STILL BETTER ON ULSTER BORDER

Fear of Clash Has Nearly Disappeared.

Liaison Commissions Begin Work—One Fatality on the North Side of the Line— Belfast Counting Money Cast of Troubles.

Belfast, Feb. 20.—The situation in Northern Ireland is considerably calmer than at any time during the last week and the fear of a clash on the southern frontier has dwindled almost to the vanishing point. The rival forces, however, retain their positions along the border but hope is expressed that the next few days will see them withdrawn as the proximity of such heavy armed forces is looked upon as a potential menace to peace.

Meanwhile the joint liaison commissions are understood to have begun their operations. Two British officers and two officers of the Ulster special constables form the northern commission, with headquarters at Clougher; the southern commission comprises three British and two provisional government officers, with their base at Monaghan. They will apparently institute a sort of patrol on each side of the border, keeping in touch with each other and using their influence where it may be needed in the interests of peace.

It is said unofficially that the decision to close the Irish Republican army football players from the Derry jail was reached when the northern government informed the British government that it had abandoned its intention to prosecute the men. London therefore instructing the vicar to order their liberation.

A party of Clougher specials challenged a Crossley tender bearing specials to the county line yesterday. The driver of the tender did not stop, whereupon a member of the challenging party fired, killing Constable McEneaney. The incident, which is supposed to have been due to a mistake, occurred on the northern side of the border.

Belfast remains quiet, and the cost of the recent violence is now being reckoned. Aside from the numerous deaths and injuries there are monetary claims for compensations amounting to more than $200,000.

Expect Sinn Féin Convention to Split.

Dublin, Feb. 20.—Delegates to the Ard Fheis, or national Sinn Féin convention, which will meet tomorrow, were already gathering in large numbers this morning. About 3,000 representatives from all parts of the country are entitled to attend.

The ostensible purpose of the convention is to decide the future constitution of the Sinn Féin movement, but by the discussion and final vote will reveal the comparative strength of the supporters of Eamonn de Valera and Arthur Griffith among the Sinn Féin clubs throughout Ireland.

It is widely believed that the convention will result in a complete cleavage of the organization and the formation of two bodies, pledged respectively to the Anglo-Irish treaty and to holding out for a republic. Opinions differ as to the duration of the convention, some expecting it to last for a week and others predicting only a one day session. If a split occurs, the question of the disposition of the party funds will become acute. Some believe they will be amicably divided proportionately to the respective strength of the factions, while others forecast a hot controversy and a difficult settlement.

Forecasts as to the division, if one occurs, vary greatly, but most observers expect a small majority for the Free State advocates.

IT LOOKS LIKE DISCRIMINATION

People who are compelled to tramp around in the snow during a snow storm is followed by a thaw do not like it, but there is one element in the population which looks with a great deal of satisfaction on the combination of meteorological conditions. It is the school-boys.

One of the local schools was pouring its volume of juvenile humanity in orderly ranks on to the street today at noon many glances reached the great sidewalks of sticky snow which lined the sidewalks.

"Around the corner" the air was white with flying snowballs. One seven-year-old hopeful had the misfortune to deliver a well-directed shot at the back of the neck of one of his fellow-pupils just as the heavy hand of a teacher dropped upon his shoulder with the query, "What do you mean by throwing snow balls?"

The lad looked up with an expression which seemed to say, "See whiz, out you crowd about half a million, why pick on me?" but he was silent, however, and who knows he may be suffering this afternoon from a headache.

some personalities as the whole national structure rested on the character of the citizens and the citizens of the morning were in the making today. Mr. Dowling advocated that the congregation should appoint committees of men and women to deal with this matter. He asked the congregation to meet this week for a full discussion of the matter and the taking of such steps as might be wise.

Assist Social Service.
Appeals for support of social service work were made in the city churches yesterday. In the Anglican churches it was announced that special collections would be taken. Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Methodist secretary for evangelism and social service, was the preacher in Esplanade street in the morning and in Centenary in the evening. In both addresses he emphasized the importance of each member of the congregation being actively engaged in making the church a practical force in the community.

At the Queen Square Methodist church yesterday morning, Rev. Neil MacLachlan gave a very forcible address on the subject, "Some plain statements and some unpleasant facts in regard to the temperance situation." The address dealt largely with the lack of enforcement of the present act, the strides made towards sobriety and the duties of the directors should the question arise of an amendment to the act providing for the sale of light wines and beer.

At the end of the service over 100 members of the congregation signed a petition to the government showing their approval of the ministers' remarks.

Pythian Service.
Trinity church was overcrowded yesterday afternoon for the fifty-eighth annual service of the Knights of Pythias. Nearly 800 was taken in collection for the Protestant Orphanage and there are still some contributions to be received. Rev. R. A. Armstrong gave the address of welcome to the Pythian Knights and Sisters and took for the text of his sermon, "Ye are my friends," telling the story of the friendship of Damon and Pythias. He was assisted in the conduct of the service by Knight Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson.

Rotary Service.
About forty-five members of the Rotary Club were present last night at the Rotary service held in Trinity church. Rev. R. A. Armstrong, who is a Rotarian, gave an eloquent sermon on service, the keynote of the service by Knight Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson.

HOUSE RENTALS.

(Montreal Gazette.)
Why should house rentals be raised this year? The cost of reproduction is less than a year ago, and the value of the property at sale cannot be said to have increased except in isolated cases. Wages have not advanced, salaries where not stationary are less, and business profits have been materially reduced. Conditions, in a word, seem to justify lower rentals on renewal of leases, yet rentals in many instances have been advanced. The reason is the law of supply and demand. There are more persons seeking homes than there are homes to be had, and until the supply is enlarged landlords will follow the market and advance the price of their property in precisely the same way as owners of other commodities. This is human nature. A possible solution of the problem is however, a striking one. It requires capital to build or buy, even with the aid of a mortgage running up to fifty or sixty per cent. of the value of the property.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indigestible waste of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tests cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it on yourself. Begin by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday bread and cake, and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place standing order with your gro-

POWER DISTRIBUTION.

What Mr. C. C. Foss did to the Ross Dam project in regard to the amount of power $140,000,000 represents the losses available at Musquash, and in regard to people in his country through fake stock Protesting against "contemptuous sneers and insults at maritime people and impudent insinuations against the good faith of our representatives in demanding redress," the Halifax Chronicle commends the more moderate attitude of the Toronto Globe, which urges sympathetic consideration.

SEVEN WASHINGTON THEATRES CLOSED

Action Follows Collapse of the Knickerbocker with 98 Deaths. Washington, Feb. 20.—Seven theatres, including the New National and Poll's—two of the principal playhouses in the national capital—were ordered closed last night by the board of commissioners, the governing body of the District of Columbia.

Not His Fault.

"Look here," said the farmer indignantly to a man with a hungry nose, "I know it, gar'ner, was the placid answer, 'as well as you do. But that hoes can't roan."

DAYS OF HEALING.

(Rev. George Scott.) I saw the spring time stealing By field and wilderness, She laid sweet hands of healing On winter's loneliness.

Her tear-dimmed eyes were yearning, Her passioned speech implores, The eager birds returning From fast and foreign shores; And eager captives waiting Deeply, waiting hours are long, Until the happy mating.

Lift up your hearts, oh, singers, And plume your ready wings; Thrice welcome are ye, bringers Of bright and better things.

I saw the spring time stealing By waiting forest flowers, Her hazy touch revealing The slumber of the flowers; They burst their bonds asunder, They lift their heads on high, When lo! their fragrant wonder The woodland glorifies.

She taught them all her story, Her hands their gifts bestowed, Their healing and their glory, That light a weary road; These, too, are happy tellings Their messages of grace, The raptured music swelling Through nature's holy place.

I saw the spring time stealing, The happy southland breeze Her presence revealing To all the budding trees, She gave them of her blessing, Her light their eyes expand, Her gentle rains descend, With gladness filled the land.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Had Her There. "But smoking is one of my greatest pleasures," he protested.

"Well, you ought to give it up because I want you to, I would do as much for you."

"Are you sure of that?" he asked eagerly. "Why of course I am. Just tell me something I do that you want me to stop."

"Well," he said, with firmness, "you might stop objecting to my smoking."

Exact Definition.

"What is a honeymoon, pa?" "A honeymoon, my son, is that time in a man's life when his wife is really supplied with all she wants to wear."

How to Make a Speech.

(From an Exchange) Merchants called upon to make a speech will find this formula from "Life" helpful: "I've long breaths. Compliment the audience. Outline what you are not going to talk about. Points that you will touch on later. Two familiar quotations. Outline what you are going to say. Point that you have not time to touch on now. Reference to what you said first. Funny story. Compliment the audience. Ditto to the city, state and country. Applause."

Old Gentleman Meets.

Sir Walter Raleigh of today is rather different from his ancestor who cast his dead body into the sea, and was quartered in the South African war, and was quartered general for Canada in the last war. He was the author of several military books, while Sir David Watson was a very distinguished general, and a journalist of distinction. The names of both will live in the military annals of the Dominion.

THE VALENTINE.

(New York Times) When the leaves of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, in issuing the eleventh edition, came to write a piece about St. Valentine and his day, which, if you are young enough, you know was yesterday, they remarked in a footnote: "Until nearly the close of the nineteenth century the custom of sending 'valentines,' i. e. anonymous love-letters, written or otherwise, has become completely vulgarized."

HE OWNS 17,000,000 SHEEP.

(Toronto Globe) David Clark, sheep and cattle king of Australia, arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver, where he landed last week from the S. S. Makara. The ship carried in its hold nearly 15,000 carcasses of mutton and 5,000 tons of butter. Practically all the mutton and butter came from Mr. Clark's own ranches in Australia. Mr. Clark, who is 600 head of cattle on his many ranches throughout the Commonwealth.

UNCLE JOE CANNON.

Bangor Commercial—Uncle Joe Cannon, the most picturesque figure in the National Congress, is serving his last term, for he has announced that he shall not be a candidate for reelection. He has already served forty-three years, establishing a record for service. He has been defeated but once in forty-five years and so firmly established is he in the confidence of his constituents that it is very unlikely that he could be beaten. But he is in a very feeble state of health and has concluded to rest for his remaining years.

MEASLES SERUM EFFECTIVE

Good Results of New Treatment Reported in Big German Cities.

Dr. Degkwitz, assistant attending physician at the Munich University Children's Hospital, recently published his observations on 122 children who were given injections of the serum of measles convalescents, writes the Berlin correspondent of the Journal of the American Medical Association. All the children who received the prophylactic injections of serum between the second and sixth day after the infection, proved immune to the disease. The serum was obtained by vein puncture, from seven to fourteen days after convalescence, from children who had gone through with uncomplicated measles. Mixed serum (usually from 3.5 to 4 cubic millimeters) as will protect a child of 3 1/2 years against the disease up to the fourth day of incubation, are designated a protective unit.

If sufficient quantities of serum are given at a certain time during incubation, the appearance of the disease is delayed, the symptoms are attenuated. The serum of adults, in large doses, does not delay the onset of the disease but it attenuates it. Utilizing the results of Degkwitz's experiments, it is said to be possible by this method to prevent the outbreak of measles in foundling asylums, day nurseries, hospitals, etc.

According to the article, published by Prof. (loss Klappekittel), these observations have been confirmed by experiments conducted in Hamburg. Out of a total of sixty children given injections of serum on ten different occasions, according to Degkwitz's method, one child came down with the disease on the day of incubation, with abortive measles, and one with measles of an incomplete, questionable type. In the course of the last epidemic the quantity of serum employed was too small.

The eruption may occasionally occur on the first day of incubation; for reliable observations on the infection were made five days before the appearance of the exanthema (rash). In a heavier dose must therefore be given on this day in order to be safe. In six children there was a fever of one day's duration and pains at the site of the injections; in eight infants given injections of the same cancer, but of a lesser severity, occurred immediate fever, paleness, cyanosis (blueness)—in some—restlessness, anorexia (loss of appetite), and (in two patients) vomiting and diarrhoea.

Probably we have here a primary infection without the occurrence of any secondary manifestations. In the department of pediatrics of the Berlin Children's Hospital, Dr. von Franke reported, from the Emperor and Empress Frederick Children's Hospital, that in 107 subjects, who were given injections at the proper time during the incubation period—between the second and sixth day—perfect success was attained.

COPILAND ON PUBLICITY.

He Does Not Advocate Individual Advertising by Doctors. Health Commissioner Copeland said yesterday that he had received messages from physicians contemplating him on the features of medical ethics which Dr. Copeland had described as "medieval" in his urging him to keep up the attack on the alleged tendency of physicians to make a mystery of knowledge which the public know as little about as possible.

"The medical profession," he said, "has never urged the individual physician to advertise, and I don't care to see any paper carrying the announcement that Dr. Smith is the best in the city, or anything of that kind; but I want to see medical men use the engine of publicity to enlighten the public and combat diseases which kill hundreds of thousands because there is not the contact between the medicine man and the public that there should be, and because so many, through fear or ignorance, fail to obtain treatment in the initial stages of a disease which might be cured if taken early, and cannot be cured later."

"The great majority of the public of this country, I believe, are ignorant of the great progress which has been made in the use of anaesthetics, which has robbed operations of much of their terrors."

KENNEDY IN HALIFAX. Halifax Chronicle—From the rosiest stories that have been told and the beautiful pictures which have been painted of the "ocean terminals" at this port, the new minister of railways may have entertained the belief that a great and elaborate system of docks and terminal facilities of all descriptions was to be inspected in Halifax. If so, he will be speedily disillusioned when steps from his car and sees the rude shack which serves for a station, the unfinished sheds and the piers which the ocean liners avoid. He will find that the necessary equipment for business is sadly lacking, and although the time may not be propitious for large public expenditures, yet we believe the minister will be quick to perceive that such an important outlet to the sea as Halifax should be adequately equipped in order that trade through Canadian ports may be promoted and the national railway system receive its proper share of the overseas commerce.

ANGLICANS SAY "HAIL MARY" AND GO TO CONFESSION

Wycliffe College Sounds Call to "Stand Fast in the Hour of Difficulty and Danger."

(Toronto Telegram.) "Facts Worth Knowing" is the title of a pamphlet issued by Wycliffe College, in which, incidentally, attention is drawn to practices within the Church of England in Toronto which may prove rather startling to some of our congregations in the same communion.

Reference is made to mass celebrated on New Year's morning at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Manning avenue. The mass was attended by the Anglo-Catholic Union, an organization which has as its purpose, it is alleged, the re-introduction into the Church of England which were thrown out at the reformation.

"Wycliffe College," says the pamphlet, "stands opposed to these things, and the fact that such doctrine and practices are being promulgated appears to us to be a very clear call for those who love their Bible, their liberties, and their church, to stand fast in this hour of difficulty and danger."

At the mass in question, the Lord Bishop of Fond du Lac is reported to have "pontificated at the Throne." Venerable Archdeacon Hughes officiated as "Deacon of the Throne," and Rev. R. Melville of St. Stephen as sub-deacon. Rev. H. G. Hancock of St. Mary's and Rev. P. H. Hartley of St. Matthias also assisted.

The pamphlet continues: "In spite of all that has been said about the comprehensiveness of our church we cannot hide our eyes to the fact that there are at least two fundamentally different schools of thought within her borders. Some men hold the so-called 'Catholic' doctrines and ritual, while others hold to the Protestant doctrines and practices."

Evangelical Doctrine. "We do not venture to express any comment regarding the position of those who, holding the 'Catholic' doctrines and ritual, yet remain within the church. Our business is not to judge in the matter, but to maintain those scriptural, spiritual and evangelical doctrines which can be most surely proved from the Scriptures. It is sometimes said that the day has come for Wycliffe College to surrender its rights and privileges so dearly won against terrific odds, since the great body of the laity have no use for 'division' within the church."

Private Confessional. "It is Rev. J. F. Greeny, Bishop of Toronto, would say nothing as to the pamphlet, nor as to the alleged practices at St. Mary Magdalene's, when his attention was called to the matter this morning."

Those who have attended the church say that the "Hail Mary" is among the prayers used in the church; that the private confessional, which has long been announced from the pulpit, is now advertised on the bulletin board outside the church, and the use of incense is practiced.

A large proportion of the congregation is said to take advantage of the private confessional, though it has not been made compulsory.

MAGNANIMITY OF BRITISH SEAMEN Special care Given to Interned German Sailors During the War—Provided Camp and Comforts.

London, Feb. 18.—(By Canadian Press) The magnanimity of British seamen is strikingly revealed in a manifesto issued by the marine section of the International Transport Workers' Federation.

As a result of the war activities of German submarines, German seafarers are excluded by Act of Parliament from serving on British ships for a period of years, but with a view to finding a road out of "this difficulty" the manifesto says, Havlock Wilson, M.P., president of the federation, sought an interview with Hugo Stinnes, the German liner owner and ship owner, on his recent visit to London.

In the manifesto Mr. Wilson points out that for thirty years before the war he was a great admirer of the German nation, and German seamen in particular, and that thousands of Germans had obtained employment in British ships during the war.

The war, proceeds the letter, compelled the government to intern German merchant seamen in this country. "Though public feeling ran high at that time, I decided to establish a camp of our own for the internment of German seamen, and this cost the union, of which I am president, over £16,000. "Furthermore, I used my influence to get the British government to allow us 10s. per week to add to the comforts of the men in our care.

"I myself personally superintended and watched over the welfare of these men for over fifteen months, and I can produce to you a testimonial presented to me by the camp testifying to my good treatment and interest in their comfort and welfare."

Apparently Herr Stinnes declined to interest himself in the matter since there is no mention of an interview having taken place.

"I suffered from gas on the stomach so that I couldn't keep food down and tossed in bed all night. After taking one bottle of Adlerika (intestinal antiseptic) I can now eat anything and sleep like a log." (Signed) R. C. Miller.

Intestinal Antiseptic. There is now offered to the public a preparation having the DOUBLE action of an intestinal antiseptic and a COMPLETE system cleanser. This preparation, known as Adlerika, acts as follows:

It tends to eliminate or destroy harmful germs and colon bacilli in the intestinal canal, thus guarding against appendicitis and other diseases having their start here.

It is the most complete system cleanser ever offered to the public, acting on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removing foul matter which poisoned the system for months and which nothing else can dislodge. It brings out all gases, thus immediately relieving pressure on the heart.

It is astonishing the great amount of poisonous matter Adlerika draws from the alimentary canal—matter you never thought was in your system. Try it right after a natural movement and notice how much more foul matter it brings out which was poisoning

you. In slight disorders, such as occasional constipation, sour stomach, gas on the stomach and sick headache, one spoonful Adlerika ALWAYS brings relief. A longer treatment, however, is necessary in cases of obstinate constipation and long standing stomach trouble, preferably under direction of your physician. Reports From Physicians. "I congratulate you on the good effect I had from Adlerika since I prescribed it." (Signed) Dr. L. Langlois. "I have found nothing in my 50 years' practice to excel Adlerika." (Signed) Dr. James Weaver. "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose." (Signed) Dr. F. M. Prettyman. "After taking Adlerika feel better than for 20 years. Haven't language to express the AWFUL IMPURITIES eliminated from my system." (Signed) J. E. Puckett. Adlerika is a constant surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines, on account of its rapid, pleasant and COMPLETE action. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere. Sold in St. John by J. Benson Mahony, druggist, 2 and 4 Dock street, and other leading druggists.

REVIEW OF THE ROSS REPORT

Engineer Analyzes His Statement Regarding Cost of Distributing Musquash Power and Shows That Present Rates for Light and Power Can Be Cut in Half—Backs Up His Opinion By Convincing Figures.

(BY HERBERT PHILLIPS)

John. This is of only passing interest, save that Mr. Ross estimates the maximum loss of a new distributing system at 20 per cent of the load. This is a greater loss than our authorities lead us to expect, but perhaps in view of our somewhat niggardly market as it now exists the losses might come to almost this percentage at first, although they would most certainly grow less as the market builds up. In all the following estimates I shall allow this 20 per cent for losses, feeling confident that I have a wide margin for safety in this factor. At this it is of importance to note that Mr. Ross' allowance for loss on a new system, as compared with the 32 per cent loss on the present local plant, emphasizes that 12 per cent at least of our power purchased will be wantonly dissipated if an attempt is made to distribute the hydro over existing lines. Applying this to 15,000,000 k.w.h. only and at the cost price only (1.2c) means a yearly loss of $21,600, or sufficient, with capital at 6 per cent, to pay the interest on $360,000 towards our new plant, or, if, as seems reasonable enough, the power should be valued at its sale value, then the saving would be enough to pay the interest on the whole new plant.

The importance of this item, the character of the distributing system, can easily be overlooked but should not be minimized. The Ontario Hydro Commission, alive to the condition of a poor distributing plant can go far to destroy the value of hydro and so unjustly discredit hydro power. It is the purchasing municipalities by the following clause in their contracts: "To use at all times first-class, modern, standard commercial apparatus and plant, to be approved by the commission and to exercise all due skill and diligence so as to secure satisfactory operation of the plant and apparatus of the commission and of the corporation." Although this important saving is brought out by Mr. Ross' Table A, he gives no credit to it in his economic considerations, and so we shall not come across it again in the course of this review, but I shall set down here a table of possible values for this item which any reader can examine and appraise for himself.

TABLE A. Cost at Loss at Loss at Saving Capitalized

Table with 5 columns: Item, Cost at, Loss at, Loss at, Saving Capitalized. Rows include A, B, C, D with various numerical values.

TABLE B. This table, which gives us the N. B. Power Company's statement of the number of customers they now serve, provides the single item of additional information for which we are indebted to his report.

Mr. Ross, himself, makes no comment upon these figures, but they indicate a very wide application of electric lighting to this community. The large number of users, 9,107, shows a great potential market for our hydro that does not need educating to be used, and in this respect at least we are more favored than were the Ontario municipalities when their distributing plants were inaugurated, and whilst the large number of very small consumers makes the capital cost of our proposed distributing system seem rather high at first, it provides the best possible promise for the speedy building up of a splendid market.

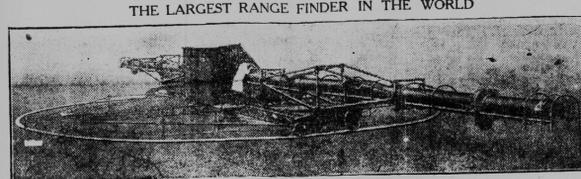

TABLE C. Introducing table C, Mr. Ross makes his very important announcement, which I must quote in his exact words: "Capital Cost of Distribution." "Two methods of estimating the capital cost of distributing light, power and street lights are available. "An actual map layout with centres of distribution, loads, etc., marked, may be used, from which the number of transformers, meters, poles and weight of copper, etc., may be estimated. This is a long and expensive process, but fortunately there is a better one, as the results of actual practice are available. "A study of the records of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario indicates that there are four cities, which may reasonably be used as a basis for estimating the capital costs for St. John—these being Brantford, Hamilton, London and Windsor, chosen by reason of similarity of customers and loads to those existing in St. John. It should be noted that for this purpose distance from the centre of concentration has no bearing on the results which are limited entirely to local distribution costs within these cities, including land, building, apparatuses and street distribution as shown in Table "C" with the final figures obtained and used for St. John, inserted in fifth column.

Averaging the costs per consumer for the various items we get:

TABLE C 2. Table with 2 columns: Item, Cost. Rows include Land and buildings, Sub-station equipment, Distribution system overhead, Distribution system underground, Line transformers, Meters, Miscellaneous construction.

Now, bearing in mind that a very large proportion of this Ontario equipment has been purchased since 1914 and right through the period of highest prices known, it is not reasonable to add anything to the above multipliers in preparing our estimated costs. In fact, savings may be confidently expected. For instance, copper, which enters very largely into this equipment, now costs about 17 per cent less than in 1914. Ordinary meters are quoted at about $3.25, and land and buildings should certainly cost no more here than in London or Windsor or Brantford. Attention is called in the report to the prevalence of rock in St. John. By just how much this condition will affect the cost can be quickly and accurately ascertain-

The latest scientific wonder is a giant range finder, which is capable of accurately measuring distances up to twenty-two miles. This huge instrument will be used for coast defence work in England. The tube is 100 feet long, mounted on a carriage which swings round on a circular track.

TO HARNESS TIDES

O. H. Parsons Believes That His Invention, Which Has Been Patented, Will Prove Feasible—Quiet Tests in Halifax Harbor.

(Halifax Echo.) The big north end is again over the news of the proposal of O. H. Parsons, by the E. C. Parsons concern, to harness the tide and waves of the ocean and furnish power to the city of St. John. Mr. Parsons thinks will cut the cost of hydro electric power away down as compared with that produced by harnessing the power of inland waters. A company to hold the rights of the invention for all Canada will be incorporated at Ottawa and the inventor has already six patents, while applications are in for others in France, Italy, Spain and Germany being included in the lot. Though engaged in commercial pursuits, Mr. Parsons had given much attention to projection of power from the tide flow and a couple of years ago the idea of utilizing the action of the waves of the ocean in conjunction with the tides came to him. Since then he has devoted all his time he had to spare in thinking out apparatus or paraphernalia which would harness the dual power and create energy that would be of use for all power, heat and light purposes. He is satisfied he has accomplished the task and is now setting to work to commercialize it.

For the purpose of satisfying himself as to the practicability of his plan he had two models built, including a water working one which he quickly tested in the vicinity of the Dartmouth ferry landing and which he says took the motion of the waves as well as expected and was satisfactory in every respect. The other model, used for private demonstration purposes, has three incandescent lamps and the equipment includes a little motor, pulley wheels and belts, and with the reproduction by means of the machinery covered measured pressure of the tide and wave action the energy produced can be switched to light the lamps or operate power in hoisting, etc.

It is pointed out to an Evening Echo reporter, for the purpose of large development hereabouts the power harnessing plant would be located, not in the harbor, Basin or Arm, but at some place outside the harbor, where the maximum of sea wave action could be obtained as well as the tide flow. In the Bay of Fundy with its big tide flow the possibilities in that respect would be greater. In Halifax there is a six feet tide in flow and six feet outflow in twelve hours, while the West coast is continuous.

Mr. Ross is a native of New Brunswick but now a Gottingen street business man and the north ender of him, holding the indications are he will revolutionize power production the world over by harnessing nature's energy.

LETTER FROM MAYOR SCHOFIELD. To the editor of the Times: Sir,—As Engineer R. A. Ross is being so freely discussed at the present time, and as I judge some writers will soon attempt to make out that he may not know anything of hydraulic engineering at all, therefore in order to keep the records straight as far as possible in days of which the city council engaged him, I would appreciate it if you would publish in the following copy from the Journal of Engineering Institute of March, 1920:

Robert Alexander Ross, the newly-elected president of The Engineering Institute of Canada, has for many years occupied a leading position in the realm of engineering, particularly in the electrical field of Canada. The work of which he is the recipient of the honor is highly commendable, and it is highly commendable that he should have been chosen to be a member of the administrative commission of Montreal, a body formed by the provincial government to save the city from financial chaos. As the one practical man on that commission of five, his work has been of unusual value.

"When the Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific and Industrial Research was established about four years ago by the Dominion government to promote and encourage research and invention with the development of the natural resources of Canada and to assist manufacturers with their problems, Mr. Ross was made a member of that body. "As evidence of the position he occupied on the research committee, the active management of its most important undertaking, the establishment of the Lignite Utilization Board was carried out and has arrived at the point where several pilot plants will be established in western Canada during the coming year whereby tremendous lignite deposits of that province will be made available for the citizens of the northwest.

MANY ROLES PLAYED BY COMMON GOAT

Produces Wool, Mutton and Milk—History of Breeds.

The Angora goat is a native of the Turkish province of Angora, in Asia Minor. This is a mountainous region, with a variable climate. In the home district there are several recognized varieties of these goats, but on the American continent all are grouped together as Angoras.

etie of these goats, but on the American continent all are grouped together as Angoras. In 1849 the first importation to America was made, a gift from the Sultan of Turkey. The Angora has spread all over the United States, and there are a few in Canada. The fleece is known commercially as mohair. It is longer, stronger and somewhat coarser than the wool. The fleece is light in weight, and is shed in the spring if not shorn. It should be white in color, although there are colored Angoras. The goat makes good mutton, but there is not enough of this class to be commercially important. The chief value of the Angora in Canada is as a producer of brush land; the goat is naturally a browser and will clear up underbrush very effectively. The Toggenburg goat is a much varied variety, which has been bred for centuries in the Toggenburg Valley, in Switzerland. It is brown in color, with a white line from eyes to mouth down each side of the face. It is capable of producing four or five quarts daily in full flow, and the best have been known to produce seven quarts. The breed is little known in Canada outside of British Columbia, where it is gaining favor as "the plowman's cow" on mountainous or brush land. The Saanen goat derives its name from the Saanen Valley, in Switzerland. It is a large, white goat, which is, on the average, not quite so good a milker as the Toggenburg, although individuals sometimes excel it. The Nubian comes from Nubia upper Egypt, Abyssinia, and South Africa. It is a very large, long-legged, Roman-nosed, upright breasted or black animal, and is believed to be the best of the milk breeds. Its greatest drawback is lack of hardiness, as it is not able to resist cold. The Maltese, Appenzel, Schwarzhäutler, Langenshäger and American milk goats are of minor importance in this country.

GETTING READY FOR THE ROYAL WEDDING

It is 640 years since the child of a sovereign was married in Westminster Abbey. The bridegroom was Edmund Crouchback, son of Henry III, and the bride, Aveline, Countess of Lancaster. They were buried in the sanctuary, and this picture shows a workman clearing the canopies over their tombs.

QUANT CEREMONY AT ROYAL WEDDING

Formal Protest Against Entry of Archbishop to Abbey Preparing for Ceremony.

London, Feb. 18.—(By Canadian Press)—Princess Mary's favored flower is the sweet pea. This became known in a letter received recently from the Princess Lady-in-Waiting by a Manchester committee in reply to a communication concerning the holding of a flower day and the collection of a million shillings in aid of Manchester and Salford institutions for the nursing of the sick in honor of the Princess. The work of preparing Westminster Abbey for the marriage of the Princess to Viscount Lascelles is now well in hand. Raised tiers have been placed on either side of the nave and extend from the entrance to the chancel. It is hoped thereby to provide room for about 2,000. The chancel itself is to be reserved for the members of the Royal family and representatives of foreign courts, together with the relatives of the bridegroom and a few other privileged persons. Handsome chairs for these distinguished guests will be taken to the Abbey from Buckingham Palace. No chair is being provided for King George as he has announced his intention to give his daughter away in person. He will stand beside her at the altar until the time comes for him to hand her over to the bridegroom. When Princess Mary enters the abbey she will do so by the West Door, passing the tomb of Britain's unknown warrior, and almost beneath the Union Jack that hangs from the pillar beside the grave. Westminster City has decided to decorate the streets along which the bridal procession will pass. They will also present an address to the Princess. A curious ceremony which survives from the middle ages will be observed when the Archbishop of Canterbury enters the abbey. The jurisdiction of neither the Primate nor of the Bishop of London is recognized by the Dean of Westminster and so when the Archbishop attends at the Abbey on an official occasion a formal protest against his pretence is read aloud by the chapter clerk and the receiver-general. It is understood that by special desire of the Princess the gift of the bridesmaids will be quite simple in its character, but of a nature that she will be able to retain her life as a memory of her marriage. The wedding ring is being manufactured by the court jewellers. It is of pure Welsh gold. Since there are no longer any Welsh gold mines actually working, this gold had to be "washed" from the small river Mawddach. The organizers announce that the dominions are well to the fore in the wedding gift to the Princess from the (Marys, Marions, Mays, Miriams,) etc.

BETTER DAY'S WORK DONE IN ENGLAND

More Honest and Healthier Attitude of Labor Now Prevails.

(Montreal Gazette.) Endland has seen the worst, and the country is gradually getting on her feet again remarked Colonel Herbert Molson, in discussing his recent visit to the other side. He and Mrs. Molson had gone over to join their sons and daughters for Christmas during the school vacation, and they had spent that season in Switzerland. Everywhere in England, said Colonel Molson, people seemed to feel that the corner had been turned. Business was getting better gradually, he added, and while there was no tremendous boom, the feeling seemed to be that once the European situation were straightened out, things should show an all-round material improvement. An important factor was that of easier labor conditions and of a healthier attitude on the part of labor. There is a more honest day's work being done than was the case in the early days following the armistice, he commented. This contrast on the part of Colonel Molson much as he has crossed over to the other side four times within the past year and a half, and on one of his trips previously he had arrived in Britain on the day that a railway strike was scheduled, though it did not mature. Apart from labor and social problems, the people in England had of late been suffering from a touch of aridity, a rather unusual feature in that country. Drought extending over many months had resulted in the rationing of water in London and other big cities, as well as in the raising of water rates. This drought had just been broken last month by heavy rains. Canadian Affairs. Replying to a question as to Canadian affairs in London and changes in the High Commissionership, Colonel Molson had no criticisms to make in that connection; but he asserted that there was undoubtedly a feeling over there that Canada had not shown the same enterprise in securing suitable settlers as Australia, New Zealand and other Dominions. It was felt that there was not sufficient publicity being given to Canada's resources and attractions, and that point had been emphasized in a striking utterance which had been made by Colonel Dennis, of the C. P. R. Colonization department, at a public luncheon.

TWO DISTINGUISHED SOLDIERS DEAD

Two of the most distinguished and outstanding figures in the military life of Canada passed away on Saturday in the persons of Major-General J. Lyons Biggar, V. D., C. C. C., and Major General Sir David Watson. General Biggar died at his home in Montreal very suddenly. He was born in Belleville in 1856 and served through the South African campaign. He was Quartermaster General for Canada throughout the great war and retired shortly after the Armistice. He was Canadian Red Cross commissioner for some time. He published a number of books on military subjects. He is survived by his wife, two sons and one daughter. Sir David Watson was born in 1869.

He went overseas in September 1914 in command of the 2nd Battalion of the 1st Division. Afterwards he commanded the 9th Brigade of the 2nd Division and later was appointed to command the 4th Canadian Division. He held a controlling interest in the Quebec Chronicle. He held a large number of decorations and honors.

Hang On to Rooms. One New York hotel has explained why it is forced to ask incoming guests to wait until evening for a room, even though they have telegraphed ahead for reservations. It is because other guests persist in hanging on to their rooms until just before they rush off for their trains for home. A business man who is leaving in the evening packs his baggage in the morning when he goes out to clean up his odds and ends of business, comes back in the evening, grabs his baggage, pays his bill, and dashes for a taxi. Now this hotel, in the interest of efficiency and the newcomers, is asking its guests who plan to leave during the day to pack their baggage and check it, appealing to their sense of fair play to help out the other fellow. —N. Y. Evening Post.

CHARLIE GORMAN STILL CHAMPION

Garnett Finishes Only Ten Points Behind the Leader—A Great Series of Races.

Charlie Gorman retained his title of maritime skating champion by winning the 440 yards and the half mile in the meet concluded on the West side rink Saturday afternoon. He aggregated 120 points, and had he not fallen in the three mile near the end of the race he might have augmented this and made a clean sweep. His skating was a feature of the meet. Frank Garnett won second honors with 110 points, taking second in the 440 yards, second in the half-mile and first in the three mile. He also skated well. #### SUGGESTS TO LANDIS BATTER BE ALLOWED TO STEAL FIRST

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Speeding up baseball by permitting a batter to steal first base is a suggestion that has been made by Judge Kenneth M. Landis, baseball commissioner, by Newton C. Gilliam, a Kansas City, Mo., attorney, who suggests in a letter that the thief privilege for a batter would offset the "scientific" pitching which, the attorney thinks, often makes an inning a tame affair with the batsmen having moved down one, two, three. Mr. Gilliam says that the average fan wants to see "men running the bases."

Kansas City, Feb. 15.—In a statement N. C. Gilliam proposed changes in baseball rules which would entitle the batter to make an effort to reach first base in case of a "passed ball" or if the "outs" were running a man down between the bases. Mr. Gilliam also contended that if the fielders in some manner "throw the ball away" the batter should be entitled to the attempt to steal.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and youthfulness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two drops of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color of your hair. Everybody uses Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now. Nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with the liquid and draw it through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

MOTHER!

Open Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry, mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open bowels, expel flat gas, and soothe the stomach. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for a tablespoonful to be given to children under six years of age. It is printed on the bottle. Mother! You must get this. If you may get an imitation fig syrup.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salt if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it but flush your kidneys with water, cranberry juice, or lemonade. A doctor tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys if it is not washed out. The uric acid, which is the cause of kidney trouble, is a waste product of the body. It is not necessary to eat meat every day. You can get all the protein you need from eggs, milk, and fish. If you must eat meat, eat it in moderation and flush your kidneys with water, cranberry juice, or lemonade. This will help to prevent kidney trouble.

HOT DINNERS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

(Moncton Transcript.)

A representative of The Transcript at noon today paid a visit to the soup kitchen in the Steeves' building, St. George Street, and witnessed some of the school children partaking of a noon meal.

Some time ago the Child Welfare Association of Moncton made certain enquiries and it was learned that in many cases, while parents were at work, the little ones on coming home from school at noon hour were compelled to eat cold dinners, some to depend upon the charity of neighbors, while others went without dinners. To remedy this state of affairs the Association opened up a soup kitchen in the Steeves' building shortly after the re-opening of the city schools in January. On the first few days, seven school children came for their dinners and this number grew daily to a maximum of thirty-five, which was reached and today the Association daily feed on an average about twenty-five children.

This undertaking is being financially supported by the Child Welfare Association and other ladies of the city, kindly donating one dollar per week each. The kitchen is under the supervision of members of the Child Welfare Association, two of whose members are daily in attendance, there being ten ladies who wait on the tables, two for each school day on which meals are served.

The duties of the attendants are to take the roll call so that every child comes, and to see that the food is known and track is thus kept of him when he fails to come to dinner. The attendants must also wash the dishes and see that the children are returned to school lest they do not return to respective class rooms after the meal hour.

Those Who Play Games have More Mental, Moral and Physical Endurance, Says Nation's Health-Bars Boxing and Football.

(New York Times.)

The editor of The Nation's Health is a strong advocate of athletic sports for girls. He says that the girl who plays games has more moral, mental and physical endurance than those who do not go in for them. Here are some of his comments written under the caption "An Appraisal of the Value of Athletic Sports for Girls."

"It is remarkable that in an age in which so much attention is being given to the conservation and upbuilding of health there should still be left any remnant of Victorian superstitions regarding the ill effects of exercise upon girls, exercises which we encourage in their brothers. Yet there are many mothers who believe that their daughters are contented with a different program from their sons, women who believe in the deleterious results of fresh air upon the young girl and regard a crop of freckles as a catastrophe. Such mothers forbid their daughters to engage in any outdoor sports. They are wrong. There is no quarrel with the rhythmic exercises of the ballroom which, as conducted nowadays, certainly bring into play the entire musculature, but they forbid the girl to play in the open air. To be sure, the average girl today takes more exercise than did her debauche of a few years ago, but even at that she does not engage in games to the extent of the average boy.

"There is something in games besides mental diversion and muscular development. Drills induce concentration with others. They are also of value in the correction of postural defects, but they lack the inspiration of the competition which is an integral part of such sports as tennis, hockey and lacrosse, which produce a mental alertness, a sense of fair play and a realization of community of interest not to be cultivated in any other way.

"Walking, cycling, swimming, snow-shoeing, and skating are admirable forms of sport, but unless they can be conducted in competitive matches they lose much of their health value. A cross-country walk, just to be walking, is a deadly bore. The one is a joy which is reflected throughout the whole body; the other simply results in fatigue.

"The girls may engage in almost any sport with great profit. It is doubtful if they should box, on account of the harmful effects which may result from a blow on the breast, and they are not heavily enough built to engage in real football, but with these exceptions they are practically no games which they may not play with great profit.

"To be sure, certain girls, just as certain boys, should not indulge in violent or prolonged exercises. Enlarged thyroid, bad heart and the use of all previous athletic records should be reflected in physical and mental records. The girls who play games have more moral, mental and physical endurance than those who do not. Neither boys nor girls should be subjected to severe physical strains, but there is no reason why in games of speed and skill girls should not be the equal of boys, and making allowances for differences in stature, they should be as strong as their brothers.

"For both there is the danger of over-exercise, overtraining and over attention to games at the expense of studies, but these are easily controlled, and there is no more reason why athletics should coarsen their social fiber than that their physical should make them 'horsers.'"

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 20.—The U. N. B. hockey team left here this morning for Moncton where they will play Mount Allison tonight in the play-off that will decide the championship of the western section of the Maritime Intercollegiate Hockey League. Winners of tonight's game will then play King's College for possession of the Sumner trophy. This should be followed by a game with Dalhousie University for the Halifax Herald trophy and the maritime intercollegiate hockey championship.
If U. N. B. win tonight they may continue to Halifax and will be away for the remainder of the week if a satisfactory itinerary can be arranged. It had been intended, if U. N. B. win tonight, to go right to Halifax and play there for the intercollegiate championship. Fred McLean accompanied the U. N. B. team as coach and said he was counting much upon the improvement which Brennan, this season's new defence player, has shown. He formerly was of Queen's University at Kingston, Ont., and he has closed up the weak spot which had existed in the U. N. B. defence the last couple of seasons. U. N. B. will line up against Mount Allison tonight as follows:

Goal, MacKenzie; defence, Brennan and Jewett; centre, Fleet; Wings, Lonsbury (Captain) and Reid.
The Bible class of the Waterloo street Baptist church met at the church at 8:30 yesterday afternoon and proceeded to the Home for Incapables where an interesting service was held. DAYLIGHT SAVING AS LAST YEAR
Railway Association Suggests Extension of Dates
 Council, However, Says "As You Were"—City Workmen Quit Job on Wages Matter—Harbor Commission Meeting.

The question of daylight saving in St. John during the present year was brought to the attention of the city council at a committee meeting this morning, in a letter from the Railway Association of Canada, asking if the city was planning to adopt the measure this year, when the dates of the saving would be decided and if these dates could be made to coincide with the summer schedules of the railways, starting on the nearest Sunday to May 1 and ending on the nearest Sunday to October 1. The railways were not opposing, approving or criticizing daylight time but wanted their schedules to meet arrangements made by the various localities.

It was the opinion of the commissioners that the opening date suggested was too early and the closing date too late for conditions here. It was decided to acknowledge the letter and inform the association that the city planned to have daylight saving during the same period as last year from the Sunday before May 24 to the Sunday immediately following Labor Day.

The mayor said that it was planned to open the exhibition on Labor Day the same as last year and carry on the daylight system until its close at the end of the same week.

Disarmament Conference.
 The mayor announced that the commissioners had been invited to attend a lecture to be given on Thursday evening at the armory by Lieut-Col. D. Forster, C. M. G., D. S. O., of the general staff of the British army, and one of the delegates to the Washington conference. His subject had to do with the conference and other matters of world politics.

Slight Labor Trouble.
 Commissioner Frink reported that on Friday he had 247 men on his payroll but the number of the public works department had reached about $1,000 a day. He said that $28,000 of the streets clear of snow last week had been expended all last week. He said that he had given orders to the superintendent that in future all men employed in shoveling snow from the streets should be paid at the rate of $2.50 a day, and as a result the crew of men at work in the North End refused to continue operations.

Asked regarding a reported cut in the new surface of Douglas street, Commissioner Frink said that the opening was in connection with the gas service and the Mack road dug cut too deep. This was a county matter, he said, and would be referred to the proper officials.

The mayor announced that a notice regarding a further meeting in connection with harbor commission had been sent to each of the commissioners and to the organizations interested. The meeting will take place on Wednesday evening and the matter of a new act will be discussed. He announced that Commissioner Frink was appointed officially to represent the city and bring back a report to the council.

 Document Which Athletes Must Sign to Retain Their Amateur Standing.
 The new affidavit, which must be signed by all athletes wishing to participate in amateur sport, is now in the hands of the printer, and will be out by the end of the week. Commencing on Saturday, February 25, athletes will be given one month to sign. At the expiration of that period all registered athletes will be forbidden to compete with or against any not signing the affidavit and receiving their cards. In order to be eligible to participate in any amateur sport after March 25, athletes must have signed the affidavit.
 The affidavit, which was prepared for A. W. Covey, president of the Maritime Branch of the A. U. of C., is as follows:—
 To Whom It May Concern:—
 In the county of _____ one of the maritime provinces of the Dominion of Canada, do solemnly declare:
 1. That previous to the fourth day of August, A. D., 1914, I participated in amateur sport as an amateur athlete, contesting in different games and meets and up to this last mentioned date was an amateur in good standing.
 2. That I have since the month of November, A. D., 1919, participated in amateur sport as an amateur athlete, contesting in different games and meets.
 3. That since the last mentioned date I have not been professionalized and did not receive any remuneration, directly or indirectly, in money or its equivalent, for my services as an athlete. Neither did I, since the said month in November, 1919, receive anything for my services as an athlete that would be the equivalent of money, anything that was for the purpose of, or could have been converted into cash. In other words my winnings were represented wholly and solely by the medals and trophies given as prizes at said games or meets.
 4. Nor have I since the last mentioned date, November, 1919, promoted any athletic meet, sports or entertainment for my personal gain.
 And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act.
 Signed, sealed, published and declared at _____ in the county of _____ in the province of _____ of the Dominion of Canada, this _____ day of _____, A. D. 1922. Before me,

HIS 85TH BIRTHDAY.
 Frederickton Mail, Saturday: John A. Campbell, ex-M. P., of Kingsclear, is today quietly observing his eighty-fifth birthday at his home. Mr. Campbell was born in Kingsclear, of Scottish parents, on February 18th, 1837, and has resided there all his life. He follows the occupation of a farmer and has always manifested the greatest interest in matters pertaining to agriculture, particularly exhibitions. Thirty years ago he was elected president of Agricultural Society No. 34 of this city, and remained at the head of that organization up to a few years ago, when he retired. Mr. Campbell has long taken a keen interest in public affairs and in 1899 was elected to the Legislature as a supporter of the government led by the late Hon. H. R. Emmerson. He was re-elected in 1903, but at the election of 1909 he was not a candidate. Mr. Campbell despite his advanced age is still actively engaged in farming and is capable of doing a hard day's work.
