JIM JEFFRIES TELLS WHY HE WILL NEVER FIGHT AGAIN

Retired Heavyweight Champion Pugilist is Now Bent on Amassing a Fortune in Business and Will Soon Open a Palatial Saloon in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 13.—Bill Squires sprang limply in his corner and his seconds started as they claved at the clean new gloves.

"Put Burns' name on this thing," he said. The official stakeholder produced a fountain pen and began experimenting with the same, and Jeffries grinned as he looked about him.

"No man ever had so much money that he could afford to pass up a gold mine, and if this fellow Squires should turn out to be a world-beater there would be my excuse for going after him.

"I fought every good heavy weight in the world, didn't I? Some of them I fought twice. Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Sharkey, Rubin, all the great men of six or seven years ago. I should have quit after the second Corbett fight, but that cleared off the bunch of good ones.

"I got the ranch into good shape, got a good farm, and I came into town. All this time they were after me—all over the country. First it would be some fellow in New York, 'Will you fight, apply, Jeff?' Then it would be from San Francisco—some old thing. Once I got the price. 'What's yours?' I knew the man who sent it and he means business. I sent him back a message that read: 'Every man has his day, too.'

TROUBLE IN IRELAND.

Really serious conditions exist in certain districts of Ireland, notably in and around Belfast, arising from industrial troubles. Not only are many employees of commercial and manufacturing establishments on strike, but large bodies of police and constabulary upon whom the authorities relied to preserve peace are in open revolt. Political prejudice is partly the cause of this dissatisfaction which is said to be common among the whole of the Royal Irish Constabulary throughout the island. The police, like the majority of Irishmen, are full of politics, a good many of them are nationalists, while some belong to the Sinn Fein Society. In addition to this the men complain of low pay, and also express dissatisfaction with the conditions of service. This cause is the one accepted by the authorities after an official enquiry, but among the masses, political prejudice is strongly evidenced and is believed to underlie the dissatisfaction. The police and constabulary of Belfast have refused absolutely to take any action against the striking mechanics, or in fact to perform any part of their duties. In view of this and as there is little prospect of reaching a settlement of the labor difficulties, the government has sent to Belfast one regiment, the Cameron Highlanders, with rapid fire guns, and before the end of this week additional troops will arrive, to increase the garrison to a strength of six thousand men. One constable, Barrett, leader of the revolt, was dismissed on Monday, and will not be taken back on the constabulary. His companions demand his reinstatement and also that their grievances be considered and promptly remedied by the inspector general. The police have been given until Saturday to resume duty, and if by that day they do not see fit to comply, troops will be placed in charge of all the stations, and the force of constabulary will pass out of official existence. But trouble is feared. The police and constables have arms and ammunition, and threaten opposition if any attempt is made to carry out the proposed arrangement. Tomorrow will bring the situation to a head, and whether the difficulties will be amicably settled, or whether bloodshed is to follow, will soon be known. Latest advices are to the effect that the grievances of the police will be remedied, but there are other demands which may cause some friction.

A LESSON FROM THE CAPITAL.

In the city of Fredericton there is a man by the name of Leonard Johnston who holds the position of assessor. His duties are similar to those set forth for the assessors in St. John, but they are performed in a somewhat different manner. This Mr. Johnston was given a copy of the law and was told to go ahead and prepare his list according to the conditions therein contained. Oddly enough—for divine officials seldom do as they are told—he obeyed, and when the assessment was prepared many Fredericton people were surprised. Mr. Johnston adopted the unusual procedure of accepting the law as printed, and not as some few wire-pullers would like to have it amended. He was told, by the act, to assess a man for a thousand dollars if he found that this man owned such an amount. He did so, and thereby got away from the popular plan of cutting the rate valuation in four, and assessing on one-quarter. Mr. Johnston surprised many people. Wealthy business men and other residents who had been escaping with thirty per cent. of the taxes they should be paying, found that Mr. Johnston who cares no more for the capitalist than he does for the pauper, had increased their assessment not by ten or twenty per cent, but in some cases by three or four hundred per cent. These men objected—of course they did—they always do—but what was the use? There was the law, there was the man to carry it out, and there was the property. The ratepayers could not well perjure themselves by swearing that their assessment was too high, so they complained against the act. But they are paying their taxes just the same, and will continue to pay, for they can well afford to do so. And they are not saying much about the large amounts which in years gone by have been cut from their taxes through low valuation. No one ever expected Mr. Johnston to use horse sense and common honesty in preparing his list, and naturally many people are deeply grieved to find that he has done so.

MARY UP TO DATE.

Mary had a little lamb, which fell into the brook. When Mary said, "What shall I do?" The lamb said, "Get the book."

not hold to the idea that the assessor's duty is to beg from the wealthy just as much money as they feel like giving without being offended. The St. John assessment list is more entertaining than a years subscription to Punch. It is full of humor and indeed should lead to public subscriptions for the support of some of those, who, judging from display, are fairly well-to-do. The list of doctors, lawyers, clergymen, merchants and capitalists, who manage to carry expensive establishments and to keep up appearances on incomes suited to junior bank clerks, is really very interesting. Leonard Johnston has discovered how it is done in Fredericton. Cannot some one get his recipe for St. John?

KOREANS OBJECT TO GIVING UP THEIR ARMS

One Regiment Turned on the Japanese—A Fight Ensued in Which Many Were Killed.

TOKYO, Aug. 2.—With the exception of an unsuccessful attack on the Japanese troops yesterday by some disbanded Korean soldiers, resulting in slight casualties on both sides, the Japanese losing one officer, a general calm in reported in Seoul. The disbanding of Korean troops does not apply to the court guards, the court being allowed to retain six battalions out of consideration of imperial prestige. It is believed that a lack of ammunition by the disaffected soldiers coupled with the strictest surveillance on the part of the Japanese authorities will prevent rising on an extensive scale. Reports give the number of killed and wounded as sixty Koreans and forty Japanese. About 2,000 men, willingly disbanded, marched without arms through the parade grounds where, according to rank, they received gratuities ranging from 25 to 50 yen. At 5 o'clock this morning the minister of war read the receipt of disbandment to the higher Korean officers at the house of General Hasegawa. A Korean major committed suicide. This excited his subordinates and also a battalion of the Second Division, who attacked the Japanese officers and their families. One battalion marched on the south gate where a clash occurred of which Captain Kajiwara and two others were killed. Over 100 Koreans escaped with their rifles and divided in two bands.

ENGLAND'S GIRL ATHLETES.

Dr. Davy Thinks the Men Have Muscular Degeneration—Different With Woman.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Addressing the British Medical Association, now in session at Exeter, Dr. Davy pointed out the danger to the nation's health owing to the changes in appearance of the last half century, which had led to marked muscular degeneration. The extended use of machinery, the tendency to abandon rural for urban life and the facilities for travelling without exertion, he said, were among the causes. The love of athletic games, Dr. Davy declared, was perhaps as strong as ever, but the people, instead of sharing in the games, were content to watch a few experts. Hundreds of thousands paid gate money to watch cricket and football games, which they never played themselves, while some of the manliest exercises, such as wrestling, boxing and fencing, were almost extinct. It was much the same with the rich man's sports. Instead of tramping the moors to shoot game the shooters sit at ease while the birds are driven within reach of the gun. Dr. Davy insisted upon the necessity for universal physical culture to check degeneration. In the same newspaper giving a report of Dr. Davy's address appears a summary of the experience of tradesmen that the energetic taking up by girls of athletic outdoor games was making their hands and feet larger. The tiny sizes of gloves and shoes that were once almost universal are no longer obtainable. Shoe traders remark that while the normal size of girls' shoes some time ago was No. 3, the demand is now chiefly for fives, sixes and even sevens. The modern girl, says one leader, runs, walks and indulges in athletic exercises to such an extent that her feet are lengthened and widened, transforming a pretty foot into an ugly one. Similar experiences are narrated by fitters.

Another Success at Nickel

RELIGIOUS FRENZY SPREADS.

Struggles With Devil in and Near Casco Being Made by Thousands. BERLIN, Aug. 1.—An epidemic of religious frenzy which began some time ago at Casco is now rapidly spreading through the surrounding country. It started with a series of revival services, at which two Swedish women who are credited with unusual spiritual endowments played a leading part. The meetings steadily increased in fervor and at present the scenes are almost indescribable. Every evening members of the congregation start suddenly to their feet and fling themselves about with extravagant gestures, uttering rapturous exclamations, which are rapturously hailed as inspired messages. Shrieks, groans and wild confessions of sin arise, while some say they have visions of heaven and hell. Men and women are seen on every side rolling on the floor in imaginary wrestling with the evil one. Some fall unconscious, exhausted by their struggles. Others, thinking they have prevailed over sin, jump up, and setting off their hats and men their cuffs and collars to symbolize their rejection of the vanities of the world. The bedlam scenes, which take place at night, attracted at the outset thousands of peasants from the surrounding country to Casco, but the frenzy has now seized the rural districts, where similar assemblies are going on.

Counsel Chosen for Henry Huntington, Who Shot Brothers and Sister.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Alonso Huntington, who was wounded by his brother Henry on Sunday during a quarrel in a room adjoining that of their dying father, is progressing favorably. The wound sustained by the sister, Elizabeth, is slight, but it is feared that her brain has been affected by shock. Douglas, another brother, who was also shot, is able to go out. Douglas says that Henry's birth occurred in tragic circumstances. During the terrible fire that raged in Chicago in 1857, their home was transformed into a hospital for injured people. Their mother was prematurely confined, and Henry when born did not weigh two

Why should not city and national expenditures serve as a basis for problems in the arithmetic class? Let the relation of deaths to air space, congestion and sanitation. Set him to figure out the ratio between the cost of education per pupil in every state and the assessed valuation of the state and its industrial output. Let him make quiet deductions of the annual loss to the nation from the destruction of forests, as he is set to figure upon forestry statistics. National and city reports and every magazine and paper will serve the teacher or pupil in gathering data for problems the working out of which may teach the need of good citizenship and show the relation of cause to effect more than any didactic lesson.

The power to read statistics intelligently is one that the quick reckoner and clever mathematician often lacks. A child who can figure correctly in billions may not have the slightest apprehension of how large an area one hundred acres is, or how long one thousand years may be, or how much space a million men would occupy. Experience shows that so little is the latter understood, the idea is commonly prevalent that the world may become overpopulated and this argument is sometimes adduced as an excuse for war—whereas a little calculation proves that all the population of the globe could be put into Texas and allow half an acre for each family. Let the area of the schoolyard, of the town, the cost of school building, the towns and states population, the death and births ratio and so forth be familiar to the pupil and made the basis of his calculations. Then when he reads that the United States in spending on its navy $5,000,000 a month, that 15,000 lives were saved in New York by the lowering of the death rate due to Colonel Waring's cleaning of the streets, these statements are not so likely to seem mere unrelated facts of no significance, but pregnant and

IRISH CONSTABULARY INSIST ON REDRESS
Remain Defiant and Will Stand Up for What they Consider Fair and Just BELFAST, Aug. 2.—The parade of the disaffected members of the local police force, which was scheduled to take place today, has been postponed if not altogether, abandoned, apparently if not altogether, abandoned, apparently to enable the government to be in a position to dismiss the entire police force of the city should drastic action become necessary.

The men remain defiant and declare they will not cease agitation until they have secured a public enquiry into their alleged grievances. Constable Barrett, who was dismissed from the force for insubordination, declares that among the grievances of the men is the fact that under the present "Dublin Castle" system only those men who are willing to play the part of provocateurs against their own government, Barrett claims that the present agitation will put an end to the "abominable system of manufacturing crime."

A SECRET TRIAL OF THE WRIGHT BROS.' AEROPLANE

PARIS, Aug. 1.—It is reported that a secret trial of the Wright Bros.' aeroplane is about to take place in France, as the result of an arrangement with the French government.

The aeroplane it is understood has been shipped from the United States and orders have been issued to the customs authorities to pass the case unopposed.

We wonder why the Ross horse comes down this way so often. David Boone has purchased the Wm. Lovely farm I wonder who the lucky girl is.

I see the man that gathers the lilies pass through here yesterday. Sandy Cole has moved upon the Iva Burtt farm.

They expect Miss Beatrice White home soon.

Mr. McIntosh has purchased the farm lately owned by Sandy Cole I wonder who is to keep house for him.

Herbert Smith who has been working in the mill has gone to the Fort for hay and Oh how sad some people look I wonder why the rubber tire never comes now.

Who said it was going to stop raining. I think they were mistaken for C. E. Foster and family passed through the city today for Moncton.

Mr. Foster was formerly district game warden of the C. P. I. in this city and is now located in Toronto with the C. P. R.

Catherine and Florence Webster of Waltham are visiting Mrs. John Wade of this city. Wade and the Misses Wade, Leysall Sullivan had a choppy bee at his place Thursday. Bunyan Hitchcock still continues at his old trade of rat-running. Good season for this work.

Everybody complaining of the weather, but what's the use. The Rev. and J. Bowmaster have returned from Limestone, Me., where they have been working.

T. O. Sullivan is making preparations to build a new kitchen on his house.

We are sorry to say that Chandler Brown lost a very valuable horse a short time ago.

Harold Hunt is home at present on the sick list.

Ed. McInnes is away at present with a company of surveyors.

Norman Wright has improved the looks of his dwelling by the addition of a veranda and a bay window.

Mrs. Geo. Hamilton, of Blaine, Me., and her daughter, Mrs. Griffiths, of Mapleton, Me., were visiting relatives here. Mrs. Hamilton, who is 83 years of age, has been married four times. Her maiden name was Annie Deo, sister of the late Richard Deo, and the family lived at Medford.

W. A. Austin and Miss Edna Hitchcock are planning for a trip to Boston shortly, and when they go we are sure to give them a shower of rice. Miss Lillian Peoples was a guest at Red Rapids last week.

Mrs. W. H. Saffling called on Mrs. P. McInnes Wednesday.

We hear that Wilbert Higgins is going to work for Uncle Sam. He will be much missed here, especially by his many friends of the fair sex.

We hear one of our young men got left and we would like to know who picked him up.

I suppose you are beginning to think Rowena is dead. But it is not it has only been asleep.

Mr. Wm. Cole has a new organ.

One of the young men of this place is very glad to think the fellow with the red head never returned.

Mrs. Beveridge of Andover, and Mrs. White of Caribou, was visiting Mrs. Henry Boone and while there went fishing and had very good luck.

Quite a pleasant evening was spent at the home of P. S. Sullivan last week. After several games, etc., the visitors were treated to chicken stew, when they left for their home wishing their hosts many happy returns.

Every one here are wondering if we are to have another flood.

J. E. Higgins and Mrs. Mary Sullivan were at the Falls one day last week.

Mrs. Ward Goucher and Mrs. Wm. Boone were visiting friends at Arthur ette last week. What lovely weather.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN EXPRESS COMPANIES

Worcester, Mass., Aug. 2.—The Telegram says today:—"In an upheaval of express systems operating in New England and the east, the American Express Co. has gained exclusive control of the cities and towns reached only by the N. Y. C. line. In this movement the Adams Express Co. has been forced from the Boston and Albany division of the New York Central lines between Worcester and Boston and on the Webster branch.

Twenty-one Massachusetts offices of the Adams Co. were closed yesterday. Fourteen other offices of the Adams Co. within the same territory where other than the N. Y. C. enter also continue in opposition to compete with the Adams Express Co.

N. Y. DETECTIVES ARE INVESTIGATING CRIMES IN ARMENIAN COLONY

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Detectives left here tonight to investigate in other cities bits of reported evidence which they hope to place together with facts gathered here and substantiate their theory of recent murders in the Armenian colony. The destinations of the officers was not made known, but it is believed their trips will include visits to Lowell, Mass., and Providence, R. I.

Constant efforts are being made to secure a confession from Behrouz Hampartoumian, the assassin of the merchant Tavahanjian. Archbishop Stepien of Hoboken, N. J., saw Bedros in his cell today and is said to have urged the prisoner to shield no one but to make a clean breast of the conspiracy of blackmail and murder in which he is alleged to have been a tool.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—A fire which started from an unknown cause today, consumed the main building of the plant of the Cunningham Iron Company, and caused loss estimated at $100,000.

HONG KONG, Aug. 1.—No American or European were injured by the collapse of the old part of the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 2.—The "News" today says that E. F. Richardson of Denver, who was one of W. D. Haywood's counsels has withdrawn from any further interests of the case and other Western Federations of miners in cases now pending before the Idaho courts. He is quoted as saying that he will not work with Clarence Darrow's methods," said Richardson. "I do not sanction socialism at least not when it is coupled with the trying of a legal suit, and principally when my case is a murder case and means a man's life."

Treasury Board Decided to Grant 5 Per Cent. Discount on Taxes Paid Before October the First

The Treasury Board last night decided to grant a discount of five per cent on taxes paid before the first of October. The recorder's bills caused some discussion. Mr. McAlpine was heard in regard to the Canadian Gazette which he is getting out for circulation through the Dominion, the United States, Great Britain and the West Indies.

The proposition, he said, has met with the approval of Lord Strathcona. All the cities of Canada are advertising in the book. Halifax is taking a page and Fredericton a page or half a page. There is a guaranteed circulation of 25,000 at least. To an advertiser he said that he had not approached the Board.

KILLED SQUAW; WERE REWARDED

Indians Were Afraid of Wendigo or Evil Spirit

Chief and Medicine Man Strangled Sick Woman—Both Under Arrest Awaiting Trial for Murder

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—An extraordinary piece of barbarism was recently committed by Indians within two hundred miles of civilization, and two brave, the chief and the medicine man of the band, are under arrest at Norway House awaiting trial for the murder of a squaw. The affair occurred among a band of Crees at Sandy Lake in Keewatin, about two hundred miles north of Kenora. The Indians believe a person who secures a dangerous possession of a wendigo or evil spirit. They also believe that if a person is allowed to die a natural death when delirious the spirit escapes, roaming the woods and frightening away the game, starvation and famine follow. As a precaution against this the custom of the natives is to have the chief and medicine man of the band strangle the sick person so the wendigo may be confined in the body after death.

Last winter a squaw was taken sick and became delirious. The band assembled and condemned the woman to death. According to custom the chief and medicine man were directed to strangle her in the presence of the band, though she was a blood relative and of the same name. Jack and Joe Fidler put a noose about her neck and strangled her. The duty was held to be an honorable one, and the parents, according to custom, rewarded the executioners with baskets of goods. The mounted police heard of the affair and arrested the two men. They and the witnesses are now at Norway House. The justice department are now figuring whether it would be more convenient to send a judge to try them at Norway House or bring them to Edmonton for trial. The chief asked the police not to deal too severely with him, as he did not know the white man was doing wrong, as he was only following the immortal custom of his people. He said that if he had known the white man would not approve of the deed he would not have taken the woman's life.

RECOLLECTIONS HEROIC

Its recollections are heroic—except to the man who sees nothing in history but his own image. That time was a passionate and creative epoch; its days were done; the men who did them lived. Prophets, prophets, Titans in statesmanship, and in action Paladins of Arthurian stamp in everything.

RECORDER'S BILLS

A bill of Recorder Skinner of $10 for looking into the policies of fire insurance on the Mott property recently burned down, was discussed. The house was unoccupied when burnt and a settlement was made with the companies for two-thirds the amount of the insurance. Ald. Frink moved that the claim be paid.

FIVE PER CENT. TAX DISCOUNT

Ald. Frink moved that a five per cent. discount be again allowed by the year on the payment of taxes by the first of October. Ald. Bullock thought that half of that amount would be sufficient. He would rather charge interest on the non-payment of taxes instead of giving a discount for immediate payment.

THE DEATHLESS FAME OF GENERAL GARIBALDI

The centenary of Giuseppe Garibaldi has recently been celebrated with wonderful enthusiasm throughout the civilized world. It was kept, remarks an eloquent writer in an English contemporary, everywhere throughout united Italy, where every town, from Rome to the Adriatic, has its statue to his memory, and its street or piazza devoted to his name. The man who did them trained and sheltered him, the day has been remembered and softened by martyrdom. He was a man of letters and a man of letters, and he was a man of letters.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

We find him across the Atlantic, half-consciously preparing for the time to come, half-consciously shaped by his own temperament for the tasks of the future. He becomes a fighter on land and sea, amid South American revolutions and wars, and in the Italian peninsula, and in the Italian peninsula, and in the Italian peninsula.

OFFERED SWORD TO THE POPE

When Pius IX. seemed about to become the apostle of Italian unity and freedom, the most inveterate of priests wrote to offer his sword to the Pope, and when the revolutions of 1848 began to threaten many thrones and every tyranny in Europe, Garibaldi crossed the sea and presented himself in person in Sicily. The Red Shirt had appeared in Italian politics, and within a few months the name of its wearer became a household word throughout the world.

HIS COURAGE AND SUCCESS.

His legendary courage and success appealed to the primal instinct that is alive in every child, and only imperfectly smothered in its elders. Mazzini was the soul of the Italian struggle for freedom; Cavour was its brain, and without him the rest would have been nothing; Victor Emmanuel was its standard-bearer; but unless we say that not how we shall describe him. One of these great prophets of mystical democracy who made his followers see visions and dream dreams, but there is no light upon the question of method which is always the vital business in practical politics, is now too much disparaged. The Italo-Gaetanico seated the dynasty of Savoy upon the Quirinal, enhanced the indelible tradition of his house, and gave the nation the hereditary leadership which has proved, in spite of Mazzini, to be the best security of Italian freedom and

SPRINGHILL STRIKE HAS ASSUMED A CURIOUS ASPECT

The Conciliation Board Adjourns Until Its Services are Again Necessary

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 1.—The strike of the miners of Springhill has precipitated a curious situation. The conciliation board which began its sessions yesterday morning came to a termination today. In opening the session this morning, Chairman Judge Patterson stated that in view of the strike he did not think it necessary that the investigation should be continued, as he thought all matters in dispute would have to come up for adjustment at some later time whenever the parties saw fit to come together for a settlement. He therefore suggested that the board adjourn until its services would be again necessary. The suggestion was favorably considered by the men and the company and the board now stands adjourned. The following message was sent by the board: Deputy Minister of Labor, Ottawa: "In spite of continuous negotiations yesterday the strike is today. Feeling that when the matter upon which the strike was called was settled the matters were investigated and being settled as well, the board with consent of the company and employees has adjourned, to meet again at the call of the chairman. It is hoped that the subjects for their investigation were left undisturbed when settlement occurred. The board has offered its services as a medium through which the conflicting interests may be negotiated for a settlement of all the matters in dispute. (Signed), Geo. Patterson, chairman."

TUNING OF THE ORCHESTRA

All that had passed was to seem by his audacious, and fairly swift Hapsburg eagles held their prey secure. Pagan and Bourbon despotism at Rome and Naples believed that "the" chance came again in the campaign of 1859, when he puzzled the enemy by his erratic strategy, dumfounded them by his audacious, and fairly swift Hapsburg detachments before him along the skirts of the Alps. But the city and the Austrians in Venetia were a small competence. His career was little more than forty. His career was little more than forty. His career was little more than forty.

RED SHIRTS SET OUT

In the teeth of every presumption, the Red Shirts set out with a regiment of irregulars to pull down a kingdom. No passage in the narrative of this incredible achievement is so wonderful as the list of dates. On the 4th of May, 1860, The Thousand rallied from Genoa. In a week they had landed at Marsala, and were marching forward, routing armies and taking towns. In less than a month, while King Francis, though still not at the worst of these astounding experiences, was praying to the Pope, the Bourbon power in Sicily was extinguished. The impetus of this dazzling success carried Garibaldi to the mainland, and again cities fell before him, and he went through Bourbon armies like a plough-share through the soil.

It was the political equivalent of an eruption of Vesuvius, and more, for the earthquake of Europe trembled under the blows of this audacious conqueror. The Piedmontese were com-

CRIME SHOCKS NEW YORK CITY

Police Circles Stirred Over Revolting Butcheries

Body of Eighteen Year Old Girl Found Yesterday Friendlily Mutilated—Mystery Surrounds Affair

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—"The graveyard," as the foreign populated neighborhood on First Avenue between Thirtieth and Fourteenth streets, is known locally, gave up today a fresh crime, rivalling in atrocity the mysterious butcheries of last week. The latest discovered victim was an eight-year-old girl, like the two young women murdered, she had been shockingly mistreated before death, and her body friendlily mutilated when life was extinct. The three murders apparently were committed within twenty-four hours and by strikingly similar means. Last Thursday night a woman was strangled in a Twenty-second street boarding house; the next morning the body of a still unidentified woman, who had been choked to death, was found in an area way in East Ninetieth street. Katie Pritschler, daughter of a restaurant waiter, disappeared a week ago and was killed that night. A ribbon placed about the throat and drawn so tightly that it cut the flesh, showed how she died. If the brutality of the murders can be qualified, that of the Pritschler girl ranks first. Not content with robbing the unusually attractive and buoyant-spirited girl first of her maidenly attributes and then of her life, the savage in the last of her slayer found gratification in unpeppable attacks on the lifeless form. "The body of the girl," took its name from the proximity of the old Thirtieth Street cemetery and the locality has been the scene of several revolting murders. A few months ago a woman was hacked to death with an axe in an old house which adjoins the ancient burying ground. The majority of the murders are Italian with a pretty strong mixture of Germans and Bohemians. Carl Fritschler, the father of Katie, is a hard-working respectable citizen. He has several other children all younger than Katie was. The latter was last Thursday evening to play in the street and it is significant that, although when she failed to return the police notified the police and a general alarm was sent out, the body was today discovered within a block of her home and scarcely a hundred yards from the location of a placard placed by the father calling attention to the fact that his child was lost. How the girl could have remained undiscovered for a week if diligent search was made is not explained.

THE GIRL'S BODY

The girl's body was stumbled upon by a woman who visited the basement of the house at 203 First Avenue. It lay upon a berry crate with seemingly no effort at concealment. The body was found by a woman who visited the basement of the house at 203 First Avenue. It lay upon a berry crate with seemingly no effort at concealment.

AT THE CORNER'S DIRECTION

At the corner's direction, Giuseppe Ripplano, whose cobble shop adjoins the girl's home, was arrested and asked to explain his absence from his shop on last Friday. He established the fact that he had passed the day at Bristol Conn., where he had bartered for a new place of business. The girl is said to have frequented Ripplano's place, and a search of the shop brought to light a man's shirt, which bore red stains. The girl was arrested and remained in custody at the police station. Giuseppe Ripplano's partner, was questioned but threw little light on the case and was not detained. The police also began a search for a woman who is said to have formerly roomed at the Pritschler home, and have left there after a quarrel and taken up lodgings in the house where the body was found.

WHEN NEWS OF THE FINDING

When news of the finding of the little body spread through the neighborhood excitement rose to such a pitch that the removal of the body and the arrest of Ripplano caused almost a riot. Possibly 4,000 persons were in the nearby streets when the wagon from the morgue arrived. The crowd vented its grief and rage in a babel of tongues. The police were compelled to club their way through the street. Soon afterwards the arrest of the cobbler became known, and the crowd charged the prisoner's shop. Ripplano had been safely removed to the station house, but his house narrowly escaped destruction. Stones shattered its windows, and only the determined front of the police reserves, who clubbed right and left, prevented greater damage.

PELLED TO THE STATE OF THE CHURCH

pelled to the State of the Church and in less than six months from the invading of the Red Shirts from Marsala the area of liberated Italy had been doubled, only the recovery of the little Papal enclave round Rome were needed to make unification complete, and Victor Emmanuel and Garibaldi entered Naples together. That was the climax of a record which the later misfortunes of Aspromonte and Mentana could not deface, and which even the divulgent campaign upon the side of France in 1860 would not enhance. "O Rome, o Rome," was not the watchword of a fortunate campaign, but it expressed the genius of his career and the inspiration that conquered. He was not a stage-hero, but he had a heart of gold, as was said, and with it the will to win. The deathless stuff of great manhood was in him, and while his spirit lives in Italy she will live.

"And the fraud I am—de Gruche!"
She caught his hand tightly. Never before had it occurred to her to defend or to excuse the transparent fiction.

Her reply set a new light to his passion. "You'd weep?" he cried.
"Of course I would!" The answer was half a laugh, half a sob.

of Clark's Pork and Beans. Because there is more strength and energy in the grade of Beans that Clark uses than prime Canadian Beef even. And that is why is the most economical as well as the best food for the worker and for growing children. But to make that energy and strength your own the beans must be properly cooked, and here is just where Clark's Pork and Beans excel, "just done to a turn" with a piece of fine farmed pork—ready to eat.

Clark's Pork and Beans

Clark's Other Good Things to Eat. Corned Beef, Sliced Smoked Beef, Veal Loaf, Lunch Tongue, Roast Beef, Ready Lunch Beef, Potted Meats, Ham Loaf, Beef Loaf.

An enjoyable dance was held at Millidgeville last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonnell, who will leave shortly for Vancouver. About seventy young people were present.

David Hennessey was arrested on Pond street this morning shortly after eleven o'clock for drunkenness. He resisted quite strenuously and was at last taken away in a sloop. The visitors to the city who were in the street many interesting remarks upon the rather crude looking patrol wagon.

It is reported unofficially that Conductors Milligan, Rennie and Kelly of the Intercolonial have applied for superannuation under the new provision which was to go into effect on August first. No statements regarding the superannuation of I. C. R. officials have been given out but changes will be made soon.

An application was made before Chief Justice Tuck by H. A. Powell, K. C., on behalf of Fawcett Wilbur who is at present confined to Dorchester for two months hard labor, having been sentenced for common assault. The grounds for the application were that the commitment was had and improper discretion used. H. A. McKeown K. C., appeared for the Attorney General. Hearing was adjourned till Thursday at noon.

J. Milton Price appeared before Judge Barker this morning and received an order in the case of Farrell vs. Messrs. Manchester and Elkin, of the Portland Trolling Mills, appeal to the Supreme Court at Fredericton. The judge decided what evidence should go on appeal before Supreme Court.

BOYS WERE FINED FOR FIGHTING ON THE STREET

A Number of Board of Health Cases in Police Court Today

Magistrate Ritchie had a busy morning session in the police court today. Four drunks were fined the usual amounts.

Harry Alexander, David O'Keefe and Arthur Parks were charged with fighting on Charlotte street last Saturday night. Alexander and O'Keefe pleaded not guilty, while Parks pleaded guilty. John Watta was called as witness and said that 10:15 o'clock Saturday night he saw Parks and another in Spenkake, later on he saw Parks make a move to get at Alexander. O'Keefe tried to get Alexander away and some big, burly fellow hit young O'Keefe and knocked him down. Parks rushed at Alexander again and they clinched and fell to the ground. That was all there was to it.

Parks went on the stand and swore that he had been down King street frequently with a young lady and Alexander made a remark that he could get something better to walk with than that. Saturday night he asked Alexander why he insulted him one night on King street.

The magistrate said that if Parks had had a big fist and had done something to Alexander's eyes when he made that remark the penalty would not have been collected. He would have been manly to protect the woman.

Alexander took the stand and said Parks assaulted him twice. O'Keefe was allowed to go.

The other two magistrates said, were liable to a fine of $20, and if Parks had first come to the court and reported that Alexander had insulted him the latter would have been sent for. No person has a right to assault people on the street and if persons go up and speak to any woman they are liable to be punished.

Alexander and Parks were fined $20 or two months in jail. An old man, named Montague, charged Harry Alexander with frequently driving against his two wheeled street wagon. The old man said that while he had been doing scavenger work Alexander has annoyed him about fifteen times and then gone off laughing.

The magistrate said that Alexander was liable to a fine of $20, and was not allowed to go over the crossing faster than at a walk.

The fine of $20 was allowed to stand against his pending future good conduct.

Thomas Clark, of the West End, was fined $2 for allowing his horses to run at large on the public streets.

There were a number of board of health cases before the court and James V. Morrison, who has thirty-five properties was up on five different charges of having unclean premises. He was fined $40, which was allowed to stand providing he had the places cleaned before next Tuesday.

CHAS. DIGGS SUFFERS FROM HIS BROTHER'S CONDUCT

Prominent Commercial Traveller Has Met With Loss of Business Through Alexander's Misdeeds

In these days of strenuous competition small merchants have a hard time in retaining wealth, says Charles Diggs, the well known vendor of shoes and lead pencils, but when they have relatives who will come into the limelight through the medium of the police court, then their lot becomes doubly hard.

Charles was moved to make remarks similar to the above owing to the misdeeds of his brother Alexander. "Alex" was found drunk in the old burying ground yesterday and well meaning but hasty citizens confounded him with his respectable and honorable brother, to the detriment of the latter.

Charles says that when he went his rounds this morning, some of his best customers received him frigidly and declared they wanted no more business dealings with a man who was so drunk that observers thought he was dead. Several of these gentlemen refused to listen to Charles' explanation, saying that a man who would get drunk would certainly know how to excuse himself. Charles further says this is not the first time he has got into business difficulties through the "scandalous conduct" of his brother. He would like to impress on the public that he leads a virtuous and upright life, that some of the best citizens of St. John are his intimate friends, and that, notwithstanding his fraternal handicap, he is still doing business.

LOTS OF MEN IDLE, ARE UNWILLING TO WORK

Union Street Repairs and Other Jobs Delayed by Scarcity of Laborers

The reconstruction of Union street is going on favorably but is somewhat retarded by the inability to procure laborers. Director Peters said this morning that, though men could not be procured to perform the work as quickly as was desirable. The current rate of wages—$2.25 a day—is being offered but the laborers do not seem as if it. One laborer who was speaking to the director this morning about a job said he had put in a good winter's work and thought he would loaf during the summer. Each day scores of men lean against the railing and watch the progress of the work. They are satisfied to remain passive spectators.

The director also said that several days ago he had advertised for men to work on the streets laying the block pavement. So far he has had three applications for jobs, two of the applicants being boys.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS TO HOLD MEETING IN TORONTO

The first annual convention of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada will be held in Toronto on August 19th and 20th. The eighth annual convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters will be held in the same city on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd of August. The official headquarters of the conventions will be at the King Edward Hotel.

The first meeting of the executive of the former association will be in the forenoon of Monday, August 19th, at the King Edward. In the afternoon there will be a business session in the convention hall of the University of Toronto when addresses of welcome will be given by the mayor of Toronto and the president of the Toronto Underwriters' Association. These will be followed by the president's address and brief papers by A. S. McGregor, of London, W. J. Bell, Guelph, and R. H. Haycock, of Ottawa. Monday evening will be devoted to pleasure. The executive's report will be discussed on Tuesday morning, and during the day there will be addresses by C. W. Pickell, of Detroit; J. O. McCarthy, Toronto; J. R. Reid, Toronto; C. F. Carreau, Montreal; B. H. Brown, Montreal; G. J. Mills, Toronto; A. H. Vipond, Montreal; C. P. McQueen, Calgary; J. T. Lachance, Quebec; and E. W. Cox, Toronto. The place of meeting for the next convention will be decided and officers elected. On Tuesday evening there will be a banquet at which addresses will be delivered by F. B. McMillan, president of the National Association; W. B. Wynne, Chicago; J. S. Whitton, Toronto; Eon, W. A. Weir, Montreal; and G. H. Allen, Montreal. This will be the most important convention of life underwriters ever held in Canada and subjects of the greatest interest will be discussed. A meeting of the St. John Association will be held here on August 12th when arrangements will be made for sending delegates to Toronto.

ROCKEFELLER IS NOT IN POOR HEALTH

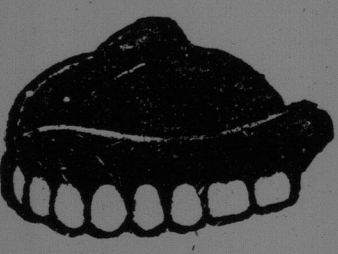

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 2.—At Forest Hill the suburban home of John D. Rockefeller it was stated today that there was absolutely no truth in reports printed this morning that Mr. Rockefeller would shortly undergo a surgical operation. It was also denied that he expected to leave the city today, or any time within the near future.

Mr. Rockefeller, it was added, played golf this morning with Dr. Biggar, his physician, and was enjoying the best of health.
