The Germans Come To Terms

Accept Allies' Conditions Re Turning Over Merchant Ships and for Provisioning of Germany

Brussels, March 15.—The German delegates to the conference here regarding the taking over by the Allies of the German mercantile fleet and the provisioning of Germany definitely accepted yesterday the conditions imposed by the Allies.

Brussels, March 15.—A monthly ration for Germany of 370,000 tons of foodstuffs has been fixed by the Allied commission here conferring with a German delegation as to turning over of German merchant shipping and German owned securities in payment for food shipments. The Germans observed that this ration was smaller than they had requested.

After Vice-Admiral Wemyss of Great Britain, chairman of the Allied delegation, had presented the conditions decided upon by the Entente, the Germans asked to be allowed to withdraw for consultation. They then formed three sub-committees to deal with questions of finance, food supply and mercantile marine. Last evening at 6 o'clock another plenary session was held, Vice-Admiral Wemyss saying at its close that satisfactory progress was being made.

In the evening the Germans asked to be given the use of a telegraph line to Weimar.

LARGE LOSSES IN FIRES IN QUEBEC

Two of Them in Early Hours This Morning

Liquor Firm Burned Out With Loss of $140,000—Store Room Ablaze—Sick Woman Rescued by Policemen

Quebec, March 15.—With the thermometer hovering about five degrees below zero, Quebec fire brigades early today had to fight two big fires that broke out simultaneously.

The first blaze was discovered about two o'clock this morning by Constable Goulet and Night Watchman Vesine, in the wholesale liquor stores of the Compagnie d'Aliments—Raspennes. Notre Dame street. For a while it looked like a conflagration but the firemen kept the flames confined to this building, which was pulled from cellar to roof.

About twenty minutes to four fire was seen in the wholesale store rooms of the J. M. Orkin Company in St. Joseph street. Three alarms were sounded bringing from the scene of the other fire detachment of firemen, who kept the flames within this long building.

Fireman Lemieux, of No. 10 Station, who holding a ladder fell thirty feet badly injuring his skull. He was taken to a hospital. A woman, sick in bed in the upper story of the Orkin building was saved by Constables Collin and Mignault previous to the arrival of the firemen. The damage done by the fire in Notre Dame street will reach at least $100,000, while the loss at the Orkin fire, which is still raging at time this is filed, is estimated at $400,000.

Fireman J. Matheson of No. 8 station fell off a ladder from the third story of the Orkin building about half past seven o'clock this morning and was badly injured.

A third fire broke out about half past eight in the lower town, where the residence of W. Lamontagne, Saint Au Matelot street, was gutted. No one was hurt.

ASSASSINAT WOULD HAVE SHOT THE KAISER WITH EVEN MORE RELISH

Anarchist Who Tried To Kill Premier Clemenceau

"AGAINST ALL AUTHORITY"

Paris, March 15.—Emile Cottin, an anarchist who was sentenced to death by court martial yesterday for an attempt upon the life of Premier Clemenceau, made a most amazing statement. Cottin said he was a militant anarchist and anti-militarist, an anti-patriot and against all constituted authority.

"I would have shot the Kaiser with more relish than M. Clemenceau, because he, too, represented authority," he continued. "I have no country; my country is the world."

He made a long rambling statement, saying that he gloried in his deed, but had done so and that he favored Bolshevism and Spartacism and wished to strike down all who were in authority.

Cottin declared that measures taken by M. Clemenceau to prevent possible insurrections which might have arisen in May, 1915, during the absence of the employes of aviation factories had exasperated him. He said: "I've prevented meetings and was responsible for dispersing them."

During the day the prosecution pointed out that at the time of the aviation strike the Germans were only fifty miles from Paris.

Medical evidence adduced during the trial showed that a cylindrical object had been hurled at the Kaiser's body, which was now lodged in M. Clemenceau's body.

RODNEY WHARF PLANS

It is possible that the west side landing wharves will be a site for new deep water wharves and in this case the ferry would have to shift. Until these questions are settled it is probable that the large outlet planned for the reconstruction of Rodney wharf will be held up.

THREE ROBBERIES IN NORTH END

McClary's Grocery, Black's Bowling Alleys and Walter L. Sealy's Store Visited

Despite the activities of the local detective department there is a continuance of robberies about the city. Yesterday there were no fewer than three break-ins recorded. One was at McClary's grocery in Douglas avenue, when upwards of $100 worth of goods were stolen during the night. A pane in the main store. Here they tried a thick door off its hinges and entered. Making their way downstairs they rifled the till of chocolates, a quantity of chewing gum, a box of candles and nearly a crate of oranges. There were also signs about the office indicating that they had attempted to open the safe, but failed.

Black's bowling alleys in Main street was entered and the robbers got away with tobacco, candy and some change in the till. An entry was made through a window in the side of the building, which was protected by a shutter. This was ripped off and the window broken. When Walter L. Sealy of Bentley street arrived at his place of business yesterday morning he discovered that an attempt had been made to break into his store during the night. A pane in one of the shop doors was broken and a part of the moulding removed from the door. It looked as if the culprit had attempted to remove the pane in this manner, but was scared away before he had accomplished it.

One of the hold-up robbers recorded for some time took place yesterday at noon when the office of James H. McKinley in Portland street was broken into and more than $300 stolen from the till. Mr. McKinley had been in the habit of leaving his cash at noon and going to lunch without removing any money from the cash drawer and this must have been known. An entrance was made by forcing a pane in the back door facing Chapel street and from that it was easy to get into the office where the cash till was located.

TROTZKY VERY NEAR TO DEATH

Bolshevik Leader Fired at as He Was Leaving Train After Visit to Red Army

London, March 15.—Leon Trotsky, the Russian empire peace negotiator, was fired at as he was leaving a train on the Riga front. The train stopped at a small station three members of the Red Guard fired several shots at him as he was leaving a sleeping car. The same evening Trotsky related the incident to the Petrograd Soviet and showed a bullet hole in his hat less than an inch above his head. He added that one member of his staff was killed by the shots and another slightly wounded.

BRITISH WOULD RETAIN RELATIVE SUPERIORITY IN STRENGTH AT SEA

Paris, March 15.—At a meeting of the British empire peace delegation on Thursday some aspects of the covenant of the league of nations were considered, especially as it affects the future of British naval needs, according to Reuters' Paris correspondent.

A memorandum was submitted by the British admiralty bearing upon the effects of the covenant on the navy and making certain very specific suggestions. These were duly considered.

It is understood that, broadly, the delegation agreed that in living future naval armaments the defensive needs of the scattered British empire can be adequately met only on the basis of the present projection of the strength of the British navy to that of other navies.

T.E.U.S. MAY BE LEFT ALONE AT WAR WITH HUNS

Interesting Question Has Arisen In Paris

MUCH DEPENDS ON ANSWER

Paris, March 15.—(By the Associated Press)—An interesting question of importance to the United States has arisen here. Upon its answer continued operation of such war legislation, such as control of railroads, the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquor, and similar enactments, with reference to the date on which the war officially will cease.

Assuming that Secretary of State Lansing will sign the peace treaty for the United States along with the powers associated with the United States in the war, when it is signed by the Germans, it is pointed out that this act will not become effective, so far as the United States is concerned, until it is ratified by the United States senate. Even if that body were favorably disposed, it was said yesterday, ratification might be long deferred, because the senate in recess, and so will remain until called into special session by the president.

It is true the president might do this by called proclamation, his personal attendance upon the session not being required, but even at best, it is asserted, it is possible that the United States might be placed in the peculiar position of technically being alone at war with Germany long after her associates had formally concluded peace.

One solution of the problem that has been suggested is that in the peace treaty itself the date for formally ending the war be placed far enough in the future to permit of action by the senate in the interim, but this far no definite conclusion has been reached.

REPORTS TO COMMISSION IN PARIS WITH SUGGESTIONS

Paris, March 15.—A sub-committee of the commission on responsibility for the war reported yesterday that, strictly and technically, criminal prosecutions of those who brought about the struggle were "anomalous and unnecessary," according to an official communication issued last evening. The report adds, however, that the peace conference "might adopt special measures and even create special machinery to deal with those who planned the war." It was said that the sub-committee received evidence which clearly analyzed the facts relative to the origin of the conflict.

Another sub-committee which has dealt with violations of the laws and customs of war also submitted its report and proposed that the powers should establish a high tribunal which "should not, in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction, be blocked by considerations of rank."

The commission, it was announced, is considering these reports.

BUILDING FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

St. Luke's Project as a Memorial to Sailors From That Parish

Proposals for the erection of a permanent memorial for members of the parish who went overseas, and particularly for those who fell on the field of action, were considered at a meeting of the vestry of St. Luke's church last evening. One suggestion was that the memorial should take the form of a new organ for the church, but another, which met with more favor, was that the church should proceed with the erection of a building for the young people of the district which would prove of use, usefulness and popularity and in that way reflect more honor on those to whose memory it was to be dedicated.

The church already owns a large lot in the rear of its present buildings which would afford ample room for the new structure, having been purchased with the idea that some such structure would be erected when conditions proved favorable. This lot fronts on what is supposed to be an extension of Elm street and it was suggested that the city probably would open the street if the building was erected.

The idea suggested was that the memorial should provide recreation facilities for the young people of both sexes and that it should be open not only to those connected with the church but to all the young people of the north end, in that way filling to some extent the place taken in the central part of the city by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

To carry out the plan as outlined would require an expenditure of probably from $50,000 to $60,000.

The various suggestions for a memorial will be laid before a parish meeting and if the building scheme is approved it is possible that the corner stone will be laid next fall when the church will observe the 150th anniversary of the first service held in the parish.

CRIME WAVES AND DUTY OF POLICE

Hard Times Usually Lead To Outbreaks
Prevention Methods

Lessen Poverty, Segregate Detectives and Improve Police Force Are Suggestions Offered

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

Toronto's chief constable reports a considerable increase in crime in the past year, summer, perhaps, if this were an American city, to have people talking about a "crime wave." Similar conditions prevail in practically every large city in the world and not long ago it was a dull day in Detroit when nobody was murdered or robbed in the streets. Now New York City is engaged in a bitter and apparently losing battle with thieves and cutthroats. In the case of New York an increase in crime is partly due to the administration under Mayor Hylan. Certainly it is not as effective as the Mitchell administration, when Arthur Woods was commissioner of police. The impression has gone round among the police that "pull," and not efficiency, is again the only means of promoting good times and law.

Crime and Poverty

Crime springs from poverty much more generally than poverty is the result of crime and not long ago it was means invariably an increase in the other. Of course confirmed criminals, professionals, work at their trade in good times and bad but it is in bad times that they are most exposed to the competition of the amateurs. In New York, for instance, the winter of 1918 was a hard one, and there was a great increase in crime, men being driven by hunger or desperation to commit thefts and even more massive crimes. On that occasion the police of the city, at the suggestion of the police commissioner, tried their hand at crime prevention. They were authorized to use in cases of emergency, when they came across a man who was "up against it," and likely to resort to crime as the only way out. The police were urged to be on the lookout for men in such a state of mind. Crime was undoubtedly prevented in this way. But, of course, as Mr. Woods says in the course of a series of articles in the New York Tribune, which are summarized in the Literary Digest, it is hardly the business of police to save the lives of the poor, one of the greatest problems in the world, and the most difficult.

Preventing Crime

Crime waves can be dealt with in two ways. The more sensible is to reduce the number of criminals. Any steps that make for the increased prosperity of the community have this tendency. Of almost equal importance, as has only been recognized of late, would be the segregation of those persons of defective intelligence from whom the great army of criminals is mostly recruited. These people are not criminals from any innate depravity, but because they do not know any better. It is obvious that when apprehended they ought not to be treated like hardened malefactors. It is equally obvious that it is dangerous to leave them at large. They ought to be

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair Becomes Charming, Wavy, Lustrous and Thick in Few Moments
Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

For a few cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yet really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

OPPOSED TO REPORT.
The report of the Carrier commission on the New Brunswick Power Company matter which it is supposed to oppose vigorously at the legislature, was thoroughly discussed yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office in the presence of the city commissioners and the executive of the citizens' committee originally appointed in connection with the power company matters. Following the meeting his worship stated that the report was discussed, but no final decision was reached, and another meeting is to be called later. It is understood that the meeting was unanimous in the stand that the report was a power company one and that the chief purpose of the discussion was to decide upon the action to be taken to oppose its adoption by the local government.

PLUMBING AND ITS RELATION TO HEALTH

Sanitary plumbing is of vital importance to every home, office and factory in the city of St. John. The doctor cannot prevent. Bad plumbing breeds disease and hastens death. Why can I not wear it without or in some other shape, like the hats that women wear? There is no reason, no logic about it. Just custom. Just habit. Just nonsense.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 15, 1919
The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every session (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE LEGISLATURE
A lot of valuable time is being wasted in the legislature. The government was anxious to get on with the work of the session but the opposition would it otherwise. There was no justification whatever for the diatribes of opposition speakers in the debate on the address.

one, was very much to the point, but it was when he entered upon a discussion of the subject of public health that his words carried special weight. A careful perusal of the portion of his speech which deals with this matter will convince the most skeptical that the new public health act has proved a great blessing to this province and is destined to be of enormous value, not only from the standpoint of health and a reduced death-rate, but from that of material economy. The brief attention he bestowed upon two of his critics, Mr. Baxter and Dr. Crockett, was quite sufficient and effective. The work of his department as well as his own work speaks for itself and disarms the sort of criticism that is levelled against him. If he had not spoken at all, the testimony borne by Mr. Meserve of Sunbury and by Hon. Mr. Veniot as to the benefit conferred on the people of Sunbury and Gloucester by the new health act would have been ample justification for the expense thus far incurred.

The Standard says:—"The thanks of the Conservative Party of New Brunswick are due to Honorable Peter J. Veniot, for his able support of the Opposition in the Legislature on Thursday. A few more such addresses as this and any possible chance that the Veniot-Foster Government may have had of ever being returned to power will be gone."

For political purposes a Canadian tariff advocate occasionally tries to lift up again the sensation bogey. On this subject the Bangor Commercial very rightly says—"The Canadian people as a rule very friendly to the United States and the friendliness has increased since the United States entered the war. Our boys have fought side by side with the Canadians and before we went in thousands of Americans had enlisted under the Canadian colors. We have treated Canada with every kindness in our relations and with trade and industry is appreciated by the Canadians, but we have a sufficiently large country of our own and have no designs upon the Dominion. And we greatly doubt if many Canadians think that we have."

After Mr. Potts had made his speech in the legislature on Thursday evening a wag from the north shore summed it up as follows: "He has abolished the French language, murdered the English language, and left us speechless."

Touching the matter of school discipline, what does the law say about the use of a ruler and the offences for which a child may be punished? Let the investigating committee include that information in its report.

Hon. W. S. Fielding yesterday made it clear that the tariff question cannot be side-tracked for any length of time. The west is in deadly earnest in its demand for tariff reductions.

When Col. Peck got through with Sir San Hughes in parliament yesterday the house knew the difference between a soldier and an armchair critic.

Universal sympathy goes out to the people of Feticos, who have suffered so much from the scourge of fire.

At Folkstone

Letter From Chaplain There Expresses His Indebtedness to Canadians

To the Editor of The Christian Guardian, Toronto, Ont.:
Sir,—As the superintendent minister of the Folkstone Wesleyan Methodist circuit, Kent, England, I feel I owe a debt to the Methodist church in Canada. The tender reality of that obligation has been brought home to me this week, for last Sunday Major T. A. Wilson of Red Deer, Alberta (preacher in charge of the Shorncliffe command, Canadian), preached in my church at Grace Hill for the last time before proceeding again to France, presumably to return to Canada as soon as his duty with the forces is over so that I sorrow as one who may see his face no more.

In the pages of The Christian Guardian may I, however inadequately, express my emotions? Major Wilson, I presume, returned to Canada as soon as his duty with the forces is over so that I sorrow as one who may see his face no more. My acknowledgments are due to many Canadian chaplains. But before naming even a few of them I must mention an episode in the annals of Grace Hill, Folkstone, of which I am peculiarly proud. Col. S. D. Chow, D. D., preacher of the Folkstone Wesleyan Methodist church, with great acceptance, Capt. Harry B. Clarke of Halifax, N. S., with his wife and their boy, lodged in this town during the month of September, 1915, when in this connection I recall Capt. Y. G. Rae, a Presbyterian minister, whose sermon on the arrival in Folkstone, 1915, was a deep impression. I must not fail to mention Capt. R. A. Scarlett of Winnipeg, who was with me at the time of the arrival of the ship, and Capt. S. Wilkinson of Brandon, Manitoba; Capt. Hugh D. Taylor of Redwood, Ontario; Captains A. Armstrong and J. W. Williams, others might be named if I had any claim upon your space—ministers, probationers, local preachers, Sunday school workers, choir members. If I may trespass again beyond Methodist lines let me add that "Ralph Wilson, D. D., preacher of the Folkstone Wesleyan Methodist church, permitted me a wider range. Does this letter catch the eye of a few soldiers in Canada? The returned soldier, this man who has been overseas, who has fought in the trenches and gone through the terrible business of war, has gained a view of what it all means which the man at home, with his lithographed copy of the Bible, may never begin to appreciate. "There is too much talk in the papers about the returned soldier, the returned soldier is nothing more or less than a human being." Receptions, festivities, and memorials are well in their way, but as Mr. Carvell put it bluntly, "the men who represented Canada overseas are being sent home at the rate of 20,000 to 45,000 each month. They will not want to go to work as soon as they get home, but employment will be the first thing some of them will look for, and we must be prepared for that."

Another important point brought out by Mr. Carvell was that in which he strongly deprecated the tendency to regard the returned soldier as a man in a uniform. The returned soldier is not a man in a uniform, he is a man, and he is a man who has been overseas, who has fought in the trenches and gone through the terrible business of war, has gained a view of what it all means which the man at home, with his lithographed copy of the Bible, may never begin to appreciate. "There is too much talk in the papers about the returned soldier, the returned soldier is nothing more or less than a human being." Receptions, festivities, and memorials are well in their way, but as Mr. Carvell put it bluntly, "the men who represented Canada overseas are being sent home at the rate of 20,000 to 45,000 each month. They will not want to go to work as soon as they get home, but employment will be the first thing some of them will look for, and we must be prepared for that."

Impressed By Carvell's Speech

Boston Newspaper Comment on His Ottawa Address on Unemployment

(Boston Monitor.)
The speech delivered at Ottawa recently by the Hon. F. B. Carvell, minister of public works, on the question of providing employment for the rapidly increasing army of unemployed in the Dominion, was a statesmanlike pronouncement on a difficult and complex question. Mr. Carvell made it quite clear that the government fully recognized its obligation to the country over the transition period, and was fully prepared to meet them. It was, however, welcome to find that the minister of public works strongly and justly repudiated the idea "that the government alone is responsible for taking care of all the troubles of Canada." The point is an important one. It is, indeed, urgently necessary in Canada, as in practically every other country when the last armies maintained during the past few years are demobilizing, that not only employers of labor, but all who in any way can assist, should recognize the need of the situation.

What the war was on, every one who could help was ready to help, and practically every one found a way of helping. Today, it should be remembered, as Lloyd George so emphatically declared, a short time ago, that the war is not yet over, and will not indeed be over until the great work of readjustment and rehabilitation is complete. The Canadian government intends to do its duty to the utmost by the returned soldier. During the next year, Mr. Carvell declared, the authorities intended to spend money where it would do most to prevent unemployment. Large sums would be spent on the construction of highways, and he knew, he said, no better way of spending public money, or where more benefit would be derived therefrom. The government, nevertheless, looks confidently to the people of Canada to help in every way, and Canada's record in the past is sufficient assurance that the government will not look in vain.

ENGLAND SOME DAY A PROVINCE OF IRELAND
Prophecy of Dr. Emmet in Will—Leaves Estate of More Than Million
The will of Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet, grand-nephew of Robert Emmet, Irish patriot, disposes of an estate of more than $1,000,000 and contains a prophecy that England will some day be a province of Ireland. Dr. Emmet, who died, in his ninety-second year, on March 1 at his home, on the top floor of the Emmet Building, Twenty-ninth street and Madison Avenue, New York, left the bulk of his estate to his granddaughter, Miss Margaret Harris, who lives with her husband, John Duncan Emmet, of 42-51 Broadway, and Robert Emmet of London, and his daughter, Kathleen Erin of Oxford, England.

URGES JOINT FIGHT AGAINST COMMON ENEMY

Plea Made at Social Welfare Congress in Toronto
At the Social Welfare Congress in Toronto last week S. P. Parsons, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, gave an address on the problems of the day in which he advised closer co-operation of all classes of people in Canada.

"We say we have been fighting for democracy," said Mr. Parsons. "It is democracy in whatever way we may describe it leads us to think of some form of human equality. This equality exists when we think of our society as a great living, pulsating organism. If democracy is going to be anything more than a label on an empty bottle we must not lose the soul of it, the inner consciousness and loving spirit which dictates and controls it. Now, I am a democrat of the democrats, but I am not a socialist of the socialists. The greatest foe to real democracy today is that form of radical socialism known as Bolshevism. Not revolution, but evolution, is what all right-thinking people desire at the present time. 'Are not some of our preachers and teachers adding fuel to the flames by their loose statements which have appeared lately?' asked the speaker. 'Now keeping in mind our views and definitions of democracy, how shall we apply them to the relations between employer and employee?' He urged the closer co-operation of all classes of people to fight the common foe which threatened Canada. 'There should be more representation of farming, manufacturing and labor in our parliaments and cabinets,' he said. A Get-Together Committee.

"There should be a joint committee," concluded Mr. Parsons, "in which the employees are on one side and the company on the other, both of which should have equal representation. The business of this joint committee would be to deal with the question of wages, history of the work conditions of labor, employment and discharge and other matters as occasion may call for from time to time. In other words, there should be an actual working co-operation in which all interested are heartily engaged. It has been tried out satisfactorily in our works, and it should be in operation everywhere throughout Canada. It will take a little time to see a scheme through."

Urges Government Action.
Tom Moore said that the government should take immediate action to give the unemployed work. His address was also along the lines of reconstruction and the future activities of labor. He indirectly referred to some of the causes of unemployment and suggested that the government could remedy this condition by giving employment to a large number of some of the government works.

What He Saw.
In his daily half-hour confidential talk with his boy an ambitious father tried to give some advice.

"Be observing, my son," said the father on one occasion. "Cultivate the habit of seeing, and you will be a successful man. Study things and remember them. Don't go through the world blindly. Learn to use your eyes. Boys who are observant know a great deal more than those who are not."

Willie listened in silence. Several days later, when the entire family, consisting of his mother, aunt and uncle, were present, his father said: "Well, Willie, have you been using your eyes as I advised you to do?" Willie nodded, and after a moment's hesitation said: "I've seen a few things about the house. Uncle Jim's got a bottle of hair-

BEST DAY YET IN LONG DEBATE IN OTTAWA HOUSE

Speeches of Hon. W. S. Fielding and Colonel Peck, V. C.

SOLDIER M. P. HITS HARD

Defends Sir Arthur Currie—Former Liberal Finance Minister Declares His Position—Speaks on Tariff and Party Government

Ottawa, Ont., March 15—A veteran of many a hard won political fight, Hon. W. S. Fielding, a veteran of the great war with a strip of decorations on his breast, Col. Cyrus W. Peck, V. C., Liberal Unionist member for Skeena, B. C., provided for a crowded and intensely interested house yesterday what may be regarded as perhaps the best day yet of the long drawn out debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. The former finance minister, speaking from the front benches of the opposition and counselling the wretches that it was only from the Liberal party that tariff reform could be hoped for. He was given an ovation from both sides of the house on the conclusion of a rarely brilliant and telling address.

A Hard Hitter

Colonel Peck proved himself to be as hard a hitter on the floor of the house as on the battle line. He addressed himself particularly to the charge recently made against Sir Arthur Currie by Sir Sam Hughes and served notice that "this campaign of infamy" must stop or he would make revisions that "would cause some men to curse the day they were born." Colonel Peck said he was present at the trial of Sir Arthur Currie, and from personal experience that the charges made against the Canadian commander by Sir Sam were utterly without foundation. Sir Arthur Currie, he said, was the bravest and most humane of men. For certain British officers, however, Colonel Peck had some rough criticism to offer, specifying particularly Sir Charles Ferguson, military governor of Cologne, whose name he promised "to make sink in the nostrils of all patriotic Canadians."

He was called as a witness by the state.

INCREASE IN THE NET PROFITS

Annual Statement of the N. S. Steel and Coal Company

Montreal, March 15—The annual statement of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company for the year ended December 31, 1914, shows an increase in net profits over a year ago, but a decrease in the profits of the previous year. Surplus also showed a substantial improvement over 1913, but again fell short of that for 1914.

In the statement of earnings, the net profits for 1914 are given as $3,536,225 against $3,069,447 in 1913 and $4,222,373 in 1914. Depreciation account at $1,206,968 was larger than in 1913, but below that of 1914, and bank interest was nil, against $144,040 in 1913. Net profits, therefore, amounted to $1,716,492 against $1,340,477 in 1913 and $2,292,427 in 1914.

Lieut. H. W. Stewart

Major F. F. May has received word of the death on February 11 at Bonn, Germany, of his cousin, Lieutenant H. W. Stewart, eldest son of the late R. B. Stewart, Strath Carney, Lieutenant Stewart enlisted in October, 1914, in Vancouver in the 28th Battalion (Pitt's Tigers) Vancouver regiment. He enlisted as a private and went overseas in the ranks. After fighting in the trenches for two years he received his commission in 1917 in the Royal Garrison Artillery with which corps he remained until his death. He had just returned from leave to London and was returning to his regiment at the front when he was caught cold on the train, was sent to hospital and there died. He was buried with full military honors and the pipes of a Scotch regiment played the Dead March.

In civil life the late Lieutenant Stewart was a civil engineer and had been employed in work in surveying the Transcontinental railroad in the northern part of New Brunswick around Edmundston and Grand Falls. He is survived by his widowed mother, Miss Stewart, two sisters, Miss Stewart, of Strath Carney, and Mrs. Arthur Ligert, of Victoria (B. C.); also two brothers, Allan, at home, and Robert B. TELLS OF BREAK INTO SUMMER CAMP RECENTLY

In the police court yesterday afternoon Fred C. Kinsman, owner of a summer house near Dark Lake in the Sandy Point Road District, gave evidence relative to the breaking and entrance charges laid against William Devlin and a juvenile, both of whom were found in the cottage by Mr. Kinsman and later by the police on the night of March 10. Mr. Kinsman said that his camp was situated very close to Dark Lake a few miles from the city. On Sunday, March 9, he had visited the camp and when he left at four o'clock in the afternoon everything was secured and in good order. In consequence of information he received the following Monday night, March 10, he went out to the camp in the evening and discovered the two boys whom he identified as the accused, in the house. Witness said that he was allowed in after he had knocked at the back door. There was a fire in the stove, two lamps were lighted and everything breathing an air of comfort. The interior of the camp, however, he described as a "wreck." The beds and bedding were brought down stairs and scattered about the floor as well as the dishes, furniture and everything loose about the premises were disturbed. An entrance had been made through a window by the accused. They had informed him of this in answer to witnesses as to what they were doing there. The defendants replied that they had been lost in the woods.

AVOID COUGHS and COUGHERS! SHILOH 30 DROPS FOR COUGHS HALF TINY FOR CHILDREN

In question, witness said, the defendants were searched. Several loaded shells were found on them which witness identified as his. One particularly he recalled which he said he had loaded with salt and pepper as he was working out some contrivance to scare away any who attempted to enter the camp. He added, however, that he never carried it into operation. Sergeant Detective Power, Detectives Biddicombe and Donahue told of going out to Dark Lake last Monday night, March 10, and of finding the two defendants along with Mr. Kinsman in the camp. They placed the intruders under arrest and brought them back to the city in the police patrol. They told of finding a revolver on Devlin and also of finding the cartridges identified by Mr. Kinsman. The case was here postponed until Monday afternoon and the two defendants were remanded. W. R. Scott is appearing for the prisoners. The father of one of the defendants, Devlin, who is also the step-father of the juvenile, is now in jail awaiting trial on the charge of receiving stolen goods knowing them to be stolen.

Labor Men Plan One Big Union

Inter-Provincial Gathering at Calgary Solidly Favors Breaking Away From International Affiliation

Calgary, March 14.—The most momentous thing that has taken place in the annals of the labor movement in Canada was the action this morning at the inter-provincial conference at the Page Hall, when every delegate present voted solidly for breaking away from international affiliation, subject to the approval of the general membership of the delegates' respective unions.

Not only this, but a new organization subject to a referendum was formed to embrace the whole of the workers. It will be known as "the one big union."

In order to carry this into effect, the conference adopted the following recommendation of the policy:

"We recommend the name of the proposed organization to be 'The One Big Union.'"

"We recommend the conference elect a committee of five, representative of geographical locations, for the purpose of carrying out the necessary propaganda to make the referendum a success."

"We further recommend that delegates from each province meet and elect a committee of five to work in conjunction with the central committee in carrying out the necessary propaganda to accomplish the wishes of the convention."

"We recommend the drafting and issuing of the referendum be left to the central committee, also receiving the publishing returns of the vote."

"In the opinion of the committee it will be necessary to establish an industrial form of organization to work

BULGARS TORTURED BISHOP TO DEATH?

reek Government Institutes Charges Against Officers Named in Report

eloniki, Monday, March 15.—Greek general headquarters has received a long report from M. Diamantopoulos, a nephew of the Greek bishop of Plovdiv, north of Kavala, concerning the disappearance of the bishop at the time of the garrison invasion of eastern Macedonia. The bishop, his nephew and twenty prominent residents of the town, were arrested on February 11, 1917, on the Bulgarian commander of the town, who, acting on instructions from general Bourkoff, commander of the 11th Bulgarian Division. The bishop and his nephew, according to the report, were placed in jail near Drama, until July 5. On the night of July 5 Captain Verdjeff entered the prison, abused the bishop and took him half naked to a ma. Since that time, Diamantopoulos says, nothing has been heard of the bishop. According to several reports received by his nephew, the bishop succumbed to Bulgarian tortures. The Greek government has instituted charges against the Bulgarian officers named in the report.

RED ROSE TEA is good tea

WE were among the first to put up tea in sealed packages.

We were the first to use automatic electric weighing machines so as to insure accurate weights.

We were the first to make known the qualities of the now world-famous ASSAM teas.

And we are now the first to adopt a new package for the better protection of these fine quality teas.

The lead package has served its purpose well for generations, but it was easily broken or torn, allowing not only a loss of tea from the package but exposing the tea to the air, odors and dust that it was so necessary to protect the tea against.

Our new package—the waxed board carton—is stronger, more secure and more completely air tight; altogether the best container for tea that has yet been devised.

"We recommend that an appeal be made to the trades councils and district board for the payment of two cents per member affiliated to finance the educational campaign for the inauguration of the 'One Big Union.'"

Several other important resolutions were adopted, mostly without discussion. These include freedom of speech and lifting of the ban on certain literature.

The Kind of Peace League Wilson's Opponents Want

While the New York Sun (Ind.) says that "President Wilson's plan is dead," after thirty-seven Republican Senators had signed a round robin declaring that the Constitution of the League of Nations in the form now proposed should not be accepted by the United States, the Baltimore Sun (Ind. Dem.) reminds us that the "leading Republican critics of the proposed constitution have not put themselves on record as opposed to any League of Nations but merely to the particular plan now before the Peace Conference. And Senator Capper, (Rep.) of Kansas thinks that "the cuffing and buffeting President Wilson's League of Nations plan is getting, is a good thing for the President and for the country," and in the end "the League of Nations is coming as certainly as daylight follows darkness," according to The Atlanta Constitution (Dem.)

Every hotel guest who reads it, no matter whence he came, is sure to find it suited to his needs. It gives the casual searcher for information just that crisp, newsy, condensed summary of national and world events of the moment that he needs. LOCAL NEWS

DEATH OF NURSE. In the Ottawa casualty list today, Nursing Sister R. McIntosh of Bridgewater, N. S., is reported dead.

MARRIAGES AND BIRTHS. Fourteen births, eight boys and six girls, were reported to the registrar of vital statistics during the last week. Also five marriages were reported.

AUTO KICKED, WRIST BROKEN. Leo Krant, local manager of the Peabody Sales Corporation, Prince William street, is carrying his left arm in a sling because of a wrist broken yesterday afternoon while he was cranking his automobile.

WILL HAVE DEPOT HERE. The General Electric Co., which is one of the largest electrical concerns in existence, intend opening offices and offices in this city. Mr. Wright, a representative of the corporation, has been arranging for warehouse accommodations for some days.

FUNERAL OF SOLDIER. The funeral of Pte. Alfred Shires took place this afternoon from the Mission church, S. John Baptist, Paradise row. The service was conducted by Rev. Father Bennett and interment was made in Fernhill. A firing party accompanied the body to the grave.

A HEALTH MATTER. A case of infectious disease was found in a family of a local milk dealer recently by the department of health, and the dealer was immediately forbidden to carry on his business until he got over the contagious disease from the department. Satisfactory results are already being obtained from the new and efficient organization.

FEWER DEATHS. The death rate in the city this week was far below that of the previous four weeks. No persons were claimed by influenza and only two by pneumonia. The total number of deaths was fourteen, as follows: Scully, three; pneumonia, two; tuberculosis, two; apoplexy, convulsions, myocarditis, heart disease, gastric ulcer, Bright's disease, chronic bronchitis, one each.

CORNER LOAFING AGAIN? Now that the weather is shaping towards spring—excepting the present cold snap—the tendency of some young men and boys to clog the heavy traffic corners with their social groups, is again apparent. Yesterday afternoon the head of King street was ornamented with a line of peculiar young fellows from the Charlotte street curb to a nearby bookstore in King street. The same can be said of other important corners.

MRS. JAMES LATTIMER. Friends will regret to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. James Lattimer, 75 Marsh road, after a short illness. She leaves, besides her sorrowing husband, four sons, one daughter and twenty grandchildren. The sons are William of the C. P. R., James of M. R. A., Ltd., George of the C. P. R., and Jack of the home. The daughter is Mrs. A. S. Proffitt. The funeral will be from her late residence, Sunday at two o'clock.

FREDERICK G. BURNS. Frederick G. Burns, aged twenty-six, unmarried son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burns, of Morris street, Fairville, who died in the East St. John County Hospital last evening after a four month illness, was a C. P. R. fireman and a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. He had been in the C. P. R. employ for more than three years and was a popular and respected young man of excellent habits. He leaves, besides his parents, four brothers, Robert and Albert, overseas; Charles in Saskatchewan and Wallace at home, also three sisters, Mrs. Edgar Stevens of Ingleside and Beatrice and Muriel at home. Mr. Burns was an adherent of the Presbyterian church.

FIXING UP STREET CARS. One by one the street cars are being taken off the route and repaired and renovated for summer. The prospects of having some open cars on the routes this season are said to be no brighter than last year, owing to the transference of motors, equipment, etc. It is said by the company that St. John's summers are so mixed as to weather that with the one outfit of motors, open cars are frequently unsuitable for rainy weather and there are not enough of closed cars available for instant service. St. John people will probably therefore have to sit in upholstered closed cars again throughout June, July, August and September. It has been suggested by a correspondent that our street cars be fitted with porcelain strap-rings instead of leather as in other cities. The former can be cleaned and made less risky to the health of the public.

MILITARY MEN HERE BACK UP COL. PECK, V.C.

At various barracks and military offices in the city today, much interest has been taken in despatches from Ottawa, containing the report of a speech made in the House of Commons by Lieut.-Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., D.S.O., M.P., of Skenes, B.C., a former New Brunswicker. The sentiment was unanimously in favor of the opinion expressed by Colonel Peck, in the controversy which has arisen since Sir Sam Hughes' attack in the House on the conduct by Sir Arthur Currie in certain military operations in France. Officers and men, who have served with Colonel Peck, pay glowing tributes to his gallantry and good judgment. This tribute was given at the Times by an officer who has served with Colonel Peck in France.

The following are the officers required in the new establishment of the clearing services command: An officer commanding with the rank of major, an adjutant with the rank of captain, a paymaster with the rank of captain, two duty officers with the rank of lieutenant, a sergeant-major, a quartermaster sergeant, a staff sergeant, two sergeants, a pay sergeant, a sergeant cook, clerks, two sergeants and corporals, four orderlies, three stenographers, two depot police and a kitchen assistant. The staff consists of twenty-five. It is thought the new clearing services command will prove most satisfactory.

ST. JOHN BOY LED BAND AT WEDDING OF THE PRINCESS

Formed Guard of Honor—Bandman Ralph Brittain Writes of it—"etc" Williams Leader—Regiment Home Tomorrow

Bandman Ralph O. Brittain, nineteen-year-old soldier son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brittain of 83 Pitt street, writes home most interestingly of the part his regiment, the Duke's, took in the wedding ceremonies of their regimental namesake in London on the 27th of last month. By the way, the Princess Pats, with their band of St. John boys—the old 140th, which was civilly known as the St. Mary's church band here—will pass through St. John (or via Moncton) probably on Monday en route to Ottawa, where the unit will receive a grand welcome.

Bandman Brittain, who became a "Princess Pat" about sixteen months ago, writes that the members of the guard of honor selected for the wedding were fitted with new uniforms as was also the band. Instruments were polished to a lustrous degree and when the P. P.'s boarded their train at Bramshott they were as slick a looking body of men as ever dreamed of.

Arriving in London the Canadians were met by the band of the Welsh Guards, who played them to Wellington barracks. After a short speech the Princess Pats proceeded to the town house of the Connaughts where His Royal Highness the Duke inspected the boys with an approving smile and a knowing nod of the head. The escort to Westminster Abbey followed, the princess receiving a tumultuous ovation along the line.

When the abbey was reached Bandmaster Harold H. Williams (Pete), who succeeded his brother, Charles H., who died of wounds, led the band through the full score of the national anthem as his majesty stood saluting on the pavement. This was an historic moment in British annals, the first time an outside band and an outside guard of honor had ever attended a British royal wedding.

When the Queen Mother Alexandra arrived she, too, was received with royal honors, also members of the Connaught family. After Princess Pat had been wedded as the Hon. Mrs. Ramsay and returned to her carriage the St. John band swelled forth a musical salute that was the keynote to a chorus of cheers that will long be remembered. The various dignitaries in the royal household recognized the click and rattle of manual salutes with rifles.

After all these royal experiences the St. John bandmen and their solidiers marched off to the joyous clangor of Westminster's famous chiming and proceeded to the Palace in the Canadian Y. M. C. A. for dinner. Londoners gave them a fine reception. They returned to Bramshott that evening. Surely some experience for St. John boys!

Joseph H. McKenzie of St. John also is a member of the Princess Pat Band.

NEW EQUIPMENT AT "CENTRAL"; SHOULD MEAN SERVICE IMPROVEMENT

The installation of a large new section of switchboard in the central exchange of the N. B. Telephone Co. is expected to have the effect of facilitating the service to subscribers and lightening the burdens of operators. The new unit is now being placed.

During the war the telephone service became gradually more congested through lack of this additional section. Though the order for it had been placed months before the war broke out, the delay in shipment was due to munition activities and labor tie-ups, consequent upon the setting aside of much general manufacturing.

It was only a short while ago that the switchboard arrived. So soon as it is installed, it will absorb a considerable number of the calls now driving telephone clerks at top speed. In other words the rush of demands on "Central" will be slowed down and subscribers will have six or eight more operators to answer their signals.

Still another section of switchboard will soon be hitched up, a section ordered only a few months ago in anticipation of another demand for increased service. As a matter of fact the first new unit belongs to the pre-war period, while the second one is the result of natural growth of business since that time. It is an indication of how quickly the manufacturing business is recovering from its wartime tie-up to get a recent order so close upon the heels of one placed two years ago.

HAD TUGH LUCK IN FIRE

Chris Christopherson, a well-known automobile expert of this city, who started a garage and repair business in Peticodiac some weeks ago met with a matter of nearly $100 in cash. His place of business, while not consumed, was cleared of its contents, but much of this stuff was lost in the confusion that reigned. A lightning equipment, with which Mr. Christopherson illuminated several places, while being removed was upset and glass jars of oil spilt over the generator practically destroying it. This outfit cost him more than $500 only a short while ago.

In the Mansard House, where the St. John man boarded, he lost his wardrobe and a matter of nearly $100 in cash. While this hotel was not attacked by the flames for a considerable period after the fire started, yet strange to state Mr. Christopherson did not know of the danger until the smoke leaked into his room. He occupied in his night-clothing, grabbing his street apparel while rushing out. He was forced to come to St. John last night for a place to sleep. "Chris" friends are sorry for his tough luck, but he smiles cheerfully about it and says that there are much greater sufferers from the fire than he is, and he wants to get back soon to help them get into shape again.

SAW HER HUSBAND AT THE MERCY OF HOLD-UP-MAN

New York, March 15.—Two young men entered the candy and stationary store of Samuel Wolchock at 208 Wyckoff Avenue, Brooklyn, and shot and killed Wolchock in an attempt to rob the store. Wolchock was standing behind the counter, when the two young men entered. One purchased a stick of licorice and in payment handed over a five-cent piece. As he did so the second man left the store, closing the door behind him and locking it from the outside. At the same time the man inside drew a revolver and commanded Wolchock to throw up his hands.

Brooklyn Shopkeeper Murdered by Bandits Who Attempt to Rob His Place But Fail

The bandits did not get any money in the hold-up. In a drawer beneath the counter was found $50 in $5 and $10 bills, while in the cash register there was $25. Wolchock had been shot beneath the heart. Two bullet holes were found in the wall behind the counter. Wolchock crawled behind the counter, as a trail of blood indicated, to the threshold of the living apartment in the rear where he was found.

The Ban. In the application of the provincial ban, this province compared with most other places, had same applied, at least one week longer, in all five weeks; and Mr. Speaker, I wish to assure you that the last two weeks that that ban remained on, because of its interference with the great many citizens' livelihood and the freedom of many others, the status of the department and those in charge was not by any means a flower garden.

Serious as our loss has been it is most gratifying to know so far as can be judged in a general way, the number of cases were less and consequently the number of deaths, than occupied in almost any province or state of the same population. Then again, sir, we have been called upon already to take charge of certain outbreaks of typhoid, diptheria and smallpox, and I am pleased, sir, to say it was handled promptly, efficiently and to the satisfaction of those for whom it was done.

A Specific Case. Further, our duties have called up in a few instances to inspect certain buildings, school houses, water supplies, means of transportation such as street cars, railway coaches and regarding the latter, sir, to show you the conditions that have obtained the last number of years and about which the old regime did not get, let me read to you a few paragraphs of a letter received by one of our district health officers, and a prominent resident of one of the counties of this province:

"The car in which I was with some forty or fifty other unfortunate journeying was in a state of filth which is almost beyond description. This applied to the walls, the windows, the seats and the floors of the car. The water tank even comes within the category as to this particular day it had broken away from its fastenings and I saw it lying upside down in the dirt. The aisle and the floors of the car itself, I refer particularly to that portion of it occupied by the passengers as distinguished from the end reserved for the train crew and for mail and express matter, -Ye Gods, not a cuspidor in that end of the car in which were packed some thirty or forty sweaty and reeking lumberjacks, each with his gab of dirty clothes, almost every one of these fellows sucking at a vile smelling pipe as they smoked, hawking and spitting on the floor, any old piece in the car, until the floor was actually covered with a nauseous and virulent alien through which it was about as safe to walk as on a manure peel. The car was kept very warm that day, and as no attempt was made at ventilating the odor came in a most insidious and disagreeable manner. In this car on that day at least, two women were compelled to sit for several hours, one of them a young mother with an infant in her arms. Fancy a baby breathing that air for hours. And think of women obliged to endure such conditions. I say it is an insult and an outrage to the public on the part of the management of this road, and that the party (or parties) responsible deserves little short of lynchings, a punishment which in any other white man's country would doubtless have been meted out long ere this.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHOD

Aggravated Given Whereby Insomnia Can Be Safely and Quickly Cured.

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia. Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs. First, the blood circulation must be improved. Congestion of blood in the head must be removed. Irritation in the brain must be relieved. It's because Ferrone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for installing force and life into over-worked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Ferrone's? Remember, sleep is just as important as food. You must sleep, or break down, but if you'll use Ferrone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep, you'll get well quickly. Ferrone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use. Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result. To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blues—use Ferrone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers. Write to E. Clinton Brown, Druggist, St. John, N. B.

Blotchy Skin

Many a time you have looked into the mirror and wished that your skin would be like other people that you know, "without a blemish." This wish can be yours for the asking. Wash D. D. D. the lotion of healing oils, over your pimples or blotches tonight—and wake up in the morning to find them gone. E. Clinton Brown, Druggist, St. John, N. B.

The Liquid Wash

Continuing, he wished to say that an order was sent out immediately to that railway stating that if conditions were not righted within forty-eight hours they would compel them to desist carrying passengers. Those were some of the matters which had presented themselves for the care of the department and the work had hardly yet begun, yet in spite of such facts honorable members opposite would continue to obstruct and point the finger of scorn at an organization existing for the health and life of people. He believed it too sacred a business to be interfered with by men whose sole object was to serve selfish political ends. He never realized that there were men calling themselves representative citizens willing to dispense man's inhumanity to man, that would take the stand which some of his honorable friends opposite had taken. He had no doubts that the department had already justified its existence.

In regard to expense he would say that the gross estimate for the laboratory for the year would be at least $2,000 which amount within a year would likely be increased to $7,000 and they were expecting aid from the federal authorities in the matter of vital statistics and venereal disease control. The gross estimate for jarring on the department was about $2,000. The total assessed valuation of the province was about $114,000,000. Were they to levy one mill on the dollar they would have for public health expenses $114,000. As the amount required was $20,000 the taxation rate would be less than one-fifth of a mill, or about one cent per $100 of assessed value. If the population were 400,000 and $20,000 were expended on public health it would only be equal to five cents per capita. It was contended by scientists that an efficient health department would reduce the death rate by two per 1,000. That in New Brunswick with its population of 400,000 would mean a saving of $3,400,000. It was calculated that for every death there were fourteen cases of sickness from preventable causes, therefore with 800 deaths there would be constantly in the province 12,000 inhabitants ill. If one-half were males earning a livelihood there would be 6,000 units at 32 per day making a total of $6,000 or $1,800,000 per year. The total economic saving to the province would be $3,160,000 per year or $1,000,000 more than the revenue. Under the old regime the amount had been lost to the country year after year.

Before closing, he wished to deal with some remarks made by the member for St. John county, the late attorney-general now permanently and happily departed, the moral advisor of the house, the eloquent advocate of unity and good will, the dispenser of vitriolic censures, the man in whom all the virtues unite, he who permits his private office to become a clearing house for forced gifts of contractors and the gentlemen who had holy visions of making every man and woman swear that they were not bribed. He would have paid no attention to the member here not seen fit to pour forth upon him some of his spleen. He had said that his object in bringing this public health act was that he might use the word "Honorable" in his stationery. It was a miserable argument against a public measure but quite worthy of the honorable member's style of oratory. He had said that the health act was an incubus and for once he may have been sincere.

An incubus, as all know, was a sort of nightmare, a disturber of sleep, a fearful thing on a person's spirit. This he had no doubt was what the public health act was to the honorable member. The honorable member talked of taking out of the pockets of the people money that should go on the roads and bridges. He could tell the honorable member that those very roads and bridges had carried many people, prematurely dead, who had the act in force twenty years ago would now be alive. As for his honorable friend from York (Crocket), who had offered criticism of the act, he could say that he was either playing politics or speaking from an ignorant mind. He could assure the honorable member that he had his sympathies with the act. Mr. Sutton said he rose with timidity on account of the attitude displayed by members on the opposite side during the debate on the address, as all had become ill-tempered before concluding their speeches. The St. John Times had suggested that the debate might be pushed to a close. He would endeavor not to unduly disturb honorable members on the other side. He congratulated the Speaker on his elevation to the position of first commoner and said that it was unfortunate Mr. Currie was unable to take a seat in the house. All were pleased that the war had come to a close and Canada's soldiers were returning. Some would never return, and for them the province should erect a memorial, and he would suggest that the memorial site would be in front of the legislative building. It might be well to erect an arch so that all as they passed under it might remember the sacrifices made and that there might not be such an exhibition of temper as had been seen in the legislature during the week. It frequently was heard that soldiers would be given government appointments if they were capable. In the name of common sense if the men had gone overseas to fight were not capable, who were? He held no brief for union government in the federal sphere, although he had supported it, and his remarks applied to it as well as to the provincial government. The honorable minister of public works had referred to the case of Hon. A. Dugal being turned down by the dominion government. Why was not that young man who had lost a leg on service and was bright and capable, not appointed secretary of the Farm Settlement Board? In each of the 'three sessions in which he had sat as a representative of Carleton he had asked when the by-election to fill the vacancy in that county would take place, and had received the most nonsensical answers. If he were there a fourth time he would be the same question. The excuse this time was the Victory loan campaign, and the influenza epidemic.

He would remind the honorable premier that they would not support it if Dr. Smith took in a dining car on a certain occasion when they discussed the matter, but they only raised the matter. The real reason for not holding the by-election was contained in the information the honorable premier received when you last time. It was because certain men in Carleton county who formerly had supported the government had adopted in New Brunswick, much to the chagrin of the government, the by-election of the parties was so close that the government would get all the questions it might be voted out of power, and it had not the courage to bring on the by-election.

The jury act had been mentioned. In that connection he would offer suggestions. In Scotland sheriffs were barristers. They were not to be appointed really in the capacity of county court judges. Should a similar system be adopted in New Brunswick, much litigation and expense could be avoided. In this province sheriffs were appointed for political reasons and he knew that the honorable member would get all the credit for that which really was due, but he believed that the credit should be given to the men who had done the work. The speech from the throne had made reference to greater production. He believed that that which really was due, but he believed that the credit should be given to the men who had done the work.

Quebec, March 14—Brigadier-General Charles Smart, Conservative member for Westmount, speaking in the Quebec legislative assembly this afternoon, delivered an outspoken attack on the Canadian medical services in England, France and Canada. It had been careless and callous he said. He alleged that there had been a "pull" practiced by General Jones, Colonel Robert Foster and others. He further alleged that the medical services had done a broken heart due to unfair treatment which he had received from headquarters. The general said that he had approved of Lady Steele and her family to make the statement. The correspondence in this matter was followed by the production of a letter which he had produced and it was not done so at Ottawa he would produce it himself and would endeavor to get the public to bring those responsible for it to justice. MRS. FAIRBANKS TO MARRY. Divorced Wife of Screen Star and James Evans, Jr., Get License. New York, March 13.—Beth Sally Fairbanks, who received her final divorce from Douglas Fairbanks, the screen star, on March 8, is to marry James Evans, Jr., a broker, of Pittsburgh. They obtained their marriage license yesterday, stating that they would be married by the Rev. Percy Sticksney Grant of the Church of the Ascension. Mrs. Fairbanks is thirty-two, a daughter of Daniel Sully, former "cotton king," and lives at 711 West Seventy-first street. Mr. Evans is three years her senior and lives at 4205 Bigelow Boulevard, Pittsburgh. He has not been married before.

Help Him to Help Himself

We owe the returned soldier every effort we can make towards securing steady employment for him.

Do not try to throw the burden entirely on employers. They have a grave responsibility, but only insofar as every man, woman and child gives willing help can Canada ensure a fair day's pay for a good day's work for all her men.

How can YOU help? By investing in War-Savings Stamps.

How will THAT help? Canada must secure foreign purchasers for the products of her forests, farms, and factories. Many nations are anxious to buy our goods, but can only do so if Canada grants credit to them.

Lend your money to Canada, so that Canada may re-lend to those who must buy on credit. The money is being raised by the sale of War-Savings Stamps, so that when you invest in a War-Savings Stamp you provide a day's pay for some returned soldier.

A War-Savings Certificate with 10 W.S.S. affixed will be redeemed by the Dominion of Canada on January 1st, 1924, for $50.00, for at that date the W.S.S. are worth $5.00 each.

War-Savings Stamps cost $4.02 in March; $4.03 in April; $4.04 in May, and they may be purchased at any place displaying the Beaver-Triangle sign.

HARD TO GET HUNS TO LEAVE BELGIUM

Brussels, Feb. 26.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Despite the passing of a law providing for the expulsion of enemy subjects from Belgium, numerous German civilians are often seen walking the streets of this city and other large cities in Belgium at the present time. While the law went into effect more than a month ago, the Belgian government is experiencing as much difficulty in getting the enemy civilians out of the country as the Allied soldiers had in expelling the enemy army from the trenches.

undesirables beyond the Rhine. Deputy Lemoenier brought the minister's attention to the fact that several Germans were walking the streets of Brussels with impunity and that some of them had been recognized as being paid agents of the commandant during the occupation. Vandervelde replied: "The ministry of justice is doing its utmost to rid the country of German civilians but the difficulties encountered are formidable. In times of peace undesirables are escorted to their frontier but since the signing of the armistice the Allied general staff has refused absolutely to allow Germans to pass through the zone of occupation. Holland permits them to go through the country, but not singly. Groups only are allowed in transit. At the present time one train of undesirables is leaving daily. Beginning on February 28 two trains will leave for Holland daily carrying an average of 1200 Germans every day from Belgium."

thought would be their permanent living place, may be gathered from the fact that trains are expected to leave for weeks and perhaps for months. The case of German subjects who have resided in Belgium for long years, have married Belgian women and whose sons have fought against the Germans is particularly sad. Under the terms of the law they should be expelled along with the others, as they have remained enemy subjects. Vandervelde said however: "It is impossible for me to send that class of Germans out of the country."

K. C. MINSTRELS IN TOUR OF THE CAMPS

(A. P. Correspondence) Paris, March 1.—The Knights of Columbus Minstrel, the largest entertainment project yet attempted by that organization in France, began at Chantonnay recently a tour of the entire area occu-pled by the American Expeditionary Force. The entertainment was held in the largest available hall, and was attended by 8,500 officers and men. The troupe will tour the larger army posts covering all embarkation ports as a unit. Later the company will be separated into several small organizations touring the lesser camps. No camp garrisoned by more than 1,000 men will be omitted in the tour of entertainment. The minstrels will visit all camps in Germany and Italy wherever American soldiers are, and will probably visit England.

SMOKE MAGDONALD'S INDEX

"What Phonograph Shall I Buy?"

How many times, when the subject of purchasing a phonograph or talking machine has come up, have you asked yourself this question?

The Edison tone test answers it for you, completely, convincingly.

Over two million music lovers have been present when this test was being made; and they have realized, as you will realize, that the New Edison alone can actually RE-CREATE the human voice and the music of human-played instruments.

It is all-important that you hear

because it is the only instrument that RE-CREATES the singer's voice so faithfully that the human ear cannot distinguish the rendition of the artist from that of the New Edison.

The wise way to choose your phonograph is to have the several makes of phonographs and talking machines sent to your home on trial, where you can make direct comparisons among them, and then decide which one you would like to keep—which one you think you would enjoy hearing as much five years from now as you do to-day.

Be your own salesman. Sell a phonograph to yourself. We will gladly send a New Edison to your home for the purpose, without any obligation on your part.

A Supremacy That Didn't Come "Over Night"

THE majesty of the British Navy—its might—its wonderful supremacy—did not arise in a single night. Hundreds of years of development—generations of tradition and practical seamanship—all were needed to consummate the triumph of QUALITY. Equally so, quality in ALL things results only from studied effort and steady development toward an ideal.

IN its own line the success of the Laco Lamp has been attained through these self-same factors. Petitcodiac Will Not Ask Assistance

Residents Decide to Shoulder Community Burdens Arising From Fire—Visit of Delegation to Moncton is Cancelled

Petitcodiac, N. B., March 14.—The eight families rendered homeless by the fire here early this morning are now being housed and cared for by the other families in the village. The total damage caused by the fire is estimated to be between $125,000 and $150,000, and about fifty per cent. of this is covered by insurance.

All the families and the occupants of the Mansard House barely escaped with their clothes, and all were not fully dressed. The fire began and spread so rapidly that their homes were in flames before they had any opportunity to save any of their furniture or more of their clothing than they were wearing. As soon as the fire died down this morning the attention of the citizens was directed to the plight of those unfortunate ones who had been burned out, and they immediately took them into their homes and offered them shelter and protection until more definite arrangements for their future housing can be made.

All the grocery stores in town were also destroyed and consequently there is a shortage of provisions. A committee consisting of Rev. H. A. Saunders and I. Owens, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, were to have gone to Moncton tonight to meet the city council, but this plan met with disapproval from many of the business men of this place, and consequently was abandoned. Mayor Price, of Moncton, however, was in communication with the town this afternoon and promised to send down provisions and groceries, and these were expected on the afternoon train.

The fire is supposed to have started in the kitchen, a tongue of fire was drawn in the kitchen stove in the rear of the house owned and occupied by A. Moore. This house is situated on what is known as the old Post Road. By the time the fire was discovered the flames had gained a firm grip on the house and it was apparent that it was impossible to save the building. As Mr. Moore opened the door leading into the plied by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Yeomans. It was only through the heroic efforts of Mrs. Yeomans that Mr. and Mrs. Crawford escaped from the building. Mrs. Yeomans gave up all thought of herself and her personal belongings and worked with all her energy to clothe the aged couple and get them out of the house, and this was only accomplished in the nick of time.

The fire was most spectacular and owing to the buildings being all constructed of wood the flames were extremely bright and brilliant and could be seen for miles around. The high wind blew the sparks to great distances and they were falling on the roofs of the neighboring houses like hail. The sparks were so numerous and large that the danger of the fire spreading to the remaining dwellings of the town was greatly augmented. The people were all on the look out and as soon as a spark caught it was immediately extinguished.

What was the business portion of the town now might easily pass for a second Richmond or a village over which the relentless Huns had passed. Of a prosperous district nothing remains to tell the tale, but heaps and piles of smoking and smouldering ruins.

Plans are already being made for the future by the merchants who have been burned out. Some are going to move into vacant stores until they rebuild and are going to carry on business as soon as they can obtain stock. A movement is already on foot to have the business section rebuilt in concrete so that it will be more durable and less exposed to the dangers of fire.

PURCHASE OF DETROIT RAILWAY ARRANGED

Plan Calls For $31,500,000 With City's Initial Payment $15,000,000

Detroit, Mich., March 15.—After many years of embittered warfare between the city of Detroit and the Detroit United Railways, the purchase of the properties within the city has been arranged for at a compromise price of $31,500,000.

All that remains to make the deal binding are some details which the street railway commission and street car officials will endeavor to settle at a meeting to be held today. This agreement was reached at a conference Monday evening.

When important details are agreed upon, the purchase price will be submitted to the people for ratification at the polls.

AutoStrop SAFETY RAZOR

The price originally asked for by the Detroit United for the properties in question was $38,900,000. The price offered by the city for the same properties was $29,558,950, so that the price agreed upon is a straight compromise of about $2,000,000 by both sides.

Following the reaching of this tentative agreement by the City Railway Commission and officials of the Detroit United Railway, the city council this afternoon decided to submit the proposition to the voters at the April 7 elections. If the plan carries and the purchase is made, the city will assume ownership and control of the lines July 1, 1919, city officials state. The agreement calls for an initial payment by the city of $15,000,000. Detroit United Railway stock is largely held in Canada.

The committee elected officers as follows: President, Rev. G. F. Dawson; vice-president, Mrs. R. A. Jamieson; secretary-treasurer, Miss Bessie Holder.

The chief business of the meeting was the discussion of further arrangements for the girls' summer camp and Miss Yeomans gave much valuable advice in this matter. It was thought that the camp would be held in the latter part of July and definite arrangements in connection with it were left in the hands of the following committee with a representative from each of the denominations, the Y. W. C. A. and the Sunday school association: Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. A. F. Bishop, Miss Jessie Lawson, Miss N. Yeomans, Miss Bessie Holder, Rev. W. A. Ross, Miss M. McKim, Mrs. C. G. Flewelling.

You're getting a June Style in a March Maxwell

THE MAXWELL car of today is so vastly improved in appearance that many persons believe we have produced a new model. That is not the case.

It is the same chassis, scarcely with a change, on which 300,000 Maxwells have been built.

But it is a better looking car. It is finer in finish; angular lines have been straightened out; fenders improved; bonnet simplified; cowl made flush with the top line of the body; seats thickened by three inches; circassian dash installed; gas tank slung in the rear, etc.

There are twenty-four things done to make it more beautiful.

We made the Maxwell simple to start with five years ago. Then we kept on making and making these cars all alike. We have now completed 300,000 of them.

There is logic in doing one thing and doing it well. We have followed that logic. And results tell today.

Maxwells have always been noted for their reliability. Now they will become noted for their beauty.

And today we are in a position to give you a June style in a March Maxwell, which a year ago seemed quite out of the question on account of the war.

Come and see the latest Maxwell.

The Great Hot Spot Engine has made the Chalmers one of the few great cars of the world -

THIS great engine, which now has a record of many million miles behind it, has created a new movement in the automobile industry.

It has swung the attention from multi-cylinders, extra valves and the like to the subject of getting-the-very-last-bit-of-power-out-of-every-drop-of-gas.

For gas has gone down and-down in grade; the price has gone up and up; and cars have not performed as once they did, while the public began to say "they weren't making cars as well as they used to."

The public was wrong. It was not the car. It was the low grade gas. The food for an engine had changed; a new digestive organ was needed.

Among the first to observe this condition were the Chalmers engineers. They were the first to supply the answer.

They designed a Hot Spot device and attached a new type of intake manifold now known as the famous Ram's-horn.

By means of the Hot Spot they cracked up, fine as powder, and heated the gas after it left the carbureter. This put the gas in perfect shape for combustion.

Now the task was to get this "fine as powder," or as the engineers say "dry gas" into the cylinders without letting it condense on the short 18-inch but hazardous journey. Gas is tricky.

They succeeded in designing a brand new type of canal or manifold—minus angles, corners, sharp corners and the like—and this they call the Ram's-horn.

Any man who drives a Hot Spot Chalmers can tell you how wonderful these two devices work.

They have made the Chalmers now a great automobile. This is what they accomplish:

- Almost immediate starting on a cold day.
- Perfect engine running in 30 seconds on a cold day.
- More power out of gas than has ever been extracted before.
- Prevent raw gas from going past the pistons into the crank case and subsequent lubrication trouble.
- Develop a smoother, softer kind of power.
- Cause a lower upkeep cost through less vibration.
- Spin more mileage out of every gallon.
- Cause the engine to run cooler on a hot day.

There are many more. See the new Chalmers.

"CROSS OF SACRIFICE" TO THE MOTHERS AND WIDOWS OF SOLDIERS

Ottawa, March 14—A "Silver Cross of Sacrifice" will be issued by the Canadian government to the widows and mothers of soldiers who gave their lives in the war. Hon. S. C. Mewburn, minister of militia, in his speech in the commons today announced that the government proposed to confer such decorations in memory of the men who had fallen and in recognition of the heroic part of Canadian women in the great conflict. The preliminaries to the issue of the cross are, in fact, being worked out. Designs have been prepared and are now being considered with a view to the selection of the most suitable and it is hoped that before long arrangements will be completed for the manufacture and distribution of the emblem. In addition the next of kin of soldiers who have lost their lives will receive a memorial plaque of bronze being issued by the British government. Gen. Mewburn spoke of the proposal that the Canadian government should strike a special service medal for those soldiers of the dominion who had fought in the war. He suggested that consideration of this might well be postponed until the men returned to Canada. Canadian soldiers in common with the soldiers of other countries allied against Germany would receive an "international medal" which would have clasps commemorative of engagements or years of the great conflict. Furthermore, Canadians would receive the British war medals and the King's discharge certificate.

BAN ON FIGHTING PARSONS
Army Authorities Forbid Bout Between Army Chaplains in Paris

Boxing has become such a popular sport among the American Expeditionary Forces in France that the enthusiasm for the glove game has spread even to the army chaplains. The Rev. Earl A. Blackman, chaplain, 160th Field Artillery, recently challenged the Rev. Charles Rexrode, chaplain 316th M. P., for a ten-round bout at the Palais de Glace in Paris. The "Fighting Parsons" were all ready for the bout which had aroused no end of interest among the soldiers, when orders came from the army authorities placing a ban on the bout. Both men are Westerners, used to rugged out-door life and have often been in the ring. One weighed 164 pounds and the other 165 pounds. The reason given out for the calling off of the bout was that there was a misunderstanding about the weight conditions. Chaplain Rexrode before going into the army was active in athletics at Morrisville College, Missouri, and was active in football, baseball and boxing. When the 316th M. P.'s went to Camp Lewis before their departure for France, the chaplain took a course in boxing from Willie Ritchie and knocked out the camp heavy-weight in four rounds. He was decorated with the Belgium war cross for bravery under fire at Oudernarde in Belgium. Chaplain Blackman started his ring career as a youngster at Kendallville, Ind., when he knocked out the town bully. Later he was boxing instructor at the University of Kansas. Since his arrival in France he has boxed several budding scrappers of the 316th Division with success.

Always ready and willing to entertain You

A HOME to-day without music is just as incomplete and out of date as one without running water. For the presence of music is just as essential to our comfort and happiness as other modern conveniences. The one ideal way of bringing every kind of music into your home is to buy a Pathephone

This most versatile of musical instruments is always ready with just the right kind of music to suit your mood—a snappy jazz—a dreamy Hawaiian serenade—the latest Broadway hit or one of the old but ever beautiful songs of Grandma's day—all reproduced perfectly and with a new charm by means of the smooth Pathe' sapphire ball which never requires changing and never damages the record.

The Pathephone is built in a variety of styles to suit every taste and every purse. Compare any Pathephone with any other talking machine in the same price class—note the superior quality of material—construction—finish and above all—TONE. Do not allow a smooth sales talk to influence you when making your purchase. Use your eyes, ears and brains and buy the instrument which your own judgment tells you, not only produces all of the music better than any other, but also represents the greatest value for your dollars.

Here are the principal advantages of the Pathephone—weigh them in comparison with any other make:—

- 1st—It will play any record—(do not deliberately buy any machine which will only play a part of the available store of music.)
2nd—Pathe' records are all played with a sapphire ball which never injures the records and never has to be changed—(steel needles rip and tear the record and are a constant expense and bother.)
3rd—Pathephones are copies of beautiful old furniture and yet they cost no more than ordinary phonographs.
4th—You can regulate the volume of sound.
5th—The sound chamber is all wood—this results in a richer fuller tone—(most phonographs have a part metal horn.)

The Pathe' dealer will show you how easy it is to own a Pathephone, how a small cash payment—probably less than you expected to pay—will bring to your home the greatest entertainer ever invented.

Col. C. W. Peck, V. C. Defends the Soldiers

Former Albert County Man Replies to Attacks on General Currie and Overseas Forces—A Liberal Free Trader Who Still Supports Union Government

Ottawa, March 14.—(Canadian Press)—In reply in the house of commons today to the charges of Sir Sam Hughes, in reference to Sir Arthur Currie, Lieut.-Colonel Peck, V. C., M. P., for Skeena (B. C.), strongly criticised Sir Charles Ferguson, military governor of Cologne, whom he said had put the Canadians out of bounds in a message that was insulting, Ferguson, he said, was married to a woman of Cologne and this might account for his sympathies for the people of that city. He was the officer who gave up Monchy, said Colonel Peck, which was retaken by Canadians.

Some Questions Asked. Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, in the house this afternoon, asked if the Imperial government had yet filled the vacancy on the international waterways commission, caused by the appointment of Mr. McNeill, to the supreme court bench. Sir Thomas White replied that no recommendation had yet been made by the dominion government for the filling of the vacancy. Mr. MacKenzie, leader of the opposition, asked when the government would be in a position to give the house information concerning the inquiry into the Kinnel Camp riots.

Sir Thomas White replied that he had been advised by the minister overseas that a board of inquiry is holding a full investigation. As soon as the report of the board is received, it will be communicated to the house. In the meantime, it was not possible to make any official statement. Hon. Mr. Murphy asked if the government had any information of the rioting at Whitley Camp. Sir Thomas replied that there was no official information to hand of any riots at Whitley Camp.

Colonel Peck, V. C., then resumed the debate on the address. The galleries were crowded and there was a large attendance of members to hear the minister for Skeena deliver his maiden speech. Then he rose to be greeted with prolonged cheering from both sides of the house and with very few preliminaries he got down to the business of his speech. He indicated that he had not intended to speak at such an early date, and some subjects had been touched upon which he might be able to express himself with authority. He thanked the house for the kind welcome given him. He thanked General Hughes for his friendly words, and said he was exceedingly sorry to have to debate the subject of politics, he pastimes to deal with the statements made by General Hughes. He expressed himself as "very grieved" to hear them, and he was exceedingly pained for he felt that these statements hurt the feelings of thousands who had lost dear friends in the war.

Any man who says anything that will cause these wounds to bleed afresh, said Colonel Peck, "should have indelible feelings behind him." General Hughes, he said, for whose character he had the utmost respect, had made the statement that a great many of Canadian soldiers had been sacrificed in vain and for no useful purpose. He also said that he knew Cambrai and spoke of it as "a dirty little one-sided town, not worth the life of one Canadian soldier."

A few days after Sir Arthur was at his bedside to inquire about his sickness and to discuss certain questions, and said to him: "Peck, we might as well deliver a crushing blow for revenge, but the policy of revenge is no worth one man's life." General Currie said he was sick and horrified at the loss of Canadian lives in this war, and Colonel Peck asked that was the language of a cool, scheming commander whose only desire was to gratify his own ambition.

The colonel said that at Mons, he did not hear any of these extraordinary things that General Hughes had spoken of. There were, he saw, from the records, seventy-five casualties, but probably these casualties were for some days and probably extended over some miles of front. Colonel Peck remarked that news travels extraordinarily fast among the men and if any of the things had happened that General Hughes talked about they would soon hear about it. "Those Canadian soldiers," he said, "will get your number so quick you haven't got a leg to stand on. If these things took place you would have heard it by other means than by the eloquence of the honorable member for Victoria."

Advance into Germany. Colonel Peck said that he advanced with his battalion nine miles in one day and took five towns, that they never fired a shot and never lost a man. They captured five or six German military police who had overstepped themselves as police were supposed to do all over the world. This was greeted with much laughter. The laughter, however, was prolonged when Colonel Peck mentioned that during this triumphant advance he had "kissed an awful lot of women" and the only unfortunate thing was he found all the old women-crowded to the front. As to Sir Arthur Currie, he said he was a commander whom he was proud to have served under with extreme affection and loyalty. He described him as one of the great commanders they had in this war. Sir Arthur Currie, the speaker said, led the natural leader of a great democratic army. When he became commander it was no political influence and his appointment had been opposed by some jealous rivals. However, it had met with the approval of the British commander-in-chief, which was the deciding factor. It also met with the hearty approval of all ranks in the Canadian corps.

Sir Sam Hughes, said Colonel Peck, in giving to the house a list of those who had distinguished themselves overseas had relations at the front, mentioned Colonel John A. Currie, remarking that Colonel Currie should not be confused with another man of the same name who

Wives and Mothers Need Not Have Sore Backaches

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and exacting family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion. In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weak, ailing women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing down pains. Such suffering isn't natural but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys. The disease, insomnia and other symptoms of kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which go direct to the seat of the trouble. To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver, to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities their merit is well known. Because of their mild soothing and healing effect, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are safe, and are recommended for girls and women of all ages. 25c. per box at all dealers. had acted discretely on the field of battle. There was only one other man in the Canadian army of this name and sufficiently high rank to be confused with Colonel Currie, but if Sir Sam had another man than the leader of the Canadian corps in mind, he should come out like a man and tell who it was. Sir Sam Hughes—"On the contrary, I mean Arthur Currie, and will take the first opportunity of saying so in this house."

"Then," said Colonel Peck, "if this campaign of infamy is to continue, I declare it." He asked a question of the honorable gentleman "said Sir Sam. 'Is it a fact that Colonel John A. Currie should go through life smudged because of the deeds of another and not have his name cleared?'"

Colonel Peck replied that he did not want to enter into any discussion about a member of the house and would not have brought Colonel Currie's name into the house. He had been invited to the Canadian command. However, he cleared, if this campaign against the name of Arthur Currie continued he would tell some things he knew, and certain gentlemen would rue the day that they were born.

"I have always had the greatest admiration for the character of Sir Sam Hughes," said Colonel Peck. "I was never one of those who thought that the honorable gentleman had made a mistake in the north of Cambrai. He himself was in the battle, but never saw the town. Cambrai fell when the jaws closed and so far as Colonel Peck knew, there was very little street fighting. The third Canadian division went through Cambrai, but Colonel Peck added, he had not heard there was any street fighting, although there must have been a little. As a matter of fact, Cambrai was won by the action of two armies which in itself was evidence that Sir Arthur Currie was not a local one that Sir Arthur Currie could control."

Colonel Peck declared that the order received by the first division, of which his battalion formed a part, were not to incur heavy casualties. As an instance, he related how on the night before the armistice came into effect, he was advancing with his men through a wood with the capture of a village as his objective. On nearing the village he had not heard there was any street fighting, but the policy of revenge is no worth one man's life."

General Currie said he was sick and horrified at the loss of Canadian lives in this war, and Colonel Peck asked that was the language of a cool, scheming commander whose only desire was to gratify his own ambition. The colonel said that at Mons, he did not hear any of these extraordinary things that General Hughes had spoken of. There were, he saw, from the records, seventy-five casualties, but probably these casualties were for some days and probably extended over some miles of front. Colonel Peck remarked that news travels extraordinarily fast among the men and if any of the things had happened that General Hughes talked about they would soon hear about it. "Those Canadian soldiers," he said, "will get your number so quick you haven't got a leg to stand on. If these things took place you would have heard it by other means than by the eloquence of the honorable member for Victoria."

"Sir Charles Ferguson gave up Monchy. Who re-took Monchy?—The Canadian corps!" Colonel Peck declared that when twenty-five miles east of Cologne he had led his men he would, in parliament, defend the character of Canadian troops. Colonel Peck then informed the house that he would make the name of Sir Charles Ferguson stink in the nostrils of all patriotic and honest men.

There were lots of things that happened in the British army about which nothing was known. In 1917 he went into a town in which 40,000 British troops were in open auction, 400 Canadian troops were taken to guard the railways and bridges. He expressed himself clearly and emphatically on the question of his political beliefs. He had been four years overseas fighting for the principles of liberation and if the Liberal party had not come up to scratch it was no fault of his. He had had no belief in the Liberals getting on with the war but the Unionist government had offered them a definite policy while the Liberal party was going weak through the front door at high noon. "I am a free trader," he said amid loud applause, "and I am a free trader. He returned that he only wished they had had the same enthusiasm for free trade during the war, to which he referred that he had been a supporter of the Liberal party for a long time but like Dr. Currie, had found little difference between the two parties. He said he was elected as a soldier candidate in the Unionist government and he added: "I will do so until I see something better."

Had thought they should give the government a chance and be appealed to the opposition to approach the government from a charitable standpoint. DEMONSTRATIONS AT EXPERIMENTAL FARM. Fredericton, March 14.—The annual meeting of the Farmers and Dairy-men's Association of New Brunswick came to a close today with practical demonstrations at the Dominion experimental station at which on the invitation of Superintendent W. W. Hubbard, the delegates spent the entire day. President C. F. Alward was in the chair and introduced the speakers. At the close of the day the delegates were of thanks was extended to Mr. Hubbard.

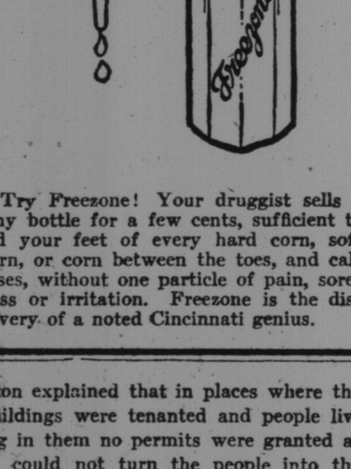

The delegates went to the experimental station by special train, arriving at 11 a.m. Until noon they inspected the experimental farm at Kentville (N. S.), spoke upon the work carried out on that farm and upon soil improvement by the use of lime and clover. He also discussed the necessity of interesting boys and girls growing up on the farms in all things connected with the study of agriculture. Professor S. S. Archibald, of Ottawa, acting director of experimental farms, spoke on livestock experiments at the various farms and stations which are twenty-nine in number. More than 5,000 animals are kept on the farms and facts were being collected which did not fall to be of use to farmers all through the dominion. He explained a number of experiments which were being conducted at the Fredericton station and invited his hearers to accompany him later to the stables for practical demonstrations.

George Sanders, specialist of the entomological laboratory at Almapet (N. S.), told of the work his branch had been doing in regard to insect injuries and diseases. C. M. Williams, assistant superintendent at the Fredericton station, spoke on horticultural work there. W. W. Baird, superintendent of the experimental farm at Nappan (N. S.), spoke in regard to the horse industry. He illustrated his remarks by an exhibition of Clydesdale and Percheron colts which were being raised at the Fredericton station. Superintendent W. W. Hubbard welcomed the convention and gave a short outline of the work that he was doing, after which the party broke up into smaller parties and visited various parts of the station where they found those in charge ready to give explanation and information.

BUILDING INSPECTOR LAYS A COMPLAINT. R. J. Armstrong was before Magistrate Ritchie yesterday afternoon on a complaint from Building Inspector Carleton regarding a structure in North Market street. Mr. Carleton said that he had visited the property in question, a two-story building three years ago and had found an open yard with an old portion of a building that had been there some many years. He went there again on February of the present year and again discovered a wooden structure in an open yard the roof of which was covered. The portion of the old shed was converted into a room with rough flooring under way. The inspector said that he had seen carpenters working there and that he had been told that work going on as no permit had been secured from him. The building inspector was questioned by Mr. Carleton as to the discrimination, Mr. Car-

Physical fitness does not depend on age—but on the condition in which the blood stream has been kept.

The purity of the blood stream depends entirely on the Kidneys. If the Kidneys are kept performing their function properly year after year, a healthy, sound body is the result, and the ailments that are generally characteristic of old age do not appear. Insure a healthy body and comfortable old age by keeping the Kidneys in proper shape always with Gin Pills.

New Site for Y.M.C.A. Proposed By Committee

The work of the Young Men's Christian Association has developed to such an extent during the last two or three years that the board of directors are faced with the problem of increasing the present facilities or finding a larger place for the carrying on of the work. If the increase in membership next year is anything like what it has been during the past few months, and there is every indication to believe that it will be so, then almost twice the present gymnasium and classroom space will be required.

After very careful consideration of the requirements the special committee dealing with this matter has made a strong recommendation to the board of directors to the effect that after "having heard the statement of the needs of the Boys' Work Division for an additional gymnasium, twelve more classrooms and a larger assembly hall, we advise the board that in our opinion we can furnish the classrooms needed by using one of the dormitory sections but that the other requirements can only be met by the expenditure of seven hundred dollars for the changes to the assembly room and eight thousand dollars to provide a gymnasium on the south side of the present one and we cannot approve of such expenditure."

This will be very welcome news to many young men as well as business and professional men, who have so often expressed the wish that the building was closer to the popular and more frequented part of the city.

BRITISH LAND-OWNERS SELLING BIG ESTATES. Tenants are Buying in Most Cases—May Have Effect on Emigration. London, March 15.—The tendency of the times towards distributing the benefits of the country amongst the people who are immediately operating them is evident in the large sales of estates which have been proceeding for the last two years and are now greater than ever. Great landowners, whose names have been by-words in the counties and whose tremendous power was based on the land holdings are announcing the sales of their large estates by the thousands of acres. The Duke of Sutherland, for instance, will sell during the coming spring no less than 114,000 acres in Scotland. A dozen others advertising their offer of properties ranging from 8,000 to 18,000 acres. The reason for this is not only the taxation which goes with large holdings but the existing high prices at which these properties can be sold. Two hundred and fifty dollars an acre is an ordinary run of price. In most of these cases the tenants are buying, which is highly good evidence that the war years have meant good returns to them. The immediate effect of this on Canada is that agricultural England will be less disposed towards migration to Canada to own and work land of their own. Their inability in previous years to purchase land here both because of its price and because owners refused to sell, has sent many to Canada, while their personal inclination might incline them to remain at home. Thus the effect on emigration will no doubt be noticeable.

Chinese Soldiers in Moscow Arrested on Ghastly Charge

Washington, March 15—Human flesh is reported to have been sold by Chinese soldiers in Moscow for food. The Chinese imported by Bolshevik leaders, are reported to be under arrest on this charge.

This startling information reached the state department today through channels not disclosed by officials.

These advisers picture the food and economic situation as frightful. In Moscow conditions are said to be slightly better than in Petrograd, but the industries, except a few military establishments, have ceased operations entirely. Peasants are bringing in the only food available and it is sold at excessive prices.

Sugar is quoted in Moscow at 20 rubles a pound, dog meat at seven rubles, and horse flesh at 21 rubles a pound.

Traction and electric light services are irregular, light being available only two hours a day. Stores and restaurants are closed, drug stores are drugless, all houses are used as asylums, barracks or soup kitchens and everything sold in Moscow is on the card system.

There is no coal, kerosene or gasoline in Moscow or Petrograd. Wood was nationalized in September and since the passage of the official decree has not been available for private use. The supply remaining may be exhausted within a week.

In Petrograd the streets are practically deserted, a large number of the schools closed, and the only persons seen on the streets are soldiers and people begging.

With the death rate, chiefly from typhoid and smallpox, approximately 4,000 daily, facilities are lacking for the burial of the dead.

HOW MACKENZEN WAS CAPTURED

Delayed by Rué Until French Troops Arrived

Had His Plans Laid

Well Disciplined Army Was Marching From Hungary to Germany When Allies Learned of Dangerous Movement

Gen. Mackensen, the Prussian general, whose exploits in the war caused the population north of the Tweed to suspect that he was of good Scotch descent, is now a prisoner in the hands of the French, after making what is believed to have been an effort to march with a powerful army to Germany and there to re-establish the Hohenzollerns. It is hardly to be supposed that Mackensen even at the head of the 80,000 well-trained and equipped German troops in Hungary, added to the other tens or hundreds of thousands that might be attached themselves to him as he advanced to Berlin could seriously have resumed the war against the Allies. He might, however, have complicated affairs for them, and have postponed for a long time the process of settlement on the part of Germany. Certainly it was regarded as important that this brilliant and implacable general should not be permitted to again lead German troops, and therefore the coup by which this Frenchman concluded to keep a close watch on Mackensen, considering him more dangerous than an army. News that his luggage had been packed and that he contemplated leaving Foh and that he meant to join his army, reached Col. Vix, head of a French commission then at Budapest, and he immediately communicated with the French commander at Belgrade, asking permission to detain Mackensen in order that the terms of the armistice should be carried out. The Belgrade commander at once ordered four squadrons of spahis or French colonial cavalry, then stationed at Temesvar, to proceed with all possible speed to Foh.

Ready to Bolt.

Lieut. Geneviev had been instructed by Col. Vix to keep watch on the castle in the meantime, and he had secretly posted a few men to watch the exits. It was not to be expected, however, that this handful, reinforced by the trustworthy or weak-kneed Hungarian guards, could offer serious resistance to Mackensen and his staff if they were determined to make a bolt for it in their own words. So Lieut. Geneviev could only hope that the spahis would arrive soon. What news he was able to collect was alarming. There were signs of great activity within the castle. Preparations seemed going forward for an immediate bolt. The young French lieutenant took the initial precaution of stealthily cutting all the telephone wires leading to the castle. Then he glued his eye to a window and had the satisfaction of seeing one of Mackensen's aides, after roaring into a phone mouthpiece for a moment or so, dash the instrument on the floor and give vent to soul-satisfying curses.

Playing for Time.

But he concluded from other sights that the flight could not long be delayed and, therefore, he adopted a ruse to delay it. He presented himself at the door of the castle, and saying that he was a French officer bound on an important mission to a nearby town, whose motor had broken down, he asked the Hungarian captain of the guard to send some men to help his mechanic who was struggling with the car down the road. This request was complied with, and the Frenchman remained chatting near Mackensen's door while the Hungarian soldiers tinkered with the car. He had calculated that Mackensen would not take his leave with a French officer at the door, especially since the annoying visitor would be gone in a few minutes, and so for two hours he delayed the flight, or until he saw the spahis galloping along the road. Their commander at once forced his way into the pres-

THE MODERN BABY.

The hand that rocks the cradle—but there is no such hand. It is bad to rock the baby, they would have us understand, but a relic of the former foolish days. When mothers reared their children in unscientific ways; when they jounced them and they bounced them—those poor dwarfs of long ago—The Washingtons and Jeffersons and Adamases, you know.

They warn us that the baby will possess a muddled brain if we dandle him or rock him—we must carefully refrain. He must lie in one position, never swayed and never swung. Or his chance to grow to greatness will be blasted while he's young. Ah! to think how they were ruined by their mothers long ago—the Franklins and the Patmans and the Hamiltons, you know.

Then we must feed the baby by the schedule that is made, and the food that he is given must be measured out or weighed; he may bellow to inform us that he isn't satisfied, but he couldn't grow to greatness if his wants were all supplied. Think how foolish nursing mothers stunted those poor weaklings, long ago—The Shakspers and the Luthers and the Bonapartes, you know.

We are given a great mission, we are here today on earth to bring forth a race of giants, and to guard them from their birth. To insist upon their freedom from the docking that was bad. For our parents and their parents scrambling all the brains they had. Ah! if they'd been fed by schedule, would they have been stunted so? The Websters and the Lincolns and the Roosevelts, you know.

TO BUILD A SCHOOL MINUS A BASEMENT.

(Toronto Star.)

School trustees and officials are called together for a general conference at 4 o'clock tomorrow to thresh out the problem of building two schools—Glenholme and Glengrove.

Chairman Dr. John Noble of the property committee sent out the call today. He is eager to put before his colleagues the plan of building a one-story basementless school as an illustration of how it can be done more quickly and cheaply and safely than the old-style school.

"My investigations go to show that these rooms would cost us $2,000 less on each if we built the school without a basement," he said. "We could have an opening from each room on to the school yard, so that thirty rooms could be emptied of pupils in thirty seconds. There would be no stairways, and that would make it safer for the youngsters."

Dr. Noble hopes to have at least one of the two new schools built on this plan, and he will lay the proposal before the committee tomorrow. All other members of the board and the head officials are invited to take part in the discussion.

"Toronto's schools are just as good as those of the American cities such as Chicago and Cleveland," said Dr. Noble, commenting on the trustees' recent tour of those cities. "But their schools are more expensive than ours. Like us, they are waking up to new ideas in school building, and in Cleveland they have a one-story school without a basement, and are going to build others like it."

DAYS OF WINDJAMMERS.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

The glorious clipper ship days, when the windjammer was queen of the seas, were recalled when the big four-masted ship Valparaiso, under the French flag, hauled out of her berth at the foot of Dock street, and started on her voyage down the Delaware River for Nantes, France, with one of the largest and most valuable cargoes, valued at more than $1,000,000, ever shipped across the Atlantic in a sailing vessel from this port.

A rousing send-off was given this square-rigged craft by the old-time salts who gathered at the pier to see the vessel sail. Passing steamships, tugs and ferryboats gave a parting salute with their whistles and the dipping of their colors. The crew of the Valparaiso lined the decks and acknowledged the salutes with cheers. With its sister ship, the Atlantique, which is now here loading a similar cargo for France, the Valparaiso is noted for its fast sailing qualities.

Years ago hundreds of these windjammers came to and sailed out of this port. Today only a few of these old-time craft remain afloat. Another of these old-time craft, the Severn, a three-masted sailing vessel of the old navy, has been chartered to load a general cargo at this port for France.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Either way, this mixture saves about four-fifths of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use usually breaks up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known as the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.
