The Argentine Revolution.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A dispatch from Buenos Ayres states that the revolution in the provinces of Buenos Ayres, San Luis and Santa Fe continues. The insurgents have taken most of the towns in the provinces named with little bloodshed. Much anxiety is felt as to the result of a conflict that has taken place at La Plata. Gen. Costa was in command of the garrison of 2,000 men at that place. The insurgents who attacked to town numbered about 2,000 men. The city of Santa Fe is besieged, and the insurgents have granted the governor two hours in which to surrender.

The Argentine Minister in London gives publicity to a dispatch from the Government at Buenos Ayres dated July 31, saying the revolutionary movements in the provinces of Buenos Ayres, Santa Fe and San Luis are entirely local.

Siam.

BANGKOK, Aug. 1.—English and German gunboats entered the Menam River to-day. They proceeded up the river and came to anchor off the city.

PARIS, Aug 1.—Prince Vadhana, the Siamese Minister to France, called at the Foreign Office to-day and informed Minister Develle that Siam was prepared to give the supplementary guarantees required by France for the strict fulfillment of the terms of the ultimatum pending a final settlement of the questions involved. It is understood that the French will occupy the river and port of Chantibun, which town lies 175 miles to the southeast of Bangkok, on the Gulf of Siam, until a complete evacuation is made of the Siamese military posts on the left bank of the Mekong River. The blockade is still in force.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The supplementary guarantees demanded by France from Siam, which includes the temporary custody of the river and port of Chantibun, and that Siam shall not establish military stations in certain named places near the Cambodian frontier or within a certain distance of the Mekong River, were contained in a note issued by M. Develle yesterday and made public to-day. The text of the note is as follows:

"PARIS, July 31.—The delay of Siam in accepting the ultimatum presented by the French Minister resident at Bangkok has justified the Government of the Republic in imposing heavier conditions. Being desirous, however, to give further proof of the sentiments of moderation by which she has been constantly actuated, France will content herself, as an indispensable guarantee for the practical execution of the clauses of the ultimatum, with occupying the river and port of Chantibun until the complete evacuation of the posts established by the Siamese on the left bank of Mekong River.

"Further, for the purpose of guaranteeing a continuance of the good relations happily re-established between France and Siam, and for preventing a conflict in the region of Lake Toulesap, Siam will undertake to maintain no military forces in Battambang and Siemreuf and the locality situated within a radius of 25 kilometers of the Mekong River, starting from the Cambodian frontier. Siam will only maintain the police force necessary to preserve order.

"Moreover, Siam will not maintain war ships or armed boats on the waters of the great lake or the Mekong River."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—In the House of Lords to-day Earl Rosebery, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, read the text of the first ultimatum and of the supplementary ultimatum sent by France to Siam and accepted by the latter country. He added: "We have signed an agreement in Paris establishing a neutral zone in Indo-China."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Standard this morning again affirms that owing to the representation made to M. Develle, the Foreign Minister, by Lord Dufferin, the question of a neutral zone between France's, the Siamese and British Burmah possessions has been settled satisfactorily, and that it has been agreed that the French blockade of the Siamese coast shall be raised immediately. Reports of similar purport appear to-day in the Times and Post.

PARIS, Aug. 1.—A semi-official note says: "The various interviews between M. Develle and Lord Dufferin in the last few days referred exclusively to the Upper Mekong question which has been pending between France and Great Britain for years and which was brought into prominence by the Franco-Siamese conflict. All decisions in the matter were postponed until Siam unreservedly accepted the French ultimatum. Acceptance having been made, France has not hesitated to adhere to the principle of a neutral zone to be established by means of mutual sacrifices between the possessions of the two powers in the regions of the Upper Mekong. The delimitation is reserved for future consideration."

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Daily News editorially says: "It would be pedantry and folly to deny that our relations with France have been severely strained. France's extremely high-handed procedure, for which there is as much justification as there was for the partition of Poland, could not be regarded with unconcern by Great Britain. Much credit for the fortunate outcome is due to the consummate diplomacy of Lord Dufferin while Lord Rosebery has certainly justified the confidence of the country."

Panic in Pork!

The Concomitant of Boston Beans Takes a Terrific Tumble.

Sudden Fall of Prices From $19 to $10 a Barrel.

The Complete Collapse of the Cudahy Corner.

A Number of Leading Chicago Dealers Go to the Wall—The American Packing Company One of the Victims—Several Failures Reported and More Sure to Follow.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The big deal in pork, which has held the price of that commodity at an inordinately high figure for months, has collapsed, accompanied by the announcement of the failure of the three leading houses concerned in it—those of J. G. Steiver, E. W. Bailey and A. C. Helmholtz. Pork sold down from $19 to $10 a barrel, but almost immediately recovered to $11 50, where it is now selling.

SEVERAL HEAVY FAILURES.

Just as matters had settled down and things begin to look serene on the board of trade, the failures of the American Packing and Provision Company, one of the great packing firms of the city, of "Jack" Cudahy, the heavy packer and daring operator in hog products, and of Wright & Haughey, heavy receivers and shippers of grain, were announced, creating the utmost consternation, and prices began to tumble all over the floor of the exchange. Cudahy was largely interested in the North American Provision Company, and when its failure was announced that of Cudahy was looked for, and it soon came after. The failure of Wright & Haughey was not unexpected, as they were interested with Cudahy in his deals. Cudahy has been carrying a large amount of lard, and in addition he has dealt rather heavily in ribs. The sudden slump in pork this morning caught him in lard and ribs which accompanied it, and he was forced to the wall. It is impossible to estimate the amounts involved, but they are believed to be very large. The North American Provision Company alone is capitalized at $250,000.

UNPREPARED TO MEET THE DECLINES

The John Cudahy Packing Company, which has its main house here, with branches at Louisville and Nashville, is owned by Cudahy, but its affairs are separated from Cudahy's private affairs, and so far there is no indication that it is involved in his downfall.

LARD ON THE TOBOGGAN.

In the rush to cover contracts with the insolvent firm the price of September lard plunged down to $6, as compared with $6 75 at the opening, and closed at $6 62½. September ribs fell to $5 90, against $6 75 at the opening, recovering to $6 22½, however, before the close.

The Philadelphia Packing and Provision Company has failed. Liabilities large.

ARMOUR'S PARTNER.

John Cudahy is one of that remarable family of Milwaukee men which is now identified with the biggest packing establishments in the world. Michael Cudahy is Armour's partner and the practical head of the vast works of the concern. Will Cudahy was the partner of John Plankinton at Milwaukee.

THE BELLE'S SACRIFICE.

A Wealthy New York Woman Deserts the Four Hundred

To Become a Salvation Army Lassie—A New Found Happiness.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Miss Emma Van Norden made her first public address to the Salvation Army yesterday. Miss Van Norden is an ensign in the army, and her conversion to the Salvationists is one of the most remarkable on record. She is the daughter of Warner Van Norden, president of the Bank of North America, one of the largest commercial institutions in the country.

The family live elegantly in a marble mansion on Fifth avenue, and are social associates with the Vanderbilts and Astors. Miss Van Norden is the youngest and prettiest of three daughters who have figured in all the exclusive functions of the four hundred. Some time ago she astonished her family and friends by attending Salvation Army meetings, later she insisted on leaving home and living with the Salvationists. Of late she has paraded with them in their nightly marches, with tambourines and cymbals. She has been made an ensign and will soon be created a captain and will be sent to various posts throughout the country, like other officers of the Salvation Army.

Last night was the first time she made an address. She explained how she got tired of the frivolities of high life in New York city, and was attracted by the zeal and devotion of Salvation Army soldiers for their Christian work. Before that time she said her name was on a church roll, but her religion was confined to certain times and places. She felt that such a life was one of hypocrisy, and she determined to give herself wholly to Salvation work.

She expressed herself entirely satisfied with her experience in the Salvation Army. It had brought her more peace and happiness, she said, than had all the wealth and social distinction she formerly possessed.

New Element of Financial Relief.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A new and unexpected element of relief has been injected into the financial situation. It is estimated that $8,000,000 or $10,000,000 will be so added to New York's supply of currency within a very short time.

British Possessions in the East Affected.

An Attack on India Apparently Meditated.

No Aid Need be Looked for by Great Britain from the Triple Alliance

[Specially Communicated to the London ADVERTISER.]

In the beginning of 1889, M. Bonvalot was earnestly engaged in a discussion with M. Carnot, and one of his most influential advisers, as to the future of France. The subject was one of special interest to them, as it always must be, to ever intelligent Frenchman. France had lost much of her prestige by the Franco-German war, and, along with it, she lost two important provinces upon the banks of the Rhine. How was France to regain her lost influence, was one of the questions discussed at this important meeting. M. Bonvalot assurred the President that it was not only possible for France to regrain her lost influence, and, in time, her lost territory, but it was possible for her to acquire far greater influence and far greater prosperity than her people had ever dreamed of in the days of Napoleon the Great. France had already extensive possessions, contiguous to herself, in Northern Africa. With the fall of the Ottoman Empire the whole of Northern Africa, up to the borders of Egypt, would be hers as a matter of course, and with the English out of Egypt that country, as well as Syria and the valley of the Euphrates, would become hers. Russia required an ally, and if she came into possession of Turkey in Europe and Asia Minor her ambition in respect to the Ottoman Empire would be satisfied. But to carry out such a policy care must be taken not to begin where they should end. It was the opinion of each that as long as the Triple Alliance continued there was no certainty that France could, even with the active aid of Russia, regain Alsace and Lorraine. M. Bonvalot held strongly to the conviction—and he half converted the President and Ministers to his own way of thinking—that the hopes of France, could only be realized by greatly curtailing the wealth and commercial prosperity of the United Kingdom and reducing her to a second rate power. If the western portion of this programme were first attempted, France and Russia would have, not simply a Triple Alliance to contend with, but a large portion of Europe and all Turkey as well; but if France and Russia were to unite for the acquisition of the Indies, they would have to CONTEND WITH ENGLAND ALONE.

Russia could acquire the greater portion of Hindostan and the whole of Farther India; westward to the Brahmapootra and possibly to the Ganges would go to France. The line of demarcation could be settled between the allies after the conquest was effected. M. Bonvalot suggested that Persia herself might in time be divided between Russia and France; and the whole of the commerce of Asia secured to France and Russia. All the parties were agreed that if the conquest of India were undertaken, the Triple Alliance would do nothing to aid England. As against France and Russia she must fight her own battle, unless, indeed, the Chinese could be drawn into the contest, and as to what China was capable of doing or would be inclined to undertake, no one knew.

Russia has gone into the possession of the Province of Ili; but when the Taiping rebellion was ended, and China showed a disposition to assert her authority over Ili, the Russians withdrew, and so it might be if the conquest of Farther India was undertaken, China might become the ally of the United Kingdom. Then the President asked M. Bonvalot how was France, in a war with the United Kingdom, to get an army to the east. She could not march across Europe and have her troops transported to India through Russian territory. There was but one way, said M. Bonvalot, and that was to extend her possessions in Farther India, and to concentrate a large body of troops there before hostilities began; but above all things they must tax the United Kingdom to the utmost at home; they must sow seeds of discontent in British India, and the work of the conquest of India would not be a difficult task, the more especially if Russian statesmanship could succeed in drawing the Republic of the United States to their side. The present, said M. Bonvalot, is an opportune period. Ireland is a source of weakness to the United Kingdom at present. If she were contented, she would be a source of strength, and it must not be forgotten that with Irishmen reconciled, the possibility of ranging the American Republic on the side of France and Russia will be at an end; for both the German and Irish elements in America would be against such an alliance. The subject which the three French gentlemen discussed was shortly afterwards broached to the Russian representative at Paris, who was greatly interested in the plan of aggrandisement marked out by M. Bonvalot, and he professed to see in it a policy greatly conducive to the interests of both countries, as it afforded them an opportunity for progress in wealth and in naval strength which would give to Russia, Constantinople and France the whole of Northern Africa and the Levant. The subject was discussed shortly afterwards at St. Petersburg between the Czar and his advisers on the one side and the French Minister on the other. It was agreed that a journey of observation should be undertaken, extending from the borders of Siberia at Lake Balkash, through Chinese Turkestan, Thibet and Botang, to the eastern border of Tonquin, on the China Sea. M. Bonvalot and Prince Henry of Orleans, left Paris on the 6th of July following for Moscow. They were accompanied by Father Dedekan, a Belgian missionary, who had resided for several years in China and whose knowledge of the country, its peoples and their languages, made him of very great service to them. The Russian Government furnished every facility to these French travelers. They went from Moscow to Novgorod. Here they sailed down the Volga to its junction with the Kama, and up that river to the base of the Ural Mountains. At this point they entered Siberia and journeyed eastward through that country with the great facilities that Russia afforded them, going to Tobolsk, Omsk and Semipalatinsk, on the Irtish River; thence they journeyed south to Sergiopol, to the east of Lake Balkash, and thence southward to Jarkent, a place near the boundary between China and Russian Turkestan. About the middle of September they crossed the boundary and entered upon Chinese territory. On the Russian side of the boundary are a large number of Tartars, who formerly resided upon Chinese soil. During the Chinese rebellion these ruffians murdered a great number of Chinese, Sibos and Solons. After that rebellion was over they fled before the Chinese troops and retired with the Russians across the boundary. M. Bonvalot reports that they found many deserted and ruined villages in which the Tarantchi Tartars once resided. The country is exceedingly fertile, and Russia hopes at an early day to utilize these people in putting her in possession of this country and substituting her own authority for that of China in these regions. M. Bonvalot gives a minute account of the country through which he passed, its resources, the character of its inhabitants, and the chances of marching an army from the borders of Russia to the sea shore in Tonquin. According to the report of M. Bonvalot, 500 well armed men could have marched along the line they traveled without any very serious opposition; that at Batang there were said to be 150 troops, but they had but fifteen swords among the whole of them, that there really was not one-fourth of this number. The mandarin, who was poorly paid, substitutes boys for their deceased fathers on the roll, and pockets the pay received for those who are so reported. According to his view

BEFORE THE FINAL STRUGGLE CAME

THE CHINESE ARMY IS A MYTH.

He declares that the Emperor of China is a haughty, narrow-minded and ill-informed man. That on his marriage no European representative, except the Russian, was allowed to offer his congratulations; that the presents they attempted to make him were haughtily refused, and that after these rebuffs it is reported that the members of the embassy dined, not with the Emperor of the court, but with dependent chiefs and inferior officers. He denounces the treachery of the Chinese mandarins, their deceit, and the absurdity of any European State expecting to obtain redress for any wrong done in China by the Chinese authority. It is a sheer waste of time to look for such, as nothing will induce them to act uprightly, except their fears. M. Bonvalot has no doubt of the ability of France to march a body of troops from Tonquin into the country of Thibet, with scarcely an obstacle in the way. The expedition was, in many respects, a remarkable one. Before coming to Lhassa their route from Kuldja to Lake Noma was very nearly south, and lay a long way east of the Russian military explorations and surveys. It would seem that the route was determined upon by the advice and with the sanction of the Russian authorities. The Russian exploration in the Pamir, it would seem, is carried on solely for military purposes, and with a view of passing east of Badakshan and acquiring a knowledge of the passes which may lead into Cashmere. The explorations of the French and Russians together have made the western and southwestern portion of the Chinese Empire familiar to the military men of the two countries. The proceedings threatened by France in Farther India, the conduct of the Russian officers who took part in the naval review at New York, and the promised return of a still larger Russian fleet into American waters, are but parts of the scheme of offensive alliance agreed upon in the early part of 1889. If England ever needed a thorough and careful organization of her army in India she needs it at this moment. She requires her fleet to be in a state of efficiency, and her military organization in the United Kingdom will unquestionably call for revision. The exploratory adventure of M. Bonvalot through Songaria, Turkestan, Thibet, Yunnan and Tonquin, was the initial step in a new enterprise on the part of France and Russia. The scheme is not unlike that devised by Peter the Great and set out in his Will. It is the first time in the history of France that she has become a party to a project which will require years of perseverance to work out. Russia has long shown that she has an

ABIDING CONFIDENCE IN HER OWN DESTINY.

Six great armies and nearly 200 years have been employed in subduing the country between the Caspian and the borders of China. Five of these armies perished disastrously; but she persevered. She now has a railway system carried nearly to Bokhara, and such an ally as France at this critical juncture is of consequence to her. She is pushing her frontier in various directions. If the Triple Alliance puts impediments in the way of the conquest of Turkey in Europe they put no impediment to her enterprises in Turkestan and Northern Afghanistan. Had France possession of Egypt, the conquest of Turkey might first be undertaken. As she has not, the new policy must be carried out upon new lines. And as Russia's aim is extension, it matters little to her what outside countries and peoples are brought within her dominions. The part that France will be called upon to play is, indeed, a more difficult one than that which falls to the lot of Russia. For Russia can march her armies to the very borders of India and China within her own territories. France must collect her forces in Anam, and revolution may overtake her Government before her work of aggression against British India can fairly begin. This much, however, England must count upon—she must look for no aid from the Triple Alliance. They would rather that those powers should waste their resources against the British Empire than against Central Europe; and yet it cannot be doubted that with India in their possession, with the whole of Northern Africa in the possession of France, they would, in a short time, recuperate themselves from the exhausting effects of the war, and prove far more formidable enemies in consequence of what they had gained than they would at this moment be in the full possession of all their present resources. The French have shown a good deal of bitterness towards Lord Dufferin. It may be that they are under the impression that it was he who received surreptitiously from the French Foreign Office M. Bonvalot's report. If so, they are mistaken. Its contents were long ago known to statesmen who took a deeper interest in knowing what are the future designs of those who direct the affairs of France than the statesmen of England during the past fifteen years have shown. But it will be indeed strange if the present action of France is not fully understood by Lord Dufferin. Your readers will remember that the acquisition of France in Farther India was followed by the annexation of Burmah to British India under Lord Dufferin's regime.

NOT A FINANCIAL SUCCESS!

World's Fair Returns Prove Disappointing.

The Management Have Hard Work to Pay Debts—The Stockholders Will Get Nothing on Their Investment.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A board of finance has been appointed to manage the monetary affairs of the World's Fair.

With the closing of the gates last night the first half of the Columbian Exposition passed into history. The number of paid admissions during the month was 2,759,971. The largest number of paid admissions was on July 4, when 283,273 people deposited the admission fee with the ticket sellers. The smallest number was on Sunday last, when only 18,637 paid admissions were recorded. The paid attendance for May was 1,050,307, while that of June more than doubled this figure, reaching a total of 2,675,113.

Officials of the fair are greatly pleased with the artistic success of the great exposition, but this much cannot be said of the financial end of the enterprise. The attendance has failed to reach the mark it was expected to attain during the first half of the fair, and especially during the month of July. For this the railroads are in the main held responsible, and the officials do not hesitate to criticise their stubbornness and meanness in refusing to make a one-fare round trip at the beginning of the fair.

The present hard times have had much to do with the poor attendance, but the management thinks the people would have attended largely had the railroad fares been reduced. There must necessarily be a large attendance during the remaining period of the fair if the management expects to pay its debts, and this is all they now hope to do.

It is a foregone conclusion that the stockholders will get nothing on their investment, nor will their subscriptions be returned, as the money the exposition is legally liable for amounts to so much that it will take a tremendous daily average of paid admissions to ease the obligations.

The Poisoner's Wife.

DETROIT, Aug. 1—Harper Hospital reports that Mrs. Meyer, the wife of the alleged poisoner, is now so far recoved that she can be removed at any time, but they do not know when she will leave for New York. It is thought, however, that the detectives will start with her to-morrow.

The cracks were fearful of tearing each other's speed and Tyler won in slow time, and it was declared no race. When the event was recalled both Sanger and Zimmerman refused to start. In the other races, where both men were entered, either one or the other did not start.

W. Evans won the mile (novice) in 2:31½.

Garry won the quarter-mile (open) in 40 4-5.

The mile handicap was won by Bliss in 2:19 1-5.

The mile State championship was won by Steuber in 2:36 1-5.

The half-mile handicap was won by Zimmerman in 1:02.

The mile (open) was won by Tyler and declared no race.

The two-mile international was won by Sanger in 5:13 3 5.

The three-mile lap race was won by Zimmerman in 9:31 2 5.

ACQUITTED.

The Kent County Judge Dismisses the Charge Against Robert Mead of Train-Wrecking.

CHATHAM, Aug. 1.—The case of Robert Mead, committed for trial on the charge of attempted train-wrecking on the C. P. R. near Thamesville on June 5 came up for trial at the county judge's criminal court here.

At the close of the evidence for the prosecution the judge, addressing prisoner's counsel, said he did not believe it would be necessary to call for any testimony for the defense, the cross-examination having told so effectively upon the statements of the witnesses already examined that he considered no case had been made out against the prisoner. Regarding the footprints, the judge remarked that, as had been pointed out by the defense, he did not think it possible that they could remain in soft, marshy ground, such as that described, for a period of nearly six weeks, during which several heavy showers of rain had fallen which must have washed them away. Had the ground been hard clay, the marks might have remained; but the witnesses, one and all, maintained that it was little better than a swamp. He could find no strong evidence against the accused.

Robt. Mead was then called, acquitted of the charge against him, and discharged from custody.

Leo on Labor.

Translation of the Pope's Encyclica on the Subject.

The Poor Have a Right to be Assisted by the Rich.

Property the Essential Element of Social Order—Strikes Justified Only When an Individual Interest is Attacked.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The World publishes a special from Rome, containing a translation of Pope Leo's forthcoming encyclical upon the labor question, of which this is an abstract:

Constitutions and laws have their foundation on the character and the traditions of nations and peoples. They are the work of God through the centuries, as the history of every country shows, but no law which wanders from religion or tends to subvert it can be otherwise than defective, and in time must come to naught.

Society is not a human invention, but a divine inspiration for the real social contractors, not merely arranged between man and man, but between man and God, where the individual fulfills his duty to God, but cannot fail in doing his duty to God. Property is the essential element to social order for the preservation and development of human life, and the divine law has declared property sacred and inviolable—"Cursed be he who removeth his neighbor's landmark." But the poor have nevertheless a right to be

ASSISTED BY THE RICH.

Not by indiscrimate almsgiving, but by preparing such employment for them as will be useful. "If a man will not work neither shall he eat," but if he have no work it is plainly the duty of those who can do so to provide it for him. This legitimatizes property. Atheism and a departure from the Christian faith are the great aids and stimulants of anarchy and socialism. The Christian faith alone is the bulwark of social order. Where Christian institutions and customs are not maintained in a State there must be disorder, bewilderment and decay. At this moment Europe is in the throes of an immense upheaval of society, in which one violent struggle succeeds another unceasingly. In many cases the reason is to be found in the fact that legislation has not been duly enacted, for every person should have his legitimate part in the benefits of society according to the order of providence.

This state of unrest is not confined to the working classes properly so-called. It has taken root and is bearing nefarious fruit in the more cultivated part of society. The masses who do not perceive the necessities of light and shade, seeing those moving in a superior condition of life, adherents of the principles of socialism allow themselves to be who have no real interest in the cause they so loudly uphold beyond a sordid or a selfish one.

And this is why strikes are so unproductive of beneficial results. Placed on a basis more social than economic, being more of a struggle than a pacification, more of aggression than defense, the strike loses its natural aspect and hides itself and its essence. A strike can be justified only as a means of defense when an individual interest is attacked. Never can it be justified as a collective arm of aggression. Man has a natural right to live and to work as a means of procuring a living. He has a right to remove every obstacle to his work and to get the value of his labor, and therefore when his labor is neither productive nor remunerative he has a right to refuse to continue it. But an individual right cannot be transferred into a collective right; nor can an arm of defense be changed into an arm of aggression to cause a means of good to degenerate into

A SOURCE OF HARM.

An aggressive strike is not reciprocal between operator and operative, but an instrument of attack upon the property and person. The operative on strike is a passive and dominated instrument, not an intelligent and free being. While his action lessens the capital of the employer, it puts no money into his own pocket. The right of protecting the operative, whether in after years or in the field, should be admitted, and for this purpose the maximum of labor, as well as the minimum of salary, should be fixed. The hours of labor should be arranged, giving due attention to days of rest and abstention from labor.

The Apple Trade.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—At the Deptford cattle market yesterday business was firmer, and prices generally were 2 pence higher per eight pounds.

Woodalls of Liverpool, in discussing the outlook of the apple trade for the coming season, say the prospect cannot be considered brilliant. The English supply is probably ample to meet the demand during the early part of the season, and none will be wanted from Canada before good, well-matured winter stock can be shipped.

A wonderful new combination is R. Stark's Headache, Neuralgia and Liver Powders, nice to take; perfectly harmless. Mr. Wills, chief of police, Woodstock, says: "A sure cure every time." Ald. Farmer, barrister, Hamilton, says: "I experienced almost immediate relief from their use for sick headaches." Mr. Mercer, contractor, Hamilton, says: "I consider them a very valuable remedy, and far surpassing many others I have tried." Mrs. Gaston, Hamilton, says: "I have derived great benefit from them, having been a long time a sufferer from headache, biliousness and neuralgia." Mrs. Crist, Hamilton, says: "No medicine or doctors did my daughter any good until we used Stark's Headache, Neuralgia and Liver Powders; they have effected a complete cure." Mrs. Keats, Hamilton, says: "Your powders have been the greatest blessing to me." Price, 25 cents a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

"You are not in our set" clucked the old Shanghai hen, pushing the goose egg out of her nest with her bill.

MORE POWER WANTED.

Plenty of Water, But Not Enough Machinery.

New Hydraulic Pumps Advocated—The G. T. R. Taking Water From the River—The Present Engines Working Beyond Their Limit.

The question of more power for the pumps at Springbank came up at last night's meeting of the water commissioners. There is plenty of water at the springs, but not power enough to send the necessary supply to the city. With the power is wanted an extra main, and chairman Jones gave notice that the matter would be thoroughly threshed out at the next meeting. New hydraulic pumps are spoken of to be placed below the present ones and the same water used as a motive power. This year has been a phenomenal one. Only one day in July last year did the water cease to run over the dam, while at the present time water would not flow over it even with the splash boards down. The G. T. R. began pumping from the river yesterday. The pumping record for the last two weeks was 40,000,000 by the steam pumps and 20,000,000 by hydraulic pumps. The average daily pumping was 2,500,000 gallons with machinery that was sold at a 2,000,000 limit.

Mr. J. R. Minhinnick applied at last night's meeting of the water commissioners for city water on Grand avenue. He also wants a meter. The matter was referred to the engineer.

A. G. Stroyan, livery keeper, complained that his water rate was made excessive on account of a leak. This was also referred to the engineer. The latter recommended the laying of a two-inch main on Victoria street, 300 feet west of Waterloo street; also that meters be placed in Robinson Hall Chambers and water rates charged accordingly. The report was adopted.

C. W. Davis asked for a fixed rate for his hotel. The matter was referred to the chairman, the secretary and the engineer.

Thomas Sargeant applied for a rebate of $1 75 charged on a store that had been vacant. The inspector stated that the shoemaker next door had used the tap during the disputed time. Referred to the inspector and secretary to report.

John Walker applied for a main on Grosvenor street, between William and Adelaide streets. The engineer will report on this.

R. C. Macfie & Co. asked for a rebate on water rate, which they claim to be heavy on account of a defective hoist. The application was filed, as the last quarter's rate was less than the previous one's.

S. J. T. Brown, local manager for the Bell Telephone Company, replied to the commissioners' request that the rate on their instruments be reduced. His reply was not favorable.

The watering cart hydrant at Queen's Park will be placed inside the ring. Spring taps will be placed on the hydrants in Queen's Park.

Geo. Lovell, et al., applied for a main on Tecumseh avenue. The application was referred to the engineer.

The chairman's action in shutting off the lawn service was indorsed by the commissioners and became law. The inspectors reported that the command was being well observed.

IS IT A UNION CHURCH?

Dispute Regarding the Status of a New Church Edifice in Hull.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—The Presbytery of Ottawa to-day had a warm discussion over Zion Presbyterian Church, Hull. Rev. Mr. Hagar, a Methodist minister, recently stated that several Methodists in Hull had been deceived by their Presbyterian brethren, inasmuch as they subscribed to the building of Zion Church, believing that after its erection it would be known as a union church, in which the Presbyterians and Methodists of that city might worship together and have equal control. In the Presbytery today this statement by Mr. Hagar was called in question. Rev. Messrs. Macfarlane and Whillans said there was no truth in the claim that the church was to be a union church or that any subscriptions had been asked on that basis. The Presbytery appointed Rev. Dr. Moore to call on Mr. Hagar and ask an explanation.

PROF. CAMPBELL'S CASE.

Action of the Montreal Presbytery—The Indictment Approved.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—The Montreal Presbytery held another meeting to-day to consider the case of Prof. John Campbell, of the Montreal Presbytery, who is charged with heresy. The indictment submitted at the last meeting was, after considerable amendment, decided to be relevant, and was finally approved.

The two counts of the indictment, as finally approved, charge Prof. Campbell

1. With having held and taught a view of the Holy Scriptures which impugns and discredits them as the supreme and infallible source of religious truth.

2. Holding a view of God which sets him forth as one who does not smite either in the way of punishment or discipline and who has nothing to do with the judging or punishing of the wicked.

The clerk was instructed to serve a copy of the indictment upon Prof. Campbell and cite him to answer the charges before the Presbytery at the meeting to be held Sept. 2.

A new and wonderful discovery has recently been made, by means of which tens of thousands will be freed from pain. Nerviline, or nerve pain cure, represents in very concentrated form the most potent pain-relieving substitutes known to medical science, and strange to say, it is composed of substances solely vegetable in origin. Polson's Nerviline is the most prompt, certain and pleasant pain remedy in the world. Try Nerviline for toothache, neuralgia, cramps, etc., always safe and efficient.

A CRISIS AVERTED!

Minister Bowell Rushes to the Rescue.

The "Insulted" Italian Admiral May Be Mollified by a Salute From Montreal's Guns.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 1.—This morning Rear Admiral Magnahi, of the Italian warship Etna, notified the city authorities that unless his salute, fired on entering Montreal harbor, was returned he would at once leave the harbor and proceed to sea. The failure to return the salute, he said, was an insult to his flag.

Acting Mayor Stornes at once telegraphed Acting Premier Bowell at Ottawa the facts of the case, and again requested that a salute be fired, although the military authorities at the capital yesterday declared that Montreal was not a saluting port and that the guns could not be fired.

Minister Bowell's reply has been received. It directs that the Italian warship's salute be returned at once, the expense of firing such a salute to be borne by the Government.

The Italian warship Etna was again visited by large crowds to-day. The threat of Admiral Magnaghi to leave port unless a salute was fired in return to her salute caused a sensation, but fortunately further unpleasantness was prevented by the receipt of the following message from the Minister of Militia, Hon. J. C. Patterson:

"Am quite willing to give the city the necessary ammunition for the salute. Am wiring Gen. Herbert at Ottawa to this effect."

A salute of 21 guns was fired from St. Helen's Island this evening.

London, Wednesday, August 2.

A BLOCKADE and a blockhead may be combined to cause a good deal of trouble.

ECCENTRICITY in emigration continues. On July 15, 209 emigrants left Sidney, N. S. W., in the barque Royal Tar for Monte Video, with the intention of founding a "New Australia" settlement in the Republic of Paraguay.

SO GREAT has been the opposition to the sale of the Thousand Islands by the Dominion Government that it is possible the auction will not go on. If the islands must be disposed of, let the sales be made on long lease and under well-defined conditions. Save the beautiful scenery from the vandals.

WE PUBLISH in another column a communication that throws a good deal of light upon recent happenings in Siam, as well as on the Russian advance into Central Asia. The letter has been specially sent to this journal by an authority on affairs in the East, who has had exceptional opportunities to investigate and to reach conclusions. The future must decide to what extent the two great Powers that are now represented as co-operating in an attempt to menace British India shall succeed, and how far Great Britain will be able to thwart undue ambition. Meanwhile we call attention to a communication of a remarkable character, which will well repay perusal at this stage.

A REMARKABLE accusation was made against a plaintiff in a Tacoma, Wash., court on Monday. James Stinson, a wealthy Chicago stockman, who formerly lived in Hamilton, Ont., openly accused Dr. J. S. Wintermute, of attempting to hypnotize a witness. While on the stand for Stinson, who resists the payment of a bill of $40,000 charged by Dr. Wintermute for the care of certain blooded horses, one of the witnesses seemed to have a clouded memory. He could not remember; he halted and hesitated. Finally Stinson called the attention of the court to the fact that the witness was being hypnotized by Wintermute. Judge Hanford did not seem to consider the objections seriously, and the examination proceeded. The witness was asked some more questions, but he still seemed muddled. Again Stinson arose and called the court's attention to the witness's mental condition, and insisted that he was under a hypnotic spell. Dr. Wintermute was observed to be making curious passes with his hands in the direction of the witness, and he was ordered to keep his hands down. Stinson alleges that Wintermute has hypnotized persons in his house at Chicago, and he is positive that he had the witness under his influence. In court he got between the doctor and a witness, and the latter at once rubbed his eyes and brightened up. If this contention is well founded and the law is powerless to prevent the operator from using his powers to bamboozle a witness every well regulated law office will find it necessary to keep on hand a competent mesmeriser. Perhaps his attacks could be as easily borne as the wild onsets of a lawyer with a bullying disposition.

"TONE" ON BOTH SIDES OF THE ATLANTIC.

Mr. Arnold Haultain occupies several columns in the Toronto Week to indicate his lack of sympathy with Mr. Andrew Carnegie's desire for the reunion of Great Britain, the United States and Canada. Mr. Haultain thinks the difference of "tone" on the two sides of the Atlantic alone constitutes an insurmountable barrier; and seems to attribute this deficiency of "tone" this side sea to "the sophistries imbedded in the Declaration of Independence which assert the equality of all men;" or "to the want of a high born ruling class, maintained at a high level of culture and morality;" or "to the spread of cheap knowledge cheaply bought;" or to "the low level of the people where the people rule."

Mr. Haultain speaks of the difference of "tone" as between English people and the people of the United States. One often hears of "the people," but to what class is Mr. Haultain alluding when he speaks of the people? Probably to his "high-born ruling class." When the ADVERTISER speaks of the people of England, the United States or Canada it means the masses—the Plain People—of each country. It is these invincible democracies—having much in common—which will eventually decided all such questions as the actual or moral reunion of the English-speaking peoples. The "tone" of these various English-speaking masses does not much differ. Their morality will compare favorably with that of the nobility and other "high-born ruling classes."

We do not know which of Mr. Haultain's sneers is least justifiable—his sneer at "cheap knowledge, cheaply bought," or his sneer respecting "the low level of the people where the people rule." This is a day of universal reading of newspapers and of a wide diffusion of popular knowledge. It is a day, consequently, of a quick and powerful public opinion. Does Mr. Haultain think it would make anything better to shut off the newspapers from the masses? Is Mr. Haultain prepared to deny that any form of popular rule is better than any form of picturesque tyranny or absolutism?

Mr. Haultain, as a literary man, is most shocked at the difference in literary "tone" on the two sides of the ocean. He does not like the daily newspapers of the United States. These have their faults, but are at least interesting; they are seldom dull like the great transatlantic dailies; and they were enterprising enough to furnish the London journals, via New York, with particulars of the sinking of the Victoria. As for the great American monthlies like Harper's, Scribner's or the Century: for interest, purity of tone, and exquisite illustration, they are not successfully rivaled. This continent has not yet produced a second Shakspeare, but neither has England; and anyway, Shakspeare belongs as much to the men who settled Canada and the men who settled the United States as to those who lived in England in the time of the great bard. There is no country where men of fortune are giving more lavishly to found great universities than in the United States, and it will be passing strange if they do not within a generation or two produce something worthy of being cherished by the immortals.

But why disagree at greater length with a writer who, in the year 1893, seems to raise the inequality of men to the rank of a religion; who, if words mean anything, is opposed to newspapers; who appears to disbelieve in self-government; and who would apparently make one section of the English-speaking world spurn all advances toward reunion with other branches of the once united race, with the Pharisaic cry, "Stand back, I am 'tonier' than thou!"

BUSINESS OVER THE BORDER.

HENRY CLEWES, the cautious New York financier, is disposed to take a hopeful view of the future course of United States securities. He regards the opportunity to investors as one of extraordinary promise. During the past few days, according to Mr. Clewes, there has been no very conspicuous improvement in the general monetary situation. The renewed demands by the banks of the Northwest has caused a fresh drain upon the banks of New York city, which has intensified the local scarcity of currency, though not with the effect of materially increasing the stringency. The fact is that the decline in the prices of securities and the general contraction of commercial operations have so restricted the demand for loans and discounts as to largely offset these limitations upon the lending ability of the banks, and therefore the money market has suffered from these new withdrawals of money only indirectly rather than directly. It is satisfactory to be assured, however, that certain results of the crisis are now beginning to bring remedial tendencies into play. The fall in prices of products is opening foreign markets to a larger supply of United States exports, and the decline in stocks and bonds has brought out such exceptional temptations to foreign investors as to produce a material change in the foreign exchanges, and the current symptoms consequently indicated a probability of considerable imports of gold. In connection with this fact, it is fortunate that London appears to construe favorably the chances of Congress repealing the silver-purchase clause of the Sherman Act. This expectation must be regarded as explaining the recent steady buying on London account. It is in every way reasonable to anticipate that, in the event of Congress taking that action, there will be an immense foreign demand for United States stocks and bonds that will put a new aspect upon financial affairs on this side the Atlantic and produce a general recovery in prices in the neighboring country. Fortunately both the Bank of England and the Bank of France have now a surplus of gold that would predispose them rather to encourage than discourage such a movement. Rumors have been current that, on the strength of the probabilities of such legislation, negotiations have been set afoot for borrowing a considerable amount in London and Paris upon United States securities at their current low prices, with a view to bringing hither an amount of gold sufficient to dissipate the prevailing demoralization. Mr. Clewes has reason to believe that such a plan has been seriously deliberated in high quarters; but no positive action seems yet to have been taken. But even if such a scheme is not made operative the desired result will surely come about in the ordinary course of the foreign exchange. Already a shipment of $1,000,000 of gold is on its way to New York and more is expected to follow. At the present moment much depends upon whether the extreme scarcity of money among the banks of the interior has reached its climax. When that point is passed, little would remain to obstruct the process of recovery. The stage of recovery will be coincident with the return of money from hoard to the banks; and the strength and firm endurance of the banks under such an extraordinary drain suggests a probability that the timid will soon conclude that their fright has largely exceeded any real occasion and will return their hoards to the banks. With confidence returned, business prospects would at once improve.

WELL-MERITED PRAISE.

"Hon. George W. Ross, Ontario's Minister of Education, is in the city attending the educational congress. Very few men on this continent are the peers of Mr. Ross in his special field of labor. An old teacher, an ex-journalist, a trained parliamentarian, and an executive officer of marked ability, he is well fitted to represent Canada in the most important congress ever held in the interests of education. We are pleased to hear that his address was one of the real gems of the meeting."

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

I hear complaints on all sides of the recent decree of the Water Commissioners with regard to the service for lawn sprinklers. All over the city the lawn grass is withering away through lack of water, and it arises in this way: There is plenty of water at Springbank, but in this dry weather there is such a demand that the pumps, worked night and day, can with difficulty keep the water in the reservoir up. The Water Commissioners in their wisdom have restricted the owners of lawns to the use of the water for sprinkling for two hours in the morning. Now, everybody knows that to sprinkle a lawn while the scorching rays of the sun are shining on it is to destroy the grass; and besides there are few citizens who can find time to use their lawn sprinklers in the early morning. Why should the commissioners not change the hours for use to from, 6:30 to 8 p.m.? The lawn owners pay a special rate for the water; it adds to the beauty of the city to have the lawns well kept; and the change should make comparatively little difference to the supply.

London is a city of churches and schools, and her people are rightly proud of her scholastic standing. I learn that, in accordance with the terms of its charter, the bishop and council of Huron College have resolved to establish a school for boys, which will provide a classical and mathematical education for those who desire to graduate at the universities and enter upon a professional life. The school will open on the first Monday of October under the principalship of Rev. H. G. Miller, M.A., and an efficient staff. The head master will be Mr. J. W. G. Andras.

The latest thing in hair cuts is the "World's Fair" cut. Perhaps you have seen it, or what's worse experienced it, but certain it is that Chicago during the World's Fair rush has developed a hair cut distinctly her own. When your friend comes home from the fair you must overlook the seeming act of discourtesy should he fail to raise his hat. His arm will hang limp at his side and he may put on a hard, stony expression and tell you that he is suffering from a touch of sciatical rheumatism, but do not be deceived; he has had a World's Fair cut and is afraid that you should see it. His hair looks as if a reaping machine had been over the one side and a lawn mower down the other. There are more ridges down his cranium than there are on your lawn when you take your initial wrestle with the life-giving mower and there are more strong words on the tip of his tongue than the fabled Flanders trooper could possibly have thought of, and all because of the rush and bustle of a Chicago barber shop and the barber's inordinate hurry to say "Next," and launch you on a cold, cruel world like a shorn lamb. The barber will never see you again, and, needless to state, you are not going to call on him again unless it is perhaps that you can have the pleasure of attending his funeral. Moral: Get your hair trimmed by a home barber before you start for the West.

What Causes Pimples?

Clogging of the pores or mouths of the sebaceous glands with sebum or oily matter.

The plug of sebum in the centre of the pimple is called a blackhead, grub, or comedone.

Nature will not allow the clogging of the pores to continue long, hence,

Inflammation, pain, swelling and redness, later pus or matter forms, breaks or is opened, the plug comes out and the pore is once more free.

There are thousands of these pores in the face alone, any one of which is liable to become clogged by neglect or disease.

What Cures Pimples?

The only reliable preventive and cure, when not due to a constitutional humor, is Cuticura Soap.

It contains a mild proportion of CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, which enables it to dissolve the sebaceous or oily matter as it forms at the mouths of the pores.

It stimulates the sluggish glands and tubes to healthy activity, reduces inflammation, soothes and heals irritated and roughened surfaces and restores the skin to its original purity.

This is the secret of its wonderful success.

For bad complexions, red, rough hands and shapeless nails, dry, thin and falling hair, scaly and irritated scalps and simple baby blemishes it is wonderful.

It is preserving, purifying and beautifying to a degree hitherto unknown among remedies for the skin and complexion.

Sale greater than the combined sales of all other skin and complexion soaps.

Were the scrofula sores on my poor little boy, sickening and disgusting. They were especially severe on his legs, back of his ears and on his head. His hair was so matted that combing was sometimes impossible. His legs were so bad that sometimes he could not sit down, and when he tried to walk his legs would crack open and the blood start. Physicians did not effect a cure. I decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two weeks the sores commenced to heal up; the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken two bottles of

BASEBALL.

THE ALERTS DEFEAT THE ATHLETICS.

If the Hamilton Athletics are among the leaders in their own district, and the London Alerts can literally knock the stuffing out of said Athletics, have not the Alerts a fighting chance for the championship in the final rub?

This thought suggested itself to many in the disappointed crowd at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon—disappointed because they expected to enjoy a well-contested match between good teams. They were first disappointed because Mickey Jones was not in the box for the visitors. Mickey stayed at home, which his substitute, Jennings, might have done for all his services amounted to. Perhaps the latter was disheartened by the miserable support accorded him. Five errors and as many unearned runs in one inning—the first—is enough to discourage any pitcher. In the second inning, the Alerts made three runs—all earned—Hynd making a single, Sippi and Johnson a two-bagger each, and Ball a pretty single. In the fifth inning eleven of the Alerts went to bat and five hits were made, including a surprising three-bagger from Sheere and a two-bagger from Sippi. Jennings was knocked out of the box, and in the sixth was replaced by Pierce, who did much better, though he had difficulty in getting the ball over the plate. Outside of these innings the home nine did nothing remarkable with the willow, though their base-stealing throughout was admirable.

The only time the visitors took a run-getting spasm was in the fifth, when a lot of schoolboy muffs by the Alerts, two hits and two bases on balls gave them five runs, to the great satisfaction of the audience, who wished the score equalized in order to stir up a little excitement.

The six errors of the Alerts were bunched, but apart from the fifth inning they put up their usual fine fielding game. After the fifth the Athletics also braced up in this respect. The score:

Scorer—C. G. Moorhead.

NOTES.

Sippi put up a brilliant game at short. The Athletics have a leather-lunged coacher who is quite a "rattler"—to the pitcher.

Johnson's second base work was admirable.

Every man on the winning side made a run, Sippi having 5, Hynd 4 and Hiscott 3.

It was an exhibition not a championship game.

They say Hamilton had a good ball team once.

"Doc" Sheppard, who has signed with the Alerts, was unable to play yesterday.

TIPS.

Robbie P. 2:12¾, is the fastest stallion, tracing to Justin Morgan, the founder of the famous Morgan breed of trotters.

The twelve fastest pacers have an average speed of 2:06½, while the twelve fastest trotters average only 2:08¾.

John Berry, winner of the cowboy's race from Chadron, Neb., to Chicago, will not be allowed to wear his laurels in peace. Emma Corbett, a native of Colorado, intends to ride over the same ground. She weighs but 90 pounds, has plenty of money, and is open to bet that see will surpass Berry's feat.

THE WHEEL.

ZIMMERMAN A PURE AMATEUR.

The National Cyclists Union of England has for some time been greatly agitated over the amateur or non-amateur position of Zimmerman. Charges have lately been made against him by that body which savors not so much of disinterested effort towards purging the sport of any taint of professionalism which may have soiled its escutcheon as of unblushing envy regarding the champion's incomparable powers on the wheel.

The allegations, four in number, are stated as follows: 1. That 200 shares in the Raleigh Company were allotted to him at par when the shares were at a premium, thus making him a present of all that premium. 2. That the Raleigh Company are paying him the whole of the profits of the advertisements and sale of a book, "Zimmerman on Training and Points for Cyclists," published by them as a return for his always having ridden a Raleigh. 3. That Mr. F. Bowden, on behalf of the Raleigh Company, presented him with diomonds valued at £100. 4. That he, or Mr. McDermott for him, stipulated with Mr. Garland, the honorary secretary of the Irish Cyclists' Association, that a mile scratch race, with a prize of a diamond ring valued at £10 10s., should be put into the programme when he went to race in Ireland, and that unless such a race was introduced he would not compete.

Zimmerman denies all these charges and the L. A. W. has declined to take any action in them.

ATHLETICS.

YOUNG CORBETT KNOCKED OUT.

ROBY, Ind., Aug. 1.—It was nearly 11 o'clock when time was called for the fight between "Paddy" Smith and "Young Corbett," otherwise known as George Green. In the 28th round Green came up apparently fresh, but Smith landed and knocked him down, and his second threw up the sponge. There was a riot just outside the arena, caused by a gang of roughs from South Chicago and Whiting trying to break in to see the fight.

A RECORD BROKEN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The annual games of the Timothy D. Sullivan Club to-day were rendered of general interest by the fact that a world's record was broken. James Mitchell, of the New York Athletic Club, threw the 56-pound weight 3 feet further than the previous best record. The actual distance for the throw was 38 feet 1½ inches. In an exhibition half-mile run T. P. Coneff covered the distance in 2:09 1-5.

AQUATIC.

SOUTHAMPTON REGATTA—THE YANKEE WON.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The regatta of the Royal Southampton Yacht Club was held to-day. The course covered a distance of 50 miles. The Britannia and Valkyrie did not sail in to-day's race. The contestants were the American yacht Navahoe, owned by Royal Phelps Carroll, A. D. Clark's Satanita, P. Donaldson's Dalluna, and J. Mason's Iverna. The Navahoe won the race; Satanita second. The Calluna carried away her bobstay and was compelled to withdraw. The Iverna also gave up the race.

The race for the Queen's cup, open to boats owned by members of the royal yacht squadron, also took place to-day. The yachts starting were the Valkyrie, Britannia, Meteor, Viking and Mohawk. The Valkyrie finished first, Britannia second, Meteor third.

The Times, commenting upon yesterday's yacht race, says: It must be admitted that British yachtsmen thought the Novahoe an outre model, and that they had only a moderate opinion of her abilities. She has fairly upset the preconceived opinions entertained in regard to her.

CRICKET.

BYES.

The West Indian cricketers of New York, are talking of forming a team to play one or two international matches this season. The combination would form a very fair team.

The great English school game between Eton and Harrow, played in London July 14 and 15, resulted in a rather easy victory for the former by 9 wickets. Harrow scored 125 and 105 to Eton's 199 and 32 for 1 wicket. The weather was damp and threatening, but a large and fashionable assemblage witnessed the game. H. F. Mecking, with a good contribution of 50 for Eton, was the highest scorer in the match.

The fourteenth match played between teams representing England and Australia was brought to a conclusion at Lord's Cricket Grounds, in London, July 19, a draw. It was a very open contest, with the advantage, if any, on England's side. The Englishmen batted first and put on 334, (Shrewsbury, 106; F. S. Jackson, 91,) to which the Australians replied with 269, (H. Graham, 107.) In England's second inning Shrewsbury was again to the fore with 81, and Gunn added 77. The total stood at 234 for 8 wickets, when rain put a stop to further play.

FOR MURDER.

The Slayer of a Canadian on Trial in Detroit.

DETROIT, Aug. 1.—The trial of Michael Welch for the murder of Charles Grise was begun before Judge Gartner in the recorder's court this morning. The facts alleged by the prosecution are as follows:

On the night of May 6, Grise met the defendant in Weller's saloon, and about midnight was induced by him to visit a house on Madison avenue. When they entered the house they were met by a young woman known as Dorcey Smith, alias Dorcey Cramer. Grise sat at a piano and began to play. Welch told him to stop, and when he continued felled him to the floor with a chair.

As Grise lay on the floor Welch drew a revolver and shot him, inflicting a wound which caused Grise's death a few hours later.

Welch was arrested and was positively identified by the dying man, but the girl who saw the affair has disappeared, and all efforts to find her have been unsuccessful. Grise was a Canadian about 25 years of age and a mechanic by trade. The defendant lived at the house where the killing took place, and has been employed as bartended in Weller's and other saloons. A jury was secured and the court adjourned.

MARRIED A CHINAMAN.

A Chicago Girl Elopes to Peoria With Dr. Lee Ling.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 1.—Dr. Lee Ling, a Chinese physician of Chicago, and Lizzie B. Fairman, an American girl of the same city, were married on Sunday by Rev. McAlphine, of the Universalist Church. The bride is a very pretty girl of 18, the stepdaughter of a Mr. Walsh, who operates a saloon in the World's Fair city, and owing to his strenuous objections to the match the pair eloped to this city and had the ceremony performed. Dr. Ling is 30 years of age and claims to have a good practice, not only among the people of his own nationality but also the better class of Americans. In conversation the young lady stated that she had known the doctor for about five years and was thoroughly in love with him as he was with her. She saw no objections to a marriage of the kind.

Would You Be Attractive?

You must be healthy. Would you be healthy? Always keep within reach, ready for any emergency, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the perfection of physic! Headache, biliousness, constipation, a coated tongue, always indicate a torpid liver. These magical Pellets act directly upon the liver—the fountain-head of many ills—correcting all disorders, driving out all impurities, stimulating healthy action. The best liver pills; mildly giving all the benefit and none of the discomfort of other pills.

Next to Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe the most successful American author, from a pecuniary point of view, is Gen. Lew Wallace, whose "Ben Hur" alone has earned him more than $100,000 in royalties.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailments, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

LONDON WEST WAYS.

The Village Sidewalks Badly Demoralized.

Mrs. Bailey's Bill of Damages Discussed—Street Railway Wanted—Also Less Locomotive Whistling—Bracing Up the Breakwater.

London West is having considerable trouble over its sidewalks. At last evening's meeting of the council a claim was presented by Mrs. Bailey for damages sustained through tripping on a broken plank in the footpath recently. The bill was stated as follows: Dress $11, pair of shoes $3, medical attendance $2; total, $16. After considerable discussion and explanation the bill was referred to Councilor Spence. The advisability of acquiescing in the demand made may remain a mooted question, but the fact remains that the sidewalks in the cross-river corporation are in an atrocious condition.

A petition from 155 residents asking that a franchise for the operation of a street railway be granted to the London Street Railway Company or other duly registered company, was referred to a committee of the whole council to take such action as will secure the object in view. T. F. Johnson, solicitor for Col. James M. Clark, ex-president of Windsor Electric Railway Company, who has made application to the London Council for an electric franchise, wrote asking that action be deferred until a settlement was arrived at in regard to this matter.

A notification was read from the county clerk that the county rate for 1893 is $524 25.

A letter was read from T. Williams, assistant superintendent C. P. R., stating that the company would obey any bylaw relative to the whistling of locomotives passed by the village when it became law. W. H. Bartram informed the council that he had investigated this matter and found that a bylaw of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council was necessary to bind the C. P. R. and G. T. R. The latter, company, however, has so far practically conformed to the London city bylaw.

Mr. D. C. Macdonald, who made the original complaint regarding the annoyance caused by C. P. R. engines whistling when passing through the village, where, by the way, there are no level crossings, urged that the authority mentioned by Mr. Bartram be applied so as to secure an abatement of the nuisance.

Councilor Smith, chairman of the board of works, was instructed to proceed at once to repair the breakwater, excepting that portion near Collins' icehouse. In regard to this section he was asked to submit a plan and estimate at a special meeting of the council to be called by him.

The members present were: Reeve Platt (chairman), Deputy Reeve Scarrow, Councilors Spence, Collins and Smith.

SHE BESTED SAMPSON.

The Strong Man Prevented from Becoming a Bigamist.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Samuel G. Beck, known in professional circles as "Sampson, the strong man," was to have been married last night to Miss Pauline Rosen. The latter had handsomely-engraved invitations issued. She sent one of these to a Mrs. Wind, who was understood to be a friend of Mr. Beck.

When Mrs. Wind received the invitation she was astonished at the proposed marriage, for she herself claimed to be the wife of Mr. Beck, and she had a marriage certificate to prove it. She therefore appealed to the courts, and a warrant was sworn out against Beck.

When the officers arrived at Miss Rosen's home last night they found the house and grounds brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns, an orchestra of ten pieces discoursing enchanting music and a bountiful wedding banquet prepared for the large number of expectant wedding guests, many of them actors, who had assembled. There was much consternation when the officers carried Beck off. He was held to $1,000 bail.

Five Killed by a Boiler Explosion.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 1.—At Utica, Licking county, last evening, John Kattle, two men named Bell, a Mr. Bowers and a Mr. Skillen were killed and Joseph Shipp was fatally injured by the explosion of the boiler of a threshing machine engine.

Curtis Failed to Appear.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—When the case of M. B. Curtis, the actor, "Sam'l of Posen," who is accused of the murder of Policeman Grant, was called yesterday, Curtis failed to appear and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. Curtis was released from custody on $50,000 bail, and it is supposed he failed to reach the city in time owing to the delay of the train.

Bad for the Boomers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A special from Hennessy, O. T., says: The United States cavalry are supposed to have fired the Cherokee strip, and a vast prairie fire is now raging, which will cause great loss. This will be a crushing blow to the boomers who intended to take claims in the strip, as it will destroy the forage.

G. J. Collins, on the charge of making bets on the sidewalk in front of the Windsor pool room on Tuesday, was fined $15.

British Grain Trade.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: Where the wheat crop is bad it is very bad. Where it is good it is barely good. The average yield is not expected to exceed 27 bushels to the acre, which will make a total of 7,087,500 quarters, against 8,000,000 quarters in 1892. The growth of root crops, including potatoes, has been highly favorable lately. The cool, showery weather has been advantageous only to oats and barley in backward districts. There will probably be a very fair second hay crop and an improvement in the pastures. There is a reduced demand in the market for all sorts of feeding stuffs. The sales of English wheat included new samples. The first sales were made at 30s per qr, but later there were transactions at prices ranging from 28s to 32s. The opening mean values were: Red, 27s to 31s; white, 28s to 34s. The quality was very uneven. Foreign wheats were dull; Indian and American declined 9d. The stocks of foreign wheat and flour amount to 2,785,000 quarters. At to-day's market English wheat was unchanged; foreign was 6d lower. American flour declined 3d per sack. Malting barley was unchanged; feeding was 6d lower. Oats were irregular and cheaper. Corn was from 3d to 6d lower.

Live Stock Markets.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, 30 calves and 300 sheep and lambs offered at the East End abattoir yesterday. Trade in cattle was dull, and prices had a downward tendency, the best selling at about 4½c per lb, with pretty good stock and large, fat cows at about 4c do; half-fatted stock, dry cows and young stock sold at from 3c to 3½c, and the leaner beasts at from 2½c to 2¾c per lb. Good calves were in demand at from $8 to $12 each; common calves sold at from $3 to $6 each; sheep sold at from $3 to $5 each, and lambs at from $2 30 to $3. Fat hogs have been pretty high-priced of late, but some 400 or 500 have just arrived from Manitoba, which will check any further advance in prices. Sales were made to-day at from 6½c to nearly 7c per lb.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Cattle—About 11 cars on sale, all told. The butchers' cattle sold at full Monday's values; 1,160 to 1,308 lb steers brought $3 60 to $4; 850 to 1,020 lb old cows brought $2, and one load of good 1,420 lb streers sold at $4 40 to fill an order for export. The market is full easy with Monday's low prices.

Sheep and Lambs—With only 3 loads offering, and those of a cheap grade of stock, there was only a peddling trade, few loads going to butchers; fair 60 lb lambs sold at $5; 63 to 70 lb, $5 25; cull lambs and sheep, $3 to $4, as to quality. The feeling is full easy and prices quotably at yesterday's values.

Hogs—Offerings, 15 cars; the good extreme weights of hogs on sale went to packers at $5 60 to $5 65; good Yorkers and mixed lots, $5 70 to $5 75; strong to fair weight Yorkers and light hogs, and some closely sorted fair weight Yorkers, at $4 70 to $4 75; stags, $4 60 to $4 75; good ends, $5 25 to $5 50.

ENTICING LITTLE GIRLS!

Such is the Charge Against John Gibbs.

Arrested in the East End by Caretaker Burdick.

Stories Told by Girls to Their Parents—Attracted by Candy—The Police Working Up Evidence.

For several days past there have been rumors about the East End regarding a man who has been making the Queen's Park and the adjoining cemetery grove the scene of his operations, and who is alleged to have made a practice of enticing young girls with candy and small sums of money.

The matter was brought to Caretaker Burdick's notice on Friday last, when John Tuke, a street car driver, residing at 389 Lyle street, called at Mr. Burdick's cottage and warned him of what was going on. Mr. Tuke was made aware of the affair through what was related to him by his little girl.

Mr. Burdick had noticed the man sitting around the park one day with several little girls about him, but had never seen any questionable action. After listening to Mr. Tuke's story Mr. Burdick decided to watch him more closely. Monday afternoon the man made offers of candy to the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. Francis, a painter and well-known local preacher, residing just at the King street entrance to the park. His words, the little girl says, were accompanied by an indecent suggestion, and this so terrified her that she ran and told her parents. When Mr. Francis returned home he informed Mr. Burdick of the occurrence. During the evening the latter found the man described by both little girls sitting under a tree in the park. He immediately placed him under arrest and took him over to No. 2 fire station. While on the way there the man, in a rambling kind of a way, told Mr. Burdick that he had not intended injuring any of the girls and that any action on his part was probably carelessness in dress, and had been misconstrued.

The man gave his name as John Gibbs and looks anywhere from 40 to 50 years old. He is stout, and his ruddy complexion and fair hair make him look younger than he really is. He has the appearance of having drank heavily and his nerves are in a very shaky condition.

From the fire hall he was removed to the police station in the patrol and a charge of vagrancy was entered against his name.

There is a natural aversion on the part of parents to have their children's names appear in such a position, and that makes it a difficult matter to find out the full extent of the man's conduct. It is understood that the daughter of an Adelaide street letter carrier had also been approached by the man. This makes three apparent cases against him, and, as the police are working on the matter, others may be brought to light.

At the police station a large package of candy was found in Gibbs' pocket. He has formerly worked at the insane asylum here, and is said to have got into a scrape similar to this one in Woodstock, Ont.

Gibbs has been remanded for a week. Mr. Frances was at the police court yesterday morning ready to give evidence.

TAPPED THE WIRES.

A Queer Game Checked Near Windsor—Poolroom Sharpers Caught.

WINDSOR, Aug. 1.—Yesterday afternoon two farmers rode into Windsor from Pike Creek and informed the police that two men had tapped the telegraph wires about two miles west of Pike Creek and run wires into an old building, where they had a telegraph instrument. It was thought it was their intention to work the pool-room in this city, and Detective Campau and Officers Mahoney, Gates and Lister were dispatched to the place. The officers returned late last night and report having seized 40 batteries and eight sets of instruments. The men were also well provisioned for a long stay in the woods.

WINDSOR, Aug. 1.—At the Police Court this morning two young married women from Sandwich named Mrs. John Vokes and her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Vokes, were charged with taking two pails of berries that had been picked by two children of John Robair. They were fined $6 and given a severe lecture.

Peary in Hard Luck.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 1.—News of the Peary expedition from Labrador is very discouraging. The party had a severe passage there, and the donkeys are perishing from exposure. Peary was unable to purchase dogs at the settlements visited, and has been forced to go north, causing a delay which may jeopardize the success of the expedition.

Manitoba School Case.

OTTAWA, Aug. 1.—The Government's test questions as to the Manitoba school case have been sent to the Attorney-General of Manitoba and to the counsel for the separate school supporters, and both having acknowledged receipt, the documents will, in two or three weeks from now, be printed, ready for the Supreme Court sitting in October.

EMANCIPATION DAY!

The First of August Enthusiastically Celebrated by Colored Citizens.

CHATHAM, Aug. 1.—Emancipation Day was celebrated with great enthusiasm. A large number of visitors came from Detroit and other points. The reception committee met visitors at the station, where a procession headed by the Detroit City Band and Eureka Commandery, No. 1, Uniformed Knights Templar, of Detroit, was formed and proceeded through the principal streets to Tecumseh Park. In the afternoon Mayor Martin welcomed the visitors, and speeches suitable to the occasion were delivered by Col. Webster, U. S. consul; Mr. Geo. R. Nevills, Detroit; the Rev. Mr. King, of Chatham, and others. Sports in the park followed, and in the evening a grand concert and ball was held in the drill hall.

THEY WORK TOGETHER.

An apparatus has been constructed for telephoning simultaneously over telegraph wires. The system has been in operation for some time on the telephone line from Buda-Pesth to Szegedin, a distance of 121 miles. The results were satisfactory. The apparatus can easily be inserted in a telegraph circuit and used at once. It is said that simultaneous telegraphy along the wire does not in the least interfere with telephoning, and that the effects of induction and all disturbing noises are completely removed.

This discovery will give strength to the demand of those who believe that the telegraph and telephone systems should be owned and operated by governments in conjunction with the postoffice. Their proposition is that everything should be done at the least possible expense, and that millions may be saved by using the same poles for telegraph and telephone wires, and the same deliveries in towns and cities for letters by mail and messages by telegraph and telephone.

Postoffices are operated by governments everywhere. England operates the telegraph system and France her telephone system successfully. Can any reasonable objection be made to the proposition that the three systems should be operated jointly by the governments of all countries?

DR. CLIFFORD ON SOCIALISM.

Dr. Clifford wisely said in a recent sermon: "Fifty-nine years ago the great prophet, Thomas Carlisle, came into London preaching upon the condition of the people. Soon afterwards Charles Dickens began to pour the vials of his scorn upon the superficial folk who toiled noiselessly and with incontinent fussiness to send missionaries to the ends of the earth while they left their own children in wretchedness; and John Ruskin taught with more revolutionary effect that the real wealth of the world is not money but human life, and that the value of life depends upon its ethical and spiritual qualities. These teachings have gone far to create the modern social spirit; the old doctrine of lais-sez-faire is dead and buried. Forty years ago everybody believed in the individual and not in the mass; now everybody believes in the mass and nobody in the individual. Now all our talk is of men federated and organized, of socialism and collectivism, of altruism and solidarity, of unity and humanity. We were all scientists, we are now all socialists. We have lost the individual in the commune—city, nation—humanity with its outstanding reaction against individualism. There has come a corresponding change of feeling that leads to attempts to benefit humanity in general; but while we rejoice in this newest incarnation of the Christ, we must not forget that this very solidarity of men binds us to missions, foreign as well as near. The recurrence of the term 'international' is the sign of a new life, federating the warriors against industrial tyrranies in a European labor demonstration. Foreign missions mark the increasing sense of human unity. Christ is the light and life of men. He has the key to our social problems at his girdle, and to follow and obey him is the sure way to human wealth, human helpfulness, and human blessedness."

HIS REPENTANCE.

Whether Sara would have found a suitable answer is uncertain. Something outside completely took away all thoughts of it. They were at that moment passing the War Office; and coming from it with an angry and determined look upon her pretty face, was the person whom she had just heard called Catherine Wentworth. Sara shrunk back in the car's corner, dismay on her countenance, dismay in her heart. Had she already denounced Captain Davenal at headquarters?

From milliner's to linendraper's, from linendraper's to dressmaker's, one place after another continually, until Sara was tired to death, the day wore away. The afternoon was getting on when the last commission was done, and Mrs. Cray who had put on the new bonnet just bought, had leisure to think of the horse and driver.

"Poor things, they must want some repose," she remarked, as she came out of the Pantheon. "Well, there's only one place more. Will you tell the man, my dear?" she added, as she got in. "Parliament street. You know the number, I suppose."

"What number?" inquired Sara. "Where is Parliament street?"

"To Mr. Oswald Cray's. Bracknell & Street, I think, is the name of the firm."

"There?" returned Sara in her discomposure. "I can't go there."

"Not go there. My dear, I must go there. Mr. Oswald Cray is my step-son. I shall call in for a minute to let him know I am in London."

Opposition would be worse than acquiescence. Besides, what could be her plea? Sara, all her pulses fluttering, spoke the address to the driver, and took her place in silence opposite Mrs. Cray.

CHAPTER XL.

MRS. BENN'S WRONGS.

"Then, Benn, I'll not have it done! You can't go."

"But I tell you I have got my orders. I was sent."

"And who gave you the orders, pray, Joe Benn? Who sent you?"

"My. Oswald Cray. And the best thing for you to do is to hold your tongue, and take off that there guy of a bonnet, and hide your bare arms, and put on a clean apron, and otherwise make yourself decent, for you have got to do it. And when folks have got to do a thing, they may as well make up their minds to do it in the best way and readiest way they can."

Mr. Benn, in thus breathlessly telling his wife she had "got to do it," did not allude to the little items of personal embellishment he mentioned, but to something else which Mrs. Benn abhorred above all things—that of waiting on gentlemen. It happened now and then that a luncheon or other meal would be ordered at the offices in Parliament street for some stranger or friend stopping in London, which meal Mrs. Benn had to prepare, and her husband to wait at. On this day Mr. Street had ordered mutton-chops to be ready at 2 o'clock and the tray laid for three persons; and this it was that was discomposing Mrs. Benn. In the first place, it was one of those oft-recurring periodical battles of her life—a cleaning day; in the next place, her husband had just given her the startling information that she had to wait at the meal as well as to cook it. "And a fine object you be to do it?" he had wound up with a mutter to himself.

Certainly Mrs. Benn did not appear to particular advantage to-day, looking at her in an artistic point of view. You have had the pleasure of seeing her once before in the high costume donned for the occasion of those days specially marked in her calendar. I don't think there's much change. Her bonnet, black once, rusty brown now, is on, brim downwards, crown up, strings tied in a knot at the back; her apron is a piece of wrapping off a bale of goods, embellished with sundry holes, and fastened round her with an iron skewer; and her gown, turned up under it, is pinned into a heap behind. She stands over the Dutch oven, her arms bare and black, and a fork in her hand; and ever and anon as she stoops to turn or touch the chops in the Dutch oven, the gathered gown sways itself up at the back not unlike a sail. Mr. Benn is in his shirt sleeves, having taken off his coat to brush it preparatory to going out.

"It's sure to be the case! I've marked it times and times again?" burst forth Mrs. Benn, trying to fling off a live coal that had intruded itself into the Dutch oven. "If ever there's lunch or any bothering extra of that sort wanted, it's safe to be on my cleaning day! Mr. Street has got no more consideration than a stalking gander; and Mr. Oswald Cray has got as little. They might remember my cleaning days, and spare a body on 'em."

"And a fine speech that is," said Mr. Benn, in a reprimanding tone. "You'd better not let it come anigh their ears. We are here, you and me to do what's required of us, at any hour, whether its cooking or whether it's waiting, and your ordinary work must give way when it's wanted to give it. They'd soon get other servants in our places."

"He came to the top 'o the stairs just as the clock was going 1," observed Mrs. Benn, paying no more attention to the words of her husband than if she had been deaf. "'Are you there?' he calls out, and I looked up and see it was Mr. Street. 'Yes sir,' says I, 'I be;' and I was in a cloud of dust at the moment fit to smother you, a doing of that there wood and bottle cupboard. 'Oh,' says he, 'some mutton chops for 2 o'clock, and lay the tray for three. And do 'em well,' says he, 'and a dish of mashed potaters.' A nice thing that was for me to hear—and to have to go out the figure I be, after chops, and to be hindered in my cleaning a good two hours! Ain't that enough, Joe Benn, without having to turn to and wait."

"I can't help it," said Joe, civilly, as he put on his coat. "If I am ordered to work out of doors I must go about it, just as you must the work, in. Mr. Oswald Cray has sent me down to Limehouse, and I must be back before the office closes. Don't I tell you I can't even stop for my dinner?"

He went away without more words. He probably would have had a few sent after him but for an unlucky catastrophe that occurred at the moment; the saucepan of potatoes fell on its side, and enveloped Mrs. Benn and the Dutch oven in a mass of steam. It took all the lady's best attention to remedy it; and when she looked up Mr. Benn was gone.

Very reluctantly indeed did she set about making herself presentable; but, as Benn had said, there was no help for it. She washed her face and hands, and turned down the gown and drew down its sleeves, and put on a white apron, and replaced the choice bonnet with a clean cap, grumbling bitterly all the time. And at the appointed hour she took up the luncheon tray.

Three gentlemen partook of the meal; Mr. Street, Oswald Cray, and a well-known contractor who had only that day arrived in London from Spain, and was going into the country to his works by a 4 o'clock train. They were discussing business as they ate.

A certain projected line of rail in Spain was just being organized. Bracknell & Street were the engineers, and it was proposed that Mr. Oswald Cray should go out as superintendent. The details of the affair do not concern us; but it must be mentioned that the sojourn in Spain would be likely, from certain attendent circumstances, to prove of great advantage to Mr. Oswald Cray in a pecuniary point of view.

After the departure of the guest, Mr. Street and Oswald remained together a few minutes talking. "You'll not think of declining it, of course, Cray," remarked the latter. "I only wish I could go!"

"I don't see how you can manage without me here," remarked Oswald.

"We must manage the very best way we can. Bracknell must be with us more than he has been lately. Of course we could send somebody else to do the Spain business, were it impossible that you could leave; but it is not impossible, and I speak in your interest when I say it is a chance you ought not to miss."

"True. I shall like to go, if home affairs can spare me. It suppose it will involve a stay there of two years?"

"Nearer three," remarked Mr. Street. "Then consider your going as settled: and things must be at once prepared at home contingent upon it."

"Yes," acquiesced Oswald. "Wait a moment," he added, as Mr. Street was turning away to descend. "I want to speak to you about Allister. I wish you would take him on again.'

Mr. Street pursed his lips up. He had a round face and small light eyes, in which sat a hard look. Whether it was the hard look or not, I can't tell, or whether it was that the look was only the index of the nature—as it generally is—certain it was, that Mr. Street was not liked in the house. Oswald knew the sign of the contracted lips.

"What is your objection?" he pursued. "Allister's quite well apparently, and——"

"Apparently! there it is," interrupted Mr. Street. "It's a great hindrance to business, these sickly clerks, well one day, ill the next; especially in such a house as ours. We have no time for it."

A Wonderful Cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a very severe cough, had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know." 3

The bride was then taken into the house and locked up, when her husband was ordered off the farm. It is said the cause of the old man's wrath was the fact that his daughter had refused, against his wish, to marry the Embro suitor, who is a very respectable young man named McDonald.

A MILKING EXPERIMENT.

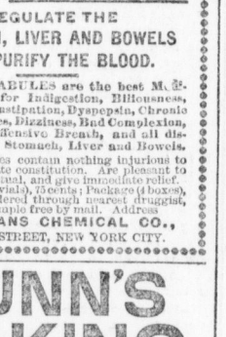

Knowledge and Skill Made a Difference of 267 Pounds in One Week.

Five cows were milked four weeks by two different persons, each milker serving two weeks, both being competent, one of them doing his average milking and not aware that an experiment was under way; the other was fully informed as to the nature of the experiment and expected to contribute his best skill for the purpose in view. In the case of the one unaware of the experiment the yield of milk from the five cows for two weeks was 864 pounds. The yield of milk from the same cows for a corresponding period while in charge of the man aware of the experiment reached 1,131 pounds, the excess of 267 pounds in favor of the man who milked to dryness. The experiment proved that it pays to get all the cow has to deliver. Also that it is a matter of importance that the udder be emptied as rapidly as possible in a manner acceptable to the cow—this because of the effect on the richness of the milk in fat globules. Another important feature in milking to dryness is that first milk drawn is most aqueous, while the last contains most butter fat. While not strictly a result of this experiment, it demonstrates anew the teachings of the experience that proves that incompletely milked cows have a tendency to diminish their yield.—[British Dairy Farmer.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

Fatality to a Farmer Near St. Thomas —A Runaway Team.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 1.—David Clark, who came to this part of Ontario from the vicinity of the town of Stayner last spring and rented a farm from Mr. Humphrey about four miles west of this city, which he has been working, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon. It appears that he and his hired man were working in the woods with a spirited team of horses, which became frightened and turned suddenly, upsetting the wagon. Mr. Clark was thrown underneath and dragged for a considerable distance. When found life was extinct. He leaves a wife and five children.

THE SPARK OF LIFE WAS ALMOST EXTINGUISHED!

A few weeks ago a Montreal mother was sore at heart, and deeply troubled about her young infant of 2 months' old. The mother was unable to nurse it, and was using a certain prepared food which had given the child a form of indigestion and other troubles which threatened death. The doctor entertained but faint hopes of the infant's recovery, when he was called in. The first question asked the mother was: "What are you feeding to your child?" At once the doctor ordered Lactated Food. This nourishing and soothing diet brought forth grand results the first week used. The little one revived and showed increasing strength and brightness; and three days ago the mother informed the writer that her dear babe was progressing fast, and had increased wonderfully in strength. Such results are always obtained with Lactated Food. It is the only food that can save the little ones from death. Thousands of loving mothers speak so strongly and favorably about Lactated Food, that we can assert with truth and confidence that "Lactated Food Saves Babies' Lives."

One of the Plagues of Egypt Recalled.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Aug. 1.—The escaped oils and acids from the burned indurated fiber works last Saturday have killed all the fish in the Eighteen Mile Creek, which flows from this city to Lake Ontario. Thousands of dead fish lay along its banks, and the stench is such that the health authorities are hiring men to bury them.

—Mr. Henry Thompson, of the Dominion oatmeal mills, is one of the judges at the World's Fair Scottish games.

—Mr. Hardwick, of New Brunswick, left to-day via the C. P. R. for the World's Fair, after a visit with friends here.

—Miss Martha Allison, of Windsor, daughter of G. T. R. Conductor Allison, is the guest of Miss Tomlinson, Clarence street.

—Fire broke out again in a pile of shavings at Watson's box factory Monday night. It was put out without the aid of the fire department.

—Miss Stryker, of Philadelphia, has been the guest of Rev. Mr. Seaborne here, and returned via the C. P. R. yesterday by way of the World's Fair.

—Misses Mildred and Maud Garfat have left on the steamer Flora for Cleveland on an extended visit to their aunt, Mrs. C. C. Cottrell, of Willoughby, Ohio.

—Mr. Wm. Eberlie, of the C. P. R. barber shop, caught a bass seventeen inches long in the Thames near the Hellmuth College Monday. It was one among a string of fine fish.

—Mr. B. G. Clampitt, of Colborne street, while oiling machinery in motion Monday afternoon at his stables, had the little finger of the right hand so badly crushed that it had to be severed from the hand.

—Judge Elliot yesterday gave his decision in the appealed Dobie-Hueston horse trade case. He would not interfere with the verdict of the jury when they allowed Dobie $145 and costs, and therefore discharged the defendant's application with costs.

—Bart Wolfe, who has been an inmate of the asylum for two months, escaped yesterday. He is about 50 years of age, and is 5 feet, 7 inches in height. He is smooth shaven, with the exception of a gray mustache. When last seen he was dressed in a suit of darkish hue, and wore a soft felt hat.

—Miss Bessie Westlake, daughter of Mr. Wm. Westlake, of Plymouth, England, and formerly a resident of London, was married at Baljeannie, Sask. N. W. T., on July 30, to Mr. Hugh Richardson, postmaster, Battleford, son of Judge Richardson, Regina, and brother of Mrs. C. O. Ermatinger, St. Thomas.

—Many Londoners will remember Prof. J. H. Johnston, one of the first educators in Hellmuth College, who came from Ireland over half a century ago. Prof. Johnston is dead, but Mrs. Johnston has for years lived in Toronto and has been a power in philanthropic work. She has now resolved to go to Chicago and live. In that city a number of her sons occupy prominent positions.

—Mr. Sherlock's son, Stanley street, was kicked in the head by a playful horse in the stable yard yesterday. He received an ugly gash over the eye and a painful bruise on the forehead and over the ear. His face is considerably discolored and swollen, but Dr. Ferguson, who is in attendance, thinks that no serious or permanent injury will result.

—The young people have meetings and meetings, and presumably all are productive of some good. But there seems to be one meeting held occasionally in South London that is the germinator of more hilarity than residents can appreciate. Adjourning at a very late hour after most people are peacefully slumbering, some of the members make night hideous with their howls and warwhoops along the Wortley road. Monday night many of those who were already in dreamland were rudely awakened by the most unearthly yells and whoops, suggestive of murders innumerable and atrocious burglaries, or worse, which are far from being appreciated by peaceful citizens longing for sleep and finding none.

The Irish Picnic.

To-day is the date of the Irish Benevolent Society's picnic. It is hardly necessary to call public attention to it because nearly everybody knows it. It is always one of the biggest affairs of the season and as this afternoon is the business half-holiday, the attendance may eclipse that of former years if possible. Trains leave in the morning at 9:15, 9:30, and 10:30, and in the afternoon at 2, 2:20, and 3:40. Returning they leave Port at 5, 5:30, 7:30, and 9:15 p.m. Fare 35 cents.

A Liquor Case.

John B. Jennings, of London West, was charged before Squire Lacey on Saturday with selling liquor on Sunday, July 9. On July 20 Geo. McConnell laid an information in which he swore that he had gone into Jennings, on the Sunday evening, the 9th with, a companion Geo. Donaghy and that he was served by the bartender with beer, his companion taking some other liquor. There was a crowd in the bar at the time, so McConnell swore. On Saturday he denied the whole affair, and an adjournment was made at the instance Mr. J. B. McKillop in order that the information previously sworn to by him might be forthcoming. When the case was again called Monday McConnell did not show up, although bound over to appear as a witness, and it is rumored that he has skipped out, fearing prosecution. The case was accordingly dismissed.

Ald. J. W. Jones on His Travels.

Ald. J. W. and Mrs. Jones have returned from their trip up Lake Superior. The alderman says they enjoyed the trip immensely. At Duluth he inspected the method of laying block-paving, which he considers superior to that generally pursued. A foot and a half of broken road metal is placed on the streets and rolled flat, and on this the cedar blocks are rolled. The foundation is an excellent one, and Ald. Jones saw whole blocks of streets laid in this manner, which were as flat as a billiard table. At Port Arthur Ex-Water Commissioner Muirhead was met. He has for two years been C. P. R. station master there, and seems to like it. J. H. Fraser, barrister, was also tarrying there. He says there is great fishing in that locality. It is a common thing to catch trout six pounds in weight.

People Ask

How long this drought will continue.

Whether their lawns will survive this scorching without an evening lawn service.

Whether the waterworks shouldn't be equipped with enough machinery to pump the water required without such curtailment.

Whether we'll have any electric railway service this year or not.

Whether that big street railway lawsuit won't prove a lever for the company in securing the franchise.

Whether the Western Fair won't seriously affect the attendance at the World's Columbian exhibition in September.

Whether the L. and P. S. R. will revert to another railway corporation, an independent company or the city itself.

Whether in the latter event, the road could not be run by compressed—or suppressed—wind, generated at private meetings of the railway board.

Whether that free library the electors approved of will materialize or not.

Whether the Young Liberal picnic at Queen's Park Aug. 9, will not be something unusually good.

The Police Court.

Gibbs, the alleged attempted seducer of little girls, charged with vagrancy, was remanded for a week by the police magistrate yesterday, pending search by the police for evidence on a more serious charge.

Leamond W. Crawford was charged with assault by Benjamin Harris. It appears that the former, after having a hotly-worded conversation with Harris, struck him across the face twice. Blood poured profusely from his mouth. The accused was fined $2. The magistrate also warned Harris to be more classical and less offensive in the use of adjectives in the future.

The charge against Richard Ardell and Frederick Rockett of keeping a livery without a license was withdrawn.

Duncan Cameron, James McGregor and John Seagrew, as evidence given showed, were begging, drunk and disorderly. The last mentioned, who has only one leg, was able to appeal to the pity of citizens better than the other two, and therefore did most of the begging. Among others he had the temerity to ask Chief Williams for some money to buy a bed. The chief's tender emotions in this instance did not reach to his pocket. The magistrate ordered that the three prisoners be marched out of town.

The War Is Over.

Yesterday afternoon the street railway forces, under command of General Break, and ably assisted by Col. Smith and Major Raycraft, reconnoitered on Dundas street west. They came out of ambush with war material in plenty, apparently expecting to meet the civic forces at or near the scene of battle of two weeks ago. Surprise beyond measure was depicted on the countenances of the combatants when they found the enemy nowhere. It is true that the civic forces had carried off a portion of the spoils in the previous fight, but they had taken no care to entrench themselves for future resistance, and the street railway army promptly took possession of the field and proceeded to fortify themselves by extending their works in the manner originally intended. It has been hinted that the solicitor-general in the civic administration, prior to leaving the scene a few days ago, was less positive as to the position assumed by the civic commander-in-chief when he ordered the head of the engineering corps (Gen. Graydon) to tear up the street railway works. The one thing apparent is that the street railway corps had the field to themselves, and that the civic forces, if they were in the vicinity, kept under cover.

The switch, it seems, will be built.

And, if appearances are not deceitful, the taxpayers of the city will have to pay a war indemnity.

THE OPEN FORUM.

Expressing Their Thanks.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

The excursion committee of the Order of Chosen Friends Council, No. 75, take this opportunity to thank the public of Strathroy, as well as of this city, for their kind patronage, resulting in a goodly company, reflecting credit on our society and helping to bring about such a successful and enjoyable outing; to the public press also for letting the people know how worthy we were of that patronage; also to Superintendent Tiffin, of the G. T. R., and his able staff in supplying such complete accommodation, speedy transit and courteous officials; also to Manager Beelman, of the Star Line steamers, captain and officials who arranged everything possible for the comfort and convenience of our party, the whole taking place without a hitch or mishap and every person well pleased.
