VALONA'S TERRIFIC COMBAT WITH FURY OF SEA AND SKY.

Belated Bark Reaches Port After Ten Days Struggle in The Gulf.

TWICE HER DOOM SEEMED SEALED.

Anchored In Storm, Her Cable Snaps But is Miraculously Glogged in the Hawse Pipe.

CAPTAIN'S GRAPHIC STORY.

"I really expected that we would leave our bones on Bryon Island. The men behaved magnificently." Captain Burnley.

With at least two hair breath escapes to her credit and looking more like a big iceberg than a vessel, the little bark Valona, 700 tons, Captain S. W. Burnley, reached port on Wednesday last after a forty-three days passage from Liverpool the latter part of which she was almost entirely at the mercy of the elements.

Last Monday and Tuesday, Capt. Burnley's friends here were a bit anxious. The most severe storm of the season had just bade its adieu and it was felt that if the Valona was in the Gulf of St. Lawrence it would fare hard with her. But they counted on her commander bringing her through in safety. They believed that if anyone could handle her in such a gale it was Capt. Burnley and on Wednesday they learned that they were not mistaken.

TWICE ESCAPED HER DOOM.

Twice the Valona escaped her doom: as if by a miracle. On each occasion her officers and crew remained calm and intrepid.

The Valona struck the Gulf on the 7th and then, when within twenty-four hours run of the Miramichi, began her terrific battle with the elements which lasted for ten days without intermission and taxed to the utmost the skill and strength of her officers and crew. On the 7th, with her sails frozen to the yards she was driven by a strong nor-easter towards Bryon Island. Her captain feared that she was doomed. He was powerless to direct her course. But suddenly in the face of doom the wind veered around to the westward and the Valona and her crew were saved.

MET IT OFF SHIPPEGAN.

The bark struck the big storm off Shippegan on Sunday the 18th. Capt. Burnley in the face of a blinding storm endeavored to make the Miramichi but got a little too far. Monday morning he anchored when the storm was at its height, one and a half miles off Sapin Reef. It was here that the most extraordinary occurrence of the whole trip took place and one which probably has few parallels in the annals of shipping. At 5:30 in the afternoon the anchor chain snapped and away it went through the hawse pipe. As if by a miracle it became clogged and held. Another chain was quickly secured and shackled to the end in the hawse pipe. If the cable had got entirely away nothing could have prevented the vessel from running onto Richibucto Reef.

CAPTAIN'S GRAPHIC STORY.

Capt. Burnley, when seen by a reporter for the Advocate, with some reluctance gave an account of the remarkable voyage. The Captain said:—"We left Liverpool on Oct. 3rd, but owing to bad weather it was ten days before we got clear of the Irish coast. We met very good weather across the Atlantic and made fairly good time. It was after we struck the Gulf that the trouble began. We passed St. Paul's Island on the 6th and were then within about twenty-four hours of the Miramichi. But for ten days we were buffeted about the Gulf almost entirely at the mercy of the elements. We encountered snow and sleet which completely blinded us and with it all was a strong nor-easter which blew almost at hurricane force. Our sails became frozen on the yards and our men were compelled to take sticks up the masts and beat off the ice. Our masts were completely coated with white ice. Our main top sail was as hard and stiff as a sheet of iron. Yes, the sailors suffered a good deal but not to the extent of like men and deserve the greatest praise.

FIRST NARROW ISLAND.

"We passed Bird Rocks on the 9th. On the following day a strong gale of wind almost drove us onto Bryon Island and I felt almost sure we would leave our bones there right enough. But almost in the nick of time the wind veered around to the west and we were saved. Yes, if the wind had not changed we would have gone ashore sure. There is a bad reef there too.

A CRITICAL MOMENT.

"Well, we were knocked about the Gulf for several days and on Sunday, the 13th, when off Shippegan we encountered the big storm which visited you. I tried to make for the Miramichi. When I supposed I was in the Bay I dropped anchor. Later I discovered I was six miles to the westward—one and a half miles off Sapin Reef. At 5:30 in the afternoon the cable snapped. Fortunately as it rolled out it jammed in the hawse pipe and held. If it had gone through we would doubtless have landed on Richibucto Reef. We quickly got another shackle and fastened the cable together.

"We remained at anchor until 5:30 on Tuesday. Then we sailed up to Esquimaux and anchored. On Wednesday the wind came in from the eastward and we ran up to Nappan where we were taken in tow by the tug Maroon.

The Valona is consigned to D. and J. Ritchie and started sailing on Saturday. She will likely clear on Thursday.

ANOTHER NORTH SHORE RAILWAY

First Twenty Miles Completed On The International Road up North.

Campbellton, Nov. 21.—Hon. C. H. LaBrosse, chief commissioner of public works, and H. F. McLatchy, M. P. P., accompanied by Thomas Malcolm, contractor, made an examination today of the first twenty miles of road completed on the International Railway. The party left Campbellton with an engine and passenger car and ran over the eighteen miles of splendid road laid with heavy rails. They walked two miles over the unfinished part of the second section where they saw several hundred men at work who are completing the twenty miles to reach the Upsalquitch River where the concrete piers are placed awaiting the superstructure. The steel work is on cars at Campbellton and will be placed by the Dominion Bridge Company in a couple of weeks. This structure is the largest that will be found on the whole route from Campbellton to the St. John River. Its length is about 225 feet and will cost about $20,000.

Contractor, Malcolm has commenced work on the third section. He has had considerable trouble to keep men at the work. With over 1,000 men employed since 1st August he has only been able to count 400 men working.

NOW OPERATING SOME MACHINES

Furniture Factory Nearly Ready—Farmers Bringing in Logs.

The Advocate hopes to make an announcement in a week or two of the commencement of operation of the Anderson Furniture Company. Farmers are now daily bringing in their logs to the factory and will likely continue to do so for a time. The bulk of the machinery has been installed and some is already in operation. There is a few important pieces to arrive yet but when these are installed the factory will likely be started.

The members were much pleased with the roadbed and learn from the contractor that he expects the International to have one of the best roadbeds of any railway on the continent and when completed he says that passengers will be carried from the St. John river to Campbellton in less than three hours.

Mr. Malcolm has leased the Upsalquitch River for a period of ten years and intends putting up a hotel near the Upsalquitch bridge next year for the comfort of anglers and sportsmen.

HERE'S A MOOSE STORY WHICH DISCOUNTS ALL

A Bangor despatch of recent date tells the following story:

The most remarkable adventure of the season in the Maine woods is that which befell Abbott Nelson of Skowhegan last Saturday, in the woods near the forks of the Kennebec. Nelson was carried three miles through the woods on the horns of an infuriated bull moose, nearly drowned in a lake with the moose swam, and then swung on the animal's horns while it did battle with another moose. Yet Nelson lives to tell the story.

Nelson started from camp on Saturday afternoon to shoot partridge, being armed only with a shotgun. On his way back a big bull moose barred the way. Nelson fired both barrels of his shotgun into the moose and then ran for the nearest tree. The moose rushed upon the hunter with a bellow of rage that echoed through the forest.

The limb upon which Nelson had perched was only ten feet from the ground, and the moose, by rearing upon his hind legs, could reach him and strike at him with a pair of antlers heavy enough to knock over a tree. Seeing that he would be killed if he remained there, Nelson moved out on the limb, which was higher from the ground at its outer end, but his weight was too much and the limb broke letting him down directly upon the animal's nose. To make things worse his trousers became caught in the limb, so that he could move neither one way nor the other, and while he was thus entangled the moose charged.

The moose missed him, but his horns became entangled in the limb. With a mighty effort he wrenched the limb free and started on through the woods, carrying man and limb upon his horns. By this time Nelson had lost consciousness, but he was suddenly revived by being plunged into the lake which the moose was swimming.

By holding firmly to the antlers Nelson was able to keep his seat and lift his head above water. Death seemed near, for the lake was two miles across, and the moose was swimming to the westward.

But the worst was to come. Scarcely had the moose, with his burden of man and branch, reached the opposite shore of the lake, when there appeared another and larger moose full of fight. The second moose barred the way, and at once a battle began which, says Nelson, beggars description.

The unfortunate hunter, held fast by his clothing, was hurled from side to side, dashed against trees and mangled by the crushing horns, until finally the cloth gave way and he was pitched high in the air, landing in a bush twenty-five feet away. There, bruised and bleeding, he lay, unable to rise, and for an hour watched the combat between the rival kings of the forest.

At last one of the moose, the challenger, appeared to have received his death thrust, but as he fell he made a last rush upon his antagonist, and their horns crossed so locked that the victor was imprisoned. In five minutes the struggling moose was dead, and then having partially regained his strength, Nelson finished the other with his hunting knife.

Nelson obtained help on Sunday and brought out his moose.

MEETING OF PRESBYTERY

The Presbytery of Miramichi at its last meeting passed the following resolution re the Rev. J. D. Murray's retiring from the active duties of the ministry.

RESOLVED that this Presbytery place on record its appreciation of the faithful labors of the Rev. J. D. Murray who for seventeen years successfully held the office of Pastor of Redbank and Whitneyville congregation.

Mr. Murray was an earnest exponent of Gospel truth, and ever guarded zealously the moral and spiritual interests of his people, and the effect of this was noted in the loving reverence with which he was, and must long continue to be regarded by the people of his own as well as of other denominations in the district.

Mr. Murray was compelled to resign his charge on account of ill health, due mainly, we believe, from the self-sacrificing character of his labors on behalf of the church.

Mr. Murray, on retiring from Red Bank and Whitneyville congregation has concluded a long and honorable career as a minister of the Presbytery in Church, having labored under her banner for a period of about forty years.

Mr. Murray was ably supported in his ministry by the assistance of one who was a true help mate, and it is the earnest prayer of the Presbytery that they may be long spared to each other, to enjoy their well earned rest.

I. C. R. RAILWAY MEN

MEET AT MONCTON

I. C. R. Employees Relief Association Now In a Flourishing Condition.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Intercolonial Railway Employees' Relief and Insurance Association was held in the General offices on the 12th inst.

The representatives present were as follows:

F. Blackbar, F. Dugham, W. H. Pirie, Geo. Currie, V. J. Coleman, Halifax; C. W. Archibald, T. W. Johnson, T. W. Hennessey, R. Cullen, A. H. Hayman, Truro; K. Stewart, R. Dumbat, J. T. McQueen, New Glasgow; A. P. Tait, E. Hale, Thos. Sands, R. Ferguson, J. B. McLaren, Moncton; J. H. Linden, Newcastle; H. H. Brey, Campbellton; J. Bouchard, P. Leclerc, River du Loup; Geo. Findlay, Thos. Power, Lewis.

In addition to the above named some other members of the Association were present.

Mr. Thos. Williams, chief accountant and treasurer of the Intercolonial railway was chosen as chairman of the meeting.

A large amount of business was transacted, including the reception of the report of the committee of Scrutinizers appointed to count and tabulate the proxy votes cast for and against the proposed amendments to the constitution. This report showed that amendments Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, having received the necessary two-thirds vote, had been carried, and the meeting instructed that they form part of the constitution, rules and regulations of the Insurance Association on and from the first day of November, 1904. The proposed amendments Nos. 7 and 8, not having received the necessary two-thirds vote were declared rejected.

As the adoption of amendments Nos. 1 and 2 made a separate district of the Cape Breton division of the railway, authority was granted to call a special meeting of the members in that division for the purpose of electing an Executive Committee and District Secretary.

The resolution suggested by the General Executive Committee in regard increasing the benefits payable to members of the Temporary Employees' Accident Fund, which had been submitted to and voted on by the members of the association at the different annual district meetings, was declared carried and instructions were given to put the same into effect on and from the 1st November, 1904.

A letter and circular from Dr. H. P. Clay, of Pugwash, N. S., was read and the matter of medical and surgical fees authorized by the Association was fully discussed, and a committee was appointed to go fully into the matter.

Papers were submitted, including a letter from Dr. N. E. McKay, of Halifax, with respect to authorizing special and hospital treatment, and after full discussion of the subject, the action taken by the General Executive of the Association was confirmed, and the General Secretary was instructed to send Dr. McKay a copy of the resolution.

An account and letter received from Dr. Hawkins, of Halifax, in the case of James Drake, was taken up, and on the representations made by the delegates from Halifax, it was decided to allow the sum of $24, towards paying the cost of the treatment received.

Claim for death indemnity in the case of James Dunn, temporary, was considered, and after discussion, a resolution was adopted to the effect that as the case was not constitutional, the claim could not be paid.

Claim for death indemnity in the case of C. W. Payne, of St. John's, a member of the Temporary Employees' Accident Fund, was also taken up and the same decision was rendered in this case.

A number of other cases of minor importance were also dealt with.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—President, D. Pottinger, General Manager, re-elected.

Vice President, J. J. Wallace, Gen. Freight Agent, re-elected. Auditor, William Brown, Chief Clerk, re-elected.

It was thought by the representatives present that as the acquisition of the Canada Eastern Railway would increase the membership of the Insurance Association that on that account the Railway Department should be requested to increase its present contribution, and a resolution was adopted to that effect.

Attention was called to the fact that two familiar faces were missing from the meeting, that of the late J. S. Fleming, District Secretary at New Glasgow, and F. B. Wood, District Secretary at Moncton, and resolutions were adopted eulogizing the services which they had in the past rendered to the Insurance Association.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the President, Vice President, and general officers of the Association, for the careful attention given to the business of the Association during the past year.

A hearty vote of thanks was also extended to Mr. Thomas Williams, for the able manner in which he had presided over the present meeting, to which Mr. Williams responded in a few well chosen words.

The meeting throughout was of a harmonious nature, and adjourned after being in session between four and five hours.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Last week we heard a good deal about Thanksgiving Day. It is quite proper indeed in the fulfillment of the season of gratitude to set apart a day for gratitude and thanksgiving, and to attend church on that day and join in the chorus of thanks to God for the dispensation of his bounties. Adhering to the custom of the Pilgrims—the founders of the day—the present age makes of the occasion one of festal as well as prayer. It will perhaps be maintained by some that Thanksgiving Day cannot be overdone. But we submit that it can—and is overdone, not so much in Canada as in the United States. It is all very well for the man who in worldly goods to lay as he his every day cares on that occasion when he is about to sit down before an ostentatious display of things palatable and seasonable. But how about the man who struggles for a bare existence, who wanders about city streets and goes at night cold and hungry to a cheerless garret and an empty cupboard? Is he not reminded of the wretchedness of his condition—the barrier between the rich and the poor—on that day more than on any other? As he wanders past imposing residences the odor of fat roasts penetrates his nostrils and the sound of mirth and laughter greets his ears. It palls upon him. He realises as he never realised before the infinite power of gold and as he gathers his limbs about him on a bench in the park he murmurs "this day is not for me" and thinks sad and bitter thoughts. Let us have our day of thanksgiving, but let us have it with less ostentation than we do now and with more sincerity.

Speaking of advertising—that was a clever idea of the Toronto Roller Bearing Company to engage Blair as manager.

MISPLACED ZEAL.

"You can buy no more than you can sell to your customers—unless you go broke some day. Your interest and my interest are the same. If I treat you right and my firm does not you will follow me to another. If I treat you wrong, I lose both your confidence and my job."

The above observations were once made to a merchant by Mr. Charles Crowdon, commercial traveller. Crowdon seems to be a drummer, philosopher or a philosophised drummer, the course of a series of articles in Saturday Evening Post he talking of the benefit of men of his craft and incidentally the benefit of merchants. Illustrates his remarks with a of his own experiences. It convinces one that if all were like himself the mercantile community in general would be greatly benefited. Mr. Crowdon points out that too many men are prone to over-tomorrow. We are inclined to him. A traveller too the future for the many cases he can the buyer as the seller has a line of duty by a mercantile pains to sell but is required a dozen or two case. If he of selling the merchant all that he can pursue is that individual to buy, regardless of the quantity likely to be sold, not only the merchant will suffer through his misplaced zeal, he will suffer as well.

A cheerful penny-a-liner supplies the information that people pay for fame. This individual evidently had some intercourse with the editors of one or two Chatham newspapers.

OFF AND ON.

Norman Haggood contributes some remarkably entertaining editorials to Collier's Weekly. He endeavors to encompass two hemispheres with his range of thought. His treatises are not confined to any one subject in particular. His mental operations are performed on a very wide range of subjects indeed. He is not a specialist. Therefore he sometimes argues superficially. Politics is one of his pet themes. In the last issue he dwells on "the triumph of Laurier" as he chooses to term it. He declares that the attitude of the people of Canada toward the railway was a businesslike education of the relation of cost to value. We are sure that what a lot to know what he means by this observation. He does not attempt to explain it and doubtless could not if he would. If he has referred to the proposed government transcontinental railway we must suppose that he is the only American of our knowledge who has ever appraised Canada at anything like its true value. But in the next breath Mr. Haggood comes nearer the general fitness of things. He observes—

"What is needed by the Democracy is a man as enthusiastic as Mr. Bryan, and as thoroughly convinced of the need of changes with a good deal of head."

Now that is a very sensible observation and one we are pleased to state which is in line with the majority of Mr. Haggood's arguments. He might have added, however, that the magnetism of Mr. Bryan is another requisite for the next Democratic nominee.

The Sun will hardly beam on Premier Laurier in California any more than it did while he was in Canada.

OUR LOST OPPORTUNITY.

Oratory is now regarded by some as a lost art. The world is no longer thrilled by the human voice—unless it is that of the stage villain. It is not the statesman with a commanding presence and voice, who today rules our destinies. It is the man of —That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. One of Ayer's Pills at bed: no will recover. Contly laxative.

James, intrigues, and all that. The evolution of the public man in this respect is in common with the spirit of the age. We are too restless, too busy for long-winded speeches and even for long-winded editorials. Colliers declares that a poor speaker, as far as oratorical graces are concerned, almost seems nowadays to be in advantage. Harkness. An Ontario on the back of it was one of the successes used to defeat Mrs. James H. Wilson in the recent election. Now that the sage of Colliers' sentiment has given us the truth, what are we to expect from Mr. W. S. Loggie? His magnificent grace of diction and gesture will count for naught at Ottawa. What are we going to do about it? It saddens Colliers to think there may never be another Demosthenes, a Cicero, a Boss, or even a Webster. Clear up all fools are not yet dead."

Mayor Crosby of Halifax vetoed the action of the City Council in appointing a resident of Boston to report on the water system of the Garrison city. Mayor Crosby did the proper thing. If other Canadians would adhere to the principle of employing home talent when possible, Canada would think a little mite more of herself.

A NEW SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL.

Macaulay tells us that in the time of James II, the new members of Parliament had to be carefully "coached" by experienced ones for until they had gone through a course of instruction they were quite useless. There are a number of newly elected members of parliament in Canada who will be quite too green to take up parliamentary work. By all means start a training school. The tutors might be retired members ready to turn an honest dollar. How to make promises never to be kept and yet appear to be the soul of honor and frankness; how to kill time during a debate and yet be attending to duty; how to profit by parliamentary influence yet be unstained by bribery; these and other arts might be taught at the Kindergarten for juvenile M. P.s.

Sir Alfred Harnsworth has at last purchased those Newfoundland timber areas. "The largest pulp mill in the world" is now in order.

THE FARMER AND THE ADVOCATE.

"One white heifer with black spots and one black heifer with white spots have strayed into my yard where they await ownership."

Such is the substance of an advertisement which appeared in the last issue of the Advocate. Is that not a pretty fair illustration of the value of the Advocate to the farmer? Here is another one: The Anderson Furniture Company advertised in these columns for legs. Many farmers seeing the ad. set to work to earn an honest penny during what is generally regarded as a dull season and now legs are being piled in the yard of the furniture company as regularly as clock work. Farmers you need the Advocate and the Advocate needs your patronage!

Mr. Blair's versatility is being proven every day. He is now about to become general manager of the Toronto Roller Bearing Company at a salary somewhat in excess of $10,000. If the versatile New Brunswicker keeps on he will some day do stunts for Bannum and Bailey's circus at double ten thousand a year.

A TRAVELLER'S TROUBLES

The Moncton Times recites a good story about a traveller who was bound up this way:

A passenger who arrived in Moncton Wednesday morning on the St. John express, enroute to a point north had no end of trouble before he made connections with his train at the depot. The maritime express was behind time as usual and as the traveller was informed that his train went out on the track next to the station, he kept an eye on all that transpired on that line. He knew very little about the different trains, but he was imbued with one idea, and that was to take the first train that showed up on the track he was watching. Before the maritime arrived, however he grew weary of watching and in taking a walk about the platform he eventually got turned around and forgot in which direction he was heading. The next thing seen of him he was in full pursuit of the maritime express which was pulling out for Halifax. He carried a good sized black valise and about the time he got up speed that was likely to overtake the departing train, the grip flew open and there was a scattering of goods and chattels. To stop and pick up the valise and articles meant the loss of the train, so the man gathered as much as he could conveniently carry in his arms and flew on, leaving the empty bag behind.

He caught his train somewhere near the crossing and enjoyed a ride as far as Prince as a reward for his exertion. His ticket did not lead him in that direction; consequently at the first stopping place he was put off and headed west again. He got back to Moncton sometime during the afternoon and had to wait over another day. At last accounts the unfortunate traveller was started north and it is presumed that he finally reached his destination. But he is likely to remember for some time the difficulty he experienced in getting the right train out of Moncton.

Mr. Wm Murray, painter, deals with the subject of "licensing imported labor" in another column of this issue in a rather straight-from-the-shoulder style. Give the painter a hearing.

Now that elections are the thing in Nova Scotia it is up to Dr. Sproule, M. P., to make good his assertion that if Nova Scotia were dropped into the St. Lawrence the only memory that would be left would be the smell of bad whiskey.

THE KAISER'S INDELICACY.

At a performance at the opera in Berlin not many nights ago, at which the Emperor was present, a number of ladies were turned back as they appeared in high-necked gowns instead of décolletées, in accordance with the royal command. Many ladies in order to gain admittance, improvised low-cut dresses by borrowing scissors from the attendants and cutting out the offending portions of their frocks. The London Graphic describes it as an amusing and painful scene. We might pardon this indelicacy of the Kaiser if it had occurred in any other place than the opera. You see His Highness never attends without a powerful pair of opera glasses.

ARMY OF CARIBOU INVADE BALD MT.

One Party Sees Over 250 Heads
During a Week's Stay in the Woods.

CAPTURED THREE.

From a Foot to Eighteen Inches of Snow In The Woods Up River.

There is an army of caribou in the woods of the Miramichi. It has virtually taken possession of the Bald Mountain district. Return of the partymen during the week and to ways.

On Sunday Messrs R. E. D. Allen, E. H. Sinclair and S. W. Miller reached New Brunswick on the Bald Mountain. They had been up there as the guests of the popular guide Mr. Edward Monaghan.

Two hundred and fifty caribou were seen by the party during their week's stay in the woods. In one herd there were two hundred and thirty or more. They brought back three excellent specimens with them, and many as the law will allow. The party also saw two moose.

Mr. Allen said yesterday that there was from a foot to eighteen inches of snow in the woods. The party travelled four days over the mountains.

BLACKVILLE.

Social and Personal.

Miss Katie McIntyre, who has been visiting friends in Campbellton for the past month returned home on Saturday last.

The Misses Margaret and Alice Dyer and Mr. George Dyer of Buckwood, Carleton Co., are the guests of their brother Mr. Reid Dyer.

Mr. Jacob Layton is confined to his home by illness. His many friends hope he may soon be able to be about again.

Mr. Charles J. Thomson has returned to Blackville, and has re-opened his law office.

Thanksgiving was not generally observed here though most of the business places were closed in the afternoon. The raw disagreeable weather kept most of the people in doors and the holiday was not an enjoyable one.

Rev. Robert Watson who is in the village in the interests of the British American Book and Tract Society, lectured in the Presbyterian Church last evening on the work of the Society in Labrador and Newfoundland. There was a fair attendance and the lecture was much enjoyed by those who attended.

The annual meeting of the Blackville Agricultural Society was held here on Wednesday evening last and was fairly well attended. The past year has been a successful one for the society financially and it was decided to carry it on for another year. The following officers were elected:—

R. N. T. Underhill President.
R. M. Grimley Secy. Treas.
Deputy James Bean.
Directors Charles Dunphy, Geo. C. Stewart, D. C. Soudell, H. A. McDonald, Dr. McManus, Benjamin Walls.

Zeva's Animatograph Company played here three nights last week and had small houses throughout. The show gave very general satisfaction but this season of the year is not a favorable one for shows in this locality.

St. Raphael's chapel was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon last when Mr. Daniel McEvoy to Renous River was united in matrimony to Miss Jamie Burns, daughter of Mr. Peter Burns, of Bartholomew River. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. J. Crumley pastor of St. Raphael's, after which the bridal party drove to the home of the bride where an enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent. On Thursday the young couple took their departure for the groom's home on Renous River where they will reside. The Advocate correspondent joins with a host of friends in extending good wishes.

WAS KILLED BY A FALL OF A TREE

How Young James Gorman Of Nelson Met His Death In The Woods.

HIS COMPANION'S GRIEF.

Stricken with grief over the death of his companion William Thompson, a woodman was the object of pity and sympathy of all his fellow workmen at Lynell's camp, McLean Brook last week. William Thompson was chopping a tree and young James Gorman of Nelson was swinging for him. The tree struck the latter on the head. He died only four hours.

Although Thompson was in no way to blame for the unfortunate accident he felt it deeply. The funeral of young James Gorman took place from his father's residence, Nelson last Wednesday evening and was very largely attended. High Mass was celebrated in St. Raphael's church at 9 o'clock. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Frank Carroll, Angus Macdonald, Thomas Miller, Everett Macdonald, Robert Macdonald, Thomas Macdonald.

CLOSES DEC. 1.

Full Returns From Big Game Season
Will Show Large Increase.

The big game season does not end until the first of December, so there are still ten more days in which moose, deer and caribou can be shot. Full returns of the hunting season cannot be had until after the last of the month, but it is a pretty safe guess that the province will derive from the sale of licenses about as much as last year. So far the revenue obtained is within less than $50 of the amount secured last year, and returns yet to come in will carry it beyond the record. It was thought that the elections in Canada and the United States were expected to keep away some of the sportsmen. The total revenue from the game licenses will exceed $100,000.

All the details and equipments being of a superior nature. Zeva's Gymnastic specialties showed truly marvellous agility and great muscular development. His kicking surpassed anything ever seen here. The performance throughout was flawless and highly entertaining.

Several parties have gone to the woods to begin operations for the Pulp Company. Mr. Campbell of Chaplin Island Road has a party on Cow Brook. Robin Ross has a large camp on the same stream. Mr. Kingston starts this week with two camps on the Mill Stream. The prospects are that there will be a large cut of pulp in the Chaplin Island Road section this winter and good roads are guaranteed.

When Doctors Were Slaves.

Romans of means had physicians in their own houses. These men were slaves, for, odd as it seems, many Roman slaves were accomplished in literature, art and science. At one time the selling price of a slave doctor was about the equivalent of $300 in our money.

After the time of Julius Caesar, who encouraged physicians, the art began to "lift its head" in Rome, and later men of character and position, though generally foreigners, entered the profession. Some of them accumulated large fortunes, and one made the equivalent of at least $500,000 in a few years.

Editor's Mail.

OUTSIDE L BOR
To the Editor of The Advocate.

A son of Newcastle's proud of my activity and anxious for the further advancement of the town, my first impulse is to thank the Advocate for its unflinching criticism in that direction. There is, however, one impediment to the prosperity of the town to which I would direct attention and implore your cooperation in having it removed. I refer to the stupidly selfish ordinance in force with us of fining workmen and others who come here to ply their calling. I write from what I know. The Hotel Miramichi which is in course of construction by Mr. Foley would have been ready for occupancy before this date but for this embargo. And even the carpenters, plumbers, steam fitters who are now at work on the building have been fined. (Taxed.)

In goodness name where is the sense in our best people holding out inducement to outsiders to come here and invest their capital so as to enrich the community if that officer (and what the Jews regard as their nearest officer) is to pounce upon the workmen just as soon as they strike a blow with a hammer?

If we were endowed with a little common sense on this question of taxation it would be a great and good thing for us. We tax dogs so as to discourage them. We exempt schools, churches, convents, hospitals and law courts so as to encourage them, for the infinite effect and influence they possess. This being indisputably precise and equitable, how can it be made to parallel with the fining of a man for building a house or for plumbing?

I have yet to hear of clergymen, doctors or lawyers being fined for coming here to earn a living, and this fact makes my grievance even more flagrant, because it is aimed at my class.

Mayor Brown—since you have been promising and material advancement that hope is inspired that you will continue in that office. Your election seems to have begotten confidence among all classes. I appeal to you for aid in removing this annoyance and irritation to the class to which you belong. You will surely be supported by Aldermen Phinney and Greenley in the work, indeed every fair minded man must see the suicidal folly of the evil to say nothing of the insult to wage earners.

In conclusion I would like to see or hear any sane reason for this foolishly cruel and stupid bye law.

WM. MURRAY, Painter.
Newcastle, Nov. 20.

The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARRINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Meredith had his hand on his companion's shoulder. "John," he said, "John!"

The cannon fired again, and there came a cheer from 3,000 throats, the shouters all unseen. The engine coughed and panted, the train rolled on, and in another moment it had stopped alongside the station in the midst of a riotous jam of happy people who were waving flags and banners and handkerchiefs and tossing their hats high in the air and shouting themselves hoarse. The band played in dumb show. It could not hear itself play. The people came at the smoker like a long wave, and Warren Smith, Briscoe, Keating and Mr. Bence of Gaines were swept ahead of it. Before the train stopped they had rushed eagerly up the steps and entered the car. Harkless was on his feet and started to meet them. He stopped.

"What does it mean?" he said and began to grow pale. "Is Holloway—did McCune—have you?"

Warren Smith seized one of his hands and Briscoe the other. "What does it mean?" cried Warren. "It means that you were nominated for congress at five minutes after 1 o'clock this afternoon!"

"On the second ballot," shouted the judge, "just as young Fishoe planned it weeks ago."

It was one of the great crowds of Carlow's history. Since noon an almost unintermittent procession of pedestrians and vehicles had been making its way to the station, and every wagon, buckboard, buggy and "cut under" had its flags or bunting or streamer of ribbons tied to the whip. The excitement increased as the time grew shorter. Everybody was struggling for a better position. The people in wagons and carriages stood upon the seats, and the pedestrians besieged them, climbing on the wheels or balancing recklessly with feet on the hubs of opposite wagons. Everybody was bound to see him. When the whistle announced the coming of the train the band began to play, the cannon fired, horns blew and the cheering echoed and re-echoed till heaven's vault resounded with the noise the people of Carlow were making.

There was one heart that almost stopped beating. Helen was standing on the front seat of the Briscoe buckboard, with Minnie beside her, and at the commotion the horses pranced and backed so that Lige Willets ran to hold them. But Helen did not notice the frightened reins, nor did she know that Minnie clutched her round the waist to keep her from falling. Her eyes were fixed intently on the smoke of the faraway engine, and her hand, lifted to her face in an uncertain, tremulous fashion, as it was one day in a cross tent, was laid against the deepest blush that ever mantled a girl's cheek. When the train reached the platform she saw Briscoe and the others rush into the bunting covered car, and there ensued what was to her an almost intolerable pause of expectation while the crowd assaulted the windows of the smoker, leaping up and climbing on each other's shoulders to catch the first glimpse of him. Briscoe and a red faced young man (a stranger to Plattville) came down the steps, laughing like boys, and then Keating and Bence, and then Warren Smith. As the lawyer reached the platform he turned toward the door of the car and waved his hand as in welcome. "Here he is, boys," he shouted.

At that it was as if all the noise that had gone before had been mere leakage of pent up enthusiasm. A thousand horns blared deafeningly; the whistle of the locomotive and that of Hubbard's mill were added to the din; the courthouse bell was pealing out a welcome, and the church bells were ringing; the cannon thundered, and then cheer on cheer shook the air as John Harkless came out under the flags and passed down the steps of the car.

When Helen saw him over the heads

BRONCHITIS... AND ASTHMA.

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE affords almost instant relief and timely cure.

People naturally and correctly reason that what will prove effective in the best treatment for ordinary coughs and colds, which are the starting point of consumption and other lung troubles.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, family size, three times as much, 60 cents, at all dealers. To protect you against imitations, the name and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the doctor's receipt book author, are on every bottle.

Sparkling, bright eyes indicate vigor and health. Drooping, weak and watery eyes show some internal ailment which in ninety cases out of one hundred is a weak heart. When the heart becomes weak, the blood thickens and moves sluggishly and the organs become diseased for want of a proper stimulant. Sore invariably trace these to a weak heart.

DR. AGNEW'S HEART CURE as saved the lives of many heart troubled people. It gives strength and health to the body through its action on the heart and relieves the severest attacks in thirty minutes.

Mrs. Mary Johnson, Georgiana Island, Ont. writes: "Send a bottle of Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure as quick as possible. I have used it before and it is the best Heart Cure I ever tried. It gives relief in ten minutes and is excellent for Stomach and Nerves."

of the people and through hoisting tumult of flags and hats and handkerchiefs she suddenly gave a frightened glance about her and jumped down from her high perch and sank into the back seat of the buckboard, with her burning face turned from the station and her eyes fixed on the ground. She wanted to run away, as she had run from him the first time she ever saw him, and then, as now, he came in triumph, hailed by the plaudits of his fellow citizens.

"It means that you were nominated for congress!"

lows, and now, as on that long departed day of her young girlhood, he was borne high over the heads of the people, for Minnie cried to her to look—they were carrying him on their shoulders to his carriage. She had had only that brief glimpse of him before he was lost in the crowd that was so glad to get him back again and so proud of him; but she had seen that he looked very white and solemn.

Briscoe brought Tom Meredith through the crowd and put him in the backboard beside Helen. "All right, Lige!" called the judge to Willets, who was at the horses' heads. "You go get into line with the boys; they want you. We'll go down on Main street to see the parade," he explained, gathering the reins in his hand.

"Did you tell him about Mr. Holloway?" asked Helen, leaning forward anxiously.

"Warren told him before we left the car," answered Briscoe. "He'd have declined on the spot, I expect, if he hadn't made him sure it was all right with Kedge."

"If I understood what Mr. Smith was saying, Holloway must have behaved very well," said Meredith.

The judge laughed. "He saw it was the only way to beat McCune, and he'd have given his life and Harkless', too, rather than let McCune have it."

"Why did you leave Mr. Harkless?" Helen asked her cousin, her eyes not meeting his.

"My dear girl," he replied, "because, for some inexplicable reason, my lady cousin is not nominated me for congress, and, oddly enough, the undiscriminating multitude were not cheering for me; the artillery was not in action."

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and sore piles, the manufacturer has guaranteed $100,000,000 to any person who can prove that it does not cure a case of piles.

"The population of this portion of Indiana, I take it,"

"Oh, it's all right," said the judge, leaning back to speak to Helen. "Keating and Smith and your father are to ride in the carriage with him. You needn't be afraid of any of them letting him know that H. Fishoe is a lady. Everybody understands about that. Of course they know it's to be left to you to break it to him how a girl has run his paper."

The old gentleman chuckled and looked out of the corner of his eye at his daughter, whose expression was inscrutable.

"I'll tell him," I tell him! No one must tell him. He need never know it."

Briscoe reached back and patted her cheek. "How long do you suppose he will be here in Plattville without its leaking out?"

"But when they kept watch over him for months nobody told him."

"Ah," said Briscoe, "but this is different."

"No, no, no," she exclaimed. "It must be kept from him somehow."

"He'll know it by tomorrow; so you better tell him this evening."

"This evening?"

"Yes; you'll have a good chance."

"I will?"

"He's coming to supper with us—he and your father, of course, and Keating and Bence and Boswell and Smith and Tom Martin and Lige. We're going to have a big time, with you and Minnie to do the honors, and we're all coming into town afterward for the fireworks, and I'll let him drive you in the phaeton. You'll have plenty of chances to talk it over with him and tell him all about it."

Helen gave a little gasp. "Never!" she cried. "Never!"

The buckboard stopped on the Herald corner, and here and along Main street the line of vehicles which had followed from the station took positions to await the parade. The square was almost a solid mass of bunting, and the north entrance of the courthouse had been decorated with streamers and flags so as to make a sort of stand. Hither the crowd was already streaming and hither the procession made its way. At intervals the gun boomed from the station, and Schofield's Henry was winning the air with his bell. Nobody had a better time than did the Schofield's Henry, except old Wilkerson, who was with the procession.

In advance came the boys, whooping and somersaulting, and behind them rode a band of mounted men, sitting their horses like cavaliers, led by the sheriff and his deputy and Jim Barlock. Then followed the Harkless club of Amo, led by Boswell, with the magnanimous Holloway himself marching in the ranks, and at sight of this the people shouted like madmen. But when Helen's eye fell upon Holloway's face, rather unhappy face she felt a pang of pity and unreasoning remorse, which waited her that he who looks upon politics when it is red must steel his eyes to see many a man with the heartburn. After the men of Amo came the Harkless club of Gainesville. Mr. Bence in the van with the step of a grenadier. There followed next Mr. Ephraim Watts, bearing a light wand in his hand and leading a detachment of workers from the oil field in their stained shirts and blouses, and after them came Mr. Martin and Mr. Landis at the head of an organization recognized in the "order of procession" printed in the Herald as "the business men of Plattville." The band played in such magnificent time that every high stepping foot in all the line came down with the same jolting plunk and lifted again with a masculine j as complete as that of the last vote the convention had taken that day. The leaders of the procession set a brisk pace, and who could have set any other kind of a pace when on parade to the strains of such a band playing such a tune as "A New Coo in Town" with all its might and noise.

But as the line swung into the square there came a moment when the tune was ended and the musicians paused for breath and there fell comparative quiet. Among the ranks of the "business men" ambled Mr. Wilkerson, singing at the top of his voice, and now he could be heard distinctly enough for those near him to distinguish the melody with which it was his intention to favor the public.

"Glory, glory, halloo! halloo! As we go marching on!"

The words, the air, that husky voice, recalled to the men of Carlow another day and another procession not like this one. And the song Wilkerson was singing is the one song every northern born American knows and can sing. The leader of the band caught the sound, signaled to his men, twenty instruments rose as one to twenty months, the snare drum rattled, the big drum crashed, the leader threw his baton high over his head, and music burst from twenty throats:

"Glory, glory, halloo! halloo! As we go marching on!"

Instantly the whole procession began to sing the refrain, and the people in the street and those in the wagons and carriages and those jumping from the windows joined with one accord. The ringing bells caught the time of the song, and the upper air reverberated in the refrain.

The Harkless club of Carlow wheeled into Main street, 200 strong, with their drums and flags, and their Germ That Ligozone Can't Kill.

Ligozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. Ligozone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Ligozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine—years yield at once to Ligozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Ligozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Asthma, Anemia, Bronchitis, Blood Poison, Bright Disease, Bowel Troubles, Catarrhs, Croup, Consumption, Diabetes, Dropsy, Eczema, Gout, Hay Fever, Indigestion, Kidney Disease, La Grippe, Leucorrhea, Liver Troubles, Malaria, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Scabies, Skin Diseases, Stomach Troubles, Throat Troubles, Tuberculosis, Typhoid, Yaws.

If you need Ligozone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Ligozone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please, accept it today, for it places you under no obligation whatever.

Ligozone costs 50c. and $1.

Made big enough for a big man to work in with comfort. Has more material in it than any other brand of shirt in Canada. Made on the H.B.K. scale it requires 30 1/2 to 42 yards per dozen, whereas common shirts have only 32 to 33 yards.

That's the reason why the H.B.K. "Big" Shirt never chafes the armpits, is never tight at the neck or wristbands, is always loose, full and comfortable and wears well.

Each shirt bears a tiny book that tells the whole history of the "Big" Shirt, and also contains a notarial declaration that the H.B.K. "Big" Shirt contains 39 1/2 to 42 yards of material per dozen.

Sold at all dealers but only with this brand:—

It is expected that the shipments of canned berries will aggregate six carloads. It is reported that the company will abandon its branch in this city and erect a canning plant at Vanceboro next year, which is said to offer a more convenient location for the business, as most of the berries are received from New Brunswick points. Bangor Commercial: The lumber operators on the Kennebec are now much in the same state of uncertainty in regard to the winter's operation as are the operators on the Penobscot, and the season on the Kennebec valley is decidedly backward. The conditions are much the same as prevail along the Penobscot. The work is affected by the condition of the lumber market and the fact that considerable stock was set on hand the last season, as the driving season was a good one and nearly every stick of last winter's cut as well as many million feet which were left in the woods the spring before on account of the low water were brought down to the mills. A number of camps are in operation, but not so many as were at work this time last year and the operators seem undecided as to what they will do.
