FIGHTING TO GET ASSIGNED PAY LOST WHEN HUSBAND IMPRISONED

Dorinda Street Woman Who Says Pte. Lawson Was Wrongfully Sentenced for Crime of Which He Has Been Cleared, Hopes To Get Back Money.

Mrs. Albert J. Lawson, 455 Dorinda street, whose husband, Pte. Albert J. Lawson, went overseas with the 1st Canadian contingent, and it is alleged was wrongfully imprisoned, has not yet given up hopes of recovering one year's assigned pay, which she asserts is her due. Pte. Lawson, who served 22 months in the South African war, and wears both King's and Queen's South African medals, enlisted with the 13th Nova Scotia Highlanders. He was court-martialed early in 1916, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment. According to the story of his wife, Pte. Lawson, shortly after his arrival in France, was transferred to a western battalion. Lawson had lived in the west and became quite friendly with one of his officers, Lieut. Lewis. Mrs. Lawson, hearing of this attachment, wrote occasional letters to Pte. Lawson. In one of these she asked him to send to her some keepsakes which Lieut. Lewis wore, in the event of his death. Lewis made the supreme sacrifice, and it is reported that before his burial, Lawson, remembering the request of Mrs. Lewis, took the keepsakes and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

CRONYN-MITCHELL

At high noon today, Dorothy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mitchell, was united in marriage to Capt. Richard Hume Cronyn, R. F. C., son of Major Hume Cronyn, M. P. Capt. Cronyn was overseas for two years, and is now stationed as instructor at the camp in Toronto. The ceremony, which was very quiet owing to the fact that both bride and groom are serving the colors, was performed at the home of the bride's parents, by the Rev. R. B. Freyer of the First Methodist Church. The bride looked charming as she entered the drawing-room on her father's arm. Her nuptial robe was of white charmeuse, with overdrapes of silk net embroidered in silk, and long court train. She wore a corsage bouquet of violets. After their return, Mr. and Mrs. Cronyn will be in Toronto for a short time. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony.

200 DRAFTED MEN OF DISTRICT RELEASED FROM ARMY BY BOARD

More than 200 men, drafted into the ranks of the 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment, were granted leave by the district leave of absence board in this district, since it began its sittings. The board, through which all applications for leave of absence from drafted men are handled, has granted leave to many of that number because they have been found to be in categories lower than A. Various other reasons have been the means of obtaining leave for many of the men, including occupations such as farming.

Demand for Man's Service, However, Not Sufficient Ground for Giving "Farming Leave."

Each case is investigated by the officer commanding the battalion, and forwarded to the leave board with his recommendation. Some of those exempted for purposes of farming have been given a couple of months, others longer terms, approaching a year, and others indefinite leave "while farming." Let Us Have Facts and Fairness. Public and Private Credit. Money invested in public works is generally willing to work for less pay than money invested in private property, because the public authorities have always the right to levy taxes to pay interest (which is wages for money) if the public work in question does not pay its own way. The street railway, like other companies, has no such power. It must pay the wages of the money it hires out of its earnings. It is, therefore, right and proper that wages to money invested in companies should be higher than wages to public enterprises. Today money hired for public use by the city of London and by the Province of Ontario draws over 6 per cent interest (or wages). Should not money used for providing street railway transportation be entitled to wages at least equal to the wages (or interest) paid for money by the city of London and the Province of Ontario? What would YOU do if you owned the Street Railway? LONDON STREET RAILWAY COMPANY, C. B. KING, Manager. March 16, 1918.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without them they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Send In Your Problems and They Will Be Answered From Official Information by The Advertiser.

C. R. Q.—If a drafted man joins an artillery unit and receives his discharge, is he liable to be called into the infantry?
A.—You do not state what reason he was discharged. Drafted men are not discharged unless permanently unfit for military service, but are released, subject to call. It would all depend on the reason for which he was discharged.

B. E. Q.—1. Has an A-2 man, without any extension of time to enlist in the navy before he is ordered to report?
2. How many units are open to the draftee after he joins his battalion for a transfer?
3. If a man has exemption to work on a farm here, is his exemption good if he should go out west to work on a farm there?
A.—1. If he reports before he is notified to do so, he has the privilege of choosing which unit he shall serve in. Naval recruiting officers state that if he is able to pass the naval physical test he can apply for a transfer to the navy.

2. The infantry, the artillery, the Royal Flying Corps and in some cases, if specially qualified, the Engineers, if he reports ahead of time.
3. Yes.
H. C. A. Q.—3. When does the central appeal judge expect to have all his decisions given?
4. Does the central appeal judge expect to have the decisions given as soon as he has disposed of them?
A.—1 and 2. See answers to B. E. 3. No information available.
4. No, but to the deputy registrar, who immediately informs the claimant.

SOLDIER PASSES STOPPED

Temporary Suspension of Jaunts Across the Border.

All passes to the United States have been temporarily cut off by the military authorities in this district. The order, which went into effect Thursday, applies only to soldiers, and while the regulation has been put in force by the district authorities, it is understood that the same action has been taken in other military districts, and now applies throughout Canada.

Orders received from Ottawa call for new regulations and new forms to be filled out, and signed before passes to cross the border can be issued to officers and other ranks. Some time will be required before the new regulations can be prepared and pending their issue, no hawk-eared travelers will be able to journey into the United States for a few days.

BANK CLERKS REPORT

Anticipate Call to Colors by Voluntary Enlistment.

Although no official notification from Ottawa has been received by Deputy Registrar Wismer with respect to the calling out of bank clerks as a result of Mr. Justice Duff's decision, it is understood that the new regulations will be able to journey into the United States for a few days.

Seven bank clerks employed in local financial institutions have declared not to await orders from the deputy registrar and report, and have reported themselves at military headquarters here and have been attached to the 1st Depot Battalion, W.O.R.

GOVT. SHOULD SHOW NO DISCRIMINATION IN ISSUING BADGES

H. D. S. A. Secretary Says All Should Receive Same.

At the adjourned meeting of the Honorable Discharged Soldiers' Association held Friday evening in the Y. M. C. A. hall, Col. W. M. Gartshore gave an address. A finance committee was appointed, and a committee was chosen to buy furniture for the rooms which have been secured.

A FRIGHTFUL DEATH; SUFFOCATED BY ASTHMA

The Dread of Such an Unhappy End Oppresses Every Sufferer.

Every sufferer from Asthma knows the terror, the object for the moment, the old-fashioned remedies may relieve, but never cure. Best results come from Catarhozone, which cures Asthma after hope is abandoned. It is because Catarhozone kills the asthma germ that it cures. Choking spells and labored breathing are relieved, suffocating sensations and loss of breath are cured. Every trace of asthma is driven from the system, and even old chronic experience immediate relief and lasting cure. Equally good for Bronchitis, Throat Trouble and Catarrh. The large one dollar outfit includes the inhaler, and lasts two months. Sold by all dealers or from the Catarhozone Company, Kingston, Canada.—Adv't. J. 12, F. 2.

Tragic Suffering in Northern Ontario

No Doctor within Reach, Prospector Tramped 60 Miles to Save Chum

Gin Pills Succeed in Restoring Kidney Action, Averting Tragedy in Mining Camp

A letter received from Sid Castleman, prospector in the Larder Lake district in Northern Ontario, tells a story as gripping as Robert Service's poems of the frozen north.

To anyone living in a town where medical attention can be called in at short notice, it is not easy to grasp the significance of being taken sick miles away from competent help. The letter which follows tells its own story, yet between the lines one can picture the suffering and the waiting for help to come, if help can be procured.

Larder Lake, Ont.
"I am writing you to thank you and tell you the good your GIN PILLS did for me. I had been suffering for some time with my kidneys and urine. I was constantly passing water, which was very scanty, and each time the pain was something awful, and no rest at all. I began to feel quite worn out. I had heard of your GIN PILLS, and decided to give them a trial at once. I sent my chum out to get them (about 60 miles), and I am pleased to inform you that in less than 6 hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me altogether. I took about half a box, and today I feel as well as ever. I did, and my kidneys are acting quite naturally."

Again thanking you for the Pills, some of which I always intend to keep by me."
SID CASTLEMAN.

You can picture the anxiety of the miner, realizing the fearful complications which follow kidney trouble will be even more painful than his present symptoms. It is too sick to travel to where a doctor could be consulted. To be sure, he had heard of Gin Pills for the kidneys. Others had been restored to health; why not he? And it was 60 miles west where Gin Pills could be procured. No doubt Mr. Castleman would hesitate to ask his friend to tramp so far on an errand which might or might not benefit the sufferer.

For it must have struck both these men, far off in the undeveloped north country, as little more than marvelous that relief from the violent pains Mr. Castleman was undergoing could be found in the little red pills coming in a simple wooden box with a black and yellow label that these pills are for half a dollar a box in thousands of stores throughout the world, could bring health and happiness to sufferers in town and country, in the city office and the prairie farm home.

It is a task for a worthy pen to picture the return of the chum from his distant journey, the anxiety following the first few doses, and then "in less than 6 hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me altogether. I took about half a box, and today I feel as well as ever. I did, and my kidneys are acting quite naturally."

If you were situated in circumstances similar to the above, and Mr. Castleman should relate his experiences to you himself, can there be any question in your mind?

Rheumatism.—If Gin Pills had no record other than the good work they have done in cases of Rheumatism, they would still be one of the greatest medicines ever offered to the public. Rheumatism arises from defective kidney action, and in early stages can be recognized by swollen joints, ankles, and knuckles, aching pains in the knees and joints.

From among the many testimonials we have received from rheumatic sufferers we publish the following:—
Hamilton, Ont., April 10th, 1917.
"About four years ago I wrote you of my condition from muscular and inflammatory Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble, and my efforts through travel and change of climate to rid myself of these unwelcome guests, and how I only found relief in Gin Pills after spending a lot of time and money in foreign lands."
(Signed) W. G. REID.

Sciatica.—A constant neuralgic pain, localized between the thigh and the ankle.
Montreal, P.Q.
"Just a word of praise for Gin Pills. About fifteen months ago I could not walk across my room, suffering severely with Rheumatism. I took Gin Pills, and became quite well. Two months ago I had Rheumatic Pains with neuralgia and Diarrhoea. I resorted to Gin Pills again for one week, and became quite well. Last week I again took Gin Pills for one week, and became quite well. Last week I again took Gin Pills for one week, and became quite well."

Constant Headaches—Many people fail to realize that headaches are a symptom of disorders more serious in their nature. Constant headaches, restless nights, and dizziness on stooping, are indications of kidney trouble. The need for Gin Pills is urgent in such cases if the development of worse ailments is to be averted.

Williamdale East, Ont.
"I cannot refrain from writing you about the benefits I have received from taking Gin Pills. Before I had taken Gin Pills, I had suffered dreadfully with my back and headaches, and had suffered for twenty years. I tried everything, but got no relief, until I got Gin Pills. I have taken six boxes of Gin Pills, and now I have not a sign of a pain or ache. I am now as well as ever, and as well as my life."
MRS. M. P. RIPLEY.

Stones, Gravel.—All derangements of the Bladder and Urinary System are very painful indeed, and we are particularly glad to have on file, records of what has been accomplished in such cases by taking Gin Pills.
Davisville, North Toronto.
"I have great pleasure in writing and recommending your GIN PILLS. We have used them for the last two years, and they have never failed us. We took them when we were particularly unwell, and we are now as well as ever. We have used them for the last two years, and they have never failed us. We took them when we were particularly unwell, and we are now as well as ever."

Tyneside P.O., Ont.
"I received your sample of GIN PILLS much better than I got at my drug store, and now I am taking your third box.
"The pain across my back and kidneys has almost entirely gone, and I am better than I have been for years. I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism, but it has all left me. I strongly advise all women, who suffer from pain in the Back and Weak Kidneys, to try GIN PILLS."
MRS. T. HARRIS.

"I was taken down with Inflammation of the Bladder. During the attacks, which occurred more and more frequently, the agony was unbearable, and I became so weak I could not walk across the floor. The doctors could do nothing to relieve or cure me.
"My wife sent for a box of GIN PILLS to try and see if they would help me. From the first they did me good—the pain was relieved at once, and on rheumatic sufferer we publish the following:—

The Quality Goes Clear Through GRAY-DORT For Particular Reasons

ALMOST every Gray-Dort owner has some special reason for preferring this car. One bought it for its appearance. Another bought it because of its motor. Designed by Planche, perfecter of the famous Peugeot Motor. Yet another is won by its ease of driving and comfort of riding.

Many men find it the only car within reach of their purses that offers so much. Many more, who could buy costlier cars, are influenced by its extreme economy in operation.

But all Gray-Dort owners have a common satisfaction in the greater utility and service-worth of the Gray-Dort car.

And all Gray-Dort cars are built to evoke this common satisfaction, to provide pleasure, economy, service exceeding that generally given by a light car.

So you may be sure that whatever particular feature in a Gray-Dort may appeal to you, the remainder of the car is of a quality with it.

That is the reason the trend of the Canadian motor car market is to the Gray-Dort.

The new Gray-Dort embodies all the good features that won instant success for former models. The 4-cylinder motor is a triumph of smooth, economical speed and power. The chassis is sturdy and quiet. The springs are long. The upholstery is deep. The equipment is absolutely complete from electric starting and lighting to the tools. New lines of beauty have been given this model. The five passenger touring car is $1,125; the three-passenger fleur-de-lys roadster is $995; the Gray-Dort special, beautifully finished and with extra details of equipment is $125 above the list. All prices are f.o.b. Chatham.

GREAT WAR VETERANS START CANVASS TODAY FOR PERMANENT HOME

$40,000 Objective of Local Soldiers. Today the London branch of the Great War Veterans' Association launches its $40,000 canvass campaign to secure sufficient endowment for a permanent home for all returned men. The committee of the veterans, in charge of Capt. G. H. Warburton and Signaller W. E. Capeveil, will canvass the down-town districts, and is hopeful of success.

The appeal of the veterans for funds is based on their belief that a home, where rooms and board would be available for returned men, is essential. In the present rooms that returned men can "rest up," or where they can be looked after in case which $40,000 is being asked, all these features will be incorporated.

WORLD BRIEFS

Mr. Justice Duff has given a decision in the case of the Plymouth Brethren are not to be classed as conscientious objectors and are therefore liable for service under the M. S. A. The general disease legislation was up in the Legislature yesterday. Some exceptions were taken to certain clauses. Dr. Nixon, in his speech, suggested that the method for treating such diseases be made by the Government and sold at cost. This would be to do the best for God's people, and the sooner the people found it out the better. C. P. R. head officials say they are not complaining under the Government measure to take 50 per cent of their profits and 10 per cent. The announcement is evidence taken at a southern railway union in New York, as shown by the stock decline. Brest-Litovsk, formerly one of Russia's most strongly fortified towns, has been taken by the retreating Russians. All buildings have been blown up. Senator Jones, Washington, declared the American people would be surprised if they knew the truth of the shipping situation. The Allied Shipping Council, organized to make the most effective use of tonnage, has held its first sitting. Austrians have blown up Mount Pasubio on the Italian front. Lord Robert Cecil, speaking in regard to peace rumors at Russia's expense, says such rumors would not be considered. Reports reaching Amsterdam are to the effect that the British air raid on Cologne Monday night set fire to two munition factories and set off a large explosion of explosives. Dispatches sent out after the raid said the damage was slight. A daylight-saving measure has passed the United States House and has been sent along to President Wilson. Dutch press considers allied shipping conditions as very hard, and four economic reprisals by Germany.

"THEY MADE ME WELL, I AM STILL WELL"

What Madame Gingras Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Hundreds of Other Women in Canada Have Had the Same Experience With the Old Canadian Kidney Remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Morveau, Montmagny County, Que. March 15.—(Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well, and I am still well." It would be hard to put a eulogy of Dodd's Kidney Pills in French, but the strongest words of Madame Philippe Gingras, a resident of this place, who is both well known and highly respected, are those which speak volumes to women who suffer. For women all over Canada are fast learning that nine-tenths of the suffering to which their sex is heir come from sick kidneys.

Weak women who carry a burden of pain to their daily duties realize that the way to relief lies in finding the best kidney remedy. And the fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills have been in use in Canada for over a century, and are more popular today than they ever were before, is the proof that they are the best kidney remedy. Hundreds of women in Canada say with Madame Gingras:

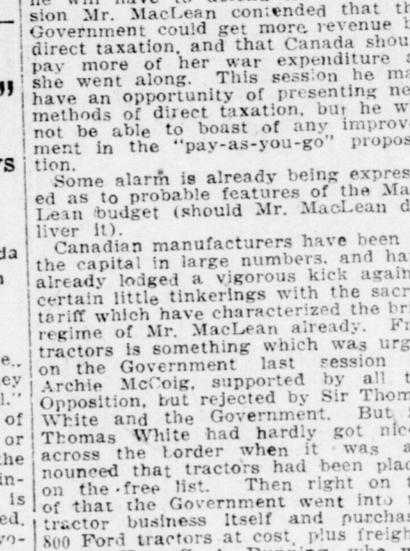

"Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well, and I am still well."

Any Sickness Leaves Weakness

Even a simple cold reduces your resistive powers to allow other sickness. Only food—not opiates or drugs—creates the rich blood which distributes strength to the body, and the concentrated medicinal food in makes the blood rich and stimulates its circulation while its tonic virtue enlivens the appetite and aids nutrition to re-establish strength quickly and permanently. If you are rundown, anemic or nervous, get SCOTT'S. It builds because it is a food—not a stimulant.

Her Grandma Used Sage Tea To Darken Her Hair. A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it is so natural, and even though nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Miller would not say what Willard's share would be.

ALLAN CUP WINNERS GIVEN BIG RECEPTION BY KITCHENER FANS

KITCHENER, March 15.—Thousands of people greeted the triumphant return of the Kitchener hockey champions here tonight when they arrived on the 9:11 train from Toronto. They were officially welcomed by Mayor Gross and the city council. As the boys alighted from the train, hearing of the Allan cup, the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. George Hiller, star centre, was grabbed by the fans and carried on their shoulders from the station to the city hall, where the address of welcome and congratulations were read by Mayor Gross. The presentation was led by the 108th Regiment Band. At the city hall addresses were made by W. D. Eiler, M. P., president of the Kitchener hockey club, E. K. Kahl, honorary president of the club, Manager Wismer and others. Hiller was raised on the shoulders of fans who crowded the steps and received an ovation which lasted for several minutes. The other players were also enthusiastically received. In his address Mayor Gross declared that the victory of the team is a signal tribute to the city living and true sportsmanship of the boys. The reception ended with a banquet given in their honor by the Kitchener Manufacturers' Association on Monday night.

"HOW HE HAS CHANGED" IS NEW SONG ABOUT FULTON

Once Upon a Time Was Willing to Meet All-Comers—Now Fails to See Why He Should Tackle Jack Dempsey.

By Frank G. Menke. (Copyrighted by Newspaper-Feature Service)

Isn't it quaint how some fellows become profoundly uppish without any apparent excuse for it except fear? Now there is Freddie Fulton, for example. Freddie is the boy who used to slap plaster on ceiling, but lately has been slapping sleep potions upon human jaws. In the dear old days when the celebrated kaiserman was trying to follow Jess Willard's dicta and get himself a reputation he fought almost anybody that was slow-od onto him. And out in the still night and throughout the whole livelong day, Freddie would chant his monologue: "I mean to clear the pugilistic horizon of every formidable foe to prove that I am the logical opponent for Jess Willard. I'll fight anybody that the public desires me to fight in my effort to prove that I am the best man actively engaged in the heavyweight division." In those days Freddie didn't have a remarkable opinion of himself. He knew that he had to make a name before he could be ranked among the top-notchers. In other words, Freddie was a modest young man, and that very fact made him a lot of friends throughout the country. Through the years since then Freddie has taken on the never-wazer Carl Morris, the all-in Gunboat Smith, the has-been Frank Moran, and a half dozen others whose pretensions of ring prowess have been productive of many guffaws from the pugilistic hot-pot. And he has whipped everyone, as was to be expected. Jack Dempsey's Rise. While Freddie was doing these little things, there rose up in the western portion of the United States a youth by the name of William Dempsey, who changed the front part of his title to Jack. In a trifle more than a year he took on Gunboat Smith, Bill Brennan, Carl Morris and half a dozen others, and slammed each and everyone into oblivion. No fighter in modern times ever has made the spectacular rise of Dempsey. He has never appeared along the Atlantic seaboard in a real bout, since he became a bright star in the pugilistic armament. But his praises have been chanted by every writer and every sporting expert who has seen him. "Dempsey," declares one expert, "is the latest pugilist. He is remarkably fast, shift, and knows as much about ring skill as any heavyweight the game has produced in the last ten years. He can hit from any angle, with either hand, and with the force of a battering-ram. And he can stand up under punishment as well as any big man in the ring today." How Freddie Has Changed. The showing of Dempsey has earned him as much right to fight Willard as has Fulton. But Dempsey, although wildly anxious for a crack at the champion, is perfectly willing to fight Fulton and let it be an elimination contest between them. Not in many years has there been so much popular clamor for a battle between two opponents in the heavyweight throne as there is right now for a meeting between Fulton and Dempsey. But all eyes are turned to Dempsey's challenger, back the "go get a real" reply. Let it odd? Fulton has every natural advantage over Dempsey. He is about four inches taller, weighs about twenty pounds more, and has a much longer reach. But despite these aids the reformed mixer of Fulton would not let it be a meeting with the western warrior. Why? Well, Freddie intimates that Dempsey isn't in his class; that whipping Dempsey would hurt his prestige, because Dempsey is quite lemonsque. But the real reason seems to be that Freddie is rather fearful of his own strength, and the Irishman. And well he should be. Any man who can win nine fights in about one year with knockouts in the very first round and a half dozen other knockout victories in two or three rounds, and who can do this, because he has a half dozen other pugilists, Fulton perhaps figures he can avoid meeting Dempsey, but if public demand would not let it be, he would not take on and eliminate—if he can't do better before he huris any more challenges to Willard, the celebrated circus performer. The teams were: Stratford—Malone, Goal; Chesley, Seefach, R. defence; Davidson, Hoffman, Centre; Stewart, Elves, Lavelle, R. wing; Miller, Bluer, Referee—T. Munro, London. In a friendly game R. M. TORONTO DENTS GIVE CLEVELAND FANDOM SOME REAL HOCKEY

[Special to The Advertiser.] CLEVELAND, March 15.—Playing the brand of hockey that you sometimes read about, but seldom see, the Dentals of Toronto, 1917 Canadian hockey champions, tonight smashed the winning streak of the Cleveland team, and in a great exhibition were victors by the score of 4-1. The Dentals were a pleasant surprise. In fact, their playing was a revelation. They matched the Cleveland players in speed, individual ability, combination work, and even went them a little better. Late in the game, when the play was a little rough, the Dentals gave it as good as they received. By the above it must not be taken that the game was a rowdy exhibition. Instead, it was the fastest kind of hockey, so fast that it necessarily took on a rather rough aspect. Individually and collectively, the Dentals were a pleasant surprise. Every man displayed speed, cleverness and ability to shoot, but at that they did not have much on their opponents. Cleveland played excellent hockey. Turner..... Goal C. Stewart; Killy, R. Defence; Sheldon, Hoffman, Centre; Stewart, Elves, Lavelle, R. wing; Miller, Bluer, Referee—T. Munro, London. In a few instances they managed to get through, but not only they were outside the defence. Five more came to Stratford in the second period, more getting three, Thorne and Hoffman one. In the final period, Morenz added three more to his string, and Thorne one. For the visitors Stanley and Davidson were the pick. They worked hard in the face of the heavy odds. Hoffman and Morenz shared the honors for Stratford in both halves. In the game all the time, rushing and back-checking tirelessly. The others of the team backed them up well and all deserve their share of the win. The long shots of the visitors were the pick of Malone, London. The teams were: Stratford—Malone, Goal; Chesley, Seefach, R. defence; Davidson, Hoffman, Centre; Stewart, Elves, Lavelle, R. wing; Miller, Bluer, Referee—T. Munro, London. In a friendly game R. M. Anderson's St. Thomas rink defeated W. T. Strong's Thistles by 19 to 11. The rinks and scores: Malahide Medal Games. London, St. Thomas. R. D. McDonald, C. Hatch; A. W. J. Anderson, Dr. Smith; C. K. STRATFORD CHAMPS IN NORTHERN LEAGUE, DEFEATING CHESLEY

STRATFORD, March 15.—Completely outclassing their opponents at every stage of the game, Stratford Juniors tonight retained the championship of the Northern League. The score was 15 to 0, making a 17-goal lead on the round. Tonight's win was as decisive as any win could be. It was a case of the visitors being smothered from the start to finish. Chesley never had a chance. The Midgets started out from the opening of the game to make the custody of the silverware secure for another year, and it was not many minutes before the fans were convinced that they were to see a regular procession throughout the three periods. Every effort on the part of the visitors to get into the game was smothered by the locals before they had a chance to get any way dangerous. Chesley was very weak in shooting, and most of the shots that Malone had to stop were dribblers. They also fumbled many likely looking passes in front of the net. Lavelle started the ball a-rolling in the first period, when he took a neat pass from the corner. Seefach lost no time in repeating followed by Morenz. Lavelle took a pass from Thorne and scored, and later took another pass from Hoffman and beat Black. Morenz finished the scoring in the first on a pass from Lavelle. In the second period the visitors showed signs of awakening. But their efforts were useless. The locals out-skated and outchecked them all the time. In a few instances they managed to get through, but not only they were outside the defence. Five more came to Stratford in the second period, more getting three, Thorne and Hoffman one. In the final period, Morenz added three more to his string, and Thorne one. For the visitors Stanley and Davidson were the pick. They worked hard in the face of the heavy odds. THISTLE CURLERS DEFEND MALAHIDE MEDAL LAST NIGHT

Three rinks of St. Thomas curlers who came to London last night in an attempt to take the Malahide medal from the Thistles, were sent home minus the trophy by the locals. The score was 13 to 4, leaving the Thistle curlers 13 shots up. Two of the local quartets won their games, skip Heaman defeating W. K. Cameron and A. M. HEXATHLON EVENTS WILL BE COMPLETED AT "Y" NEXT WEEK

The hexathlon events which have been in progress at the Y.M.C.A. during the past week have now been pretty well run off, and Director Halsdorf believes that the classes will be able to finish up early in the coming week. The five classes taking part have made some good records, and a good showing may be expected from the local Y.M.C.A. when the scores are judged. These events are international, Y.M.C.A.s in the United States and Canada taking part. The boys are divided into five classes and the results are handed into the headquarters at New York. Where the scores are compared, the "Y" turning in the highest score winning. London won the honors last season. The classes are divided by weight as follows: 50 to 80 pounds, 80 to 125 pounds, 125 to 150 pounds, 150 to 225 pounds, and the fifth class above 225 pounds. The highest in each class is awarded a medal. The events consist of races, jumps and putting the shot. All are staged in the gymnasium.

INTERMEDIATE TITLE IS STILL UNDECIDED

OSHAWA, Ont., March 15.—Still undecided is the Intermediate championship of the Ontario Hockey Association after the second game of the final here tonight between Collingwood and Oshawa. The locals made a come-back and blanketed the Collingwood puck-chasers with three goals, which made it 4 to 4 on the round. It is understood that the teams will play off in Toronto. Lawson Whitehead of Toronto was referee.

THE BALKAN SETTLEMENT

— Old Frontier's 1913-1914
• New Settlement (President Wilson)

DAWN OF A WILSON PEACE

Monastir, the Greeks won at Yenidze-Vardar and Salonika. The Greek victory was a repudiation of the events of the Greco-Turkish war of 1897, they had been confounded by the complete and permanent destruction of Turkish rule in Europe, save in Constantinople.

Austrian Intrigue. It now remained for the victors to divide the spoils on the basis of their early agreements. But how the fatal influence of Austrian intrigue was felt. Bulgaria and Serbia had agreed upon a division of Macedonia, the latter to the Balkans, the former to the Adriatic. But they had also agreed that North-Albania should fall to Serbia. Austria now, at the conference of London, called by the Great Powers, not the actual victors, vetoed the proposed expansion of Serbia to the southeast, vetoed the acquisition of a window on the Adriatic, which is now represented in Mr. Wilson's demand for direct access for Serbia to the sea.

To avoid a general European war the great powers agreed that the free state of Albania was created—one of the most preposterous creations in history. Serbia was shut off from the sea. But when this had happened the Serbs demanded from their Bulgarian allies compensation elsewhere, particularly as the Bulgars were demanding Serb-occupied Adriatic territory. From Bulgaria, west of the Dardanelles, the Serbs demanded all of Macedonia, the rest of the Balkans and the Aegean Sea, which had at last fallen to Serbo-Bulgarian armies. Serbia and Greece drove Bulgarian armies out of all Macedonia.

Territory Taken Back. By the treaty of Bucharest, which confirmed the Bulgarian defeat, the Bulgarian conquests of 1912 were practically all taken away, and in addition Bulgaria lost to Rumania the Silesian strip, which had been hers during the first Balkan war. After two wars and terrible sacrifices, the Bulgarians found themselves with no territory, and still lacking direct access to the free seas over their own territory. In this situation Bulgaria threw herself into the arms of Austria and Germany without hesitation. Henceforth the Bulgars merely waited their chance to strike back and abolish the wrongs of the treaty of Bucharest.

In 1914, when the world war broke out, Bulgaria remained quiet at the beginning, because there was no great usefulness for her friends in any other course. From the outset of the war the Allies sought to enlist Bulgaria. They saw that unless Bulgaria was enlisted there would be a direct access to Turkey from the central powers to the Balkans, and if across Rumania and Bulgaria, and if across Bulgaria, across Serbia and Bulgaria. All Allied policy was summed up in the desire and the effort to restore the old Balkan confederation of 1912, which had conquered Turkey and freed the Balkans of Ottoman rule. To restore this confederation it was necessary for the Allies to persuade Serbia, Rumania and Greece to restore to Bulgaria some portions of the territory they had taken by the treaty of Bucharest. To such proposals Rumania paid no attention, for she was not yet in the war and was not therefore interested. Serbia, with great reluctance, did agree to certain concessions, wholly inadequate from the Bulgarian point of view. But the Greeks, under the inspiration of their king, who was a secret friend of the central powers, flatly refused to cede an inch of territory. Accordingly, the Allies were at all times unable to do business with the Rumanians, although Ferdinand very cleverly tricked them over long months before he was ready to enter the war on the German side.

Austro-German Game. While the Allied policy thus sought at restoring the old Balkan confederation, the Austro-German policy played the more obvious game. The Allies could not enter to Serbia, who the Bulgarians had lost at Bucharest, because they could not force the Balkan States to surrender it. But the Germans, being at war with the Serbians, could offer all Serbia if they chose; they could also promise much of Rumania if the Rumanians came into the war on the Allied side. The Greek king was but a tool of the Kaiser, and thus even on the side of Greece the Kaiser could make offers. In an agreement, the Germans compelled the Turks to offer the immediate cession of territory about Adrianople which would enable the Bulgarians to reach their single Aegean port, Dedagatch, over their own territory.

As a result, Bulgaria selected the German side and entered the war in the critical summer of 1915, thereby insuring the destruction of Serbia and the conquest of the Balkans and the Balkan Peninsula. All of Serbia was soon conquered; the Kavala district was surrendered by Greek troops under the orders of Constantinople, and the Allied army was restricted to the narrow strip of Saloniki, while the Serb army fled over the mountains of Albania to the Adriatic, and was transported to Corfu & a total wreck.

Treachery Against Rumania. When Rumania entered the war in the following year the central powers promptly sided with her. Bulgarian troops, aided alike by Bulgarian troops and Russian treachery, and thereafter the Bulgarian army, entered the Silesian strip taken by Rumanians in 1912, but the Rumanians were driven back to the Danube and the Black Sea, thus cutting Rumania off from the sea. By the treaty of Bucharest, the central powers, Bulgaria had now won back all of what she had lost in the second Balkan war, and she had, in addition, she had in place of this acquired the Rumanian littoral.

Now, this is the situation which exists in the Balkans today, and to which President Wilson has addressed himself in his condition, cited above. He demands for Serbia direct access to the sea. This means, if it means anything, that he asks that Serbia shall have what was agreed by all the Balkan states before the first Balkan war. Serbia would thus have some 60 miles of coast between the mouth of the Drin and that of the Skumbi, with Durazzo as her main seaport.

Concessions to Bulgarians. Such an arrangement would enable the Serbs to make concessions to the Bulgarians. They would doubtless be willing to cede all of the Macedonian territory east of the Vardar—the Istib district. But Greece would not consent to a more extensive cession, because to give Bulgaria Monastir would be to thrust a Bulgarian wedge between Serbia and Greece and give the Bulgarians the entire hinterland of Saloniki. Fortunately, the Allies hold Monastir, for if it were in Bulgarian hands a surrender would be wholly inconceivable. But for forty years the Bulgarians have been carrying on an agitation among the Slavs of all this Macedonian territory. They have succeeded in "Balkanizing" them, and they lay claim to all of Macedonia and the Rhodopean Mountains on the basis of nationality. With the conflicting claims of nationality in this cockpit of the Balkans, I shall not deal. In the disputed territory there are Turks who have no rights; Rumanian Vlachs, who are equally outside the question; Greeks, Serbs and Bulgars, together with not a few Spanish Jews. East of the Vardar there is no doubt as to the claim

CANADA MUSTERS HER MANHOOD

SINCE our gallant First Contingent sailed to join the "Old Contemptibles" in Flanders, Canada has answered every call for "more men". Her latest and perhaps most timely response is the new "Selected Army"—men worthy to reinforce the Divisions that upset precedent and astonished military Europe.

A few weeks in Khaki in touch with our seasoned battalions Overseas, and the men of this new army will develop into the same "Fighting Sons o' Guns" of whom George Pattullo wrote admiringly in the Saturday Evening Post:

"The Canadians at the Front shave every day. Let that sink in. Right up there in the trenches—often ankle deep in mud, sleeping in funk holes, each man cooking his own meals, fighting lice and rats and Bosches, with everything combined to break down habits of cleanliness—they rigidly observe the rule for smooth faces and chins. Of all I saw, that hit me hardest, because it meant so much".

The shaving equipment issued to your boy or your friend in our Canadian Army must be on a par with his fighting equipment and clothing! Ask him, and from his answer judge how much he would appreciate a Gillette Safety Razor—the razor that has made good so emphatically that over a million have already been sold for troops from this side of the Atlantic.

See that he has a real military razor set—the Gillette Khaki Combination (No. 18), the Khaki Soft Roll (No. 19), or the new Canadian Service Set (No. 20). It's a send-off worth while!

of the Bulgars for open nationality; west, it is an open question. If an arrangement is to be made on the basis of the president's suggestion, the Balkan states will have to hold all as far north as Kufilli will probably be the dividing line. Thereafter the frontier between Greece and Italy will follow the line laid down in the auto-union agreement of Serbia and Bulgaria in 1912. As between Greece and Italy there is no question of both having accepted the frontier as laid down.

Acute Question. But between Greece and Italy there is a very acute question. The Serbs and Greeks divided Albania in half, Serbia taking the northern, Greece the southern half. But Italy forsook Greece to take her share, as Austria prohibited Serbia from holding her share. In the present war Italy has occupied Valona and expelled the Greeks from that portion of the Epirus (Southern Albania) taken over by them at the opening of the war. If Italy is to hold Valona she will have to hold all sides of the Adriatic at the narrow Straits of Otranto, Italy would in fact command the outlet of Austria to the open sea. Trieste and Fiume would be at the mercy of Italian forts and fleets, which would blockade the Adriatic at its mouth.

Accordingly, it seems to me that when the settlement comes to be made Greece and Serbia will be permitted to put into effect their agreement of 1912, dividing Albania at the Skumbi River, and that as a consequence Serbia will remain to Bulgaria, all of Macedonia east of the Vardar and south of Veles to the Greek frontier—the Istib region. As for Greece receiving Southern Albania, she will probably be asked to surrender her claim on the Kavala district, taken from Bulgaria in the second Balkan war, but surrendered to Bulgaria by King Constantine in 1913 by an act of treachery.

A Real Seaport. By acquiring direct access to Kavala and the territories east of the Struma, Bulgaria would gain a real seaport, the natural outlet of all western Bulgaria right up to Sofia. There are many more Greeks than Bulgarians in the Kavala district, but there are more Turks than Bulgars or Greeks, as far as that is concerned, in the whole Balkans, for it contains the districts in which the best tobacco in the world is grown, the Turkish and Egyptian cigarette tobacco is really Kavala tobacco.

As to the settlements between Bulgaria and Rumania, it seems to me likely that it will take the form of the old frontier of the period before the second Balkan war. It is unjust that Bulgaria should hold all of the Rumanian seacoast; it is unfair that the Rumanians should retain that Silesian strip which they literally stole in 1913, when Bulgaria was assailed on all sides. Finally, there will probably be great willingness on the part of all Allied nations that the Bulgarians should occupy the Adriatic and all of Epirus-Thrace, at least up to the old Enois-Midia line, and perhaps to the bases of the Chatalja and Gallipoli peninsulas.

In sum, then, it seems to me that any settlement which is to be made in the Balkans, on the basis of justice and with the idea of permanence, must begin with the abolition of outside interference; with the destruction of the Austrian claim to a right to deny Serbia access to the sea; and with the cession to Bulgaria of the Kavala district, the Enois-Midia line, and the Rhodopean Mountains. The Balkans for the Balkans must be the Balkans, and the Balkans must be permitted to realize their legitimate aspirations along the Adriatic coast and in the Balkans. Such concessions would go very far to giving Bulgaria what she is justly entitled to, while the restoration of the Silesian strip and Adrianople would put in her hands all she could justly hope to acquire in any Balkan settlement which did not seek to give her the hegemony of the Balkans and make her the over-asser of the central powers on their road to Turkey and the near east.

March 21—"How to make advertising dollars earn more."

The stage is set. We have done our part. Whether you, as a businessman of London, will profit from Stockdale's visit as we hoped you would, depends upon yourself. The canvassing committee has about completed its work, and called upon all business firms interested.

Reports are that most firms are sending their heads, executives and salespeople, men and women. If any firm has not yet been called upon a phone to W. J. Ashplant, 920, will bring a representative, with the tickets required. Manufacturers, jobbers, retailers—all have responded well to the effort we have made, and the event is going to GO ACROSS BIG.

several states as will put an end to the jealousies so brutally exploited by the great powers, and enable the formation of some sort of Balkan confederacy, recalling that of 1912, which liberated the Balkans, only to fall a victim to the intrigues of Austria.

The present world configuration took fire in the Balkans. Unless there be an honest and fair settlement now, the Eastern question will remain to produce more wars and new unrest. It cannot be settled save as the rights of the little Balkan peoples are recognized and safeguarded. When this happens the Eastern question will be abolished, at least so far as the Balkans are concerned, and—hardly less important—the ghost of Mitteleuropa will be laid to rest.

SALESMANSHIP, WHAT IT MEANS FOR THE AVERAGE INDIVIDUAL

BY J. E. GREENSLADE, President National Salesmen's Training Association.

"I would never make a good salesman. The above little self-appraisal is just what keeps hundreds of men in positions where they are ill-suited and where opportunity is confined within narrow limits. Because salesmanship as a profession offers so much to any man, because salesmen draw handsome emoluments for their work, and because it is such a congenial profession, it is an envied profession, and at the same time wrongly viewed as something that can only be mastered by those who have been favored with extraordinary ability. Another common impression, epigrammatic but untrue, is that 'salesmen are born, not made.' Any man of average intelligence with a common school education possesses the essential requirements. If his progress will only be governed by the amount of energy he expends in mastering salesmanship. A salesman more than any other professional man gets his 'experience' quickly. Every time he fails to sell a prospect he gets a lesson that helps sell the next one. A lawyer or doctor can only handle a very small number of clients in comparison to the number of people a salesman calls on—and every call adds to the salesman's experience—every interview marks the time of progress. A college education is not necessarily an asset or a liability in salesmanship. It is a liability because a man literally 'makes himself over' as he develops. Through salesmanship is the world's leading profession; it is also the most democratic. It bars no one on account of interest, offers but few obstacles to the ambitious, is generous in its financial rewards, and offers none of the usual setbacks to the man with 'no experience.'"

LABATT AGENTS SEE HOW NEW BREW IS MADE

More than thirty of the agents of the John Labatt Brewing Company from all parts of the Dominion are in the city today for the launching of a campaign to handle a new brew which will meet all the requirements of the Government after April 1. Yesterday the firm's representatives were taken through the local brewing plant, and shown the various processes of manufacture. During the winter a large amount of new machinery and equipment has been installed. Everything was shown and explained to the visitors by E. H. Barnfield of Montreal, general manager of the company. Today the firm entertained its representatives at a luncheon at the Tecumseh House.

KEEP UP MORALE!

Londoners Urged to Support Canada's New Draft Army.

The second of a series of five minute addresses being delivered by prominent men on questions dealing with the war was given by John Cottam at the Patriotic Theatre last evening. The speaker dwelt upon Canada's new draft army and what it meant to the Dominion and the Empire. The men, he said, comprising this new army represented some of the best young manhood of this country. He appealed to everyone to do everything possible to keep up the morale of the new draft army, to conserve food, practice thrift and assist in every way possible to help win the war.

CANADIAN FOOD CONTROL

Save Food in Every Way Possible Is the Plea of the Food Controller, the Allies and the Boys in the Trenches

That means that every housewife, instead of baking her own bread, should buy bakers' bread. Bakers' bread is now made of standard flour, ordered by the Government. This flour contains considerably more bran than the white flour, and when it is used it means a considerable saving in wheat. Just stop and think what it would mean if every woman saved even a little. Each woman, baking individually, has to have a separate fire and individual ingredients, from which there is always some waste.

When The Baker Makes Bread He Does So With Little Waste.

He measures each ingredient and knows just how much it will take to make each loaf. He bakes thousands of loaves in a baking, and in that way saves fuel and produces it at the minimum cost.

IT WOULD HELP THE GOVERNMENT AND THE BOYS IN THE TRENCHES CONSIDERABLY if every woman who has on hand a supply of flour would send it to the bake shops and have the bakers produce bread from it.

Food is going to win this war. The big statesmen of every country tell us this every day, and we all realize it. So let us all combine and do everything in our power to help. Your part may be only a little one, but in the aggregate it will help considerably.

Put Your Shoulder to the Wheel of Victory and Help Move It.

All Respond Eagerly to District Chief's Call.

The duties of James Gray, who recently accepted the appointment of divisional representative of the conservation publicity section of the Canada Food Board, have been materially lightened by the hearty cooperation which he has received on all sides in prosecuting the conservation, diminution of waste and greater production campaign in Western Ontario. The London Advertiser Club has offered its services in any way valuable assistance has been given by Mr. Henderson of Robinson, Little & Co. and by T. A. McMahon of McMahon & Cranger, and the city retail mechanics in the various branches of business have been brought in line by F. E. Harley looking after the campaign. The cards of the local merchants have already been forwarded to Ottawa, bearing the names of the specific items in regard to the quantity and kind of campaign advertising material they can furnish.

Daylight Saving Is a Detriment Declare Farmers

Strong Resolution From Lambeth Will Be Sent to Government.

LAMBETH, March 15.—At the regular meeting of the Lambeth branch of the Middlesex Farmers' Club held here yesterday, a resolution was unanimously carried, and will be sent to the Government, protesting against the daylight saving proposition. The opinion was expressed that it would be a detriment to farmers, especially to all those dependent on hired help. A deputation was named to wait on the trustees of the village of Lambeth regarding a proposal that was submitted in reference to a factory for canning tomatoes and fruits. A meeting has been called for a week from Tuesday evening to discuss the question of growing tomatoes and other vegetables for canning. The club is in a most prosperous condition, having over 200 members. Over 150 of these attended the meeting. Large orders were placed for seed of various kinds, twine, fencing and other things required by the members. Real estate transactions have been numerous in this vicinity in the past few days, and in addition to those completed others are pending. Wesley Baker has purchased 150 acres from R. M. Fisher, and J. Griffith becomes the owner of Mr. Baker's farm. Davidson Bros. have bought Mrs. Davies' farm. Gordon Mann has sold his home to Mr. Meyers of London, and is moving to St. Thomas, where he will go into the upholstery business. Rex Copeland leaves next week for Alberta, where he will engage in farming. The young women of Lambeth are taking keen interest in a class in first aid work. Miss Milne is instructress. Miss Theda Walker is seriously ill at her home.

BIBLE STUDENTS OF LONDON ASKING FOR RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

Resolution of Protest Sent to Ottawa After Meeting.

At a meeting of the London members of the Bible Students Association, held last evening, the following resolution was unanimously adopted and will be sent to Martin Barrill, secretary of state:

"Honorable Sir,—Members of the International Bible Students' Association, at a rally meeting on March 15, voiced their protest against your action in banning the 'Finished Mystery,' seventh volume in a series of Scripture studies, of their organization known as the 'Bible Students' Monthly.' Our association is strictly along religious lines, non-political, un denominational, international, and has as its object the free dissemination of Bible truth. In our estimation the people of the Canadian Commonwealth will resent an action which may well be regarded as an infringement of the inalienable rights of all men to full religious freedom in the interpretation of God's Word and proclamation of its message."

The results of the Red Cross sock and mitten contest will be announced on Monday.

15TH APPEARANCE—$200

On fifteen different occasions since September, 1916, Allan De Groat has appeared in public, claiming to be a victim of the Ontario temperance act. When Allan's name was called on Friday at the court, he was fined and said, "Guilty," before the magistrate had time to finish reading the information, which charged that he had a bottle of uncracked liquor in his possession, on premises other than a private dwelling.

A fine of $200 and costs, or in default of payment three months, was the penalty imposed.

Allan took his seat, and in a whisper informed the magistrate the case would be blooming in June before he again breathed the air of freedom, as he did not have $200, and if he did he would decline to separate himself from that amount.

IT WAS ALMOST A TWIN TRAGEDY

WAS OFF WORK FOUR OR FIVE MONTHS A YEAR WITH CONSTIPATION

If the truth were only known you would find that over one-half of the ills of life are caused by allowing the bowels to get into a constipated condition. When the bowels become constipated the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follows the violent sick headaches, the sourness of the stomach, heartburn, water brash, etc.

Keep your bowels regular by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They work on the bowels gently and naturally, and will cure the worst cases of constipation.

Mr. Sylvester Clements, Galt, Ont., writes: "I desire to express my hearty thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I have been suffering from a bad stomach and constipation, and would be off work four or five months a year. I was hardly able to be inside without getting a severe headache. I tried doctors' medicine and other remedies, but got no relief until a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. Now I can work beside without any headaches or pain. I would not be without your remedy for anything. I write this so that anyone suffering the same as I did may use them and be cured."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of 25c. Write to T. K. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the side pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream through the lymph ducts, which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongues, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation, are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in March or Face May Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use othine-double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of othine-double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement in some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

"The English School of Organ Not Appreciated As It Should Be"

Second Installment of Paper Presented by Clarence E. Gilmour, Organist of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Before London Organists' Club.

"The battle for the English organ composer must be fought by the English organist. The man behind the gun, first, last and all the time, must be the organist."
—Clarence E. Gilmour.

Thomas Adams, Benjamin Cooke, John Stanley and Thomas Atwood Walmisley have left compositions full of vigor, which are a credit to English organ music and deserve to be widely known. English organists are not likely soon to forget the claims of Samuel Wesley, 1766-1837, whose remarkable personality no less than his extraordinary genius for music did so much to raise the status of the church musician in England. As one of the first to introduce Bach in England, Wesley had at his finger-tips the best organ music extant. No one knew better than he, that to acquire a real style in organ music, days and nights must be passed with the Leipzig cantor for guide. Wesley's life and work were wholly devoted to the art he loved. Something of the man's fine healthy character is seen in the music he has left. Wesley's reputation was won when organists were expected to extemporize.

performer who is content to let the actual notes convey their own message, as contrasted with the display of registration and technique necessary, and so much thought of, in such things as the Overture to "Tannhauser." I would not for a moment disparage the ambition which prompts the self-sentient and perseverant such difficulties demand, but I plead for a hearing at least of what I claim to be worthy and dignified examples of English art. There is variety of attractiveness and scope in these works, which depend in many cases upon the extent of the development attained in organ-building at the time the music was written. Our present instruments may be said to include the possibilities to be found in those of earlier days, so that there can be little difficulty in the performance. In fact, with the responsive and delicate action of today, difficulty can scarcely be said to exist. There remains then, only the question of taste. It should be remembered that there is much music which is more effective when the actual performer than to the listener. Until the last few years we have had little cause for satisfaction with England's contribution to modern organ literature. In English organ music we are told that it is quite conceivable they have found a road which is going further in the end. We can only hope that such a worthy ideal may be more quickly gained by the stream of entirely unworthy trifles constantly poured out by publishing houses. England may point with pride to such works as the Sonata in C Sharp Minor, the "Passion" and the Concerto of Dr. Basil Harwood as examples of what is high and noble, and hope that such a worthy ideal may be more quickly gained by the stream of entirely unworthy trifles constantly poured out by publishing houses. Stomach Relief! Stop Indigestion Gas, Sourness--Pape's Diapepsin

In five minutes! Neutralizes stomach acidity, relieving dyspepsia, heartburn, distress. Read!

Time! Pape's Diapepsin will sweeten a sour, fatty or out-of-order stomach within five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches or dizziness. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapepsin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion. Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store. These large, fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gas, heartburn, and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.

DANCE MUSIC DAY FOR MUSIC CLUB

Arranging their program for the next recital of the Women's Music Club which takes place in the Normal School on Wednesday afternoon, March 20, at 4 o'clock, Mrs. Paul and Miss Mabel Stevens have been particularly happy in keeping to the subject for the day suggested by the program committee, namely, "The Dance as a Form of Musical Art." A paper by Miss Ruth Keyes on this subject will be illustrated by two of her clever pupils, Miss Ann Macbeth and Miss Edith Barkie, who will give a practical demonstration of the close relationship existing between music and dancing. Miss Minnie Fox is singing a couple of waltz songs, and Miss Marjorie Skinner a swing song and sunshine song, while Miss Stevens is playing a Moscovitz dance music which will be heard, quaint ancient forms of dance music written by the piano duo, "Lafayette" and "The Whirl." By request, Mrs. A. D. Jordan and Mrs. Harris Elliott are repeating the piano duo, "Lafayette" and "The Whirl," which they played at the club earlier in the season. Those members wishing to attend can obtain visitors' tickets.

NEW YORK'S FAMOUS "LITTLE SYMPHONY" PLAYS IN LONDON

Of the many treats presented by the Musical Art Society in the past two seasons, none has been anticipated with greater interest and delight than the coming of the famous "Little Symphony," conducted by George Barrere, to give a concert next Wednesday night, March 20, in conjunction with the Musical Art Society chorus, which has been called "The most ambitious chamber music attraction before the public—formerly leading flautist and member of the orchestra of some fourteen members, banded together for the purpose of playing compositions written for such small ensembles, and of which the delicate effects and dainty charm are best played by the great orchestras with symphony volume, sound and tonal complexities. Interesting examples of this music will be presented, such as a couplet of "Cephalus and Proetus," by Gretry, and "For My Little Friends," by Piere, including a pastiche for wind instruments, "The Vigil of the Guardian Angels," for strings; a "Little Gavotte"; a "Song of Other Days" (string instruments); a serenade; and in conclusion, "The March of the Little Lead Soldiers."

MISS HELEN WILSON APPOINTED DIRECTOR OF A TORONTO CHOIR

Ability Appreciated of Talented Musician Well Known in London. Miss Helen Wilson, a talented musician, who is well known in this city, has recently received flattering recognition in Toronto, both in her appointment as choir director of the Little Symphony, and in her appointment as director of the Victoria Presbyterian Church, West Toronto, choir. Under the direction of A. T. Jordan, who is a piece of Mrs. G. H. Somerville, has visited in London on a number of occasions, and given piano recitals here. For the past four years, she has been organist of the Victoria Church and held the same position previous to going abroad to study for two years under eminent European masters. Until recently, David C. MacGregor, the popular singer, has been the director of the choir. Following his resignation, a number of musicians of eminence in the profession applied for the position in response to the music committee's advertisements. After serious consideration, and after obtaining expert advice, including that of Dr. A. S. Vogt, the famous former conductor of the Mendelssohn Choir, it was decided that no better arrangement could be made than to place the choir under the direction of Miss Wilson. It is stated that Miss Wilson will receive the loyal support of the members of the choir who thoroughly appreciate her musical talent and personal worth. The choir is to be strengthened by the addition of a few paid singers.

LITTLE SYMPHONY COMING WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday evening next at the Grand Opera House the justly celebrated "Little Symphony" of New York (George Barrere, conductor) will visit London for the first time. This is an organization of fifteen solo artists banded together for the purpose of properly performing music which has been written especially for little orchestras. In the days when Mozart penned his distinguished compositions the modern augmented orchestra was nonexistent. The fine sensitiveness, the delicate nuance, the grace of contour which was his, demanded not numbers, but individual ability in the interpretation. And no great orchestra of the present day plays the compositions of Mozart in the way in which Mozart intended them to be played. Numbers of composers, both classic and modern, like Mozart have realized the charm of expressing themselves deftly in the medium of the exquisite miniature rather than in the more ponderous and stately mural. A well-known litterateur has remarked that transcendence after all lies in the still small voice. George Barrere, the great virtuoso of the flute, had a library full of rare compositions. He realized that the reason they were not among the recognized repertoires of the great orchestras was because something was essentially wrong with the way they were rendered. He realized that it was Mozart being played in the spirit of Richard Strauss. He realized the need musically which existed for a reincarnation of one of the delightful little orchestras of the courts of old, in which each man was an artist. He founded the "Little Symphony" and the "Little Symphony" has achieved an artistic reputation which is indeed very remarkable. It is the most ambitious chamber music attraction before the concert public since the days of the 18th century among the admittedly "smart" events in New York. The "Little Symphony" will be heard in three great and beautiful instrumental music by modern French composers, while Mr. Barrere, who is accounted "the world's finest flute player," will be heard in some solo music for his favorite instrument. In association with the "Little Symphony" will be the choir of the Musical Art Society, under the direction of Albert D. Jordan. The choir will on this occasion present an exceedingly attractive program of miscellaneous character, consisting of part-songs and patriotic music by English, French and American composers. A fine performance is assured. The subscription sale for this concert has been unprecedented and intending patrons are requested to secure their seats early. The plan opens morning at the Grand Opera House.

Perfect in Tone

A piano may be beautiful in finish, artistic in design and well constructed, but unless the tone meets the demands of the true musician and artist the appearance of the instrument counts for little. The tone of the

is acknowledged to be as near perfect as human ingenuity and skill can make it. Not only is the tone perfect when it leaves the factory, but its special construction features guarantee that this wonderful tone will not deteriorate with age and use. In keeping with this justly famous tone is the finish and design of the many different models. If not convenient to call, handsome illustrated booklet will be mailed on request.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL BY GRACE THORNOLIFFE

She Learns That a Tunic Frock Work With Different Blouses May Serve Many Dress Uses.

"Telephone Miss Hammersey, Claire, and please tell her that she must come down immediately for a fitting if her eyes are to be finished tomorrow."

"If you want to see something really out of the usual in all-white frock look at this," and Madame held the dress up before Miss Hammersey, who began to rave about the tunic and the old-fashioned ruff-trimmed skirt.

"I was surprised to find that the frock consisted of a separate bodice and a jumper-like frock, made with a tunic."

"Madame had combined white satin and crepe Georgette in designing the frock. The underbodice of the transparent material had full bishop sleeves with a deep cut formed of three ruffles of the crepe with peot edges. Above this series of ruffles was a band of white ribbon with peot edges, which was drawn about the arm and tied in a tiny bow."

"The skirt is of separate bodice and a jumper-like frock, made with a tunic. The tunic of white satin was arranged over the bodice, the edges of which were bound with a narrow fold of the material. This garment was fastened at the sides from the shoulder blades to the lower edge. The tunic was confined about the waistline with a simple formed of two rows of the ribbon tied in bows at the centre front."

"Miss Hammersey is partial to collar of the Pierrot type, so Madame had Miss Westley add a full of Georgette about the neck of the tunic."

"The skirt is of the crepe. It is gathered about the top and falls in graceful folds to the ankles. Three ruffles of the same material, finished with peot edges, trim the bottom of the skirt."

"A petticoat of white washable satin, also trimmed with ruffles, completes the outfit."

"Monday should be a day of pleasant and advantageous surprises with both Venus, Saturn and Uranus in most fortunate attitude, these removing all barriers from old enmities and disappointments, and promising friendly intervention by strangers, elderly persons and from women as well as from an unusual and unlooked for source. The home and affections are blessed. The one who sought me, make me malleable as wax in her hands."

"I'll be back in a minute," she promised. "I was almost as good as her word, bringing with her a steaming concoction of which the basal appeared to be a dressing gown, but that had a wonderful, elusive, spicy flavor."

"What is it, Katherine?" I asked, drawing the glass she gave me, after a preliminary testing sip. "It's delicious! 'One of my professional secrets,' she smiled, drawing up the curtain of her eyes, and looking at me with a mischievous gleam in her eyes."

Writes About Temperamental Tessie. Copyright, 1918, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Temperamental Tessie ran away the other day. Her name isn't Tessie at all, of course, or I wouldn't be using it.

But she's temperamental, goodness knows! She's dark and she's handsome, and she has sparkling eyes and red cheeks, and crinkly hair and a slim figure, and little feet and square, ugly hands, and bad temper and just about as much sense as a dog's head.

She has a voice, too, a charming, jingling voice. Wouldn't you think she'd be happy? Shouldn't you call her lucky? I should—if she weren't so temperamental. She has a lovely time being temperamental now, but I wonder what that temperament is going to do for her in her career.

Oh, yes, she has a career, or at least she might have one if she wouldn't think so much about her temper. You see, that's the trouble. Tessie doesn't think about her work and she doesn't think about her temper and she doesn't think about herself, and her temper—and that's all.

And it's beginning to show in her work. People wonder why she isn't doing as well as she did, and what it is that has kept her from getting on. One can imagine except the wise maestro who is trying to teach her.

"He told her about it the other day. I heard him." "I heard the maestro," Tessie would think if a man had beautiful hair and a slim figure, and little feet and square, ugly hands, and bad temper and just about as much sense as a dog's head.

"DOING MY BIT" Practical Suggestions on Individual Ways to Help Win the War. BY ALBERT BARRETT SAYRES.

In serving Cottage Cheese Loaf. In seeking novel dishes for Meatless Day. Have you given to cheese in its various forms the thought it deserves?

Among the many delicious dishes into which cheese enters—so well taking the place of meat that it is served in one often on other days—is the following: "A cupful of cottage cheese, a cupful of ground peanuts, a tablespoonful of fat, a cupful of strained tomatoes, a cupful of breadcrumbs, and salt and pepper. Mix these ingredients well and form into a loaf. Bake this loaf in a moderate oven for about 25 minutes. Serve with white sauce into which has been mixed two tablespoonfuls of minced onion, a spoonful of minced pimento."

For days other than Meatless Day, when a change of bread is desired, the following oat bread is well worth trying: Cook 2½ cupfuls of rolled oats until the cereal is soft. While the mush is still hot add two tablespoonfuls of molasses and five teaspoonfuls of salt, stirring all the time to prevent the formation of any lumps. Let the mush become lukewarm, then add two cakes of compressed yeast, stirred in one cupful of water. Finally add eight cupfuls of flour and with four cupfuls of water form a dough. Knead and gradually add other bread, but being more careful in moulting and handling the dough."

Here is a recipe for biscuits that may be served on Meatless Day: To one cupful of rye flour, add three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt. Cut in two tablespoonfuls of lard and gradually add spoonfuls of flour until a dough is made of one-third of a cupful of water or milk to a soft dough. Roll out, cut into biscuits, and bake in a hot oven for twelve or fifteen minutes.

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW REVELATIONS OF A WIFE How Katherine Prepared Madge for Her Ordeal. Now I'm going to put you in Katherine's care for a while, Lillian said.

"You must lie down, sleep if you can, for you may have a strenuous time in front of you."

"I was frankly puzzled. The cablegram from my father with its cipher message commanding us to deliver at once the important secret paper I carried to Allen Drake had naturally led me to expect that Lillian would have me go in search of him. And here she was talking of lying down and resting."

"I didn't venture to question her, but my eyes must have spoken an interrogation, for when she had summoned Katherine she bent over me."

"Katherine Drake is a marked man," she said in a low voice. "He is constantly followed by disguised agents of the enemy—by constantly I mean except when he is in the street. He is constantly followed by disguised agents of the enemy—by constantly I mean except when he is in the street. He is constantly followed by disguised agents of the enemy—by constantly I mean except when he is in the street."

"I'll talk to you later, and explain to Katherine afterwards," she said, leaving me racked with curiosity, which, however, I would have died rather than express.

"There's No Use." "Madge is on for a hard assignment tonight, Katherine," was her greeting as Katherine opened the door and came to her room. "I want you to make her go to sleep if you can. She has had tea, but give her hot milk or any other thing that will help her. I'll have a good hot lunch kept ready for her whenever we have to awaken her."

"I'll be back in a minute," she promised. "I was almost as good as her word, bringing with her a steaming concoction of which the basal appeared to be a dressing gown, but that had a wonderful, elusive, spicy flavor."

"What is it, Katherine?" I asked, drawing the glass she gave me, after a preliminary testing sip. "It's delicious! 'One of my professional secrets,' she smiled, drawing up the curtain of her eyes, and looking at me with a mischievous gleam in her eyes."

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Silvers

Illustrated by Gruella. BROWN CRICKET'S CHEERY SONG. "Oh, you little dear!" exclaimed Betty, as she smiled a tiny brown cricket sitting on a stone in the fireplace. "When did you get in here?"

"Dear me!" chirped Brown Cricket. "I came in one day last fall and have been living here ever since."

"And I never knew!" laughed Betty. "Why haven't I heard you singing?"

"Because I never sing until long after you and your daddy and your mamma are asleep. Then I hop upon the mantel and sing my cheery song," chirped Brown Cricket.

"But why do you wait until we're all asleep?" asked Betty. "We house crickets don't believe in disturbing folks during the daytime with our songs, for fear of being thrown out."

"I'm sure my mamma would never throw you out of doors, because she loves a cricket on the hearth brings good luck," laughed Betty. "Now, isn't that just as if a poor little cricket could bring anyone good luck?"

"I don't know," chirped Brown Cricket. "I just sing my cheery song and it makes folks happy who hear us, and where happiness abides good luck is sure to follow."

"I don't need to." "Why don't you open your mouth and sing?" asked Betty, for with all his chirping Brown Cricket's mouth had never opened.

"See my wings?" chirped Brown Cricket. "See my wings? They're tiny drumsticks. Now look at the little ridge that runs across the top of my wings. When I rub them together, so my wings and I feel like singing. I make a cheery song and it makes folks happy and Brown Cricket raised his wings and sang his cheery song."

"Cheery chirp and chirped cheer, Listen what I'm singing here. Fill your days with happy laughter, And good luck will follow after."

"Oh, what a pretty song!" cried Betty. "What song is that, dear?" asked Betty's mamma, looking up from her paper.

"I don't know," chirped Brown Cricket. "I just sing my cheery song and it makes folks happy who hear us, and where happiness abides good luck is sure to follow."

"Let's Ask Mother." "I'm trying to use cheaper coffee, now that everything is so high," said Cousin Rachel, "but it isn't nearly so good as the coffee."

"Mother says using things that are too cheap isn't always an economy," said Cousin Rachel. "It's a realer economy."

"There are several little ways to be economical," said Cousin Rachel. "The simplest and best way, I find, is to make the required amount in cold water for a few minutes, then bring it to a boil, allow it to boil for a minute, and dash a little cold water down the neck of the coffee pot to settle it. This method requires no sugar."

"If you use a tin pot, it is best to soak the coffee a while or even overnight in cold water for a few minutes. This method doesn't require a tin pot, and it's a realer economy."

These are Anxious Days

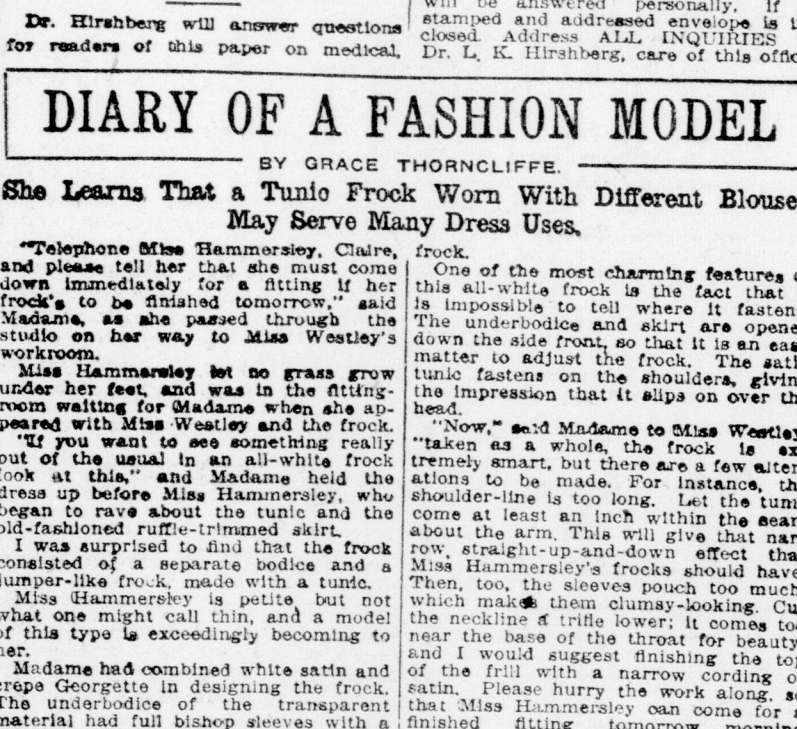

NEVER in the history of this old world have the people lived under such tremendous nervous strain as to-day. Millions awake each morning in fearful dread of what the day may bring forth, and live each hour with nerves at highest tension.

Nothing breaks down the nervous system so quickly as worry and anxiety, and this is why so many people are suffering from nervous headaches, sciatic and neuralgic pains, nervous indigestion and general failure of the vital organs to properly perform their functions.

When you get so nervous that you do not rest and sleep well nights it is time to be alarmed, for it is very much easier to prevent nervous prostration, paralysis and locomotor ataxia than it is to cure these dreaded diseases.

After years of testing under the most severe circumstances Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stands in a class by itself as the most successful nerve restorative to be had. This is being proven every day by new evidence. Ask your neighbors and friends about it and read the reports in this paper, from time to time, from persons who have been cured.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box—do not pay more—at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. On every box of the genuine you will find the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

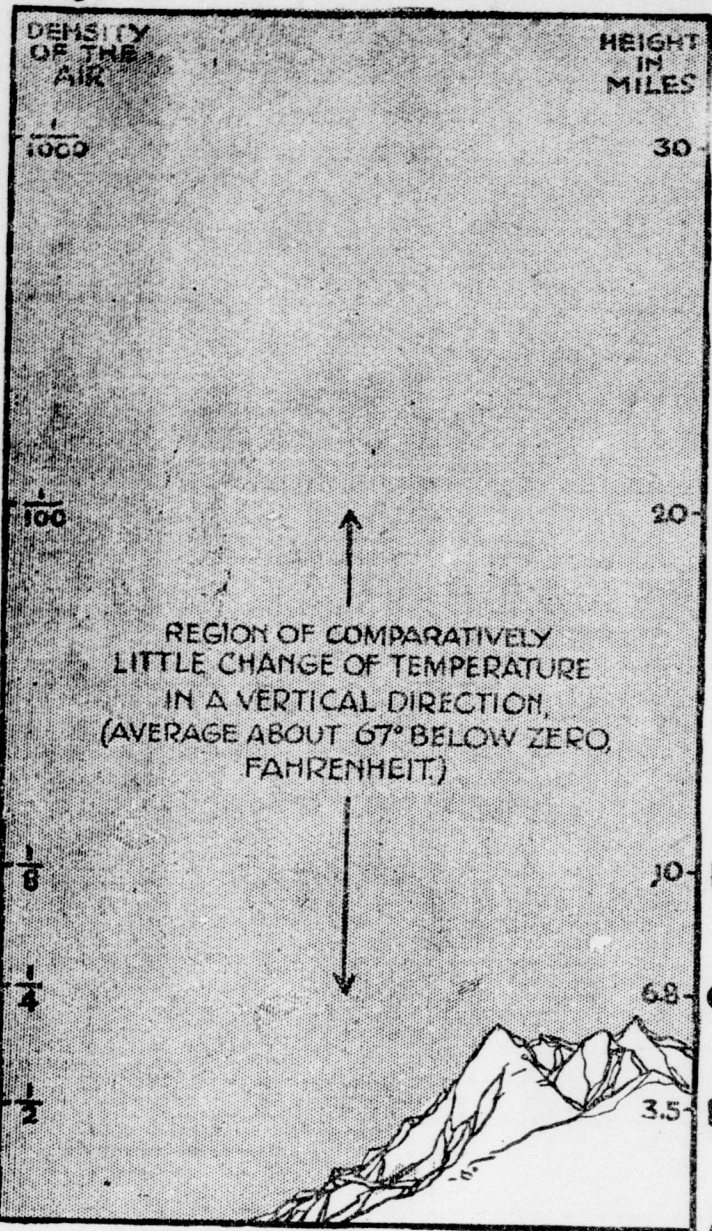

Dr. Hirsberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest.

AIR Is the WILL-o'-the-WISP of SCIENCE

to a zone much narrower even than that—a zone bounded on one side by the surface of the earth and on the other by the plane of the tops of our office buildings, or practically within a space of 300 feet from bottom to top, mostly within less. In fact, by far the greater number of mankind are bound to the surface of the earth—anchored to the bottom of the ocean of air.

It is worth while to try to get a mental vision of the atmosphere as a whole. Practically the entire layer of atmosphere is confined to a shell extending outward from the earth not more than 200 miles, according to the best evidence we have. Even at a distance of 50 miles above the earth, the quantity of air is thought to be almost inappreciable. The density of the atmosphere decreases rapidly as altitude increases. If the atmosphere were of the present sea-level density from bottom to top, it would all be confined within five miles of the earth. One-half the mass of the atmosphere is found within 3 1/4 miles of the surface of the earth, three-fourths is below the seven-mile level, and seven-eighths below the 10-mile level.

Thus the solid earth has but a thin coating of air only about one-fourth as thick as the diameter of the earth at the most; or, if we consider the atmosphere only in its really appreciable extent (about 40 miles above the earth), only one two-hundredths as thick as the diameter of the earth—a mere coating, not thicker, relatively speaking, than the skin on an apple of ordinary size.

relation to the sun, which pours upon it a vast amount of heat that strikes only one-half of the surface of the body at any one time. As a result, the atmosphere as a whole is very irregularly and unevenly warmed and becomes the very symbol of instability. Yet there are certain general laws of the atmosphere that are detected amidst all the apparent confusion, and man has already reduced his atmospheric discoveries to a working basis.

The general circulation of the atmosphere might be made the theme of a profoundly interesting story. This vast movement—the exchange of air between the equatorial regions and the polar regions are unequally heated. It has been found that the average difference in temperature between the equator and the poles is about 80 deg. Fahrenheit. The effect of such excess heat at the equator is tremendous. The equatorial region becomes the engine that moves the machinery of the general circulation of the earth's atmosphere.

The lower stratum of air of the tropics expands on being heated and is forced aloft by the cooler and denser air from the neighboring temperate zones, thus establishing a flow toward the equator along the earth's surface; a flow that is maintained by the constant temperature difference. At a great elevation the equatorial air flows off to the north and to the south, finally reaches the polar regions, and there descends and returns toward the equator along the surface of the earth. (The explanation of this flowing of the upper air from equatorial to polar regions and its descent and return cannot be given here. In fact, many of the details of this general circulation are not well known.)

Thus are established the great primary movements of the general circulation. These primary movements are much disturbed by the rotation of the earth and by the mixture of land and water, the land being varied in elevation and the ocean currents varied in temperature. Numberless storms continually invade the general system and obscure its workings.

There is much evidence tending to show that the nucleus of every raindrop is dust. If it is true that the condensation of the moisture of the air is dependent upon dust motes, it can readily be seen how important the dust of the atmosphere is. The conclusions of investigators are that atmospheric dust plays an important part in at least four ways, and these are enumerated by Milham as follows: (1) It is one of the chief causes of haze; (2) it probably serves as centres of condensation for all fog particles and raindrops (it was once thought that condensation was impossible without it); (3) it is the cause of the sunrise and sunset colors and, perhaps, of the blue color of the sky; (4) it is the cause of twilight.

The sources of atmospheric dust are the dust blown up from the surface of the earth by the wind, the dust from volcanoes, the dust from meteoric passage through the atmosphere (sometimes at velocities of 40 to 50 miles a second), and the dust from ocean spray. In the case of the volcanic explosion in Krakatoa, between Sumatra and Java, in 1883, dust and steam were thrown into the air to an estimated height of nearly 20 miles, and, according to Milham, "the presence of this dust could be detected in sunset colors all over the world for more than three years."

It might be said also that the waters of all the oceans have visited every part of the earth, at some time in the history of the globe, so continually and upon such a vast scale are the winds and the forces of evaporation, condensation and precipitation at work. A continual circulation of water takes place between the hydrosphere (the water areas of the globe) and the atmosphere. The winds blow water vapor from over the seas to the land and ascending currents carry it into the upper atmosphere, where it condenses, is precipitated, and begins the return journey to the seas through springs and rivers. The amount of evaporation from the seas and the amount of precipitation on the land depend upon the temperature and the winds.

There are so many spurious "Ems" preparations on the market that you should see you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it.

CHILL STARTS COLD WAS SICK FOUR WEEKS JUST ABLE TO CRAWL ABOUT

Mr. Weldon T. Hawkes, Curryville, N. B., writes: "Last spring I was taken very ill with a severe cold. I got wet and it started with a chill. I was sick four weeks, and was just able to crawl about. People all said I had inflammation of the lungs, and I think I did, I told a friend to get me two bottles of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before the first one was taken my cold and cough were broken up, and the second did it more completely. I am raising a family and I find that it is a good medicine for the children."

There is no remedy that will cure a stubborn cold or coughs, the kind that won't let go, like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It allays the inflammation, soothes the irritation, breaks the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes, and rids the system completely of all the bad effects of lingering coughs and colds.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your drugist and get a small box of Ems (double strength), and add to it hot water and just a little sugar. Drop the mixture into your ears, and you will find relief. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This brings quick relief from a distressing head noise, and the relief should be open, breathing becomes easier and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

CAMPHOR'S LIFE TOLL

There are few things which demand a heavier toll of lives than camphor. The reason for this is that the mountainous parts of the island of Formosa, from which the world gets most of its camphor, are inhabited by head-hunting savages whom the successive invaders of the island have been unable to subdue.

These savages are alive to the value of the camphor trees, and fiercely oppose all attempts to get possession of the forests. Their hostility makes the gathering of camphor a most hazardous occupation, and one in which a loaded rifle is the most indispensable tool.

Since the Japanese took the island after their successful campaign against China in the 90s, they have been carrying on a carefully conceived plan of gradual penetration of the valuable camphor regions. They make paths six feet in width through the virgin forests, and every fourth or fifth yard stands a guard house, and every fourth or fifth guard house is a small fort, entrenched and defended by barbed-wire entanglements. Telephone inter-communication, machine guns, and all the resources of western military science are employed, and the lines are pushed gradually forward.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or bladder bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms a waste which is not easily broken down, so they sluggishly filter or strain out part of the waste and poisons from the blood. This causes kidney troubles, rheumatism, headaches, indigestion, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders, come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, or if you have a headache, get a bottle of J. I. Wells' Kidney and Bladder Remedy. It is a fine, pure, and reliable remedy, and will give you a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding various kidney complications.

WORLD'S LONGEST NOVEL

The longest novel in the world belongs to Japan. Its author is Kiong To Bakin. It was commenced in 1852, and published volume by volume as it came out over a period of 50 years. There are 106 volumes, 106,000 pages, 3,180,000 lines, and about 38,000,000 words. A complete copy weighs 130 pounds.

Which is the longest poem in the world? One generally regards "Paradise Lost" as lengthy, and Thomson's "Seasons" and Cowper's "Task." But these are short compared with Spenser's "Faerie Queene," which is easily the longest poem in existence, even as it stands, and had he attained his object and reached the 24th book, no other poet would have equalled that record.

It is only a quarter of the original plan, yet it is as long as the Iliad, the Odyssey and the Aeneid put together, twice as long as Dante's "Divina Commedia," and three times as long as "Paradise Lost" and "Paradise Regained" in one.

RABBIT SKIN SHOES

If the price of leather keeps climbing it is inevitable that some footwear that is a substitute for the cattle hide now used must be found.

At present in Annonay, France, an earnest effort is being made to introduce rabbit skin leather in shoe making. Annonay is in the valley of the Rhone, just south of Lyons. It was there, about 75 years ago, that a chemist devised a tanning process in which the hair was removed from the pelt of a rabbit without damage to the skin. Previously no one had been able to remove the hair without injuring the pelt.

The chemist had his process tried out for a short time, but it did not prove to be a commercial success and the rabbit skin shoe came to be only a memory. Less than ten years ago some Germans got hold of the old chemist's formula and began to manufacture rabbit leather.

At one of the industrial exhibitions in Germany in 1909 there was a display of 250 styles of shoes made of rabbit skins. The exhibition won first prize in the department of footwear. Now the French have taken up the work of the old chemist of Annonay and are manufacturing shoes out of rabbit pelts.

It was said at the time of the exhibition in Germany that excellent shoes could be made for $2 a pair in which the manufacturer could make 23-1-3 per cent. profit, says Financial America.

THE COWS of COUNTY KERRY

There are 40,000 cows in County Kerry and only 38,000 in County Cork. This little difference of a few thousand makes Kerry the champion district of Ireland in the number of its "cows," as foreigners call them. In Ireland they call them common, ordinary goats.

In some countries to mention "goat" is to laugh. It's such a joke! But really the joke is on the jokers, for the goat is the milk-producing champion of six continents. Furthermore, your fine morocco-bound books are really covered with goat-skin or kid; morocco is only the "stage" name.

The Kerry goats are fat-faced and red-haired. They are formidable and pugnacious at certain times, but they make up for their uncertain disposition by giving from two to three quarts of milk daily that is much richer than cow's milk.

There is a prejudice against goats, but the folk of Kerry and Cork do not have it; on the other hand, while some are paying fancy prices for milk the Irish people get better milk for a mere song.

Most persons like sheep and hate goats. Wherein lies the difference? "Although the more typical goats," says Lydecker, the great zoologist, "are markedly distinct from sheep, there is, both as regards wild and domesticated forms, an almost complete gradation from goats to sheep, so that it is exceedingly difficult to define either group."

Goats hold the record as land-clearers. They eat anything from prunes to polka-dots. Of all the plants that grow in a pasture the goat will eat 86 per cent. His nearest rival is the sheep, which eats 73 per cent, while the real-fur-cow makes a poor third at 56 per cent.

The humble goat is a winner in five ways, as a land-clearer, and as a producer of hair for weaving purposes, hides, meat and milk. Roquefort, Le Gruyere, Mont D'Or and many other cheeses are noted for the cheese they make from goat's milk.

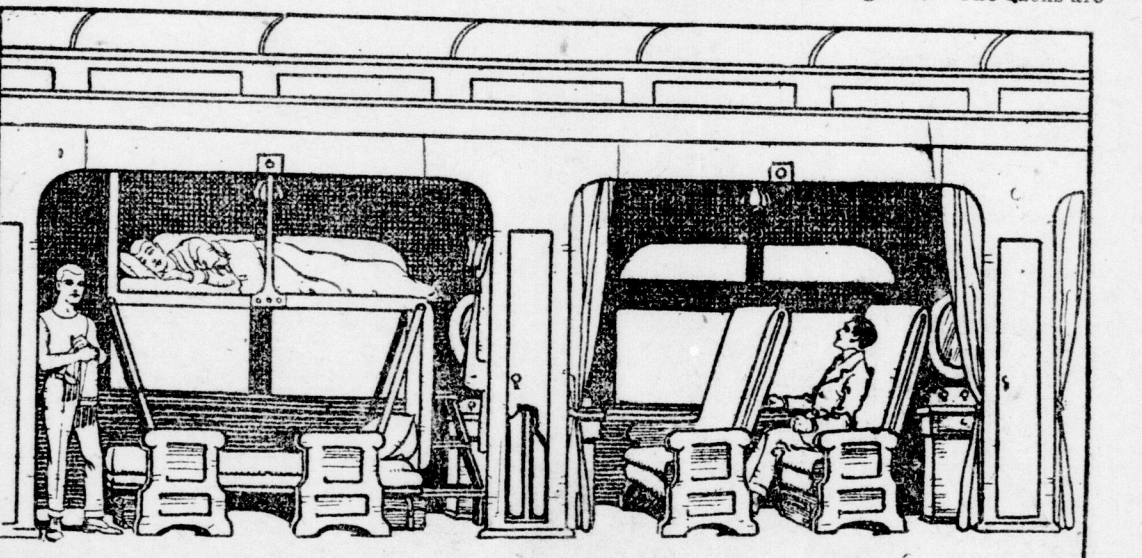

Boots and shoes and book bindings are made out of goat skins. The hair is used in making sofas and the expensive overcoats of astrakhan. Mutton-eaters annually partake of goat-shanks, not willingly, but nevertheless unknowingly, and the meat can be camouflaged to taste like breast of chicken or frogs' legs.

Before the war the so-called black, bad goat numbered about 25,000,000 in Europe.

GLASS COOKING UTENSILS

FROM time immemorial, cooking utensils have been made of pottery, because this was the only substance known that would withstand the heat of the baking oven and the rather rough handling of the kitchen, and that was in addition cheap. Almost the same ingredients are used in making pottery as are used in making glass. In pottery, these ingredients are molded into forms and are simply baked at a temperature just high enough to melt a glaze on the outside surface; but, in glass, they are melted into a liquid at a high temperature and then molded by pouring or blowing into various shapes.

The common glass that we have always known is brittle, easily breakable, and never before has there been a glass produced that could be heated and suddenly cooled without breaking. But a new glass now being made at Corning, N. Y., is used for baking dishes and cooking utensils and can be handled quite as roughly as any crockery. Every housekeeper now can see what her puddings and pies look like on the inside. This glass is a chemical product, in that it has been produced solely by the ingenuity of the chemist in the compounding of the ingredients, and not by any method of tempering.

At the end of each section is a narrow dressing room furnished with a washstand, mirror, rack, etc., one for the former a set of steps is provided for the convenience of the occupant. The seats are so hinged to the frame that they can be used as end partitions and as a base on which the upper mattress rests, while the two seat bottoms are opened up to serve as a support for the lower-berth mattress. The inventor says he has reduced the amount of weight carried near the roof of the car, thereby tending to lessen the swaying of the coach.

BEING invisible and, in the ordinary sense, intangible, the air is one of the most difficult and elusive subjects for the scientists to investigate first hand. If one could only see the processes that go forward in its depths, or could get outside of it and look upon it from a place apart! But no; we are immersed in it like the fish in the sea, and we cannot even exist beyond its limits. In fact, man cannot go anywhere near its upper limits. He must remain forever immersed in it; forever barred from seeing it from the outside.

Thus we remain blind to the wonderful activities of the atmosphere that go on about us constantly, although the effects of many of those processes are seen or felt. We see smoke and dust floating in the air. We see the clouds, but cannot see the actions of the air in the formation of those clouds. We see the rain, snow and hail, but cannot see the making of the raindrops, nor the fashioning of the snowflakes, nor the growth of hailstones. Probably a fish does not see the water in which it lives, but sees only the larger things that exist in the water. Man only sees some of the things that exist in the atmosphere, not the atmosphere itself.

As a matter of fact, man's sphere is a narrow one when we consider the vastness of the universe or even the immense mass of the earth, of which man claims to be the lord. Under our feet is a body of matter nearly 8000 miles thick, into which man has penetrated hardly more than a single mile. Overhead is the atmosphere extending upward 100 miles (in a very rarefied state possibly much farther), upward into which man has never gone more than about 6 1/2 miles.

Thus in our vertical movement we are confined to 7 1/2 miles. In our common life we are limited

THE VERY STRANGE CUSTOM OF FEEDING THE DEAD

CHINAMEN still observe the religious ceremony of "feeding the dead." The food is intended as a propitiatory offering to the Chinese evil spirit. The offerings vary according to the habits and tastes of the occupants of the graves.

"At the grave of one," says an eye-witness of a feast, "his friend, after digging holes in the hard ground with his knife, stuck up two candles and laid out several sets of chopsticks and as many small cups, which he filled with wine, then he placed on the grave some bowls of rice, a package of cigarettes and a small vessel of opium. Afterward he made several bows and genuflections, as if inviting his dead friend or the other party to set to."

"A number of fires were burning in the vicinity, and on these were placed pieces of paper with squares of imitation gold leaf pasted on them representing gold coin; other squares with silver foil represented silver coin; and smaller squares, punctured full of holes, represented the brass 'cash,' which has a hole in the centre. Some burned small garments made of paper and thus furnished a new suit to their deceased friends at a small cost. After the provisions had been displayed long enough to give the spirit enough to satisfy himself, they were carefully brought back to town."

WHERE FAT Is a GREAT ASSET to BEAUTY

THROUGHOUT the empire of Morocco and in Tunis there are villages where the elder members of the adult population follow professionally the pursuit of fattening young ladies for the matrimonial market of Barbary.

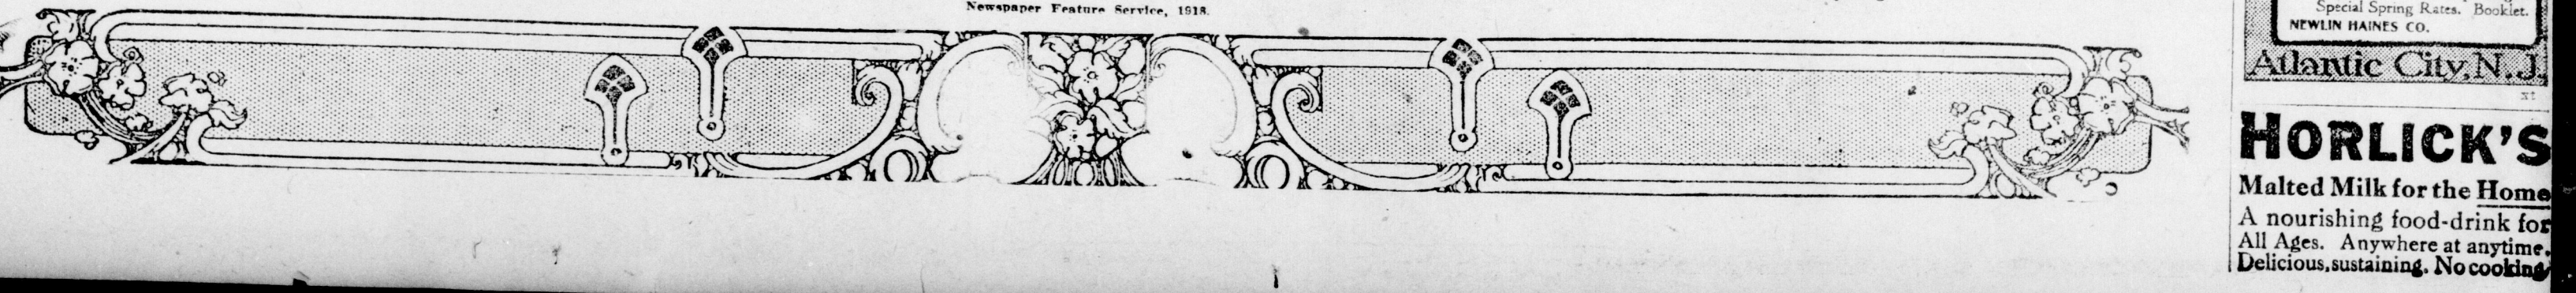

The Moors, like the Turks and most other orientals, give a decided preference to "moon-faced" wives over lean ones, and are more solicitous as to the number of pounds which their brides weigh than about the stock of accomplishments they possess.

A girl is put under the process of fattening when she is about 12 years of age. Her hands are tied behind her and she is seated on a carpet during so many hours every day, while her father stands over her with a stick, and her mother, at times, pops into her mouth a ball of stiff maize porridge, kneaded up with grease and just large enough to be swallowed without the patient choking.

If the unfortunate girl declines to be stuffed she is compelled by torture, and gulps down the boluses, lest she should be beaten.

In Brazil corpulence is also considered the essential point of female beauty, and the greatest compliment that can be paid to a Brazilian lady is to tell her that she grows fatter and fairer every day.

INSOMNIA CURED WITHOUT DRUGS

Internal Bathing Relieves the Cause.

If you do not sleep there is always some cause. Don't start dosing with drugs. Nerves can't consume them. Remove the cause and a good, sound sleep will be the result.

The system cannot be right if the Colon of large intestine is not kept clean and free from all waste matter. Bathe internally if you want perfect health.

Mr. F. C. Voigt, Rapid City, Man., writes: "For several years I suffered from indigestion, Nervous Debility, Insomnia and Constipation. Had no appetite and doctors did not expect I would live throughout the winter. Your book interested me. I got J. B. L. Cascade's and in a few days obtained remarkable results. I now sleep and enjoy my meals better than for years before. I regard the J. B. L. Cascade's as a God-send to me."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" is a perfect-acting appliance for internal bathing, invented by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, and has been the means of restoring thousands to perfect health. It is shown and explained by Standard Drug Company, London, who will be pleased to give you an interesting book called "The Why, How & Why, The Way of Internal Bathing" on request. Ask for it.
