JOHN T. G. CARR

TWO LIVES LOST WHEN MILLER EXPLODED

Confederate Saw Mill at Argyle the explosion when Miller Blows Up, Killing Two Men and Injuring Others

One of the worst disasters that has ever been recorded in Carleton county occurred at about 7:30 yesterday morning when the steam saw mill owned and operated by William Crowfoot at Argyle was wrecked by a boiler explosion. One man was instantly killed, and another died soon after from the injuries sustained, a third was seriously hurt, while several others suffered minor injuries. The mill buildings and the millinery are a mass of tangled wreckage.

The dead include: F. X. Boudreau, of Beauséjour, whose dead remains were taken from the wreckage. Death was instantly instantaneous. His wife died only a few weeks ago and his two children were being cared for in a convent at Glenthorn. The second victim of fatality was Harry Dwyer of East Glensville. He was terribly injured and succumbed about four hours after the catastrophe occurred. He was a young man of 28 and unmarried.

John Anderson was badly hurt about the head and leg moments after the explosion. Other workmen engaged about the plant were injured but none of them very seriously.

The cause of the disaster is not known, but it is conjectured that some of the steam pipes had become loose owing to the explosion that had just occurred. At the time the men had just got ready to work for the day, and, of course, no warning of danger was given. The terrible destruction literally blew the building to shreds and the noise and confusion was heard and felt for miles around.

Consternation for a time held spellbound all who were near, but help to the injured and dying was the first consideration, and telephoned messages sent over the section brought willing helpers from the area. Many will remain were effected only in the few minutes that elapsed between the explosion and the time it was in fact.

The financial loss to the owner of the mill will be thousands in itself, and the loss of a winter's work to a number of men will be a hard blow not only to them but to the business community.

It takes but two months since a fatal explosion occurred at another nearby mill, and with the two similar catastrophes so near together it would be well to question the efficiency of the government inspection.

MRS. LOUISE BLANCHARD BOWEN

Mrs. Louise Blanche Bowden, of East Florenceville, widow of Robert Bowden, died on Monday, December 18, at the home of her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) G. Stannard, of Bristol, with whom she resided during the last few weeks of her life.

Mrs. Bowden, when barely off her hundred six years ago, was left with the care of three small children, children, three years; Leonard, one year, and Herbert, an infant. For the last year her health had been failing and, notwithstanding careful medical attendance and careful nursing, she passed away.

For many years she was a faithful and devoted member of the Methodist church, and took an active part in every good work for the well-being of the church and community.

She leaves to mourn, her three sons, two sons, Leslie, wife of Dr. G. W. Stannard, of Bristol, and Mrs. Adeline Hunter, of East Florenceville, and one daughter, L. A. William Hunter, also of East Florenceville; also her step-mother, Mrs. William Hunter, and one half-sister, Mrs. Frederick Simpson, both of Hantsport, leaving a large circle of relatives and friends.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. D. H. Clouston at the residence of Dr. D. W. Stannard, and the body was conveyed by train to Lakeside, where, Sunday morning, by her brother, L. A. Hunter, and her nephew, Ray Hunter, and laid to rest beside that of her late husband.

A funeral service was held in the Methodist church at Lakeside, Sunday, conducted by Rev. Stannard Hunter, Methodist minister, who also officiated at the grave.

NEEDS SPONTANEOUS ACT, BRISTOL

While employed at Lakeside mill near Bristol on Tuesday, Sunday morning, a blow in the forehead that came with such force that the bone of his skull was fractured. His injury was a very serious one and Dr. Rogers of Bristol and Dr. Stannard of Bristol worked over the case for the greater part of the night. The man suffered a wild delirium and was with difficulty restrained in bed.

Yesterday he was transferred to the Fisher Memorial Hospital for further treatment and his recovery is in doubt.

C. N. RIDEOUT IS WORSHIPFUL MASTER

Stannard's Monthly Meet Officers—Fine Gifts to a Church

The installation of officers of Bethel Lodge, A. F. and A. M., took place at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening, it being the custom of Bethel Lodge to install its officers on the festival of St. John the Evangelist.

Past Master J. M. Stevens installed the new master, C. N. Rideout, who later personally installed his officers. A report of the year's work showed the lodge to be in a flourishing condition.

The officers installed were: Worshipful Master, C. N. Rideout; senior warden, T. James Scott; junior warden, Ralph McDonald; senior deacon, Kenneth Wavason; junior deacon, Thomas Hutchinson; senior steward, Ross Stacey; director of ceremonies, H. M. Shawcross; secretary, E. M. Jones; treasurer, A. E. McKinley; E. M. Jones; treasurer, A. E. McKinley; chaplain, Aaron Lawson; altar, David Sinclair.

At the eleven o'clock service on Christmas morning, Rev. N. French, pastor of St. John the Baptist (Anglican) church, took occasion to thank the gentlemen who donated the beautiful west window, which has recently been completed. The donors, two local business men, feeling that a west window was necessary to complete the appearance of the church which underwent a thorough renovation during the last summer, quietly made arrangements to have the window put in, bearing the entire expense themselves. One of the donors had previously given the hardwood floor which was put in during the summer.

The church was very decorated for the Christmas festival, and with the sun shining brightly through the artistically colored west window, the interior was the embodiment of Christmas cheerfulness.

WATERVILLE SCHOOL CLOSING

The War Stamps given by the Town Council were awarded as follows: Grade I, Highest standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade II, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade III, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade IV, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade V, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade VI, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade VII, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade VIII, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade IX, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade X, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade XI, standing for term, Glenn Nixon; Grade XII, standing for term, Glenn Nixon.

MADRE PETERSON

A pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride in Waterville on Christmas Day, when Miss Lola Peterson and Mr. Fred Moore were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Boston. Only the immediate friends and relatives of the young couple were present. They will reside in Woodville where Mr. Moore is conducting a successful garage business. The young bride was a graduate nurse and very popular among the young people.

Their many friends will wish them long years of happiness.

THAT BLUEY BIRD

The story of the bird is no tale and high wings or deep notes do not put him off the job. On Jan. 3 delivered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray of Lower Brighton was a son—Clayton Earl; and on the same date a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dean and also to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ridgway; while on Dec. 30 a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ruth Howard of Upper Brighton.

INJURED IN THE WOODS

A few days ago Andrew Melnits, 15-year-old son of John Melnits of St. Thomas, while working for Ransie Chute in the Newbank woods, was seriously hurt when a blow of logs started rolling. His injuries were chiefly about the head, legs and arms. Inquiry at the home this morning brings the news that he is recovering nicely.

WHO WILL FORM NEW TOWN COUNCIL

Honors Appear to Go Begging—Last Meeting of Old Council and Auditor's Report—Small
Deficit Only

The 1921 Town Council have completed their year of office and the meeting of Tuesday evening was their last. The report of the various committees were heard as well as that of the town treasurer and the auditor. It is impossible to give in this issue of The Observer the full reports of committees, but appended hereto is the report of the auditor, which does not make a bad showing.

There was an ever-expending on the streets and side-walks, but in view of the fact that one of the worst and most important pieces of roads in the county—the Rockland Road—was rebuilt and maintained in first-class shape, that Main street was well gravelled throughout its length, and that a really first-class concrete sidewalk was constructed along Main street from the corner of King to Prince, the taxpayers will as a whole approve the expenditure and appreciate the excellent work that has been done. This brief outline gives only a partial report on the street work.

The new engine for the pumping station was a heavy expenditure, but it seems warranted through the fact that it very materially cuts down the cost of pumping.

In the auditor's report will be noticed an overdraft inherited from the preceding Council. The outgoing council have some obligations yet to meet, not shown in the report, but it has uncollected taxes and other resources to practically balance.

Following is the auditor's report:

MRS. C. L. SMITH

After an illness extending over some years, Mrs. C. L. Smith entered into rest on Friday, aged 82 years. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Harold and Albert at home; one brother, William McClary of St. Paul, Minn.; one sister, Mrs. Walter Townsend of Upper Marlboro, Maryland.

Death in bringing to a close the life work of this splendid wife and mother has called to nobler fields a heart and soul that was as large as it was strong. She made a host of friends who looked on her as the example of all that was kind and true, friends who will treasure long her memory, charitable and benevolent acts.

The funeral took place on Sunday from her late residence. A short service was held by Rev. M. E. Connor of the Methodist church. The choir sang the hymns, "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," "When Peace Like a River," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Interment was made in the Methodist cemetery. The pall bearers were C. L. S. McDonald, Alexander Sharpe, Charles Peabody and Ernest Hall.

INJURED IN THE WOODS

A few days ago Andrew Melnits, 15-year-old son of John Melnits of St. Thomas, while working for Ransie Chute in the Newbank woods, was seriously hurt when a blow of logs started rolling. His injuries were chiefly about the head, legs and arms. Inquiry at the home this morning brings the news that he is recovering nicely.

Larger Crops

are the aim of the good farmer at all times. This does not mean increasing the average by breaking up new ground or by buying a larger farm, but it means a larger yield and better crops from the same farm and the same average.

A recent bulletin issued by the New Jersey Experiment Station, said, "Good work, plus experience, plus plenty of fertilizer in Maine produced 200 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Good work, plus experience, plus little or no fertilizer in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin produced 100 bushels to the acre."

This is the story wherever fertilizer is used with what is called the "new soil of the East" producing double the crop of the virgin soil of the West. The latest Government crop report from Ontario shows the New Brunswick potato growers not only had the largest yield per acre in Canada, but went well over the 200 bushels per acre reported in Maine.

After three hundred years of cropping the New England States grow larger crops of corn, potatoes and grain to the acre than the new soil of the middle-west. There is but one explanation, the farmers of the East use fertilizers and those of the West do not.

Whether a good year or a bad year, the farmer with the largest crop will get the largest returns.

The "Made at Windsor, N. S." fertilizers meet the requirements of the farmers in supply, quality and price.

We want agents, either dealers or farmers in the territory where we are not now represented.

Write to us and our salesman will see you or we will quote you from our head office.

be remembered by many. H. L. Dickinson's children all took tea and spent a pleasant evening with the old folk at home. Raymond Clifford and Wilbur Dickinson with their wives and families; Mr. and Mrs. Austin De-Witt of Foreston with little Wilbur; Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Dickson, Miss Kathleen Hutchinson was also there.

Mr. and Mrs. Brazil Seely of Hartland and family spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Paulknor.

J. E. Tedford, wife and family took their dinner with her brother, H. A.
Smith and his family. They went to W. C. Forrest's and spent a very pleasant Christmas evening there.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Wasson and family spent Thursday at her brother's, Hugh Adams, Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hatfield went to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wasson's for their Christmas.

Norman Shaw met with a bad loss last week when his barn burned to the ground with all its contents excepting his cattle. His horses, new harness, double wagon, seeder, all his machinery, hay and straw were a total loss.

REV. F. A. WIGHTMAN MARRIED

Friends of Rev. F. A. Wightman, who for several years has been pastor of the Methodist church of East Florence-ville, will be interested to learn of his marriage on December 27 to Miss Nellie Belyea of Gagetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry Penna. Mr. Wightman is now pastor of the Methodist church at Devon.

THOUGHT HE HAD HEARTY TROUBLE

Railroad Man Says He Was Nearly Down and Out When He Began Taking Tanlac

"It's all due to Tanlac that I am able to be on the job today, for I was just about down and out when I began taking it," said Harold Blomchard, a freightman on the Canadian National Railway, residing at 230 Denison St., Windsor, Man.

"On returning from France, after three years service over there, I was so run down and weak I could hardly work. My appetite was gone and my stomach in such a bad condition that what little I did eat seemed to do me harm instead of good. After taking I would blast terribly and my heart would beat like a hammer against my chest. This palpitation was so bad at times I began to think I had something serious the matter with my heart. My kidneys had also bothered me for several years and there was a severe pain in the small of my back.

"My sleep at night did me little good, for I would wake up at all hours and then get up feeling as tired as if I hadn't gone to bed at all. In fact I felt miserable all the time. One day I happened to hear a man telling how much Tanlac helped him, so I began taking it and the results have been nothing less than remarkable. To put it all in a nut-shell, I am now as strong and well as I ever was in my life and I consider Tanlac well worth recommending to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., Ltd. and by leading druggists everywhere.

PRODUCE PRICES

The potato market has shown increased strength in the past week, stimulated by a favorable government report. The price offered today is $1.75 and farmers should sell some of their holdings at this price if they would get higher prices for what they have left.

Other produce prices are practically unchanged.

At the United Baptist parsonage yesterday afternoon Rev. E. A. Triles performed the ceremony which united Murray A. Smith and Miss Myrtie G. Gibson of Florenceville in the holy bonds of matrimony.

Kazubazua--The Happy Hunting Ground

Kazubazua! What is it? Where is it? Does it exist outside the comic papers? Thus the ignorant and untravelled.

How many Canadians know that Kazubazua is situated in one of the most beautiful sections of the Gatineau district, that the word, far from being one with humorous intent, is of Indian origin, meaning "hidden river," which is descriptively accurate of the Gatineau at this point? Very few, it is to be feared.
It takes the sportsman to prick up his ears at the mention of the name. For he will probably know that near Kazubazua lies one of the finest trout streams in the province, and that it forms the base of many famous hunting expeditions.

Notable among these were the two trips which have given the Gatineau a staunch friend in Rex Beach, who claims to have hunted over thousands of miles of country without finding anything that could touch the Kazubazua region.

To Conn Teeple, a resident of Kazubazua and the most renowned of Gatineau guides, a measure of Mr. Beach's enjoyment and success is certainly due.

Teeple, a spare, wiry man who does not look his age—whatever it is!—has "called" moose for many a hunter, but save for bears, whose skins adorn his home, he does not care "for killing."

"He's an awful dear man," said a neighbour of his one day, and when pressed to give a reason for Mr.
Teeple's expressiveness, he explained:

"He can spot a deer miles away.
Seems almost as if he could feel 'em in the air. Where nobody else can bring in game, Conn Teeple can.
He knows by looking at a hill whether there's deer on it. 'Yep, he's an awful dear man, he is!'"

Mr. Teeple's tastes are frankly rural. He looks with keen disfavor upon metropolitan inventions, especially the motor car. Walking to him is the natural method of locomotion, though the advantages of a "beast" are at times apparent. He walks 25 miles a day with true enjoyment, but one evening after motoring sixteen miles, he returned to his home exhausted. "Tuckered right out," he complained. "It's a cruel strain on a fella, you know, jus' settin'."

The station at Kazubazua holds its own thoughtfully about from the town.
Consequence of every description meets the trains and transport travellers over a sort of sandy table-land, profusely covered with blueberries in summer, to the cluster of cottages that form the village. This blueberry patch is about 5 miles in area and its output would practically feed Montreal.

Kazubazua presents a very different appearance to Low for example. The hills seem farther away, the country is wilder, in spite of a relatively larger settlement. Deer are seen close by, bears are not unknown, moose drink at the "crick" and yet telephone bells within sight of every house and three hours travel will take one to the Capital of the Dominion.

- (1) A typical view of the Gatineau River and Hills.
- (2) Kazubazua has a main street.

There is a main street in Kazubazua, a carding mill, a cement plant and a flour mill. Outside the latter stand the old grinding stones that were used in past years, and on the main road there is an earthen oven, upon which one might look as the grandfather of our Community Kitchen. It has been extensively used within recent times.

Kazubazua will not attract the commonplace, the type of vacation-ist to whom six wardrobe trunks and ten bathboxes are a necessity.
There isn't a moving picture palace in the place, nor a Chinese restaurant, nor an apartment house!

There are two stores, however, and gold has been found in the district. This is true because at one of the stores there are postcards for sale showing a robust looking gentleman leaning on a pick-axe and shadowed by a huge mound, which is supposed to represent pay dirt, probably, but which sceptical investors regard merely as a futile attempt to alter the position of the Gatineau hills.

There is a house at Kazubazua like functions are not confined to these generally associated with that reluctantly foreign. On summer days, when the sun is at its height, it will draw up nearly at the hotel, the coach-clad driver will jump nimbly from his box and assist a passenger to alight. Then, in a hearty tone quite at variance with that he is wont to use, he will explain for the benefit of the gallery, "Won't no more in the rig over to the station, so I brought this fella' along with me. One fella' please!"

Where is Kazubazua? What is it?
Ask any of the men who from now until the close of the hunting season may be seen driving their coaches along the main road and telling the tale. Observe the sportsman's manner, the (traveller) filled with camping equipment, listen for the intermittent bark of a gun, in the distance! Or, if an answer is not forthcoming from these signs, sit at some beautiful table a little later in the year, feast the hotel patron upon a succulent steak of venison or moose and ask, "What is Kazubazua? Your hunter here will tell you!"—Midge Mathews.

In other words, whether these savings in railway charges are passed on to you—or whether they are absorbed in marketing, cannot be controlled either by the railways or the public.

BUT this fact remains: a very great sum of money—enough to build every year a small city, or a Quebec Bridge, or four hundred and fifty of the newest and most powerful locomotives—is now removed from the revenues of the Canadian Railways and should be reflected, at least to some extent, in the family budgets of all Canadians!

They were the most, tremendous, any more.

Thinking from the station (which we reached by climbing a still grade of two feet to the landing), to the house that was to receive my first three model airplanes, I decided that I was on an extremely fitting plane in which to be borne. "Worthy," the name of their second half assembled by me, was the name of the plane. And with a word in the air, I got up to the station that I had to get up and on my first airplane. I was not in the air.

will push slowly from the rising water as the bulk of a great ship comes out of a fog at sea.

Upon these hills adventures wait—adventures expressed sometimes in the sudden whirl of partying, wings, sometimes in the discovery of a liquid jewel set amid desert trees; or again in the lifting of a new whose geohistoric man surely must have made his home. You may now find a shelter.

As health and strength returned to me (the Clatsans can walk a mile of healing) I waded over farther into the wildest land, and was meeting the adventure. I stumbled over a large bone bleached white and almost perfect in point of preservation. It showed a sharp pointed end, a lower frontal bone and highest part, a long frontal bone and horns. Considering the sturdiness of the skulls which geologists report at other northern points, it is reasonable to suppose that dinosaurs, stegosaurs and ichthyosaurs must have left occasional remains in marine sections. The skeleton proved it. But to which class did the bone belong?

Thrills alternately heated and chilled me. I considered my treasure that weighed probably six pounds and set out for home. As the miles diminished, the weight of the thing increased, until I fairly staggered up to the window, exvinced that mine had a five-ton weight burden compared with mine. Exhausted but triumphant, I lowered it and myself upon the floor and

"What 'yer gun' to do with it?"

"Present it to the Geological Museum at Ottawa," said I. "They are eager to have things like that."

The man handed a small section of the mail with faded Canadian before me.

"Boys, me what them f---s down there want with that ole truck. If I'd knowed what you was goin' after, I would have saved you carryin' it 200 them miles. I got two of them back in my house."

A Famous Sea Captain

Late Commander of the "Empress of France."

The Canadian Pacific recently lost by death in England one of their popular sea captains when
Captain Ebenezer
Cook, R.N.R., late commander of the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of France" passed away at his residence at Grand
Camp.

After conveying Mr. A. J. Balfour and other prominent Peace Conference delegates across the Atlantic, Captain
Cook was taken ill on arrival at Quebec. He was lying ill on the steamer on her return voyage, and when the steamer reached Liverpool he was removed by ambulance to his home, "but too late to recover."

The late Captain Cook, who was 53 years of age, was a man of fine appearance, and possessed a most courteous and genial disposition. He was looked upon as one of the most capable commanders sailing from the Mersey, and he performed excellent service during the war years.
Captain Cook was born at Tay-port, and joined the Allan Line in 1890 as fourth officer of the "Carthaginian." Within four years he was Late Captain Cook.

The high esteem in which the late Commander Ebenezer Cook was held manifested itself at the funeral, which was attended by a large throng of mourners, colleagues and friends. The funeral service was offered at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Great Cross, the service being conducted by the Rev. A.
Vaughan, M.A., Vicar of Great Cross.
by. Captain Cook was a prominent member of the Masonic Brotherhood.

"Empress of France" arriving at Quebec, on which Captain Cook made his last trip to Canada.

promoted to chief officer of the "Tunisia," and he became the Commander of the "Orontes" in 1907.
On the commencement of the war the Admiralty placed him in command of the "Victoria," and later he was given the command of the "Albatross," at that time flagship to the 10th Cruiser Squadron of the North Atlantic.
Following the Armistice, the Canadian Pacific Company retained him as commander of the "Albatross," which liner, following her conversion from war service, was renamed the "Empress of France." Captain Cook has since sailed regularly on this liner, and he was very highly esteemed by ocean travellers, including such distinguished passengers on the "Empress of France" as the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, Lord By (Governor-General of Canada), and the Rt. Hon. Mr. A. A. Balfour. being attached to Crosby Lodge, 27 St.
At the funeral the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited were represented by J. A. Martin, Liaison Manager, who also represented Sir Thomas Fisher, general manager; Capt. A. A.
Foster, Liverpool Steamships manager; W. J. Sargent, consulting engineer; Capt. Maxwell, marine surveyor; D. H. Hall, chief entering surveyor; W. Davies, new superintendent; Capt. A. H. Sargent, R.N.
R.; A. C. Wilson, shipping master; J.
McNeil, Liverpool general agent; L.
P. R., who represented Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager; R. A. Swan, passenger agent; C.P.R. A large number of the officers and staff of the "Empress of France" and "Albatross of Britain" were present.
Many beautiful floral tributes were laid on the grave.
