaths the figures showed that there had been a remarkably small number of deaths from acute respiratory diseases, a cause usually responsible for a larger number of deaths.

FIRE HAZARDS IN FORESTS DEBATED

Slash Disposal Problem Considered at Ottawa Pulp-wood Hearing.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—A delegation of lumbermen operating in the Ottawa Valley and members of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association attended this afternoon the sessions of the Royal Commission investigating the Canadian pulp and paper industry. The delegation included Dan McLachlin of Amprior; W. M. Ross and John Black, of the J. R. Booth Company, Ottawa; W. J. Smith and E. R. Bremner, of the Edwards Lumber and Pulp Company, Pembroke; S. J. Fisher, of the E. B. Eddy Company, Hull; J. S. Gillies and Col. A. B. Gillies, of Brantford, and J. A. Gillies, of Ottawa.

There is no such thing as insurance of standing timber, Dan McLachlin told the commission. The chief menace to forests, he said, was the destruction of young growth by fire. The only method of remedying the situation, he believed, was through public education and the imposition of heavy penalties for setting fire.

Source of Revenue. Ground rent for forests was a large source of revenue in Quebec and Ontario, said Mr. McLachlin. In Quebec the rate was $8 per square mile. The province received about four million dollars a year from this source and spent about $900,000 in forest administration, he said. In Ontario there was a tax levied of $640 a square mile, and the province administered its own fire ranging. The witness thought the system in Quebec, where the lumbermen themselves took care of fire fighting was the best. There was no question of political patronage in appointing rangers, nor did politics interfere when it was necessary to dismiss an ineffective ranger. Mr. McLachlin contended that set-ness was so costly that the regulations were ignored. It was brought out that slash and debris must be removed over one hundred feet on each side of a railroad right of way. The witness said that the bud worm had killed off all the balsam in the area in which he operated. He stated that in the case of pine burned over, if a fair amount of young growth were left, it might be cut over again after about twenty-five years. Chief Commissioner Pickard questioned as to what he regarded as the most valuable lumber in Canada. Mr. McLachlin thought spruce the most valuable owing to the large amount of pulp it yielded, and to its comparatively rapid growth. And this precious species of lumber, commented the chairman, was being sent out of the country for $5 or $6 a cord.

BLAMES UNREST ON BEER ABOLITION

Sydney Witness Says Low Wages and Long Hours Also Contribute.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 8.—Into the dignified atmosphere of the Royal Commission now investigating causes of unrest and recurring labor troubles in Cape Breton was injected a welcome spice of humor today when Frederick F. Imber, an employe at the coke ovens, came out flat with the claim that most of the unrest is caused by prohibition which keeps the beer away from the workmen. Mr. Imber expressed it as his opinion that low wages and long hours were the cause of much of the unrest among the employes while the action of some of the foremen on the plant had often been referred to by the men as such a character as to produce ill-feeling and resentment in the minds of the workers. "Do you know of anything else that might have caused the unrest?" remarked Chairman Robertson. "Well, if you want me to go outside the plant I would say that prohibition has been the cause of a great deal of the unrest. To me, prohibition is the root of all evil." "You may be right," laughingly remarked the chairman. John W. Archibald, of the dock and rail department, and Dan J. MacDonaid, of the mechanical department, expressed their belief that the Blachoff plan may result in much better relations between the men and the company.

French Plan To Protect Their Troops In Ruhr Valley

MILITARY LINE TO BE EXTENDED

France Prepares to Handle Disorders in the Ruhr Valley.

200,000 TROOPS

Large Garrisons are Stationed Along the Rhine in Alsace.

(By Canadian Press.)

Paris, Nov. 8.—The French general staff foresees the necessity for certain military measures to protect the French troops in the Ruhr in the event of grave disorders in Germany or in case there is the menace of an armed movement against the occupation troops.

The first of these measures would be to strengthen out the military line in Westphalia at the Ruhr front by a sort of square pocket exposed to attack on three sides. This operation would be accomplished by strategic dispositions of troops could be executed without delay.

If the circumstances should seem to require them, France could easily put in motion 200,000 men fifty-three thousand are already in the Ruhr, 95,000 more are in the Rhineland, while an additional 50,000 are within easy reach of the frontier.

Have Large Garrisons

Large garrisons are stationed at Metz and Strasbourg, smaller ones are all along the Rhine and along the Moselle. There are reserves at Belfort, Epinal and Verdun not far away.

The French high command is not likely to be surprised by any development in Germany that is hostile to France, as its system of intelligence is understood to be most complete.

French troops today received War Minister Maginot and Minister of the Interior Maunoury.

HOMEBOUND SCOT TRICKED OUT OF $90

"It Will be a Joke on You in Aberdeen," Says Shipmate

New York, Nov. 8.—Scotch passengers on the Anchor Line Columbia, sympathized with the radio message from Aberdeen, who had been tricked out of $90 by a confidence man just before hearing the news.

As Alexander Kyle, who had been working in the Pennsylvania coal mines and who was going home for the Christmas and New Year's holidays in "Auld Reekie," approached Pier 86, North River, carrying his grip and humming "Twas Verrill Voice, My Gentle Mary," a well-dressed young man without a hair on his head behind his ear stopped him and said "Your ticket and income tax receipt, please."

Kyle put down his baggage, took out his wallet and produced the necessary documents along with his sailing permit. After examining the papers, the stranger said, "I am afraid we shall have to charge you $90 in case you do not return before the end of the year."

The demand for $90 started a heated argument, but the supposed Government official ended it when he said: "Well, I can't stand here and chat with you all day. Unless you pay the money you cannot sail on the Columbia, that's certain. If a find that the charge is incorrect I will notify the Anchor Line agents and give them the money as they can send a radio message to the pier to make a refund."

Under these conditions Kyle paid the money and had his income tax receipt marked, "Rec'd $90.—J. D." The Scot hurried down the pier and was stopped by the real officials. He protested against being taxed a second time and told about the "officer" outside the gate.

The pier detectives employed by the Anchor Line searched for the stranger who had got away with the $90, but he had disappeared. "We're sorry for you, man," said one of the passengers after Kyle had broadcast the story on the ship, "but 'twill be a joke on you in Aberdeen."

Patrick J. Kelly narrowly missed the moment to see how Tammany was going at the polls. His friends prompted to send him the results by radio.

CANADIAN DEBT IS TEN MILLION LESS

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The current revenue of the Dominion government for the seven months of the fiscal year ending with October showed an increase of more than $10,000,000 as compared with the corresponding months of the year previous, while expenditures on consolidated funds showed a reduction of $2,000,000. The net debt of the Dominion at the end of October was $11,000,000 less than at the end of the previous month, but $1,000,000 greater than at the end of October, 1922.

ROMANCE FATAL TO ART

Says Maeterlinck's Former Wife

GEORGETTE LEBLANC

New York—"I shall never love again," declares Georgette Leblanc. This to confound a rumor that the former wife of the poet Maeterlinck is contemplating marriage with a wealthy American upon the completion of her present tour of the United States.

"I live alone for my art now," she says, "romance is fatal to an artist. I have had my romance. Now I shut my mind on it."

Be that it may be, Georgette is more sparkling than ever. She has arrived from Paris with trunks and trunks of exquisite Paul Poiret creations. She is booked for recitals all over the United States. Many of them will bring her a thousand dollars an appearance.

Great Dirigible Relief Ship For Amundsen In Flight To North Pole

New York, Nov. 9.—The Shenandoah, biggest U. S. dirigible, may be assigned as a relief ship for the Arctic expedition headed by Captain Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, who was announced last night in Washington will have the help of the U. S. navy in his attempt to fly to the North Pole. This was made known last night by H. H. Hammer, when informed by the Associated Press of the navy's announcement.

Mr. Hammer, who returned from Washington yesterday said department officials there told him that while no definite promise could be made they were able to indicate the big airship would be held in readiness if anything went amiss.

SHEPODY BAY MARSHES ARE FLOODED; DYKES CARRIED AWAY

Hopewell Hill, Nov. 8.—Not for years has there been so high or destructive a tide in Sheepody Bay as that which prevailed today when long stretches of dykes were carried away and large areas of marsh flooded. Driven by a violent gale from the southwest and influenced by the new moon, the waters rose to the unusual height at high tide and were driven with great force against the dykes, the most exposed sections of which were unable to stand the onslaught.

The Canadian National Railway branch (formerly the Albert line) over the Sheepody marsh, where the roadbed supplies the place of dykes, suffered considerable damage, sections of roadbed being galled away letting the tide in on the marsh.

Passengers on the Ocean Limited express train from Halifax who arrived in St. John last evening said that high waters over the marshes between Dorchester and Amherst were flooded yesterday by the rush of water into the Bay of Fundy and headwaters. The high tides did not delay railroad trains on the main line.

The water was very high in the streams, lakes and ponds in the Kennebec valley yesterday because of heavy rains. No serious damage was reported at any point, although stacked hay at several points was wet down. The flooding of lowlands will delay some of the fall plowing.

FIVE IN MOTOR BUS KILLED BY A TRAIN

Ashland, Ky., Nov. 8.—Five persons were instantly killed and one probably fatally injured this afternoon when a motor bus rushing between Ashland and Ironton, Ohio, was struck at a grade crossing in Russell, Ky., by Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train, No. 3.

Dr. Athearn Raps Church Programs

Says Waste and Confusion Mark Work of the Young People.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 8.—Dr. Walter S. Athearn, head of the school of religious education at Boston University, addressing the Michigan State Sunday School Association, severely criticized the present organization of young people's work in the churches of the country.

"Waste, inefficiency, confusion, overlapping and competition are the only results," he said, pointing to the weakness in the service which the church is attempting to render its youth. He pleaded for a united program, based on needs of the children and the capacity of the church.

SAYS CITY IS NOT GETTING BENEFITS PACT PROMISED

A. P. Paterson Holds Tripartite Agreement May Cover Building Conveyer

What do you think of this tripartite agreement? This is the question which A. P. Paterson, mayor of St. John, asked yesterday afternoon.

"I believe that the tripartite agreement is something which the city should not take full advantage of," he replied and then proceeded to give some reasons why he held this opinion.

Paterson explained that he had given some serious thought to the subject and especially of late, since the meeting with Hon. Dr. J. H. King and Hon. A. B. Corp when the citizens of St. John had been invited to meet the Minister of Public Works at the necessary for a grain conveyer at No. 16 berth, which necessity the Minister admitted.

It is Mr. Paterson's opinion that there is ground for contending under the words of the agreement that the Government is bound to erect conveyers when needed. He believes, however, that at least grounds for dispute.

"There is the agreement," he said "and a question in dispute. This agreement provides for the settlement of that dispute by arbitration." He pointed out that, under the agreement, His Majesty undertakes "to build on the lands heretofore conveyed to him and so many dock piers as may be necessary for the handling of trade through the Port of St. John."

Mr. Paterson said that he considered the grounds for dispute could be based on the fact that the agreement provides for "other structures and approaches" and he believed in a broad sense the word "approaches" includes the grain conveyers, for these were really a modern means of approach.

Bar speaking of the Government's agreement to build piers when they were required here, he quoted the definition of the word "pier" as a mass of stone-work or a mole, projecting into the sea, for breaking the force of the waves and making a safe harbor.

Mr. Paterson pointed out that shortly after the signing of the tripartite agreement there had been a change of Government at Ottawa and the new Government had carried on the work of erecting piers, but in building them there had been destroyed the natural breakwater, known as the Beacon Bar.

"Under the agreement," he asked, "would not the Government be liable, particularly in face of the definition of pier to make the harbor safe by providing a breakwater?" The old Premier in the Cabinet, had voted money to build a breakwater, but it was not taken up as the war had intervened.

Speaking of the interview given here by the Minister of Public Works, Mr. Paterson pointed out that Dr. King had refused to commit himself and had suggested that the harbor be put into commission under a revised harbor commission act.

"Nearly two years ago," he continued, "Mr. H. H. McLellan, acting on the advice of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in what changes it considered necessary and submit them to the Minister of the Interior, who has formed the Harbor Commission Act amended. Now that we have heard the Minister of State say that he would be willing to accept the plan for the city to do its part, it should be amended, there remains for the city to do its part. It should be amended, there remains for the city to do its part. It should be amended, there remains for the city to do its part.

N.Y. TRAFFIC POLICEMEN GRIN AS DEBUTANTES USURP POSTS

Society Girls Direct Crowds, But Flew When Signals Get Complex.

New York, Nov. 8.—The dignity of the best known corner in the world received a severe jolt the other day. Precisely at noon a winsome figure, smartly clad in black riding breeches and boots, waded through the traffic at Fifth Avenue and Forty-second street, raised her hand authoritatively and blew a shrill blast on a whistle. Everything stopped.

Patrolman Harry Arnold, who usually presides at this intersection, merely stood at the curb with a tolerant smile as he saw his office usurped. Blase truck drivers spoke in profane amazement and taxi drivers stared. Only those about, accustomed to expect a shrill burst about their business, glad of the unexpected opportunity to cross the street.

"Regular Cop," "Officer, officer," came a distressed cry from the figure, "what shall I do now? You must come out and help me!"

Policeman Arnold hurried out and explained to her how to get the growing line of vehicles moving again. He illustrated the various signals and in a few minutes she was bossing the corner as efficiently as a grizzled veteran of Traffic A Squad.

She was Miss Margaret Stout, one of the prettiest of the city's debutantes, and with five of her friends she had volunteered to give the regular traffic officers a lesson in their duties. The Foreign Automobile Exposition at the Astor Hotel.

Miss Edith McCoon was with Miss Stout to help control the situation. When the time came for them to leave their places Miss McCoon lost her nerve and fled to the isolation of the little desert island at the foot of the signal.

"Oh, dear, I wish Peggy would stop directing traffic and come out to eat," she moaned at intervals during the half hour that her friends was at work.

"Peggy is thrilled," remarked her escort from his place at the curb, "and she is scared to death," replied another.

"Well, get her away!" "In another moment she was whisked away up the avenue in an automobile and the corner settled back to its old routine.

Meanwhile similar scenes were taking place at Fifth and Fifty-seventh streets. Miss Margaret Powers and Miss Margaret Hennessey held forth at the former and Miss Constance Hatch and Miss Margaret Hennessey held forth at the latter.

The same debutantes will be on hand to sell cake at the exposition and a percentage of the funds taken in will be used to increase the charity fund of the National Child Labor Committee.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR A. BONAR LAW

Rexton, N. B., Nov. 7.—On the evening of Nov. 6, the day on which the ashes of the distinguished Canadian-born British statesman, Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, were deposited in Westminster Abbey, an impressive memorial service was conducted in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church here for this illustrious son of this town.

The late Prime Minister was born in Rexton in the year 1868, his son of the late Rev. James Law, pastor of the Presbyterian congregation from 1846 to 1877. The present fine church now in use was built during Mr. Law's ministry. "A man he was to all the country."

Bonar Law's boyhood days up to the age of 12 years were spent here and in his mother's home in the little cemetery beside the church. Several of his school day friends still live here and tell many interesting anecdotes of the boyish pranks of the fair-haired youth destined to be numbered among the nation's great.

The service was well attended in view of the weather conditions. The pastor's address was able and appropriate.

There could be definite action on harbor commission. There would have to be a revision of the act, permission for the holding of a public sale, then the public sale, the Government amendments and the consent of Parliament. When all this had been obtained, he said, there would be no guarantee that the commission would have any money to spend on new work. "But," he added, "there might be taken up as the war had intervened."

Speaking of the interview given here by the Minister of Public Works, Mr. Paterson pointed out that Dr. King had refused to commit himself and had suggested that the harbor be put into commission under a revised harbor commission act.

Injunction Bars City Island Pastor

Parishioners Quit as Protest Against Discharge of Rector.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Christ Church vestry of Pelham Manor and its rector, the Rev. J. McVickars Haight, still contend for control over the pastorate of Grace Episcopal Church, on City Island, whose minister, the Rev. Thomas A. Collett, was dismissed some two weeks ago by the Pelham Manor vestry. As a result, City Island has ceased to attend church.

The parishioners are insistent that Dr. Collett be reinstated as their pastor. To prevent this a Supreme Court injunction has been obtained by the Pelham Manor vestry preventing his performing priestly functions without the consent of Pelham Manor and Dr. Haight.

In spite of the resolution passed by the City Island parishioners at a protest meeting last week, requesting Dr. Haight not to preach in their church last Sunday, he came and delivered a sermon. Ten persons attended. Two funerals were held at which he was not allowed to officiate.

The latest step in the feud was taken yesterday by Edgar P. Peely, attorney for the parishioners, when he requested the Haight vestry to attend a special conference with Bishop Manning. This is expected to be held on Friday.

The injunction restraining the priestly functions of Dr. Collett is returnable in White Plains tomorrow, but Mr. Peely said he expected to hear from Bishop Manning before that time. George Gordon Battle has interested himself in the dispute and is acting as one of Dr. Collett's attorneys.

SMUTS MAY AID TO SOLVE IMBROGLIO

London, Nov. 8.—General Smuts, Premier of South Africa, had intended to sail for home tomorrow but he has postponed his departure for London for at least a week.

There is reason to believe that Premier Smuts' delay in leaving for South Africa is due to advice from the European continent indicating the possibility that Smuts may contribute effectively to the solution of the imbroglio in Europe.

J. Douglas Black, of Fredericton, was in the city yesterday and was a guest at the Royal Hotel.

Miss Mabel E. McGee and Mrs. A. McGee, of Quebec City, were guests at the Clifton yesterday.

REPEAT DEATH OF W. F. HATHEWAY

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held last night in their home, 68 Garden street, with A. M. Belding, the president in the chair. Much business of a routine nature was disposed of. The chairman during the evening referred to the death of W. Frank Hatheway who had been a member of the board of management of the society since its organization. He had laid them all under a deep debt of obligation by his efforts to obtain the passage of the Children's Protection Act. During the first stages of organization and early endeavor he had acted as president and it was only on account of increasing ill health that he had retired from the office. He was elected in his place. It was decided that the president and secretary should draw up a suitable resolution of condolence to be engrossed in the minutes and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

The monthly report of the agent showed that since the last meeting of the board eleven children were admitted to the home. Two, including a baby girl placed in a foster home, were taken out leaving twenty-nine in residence.

HUSBAND PAYS FINES OF ELOPERS

Holyoke Man Forgives Pair of Runaways; Takes Her Back.

Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 9.—Although his 22-year-old wife Dora, deserted him and eloped with Charles Cole, 30, three months ago, Arthur La Bonte, of Holyoke, Mass., this week not only forgave the pair but after personally appealing to the magistrate to release them from jail, where they were held on a charge of carrying an accusation, paid their fines from his own pocket. Then, to complete his magnanimity he took the pair with him to Holyoke. All appeared happy.

When in response to a telephone call from Elizabeth, Dora and La Bonte appeared in court, the story was told.

Arthur Vaughn, of the Elizabeth, was driving his automobile in New Brunswick, N. J., last Sunday when he was stopped by Mrs. La Bonte and Cole. With them was the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. La Bonte. The woman begged Vaughn to drive them to Elizabeth.

The direction was toward Vaughn's home so he readily agreed. When the party reached Elizabeth the woman insisted on being driven to Manhattan. Vaughn refused to do so, whereupon, she alleges, Mrs. La Bonte threatened to "show his read off."

Admits Being Eloquent, however La Bonte called a passing policeman and ordered the arrest of Mrs. La Bonte. She was taken before Magistrate James P. Brown, who found her guilty of carrying a revolver.

Cole was arraigned at that time on a charge of being disorderly. Mrs. La Bonte, according to the Elizabeth police, at first said she was the wife of Arthur La Bonte and that she had eloped from him three months ago. The police informed La Bonte.

Meaning a search of the automobile was made. A revolver, which Vaughn said did not belong to him, was found in the machine and Cole, according to the police, admitted ownership of the weapon.

Cole was again brought before Magistrate Brown, who sentenced him to 40 days in the county jail. Mrs. La Bonte was given a 10-day sentence. When La Bonte later admitted to them that she was the wife of Arthur La Bonte and that she had eloped from him three months ago. The police informed La Bonte.

GIRL BURGLAR TELLS OF SLAYING

Confesses in Chicago That Her Sweetheart Killed a Man.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Ethel Beck, 18-year-old girl, confessed to the slaying of an unknown Italian husband, has confessed to the police that a sweetheart, Walter Bockelman, is the man who killed Matthew Edward Lehman Sunday morning when Bockelman was caught breaking into a Lincoln avenue store. She was with him, she said, when Lehman interrupted their burglary.

"Walter got excited, I guess," she told Police Captain Money. "He shot him and that other man, Stenweid. I screamed, but Walter grabbed me and we ran."

The confession came after the girl had stood for hours in a denial of the crime. Though identified by witnesses who had noticed the girl burglar's rusty blond hair, she had insisted that some mistake had been made. When a search of her room at 901 Fullerton avenue disclosed letters from Bockelman and newspaper clippings on the killing the girl broke down.

"You're right," she sobbed. "Walter did it and I was there. I might as well confess. I guess I am."

The confession was not needed to complete the police case against Bockelman. The suspect's neglected wife had already broken down the alibi that Bockelman offered when he was arrested on the strength of an accusation gaped by his dying victim.

IMPORTANT EMPIRE ISSUE UNSETTLED

London, Nov. 8.—The Imperial Conference in London is expected to complete its labors tomorrow.

It has, however, again evaded one of the most important questions, namely, the constitutional question of the relations of the dominions and colonies to the mother country. Each other, hence there will still be no central body maintained in London to represent the confederacy permanently or carry out its political or economic recommendations.

SHUT IN 14 YEARS, SHE BURSTS INTO POETRY ON SEEING SKY

Holding Pocket Mirror in Stiffened Fingers, Gets Inspiration.

New York, Nov. 8.—It is only by holding a tiny pocket mirror in her stiffened fingers that Mrs. Mary Newland Carson can bring the blue sky into her realm of vision.

For fourteen years Mrs. Carson has been a "shut-in," crippled by rheumatism. All day long she sits in her chair by the window, unable to move her head even a few inches to see the sky and the clouds that float over the low, brownstone houses across the street. Her discovery that the blue sky could be brought down into her lap was so astounding that, for the first time in her life, she burst into poetry.

Her little poem, "My Patch of Blue," is being talked about all over New York, wherever the children of the Grace Presbyterian Church Sunday school could spread the wonderful story of the minister's crippled wife who had sold her poem and was going to make lots of money for the missionary society with it and maybe have enough left over to buy herself a radio set, too.

Mrs. Carson is the wife of the Rev. Robert H. Carson, pastor of the Grace Presbyterian Church. It was he who first suggested sending the poem to "The Continent," a religious magazine of the Presbyterian denomination. A check for $6 was the first miracle that happened.

"You would think from the way we acted that the heavens had broken through and let loose a shower of gold on us," chuckled the invalid, telling the story of "My Patch of Blue" and all the exciting things that have resulted from it.

An amateur poet who gets her work printed, with $6 thrown in, expects no more of the bountiful heavens, but for Mrs. Carson this was only the beginning. A week ago, Dr. A. C. Massey, pastor of Tremont Temple, the largest church in Boston, recited "My Patch of Blue" over the radio at the end of his evening sermon. Immediately, the "invisible audience" made itself articulate, demanding copies of the poem from states all over the Eastern seaboard. Dr. Massey sent Mrs. Carson an order for 500 copies of the poem, at 25 cents each, $125. What largesse for the missionary society!

Mrs. Carson sent out an S. O. S. call through Dr. Carson and the Sunday school children and the other church organizations, asking anybody who had an extra copy of the poem to lend it for the great financial undertaking in Boston, with the promise that as soon as the printer could make up a second edition the loan would be made good.

Mrs. Carson had a few hundred copies printed last summer for private distribution among the women of the church. And now the heart of the "shut-in" is glowing with a new hope, a new interest in life. Perhaps after she gives enough money from the sale of her poems to the missionary society and the Ladies' Aid Society, she will still be able to buy a radio outfit.

Cochets for Fairs. "I'm used to being a 'shut-in,'" she smiled bravely. "After fourteen years one learns not to desire movement, although one never gets used to it, of course. The only worry I have now is lest my eyesight fail. I was perfectly happy when I could read the papers—we have taken The Tribune always—and then I have done a great deal of sewing and crocheting for the church fairs. I always felt I have now my share of the work, even if I was not able to attend the fairs. But now my eyes are poor and I guess I shall have to learn to knit without sight. That's where the radio would come in so nicely. I never thought I wanted one before, when the programmes were all silly recitals and jazz music. But last Friday night—Oh, I did want to hear Lloyd George!"

"This fear of blindness explains the last passage in the poem quoted below—the fear that even the patch of blue in her mirror will be denied the cripple who cannot raise her head:—
There's a bit of blue across the street
Which I have learned to love,
One end of it rests on the house-top
High,
The other on the heavens above.
I know not what's in store for me,
Of sorrow, joy or pain,
I do not know when I can see
My bit of sky again.
But I am sure God's love and mercy
Will lead me safely through,
And in my very heart of hearts
He can put a "Patch of Blue."

writer has never been discovered. Of the merits of the verse, judged from the best standards of poetry, there is some question. The second verse seems far superior in beauty and thought and felicity to the others and the sheer music of the lines.
"From the lone shieling of the misty island" stands out as far above the whole context of the poem. As a consequence it has been suggested that these words were taken from somewhere and used by some minor poet to strengthen lesser lines upon his somewhat pathetic theme.

Yet, taken as a whole, there is a poignant beauty about the poem that has sustained it throughout all these years, and which is likely to make it live. The verses in full follow:

Listen to me, as when ye heard our father,
Sing long ago the song of other shores;
Listen to me and then in chorus gather,
All ye deep voices as ye pull your oars.
Chorus:—
Fair these broad meads, these hoary woods are grand,
But we are exiles from our father's land,
From the lone shieling of the misty island,
Mountains divide us, and the waste of seas—
Yet still the blood is strong, the heart is Highland,
And we in dreams behold the Hebrides.
We ne'er shall tread the fancy-haunted valley

Where, 'twixt dark hills creeps the small clear stream;
In arms around the patriarch banner rally,
Nor see the moon on royal tombstones gleam.
When the bold kindred in the time long past
Conquered the soil and fortified the keep;
No sere forefolds the children would be banished,
That a degenerate lord might boast his sheep.
Come foreign rage—let discord burst in slaughter!
O, then for clansmen true and stern claymores—
The hearts, that would have given their blood like water,
Beat heavily beyond the Atlantic shore.
Chorus:—
Fair these broad meads, these hoary woods are grand,
But we are exiles from our father's land,
From the lone shieling of the misty island,
Mountains divide us, and the waste of seas—
Yet still the blood is strong, the heart is Highland,
And we in dreams behold the Hebrides.
We ne'er shall tread the fancy-haunted valley

Where, 'twixt dark hills creeps the small clear stream;
In arms around the patriarch banner rally,
Nor see the moon on royal tombstones gleam.
When the bold kindred in the time long past
Conquered the soil and fortified the keep;
No sere forefolds the children would be banished,
That a degenerate lord might boast his sheep.
Come foreign rage—let discord burst in slaughter!
O, then for clansmen true and stern claymores—
The hearts, that would have given their blood like water,
Beat heavily beyond the Atlantic shore.
Chorus:—
Fair these broad meads, these hoary woods are grand,
But we are exiles from our father's land,
From the lone shieling of the misty island,
Mountains divide us, and the waste of seas—
Yet still the blood is strong, the heart is Highland,
And we in dreams behold the Hebrides.
We ne'er shall tread the fancy-haunted valley

"A CANADIAN BOAT SONG," (Ottawa Journal).
In literary circles in London a controversy has arisen over the authorship of the poem entitled "A Canadian Boat Song" and depicting the loneliness of Hebridean exiles in Canada. The poem first appeared in a "Notes Ambrosiana," in Blackwood's Magazine in 1820, and although various poets have been put down as its author, the real

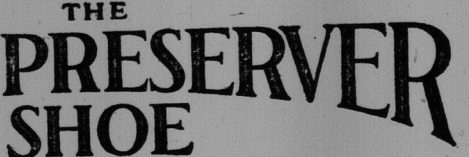

Feet that never tire
clear through the busy day

THINGS to think about; jobs to do; places to be—no time to think of feet! But your feet are with you all the time and you are using them every minute! The businesslike way to handle them is to make them comfortable so they will be a real help. See that the shoes you wear have a proper foundation for the weight-carrying structure along the outer side of the bottom from heel to toe—otherwise you'll have discomfort. Wear the Arch Preserver Shoe, with its real chassis, and you can keep the old work-mill humming clear through the busiest day and never have to give a thought to your feet.

The chassis of the Arch Preserver Shoe, because it has a concealed, built-in, anchored bridge, gives the foot a real base to stand on, and keeps it vigorous and healthy, and comfortable!
Yet your feet are always free and easy, because the Arch Preserver Shoe bends at the "ball," where the foot bends.
The Arch Preserver Shoe is made of the finest leathers, and in every desirable style. It gives you everything you've been getting in shoes—plus foot health and comfort!

"The life of a locomotive firebox costing $1,000 is

SEIZED 40 RIFLES
 NEAR MEXICO CITY
 Mexico City, Nov. 8.—The Callistas turned the tables on the Huertistas charges regarding a plot for the massacre of Co-operativista deputies, yesterday, when a motor truck belonging to the municipality loaded with a machine gun, two score of rifles and two boxes of ammunition was discovered by the police in a suburb of the city. Jorge Prieto Laurens, former mayor of the city and now leader of the Co-operativista party, which is supporting the presidency candidacy of Adolfo de la Huerta, demanded the return of the truck, asserting that the arms with which it was loaded were destined for San Luis Potosi and were to be used to defend the capital from the marauding Callistas.

WAS NOT GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER
 Montreal, Nov. 8.—After deliberating for ten minutes the jury in the case of Gerald McLeer, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Vincenzo Lavinio, returned a verdict of not guilty in the Court of King's Bench here this afternoon. It was shown in evidence that Lavinio might have died of injuries sustained when he fell or was tripped as he passed a runaway on the sidewalk in Wellington street, this city. He had been in a dispute with McLeer, who threw him face down to the pavement, but the picture was at the back of the skull and it was shown he had fallen a second time after the first was over.

The start will be from Cooper's Corner in the Marsh Road at 11 o'clock Saturday morning sharp and the route to be followed will be Haymarket Square, up Prince Edward street, up Carmarthen, through the old burial grounds, along Sydney and finishing in front of the Imperial Theatre.

NEWSBOY'S MONEY MISSING.
 On leaving the Evening Times office at five-thirty last evening, one of the reporters found a small boy outside sobbing as if his heart would break. Inquiry led to the information that the youngster had given over 23 precious cents to another larger boy to make a hurry-up purchase of papers, as he was rather small to get ahead in the crush that obtains around the Times' office at the sale period. His confidence has been misplaced, however, for the middleman in the case had run off. He was brought into the office of the business manager, who soon adjusted the difficulty, having first assured himself that the boy was telling the truth. Considerable comment was made about the other boy, that must have made his left ear hotly.

THE TIMES-STAR
 SPORT REVIEW

Tid-Bits for Fans on Baseball, Hockey, Golf and Ring.

Willie Gradwell, of Somerville, Mass., who earned a decision over Johnny McIntyre in the Arena some weeks ago is continuing his good work. Fans will be interested to learn that he defeated Bobby Barrett, of Philadelphia, in a ten round bout staged in Boston Tuesday night. The bout was a "hummer" from the start to the finish and was featured by plenty of hard hitting. Gradwell stopped one of Barrett's terrific right hand swings in the second round and dropped for a count of nine. He was pretty dazed when he regained his feet, but he had what Barrett lacked—ring generalship—and he kept away from his opponent until his ring cleared. Fortunately this was only a matter of seconds, but was sufficient time for Barrett to end the bout had he followed up his golden opportunity.
 It is said that Barrett did not seem to know what to do when he had his man in distress. He became wild and wasted a number of poorly aimed punches. He was considered dangerous at all stages, but seemed to depend entirely on winning with a single punch. He shot over a number that had "deep" labels all over them, but Gradwell had already gauged his style of attack and sailed into the lead and continued to pile up point after point until the ninth. Over confidence nearly spell hit the latter shot over another of Barrett's right dries which landed on Gradwell's arm, but there was so much steam behind it that Gradwell did not feel it until it had landed in a vulnerable spot there would have been no necessity for a decision had Gradwell won and gone on an imaginary visit to Mars and would had a good view of the stars as they glided swiftly by.

BOXER IN TEARS
 Van Dyk Beaten at the Ring.
 At the Ring, Blackfriars, London, recently, Johnny Curley, the Lambeth bantam-weight, defeated Van Dyk, the champion of Holland in the 14th round of a 20-round contest, the Dutchman's seconds throwing in the towel when his hopes of victory had vanished.
 Van Dyk was much more severely beaten than he was some months ago by Bugler Lake, the Lonsdale bantam-weight belt holder. He lost every round and was apparently on the point of collapse when surrender was declared for him. He was defeated by a man who was his superior in everything save punch, but his shortness of reach and his willingness to fall into the fairer obvious traps set for him—such as being induced to lead in the same stereotyped way every time—had a great bearing on his non-success.
 He took his defeat much to heart. When he returned to his corner he broke into violent weeping and sobbing and was still shedding tears when he was led to his dressing room.

Pratt, one of the Brown's star pitchers of 1922, whose arm failed last season, will stage a "come back" next year. In explanation Sister said that when a good pitcher loses his arm it is from an injury to the shoulder and as Pratt is resting in California he should be in good condition when spring comes around. Pratt claims that his arm is as good now as ever it was.
 Like baseball pitchers whose life ambition is to pitch a "no-hit-no-run" game, golfers long for the day when they can boast of holing out in one. Some few have achieved this signal honor on more than one occasion, but many will play all their lives and fail to gratify this ambition. Word comes from New York that C. P. Odell has for the second time in his golfing career made a hole in one. He accomplished this feat on the Wykagyl Country Club course Tuesday when he made the thirteenth hole, a distance of 230 yards, in one.
 There is an old saying that "charity begins at home." This is very true, but it should not stop there. Eugene Critiq, former featherweight champion of the world, is at present suffering from a badly injured right hand, which he sustained during his bout with Hebrans. Critiq was fighting for charity and as a result passed up bouts in the United States which would have netted him a small fortune. It will be six months before he will be able to box again and in the meanwhile it would not be amiss if some help was forthcoming to him during his prolonged enforced idleness.

ACADIA AND U. N. B. PLAY A TIE GAME

Match was Bitterly Contested—Result Gives U.N.B. Clark Trophy.

The big football match played yesterday between teams from the U. N. B. and Acadia University resulted in a scoreless tie. The game was played on the Acadia University gridiron and was one of the most bitterly contested staged for some years.

Fredericton, Nov. 9.—Commenting on yesterday's game at Wolfville, when U. N. B. and Acadia played a scoreless tie in the final game of the western section of the Maritime Intercollegiate Rugby League, the Gleason says: "While U. N. B. failed to chase the jinx and finally score a victory over Acadia on the Nova Scotia home soil, yesterday's scoreless tie left no doubt as to the championship of the western section of the league and the possession of the Clark trophy.

McLEAN WILL NOT JOIN LALONDE TEAM

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 9.—Frederick McLean, the local hockey player, is apparently not going to play for the Saskatoon Club of the Western Hockey League during the coming winter, after all.

Yesterday he sent a telegram to Newry Lalonde, the Saskatoon manager at Montreal, stating that he would not be able to accept his offer.

Just what McLean will do with himself this winter is known to himself alone, and apparently he does not know, either. The offer to go to Saskatoon was satisfactory insofar as the monetary consideration was concerned, and the only reason he did not sign up was that he was unable to make arrangements to get away from here because of home ties.

CITIZENS MUST AID NOT ATTACK RULERS

Hon. Howard Ferguson Deplores Indifference of Men to Public Affairs.

Addressing the Canadian Club of Montreal this week, Premier Ferguson said that if men of the ability and worth who wish their country well were to awaken from selfish indifference and selfish comfort and take an interest in public affairs and politics, Canada would benefit greatly at the present grave period through which we are passing.

People Represented.

The average citizen regarded politics as a malady from which he should step away, and had no proper appreciation of what politics meant, said Hon. Mr. Ferguson. Politics and the study of political questions was the highest duty of every citizen, for politics meant the science of government, speaking in the non-partisan sense.

The average man shrinks from the country duty of devoting his best to the improvement of government organization, and the betterment of the methods of carrying on. The standard of public morality could not be raised higher than the stand of the individual, the stream could never rise above its source, and the public life of Canada was just what the people made it.

Looking around him he saw men prominent in business, men of paramount outstanding ability and judgment, and he asked how many of them did their duty towards public life, how many interested themselves as they should in laying soundly and well the broad fiscal foundations and sound methods of administration that, after all, were the basis for their own individual success and prosperity.

Why did not the average citizen take a deeper interest in politics, why did not good men go into public life? There were a variety of reasons when the best men avoided public life. In the first place, there was the indifference; some people chose to call it selfishness. Men become engrossed with the development of their own affairs and seek to make a success of their own affairs to such an extent that it becomes an obsession, and everything else was excluded. There were other reasons for the absence of good men from public life, and one of these was the attitude of the average citizen towards public men today.

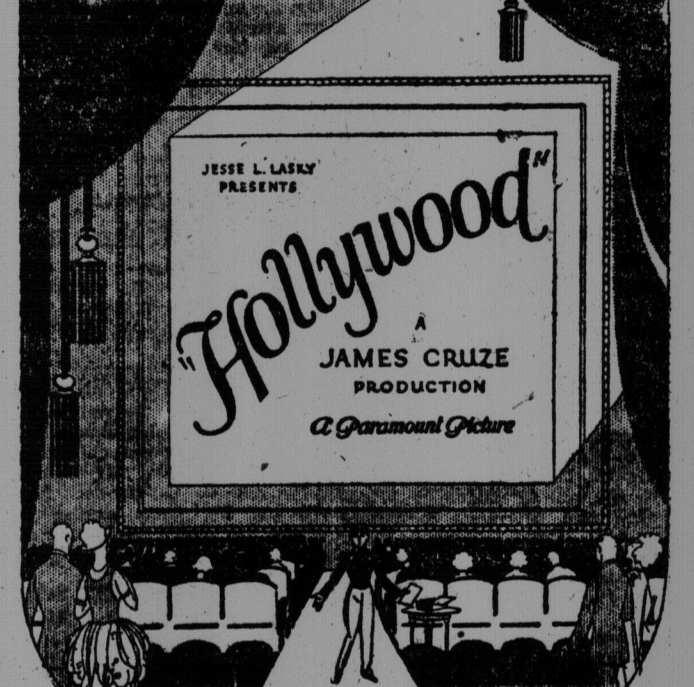

Lack of Appreciation.

"How many public men receive credit for usefulness and patriotic motives in going into public life?" asked Mr. Ferguson. "How much credit is given the mayor, the alderman, the school commissioner, the member of Parliament, the member of a government? How often are such men given credit for sincerity of purpose and unselfish desire to help a community? Too often ulterior and selfish motives are ascribed to him, and this attitude is confined to individual citizens. The press frequently is responsible for driving good men out of public life by abuse and vilification. I know what that means, for I had three years of it. It seems to be the ammunition of certain sections of the press. They do not

TO RECEIVE MEDALS AT ARMISTICE BALL

Three Officers and Nursing Sister to be Decorated by Governor.

One of the most interesting incidents in connection with the military ball to be held at the Armories on Monday evening, will be the presentation of medals to several local officers, including a French decoration to a nursing sister of the C. A. M. C. Official word has been received that Lieutenant Governor Todd will be present and he will make the presentations.

A guard of honor, composed of one officer and 24 other ranks of the Cadet Corps will be formed, and immediately after the inspection of the guard of honor, the Lieutenant-Governor will present the Colonial Auxiliary Forces Officer's Decoration to Lieutenant Colonel S. S. Skinner and Major C. J. Morgan; the Canadian Auxiliary Forces Service Medal to Lieutenant W. D. McKay; and the Medaille d'Honneur of France, equivalent to that of the Royal Red Cross Nursing Sister Catherine Shea.

It is thought that the presentation will be made probably about 9:30 o'clock. Lieutenant Colonel Skinner is the officer commanding No. 1 General Hospital, C. A. M. C. and he is also the district medical officer. The decoration which he and Major Morgan will receive is for twenty years commissioned service, whereas the medal which will be presented to Lieutenant McKay is for twenty years service in all ranks, both commissioned and non-commissioned. Major Morgan is on the Reserve of Officers list, having retired from active service with the militia while Lieutenant McKay is on the C. E. F. Reserve.

Miss Catherine Shea, who went overseas as a nursing sister with the St. Francis Xavier Hospital unit and who served in France with several hospitals, is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Shea of 66 Simonds street.

DRY DOCK MOVIES TRAVEL THE WORLD

Give St. John Wide Publicity—City and Company Save Copies.

The splendid pictures of the new dry dock and shipbuilding plant at Courtenay Bay with attendant ceremonies, which are being screened this week here, are also being shown throughout America and are en route to the British Isles and all over the world where motion picture entertainment holds sway. The complete descriptive film taken locally has been purchased by the committee of citizens who cooperated with the Mayor and civic officials in celebrating the historic event and will be shown in its entirety throughout Canada before being deposited in the City Hall archives along with other pictures of memorable events in local history such as the 26th Battalion, the Prince of Wales visit etc.

The dock executive themselves have secured a copy for their general informative advertising when presenting the claims of St. John as a hospital for sick ships. Besides very desirable publicity the Pathe News, International News, Fox News and other moving picture weekly budgets are circulating throughout the world pictures of the dock and its auspicious inaugural. This pictorial publicity should prove an inestimable boon to St. John and follows along the line of modern advertising as being practical in the larger centres. It is a matter for congratulation that St. John can now take its own pictures on immediate notice and that news weeklies are willing to absorb any interesting event that transpires hereabouts through this local medium. Halifax has been doing it for some years, a camera correspondent for two of the leading movie news-budgets being located in that city.

Interest is awakened in the next mayoralty contest, R. A. McAvity, chairman of the Civic Power Commission, but to date he has given no definite decision. Mr. McAvity, said that he had been urged to run for the mayoralty, but he had not been able to see his way clear at the present time to offer himself as a candidate because his own business commitments were so heavy. He did not say definitely, however, that he would not run.

Considerable effort is being made to have ex-Mayor E. A. Schofield once more run for the office. The report is out of the city at present. It is also suggested that H. R. McLellan may run against Cudworth, but McLellan has not yet made any public statement, and while Mr. McLellan himself is non-committal as to whether he will be in the contest in some capacity.

ST. JOHN GETS HUE AND CRY OVER RADIO

Bank Messenger in Virginia Robbed; Fans Here are Told About It.

As science has aided criminals in the provision of accessories for the waging of their nefarious war on society, so also has she put into the hands of those responsible for the control of crime implements with which they may more effectively carry on their work. Thus a few moments ago a messenger in Summers, Virginia, last evening and robbed him of $200. News of the robbery was in St. John—It was scattered broadcast over the entire continent and the public generally were notified to aid in the rounding up of the criminals.

St. John radio fans picked up the message, which was relayed through Pittsburgh, Pa. It was to the effect that after the hold-up, the bandits had jumped into a five-passenger car, carrying a spare tire behind, and had made a clean get-away. The men were described as being between 135 and 140 lbs. weight. The broadcaster asked that anybody seeing anything of a party answering to the description given, to notify Mr. Hutchinson at Summers.
