Mr. Sifton stated that so soon as some municipality would undertake to levy taxes on C. P. R. lands the govern-ment would pay the expenses of the ment would pay the expenses of the test suit.

MacLean gave notice of motion on the same question, which will require parliament to settle the question. After dinner Mr. McLean brought in his motion in regard to determining the claims of the Northwest in regard to the right of municipalities to tax lands granted to the Canadian Pacific. It urges that 20 year exemptions date from the date of the original grant and

Mr. Bicker-dike pointed out that the petition called for an inland insurance company, while the bill excluded this altogether. The petition wanted one thing, and the petition wanted one thing, and the bill, which was for ocean insurance, another. He wanted to put the minis-ter of public works right when he said that the insurance companies did not give any guarantee to the government to lower rates if the navigation of the St. Lawrence was improved. The in-surance companies gave that assur-ance to the government; just as soft as the channel was improved, insur-ance rates would go down. Insurance, like water, would find its own level, in that regard it was like any other bus-ness.

EPAIN AND THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Although so far without official confirmation, the report that the Spanish council has approved the draft of the new treaty of sommercial friendship between the United States and Spain finds (redence here, Minister Storer has been hard at work regoliating a whole fabric of treaties to take the place of those wiped out by the Spanish war. His first work was the pre-paration of an extradition treaty, and this is now prectically complete. Oreat difficulty was found in arriving at a comimon basis of negotiations for the treaty of commerce and rriendship. The old treaty was of such aneient date as to be un-sorviceable as a foundation. The scars left by the war were so fresh that Mr. Store found it a difficult and delicate task to se ourse substantial concessions, but it is be lieved that he has succeeded and that Am arisen obliged to pay almost prohibitor never that he has succeeded and that Am-ericen imports to Sphn, which since the war have been obliged to pay almost prohibitory maximum rates, will secure substantial re-ductions that will result in enlarged trade. OTTAWA LETTER.

Pewerful Speech By Mr. Monk, of Jacques Cartier.

A Severe Arrangement of Mr Blair's Extravagant Management of the Intercolonial Railway.

OTTAWA, March 27.—Reference has been made in several letters to the differences of opinion existing among liberal members as to what policy is best suited to the general development of Canada. Since the debate on the budget speech opened nearly two weeks ago, those who spoke from sterial surroundings hardly uttere which coincided. They WO 104 found to be free traders, protect nists and revenue tariff supporters men who favored a fair n sciprocity with the United for East Sum mewhat of an auto-mewhat of an auto-mewhat of an autoconsidered somewhat of an authority considered somewhat of an authority on saw logs, had occasion to move "that, in the opinion of the house duties should be levied upon lumber imported into Canada corresponding with those now existing upon lumber entering the United States." Mr. Bennett is a convative and of course a strong pro-Therefore, it will not tectionist. surprising that he made a strong na-tional policy speech, in the course of which he pointed out that many adfould accrue to lumb vantages would accrue to lumbering if his suggestions were acted upon.

It is hardly possible that Mr. Bennett could have foreseen the result of his inmocent proposal, but it had some-what the same effect as a fire brand in a powder magazine. It stirred the liberal party to the lowest depths and carried some of its supporters back to the days when they were assuring constituencies, in all parts of the country that free trade was the only balm that would heal the ills and woes of this down-trodden dominion. How they iamented. It was almost path-etic to hear some of them talk free trade and that sort of thing. It was interesting, too, to note the restless looks that came over the counten-ances of the several ministers who had to listen to this wide and somewhat remarkable divergence of opinion.

In dealing with so many surprises it is a little difficult to determine just where to commence and just where to end. But perhaps we cannot do bet-ter than to take a passing glance at the opinion as expressed by the re-doubtable John Charlton, the member for North Norfolk Mr. Charlton one of the gentlemen wh was foren in the struggle to hand Canadian m sets over to Uncle Sam, but now he not only a protectionist, but he is what Sir Wilfrid Laurier would term a. "stalwart of the stalwarts." Mr. riton found out in some way that men of Minnesota are the used in Mantoba and the Northwest is imported from Minnesota. So Mr. Charlton proposes to impose a duty on American lumber which would bring United States to their senses. If his advice is followed out, he says that any future negotiations that may take place between this country and the United States will be carried on in a manner that will surprise the gova manner that win surprise the gov-ernment. Last year we actually bought from the United States $2,000, 000 worth of lumber and farm pro-ducts more than we sold them, but our exports of farm produce has fallen off so rapidly that Mr. Charlton sees no son why we should be anxious to ik our hearts in endeavoring to which a good feeling with the establish a good feeling with United States Then came a denunciation from Mr. W. C. Edwards of Russell, which must have made Sir Wilfrid's sunny ways almost drop to freezing point. Mr. Edwards is a lumberman whose interests are said to be large. He is also one of the old liberals who still talks free trade. Today he finds that the government is bilinding the far-mergetide a host of cretences which they talks free trade. Today he finds that the government is blinding the far-mer with a bost of pretences which they are making in regard to revenue tar-iff. The revenue tariff such as has been adopted by the Laurier adminis-tration is, according to Mr. Edwards, nothing more than protection of the vilest sort. He believes that to pro-tect manufacturers is simply to take money out of the pockets of the lum-berman, the farmer, the miner and the many others who are engaged in developing the natural resources of the country. Therefore, it would only be right that the government should combat everything which tends to heap this great injustice upon the heads of those who suffer by it. Not only was he epposed to a duty on lum-ber, but he wanted everything conwas he opposed to a duty on lum-but he wanted everything con-ted with the lumber industry ced on the free list and allowed to into the country without any deration being given to anybody hen Mr. Walter Scott, from West Inibola, took a hand in and sup-Assimibola, took a hand in and sup-ported the government in its policy of revenue tariff. He sees indications on he gart of the government to prune lown the duties to the lowest possible margin. Mr. Scott must have an in-ide view of the situation, because no-body else has seen the fiscal policy of the liberal party in the same light hat he seems to have seen it in. Of ourse he is a new member, and that hay be one reason for his confidence on those who are directing the affairs may be one reason for his confidence in those who are directing the affairs of the country. As a western man he is rather between the upper and the lower millstone. He wants free trade and at the same time he considers it his duit to support the government in and at the same time time to government in any measure that it may introduce. It will be seen that this places Mr. Scott in a rather ticklish position. But then if his constituents are satisfied, no doubt the rest of the dominion will not feel highly offended.

ha say, comes from West Huron. Mr needs no introduction, for his part in the West Huron election scandals have given him an introduction to the people of Canada which, if not desirable, has been effectual. Mr. Holmes finds that a burning que with the people is connected with the lowering of duties instead of raising em. He is sorry to see the gov ent side of the house are drifting mony with protection printo the record of the mil connection with their ciples, in connection with speeches on the budget. nohardson of Lisgar to rdest and most telling be vernment. If 4-But it dell to notoriety that Mr. Richardson is a man over whom even the suave pre-mier has no influence. Mr. Richardmier das no influence. Mr. Richard-son has broken away from his party in the past, when he considered they were in the wrong. And in conse-quence during the last election he found himself a straight liberal, op-posed most bitterly by the govern-ment heelers in his own constituency. But the people of Lisgar had taith in their felerer young memory taitye and their clever young representative and so they have him once more to fight battles, feeling, as th their that in him sincerity is not lacking. What Mr. Richardson desires to know nost is something definite in regard to the policy of the governme insists that it would be well for Wilfrid Laurier to frankly tell cople of Canada what he proposes beople of Canada what his projects to do in regard to maintaining the pres-ent high protection. Quoting from a speech of the Hon. Geo. E. Foster, he finds that the government reduced the 35 per cent tariff of the liberal conservative party 71-100ths of one per cent. He also ascertained that Mr Martin, a liberal, at a meeting in Winnipeg, showed that the reductions amounted to less than one per cent; and then he told the house of Mr. Pat-erson's estimate that the decrease had been two and a half per cent.

While Mr. Richardson is not inclin ed to be hypercritical of the policy adopted by the government, he is dis-appointed in regard to their broken pledges. Speaking as the representa-tive of a western constituency, he deaires to see something more nearly proaching free trade. But when Mr. Sifton and Mr. Tarte and other min-isters have announced that the pres-ent tariff is to be a fixture, Mr. Richreat expectations in regard to any the lumbermen of Minnesota are the men who are responsible for the en-forcement of the lumber duties in the United States. He therefore is anx-fous that these gentlemen should be brought to terms. Much of the lumber nately delivered right into the fold of protection, body and bones. Being a young man of strong opinions in re-gard to free trade, he feels that he has gard to nee trade, he rees that the has placed altogether too much confidence in the promises held out by some of the ministers. But he hopes to see things righted and the Right Hon. Sir minster of railways was not alone in this matter. Mr. Tarte in his con-struction of the Yukon telegraph lines Wilfrid Laurier brought back to the paths from which he has strayed. Let us hope for the benefit of Canada that in this fond wish Mr. Richardson may had made an outlay of a quarter of a million dollars. Glancing over the items which made up this total, Mr. in this fond wish Mr. Richardson may be disappointed, for it must be appar-ent to every sensible person that whether it was intentional or not on the part of the government, they were wise when they stumbled into their present protective system, undesirable as it may be. Monk found that drinking cups, pis-tols, ammunition, eider down quilts, were matters which, according to Mr. Tarte's idea, should be paid for out of capital account. Every tenet of com-mon sense and every sound business principle had been ignored in this system of carrying on the affairs of the country. Yet the minister of trade and Another cause for alarm in Mr. Richardson's opinion is the extrava-gance which is attending the govern-ment policy in this country. Where is the promise held forth by the Hon. Davis Mills, and endorsed by the preountry. Yet the minister of trade and commerce was as quiet as a lamb and aw nothing but virtue in this scandalous transaction. On the Intercol-onial the government have wasted money on many useless schemes. They the promise held forth by the Hon. Davis Mills, and endorsed by the pre-mier and Sir Louis Davies, to the ef-flect that the Hoefad party would re-duce the cost of running the machine four or five million dollars per an-num? Mr. Richardson believes that not only can five million dollars be saved, but that eight million dollars would be nearer the figure, if proper economy were practised. He did not attribute the good times which we have enjoyed during the past four years to any acts of the government, but to Providence. Unfortunately in the time of plenty the government had been altogether too lavish in their ex-penditure and the day would come when deficits would have to be faced. He believed with ex-President Cleve-iand that a public office is a public trust, and he believed that the govern-ment should direct that trust to the best advantages of the country. Will the government be likely to adopt Mr. Richardson's suggestions ? Honey of hany beeness at St. John and Halifax, but were unable to use them to any degree, and if the cost of main-tenance was considered it would be found that the grain handled in these buildings had cost as much as if it had en moved in teaspoons. In the Yukon a most unsatisfactory condition of affairs has existed, and from the outset gross mismanagemen has characterized Mr. Sifton's admin has characterized Mr. Sifton's admin-istration. When the Yukon rallway was proposed the minister of the in-terior threatened the members to the left with dire regrets in the future who ventured to oppose that scheme. This was one instance where he had been blocked in his incapacity. It seems that in the Yukon there were some $200,000,000 of gold in sight, and yet most of that was allowed to be below out of the country by foreign aken out of the country by foreign adventurers. In his own province of Quebec Mr. Monk could scarcely name a person who had derived any advan-tage from that great natural wealth. Manipulators and speculators had been allowed to come in from all parts of the world and Camada had been able OTTAWA, March 28.-Mr. Monk the member for Jacques Cartier, is a man who commands the attention and respect of the house on any occasion on which he addresses it. His reputa-tion in Quebec enables him to rank with the leading lawyers of that prov-ince, and it is said of Mr. Monk that to retain but a little of what was due her. In respect to the policy of immigra-tion adopted in Canada, Mr. Monk had much to say. He has been alarmed at the doings of W. T. R. Preston, who ince, and it is said of Mr. Monk that he is a gentleman by birth, education and inclination. Therefore it is not surprising that he should be one of those who are born to lead and not to follow. In its selection of Mr. Monk as the first lieutenant of the conser-vative party, the opposition have made no mistake. He has seldom addressed parliament during the present session, but on those occasions on which he favored the commons with his opin-ions, he was given a hearing which denotes deep interest on the part of its members. Such a speech was that which Mr. Monk delivered on Tuesday in reply to many efforts on the part of government followers to bolster up the budget speech.

One of the things that struct Mr. Monk as peculiar on the govern Mr. Monk as peculiar on the south ment side of the house, was the great diversity of opinion that existed there. Where are we today in that regard? The expenditure has increased by lions of dollars each year and nister of trade and comm ot raised his voice in opp In the days of his opposition he for-mulated that policy known as that of the patrons of industry, but that policy seems to have been forgotten in the immense expenditures that have fol-lowed. Another of his pet schemes is the total and complete independence of parliament, but that has been buried with the rest since the government has assumed the reins of office. Another matter that Sir Richard to talk about was the system of giving contracts for public works without tender, but when the minister of maring and fisheries said, the other day In his own durcet tones. "you cannot expect us to depart from the principle that we must help our friends while we are in office," Sir Richard Cartwright has done as the proverbial oyster that grows and flourishes in Sir Louis Davies' own province. Consid-ering that Sir Richard has been un-able to carry out his own policies, it does seem a little absurd that he should endeavor to attend to plans auranged by others arranged by others. Glancing at the public expenditure for the past year, Mr. Monk found tause for alarm. The total expenditure for all services was $51,000,000, an increase of $7,000,000, or an increase per capita upon the people of Canada of over $1.63. The only excuse the of over $1.63. The only excuse the government sought to make for their extravagance was that they had a surplus. But the people of Canada are no longer to be blinded by surpluses concocted for political purposes. Looking at the progress we have made during the past years in trade and commerce, Mr. Monk found much discontent. Throughout the orld a great wave of prosper d been felt. It was the great of the liberal party when in opthat as soon as they got into hada would have the benefit markets of the United States out so far they had done absolutely ing to keep that promise, and not moved in any other diection in order to find markets for our natural and manufactured products. At the present time prac-ry nation in the world is in Contracts, and the set of the set this country $2,000,000 per year. That is the sum that is practically taken from the pockets of the people of Canada and given to the workmen Yorkshire as a bonus. Mr. Monk's contention is that in arranging a fiscal policy, the side which interests Canadians should be first considered. The government, in his opinion, seemed altogether too anxious to assist the British workmen, while with equal eagerness they neglected our, own hanics

When hon, gentlemen of the opposi-tion had advanced the idea of mutual ity in preferential arrangements with the mother country, they have been laughed to scorn by members of the government. The liberal press has eep stating that any person who moves in that direction does not know what he is talking about, and that there is no hope that the present con-dition of things will change. ded they ters. or an Pailas to th ing this, Sir Wilfrid used his own judgment and made his own selection, ng perso ment. In Mr. Cook's ca the appoi there was evidently a very great difference as to whom the ministers should receive. Mr. Cook had evidentminist ly a hard time of it, for he was led to believe on several different occa-sions that the appointment was as good as made, so far as it concerned him. And then, after some little time had elapsed in each case, he was rewarded, not with a senatorship, but a note from Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Cameron, or the premier, informing him that somebody else had more pull, was richer, or was considered more suited to the requirements of the party in the senate. It was a story of double dealing which has seldom been prought out in any enquiry of the kind. Considering that Mr. Cook by his own admission has contributed sums as high as $10,000 to a liberal campaign fund, and has invariably paid his expenses in all his own pol-itical battles, it certainly seems that the government showed a lack of appreciation of his efforts in their be-half when they treated him in this childish way. Perhaps it was that Mr. Cook had been too dependent, but finally the worm turned and turned

It seems rather a pity that a dead man should be brought into the case because it seems hard that the mem-ory of the dead should not be respect-ed. Then, too, Mr. Cameron is unable to deny anything that may be said to his discredit. But in his allegations as to the conduct pursued by Mr. Cameron, Mr. Cook had corroboration of sufficient strength to establish be-yond the probability of contradiction that Mr. Cameron offered to exchange a seat in the senate for $10,000. Not only did he make the announcement in the presence of Mr. Biggs, who at that time was Mr. Cook's solicitor, but he also referred to it in a conversation with Mr. Cook's son-in-law, Henry McDonald. Then, too, there is the in-terview with Sir Richard Cartwright in his office at Ottawa, where Mr. Cook made the statement that he had

Cook made the statement that he had been approached by Mr. Cameron and asked for $10,000. In his direct exam-ination, Mr. Cook was most positive in his statement of facts in this re-gard, and still remained firm when cross-examined by Mr. Blake in a mose severe manner. But Sir Richard Cartwright was not willing to swear positively to the details in connection with Mr. Cook's visit at the time this announcement was made. He did not care to state on oath too many of the particulars in connection with the con-vensation between himself and Mr. Cook, but he did positively deny that any part of which he was not clear had any reference whatever to any estion which might have as its effeet the handing over to Mr. Cook of a senatorship in payment of $10,000. When recalled to rebut this part of the evidence of the minister of trade and ommerce, Mr. Cook not only reaffirm ed everything that he had previously said, but he strengthened his remarks by announcing that the incident was probably more carefully fixed on his mind than it would be on Sir Rich-ard's; and he gave it as his reason for holding this opinion, that to him noth-ing in connection with his search for the senatorshy had been forgotten. In guarded language, declined to express himself in a definite way. He wrote Mr. Cook that he would meet him at a later date, when the whole matter would be fully discussed and cleared up. Sir Richard Cartwright was asked to place an interpretation on the phrases, but declined to do so. Again, Mr. Cook, after Mr. Cameron abandoned him, was reminded that he (Cook) had had the cards in his hand, but neglected to play them. These significant expressions, pronounced by Mr. Cook to mean that $10,000 would have to be paid for the senatorship, take unto themselves a strength which is very important in summing up the evidence. Certainly they were not intended to convey the impression that Mr. Cook had not devoted sufficient time to the party, for Sir Richard Cartwright expresses himself as highly satisfied with the services rendered by Mr. Cook up to the time that he found himself duped by the liberal party. Sir Richard also claims that Mr. Cook had on account of his political opinions been made a victim by Sir John A. Macdonald in certain timber grants held by Mr. Cook in the west. Nor had Mr. Cook's financial istance to his party been insignificant. He had been one of the largest contributors in Ontario, but even his unbounded generosity seems to have failed to satisfy the greed of those to whose interests he had devoted the best part of his life.

Perhaps a few sentences might be devoted to W. T. R. Preston of "hug the machine" reputation. Mr. Cook swears that Preston called at his flice in Toronto and repeated the offer of Mr. Cameron in regard to the senatorship. His claim in this point is strengthened by an allusion he made to the conversation which passed between himself and Preston, to Henry Sir Richard's case it was quite differ-Handcock, his bookkeeper. OTTAWA, March 29 .- The Cook charges, which were the source of so much controversy during last October and November, have at last been ven-tillated. The present session of parlia-ment may be said in all fairness to be an unsmally dulet one. There has an unusually quiet one. There has been little to interrupt the even tenor of members' ways, little to excite coh-troversy of a startling character. Or little to induce strong party feeling on either side of the house. Two months of this life rather welcomed months of this life rather welcomed something which might cause a little ripple of excitement; and this effect was produced by the enquiries of the committee appointed by the senate to receive Mr. Cook's evidence and that of such witnesses as he might be able to produce in support of his cor/en-tions. The sittings of the committee were largely attended in every in-stance. In fact, the small quorters provided for the use of those encyged stance. In fact, the small during the provided for the use of those engages in carrying on the deliberations were altogether inadequate to the demands made upon them.

With the conclusion of the enquiry With the conclusion of the enquiry, so far as the offering of evidence is concerned, there is every opportunity afforded of considering in the broad-est possible sense the case made out by Mr. Cook. That he has succeeded in proving beyond a shadow of doubt that he was justified in making the charges is substantiated by the evi-dence taken. There can be no question that Mr. Cook was approached and asked to contribute $10,000 to the cam-paign funds of the liberal party, and that he was led to believe that in turn he would secure a senatorship that he wanted and worked for for years. On the other hand, it cannot be said that wanted and worked for for years. On the other hand, it cannot be said that he implicated any member of the gov-ernment, with the exception of Sir Richard Cartwright, in the conspir-acy. He produced no evidence to show that any gentleman besides Sir Rich-ard Cartwright had anything to do with the matter. On this point Mr. Cook swore positively that a letter written by Sir Bichard Cartwright had heen produced by Mr. Cameron, which demanded that he (Cook) should do something. The something was, ac-cording to Mr. Cameron's interpreta-tion, the payment of $10,000 in return for what the government would do in the way of favorably considering Mr. Cook's claims for recognition to the vacancy existing in the upper house.

But before dealing more fully with the merits of the case, it might be well to first consider the method of procedure adopted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues in the appointment of successors to deceased or retired senators. When on oath, be budget speech. Mr. Monk brought out many good points during the course of his re-marks which were not advanced by warning. With the British Isles, Ger-his brain with such matters, and in the attention which he was called upon to give to state and other matters, it vould be quite possible for him to let it pass away.

Another matter which has an im-portant bearing on the case was brought out in the evidence of Mr. Biggs. Senator Ferguson, who has a rather judicial mind, seemed to follow the evidence very closely. He cross-examined several of the witnesses and more oble to bring out some interest. the evidence very closely. He cross-examined several of the witnesses and was able to bring out some interest-ing points. In the course of his re-marks Mr. Biggs related the particu-lars of the interview in Toronto be-tween himself, Mr. Cameron and Mr. Cook. At one stage of the negotia-tions Mr. Biggs and Mr. Cameron had a conversation as to why Cook was not eligible for the senatorship. Mr. Cameron explained that Cook had not been to the liberal party all that he had represented himself. Cook was referred to as having not been gener-ous enough in his assistance of other candidates during election contests, and as having been disloyal in the matter of the election of Mr. Drury, who was minister of agriculture in the Ontario government under Sir Oli-ver Mowat. Continuing his evidence on this point, Mr. Figgs stated that he had approached Sir Oliver Mowat, when that gentleman was minister of when that gentleman was minister of justice in the dominion cabinet, on behalf of Mr. Cook. Sir Oliver had referred to Mr. Cook in language very in 1396 to 1388 form an important link in the chaim of evidence placed before the committee by Mr. Cook. In these epistles, some of which abound in street corner expressions, important references, were made as to under-hand methods which might be em-ployed in securing senatorships. One of these communications from Mr. Concern to Mr. Cook sets forth that although other persons had a better chance in the race than the principal witness in this enquiry, there was one way by which the tables might be turned in his favor. Preston in anger and displayed con-siderable indignation in regard to the improper proposals made by the for-mer grit organizer. It is only fair to state also that Preston's reputation as the machine man was not enhanced by Mr. Cook's opinion of him. Mr. Preston was referred to as the general buffer of the liberal party, and a man with whom Mr. Cook would not care to associate. And Mr. Cook, it must be remembered, as one of the banner liberals of Ontario, can claim a knowedge of the working of the inner ma ledge of the working of the inner ma-chinery of the grit camp. Subsequent-ly, when he was called to refute some of the statements of the machine hug-ger, Mr. Cook flatly denied the truth of every syllable of Preston's evi-dence, and declared with dramatic force that Preston had sworn falsely throughout hroughout.

Summing up, it is found that Mr. Cook has been positive in every im-portant allegation that he has made in portant allegation that he has made in regard to the charges advanced by him last October. After a severe cross-examination by the counsel for the defence he remained unshaken in his testimony. His evidence was corrobo-rated by three reputable witnesses and by circumstantial evidence set forth in any letters placed in evidence. report of the municipalities commit-tee, substituting a new bill for No. 11, the bill to allow taxpayers of St. John who have not paid their taxes to vote at civic elections. This substitute bill places the discussion of the matter in the hands of all the taxpayers of St. John, irrespective of whether their taxes are paid or not, to be decided by a majority vote prior to the 1st July next. It also makes provision for holding similar plebisoites in the other cities and towns of the province on the requisition of 25 per cent.

of the ratepayers. Hon. Mr. Pugsley introduced a bill to amend a general law relating to rates and taxes. He stated that its object was to prevent a non-resident applying to a county court judge against his assessment where he has had an opportunity of applying to the valuators.

On motion of Mr. Lawson, the bi to incorporate the village of Perth Centre for water and fire purposes was considered in committee of the was considered in committee of the whole house and agreed to. Mr. Allen introduced a bill to consol-idate and amend chapter 44 of the Consolidated Statutes, relating to absconding, concealed and absent debtors. He said this bill was for the purpose of curing certain defects in the act. For instance, as it now exists it does not apply and cannot be made to apply to joint debtors. Men come here from abroad and take contracts, which they generally sub-let to oth-ers, and they frequently go off and leave their sub-contractors unpaid. The working men are protected, but not the sub-contractors; the act is to cover cases of this kind. Also it frequently happens that where debtors have assconded persons come in un-der a bill of sale and seize the debtor's property. This bill contains a provison giving the trustees power to compel these people to prove their claim On motion of Hon. Mr. Pugsley, all the bills which had been introduced today were read a second time.

AID TO N. B. UNIVERSITY.

The house went into committee on the bill to grant aid to the University of New Brunswick to pay for their science building. Hon. Mr. Labillois, in reply to enquiry by Mr. Flemming, said: The contract for rebuilding Clearwater bridge, parish of Stanley, York Co., science building. Hon. Mr. Tweedle stated that the sum required was about $10,000, and it was proposed by the buil to grant the sum of a thousand dollars a year for twelve years. This would give the college about $10,000 and would not vas awarded to W. Brewer. The tenders received were as follows: Daniel Fraser, $400; Irvine Anderson, $350; add to the bonded indebtedness of the province. One of the conditions of the grant was that the senate should the regulations for free tuition in the university for two students each year, to be selected for their aptitude for scientific work. The government was also empowered to attach other conditions to the bill. While on his Hon. Mr. Labillois, in reply to en feet he would refer to the bill for the establishment of an agricultural col-lege for the maritime provinces. The arrangement which had been made with the governments of Nova Scotia and P. E. Island was that they should the agricultural school. He had anti cipated opposition to the grant by Mr. Copp, because he comes from Sackville, and the institution which he champions is located at Sackville. That college is, though, a denomina-tional institution, while the University of New Brunswick is non-sec and belongs to the province and to all its people. He trusted that the day was far distant when the province would decide that it did not want the University of New Brunswick, as the crowning point of our free school sys-

Hon Mr. Pugsley said that all hon-ored the Mount Allison institution and all are proud of the good work which it is doing. But that institution belongs to the Methodist denomination, and that people loyally support it, and we all honor them for it, and so does the University of New Brunswick be-the University of New Brunswick be-long to the people of the province, and we are proud of it and glad to assist in supporting it. Mr. Flemming said that, while he could not agree that the government's course of making a grant in aid of an agricultural college outside of the province, yet he must admit that there is a great deal of force in what the is a great deal of force in what the hon. provincial secretary had said about the three maritime provinces uniting and maintaining a better school of agriculture than could either province alone. There is one matter which should receive the attention of the government before they assist schools outside the province. A few years ago the government, very un-timely, he thought, reduced the grant the grant to the common school teachers province, thereby lessening their sal-aries, and doing a great injustice to one of the hardest worked classes in the country. He thought that if the finances of the province have reached such a stars that the monitorial of the such a stage that the provincial secretary can spare a grant for a school to be located outside the province altogether, and which would be in no sense a provincial institution, that then the government have the courage and the justice to restore to the common school teachers the portion of the grant which had been taken away by a former government.

Mr. Hazen-How long is it proposed to continue the grant to the agricul-tural school, which I understand is to be $4,000 a year?

Hon. Mr. Pugsley-For seven years, and if at the expiration of that time we are not satisfied with the school we are not satisfied with the school and the results, we can discontinue the grant. The total initial cost of the school is not to exceed $50,000, all of which is to be borne by the prov-ince of Nova Scotia, where the school will be located. New Brunswick will be measured upon the board of gove be represented upon the board of gov-ernors of the school. The cost of maintenance will be $10,000, of which our share is $4,000.

The committee then considered the bill relating to the University of New Brunswick, which was agreed to. (The bill provided an annual grant of $1,000 for 12 years to the U. N. B., in aid of the erection and equipment of the new engineering building and installing modern heating and plumbing sys-tems in the old college building. The provision is made that the senate shall make resultation for the free tuilion make regulation for the free tuition in science and engineering each year of two students, to be nominated by the lieutenant governor in council.) In December, 1900, the crown land de-partment purchased from Goo. A. Boardman of Calais, Me., a collection of birds, eggs, heads of animals, etc., for the sum of $3,508.94, which is to be paid in three equal instalments, the first at the close of the present session of the legislative assembly, the second and third instalments at the close of the sessions of 1902 and 1903, the last two payments to bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent. The government is authorized to place such duplicate provisions of the collection as are ad-visable in the Imperial Institute in London, and a further sum of $1,500 is stanted for the equipment of a suit-able room for placing and keeping the collection at Fredericton. Mr. Hazen said that the govern-ment having made such an agreement with the late Mr. Boardman, there is now nothing to do but to pay the sum agreed upon, but he could not allow the item to pass without protesting against the payment of $2,500 for an ornamental collection of birds and animals when the finances of the pro-vince are so depleted that it is impos-sible for the provincial secretary to Bill 74, relating to the Boardm against the payment of 3.500 for an anomanital collection of birds and animals when the finances of the province are so depleted that it is impossible for the provincial secretary to provide sufficient grants for the necessary public services of the country. The province already had a good collection of mounted native birds and animals at the crown land department, which is being added to each year at comparatively little expense. It will be seen that in the first seve years recorded the output doubled, and that for the next three years there was little change. Then there was a gain of two millions, followed by advances of six, ten, eleven, and fourteen millions in successive years.

When the yield was twenty millions a year, about one million a year represented the value of gold, while silver copper and lead together were worth from a million to a million and a half. These four metals represented ten to twelve per cent in value of the total mineral production.

Last year the gold product alone worth $27,916.752, or nearly 44 per cent, of the whole. Of this gold $22.-275,000 is credited to the Yukon.

THE CONTINGENT FUND. Some complaint was made in the legislature on Monday about the claims of certain returned soldiers who have received nothing from the contingent fund. There is nothing concealed about the disposal of the money. The committee took the official list as the basis of payment, and the allowance of each soldier was fixed at fifty cents per day. Contributions were received from the provincial government, from several municipalities, and from pri-vate persons. A sufficient sum was obtained to pay all who were reported by the militia authorities as volunteers from New Brunswick. If the claim ants mentioned in the house have ants mentioned in the house have a good case and there is any money left they should get it. If there is no money it is not the fault of the com-mittee. Kent county paid $100 into the contingent fund and has received many times that sum out of it. Carleton times that sum out of it. Carieton county has also received several times as much as the county contributed. If there are applicants from those counties, and no money for them, who shall make up the deficiency? All those who went to the war from New Brunsof Jesus had lain. wick should be treated alike. The committee should report on the cases mentioned and say whether the appli-cants are entitled to the allowance If it should appear that more money is wanted to meet proper claims, there was Jesus. are many people who have not yet contributed. MORE PAY WANTED.

The Fredericton Herald is already starting the agitation for a general raise of the salaries of provincial minister. This demand coincides with the publication of the report of the public accounts committee, unaniusly recommending that the public printing be let by tender. The Herald will be willing to increase the pay of the ministers so long as they do not allow competition for government

Brinting. The Herald says that the premier of Nova Scotia gets $4,800 a year. So he es, and under the five per cent. scale of fees for selling' succession taxes Dr. Pugsley's income from , the province will probably be $8,000. The three paid ministers in. Nova scotia received in salaries and traveling expenses last year $10,200. This covered professional services of all kinds. The province has a revenue considerably over $1,000,000. and silver together, and the copp association with gold. The silver pro duct of 1900 is valued at $2,730,598, or more than four per cent, of the value more than four per cent, at the value of the whole mineral product. The copper was worth $3,063,113, or more than five per cent, of the whole. Lead is valued at $27,60,521, or nearly the same as silver. These four metals represent in value 58 per cent, of the whole mineral output, whereas seven years ago they bomprised about one-ninth of the value. The other imports ant metallic products are nicket and iron. Last year's micket product was worth $3,37,707. There has been a great development in this industry. Coal and coke produced last year were valued af $13,317,615, or $1 per cent of the whole. There is an in-grease of nearly fifty per cent, in the quantity of coal mined as compared with 1883. The expansion of the coal industry gates from 1879, after the in-troduction of the national policy, but the operations of the Dominion Coal Company gave it a second start. We shall hear more effectually from fron and steel production next year. The quantity of pis iron produced in 1800 was $6,000 tons, of which $5,000 is assumed to be from Canadian ore. As far back as 1894 the pis iron produced at that time the Newfoundland product was not available. The statistics indicate a degrease in of the whole mineral product. The

WHAT CANADA WANTS.

WHAT CANADA WANTS. When Sir Wildrid Laurier was in London he declared to the conference of British premiers that Canada did market. This position has been reaf-firmed by the sovernment majority at Ottawa, which has repeatedly voted down motions expressing the desire of Canadians for such a preference. These deliverances justify the state-ment made in the imperial parliament by the chancellor of the exchequer, who the other day stated to Sir How-ard Vincent that the imperial govern-ment did not propose to offer Canada a preference, as Canada did not expect it. The situation is therefore clear. Yet here is an organ of the Canadian government which says:

Government which says: Our conservative friends keep announcing periodically, with accompanying verbal fourishes, that they are in favor of a pre-ference for Canada in the British markets. So are we. Bo are all liberals. So are all Canadians. The bigger the preference and the more of it the better. We cannot have too much of it. We cannot get it too soon. But, unfortunately, we cannot get it, any its sooner for our wanting it more or less unfortunately. It is a matter which depends-entirely on Great Britain.; and Great Britain, for good and sufficient reasons.

If this government maper is right in-its statement that all liberals are in favor of a preference in the British markets, it must know that the pre-mier of Canada told the imperial conmier of Car imperial government has since

This man is the one who was arrest-ed on April first, 1895, charged with obtaining money under false pretences, with counterfeiting and with having counterfeit money in his possession. It appeared at his trial that he got from Isaac G. Oulton, at that time, one hundred and forty-five dollars, giving him in exchange a lot of the counter-feit notes. When arrested he had in his possession $2,960 in Confederate money. For that crime he was con-victed and sentenced to three years in Dorchester. On Tuesday night, March 26th, it ment, and states his intention of tak ing libel proceedings in one case. As Mr. Pratt has recently begun farming operations in this province, and as it is his purpose to give instruction in practical agriculture to young men from Great Britain, he has serious objection to the circulation of reports which he declares to be untrue and in-furious. In the course of a short con-versation Mr. Pratt showed the Sun reversal letters concerning young men who desire to study agriculture on a New Brunswick farm. One correspondent writes to Mr. Pratt as a fellow Cambridge university man, another a British officer writes from Simla in India. A retired judge and other men of influence are included among those who desire to have their sons work on a farm in this country before investing their capital in the purchase of property. He understands that one young man is already on the way to take up his residence; on the farm. Others are expected in the early spring. Others are expected in the early spring. To Keep Well. It is easy to keep well if we would easy observe each day a few simple rules of match. The all important thing is to keep the stomach right and to do this it is not neces-sery to diet or to follow a set rule or bill of fare. Such pampering simply makes a cap-ricious appetite and a feeling that certain tavorite articles of food must be avoided. Prof. Wiechold gives pretty good advice on this subject. Ho says : '' am 68 years oid and have never had a serious illness, and a the same time my life has been largely an indoor one, but I early discovered that the way to keep healthy was to keep a healthy stomach, not by eating bran crackers or dieting of any sort; on the contrary. I al-ways bal what my appetite craves, but for the past eight years I have made it a daily practice to take one or two of Stuart's Tablets. My physician first advised me to use them because he said they were perfectly harmless and were not a secret patent medicine, but contained only the usual digestives, pep-tones and diastase, and after using them a to the advice. MONCTON, April 3.-A fatality surrounded in mystery occurred in the I. C. R. yard here tonight. Just before ten o'clock a colored man put his head into the station agent's office and notiinto the station agent's office and noti-fied Watchman Thompson that there was a man lying under a car about twenty-five yabds from the station. Investigation was at once made, and the body of a well dressed man, about thirty years of age, was found under one of the cars which came in on No. 4 train from St. John at eight o'clock. The body was almost cut in two, and was found lying directly across the track. The deceased was carried into the bagsage room and the clothing searched for identification. Among the papers found was a recommendation searched for identification. Among she papers found was a recommendation from G. A. LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. resided in Johnston, To the Editor of the St. John Semi-Weekly Sun:

Sir,-The Maugerville corresp of the Sun sends an item which appears in the semi-weekly of April 3rd. My ppointment as enumerator I will not ny. But as far as being sent from Ottawa as a government heeler that is a clear, straight falsehood, and unes an apology is offered I will take eans to locate the proper parties. I will also say that I saw the minister nore than once while I was in Ottawa, trains ind he never mentioned on either oc asion my coming to Maugerville. I feel very much for such sore heads that take defeat so much to heart. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for you space for this time,

MONEY ORDER RATE REDUCED.

MONEY ORDER RATE REDUCED. WASHINGTON, April 3.— An arrange-ment has been completed between the United States and Canada under which all postal moneys sent between this country and Can-ada will go at the domestic rate of three-tenths of one per cent instead of the internal rate of one per cent, as at present. This concession is regarded as more important to the money order business than any action taken since the inception of the system. It is expected that the radical reduction in the rate will ireble the business. The reduc-tion is especially important to business in-terests along the border. It is probable that similar arrangements will be made with the Philippines, Cuba and elsewhere.

The formation of this Company is one of the natural outgrowths of the great and wonderful cold storage system. Before "cold storage" became known, it would have been an impossibility to carry on this great business by the now, the great success of cold or childed storage is the maker of this enormous business which will prove a blessing and a money maker for its shareholders. Space will not permit giving a full description of the proposed arrangements to be made, of the receiving and shipping stations, abattoirs, cold storage plants, offices and a binder of the stareholders. Space will not permit giving a full description of the proposed arrangements to be made, of the receiving and shipping stations, abattoirs, cold storage plants, offices and a segncies this Company will find it necessary to establish in Canada and England, or of the numerous employees it will have to engage to do the buying, kilking, plucking, packing and shipping; the inspectors the Company will engage and carefully instruct to qualify them to inspect from time to time the farms of those raising detered advisable to assist them to raise first class poultry. UNDERTAKE. The Canadian cheese trade brought to Canada something like nineteen million dollars during the year 1900. Our butter trade with England in 1894 amounted to only six hundred thousand dollars, in 1900 it had in-creased to about four million dollars, and a further increase of two million dollars has been prophesied for the butter trade this year. In 1891 the exports from Canada of bacon were a little over six hundred thousand, and in 1898 they had grown to eight and a half million dollars worth of pork, a tremendous increase in these few years. Who will say that the dressed poultry trade, considering the suitability of this country to raise poultry in the natural fondness, of all English people particularly, for poultry as a food, has not a fair chance to become a worthy rival of our great cheese industry whoch has already reached about nineteen millions of dollars a year. Your friend takes you through his valuable house. You examine the arches, the frescoes, the grass plots, the fish ponds, the conservatories, the parks of deer, and you say within yourself or you say aloud, "What did all this cost?" You see a costly diamend flashing in an earring, or you hear a costly dress rustling across the drawing room or you see a high mettled span of horses harnessed with sil-ver and gold, and you begin to make an estimate of the value.

The man who owns a large estate cannot instantly tell you all it is worth. He says, "I will estimate so much for the house, so much for the furniture, so much for laying out the grounds so much for the stock, so much for the barn, so much for the equipage, adding up in all making this aggre

Well, my friends, I hear so much about our mansions in heaven, about its furniture and the grand surroundings, that I want to know how much it is all worth and what has actually been paid for it. I cannot complete in a month nor a year the magnificent calculation, but before I get through today I hope to give you the figures.

"Ye are bought with a price." With some friends I went to the Tower of London to look at the crown We walked around, caught one glimpse of them and, being in the ssion, were compelled to pass out. We come into the world amid kindly atcome into the world amid kindly at-tentions. Privacy and silence are af-forded when God launches an immor-tal soul into the world. Even the roughest of men know enough to stand back. But I have to tell you that in the village on the side of the hill there was a very bediam of uproar when Jesus was born. In a village capable of accommodating only a few hundred people many thousand people were crowded, and amid hostlers and muleteers, and camel drivers yelling at stupid beasts of burden, the Messiah

Oh; look at Him! No one to speak a

I lift the lantern until can look into His face, and as heart beats in sympathy for this, the best friend the world ever had, Him-self now utterly friendless, an officer of the courtroom comes up and smites Him in the mouth, and I see the blood tealing from gum and lip. Oh, it was a farce of a trial, lasting only perhaps an hour, and then the judge rises for sentence! Stop! It is against the law to give sentence unless there has been an adjournment of the court between condemnation and sentence, but what cares the judge for the law? "The man has no friends. Let Him die," says the judge. And the ruffians outside the rail cry: "Aha, aha, that's what we want! Pass Him out here to us! Away with Him! Away with Him! ALTER FROM

No! It was one leap from the top to the bottom.

BRINGING GLAD TIDINGS.

Let us open the door of the caravan-sary in Bethlehem and drive away the camels. Pass on through the group of idlens and loungers. What, O Mary, no light? "No light," she says, "save that which comes through the door." that which comes through the door. What Mary, no food? "None," she says, "only that which was brought in the sack on the journey." The second installment paid for our The second installment paid for our soul's clearance was the scene in Quarantania, a mountainous region, full of caverns, where are today pan-thers and wild beasts of all sorts, so that you must now go there armed with knife or gun or pistol. It was there that Jesus went to think and to pray, and it was there that this mons-ter of hell-more sly, more terrible pray, and it was there that this mons-ter of hell-more sly, more terrible than anything that prowled in that country-satan himself, met Christ-The rose in the cheek of Christ-that Publius Lentullus, in his letter to the Roman senate, ascribed to Jesus-that hose had scattered its petals. Abstin-ence from food had thrown him into emaciation. A long abstimence from food recorded in profane history is that of the crew of the ship Juno. For 28 of the crew of the ship June. For 28 days they had nothing to eat. But this sufferer had fasted a month and ten days before he broke fast. Hunger ten days before ne broke tast. Hunger must have agonized every fiber of the body and gnawed on the stomach with teeth of death. The thought of a mor-sel of bread or meat must have thrilled the body with something like ferocity. Include the trial of Christ. Why, a violent storm at sea the mate In a violent storm at sea the mate told a boy-for the rigging had become entangled in the mast-to go up and right it. A gentleman standing on the deck said: "Don't send that boy up. He will be dashed to death." The mate said: "I know what I am about." The boy raised his hat in recognition of the order and then rose hand over hand and most to most and as he asympt in the in His last hour cannot be left alone. "I thought I would carry it with me if I really did go overboard." How well the boy was protected! I care not how great the height or how vast the depth, with Christ within us and Christ beneath us and Christ above us and Christ all around us nothing can befall us in the way of harm. Christ Himself, having been in the tempest, will deliver all those who put their trust in Him. Blessed be His glorious name forever. THE AGONY OF GETHSEMANE.

The third installment paid for our redemption was the agonizing prayer in Gethsemane. As I sat in that garin Geth den at the foot of an old gnarled and

These old olive trees and the lineal descent ants of those under which Christ stood and wept and kneit. Have the leaves of whole botanical generations told the story of our Lord's agony to their suc-cessors? Next to Calvary the solemn-est place in Palestine is Gethsemane. While sitting there it seemed as if I could hear our Lord's prayer, laden with sobs and groans. Can this be the Jesus who gathered fragrance from the frankincense brought to His cradle, and from the illies that flung their sweet-ness into His sermons, and from the

from the lines that hung that show ness into His sermons, and from the box of alabaster that broke at His foot? Is this Jesus the comforter of Bethany, the resurrector at Nain, the oculist at Bethsakda? Is this the Christ whose frown is the storm, whose smile is the sunlight, the spring morning His breath, the thunder His voice, the oc-ean a drop on the the of His finger, heaven a sparkle on the bosom of His love the universe the unit of His chart. heaven a sparkle on the bosom of His love, the universe the rust of His chari-ot wheel? Is this the Christ who is able to heal a heartbreak or hush a tempest or drown a world or flood im-mensity with His glory? Behold Him in prayer, the globules of blood by sor-row pressed through the skin of his forehead! What an installment in part payment of the greatest price that was ever paid! The fourth installment paid for our redemption was the Savour's sham women stand there and weep, but can do no good. It is no place for the tender hearted women. It wants a heart that crime has turned into granite. The waves of man's hatred a hell's vengeance dash up against the mangled feet, and the hands of sin and pain and torture clutch for His boly heart. Had He not been thoroughly fastened to the cross they would have torn Him down and trampled Him with both feet. How the cavalry horses arched their necks and champed their bits and reared and snuffed at the blood! Had a Roman officer called out for a light, his voice would not have een heard in the tumult, but louder than the clash of spears, and the wail-ing of womanhood, and the neighing of the chargers, and the bellowing of the crucifiers, there comes a voice crash-ing through-loud, clear, overwhelming, terrific. It is the groaning of the dying Son of God! Look, what a scene! Look, world, at what you have done!

CHRIST ON THE CROSS.

I lift the covering from the maltreated Christ to let you count the wolfinds and estimate the cost. Oh, when the nails went through Christ's right hand and through Christ's left hand that bought your hands, with all their pow-er to work and lift and write! When the nails went through Christ's right foot and Christ's left foot, that bought your feet, with all their power to walk or run or climb. When the thorn went into Christ's temple, that bought your brain, with all its power to think and plan. When the spear cleft Christ's side, that bought your heart, with all side, that bought your heart, with all its power to love and repent and pray. When the Atlantic cable was lost in 1865, do you remember that the Great Eastern and the Medway and the Al-bany went out to find it? Thirty times they sank the grapnel two and a half miles deep in water. After awhile they found the cable and brought it to the surface. No sooner had it been brought to the surface had it been brought to the surface than they lifted a shout of exultation but the cable slipped back again into the water and was lost. Then for two the water and was lost. Then for two weeks more they swept the sea with the grappling hooks, and at last they found the cable, and they brought it up in silence. They fastened it this time. Then with great excitement they took one end of the cable to the elec-trician's room to see if there were really any life in it, and when they saw a spark and knew that a mes could be sent then every hat was lifted, and the rockets flew and the guns sounded

VAN HORNE AND CUBA.

MONTREAL April 4 -- Sir Wm. Van

TEALTH AND BEAUTY, health and happiness, are inseparably linked together. Life's grandest prize and beauty's greatest charm is health-robust, vigorous health. It is health that makes life worth living and gives one the ambition and energy to accomplish great things. Sad it is to think of the many who fall by the way-the nervous and physical wrecks. Overcome by mental strain, overwork or wasting disease, men and women get nervous, irritable and depressed, the duties of home or business worry them, they get weak, wrinkled or debilitated. Life has no charm, no hope when health has taken flight.

OF HEALTH

When you begin to fail is the time to take action-the time to replenish the nerve force by the use of the great nerve-building medicine DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD. It is not like any remedy you ever tried. It does not stimulate nor deaden the nerves. It simply increases the vitality of the body by creating new nerve force and forming new, red corpuscles in the blood.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Fills the nerve centres with health, vigour and strength. Gradually and certainly the headaches and neuralgic pains disappear, the irritability and sleeplessness become a thing of the past, and joyous, robust health is felt pulsating through the nerve fibres, carrying new energy to every organ.

Mrs. D. W. Cronsberry, 168 Richmond street West, Toronto, Ont., states :-- "My daughter, who sews in a white goods manufactory, got completally run down by the steady confinement and close attention re-ourised at her work. Her nerves were so exhausted, and she was so weak and debilitated, that she had to give up work cabrely, and was al-most a victim of nervous prostration. "Hearing of Dr. Chase's Nerw Food, she began to use it, and was benalitied from the very first. If proved an excellent remedy in restor-ing her to health and strength. After having used four boxes she is now at work again, healthy and happy, and attributes her recovery to the use of Dr. Chase's NERVE FOOD is in condensed pill form and is sold at 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or from Edmanson, Bates a Do., Toronto.
