Britain and Turkey at War; Cruiser Minerva Shells Fortified Post Of Akabah; The Forts Are Destroyed

Place Where Turkish Cavalry Patrols Were Reported Preparing to Move Into Egypt—Enemy Suffers Loss; Britains None

London, Nov. 3.—Great Britain and Turkey are at war; Germany has recruited an ally in the east. After twenty-four hours of uncertainty, during which hope was expressed that the Porte might make amends for the incidents in the Black Sea, the British Admiralty announced a little before one o'clock this afternoon that a British warship had been shelled and had destroyed the Turkish barracks at Akabah, on the Turco-Egyptian frontier.

It was at Akabah that Turkish cavalry patrols were reported yesterday preparatory to moving into Egypt. There the British found soldiers apparently under German serving as quasi-Turks, much in the same manner as the German officers remain in charge of the cruisers Breslau and Goeben, and British officials say there was no course but to open hostilities.

The admiralty announced this occurrence as follows: "Upon arriving at Akabah, at the head of the Gulf of Akabah, 150 miles east of Suez, the cruiser Minerva, Captain Percival Warleigh, found the place occupied by soldiers and armed natives. One of the soldiers had the appearance of a German officer.

"The Minerva then shelled the port and the troops. The town was evacuated, and landing parties from the Minerva proceeded to destroy the forts, the barracks, the post office and the stores. "There was some loss to the enemy, but no British casualties."

London, Nov. 3.—Confirmation of the report that Turkish cruisers shelled the Russian port of Novorossisk, on the east coast of the Black Sea, on October 30, and the burning and scuttling of the British steamer Frederike, was received today by the British Foreign Office from Sir Geo. Buchanan, the ambassador of Great Britain at Petrograd.

Apology Too Late Is Czar's Answer to Turkey

London, Nov. 3.—Russia has replied to Turkey's apology, for the raids of her navy in the Black Sea, with the fatal words: "Too late," and in London it is hardly thought likely that the diplomatic pressure will prevent the war party among the young Turks from dragging their country into the European embroilment. The events of the last twelve hours show that the Grand Vizier of Turkey has made every effort to conciliate the entente powers, but the influence of his partisans in the Turkish cabinet is not believed to be great enough to force the Porte to meet the demands for reparation formulated in the Franco-British notes. So far as Russia is concerned, a state of war with Turkey actually exists, and the reply of the Russian foreign minister to the explanation of the grand vizier, does not hold out, in the opinion of London, any hope for a peaceful outcome to the dispute.

Ambassador Leaves Petrograd

Petrograd, Nov. 3.—Patriedini Bey, Turkish ambassador, has left the Russian capital. He is leaving for home via Finland.

Russian Manifesto

London, Nov. 3 (8 a. m.)—An imperial manifesto on the outbreak of the war with Turkey, has been issued in Petrograd as follows:

"In the sterile struggle against Russia, Germany and Austria have turned Turkey into taking arms against this empire. Immediately after the treacherous attack of the Turkish fleet, the Russian ambassador received orders to leave Turkey.

"Russia will receive this fresh aggression on the part of the ancient persecutor of the Christian religion and the Slav peoples, with tranquility and confidence in God. The valiant armies of Russia will triumph once again—not for the first time over the Turkish hordes. Once again we will know how to punish the insolent foe of our fatherland.

"Our confidence is unshakable that the ill-advised intervention of Turkey will only hasten the fatal issue of that empire, and will open the way for the Russian settlement of problems on the Black Sea coast, which have been handed down by our ancestors."

British Ready for Them

London, Nov. 3.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Cairo, Egypt, says: "The Turkish troops are reported near the border which they have not crossed. The British are fully prepared to repulse an invasion, thanks to the measures taken by the government.

"The public in Egypt are calm and not even aware of the Turco-Russian rupture. A press censorship will be established tomorrow."

Too Late, Russia Feels

London, Nov. 3.—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd says: "In reply to a telegram from the Turkish Grand Vizier expressing regret at the rupture of the good relations between Turkey and Russia, 'owing to an attack by the Russian fleet,' the Russian foreign minister, denoted that the Russian fleet was the first to fire and said he feared it was too late to enter into our parley of any kind with Turkey."

him of cutting his boat adrift. Carland said he went out and the defendant struck him in the jaw and started down towards the shore. He followed but the defendant told him that if he went onto the property he would kill him. He produced a stick about four feet long which he said McCarthy had broken off a longer piece in striking him on the side of the neck so that he was rendered unconscious. Carland said there were no witnesses to the assault.

McCarthy was arrested by Policeman Linton and deposited $20 for his appearance this morning. Carland said that after the defendant was released from custody he went down and stayed round his house for a considerable time. Urban J. Sweeney appeared for the prisoner and asked for his release on the ground that the evidence of the complainant was not corroborated. The magistrate concluded that there was enough for a preliminary examination.

James O'Dell, charged with stealing a watch and chain from William Fudge was before the court this morning. The evidence of Fudge was taken and the prisoner was remanded until Thursday. Fudge said he had been drinking with the defendant, whom he did not know at the time. The witness identified a watch and chain shown him by Sergeant Kilpatrick.

Three prisoners charged with drunkenness and using profane language, arrested last evening at Sergeant Caples, were sentenced to $16 or four months in jail each. A Swede who was a sailor on one of the vessels in port, was allowed to go when his captain paid his fine. One fine of $8 was allowed to stand against him as the magistrate remarked that Swedes and Danes had a good record in the police court.

Mohammedan Leader Calls On Followers to Adhere to The British; Cites Liberty in India

Bombay, India, Nov. 3.—The Nizam of Hyderabad, the largest Mohammedan state in India, has issued a manifesto in which he says: "It is the bounden duty of the Mohammedans of India, to adhere to the British. There is no country in the world, where Mohammedans enjoy such liberty as they do in India."

The Bombay Chronicle in an editorial headed "Suicide," says of Turkey's entrance into the European war: "The folly and rashness of those in whose hands the destiny of Turkey is placed, have plunged her in a vortex, from which she cannot emerge, with any shred of a status as a nation."

The Advocate of India, says that Turkey has been betrayed by a coterie of officials from whom the Indian Mohammedans are politically free. Turkey has been made the tool of a country, it is added, whose ideals are not those which have given India peace, power, and freedom.

DECEIVED BY GERMANY

Delhi, India, Nov. 3.—Influential Mohammedans have held a meeting at Quetta, at which there was adopted a resolution setting forth that Turkey had been deceived by Germany into a breach of neutrality, and that the British government could rely upon the fidelity of the Belucistan Mohammedans.

A bombardment of Furnes, in Belgium twenty-six miles southwest of Bruges by the Germans did not prevent the review of the French and Belgian troops, by President Poincare of France, King Albert of Belgium and Alexander Millerand, the French war minister there yesterday.

While the shells of the German guns, apparently directed against the railroad station at Furnes, were exploding at frequent intervals, the president, king and war minister were in the neighborhood of the Hotel De Ville. There, to the strains of the Marseillaise and the Brahms, the national air of the two countries the soldiers of France and Belgium passed by. All the men displaying the greatest enthusiasm.

Later President Poincare, M. Millerand and General Joffre, had a long interview with the king, to whom the president expressed fervent admiration for the Belgians and best wishes on behalf of France.

After the review President Poincare and his party, paid their respects to Queen Elizabeth of Belgium at the royal residence. On leaving the president passed the afternoon among the French troops operating on the Ypres front.

Harold Stanley Dragged By Runaway Horse in Pond Street

A shocking runaway accident occurred this morning in Pond street as a result of which Harold Stanley, aged about 18 years, is in the General Hospital with injuries which may prove fatal. He sustained scalp wounds, besides possible fractures, and after being dragged along the road surface by a fast speeding horse attached to one of the teams of the Sussex Milk Co. was picked up unconscious.

Several persons witnessed the accident and were powerless to avert it. Men turned their heads with sickening fear as they looked on while the horse dragged Stanley behind over the uneven pavement. Finally the animal having dashed from the control of the driver in Pond street, was stopped in Sewall street by George Stubbs. The ambulance was called and Policeman James Ross took the lad to the hospital, and there it was found that his injuries were serious indeed. It is not known exactly what frightened the horse but it is thought he bolted when a milk can fell from the wagon.

ARTILLERY MEN AND OFFICERS ARRIVE HERE FROM BERMUDA

On board the Royal Mail Steam Packet Liner Caraque, which docked at Pettibitt wharf about two o'clock today were seven officers and fifty men of the Royal Artillery, Bermuda, who it is understood, are on their way to the front to assist Great Britain in her struggle against Germany. The squad is under the command of Major Lockhart. When asked if he were bound for Europe he smiled and said, "We are going to Montreal tonight, that is all I can say."

The men are a sturdy looking lot of soldiers. While the vessel was docking they kept up a fusillade of banter with the crowd who were watching the vessel dock and "The Kaiser" came in for a heavy share of the worst side of the remarks.

The Caraque had fair weather throughout her trip and nothing eventful transpired. She brought a few other passengers and a fair cargo of freight.

HOME FROM CONVENTION

Rev. Wellington Camp, of Leinster street Baptist church, returned home today from Toronto where he was in attendance at the Baptist Foreign Mission Institute. It had been well attended.

Mayor Frink offered to write to the majority of all cities and towns in the province, to invite co-operation.

After a very full and hearty discussion the committee already named was appointed and they will hold their first meeting this afternoon.

Province wide campaign will be inaugurated at once to arouse interest in recruiting and in the Patriotic Fund and all that pertains to the duty of New Brunswick at this time.

T. H. Estabrooks, Mayor Frink, R. O'Brien, Hon. John E. Wilson and Senator Thorne are a local committee, to act under the auspices of the lieutenant-governor, and with the practical aid of the provincial government.

If possible Sir George Foster, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and others will be secured as speakers in St. John, and it is proposed to have meetings all over the province. His Lordship Bishop Richardson has volunteered his services as a speaker wherever attendance at a meeting would not conflict with engagements already made.

The whole matter was discussed at a meeting at the mayor's office this morning at which the following were present: Mayor Frink, Senator Thorne, Hon. John E. Wilson, James F. Robertson, Col. J. L. McAvity, Col. B. R. Armstrong, Col. Massie, W. S. Fisher, M. E. Agar, E. W. McCreedy, Richard O'Brien, H. V. McKinnon, A. M. Beidling and James Gilchrist.

Mr. Estabrooks, at whose instance the meeting was called, spoke briefly, urging the importance of arousing enthusiasm throughout the province, so that not only would the New Brunswick regiment be quickly recruited, but all the people moved to take a deeper interest in the patriotic and other funds and all that relates to Canada's duty in this war.

Colonel McAvity pointed out that if the New Brunswick regiment were not recruited promptly the ranks would be filled up with men from the west.

Colonel Armstrong announced that he had today received instructions to recruit men in St. John.

James F. Robertson urged that Sir George Foster and Sir Wilfrid Laurier be invited to speak in St. John.

Hon. John E. Wilson said he was sure the provincial government would heartily co-operate and he would urge them to give a small grant for necessary expenses of meetings throughout the province, while all members of the legislature would be found ready to co-operate.

It was decided to have the campaign conducted under the auspices of the lieutenant-governor.

Senator Thorne said he believed it would be possible to get Sir George Foster to come to St. John and speak.

Invaders Not at End of Resources Yet and Columns Are Very Active

Reports From Aisne Directly Contradictory—Russians Hold Germans in Check and Are Also Busy With The Austrian Army

London, Nov. 3.—The tumult of battle has rolled back from the Belgian coast and after the apparent failure of their fierce assault on the English and Belgian lines around Ypres the Germans evidently are diverting their attack toward a more southerly point.

Much activity on the part of German mobile columns, is reported from Belgium and there is evidence to show that the invaders have not yet exhausted all the resources which are being brought to bear in the campaign to cut their way through to Calais.

BRITISH LOSS HEAVY

The tremendous German assault at Ypres is believed by London observers to have been repulsed decisively. But this has been at terrible cost to the cream of the British army, which apparently has suffered as severely as did the Belgian forces which bore the first brunt of the sea-coast battle.

Concerning the situation along the river Aisne, the reports from Berlin and from Paris are sharply contradictory. The Germans declare they have made distinct progress, while the French assert that all the violent German assaults have failed completely.

In the eastern area, the Russian right wing, which rests on the frontier of East Prussia, evidently has been sustaining determined attacks from the Germans. In the meantime, the Austrians hundreds of miles away still threaten the Russian left wing. Reports of the fall of Przmyl are declared to be premature by Petrograd and due to the capture of 4,000 men of the Prussians far from together with a large amount of arms and equipment, when a sortie was attempted.

GERMANY TO TRY ANOTHER ROUTE

London, Nov. 3.—(8 a. m.)—"Heavy fighting is reported today, along the river Yser, apparently to cover the movements of large bodies of troops moving in a southerly direction," says a Rotterdam despatch to the Times.

"The Germans, with ammunition wagons and guns, marched from Bruges to Courtrai today," the correspondent continues, "and there is pronounced activity among the British armies. It is said that three German staff officers were killed by a bomb dropped at Tielit, fifteen miles north-west of Bruges."

"Following the fierce attack against the British along the Yser, the German main force, is evidently making a desperate effort to break through to Calais by a more southerly route."

FEEL SURE OF GERMAN FAILURE.

Paris, Nov. 3 (7 a. m.)—There is growing confidence that the latest offensive movement of the Germans in Belgium, whereby they hope to gain a clear route to the French channel ports, will fail. All reports that have reached here are that the allies have successfully withstood repeated and violent attacks of the Germans, hence the optimism that prevails.

The official statement of the Belgian general staff indicates a shift in the scene of the German attack from the north coast, where they fought so far and stubbornly, to the vicinity of Ypres, where the British hold the line. This region, it is declared, has already been the scene of violent attacks and counter attacks in which both sides have lost heavily.

"The expectation here is that the Ypres front will now be the storm centre of the fighting, for a time at least, as the German objective appears to be the route to Saint-Omer in the department of Pas-de-Calais, twenty-two miles south-west of the port of Calais."

The news of the French success around Sainte Marie-Aux-Mines, and St. Die in the Vosges region, was noted with interest here. The developments in this quarter assured the French of a solid position in a difficult region, where it is expected they will soon win a greater success.

A German Tale

Berlin, Nov. 2.—(Via London, Nov. 3)—A telegram from Essen states that a French aeroplane bearing a German flag and an iron cross, was shot down east of Aix-la-Chapelle yesterday.

German General Killed

Berlin, Nov. 3.—It was officially announced in Berlin yesterday, that Lieut. General Karl von Meyer was killed in action on Oct. 28.

Austrians Take Prisoners

London, Nov. 3.—The Reuter correspondent at Amsterdam, sends the following: "A telegram from Budapest states that in an engagement fought near Turka, Galicia, the Austrians took 2700 prisoners, among whom were numerous Tartars and Mongols."

BIG ORDER FOR BRITISH ARMY

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 3.—Contracts for an aggregate of $1,000,000 worth of harness for the British army, part of a $6,700,000 order placed with a firm in South Bend, Ind., were submitted to the entire order is for 20,000 sets of six-horse harness. A saddle is required for every other horse. The equipment, therefore, will be comprised of 60,000 saddles and 120,000 sets of harness. The hardware for the harness is to be furnished by firms in Canada and England.

The St. Louis firms will be allowed twenty weeks in which to fill their part of the order.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

At the meeting at City Hall this morning Mayor Frink, alluding to the fact that St. John will be an important military depot for a considerable time, suggested that the citizens should see to it that the officers and men are made as comfortable as possible during their stay here.

TUG AGROUND

Word was received last night that the steamer "Tug Winnie" went aground on the point near Newcastle. G. P. Colwell secured the services of the steamer J. S. Gregory, which left for Newcastle today. It is expected that both boats will arrive in St. John on Wednesday night.

CHAS. MILLER IS STRICKEN; SERIOUS SAYS PHYSICIAN

Friends of Charles Miller will regret to learn that he was this morning stricken with paralysis and lies critically ill in his home in Douglas avenue. Mr. Miller was in the city this morning and was about to go home in the car when he felt ill. While on the car he suffered the stroke, and when Douglas avenue was reached had to be assisted from the car. He was taken into the office of Dr. Roberts, and Dr. M. Case was called in. Doctor Roberts arrived soon afterwards and advised that the family physician be called. Accordingly Dr. W. W. White was summoned, and had the stricken man removed to his home. Doctor White said this afternoon that Mr. Miller's case was very serious.

SERIOUSLY ILL

It was said at the Coronation House this morning that the condition of Charles Mayall, the proprietor was slightly worse than it was last evening. Mr. Mayall recently contracted a heavy cold which settled on him and other complications set in. He is being attended by Dr. A. E. Baxter, who holds out little hopes for his recovery.

WILL ESCORT RELIEF SHIPS THROUGH THE MINE-STREWN WATERS

London, Nov. 3.—The new admiralty mine regulations for the North Sea will cause a diversion of all vessels that depend on the English channel for relief of the people of Belgium through the English channel, but as several of these relief ships expected to take this latter route, comparatively little delay in the delivery of the supplies will result.

These relief steamers will be escorted through the mine fields by English ships and the English authorities have promised every assistance to expedite their passage.

Paris, Nov. 3.—The French official announcement this afternoon says the Germans would appear to have completely abandoned the left bank of the Yser below Dixmude, and that the allies have re-occupied points on the river without great difficulty.

SUFFRAGE HISTORY WILL BE MADE WHEN NATIONAL LEADERS MEET IN NASHVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 3.—While suffragists throughout the country, voters and non-voters are bucking on their armor in preparation for one of the liveliest and scrappiest conventions ever held by the National American Suffrage association, the women of Nashville are peacefully making plans to entertain the visitors to Nashville. The five-day convention which will be attended by delegates from all the states and Alaska and the national assembly on Nov. 12, with Dr. Anna Howes, a veteran suffragist, presiding, Gov. W. Hooper and Mayor Hillary Howe will welcome the visitors to Nashville. Mrs. Guilford Dudley, president of the Nashville Suffrage association, will extend the freedom of Tennessee to the vote-seekers. Mrs. R. E. Folk and Mrs. J. J. Roach will be her aides as official hostesses.

THREE CRIMINAL MATTERS BEFORE THE COUNTY COURT

The November session of the county court opened this morning, Judge Forbes presiding. The only criminal cases were those of the King vs. James Mullin, Frank Courtenay and Fred N. Conmeau. Mullin, charged with breaking and entering the liquor store of William O'Keefe, elected to be tried under speedy trials. The judge said he had received several letters asking him to be lenient, and as it was Mullin's first offense of the kind, he was allowed to go under suspended sentence. Courtenay, charged with stealing a mare and $10 from one of the soldiers on Partridge Island, also took the speedy trials, and his case will be disposed of this afternoon. In the case of the King vs. Conmeau, a true bill was returned by the grand jury. Conmeau is charged with breaking and entering the house of Halvor Hanson and taking a sewing machine which was in the possession of Hanson. Geo. H. V. Belyea representing the attorney-general.

LOCAL MILITIA NOTES

A report has been in circulation to the effect that in the new sugar refinery in Lower Cove were stored explosives. So persistent did the rumors become that the militia authorities, though they decided to investigate. The manager has invited Col. McAvity to make an inspection of the plant this afternoon. That other buildings in addition to the refinery should be fitted to receive volunteers is the view held by those in touch with the military situation here. It is believed that if quarters were provided there would be more activity about St. John in recruiting and training. SIR FREDERICK BARKER'S LETTER FROM SON AT FRONT

Sir Frederick Barker has received a letter from his son, Major Barker, with the imperial forces in France, and in his letter it may be gathered that the artillery, with which he is connected, is being kept hard at work. They have been in the trenches much of the time since August. The major said that he had but one opportunity to take off his clothes for a night's sleep. When the letter was written the weather was fairly mild and this made it easier for the men living in the open with little protection from the elements.

ORDERS FOR THE RECRUITING AT LAST ARE HERE

At last the word has gone out to recruit in New Brunswick. The unit will be known as the 26th Battalion. In order to facilitate the work of mobilization five recruiting officers have been appointed for the province under Col. J. L. McAvity, who is to command the regiment when formed. These officers will begin active recruiting at once and have authority to sign men for infantry duty under pay. Col. B. Armstrong, who has been today said that he had received instructions from Halifax to proceed with the recruiting at St. John for the second contingent taking the volunteers on the strength and on pay immediately. The men for the infantry are to be recruited first. Enrolling for the artillery, army service and army medical corps will not be commenced for some days. The other officers who have been appointed in the province are Col. J. J. Irvine, at Chatham; Col. Malby, at Newcastle; Major W. H. Gray at Fredericton, and Capt. A. E. G. McKenzie at Campbellton. Dr. S. S. Skinner will be the examining officer in St. John. The officers appointed will have certain districts to cover in their recruiting activities, and the men signed on will be sent to St. John, which will be the recruiting centre for the battalion.

The selection of officers has in part been completed for the New Brunswick regiment. Those whose selections have been confirmed are: As captains—A. E. G. McKenzie, 78rd regiment (Chatham, Northumberland regiment); D. D. McArthur, 62nd regiment; St. John; C. L. Danfield, 62nd; T. M. McAvity, 62nd. As lieutenants—F. H. Elliott, 62nd; F. F. May, 62nd; G. Keefe, 62nd; C. E. Fairweather, 74th; F. E. Lockhart, 74th; W. H. Barracough, 74th; P. D. McAvity, 62nd; A. D. Carter, 74th; B. W. Morrison, 74th; H. L. Logan, 74th; G. A. Mowat, 74th.

GOVERNMENT PLANS

By recent advice from Ottawa, the Dominion government evidently intend to hold to their former intention of keeping 30,000 men in process of mobilization or training and supplying the needs of the neighborhood up to 100,000 men. These 100,000 include the 38,000 already sent to England, the 1,000 R. C. B. sent to England, and the 10,000 on Home Service in defence of ports, and protecting wireless stations, bridges and canals throughout the country. The men doing home service will be given the full opportunity of transferring to foreign service, and their places will be filled. So soon as the 2nd division now being organized leaves for the front, another 20,000 will be required for foreign service in accordance with the present policy of the government, and sent forward as required.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

The imperial government has consented to assist Australia with a loan of £20,000,000. This sum will be advanced in two instalments of £10,000,000, each repayable in five years. Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney leaves New York tomorrow with four surgeons, with fifteen nurses, besides motor ambulances and supplies to establish at her own expense a field hospital in France. She is leaving before early and was very heavy in New York city and state today.

WAR NOTES

Major Grey of Fredericton has received orders to recruit men and will confer with Col. McAvity in St. John tomorrow. Ottawa says thirty thousand men will be kept drilling in Canada after the second contingent goes, and that to keep the two divisions in the field up to strength will call for 45,000 a year. Canadian militia authorities are hastening to assemble equipment for the second contingent. Two German sailors on the American schooner Charles D. Endicott at Windsor, N. S., were arrested last night and Captain Johnston engaged to deliver them next Thursday, when they will probably be taken to Halifax.

TO THE FRONT IN FEW WEEKS IS COLONEL McLEOD'S OPINION (Frederick Gleason)

That the Canadian Contingent will be sent to the front before the end of November is the opinion expressed by Lt.-Col. H. F. McLeod, commanding the 12th Battalion, in a letter to his wife in this city.

HEALTHGRAM If the nervous system is disturbed by hard night work a hot foot bath will be found very soothing. Let the water come well over the ankles. It will cause the blood vessels in the feet to fill and afford almost instant comfort and soothing effect, as it withdraws blood pressure from the overstimulated brain. This induces relaxation and eases the mental tension, quieting the nervous system, so that sleep is promoted.

It is necessary to keep the water up to the highest temperature at which it can be borne for at least ten minutes, by adding hot water as the temperature of the foot bath becomes lower.

Jack Sheridan dead. San Jose, Cal., Nov. 3.—Jack Sheridan, dean of the umpiring staff of the American League, died here yesterday from a sudden attack of heart trouble following a three weeks illness. He was sixty-two years old, and had been an umpire for thirty years. His illness followed a sunstroke suffered in the course of a game in August.

THE WAR NEWS

A Paris letter estimates that the allies have nearly half a million more men in France and Belgium than the Germans. He places the allied armies at 2,225,000 men and the German army at 1,750,000.

THE OTHER SIDE

It is well in time of war, if victories are not being won as rapidly as we would like, to take the enemy's viewpoint and consider how the situation appears to him.

News concerning Turkey is of a conflicting character. The Grand Vizier has apologized on behalf of his government for the operations of the Turkish fleet.

The allied forces in France and Belgium have gained an advantage at some points and have held their own at other points.

"There's Charm in White Hair," Says Belle Madden, Model

Every one loves white hair -- to look at.

BELLE MADDEN

(By Idah McClone Gibson)

"Yes," said Miss Belle Madden, "white hair is beautiful on other people."

Every one likes white hair to look at, but not on their own head. But, having grown the snowy crown at an age where one may feel somewhat abused because nature treated one so badly, one never despairs.

Many a girl who has been called plain has blossomed into a real beauty when her hair has turned white.

If your hair is streaked use a little lemon powder on it to give it a uniform tint of snow, but you must be careful of using the powder too profusely for daytime wear.

A white-haired woman with a young face can wear almost any color, but she looks particularly well in blue or green. Black ornaments or feathers in white hair are striking and if your face is absolutely unlined you can wear a bit of black court plaster as a beauty patch.

MISSES' COSTUME IN CREPE

The tucks are an attractive feature of the waist, and these are stitched into place first as construction of the model begins. Close, 3/8" seam and finish with the flare cuffs, matching notches as indicated. Sew revers and flare collar to neck and front edge, notches and center-backs even. Gather the lower edge of the waist and add stay.

Now close back seam of skirt or tulle from large "O" perforation to lower edge; finish edges above for placket.

PLAID COLLAR
STANDUP COLLAR
SHIRT 14

Passed April 30, 1917

One of the dainty concocts in silk just entering society. The color scheme is in two shades of pink.

The waist-line is not disregarded in all of the latest models for dressy frocks, for much attention is paid to wide girdles this season, especially on misses' frocks. This charming creation is in delicate pink silk crepe de Chine. The skirt is trimmed with folds of American beauty satin.

Five yards of 44-inch silk crepe de Chine are required to make the dress. Of satin, 2 yards will be needed for the bands and the girdle. A half yard of 18-inch all-over lace will be sufficient to trim frocks of crepe, chiffon and similar delicate materials this season.

Pictorial Review costume, No. 5897. Sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years. Price, 15 cents.
Belt, No. 5898. Sizes large, small and medium. Price, 10 cents.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one divided disease that can be cured in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have no more faith in its curative powers than they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SUFFRAGISTS TO GIVE LAWMAKERS LESSON IN POLITICS

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 3.—Members of the Tennessee legislature for 1915 will be guests of the National Woman's Suffrage convention to be held on November 12 in Nashville.

The plan to give the lawmakers elected on November 3 an opportunity to study suffrage politics at first hand originated with Mrs. Crozier-French, president of the Tennessee State Suffrage association. Immediately after the November election she will issue invitations to the new legislators to attend the woman suffrage convention.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The St. John Local Council of Women have adopted a resolution expressing regret on the death of Miss Mabel Peters and expressed their appreciation of the good work accomplished by her in co-operation with the local council, particularly the establishment throughout Canada of the supervised playgrounds.

Kindly sympathy was also expressed for Miss Skinner and Mrs. Robert Thomson in their recent bereavements.

A resolution was passed urging upon St. John women the use of "made-in-Canada" goods.

At the meeting on Saturday a report of the women's department at the exhibition was submitted, showing balance after expenses of $275.89. Donations voted by the council were: Patriotic fund, $50; local Red Cross, $25; Free Kindergarten, $25; express connected with patriotic meeting, $34.87—$134.87.

THE RUSTY COAT APPLE

(By Peter McArthur.) Having observed that many modern apple-lovers appear to be guided entirely by the labels on the boxes and barrels and having commented on the fact with considerable scorn I am now moved to make a confession. The names of apples do seem to make a difference. If anyone comes along and asked me if I would like a "Rustycat" apple I would say no and take notice at once. I have not been offered a "Rustycat" since I was a boy in school and in that golden age they were not offered freely but in a soft date pencil that never scratched and a copper harness rivet without a washer. I am not telling whether I was buying or selling when that transaction took place, but I assert with confidence that the apple was well worth this outlay of boy treasure. Along in February, when the last apples were being opened, the "Rustycats" were in the Golden Russet of today, but the name does not make the same appeal. The Golden Russets are still our best late winter and spring apple, even though they have a tendency to get a trifle tough if not properly stored or pitted. In their season they are equal to the best for eating from the hand and I am assured by competent cooks that for baking they are unequalled. They are also first-class for pies and apple sauce and cider made from them is the best I all. I must admit that I am able to speak of their cider quality only from hearsay, for I have never tasted any. I have seen it made and judging by the stinkiness of the farmer who was having it made, the cider must be prime. Last year I was in the line at a cider mill with a load of apples and a farmer who was right ahead of me had a load of "Rustycats." When his cider was being pressed he drove away all the boys who were standing around with dippers and acted so mean that I did not ask him for a taste. But it certainly looked good and I have no doubt tasted as good as it looked. Last winter we kept our "Rustycats" in a new way—at least it was new for us. I put the barrel in a corner of the drive-shed and buried it in clover hay, putting the hay about five feet deep on every side and on the top. When I took it out in February it was unharmed by frost and the apples were as plump and sound as when packed and they were ripened to the minute. There was not a leathery one in the barrel. With a book of pioneer reminiscences to read and a plateful of "Rustycats" at my elbow, I spent several long and happy evenings before the persistent raids of the children brought us to the bottom of the barrel. I incline to think that Hawthorne was right when he said: "I suppose I am like a Russet—a great deal better, the longer I can be kept." I also want to add that in my case at least they are also a shade better if called "Rustycats."

I am glad to learn that a great many "Rustycats" are being put into storage this year, both in the machine provinces and Ontario. When the other more perishable varieties are used we can have them to prolong the apple-eating season. Be sure to provide yourself with a barrel and when they are properly ripened you can have much happiness if you "Roll them to the Kiddies."

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of other disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and if you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he is lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

To Put on Flesh and Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice. Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all a matter of what you eat.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They just absorb enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffed won't make them gain a single "stuff" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare their fatty acid elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a potent drug, but it is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

YOUNG BILL HARRIMAN SHOVELS DIRT ON OWN RAILROAD

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 3.—Clad in blue overalls, handling a pickaxe, riding a sandbar with the other laborers, the son of $75,000,000, young William A. Harriman, son of the late E. H. Harriman, is helping in the actual construction work near here along the line of the railroad of which he is vice-president.

All last summer Harriman spent working as a clerk in the Union Pacific general offices at Omaha. When he had learned something of the accounting and engineering office work, he donned day laborer's costume and went out to work on the line.

None of the workmen with whom he is now known as director of the vice president of the railroad. They know him merely as "Bill," a young engineer who is just beginning to learn his work. Only one or two of the engineers who explain to him the difficulties and methods of track laying know that they are associating with young W. A. Harriman, the millionaire section hand, who is learning railroading from the ground up.

SAY GERMANS DESERT

Amsterdam, Nov. 3.—A strange situation prevails at Ghent. There has been an extraordinary run on tailor shops by German soldiers who secretly try to obtain civilian suits so as to desert from the army and cross into Holland. Many have succeeded in doing so. In consequence of the numerous desertions, the military made sudden raids on all tailoring establishments and found the workmen busy with soldiers' orders. Heavy penalties are being inflicted on all engaged in this sort of business.

All points on the Dutch frontier are being closely watched and no one is allowed to leave for Belgium on whom the least suspicion of desertion rests. Bread is getting scarce at Ghent. When the Germans first approached the town many loads of grain were sent away.

Alderman Ansele, who acts as intermediary between the Germans and the Ghent civilians, says the town will rise in revolt from sheer hunger and desperation unless the Germans allow the grain to be returned.

WHEN THE LIVER GETS TORPID

There is Nothing Like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to Set it Right.

Mrs. C. L. Cook, 248 Tenth street, Brandon, Man., writes:—"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past four years for liver trouble, and can say that I have had great satisfaction and help from them. I find that I do not need any doctor if I use them when the liver gets torpid, and believe that they are exactly suited for my case. My husband has used them for kidney trouble with good results, and my daughter in Winnipeg has been helped a great deal by the use of these pills. We say we can't keep house without them, and have cheated the doctors here out of a good many visits. I think Dr. Chase's medicines are just the thing, and have recommended them to many people who have used them with good results."

By keeping the liver active and the bowels regular Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills prevent and cure such disorders as biliousness, constipation, chronic indigestion and headache. One pill a dose, 25c a box, 5 for $1.00, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

When the heart becomes affected, there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, and dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

Many men and women drag along with weary step, and become worn out and haggard, when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first signs of heart or nerve trouble. On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be given a fair trial and you will find that they will soon correct both these organs.

MARY BOYLE O'REILLY VISITS GERMAN CAPTIVES IN FRANCE'S MOST NOTED FORTRESS PRISON

Like Guns Cast at Krupp's, They Do Nothing For Themselves, Except at Command of Officers—Every Wounded Man Saved by French Doctors—A Visit to the Kitchen—Talks With Prisoners

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY (Staff Correspondent).

Fortress of Blaye, South France, Oct. 12.—Thousands of German soldiers are now prisoners in southern France. Not one has attempted escape.

His Excellency, Mons. Milcand, minister of war of the French republic, made the statement with a tolerant smile as he handed me a pass to the fortress of Blaye, France's most noted military prison.

"You who have been a member of the board of prison managers of Massachusetts," Mademoiselle, understand prison discipline. Will you visit the military prisons, observe conditions, criticize deficiencies," asks Mons. Paul Mattoy, chief of the department of military justice. "France would deal fairly with her prisoners of war," he added.

The Great Fortress Prison Motor and passes soon carried me the thirty-eight miles from Bordeaux to the prison fortress of Blaye. Major Conzel, commander of the huge keep, greeted me at the portcullis, gray beard sturdily erect, broad chest half covered with medals won in France's foreign campaigns. Behind him, framed in the 15th century gateway, alert chasers paced on sentry duty, red soldier caps clinging nonchalantly to their dark heads. French blue overcoats buttoned back to show the republican cutthroat rouge, red trousers.

And all about swarmed Bouche prisoners in green-grey uniforms, brutalized by an officer lounging groups made front with automatic precision.

"They might have been cast at Krupp's," commented the commander. "This war of war finds me at the back of the front studying the type evolved by Prussia's forty years of armed diplomacy."

"The German people are by nature kindly, industrious, with mental processes distinctly slow. Kaiserism has drilled them into driven beasts, characterless, as it is called, by the fatalistic bulle. Good fellowship is scientifically squeezed out of them, real patriotism strangled, to make them mechanical contraptions trained to kill Prussia has prostituted progress to militarism. These poor fellows, well and sturdy, have been trained stale. They reached us utterly done."

"Officers string us Up By the Hands." I spoke with a pudding-faced prisoner—the dullest recruits on earth come from Polish Prussia. His surly tone intended no offense.

"The Kaiser commanded 'Kriegsmobil' (war mobilize). So we go to fight. I do not know where we go. I do not know who we fight. If we win why this is our officers string us up by the hands. Therefore we march and march until we are sick and tired. This is a war of attrition. The listening commander continued: "For days these poor wretches talked of the joys of sleep as starving men discuss food. For weeks they ate as if famished. Belgium's defiance caught the German commissariat unprepared. After a thirty-six-hour march the rank and file were given just enough rations to carry them into a fight. During a fortnight they had no real meal. Hungry on compressed food they walked green from lack of food. The treatment of even the severest cases. A teaspoonful of a little water immediately after eating stops all pain almost instantly, neutralizes the acid, and soothes the inflamed stomach and if regularly used will quickly remove the cause of the trouble and effect complete relief."

His military train is arranged for perfect roads without interference. No trucking was made for emergencies. The endurance of Liege disorganized the walk-over. Super-Prussian bulle called upon to follow up Howitzer batteries over ruined roads wrecked their traction engines and killed their draught animals while the waiting soldiers starved. Here we give the prisoners what our own soldiers have, neither more nor less."

The Prison Kitchen Against the huge inner bastion stood three field kitchens, pots, pans and provision cases tidily suspended from the carry gray wall. A French chef, potstick in hand, directed his unhandy scullions. Six prisoners peeled a barrel of potatoes, three shredded a box of dried fish from Gloucester, two made invalid's bread porridge in a billy can. All were awkward to absurdity.

"Me, I was drunk again," confessed the culprit. "The cure sent me here for a penalty."

Nearly five medical assistants were cutting lead sheets into economical splints.

"Here we have a new thing," boasted one enthusiast. "The envelope of the new bullet is magnetic. Therefore it may be extracted from a depth of six inches by this electric magnet."

"Wound Healed, But Forgets Who He Is In the next ward a gay little chasseur footed an imaginary flog in a Highlander's kilt. Half the buttons on his coat showed symbols of British army corps—exchanges with comrades in recent battles. Thirty badly wounded men applauded the impromptu entertainment. One, apparently unharmed, sat dully aloof. "Poor lads," said the doctor pityingly, "we have done what we could. His head wound is healed. But he has forgotten who he is."

One patient, mummified in elaborate splints told the story of his prison ward in French. "As for me I am an Alsatian born since '70. Shrapnel smashed my thigh. After I got the German Red Cross for me. "Thigh bones take 3 months to knit, he is therefore for a soldier," said the bearers. They were abandoned to the French. You can count eighteen bad fractures in this hospital."

Along the esplanade between the inner and outer walls stretched a line of regulation army tents floored with straw, hung with the prisoner's possessions and with porous water bottles cooling in the draft. One tent was a canteen, its counter laden with apples, buccas, postcards and jam.

"I got a box and they helped me so much I have taken six boxes. I highly recommend them to all who are troubled with their heart and nerves. I was not able to do any work for over two years; now I can do quite a bit."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. C. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A PURCHASE AT BIRKS PROMOTES CANADIAN INDUSTRY

The "Birks" Factories

Their Object

"A modern gold and silversmithing plant organized and equipped with the sole aim and object of developing the highest of the applied arts and crafts," is a fitting designation of the industries promoted by the firm of Henry Birks & Sons.

Canada is justly accounted rich in attracting to her shores examples of the art and culture of the old world centres, and in order to supply the legitimate desire of those whose artistic inclinations demand the highest and best—this firm has gathered together under one roof an equipment for the production of those things—the like of which is unsurpassed in America.

Our Catalogue for 1915 is a work of art and will be mailed upon request.

How To Cure Stomach Troubles

Excessive acid in the stomach, or hyperacidity, as it is called, is primarily responsible for nearly all cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis, and flatulence, and quite frequently leads to stomach ulcers. The successful treatment for prevention as well as cure of such cases depends entirely on neutralizing the excess acid, stopping the food fermentation and healing the inflamed mucous membrane that lines the stomach. For this purpose specialists are now advising the use of pure bisulphated magnesia, which has recently been found to be unequalled in the treatment of even the severest cases. A teaspoonful of a little water immediately after eating stops all pain almost instantly, neutralizes the acid, and soothes the inflamed stomach and if regularly used will quickly remove the cause of the trouble and effect complete relief."

When we came here dozens were groaning with wounds, hundreds were with bronchitis, some sick with enteric fever. The trenches are awful.

"Is there enteric fever in the German trenches?"

"The Albanian lean face grew scornful. "Enteric—and worse," he said grimly. "The next ward is filled with Lorrainers, all wounded in the left hand or arm—they did it themselves. Beyond that are a hundred Poles."

Prisoners Refuse to Talk German. "Since the Czar gave Poland home rule they have begged a prison apart. They are Germans no longer. Being Poles they refuse to speak German or to understand German. Between German Poland on the east, Germanized Alsace-Lorraine on the west, socialists in every army corps," a shrewd smile completed the sentence.

In France German prisoners receive daily: Bread, 1 lb. 8 oz.; good quality, well made; meat, 1 lb., fresh, reasonably tender; vegetables, 6 oz., fresh or 8 oz. dried; rice 3 oz.; white beans, 1 oz.; coffee, 1-7 lb.; sugar, 1-3 oz.

ROOSEVELT'S WARNING

Says He Has Seen Powers' Plans to Capture United States Cities

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 30.—Theodore Roosevelt, addressing Princeton students on behalf of Progressive candidates, sounded a grave warning against the military unpreparedness of the United States. He declared he had personally seen plans prepared by two powers to capture New York and San Francisco.

"It is this country's duty to put itself in shape to defend our rights if they are invaded," said Colonel Roosevelt. "I hope the time will come when this country provides that every man shall have practical marksmanship and in military tactics. It is also my earnest hope that we shall finally achieve international comity by which there shall be a posse comitatus to coerce any recalcitrant power, but we have seen the utter uselessness of scraps of paper."

"I myself have seen plans prepared deliberately by at least two empires now involved in the war to capture our great cities and to hold them for ransom because our standing army was too weak to protect them. I have seen plans prepared for the capture of San Francisco and New York and holding them for ransoms that would cripple our industry and supply funds to the enemy for carrying on the war."

"In such an event I would do all I can."

Rid Your Feet of Sore Corns

Quite easy now to extract any kind of a corn—just apply Putnam's Corn Extractor—it works wonderful.

It works wonderfully, stops the pain quickly, the thick tissue is softened, and healing goes right to the heart of the corn.

In a few hours the hard core is loosened and separated from the toe. Out comes the corn. Toe is left smooth—not a mark left. The only Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, recommended by druggists and sold in 25c. bottles.

THE TEST OF ADVERSITY It takes adversity to test the mettle of a brave people. The British nation never gets fully roused till it knows there is some national calamity just across the road. In this business of keeping industrial and commercial calmness out of Canada, every Canadian is getting his war blood to boiling point. If we can't shoulder rifles at the front, we can make every dollar we spend for goods made in Canada a national bullet for keeping out the calamity of hard times. This kind of fighting needs no drill. It entails no sacrifice. It means just—enthusiastic common sense in the greatest cause ever faced by the Canadian people.

How To Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Regularly, Cheap and Easily Made

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a 15-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a teaspoonful every hour or two. In 24 hours your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is readily relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes 16 ounces—a family supply of the finest cough syrup that money could buy—at a cost of only 54 cents. Easily prepared in 5 minutes. Full directions with Pinex.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough in a way that is really remarkable. It also quickly breaks the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Excellent for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and winter cough. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in gualonic, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex," do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LUNG-HEALING PINE FUMES.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT FOR COLDS, COUGHS, BRONCHITIS & LUNG TROUBLES

DID IT never occur to you as peculiar that when you have a cough or a cold, or any chest trouble, you should apply medicine—not to your lungs, but to your stomach?

Look at it the other way round. Suppose you suffered from some stomach complaint—indigestion or ulceration. How strange you would think it if you were asked to take a medicine which had to be breathed in, and which went—not to your stomach, but to your lungs and breathing passages!

There is no connection between the stomach and the lungs, and when for a cold or a cough or any chest complaint you take some medicine which goes—not to your lungs, but to your stomach, you are wasting time. Peps—the newest remedy for coughs, colds, and lung troubles—go to the lungs and breathing-tubes, direct.

Think again! When a person's lungs become seriously affected, the doctor orders the person away, generally to some district where there are pine trees. Why? Because pine fumes provide the best healing for damaged lungs and diseased breathing-tubes. In Alpine districts, such as this scene depicts, the peasants who daily breathe in the pure pine-laden air, never suffer from colds and chest affections. You must BREATHE IN healing for the lungs—you can't take it in by dosing your stomach with sickly liquid mixtures and cough drops!

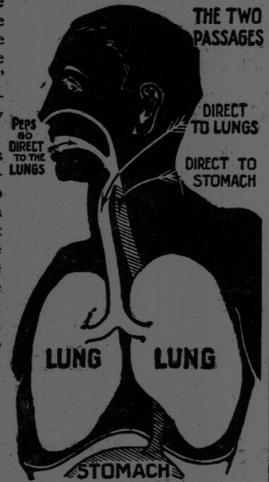

Peps provide the new "breathing treatment" for coughs, colds, bronchitis, and all lung troubles. Peps bring lung-healing pine fumes to your home, instead of your having to go to the pine forest. Peps are pine fumes, and certain highly beneficial medicinal essences condensed into tablet form. You put a Pep on your tongue and let it dissolve. As it does so, the healing volatile essences are liberated. You breathe them DIRECT TO YOUR LUNGS. Whether you breathe deeply or easily, these healing essences pass down your breathing-tubes, bathing all the inflamed surfaces, which no liquid or solid matter can ever reach, in health-giving pine fumes, and carrying health or healing wherever they penetrate. The tissue strengthening, pleasant fumes, so liberated from the dissolving Pep, are not only healing in their operations. They are highly antiseptic. They kill the germs of consumption, catarrh, and those many and varied throat and lung troubles so common to-day. Peps fumes—like the fumes from nature's pine woods—get direct to the lungs and chest, and give instant relief to colds, tightness, bronchitis, etc. In short, Peps bring pine forest air to your home!

You have a nasty night cough? Take a Pep before going to bed—your cough will not trouble you! Your lungs are a little weak, and going from the warm house into the cold air outside makes you cough? Just before going out put a Pep in your mouth—there will be no coughing! Your throat feels "stuffed up." Your chest feels tight, and your breathing troublesome? Peps will put matters right for you very quickly.

Peps, while gradually turning to vapor as soon as put into the mouth, will retain their goodness indefinitely if kept dry. Each little Pep pastille is packed in an air-tight wrapping, which is easily removed, and they are packed in neat tin pocket boxes. They are not sticky—the minister or public speaker can carry a few loose in the vest pocket, they do not spoil the appetite and ruin the digestion, like cough syrups and mixtures do, and—they DO cure coughs and colds! Excellent for children too, because so pleasant to take.

The Above Diagram

Shows how when Peps are placed in the mouth, the healing essences and fumes pass directly along the breathing-tubes to the lungs. The air passages and lungs are indicated in white. The passage from the throat to the stomach is marked by cross lines. This is the way cough mixtures, liquid cough preparations and cough lozenges must take. None of these preparations can possibly reach the lungs direct. Peps can. Hence their vast superiority.

Members of the Dominion Senate Use Peps

Peps have won golden opinions from medical men, nurses, public speakers, and from persons who have proved their value for lung troubles, sore throat and catarrh. For public speakers, ministers, singers, and all persons who have to use their voices frequently, and so often suffer from throat affections, Peps are a veritable boon. They are used in the Dominion Houses of Parliament, and the following letter from an eminent Senator is but one expression of the high regard in which they are held. Senator Derbyshire of Brockville, the writer of the following letter, is Chairman of the Joint Committee of the Dominion House of Commons and Senate on Printing. He writes:—

To the Proprietors of Peps,
Toronto.

The Senate.

I am pleased to express my high opinion of your preparation. Some time ago I contracted a very bad cold, which settled on my lungs and bronchial tubes. I almost lost my voice, was constantly coughing, and experienced considerable pain. A friend offered me a box of Peps, and I tried them. I was very much pleased with their almost instant action. They seemed to go direct to the sore places, stopped the coughing and made my breathing easier. I continued their use for a short time, and they completely cured my cold. Since then, on one or two occasions, when I have contracted a bad cold, I have used them, and each time the result has been equally satisfactory.

My wife has had an experience somewhat similar, and although neither of us believe in very much medicine-taking, we regard Peps in a class by themselves, and such a handy, effective remedy, that we always keep a supply in the house.

(Signed) D. DERBYSHIRE, Senator.

What You Should Use Peps For

Peps are the latest word of science on the treatment of coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung troubles generally. Just as the outdoor treatment for consumption—the "breathing" treatment—is now admitted to be the only rational treatment, so the "Pep" treatment is the only rational home treatment. Peps treatment means the BREATHERS down to the lungs, bronchial tubes and chest cavity, of healing, strengthening, purifying medicinal ingredients. You can't SWALLOW medicine into your lungs. If a medicine can't be BREATHEd, it can't get to the lungs and bronchial tubes (see diagram). Peps provide a medicine you breathe—not swallow. For all disorders or irritations of the lungs or bronchial tubes, therefore, use Peps. These include asthma, coughs, bronchitis, sore throat, tightness or aching across the chest, difficulty in breathing, night cough, hoarseness, asthma (asthma, smoker's throat, etc.). All Druggists and stores sell Peps at 50c, box or 2 for $1.00. Should your dealer be out of stock, order direct (postpaid) from Peps Co., Dupont St., Toronto, or 52 Princess St., Winnipeg.

LET'S GET ON WITH THE RECRUITING

(Halifax Chronicle)
The Winnipeg Free Press makes what we believe is a valuable suggestion when it says that a system of recruiting stations throughout the country should be established so that every man who presents himself and declares his desire to go to the front, will be enrolled forthwith, and will be despatched to a central point where the work of training will go on continuously, and when 1,000 men who have been thus enrolled have been given preliminary training they can go to England for further training before taking their place in the fighting line. The Free Press says:—

"Thus the Canadian recognition that this is our war, with everything which makes life worth living at stake for us as for the people of the British Isles, will declare itself in terms of Canadian manhood. The need of men at the front makes it necessary that there shall be no red tape to hamper the response to the call of duty.

"When a man says, 'I want to serve my country and the empire at the front' the recruiting officer would thus be able, instead of telling him to wait and talking about the likelihood of a call for a third contingent, to enroll him at once, without any waiting. No Canadian who wants to serve his country and the Empire and the cause of freedom should meet with interpositions of red tape or other unnecessary hindrances or delays. The fulfillment of his desire and his determination should be facilitated in every way possible."

It is to be hoped that the government will speedily realize the vital importance of acting with all possible speed in this matter, and that no further time will be lost in preparing to send forward the best and most efficient contribution which Canada can make to the Imperial cause. There need be no manner of doubt that the response of Canadian manhood will be worthy of our dominion, once the requisite lead is given by those in authority. Now is the time to act promptly. Delay may be worse than dangerous.

(Ottawa Journal) The following ladies will act as patronesses of the Ottawa League of Early Shoppers, and are urgently requesting all women of Ottawa to join—Lady Foster, Mrs. T. W. Crothers, Madame Louis Coderre, Mrs. Frank Oliver, Madame Rodolphe Lemieux, Mrs. Adam Shortt, Mrs. W. T. Herridge, Mrs. J. Lora McDougall and Mrs. J. A. Wilson. The Ottawa League of Early Shoppers is now permanently established. It appeals to all practical, and considerate housewives, and that the plan is heartily approved throughout the city is evident from the response by some fifty ladies or more each day. Co-operation on the part of everyone who intends to do any Christmas shopping whatever means that employes and merchants will alike benefit. The purpose of the organization is to extend the abnormal business of the two weeks immediately preceding Christmas over the entire months of November and December. Thoughtful leaders of the various women's organizations welcome this systematic effort to relieve the trying strain on the sales forces of the various stores during the Christmas week. At the same time, retail merchants, as the result of this early shopping movement, will be able to maintain their regular staff at normal strength until the advent of the holiday season.

The next day when they were drilling this in a certain town in Scotland a company of soldiers were out at drill, and there came a new recruit named MacDonald. The drill instructor couldn't get him to halt, so he said to him—"What did you say to the country horse when you wanted him to stop?" "Whoa, Mac!"

Digging Deeper

Mr. Manufacturer: You are asking the public to support you by buying Canadian made goods. What are you yourself doing to help the cause?

Few manufacturers take absolutely raw material from field or mine and turn out an absolutely finished product, ready for consumption.

A maker of biscuits, for example, uses flour, sugar, flavoring extracts, boxes, labels, etc., all of which have passed through various processes of manufacture before they come to his hands.

The wheat is ground into flour, the sugar is refined, the boxes fashioned, the labels printed by other manufacturers.

In the same way your industry is dependent on others just as others are dependent on yours.

Are you, Mr. Manufacturer, buying your "raw" material, which is really a manufactured product, from Canadian makers? Much of what you need is produced here. Your own markets depend on the continuous employment of every Canadian workman.

Bright Stories of Clergymen

(London Ideas) There is an ancient gibe to the effect that it is the fool of the family who goes into the church. A pompous nonentity once had the hardihood to observe to Sydney Smith, "If I had a son who was a fool, I would make a clergyman of him." "Your father was evidently not of that opinion," replied the Canon of St. Paul's. It is a sorry enough jest—this of the fool of the family. For the presbytery, the rectory, and the manse have between them sent into the world quite a respectable army of wits. In "Anecdotes of Pulpit and Parish" (Grant Richards, 3s. 6d. net) Arthur H. Engelbach has made an interesting collection of amusing stories emanating from purely clerical sources. In the Church of England no ecclesiastic has been the subject of a greater number of stories than the late Archbishop Temple. One of his most pointed rebukes was delivered to a cabdriver. He was Bishop of London at the time, and had been driven in a hack to Fulham Palace. On alighting he tendered his fare, which amounted to two shillings. "Cabby—enraged at what he considered to be a gratuitous insult—ventured to inquire whether, if St. Paul had employed him, he would not have acted more liberally." "No," said the bishop; "he would have been archbishop of Canterbury and the fare to Lambeth is only one shilling!"

Yet one more story of Dr. Temple—the "Temple with no polished corners" as he was once called by a long-suffering curate. This particular anecdote goes back to the days when he was Bishop of Exeter. Seeing on the contents bill of a local journal this line in large capitals, "Incredible Statement by the Bishop of Exeter," he bought the paper and searched eagerly for the incriminating passage. At last he found it. "In addressing the workmen of Bristol last night, the Bishop of Exeter made the incredible statement 'I never was drunk in my life!'"

Many grave and dignified prelates would have been annoyed at such an unwarrantable application of a fairly obvious statement. But Dr. Temple had too keen a sense of humor not to enjoy a joke against himself.

Bishop Blomfield's reputation as a wit was scarcely inferior to that of Dr. Temple himself. One of his best bon mots was uttered during his last illness. He inquired what had been the subject of his two archdeacon's charges, and was told that one was on "The Art of Making Sermons," and the other on "Churchyards." "Oh, I see," replied the Bishop. "Composition and Decomposition."

Once Dr. Blomfield was called upon to consecrate a church, where the choral parts of the service had been a failure. At the conclusion of the ceremony the vicar asked him what he thought of the music. "Well," he replied, "at least, it was according to Scriptural precedent." The singers went before, the minstrels followed after."

The good bishop hardly have considered this as the soft answer which turneth away wrath.

One of the smartest bits of repartee on record is attributed to the late Bishop of Ripon. He was addressing an open-air meeting, when he was interrupted by a man who asked him if he really believed that Jonah was swallowed by a whale. "When I go to Heaven," said the Bishop, "I'll ask Jonah." "But supposing," the other persisted, "he is not there?" "Then you will have to ask him," was the quick retort.

The humor of ecclesiastics is sometimes unconscious. We may suppose, at any rate, that the learned and pious Dean Burgon was guileless of any intention to make a pun when in a sermon on the transcendent merits of the High Anglican school of theology he eulogized Jeremy Taylor and Dr. Bull, and then exclaimed, with a characteristic intensity of fervor: "May I live the life of a Taylor, and die the death of a Bull!"

Exactitude in statement is a gift that all preachers ought earnestly to covet. But it may be carried too far; as it undoubtedly was in the case of the minister who, returning thanks in his prayers one Sunday for the excellent harvest, began as usual: "O Lord, we thank Thee," etc, and went on to mention his abundance and its safe ingathering; but feeling anxious to be quite candid and scrupulously truthful he added: "All except a few fields between this and Stonehaven, not worth mentioning."

Dean Ramsay used to tell the story of a minister who extemporized the following prayer for Queen Adelaide:—"O Lord, save Thy servant, our sovereign lady the Queen; grant that she may grow an old woman, as she may become a new man; strengthen her with Thy blessing that she may live a pure virgin, bringing forth sons and daughters to the glory of God; and give her grace that she may go forth before her people like a he-goat upon the mountains."

Many stories are told of the late Father Stanton, who was for over fifty years curate of St. Alban's, Holborn. "I don't like your increase," once said his chum, he picked him up and made a dash for safety. "How the bullets fell around him! Went to the shelter of some trees he went out again and in the next place; and when he did get into the last piece of clearing to be assured of the fact from a gentleman who does know; I will take care to put it all right the first opportunity I get."

The following Monday morning he walked into the mayor's shop and said: "I set that matter right yesterday, sir." "What matter?" inquired the mayor. "Why about the angel's pockets?" I just told the people I was sorry to say I had made a mistake the last time I preached to them, that the Mayor of Cambridge had assured me that angels had no pockets; I would therefore say that, if a thief got among the angels while having his nature changed, he would try to steal the feathers out of their wings!"

Brave Soldier Returns to Trenches To Rescue Wounded Mate Jumping into a carriage of an already moving train the other day (writes a "War Cry" representative) I was seized by a soldier in war-tainted khaki, who gave me a tight hand-grip and said God bless you and your people!" "I'm afraid I don't know you," I replied. "Perhaps not," he responded, "but I know some of your people, and the one I met in the firing-line was one of the pluckiest fellows I ever saw. We had been lying in the trenches firing for all we were worth. On my right shoulder to shoulder, were two Salvationists. I remembered them as having held a meeting with some of us chaps about a week before. As we lay there with the bullets whistling round us these two were the coolest of the whole cool lot!"

"After we had been fighting for some time we had orders to fall back, and as we were getting away from the trenches one of the Salvationists was hit and fell. His chum didn't miss him until we had gone several hundred yards, and then he says, "Where's —?" calling him by name. "I must go back and fetch him!" and off he hurried leaving the hall of shot and shell. I admired his bravery so much that I offered to go with him, but he said "No, the Lord will protect me; I'll manage it!"

"So I threw myself on the ground and waited. I saw him creep along, and take shelter again; and finally, having found his chum, he picked him up and made a dash for safety. "How the bullets fell around him! Went to the shelter of some trees he went out again and in the next place; and when he did get into the last piece of clearing

NEURALGIA OF THE HEART

This Letter Tells of Wonderful Change Effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mr. James G. Clark, Forestville, York County, N. B., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from what the doctors said was neuralgia of the heart. The pain started in the back of the neck and worked down into the region of the heart. Though I had taken a lot of medicine of one kind and another, I could not get anything to help me until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. "When I began this treatment I could not rest in bed, except by sitting upright, on account of the dreadful pains about the heart on the quick, lead beating. The change which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made in my condition is wonderful. It has entirely overcome these symptoms, and is making me strong and well. If this statement will help to relieve the suffering of others, you are at liberty to use it." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is a true tonic and the greatest of nerve restoratives, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50; all dealers, or Edgmonson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

BAD OPERATION AVOIDED

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Sowers Own Statement. Hodgdon, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HARWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

British Army Council Unable to Handle Any More at Present --To Complete Two Army Divisions

There has been received from the British government a despatch to the effect that the army council wish the second overseas contingent to be so organized that, in conjunction with one of the four brigades of Canadian infantry already in England, it will form a division complete in itself as far as possible, with an additional due proportion of army service corps units for duty on lines of communication.

Reinforcements are calculated at a yearly rate of seventy per cent. of the total force engaged.

WORK OF THE RED CROSS SOCIETY

Reports Submitted at Meeting Yesterday Show Great Activity of Local Branch

At the regular meeting of the Red Cross Society, held in the Stone church school yesterday afternoon, important business was transacted by a large number of members present. A vote of sympathy to Mrs. Robert Thomson, vice-president of the society, in her recent bereavement, was moved by Lady Tilley and seconded by Mrs. G. F. Smith.

A NEGLECTED COLD WILL VERY OFTEN TURN TO CONSUMPTION.

Never neglect what at first seems to be only a slight cold. Perhaps you start to cough, a little irritation in the throat ensues, then it gets lower down, settles on the lungs and bronchitis sets in, and you start to raise phlegm of a greenish, yellowish color, and you cough persistently.

If you let the simple cold run it will surely develop into something very serious, and perhaps consumption.

On the first signs of a cold or cough go to your dealer and procure a bottle of DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

A few doses will convince you that it is just the remedy you require.

Mrs. J. W. Pearson, Amherst, N.S., writes: "Some time ago my daughter had a very bad cough which settled on her chest. She had no rest day or night. I gave her everything I could think of, but without doing her the least bit of good. At last I thought of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle for her. She had not taken half of it before she got relief, and with the remainder she was completely cured. Now when any of the family have a cough we always know what to get for it."

NORTH SEA CLOSED TO MERCHANT SHIPPING

London, Nov. 2, 11.15 p. m.—The entire North Sea has been declared a military area, and merchant vessels entering it will be exposed to the gravest dangers from the mines which it has been necessary to lay, and from the warships which are searching vigilantly by night and day for suspicious craft.

SUGAR MYSTERY.

Montreal, Nov. 2.—No commodity would seem to have been on the increase because of the war so much as sugar. The refiners' quotation in Montreal on last Thursday was $7.06. By the time it reaches the consumer it is $8. In England, however, it is only $7. Why is it that sugar in Montreal where it ought to be easy to get supplies, costs more than in London? A sugar expert in Montreal blames the refiners. He says that it is impossible to get imported sugar at the present time. Conditions on the ocean prohibit it. He lays the blame for today's conditions on the shoulders of the refiners. He says that they can't get sugar, and could not purchase any for the time. In this event they simply took advantage of the market and boosted and boosted until the present levels were reached.

RURAL PLAY IN OPERA HOUSE BY STOCK COMPANY

Thompson-Woods Players Give Adequate Production of Comedy Drama "Shadowed Lives"

A four act rural comedy drama, "Shadowed Lives," was presented last night by the Thompson-Woods Company at the Opera House to the pleasure of a large audience who seemed to relish the better portions of the play. It was well staged and directed, and the scenic fixtures were very attractive. The various roles were ably taken and the cast was nicely balanced.

The story of "Shadowed Lives" of which Justin Adams was the author, deals with quiet country life at Dexter Mills, Me., and also with the contrasting liveliness of times at Harvard University at the high seas. Too much confidence in a college chum is repaid by Allan Dexter, a fine, whole-hearted young student whose chief fault is good nature. He gives the chum, Bertram Wade, money to help him clear himself of a forged note, money in fact which was given Dexter by his father for investment purposes, and then he finds out, after having so kindly treated this chum's clothing, that the chum has contemptibly treated his sister. He makes all possible effort to have proof of her name given through one of her friends who may learn of the situation, but finds that Wade has destroyed the marriage certificate. This, of course, complicates matters, but there is the usual readjustment of all difficulties, and the curtain falls on the Dexter household in the last act with harmony and happiness prevailing.

ITALIAN BOYS AT IMPERIAL

A pair of diminutive Italian boys do a very classy musical act at the Imperial this week—something like the street musicians who used to visit St. John some years ago. The wee chaps, who are delighted at the prospect of their first appearance in the city, are called "The Little Boys" and give a finished performance of "The Little Boys" and "Hear You Calling Me" with most artistic effect and last evening was repeatedly encored. The festive orchestra under Mr. Swanson's baton rendered a charming list of selections including "Two Dances from Henry VIII," a "Waltz" and "The Little Boys' Song."

AT THE UNIQUE.

Fifteenth Episode of The Million Dollar Mystery Draws Large Audiences and Pleases Greatly.

SUMMARY OF MORNING CABLES

It is estimated by competent authorities in the French war office that Germany has in Belgium, and along the Franco-German frontier, about 1,700,000 men. The Allies, including Belgium, have about 2,225,000 men. The Allies, it is thought, could break through at any time but prefer to wait for a decisive moment. France still has about 1,800,000 under arms in training in different districts not at the front, while the strength of General French's army actively engaged is about 300,000.

Patriotism and the Made-in-Canada Idea

MUCH as I dislike introducing the personal element into this question, I am prompted to do so by the unprecedented conditions existing, which cause us all to realize that we cannot, with prudence or patriotism, act independently of one another at this time. Hence, I trust this message will be accepted in the spirit in which it is written.

Before me lie two letters, one to me personally, from Mr. E. G. Henderson, President, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in which he states:

"The most fruitful cause of distress during the coming winter will be unemployment. As an employer of labor you will have not only your responsibility, but the opportunity of fulfilling this responsibility. USE EVERY EFFORT TO KEEP THE WHEELS TURNING."

The other letter is a copy of the original sent by the Secretary of the Retail Merchants of Canada, Inc., to the Quebec members of that body (I herewith quote from his letter):

"We think it would be advisable for you to point out to your customers that in their purchases they should give the preference to goods 'MADE-IN-CANADA,' which would help to keep Canadian factories busy thereby giving employment to Canadians, who are so much in need of earning as much as possible. To encourage home industries is a good policy at all times, but should be urged upon at this trying period for self-preservation."

It is my duty as a citizen of Canada to subscribe to the Patriotic Fund. It is my duty as a manufacturer to keep down the prices of my products even against the advancing cost of raw material; but above all it is my duty as a fellow-man to keep my employees in bread during the months to come.

As the head of one of Canada's industries, am I not right in asking for your support during the critical period?

I am told that more than $5,000,000 worth of shoes entered Canada from just one foreign country last year. This business operated to your own Canadian factories would help keep the wheels turning a lot more steadily.

When Canadians buy "Made-in-Canada" goods, the money paid out still circulates in this country, so that the whole community benefits thereby; when Canadians buy elsewhere the money goes out of the country and 99% of it fails to return. DO WE NEED THAT 99%?

CONSTIPATION RELIEVED ENTIRELY AT OUR RIS

Unless Rexall Orderlies relieve your bow troubles and make you feel like coming back to thank us for telling you about them, then come back anyway, and ask us to give you back your money. and the
Made-in-Canada Idea

WHAT prompted you to buy Shoes made elsewhere than in Canada? Was it not the lure of the foreign-made article?

On a point for point comparison you have a line of shoes made right here in Canada that is without superior, no matter where made.

"Invictus" Shoes are made in a model factory, conducted with a degree of efficiency "Par Excellence." The raw material used is of the very finest. While the output is limited, the high degree of workmanship proves the wisdom of the policy to produce a satisfactory article before considering the quantity made.

You have heard, so many times, the old cry of style, comfort and quality, that you are liable to discount a repetition of it. But in asking your consideration of the "Invictus" shoe as a "Made-in-Canada" product, we know that on these three points you may have absolute confidence that "Invictus" Shoes will fulfill your expectations to your entire satisfaction.

"Invictus" Shoes are made in a Canadian factory, by Canadian workmen. As evidence of the satisfaction which they have given in the past, there are 600 "Invictus" Agents situated from coast to coast throughout the Dominion, who are proud to couple their names with "Invictus." These Agents will, with pleasure, show you the new "Invictus" styles, and will point out, personally, why it will pay you to buy "Invictus," "The Best Good Shoe"—"Made-in-Canada."

Economize by buying "Invictus" Shoes. You pay no duty, and in every pair, you get the maximum of wearing qualities at a minimum price for that grade of footwear.

Canada's Hope For Nationhood Depends Upon Result of War

Sir Harry Hamilton Johnson Says Dominion is as Much Concerned in Outcome as Britain—Spirited Address to Ottawa Canadian Club

"Turkey committed suicide today. The Turkish Empire has fallen." This was the terse way in which Sir Harry Hamilton Johnson expressed his opinion of Turkey's action in entering the war, in his speech at the Canadian Club luncheon at the Chateau Laurier last Friday.

He gave the assurance that there was no need to worry over Turkey or the rebellion in South Africa. Sir Harry is a distinguished member of the British consular service, and in view of the many years he spent in Africa in an official capacity he was well able to deal with the colonial problems of Great Britain. His views, which if expressed in some quarters would earn him an official frown, were voiced in a straightforward and honest manner and often won applause from the large audience.

He told how amicably and loyally the German and British interests worked side by side in Africa. At that time he could not conceive that Germany had an interest in South Africa. He had been sent out by the British government to forestall, if possible, any German intentions in East Africa. By means of treaties and planting flags he secured the greater part of what is known as East Africa Protectorate, but he had to give Mount Kilimanjaro and a bit of coast to the German government.

While working in union with the Germans in Uganda, much was accomplished, but notably the complete closing of the slave trade. Everything within reason had been done for the Germans, but they could not conceive the coast of northern France.

He could not uncover any government mad enough to stand aside in view of how Belgium had suffered. He did not think people in Canada realized the seriousness of the war. Many Canadians were taking the situation too tranquilly; they thought that Canada would only be remotely affected by the result of the war. They did not realize how seriously Britain would be if the Germans got even so far as Dunkirk. Britain was compelled to place a cordon of ships right across the northern exit of the North Sea because the Germans had already got through and laid mines on the northern coast of Ireland. So that if the Germans succeeded in getting on to the northwest coast of England and reached Dunkirk or Calais and closed the English channel, London could only be fed through western ports.

Egypt is Safe.

"It is futile to talk of what Turkey can do," he said, "and equally useless to worry about South Africa. Egypt is so well safeguarded as to be unassailable. These two situations are mere flea bites. They have been caused in an effort to distract the attention of Great Britain and her daughters from the main issue. The big struggle will be fought out in Belgium and the north of France, and Canada is as much concerned as Britain. Supposing Germany dealt a smashing blow to Britain. What about Canada? There would be no invasion by the Germans; that is ridiculous; but away would go your hope of nationhood. If you have grit enough to become a nation, as a perpetual friend of the United States, not as its ward, then your fight is now being fought in Belgium. He would like to see Canada have 200,000 men ready equipped for the war. The existing contingent, welcome as it was to Britain, did not number much over 15 per cent. of men born in Canada. He wanted to hear of real Canadians crossing the Atlantic to fight in the struggle. He had a sort of conviction that the men who were wanted were big, healthy lumbermen, and the six-footers who were wrestling with nature. They would give as big a surprise to the Germans as the Indians are giving now.

Reforms for India.

India will play a great part in the war, and afterwards, he thought, would secure for herself those enlarged measures of self-government that she was so fully entitled to ask for. The Empire on the whole has been better managed than any Empire has ever been. That was proved by the way it hangs together. But he did not imagine that those who had been agitating for reforms would be silent after the war. They will expect to be heard. "What business have the Indians to wish to colonize in Canada?" he asked. "None at all. Why do they do so? Because India is so government that the whole of the land is not available to the whole population. There are vast areas of unpopulated country, while other parts are overworked."

If only India was recast so that its government was different to the hideous German permanent officials there would be a greater amount of liberty for the people, and all these Indian, South African and Canadian troubles would disappear. If a reasonable section of people had a reasonable voice in the policy of government there would be no demand of the natives of India for further fields of expansion.

After the War.

After the war Great Britain would have to set a good example to the world. They must keep open all possessions so that Germany could trade and colonize on the same terms as other subjects. It would be fatuous to drive the whole German nation to despair. There will be an indemnity so huge that Germany will have to pay it off in installments, but she must never again be allowed to colonize in regions outside the actual limits of German speaking Germany. Further to ensure prosperity the British Empire must rid herself of its prejudice to skin color.

"I don't believe there will be any disaster for our country, and I don't think the Germans will get to Calais. Before very long we will see the last German defeat from the soil of Belgium and France. But that would only be the beginning of the end. We must destroy the great works at Essen, and we have got to get at the Kiel Canal. If Germany colonizes Belgium there would be a never ending struggle with Great Britain, and perhaps we would fall, worn out. In that case Canada will not complete her nationhood, but would become an appendage of the United States."

Col. Thompson presided, and amongst those present were Sir George E. Foster, Sir Frederick Boden and Sir James Grant.

LIVING ON NOTHING A DAY.

(From Beck's Weekly, Montreal.)

There are 100,000 foreigners in Montreal. Some of these—many in fact—are living on literally nothing a day. They are earning nothing, having been out of work for months, they have nothing, and they cannot buy.

Of the hundred thousand, some 15,000 are Italians. In the district around St. Timothee street, there are more than 5,000; in the vicinity of Latour street about 2,000; in St. Henri, cote St. Paul and Ville Emard are another 3,000; in "Little Italy," above Mount Royal avenue and between Park avenue and Amherst street, the population of Italians is between 5,000 and 6,000.

It costs an Italian laborer $8 to $8.50 a month for sleeping accommodation. For $8.50 he has a bed to himself; for half a dollar less he shares a bed. In every case he has from one to two other men in the room with him.

"No work—no money—got no food," was the plaintive statement of an Italian ex-city laborer. He lived with his wife and five children in an evil-looking, scarcely lighted and unventilated abode. He had five boarders, all of whom had been out of work for months.

This Italian meant that he was literally facing starvation. There was no food in the house and the grocery store had stopped credit.

Three Killed in Wreck.

A rock slide, striking a freight train on the C. P. R. near Vancouver, wrecked the train and caused the death of the engineer on one locomotive and the firemen on both.

Local Soldier Shot.

George McVane, a trooper in the 29th Dragoons, was accidentally shot in the ankles yesterday while on duty in the army. A comrade on guard in some manner allowed his gun to be discharged and the shot passed through McVane's feet at the ankles. He was taken at once to the hospital.

NEW TAXES TO RAISE MONEY FOR HOLLAND; ALSO A LARGE LOAN

The Hague, Nov. 3.—In order to cope with the terrific war burden (about $400,000 daily for mobilization), the Dutch government proposes to institute an export tax on all materials which, through war or other circumstances, have increased exorbitantly in price. The government has also announced that it will at once introduce a parliamentary bill for a loan of $100,000,000. If it is not subscribed for, the government will force the highest tax payers to take a part of the loan in proportion to their wealth. All fortunes under $5,000,000 (about $20,000) will be made exempt.

ST. JOHN SOLDIER WOUNDED IN FIGHTING IN FRANCE; LETTER COMES TO WIFE, MRS. WHITWORTH

Struck in Chest at Bethune and Sent to Hospital in Torquay--Other Letters Come From St. John Men

A mixed feeling of joy and doubt pervades the modest little home of Mrs. A. E. Whitworth in Brussels street this morning. This morning's mail brought word from her husband, Albert E. Whitworth, a private in the West Yorkshire Regiment, who for more than a month, has been on the fighting line in France. But the letter comes from the Red Cross Hospital in Torquay, England, and says that, although the gallant soldier lies with a wound in his chest, he is resting comfortably and getting on as well as might be expected.

The letter was written by the president of the Torquay branch of the British Red Cross Society, but gives very little details of the extent of the wound or how it was received. He fell while fighting near Bethune, in the north of France.

The following is the text of the letter: British Red Cross Hospital, Town Hall, Torquay, Devonshire, Oct. 22.

My Dear Wife: I came here yesterday from Southampton. I was wounded on Saturday in chest at a place near Bethune, near the north of France. I am glad to say I am going on well and am quite comfortable. Love to you and the children. Your affectionate husband, BERT.

Written by F. J. Sprague, President Torquay Branch British Red Cross Society. Immediately after the declaration of war Mr. Whitworth, who was then employed in the public works, returned to the regiment to which he belonged in England. Accordingly, on August 18, he left St. John, and on Oct. 17—just one day short of two months later—he was wounded.

From time to time his wife has received word from him saying that he was all right. Mrs. Whitworth resides with her mother and three small children in Brussels street.

From Cyril McDonald. One of the most interesting letters from the boys at Salisbury Plain came yesterday to Mrs. J. J. McDonald, of Harrison street, from her son Cyril, who is with the signallers. He described the voyage and also told of the arrival of the division in England. He was aboard the steamer Caribbean which carried most of the headquarters officers, and he had been detailed to this vessel as one of the staff signallers.

Prolonged cheering, bands playing and people singing greeted the Canadian lads as they disembarked at Davenport, and they were heartily received all along the line of railway to Amesbury, where they were required to march with full equipment to their backs to the training camp, about twelve miles away. Salisbury Plain, he says, forms an admirable training encampment, and the Canucks gathered are glad to know that their quarters are so well suited for seasoning purposes.

"The price of food at the big encampment is remarkably low. It seems strange to have to pay only two pence for a 'hot' dinner here," writes the young signaller, "when at Valenciennes it cost us ten cents. Here we can get a full meal at the canteen for four-pence

IMPORTANT MATTERS FOR LANCASTER BOARD OF TRADE TO TAKE UP

Renewed Activity—Progress at the Bridge—The Funds

The Lancaster Board of Trade, which has been inactive for the last month or two, is again giving indications of life and the meeting called for this week should develop some interesting business. These include the matter of numbering the village houses and the correct naming of the streets, laying before the authorities the need of several crossings in Main street to overcome the mud nuisance, and, most important of all, urging upon the Highway Board and street railway the necessity of settling their differences and continuing the street car service out the Manawagonish road next year, when the new bridge will be completed. These are items of common interest previously talked over but never acted upon, and the revival of this the only place where such things can be discussed, shows the proper spirit of the times when those who stay at home from the country's battles are being urged to conduct "business as usual."

The two upper cords representing the last work on the span of the new bridge have been placed in position and this morning the first guard rail protecting the outer edge of the sidewalk section was installed. This rail is about as high as a man's shoulder, of very neat design and adds a finish that is quite noticeable.

As an indication of the growth of this community and the sections nearby, a resident of Fairville Plateau said yesterday that from the summer of 1912 to the same season of 1914 there had been fourteen houses erected in his vicinity.

The idea of holding a flag day has been dropped by the committee, that is, in so far as the general community is concerned. A number of persons were looking for taggers or other indications of systemized collection on November 2, as announced about a week ago; but nothing happened. The flags given by Mr. Allan will not be wasted, however, and a scheme is on foot to realize from them in a different way. The taggers, as well as other sections, has not yet done its full share toward either the patriotic or Belgian funds, though an excellent start has been made.
