The Assembly found no fault with them? but they seemed auxious to have the execution of instructions placed in the hands of their political friends. The Lieutenani Governor proceeded to indulge them in this desire. He called to the Executive Council, a majority of gentlemen who were acceptable to the Speaker and leaders of the Assembly, notifying them, however, that they were only to be his advisers on such matters as he might submit to them. All was quiet for a time, and mit to them. All was quiet for a time, and the Lieut. Governor was lauded by the Astronomy Spain.

The new Council, however, soon insisted on having all "the affairs of the Province" submitted for their sidvice. They had taken the usual oath, which binds to secrecy on the business of the Council, yet they wished to appeal to the Public on these affairs; and enthe refusal of the Lieutenant Governor to allow of such a course, the whole council resigned. Since this time, the Lieutenant Governor has been abused by the dominant party in the Assembly, and even spoken of in that body in a way in which no person of bonorable feeling would permit himself to speak of the Representative of his Sovereign.
