A War on France's Hands—Natives of Madagascar Refuse the Ambassador's Demands.

In Memory of the Late Czar.
LONDON, Nov. 6.—Services were held this forenoon in the Russian chapel for the repose of the soul of the late Czar. Among those present were Lord Rosebery, Lord Kimberley, the Duke of Cambridge, the Duke of York and many other members of nobility.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Labouchere's Truth says the Queen is arranging for a funeral service at Windsor on the day of the Czar's funeral in St. Petersburg. She will return to Windsor next week.

The Hovas Will Fight.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A private dispatch from Madagascar received in London this morning states that the Hova Government intends to make a most stubborn resistance to any attempt by France to force her demands.

PORT LOUIS, Mauritius, Nov. 6.—Advices from Tamatave, of date Nov. 3, are to the effect that the Government of Madagascar has refused to grant the French demands. M. Le Myre de Villiers, the French special envoy, and all the French residents of Antananarivo, arrived at Tamatave on Nov. 2. The warship Higon has gone along the coast to pick up refugees. All the British residents of the capital remain, the Government promising them full protection.

Relations of Britain and France.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The Matin publishes an article by Sir Charles Dilke on the relations between Great Britain and France, in which the writer asserts that the difficulty existing between the two nations with regard to Newfoundland faces England rather than France, but has not at present reached an acute stage. Sir Charles Dilke expresses regret over the warlike attitude assumed by the French Government toward Madagascar, which, he says, will work injury to the most valuable experiment ever made in native government by Christian people under the auspices of French, English and American teachers. France, Sir Charles believes, could have obtained by pacific means all to which she was entitled.

Franco-Canadian Treaty Indorsed.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The customs committee of the Chamber of Deputies today discussed the bill providing for a commercial agreement between France and the Dominion of Canada.

M. Chevalier opposed any concession in the duties imposed on apples and wood. M. Berger said that these articles were largely exported to St. Pierre Miquelon. France, he said, granted the minimum rate of duty on twenty articles against the benefits of the most favored nation clause in the proposed convention.

After a thorough discussion of the matter a vote was taken, resulting in the approval of the agreement.

China Cries "Enough!"

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Foreign Office in response to inquiries confirms the report that the Chinese Government has requested the powers having commercial interests at stake to intervene for the purpose of securing a settlement of the war with Japan.

The Exchange Telegraph Company is authorized to deny the statement of Reuters' Telegram Company, printed in the St. James' Gazette that the British Government had sent an ultimatum to the Viceroy of Peking Chi Li demanding a settlement of the Chuan King affair. No ultimatum, the Exchange Telegraph Company says, is required, as the Chinese Government has tendered an apology for the outrage and has agreed to pay the indemnity demanded, and that the Chuan King shall be saluted by the forts.

A dispatch from Kobe says the first Japanese army has reached a port above Talian Wan and established communication with the second army.

The Times' correspondent at Yokohama says that before the capture of Wong Hong Tcheng the Chinese deserted the citadel and fled during the night.

It is understood that one of the Japanese conditions of peace will be the founding of a buffer state between China and Korea.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—M. Hanotaux, Minister of Foreign Affairs, gave the Chinese Minister an audience today. It is understood he told the Minister that France could not initiate the peace negotiations with Japan for China, but would co-operate with the other powers in favor of peace.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A dispatch to the Central News from Shanghai says the Chinese army has been thrown into a panic by the Japanese victories and is still fleeing before the Japanese. The Chinese troops in Manchuria are robbing the natives and committing horrible atrocities wherever they pass. The Japanese, on the other hand, are treating the Chinese well, and are consequently received with open arms by the natives, who are furnishing them with supplies of various kinds. Viceroy Li Hung Chang, the dispatch also states, has been ordered to Peking.

BURNED IN THEIR BERTHS.

Sad Fate of Two Steamboat Firemen at the Sea.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 6.—The tug Crusader was destroyed by fire at her dock early this morning. Firemen Billings, of this city, and Chas. Williams, of Port Huron, who were sleeping in the tug, were burned to death. The cause of the fire is unknown. The Crusader was owned by the Grummond Tug Company, of Detroit. Loss $30,000.

Tuesday Was a Cold Day for the Democracy.

Tammany and Hard Times Too
Big a Load to Carry.

The Republicans Carry New York
by a Big Majority.

Senator Hill and Possibly Congressman Wilson Among the Slain.

Reports of Republican Gains All Along the Line from Maine to California.

Returns received from all parts of the United States up to midnight indicate that the Republicans will control the House of Representatives in the 54th Congress by a working majority. Until fuller returns are received it will be impossible to give the composition of the various State delegations in detail.

California.
Chairman Gould, of the Democratic State committee, claims the election of Budd (Democrat) for Governor, and three, possibly five, of the seven Congressmen.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—Indications are that the Republican candidate for Governor is elected. Three Republican Congressmen are elected and the Republicans are claiming both branches of the Legislature.

Returns indicate the entire Republican State ticket elected by a good majority.

Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 6.—At 9:15 o'clock it looks as if the Republicans will carry Newcastle and Sussex counties and lose Kent county. This would give the Republicans the Governor, Congressman and United States Senator.

Dakota North.

North Dakota returns fairly complete indicate the elections of F. M. Kinter, Democrat, for Governor over Roger Ains, Republican and Prohibitionist, and E. D. Wallace, Populist. The fusion candidate, a Populist, is probably elected to Congress.

Georgia.
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—Georgia elects a solid Democratic Congressional delegation. Speaker Crisp has been re-elected to Congress.

Indiana.

The chairman of the Republican State committee claims Indiana by 60,000.

Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Chicago is conceded to have gone Republican on the State ticket.

The Republican State ticket is probably elected by 8,000 to 10,000 majority.

No one can give absolutely correct estimates on the result of the election in this State just yet, but everything points to a complete victory for the Republican forces, a largely increased vote for the Populists with little hope for the Democrats anywhere.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 6.—A small vote was polled in Iowa. Enough returns are at hand to indicate the election of the entire Republican ticket by 50,000, with the exception of Judge Granger and B. I. Salinger for the Supreme Court, whose opponents were endorsed by the Populists. The Republicans elected ten Congressmen.

Kansas.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 6.—The Eagle claims that Long, Republican for Congress, is elected by 1,000 plurality over Simpson, Populist, and that the State has gone Republican by 10,000 plurality.

Kentucky.

From returns up to 12 o'clock the Republicans claim the election of three Congressmen in Kentucky.

Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 6.—Returns indicate the election of five and possibly six Democratic Congressmen in this State. Chairman Howbert claims the entire Republican State ticket is elected by 18,000 majority.

Senator Blanchard, of Louisiana, wires that a solid Democratic delegation is elected to Congress from that State.

Maryland.

Maryland's solid Democratic front has been broken, and the Republicans have made unprecedented gains in every direction.

Massachusetts.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 6.—Greenhaghe will have an increased plurality over last year with a somewhat smaller vote.

Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 6.—Scattering returns from 40 of the 80 counties of Minnesota indicate that Gov. Nelson is re-elected. Figures at hand point to the election of a fusion Senate, but the Republicans seem to have a majority in the House sufficiently large to give them a safe lead on joint ballot.

Michigan.

DETROIT, Nov. 6.—Careful compilation of reports received by both State committees indicate the election of John T. Rich, Republican, for Governor over S. O. Fisher, Democrat, by from 30,000 to 50,000. The whole Republican State ticket is elected, with a solid Republican delegation to Congress, and Wayne county, in which Detroit is located, is Republican in all offices except treasurer.

Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 6.—All the Democratic Congressmen from this State are elected by safe majorities, except in the fourth, fifth and sixth districts.

New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The election was remarkable for the general quietude that prevailed in the city, despite the intense party feeling that ran with great fierceness in every district from the Battery to Spuyten Duyvil. With the exception of a few ordinary encounters there was no happening that could be called riotous in any section. There was an ominous silence as the returns were read at Tammany Hall. "Tammany is beaten" was the cry that went around the hall. Mr. Crain introduced John B. McGoldrick, secretary of the Tammany Hall organization, and he met with a great ovation. "You have heard me announce," said he,

"in years past the victories of Tammany Hall. I have tonight, I am sorry to say, to announce a defeat. We have lost the city by 25,000 votes and the State by 100,000 votes. It has been a landslide—a tide that we could not stem. We have at any rate nailed our colors to the mast and fought to the last."

Women watched at the polls were an innovation this year. In most cases the women were treated with courtesy. The result of the election was received with great enthusiasm by the opponents of Tammany Hall. Dr. Parkhurst came into the committee of 70 headquarters at 7:30 o'clock and was immediately surrounded and congratulated by those present.

The Mail and Express says that the New York delegation in the 54th Congress will stand Republicans 25, Democrats 9.

At 9 o'clock tonight both Senator Hill and Governor Flower refused to discuss the election returns or to be interviewed on the situation.

The Brooklyn Eagle says that four out of five Brooklyn Congressmen are Republicans, while the World says that all five of the districts have gone Republican.

J. H. Manley, chairman of the Republican national executive committee, has sent this telegram of congratulation:

"Hon. J. W. Babcock, chairman of the Republican congressional committee of Washington, D. C.—I heartily congratulate you on the result of your labors. Our victory is perfect and complete from Maine to California. The result in New York is the grandest victory of all. We have laid this day a solid foundation upon which to erect in 1896 the structure of national victory for protection and prosperity."

At this hour (10 p.m.) the Republican victory in state and nation seems assured, although the chairman of the Democratic congressional committee is out with a statement that the Democrats still have a majority. In this State the Democratic route is complete. Hill is beaten by from 125,000 to 175,000, and involved in his defeat is that of his party in all the great cities of the State—New York, Brooklyn and Buffalo, which have gone Republican.

The Legislature is Republican by an increased majority, and the State's representation in Congress will be very largely Republican.

The Brooklyn Citizen in an extra at 10 o'clock tonight says that the Republicans probably carry four out of five Congressional districts in Kings and Richmond, and elect their local ticket by an average majority of 20,000.

The Republicans have made a clean sweep of Brooklyn. Morton carried the city by about 18,000. Sixteen of the Congressional districts in Kings and Richmond, and the Republicans have probably elected three Congressmen in districts formerly Democratic.

Ex-Mayor Grant issued the following statement: "We concede the loss of the State and acknowledge our defeat in the city." Park Commissioner Bell said: "It means a loss of the State to the Democratic party for twenty years."

The Mail and Express estimates that the Assembly will consist of 87 Republicans and 51 Democrats.

About 20,000 voters in Brooklyn are said to have been unable to cast ballots because of the slowness of others.

At Greeley and Herald squares the crowds were as dense as on lower Broadway, and if anything more enthusiastic. In front of the uptown offices of the different newspapers on upper Broadway the crowds were so large that it was with the greatest difficulty that the cable cars could make headway. As soon as the theaters had let out all the people who had spent the evening at the playhouses joined the mob on the streets, and by 11:15 p.m. it was almost impossible to get from one part of the town to another by way of Broadway.

Total vote for mayor in New York: Grant (Dem.) 106,052, Strong (Rep) 148,669. 2 a.m.—The Congressional representation from this State will stand Republicans 29, Democrats 6.

Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 6.—Under the most favorable conditions anything like definite results in this State will not be known before noon tomorrow. Up to 10 p.m. only 70 of the 1,800 voting precincts of the State had been received. These show a slight Republican gain.

New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 6.—A special from Allan L. McDermott, chairman of the Democratic State committee, says that the Republicans have captured the Legislature.

Returns at hand indicate the election of sufficient Republicans to give the Legislature to them by a majority of 23 on joint ballot, which insures the election of a Republican successor to Senator McPherson.

Ohio.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 6.—Every precinct heard from shows decided Republican gains. The Republican committee claims all four Congressmen, and the indications are favorable for a Republican majority in the Legislature.

One hundred and fifty-six precincts show a net Republican gain over last year, when McKinley had a plurality of 80,695, of 471, and 30 precincts outside of Cincinnati show a net gain of 695.

Democratic State Chairman Taylor has just telegraphed, conceding the State to the Republicans by 90,000 plurality. At 10 p.m. Chairman Dick, of the Republican State committee, sent a message to Gov. McKinley stating that the Republicans had carried the State by the largest plurality in the history of the State.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 6.—Pennsylvania elects to Congress 20 Republicans, 3 Democrats, with seventeen districts to hear from. Returns from the State are meager and slow.

South Dakota.

PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 6.—The Republican plurality is 15,000 in South Dakota.

Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 6.—In West Tennessee the voting was extremely light, and as the strong Democratic vote of the State is in this section there is anxiety among Democrats as to the success of Peter Turner for Governor. Democratic Congressmen have been chosen in the eighth, ninth and tenth districts.

Texas.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 6.—The complexion of the official roster of Tennessee is not changed by today's election.

Partial returns show a reduced Democratic majority in Texas.

Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 6.—Further returns indicate heavy Democratic losses at nearly every point. The returns are slow, and while the Democrats appear to have lost heavily, the returns are not sufficiently full to indicate that they have lost any of the districts.

West Virginia.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 6.—Reports from Wilson's district are meagre. All show large Republican gains. Charleston, Wilson's home, is among the towns giving gains. Democratic Chairman McGraw announced at 8:30 o'clock that he considered Wilson elected. At 10:30 p.m. there is scarcely a ray of hope for the escape of W. L. Wilson from the Republican deluge. Dayton has made gains in every county so far as heard from.

Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 6.—The Republicans claim the State by from 20,000 to 25,000.

The Republicans of Wisconsin have carried the State by over 15,000 plurality for Gov. Upham and the entire ticket.

Midnight Estimates.

At midnight indications point to a Republican plurality of 75,000 in Illinois. At midnight it is certain that the Republicans have carried Connecticut on the State ticket by from 5,000 to 10,000. Besides this they have gained three Congressmen.

The New York World and New York Morning Advertiser in extras issued at midnight say that the next House of Representatives will be Republican by a small majority.

All the election districts in New York give Morton 121,501, Hill 124,050, Wheeler 8,787.

The News in Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7.—Unusual interest in the results was manifested in Washington. The demonstrations of enthusiasm were remarkable, considering the fact that all the news was unfavorable to the party in power. Morton's victory and Tammany's downfall in New York seemed to be particularly pleasing to the people. At the White House Secretaries Gresham, Carlisle, Smith, Morton and Herbert listened to the bulletins received by Private Secretary Tilden, and occasionally by a telephone message was sent to President Cleveland, who had gone out to his country home at 5 o'clock.

Disturbances.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Twenty-five deputy sheriffs sent to the drainage district to preserve order among the canal laborers were arrested at the polls in Lamont at the instance of the mayor and a Democratic Justice of the Peace, who claimed jurisdiction, refusing to release them, although bail was offered in any amount. William Lorimer, Republican candidate for Congress in the second district, objected to this proceeding, and upon his refusal to leave the poll room was seized by a Lamont police officer and thrown into the street. The deputies are still in jail.

There were several disturbances in the city during the day. Seven diggers gathered in front of the polling place in the 34th ward, 30th precinct, shortly after the voting had ceased, and overpowered the judges and clerks and carried away the ballot boxes. There were several fights at different polling districts, but no serious injury was done to anyone and but few arrests were made.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—There were several fights here during the day, one of which resulted in the death of one man and wounding of several others. In the fifth ward, which has a large Populist vote, John M. Gossone, one of the Populist workers, challenged a negro vote. In the difficulty that followed Gossone drew a pistol, and a general melee and fusillade of shots followed. Gossone was killed almost instantly. Among the wounded were Geo. Heckie, marshal of Summerville, flesh wounds; Dan Bowles, flesh wounds; Will Behr, seriously injured. All the parties were white. Others received slight cuts and bruises, negroes and whites fighting on both sides.

HURRICANE OFF NOVA SCOTIA.

A Vessel Goes Down With All on Board.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 6.—Last night about midnight a hurricane struck this coast and raged with great violence for the remainder of the night. The schooner Annie M. Fride is reported a total wreck. Bear Cove, 10 miles from this city, and all her crew of four men drowned. She was bound to Halifax from Mabon.

WITH THE WORKMEN.

There are prospects of another strike in the Connellville, Pa., coke region.

The rail straighteners of the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, Pa., have refused to work under conditions prescribed for them, and a shut-down of the whole plant is threatened.

The Waiters' Wrecks.

Waiter—Yes, sir, we're going to strike.

Friend—Want more wages?

"No."

"Shorter hours, then?"

"No."

"Hum? What's wrong?"

"The boss don't furnish guests with the best quality of food, an' the cooks are careless."

"What's all that to you?"

"We don't get no tips."

In Chicago.

She—I will marry you, George, since you wish it so much, but I tell you frankly I can never love you as much as my poor dead husband.

He—I suppose you did love poor John very much.

She—I don't mean John. I mean the one before him.

Euro Hello.

Romantic Miss—Have there not been moments in your experience when life seemed full of unsatisfied wants?

Mr. Hardhead—Y-e-s, that's so.

"At such times I always fly to music for relief. What do you do, Mr. Hardhead?"

"I advertise."

Repairing.

Bicycle, gun and general repairing given careful attention. We have a few good second-hand bicycles cheap. D. McKENZIE & Co., 338 Richmond street, opposite City Hall.

Special "Mum Sale."

Thursday, Friday and Saturday we will hold a special chrysanthemum exhibition and sale. We have some grand blooms and something new each day. A special reduction will be made on all cut flowers and plants, and we respectfully ask the public to look at us during the next three days. GREENWAY Florist, 245 Dundas street. Phone 713.

KILLED BY FLYING MISSILES.

Girl Killed by a Falling Board—Singular
Accident in a Sawmill.

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—Muriel Wilson, aged 9, was playing in the rear of the house of her grandfather, George Hamby, at Swansea, when a board which had been torn from the roof of the building by the high wind struck her on the head, crushing her skull. She only lived six hours.

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—W. J. Spence, employed at the shingle mill of Craig & Co., Dundas street, was killed while attempting to adjust a belt in the mill yesterday afternoon. The belt running from the main shaft to the machine of which Spence had charge slipped from the pulley, and Spence attempted by means of a stout stick to replace it while the machinery was in rapid motion. The stick became entangled in the running belt, and, being jerked violently from Spence's hands, passed over the pulley and was thrown back again with terrible force, striking Spence fairly on the chest over the left lung, crushing the ribs.
Spence died in a few minutes, the result of internal hemorrhage. He was 39 years old and leaves a wife and seven children.

GENERALLY PRESCRIBED

The Idea That Bright's Disease Cannot Be Cured Proven To Be a Fallacy.

QUEBEC, Nov. 5.—Local physicians are much gratified over the letter of Dr. A. G.
McCormick, of Richmond, this Province, testifying to his cure of Bright's Disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Since the introduction of the remedy in this city many physicians have not hesitated to prescribe the pills, and numerous cures have been the result. The latest and most convincing, coming from so well known a medical man, proves that the local men were right in changing the old-time remedies for Dodd's Kidney Pills. Hence their jubilation.

A Baptist Breeze.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 6.—The Baptist
State Convention has declared war on the Church University at Chicago. It is alleged that Dr. Harper, president of the university, entertains and promulgates
ideas at variance with the universal belief
of Baptists in the divinity of all the books of the Bible.

Charged With Perjury.

QUELPH, Nov. 6.—J. Stanley Woodburne, the Englishman who laid a charge of being robbed of $1,500 by two young men named Nelson and Wm. Barclay, and further stated in the police court the other day that there was a fortune of $25,000
left by his father to be divided among five
a family, was again before the magistrate. The young men charged with the robbery were both honorably acquitted, and Woodburne was committed for trial on a charge of perjury.

Mrs. Hartley Will Not Be Tried Again.

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright said yesterday that Mrs. Hartley would not be tried again, nor would any further proceedings be taken against her. The Hooper case was a different one altogether. The second charge on which Hooper was tried, after he had been acquitted on a charge of poisoning, was that he had been attempting to drown her. As she had been dead for some time, the charge was not tried.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

The Wreck at Rondeau a Bad One—
The "Seattle" Valued at $50,000—
Narrow Escape of the Crew—
Western Notes.

Chatham Ministerial Association have invited Evangelist E. P. Hammond, of Hartford, Conn., to hold revival services
there. He has consented.

The congregation of old St. Paul's Church, Woodstock, commemorated the 60th anniversary of the church on Sunday. The Bishop of Huron preached twice to overflowing congregations.

Magistrate Bartlett, of Windsor, is determined that the law compelling parents to send children to school shall be enforced,
and he has issued orders to the police to see that it is carried out.

E. P. Wellwood had his hand mangled while sponging a horse's mouth at the Dundalk fair. The animal seized his hand and clawed it. As a result the injured member may have to be amputated.

A writ for $2,000 has been issued by the Mechanics' Bank against Mr. Wm. Lupton, cattle buyer, Stratford. Mr. Lupton is not at present at home, having, as is stated, gone
to England with a load of cattle.

The council of Waterloo have called a mass meeting of the ratepayers, to be held at the town hall, Centreville, on Thursday, Nov. 8, to take their opinion as to the desirability or otherwise of granting right-of-way to the Preston and Berlin Electric Railway on the public highway.

A painful accident happened on the farm
of James Ellis, West Garafraca, Thursday.
While Duncan Corbett, son of John Corbett, of Melancthon township, was driving
the horse power he slipped and was caught in the gearing, crushing his leg below the knee. The limb had to be amputated.

The following changes in the service of the Bank of Commerce have taken place:
Mr. C. H. Gwyn, of Woodstock, is removed to the branch in Parkhill. Mr. Moss, of Toronto, will fill his place. Mr. May, Arrington, is removed to Dundas and Mr. J. Boyd, formerly in the bank there, will join the Woodstock branch.

The whole beach at Rondeau for miles is strewn with the cargo of the wrecked steamer Seattle, and men are watching to save as much of the cargo as they can. All on board were saved. The captain's wife jumped from the foundering vessel, a distance of 20 feet, and was caught by Capt.
Fellows, light-house keeper, who also peril of his own life, succeeded in saving the mate and two wheelmen before the vessel got outside the channel. Later the lighthouse keeper, aided by Capt. Hugh Declaire and Capt. Carter, of the Hector, succeeded in taking Capt. Harper, the engineers and the rest of the crew off the luckless vessel. The Government yawl, given to Capt. Fellows, was the means of saving these lives. The Seattle was valued at $50,000, and is perhaps a total loss.

STRATHROY.

[Agents for the ADVERTISER, R. Dickinson and
W. J. Watkinson.]

STRATHROY, Nov. 6.—J. H. O'Neill has purchased the business and business intelligently conducted by W. W. Sutherland.
Rev. T. M. Fothergill last Sunday entered on his work as pastor of the Baptist Church here, preaching very acceptably to large congregations both morning and evening. A reception will be held in the church on Friday evening.

On Monday evening, Nov. 12, a sacred concert will be held in the Front Street Methodist Church, at 8 p.m. Miss M. Macdonald will sing in five numbers.

On the evening of Dec. 7 the annual entertainment under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute will be held, and will consist chiefly of a concert, in which Miss Dunlop and Harold Jarvis, of Detroit, will take part.

The loss by the recent fire in the Revere
hotel stable is from $300 to $400; insurance $250. Loss on hotel about $800; fully covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have been incendiary.

The regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday evening, when there was a full attendance, the mayor in the chair. The question of an open market was discussed, when it was resolved to remove all restrictions and make the market open to all buyers. A lengthy report was read from the provincial board of health, containing a number of recommendations, which,
with a petition for the appointment of a night watchman, were referred to the fire and water committee. Several parties claimed a right to the reward for the detection and conviction of firebrands on the ground of their services in the Harrington case, and the matter was referred to the finance committee.

The late Mr. Timothy Howe, who died
very suddenly at the American House here, was 82 years of age. Mr. Howe was born in Tipperary county, Ireland, and over 60 years ago came to Canada and settled in Strathroy, where he was well known as a useful and highly-esteemed citizen. He was with the Loyalist forces at Sandwich in the rebellion of 1837. He was never married, and for the last four or five years had resided in Strathroy. The cause of death is supposed to have been rheumatism of the heart. One brother, James Howe, of Westminster, and two sisters, Mrs. Costello, of London, and Mrs. Ellen Hanley, of Moss, were present at the funeral on Monday. A large number of friends were present at the residence of his nephew, Wm. Mc-Nulty, Ekfrid, to Mount Brydges, was very largely attended, the religious services being conducted by Rev. A. McKoon, of the R. C. Church, of which the deceased had

MIDDLESEX MATTERS.

While returning home from Lambeth
Monday, Oct. 29, R. Purdy and housekeeper met with a bad accident. The horse became frightened at some pigs on the second occasion of Westminster. The result was they were both thrown out of the buggy.
Mr. Purdy was hurt somewhat, but is progressing nicely. He is able to go about on crutches now.

BRYANSTON.

BRYANSTON, Nov. 5.—Mr. Joseph Lum-den, of Plover Mills, has bought the lot that David Dunn's store was on, and is going to erect a large blacksmith shop. James Byliffie has decided not to build till spring.

Thomas B. Gouling and family have removed to Petrolia. Dr. Blackwell has a large wood bed today.
The Orange lodge had an oyster supper today.

Albert Dunn is making big repairs on his house.

The quarterly meeting of the Bryanston
Methodist Church will be held in the Cathay Church on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 11:30 a.m.

Rev. Mr. Savers, of Westminster Presbyterian Church, will preach here on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 2 p.m. Rev. Mr. Little preaches anniversary sermons for him.

The Morrow Bros. have got a chopping mill in the old blacksmith shop and will chop on Wednesday and Thursday of each week.

If reports be true wedding bells will be soon ringing in Bryanston.

WILL IT GO?

Trustee Griffin Wants the School Board Dissolved.

Appropriation Is Nearly Gone—Kicked
About the Report of Number
Two Committee.

The Board of Education last night sat
for just one hour and a quarter, but in that time transacted more business than is often done at four-hour sessions. No. 2 committee report occupied the greater portion of the time, but passed through intact.
Trustee Griffin surprised the board by giving the following notice of motion:
"That at the next meeting he would move that the board be dissolved, and that the same form two separate bodies." Mr. Griffin did not speak in support of the notice, but a few afterwards stated that it is as desired by some to have the Collegiate Institute of a separate board from the public school representatives. The members present were Chairman MacRobert, Trustees Jeffrey, Stevenson, Alexander, Griffin, Murphy, Powell, Anderson, Martyn, Wilkins, Greenlee, Sanders, Blackwell, Turner, Dr. Campbell, Principal Merchant and Inspector Carson.

Miss Bella Griev, of Aberdeen school,
asked that her salary be made $325 a year
and that she be appointed permanently to the second grade in the school. Referred to No. 1 committee.

Applications for positions on the teaching staff were received from Misses Lily Udy, Maggie Munroe, Nellie Hornell,
and Messrs. John A. Beaton and George Duncan, No. 1.

James Sadler, secretary of the Luan High School Board, asked the board to assist in securing some changes in the regulations regarding leaving examinations, No. 1.

Principal Kirk complained that the ventilation in Aberdeen school was defective,
and asked also for some supplies. No. 2.
Requests from several teachers for supplies
were also referred to No. 2 committee.

Inspector Carson's report stated that owing to the crowded condition of the primary room in Waterloo street school it had been found necessary to allow the lowest grade to attend only half the time.
The lowest grade from 11 to 12 a.m. and from 3 to 4 p.m. The next grade attended from 10 to 11 a.m. in the morning and from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon. The highest grade, numbering about 35, attended all day, and would be ready for promotion to the next room at Christmas.
After that date pupils of 10 years would be admitted. There were nine rooms in Princessee avenue school, with 520 pupils on the roll and an average attendance of 460. The opening of the tenth room was recommended. It was also suggested that a night school be opened for girls only.

The report was referred to the committee for consideration.
Trustee Griffin's monthly report on the Collegiate Institute showed $28 pupils enrolled, an average attendance of 649, or an increase over October, 1893, of 62. Mr.
Merchant also stated that arrangements should be made for holding the annual commencement exercises. Some supplies were also required.

Trustee Blackwell's report for No. 2
committee dealt with the work done during the month and recommended the payment of several accounts. The report also complained of the immense quantity of glass broken in the schools, and stated that in the great majority of cases no effort was made to catch the offenders.

In explanation Mr. Blackwell stated that at the last meeting of the board a clause was inserted in the report of No. 2 which was misleading. It referred to the work of japanning the deck roof of the Collegiate Institute. The work was completed, but
Mr. Blackwell was unaware of it.

As is usual at the board meetings, the report was pulled to pieces, but it came out of the fray with only a few scratches.

In reference to the last clause a wordy
war ensued about the committee overstepping its powers. Trustee Griffin went so far as to move that the member who was responsible for it should pay the cost.

Mr. Blackwell—Well, if it comes to that I can pay for it, and in the morning, too.
The contention continued, and in the course the secretary was referred to as having had something to do with the ordering of the work.

The matter finally dropped and the report
was adopted.

No. 1 committee recommended that the children of Mr. Wm. Hill be allowed to attend the primary school free of charge. Mr.
Hill's calling necessitated his living out of the city, but still he paid taxes into London's treasury. It was further recommended that the drawing master at the Collegiate be engaged an extra half day
every week at an increase in salary of $100 per year. In connection with the distribution of the money Mr. Alexander stated that the Robb fund would be given this year as the Robb fund had not been invested. The report was adopted.

The audit committee reported payment of accounts amounting to $7,462 65. The appropriation of the public schools had nearly been expended by Oct. 1, while there was a larger margin in the Collegiate necessitate account. The greatest economy would have to be observed to prevent an overdrawn account.

Trustee Wilkins' notice of motion to change the name of Askin street school to Victoria school was laid over. The property was left by the late Col. Askin for school purposes, and there was some doubt in the minds of the members whether under the act the name could be changed.

Trustee Anderson moved that the Robb fund be given this year and charged against the Robb estate. No second.

Trustee Jeffrey moved that No. 1 committee be empowered to authorize the issue
of supplies such as are used in transition
classes to those teachers of junior classes
who desire the same.

Trustee Anderson moved that No. 1 committee be instructed to inquire into the advantages of charging a monthly graded fee to each of the pupils attending our schools, and in lieu thereof that this board furnish the pupils with slates, pencils, pens
and text-books free.

Trustee Griffin gave notice of motion
that at the next meeting the board consider the furnishing of all necessary books
to pupils free of charge.

GLENCOE, Nov. 6.—Mr. Ike Smith, of this place, has returned home from Manitoba
after an absence of over a year.

Miss Ada Bloom has returned from Toronto, where she has been attending her sister Mabel, who was ill with typhoid fever.

Mr. J. M. Cornell and daughter Lizzie have returned home, after spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

There is to be a musical recital in the Academy of Music on Friday evening, when
a pleasant time is anticipated.
It might have been a serious runaway occurred on Monday. A team of horses standing in front of Mr. J. McCracken's blacksmith shop suddenly concluded to do for themselves, and in spite of the fact that their owner held them by the lines, they succeeded in fracturing themselves and dashed down Main street. When in front of Mr.
A. D. Mitchell's store they overturned a buggy which was standing there. Fortunately it was unoccupied, so the damage done to the buggy was a light one. A little farther down they were caught by Mr. Chas. Annot and returned safe and sound to their owner.

The annual parade of the "Scotmen" took place on Sunday last. A large number from surrounding towns were present, and when the visitors and brethren at home
lined up they presented a first-class appearance. They marched from the lodge room to the Presbyterian Church, where appropriate services were conducted by Rev. R.

COLD STORAGE CATS.

This is a Pittsburg Story. But It May Be True.

The Pittsburg Dispatch is responsible for the statement that although in the cold storage warehouses in that city there were no rats or mice at the first, after a few months the attendants found that rats were at work in the rooms where the temperature was constantly kept below the freezing point. They were found to be in wonderfully long and thick fur, even their tapering, snake-like tails being covered by a thick growth of hair, and that rats whose coats had adapted themselves to the conditions under which they live have now domesticated themselves in all the storage warehouses in Pittsburg.
The prevalence of rats in these places led to the introduction of cats, but when cats were turned loose in the cold rooms they perished and died because of the excessive cold. One cat was finally introduced into the rooms of the Pennsylvania Storage Company, which was able to withstand the low temperature. She was a cat of unusually thick fur, and she thrived and grew fat in quarters where the temperature was below 30 degrees. By careful nursing a brood of seven kittens was developed in this warehouse into sturdy and thick-furred cats. They have been distributed among other cold storage warehouses in Pittsburg,
and have created a peculiar breed of cats
adapted to the conditions under which they must exist to find their prey. These cats are short tailed and chubby, with hair so thick and full of under fur as the wild cats of the Canadian woods. One of the remarkable things about them is the development of their "feelers." These long, stiff hairs that protrude from a cat's nose and eyebrows are in the ordinary domestic feline about three inches long. In the cats cultivated in the cold warehouses the "feelers"
grow to a length of five and six inches.
This is probably because the light is dim in these places, and all movements must be the result of the feeling sense. The storage people say that if one of these furry cats is taken into the open air, particularly during a hot spell, it will die in a few hours. It cannot endure a high temperature, and an introduction to a stove would send it into a fit. (Railway Gazette.)

A PATRON PROCLAMATION.

Grand President Mallory of the Patron body has thought it well in this week's Farmers' Sun to issue a proclamation on the relation of the Patrons to other parties. He says that the Patrons are determined to have no connection with either "Conservatism, Liberalism, McCarthyism, P. P. A.-ism, or any other organization affecting the political or religious standing of the masses." Further on he makes this position still more emphatic in the following words: "I hope there will be hereafter no misapprehension as to the intention of Patrons to maintain the most perfect degree of independence and to refrain from forming any coalition with any existing party, faction or body that may be acting either from political or religious motives."

The foregoing proclamation, fresh from the pen of Grand President Mallory, must fall with a thud on the momentary hopes which, like will-o'-the-wisps flitting across a dark moor, have caused the Marterites to fancy that by some suddenly-sprung resolution in the House they might make martyrs of the other fellows, including the wary Provincial Premier.

The situation then comes to this: The experienced Provincial Premier's regular following in the Provincial Legislature as compared with Mr. Marter's is about two to one. The Government is just as likely, to say the least, to get the votes of members not firmly bound to either party. And it is an experienced leader, in possession, as compared with an untried and inexperienced leader, not in possession. On that day when we shall witness the phenomenon of the tail wagging the dog, we may look for a following of 25 in a House of 94 controlling the Government of the Province.

It will be found that on all questions before the Legislature which get as far as a vote in the House, the Provincial Premier's majority will be as large as his average majorities of the past twenty years, and that his majorities will grow, as has always been his experience, from month to month, and from session to session.

—The declaration of the will of the late Mr. Mercer is a complete refutation of the charge that he was a man who had stowed away for his own purposes a large amount of what is sometimes termed "boodle." Will Sir Charles Tupper die as poor?

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

It would be of great advantage to London to become the site of a Normal School. Not only would it add another handsome building to our city's attractions, but would bring many new families to our midst as permanent residents, apart from teachers and students. That a place has educational advantages is often the deciding consideration with retired merchants, farmers, and people of means, in selecting where to take up residence.

Let us all do our level best, as we believe Mr. Hobbs will do his level best, to get the Normal School for London. Let us strengthen Mr. Hobbs' hands in pointing out the superior advantages of our centrally situated and desirable city, in any contest with those who may favor other places.

—Dominion officials stuff the export returns as industriously as they manipulate the census returns. And by the way, the London census returns are still withheld, though promised nearly two years since.

In the official statement of exports from the Dominion in 1903, ice is classed as "manufactures," so is a million and a quarter dollars worth of household effects taken to the States by Canadians who have immigrated there! What reliance can be placed upon such returns?

THE SURPLUS.

Last year Ontario realized the handsome sum of $79,896 79, as interest on her investments, while the less fortunate Quebec Province in point of management paid out in interest and charges on her public debt no less a sum than $1,445, 331 34.

The surplus enables the Ontario Government to aid the municipalities in many ways to keep down the local taxes of the people.

A GREAT TRIUMPH FOR THE RIGHT.

The most significant fact in connection with the United States elections yesterday is not, as some may suppose, the swing-back to the Republican party of States that were carried by the Democrats in the great victory of 1892. There was a local issue of much greater moment.

No result is fraught with more importance than the upheaval in New York city and State. On the campaign against the methods of Tammany officials in New York all eyes have been turned. The Democratic managers permitted Tammany to become so strong and so unscrupulous in its methods that no decent Democrat could either defend or support it. For months past revolutions have been in progress that have shown the fine city of New York to be cursed by the worst form of tyranny in municipal government, operated to rob the taxpayers by political emissaries, ranging from the ward boss to the commissioner of taxes, and even in some cases to the municipal judges.

As the revelations increased in number and in disgrace to the enormity of the colossal wrong-doing, thievery and blackmail, so increased the numbers of the Democrats who were ready to join hands with the Republicans in cleansing the city. These Democrats rightly recognized that when the worst elements of a party get the upper hand, the best course to pursue is not to bend to the petty tyrant and plead that it cannot be helped, as he has a force at his back, but to decline to let the old man of the sea stay on their backs. And so a committee of 70 of leading men of both sides was formed to overturn the system, to destroy the power of the men who had been using the public money to feather their own nests, and to advance their own political fortunes. They did not hold many meetings, but they took good care to see that the newspapers which agreed with them were circulated in every household, and that the facts were laid bare in all their enormity.

The triumph has been complete. Tammany has been overthrown, because its managers departed from the lines upon which the institution was originally formed, and the greatest blow has been struck to municipal boodling and bossism that has been inflicted since the notorious Tweed ring was overthrown in New York city.

The revolt, however, went further. Fearful were the Democratic electors outside the great city that the old order of things might after all be maintained and that petty tyranny and mismanagement might thus be recognized as planks in their platform. They therefore joined hands in large numbers not only to defeat Mr. Hill, the candidate for Governor, who had recently allied himself against the better and more progressive elements of his party, but they voted to sustain the constitutional amendments that aim a blow at the gamblers, the blacklegs, and the lawless, who have in the past received too much consideration at the hands of the authorities.

This significant rebuke of wrongdoing will do the Democratic party good, and enable it to reorganize between now and the next Presidential election on a basis that will commend it to all who believe in its national principles. If the sins of the adventurers who have ruled New York so badly have to be atoned for by the whole party, there is all the more wisdom in responding to the demand to put down wrongdoing wherever found, and in dispensing with the services of those who adopt it as a means to advance their selfish ends. The triumph of right over wrong in New York affords strong proof that an aroused public opinion will not stand civic or general misgovernment. No more cheering message than this could be sent to many cities on both sides of the border, where in the past the demagogues, and the self-seekers, the little tyrants, have been permitted to rule and to impede the progress of communities by their lack of ability or determination to conduct public business so as to promote the private fortunes of themselves or their friends.

—Mrs. Maria Hartley, of Brantford, who was charged with poisoning her husband but found "not guilty" by the jury, objects to the Toronto Museum exhibiting her figure in wax, and has notified her lawyers to take action in the event of the figure being placed on exhibition by the managers of the Museum. Mrs. Hartley is right. No one should be allowed to exhibit a person in effigy except by consent.

COST OF EDUCATION.

The annual cost per pupil for a common school education in the United States.....$17.22
Ohio.....15.98
Massachusetts.....22.60
Michigan.....14.70
New York.....16.80

In England and Wales, 1892, voluntary schools.....9.34
In Ontario, last official return.....8.40
As to cities, the cost per pupil in Boston is.....27.80
Minneapolis.....22.49
Chicago.....19.95
New York.....17.89
Average for cities in Ontario.....13.57
Out of every $8 spent by the Government $1 goes for educational purposes.

LET NO ELECTOR BE BAMBOOZLED.

There seems to be a difference of opinion as to which work is most effective in a short campaign—a superabundance of platform talking or a strong canvass all along the line. We believe in a combination of both, though, as we have stated, a mere jaw competition is of little value under the circumstances. Before the campaign is ended meetings will be held in furtherance of the candidature of both the nominees. The position of the Government at Toronto, which has been returned to power for another four years, will be defined by speakers well able to do so, including the citizen candidate, Mr. Hobbs, who only requires a little experience to be as able a speaker as the most of them. Let it be remembered that in June last, the general issues were well threshed out in this city, and at that time Mr. Hobbs came within a few votes of defeating Mr. W. R. Meredith, leader of the Opposition, and in the event of a change of Government which his friends then believed to be impending, the coming Premier. Indeed, it was conceded by all parties that no other man in the Opposition ranks could have defeated Mr. Hobbs. This, too, while the voters' lists were much less favorable to him than they have been rendered by the registration that his opponents vigorously opposed. Mr. Hobbs then had to face the fact that nearly 200 citizens voted for Mr. Meredith on purely personal grounds, but now that he has retired from public life, they are supporting Mr. Hobbs as the man best qualified to advance the interests of the Province and of the city of London in particular. Thus while nothing has transpired to weaken the position held by Mr. Hobbs in June, much has occurred that strengthens it, and adds to the probabilities that he will be elected by a large majority.

What, after all, the electors have to consider in this contest is, which of the two candidates now before the public can do most to advance our interests as citizens? It was conceded that so long as Mr. Meredith had a chance to become Premier, the task of defeating him would be hard. He succeeded by a majority that was more than accounted for by the purely personal votes that were polled for him; which are now promised to Mr. Hobbs; but his personal triumph was of no value to him as a leader when he found that in a Legislature with 94 members he had but 28 of a following. No one believes that he would have retired from public life if there had been any chance of his friends overturning the Mowat Administration. That fact must be patent to every citizen of London, no matter how many tales may be told by professional politicians to the contrary.

What we need at this stage of the history of the city is a reliable business man to support the good Government which has been given power for another four years. Mr. Hobbs fills the bill. Let us all think of London first, no matter what advice the pilgrims from Kingston, West York, Toronto or elsewhere may tender us.

—The Detroit Free Press, discussing the results of the elections, says that as a matter of history the Democratic party has always been strongest after a defeat. In 1872 (just after the Tweed exposure) they lost the State of New York by over 50,000; but in 1874 they elected Tilden Governor by an equally large majority, and two years later elected him President of the United States, though, it contends, they were deprived by an electoral commission of the fruits of the victory. In 1880 they were beaten in New York by over 20,000, and almost obliterated in the Presidential election of the same year. But two years later they elected Grover Cleveland Governor of the State by nearly 200,000, and two years later still elevated him to the Presidency of the United States. Those, therefore, who look upon yesterday's disaster as irretrievable have learned very ill the lesson of the political history of our neighbors.

THE OPEN FORUM.

Mr. Hughes' Dental.
To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:
About the 19th of October an article from your Appin correspondent appeared, in which he ridiculed myself and a couple of friends from London, who came here at my invitation to enjoy a quail hunt. So far as I am concerned myself, I would not think it worth while paying any attention to it, nor would anyone else who knows the correspondent, but in justice to the other two, I desire to say that we had a pleasant and successful time, and bagged a considerable number of birds. Not satisfied with the first article, he again writes on the 3rd inst., and accuses us of trespassing, etc. On the occasion referred to we did not shoot a bird on any property without first receiving permission from the owner, and in most places we were their invited guests. The following are the names of the gentlemen on whose property we hunted, and they will bear me out in the statement I have made: Messrs. Peter McIntyre, Curtis Gough, Peter Moore and Lachlan McTaggart. I did not expect the correspondent to prove that we shot a bird on any other property. Yours truly,
JOHN A. HUGHES.

A Baby Saved.
DEAR SIRS.—My baby had a terrible cough. The doctor said it was Whooping Cough, but it got worse all the time until baby was just like a skeleton. When he was 4 months old I tried Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion, and after using one and a half bottles my baby is entirely cured. No other remedy but the Emulsion was used, and baby is now strong and healthy.

AUTUMN.

See how beneath the morning rise
The dying forest glows
Tinged like the Oriental skies
When first the sun arose.

How silent does the autumn breeze
Fan her so soft arms
Stripping off those withered leaves,
Wrapped in mystic charms.

The lingering robin trills her lay—
Other birds have flown—
Lamenting summer's parting ray,
She chants her song alone.

How placid flows the silver stream
Over her pebbled nook;
Aged moss and evergreen
Line her ragged shore.

Oh, months of sorrow and of mirth,
Touched by Beauty's hand,
Spread thy mantle o'er the earth,
And paint this gloomy land.

One by one we droop at last,
Despite the voice that sings:
When death overtakes us with his blast
We fade like autumn leaves.

VALUE OF THE SIGNAL SERVICE.

Storm Warnings Save Many Lives and Much Property.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—During the storm of Sept. 24-25, 1894, 1,689 vessels, valued at $17,000,000, and during the storm of Oct. 8-10, 1,216 vessels, valued at $19,185,000, making a total of 2,905 vessels, valued at $36,285,000, remained in port on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts secure from danger throughout the periods for which warnings were issued from the signal service bureau.

Reports from the region traversed by the storm give the warnings credit for saving a considerable number of lives, one station alone (Charleston) reporting that over 100 lives were probably saved by this means.

BLOOD TURNED TO WATER.

The Result is Dizziness, Fainting Spells and Loss of Energy—How to Regain Health and Strength.

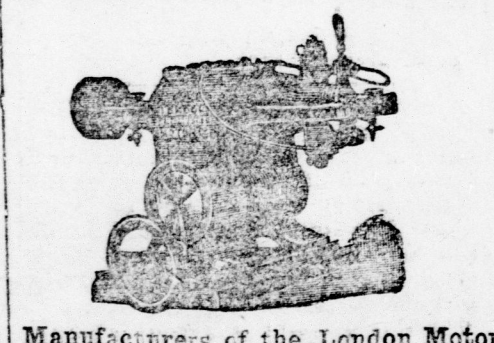

To those of an observant nature it must be painfully apparent that a large percentage of the young ladies of today are far from the enjoyment of good health. Their pallid faces and listless demeanor bespeak an early breakdown if prompt measures are not taken to restore the wanted energy. A case in point is that of Miss Emerson, of Greenwood, Ont. The mother of the young lady says: "My daughter was in poor health for two years, and we spent a good many dollars in doctoring, with but very little good. Our family doctor said she was badly run down and that her blood had turned to water. She suffered from severe headaches, loss of appetite, and her lungs failed her so much at times that it caused her to faint. We were advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I am thankful to say that after the use of nine boxes she entirely regained her health, and is as strong as any in the family. Others in our household have also used Pink Pills with the same good results, and I strongly recommend them to all who are ailing." A serious responsibility devolves on mothers, and they will do well to heed the advice contained in Mrs. Emerson's statements if their daughters are weak, pallid, easily tired or subject to heart palpitation. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a more potent influence on the blood and nerves than any other known medicine, and speedily restore the bloom of health to pallid cheeks. Pink Pills cure when all other medicines fail. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Refuse all substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

TIES ON THE TRACK.

Attempt to Wreck a Grand Trunk Train.

A Freight Came Along and Saved the Fast Express.

WINDSOR, Nov. 6.—It has just leaked out that a desperate attempt was made on Sunday night to wreck the Grand Trunk express train which is due to arrive in Windsor at 10 o'clock. Three detectives are now working on the case, and through the discovery of an important clue the chances are that the guilty parties will soon be under arrest.

The reason that the passengers on the express were not made aware that they were in danger was due to the fact that a freight train was ahead. The engineer of the latter, Dan Lansbury, had orders to run into the siding at Belle River and let the express pass by. When about two miles from that place he put his head out of the window and thought he saw something on the track. He immediately whistled for brakes and reversed the lever, but before he came to a stop his engine jumped over a railroad tie on the track.

When the engineer and train hands made an investigation they found that several ties and rails had been piled across the track a few yards ahead of the one they struck. The engine did not leave the track, and after the obstructions had been removed the train proceeded to Belle River.

Fifteen minutes later the express train came thundering along and struck something, which was sent flying to one side. This train was stopped also at Belle River, and it was then ascertained that after the crew on the freight train had removed the pile of ties that another had been placed on the track. This showed that the parties who did the work were in the vicinity, and that their intention was to wreck the express.

Messages were at once sent to the superintendent, and inside of an hour every section man between Windsor and Chatham was patrolling the track. Yesterday three detectives arrived at Belle River, and the section hands were notified to continue watching the track till further orders.

The officials are unable to understand why the attempt should have been made. They are inclined to the belief that spite work is at the bottom of it and not robbery. Had the express run into the obstruction there would have been a horrible railroad wreck, as a train going at full speed would have been thrown down the embankment. Those who were responsible understood their work, as the ties were well braced. After the freight train passed the parties had only time enough to put one of them back when the express came along. This was not braced, and was easily thrown to one side by the engine.

CIVIC CROOKEDNESS

Strongly Suspected on the Part of Toronto Aldermen.

"Financing" in the Matter of Electric Light Tenders—Thirteen Names Ticked Off—Significant Telegrams.

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—This afternoon's evidence before Judge MacDougal will further interesting facts. Mr. George Bertram, of the Bertram Manufacturing Company, one of the tenderers for the establishment of a civic lighting plant, testified that Mr. Wheeler, of the Brush Electric Company, of Cleveland, Ohio, told him about the "financing," but he placed little faith in the yarn until Co. Rogers came with Mr. Wheeler and corroborated the latter's statement. Mr. Bertram produced a copy of the council division sheet, showing the names of the thirteen, with ticks opposite them. Both men, in good faith, said that they would appear at the investigation and give evidence.

The next witness was Sins H. Wheeler, an employee of the Toronto Electric Light Company, no relative of Mr. Wheeler, of Cleveland. About Oct. 11 a letter was delivered at his address, addressed to Mr. Wheeler. It was not for him, however, but another Mr. Wheeler, and he, after opening it, returned it to the postoffice.

Here Mr. Nesbitt produced the identical envelope and letter. The former was postmarked "Cleveland, N. Y., Oct. 17" and noted Toronto, 18th. It bore the address, S. M. Wheeler, Trenton Electric Company, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, 28 Sutton street. The address 28 Sutton is obliterated, and was put on the envelope by the postoffice people. The letter was read by Mr. Nesbitt, counsel for the city council. It was written by W. S. Rogers to S. M. Wheeler, and opened with a reference to general business matters. The concluding portion of the letter contained the following interesting sentences:

"Don't let them get you on the stand. It will always hurt you, as well as the company. Let them fight it out among themselves, and then, if they want a plant, we will sell. If we don't go, Stewart ought to be our friend. Write me at Cleveland."

F. S. Killackey, bookkeeper for Aid. Stewart, testified that a man named Wheeler once called on Aid. Stewart, and Manager Wright, of the Toronto Electric Light Company, often called to see Aid. Stewart.

Albert Barber, manager of the C. E. R. Telegraph Company, produced a series of telegrams that had passed between Wheeler and Rogers to the manager of the Brush Company. On Sept. 11 Mr. Wheeler notified Mr. Hammill that "Keating's assistant says our bid will receive all attention." Another telegram produced by Mr. Barber was in cypher and seems to indicate that there was something in the wind. It was as follows:

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 14.—W. S. Rogers, care of Palmer House, Toronto.—Sceptic menacing is enormous and makes large increase to public thought. You know my views in such matters, viz., care spherical matter irrevivable.

An office boy for Aid. Stewart swore that he saw Mr. Wheeler once in his office. Mr. Nesbitt here asked for an adjournment until he could secure the attendance of Aid. Stewart. The court then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Oscar Cammer, aged 37, a Toronto printer, on Monday threatened to blow out his brains, and produced a revolver to do it. Thomas Elwood, who heard his threat, knocked Cammer's arm up, and the bullet went through the hand of the would-be suicide, who was then taken to the General Hospital, and a charge of insanity registered against him.

For several months past counterfeiters have been operating in Essex county. Detective Heron, of the secret service, and Detective Campana got a clue in Amherstburg, and as a result, on Tuesday morning, the two officers arrested Michael Hayes at his home in Anderson. It is claimed there is plenty of evidence to show that Hayes was in that business. Other arrests, it is said, will follow.

A Husband's Shocking Discovery.

DERRON, Mich., Nov. 6.—Alfred Corridon, who travels for a wholesale Montreal tobacco firm, came here yesterday to look for his wife. Mrs. Corridon, who is a handsome French woman, 26 years old, left Montreal a week ago to meet her sister in Detroit. Corridon thought his sister-in-law was a married woman, but received a tip by wire that his wife was visiting her in a disorderly house. About 1 o'clock this morning Corridon went to the place in company with a friend, and there found his wife. Corridon tried to get her away from the place, and there was such a disturbance that a policeman arrested Mr. and Mrs. Corridon and the keeper of the resort. The Corridons have had trouble before. Corridon has applied for a divorce.

Correct Dress for Children.

Some of the new school dresses show plain blouses or shirt-waists, with striped or plaid skirts. This rather reverses the usual order of things, but after all, these styles are only a matter of individual taste. Sometimes the yoke, sleeves and belt are made of the contrasting color. This is always a good style, as gowns that have the skirts and waists alike may always be depended upon as having the first element of good form. The combination costumes require considerable taste and discrimination in their selection and construction.

The pretty little miss in the illustration, who carries a ball in her hand, wears a blouse-dress of Scotch plaid, which is eminently fitted to her tender years. This little gown flares smartly at the bottom, and shows the fashionable sleeves topped with the unfurling stiffened ruffle. The garters are made in the most sombre hue visible in the plaid—a rich, snuffy brown. This gown has a strap in the back where the fulness is gathered in at the waist-line.—Jennette Miller Monthly.

PILLOWS FOR THE BABY.

PRETTY EMBROIDERED DESIGNS ON LINEN AND LAWN.

Four Models Alike Suited to the Carriage and the Crib—All of Them Are Fit for the Nicest Tot That Ever Lived in This Canada of Ours.

Nothing in all the wide range of needle-work is more popular, or, indeed, better than the cushioned covers, to which there seems literally to be no limit.

There was a time when one pillow, or, at least, two pillows, were thought ample for a single couch. But we of the present demand an overwhelming supply and a number that runs, say, up into the tens. Even the babies have caught the craze, or their mammae have done so in their name, and the infant of the present has pillows of many sorts.

The carriage has a goodly supply, and the tiny bed has its bit of dainty work on which the wee head rests, and is good enough to require a chapter of its own, but for the present we have to do with its pillows only, which swell the number demanded by the tyrants who rule our hearts and homes.

No color can ever be so good for infants' use as a pure, unsullied white. The colored silks and the colored linens that serve admirably well for maturer folk are out of place in the baby's outfit.

The models which the illustrations show are alike suited to the carriage and the crib. They are filled with the softest down, and any one of them is fit for the best loved infant that this world holds.

The forget-me-nots, which somehow always seem appropriate and always good for the babies' pillows and the babies' spreads, are worked upon white bosom linen.

The blossoms themselves are all worked in their own tender blue, but with fillole of the best unfading dye. Each centre is represented by a single French knot of yellow, and the leaves and stems are worked with olive green. The only really peculiar fact about this special design is the color used for the tiny buds that tip each spray. These in place of being worked with blue, as they ordinarily are, were copied direct from nature, and show a faint old pink tint.

The cover is made with a broad hem-stitched hem on all four sides. The opening is at the back, and closes with buttons and buttonholes. Stray blossoms are scattered along the hem and a frill of fine torchon lace completes the whole.

The embroidered linen should be laundered before the lace is shipped off.

But the baises and the pinks shown upon the pillows in the second illustration are worked upon sheer linen lawn and are used, respectively, over slips of pink and blue silk, which give them a cast of color, but they are of themselves pure, untinted white.

The daisies are worked with cream white silk and have shadings of pale green gray. The centres are fine French knots, done with yellow, and the stems, calyxes and leaves are all olive green. The ribbon is blue, of the same shade as the silk slip, and is worked solid with a single thread of fillole. The edge of the cover is finished with a fine frill of the lawn.

The pinks are all worked in old pink, and the slip is of the same shade. The combination so formed of soft, delicious pink with the tender, pale olive green of the leaves is effective. Like the daisy pillow, it is finished with a frill.

The pillow which shows rosebuds and is given in the first drawing is made like the first, of fine white linen. The flowers are tied with pale pink ribbon. It has a broad hem catenched with pale olive green, like that used for the leaves, and the ribbon is made to twine about in graceful curves.

All the work is solid, and all is done with a single thread of fillole.—New York Recorder.

TANGLED THREADS

"Will they show the white feather still? It is nothing less, this cowardly grovelling to the dictates of the Union," soliloquized Dr. Kane; "or will they respond to Dick like men of sense and go to bat for him? If it were not for those agitators—"

"I can tell you what it is, Mr. Tim Wilks—if you don't choose to keep to your time and your promises, you need not trouble yourself to come here after me later. A good two mortal hours by the clock have I been at Green's waiting for you."

The above, succeeding to the sound of footsteps in the lane, and uttered in Dr. Kane's sharpest tones, cut short Dr. Kane's musings. A short squabble ensued; Dr. Kane, finding Tim Wilks breathlessly explaining. From what the doctor, sitting in silence, and unsuspected, could gather, it appeared that Tim Wilks must have had some important matter to settle with him—no doubt of her own imperious making—which he had failed to keep, and had come running after her, only to catch her up at the garden door.

Jelly put the key in the lock, and stepped inside the garden; the servants sometimes chose that way of entrance in preference to the front. During the absence of Mrs. Camberland Jelly acted as mistress, entertained her friends, and was in and out at will. Mr. Wilks meekly remained where he was, not daring to cross the threshold without permission.

"Is it too late to come in, Miss Jelly?" asked he.

"Yes, it is late," retorted Jelly; the pair not having the slightest notion that any eavesdropper was near them. But the word could not justly be applied to Dr. Kane; he did not want to hear what was said; he felt rather annoyed at the noise and interruption.

"I couldn't get home before," resumed Timothy, "though I ran as fast as my legs. I was worried, and a young man has his day's work to finish, and in a lawyer's office, he is obliged to stay beyond hours if necessary."

"Don't tell me," said Jelly, who stood with the half-closed door in her hand in the most inhospitable manner. You could have come home if you'd chosen."

"But I couldn't, Miss Jelly."

"You are always stopping out beyond hours now. That is, saying that you do."

"Because we have been so busy lately," answered Tim. "Our head clerk, Repton, is away through illness, and it puts more work on the others. Dale's as cranky as he can be, and works like a horse. If you'll believe me, Miss Jelly, I hadn't time to get out to get any tea. I've not had bit or drop inside me since one o'clock to day."

This pitiful view of affairs a little pacified Jelly; and she dropped her sharp tone. Dr. Kane was wishing they would take their departure. He would have done so himself, but that he did not altogether care to betray his presence.

"Why does that old Dale not get another clerk?" demanded Jelly. "I should tell him plainly if I were you, Tim, that going without any regular meals did not suit me."

"He should not dare to say that. Much he'd listen if we did! As to getting another clerk, I believe he is doing it. Repton's doctor says he'll never be well again, so Dale thinks it's no use waiting for him."

"You were to take Repton's place, if ever he left," said Jelly quickly.

"I know I was—and Timothy Wilks' voice became so ruefully that it might have made Dr. Kane laugh under more open circumstances. "But when Dale made that promise, Miss Jelly, you know the writer of the anonymous letter had not taken place."

"What anonymous letter?"

"The one that killed Edmund North."

"Why, you don't mean to insinuate that Dale lays the blame of that on you?"

"I don't suppose he thinks I sent it. Indeed I'm sure he did not. But he was anything but pleasant over it to me at the time, and he has never been quite the same to me since."

"He is an unjust owl," said Jelly.

"One does not look for much else than injustice from lawyers."

"Does Dale say that letter is the reason of his not promoting you to Repton's place?"

"He doesn't say it, but I know that it is so, as he did just as well."

Jelly struck the key two or three times against the door. She was thinking, "That's through your foolish tongue, Timothy Wilks. You know you did talk of the matter out of the office."

"They say so," confessed Timothy. "But if I did, I'm sure I've been punished enough for it. It's hard that it should stick to me like a splinter. Why don't they find the writer of the letter, and punish him? He was the villain; not me."

"So he was," said Jelly. "Tim, what would you say if I told you I knew who it was?"

"Excuse me, Miss Jelly, but I should not quite believe it."

Jelly laughed. Not a loud laugh, but one rather derisive, and full of power. Its peculiar significance penetrated to him who was seated under the cedar tree, betraying all too surely that Jelly knew his dangerous secret. Even the less sensitive Tim Wilks was impressed by the sound.

"Surely, Miss Jelly, you do not mean that you know who wrote the letter?"

"I could put my finger out from where I now stand, Tim, and lay it on the right person," she answered in low, impressive tones, little suspecting how literally true were her words.

Tim seemed overwhelmed. He drew a deep breath.

"Then, why don't you, Miss Jelly?"

"Because—Jelly stopped short. "Well, because there are certain considerations that make it difficult to speak."

"But you ought to speak. Indeed you ought, Miss Jelly. If Lawyer Dale got to hear of this, he'd tell you he could compel you to speak."

Again there broke forth a laugh from Jelly. But quite a different laugh this time—one of mirth. Tim decided that she had only been making fun of him. He resented it, as much as he was capable of resenting anything.

You Can't Get Too Much

Of a good thing. This is eminently the case with Pile's Nervine, and great pain cure. It is an honest remedy, for it contains the most powerful, the most certain, and most certain pain subduing remedies known to medical science. It is honest, for it does all it claims to do. It is honest, because it is the best in the world. It only costs 25 cents to try it, and you can buy a bottle at any drug store. Nervine cures toothache, neuralgia, pain in the back and side. All pains are promptly cured by Pile's Nervine.

It is very important to know where to find the best bedroom sets at low prices. When buying call at Trafalgar's and you will find them. 35 and 37 King street.

TALMAGE WELCOMED.

His Congregation in Brooklyn Greets the Divine With Cheers.

New York, Nov. 6.—Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage was given a welcome home by the Brooklyn Tabernacle Sunday school Sunday afternoon in the Centennial Baptist Church, where the school is holding its sessions. The church was decorated with flowers, and the words, "Welcome Our Pastor," in white chrysanthemums on a ground of ferns appeared in front of the organ loft. When Dr. Talmage entered the audience arose and sang "Home, Again From a Foreign Shore." He walked down the aisle preceded by twenty children carrying flowers, which they scattered on the steps leading to the platform. When Dr. Talmage stepped forward to speak the great audience arose and cheered and waved handkerchiefs. The doctor was evidently moved with the enthusiasm and spoke feelingly.

For about half an hour after the service Dr. Talmage held a reception. Everybody wanted to shake him by the hand. Among those who paid their respects was Rev. Charles R. Curry, of New South Wales, Australia, who is on his way to England.

The Deadly Gas.

Four WAYS, Ind., Nov. 6.—One of the girls at the Westminster Female Seminary lighted a match in a clothes closet this morning. A terrific explosion of gas resulted. Misses Diebold, of Fort Wayne, Edith Masters, of Auburn, Ind., and Lillie Anderson, of Lago, Ind., were found enveloped in flames. They are probably fatally burned.

A Great Battle.

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, and restore bodily health for many years.

Indigestion Cured.

GENTLEMEN,—I can safely say that B.B.B. is a successful cure for indigestion. I had this trouble last summer and two bottles of B.B.B. built me up again. It is a good reliable medicine, both for indigestion and as a blood purifier.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. At Death's Door.—Dyspepsia Conquered. A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live, when I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 210 to 110 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of saving others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia. TO MY GIRL.

If I should ask you to be mine,
What would you say?
Would you my proffered hand decline
And say me nay?
Or would you temporize, and say
No, no nor yet?
And have me, tortured by delays,
To try to guess?
Or would you tell me Yes to-day,
You little flirt,
And No to-morrow, just in play,
To see it hurt?
Or would you grant me happiness
For good and all,
And make me earnest answer Yes,
Without recall?
I wish you'd tell me, dear, the truth
Without a mask;
For if you promise Yes in sooth,
Perhaps I'd ask!

HAS NO SCIENTIFIC BASIS.

Vaccination Has, However, the Support of Incontestable Experience.

Ought we to continue to vaccinate if we cannot give a scientific why and wherefore for our work? asks the London Hospital. This question may be answered by asking another, or several others. Ought a baker to bake bread and his customers to eat it if he cannot give a scientific demonstration of the process of fermentation which takes place in the dough? Ought a farmer to sow corn who is not able to explain the chemico-physiological progress of the development of the radicle and the pulmule? The truth is—and we are almost ashamed to put such an elementary proposition into the pages of a scientific journal—that the facts and empiricism, arts and manufacturers, all take precedence of science in the order of human development. Whole generations of men—the majority, indeed, of mankind—have lived and worked and died without the consciousness that science was so much as possible. Science—the knowledge and comprehension of things in their essence and causes—is the latest of all human developments.

We must, then, do with vaccination as we do with opium. We ask of opium: What is its history? What has it done in medicine? And the answer is that of all substances which mankind has yet discovered it is the most indispensable for the beneficent work of the relief of human pain. Therefore, though we still lack a complete demonstration of the therapeutic modus operandi of opium, we continue to use it and shall probably go on doing so to the end of time. Similarly we ask of vaccination this question of questions: What has it done in the world? And the answer is that it has defeated in open conflict one of the deadliest enemies of mankind, and has put us on lines of investigation which may rob all pathogenic organisms of their terrors.

If such should be the grand result, it is obvious that the mind of man, by how much it is delivered from ignoble bodily fears, by so much will it rise to greater and greater heights of boldness and intellectual achievement. This we can all see. But medical men, as custodians of the science as well as the art of healing, must constantly remember that vaccination and inoculation can never achieve these magnificent results until they are firmly established upon a basis of scientific reason, as well as upon a foundation of solid and unchallengeable fact.

Sacred Rights of Property.

A curious fact has been brought to public notice in England by the conduct of Rev. John Vallancy, perpetual curate of Roslinton, who, in the Burton County court, prosecuted the daughter of one of his parishioners for trespassing in "his" churchyard, and damaging "his" hay, by visiting her sister's grave and placing flowers thereon. For this outrage on the sacred rights of property he claimed damages to the amount of 15 6d. He contended, says the New York Evening Post, that the churchyard was his private property, and that no one had a right to go into it without his permission. He cut the hay and stacked it in his yard, and had by a formal notice interdicted the defendant from damaging the crop by trimming the grass over her sister's grave, which had been done for three years. When the young lady persisted in visiting the grave he followed her, took hold of her, and, with a contemptuous remark upon the flowers which she had placed there, knocked them off the grave with his stick. The reverend snuff lost his case because he was only a perpetual curate. Had he been a rector he could have recovered. A London newspaper in commenting upon the case says: "By two sentimental fictions the churchyard is God's acre, and the church the national or the people's church. But in dry law God's acre is the incumbent's freehold, and the only right of the people in the 'national' churchyards is the right to be buried there. The rude forefathers of the hamlets 'the village Hampdens,' and all the rest, when once laid to sleep, merely serve the purpose of enriching the parson's hay crop, and their posterity may only visit their graves subject to the permission and convenience of the lord of the soil."

Simple Explanation of Grip.

Medical writers make it clear why grip is so fatal. They tell of hemorrhagic and pyemic or septic-pyemic results, with purulent and gangrenous inflammation of the lung tissues and frequent metastasis to other organs. One case of hemorrhages and hematomas in the muscular tissue, parenchymatous bleedings by diapedesis, pachymeningitis hemorrhagica interna, is mentioned. In many cases there is hyperemia of the pia, also meningeal infiltration and suppuration meningitis and hemorrhage into the cerebral ventricle, and very frequently lobal pneumonia.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

The time to get your Printing is now, the place is the London ADVER-TISER Job Printing Department. Will
our friends everywhere remember that we print positively everything, from a book down to the smallest card? Either call in or write for prices and samples. You will be gratified to find how well, how reasonably, and how speedily your order will be filled. We try to keep every promise to the hour.

Of all the months that come and go,
We should be most forgiving
To those who bring us Thanksgiving.

—Rev. Joseph Philip, Ridgetown, visited friends in London yesterday.

—The congregation of Knox Church,
Aylmer, has decided to extend a call to Rev. Mr. Cooper, B.A., London, to become their pastor.

—Mr. Robert Cockburn, of Toronto, is in the city on a week's visit with his brother, Corp. John Cockburn, of Wolseley Barracks.

—Pte. Lionel L. Moore has returned to Wolseley Barracks from the Citadel, Quebec, where he was confined for three months with typhoid fever.

—Foreman Dennis, of Brown's livery,
had a sleigh ride last night. It was a great deal too jolly to be pleasant, but it was the first of the season, and that covers a multitude of bumps.

—The proposal to electrify the St.
Thomas street railway, in which a number of Londoners are interested, came before the St. Thomas council on Monday night, but will be considered at a special meeting.

—At a special meeting of the W. C. T.
U. held yesterday afternoon, arrangements were made to hold an "At Home" after the regular business meeting on Tuesday afternoon next. An open meeting will be held at night and a programme rendered.

—H. E. Johnson started to sell cheap silverware on the market Monday afternoon. He had been in business only ten minutes when P. C. Robinson took him over to Inspector Bell, and introduced him as desirous of taking out an auctioneer's license. He had to pay $10 for the privilege of selling his goods on the square until Saturday.

—A meeting of those in favor of single tax was held in Carling's Block last night.
An association was formed and officers elected. The meeting adjourned to meet on Nov. 23. Notice of place of meeting will appear in the daily press. All who are in favor of single tax can get all information from James Laus, secretary, 859 Queen's Avenue.

—Mr. Justice Robertson, who presided at the Middlesex Fall Assizes, is holding court at Simcoe. He was compelled to adjourn at dusk on Monday owing to a lack of lighting facilities, and rebuked the county for allowing such state of affairs
to exist. He said that had similar happenings he would have ordered the work done immediately and the county
treasurer to pay for it.

—The Market Bazar matter received a black eye at the council meeting last night,
when Ald. Taylor moved to lay the matter over indefinitely. The fact that Ald.
Fritchard gave notice of motion to move
the hay market from its present crowded quarters to the vacant lot on the corner of King and Ridout streets suggests a compromise with Ald. Taylor's idea. Meanwhile the R. E. O. P. A. will continue its war on the low rents of the bazar.

—The Epworth League of Colborne Street Methodist Church held their annual business meeting on Monday night
for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Encouraging reports were given by the heads of the different departments. The result of the elections was as follows: President, Mr. Nicholson (by acclamation); first vice-president, Jas. Wallace; second vice-president, Miss Maud Rigsby; third vice-president, Miss Hance;
fourth vice-president, Miss Webb; floral committee, Miss Cornish; lookout committee, M. Madden; temperance committee,
Mr. Pratt; secretary, P. P. Rigsby; treasurer, Jas. Page; pianist, Miss Vincent.

—Rhea will present Lord Lytton's play
"The Lady of Lyons" at the Opera House
on Friday evening, Nov. 9. This event will be of more than ordinary interest because of Rhea's first appearance in London
as Pauline, a character which she is eminently qualified to represent. The graceful bearing and charm of manner which naturally belong to Rhea are seen to the greatest advantage in characters like the beauty of Lyons. It is so many years since this play has been presented in London that it will be an entire novelty to many of our theatregoers. Rhea's visits are in some respects like a social function. The best of London society are always seen there. The advance sale of seats opens today.

—George Thatcher's new minstrel farce-comedy, "About Gotham," will be at attraction at the Grand Opera House next Saturday matinee and evening, Nov. 10.
In the second act of the play the scene dis-closes the magnificent interior of the 7th Regiment armory, New York, with the minstrels elegantly arrayed, seated in the usual semi-circle, the orchestra in rich uniforms, just behind them, and a throng
of handsomely costumed ladies and other guests on the spacious balcony above. In material this feature of the performance is phenomenally strong, the ballads being of the choicest, the harmony most delicious,
and the witticisms and comic melodies of the six men, led by George Thatcher
and Carroll Johnson, occupying a most delightful one hour's time. At the close of the first part the characters revert to the plot,
and the story, a thread of which has been interjected into this part of the entertainment, is carried through to an exciting and laughable climax. Mr. Thatcher calls attention to the fact that he does not resort
to street parades and open-air band concerts
to attract his audiences.

Fire in South London.

Macpherson Castle, a large frame structure on Teemmel Avenue, was discovered to be on fire again last night. It was a vacant house, the property of Mr. John Macpherson, and was partially burned a week or so ago. It was undoubtedly set on fire on both occasions, and the blaze had gained much headway when discovered.
The place was almost completely destroyed.
The present residence of the owner is unknown.

"Williams' Royal Crown Remedy Saved John Weir's Life."

May be seen in large letters on the covers of the boxes that precede the handsome Royal Crown Remedy wagon at Toronto and Western Fairs. To a Globe reporter, Mr.
Weir said: "This is a most marvelous cure. I became pale as a corpse; my blood seemed to be turned to water; I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet
were cold all the time, and my limbs were completely swollen up to the body. Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed. Mrs. Weir says: 'All M. Weir has told you is true. At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of 34 pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave to-day. So you may well be said
'Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life. The best druggists keep Royal Crown Remedy, but if your druggist does not,
write direct to Isaac Williams Company, London, and they will send it to you by first express. The price at which Williams' Royal Crown Remedy is sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with any other medical treatment. 6 bottles

should have said sold out to Mr. Cleghorn.
Mr. Easley died on Oct. 29 last, and left an estate against which there are no claims whatever.

Free Library Contracts Let.

The Free Library Board met last night
and awarded contracts for the work to be done on the new building, and operations will commence immediately. The lowest tenders were accepted with one exception
—in the case of a furnace. The board had reason to suppose that one costing $31 more was a little better furnace, and bought it. The price for all the work amounted to $12,451 and the estimate was $12,500. This gives the board a building with plate glass windows and No. 1 red brick, with dressed Marquette stone foundation. The roof will be entirely of red slate and not part shingle,
as at first suggested. The successful tenders follow:

J. Pardon, woodwork, $3,795

Clinson Murray, brick, $1,111

R. G. Blair, electrician, $238

A. J. Greenaway & Co., plumbing, $456

J. Brockert, galvanized iron, $262

B. C. Colclough, painting and glazing, $375

J. Nobbs, cut stone, $1,070

A. J. Greenaway, wiring, $124

G. L. Reid, red slate roof, $1,500

H. J. Boyd, furnace, $2,002

Total, $12,451

Mr. Matthee was told by another architect in New York that such a building
there would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Symphony Orchestra Concert.

Lovers of good music spent a delightful
couple of hours last night at the London
Symphony Orchestra concert in the Grand Opera House. There was only a fair-sized audience, while the entertainment provided was worthy of a large attendance. The leading attraction was, of course, Miss Marie Louise Bailey, about whom much has been said and written, and of whom much was expected. Miss Bailey has a large, full and rich tone, perfect technique and great brilliancy of style. Her rendering of the chromatic "Fantasia and Fugue" (Bach) was a rare treat to lovers of the classical school, while the solo,
"Faschingsschwank" (Schumann) and the Chopin group perhaps gave more pleasure to her audience. "The Earl King" (Schubert-Liszt) displayed to advantage her superb tone and wonderful brain work playing. In response to a repeated encore she played a charming scherzo (Mendelssohn).
Mr. C. E. Ayers, St. Thomas, sang "Galilee" (Adams) and another selected song.
Mr. Ayers is the happy possessor of a rich, baritone voice, which he used to good advantage. He was recalled and bowed his acknowledgment. Mr. George Angus', rendering of a violin concerto in E minor (second and third movements, Mendelsohn) was the gem of the evening.
Mr. Pococke may be justly proud of his brilliant pupil. He was enthusiastically applauded. Mr. H. S. Saunders displayed his beautiful tone on the 'cello, and had scope for a great display of skill in the serenade for strings. The orchestra was in excellent trim, and the way the numbers were received must have been gratifying to the able conductor, Mr. Roselle Pococke, and to the accompanist, Mr. Fred L.
Evans. The opening march, "Tannhauser" (Wagner), was given with great vigor, while "Gavotte" and "Siciliano" and "Intermezzo" were very pleasing and were justly applauded.

Killed His Brother.

CRANSTON STATION, N. Y., Nov. 6.—A murder was committed at about midnight
last night near Garrison, a village on the east side of the river, a few miles south of Cold Springs. John and Benjamin Gilbert, brothers, who reside with their mother,
became involved in a drunken quarrel over politics. The quarrel developed into a desperate fight, and their mother, while acting as peacemaker, had one of her thumbs bitten off. John and another brother, James, had been discussing politics. John became agitated and called upon Benjamin for assistance. John thereupon turned on Benjamin and drove him into another room. The door was closed and John fired through one of the panels, killing Benjamin instantly. The murderer took refuge at the house of another brother, where he was arrested this morning. Both men are about 40 years of age and unmarried.
